Hospital Real Winner in Lion, Rotarian Game

But Roaring Leos Take Long End of 15-8 Score as Classic Finally Is Played Tuesday — Nets About $35.

In as much as it didn't rain Tuesday evening, the Lions and Rotarians got that softball game out of their systems at Morris Field, which had been planned several times, only to be postponed because of rain, and, to the surprise of all—Lions, Rotarians and spectators—it wasn't as bad a game as had been feared, or hoped for, as the case may be.

The fact that the Lions won wasn't as much of a surprise as was the score, only 15 to 8, whereas it was thought runs would be counted only in dozens, or that only home runs would be scored, in order to keep from using too much chalk on the scoreboard.

But the thing of greatest interest was the receipt of more than $44 at the gate, of which about $35 was net and was realized for the winning Lions to be used in beautifying the grounds at the new hospital.

Although there was a good-sized crowd, representing more than 400 persons at 10 cents a head, it is believed the gate would have been doubled had the game been played when first announced.

The Rotarians are proud of one accomplishment, that of leading the Lions once during the game. That was in the first half of the initial inning, when the first four men up scored, making it look as though there would be a walk-away. To better that feat, V. D. Bolton, lead-off man, knocked a homer on the first ball pitched. Charles Gaskin followed with a single, the Rev. Henry S. Stout with a triple and C. D. Marshall with a single, all of whom reached home. Marshall also made a home run in the third.

But the wind was taken out of the Rotarians in the second half of the first inning, when the first five men up came home and the seventh followed suit, to make the score for the inning 6 to 4 in favor of the Leos. Don Myers and Vernon Bryan led off with doubles each, and were followed by Hubert Carr, who clouted out a four bagger. Charles Grayson reached first on an error and Leland Price singled. The seventh man up, who was the sixth to score, was Fred Henderson, who reached first on a single.

From then on, it was a rather tight game, except in the fourth inning, when the Lions brought in five more men.

Although there was considerable horseplay, there was not as much as had been expected, some of the stunts originally planned having "cooled off" because of the postponements.

But at least the game was finally played, by the simple means of switching the day from Thursday, on which previous dates had been set, to Tuesday, thus fooling the elements.

And the supremacy of the Lions at softball was established, but the result of the game brought forth a counter-challenge from the Rotarians for a golf tournament, which was accepted Wednesday noon at the weekly Lions luncheon. The more mature Rotarians, any number of whom habitually break 100 at golf, feel they have the upper hand on the younger Lions at the ancient game. Only time will tell.

For the benefit of those who demanded a softball game for their dime, and who hardly expected such a demonstration as was given by the Rotarians and Lions, a second game was scheduled for Tuesday evening, between a Mexican and a colored team, in which the Spanish-Americans won 13 to 4.

Payments Now Due In Unemployment Compensation Law

Employers notified that third quarter remittance must be in by July 31

Employers liable for payment under New Mexico's unemployment compensation law were reminded this week by Roy L. Cook, executive director that contributions for the second quarter of 1939 are now due and payable.

Contributions must be paid on or before July 31 and Cook urged employers to make their returns promptly. By so doing, he explained, they will facilitate the work of the state job insurance division, and will avoid incurring penalties provided by the law for delinquent contributors.

Contributions from employers are deposited to New Mexico's account in the unemployment trust fund in the federal treasury at Washington, D. C. Withdrawals from that fund may be made, under the law, only for the purpose of paying out-of-work benefits to qualified idle workers. All administrative expenses of the state's unemployment compensation agency are met by grants from the federal government.

At the close of June, 1939, employers had paid in a total of $3,149,718.05 to the unemployment compensation fund and $90,113.08 in interest had accrued on this money. Benefits totaling $646,302.95 have been paid to New Mexico workers.

Plaque Depicting City of Artesia At C. of C. Office

The Chamber of Commerce is buying about eighteen photographs of Artesia and the Artesia community from O. R. Gable, Jr., young Artesia photographer, to be used for a folder advertising the city.

Thirteen of the photographs to be used have been mounted on a large plaque by Gable and now are on display at the Chamber of Commerce office. All are sharp as to detail and some show considerable artistic study as to angle, cloud background and effectiveness.

At the top of the plaque is a photograph of the town designation on the Santa Fe station, bringing out the word, Artesia. Arranged below it are a dozen other photographs, which are:

City hall, an Artesian well, the new swimming pool, the fountain in Central Park, a view of the city from the Artesia Hotel, the front of Junior-Senior High School, the Artesia Hotel, an oil rig, the new hospital, Malco Refineries, a cotton field on the S. A. Lanning farm east of town and the bridge over the Pecos River east of town.

THOMPSON IS TO BUY NEW STYLES AT MARKETS

W. C. Thompson, manager of the dry goods department of Peoples Mercantile Company, is to leave Sunday for the Dallas and Fort Worth, Tex., markets on a buying trip. He plans to be gone a week. Thompson said he will see representative lines from all the fashion centers of the United States. The store, he said, already is receiving some outstanding styles in ladies' shoes.

Edwin R. Karlberg brought Mrs. Kalberg, and daughter, Kristin, home from a Carlsbad hospital Sunday.

Sportsmanship Has Its Reward

Sportsmanship in athletics will be rewarded by the Artesia Lions Club the coming year.

The club at its meeting yesterday voted to give a trophy to some boy for his exhibition of sportsmanship. However, it was not decided whether the award would be made in some certain sport, or on a cumulative basis for sports throughout the year.

In addition, the Rotary Club gives medals each year for display of sportsmanship in football and basketball.

The Bulldogs as a whole are noted far and wide for their sportsmanship and were complimented a number of times the last school year by other teams and coaches, as well as by hotel and cafe managers for their courtesy.

Sportsmanship has its reward!

Dempsey Plans to Come Aug. 16 for Big Celebration

Rep. J. J. Dempsey of New Mexico has wired the public projects dedication committee he will make every effort to be here for the dedication exercises Wednesday, Aug. 16, when Gov. John E. Miles is to make the principal address.

Senators Carl A. Hatch and Dennis Chavez have been invited by both the Chamber of Commerce committee and the committee representing the Central Valley Farm & Livestock Association, which will have its part of the program in the afternoon, observing its second big annual meeting and barbecue. The dedication exercises will be in the evening.

A number of other distinguished guests have been invited to attend, but they have not been heard from. Definite drawing up of the complete program has been deferred until all have had a chance to answer the invitations, which, it is expected, will be done within the next week.

E. L. Harp, director of the Artesia school band, is putting the band members through their paces in training to play for the double affair, giving a concert in Central Park at 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon and at Morris Field, where the dedication exercises will be held, at 5 o'clock.

