Farmer Appeal To Ag Division Turned Down

Committee Overrules Protest — Have Fifteen Days to File With State Group, Which Meets in Las Cruces March 14.

The formal appeal of about 100 North Eddy County farmers to the county agricultural conservation committee of the recent division of the county into two conservation areas, on the grounds the action was "discriminatory," was overruled last Thursday by the committee.

The farmers must now carry the appeal to the state committee in hopes of a reversal of the order. This must be done within fifteen days after notice of the county committee's decision is received by farmers concerned.

However, the state committee previously invited a committee of Central Valley Farm & Livestock Association members to meet at Las Cruces on Tuesday, March 14, and it is presumed the appeal will be presented at that time.

All of the farmers who appealed to the county committee had not received notices of the sustaining action up to yesterday.

The following is the form of notice mailed out by Herbert C. Little, ACA secretary, telling of the decision:

"In a county committee meeting held Thursday, Feb. 23, the county committee considered the appeal presented by the Central Valley Farm & Livestock Association regarding the division of the county into two separate administrative areas.

"The county committee upheld its first decision and, therefore, it would be impossible to make any changes in the individual cotton allotments since they were established according to the instructions set forth in Section 344 of the Agricultural Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act.

"If you are dissatisfied with this decision of the county committee, you may, within 15 days after the receipt of this letter, appeal in writing to the state committee."

Roswell Host To Christian Church Groups

The form of an old-time district school was taken Wednesday when Christian churches of the entire Pecos Valley gathered in Roswell for an all-day meeting, with the Roswell First Christian Church as host church.

Work of the Disciples of Christ, or Christian Church, was subject of the day's discussion, and it progressed after the fashion of a country school room. Each church delegation was represented as a separate "class," presided over by its leader or "teacher."

Special interest was added to the gathering by the presence of two national church notables, Mrs. Madge Smith of Indianapolis, and Dr. C. L. Pickett, who has recently returned to the United States for a visit after 30 years service as missionary in the Philippine Islands.

Two church leaders of the Rocky Mountain area also were present at the meeting, C. C. Bobbs and Mrs. H. L. Howland, of Denver, who presided over some of the "class room" discussion.

Attending the Roswell meeting from the Artesia church were the Rev. and Mrs. J. Vernon Wheeler, Mrs. Frank Thomas, Mrs. Walter Graham, Mrs. Jeff Hightower, Mrs. Nevil Muncy, Mrs. Owen McClay and Mrs. Fannie Bruton.

Pryor Infant Dies Monday Afternoon

Shirley Pryor, 3-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dude Pryor, died Monday afternoon of pneumonia at the home southeast of Artesia.

Services were at 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon by the Rev. John S. Rice, pastor of the Methodist Church. Burial was in Woodbine Cemetery.

The baby, the old child of Mr. and Mrs. Pryor, was born Nov. 3 in Carlsbad. The parents came to this locality last fall from Pampa, Tex.

Mrs. A. C. Crozier has recovered from a severe attack of influenza.

SCHOOLS CLOSE DUE TO ILLNESS

Artesia schools were closed Wednesday noon for the remainder of the week because of the illness of many of the teachers, making it nearly impossible to carry on classes. Present plans are for classes to be resumed Monday morning.

Not only are many of the teachers ill, but dozens of students have not been attending school because of their own illness or illness in their families.

It is estimated there are about 800 cases of flu and kindred diseases in Artesia, many of which are ambulant. However, a large number of persons have been quite ill and confined to their homes.

In nearly every business house there is at least one person away from his work because of illness, and retail business in general has reflected the epidemic.

While said by physicians not to be as bad as the "brand" of flu of 1918, the present type is of sufficient severity that it must be treated with respect.

Paralytic Strokes Are Fatal to Mrs. James on Tuesday

Death Comes to Artesia Woman, Long a Resident of Pecos Valley

Mrs. G. M. James, a resident of the Pecos Valley the last thirty-five years, died at her home here at 11:25 o'clock Tuesday night at the age of 75 years. She suffered two strokes of paralysis Monday, the first that morning and the second that evening.

Funeral services were from McClay Chapel at 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon by the Rev. John S. Rice, pastor of the Methodist Church. Burial was in Woodbine Cemetery.

Pallbearers were E. B. Bullock, Rex Wheatley, C. E. Mann, H. G. Watson, J. C. Jesse and J. C. Floore.

Surviving Mrs. James are her husband and four daughters and three sons, who are: Mrs. G. W. Hill, Monahans, Tex.; Mrs. J. C. Fraley, Littlefield, Tex.; Mrs. Louie Cole, Artesia; Mrs. B. F. Thomas, Elk City, Okla.; Frank James, Littlefield, Tex.; Grover James, Tuleta, Tex.; and George James, Royalty, Tex.

Mrs. James is also survived by thirty-nine grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

As Caroline Emerick, daughter of Nicholas and Cynthia Emerick, Mrs. James was born Nov. 26, 1863, at Massillon, Ohio.

She married Mr. James many years ago and to them were born nine children, of whom the seven mentioned survive.

Mr. and Mrs. James lived many years in the valley, first at Orchard Park, Roswell and Hagerman, and came in about 1912 to Artesia, where they lived the greater part of the time since.

Mrs. James was a member of the Methodist Church, which she joined a number of years ago at Orchard Park.

Mrs. T. S. Cox Has Stroke Wednesday In Indiana City

Mrs. T. S. Cox, who was called to the bedside of her sister, Mrs. Harry Gruensing, in Terre Haute, Ind., last week, suffered a stroke Wednesday, and is critically ill in a Terre Haute hospital, word has been received in Artesia.

Mr. Cox, who received a telephone message from Terre Haute last night, left immediately for Indiana. He was accompanied by P. V. Morris and Cal Dunn to Clovis, where he entrained for Terre Haute, and will arrive there early tomorrow.

According to information received here Mrs. Cox suffered the stroke Wednesday at the Gruensing home, and was not removed to a hospital until later last night. Mrs. Gruensing's condition also became worse when her sister became ill, it was said.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Nunn returned Thursday from El Paso where they were business visitors for several days.

Golf Club Plans An Eighteen Hole Course This Year

Preliminary plans were made to increase the Artesia Golf Club course to eighteen holes, at a meeting Monday evening of the board of directors, at which William Linell and H. W. Kiddy were re-elected president and secretary-treasurer, respectively.

The directors decided to buy an 80-acre tract adjoining the present club grounds to the west and adjacent to the state highway, which would provide for the additional nine holes and give the club an 160-acre, L-shaped piece of property.

