Mayor Turner Gives 'State Of The City' Address

MAY'S LUCKY WINNERS OF THE MAC BUCKS.-Last Saturday afternoon, it was windy, but warm and the sun was shining for the May MAC Buck drawing in downtown Muleshoe. Eva Payne, front right, quickly claimed her $25 in MAC Bucks to be the first winner. Then orange ticket No. 0063532 failed to claim their $50, so Filemon Olivarez was ready, front left, when his ticket number was drawn. Then, he came right back and on the draw, won $75. Then it was time for the $100. The first number, orange 0315223 failed to show, so Thursie Reid, center, was winner of the $100. In the back, from left are Ray Day, Jerry Hailey and Harvey Bass, all MAC Steering Committee members. They were the only ones brave enough to show up this month. (Journal Photo)

Explains How $1.5 Million Budget Spent On Services

It takes a lot of money to operate a city -- and Muleshoe is no exception, with an annual budget in excess of $1.5 million, so says Muleshoe Mayor Darrell Turner.

He was introduced at the Muleshoe Rotary Club on Tuesday by Ted Barnhill, who was in charge of the program for the day.

He told Rotarians that the tax rate for the city is 54 cents per $100 valuation, and outlined several areas where the money is spent.

The first place he mentioned is the Muleshoe Public Library, with a budget of $74,000. "Our library, thanks to an outstanding librarian, Anne Camp, is second to none, anywhere. We are very fortunate to have her," he said.

He moved on to the police department, telling the Rotarians that the six officers include the chief. They provide 24-hour a day protection, working in 12 hour shifts for four days and then have three days off.

Working this way has allowed the city to eliminate one police car, gives the working officers overtime to help support their families, and still provides around the clock protection.

Mayor Turner, who was returned to office as mayor last Saturday, said the 30 employees is a one-third reduction from the 45 employees in 1970. He said the city now contracts for some services and doubles up on some services, and have eliminated several job titles in the reduction -- all without reducing services for the city residents.

Mayor Turner was lavish in his praise of the Muleshoe Fire Department, consisting of some 40 volunteer firemen. "They're good," he said, "they help keep your insurance bills down. And, the only pay they get is water at a minimum rate. We have very good, very dedicated firemen."

The mayor then moved to the 'City Farming Operation' and said that although it would appear to sometimes be controversial, there was good reason for purchasing the 1,528 acres of

Huckaby Chosen; Shelburne Named To School Board

A total of 390 local voters went to the polls Saturday to elect two members to the Board of Trustees of the Muleshoe Independent School District.

Incumbent Lyndon Huckaby was re-elected with 290 votes. Also elected to his first term was Curtis Shelburne, with 211 votes.

Terry Hutto received 175 votes and Abel Arguello, 87 votes.

In a re-organization of the Board of Trustees, Julie Cage will remain president. Howard Watson was named vice president; and the new secretary is Rex Harris.

Oath Signed By Mayor For New Term

Tuesday morning, incumbent Muleshoe Mayor Darrell Turner signed a new oath of office, after officially being declared the winner of the Saturday election for a new mayor.

He received 54 of the 55 votes cast in the election. The single write-in vote was for Abel Arguello.

It was reported that seven absentee ballots were cast, and 48 voted in the election conducted at the Muleshoe City Hall.

Visiting with councilmen was Paul Rinehart, with General Telephone, who asked council members if they had any reports of telephone problems, and, "we want to let you know we're still around," he said. "We are trying to give you the best service we can."

"We are also visiting small businesses at least once a year. These businesses usually never see a representative of GTE unless they have trouble."

He said new features, such as 'Call-Waiting' is approximately three-five years away for Muleshoe.

He also anticipates no problems for Muleshoe to switch to the 9-1-1 Emergency services in the future.

City Manager Dave Marr reminded council members that it will soon be time to work on the budget, and said there have been some loss in tax evaluations which will result in 'an interesting' budget session.

Bids for a back hoe for the city will be opened at 1:30 p.m. Friday, and will be evaluated

Sexual Assault; Rollover Keep County, DPS Busy Monday

Late Monday afternoon, a report was received of a one-vehicle rollover on FM746 West, and local sheriff's officers headed south on 214 to assist with traffic.

