

Oil Interest Extends Over Wide Section

Good Producer Finished Eastern Eddy County— Culberson County Well Drilling Ahead—Wild- cat For Otero County.

While several nice producers have been completed in the eastern Eddy county area the past week, oil interest has been found in widely scattered sections. A test closely followed in Culberson county, Texas west of the Pecos river in the Brewer and Collins well, sec. 14, block 42 is drilling below 1,000 feet and carrying about ten barrels of oil daily while drilling the oil was found in two and a half feet of sand at approximately 500 feet.

In southern Eddy county, the W. A. Snyder, Pecos Irrigation Co., 1, SW sec. 15-25-28, is drilling below 2,795 feet in lime carrying a small amount of water. Frederick et al., Reed 1, sec. 24-28-24, is changing to cable tools at 900 feet. Grissom et al., Weiler 1, 330 feet from the northeast corner sec. 14-24-26, an offset to the Collins et al., Weiler 1, is drilling below 1,770 feet.

In eastern Eddy county, Franklin Petroleum Co., McIntyre 1, NW SW sec. 20-17-30, topped the first oil at 2,657 feet and was making a test yesterday. Early estimates say the well is good for forty to fifty barrels daily.

One of the best wells recently completed in eastern Eddy is the Gissler 6 of the F. W. and Y. Oil Co., NE NE sec. 23-17-30, which yesterday was reported to be flowing from 250 to 300 barrels daily from 3,425 feet.

It was reported this morning the "slier 6" was still drilling below 2,288 feet with another break expected within the next fifteen or twenty feet. Nash and Windford has also completed two good producers on their properties in sec. 13-17-30, but detailed information is not available as to the amount of actual production.

In the Cap Rock section, Nicholas et al., Johnson 1, NE sec. 35-16-31, had reached 3,880 feet with the contract depth at 3,890 feet. The test however, may be drilled deeper. Production of the well is about doubled and is rated at forty to fifty barrels daily. The scheduled deep test for this section, The Carper Drilling Co., Gissler 2, SENW sec. 23-17-30, is cementing tubing at 3,680 feet. In western Lea county, The Emperor Oil Co., Johns 1, SWNW sec. 24-17-32, is reported drilling below 4,365 feet and is making fifty barrels of oil daily.

R. A. Shugart et al., Coulthard 1, SW sec. 15-18-31, a well that has attracted attention for the past four weeks is drilling slowly ahead in lime below 3,625 feet.

Unofficial reports are that six new wells are to be drilled in the Vacuum area, western Lea county where the Texas Company recently completed its State 1-L, SW NE (Continued on last page, column 7)