In order to raise funds for the purchase of the additional land, the board reduced the greens fee from $15 to $5, to maintain during a membership drive. The club dues of $1 a month remain the same.

The proposed tract has a number of natural hazards, including a hill and gravel pit, which should make for a sporty course.

Kiddy reported that about $1,800 was spent by the club during the last year in improving and maintaining the course. It is planned to spend a similar sum the coming year. Oscar Samelson and Arnett Harrall were named as members of the greens committee, and Floyd Springer, Bill Gelwick, Linell and Kiddy, the tournament committee.

Leap Year Twins Register Protest; Birthdays Scarce

Openly rebellious about the birthday situation Wednesday were Margaret and Marjorie Clowe, 15-year-old twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. David I. Clowe. And the date of March 1 seems to make them feel that way just about three-fourths of the time!

By all rights, Wednesday should have been the birthday anniversaries of the two girls. And it would have been, too, but for the fact that their very first birthday, back in 1924, fell upon Feb. 29. That cuts them out of a birthday except for every fourth year.

Margaret and Marjorie are students at the Junior-Senior High School, and are identical twins. They were born at the Clowe family residence, 701 Grand Avenue, and readily admit that if they counted their age by birthdays only, they'd just be 3 3/4 years old to date!

Joe Foster, Mrs. Florence Hastings and Vestal Hastings were week end visitors in Amarillo, returning to Artesia Sunday.

Ross Bakery to Have New Plant By About May 1

Work started Monday on a new building between Frank's Market and Simons' Food Market west of Fourth and Main, to be occupied when completed by the Ross Baking Company.

The building will be of hollow tile construction, 25x100 feet, and will have a small retail department in the rear. It is being built by E. E. Patterson.

M. C. Ross said the new plant will be strictly modern and will have some new equipment.

It is planned now to move to the new quarters about May 1.

ROTARY WOMEN'S NIGHT MEETING IS POSTPONED

The joint dinner meeting of Rotary Club members and "Rotary Anns," scheduled for next Tuesday evening at the Artesia Hotel, has been postponed because of so much illness at this time. No new date has been set.

Dexter Man Buried At Artesia Monday

J. L. Nelson of Dexter, who came to the Pecos Valley in 1880 with his parents and a member of a family which is well known here, died Saturday at Dexter.

Funeral services were at the Artesia Church of Christ at 4 o'clock Monday afternoon by the Rev. Allen Johnson, pastor. Burial was in Woodbine Cemetery here.

Mr. Nelson is survived by his widow, the former Miss Lucy Miller of Hope, whom he married there in 1896, five daughters, five sons, two sisters and four brothers. He was born at Kerrville, Tex.

KERR TO CONFER ON EQUALIZATION LAW

W. E. Kerr, superintendent of Artesia schools, was called yesterday to Santa Fe to confer with other educators on the equalization law.

He is expected to return Saturday.

Little Danger of Meningitis Spread From the Indians

There is little danger of the spread of epidemic meningitis from the Navajo reservation to the rest of the state, in the opinion of Dr. Frank W. Parker, state epidemiologist, who has returned from a conference with Indian service doctors and local health authorities in Northwestern New Mexico.

Only one Caucasian has died, he said—an Indian trader from Arizona who was brought to Shiprock. All other victims have been Navajos.

The Indian medical service is doing a good job in trying to prevent further spread of the outbreak, said Dr. Parker. When a new case breaks out, they not only move the patient to the Indian hospital, but bring his whole family along and isolate them for two weeks.

The epidemiologist believed the rapid spread among the Indians due chiefly to their mode of living, not that they are more susceptible than "palefaces." In cold weather, especially, he said, the tendency is to overcrowd the small hogans.

Four Cars Are Involved in a Traffic Mix-up

Four automobiles were involved in a traffic accident at the intersection of Fourth and Main Streets at 5:15 o'clock Monday afternoon, in which no one was injured, when the car of Con Mathews of east of Artesia caromed off one car and struck another, which in turn was shoved into a third.

The first of a series of bumps was between the Chevrolet of Mathews, who was coming into Main Street from the south, and a Ford V-8 being driven west on Main by Bill Sweet. Mathews turned west and tried to avoid the Sweet car, the tires of which were slid in an attempt to prevent a bump.

The left front fender of the Sweet car struck the right rear corner of the Mathews Chevrolet, which then continued west and collided with the parked Ford coupe of R. M. Sands, a salesman from El Paso. The Sands car was shoved into the Chevrolet of C. M. Jones, which also was parked.

Hope Schools Playground to Be Landscaped

Plans are rapidly progressing whereby the playground of Hope schools will be landscaped throughout with solid planting of Bermuda grass for a lawn, completed by several hundred trees, shrubs and vines.

More than half the playground already has been planted to Bermuda grass through the assistance of CCC boys under the direction of Wayne Colson, superintendent.

A total of seventy Chinese elms were planted three years ago and have now attained a height of 15 to 30 feet. Many shrubs, including the evergreen Boston ivy and euonymus, suited to planting next to buildings, are well started. Three hundred feet of evergreen hedge shrub was the last planting to be made. Many flag and cannalilies have also been planted. Much grading was done through the courtesy of the county commissioners and plowing and grading were also done by Virgil Craig.

Lilacs, evergreen trees, ocotillo and roses will complete the project, which has been written up and approved as an NYA project in the Hope schools.

Two Artesia Boys Accepted for All Southwest Band

Ben Wake and Max Schulze, Artesia High School students, have been accepted as members of the all Southwestern high school band, which will play at the All Southwestern Music Educators' conference at San Antonio, Tex., April 12-15.

E. L. Harp, director of the Artesia school bands, has been requested to conduct rehearsals for the clarinet sections of thirty-two members.

The conference is made up of the states of New Mexico, Arkansas, Colorado, Kansas, Missouri, Oklahoma, Texas and Wyoming.

TWIRLERS' MOTHERS TO MEET SATURDAY

Mothers of Central School twirling corps members have been requested by E. L. Harp, band director, to meet at the school at 11 o'clock Saturday morning to make plans for the corps members to twirl with massed school bands at Carlsbad Caverns on "Governor's Day."

Plans also are being made for the twirling corps and band to put on school assembly program numbers at some of the schools in valley towns "National Music Week," the first week in May.

ASKS THAT LIVESTOCK HAVE LIGHT EQUIPMENT

While the Legislature bent its efforts toward passage of a law "with teeth in it" to keep livestock off the highways, Sen. J. M. Daniels of Mora County offered this safety measure:

In a floor amendment to a bill now before the senate, he proposed to force livestock owners to equip their animals with "headlights, tail lights and clearance lights."