However, before they had time to reach the wreck, 12 miles from Muleshoe, they were diverted to southwest Bailey County where a woman reported she had been accosted by a man at her home seeking gas for his car.

She said the man had come to her house, parked behind it and asked her for gas for his car. When she told him she had no gas, he left her home.

The woman stayed on the telephone, giving the jailer a running commentary of the man's actions after he left her house.

The man drove south from her house, and first, he had a flat tire on his small car. She watched out her window as he got out to change the tire.

In the meantime, Deputies Steve Bearden and Jerry Hicks were southbound on SH214 to get to the area. Bailey County Sheriff Bob Henderson was southbound on FM1731 in case the man tried to get into New Mexico.

The victim of the knife assault said the vehicle had New Mexico license plates.

She then reported to the jailer that the man was back in his car, southbound. This didn't last long. She said his car was stopped again. Then, the man got out and started pushing the car.

At that point, the jailer, Peggy Bates, told officers that a neighbor was at the woman's house, reporting that the man had sexually assaulted her.

Aspartame 'Safe' In Large Amounts

Fairly large amounts of the sweetener aspartame, known commercially as NutraSweet*, can be safely consumed daily by most healthy people, according to a University of Minnesota study.

In work conducted by epidemiology and nutrition professor Arthur S. Leon and pharmacology and medicine professor Donald B. Hunninghake, 108 healthy subjects ages 18 to 62 randomly received either placebo or 75 milligrams of aspartame for every 2.2 pounds of body weight with each meal for 24 weeks.

Leon and Hunninghake, who conducted the study under a grant from the NutraSweet* Co., presented their work at the annual meeting of the Federation of American Societies for Experimental Biology (FASEB) in Las Vegas Monday (May 2).

To consume the same amount of aspartame taken by study subjects, a 154-pound person would have to drink 10 liters or 30 cans of an aspartame-sweetened soft drink daily. The amount taken by those who took aspartame was one and one-half times the current recommended maximum daily consumption amount.

The subjects were evaluated every three weeks and no significant differences were noted between groups in resting heart rate, blood pressure and body weight.

*NutraSweet is a registered trademark of the NutraSweet Co. Blood cholesterol levels and test results of kidney, liver and blood cell functions were not significantly different between the groups. No known digestive products such as phenylalanine and methanol were accumulated by either group. Aspartame side effects reported in the past, including headaches, abdominal discomfort and colds, occurred at about the same rate for both groups.

"The safety of aspartame has been confirmed in more than 100 human and animal studies," said Leon. "What is unique about our study is the large amount of aspartame that was administered for such a relatively long period of time. Using a dose one and one-half times the amount recommended by the Food and Drug Administration (FDA), the lack of significant side effects or blood or urine chemistry changes confirms the safety of this food additive for most people. In fact, the estimated current average daily consumption of aspartame is actually about one-tenth the amount administered in our study."

It is estimated that over 100 million Americans consume products sweetened with aspartame daily.

Sandhill Philosopher

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Sandy Acres examines speech-writers this week.

Dear editor:

A while back there was a great stir when an ex-White House press secretary reported in a book that he'd made up quotes and said the President had said them, when the President didn't know it. Not only did he not know it, he didn't know "his" quotes had been printed in the newspapers.

I can understand that. He may have missed that day's paper. You know how some paper boys are, they'll sometimes throw your paper into the rose bushes instead of at the front door.

Anyway, columnists jumped on the guy for pulling such a stunt, saying it was grossly unethical. They ought to know. Some of them used to write speeches for Presidents.

Perhaps it was unethical, but it's hard to get exercised over the fact that, as everybody knows, Presidents don't write their own speeches. Some Presidents don't know what they think about some things until somebody writes it down for them.

Lincoln probably was the last President to write his own speeches, although one or two since who went down in defeat for a second term may have tried their hand at it.

Not only do Presidents hire speech writers. Senators, Congressmen, cabinet officers, Governors and perhaps a state legislator here and there to do it. Maybe even justices of the peace and an occasional school superintendent.

