Two Bandits Stage Hold-Up; Net $19

A hold-up staged about 3 o'clock Saturday morning by two armed men netted $19 in cash at the Conoco Service Station, First and Main Streets, according to Calvin Dunn, owner.

Trice Miller, attendant on duty, was held in the rest room at the point of a gun by one of the men, while the other scooped up the money.

Miller said the men asked for and drank a soft drink each and then one of them drew a gun, forcing the attendant into the rest room.

Although told by the bandits to remain in the rest room ten minutes, Miller stayed only about two minutes and then found the men had disappeared. They had likewise torn the telephone loose so the attendant could not immediately call officers.

SIGNING UP FOR TRIP

More than fifty Artesia business and professional men have signed up for the "Good Will Tour" June 15 and 16, according to George Price, president of the Chamber of Commerce, which is sponsoring the venture.

Members of the committee in charge of the trip, which will take the Artesia caravan to a number of communities, including Cloudcroft, where the night will be spent, are anxious that everyone planning to go sign up promptly with them. And they are anxious that at least one representative of every business here make the trip.

The committee: Calvin Dunn, chairman; Dick Atteberry and A. P. Mahone.

Plans for features of the trip are being worked out and a good time and plenty of entertainment are promised.

Plane Lands At Artesia With First Air Mail

Comes from Roswell, Heads for Carlsbad—Return Trip Scheduled For 11 a. m. with North Bound Pouches.

The first air mail plane ever to come to Artesia with mail addressed for local distribution landed at the airport here at 7:28 o'clock this morning. The trip, which began at Roswell, was a feature of National Air Mail Week, May 15-21. Dozens of such special trips are being made throughout the nation today. After a short stop here, the ship took off for Carlsbad.

Of more interest than the first stop in Artesia is the second visit here of an air mail plane, which was scheduled to land at the airport at 11 o'clock this morning and leave again at 11:30 o'clock with the principal outgoing air mail of the day.

Jesse Truett, postmaster, said this morning he would meet the 11 o'clock plane and exchange pouches. He could not tell how much outgoing mail the airplane would carry from Artesia, because of late mailings. However, he expected to have a worthwhile consignment.

Several changes have been made in the schedule since last week, when it was announced a second plane would land at Artesia at 3 o'clock this afternoon. Under the present set-up the same ship makes both calls here with the second stop stepped up several hours.

The final schedule received by Mr. Truett was as follows: Arrive in Artesia at 7:40 from Roswell; leave Artesia at 8 o'clock for Carlsbad, arriving there at 8:30, connecting with an El Paso plane; leave Carlsbad for Artesia at 10:30, arriving here at 11 o'clock; leave Artesia at 11:30 for Roswell, to connect with Hobbs for Albuquerque.

R. W. Cumpsten, postmaster at Hagerman, advised Postmaster Truett of Artesia he would bring the Hagerman air mail here to be worked out of this postoffice.

Auxiliary Women Plan Poppy Day

Preparations for the observance of Poppy Day, Saturday, May 28, are being completed by Clarence Kepple unit of the American Legion Auxiliary, Mrs. Irvin Martin, unit president, announced.

Arrangements are being directed by Mrs. Hal Hamill, chairman of the Poppy Day committee, assisted by a large corps of workers from the unit. Plans are being developed to distribute memorial poppies in every part of the city.

"Honor the World War dead and aid the war's living victims, is the meaning of the poppy," said Mrs. Martin. "The poppy, which bloomed so strikingly among the trenches and battle graves in France and Belgium, became the flower of the dead during the war. Ever since the war it has been worn in all English-speaking countries annually as an individual tribute to the men who gave their lives in the conflict."

"The little red flower takes added significance from the fact that it is made by the war disabled, and that it contributes to the welfare of the disabled men and the dependent families of veterans. Everyone who wears a poppy on Poppy Day not only is showing remembrance and honor for the men who died in the war, but is giving help to those who still are bearing the burdens of the war in suffering, privation and lost opportunities. All contributions made for the flowers will go to support the rehabilitation and welfare work of the Legion and Auxiliary which means so much to the disabled veterans and the families of the dead and disabled."

The women of Clarence Kepple unit are making great efforts for a successful Poppy Day this year and are hoping everyone in Artesia will catch the spirit of the day, and will join with them in "honoring the dead and aiding the disabled."

Firemen from Albuquerque, Roswell and Portales, who were returning to their homes Wednesday afternoon from the three-day state firemen's convention in Carlsbad, had a chance to see the Artesia fire laddies in action at a fire. The blaze, in which the garage of Mr. and Mrs. M. Murphy in Lanning Addition was destroyed, was not serious, but might have been.

Also just arriving in town were J. A. Richards, Artesia fire chief, and some of his men when the siren sounded at 2:07 o'clock. In fact, Chief Richards was walking into his store when the alarm was put through.

Their heads crammed with fire fighting information and methods learned at Carlsbad, the Artesia firemen, although the garage was lost, applied their knowledge and did a good job, quickly quelling the flames, which were threatening the Murphy house.

The residence is beyond the water mains and the fire had to be fought with a small fire truck tank stream and buckets. Rather than chance miring down in a field to reach a well in order to use the pumper after the tank was empty, the fire truck was returned to the business district in order to refill the 100-gallon tank. In the meantime, parts of the garage were torn down and buckets were used to hold the blaze under control.

The fire apparently caught from a container of trash, which Mrs. Murphy had lighted a few minutes previous. It was discovered by her maid.

After the fire was extinguished and the visiting firemen had left for their homes with additional knowledge of fire fighting, Chief Richards disclosed he was named first vice president of the New Mexico State Firemen's Association at the annual election in Carlsbad. He was third vice president the last year. Elected to the presidency was Ira J. Stockwell, chief of the Carlsbad department. Las Vegas was chosen for the 1939 convention city.

Interest in the conventions is growing each year, Chief Richards said, and this year's was the best. About 140 members of the association attended and they were royally entertained with a banquet, a barbecue and two dances.

By way of work the firemen attended demonstrations and schools, the latter in charge of Chief Harry K. Rogers of the fire prevention department of the Western Actural Bureau, Chicago.

One of the most interesting demonstrations was Tuesday evening when members of the volunteer department of Carlsbad performed at the drill tower under the direction of Chief Stockwell of Carlsbad and W. A. Westerfield, chief of the Albuquerque fire department.

Besides Chief Richards, attending at least one day were Hollis Watson, mayor, and some of the Artesia aldermen as well as some of the firemen's wives and the following firemen: Calvin Dunn, Lee Francis, Landis Feather, Herman Dick Jones, John Brown, Ross Connor, P. V. Morris and Clifford Bradshaw.

