ABLEST SUPERINTENDENT

Here is what one of the leading educators said of Ray Rodgers, state superintendent of public instruction, who has been criticized by some, loved by a few, and respected by all who admire a man who will stay hitched: "Rodgers is in my estimation the ablest superintendent New Mexico has had for years. He is a champion of the rural schools that is grounded in such attitude by actual experience. He can be trusted to do the right thing. If he seems too active in politics, just remember that the New Mexico practice makes political warriors not only of the judges but also of the school executives. No superintendent and no judge would last long if he didn't play politics more or less all of the time. In Rodgers' case such activity has had nothing to do with his actual work as superintendent." These two expressions, from such high authority, absolutely changed the attitude of a large group who heard it, and lined up two counties who were basically hostile to both Zinn and Rodgers.—From "Sidelights" of Will Robinson.

FENCE RIDING

A good republican friend of ours says a friend of his thinks this newspaper ought to be neutral politically. On the basis of this theory we would not be permitted to express our church preference, instead we could ride the fence. In community issues we would keep silent for fear of offending someone who did not see eye to eye with us. In fact, if we followed out this trend of thought, The Advocate would be a first-class "jelly bean" without an original idea or thought.

When it comes to the point where it is necessary to soft pedal every issue in an attempt to please everybody, then a newspaper loses its personality if it has any and might as well cease publication. We have never been so radical as to advocate the abolishment of the republican party or any other political party for we believe in the two-party system for the perpetuation of the American government and we claim a right to express our political opinion.

WEAKENING

Republican general are optimistic in public—but insiders say that all isn't cheer and laughter when they meet in private. The party has just emerged from the leanest three years in its history. Its local organizations are in almost incredibly bad shape in many states, and they can't be built up to the desired level in the few months remaining before November. And the democratic machine never functioned more smoothly and efficiently than it is now functioning.

On top of that, recent polls—such as the Institute of Public Opinion—show that Landon sentiment—which reached its peak at convention time—is weakening, that Roosevelt is leading and is tending to slowly increase his lead.

Reports say "Wall Street" betting odds are lengthening in favor of Roosevelt.

COOPERATIVE SPIRIT

The Carlsbad Current-Argus, moved by an editorial in last week's issue of The Advocate, has very graciously offered to have the port of entry moved to Artesia, which we accept, because this is the first time in the memory of the oldest resident here where Carlsbad has offered to give anything of value to Artesia. The publisher of the Current-Argus could show a cooperative spirit by at least mentioning the Artesia Rodeo, since Carlsbad has inaugurated the Cavalcade and has received publicity in The Advocate on this event and will expect more in future events. Show us a little cooperation, Brother Rigdon, and forget politics awhile and quit saying mean things about us.

We also wish to take this occasion to thank the Eddy County News for the nice mention of the Artesia Rodeo in the issue of September 4th.

Ostensibly America cannot maintain the present standard of living and tax the so-called luxuries to death. The present standard of living is based on the assumption that we can afford these luxuries. When a politician proposes a tax on luxuries as an easy and painless tax, just remember that his remedy may be a good way to abolish the thing that has enabled America to enjoy the worth-while things of life.

Hugh Chalmers says: "It has been my experience that there are but three kinds of men in the world—first the kind you have to tell once to do a thing, and you bet your life it will be done. The second is the kind you have to tell three or four times—and the third is that great business producing, creative lot of men, who don't have to be told at all. They have initiative."—The Log.

Races Feature In State Fair

AMARILLO—The bugle sounds! The blood tingles! The parade is on! The ponies reach the post! Everyone stands up. Then the stirring cry, "they're off" rings through the grandstand. And in a few short minutes the race is over.

A short time, true. But it's packed with excitement and thrills. Sometimes spills. And the grand rush to the payoff windows.

It's thoroughbreds on parade. Sleek horseflesh whose breeding goes back to starry nights in Arabia and fussy auctions in England.

The sport of kings?
The sport of millions.

And fans will have opportunity to enjoy, thrill, and be entertained by the royal racers, just as turf fans on the big apple tracks have.

The Tri-State Fair's fall horse race meeting commences on September 18th and ends on September 29th.

An expenditure of thousands of dollars has brought the Tri-State track up to a new standard for minor plants. There is no other small track like the Tri-State's in the southwest.

CIA Meets On September 3rd

The meeting of the New Mexico Crop Improvement Association on September 3rd during Farmers' Week was very well attended. Directors from fifteen counties were present and many of the county extension agents were in attendance.