I don't know who the Democratic and Republican candidates, back at the start of the Presidential nomination campaigns, hired as their speech writers, but as the campaigns droned on it made you feel that somebody else had already hired the good ones.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

Producers Ask Congress For Sorghum Help

The national association of grain sorghum producers has requested the help of Congress to obtain Export Enhancement Initiatives for sorghum. According to the National Grain Sorghum Producers Association (NGSPA), sorghum export markets are being lost to subsidized U.S. wheat and barley.

The Export Enhancement Program (EEP), which was enacted in the 1985 Farm Bill to boost the export of U.S. agricultural products, has been used extensively for sales of wheat, barley, and other commodities while sorghum and corn have been excluded. In the Middle East, livestock feeders are feeding wheat and even wheat flour because the subsidies make it cheaper than corn or sorghum. Egypt, alone, has received 5 million tons of EEP wheat and wheat flour.

Israel, long a dependable and consistent customer of U.S. sorghum, has recently switched about half of its purchases to U.S. barley to take advantage of EEP Subsidies. Egypt has many poultry, beef, and buffalo feeders who would readily buy U.S. sorghum if they could get the same EEP subsidy they receive on wheat and wheat flour. Saudi Arabia, once a bright prospect for sorghum sales, has received 3.5 million tons of EEP barley.

In a letter to senators and representatives of sorghum-producing states, NGSPA Executive Director Elbert Harp said, "There is no justification for the suppression of sales of a U.S. commodity through the use of export subsidies."

"We are not asking that sales of barley and wheat be limited," Harp said. "We are asking that sorghum, which is totally interchangeable with those grains, be given a fair opportunity to compete. Since April 1986, NGSPA has submitted frequent requests (both formal and informal) to USDA for equitable treatment."

"Our last request (for EEP on sorghum) was rejected last week," the letter continued. "Since that time, another EEP barley initiative has been announced for Israel."

Before EEP, Israel has purchased only 700 metric tons of U.S. barley. (see chart.) The first EEP barley initiative for Israel was for 200,000 mt., announced on June 17, 1986. The second initiative, again for 200,000 mt., was announced on Sept. 14, 1987. Israel actually bought 406,200 mt. under these two initiatives while their sorghum purchases dropped by approximately the same amount. The third initiative, just announced (April 27), is for another lot of 200,000.

"I want it thoroughly understood," Harp emphasized, "that NGSPA supports the Export Enhancement Program. We have no objection to its use to move barley and wheat into the export market. Our objection is to the discriminatory manner in which the program has been administered."

"After all, a market lost to EEP-subsidized wheat and barley hurts sorghum sales just as much as a market lost to grain sold by the European Community under its export subsidy program."

Local AHA Chapter Holds Annual Banquet

Funds raised by the local chapter of the American Heart Association the past year was in excess of $7,000, Hugh Young reported during the annual banquet Friday night. One hundred and fifty dollars was raised by solicitation from the board members, $1,629 from memorials, and $203.25 donated by the students at Mary DeShazo Elementary School. Earlier in the year students were given a chance on a heart shaped telephone, donated by Five Area Telephone, for each 25 cents donated. Two of these telephones were given away.

During the Radio Day Auction an excess of $3,000 was taken in and $2,021.50 was donated during the Jazzercise For Heart Dance, raising the yearly total to over $7,000.

In making his report, Young expressed his appreciation to Joe Cearley, principal at Mary DeShazo Elementary School, who he stated was very enthusiastic and helpful; the merchants and news media for their help in making the Radio Day a success; Terri Precure and her Jazzercise Class and Ricki Kelly and the gymnastic class.

Janie Moynihan, president of the local chapter, welcomed the members and guests to the banquet. Decorations included red and white hearts scattered down the center of the tables and red decorated sack centerpieces, which were given as door prizes. These decorations were made by Kandy McWhorther, County Agent, H-E.

Mrs. Moynihan introduced Dr. Ralph Paxton, who has worked in the Texas Tech University research lab for the past two years. He talked about the research work being conducted at Tech. This study has been made possible by the American Heart Association, who gave a $30,000 grant to fund this study.