Various committees are working out details for the celebration, which is expected to be the largest ever held in the Pecos Valley.

Artesia Golfers Will Play off Tie Against Carrizozo

Members of the Artesia Golf Club are looking ahead to a playoff match against Carrizozo on the course at Ruidoso Sunday, Aug. 6, to settle a tie.

Each team has defeated the other during the season on the host's course, indicating the golfers play better away from home. Now, on neutral ground, they should both be at their best and put on a real match.

Several other matches are being planned, but none has been definitely scheduled.

The first probably will be at Hobbs in the near future. Then the Artesia golfers plan to meet a Roswell team here. In September or October the Artesians are to play a Carlsbad team there.

The club is planning the annual city tournament, probably to be played in August.

DRESSMAKING EXPERT MAKES ANNOUNCEMENT

Mrs. C. A. Blietz, sister of R. N. McDonald, who came here last February from Los Angeles, is announcing this week her services in expert dressmaking and millinery.

She is a graduate of Madame Scharette's School of Costume Designing in Los Angeles, where she had ten years of experience.

Patrol Stages Drive Against Tag Violators

A drive in Artesia the last week against persons working in New Mexico with out-of-state licenses on their cars and those who do not have drivers' licenses has been bringing results.

Members of the state patrol have been in town several times since the first of last week, checking on violators of the license laws, and have caused a run on applications for licenses, both for cars and drivers.

Sixty-nine drivers' licenses were sold in the office of Tom Ragsdale, city clerk, from Monday to Saturday of last week, and the rate of applications is continuing this week, the clerk said. The majority of those issued, a state patrolman said, were to persons who likewise purchased New Mexico tags for their cars, at which time they were advised to obtain drivers' licenses.

However, seven persons were arrested charged with violation of the drivers' license law, the cases of five of whom are pending. The two others, Woodrow Briggs and Grandel Vanwinkle were fined $10 and costs each in justice court of W. H. Ballard Monday.

The patrolman said the drive especially is directed against automobile owners who are working in New Mexico with only foreign license tags. Anyone working in the state without New Mexico tags is subject to a penalty of $1 a day from the day he started to work, plus the cost of licenses, he said.

Members of the patrol will appreciate persons getting licenses without first being given a ticket for the offense, the patrolman said.

Blind Youth Talks At Lions Meeting Here Wednesday

John Bessire, 21-year-old blind youth, described at the weekly Lions luncheon Wednesday noon the Oklahoma School for the Blind at Muskogee, from which he recently graduated, and demonstrated to the Lions how the blind read and write in Braille, for the latter using a slate and stylus.

The talk and demonstration were especially interesting to the Lions, as the international organization has for one of its major projects aid to the blind and it publishes the only Braille magazine for children.

Young Bessire said the school, which he attended eight years, is self-supporting and maintains its own dairy, which the students take care of. He gave a surprising account of the accomplishments and of the many things they learn to do well. Bessire is an expert piano tuner.

The speaker has been totally blind only since last December, he told the Lions, although his sight prior to that was greatly impaired. At that time he suffered an injury in the gymnasium at the school, which resulted in total blindness.

Bessire hopes to enter the University of Oklahoma in the fall, he said.

Bernard Johnson, who was in charge of the program, said the Lions have 3,750 different projects for the blind.

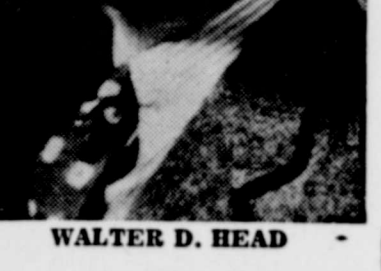

Fred Cole, club president, appointed W. D. Burks and Dr. Wainwright Miller as club representatives for the Eddy County Welfare Advisory Board, which is to meet at the city hall at 7:30 o'clock this evening.

The club accepted a challenge of the Roswell Ad Club to play softball here at some date in the near future.

Marshall Reports On Convention Of Rotary Recently

Delegate and Club President Gives High Lights of Annual Meet

C. D. Marshall, president of the Artesia Rotary Club, who was the club's delegate at the annual convention of Rotary International at Cleveland last month, gave the first part of a report at the weekly luncheon Tuesday noon of the convention, at which Walter D. Head of Montclair, N. J., was elected president.

The high ideals of Rotary were brought out in the various sessions, Marshall said. In his talk Tuesday, he pointed out some of the ideals as brought to the attention of the 10,000 registered Rotarians and guests.

Paul Harris, president emeritus of Rotary International, told of one service the club could render the world through its high ideals, that of promoting friendship and tolerance, replacing war with good will, Marshall said. The speaker, he said, pictured the dictators of the world as meeting at a Rotary meeting, calling each other by his first name, going away with the thought the other fellow is not so bad.

Another speaker, Marshall said, spoke of promoting employer-employee relationship through the efforts of Rotary, which would tend to stave off Fascism. The speaker gave the same speech ten years ago, he said, and found the problems of employers and employees then about the same as today.

The president of the Artesia club brought back some ideas for meetings and programs, one of which is being used by many clubs, that of having an open meeting about every fifth week, at which no set program is planned, but the members are left to their own devices, for fun or some other form of informal get-together.

After the meeting Marshall gave out a brief history of the new international president. Head, he said, was born at Revere, Mass. From 1902 to 1917 he was engaged in educational work at Volkman School and St. Mark's School in Massachusetts, Phillips Exeter Academy in New Hampshire, and as principal of high schools in Massachusetts and New York; and from 1917 to 1925 he was headmaster of the Nichols School of (continued on last page, column 4)

MUST REGISTER SATURDAY AT CC OFFICE

Members of the county registration board have warned that voters in North Eddy County who have not been contacted this month by registration clerks will have their last chance to be registered during the month of July, which was set aside for that purpose, at the Chamber of Commerce office in the new city hall in Artesia Saturday afternoon.

After that, anyone who wishes to be registered will have to go to the office in Carlsbad of the county clerk in person.

The registration clerks were to complete their job during the month of July, but a number of persons have been out, or otherwise were missed when calls were made.

Welfare Board Is First to Meet in The New City Hall

The Eddy County Welfare Advisory Board, a new organization founded recently to act as a clearing house for all welfare and other groups in the county which do any welfare work, will have the privilege of being the first to meet in the new city hall here. The July monthly meeting will be there at 7:30 o'clock Friday evening in the first floor assembly room, Carl Folkner, chairman, has announced.

At the meeting, which will be county-wide, a number of topics of interest to all clubs and churches will be taken up, Folkner said.