G. R. Quesberry, director of extension and former secretary of the association, presented the address of welcome. C. C. McCowan, president of the association, spoke briefly on the progress of the crop improvement association, and Glen Staten, experiment station agronomist, discussed quite fully the crop improvement work carried on by the experiment station. Immediately following the general assembly, a directors meeting was called. At this meeting directors representing thirteen counties were in session. The association has made up a premium list to be offered at the Eastern New Mexico State Fair, in addition to the regular premiums given by the fair officials. This additional list is on certified seed only. The premiums reported will cover the sorghum or head sample classes, seed samples, potatoes and cotton.

An Eastern New Mexico State Fair committee was appointed by President C. C. McCowan consisting of Mr. McCowan; N. M. Smith, Las Cruces; H. P. Edmonds, Roswell; Fred Nelson, Roswell. Each one of these men will be in charge of a definite section of the 100-foot crop improvement booth and it is hoped that thru this arrangement more attention can be given to the various sections of the booth, and that a real educational exhibit can be presented.

The question regarding the date for application for inspection towards certification of crops was discussed very fully. The regulations are that in the future the final day for accepting applications for inspection will be not later than August 1. All applications received later than this date will be returned to the producer and refunds of the money made.

Advocate Readers Get Chance To Vote In A Nation-Wide Presidential Poll

Our Paper Among National Group Conducting Straw Vote

Small Town and Rural America Sentiment Is Being Recorded by Democratic, Republican and Independent Newspapers In All Parts of the Country of the presidential candidates in the final national election to carry New Mexico, and Artesia?

of the candidates will get the important small-town vote? Which candidate will carry the majority throughout the nation?

are questions, the answers will no doubt play an important part in the final national election next November. Upon the part of the small-town and rural voters may rest the balance of power to swing the election to the successful candidate.

from throughout the nation indicate that voters everywhere are manifesting exceptional interest in the political campaign now well under way. All eyes are turned to a closely contested and will conduct the vote in this territory. A straw-vote ballot is published in this issue. It may be voted by any legal voter. You do not have to sign your name. It is important, however, that you sign the name of the town and state from which you expect to cast your vote at the November election, so that the national tabulation of your vote will be accurately recorded.

Publishers Autocaster Service of New York, producers of a service for weekly newspapers, is to serve in the capacity of national headquarters for this nation-wide vote. Your local vote will be recorded here in Artesia, then the ballot sent on to New York for national tabulation.

Our Votes Are Important

Our local, county and state returns in this straw-vote will be of particular interest to voters everywhere, just as returns from other states will be of interest to the voters here. It is only through combined efforts of hundreds of weekly newspapers that such a record of sentiment in the small towns and rural America can be obtained.

It is therefore important that you decide now to cast your straw-vote in this balloting, so that your fellow voters for your favorite candidate in other states will know what may be expected from New Mexico.

Of first interest, of course, will be the returns shown in our choices right here in Eddy county. Decide now to cast your vote. Clip out the ballot, vote it, write in the name of the town and state, then mail or bring it to The Advocate.

Returns Each Week

Returns in the local voting will be published in these columns each week as the voting progresses. National returns will also be published as soon as they are available, first release of which should be forthcoming weekly within the next ten days or two weeks.

Let's get the ball rolling here in Artesia by clipping out the ballot below, voting it and sending it in to this office at once.

Which of the presidential candidates is going to get an early lead in the first votes cast here in Artesia?

First returns here should be mighty interesting. You'd better vote for your presidential choice right now.

DIVERSIFIED PROGRAM AT ROTARY CLUB LUNCHEON

The luncheon program of the Artesia Rotary club was in charge of C. J. Dexter, who omitted singing the California anthem, "California, Here We Come," the song having been sung by club members on the previous week.