It was reported that Elaine Burgess, communications chairman, had sent the Muleshoe Chapter's scrapbook to Austin for competition for the Communications Award.

Five year awards were presented to Ausin and Anne Floyd, by Mrs. Moynihan. She also presented a ten year award to JoAnn Head and a 15 year award to Elizabeth Watson.

Other awards were presented to Hugh Young, Deanna Rasco, Elaine Burgess, Dorothy Turner, and Public Service Certificates were presented to Magann Rennels, Channel 6; KMUL Radio Station; Judy Watson, Ranger; and Evelene Harris from the Journals.

Young presented a plaque to Mrs. Moynihan and in making this presentation he said "she became president of the local chapter at a very hard time, Owen Jones had just been elected president and she was president elect. Soon after being elected, Jones died and she moved up to the president's position, and has worked hard at making this a successful year.

Officers and chairpersons for 1988-89 were introduced and they include: Janie Moynihan, president; Elaine Burgess, president elect; Dorothy Turner, secretary/treasurer; Georgia Pena, program chairperson; Winston Allison, development chairperson; and Janie Balderas, public information chairperson.

The group was reminded of the Regional Workshop scheduled for Wednesday, June 15 at Lubbock. Elaine Burgess will be a delegate to the State Meeting in Houston on July 15.

The group voted to continue meeting throughout the year with an officers meeting being scheduled the second week in June and a regular board meeting scheduled in August. The local chapter meets at noon the first Friday of each month at the Old Corral Restaurant.

362 IRRIGATION WELLS COUNTED
There are 362 irrigation wells in that small part of Bailey County which lies North of the sand hills. Bill Matthiesin reports after completing a survey for the Bailey County Water Conservation Association.

He has not surveyed the South part of the county, but there are few irrigation plants in that section, probably less than 20.

Mr. Matthiesin went to every place in the area mentioned, and recorded such data as depth of the well, pump placement, kind, fuel used, when installed, etc.

Many of the farmers paid to him their dues as members of the association.

He reports that many more wells are in process of installation and that the number is growing every day.

SEVEN INCH RAINSTORM AND HAIL HITS EARLY CROPS IN SOUTH PART OF COUNTY

The hardest rain and hail in the memory of many long time residents wreaked havoc with small grain crops and newly planted cotton fields in the Stegall-Baileyboro area south of Muleshoe Monday night, with up to seven inches of heavy rain accompanied by hail reported south of Stegall. It is estimated that 75 percent of the wheat in the area was severely damaged by the hail and gully washing rains. About 75 percent of the farmers in the area had planted cotton, and almost all of it will have to be replanted, if seed can be found.

While an official 1.84 inches of rain and hail was recorded in Muleshoe from a double storm which hit about 3 and 4:30 p.m. Monday, seven inches was reported south of Stegall and almost six inches at Stegall.

Roads from Needmore to Maple were under water in numerous places, with water still over part of the road on the curve below Baileyboro, and below Stegall on the highway to Rogers, N.M.

WINTER STORM WARNING ISSUED FOR PANHANDLE

Although it was expected to miss this immediate area, heavy snow was predicted for the Panhandle of Texas and eastern New Mexico through Saturday night.

The snow was predicted by the National Weather Service for basically the same area which received up to a foot of snow Wednesday night, as chilly temperatures continued to plague local and area residents.

Only one full day of sunshine was noted throughout last week, and that day was on Monday before the heavy cloud cover moved into the area, covering the sun and leaving chilly temperatures for the rest of the week.

Bailey County received more than two inches of rain during the week, and snowflakes fell Tuesday night and Wednesday morning and it left up to 14 inches north and northwest of Muleshoe.

Those who are smart will save some of their earnings.

National Piano Playing

Auditions Set This Weekend

The National Piano Playing Auditions, sponsored by the National Guild of Piano Teachers, will be held in Muleshoe Friday and Saturday, May 13 and 14 at the First United Methodist Church. Thirty-two students from the studios of Fran Hamilton and Elaine Damron will be playing in the Muleshoe auditions, according to Guild chairman, Elaine Damron.