USES NEWSPAPERS TO SOW LAWN

The local rector of Hawkwell, Eng., aided by his parishioners' old newspapers, is going after the perfect lawn.

Spreading the papers out flat on the ground, he coats them with a thin layer of paste, sprinkles on grass seed and folds them over like sandwiches. This system, he hopes, will give him a flat, smooth, evenly sown lawn.

"Paper has been used before for a lawn foundation," he says, "but not newspapers so far as I know."

"Their great advantage is that they quickly pulp and let the young shoots through, at the same time protecting the seeds from the birds."

Biggest Gas Well Is Now Producing Oil in Eunice Pool

Cavity Cemented, Drillers Go Through to Get Flow of Crude

The Cities Service well, Closson 3-A, SE sec. 18-22-36, in the Eunice pool, which blew out about a month ago at 3,540 feet and astonished oil men by producing an estimated two million cubic feet of gas a day, the biggest gas well in New Mexico, was completed the last week at 3,823 feet, flowing sixty-six barrels of oil an hour through open piping.

Company engineers have since re-estimated the gas output to have been more than four million cubic feet a day.

After the well blew out, 4,000 sacks of cement were used to cement the cavity, killing the gas. Drilling was then resumed through the cement to complete the well, running a seven-inch casing.

An interesting sidelight on the big gasser was the suspension of an 1,100-pound rotary table over the eight-inch hole four feet in the air for more than an hour, held there by the tremendous pressure of the escaping gas.

Four other completions and eight new locations were made the last week. Among the completions was Continental Oil Co., Jack 1, SE sec. 20-24-37, in the sand area in Lea County. At a total depth of 3,586 feet, it was completed for twenty barrels an hour through tubing choke.

Continental plugged and abandoned State I-16 No. 1, NE sec. 16-18-35, in the Vacuum area at 4,810 feet, with no oil, gas or water. Texas Co., State 2-O, NE sec. 36-17-34, Vacuum area, flowed 230 barrels in four hours at the total of 4,750 feet. T. & P., State 11-A, NE sec. 7-22-36, Eunice area, flowed 2,400 barrels a day at 3,845 feet.

New locations: In Eddy County east of Artesia, Premier Petroleum Co., Maddren 1-B, SW sec. 27-17-30, new sand area south of the Grayburg pool. Grayburg Oil Co., Burch 12, SE 19-17-30, English & Harmon, Daugherty 1, SW sec. 3-17-27, Republic Production Co., State 1, SW sec. 32-17-35, east extension to Vacuum pool. Texas Co., Lea 2, SW sec. 14-20-34, Lynch pool. Magnolia, State 3-K, SE sec. 31-17-35, Vacuum pool. Stanolind, Farnsworth 3-B, SW sec. 7-26-37, Jal area. (Continued on last page, column 7)

FUNDS TO LIGHT FIELD

Boys of the Junior Chamber of Commerce yesterday raised about $1,170 in collections and pledges towards $1,500 needed for the lighting of an athletic field.

At a meeting Tuesday evening they voted to put over the drive and devised means to do so. Each person paying into the fund is given a note, non-interest-bearing, for two years. Gate receipts at games and other athletic events will be used towards paying off the indebtedness.

It is planned to light the field on South Roselawn, opposite the hospital site for the present, until the field west of the high school is in shape. The permanent field has been cleaned and sodded.

The boys planned to continue their drive today in hopes they will have the necessary funds by noon.

Everything in Readiness For Cooking School

Home-Makers Will Be Welcomed At Ocotillo Theatre Three Days, Starting Monday, May 23.

Lock the doors and come to town! The Artesia Advocate's Motion Picture Cooking School entitled "Star in My Kitchen" will be the real community attraction for three days at the Ocotillo Theatre, starting Monday, May 23.

This fascinating and different cooking school is open free to every woman in this locality, and The Advocate, as well as Artesia merchants extend this last invitation to join in the home-making lessons and jolly entertainment for at least one day.

The Motion Picture Cooking School will be a practical rally of home-makers to contribute fresh perspective for the "same old job," the monotonous day-in-and-day-out job, yet the most important business in the world. Just as men have their annual conventions, where they listen to lectures from specialists, local women will have their convention to consider home-making problems.

Just as fresh inspiration for the old job is one of the by-products of the familiar cooking school, which presents a lecturer in a model kitchen, so are new ideas and keen incentive born in the film class for home-makers, with its novel approach and modern setting.

No "false-front" camera-beautiful kitchens satisfied these specialists. They insisted on working in complete, compact, modern kitchens, which actually reflect more scientific ingenuity and careful planning than any living room.

Recognizing the demands of home experts, the producers of "Star in My Kitchen" signed all-star kitchens, with an all-star cast, adding a continual procession of close-ups, so that every seat in the Ocotillo Theater is a good seat for this amazingly-pictured home-making course.

Everyday happenings have been dramatized in the plot of "Star in My Kitchen." Behind the sparkling humor and suspense that are so necessary to screen stories was a deliberate plan—an ambitious determination to carry instruction, inspiration, and worthwhile home news of women in every community.

The camera took its time and it took its close-ups, so that every person in the Ocotillo Theater will have a "large as life, and twice as natural" view of each operation. There will be no "orchestra circle" at this entertainment, since the back row guest of The Advocate will have an equal chance to peer into the busy mixing bowl, watching the deft steps of measuring, creaming, sifting, and thorough mixing, not overlooking the final work of baking, roasting, French-frying, or freezing.

For this is no half-hearted demonstration. Each delicious dish will be completed and shown with such realism that there are sure to be hungry "ohs" and "ahs" from the audience. If any stray husbands get into the theater, they are certain to ask, "When do we eat?" Keeping up-to-the-minute on fresh discoveries to ease the home manager's burdens, is one of the jobs of the household specialists who supervised the demonstration in this profitable cooking school. Because they have devoted years of training and study to home problems, these capable experts know how to help other housekeepers to run their homes more smoothly, interestingly and economically. Under the glow of their enthusiasm and creative skill, a well-cooked meal becomes elevated from "just a job" to an artistic achievement, requiring skill and imagination.

Not only does this picture show new style dishes, styles, and interesting ways to serve meals and

TREES ARE PRETTY—BUT

Shade trees, seen along many of the residence streets of Artesia, help enhance the beauty of the town. They serve several purposes, provide shade, lessen the force of the wind and increase the value of property.

Why not have a campaign to trim up all trees along sidewalks in Artesia, not only enough to clear the heads of pedestrians, but cut out any unsightly limbs as well.

SORRY WE FORGOT TO WARN YOU!

By golly, it slipped up on us and got by before we realized it! The Friday just passed was that bugaboo to mankind, so say the wise guys, Friday, the Thirteenth.