MERCHANTS GET BAD HEADACHES

As is frequently the case, when a specialty outfit with a "great advertising proposition" — usually a racket—comes to town, a number of Artesia merchants find themselves with a headache and little more this week, because of such a proposition "sold" here a few days ago.

Merchants who do not believe in cutting prices below their competitors, "bit" on the deal and now find that they must give away some of their profit in order to comply with their offer.

No one is condemned, for high powered salesmanship unloaded the proposition here. The promoter collected nothing for advertising in his scheme, but did sell 500 coupon books, printed outside of Artesia, at 50 cents each, to be resold for $1. He got his.

Carefully planned newspaper advertising has more value than all of the schemes put together. It is an investment.

High School Boys On Artesia Rotary Program Tuesday

"Bo" Bradshaw Tells of Trip to Chicago as 4-H Club Winner

A somewhat diversified program was presented Tuesday noon at the weekly Rotary luncheon, mostly by or pertaining to Artesia High School boys, of whom the basketball squad and their coach, Joe Greeno, were guests.

Harold (Bo) Bradshaw, who last fall won a trip to Chicago as a 4-H Club representative from New Mexico through his beef calf project efforts, gave an interesting report of the trip.

The trip was made with another boy and five girls, all 4-H Club winners, and a chaperone. Young Bradshaw told about a trip by bus over Chicago, visits to museums, factories and other places of interest, as well as entertainment provided for the visitors.

Harvey Burgess, who last fall was selected by a Rotary committee as the boy on the Bulldog football squad to have shown the best sportsmanship on the team, was presented an award medal by the Rev. Henry S. Stout in behalf of the club.

John Rice was announced as the basketball squad member who will receive a similar award.

The Rev. Mr. Stout, in presenting the football award to young Burgess, defined "sportsmanship" as "honesty."

Both of the high school athletes responded with short talks. Coach Greeno described the current basketball season as "disastrous," as well as "humiliating," but predicted winning teams in the future, for, he said, thirty-two boys, who have been practicing at least an hour and a half each day, will be back next year, all eligible to play.

Likewise, the coach said, about 250 boys in physical education classes, who meet 2 or 3 times a week, are being taught the fundamentals of the game. The absence of this method in the past led to the losing streak this year.

Greeno complimented his boys on their spirit in the face of defeat. W. E. Kerr, superintendent of schools, read a letter from Capitan complimenting the basketball boys highly for their behavior when they played there Feb. 4.

Two Final Games Of Season Lost By Bulldog Cagers

The Artesia Bulldogs completed their disastrous basketball season the last week with losses to Dexter and New Mexico Military Institute, Roswell, on their adversaries' courts.

Dexter waded through the Bulldogs Friday afternoon 43 to 24 and the institute took the long end of a 48-to-23 score Saturday evening.

Burgess, Artesia forward, led the scoring for the Bulldogs in the Dexter game and Bolton, center, in the institute game.

Maljamar Well Strikes Pay in New Oil Sand

Test Shows 285 Barrels in Day From Shallow Formation at 3,700 Feet — Other Producers Are Completed.

The Maljamar Oil & Gas Corporation this week struck a new, shallow pay sand never before tapped with the William Mitchell No. 1-B well in NE 3/4 SE 34 20-17-32, which made 285 barrels in a 24-hour test.

The well, located between the old Maljamar pool, where the Baish Discovery No. 1 well is located, and the Shugart-Coulthard sand area, struck the pay sand from 3,693 to 3,710 feet, a distance of 17 feet in pay. The company intends to continue through the pay.

It is expected the well will settle down to about a 200-barrel producer.

During the last week nine producing wells were completed in the Southeast New Mexico fields. They are:

Danglade & Clower, Glier 1, NW 33-22-37; total depth 3,690 feet; flowed four barrels oil per hour.

Italo, Indian Petroleum Corp. 1, NE 5-25-37; total depth 3,548 feet; flowed 11 barrels per hour.

Magnolia, State 2-J, SE 22-17-34; total depth 4,750 feet; flowed 16 barrels in three hours.

Magnolia, Bridges 25, SE 26-17-34; total depth 4,750 feet; flowed 35 barrels in 6 hours.

Shell, Foster 2, SE 34-19-36; total depth 3,953 feet; flowed 190 barrels oil plus 200 barrels water per day.

Roswell Salesman Is Killed Monday Night on Highway

Leroy H. Schaubel of Roswell, 40, a representative of the United Sash & Door Company, was killed instantly Monday about midnight when his automobile struck the abutment of the bridge over the Cottonwood between Artesia and Lake Arthur.

He was returning from the lower valley, where he had been on business, to his home. Mr. Schaubel had called on the Kemp Lumber Company here earlier in the day Monday and told D. I. Clowe, manager, he was going on to Carlsbad before returning home.

His automobile, a new Oldsmobile, was demolished.

Mr. Schaubel, a World War veteran, is survived by his widow, Mrs. Esther Schaubel, Chaves County health nurse, who was in New York City on leave of absence, taking an advanced course in nursing at Columbia University, and a daughter, who was with her mother.

New Watchmaker At Otts Store

Lee Hardgraves of Sanderson, Tex., expert watchmaker, assumed duties Monday morning at the Paul A. Otts Jewelry Company store here.

He is a graduate of Bradley Watchmakers' College, Peoria, Ill., and is trained, as well as in watchmaking, in engraving, jewelry work, silversmithing, musical instrument repairing and gunsmithing.

New to the valley, Mr. Hardgrave expressed himself as well pleased with Artesia, finding it a prosperous community with great possibilities.

Mrs. Roy Langston and Guy Roberts and young daughter, June Roberts, visited Saturday and Sunday in Albuquerque with Mrs. Roberts, who is a patient at the Presbyterian sanitarium.

ARE WE STALEMATED?

Are we stalemated? That is, does our Constitution, the finest constitution of the greatest country on earth, tie our hands in the present world crisis?

The Constitution of the United States grants to all the privilege of free speech and free press. Since the signing of the Declaration of Independence, it has been pounded into the minds of every youth of America that he and everyone else has a right to believe, speak and worship as he pleases.

That principle was instilled into us, and we believe in it wholeheartedly.

On the other side of the "big pond" there is a fellow by the name of Hitler who fosters an idea that anyone who is not in accord with his ideals, who is not an Aryan, who is not Germanic, has no place in the general set-up of things in his adopted country—for Germany is not the birthplace of Hitler!

There dare not be a man who speaks aloud any other doctrine than his in Hitler's country.