Every audition entrant receiving a passing score will be given a certificate of membership to the National Fraternity of the Student Musicians. Each will also receive a Gold, Silver or Bronze pin, depending on the number of pieces played.

Judge for the 1988, auditions in Muleshoe will be Mrs. Ross (Patsy) Herrington.

Mrs. Herrington became interested in music at an early age when her mother (who couldn't drive) took her on the train 60 miles to Plainview, for accordion lessons. These soon blossomed into piano and organ lessons.

Today Mrs. Herrington teaches at Valley School located midway between Turkey and Quitaque in the Texas Panhandle. She has been a private piano-organ teacher for 20 years, and teaches an average of thirty-five students. Each year she enters large groups in Piano Guild Auditions, driving at least sixty miles to the nearest guild center.

She has done extensive studies with such prestigious artists as Dale Peters, Margaret Grubb, North Texas University, and Mark Pair, Earl Miller, Wayland Baptist University. Mrs. Herrington can list accomplishments in an unprecedented range of areas—teacher, performer, adjudicator as well as an outstanding musician.

In 1979, Mrs. Herrington's piano students rung up a statewide win when her students performed with such artistry to win the coveted sweepstakes (1st place) trophy in statewide music competition of the University Interscholastic League in Austin.

A member of Who's Who in American Women, in 1983, she was honored the high distinction of a permanent position in the Hall of Fame of Piano Guild teachers. She has been on the National Honor Roll of Guild Teachers for the past 16 years.

In 1987, she was certified by the American College of Musicians, the highest award a Guild Teacher can obtain. Three of her students have been Paderewski Gold Medal Winners, one of the Piano Guild's highest achievements.

A mother of four children including twins, Mrs. Herrington was recently honored for 25 years of outstanding service as organist for Baptist Church, Quitaque.

She has produced large numbers of talented outstanding piano students during her years of teaching.

land just south of Muleshoe. "We have a good weed-control project going," he said, "we have put out burrs, there are two circles, and we plan to plant grass."

But the major purchase was of the water rights, with 11 producing wells, nine being interconnected. The city has contracted with Lubbock to furnish that city with water for five more years, and expect the sale of water to Lubbock will just about pay for the city's purchase.

After the contract with Lubbock has expired, the city should have at least 10 more years of water for use here.

"We also have control of the ground surface to get to wells to make repairs, installations and other necessities," said Mayor Turner. "We know how important water is in this part of the country. For Muleshoe, we have two one-million gallon reservoirs and they hold approximately a two day supply for Muleshoe."

He said Muleshoe averages about one-million gallons of water consumption daily, and there is about 500,000 gallons of sewage each day.

Touching on other subjects, Mayor Turner talked briefly about being rejected for a $450,000 grant for the hospital but receiving a $300,000 grant to pave streets in the Harvey, Morrison and Original Town sections of the city.

"Although most people will not be using the airport from here, the new airport will be something to be proud of, and is something to benefit our city," added Mayor Turner. He told of the new 5,200 foot runway and the 5,200 foot taxiway. Mayor Turner said they are an enhancement when industry starts looking at Muleshoe for a possible location.

He also touched on Revenue Sharing and the sales tax return, saying some of these funds are used to help keep Muleshoe's streets 'chug-hole free.'

"We have a town to be proud of," he concluded. "Support Muleshoe -- Be proud of it."

J. D. Cage reported briefly on the Rotary District Conference in Plainview last weekend, and presented a trophy to Rotary President Tommy Gunstream. He said the District had voted to increase the dues from $6 to $9. The extra funds will be used to

New Computer

Shortcourse

Now Offered

Many Texas farmers and ranchers are becoming highly skilled at using their computers to improve their decision-making capabilities, report agricultural economists with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. To help these producers, the third in a series of Extension short courses has been designed for more advanced users.

The course will be held May 25-27 at the Texas State Technical Institute north of Interstate 20, across from the Sweetwater airport. It is being presented with the cooperation of TSTI.

The course, "Advanced Electronic Spreadsheet Development and Applications in Agriculture," is for persons already having some skills in using the spreadsheet software Lotus 1-2-3 explained Dr. Jackie Smith, Extension management economist at Lubbock.