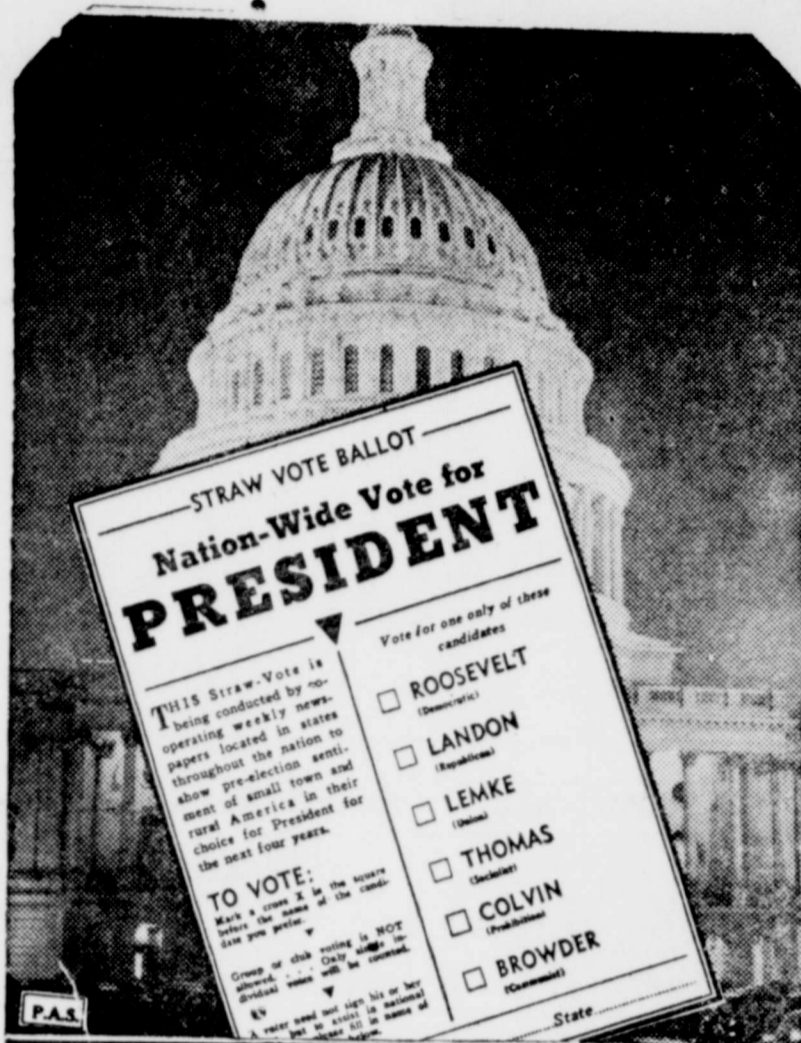

Mrs. Jack Spratt and Miss Joan Wheatley were special guests of the occasion. Mrs. Spratt rendered two vocal solos with Miss Wheatley at the piano.

A. C. Lafolette of La Verne, California, another special guest, made an interesting talk on the value of public speaking in the public schools.

Other guests at the luncheon included Edison Jones of Waukegan, Illinois, J. R. Ogden of Loving, Jerry Kellog of New York City, Glen Leonard of Post, Texas, Charles Allison, Syl Johnson and Gus Hockenson, all of Roswell.

Potash Output Is Boosted In 1935

Potash produced in the United States in 1935, a survey released Sunday by the United States Bureau of Mines shows, amounted to 357,974 short tons of potassium salts, equivalent to 192,793 short tons of potash, an increase of 30 per cent in gross weight and 34 per cent in potassium content, compared with 1934 production which was 275,732 tons gross weight, and 144,343 tons of potash.

The total tonnage of potash materials as reported by producers, is made up of crude and refined salts containing varying quantities of potash. To avoid duplication, however, for refined material, only the final weight is included rather than the larger tonnage of crude required in its production.

Hence, the original production of domestic salts in 1935 is larger than the figure quoted above and shown in the accompanying table, although the figures presented truly represent the operators' output of both crude and refined salts without duplication.

The sales of 406,922 tons of potash salts with a potash content of 224,721 tons in 1935, with 14 per cent and 17 per cent, respectively, more than the production, and increased 81 per cent for potash salts, and 97 per cent for potash content, compared with 1934, when 224,875 tons of salts and 114,112 tons of potash were produced.

The value at the plant of potash salts sold was $4,993,481, an increase of 78 per cent over 1934's $2,813,218. Average value per ton was $12.27 in 1935, compared with $12.51 in 1934. Value per unit—20 pounds—of potash was 22 cents in 1935.

About 47,710 tons of potassium salts with an available content of 18,060 tons of potash remained in the producers' stocks on December 31, 1935. The average potash content of the salts sold in 1935 was 55.2 per cent, compared with 50.7 per cent in 1934.

Consumption of potash materials in 1935, as represented by sales plus imports less export amounted to 930,893 tons, valued at $14,876,657, with an estimated potash content of 420,000 tons, of which about 43 per cent was of domestic origin.

This represented an increase in consumption over 1934 of 37 per cent in gross weight, 57 per cent in potash content, and 14 per cent in value.

SHOWER FOR MIES. MONTGOMERY AND TERRY

A shower was given Mrs. O. B. Montgomery and Mrs. Tom Terry of the Cottonwood community by their many friends Thursday at the Cottonwood church. Mrs. Terry, whose home was recently destroyed by fire, received many beautiful and useful gifts. Many of her gifts were sent by friends unable to be present, and by the business houses in Artesia. Mrs. Montgomery received a large box filled with tiny garments and other presents. Everyone contributed to the refreshments which were served in the new basement.