Germany for the Germans seems to be the idea. And so Adolf Hitler sees to it that Jews suffer, because, he claims, German Jews are not Germans in the Aryan sense of the term. And so Adolf Hitler will, as soon as he rids the Fatherland of Jews, begin on the Christians, for some trumped-up reason. And so Adolf Hitler makes his case clear: All for one, and one for all—as far as purebred Germans in Germany are concerned.

But—Adolf Hitler contradicts himself when he fosters the spread of his Nazi doctrines in the United States, Canada and the South American countries. Why should he hope to put across Nazism in countries on this side of the globe when few of us are true Aryans? Most of us are mongrels; we have several types of blood running in our veins. Certainly a large percentage of Americans have German blood, some more than others, but we are not Germans—we are not Aryan.

If Adolf Hitler plans to spread his Nazism again and again until he reaches his greedy paws across the Atlantic, he is contradicting himself; he is making an about face.

But don't be fooled—that is what he plans! We started this off with a short discourse about freedom of speech, and said we wholeheartedly believe in it.

On the other hand we do not believe in allowing the preaching of doctrines in this country which are contrary to themselves, so far as the countries in which they are fostered are concerned. In other words, Nazism does not allow free speech, so why should we allow Nazism to be preached in the United States under the protection of a cloak of free speech?

The men who "fought to make the world safe for democracy" twenty years ago would be the last to condemn that part of the Constitution which guarantees free speech, but—

Nazism strikes at the very foundation of our Constitution and were it to be adopted here, we would no longer have free speech!

Our answer is that free speech be allowed, but that any utterances which are contrary to our Constitution be considered as treason, if uttered by a citizen, and as cause for deportation, if uttered by an alien.

And by such utterances, we mean Nazi, Fascist, and Communist doctrines!

As is so often heard, there ought to be a law—

BOMBS TO JAPAN, BANDAGES TO CHINA

China's plight has touched the heart of America and thousands of dollars have been contributed for food, medicine and relief work. However, our position in the conflict between China and Japan is no compliment to either our humanity or our intelligence. Our pitances for relief cannot atone for our financial and economic support of the Japanese armed forces that are daily causing further toll of death.

We are doing too much to cause the injuries we aim to relieve. For we are now selling Japan more than fifty-four per cent of the military supplies and munitions that enable her to carry on. Without our help Japan could not continue.

Japanese shrapnel, hurtling through the air to kill or maim, is made from scrap iron gathered and shipped by American junk dealers. Japanese airplanes, manufactured in America, are fuelled with gasoline nearly all of which is purchased in this country. High explosives, made and shipped by Americans are killing untold numbers of mothers and children daily. Flames and poison gas, made from American chemicals, snuff out the lives of many. We supply Japan with the motor equipment that helps her out-manuever the Chinese.

These are admitted facts, taken from the records in Tokyo and Washington, and from eye-witness statements of unbiased American correspondents, missionaries and business men in China.

Is it wise to aid Japan to build an empire with almost unlimited man power and industrial resources and a clear ambition to control the Pacific? Washington is spending billions to build up our armament to protect ourselves against the potential enemy we are now strengthening.

The remedy is obvious. Stop this traffic in death, from which a handful are making a profit, in order that your bandages may not be needed.—American Committee for Non-Participation in Japanese Aggression.

MADAME FLU'S WITH US AGAIN

With humble apologies to Robert Service from us, as well as from The Wall Street Journal, which first published the following, "Dangerous Dan Kerchoo," we reprint it merely as being timely, what with so much flu floating around. (We may be down ourselves e'er this sees printers' ink—Heaven forbid.)

"A bunch of the germs were hitting it up
 "In the bronchial saloon;
 "Two bugs on the edge of the Larynx
 "Were jazzing a ragtime tune—
 "While back of the teeth in a solo game
 "Sat Dangerous Dan Kerchoo;
 "And watching the pulse was his light of love,
 "The lady that's known as Flu."

You need the church—the church needs you. Without individuals who are interested in the church and give to it a share of their lives—there would be no church. If there were no churches, there would be: No church fellowship, no Sunday schools, no Christian homes, no sympathy in trouble, no justice in public life, no community worth living in, no hospitals, libraries, and no public schools. For these are the fruits of the Christian religion. You are invited to

(From The Advocate Files of Feb. 29, 1924)

The basketball tourney starts at Roswell today. Arrangements have been made with the radio station to broadcast all games of the tournament play by play.

The Methodist, Christian and Baptist people joined the Presbyterians last Sunday night in compliance to Dr. E. E. Mathes, who on this occasion delivered his last sermon as pastor of the Artesia Presbyterian Church. Dr. Mather and family will go to Clovis to make their home.

The Artesia station of the Methodist Church, the Rev. James H. Walker, pastor, has accepted $233.30 as a minimum quota to raise within five years for the cause of the superannate endowment of that denomination. The goal is $10,000,000, the income of which is to be used for the support of the aged ministers and widows and orphans of ministers.

The Rev. L. R. Simmons has been called as pastor of the Baptist Church. He will deliver his first sermon Sunday morning.

Mrs. Landis Feather entertained with a Mah Jong party Saturday afternoon, complimenting Miss Shirley Feather and Esther Morgan of Roswell. Four tables played and Chinese refreshments of rice dish, tea and wafers decorated with Mah Jong characters were served.

Leap year sometimes brings joy to an old maid, but not often joy is experienced which exceeds that of Mr. and Mrs. D. I. Clowe. On Feb. 29 there were born to this couple twin girls who have been named Margaret and Marjorie.

Boy Scout News

The principal objective for 1939 of the Eastern New Mexico Area Boy Scout council is the enrichment of the program of all of the Boy Scout troops, Sea Scout ships and Cub packs within the area. Scouters throughout the area will be aided in the accomplishment of this aim by a detailed "plan of attack" which has been carefully worked out by the area executive, P. V. Thorson.

A new Sea Scout ship, the fifth in the Eastern New Mexico Area Boy Scout council, has been organized at Portales under the sponsorship of the 20-30 Club.

The Metaxas government has relaxed its ban on Greeks traveling abroad to permit 500 natives to visit the New York World's Fair. CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES

"Man" is the subject of the lesson-sermon which will be read in all societies and churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, March 5.

The Golden Text is: "God giveth to a man that is good in His sight wisdom, and knowledge, and joy."
—(Ecc. 2:26.)

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "Know ye that the Lord is God: it is He that hath made us, and not we ourselves; we are His people, and the sheep of His pasture."
—(Ps. 100:3.)

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook: "God, the divine principle of man, and man in God's likeness are inseparable, harmonious and eternal."