He urged that the heads and welfare committee chairmen of the different organizations in Artesia attend the meeting Friday, in order to better tie in the work of the several groups.

A large delegation is expected from Carlsbad, where the movement for the board, which spread over the county, began.

BOURLAND INJURED IN COLLISION MONDAY

Robert Bourland, bookkeeper for the Artesia Auto Company, sustained a hip injury, when the automobile he was driving collided with a truck on the Hondo highway about twenty miles west of Roswell. The truck driver was uninjured. Bourland's car was badly damaged.

He was able to return to work this morning.

K. C. Woman Is Chosen to Be Hospital Head

Proposition of Mrs. J. W. Johns Is Tentatively Accepted Yesterday by Council — Is an Experienced Superintendent.

The Artesia city council tentatively agreed to a plan yesterday whereby management of the new hospital will be given under contract to Mrs. J. W. Johns of Kansas City, Mo., an experienced hospital superintendent and a registered nurse.

Acceptance of the proposition, which was made Monday by Mrs. Johns, meeting with the council, had to be made today, in order for her to consider making a change from her present connection, as superintendent of Kansas City Municipal Tuberculosis Hospital, which position she has held the last three years.

Final acceptance of the proposition cannot be made by the city according to law until twenty days after the third publication of the terms under which Mrs. Johns proposes to assume management of the hospital. During the period up to the final date, the city can be restrained from making a definite contract with her if 10 per cent of the voters sign a petition to the contrary.

In case that were done, the city would have to consider some other proposition, which would have to be published as in the present case.

The plan submitted to the council Monday by Mrs. Johns and tentatively accepted yesterday calls for a provisional contract for one year, after which it can be cancelled by either party. If not cancelled, it will run for another nine years, for a total of ten years.

Under the plan, Mrs. Johns proposes to pay the city $50 a month for a year, which would apply on electric utilities up to $800, a councilman said. For electricity costing more than $800, the city and Mrs. Johns would each pay half.

The city will assume the gas bill, which will be an estimated $300 more, and the city will furnish water, under the plan.

At the end of the year, if the arrangement is satisfactory to both the city and the superintendent, Mrs. Johns is to assume utility bills and pay the city 20 per cent of all income more than $4,000 a year net. In addition she is to pay the city $250 a year.

The Kansas City hospital of which Mrs. Johns has been superintendent the last five years has 250 beds for tuberculosis patients. There, she told the council members, an average of 40 to 45 chest operations are performed a month.

Prior to that position, Mrs. Johns was assistant superintendent and surgical nurse of another hospital.

MAN'S BEST FRIEND—THE DOG

Every so often nearly every newspaper in the United States is prompted by some incident to publish the now classic "Eulogy on the Dog" by the late Senator Vest of Missouri. Probably this newspaper has done so in the past, but at least not in recent years.

Such an incident was called to our attention a few days ago, which caused us to remember that we had the eulogy tucked away with other clippings, and made us think its republication might not be amiss. But since then two more incidents have come to our attention, the more cause for using editorial space for this purpose.

A man, not a resident of Artesia, was observed a recent day driving down the street, he saw a dog, dead in the street, where it had been left after being hit by a car. He stopped, loaded the dead dog on his runningboard and headed for the country, there to dispose of it, displaying a certain amount of respect for the dog which he did not know, as well as for the people of the neighborhood in which the dog met its death.

Then we heard of a dog being poisoned recently in Artesia by some fiend in human form, the meanest sort of person on the face of the earth, in our opinion.

And we saw genuine grief the other day when a dog died, the pal of a man who looked upon his canine admirer as a true friend—a victim of a hit-and-run driver.

Which brings us to Senator Vest. In the early seventies, Old Drum, a foxhound was killed. A Kentuckian living in Jackson County, Missouri, sued for damages. After several trials in the lower courts, the case went to Circuit Court at Warrensburg.

Among other prominent attorneys in the courtroom was Senator George G. Vest, who at the close of the trial uttered the words which have since become classic as an immortal tribute to the best friend a man has—his dog. Said Senator Vest:

"Gentlemen of the jury, the best friend a man has in this world may turn against him and become his enemy. His son or daughter whom he has reared with loving care may prove ungrateful. Those who are nearest and dearest to us—those whom we trust with our happiness and our good name—may become traitors to their faith. The money a man has he may lose. It flies away from him, perhaps when he needs it most. A man's reputation may be sacrificed in a moment of ill considered action. The people who are prone to fall on their knees to do us honor when success is with us may be the first to throw the stones of malice when failure settles its cloud upon our heads. The one absolute, unselfish friend that a man can have in this selfish world—the one that never deserts him, the one who never proves ungrateful or treacherous is his dog.

"A man's dog stands by him in prosperity and in poverty, in health and in sickness. He will sleep on the cold ground, where the wintry winds blow and the snow driven fiercely, if only he can be near his master's side. He will lick the hand that has no food to offer, he will lick the wounds and sores that come in encounter with the roughness of the world. He guards the sheep of his pauper master as if he were a prince. When all his friends depart he remains. When riches take wings and reputation falls to pieces he is as constant in his love as the sun in its journey through the heavens. If fortune drives the master forth an outcast in the world, friendless and homeless, the faithful dog asks no higher privilege than that of accompanying him to guard against danger, to fight against his enemies. And when the last scene of all comes and death takes the master in its embrace, and his body is laid away in the cold ground, no matter if all other friends pursue their way, there by his graveside will the noble dog be found, his head between his paws, his eyes sad but open in alert watchfulness, faithful and true even in death."

TO THE LADIES

There's a new style fad which we hope spreads to this country and then to Artesia in no uncertain degree, for, as we have observed before in other squibs, something needs to be done here in the matter.

Wrote Princess Alexandra Kropotkin in a recent issue of a popular magazine:

"Subdebs in a smart finishing school in Switzerland lately have been wearing the stiff Japanese 'obi' (sash) a few hours a day to cure slouching. Decorative, and keeps spines erect."

Not because the "obi" is Japanese, but in spite of it, we are for its use, especially in Artesia, where so many otherwise pretty girls assume postures which rate them down many degrees.

PURELY PERSONAL PIFFLE

If only Emily Post would point out a thing or two to Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt!

The First Lady writes under the name, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, which is not her name today, nor should she assume it be when FDR does, if that happens before her death.

She married him, for better or worse, along with which she took his name, even though she is in the public eye on her own account. In that case, she is and only can be Eleanor Roosevelt, but never Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt.

Maybe we are a bit cracked on the subject, but that is the way we look at it and it grates on our nerves every time we see her name signed Mrs. Eleanor, or some crackpot reporter so dubs her.