But, as we recall it now, being reminded after it is all over, nothing sinister happened; we did not get hurt; we ate three times that day; the boss (our new one, then of less than a week) jumped on us only once, and that very gently; we received a letter from our wife; no major tragedies took place; nothing of grave importance has been heard of in Artesia, Eddy County or the nation.

Sorry we slipped up on it last week; we might have had some warnings to put out.

UNCLE SAM IS JOHN SMITH

It is the business of Harry L. Hopkins, WPA administrator, to pass money out rather than take it in. He does receive some money once in a while, however, and it is doubtful that he ever got a more significant check than the one he received recently from Fred Hohner.

Fred Hohner is an unemployed mechanic living in Newark, N. J. In 1935 he got some help from the WPA. Since then he has not needed any help; but he never could forget that he had had help when he needed it, and so the other day he set out to square the account.

He had $112 at the time—and no job. But he went down to a postoffice and bought a money order for $100, and then mailed it to Hopkins.

"My money was getting so low that if I hadn't paid it when I did I might have had no money to pay," he explained. "The government did its best to me, and I wanted to do my best to the government."

The obvious comment on all this, of course, is that it is a pity that more people haven't the same kind of conscience that Fred Hohner has. Millions upon millions of people have been helped by the government in the last five or six years; only a few have remembered to pay the government after they got on their own feet again.

That doesn't mean that most people are ungrateful. It simply means that very few of us ever realize just what this government of ours really is.

It isn't a thing which exists of itself, an independent entity which floats cloudily in the sky over Washington and showers down blessings every so often. In reality it is nothing more or less than the instrument through which all of us act. It is ourselves, in short—John Smith and his fellow citizens.

So when "the government" does something for a man—provides a job for him, pays his rent, bails out his business, or whatever—what is actually happening is that that man's fellow citizens are coming to his rescue. He isn't being aided by a benevolent old gentleman with chin whiskers, known as Uncle Sam, or Santa Claus; he is being aided by his own countrymen, and all of them, in one degree or another, are paying his bill.

Perhaps people like Fred Hohner recognize that fact. If so, it is a little easier to see why they insist on repaying what they have received. They aren't repaying a mythical Uncle Sam; they are repaying their own fellows, precisely as they would if they had borrowed from the next-door neighbor.

We would have a much clearer perspective on all of the activities of our government, and of our own obligations toward it, if we shared in that recognition of its true essence.—Gallup Independent.

We noticed in an exchange something about "old and tired laws." Well, maybe it wasn't a typographical error after all.

Seems as though some citizens who have been watering the lawns should take in their hoses before dark. They're mighty fine for tripping purposes.

The new Jefferson nickel, somebody has figured out, buys only 7/10ths as much as the buffalo nickel did when it first came out. What the country still needs is a good 5-cent nickel.—Midland Reporter-Telegram.

And here's an item from Amarillo, Texas that might be profitably copied by the local ministers: One Amarillo preacher really got his congregation "told" at the Easter services. Noting the huge crowd, he said:

"Well, there are a lot of you who were here last Easter, and haven't been back since, and won't be back again until next Easter, so I want to take this opportunity of wishing you all a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year."—Clovis News-Journal.

Don't tell the boss how "nearly" you did it—a four bagger doesn't count until you have touched home plate.

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "As for me, I will behold thy face in righteousness: I shall be satisfied when I awake, with thy likeness."—(Ps. 17:15). The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook: "To grasp the reality and order of being in its science, you must begin by reckoning God as the divine principle of all that really is. bine as one,—and are the scriptural names for God."

Wayne Stanton Truett

Wayne Stanton Truett is a recent arrival in our city, at present stopping at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Truett. The youngster, who possesses extraordinary vocal talent, made his appearance on the 13th and his parents are sending out cards announcing his arrival.

It follows that the student

It follows that the student who goes to college with no well defined notion of what use he expects to make of the knowledge he acquires there, comes out with still no notion of what to do with it. As one recent writer expressed it: "If a student goes to college a rotter, he comes out a rotter; but with more information and consequently more dangerous."

It is becoming apparent to the world

It is becoming apparent to the world that colleges must devote more attention to character than they have done heretofore. A graduate of one of our great universities, who for fifty years has had a large part in the affairs of the world and on whom his alma mater recently conferred the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws, said only a few days ago: "The pity is that so few of our faculties have the will and the power to open up to youth their stores of knowledge and experience and let it share with them the conviction that what this troubled world needs is a sense of spiritual values."

This is only a restatement of what I have read

This is only a restatement of what I have read—in one form or another—from no less than half a dozen leaders of American thought—all hard-headed business men—within the past ninety days. If this analysis is correct—and I think it is—two things must be apparent. First: Youth must be taught the primacy of these values in the home until they are fixed in its character. Second: In selecting a college to which to send our children, the moral and spiritual standards at the college cannot be overlooked. Quite naturally, if the smaller college has correct standards, its influence must be more readily impressed upon the life and character of the student, for the contact with the leaders of such thought must, of necessity, be much more intimate there than in the larger college or great university. For this reason, some of our best colleges restrict their enrollment to one thousand or less. It is a serious problem, and deserves much careful thought.

Kernels From An Old Nut

It will be only a few days until the end of our school year and two or three scores of our young men and women will have finished the courses that our city schools have provided for them. Some of these young people will go on to college; but some will be unable or unwilling to go further. Of those who are foreclosed from going, none need be deprived of the privilege of becoming liberally educated. Of those who continue on through college, a considerable number will come out uneducated. For, in a very large degree, the college says to the young man: "Here is a certain amount of information; you may take it or leave it." There is too little in the college training of today that has for its objective anything calculated to reveal the purpose and application

Indian ceremonial publicity is going to take to the air—along with Gallup's first air-mail pickup plane today. On the front of all air-mail dispatched from there during the week, the special "cachet" stamp will be imprinted on the face. This stamp was designed by E. G. Deville, Gallup artist, and will be entered in a state-wide contest of similar "cachets."

Time Magazine has announced the purchase of the Literary Digest, 48-year-old weekly, and that, beginning with its May 23 issue, it would take over the 250,000 Digest subscriptions. The name of the Literary Digest, which had absorbed the Review of Reviews, World's Work and Current Opinion, will be continued in Time's masthead.

The last unmarried member of President Roosevelt's family will take as his bride Anne Lindsay Clark, attractive daughter of a prominent Boston family, at Nahant, Mass., on June 18. The ceremony will be performed in the Boston Church, non-sectarian, which is open only during the summer, by the Rt. Rev. Henry Knox Sherill, Episcopal bishop of Massachusetts, and the Rev. Endicott Peabody, president of the Groton School, who has similarly officiated for other members of the Roosevelt clan.