Those who enjoyed this occasion with Mrs. Montgomery and Mrs. Terry were: Mmes. J. C. Gressett, I. P. Johnston, Roy Ingram, H. V. Parker, V. W. Worley, N. C. Doering, Bob O'Bannon, E. P. Malone, A. J. Ramsey, Harry Carder, Glen O'Bannon, Paul Robinson, J. A. Reed, Jim Berry, W. T. Haldeman, George Savoie, D. S. Martin, Paul Terry, Dude Dunn, Lewis Rowland, G. G. SHOWER FOR MRS. HOWARD

A surprise shower was given Wednesday evening for Mrs. Truman Howard at the spacious home of Mrs. V. D. Bolton with Miss Bonnie Rowland as hostess.

Mrs. Howard, a recent bride, received many lovely gifts which she will use to furnish her new home.

Novelty games, such as "Whose Wife?" "Pan," and "Bride's Trousseau" were played. Points were given to the winner of each game. At the refreshment hour each guest was given a slip of paper which had parts of several words written on it. When matched with that of another guest, such words as "Mr. and Mrs.," "Wedding Bells" and "Bride's Bouquet" were formed. In this way partners for eating were found.

Those invited were the Misses Helen Gates, Mamie Bell Terry, Betty Cornell, Margaret Mahone, Geraldine Felton, Wilma Paton, Edith Coleman, Marjorie Bell Funk, Ruby Rowland, Rachelle Swift, Nina Mae McLean, Bettie Jo Brainard, Eunice Caddell, and Laura Lee Windham. The Mmes. Orval Gray and Carroll Ansley.

ROGERS-McCAW

Announcement was made Friday of the marriage of Miss Eleanor Rogers to Edwin McCaw, which occurred in Carlsbad June 18th. The ceremony was performed at the court house by Judge Frank Richards.

The bride is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Rogers, a well known and respected family of this community. The groom is the second son of Will McCaw, a former resident of Artesia and a nephew of Misses Linna and Mary McCaw.

Both Mr. and Mrs. McCaw graduated from the local high school and Mrs. McCaw spent one year in college at Taft, California. The young couple are at home to their friends at the McCaw residence in west Artesia. Edwin is associated with his brother Jack in the McCaw Hatchery.

MISS WILLIAMS BRIDE OF MR. J. B. MULCOCK

Miss Agnes Anne Williams, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Williams, well-known ranchers of Elk, was married to James Browning Mulcock, Thursday.

The quiet ceremony was performed by the Rev. F. B. Howden, Jr., at the Episcopal rectory in Roswell. Mrs. Williams, mother of the bride, was the only relative present.

No Sour Looks For Sour Milk Dishes!

Don't be sorry if it's sour—that bottle of cream, that bowl of milk. Sweet to taste are the things made with these delectable dairy products that have "soured on the world!"

Count it no catastrophe but a stroke of luck when you find yourself with a supply on your hands. If you doubt it, ask those Dutch cooks who turn out "sweet-sour" dishes; ask the country dweller who makes sour cakes, cookies and muffins with sour milk; consult the southernners who are famous for their buttermilk and sour milk biscuits; and ask your family what they think when they bite into one of your masterpieces! They'll agree that "every little piece has a flavor all its own."

Here's the Rule

To use sour milk or sour cream in place of sweet milk in a recipe, use a half teaspoon of baking soda to each cup of sour milk or cream, and cut down the baking powder by one and one-half teaspoons. When cream is used, you should take into account your shortening, too, since cream is rich in its own right. One cup of thin cream, for instance, will replace about five-sixths cup of milk and one-sixth cup of fat; one cup of thick cream replaces two-thirds cup of milk and one-third cup of fat.

You can use these recipes when milk has soured by accident. Or you can sour it yourself (not with sour looks but by design) by adding 1 tablespoon of vinegar to each cup of fresh sweet milk.

But try these recipes for a sweet outlook on meal time!

Sour Cream Dressing

- 1 teaspoon dry mustard
 - Cayenne
 - 1 teaspoon salt
 - 1 tablespoon sugar
 - 2 egg yolks
 - 1 cup sour cream
 - 2 tablespoons vinegar
- Combine and blend dry ingredients and egg yolks in upper part of double boiler. Gradually add sour cream and cook over hot water, stirring constantly, until thick—about 7 minutes. Remove from fire, cool, and add vinegar slowly. Chill.

