

Do You Want Your Son to Die in Europe's War?

The possibility of the United States' participation in armed conflict in Europe has been a much-discussed question the last year and there are those who argue both ways.

Nearly everyone is agreed the United States must stay out of war if at all possible. But others believe it may be necessary to send armed forces to European shores before the many questions there are settled, once again "to make the world safe for democracy."

That is why The Advocate this week is asking, "Do you believe the United States should, under any circumstances, enter the European war and send American young men abroad?"

There are no qualifications to the question other than the phrase, "under any circumstances," and the argument must be settled one way or the other.

On another page will be found a ballot, which states the issue and has places for voting either "Yes" or "No." Reprints of the ballot are to be distributed to the pastors of the churches before Saturday and each civic club will be asked to consider the question during the next week, so a summary can be made in next week's issue.

This is no contest. It does not cost anything. A person to vote does not have to be a subscriber of The Advocate. There is no commercial tie-in of any kind. Nor does one obligate himself in any way by voting.

The signature of the voter is asked only in order that the editorial staff of The Advocate can break down the answers into groups of voters, into men and women, and as to ages, if possible. Names will not be used in tabulations.

The balloting is in line with other weekly newspapers in the nation, which are asking the same question, for it is a question which one hears discussed on every hand.

Some argue that it will be necessary to send troops to Europe, whether Germany is successful or not in conquering England, because of the potential possibility of Russian conquest of the weary nations.

Others feel the United States should send troops to aid England, in order to combat the Nazi threat, stamping it out before it is felt in this hemisphere.

There are those who believe it is a poor Monroe Doctrine which does not work two ways, that "we should do unto others as we would have them do unto us." In other words, keep out of Europe.

Artesia is at least 6,000 miles from the theater of war, but that is not great in this day of great speed of travel, and distortionists are daily slashing that distance, cleverly playing upon Americans' love of Democracy, and hatred and fear of dictatorships, doing their best to arouse a war hysteria.

During the lull in hostilities since the capitulation of France, the talk has not been at such fever heat, but the Battle of England, when it gets into full swing, will again arouse heated discussions.

So consider the question well and vote according to your honest convictions. Do not forget to use the ballot in this issue, or one in the hands of your pastor or civic club officers. Or, for your convenience, you may obtain one at The Advocate office or the Chamber of Commerce office. But vote on the issue, so a true cross-section of the community's thoughts on the question may be had.

"Do you want your son to die in Europe's war?"

"Do you believe the United States should, under any circumstances, enter the European war and send American young men abroad?"

Discovery Well Leads to New Activity West of the Pecos River

As McCall No. 1 Goes on Production With Ninety Barrel Gauge, Two Locations Are Staked in Same Region.

OTHER FIELDS TOO

Oil News in Established Regions Reported the Last Week.

Since assurance last week that a commercial oil well has been discovered west of the Pecos River, oil activities are picking up in this area and already two new locations have been staked in the locality of the new producer east of Dayton.

The discovery well, the McCall No. 1 of Martin Yates, Jr., et al, in SW SW section 24-18-26, has been completed and now is on production from a total depth of 1,033 feet.

Tubing was run Monday, after cleaning out was completed, and the well went on production Tuesday. A gauged test for twenty-three hours, from Tuesday morning to Wednesday morning, showed a natural flow for the period of ninety barrels through a 1/16-inch choke on tubing.

Yates and his associates this week staked the No. 1 Williams in (Continued on last page, col. 3)

Carper Pulls Out Senator Race in Favor of Smith

Emery Carper, mayor of Artesia, who last week announced as a Democratic candidate for state senator from the twentieth district, withdrew from the race Tuesday in favor of Milton R. Smith of Carlsbad, present state representative from the nineteenth district.

Prior to making his announcement last week, Carper inquired of all newspapers in Eddy and Lea Counties, which comprise the twentieth senatorial district, and was informed by all that no one else had announced for senator.

However, the Artesia mayor and oil man later learned from the Democratic organization that Smith had commitments from leaders in the party and had filed, but had not as yet announced.

Carper said he felt that in the interests of party harmony he should not run.

After conferring with Smith, he said he wished to throw his support to him and announced he was withdrawing from the race.

Lovington Beats All-Stars in Third Game of Series

The Artesia All-Stars lost to Lovington there at softball Saturday evening in the third of a series of games, two of which have gone to Lovington. The score was 7 to 5.