Bishop John M. Moore, chairman of the commission on unification of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, announced the uniting conference, which will join 8,000,000 American Methodists, will be held April 26, 1939. Where this meeting will be decided by a joint committee consisting of five members each from the three branches of Methodism. St. Louis is a strong contender and Cincinnati and Baltimore have been mentioned.

Officials of the New Mexico state fair board are proceeding at Albuquerque with plans for resuming the long-abandoned state fair with an exposition at the new fair grounds at Albuquerque next October 9-16. It will be the first state fair since 1916. The appointment of Leon H. Harms of Albuquerque as secretary-manager of the fair also was announced. Harms, who came several months ago from Kansas where he obtained experience in fair promotion, will go to work at once, the board said, on premium lists and the general fair program.

In Louisiana alone, 5,000,000 pounds of muskrat meat are available annually for food consumption.

Chief Justice Hughes urged lawyers be "vigilant" in seeking the selection of "good judges" to preside over the nation's courts. He was addressing the American Law Institute. "The prime necessity in making judicial machinery work to the best advantage is the able, industrious judge," he said. President Roosevelt, in a letter read at the same meeting, said the country was reshaping legal philosophy to keep pace with the needs of the people.

Earle Kerr, director of the New Mexico income tax division, estimated the levy would yield $400,000 this year compared with $317,000 collected in 1937. He said receipts thus far this year were $290,000, approximately $30,000 above those for the same period in 1937. The director attributed the increase to "better earnings," and "to some extent to a little better system of filing returns."

Dr. Hugo Eckener holds little hope for the future of Germany's lighter-than-air passenger travel, in view of the failure to obtain helium from the United States.

"There will be no more passenger Zeppelin flights without helium," the veteran president of the Zeppelin manufacturing plant said in an interview. He explained he felt "disappointed and astonished" by the continued refusal of Secretary of Interior Ickes to consent to sale of the non-inflammable gas.

Lump-sum claims for federal old-age insurance are now being approved by the Social Security Board at the rate of one every 30 seconds of each working day, according to David S. Pruitt, manager of the El Paso office of the board. During the first nineteen days of April, claims were certified for payment by the Washington offices of the board at the rate of approximately 740 a day, of which 436 were death claims. The remaining 304 were filed by workers reaching the age of 65.

Weed Killing Plan Also Kills Grass

One way to clear brush and noxious weeds from land is to turn in goats enough to keep the bushes stripped bare and the weeds clipped close to the ground until the roots starve and the plants die.

Unintentionally, a good many farmers follow practically the same plan in pastures they really want to keep productive, says A. T. Semple of the soil conservation service. On their grasslands they pasture so many animals and for such a long season that the tops of the good grass plants have no chance to feed the roots and to store food reserves that the plants require for growth. The result is the death of the best grasses and a lowering of the grazing both in quality and quantity.

A thin cover of grass or weeds provides fess feed and holds less of the rain that falls on the pasture, Semple points out. Close-cropped pastures are likely to go from bad to worse and to suffer erosion by wind and water. Farmers often are forced to reduce the number of animals that graze on the damaged grasslands, but they seldom reduce sharply enough to allow the good grasses to recover and form a leafy surface covering to catch and hold the rain that will, in turn, promote a richer growth of grass.

When pastures have been overgrazed for several seasons and the plants have been thinned to an unproductive stand, it may be necessary not only to reduce radically the number of animals on the pasture, but also to give positive aid to recovery.

Pasture renovation aids may include one or a combination of the following measures: (1) Seeding to desirable grasses and legumes; (2) fertilizing—with complete fertilizer as a rule; and (3) mechanical aids to erosion control and water conservation. Contour furrows, incidentally, have proved one of the simplest and most effective of these mechanical aids.

Buckwheat Waffles Are a New Hit

● A new love in the life of many hearty eaters these days is Buckwheat Waffles. It is a happy combination of that good ole buckwheat flavor plus the crunchy crispness of waffles. The batter for these bits of buckwheat sweetness should be prepared while the iron is heating. After they are baked, buckwheat waffles should be served the moment they are taken from the iron, as stacking means loss of crispness.

BUCKWHEAT WAFFLES

To prepare four buckwheat waffles, use the following ingredients:
1 cup Aunt Jemima Buckwheat Ready-Mix
1 egg, well beaten
1 1/2 cups water
3 tablespoons melted butter
Mix and bake according to package directions.

COCOANUT BUCKWHEAT WAFFLES

Buckwheat waffles have an added attraction when prepared with shredded cocoanut. They are tops for waffle parties after the theatre and for Sunday night suppers. The following ingredients will produce four waffles:

1 cup Aunt Jemima Buckwheat Ready-Mix
1 egg, well beaten
1 1/2 cups water
3 tablespoons melted butter or shortening
Mix and bake according to package directions.

MOLASSES BUCKWHEAT CAKES

For those who like their buckwheat cakes without any waffle flourishes there's the old standby, Molasses Buckwheat Cakes. They hit the spot when prepared with honest-to-goodness molasses and the genuine prepared buckwheat flour. The griddle will give eight cakes when you use the following ingredients:
1 cup Aunt Jemima Buckwheat Ready-Mix
1 1/2 cups water
1 1/2 tablespoons molasses
1/2 cup shredded cocoanut
Mix and bake according to package directions.

Prehistoric Bones Are Found in Texas

Saber-toothed tigers, gigantic camels and armadillos eight feet long once roamed the prairies of West Texas.

That was more than a million years ago, the experts say, but numerous bones of these huge prehistoric creatures have been found near Canyon in the last few months.

Prof. C. Stuart Johnston, head of the department of geology and anthropology at West Texas State College, said recent fossil discoveries in North Cita Canyon, only 17 miles from the college campus, proved the existence of animals never before known to have lived in America during the Upper Pliocene Age — more than 1,000,000 years ago.

The Cita Canyon discoveries were made by Professor Johnston and his wife. Scientists believe the animals which they found form a connecting link bridging a long gap in the development of various forms of North American life before the Great Ice Age.

Nuts—Shelled Or Unshelled

Whether to buy shelled nuts or in the shell is often a problem to the housewife.

The Bureau of Home Economics gives some figures on this point in a new leaflet on nuts and ways of using them. The bureau believes that when the labor involved in cracking is considered, nuts purchased as kernels are cheaper per unit than nuts purchased in the shell. They are also less bulky and require less storage space, but nuts in the shell often keep better. Black walnuts and hickory nuts are usually sold shelled.