Banana Bread

- 2 cups sifted flour
 - 1 teaspoon soda
 - 1/2 teaspoon salt
 - 1/3 cup shortening
 - 2/3 cup sugar
 - 2 eggs, well beaten
 - 1 cup mashed banana (approximately 3 bananas)
 - 1/4 cup sour milk
- Mix and sift together the flour, soda and salt. Cream shortening, add sugar gradually and cream well. Add eggs and mix thoroughly. To this mixture add sifted dry ingredients alternately with mashed banana and sour milk. Stir thoroughly. Pour into well-greased bread pan and bake in a moderate oven (350° F.) for about 1 hour.

Ginger Puffs

- 1 1/4 cups flour
 - 1/2 teaspoon salt
 - 1/2 teaspoon soda
 - 1 teaspoon ginger
 - 1 teaspoon cinnamon
 - 1 teaspoon baking powder
 - 1/2 cup sugar
 - 1 egg
 - 1/2 cup white karo
 - 1/2 cup sour milk
 - 1/4 cup melted butter
- Mix and sift together all dry ingredients. Stir in unbeaten egg together with sour milk, karo and melted butter. Stir with spoon on bottom of dish until it makes a soft dough. Bake in muffin pans in hot oven (400° F.) for 20 minutes.

Rice Pancakes

- 1 teaspoon soda
 - 1 teaspoon hot water
 - 2 cups sour milk
 - 2 cups flour
 - 1/2 teaspoon salt
 - 2 eggs
 - 1 cup boiled rice
- Dissolve soda in hot water and stir in thick sour milk. Add sifted flour, salt and beaten yolks of eggs; press rice through sieve (or vegetable press) and add to mixture. Mix together thoroughly and fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Bake until brown on well greased griddle. Four servings.

Chocolate Date Cookies

- 1 cup raisins

GOLDEN PHANTOMS

Fascinating Tales of Lost Mines BY EDITH L. WATSON

BEHIND THE WALL

IN 1906 two men named Murphy and Thomas came into a little town in Sonora, Mexico. They had some ore which they took to the local assayer, an American, for a report. It assayed $60,000 to the ton. The newcomers said that they had been prospecting up in the mountains to the west, and one day their burros got away. It was while they were hunting the animals that they found a wall of masonry which aroused their curiosity. It seemed very old, and yet was well preserved. Its discoverers thought that there might be something valuable behind such a wall, and accordingly they broke through to investigate.

Crawling into the hole they had made, they found themselves in the mouth of a tunnel. There were peculiar jadeite statuettes and other evidence of ancient tribes in the long-hidden place, but what these men wanted was gold, and it was with a vast thrill of joy that they found it, at the end of some 150 feet, a two-foot vein of the yellow metal in the breast of the tunnel.

The assayer heard their story with great interest. Then he proposed that the partners let him in on the mine. It was Yaqui country, and three men would be stronger than two. Then, his greater knowledge of ores and minerals would also serve them well. He was able to convince Murphy and Thomas that they needed him as a third partner, and they agreed to take him back with them. Two days later they started for the mine. On the way, the Yaquis ambushed the trio, and the two prospectors were killed. The assayer escaped, but he had not found out where to search for the ancient wall, and its location remains a secret to this day.

W. B. Lary of Clovis, former resident, was transacting business here yesterday. Albert Richards has been confined to his home this week with a severe illness. S. Bradley spent Sunday in Carlsbad visiting his son, H. L. Bradley and family.

Part of Mark Twain memorial, Hannibal, Mo. JULIES LIPPIT

MARK TWAIN

WHEN Samuel L. Clemens, Mississippi pilot, printer and publisher, died on April 21, 1910, he left Mark Twain, writer and humorist, behind him as a perpetual legacy to America and to world literature. His pen-name is so closely associated with beloved classics like "Huckleberry Finn" and "Tom Sawyer" that his original name is often forgotten even by those to whom his writings are most familiar and dear.

Mark Twain was born on November 30, 1835, at Florida, Missouri, but his family moved to Hannibal in the same state when he was four years old. It is the latter town that is best remembered as his home and it is there that the centenary of his birth was observed in November, 1935. Part of the celebration was the erection of a beautiful memorial statue, showing the author surrounded by his best loved characters. The central section of that statue, the work of Walter Russell, of New York, is shown above.

Mark Twain's early education was a most sketchy one. From his teens he had to earn his own living. It was a hard life but a fascinating one—as can be judged from Huck Finn and Tom Sawyer, lads very much like himself.