Child Is Burned To Death East Grand Plains 25th

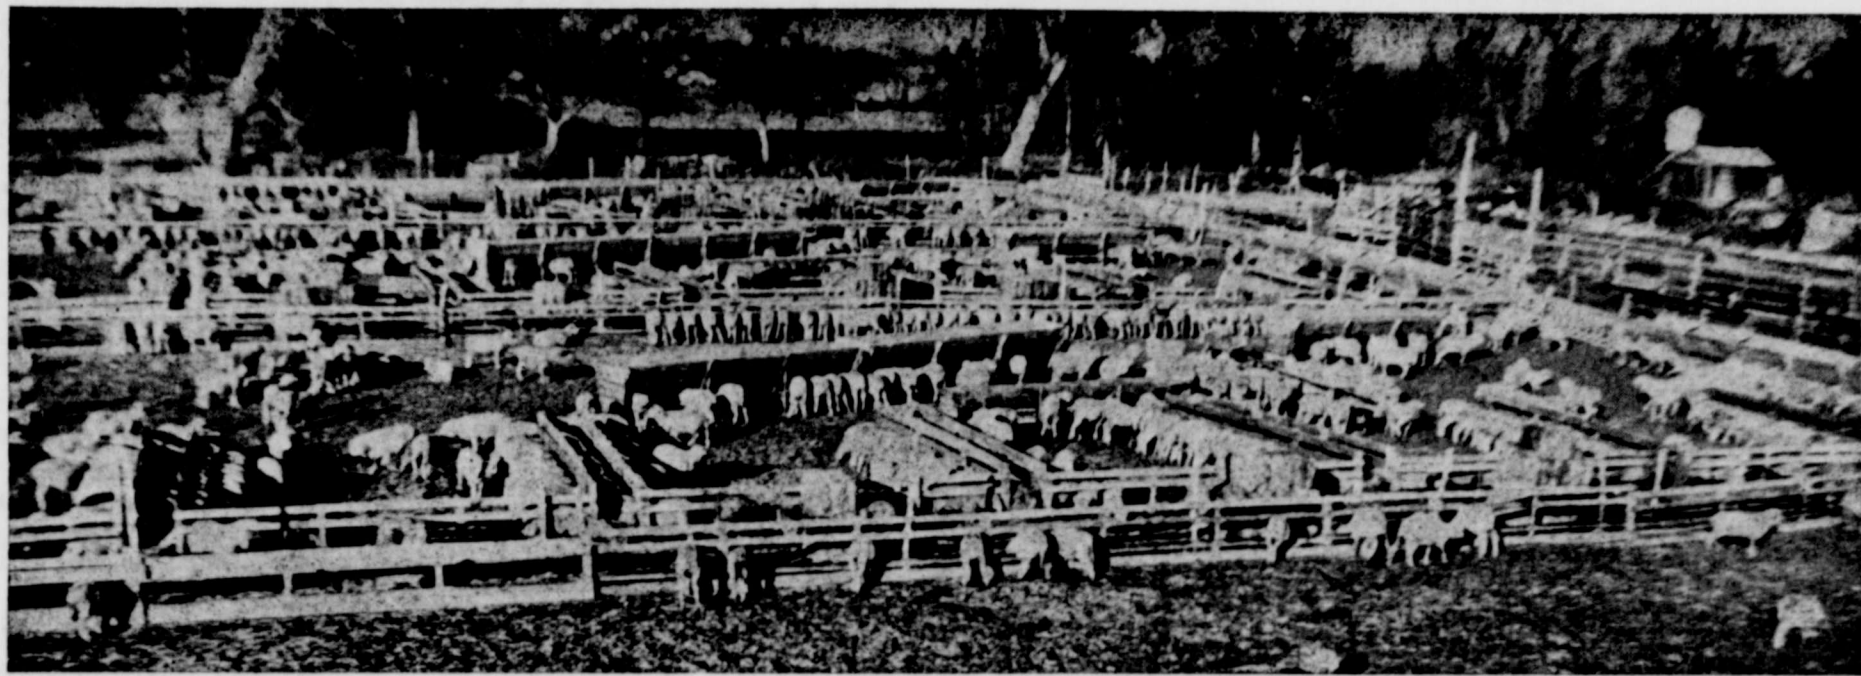

Doris Marie Wilson, four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Wilson of the East Grand Plains, near Roswell was burned to death at the Wilson home last week. She died in the St. Mary's hospital at Roswell early Thursday morning.

Doris is believed to have been playing with matches when her clothing caught fire. She was with a younger brother, Roy Bartlett, a neighbor, smelled burning clothes and rushed to the Wilson home, where he found the little girl plunged into a tub of water outside of the house. Her clothing was entirely burned from her body, according to reports. A pile of matches were found on the floor of the house.

The Wilsons have been residents of the upper valley for the past seven years, moving from Artesia, where Doris was born. Aside from her parents, she is survived by three brothers and one sister. Funeral services were held Friday afternoon with the Rev. Julian Atwood, pastor of the First Baptist church at Roswell officiating. Burial was made in the Roswell cemetery.

Mr. Wilson is employed on the Green dairy farm in the East Grand Plains community.

Eddy County Man Returns To Pen To Serve Sentence

Marcos Leos, 55, Tuesday at Santa Fe reversed the Jean Valjean order, and with his wife and the youngest of nine children, volunteered to return to the state penitentiary to complete a term brokered by his escape twenty years ago, according to a story in the Carlsbad Current-Argus.

He approached Warden John McManus at the desk and identified himself.

Leos was sentenced to ten years from Eddy county October 2, 1915, for manslaughter.

He escaped two years later from a road camp near Alamogordo.

Leos told McManus that he had lived in Illinois, Missouri, and Oklahoma, working mostly as a laborer in the interim.

He exhibited no concern and gave no reason for his action.

He was visiting friends and relatives in Carlsbad, he told McManus, when he decided to complete his sentence.

Leos was a native of Marfa, Texas, and lived in Carlsbad most of his life.

His conviction followed a "brawl with Mexicans" during the Villo revolution.

Joe Johns, formerly sheriff of Eddy county, said that he had advised Leos, through a mutual acquaintance, to go to Santa Fe and surrender to the penitentiary warden.

Johns said that a friend of Leos' had come to him several days ago and asked his advice on whether Leos should give himself up, and that he had told the man he was going to Santa Fe, and that he would speak to the warden about the matter.

He said Leos' friend did not tell him where Leos was, but that he had been living in Chicago.

Leos, the son of Luciana Leos, aged Carlsbad resident and formerly a farmer, wanted to return to Carlsbad so that he could help to support his father, the friend told Johns.

Leos was sentenced to serve from nine to ten years in the state penitentiary when a jury convicted him of manslaughter September 28, 1915, records in connection with the killing of Ramon Jimenez revealed.

Leos Pardoned
Governor Clyde Tingley announced yesterday that he would pardon Marcos Leos, 53-year old father of nine children, who voluntarily returned to state prison to serve out the remainder of two to ten year sentence brokered by his escape from a prison work camp twenty years ago.

The Governor's action followed a lengthy questioning of Leos in the executive office yesterday morning.

Leos told the Governor he had not intended to do wrong in the first place and that every day during his twenty years of freedom he worried about being caught.

Approximately 90,000 passenger car plates were sold for 1937.

WASHINGTON—The broad campaign of government, industry and labor to check the business recession centered Monday on presidential recommendations to stimulate large-scale financing of new homes by private capital. President Roosevelt, before leaving for Florida, completed a special message to congress proposing changes in the housing act to accomplish that purpose. White House officials arranged to send it to Capitol Hill early in the afternoon.

Observers believe the business recession is driving the A. F. of L. and the C. I. O. toward a reunion. The recession has left many men unemployed and has reduced the income of both organizations.

Three Killed In Auto Accident North of Dexter

Two Killed Outright In Auto Wreck. Third Victim Dies En Route To Hospital

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR TWO HELD TUESDAY

Three way collision involving two automobiles and a truck brought death to three persons north of Dexter Friday night.

The dead are Ralph S. Aux, 21, of Denver, and Billy Dale, four months, and Virginia, 12, children of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Ehrhardt of Hagerman.

Mrs. Ehrhardt and Lieut. George Resley of El Paso were injured seriously.

Witnesses said the accident happened as Aux tried to pass another car driven by Mrs. Frank Walker of Artesia, and collided with an oil truck driven by S. E. Wasson of Deming.