Local Family Finds That Farm Living Beats Being on Public Works Project

Many farm families are home-makers even though they rent, says Mrs. Marie Fuller, home supervisor for the Farm Security Administration in this district, and Mr. and Mrs. Jess Lauderdale of near Artesia are an excellent example of what a family can do with very little expense.

Until January, 1938, Mr. Lauderdale was a public laborer and it took all his salary to buy food and other necessities for a family of five to live on, Mrs. Fuller relates. In the spring of 1938 he secured a three-year lease on a farm, then he was granted a farm loan with which to purchase equipment and livestock and to meet other farm expenses. They moved on this farm, which had only a small two-room house with no ceiling, small windows, poor lighting. The only outhouse was one small shack for a cow shed. But this place does have a good well and pump.

Since the Laurdales moved there in the spring of 1938 they have made a cellar, built a henhouse and toilet of adobe and remade the shed into a better cow barn with a windbreak. They took the rough lumber of the floors in the house, used that for ceiling and bought new flooring and put it in. Mr. and Mrs. Lauderdale replaced the small windows with larger ones, built a clothes closet of scrap lumber and papered the walls.

Mrs. Lauderdale spent 10 cents for solder and used the bowl of an old separator and an exhaust pipe from an old car, made a sink, then used plywood salvaged from a box and made a real cabinet. Mrs. Lauderdale made a stain for her floors of coal tar and gasoline, a little dangerous, but effective.

They are adding three adobe rooms to the house, which will be completed as soon as lumber for roof and floors is delivered.

Mr. and Mrs. Lauderdale have a well balanced diet and have spent less than $3 a month since they butchered a hog. They canned and stored enough food, including meat and lard, so that they have to buy only sugar, flour and coffee. While they were on public works, it took $30 a month to buy food alone.

In addition to a variety of canned food they have two frame gardens planted to supply early vegetables. One is large, 10x25 feet, and has tomatoes and peas planted in it.

Perhaps some would like to know how they get by on only $3 for groceries, Mrs. Fuller suggests. This is how; they have: 2 milk cows, meat and lard, chickens and eggs, dried beans and peas, canned fruit, vegetables and meat and frame garden for fresh vegetables. Really this couple is busy, planning and working all of the time towards providing for a comfortable living in spite of the fact they don't own a place. They probably will sometime soon.

The FSA supervisor's objective is to see all farm families doing just what the Laurdales are doing, "living at home," so that the cash can go to improve, where improvements are needed.

Mr. and Mrs. Lauderdale keep a daily record of all income and expenses, Mrs. Fuller added.

The annual report of the New Mexico Tuberculosis Association showed total receipts of $6,548.56 and total disbursements of $5,602.41 from Jan. 1 to Dec. 31, 1938, leaving a balance on hand of $964.15. The state seal sale had reached a new high of $9,000, and it was expected when all reports were in to exceed last year's total of $8,600 by $1,000.

Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Gaskin have returned from Odessa, Tex., where they were called last week by the illness of Mrs. Gaskin's mother, Mrs. C. C. Gaskin. Mrs. Gaskin's condition is now improved.

Homespun Farm Security

By T. C. RICHARDSON, Secretary
Breeder-Feeder Association

The pot of gold at the foot of the rainbow still eludes the eager fingers of the hopeful who have been waiting for some magic of government to boost them into prosperity. There are not going to be enough homes for the homeless, enough farms for the landless, enough jobs for the jobless, enough pensions for the aged, to be handed down by some legislative legerdemain of dividing up the wealth already in existence. Government can help and is helping but there will never be "farm security" for those who lean too heavily on outside props and fail to make the most of their own resources at home.

Good home living grows where it is planted and tended, not in legislative halls at the state or national capitol. The grass that grows along the branch and in the fence corners will feed a cow or a flock of sheep. The grass that springs up in the cotton patch will keep a flock of geese happy and save hoeing, to say nothing of turning into feathers and luscious meat. The insects that infest the crops and the waste around the barnyard will go a long way to keep a flock of hens. A flock of turkeys will pick boll weevil and leaf worms off considerable cotton.

Terraced fields will give greater yields, and properly spaced furrows in the pastures multiply the grass. A mower to keep weeds down does the same. Lambs in the corn field after it is laid by keep grass and weeds down and pay for the privilege. A ditch which can be dug in a day without a dollar of cash outlay will store enough ensilage to feed the family milk cows and their calves through a long hard winter or a summer drouth, and when feed is thus stored it can't blow away, burn up, or decay.

Our frontier ancestors made the most of what they had, and left us a tradition of self-reliance and independence of which we may well be proud. All around us today are unused opportunities for self-help (only a few of which have been mentioned), uncultivated resources for added income, unplowed fields of opportunity from which a rich harvest of human satisfactions awaits those who exercise the vision, the resourcefulness, and the energy which enabled the pioneers to conquer the continent.

It is quite true that the present generation of farmers haven't the freedom of action, the virgin soils, the unspoiled forests, the luxuriant grass and plentiful game and fish of the pioneers, but we have proportionately more implements with which to work and greater knowledge of how to use the resources left to us than had those rugged old individuals who did the job with an axe and a rifle. The same courage and initiative coupled with the improved crops and livestock, and better information on how to make the best of them, enable the present generation to produce more per acre and get greater returns per hour of labor than the best of our fathers could have done.

The only way a nation can have more is to produce more, whether it be peanuts or flying machines. New wealth is created only by applying thought and work to the materials which are at hand. Real farm security is a grass-roots job first of all, and the help of laws is only secondary. The old saying, "God helps those who help themselves" is a mighty good text.

Let's grow up, and quit chasing rainbows. Political panaceas and high-flown economic theories handed down from those who think the farmer is incapable of thinking for himself won't get the job done—for the farmer. He who does not efficiently employ and direct his own mental and physical abilities will be directed by someone else; and the director will collect for his services.

News Briefs of the "Sunshine State." Gleaned from Many Sources

Improvement of the Coronado state monument near Bernalillo is sought in a WPA project submitted to Washington under the sponsorship of the University of New Mexico. The total cost is $88,000. The work would include improvement of a road from the main highway to Cuaua and Puray ruins, reconstruction of the ruins, construction of a monument headquarters and of a Kiva museum at the Cuaua ruins.