"It is for participants in our previous two shortcourses, or persons with considerable experience in Lotus 1-2-3 spreadsheet development," Smith said. The course will cover such advanced topics as database, graphics and macros.

"One of the software packages that has proven most helpful to computer users is the spreadsheet," the Extension economist said. This course will help those already using Lotus 1-2-3 learn to use all the available commands.

The fee for the course is $125, which covers four meals, refreshments and educational materials. The class will be limited to 15 participants to assure hands-on computer use and a high staff-participant ratio. Additional information is available from local county extension agents or from Dr. Jackie Smith at the Texas A&M University Agricultural Research and Extension Center, Route Three, Box 213aa, Lubbock, TX 79423, telephone (806) 746-6101.

Why is it that tomorrow is so full of good working hours?

A mature person is one who wants nothing he hasn't earned.

The Lazbuddie Athletic Banquet will be held Monday, May 16, at 7:30 p.m. in the school cafeteria.

Coach Linden Weese, on staff at Texas Tech for women's basketball, will be guest speaker. Sponsored by the Booster Club, tickets will be available at the door at $5.50 for adults and $3.50 for children age 10 and under.

At presstime, light rain continued to fall in the Muleshoe area, adding to the official .39 recorded as of 7 a.m. on Wednesday.

Rain was expected to be intermittent throughout Wednesday, with clear, warm and sunny days for the rest of the week.

Jeff Hicks and Stephanie Cox were both named to the State All-Star Cast following their performance in the MHS play, "Life Is A Dream," after it failed to place in the top three plays in state competition last weekend at Austin.

The entire play cast, stage crew, and directors Kerry Moore, and assistant, John Gulley, are to be commended for again taking a Muleshoe One-Act Play to state competition.

Andrew Espinoza, who went to state competition for the UIL competition in Spelling, placed sixth in the state after the state meet last weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Wilson recently attended the annual State Convention for Hochheim Farm Mutual Insurance Company.

The convention was held in Corpus Christi this year, with some 400 delegates and their wives in attendance.

Kevin Smith

Among the 239 candidates scheduled to receive degrees this weekend at Wayland Baptist University is Kevin Ray Smith of Muleshoe.

Smith is a candidate for the bachelor of science (B.S.) degree in history and is an honor graduate. He is the son of Agnes Smith, Muleshoe.

Wayland's 78th Spring Commencement will be held Saturday, May 14, at 10 a.m. in Herral Memorial Auditorium and is open to the public.

Abner V. McCall, president emeritus of Baylor University, will bring the commencement address.

Deadline Nearing

For FmHA County Committee Petition

Bailey County farmers interested in election to the Farmers Home Administration county committee have until May 19 to get their nominating petitions signed and turned in, according to FmHA County Supervisor, Jay McKay.

One person will be elected for a three-year term to the three-person committee at the June 30 election. McKay said anyone who has an interest in a farm in Bailey County as owner, tenant or sharecropper is eligible to run for the committee seat and to vote in the election. A spouse of an eligible farmer also is considered to be a farmer for those purposes.

Nominating petitions, which must be signed by the nominee and two eligible farmer voters, and other information can be obtained at the FmHA county office at 115 E. Ave. D, Muleshoe, McKay said.

FmHA county committees perform a variety of duties, including making decisions on applicants' eligibility for FmHA farm loans. Two committee members are elected by county farmers, and the third is appointed by FmHA.

Sexual Assault

As the neighbor started out of her home, she met her husband on a tractor. He drove to the reportee's house, and attempted to block the car driven by the suspect. Failing that, he stayed at the house with his wife until officers could arrive.

Officers arrived, took the man into custody -- he was still pushing the car. Deputy Bearden went to the knife victim's house to question both victims, while Sheriff Henderson and Deputy Hicks stayed with the suspect in both incidents.

Dr. Bruce Purdy explained that the cost of insurance is prohibitive for any local doctor to perform a rape examination, thus a decision was made several years ago to not conduct such examinations in Muleshoe.