The impact threw the Aux car, which was going south, over the hood of the heavier Walker car. Mrs. Walker was injured only slightly, and Walker was not hurt. Wasson and a companion also were uninjured.

A Roswell ambulance rushed the injured to a Roswell hospital. Aux and Billy Dale Ehrhardt were killed instantly. Virginia Ehrhardt died on the way to the hospital.

Aux was visiting his brother, George Aux, of the Lake Arthur CCC camp. H. G. Ehrhardt is educational director of the camp.

The condition of Lt. George Resley, another of the accident victims was reported critical Tuesday. Ehrhardt, also injured in the accident is reported to be improving.

Arrangements will be under the direction of a committee from the Artesia Woman's club and prizes totaling $100.00 will be offered. The business district will also be lighted with strings of multicolored lights, as last year and the lighting effect will be extended to part of the highway. Christmas lights in the business district will be erected and turned on by December 15th, if the present plan is followed. The residential contest will start on the 20th. Lights will be strung across Main street at intervals of twenty-five feet. A small charge will be made to erect the light strings and take them down after the holidays.

A municipal Christmas tree will also be erected and lighted on Main street and will be lighted by the 15th, the same date of the commercial lighting.

Santa will also make his annual visit here, the tentative date has been set as Saturday, December 18th, but may be changed if the date does not meet the approval of the business men.

HOW REPEAL THE NEW DEAL?

(BY PAT MICKALS)

Our ears detect, without strain, a new note in the written and spoken utterances of the various old deal commentators on the new deal.

The new note is to this effect: That President Roosevelt has now seen the error of his ways; that he is beating a disguised retreat to the extreme right while trying to kid his liberal and radical supporters into a far-flung bank failure and market crash slump as well as a bus-union until the new deal is just a memory and the nation shall have returned to rugged individualism.

These old deal commentators' only adverse criticism of this supposed new tack of the President's is that he is going fast enough to the extreme right. So they are volunteering all kinds of advice. But we the readers can't seem to get any specific ideas out of it.

Should this so called "Retreat from Moscow" include repeal of the CCC? The CCC has proven one of the finest undertakings in our government's history.

Approximately 2,000,000 young men have passed through the CCC since its inception in 1933. Of these young men, most have been saved from prep schools of crime and the hobo jungles. Incidentally, they have paid their board and keep by starting in this country a real system of coordinated soil and forest conservation and flood prevention. Would the old dealers want the CCC repealed?

Then there is the SEC (Securities Exchange Commission) and the FDIC, supervising federal bank deposits insurance. Between them they have kept the 1937 slump up to now from degenerating into a far-flung bank failure and market crash slump as well as a business taper-off. Would the old dealers want the SEC and FDIC abolished?

The Wagner Labor Relations Act is a new deal measure to give labor a better show than it has had in deciding what it will work for, and for what conditions.

This law is faulty as now written, and should be revised. But would the old dealers repeal it—at the risk of killing the chance that the present war between the A. F. of L. and the CIO may some day be settled through the mechanisms of the Wagner Act?

How about relief, for instance, as administered by the PWA and WPA? We have these millions of unemployed, whom the industry thus far has not absorbed. Are we unready to leave them to their fate, by abolishing PWA and WPA on the grounds of wastefulness and excessive cost?

What about social security? The Social Security act aims to pension off aged workers and partially compensate workers thrown out of jobs by economic forces—two ways of cutting down relief expenditures. Are the old dealers asking the SSA be dropped?

Just what do the old dealers want the new deal to stop doing, anyway? The most concrete suggestion yet made is to repeal some of the high-bracket taxes on rich men and corporations and substitute a general sales tax.

THE COUNTRY PRESS ON THE SUPREME COURT ISSUE

At the end of the first session of the current congress, it was believed that the supreme court issue would again be introduced at the next session.

Since that time, the feeling has grown that, due to the size and influence of congressional opposition, the issue is dead, and may not see the light of day again.

If the country press of the nation accurately reflects the temper of the American people, the issue is dead indeed.

The Industrial News Review recently sent a questionnaire to 12,585 country papers asking four direct, non-leading questions concerning possible court changes. More than 2,300 papers replied. Proposed legislation that would permit the president to appoint additional justices, was opposed by 90.4 per cent; 71.6 per cent were opposed to the proposal that a two-thirds vote of the court be required to declare acts of congress unconstitutional; 72 per cent were opposed to any bill forcing justices to retire at an age fixed by law. And 83.3 per cent were opposed to a constitutional amendment limiting the authority of the court over acts of congress.

There was a remarkable consistency in the views of editors in far separated states, showing sentiment solidified against court changes, irrespective of sectional politics and feelings. The completed questionnaires, together with a multitude of supplemental notes and letters, indicate that these editors—as did the congressional majority when the court bill was voted on—feel that the supreme court is the bulwark of our liberties, and our first line of defense against dictatorship, and that it would be a national catastrophe to tamper with it.

The country press is not swayed by momentary enthusiasms, or political hysteria. It looks at issues in the light of their effect on the fundamentals of government. It thinks them out. And no better example of this fact could be found than in the editors' reply to the Industrial News Review's court questionnaire.

CONTESTS

From the time of its discovery, this continent has led all the world in wealth of natural resources. The resources have been accessible and marketable. In fact, a cynic once said that the reason the American people were resourceful was that they had the resources.

The harvests are here for those who will gather them, but we are so well-fed and indifferent that we do not bestir ourselves.

To overcome our natural shiftlessness, induced by plenty, we invented the pep meeting, a strictly American institution. We perfected sales contests, corn contests, hog contests, and all the other aids to special endeavor.