Either it's about time to trim most of the trees lining the sidewalks in Artesia again, or else they still need it and it is time to mention it again.

In a test, securities salesman were asked what they considered the most important question to ask a woman who wanted advice on where to invest $100,000. Only one is necessary: "Will you marry me?"—Clovis News-Journal.

Whenever things appear the darkest in this country, up bobs a gold-fish swallower to take our minds off our troubles. A few years ago, it was the yo-yo tops. Now it's swallowing snails or almost anything that will attract attention.—Roswell Dispatch.

State to Have Real Livestock Show at 1939 New Mexico Fair

Meditations Of Your Country Cousin

New Mexico is to have a real livestock show this year as an outstanding feature of the 1939 State Fair, Sept. 24 through Oct. 1. With approximately $12,000 in cash premiums offered for the several classes of livestock and with the state's livestock organizations actively behind the fair management, prospects for a show that will be truly representative of New Mexico's major cash producing industry are bright.

At its recent meeting in Las Vegas the Cattle Growers Association directed C. W. Jackson, president, to appoint a special committee to cooperate with the fair management. This committee consists of J. L. York, manager of the Albuquerque Production Credit Corporation, August Seis, veteran livestock grower, and George Dominick III, Hereford breeder of Lucy. The committee held its initial meeting with the fair management July 15. A similar committee has been appointed by the State Wool Growers Association.

Supporting the senior livestock show will be the first annual statewide 4-H and Future Farmers' fat stock show and sale, in which boys and girls will enter their animals from every county in the state. Judging of the junior division will take place Monday, Sept. 25, which has been designated by the fair management as "Governor's Day" and "All-Schools Day," on which day all school children of the state will be admitted free. The junior fat stock sale will be held Friday, Sept. 29, with Earl Garten, Greensboro, Ind., national known auctioneer, in charge. The second annual New Mexico ram sale will follow on Saturday, Sept. 30, with Col. Garten presiding in the sale ring.

New Mexico now boasts some of the finest Hereford cattle in the nation and breeders are being offered every inducement to enter their show stock in this year's fair.

Settle Disputes Of Grazing on the Ground in State

Tour of New Mexico Is Being Made This Month by Officials

In the Interior Department's division of grazing, it is a policy to settle disputes, claims, appeals from regional graziers' decisions "on the ground" as often as possible. Belief in the soundness of this down-to-earth policy brought E. N. Kavanagh and G. N. Kerr, officials of the division, to New Mexico early this month for almost a month of conference with stockmen who had filed appeals with the secretary's office in Washington.

C. F. Dierking, regional grazer, explained of the meetings and their purpose that better results were obtained and more amicable relations maintained by the practice of meeting the stockmen on the disputed ground and settling the appeal there where each side can see the points the other side brings up than in the secretary's office "across a mahogany desk," where neither party has any more information than can be supplied on paper.

To date this field trip for the two officials has been successful, a large percentage of the appeals having been settled and withdrawn. The meetings began in Roswell July 5, went to Carlsbad, Alamogordo, Deming, Lordsburg, Hot Springs and Magdalena, and they will end at Aztec Friday. Dierking accompanied Kavanagh and Kerr on part of the Southern New Mexico tour.

Joyce Traylor, five, had her tonsils removed at St. Francis Hospital in Carlsbad Saturday morning.

Soil Conservation Is to Be Stressed For the Year 1940

Recommendations Are Made at National AAA Conference in Washington

The 1940 AAA farm program will place increased emphasis on soil conservation, says J. Minor Beene, chairman of the state AAA committee, who returned recently from the national AAA conference in Washington, D. C., where recommendations were presented for the program.

According to Beene, next year's farm program will provide a better opportunity for operators of small farms to participate. Responsibility of administration will continue in the hands of farmer-committees.

An important recommendation affecting soil conservation, and which should help small farmers to take part in the program, was there be established a minimum soil building allowance of $20 a farm. Another important soil conservation recommendation is one that would allow farmers to earn up to $30 a farm for tree planting, in addition to the regular soil building allowance for the farm.

State and local AAA committees will have more responsibility for the field administration of crop insurance and loans. This is in line with established AAA policy of decentralizing administration of the program, wherever possible.

The national conference was held a month earlier this year than last, which will give farmers a better opportunity than ever to know, well in advance of the planting season, what the program has to offer them in 1940, Beene said.

Recommendations adopted at the national conference will be used for drafting specific provisions of the 1940 program. In general, it will continue on the same lines as the 1939 program. Changes recommended are those which will simplify administration of the program or make it more effective from the standpoint of soil conservation. As in 1939, there will be two different payments which farmers may earn in 1940. These are the conservation payments and the price adjustment payments.

Little Known Facts and Sidelights on Oil Industry

Cooperative Research—

Research in the petroleum industry is carried on cooperatively, not only in various branches of the industry, itself, but in many other fields. These include manufacturing, health, aeronautical engineering and agricultural parasitology.

About $12,000,000 is spent annually for research by the American petroleum industry alone, with the results of investigation and experiment generally made to the entire industry. Example is the discovery and development of the cracking process. Commercial cracking started around 1920. Its rapid progress has been based largely on equipment developed from basic and improved patents taken out by various groups. Refiners have been encouraged by advertising and sales promotion to utilize these processes at uniform rates based on the quantity of material treated.

As a result of this system, small refiners are relieved of the burden of unending and costly research, at the same time obtaining a first-class consulting and advisory service without the anxiety of being involved in expensive patent litigation. In effect, the system works as a cooperative enterprise, the benefits being shared by all users. Although ownership of the patent remains in the hands of the central research and licensing corporation, the bulk of the royalty payments is utilized for further research.

Without cracking, more than 2,000 million barrels of crude oil would have had to be produced to obtain the motor fuel needed in 1938. Disposal of other products, such as fuel oil, would have been almost impossible.

The same plan is being carried out with equal success with other processes patented more recently, such as catalytic cracking, the solvent refining of lubricating oils, and the use of chemical inhibitors for the improvement of motor fuel. Many refiners are now building small polymerization units to convert part of their waste refinery gases to high-octane motor fuel. These small units could never have been constructed were it not for the experience and profits derived from designing and installing large units.

Development and unrestricted licensing of patented processes enables the small operator to meet modern demands for high quality by keeping his plant at a high standard of efficiency.

Houseboat Highways—

If Huckleberry Finn had lived in this day he probably would have traveled the streams of Sumatra in a houseboat searching for oil. For rivers are the only dependable "highways" for pioneer oil seismographers in this land of jungles and swamps 150 miles north of the Equator.