Ultimately he drifted into newspaper work in California and at 32 a San Francisco paper sent him on a tour of the Mediterranean. Out of this and other travels he wove his "Innocents Abroad." His novels, striking a new note in humor, prodding the foibles of humanity with devastating laughter, were instantly popular, bringing him fortune and renown. He died at Redding, Conn., at the age of 75.

The Value of a Name . . .

It's hard to tell—when you buy a suit—whether it contains those "hidden values" that makes it a good investment. Is the fabric of good quality—or does it merely look good? Is the styling superficial—or built in to the suit to stay? Does good workmanship extend to the inner construction of the suit where you can't see it?

These are points for which you must depend on the integrity of the maker. They are reasons why the Curlee label means so much in the suit you buy. For more than thirty years Curlee has been building the kind of quality into clothes that attracts more and more men to the Curlee Line.

Come in and see our new selection of Curlee Suits for Fall. You'll find outstanding styles and models, a beautiful choice of materials at prices you can afford.

Republicans Hit State Politics

Two republican candidates, Judge M. A. Otero, candidate for the United States senate, and Dr. H. L. Kent, candidate for land commissioner, closed a three-day tour of the Pecos valley with a speaking at Carlsbad Saturday night. The speakers spent Friday in north Eddy county, addressing the voters at Hope in the afternoon and the voters here Friday night at the Central school auditorium. The speakers will wind up a swing thru eastern New Mexico with a speaking engagement at Clovis on the 11th.

Speaking before about 100 voters at the Central auditorium here Judge Otero asserted one factor in restoring economic balance and permanent recovery in America rests entirely with putting an end to the gutting of American markets with foreign products. He said the reciprocal trade agreements and loose tariff policies of the new deal has been one of the worst hindrances to the return of normalcy in the United States.

"The cattleman reduces his herd in accordance with the brain-trustee's theory, then goes to the grocery store and buys canned beef from Argentina. Whether on hoof or in the can, American beef has the first right in America," he said.

Dr. Kent spoke briefly on his plans for the operation of the state land office, in the event of his election, saying that he believed in the adequate, intelligent development of the resources of New Mexico, particularly on state lands; a development consistent with retaining for our children and their children their just heritage in those resources.

At Carlsbad, Otero centered his attack on the present set-up in New Mexico, where he said the meanest kind of politics is played.

A Toast

Some folks drink to happy days, Some say "Well here's a go" Some toast a wife or sweetheart— Recite a verse they know. These toasts in every country And tongue are much the same. To me there's one that sweeter— A toast without a name.

It's one that brings a memory Of someone far away. With more in what we're thinking Than in the words we say. To all our thoughts are sacred, None ask us to explain. Friends know that we are living Some happy day again.

I hear the clinking glasses, In fancy church bells ring, There's flowers and happy faces, A choir begins to sing. Again the scene is changing— Each flower a broken stem. Again an organ's playing— A haunting requiem.

Another shot of whiskey— The mist is in my eyes. My vagrant thoughts are painting A face that never dies. My canvas just a heart string. My brush a tear or two. My colors just emotion— The picture dear, is you.

So drink a toast in reverence, To those who are not here. To friends among the absent, Though somehow very near. In silent meditation Now raise your glasses high. We lose our wives and sweethearts, But friendships never die.

CARBON PAPER—The Advocate.

heed, and beware of covetousness: for a man's life consisteth not in the abundance of the things which he possesseth." (Luke 12:15)

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science text book: "When mortal man blends his thoughts of existence with the spiritual and works only as God works, he will no longer grope in the dark and cling to earth because he has not tasted heaven. Carnal beliefs defraud us."

Large Number of Old Timers Are Expected At Fair

ROSSELL—The largest "class" yet admitted to the Old Timers festivities is expected at the Eastern New Mexico State Fair to be held in Roswell October 7, 8, 9 and 10. Those who came to New Mexico in 1906 will for the first time be eligible to enjoy the Old Timers program—from the inside looking out. Again this year this will be one of the big days of the fair, and the thousands who have not yet been in New Mexico thirty years will get a big thrill in watching those who have.

With additional barn space, one new exhibit building and additional room in general exhibit hall, directors of the fair expect some of the crowded condition of recent years to be relieved. Directors, however, say that already more entries are assured than the total of last year.

The big rodeo each afternoon is offering higher prizes and paying final money this year in the three main events, insuring a bigger and better show each afternoon.

Big spectacular event of the week will be the parade on the opening day. Large cash awards are offered in different divisions of the parade. The 4-H club field day and picnic on Thursday, October 8th, is a new event this year, expected to bring boys and girls from all parts of the state.