In ordinary times, a salesman or farmer is disposed to quit work when he has sold or raised enough to satisfy his modest desires. The prospect of more wheat or more commissions does not interest him. But if he can win a signet ring or a blue ribbon, identifying him as a champion, he will work his head off.

Anyone who can contemplate the people of this continent existing in a state of deep depression for long, has no conception of the richness of this land. All that we want, or can ever want, is here,

Kernels From An Old Nut

A few days ago, on the highway just above Dexter, there was enacted one of the constantly occurring tragedies that are so common that they pass unnoticed in the hustle and bustle of everyday life. Three—possibly four—lives were snuffed out without more than a second's warning. The responsible one paid for his folly with his own life.

There are a score of Pacifist organizations in this country that spend hundreds of thousands of dollars every year in propaganda against war, which is, at present, not a threatening menace to America. But here is a menace that takes annually more lives than America lost in action in the World War, and people cannot be aroused to action against it.

Most anybody knows the danger of reckless driving; but no one will admit that there is any danger in the way he drives. All are like the man who said to me once in commenting on the words: "The wages of sin is death"; "Yes, I know, but that was written for everybody but me".

The tragedy of this particular menace is that it is nearly always the innocent who forfeit their lives. Like charity, the remedy for this evil begins at home.

POTASH DELIVERIES

The American Potash Institute announces that potash deliveries within the continental United States, Canada, Cuba, Puerto Rico and Hawaii during the third quarter of the calendar year 1937 amounted to 150,026 tons of actual K2O. This was the equivalent of 280,348 tons of potash salts. Constituting this total was 216,188 tons of muriate, 16,261 tons of manure salts, 25,190 tons of sulphate, 17,143 tons of kainit and 7,566 tons of sulphate of potash of magnesia. These figures include salts of domestic and foreign origin, exclusive of importations of potassium nitrate.

J. H. Randle, superintendent of the Murchison and Closuit oil properties here will be transferred to another district, probably the Gulf coast, about December 15th, it was learned here Tuesday. Mr. Randle will be succeeded by Dale Thomas.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dimock Tuesday.

Poultry Program Makes Progress

Melvin Buster, coordinator of the national poultry improvement plan, Washington, D. C., spent November 21-23 in the state and, in company with W. M. Ginn, extension poultryman, visited the areas of Tucumcari and Roswell to observe the selection of breeders and testing of them for pullorum. Mr. Buster feels that the poultry program for New Mexico is progressing nicely.

Mr. Buster observed that the heavy breeds, such as rocks and reds had better weight this year as larger birds were being approved by the selecting agents, and the smaller ones placed on the market with other culls. This should result in the production of better chicks and better roasting hens.

The leghorns, which are kept primarily for egg production, tho considered satisfactory last year, showed continued improvement this year. Trapnesting and pedigree hatching of a flock of leghorns at Tucumcari was progressing nicely. At Roswell, instead of trapnesting and pedigree hatching, 400 U. S. R. O. P. chicks were imported from a leading U. S. white leghorn breeder. The cheapest chicks in this lot cost sixty cents at a day old. Some of them, from hens that had laid 1,000 eggs during three, four and five year periods and were still laying, were priced at $2.50 each at a day old. The males from this stock are to be mated with the selected flocks to produce U. S. certified leghorn chicks.

Mr. Buster expressed satisfaction with the program but observed that a greater number of people could share in this program with advantage to themselves and the poultry industry of New Mexico.

59,000 Lambs on Feed In Area

There are a total of approximately 59,000 lambs being fed in Chaves, Eddy and Lea counties, according to figures released by Harry Thorne, of Roswell, inspector for the sheep sanitary board, Saturday. Chaves and Eddy counties contributed the greatest share of feeding lambs, with a total of 57,700.

There are 41,000 lambs being fed for the market in Chaves county, out of the total for the three counties, and 16,600 in Eddy county. Lea county trails with a total of 1,300 on feed in that section. "With more lambs being fed than in past years," said Thorne, "it looks like a big year for lamb feeding in southeastern New Mexico. Most of the lambs are in better shape to start with than they have been in past years, and those feeding should be able to get a good price for them this winter."

The feeding of lambs has been one of the main business activities of southeastern New Mexico for a number of years.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Earl Ployhar on November 25th.

Members of the Atoka Woman's club honored their husbands at a Christmas party given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Haldeman Tuesday evening. This was the annual Christmas party of the club and the ladies took the occasion to invite their husbands.

A dinner was served at 8:00 o'clock and was followed by cards and other games appropriate to the holiday season. At the close of the evening gifts were distributed from a decorated tree to the members and guests present, who were:

Messrs. and Mmes. J. O. Garner, R. G. Knoedler, Paul Terry, V. Lowery, Jim Jackson, J. W. Bradshaw, John Rowland, W. R. Hornbaker, Nevill Muncy, J. A. Reed, Jesse Funk, Mmes. S. O. Higgins and Van Horn, also H. C. Little, Fred Barham and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Haldeman.

Bigler, Landis Feather, Raymond Bartlett, Mary Evans, Howard Whitson, T. T. Flint and Kenneth Williams.

Following the luncheon the club enjoyed the usual game of contract at the home of the hostess. Mrs. D. A. Miller won high score while Mrs. Story was second high for the afternoon's game. After the game the club presented Mrs. Miller with a very delightful surprise shower. Her numerous lovely gifts were a complete surprise to Mrs. Miller, and added the crescendo of pleasure to the afternoon.

Fifteen ladies were present for the meeting which was spent in work. Two comforts were tacked and the quilt that has occupied these ladies for some time was completed.