Early experience along the Gulf Coast and in South America has brought this essential unit of oil pioneering equipment for a workshop to a high degree of comfort and efficiency. Trim double-decker boats, 69 feet long, 23 feet wide, provide comfortable modern living and working conditions for European and native staffs who travel from Batavia up through the Java Sea, the South China Sea, the Malacca Strait and into the jungled Baroemoen River in north central Sumatra, where exploratory wells are being drilled.

Traveling with them are electric washing machines, machine shops with 750-watt power plant, refrigerator-equipped kitchens and radios which keep them in touch with headquarters at Medan, 250 miles distant.

Drinking and bathing water is automatically collected from the roofs of the houseboats during rainstorms and is sterilized before use. When on "location" listening for underground echoes of oil-bearing rocks they become floating villages with natives' sleeping barges, motor boats and freight barges in attendance.

New Gadgets—

Chief ingredient of a new carbonated beverage is the tropical fruit papaya. . . . Stop and go vari-colored lights on a new electric range show the intensity of heat. . . . New paint with a rubber base renews white sidewall tires and makes black sidewall white. . . . New model wheelbarrows have roller bearings for better balance and rubber tires to protect lawns.

A dime box contains all the ingredients, except water, for six plates of home-made noodle soup. . . . New low-priced disposable fishing reel is made of cellulose material. . . . Piano finishes can be changed with a new material which permits using color schemes, patterns or textures to suit any changes in room decoration. . . . A new "glider" laundry iron is equipped with a "hangar" which suspends the iron, eliminating the customary practice of setting the iron on a stand; hangar is equipped with waxing and cleaning pads. . . . New "degasser" almost wholly eliminates both carbon monoxide and carbon dioxide gases in the exhausts of truck and bus motors.

Automatic machine dispenses hard-boiled eggs at a nickel each. . . . When bathers stand on the treadle platforms of the newer showers, water turns on. The water shuts off automatically when they leave. Pre-tempered water eliminates waste.

Sen. Chavez, Descendant of Conquistadores, Persuades Congress to Help the Centennial

Nearly four hundred years ago, Don Francisco Vasquez de Coronado, a captain in the armies of Spain, set forth from Compostela, Mexico, in search of the fabled "Seven Cities of Cibola." Though born in Spain, Coronado had come as a young man to New Spain, to Mexico City, and had there heard stories of untold riches lying in the land to the north.

The cities of Cibola were the topic of conversation and conjecture among those who sought high adventure. They were rumored to be rich in gold and silver. Precious gems adorned the head-dress of the rulers, and the wealth of the Incas was reported to be duplicated in their temples.

In 1540, Coronado assembled his army and marched from Mexico into the wilderness to the north. He brought his supply of food stuffs along with him "on the hoof" and thus introduced into what is now the territory of the United States the first horses, cattle, swine and sheep. He entered Arizona, made headquarters in New Mexico, explored the high plains country of Texas, and touched in his wanderings portions of Oklahoma, Kansas and Colorado. But he found no gold!

Spanish conquistadores followed his trail into New Mexico and the Spanish Southwest. Out of that racial stock has come a descendant who has just persuaded the Congress to pass a bill for $250,000 to celebrate this historic expedition. That descendant is Senator Dennis Chavez of New Mexico. By means of the Coronado Cuarto Centennial, the 40th anniversary of the Coronado expedition will be celebrated throughout the six states.

Through all this Coronado country, there are today Spanish-speaking people. Senator Chavez has advocated the strengthening of the tie that binds the United States to the other American republics by the recognition and utilization of this Spanish tie.

He is here shown, riding his pet hobby-horse. Senator Chavez has advocated the establishment of a short-wave radio station for presenting programs to Latin-American neighbors. These programs would serve the dual purpose of cementing the ties that already exist through the common heritage of Spanish conquest and language, and of counteracting the Nazi propaganda which is inimical to American business.

The broadcasting station which the senator suggests would be of benefit to both the Americas. The subject has been carefully considered and discussed by Bishop James H. Ryan of Catholic University, Washington, D. C., and by the Rev. Maurice Sheehy, who recently completed a tour of South America. The two, as a result of their experiences, support the senator in his program for close means of communication between all American republics.

SENATOR DENNIS CHAVEZ, NEW MEXICO.

President Roosevelt and other high government officials have stressed friendliness with our neighbors to the south. The broadcasting station, if built, would take a step in that direction.

WHAT'S WHAT —In— NEW MEXICO

News Briefs of the "Sunshine State." Gleaned from Many Sources

Housewives in the Friendship community near Portales had an odiferous problem on their hands, but it is settled now. Skunks visited Mrs. Edd Christian's hen house, killing about 80 chickens, and the next night they called on Mrs. Coleman, where they killed 38. Herman Paddock heard of his neighbor's misfortune, and found them as they were about to make a raid on his chickens, and killed thirteen of the striped kitties.

New Mexico had a $847,288 share of the $317,786,828 which the Commerce Department reported was the total net revenue of state and local governments last year from alcoholic beverages. State license fees brought in $54,690, state ABC taxes $607,573 and miscellaneous state ABC income $161, making the state's gross receipts $662,425. ABC administrative and collection costs amounted to $35,137, leaving net ABC revenue of $627,288. The general sales tax produced $80,000 and local ABC revenues amounted to $140,000. New York's $45,402,845 was the largest total revenue, Nevada's $376,006, the smallest. Sales in state stores ranged from a total of $1,571,025 in Vermont to $72,632,153 in Pennsylvania.

It might not go so hard with some people if they were caught fishing after the 10:30 p. m. deadline hour, but two volunteer deputy game wardens caught recently had little defense. They were Max Jones and J. A. Irwin, both of Santa Rosa, whom State Game Warden Elliott Barker said were caught after 10:30 p. m., with their lines in Story Lake, near Las Vegas. With them was A. W. Minor, also of Santa Rosa. The three each paid a $25 fine and costs in a Las Vegas justice court.

A. P. Lauer's foot slipped a couple of Sundays ago and he fell into a fortune—at least a potential fortune represented by the discovery of 260 acres of Fuller's earth in the San Andres Mountains northeast of Las Cruces. Mr. Lauer, a public accountant, was hiking up a mountain path when his foot slipped on slick ground. Investigating, he uncovered a large deposit of creamy white substance as fine as talcum powder. Samples sent to the College of Mines at El Paso and New Mexico School of Mines at Socorro proved to be Fuller's earth, which has many commercial uses. Including a bleach for lard, a filter for oil, filter in paints and kalsomine, refining agent for syrup and vinegar, medicinal paste, cleansing agent and silver polish.