ARGENTINA PLANS COTTON EXPANSION

Attempts on the part of the National Cotton Board of Argentina to expand that country's cotton acreage and production will be renewed with increased vigor during the 1936-37 season, according to a report to the Bureau of Agricultural Economics from Agricultural Attache P. O. Nyhus in Buenos Aires.

The Argentine government has been encouraging increased production for many years, especially in the Chaco territory where conditions are most favorable. Increasing cotton prices in the last few years have greatly encouraged this program.

About eighteen months ago government set up a board to create a more rapid expansion program, to provide additional facilities to effect needed improvements in production and marketing methods, and to conduct roads.

Farm Prices Are Highest 6 Years

The general level of prices received by farmers on August 15 was the highest in six years, the Bureau of Agricultural Economics reported today.

The bureau's index for that date was 124, compared with 115 on July 15, and with 106 on August 15 a year ago. Grain led the march to higher prices during the past month, with both wheat and corn passing $1 a bushel, for the first time since July 1928.

Prices of truck crops rose substantially during the month; prices of dairy products were strong; chickens and eggs advanced seasonally, and meat animal prices were higher. Cotton, cottonseed, and fruits were the only major groups to recede from the July level.

Group indexes of the bureau show that prices received by farmers for grain were up 20 points during the last month, truck crops were up 19 points, dairy products were up 9 points, chicken and eggs were up 6 points, and meat animals were down 2 points, and cotton and cottonseed were down 9 points.

Soybean Makes A Tasty Dish

It all depends upon taste—soybeans are being cooked and tasted in the United States Department of Agriculture to determine which varieties may be used as edible green vegetable beans.

The green beans resemble young, tender lima beans, but they have a richer, more nutty flavor. The pods, too tough to be eaten as food, may be easily shelled after a three-minute boiling.

About sixty edible varieties were brought from Japan and planted at the departments experimental farm at Arlington, Virginia, and at several state experiment stations. Each week, as they ripen, a number of varieties are cooked and tasted.

From seventy-five to one hundred and seven days are required for the green beans to mature. They differ markedly in flavor, ease of cooking, and respond differently to soil and climatic conditions. A number of very promising early, medium, and late vegetable types for regions adapted to the soybean has been found. The Hahaga, a medium variety, is the only green vegetable variety handled by growers. The Rokusun, a late type, and two or three early Japanese varieties should be in the hands of growers and seedsmen next season.

As green vegetable beans, soybeans should be picked when they reach full size and are still green and succulent. They may be cooked about the same way as fresh lima beans or green peas. Many persons prefer to boil them in salted water from twenty to thirty minutes.

Green soybeans are not available before the midsummer and for a steady supply a succession of plantings of the same variety or varieties of different ripening periods is recommended. Common varieties also may be used as green vegetable beans, but they are smaller, do not cook as easily, and usually lack the distinctive flavor of green vegetable soybeans.

Irrigation Cost Less At Carlsbad

Carlsbad irrigation district operation and maintenance for the ensuing fiscal year will be $1.60 the acre, 30 cents less than last year's operation cost, it was announced Friday by the district's officials at Carlsbad.

Saving to member farmers this year is because of reduced cost of maintenance, Jed Howard, district secretary, said.

The assessment of $1.60 per acre for the fiscal year 1936-37 will cover the aggregate cost of operation and maintenance for the year, Howard said.

He pointed out that the fifty per cent moratorium recently voted by congress affects only construction charges. The second half of construction charges due this year will come due July 1, 1937.

The federal government's moratorium on the construction cost is temporary relief for the farmers, and the cost must be met eventually.

Howard pointed out that there has been a steady decrease in maintenance costs. Three years ago the charge per acre was $2.10. The cost dropped to $2.00 in 1935 and to $1.60 this year, which represents the largest decrease on record.

Lovington Wins New Court House

Contract for erection of a new $185,000 court house for Lea county to be located in Lovington was let late Friday afternoon by the board of commissioners after Judge James B. McGhee dissolved the temporary injunction which had operated to prevent the commissioners from letting the contract until a hearing could be had Friday.

In his findings Judge McGhee set forth that the county board had $54,401.65 in the general court house fund; $887.65 in the court house repair fund; $85,000 due from a five-mill tax levy for 1936; $8,700 to be collected shortly in production taxes; $14,000 which the treasurer has and which he was instructed might be placed in the court house fund; $46,000 in the general purpose fund and an undetermined amount from taxes which will arise from the valuation of oil field equipment which is to be placed on the tax roll as the result of a suit prosecuted recently.

After adjournment of court the commissioners met and decided to let a contract and the Moss Contracting Company of Lubbock being the low bidder with a $185,000 bid received the contract.