Artesia lost the first game of the series to Lovington there, but won the second game, played at Morris Field here. Lovington will come here for the next game, the date of which has not been set.

The game Saturday was taken in the eighth by Lovington, after Artesia led 5 to 1 up to that time. But the Lovington boys ran wild and ran up six runs.

Crusade Members Entertain Rotary Club on Tuesday

The Rotarians were entertained Tuesday noon at the weekly luncheon by members of the Methodist Youth Crusade caravan which is conducting classes at the Methodist Church here this week.

The four young people explained their work and led the Rotary members in a bit of fun and singing, making a pleasant meeting, somewhat different from any experienced before.

The members of the crusade were accompanied by their adult counselor, Mrs. Joe Mason of Pecos, Tex., and were introduced by the Rev. John S. Rice, pastor of the Methodist Church.

The Rotary members decided to send Boy Scouts of the Rotary troop to Camp We-Hin-Ah-Pay near Weed Sunday by chartered bus, the club underwriting the expense. The Scouts are to be at the camp a week.

Jesse Avent, Trail Blazer of Valley and West Is Dead

Father of Mrs. Noah Buck of Artesia Is Buried At El Paso

Again death has called another old-timer who helped blaze the way for the progress of New Mexico, Jesse Lafayette Avent of El Paso, father of Mrs. Noah Buck of Artesia, who died in General Southwestern Hospital, El Paso, July 13, where he had been critically ill several weeks.

Mr. Avent was one of the pioneer farmers of the Pecos Valley. The first alfalfa to be planted in the Roswell vicinity was by him for John W. Poe. He resided in the Roswell vicinity for a number of years when Roswell was only a village. After leaving Roswell, he moved to Capitan, N. Mex., where he was engaged in the ranching business for many years in Lincoln and Sierra Counties. In 1923 (Continued on last page, col. 5)

Tingley Tosses Hat in the Race For Governor

At a picnic given in his honor in Albuquerque at Rio Grande Park Sunday, Clyde Tingley announced his intention of filing as a candidate for nomination on the Democratic ticket for governor of New Mexico.

Complimenting his announcement, a crowd estimated conservatively at about 25,000 persons, cheered wildly as the former governor made the announcement which had been expected by interested citizens from all sections of the state.

Simultaneously with his announcement state headquarters were opened at El Fidel Hotel and after the picnic representatives from practically every county in the state assembled for a closed organization meeting.

Tingley told these representatives from over the state, in no mincing words, that the gauntlet was thrown and a scrap was under way. He said he personally intended to visit every section of the state and to speak to "his friends."

During previous weeks he had stated that Governor Miles would have opposition in the primary.

Hourly, an increasing stream of messages has reached the former governor and his state headquarters offices from newspapers, legislative members and from citizens of the state, carrying a tone of congratulation and thanks to Tingley.

Tingley doesn't make promises unless he intends to keep them, his headquarters announced, adding that his record is one of achievement and promises fulfilled.

Altercation Leads To Fatal Shooting In Cloudercroft Bar

Herbert Nichols of Alamogordo, 32, was fatally shot Monday night in the Skyline Bar at Cloudercroft and Leo Rogers of Cloudercroft, 58, is being held in jail at Alamogordo in connection with the shooting, which was said to have come as the aftermath of an argument.

Rogers has lived at Cloudercroft the last thirty years, is married and has a large family. He is known to a number of Artesia residents who frequently go to the mountaintop resort town.

Officers said Tuesday they expected to file a complaint against Rogers and set a date for a preliminary hearing.

IT'S GIT ERLONG LITTLE DOGGIE OR LICENSE HIM

And that means young dogs, not calves, and the dog catcher will get 'em, if they don't watch out.

A definite drive to see that all dogs in the city are licensed, or are put out of their existence, was started last week, in keeping with a city ordinance, which requires that licenses are bought for all dogs.

The dog catcher turned in forty-six Tuesday to Tom Ragsdale, city clerk, an accumulation since the drive began, and the clerk's office up to that time had registered about a dozen.

Besides that, many dogs were impounded and those taken with owners' permission were killed at once.

The ordinance provides a forty-eight-hour claim limit for those picked up.

And it seems a dog is a dog, age making no difference, according to the ordinance, which makes a suckling pup a dog.

Mrs. Bible, Mayhill, Dies at Alamogordo At Age 79 Years

Mrs. Letitia Hayes Bible, 79, wife of Enoch Bible, died at Alamogordo on July 13. Burial was in the Mayhill cemetery Sunday afternoon, July 14, and funeral services were conducted at the grave by the Rev. Earl R. Keating of Alamogordo.