The State Health Department's report given out last week by Dr. Frank W. Parker, state epidemiologist, shows 452 cases of flu reported during the previous week. While the report is for the whole state, 452 cases reported from Santa Fe County alone, none from any other county, although there were many in Eddy County. Last year up to Feb. 18, only 18 cases of flu had been reported for the 31 counties. This year to that date the number was 501, including the week's 452. Other diseases reported: Diphtheria 1, dysentery 1, gonorrhea 11, measles 41, pneumonia 40, scarlet fever 19, smallpox 1, syphilis 26, tuberculosis 8, whooping cough 23, cancer 3, chickenpox 33, mumps 3, septic sore throat 1, undulant fever 1. In addition to the 452 cases of flu 23 were reported during the week among Indians. And from the state prison, Warden John B. McManus said 100 prisoners were in the penitentiary hospital suffering from flu, an increase of 39 cases in the 24 hours.

The Boy Scouts ruled Lovington last Saturday and were impartial in assessing fines against any and sundry that failed to obey the city ordinances to the letter. The fines were moderate, 50 cents being the favorite amount. What the boys will do with the money is their worry, but be assured that it will be spent in a good cause. It is a good thing to let the Boy Scouts have a day in court now and then. In no other way could violations of city ordinances be brought to attention so forcibly. Almost everyone paid the small fine cheerfully. On Sunday morning the law took over once more and all was serene—no headaches, no hangovers.—Lovington Leader.

Employment in the works progress program in New Mexico was 11,579 for the week ended Feb. 15, Acting Administrator C. E. Trigg of the WPA said.

Hobbs has passed a city ordinance outlawing open privies. It reads that all places of human habitation within the city located on property adjacent to streets or alleys where sewer pipes are laid must be equipped with proper plumbing and connected with the sewer system. All places of human habitation within the city not located on property adjacent to streets and alleys where sewer pipes are laid must be equipped with proper plumbing and connected with a cesspool to be constructed under specifications of the city plumbing inspector. On and after March 15 it will be unlawful for any person to own or use as a place of habitation any building not equipped with proper plumbing and sewer or cesspool connections. Penalties, of fines of not less than $1 or more than $5, or to one day in jail or both, will be assessed on those violating the terms set up. Each day the violation is continued will constitute a separate offense.

Farmer Strikes It Rich in Oil Boom

New Comforts of Home Are Somewhat Confusing to Family

This is an old one, but it's making the rounds again, so it bears repeating, especially in an oil town publication. It involves a letter written to a man by his friend, telling how he had prospered by leasing his land for oil. And here's the letter:

"Dear Bill: 'Well, since I sold the little farm down in Arkansas—sure have prospered. You know we always lived in a one-room shack but I came to Missouri and bought a farm and pretty soon I leased it to an oil company and was sure lucky. They hit a big oil pool on the place and now I have a fine house with 'all the trimmings.'

"Our new home has six rooms. One that we do nothing but eat in. Then we have one we just sit in. Two rooms we don't do anything but sleep in and another room we just cook in. And there is one little room all in white that has a place you can wash all over in—and over in the corner you wash your hands and face in. In the other corner is a place you can wash your feet if you care to and by golly it has a chain you pull to rinse them off. When we moved in, this contraption had two lids on it, but we took them off. We are going to use one for a dough board, and have framed Grandma's picture in the other."

At Quincy, Ill., Villa Katherine, an old castle of Moorish design, has been restored to its former splendor on a high bluff overlooking the Mississippi River. John J. Fisher bought and remodeled the old castle but has been silent on how he intends to use the building. The late George Metz built the castle in 1900 after returning from a world tour. He named it after his mother and filled it with objects collected on his travels. Metz lived in the villa for a short time before it was boarded up and left to the elements. It was almost in ruins when Fisher decided on the restoration. Patterned after old Moorish castles, the building is a landmark of the community. It contains an open court in the center, a tower and a harem room. Fisher added new floors and bathrooms.

College Students Want Compulsory Courses on Sex

The American college student wants compulsory courses in sex education, a current poll of the Student Opinion Surveys revealed. The intercollegiate opinion poll declared that 62 per cent of the students in 84 colleges favored making "frank" courses in sex education a part of the college curriculum.

The surveys pointed out that several colleges now offer courses designed to help students pick the best kind of husband or wife.

Speaking for the advocates of the compulsory course, a North Dakota State Teachers College junior said:

"Sex education should have been gone back in high school—during adolescence."

On the opposition, however, a Northwestern co-ed believed "You should go to your doctor for that information."

Largest opposition to the compulsory courses was among women in the South and West, the surveys showed.

Biggest Influx Mexican Cattle in Recent Years

One of the largest movements of cattle from Mexico into the United States in recent years is under way today, customs authorities said.

Fourteen thousand head of cattle were scheduled to pass through Eagle Pass within the next sixty days, going to pasture land in the United States.

The movement got under way a few days ago with arrival of 300 head belonging to J. R. Sanford and 100 head owned by J. E. Baylor. Five hundred fifty head entered Eagle Pass stock pens last Thursday from the ranch of M. G. Michaelis near Muzquiz, Coahuila. Friday 650 more were scheduled to arrive, with 1,000 Saturday and 700 Monday.

THERE'LL BE SOMETHING NEW TOMORROW

EVERY time you feel like muttering "There's nothing new under the sun," take up your hometown newspaper and read through the advertisements. Chances are, you'll change your mind. Here's a new wrinkle in sanitary plumbing. . . . there's a new kind of carpet that should have been thought of long ago . . . here's a decidedly better way of washing delicate fabrics.

These things concern you intimately—they affect your life and the manner in which you live it. They are new things under the sun. And advertisements are the arms with which they reach out and touch you. Read the advertisements regularly. There'll be something new tomorrow . . . and the day after . . . and the day after that. Something you wouldn't want to miss.

MEASLES

DO NOT TREAT MEASLES TOO CASUALLY . . .

Measles is not so dangerous in itself, but is often accompanied by complications that are very serious. It is one of the most highly contagious of diseases, and most serious for children from 6 months to 6 years of age, and adults. Direct contact is not necessary. It can be contracted by going into the same room with a patient. Keep visitors away, especially those with colds. A child suffering from measles is susceptible to eolds and pneumonia, because of the violent inflammatory reaction present in the lungs.

If your child complains of light hurting his eyes, and the eyes show redness and puffiness under lids, keep him home from school and call your doctor. Protect others from contagion, by not allowing visitors and keep child in until the doctor advises otherwise.

Taos Scene Is Enacted for the Woman's Club

Dramatization of the Taos art colony with a clever pantomime of traditionally costumed Indian figures, was a colorful spot on the "Artists of the Southwest" program presented Wednesday before members of the Artesia Woman's Club.

A typical Taos scene was the setting for the sketch, with a tall mountain rising in the background, and traditional tepee, Indian metate, and strings of peppers in the foreground.