Texas A&M psychologist says women benefit more from marriage than men

COLLEGE STATION -- Men may think they get the better deal in a marriage contract -- after all, they're gaining a cook, maid, mother, secretary -- but new research at Texas A&M University reveals that marriage benefits a woman's sense of well-being more than a man's.

The findings are a reversal of previous research done on negative effect and psychological symptoms, said social psychologist Dr. Wendy Wood, who reviewed 101 studies on male-female differences and well-being from the 1930s through 1980s.

Although the research does not show why women benefit more from marriage than men, Wood suggested that marriage provides psychological benefits for women such as a buffer for stress. She conjectured that the more psychologically healthy a woman is, the more likely she may be to marry.

There are just a few weeks left of school, but the faculty at M.H.S. are still getting in their nominations for the "Students of the Day" and the "Students of the Week."

Sue Haire Presented Scholarship

"Sue Haire, a senior at Muleshoe High School, recieved the Robert C. Byrd Honors Scholarship. Sue is the daughter of Vera Haire and the late Lloyd Haire. Sue is very involved in band and other activities. She is a member of the National Honor Society and SCAC. She has been in the Mighty "M" band all four years, in the Jazz Band for three years, Assistant Drum Major her junior year, Drum Major her senior year and All Region band her junior year.

The Robert C. Byrd Honors Scholarship Program is a federally funded program to promote student excellence and achievement and to recognize exceptionally able students who show promise of continued excellence. It is a program for eligible graduating high school students and GED recipients, who will attend an institution of higher education within one year. These $1,500 scholarships are awarded on the basis of merit for the first year of study at an institution of higher education and are not renewable. Byrd Scholarships were awarded for the first time in the spring of 1987, for study in academic year 1987-88.

Allison Chosen Educator Of The Week

The Educator of the Week is Mrs. Jean Allison. Mrs. Allison is currently teaching Economics and Honors American History.

Mrs. Allison graduated from Hagerman High School in Hagerman, New Mexico. She received her Bachelor of Science Degree in Education from Eastern New Mexico University at Portales. Her majors were Social Studies Composite and English. She has also earned some graduate hours at both Texas A&M University and West Texas State University.

Mrs. Allison has taught a variety of subjects. She has taught or is now teaching U.S. Government, Economics, World Geography, English, Psychology, and Honors American History.

Mrs. Allison lists her hobbies as cooking, reading, gardening, and travel. But, most of all, she says that she LOVES to play with her beautiful grandchildren.

The reason she chose the teaching field is because she has always loved children (she had FIVE!!!) and she enjoys the challenge.

When asked about her thoughts about M.H.S. she replied, "Both the faculty and students are among the finest in the United States. It is wonderful to be associated with a group of teachers and administrators who support each other fully and give so generously of themselves.

The students at M.H.S. are some of the hardest working, sincere, and deserving young people to be found anywhere. Of course, at times there are problems, but we all want the same, the finest school possible where each can reach his/her greatest potential."