New Mexico's state budget set-up is receiving national recognition, State Comptroller C. R. Sebastian said. "As far as I know," he said, "New Mexico is the only state in the nation which permits its governor and finance board to reduce the state budget 10 per cent after the legislature has made appropriations." As a result of this unique system, Sebastian said he had been asked to address the National Association of State Auditors, Comptrollers and Treasurers at their convention next month in Seattle, Wash., on "The Preparation of New Mexico's State Budget." "New Mexico's system gives the governor a chance to study the budget from the time the legislature adjourns until the end of the fiscal year, June 30, and employ the experience of the prior year as a guide to the needs of the next," said Sebastian. "We are way ahead of most other western states in our budget system, and we are now proud to see that our setup is being treated more or less as a model."

A bolt of lightning which melted a watch chain into a solid wire but left the watch running with a shattered crystal also left 73-year-old Henry Kaufman, Webber City farmer, alive in a miraculous escape during an electrical storm northwest of Melrose last week. The bolt knocked Kaufman and several head of cattle he was driving to the ground. None of the animals was injured, although a yoke on one of them was demolished. Hooks were torn from Kaufman's shoes and his hat was cut to ribbons. The attending physician at Melrose said Kaufman did not regain consciousness

Order Farmers of Eddy to Destroy Surplus Cotton

Must Be "Plowed Under by Aug. 1, Secretary Miller Warns

Approximately 100 acres of cotton in Eddy County's 1939 crop must be "plowed under" by Aug. 1, Henry M. Miller, secretary in the county ACP office warned operators of a number of farms.

Most of this over-planting is in the northern section of the county, Miller said. The excess which must be destroyed by the deadline is above allowables quoted to farmers cooperating in this year's agricultural conservation program. "Any who do not comply with this order to destroy the surplus, will not be eligible for 1939 payments," Miller said. He urged all who are over-planted and have received notices to this effect, to destroy the surplus immediately and request the office to make the required re-check.

Check of cooperation in both ends of the county has been finished, the secretary said. He stressed that his office "is pleased with the cooperation of farmers so far, in destroying over-plantings."

Miller spent part of last week at the state ACA office at State College, and said he hoped to have 1939 yield totals approved by this week. As soon as this approval is given, sign-up of farmers for 1939 parity payments will be started, probably the first week of August.

Officials of Santa Fe Are Impressed By Improvements

Four officials of the Santa Fe from Amarillo were in Artesia Tuesday on official business and during the day were taken on an inspection tour of the new civic improvements by Arba Green, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce.

They were greatly impressed with the new hospital, city hall, gymnasium-library of the high school plant, Morris Field and the swimming pool.

In the party were H. H. Nye, assistant general freight agent; E. Kancher, division freight agent; W. H. McEachern, general baggage agent, and the Amarillo refrigerating dispatch inspector, whose name could not be learned.

until the next morning, but that his condition is now satisfactory. The victim was treated for shock. The only apparent injury is a burned place on the chest.

Mineral production in New Mexico includes copper, petroleum, coal, gold, silver, lead and zinc. There is much granite, sandstone, limestone and marble quarried. Turquoise is found in four localities and traces of platinum are found in the sands. The United States Geological Survey estimates that the undeveloped coal lands contain 192,000,000,000 tons, and that there are also 33,000,000 tons of gypsum.

Aztec National Monument in Northwestern New Mexico contains an interesting cluster of prehistoric ruins. The large beams which support the ceilings were cut and dressed with stone tools, and are interesting examples of Stone Age work. Prehistoric inhabitants of the ruins, however, were not related to the Aztecs of Central and South America, archaeologists claim.

The elevators in Carlsbad Cave are the second largest single lift elevators in the world, being surpassed only by those of the Empire State Building in New York.

New Mexico is the fourth largest state in geographical size, yet one of the smallest in population. Latest estimated population of the state is given at 500,000.

New Mexico has a total of 54 registered hospitals with a capacity of 30,909 patients.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hornbaker a lawn supper will be served at 6 o'clock by members of the Cottonwood Woman's Club and the Atoka Club.

Two-Bit Fee at National Monuments Knocks Bottom Out of Tourist Travel

A drop of 10,000 visitors during June, compared with June, 1938, at seven Southwestern national monuments now charging a 25-cent admission fee was reported.

"It looks," Frank Pinkley, superintendent, said in a report, "like a 25-cent adult entrance fee will stop nearly half our visitors. As a deterrent it is very much stronger than the car charge in use at the parks, as it is actually a very much higher charge per hour of attendance."

Pinkley reported 7,302 visitors to the seven monuments last month, as against 17,304 in June, 1938. Visitors to the seven monuments fell from 61.4 per cent of all monument visitors a year ago to 38.1 per cent.

He said weather and road conditions in June were good and added:

"The state inspection stations tell us that travel was heavier than last year, but if this be true the travel is sticking more to the pavements."

White Sands National Monument near Alamogordo showed the greatest decline in visitors last month. Pinkley's figures showed, dropping to 2,429 from 10,039 in June, 1938.

He listed total attendance at the other Southwestern monuments as follows, 1938 attendance first, 1939 second:

Bandelier, N. Mex., 1,738 and 1,709; Montezuma, Ariz., 1,121 and 700; Aztec Ruins, N. Mex., 1,873 and 1,086; Casa Grande, Ariz., 1,794 and 707; Chaco Canyon, N. Mex., 903 and 221; Tucumcari, Ariz., 856 and 369.

NOTICE

STATE ENGINEER'S OFFICE
Santa Fe, New Mexico, July 10, 1939.

Number of Application RA-1411A

Notice is hereby given that on the 3rd day of July, 1939, in accordance with Chapter 131 of the Session Laws of 1931, James Buck of Artesia, County of Eddy, State of New Mexico, made application to the State Engineer of New Mexico for a Permit to Change the Place of Use of shallow ground water from 100 acres of land described as follows:

Subdivision SE 1/4 SE 1/4 and SW 1/4 SE 1/4, Section 31, Township 15 S., Range 25 E., 80 acres; Subdivision S 1/4 NW 1/4 SE 1/4, Section 31, Township 15 S., Range 25 E., 20 acres; total, 100 acres; to 100 acres of land described as follows: Subdivision E 1/2 SE 1/4 SE 1/4, Section 24, Township 16 S., Range 25 E., 20 acres; Subdivision E 1/2 NE 1/4 SE 1/4, Section 24, Township 25 E., Range 25 E., 20 acres; Subdivision NW 1/4 NE 1/4, Section 25, Township 16 S., Range 25 E., 40 acres; Subdivision N 1/2 NE 1/4 NE 1/4, Section 25, Township 16 S., Range 25 E., 20 acres; total 100 acres.