Violet Robertson, well known Artesia artist who studied at the Taos colony, was a central figure of the group, sketching the Indian scene before her. Mrs. C. E. Robinson, under whose direction the program was developed, was costumed as an Indian squaw, and as she demonstrated the Indian corn-grinding stone, she gave informally the talk of the day, based upon the work of the Southwest's artists.

A group of young people were costumed as Indians at every-day occupations of stringing peppers and beads. They were Sybil Fior and Lois Howard, who represented squaws, Ada Vernell Shipley, and Wanda and Velma Springer, who were Indian maidens, Floyd Munroe Howard, an Indian chief, and Wilhelmina and Wanda Steiwig, who depicted the famous "Papoose Twins."

Talks in Dialect
Mrs. Robinson's talk was given in Indian dialect. In the course of her discussion she asked the artist, Miss Robertson, to explain "what an artist saw at Taos," which the latter answered by presenting the short poem, "The Famous Papoose Twins."

Mrs. A. P. Mahone and Mrs. S. S. Ward were hostesses for the day and after the Indian sketch was finished Mrs. Mahone introduced Violet Robertson to the Woman's Club members. A special guest of the club group was Miss Robertson's mother, Mrs. Zilla Messer. Miss Sally Tompkins of Carlsbad, interior decorator, also addressed Woman's Club members, being introduced to the club group by Mrs. Robinson.

Miss Tompkins discussed highlights of home decoration, stressing the importance of expressing one's own individuality.

Mrs. Fay Hardean read to the group "The Revealing Voice," a Club Institute feature, which instructed members in ways to develop the voice for public speaking, stressing deep breathing, the manner of introducing a speaker and how to choose subject matter for a talk.

Major J. R. Kelly, of the New Mexico Military Institute, will be the principal speaker at the next meeting of the Woman's Club, to be held two weeks from yesterday. His subject will be "International Relations."

City Visitor Complimented With Coffee

It was in courtesy to Mrs. J. Mott Williams, of Bowling Green, Ky., that Mrs. Terry Hornaday was hostess at an informal coffee in her home Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Williams is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. J. K. Wallingford and Mrs. Wallingford, Artesia Hotel.

Hours of the affair were four until six o'clock, and guests were limited to twenty friends of the honoree.

Tall flesh-colored tapers provided soft light for the lace-covered serving table, and an antique milk glass bowl of flesh-colored carnations was used for an effective center arrangement. Assisting was Mrs. Hugh Donald Burch, and Mrs. Marie DeVoss poured coffee.

Hobbs Is Proud Of Growing Pains

The city of Hobbs has irately invited Representative Taber of New York to "come out and get acquainted with New Mexico."

Sen. Hatch Introduces Bill to Refund Million of Dam Cost to Eddy Farmers

Carlsbad irrigation district farmers Saturday welcomed the news that Senator Hatch of New Mexico will introduce a bill in Congress asking the reclamation project be refunded one million dollars of the cost of the Alamogordo dam because of its use in flood control.

Press dispatches said Senator Hatch asserted farmers of the Carlsbad reclamation district should be entitled to a "$1,000,000 credit" from the government for flood control work in connection with the Alamogordo dam and reservoir.

The senator said he expected to offer a bill asking for "credit on the sum which the farmers now owe the government for construction of the Alamogordo dam and reservoir, of whatever proportion rightly should be charged to flood control."

He estimated about 50 per cent of the cost of the dam should be refunded.

Senator Hatch said construction of the reservoir was undertaken "without any thought of the flood control feature," although the dam already had "averted a great flood."

Hatch said he did not feel it proper that farmers should bear the entire cost of the project when the government is assisting other localities in construction of flood control projects.

All farmers and cities along the Pecos River from Fort Sumner to the McMillan dam were benefitted by the dam as a flood control project, but the Carlsbad farmers bore the entire cost of construction.

Type of Verbena Is Found Nowhere But White Sands

Only Known Place in the World, Technician Says in Report

Sand verbena plants, not known to occur anywhere else in the world, are growing in White Sands National Monument. The plants are botanically described as arbronia angustifolia, and are said to be beautiful when in bloom.

Dr. W. B. McDougall, regional wildlife technician of the National Park Service, Department of the Interior, gives this description of the plants in a report he has just compiled on "Vegetation of the White Sands National Monument."

"This (sand verbena) is one of the two endemic species of the White Sands. It is a member of the four-o'clock family and not a true verbena. The flowers lack petals, but the calyx is colored like a corolla and, since several flowers are clustered in a common involucre (wrapper), the plant is very beautiful when in bloom. This is one of the two plants that occur on the alkali flats west of the gypsum sand dunes and it also occurs abundantly in the valleys between the dunes, but it is not known to occur anywhere else in the world."

Evening primrose, the other local species, is described by Dr. McDougall as "a most gorgeous plant when in bloom."

It occurs only in the intervening valleys between dunes.

Like the St. Bernards of Alps fame, the dog of Dr. Ernest Baker, St. John, Kan., veterinarian, carries things around his neck. Instead of refreshments for the weary, however, it is a message. When Dr. Baker isn't in the office, but is wanted there, his staff takes the dog loose with a black shoe string tied to his collar. He never misses finding his master around town. The string means: "Telephone the office."

When a stranger offered William A. Sterling of Cressfield, Mr., $300 for the old violin on which he had been playing for forty years, he became curious as to its value and had the instrument revarnished. The technician who did the work discovered an inscription on the inside of the violin showing that it had been made in 1682 by Paolo Maggini, famous Italian master, who died after making only a limited number of instruments.

Two meteorites weighing 31 and 15 pounds have been added to a collection of meteorites at the Centennial Museum of the College of Mines and Metallurgy, a branch of the University of Texas at El Paso. The 15-pound fall was found near Sanderson, Tex., and was presented to W. S. Strain, museum curator, by Hugh Rose of Sanderson. The meteorite is thought to have fallen in 1904 as one was seen in the skies near Sanderson in September of that year. C. E. Pipkin of Monahans, Tex., gave the museum the 31-pound meteorite which was found 12 miles from the Big Crater of Canyon Diablo. The meteorite is possibly part of a prehistoric fall, Strain said.

Ursus arrived in New Orleans shortly after his capture on Kodiak Island in the Uganic Bay, June 1, 1938. Following his capture, when he was 4 months old, he was given to the Audubon Zoo by the state of Louisiana. Ursus is a bear; a member of the Kodiak family. When he was brought south he weighed only 50 pounds. In the last seven months he has gained 100 pounds, and attendants at the zoo say that within the next ten years he will weigh 1,500 pounds. Modernity has overtaken one of Honolulu's most colorful tourist businesses—diving for coins. Hawaiian boys who wheedle dimes and quarters from passengers aboard incoming liners entering the harbor swam alongside and tried to retrieve coins which plopped into muddy waters turned up by churning screws. Arthur Wilson, who owns the boat, says the waters off-port are so clear that money no longer slips through their hands.