After the social hour at the luncheon table and as the members gathered about their work, Mrs. J. C. Jesse gave a most interesting and inspiring interpretation of the Bible lesson selected for this day. It was decided at this meeting that the ladies would meet for a short time Tuesday afternoon to wind up the work that they have been engaged with since their next meeting will be in January.

COTTONWOOD COMMUNITY EXTENSION CLUB MEETS

An all day meeting was held Wednesday, November 24th, at the lovely country home of Mrs. D. A. Bradley, by members of the Cottonwood Community Extension club.

The Thanksgiving motif has never been more splendidly and artistically carried out than on this day, by the charming hostess. Centering the luncheon table was a large pumpkin surrounded by smaller pumpkins and a variety of fruits, over which stood guard a large turkey. Slender yellow tapers shed a soft glow over the scene. Turkey decorations prevailed abundantly throughout the house.

The meeting was presided over by the president, Mrs. D. A. Bradley. Routine matters were discussed and officers elected for the coming year, all of which being re-elected. Miss Katherine Whitchurch, home demonstration agent, exhibited a Christmas box. FINE ARTS THEME FOR WOMAN'S CLUB PROGRAM

Mrs. G. U. McCrary and Mrs. D. C. Blue were presented to the Woman's club, Wednesday afternoon at their regular meeting, a fine arts program, by Mrs. Roger Durand, hostess. Discussing the development of our state fine arts Mrs. Blue reviewed an article recently published in the New Mexico magazine. This article, written by Anna Nolan Clark, was a graphic description of the Indian ceremonial which was held in Gallup. It brought out the native arts of New Mexico and the efforts that are being made in perpetuating them. Mrs. Blue discussed the advantages New Mexico offers to artists as a state and the generosity of the state museum which offers its facility to any artist who is seriously engaged in the study of the various arts.

Speaking of the fine arts from the clubwoman's point of view, Mrs. McCrary gave definite pointers on steps that may be taken individually or as clubs in this work. The Penny Art Fund, a project of supervision of arts in the schools, art classes, and many other ideas were offered by Mrs. McCrary in developing fine arts as a club work.

Miss Catherine Ragsdale was the soloist for the afternoon. Two songs of lyric beauty were sung very artistically by Miss Ragsdale. They were "Swan Song," Greig, and "Lovers," Miss Glenna McLean played "From My Cabin Window" and "By the Waters of Minnetonka," as the closing number of the program. Her sympathetic interpretation and adequate piano technique were pleasing to her audience.

During the business session which prefaced the program of the day, Mrs. J. M. Story, president, presided. The Christmas lighting program, which was sponsored by the club women last year will again be one of their projects this year. Five dollars will be donated to this fund. A rising vote of thanks was made to the City Council for the permission to sponsor the Brunk's Comedians. It was voted that the treasurer be instructed to pay off the remainder of the house indebtedness and present these notes and mortgage at the next regular meeting.

Mrs. Charles Morgan will make up the Christmas box for the Fort Stanton boys and any member who has a gift for these boxes will please take them to Mrs. Morgan. Announcement of the Bob Cratchitt dinner which will be held at the hotel roof garden December 15th was made by Mrs. Grady Booker who is serving on this committee.

Bulldogs Start Cage Season With Jal Lions Dec. 17

(By Pat Mickals)
Coach Joe Greeno's Bulldogs opened their cage season this week in preparation for their first game with the Jal Lions. The Lions will journey to Artesia gymnasium, December 17, to open the Southeastern New Mexico prep hardwood circuit.

The Bulldogs, with the return of five veterans from last season, will have a strong quintet to put on the floor when they face the Lions. About forty reported to Coach Greeno and from the looks of the boys, I would say that they will give their opponents a lot of headaches this year. Everts, Haines, Nelson, Rice, Walker, Ansley, Conner, Irby and Evans look to be the Bulldogs best bet for the season.

Coach Joe Greeno will in all probability have a fast passing attack centered around a slow breaking offense. Let's all go out and get behind these boys and watch them go. A team that is backed by the local fans, who show their interest in them by coming to the games to see them in action, will always win.

Let's go, Bulldogs!
The cage schedule for the Artesia high school as announced by C. D. Marshall includes seventeen games, the last to be played with the N. M. M. I. colts here on February 26. The schedule includes eight home games.

SEEING EYE FOR MISS GARRETT

Elizabeth Garrett returned to her home in Roswell yesterday from Morristown, New Jersey, where she has been taking a course at the Seeing Eye school for the blind. She received training in the use of a "Seeing Eye" dog, and has completed her course.

The dog which she will use will arrive in Roswell today.
The Seeing Eye trains dogs for use in guiding the blind, and the prospective masters are also trained in the use of their dogs. Dogs are carefully chosen to suit their masters, and both are trained to work together before one of the dogs is released from the school.

Miss Garrett is the daughter of Pat Garrett, famous early day sheriff.

LITTLE CHANGE IN STATE COTTON

The report on cotton classed from the southwest irrigated section, which includes the states of Arizona, California, New Mexico and Texas, district 1 (that section of Texas west of the Pecos river) indicates a decrease in percentages of white good middling grades in Arizona, California and Texas, district 1, as compared with percentages last week. There is little change in percentage of grades in New Mexico this week compared with the report last week, with the exception of a small increase in percentage of spotted grades.

A decrease is seen in the percentages of longer staples in Arizona, California and New Mexico this week as compared with the report last week. The report shows that cotton classed from New Mexico this week ranged from shorter than 7/8 to 1 5/32 inches.