Above mentioned Change in Place of Use of shallow waters to be effected by abandoning the irrigation of the 100 acres of land first described hereinabove and by drilling a shallow well on the 100 acres of land last described hereinabove.

The well said applicant proposes to drill is to be 12 1/2 inches in diameter, approximately 300 feet in depth, and located at a point in the NW 1/4 NE 1/4 of Sec. 25, T. 16 S., R. 25 E., N. M. P. M.

This is not an application for any new appropriation of water but is merely for the purpose of obtaining permit to change the place of use of shallow ground waters to which said applicant already has a right under No. RA-1411, it being necessary to drill a new shallow well in order to effect the change in place of use.

Said applicant merely desires to change the place of use as to 100 acres of land included in Permit No. RA-1411, and also seeks permit to drill a shallow well for the purpose of accomplishing said change in place of use, there being no increase in irrigated area or quantity of shallow ground water beyond that already authorized under Permit No. RA-1411.

Any person, association or corporation deeming that the granting of the above application will be truly detrimental to their rights in the waters of said underground source may file a complete sworn statement of their objections substantiated by affidavits with the State Engineer and file proof of service of a copy thereof upon the applicant with the State Engineer within ten days after the date of the last publication of this notice. The date set for the State Engineer to take this application up for final consideration unless protested is the 21st day of August, 1939.

THOMAS M. McCLURE, State Engineer.

At Louisville, Ky., a kibitzer with a falsetto voice unnerved players at a golf course. The eerie sounds seemed to come just when golfers were preparing to swing. They stood it just so long, then set out to find "the voice." In a nearby tree they found a parrot which had escaped from its cage at a house not far away. The owner explained "Polly" had a double-voice.

A young woman in Cincinnati prefers to rely on machine-age methods to test the status of her affections. Clerk of Detectives Normal Diehl said a girl called him and asked if the police department had a lie detector. Told there was one available, Diehl said she replied: "I'd like to take a lie detector test to find out if I'm in love." She didn't leave her name.

Louis Blumenstein, complaining witness in an assault case, appeared in city court minus a tooth, with both eyes blacked, a freshly-stitched cut in his scalp and his body marked by bruises. His condition resulted, Blumenstein said, from an altercation in "The Friendly Tavern."

At Carbondale, Pa., a transient accosting Mayor William L. Monahan, complained his soles shoes made his feet "terribly sore." The mayor took him into city hall, slipped off a pair of brand new brogans and said: "If they fit, they're yours." They did, and the man walked out mumbling his thanks. "They've been pinching me for three days," sighed the mayor.

John Holley would not let a little cranial needlework stop him. Thrown through the windshield of an automobile in an accident at Greenup, Ky., Holley suffered head cuts so severe Dr. H. H. He dragged it out and shot it.

Eat Eggs for Stamina

By RUTH J. COOPER, Consulting Home Economist
Breeder-Feeder Association

In a study of American diets, representing a wide range of conditions both rural and urban, the amount spent for eggs was 5.5 per cent of the total amount spent for food. In comparison to the amount of nutrition derived, this is too low by half. We need about one egg per day or approximately 30 dozen eggs per person per year, or about 11 per cent of the food budget.

Eggs are protective foods. Both the yolk and white are rich sources of protein. An average egg of 70 calories contains about 60 per cent of the protein in the white and 40 per cent in the yolk. Raw egg yolk is easily digested but raw egg white often causes digestive disturbances. That is the reason that egg white is cooked just enough to coagulate the albumins, for then it too, is easily digested.

Fat, and in general, the minerals in eggs are to be found in the yolk. The most important mineral is iron. While the amount is small, it is constant and in a very usable form. One egg furnishes about one-tenth of the daily iron requirement.

Eggs are a rich source of vitamins, containing all except "C." This wealth alone would place them in the protective class without their other qualifications.

An egg is an egg whether it is taken into the diet straight or in combination. Eggs may be used in any of the various methods of cookery and with almost any food. Egg and milk combinations are nutritious and palatable. They round out the protective diet and are insurance against nutritional deficiency.

Custard ingredients: 2 eggs or 4 yolks; 2 tablespoons sugar; 1/2 teaspoon salt; 2 cups milk, scalded; 1/2 teaspoon vanilla; whipped cream.

Soft custard: Beat eggs slightly, and sugar, salt and gradually add milk. Cover over low heat either in a double boiler or very low flame, stirring constantly, until the custard coats the spoon. If cooked beyond this stage, it will curdle. Strain. Flavor and chill. Serve with whipped cream.

Baked custard: Combine as for soft custard. Strain and flavor. Pour into custard cups and set cups in a pan of water to the depth of about one inch. Bake in a moderate oven (325 degrees F.) until a knife inserted in the center comes out clean, about 35 minutes. Serve with whipped cream.

Eggs poached in cream: 1 egg; 1 tablespoon cream; salt and pepper; toast.

Butter a custard cup and add cream. Break egg into cup, sprinkle with salt and pepper and bake in moderate oven (325 degrees F.) until egg is set. Serve on buttered toast.

Creamed eggs: 3 tablespoons butter; 3 tablespoons flour; 1 1/2 cups milk; 4 hard-cooked eggs; paprika; 1/2 teaspoon salt.

Melt butter, blend in flour, salt and gradually add milk; cook until thick, stirring to prevent lumping. Slice eggs, combine with white sauce and turn into serving dish. Sprinkle top with paprika.

Goldenrod eggs are a variation of creamed eggs. Dice the egg whites and add to the cream sauce; pour over buttered toast. Press the egg yolks through sieve and sprinkle over all.

Meringues or kisses: 2 egg whites; 1/4 teaspoon salt; 2/3 cup sugar; 1/2 teaspoon vanilla; 1/2 cup pecans, coconut, etc.

Beat eggs to a stiff foam, add salt and gradually, the sugar. Beat until stiff. Add flavoring and fold in the nuts, coconut or whatever fruit is desired. Drop on a cookie sheet and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 12 minutes or until delicately browned.

Governor Miles' Farsightedness in Preparing for 'Hoppers Justified

Governor John E. Miles foresightedness in preparing for the grasshopper pest well in advance of its arrival has been justified.

New Mexico has been saved thousands of dollars in crops—just how much nobody can say.

The governor began his preparations as far back as the time of the legislature. He got that body to authorize the issuance of as much as $75,000 in casual certificates of indebtedness to finance the campaign, in part.