Three and one-half pounds of almonds in the shell, according to the bureau, make about 1 pound, or 3 1/2 cups, shelled. Two and a quarter pounds of filberts in the shell equal about 1 pound or 3 1/2 cups of shelled filberts. To obtain a pound of shelled peanuts—3 to 3 1/2 cups—only 1 1/2 pounds need be bought unshelled. Two and a half pounds of pecans or English walnuts in the shell equal about 1 pound of kernels, but the pecans will fill 3 1/2 cups while the walnuts will measure 4 cups if in halves. Eastern black walnuts shell out to least advantage; it requires 5 1/2 pounds in the shell to supply about a pound of kernels. The pound will fill 3 cups if the kernels are broken, or 4 cups if in halves.

The leaflet, "Nuts—And Ways to Use Them," may be had free, while the supply lasts, from the Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

SOCIETY.

DELTA KAPPA GAMMA ENTERTAINED HERE

The Artesia members of Delta Kappa Gamma were hosts to the society Saturday, with a 1 o'clock luncheon followed by a "Founder's Day" program, at the Artesia Hotel.

Mrs. Minerva B. Pope of Roswell, an honorary member, who is distinguished by the active part she has taken in the work of the group, was in charge of the program. Introducing Miss Oriol Curtis, Roswell, whose short history of Delta Kappa Gamma was as informative as interesting. Mrs. Pope gave background to the afternoon's thought. Short biographical sketches of each national founder were given by Misses Lillis M. Fisher, Jennie Kinney, Clyde Totten, Eva Bourne and Harriet Poorbaugh. Mrs. P. H. Deaton, Miss Gladys Webb and Mrs. Pope of Roswell; Mrs. Estelle Pope Hayes and Mrs. Mary Riggsbee, Carlsbad, and Miss Gladys Webb, Carlsbad and Miss Linna McCaw of Artesia. Miss Poorbaugh concluded the afternoon's program with "The Birthday Song," accompanied at the piano by Miss Totten.

An interesting fact that all founders except one are living was brought out in the program. Red roses were used in the decoration of the roof garden where the program was held. Business of the group was transacted during the afternoon. Miss Curtis, Miss Bourne, Miss Webb and Miss Kinney, Roswell, Mrs. Margaret Bildstone, Artesia, and Miss Carr, Carlsbad were elected delegates to the national convention in Denver the second week of June. Miss Linna McCaw is an alternate. Miss Carr, whose initiation was to have taken place in Carlsbad at the last meeting, will be at the national convention, after which she will be a delegate from this chapter.

Corsages were presented to Mrs. Pope and Miss Jennie Kinney, one of the state founders. The luncheon, which preceded the afternoon's program and business meeting, was held in the coffee shop of the hotel. The large table was centered with deep red roses commemorating the founders. Besides those mentioned, places were laid for Misses J. Constance Chapman, Wayne Stevenson, Mabel Vowell, Edith Shields and Myrtle McMillan of Carlsbad, and Miss Edna Drury, Miss Merrill Bradley and Mrs. Leone French of Artesia.

HOBO PARTY FOR DOLLAR CLUB

The guest list for a hobo party given by Mrs. I. S. Reser at her home Friday evening was made up from members of the Dollar Club of the Christian Church.

About twenty-five "vagrants" presented their hard luck stories and weary selves at the back door of the Reser home at the prescribed hour. One was so completely realistic that she received a prize for her costume. This was Mrs. Isa McClay and the prize was a heavenly pie made by the hostess who is famous for such.

Entertainment for the evening was unusually planned and provided the guests with a great deal of good fun. First was a mock trial. Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Kelly were "arrested and arraigned" before Judge W. H. Ballard for "embezzling funds from the dollar treasury." There was a long and detailed trial, at which witnesses were called upon extemporaneously and added their part of the fun by catching the spirit of the affair and telling gossipy tales. The case was finally dismissed as it was definitely proven to be nothing but an old wives' tale. Other games were played, among which an old-fashioned spelling bee was as popular as any. This was won by Judge Ballard.

In the late evening the hostess handed out paper sack handouts to her guests, in which were sandwiches. Pie and coffee also were served, with Mrs. Bryan Shumake and Mrs. Faith Houston assisting. The primary purpose of the club is to swell a fund for church improvements and each meeting marks this goal as a closer attainment.

SURPRISE BIRTHDAY PARTY FOR CHARLES BULLOCK

ENGRAVING—THE ADVOCATE

Stockings Most Expensive Single Item in Clothes Budget

by Ruth Dennis

AN INQUIRING REPORTER asked six women, picked at random, to name the most expensive single item in their clothes budget. Five promptly answered: "Stockings!" Small wonder, when American women spend $300,000,000 a year on stockings!

Even the New York State Department of Labor, working out a minimum budget for women who work, allowed 20 pairs of stockings a year—a new pair every two and a half weeks.

Making even a 4-thread stocking last that long is a problem for some girls. Frequent runs are the most common complaint.

Secret of longer wear

Two girls may start with the very same stockings, yet one will often get twice as long wear.

Here's an important factor: the way they're washed! Stockings should be washed in lukewarm Lux suds after each wearing.

Lux guards elasticity, on which the life of a stocking depends. When the silk is "lively," it gives under strain without breaking easily, then springs back into shape. When this elasticity is weakened, as it may easily be by rubbing or by harsh soaps, runs are apt to pop!

YOUNG PEOPLE ENJOY SELVES AT LOUCKS HOME

A group of young people gathered Wednesday evening of last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Loucks in honor of the birthday of their young daughter, Maurine. Games were played on the lawn, after which a bonfire was built in the back yard, where a wiener roast was enjoyed and a birthday cake served.

The guests were: Betty Blue, Elizabeth Owens, Billy Jean Baker, Betty Jean Owens, Martha Wallington, Frances Warren, Louise, Dorothy and Thelma Hayhurst, Betty Brown, Ava Lee McLellan and the honoree, Maurine McLellan.

CARLSBAD MATRON ENTERTAINS ARTESIANS

Mrs. Joe Gant, the former Miss Opal Martin, of Carlsbad entertained a number of her Artesia friends at her home in Carlsbad Saturday evening with a buffet dinner. Red roses clusters and perennial sweet peas were used by the hostess in arranging her attractive home for the party.

The guests were: Misses Isabelle Macdonald, Corinne Puckett, Lucille, Morris, Ethel Bullock and Mary Woods; Mmes. T. A. Edmondson, Howard Stroup, Kenneth Williams, and Joe Hamann from Artesia, and Mmes. Frank Irby, Jack Johns and Robert Morgan of Carlsbad. Tables spread with hand made linens seating four, were placed about the living rooms. The tasty meal was arranged smartly on the dining table of the home and served buffet style.