6,272 CATTLE SHIPPED FROM EDDY COUNTY

November shipment of cattle from Eddy county reached a total of 6,272 head, compared with 5,998 for November a year ago, Ed Toner, cattle inspector, reported Tuesday.

He said the cattle all were healthy and in good condition. The ranges were better this year, he said, and all conditions more favorable to the stockmen.

Only nine horses were shipped from this county.

Toner pointed out the fact that nearly twice as many cattle were shipped from Carlsbad as from Artesia. Carlsbad shipped 4,128 head, while Artesia shipped only 2,144.

Must Number Houses Before Free City Mail Delivery Is Established

The survey of the proposed free mail delivery route has been held up until home owners and owners of business houses comply with the requirement of numbering the houses. According to reports, dwelling owners have responded to the requests to number the buildings along the delivery route in a fairly satisfactory manner, but owners of business houses have been slow in responding. All buildings in the free delivery district must be numbered before the project can be approved. The cost incidental to numbering is small. If in doubt as to your correct number, call the city office.

County May Join Tex. Radio Hookup

Sheriff Dwight Lee said yesterday that the new police short wave station being built at Pecos will be completed by the first of the year, and that he hoped by that time that Eddy county will be ready to join the cooperative system, if the county wants the service.

Lee recently declared that he would like to see Eddy county join the protective chain, since it would be a great protection to county business men but added that he did not care to solicit merchants for Eddy county's share of the cost of construction.

"Since then," Lee said yesterday, "a number of merchants have discussed the matter with me, and all have been very much in favor of joining the system and willing to pay their share of the costs."

Only the matter of Eddy county's share of the cost of construction keeps the county out of the system, which embraces some twenty counties in southwest Texas and southeast New Mexico.

The county commissioners, Lee explained, are willing to take care of the $20-a-month maintenance cost. State laws, however, forbid the county's paying its share of the original construction cost because the station is being built in another state. That makes it necessary for the construction cost to be raised by popular subscription in New Mexico counties which enter the cooperative service.

Bulldogs Upset Cavemen By A Score Of 3 To 0

(By Pat Mickals)

"Believe It or Not"—Paging Mr. Ripley, Artesia 3, Carlsbad 0. And what a ball game! Some 500 thrill-maddened fans saw the supposedly impossible happen on the Artesia field Turkey day when Coach Joe Greeno's fighting Bulldogs fought the Cavemen in what is probably one of the most unique ball games in history. And the Bulldogs made history look silly.

And here is where Mr. Ripley comes in—Artesia made 386 yards from scrimmage and punted only once. The Bulldogs made 51 yards on 3 passes and registered 17 first downs to the Cavemen's 201 yards from scrimmage, 9 first downs and 31 yards on 2 complete passes. The Cavemen punted twice. Never in the history of football will this occur again.

The Bulldogs, paced by Conner, Everts and Haines ran wild, the Cavemen seemed dazed or maybe they couldn't find an opening. In the first quarter Morton of the Cavemen kicked to Nelson and Nelson ran the ball back about 17 yards. Then with Everts plunging the line for yard after yard and "Rusty" Conner, speed merchant of the Bulldogs running the ends, the Bulldogs marched to the Cavemen 14 where they lost the ball to the Cavemen after Nelson shot a beautiful pass to Walker in the end zone, but Walker dropped the ball. The Cavemen could not get rolling even though their ace back, Bretz, tried to get loose. The second quarter was just a battle of power against power with the edge going to the Bulldogs.

The line play of Walker, Garner, Robertson, Clendenen, Standard and Phillips was something to write home about. These boys stopped the speedy Bretz and White with as much ease as they would a mere infant. In the second half the fans went wild when the Bulldogs started another drive from the 25 to the Cavemen's 9 but again the Bulldogs couldn't score, Conner trying a field goal that missed. The Cavemen took the ball on the 20 and after attempts at the Bulldog forward wall netted them nothing, they kicked. Then the march was on again with the ball-hugging of Conner and Nelson, behind perfect blocking the Bulldogs were headed west. The game was a see-saw with neither team getting anywhere, then with the sun setting in the west throwing its shadows across the goal posts, "Rusty" Conner, standing on the 21-yard line at about a 45 degree angle from the goal posts, booted the ball squarely between the uprights and the crowd went wild. The noise that went up would have shook the Rock of Gibraltar. It was a beautiful kick at an angle that would have been difficult for a college kicker. Then after the crowd calmed to something near normalcy, the Bulldogs kicked off to Bretz and Bretz caused the people to hold their breaths when he broke through and was loose but Nelson, safety man for the Bulldogs, made a smashing tackle that brought Bretz down on the 48 after it looked like he was gone. But the Cavemen weren't through yet and they opened up with everything in the bag of tricks. Bretz started heaving the ball to Fitzsimmons and Smith and on two passes the Cavemen were deep in the Bulldogs' territory. With about a minute left to play and the ball on the Bulldogs 21 yard stripe, Bretz shot another pass to Fitzsimmons but Conner wasn't finished with his work yet and he leaped high into the ozone and snared the ball and the game was over. I would like to say this much, that never will the people of Artesia or anywhere else see a game like this one. The backfield of the Bulldogs gave an exhibition of blocking that would have made the immortal Rockne sit up and take notice. The Bulldogs and Coach Joe Greeno should be given the greatest of credit for this. The Bulldogs worked like veterans, even the Four Horsemen would have been proud of the blocking shown by the Greenomen. It was a happy ending for the Bulldogs. This makes it three in a row for the Bulldogs over the Cavemen in their annual Turkey day games.