Some Little Known Facts and Sidelights on the Oil Industry

Shingles for the roof now come from oil wells as well as trees. They are made of asphalt, and are not only colorful, but fire-resistant and durable.

There are four basic stages in their manufacture. Making the rag felt base, saturating and sealing the felt base with hot asphalt, imbedding the mineral factory-colored granule in the asphalt-treated base, and cutting out the shingles.

An asphalt single machine is a complex giant 300 feet long. A three to six-foot-wide roll of felt is fed into it at one end, and the finished shingles are automatically ejected from the other a few minutes later.

Felt passes through the machine at a rate of 250 feet a minute. During eight hours of operation 20 miles of felt produce 604,800 square feet of shingles—enough to roof more than 200 average homes.

In 1937, it is estimated that these machines produced 29,942,201 squares of roofing, representing an average production of 99 square feet of asphalt roofing every second of a 24-hour day.

In the fall of 1867, Abram James, a spiritualist, was driving from Pithole to Titusville, Pa., with three friends. A mile south of Pleasantville, a "spirit guide" inspired James to jump from the carriage and over a fence into a field on the William Porter farm. Hurrying to the north end, James fell down, pushed a penny into the dirt, and then lay back, pale and rigid. When he recovered, he told his friends of a revelation that streams of oil lay beneath.

James leased the property, borrowed money, raised a derrick over the spot where the penny lay, and commenced drilling amid the hoots of bystanders. Reaching 700 feet and no oil he became the laughing-stock of the region. Still "Crazy James" kept on drilling.

When he built tanks to store the expected oil, people laughed even louder. Early in February, 1869, James struck oil. His well, called the Harmonial, in honor of the spiritual philosophy, opened up the Pleasantville field.

The old-fashioned refinery, a cast-iron still with a condensing tube, house under a lean-to, refined five barrels of petroleum in 24 hours. It turned out three products—naptha, "illuminating oil" and heavy oil containing paraffin.

Modern oil refineries cover several acres, use many processes, employ both heat and pressure, and operate continuously at capacities as high as 150,000 barrels of crude oil and cracking stock a day. In addition to pipe stills, technical marvels in themselves, they are equipped with "bubble" or fractionating towers. Here the vapors from the pipe stills are condensed and separated into various products.

Vapors enter the bubble tower at the bottom. Rising, they are cooled and condensed. Falling, they become liquids which settle in trays. Each tray holds a separate condensed vapor or "cut."

Rising vapors pass through an inverted bell opening in each tray. Contact with the liquid which has previously settled in the bottom of the tray changes the composition of the vapors. With this simultaneous rising and falling arrangement, bubble towers do double work in separating petroleum into component parts.

The lightest vapors rise to the top of the tower, emerge as raw gasoline. Continuous purifying changes the product into motor fuel. The net product is raw kerosene which becomes finished kerosene. Gas oil follows, part being processed into heavy fuel oils, and part "cracked" into additional supplies of motor fuel. Then comes lube distillate which is processed into finished lubricating oils. Heavy bottoms are processed into raw gasoline, gas oil, paraffin oils, coke and asphalt.

Newest liquid fuel containers are made of cloth!

Designed for airplane use, they're slow to leak and as easy to repair as an inner tube. The fabric is impregnated with a rubber compound. The process makes them vibration-proof also, manufacturers claim.

Registration for Chick Project to Be Here March 11

Fifty Boys and Girls Will Raise Flocks, Sponsored by C. of C.

Registration day for the poultry project being sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce has been set for Saturday, March 11, at the chamber office.

About fifty boys and girls are to be furnished twenty-five baby chicks each, bought from funds furnished by individual sponsors, who will pay in $2.50 to buy chicks and underwrite other expenses.

Robert Marshall, vocational agriculture teacher of Artesia High School, and Fred Barham, county extension agent, will cooperate with the Chamber of Commerce in the project.

Boys and girls who wish to enter, are willing to raise twenty-five chicks, will enter four chickens next fall in a show as part of the project and will forfeit the four chickens, to be sold in order to perpetuate the scheme, are asked to be at the Chamber of Commerce office at 2 o'clock the afternoon of registration day, March 11, when instructions will be given. They must be no younger than 10 years nor older than 18 in order to enter.

Entrants will be asked to sign application blanks, which read: "I hereby make application for one unit of 25 baby chicks from the Chamber of Commerce boys' and girls' poultry project and show."

"If I am given one of these units of free baby chicks, I agree to abide by the following rules and regulations. I am also having one of my parents sign this application and to certify that this parent is willing for me to enter the project and poultry show."

"I agree to use my best efforts to raise as many chicks as possible. I will take the very best care of this unit of baby chicks that I know and will endeavor to raise a prize winning coop to be exhibited at the boys' and girls' poultry show next fall and you are to notify me of the dates."

"I also agree to exhibit four of these chicks at this show and agree that the four chicks so exhibited shall become the property of the sponsors to partly pay the expenses of holding of the show."

"I agree to make any reports you will ask and to attend the two project meetings when you notify me of them."

Individual sponsors will be contacted immediately after registration day.

Will Have Easter Sunrise Services At Aztec Ruins

Easter Sunday sunrise services will be held in the Great Kiva, or ceremonial chamber, of Aztec Ruins National Monument. The setting is the same place of worship that was used by prehistoric Indians more than 800 years ago.

Union services, under joint auspices of the various religious denominations represented in that vicinity will start at 5:15 o'clock, when the Farmington Drum and Bugle Corps will lead the procession to the kiva. There will be music by combined choirs.

The kiva, museum and administration building will be open to the public all night Saturday, April 8, to accommodate early arrivals. Frank Pinkley, superintendent in charge of the Southwestern National Monuments, has arranged to detail National Park Service rangers to Aztec Ruins for this occasion. The rangers will assist in directing parking and in showing visitors through the museum and the ruins.

This will be the third Easter Sunday sunrise publicly observed at the ruins, which are one mile from the town of Aztec, 15 miles from Farmington, and 32 miles from Durango, Colo. Nearly 2,500 people attended last year, most of them from New Mexico and Colorado.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Morgan will leave Saturday morning for Ponca City, Okla., where Mr. Morgan will attend the annual superintendents' meeting of the Continental Oil Company. They will be gone about ten days.