Not all of that was needed, however. The state's outlay so far is roughly $30,000, although many thousands of federal dollars were added to it. And the danger is over. Maj. John C. Luikart of Clovis in Santa Fe recently, on his way home from the last "front," in Union County, reported the grasshoppers had been exterminated, all but a few along the Colorado border.

There had been no damage to crops, he said, and but little to rangelands.

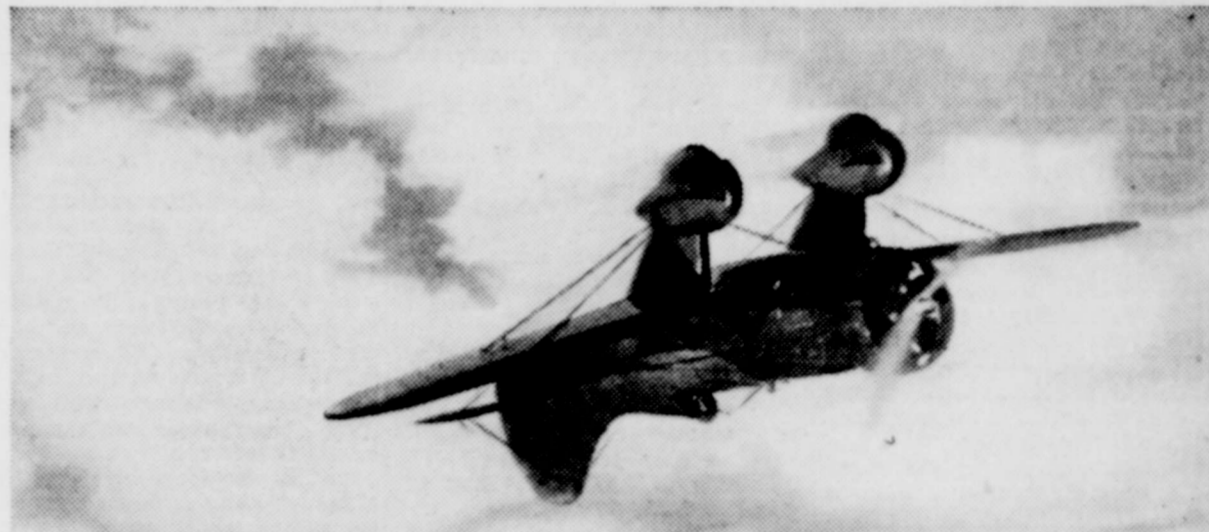

The prompt beginning of the offensive against the pest this year, made possible by early preparedness, was largely instrumental in scoring such a high degree of effectiveness, and New Mexico has been saved, in crops alone many times the cost.

Bottoms Up!

A BARREL ROLL!... Hard on the dare-devil air devil... Safe for his engine, because it's still well-oiled though it's upside down. Just think: Your motor car—newest model or veteran—would actually get better engine lubrication if somehow you could always park it upside down!... Silly notion?... Just the same, you can see that by standing "bottoms up" your engine would have to stay oiled to the top! Then it certainly couldn't start dry—oil-starved. And that one worst source of engine wear would be ended for you.

Get this same great benefit for your car without any "topsy-turvy"... Get your engine OIL-PLATED. And that takes patented Conoco Germ Processed oil, with its "magnetic" power of mating to the working parts as intimately as chromium-plating is mated to the bumpers. Chromium-plating can't drain down; OIL-PLATING can't either. All the way up in your engine—all the while it stands or runs—all the time you use Germ Processed oil—you've got durable OIL-PLATING.

Then every start is well-oiled—wear-proofed. Every stroke of your engine, every mile you go, takes place on lasting OIL-PLATING. And you're not adding oil every other time you stop, once you change to the only Germ Processed oil... at Your Conoco Mileage Merchant's. He knows your correct Summer grade. Today have him drain and refill, and at once your engine's OIL-PLATED. Continental Oil Company the new hospital here, which she hopes to manage, Mrs. Johns was lavish in her praise of its modern features, latest furniture and handy arrangements. "Remarkable" was the term she applied to the hospital, in comparing it with large city hospitals which are supposed to be the "last word."

She likewise spoke highly of the scheme of using different colors in the various rooms, saying that is being carried out in many of the larger hospitals today, in order to make them more "homey," a feature which has been praised heretofore by other visitors.

A New Marketing Service Developed For Livestock Men

Will Eliminate Some of the Principal Problems Confronted

Approximately 70 per cent of the annual agricultural income in New Mexico is derived from the sale of livestock and livestock products, says W. A. Wunsch of the New Mexico Extension Service, and in order to eliminate some of the principal problems in the marketing of livestock, the service, in cooperation with livestock producers, is developing a special marketing service.

An inventory blank has been prepared which calls for such information as class, age, number, breed, time stock will be ready for sale, name of owner, address, telephone number and weighing and shipping point.

One of these blanks will be sent in Eddy County by Fred Barham, extension agent, to each cattle and sheep producer listed, to be filled out and returned. When received in the county office, they will be assembled and current summaries will be prepared by the agent.

Copies of the summaries will be sent the extension economist, who will have state summaries prepared. Copies of the state summaries will be sent county extension agents every month during the marketing season. The summaries will be revised as sales are reported. Copies of the summaries also will be sent to persons, firms or organizations interested in the purchase of cattle and sheep in New Mexico and other states.

Marketing news stories, setting forth the current demand, local prices and movement of livestock, as well as general marketing activities, will be published and sent

Cremeries Man Is Looking Artesia Over as Location

R. A. Gilliland of Holton, Kan., brother-in-law of the Lanning brothers, is here this week looking over the advisability of opening a creamery and butter factory at Artesia.

He is a dairyman who is the president of the Sunflower Cooperative Creamery at Holton, which is only three years old but has 1,300 members. The creamery, Gilliland said, will ship more than 1½ million pounds of butter this year.

Gilliland said he likes the looks of Artesia and believes the farming community here could support a creamery and butter factory if the farmers will cooperate. It would take some time, however, to get started in the valley, he said.

The dairyman said he would be glad to discuss such a business with any farmers or associations while he is here.

He and Mrs. Gilliland and Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Pantle of Emporia, Kan., brothers-in-law and sisters of M. E., S. A., Jr., and John Lanning, came Friday to visit the Lanning families. Pantle also is a dairyman.

Mrs. Nancy Eipper expects to return to her summer cabin at Ruodoso today after spending two weeks at her home here.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Anderson and Miss Chrystine returned Sunday from a two-week vacation in Colorado. They were joined at Dallas, Tex., by Mrs. Joe Anderson of El Paso, who on the return trip left the party at Colorado Springs, Colo., for a visit with her granddaughters.