124 DAYS FROM FOUNDATION LINE TO OCCUPANCY AND LAWN MOWING

NEW YORK (Special).—The $900,000 Administration Building of the New York World's Fair of 1939, already occupied by the headquarters staff, is known as a 124-day wonder. In just so many days, two under schedule, it stood forth completed, with air-cooling system, cafeteria and all facilities in operation. The four-acre plot in which it stands, outside the barriers of the Central Exhibit Zone, had been thoroughly landscaped. Five architectural firms united in designing the structure which is said to incorporate the most advanced provisions for comfort, efficiency and safety. As the "nerve centre" of the $125,000,000 exposition, it is today the hub of multiple activities over the 1,216 1/2-acre site.

No Examination Necessary Now Driver's License

Ray Hall, director of the newly created drivers' license bureau, prepared to open sale of licenses December 1, without examination of drivers.

Faced with licensing 160,000 or more motor vehicle operators before January 1, Hall said it would be necessary to forego examinations to meet the terms of the law. Hall said operation of the law would be based on strict enforcement of suspension and revocation provisions. He explained drivers guilty of traffic violations would be subject to the loss of their permits.

A training period of several months for state police handling the sale of licenses and examinations is planned by the director before the tests are started some time in the winter or early spring.

The plan was approved by J. Stannard Baker, traffic consultant of the National Safety Council of Chicago. He assisted Hall in setting up the new office.

It was formerly planned to examine drivers on their sight and the motor vehicle code.

"With the facilities available," Hall said, "such examinations would require 400 days."

A Charitable Man Is The True Lover of God

Every year at about the time of the annual Thanksgiving an appeal is made by the State Tuberculosis Association to the general public to support the annual Seal Sale campaign, the funds from which represent virtually the entire source of support of the organization.

The cooperative value of the work of the association is very marked and a great deal of importance must be attached to their activities.

Some of the work of the association is in connection with education designed to further tuberculosis control, some of it with the promotion of case finding by means of tuberculin testing and X-ray programs, some of it is in connection with fact finding for the reason that it is difficult to combat a condition in which the facts are not clearly established, and there are a large number of other activities of greater or lesser import.

Tuberculosis is to be considered as an infectious disease but it is different from other such diseases in that it is acquired in general not by one specific exposure but a prolonged exposure to such an infection.

The initial infection is often incurred at quite an early age but owing to the character of the disease it may not become fully manifest until nearly adult life. In order to assure a cure it is most important that the presence of an active infection be observed at the earliest possible moment. Tuberculosis can be cured but an early diagnosis is more than desirable for the reason that in the primary stages the cure is comparatively quickly effected while with prolonged delay in the provision of treatment the disease becomes more and more strongly entrenched and consequently more difficult to erase.

Much of the trouble in connection with tuberculosis is caused by the ignorance of the people with regard to it. Infected parents will live in the closest possible contact with healthy members of their family and will finally infect all of them. Family, friends, and neighbors all become the recipients of infection from the careless or the ignorant.

Education therefore is most necessary and this is a factor upon which the association lays considerable stress.

I could write indefinitely of the work of the association and the benefits thereby accruing. It is not my purpose, however, to indulge in eulogy. It is only my intention to ask all those to whom the title of this article may apply and those who realize the value of the work which the association is doing, to add what may be their "mite", to buy the association seals and to do their part to support a very worthy and worth while endeavor.

Four Graziers Reelected Friday

All four members of the advisory board of the New Mexico grazing association, district 6, whose terms expired, were reelected to the board unanimously, at the meeting held in the Chaves county district court room at Roswell, Friday.

There were 106 votes in the election, and no other candidates were nominated. "It also indicates the satisfaction of members with the work of the present board, and the fact that there was no argument or dissension at the meeting shows the close co-operation of those who are members of the New Mexico Grazing association in district six."

Paradise For Pedestrians Found in Southwestern Part of New Mexico

ALBUQUERQUE — A paradise for pedestrians, where travel is no faster than it was in frontier days, and where automobile accidents never happen, exists right in New Mexico.

The haven of highway haters—the Gila primitive area, spreading over more than half a million acres in the heart of the Gila National Forest in southwestern New Mexico—recently drew the attention of Robert Marshall, chief of the recreating division of the U. S. Forest service. He declared it one of the outstanding points of his inspection tour over national forests in the western United States.

No roads are allowed in the area. No airplane landing fields have been developed. Cattle are allowed to graze in part of the vast area, but there is no logging. Travel is only by foot or horseback, the same method the pioneers used.

Marshall walked twenty miles in one day, in connection with his inspection of the primitive area. Associates revealed that he has sometimes walked forty miles in a day. He prefers to make inspection tours on foot wherever possible, rather than from an automobile, because conditions along roads are usually different from those in the back country, in most forests. He made a pack-trip across the Gila primitive area in four days, covering eighty miles, with several local officials of the forest service accompanying him.

FDR Wants Cut Highway Program

WASHINGTON, D. C.—President Roosevelt asked congress Tuesday to reduce greatly the government's immediate financial outlay for aiding states in highway construction.

1. Cancellation of $214,000,000 apportionment authorized for distribution among the states during the 1939 fiscal year spreading over the next fiscal year's $200,000,000 appropriation balance authorized for the present fiscal outlay.

2. Limit of $125,000 annually on all public roads authorizing for and after 1940.

3. Elimination from the federal aid highway law requirement that the federal government apportionment to the various states an annual amount authorized for appropriation.

Two Boys Plead Innocent Train Robbery Charge

Pleas of innocent were entered to train robbery and murder charges at Las Cruces Tuesday for Henry Lorenz and Harry Dwyer, who despaired that a lawyer

"couldn't do us any good," after failure of a fantastic attempt to hold up a crack Southern Pacific train Thanksgiving day.