HUSTLERS' SUNDAY SCHOOL CLASS HAS STEAK FRY

The Hustlers' class of the Methodist Sunday school held a steak fry at the golf course at 6:30 o'clock Friday evening. The meeting, which was well attended, was devoted entirely to a social get-together for the class members and their families.

Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Herman Green and two children, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Bowden, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. John Rice, W. R. Hornbaker, teacher of the class, and Mrs. Hornbaker, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Foster and youngster, Mrs. Veda Tope and two children, Oscar Long, I. L. Spratt, Mr. and Mrs. V. L. Lowry, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Terpenning and two children and two boys of Mrs. Hester Terpenning, and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Spartan.

INFORMAL EVENING PARTY FOR YOUNGER SET

Miss Sybil Pior was hostess at her home Saturday with an informal evening of dancing and games to a number of the high school set. Guests invited for the evening were Misses Bettynelle Lanning, Charlene Martin, Mary Baird, Wanda Story, Jane Shugart, Catherine Louise Williams and Edna Carder, and Bernard Cleeve, Ray Lewis, Edwin Ward, Jack Denton, Weldon Grant, Wayne Truett and Curtis Bolton. Frosted drinks were served in the late evening by the hostess and her mother, Mrs. B. F. Pior.

BETTY AND JIMMY BLUE HAVE BIRTHDAY PARTIES

Betty and Jimmie Blue and their mother, Mrs. D. C. Blue, were hosts at a party Friday afternoon celebrating their birthdays. Jimmie Blue was eight years old and Betty was ten. Though their birthdays are a week apart, it has always been their custom to celebrate them together some time during the intervening week.

Guests were invited with instructions to wear slacks for a good time in the back yard. Various games were played and the hours passed by rapidly with the good fun. In the late evening hamburgers, ice cream and two magnificently decorated birthday cakes were served by Mrs. Blue.

CAKES GO WRONG? EXPERT TELLS WHY

Mrs. Ames Describes Failures Gives Their Causes

"Diagnosing cake failures is easy," says Mary Ellis Ames, director of Pillsbury's Cooking Service, "although to many housewives they seem mysterious."

Mrs. Ames lists below the common causes of cake failure.

Why Cakes Fail
Trouble: cracked top . . . hump or blisters on top. Caused by: too hot an oven . . . too much flour.

Trouble: dry cake. Caused by: too much beating . . . too much flour . . . too much baking powder . . . too little shortening, sugar, or liquid.

Trouble: heavy, gummy cake. Caused by: incorrect cooling . . . insufficient mixing . . . too much shortening, sugar, or liquid . . . wrong proportion of baking powder.

Trouble: (1) moist, sticky crust . . . (2) crust peels off . . . (3) spotted, mottled crust. Caused by: (1) too much sugar . . . (2) incorrect cooling . . . (3) too slow an oven.

Trouble: coarse-grained cake. Caused by: insufficient mixing . . . incorrect oven temperature . . . too much baking powder.

Trouble: fallen cake. Caused by: too little flour . . . too much baking powder, shortening, or sugar, too much batter in pan . . . too hot an oven.

Fine Flour a Necessity

"But no matter how perfectly you guard against these other causes of cake failures, you can't bake a fine cake unless you use a fine flour," warns Mrs. Ames.

Pillsbury's Sno Sheen Cake Flour is used exclusively in the Motion Picture Cooking School. The famous Sno Sheen blend of choice soft wheats was perfected by Pillsbury laboratory technicians through extensive research, and years of baking test cakes of every kind.

Warning to Owners Of Horses, Mules

An infection of brain diseases of horses and mules is again appearing in New Mexico. It is called Encephalomyelitis, sleeping sickness, or Kansas horse disease, according to J. W. Benner of the New Mexico State College.

The disease is characterized by derangement of consciousness, paralysis and a high mortality. One or more of these symptoms, or variations of them, may usually be observed. When the disease is present in the usual form, there are few post mortem changes recognizable to the naked eye.

When combating this disease, the fundamentals of disease control must be constantly borne in mind—prevent horses and mules from being exposed to infection, use good sanitation methods, and vaccinate against it when advisable.

Drinking water is suspected as being one of the common mediums of transmitting the disease. It is, therefore, advisable to furnish good, clean water at all times and not use water from dirt tanks, watering holes, etc.

Two immunizing vaccines are offered on the market for this disease—encephalomyelitis vaccine and hyperurum. Both of these are expensive and the results have been somewhat questionable. For the more valuable animals, the use of these remedies is recommended for immunizing, even tho the immunity is not as sure as that provided by many vaccines for other diseases. Immunity usually lasts about one year.

It is usually a good general practice to vaccinate horses and mules with a good equine influenza mixed bacterin.

Big Cut Seen in Treasury Income

Final congressional approval of the new tax program left treasury officials with prospects of about $50,000,000 less income for next year than they had anticipated, according to a Washington dispatch. Original estimates provided for $5,330,000,000 revenue in the bill, but one federal expert declared the lower level of business and the resultant decline in corporation profits would reduce that figure.

President Roosevelt was expected to give quick approval to the legislation, which greatly modifies the present undistributed profits and capital gains levies—targets of business criticism.

Treasury officials, however, said privately they were not fully satisfied with the new provisions, adopted as a compromise after the senate had eliminated the entire undistributed profits tax. One expert said the new rates might enable some very rich persons to avoid paying as heavy income taxes as under the present law.

The new capital gains provision permits a taxpayer to elect whether he will pay that tax immediately or hold his taxable assets more than two years and pay a flat 15 per cent.

A treasury official said wealthy corporation investors could take advantage of the provision to avoid high surtaxes by holding their profits in the corporation for the two-year period and paying the flat two per cent. Otherwise, he said, their incomes would be pushed into higher brackets.

Rates in the new bill, which renacts much of the present tax law, will apply to this year's corporation incomes, and the levies will be payable next March 15.

Mrs. Tom Heflin left Tuesday by bus for El Paso, where she will be joined by her sister, Mrs. Alma Zuniga, and son from Mexico City. It is easier to write a check than it is to walk a mile to pay a bill in cash. Checks are safe to mail; cash is not, unless registered.

Paying by check shows the business world that you do not "bank in your pocket"—that you maintain a reserve. This improves your credit standing.

Receipts for cash payments are often omitted, or they are lost; cancelled checks come with your statement monthly and are proofs of payment. All these and many other advantages, would be yours with a checking account in this bank.

Juniors Fete Seniors Friday In Colorful Annual Banquet

The custom of the junior class entertaining the seniors on the eve of their departure from the high school was instigated fifteen years ago. Since that time each annual event has vied with the previous ones in ingeniousness of entertaining, decorating and social prominence. Friday evening found the class of 1938 hosts to the class of 1939, the faculty and school board members with a beautifully appointed banquet followed with a prom, the success of which was evident. The event took place on the roof garden of the Artesia Hotel.