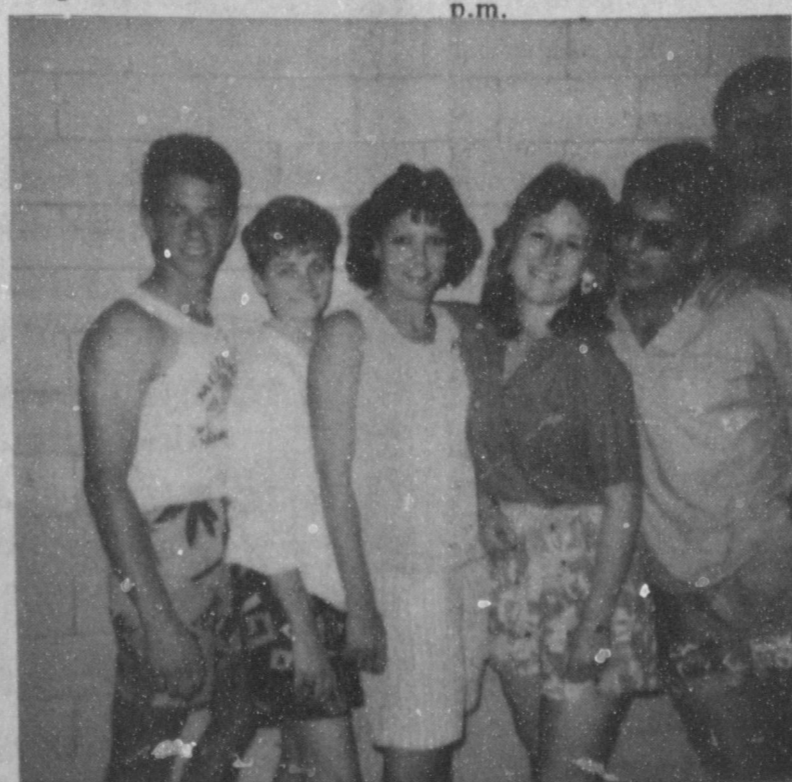

Virginia Espinoza. The "Students of the Day" for the first week of May are Michelle Cox, Rose Espinoza, Luis Alanis, Jerry Bob Graves, Bryan Swint. Bryan Swint is the "Student of the Week."

Band Trip To Six-Flags Was Enjoyed

The Mighty "M" band left for the Six Flags festival at 7:00 a.m. on Friday, April 29th. They made a brief stop at the Lamesa Middle School to practice their music so they would not have to go a day without it.

Back on the bus again, everyone settled down for the long ride to Arlington and Six Flags. Once at the park, the band members went their separate ways to ride the rides and play games. They enjoyed a Bar-B-Que supper given by the park for the members of the festival only. Later the Mighty "M" Band loaded up and headed for the hotel. Though they were taped into their rooms, many of them stayed up into the wee hours of the morning. There were quite a few sleepy students on Saturday since they had to get up at 5:00 to prepare for their contest at Richardson High School in Richardson a suburb of Dallas.

Once contest was over the band took pictures and then loaded up on the buses again. They then left for the Galleria, a mall in Dallas, where they shopped and had supper at the park and then went to the awards ceremony at the park where they went back to the hotel. Saturday night almost everybody went to bed early to catch up on their sleep. Sunday morning the band members got up around 7:30. They loaded the buses and headed for home at 9:00. They stopped in Abilene at lunch and finally made it home around 6:30 p.m.

Governor Proclaims Texas Hospital Week

Gov. William P. Clements Jr. has designated May 8-14 as Texas Hospital Week. In his proclamation, Gov. Clements said, "The Texas Hospital Association and hospitals throughout Texas are committed to helping Texans feel their very best. Their primary concern is improving the lives of each person in our state."

"This year's theme 'Texas Hospitals, Special Places for Special People' emphasizes the impact of hospitals and health professionals," said Terry Townsend, CAE, THA president. "Because of their state-of-the-art equipment and facilities, and the many highly skilled health care professionals who deal daily with life and death situations, hospitals are unique places employing a team of special people."

In his proclamation, Gov. Clements recognized that it takes a special person to dedicate his or her life to the health and well-being of others. "Hospitals throughout Texas are staffed by many highly skilled and dedicated health care professionals. These professionals make a most significant contribution as they offer their commitment, talent and training to ensure the best possible care in every community in the state," he stated.

"It is fitting that we salute Texas hospitals and their specialized contributions to the public welfare, high standards of care, state-of-the-art equipped facilities and educational research programs," Clements added.

Townsend said, "Hospital Week is a time to recognize people who are special to hospitals: patients and their families, doctors, hospital employees, volunteers, board members and benefactors. The hospital's mission can only be accomplished by a team approach, and all the team members play a vital role in achieving the overall goal of providing the patient with quality health care services."

Texas Hospital Week is celebrated in conjunction with National Hospital Week, which originated in 1921. Matthew A. Foley, a hospital magazine editor, selected May 12, the birthday of Florence Nightingale, as a special day for hospitals "so that the community may know its hospital." In 1924 the American Hospital Association assumed sponsorship of National Hospital Day and expanded the celebration to National Hospital Week in 1953.

Texas Hospital Week is sponsored by the Texas Hospital Association (THA), the Austin-based trade association for hospitals. THA represents more than 700 institutional and 3,600 personal members.