SOUND BORROWING Is Good Business!

In the average business there are usually certain seasons of the year when more money is required than at other seasons, and if the owners of the business provided capital in so large an amount that it would never be necessary to borrow money, there would be seasons of the year when idle money would accumulate. It is therefore entirely sound for business houses to proportion their capital to their normal requirements and then to borrow money from their bank during the seasons when large funds are required.

In the career of the average individual, emergencies or opportunities sometimes arise requiring more ready cash than that individual happens to have on hand in his reserve fund. The money must come from some source; what source could be more appropriate than the prospective borrower's bank, where he is known and his patronage appreciated? If he has a good credit record and a steady income it is entirely proper for him to borrow from his bank a sum in keeping with his circumstances and needs. Many bank depositors are unaware that their bank is quite willing to make small loans in this way, when the borrower has a justifiable need to borrow and can show the ability and intent to repay.

Tuberculin Tests

About 70,000 persons die of tuberculosis in the United States each year. We say this quickly, and yet, 70,000 is an appalling tribute to pay to this death-dealing enemy. We would all be aghast if we heard that a city the size of Lincoln, Nebraska, were suddenly wiped out. And yet, that is what is happening in this country each year. Taking its toll, the tubercle bacillus plays no favorites, finding shelter among the rich and poor, among frail and strong. Today we are told that about 30 per cent of the population of the United States are infected by the age of 15. And yet this breath-taking number is considerably less than it was twenty-five years ago. We are told, too, that in those bright and shining years between 15 and 25, the death rate for young women is one and one-half times that for young men. In other words, three females die to every two males. Added to this is the fact that more than 500,000 persons are sick with tuberculosis at this very moment in the United States.

High school students then are fortunate who have regular tuberculin tests made. No detective story could be more fascinating than the sleuthing done by this new method of discovering actual infection. And no process could be more painless—simply a colorless drop injected between the layers of the skin, followed by a wait of forty-eight hours to see if a red spot appears.

The X-ray occupies the center of the stage in many places. Pictures of the lungs are made for those whose tuberculin test has resulted in the red spot and those X-rays answer unmistakably the queries of the diagnostician. The importance of the stethoscope in this work of detection must not be overlooked, for it has helped in the discovery of hundreds of thousands of tuberculosis sufferers.

Today tuberculosis is not the hopeless disease it used to be. Trudeau in the 1880's discovered that long hours of lying on one's back was the surest way to conquer the tubercle bacillus. Thanks to his work, we know the proper care to be taken—rest essentially, good food, sunshine and fresh air—a program of health, incidentally, which we all should observe whether we are ill or not, because such a program adds years to our life and life to our years.

JUST KIDS—The Call of The Game. By Ad Carter

Five plots of vetch will be planted over Eddy county this fall for experimental purposes, according to Mr. Barham, county agent. The plots, consisting of one acre each, will be planted for its possibilities as a green fertilizer or winter legume. Because vetch has not been tried here extensively, Mr. Barham stated he would not recommend planting an extensive quantity.

Additional plots of strawberry clover will also be planted as an experiment to build up alkali land. One shipment of strawberry clover seed has been ordered direct from Australia by Martin Yates. Mr. Barham said he planned to plant some of the strawberry clover seed on the salt grass land near the river. The seed will be broadcasted without any effort at cultivation.

DEVIL'S HEAD STANDS GUARD

DEVIL'S HEAD, Colorado, is a great rough pile of rocks which forms a landmark for all the country around it. There are many stories told about the region, which is wild and little traveled except on the main roads. Even at this time desperadoes sometimes hide out in the vicinity, although a national forest fire lookout tops the Head. In early days robbers and desperate men knew that region, too, and without doubt there is treasure hidden about the Devil's Head which has never been—and perhaps never will be—found.

For instance, in the early 70s, a gang held up a government train at Big Springs and got away with $60,000 in gold eagles. The men managed to hide in the forest near Devil's Head, but the posse hunting for them knew that country rather well themselves, and pursuit came entirely too close for safety. Accordingly the holdups buried their loot, sticking a long knife into a tree to mark the spot, and got out of the country for the time being.

In 1923 an old man appeared in the region, who seemed to be hunting for something. He searched for days, and when a forester at the lookout, who had been watching him, finally asked him what he was looking for, he told the story of the holdup that had happened so long before. He had been one of the gang, the old man said, and he hoped to find the buried loot. But he had not reckoned on forest fires—the trees he had once seen, and the knife he knew to have been left above the gold, had long ago gone up in billows of thick smoke.