A rose arbor greeted each guest as he stepped from the elevator and under this beautiful arch the path led to a real garden of flowers, which included a fish and lily pond centered with a huge vase of colorful larkspur, a love seat placed under the yellow glow of a full moon, an authentic replica of a well, with brass-bound wooden pail from which was served punch during the hours of dancing. Tables for the dinner hour were arranged in this garden which was enclosed by a white fence with palings and posts made of paper. All these arrangements were placed about a lovely white May pole with colorful streamers, the key note for the evening's motif.

Places for the many guests were marked at each table by a rose and silver May basket with candies and cards attached, each bearing a name. Tables were set for groups of ten counterwise to the main speakers' table. At each place was a favor of a dancing figure holding a streamer to the miniature May pole of silver, which centered each table. Rose and silver festooning streamers were caught at the ceiling.

Miss Maurine Everett of the junior class was toastmistress. May, the month of poetry, and Maytime, the theme, were combined as Miss Everett spoke only in rhyme. Dressed in deft blue of classic lines with a full pleated skirt of chiffon, her appearance and poise was charming. A toast, to "The May Queen," the senior class, was given by Marshall Morris; to the junior class, by Arlee Reno; "May Baskets," the faculty, by Miss Louise Rice; "May Flowers," a reply, by J. C. Bruce; "May Pole Builders," the school board, by Charles Baldwin, and a reply, by Charles Morgan.

Music was presented by a duet, Miss Eunice Boteler and James Everts, singing "Giannina Mia," by Friml, and a quartet, Miss Lela Bess Mann, Miss Dorothy Gilmore, Bob Windham and James Everts, singing "Will You Remember," by Friml, accompanied by Miss Laverne Schnoor, supervisor of music.

A popular event of the evening's program was a May pole dance given by the first grade youngsters in costume. Little Helen Frances Batie, Helen Cheney, Marjorie Durbin, Ruth Bailey, Mamie Kelsey and Norma Hancock, with Norris Wilson, Lewis Richardson, Wayne Smith, Dan Booker, Terry Hornbaker and Bobby Lee Collins as their partners, danced the traditional folk dance about the May pole perfectly.

Following the banquet, music furnished by a Lake Arthur orchestra provided an evening of dancing. The girls of the two classes in their formal evening frocks made a lovely affair of this formal social event of the school year. Faculty and board members were in evening dress.

The sponsors of the class who directed the evening and developed the plans for decorations and the dinner with the members of the junior class were Miss Edna Drury and Miss Alma Sue Felix. The event is the beginning of the commencement exercises for the close of the school year. Members of the sophomore class served the dinner. These girls were beautifully dressed in bouffant frocks of pastel shaded organdy with mock ribbon lacing and belt. During the hours of dancing they served punch at the old well.

United States To Buy Islands

The navy intends to add to its wartime "line of observation" in the Pacific ocean a few more islets near Canton and Enderberry Islands, authoritative persons said in explanation of a bill pending in the House.

Canton and Enderbury now are claimed by both the United States and Great Britain.

An obscure $25,000 item in a measure, which the House naval affairs committee approved involves purchase by the navy of portions of the tiny Palmyra group, about 1,000 miles south of Honolulu, informed persons said. They are privately owned by Americans.

The projected acquisition fits into the navy's plans for a half-circle of island warning stations about Hawaii.

The House bill would authorize $38,751,000 for forty-three shore construction projects, the largest in Hawaii, Alaska and the Canal Zone.

Navy officials said the $25,000 item was merely for purchase of "an auxiliary landing field" for seaplanes on patrol duty in and

Lakewood Items

Mrs. Mary Orr, state club specialist, plans to visit the local clubs again before the close of school, Mr. Garrett said.

The eighth grade graduation exercises for Lakewood will be held in the schoolhouse at 8 o'clock, Wednesday evening, May 25.

The regular meeting of the Lakewood Parent-Teacher Association has been set up to May 19, instead of May 26, in order to prevent a conflict during the commencement period.

The Lakewood-4-H Club met Monday, May 9, with Judge Garrett, assistant to Fred Barham, in its regular bi-weekly session at the schoolhouse. The members studying weeds received their books from the Extension Service and began mounting specimens. The girls continued their sewing project under the direction of Mrs. J. H. Angell and Mrs. Albert Lee, local sponsors.

The boys' projects, all of which are well started, are: sheep, Junior Foster; beef calf, John Henry Angell; pigs, Joe Floyd Hughes and Rex Lee; rabbits, Jose Rodriguez; gardening, W. J. Penning-

Science Rewards the Gas Range

HAVE you ever wondered what a scientist looks like? Above is one pictured conducting a broiling temperature test on a new model gas range in the famous testing laboratory of the gas industry at Cleveland, Ohio. This is but one of more than 500 scientific tests a range must undergo before winning the laboratory seal of approval, which means the range will give long and distinguished service as the peer among cooking appliances.

Kitchens Built for Beauty . . . . .

Kitchens Built for Service . . . . .

That is the fundamental requirement for every woman who seeks a modern gas range, and that is why the new 1938 Roper gas ranges appeals to so many women.

The range, as we all know, makes the kitchen, and if you install a Modern Roper Gas Range, you'll be a long way toward the modern kitchen of your dreams.

Just imagine how your kitchen will look modernized with a new Roper as the first improvement. It can be done at nominal cost when you use your Gas Company's liberal purchase plan. You'll find a Roper model at most any price you wish to pay.

Let's take a look at the new 1938 Roper. It is styled and designed by E. D. Pellegrin, one of America's most famous designers and stylists. Everyone raves about its beauty the minute his or her eyes rest upon it. Here's the last word in a gas range. Of course you'll be proud to show it to your friends.

But the big surprise comes when you see how it operates. The handy cooking top cover conceals the burners when not in use. It's practical as well as beautiful. When raised it acts as a splashback, keeping your walls unsoiled. It is lined for appearance and rigidity.

The Roper "Air Stream" burner tray is so designed to handle all minor spillage. Tray lifts out. Notice how the burner bowls are enameled for easy cleaning. The special design of burner bowl holds the heat right under the burner. That's a reason for economy in the Roper Cooking Top. This burner tray is easy to handle, formed in one piece, and it is no trick to remove it.

The "Multi-Flame" burner has points of superiority over every other. It is made of cast iron proven conclusively to be the most serviceable and long-lived, operating under high temperatures.