Justice of Peace Albert Brown held them without bond and set December 20 for a preliminary hearing.

The "Brooklyn cowboys," 22 and 27, were captured and beaten by enraged passengers on the train. During the melee W. L. Smith of El Paso, switchman, was slain.

Sheriff Jose Viramontes told the court he had asked the two if they wanted a lawyer at arraignment and quoted them as answering: "What's the use? He couldn't do us any good and besides we have no money."

Officials said an attorney would be appointed by the court to defend them.

Junior Hi Safety League Is Formed

The Junior High School Safety League has been organized here for the protection of local school children against traffic hazards, it was announced Monday. The league will be operated under the supervision of six Junior High pupils cooperating with three faculty members.

The six student representatives who were elected by the various classes at the Junior High together with the faculty representatives presented the safety plan to the City Council Monday evening and the plan was approved. Traffic lanes for school use will be established at about a dozen points in the city where school children most frequently cross the principal thoroughfares and streets. The traffic lanes will be marked by the city and patrolled by student patrolmen. A speed limit of twelve miles per hour will be enforced by the student patrolmen, who will use flags as a precaution against speeding.

School lanes have been established at 4th, 5th, 6th, 7th, 8th, 9th and 10th streets at the main intersections, which are designed to afford protection to pupils of both the Central school and Junior High. The traffic lanes were established after the Junior High School Safety League had made a survey of the various routes traveled by the students. It was also decided bicycles should travel as other vehicles, keeping to the right at all times and as near the curb as possible. In other words, the bicycle has been ruled as a vehicle of travel and must observe the traffic regulations, which is opposite to the safety rule suggested for pedestrians, since the pedestrian should travel facing the oncoming vehicle.

Student representatives of the Safety League include Charlene Martin, Helen Watson, Jackie Don Woodside, Robert Feather, Reese Otts, Vernon Swift, and faculty members are: Supt. W. E. Kerr, Mrs. L. O. French and Miss Linna McCaw.

SEC. ICKES TO CARLSBAD

Federal Gas Tax May Be Repealed

Motorists of New Mexico are hopefully following news from the meeting of the house ways and means tax sub-committee in Washington, which is now studying the possibility of repealing or reducing the federal gasoline tax and other automotive excise levies, Dudley Cornell, secretary of the New Mexico Petroleum Industries committee declared this week.

According to the announcement made by Chairman Vinson of the house committee, investigation of $650,000,000 of miscellaneous and nuisance taxes, enacted in 1932 as temporary emergency tax measures, will be undertaken to ascertain the possibility of reducing or repealing some or all of these taxes, which have proved unpopular since their inception.

"Elimination of the federal excise taxes on automotive products would mean a saving of $1,190,000 to New Mexico motorists, a reduction of 20.3 percent in the average motorist's annual $54.75 automotive tax bill," Mr. Cornell said. "In view of the fact that the average motorist in this state has an income of only $25 to $30 a week and must now work from ten days to two weeks merely to pay the annual taxes on the operation of his car, there is obviously a need for automotive tax relief which abolition of the nuisance taxes would provide. Motorists would have to work two days a year less to pay their automobile taxes.

It should be remembered that the typical New Mexico motorist has never owned a new car, and that this automobile is more than four years old and worth only about $200. Consequently, elimination of the federal excise taxes would prove a substantial measure of relief for him.

"Motorists in New Mexico have an opportunity now to work toward elimination of this tax by notifying their congressmen of their desires, so that they in turn can inform the house ways and means committee of the wishes of their constituents."

Mrs. John McCann, district president of the Legion Auxiliary, and Mrs. Irvin Martin, president of the local unit, were in Carlsbad Saturday to visit with Marcella Boyce at the Saint Francis hospital. The Auxiliary unit has given their aid in helping Marcella to have an operation on her eyes. Her condition is reported as satisfactory.

FEAR FELT FOR SAFETY OF AMERICANS

SHANGHAI—Alarm was felt here today for the safety of thirteen Americans, mostly women and children, marooned in an isolated region in the center of the Chinese-Japanese fighting.

Mission headquarters and the United States consulate general expressed anxiety after more than a week had passed without word from the Americans.

They were last known to be in a missionary rendezvous at Mokanshan, near the Chekiang-Anhwei province border. Chinese and Japanese have been fighting on all sides of Mokanshan and deserters from the Chinese army, turned bandits, have been reported looting there.

BARBECUE FOR I. O. O. F. AND REBEKAHS

Fifty-two members of the Odd Fellow and Rebekah lodges attended the barbecue given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Will Taylor at Maljamar Sunday. Mr. Taylor supplied the barbecue, coffee and pickles and each guest brought a covered dish. The day was spent in picture taking, hiking and horse-back riding.

May Foreclose on Rio Grande Dist.

WASHINGTON—As three injunction suits against delinquent tax sales were on file in New Mexico, Senator Dennis Chavez said yesterday he was studying a foreclosure action as one method of solving the financial problems of the middle Rio Grande Conservancy district.

(Temporary injunctions were granted in suits from Valencia, Bernalillo and Rio Arriba counties to halt sales of land scheduled for December 6 in New Mexico. Permanent restraining orders were asked on the ground the conservancy act was unconstitutional.)

Senator Chavez said he learned the reconstruction finance corporation had brought a foreclosure action against a Florida conservancy district.

"It may be so," he said, "that a similar suit could be filed by the RFC in the case of the New Mexico district to protect its holdings there, in order to protect small land owners facing loss of their lands because of inability to pay delinquent district taxes."