You can place the multi-flame burner right in the dishpan and wash it. It is easily cleaned—ready to be placed back in its position for another period of carefree burner performance. It fits every utensil. There are so many advantages over old style cooking in the new Roper that space does not permit naming them all. You are most cordially invited to come to the New Mexico Eastern Gas company for a more complete description of these modern ranges.

It costs so little to install a Roper. Why not enjoy the saving and pleasure of truly superb cooking. It's so easy to do with a Roper, and it's so easy to own a new Roper the Gas Company Way.

306 VISITORS IN CAVERNS MONDAY

Three hundred six visitors, coming from 20 states, District of Columbia, England, Old Mexico, Canada, and five from South Africa, made the trip through the Carlsbad Caverns Monday, bringing the month's total up to 8,140 compared with 8,902 during the first 16 days of last May, a decrease of nearly 800 visitors.

Safety in Numbers!
New Figures on Road Maps Help Drivers

New Conoco Maps Make You Think in Hours Instead of Miles

PONCA CITY, Okla. — Numerals that indicate the average driving time from town to town in hours and minutes have been added to United States maps issued by the Conoco Travel Bureau, America's largest free travel service which is maintained by the Continental Oil Company. This new automobile safety development is the most advanced road map improvement in recent years.

The new driving time figures, which are printed in red beneath each mileage figure, are expected to save the driver the trouble of calculating his own probable time and to encourage him to think in terms of reasonable time of arrival instead of the distance he has to cover.

Continental's driving time figures are the result of long investigation and careful checking of practically all of the well-travelled roads in the country. The hours and minutes as they appear on the new maps represent effective but reasonable speeds under normal traffic conditions and over dry roads.

In each case, consideration has been given to the nature of the route and to whether there are any unusual number of hills, turns or other features. For example, where a distance of 182 miles of flat straightaway in Arizona requires only 4 hours and 30 minutes at a safe pace, the same distance in the West Virginia hills requires 5 hours and 27 minutes.

The driver is expected to make allowances if he is in the habit of driving unusually fast or slow or if he encounters bad weather or heavy traffic. In test use, motorists seem to have no difficulty in learning how much allowance to make after a few trials, and the easy calculation of the probable hour of arrival appears to set a standard that removes some of the uncertainty and makes for more comfortable driving.

Leaders in the day's travel were Texas with 71, California with 67 and New Mexico with 55.

School groups present were from Lingo and Ima, New Mexico, and from Dickens, Texas.

The grand total of visitors through the Carlsbad Cavern since January 1 is now 41,535 compared with only 36,486 during the same period of last season, an increase of more than 5,000 tourists.

Mrs. Atwood Loses By Small Majority

KANSAS CITY — The General Federation of Women's Clubs elected new officers Monday and the evening was dedicated to a three-year program pivoting about public health.

Elected unopposed as president was Mrs. Sadie Orr Dunbar, Portland, Ore., who said she would lead the federation's 2,000,000 members in a campaign for the advancement of public health.

A close race for recording secretary ended with Mrs. H. B. Ritchie, Athens, Ga., winning over Mrs. Jefferson D. Atwood, Roswell, N. M., 472 to 428.

Relative to the election campaign preceding the election on Monday, the Kansas City Star in describing the antics of the campaign said of the New Mexico delegation: "Yippee! howled the Cactus Josephine delegates from New Mexico, shouting in a huddle and stamping around Mrs. Louise H. Coe, Glencoe, N. M., senator for sixteen years in New Mexico. She was waving a large banner while portly Mrs. Martin Yates, Artesia, jiggled merrily and urged the delegation on to bigger and better tunes and pennant waving."

"A CAKE FOR EVERY OCCASION"—MRS. AMES
Baking Authority Outlines Extensive Range of Cake Types

Cakes are like dresses, according to Mary Ellis Ames, director of Pillsbury's Cooking Service. You should have different kinds for different occasions.

To provide all these different kinds of cakes, Mrs. Ames directs the staff of Pillsbury's Cooking Service in the constant developing and proving of new recipes for use with Pillsbury's Sno Sheen Cake Flour, which is featured in the Motion Picture Cooking School.

Everyday Cakes
Since a good cake is always a popular dessert with every member of the family, Mrs. Ames has developed many recipes for inexpensive everyday cakes. These cakes may not require costly ingredients, but they still can have expensive-appearing lightness and delicacy if Pillsbury's Sno Sheen Cake Flour is used. Typical of this sort of recipe is the recipe for Two-egg Cake, printed on the outside of the Sno Sheen package.

Dress-up Cakes
Cakes for bridal showers, for important dinners, for gracious tea-time entertaining, for meals when a man must be impressed... they're all included in the Pillsbury "balanced" recipes for use with Sno Sheen Cake Flour. Many of these are in the special recipe folder packed in every box of Sno Sheen. Others are printed right on the Sno Sheen package; among them is Nut Devil's Food, a high-ranking favorite among men.

Home makers who see the Motion Picture Cooking School, "Star in My Kitchen," will admire the luscious Feather Sponge Cake, which is baked with Sno Sheen Cake Flour. They'll agree with the heroine, when she asks her grocer for this superior cake flour.

A rancher of the Sierra Pelona range yesterday found the wreckage of a missing Lockheed airliner and its nine occupants, all dead. The plane, missing since Monday afternoon, had crashed into the side of Stone Mountain, 20 miles north of Sawdust, Calif. Apparently the plane burst into flames after the crash.

"BAKING ADVENTURES ARE FUN"—MRS. AMES
Home Economist Suggests Livening Meals With New Foods

"Find adventure in your own kitchen," urges Mary Ellis Ames, noted director of Pillsbury's Cooking Service. "Try new recipes: bake exciting new foods. Your family will look toward mealtimes with the keenest anticipation, and eating will never be a dull routine."

Mrs. Ames is well qualified to talk about "baking adventures." She directs the activities of Pillsbury's Cooking Service staff in developing and proving new "balanced" recipes. These "balanced" recipes, which are worked out under home-type conditions, make the preparation of new foods a sure and simple matter. They supply information in the exact order in which the home maker needs it.

Recipes Easy to Follow
This is the form of a "balanced" recipe: (1) recipe title; (2) size of baking pan to use, or number of servings recipe will yield; (3) baking (or other) temperature to be used, and length of time for baking (or cooking); (4) ingredients listed in order of use; (5) method of preparation, each step being numbered.

Look for Folder
"Look for the folder of 'balanced' recipes packed in every bag of Pillsbury's Best Flour and in every package of Pillsbury's Sno Sheen Cake Flour," urges Mrs. Ames. "They are economical and practical, yet each offers you a real adventure in baking."

Both Pillsbury's Best Flour and Pillsbury's Sno Sheen Cake Flour are used exclusively in the Motion Picture Cooking School.