Mrs. Bible was born in Coffee County, Ga., April 8, 1861. She united with the Baptist Church at the age of 17, and had been a faithful member for sixty-two years.

On Oct. 27, 1880 she was united in marriage with Enoch Bible, to which union three children were born, one of whom, Mrs. Bessie Barkley of Mayhill, is now living.

Mr. and Mrs. Bible and family moved to the Mayhill community in 1902, where they have since made their home.

Surviving grandchildren are Mrs. Luell Bass, Alamogordo, and Cecil and Lavada Barkley of Mayhill.

Three great-grandchildren also survive. She is also survived by three sisters and one brother.—Alamogordo News.

Is Sentenced to Pen for Forgery Of Checks Here

Robert T. Whittenberg, who was arrested in Artesia June 19 by J. C. Floore, chief of police, with three other men for alleged forgeries here, was sentenced Wednesday last week in District Court in Carlsbad by Judge J. B. McGhee to the state penitentiary for 2½ to 3½ years on each of two forgery charges on his pleas of guilty to both counts.

The court ordered the sentences to run concurrently, but first Whittenberg must serve the remainder of a former sentence for forgery before he begins his new terms.

Whittenberg was at liberty on parole when he forged the name of H. V. Parker on checks for $10 and $7.50 in Artesia, shortly before being arrested by Floore the afternoon of June 19. At the time suspicions of Whittenberg were reported to the officer, he was looking for four men on a tip from Alamogordo officers. Whittenberg and his companions seemed to answer the description.

Also sentenced at the same session of court to the state prison on a forgery charge was M. S. Brown. He was sentenced to 1½ to 3½ years on his plea of guilty.

Both men were taken to the penitentiary Friday to begin serving their sentences.

Boy Scouts Looking Forward to Fun at Camp We-Hin-Ah-Pay

A number of Boy Scouts from the Artesia troops are planning to attend Camp We-Hin-Ah-Pay near Weed in the Sacramento Mountains at least one of the two camp periods this year, July 28 to Aug. 4 and Aug. 4 to 11.

P. V. Thorson of Roswell, area executive, in a press release, points out that the camp is one of the safest places a boy could be, that there are no poisonous snakes or insects there, that there is no traffic, there are no cliffs off which to fall and the camp limits make it possible to keep track of the boys all the time.

Transportation has been checked for safety, Thorson said, and the Scouts will ride on busses from Artesia and Roswell for $1 the round trip.

Mrs. E. B. Altman and Miss Mary and Bob Dutton of El Paso, grandmother and cousins of Mrs. J. B. Wallace, came Tuesday to visit Mr. and Mrs. Wallace this week.

Third Hole-in-One By Claytons Made On No. 7 at Club

Makes Good Tale for Ripley
—Mrs. Nora B. Clinches It Friday

Here's one for Ripley, to prove that Carlsbad Caverns are not the only wonder in Eddy County: Three persons in one family, a mother and her son and daughter-in-law, all made a hole-in-one on the Artesia Golf Club course!

Mrs. Nora B. Clayton clinched the thing Friday afternoon, when she sunk a single in the 144-yard seventh, which in itself was something.

But when investigation was started, it was discovered that her son, J. A. Clayton, Jr., holed his tee shot on the seventh a number of months ago. That, it was thought, a mother and son accomplishing the same thing, made it a sure shot for Ripley.

Artesia Man Hit Tuesday Night on Hope Highway Near Truck, After Stopping to Fix Flat, as He Crosses to Other Side.

IS UNAVOIDABLE

Coroner's Jury Absolves Driver of Blame at Inquest Wednesday.

William J. (Bill) Marsh of Artesia, 19, died at 12:30 o'clock Wednesday morning in Artesia Memorial Hospital, three and a half hours after being struck and fatally injured twelve miles west of Artesia on the Hope highway by an automobile driven by Max Johnson of Hope.

A coroner's jury Wednesday morning, with W. H. Ballard, justice of the peace, sitting as coroner, placed no blame on the driver and termed the accident unavoidable.

As nearly as can be reconstructed by officers, the accident happened after Marsh stopped about 9 o'clock Tuesday night to fix a flat tire on the left rear wheel of a truck he was returning to Artesia with a load of canteloupes purchased at Weed. The truck was nearly off the blacktop, with the flat tire on the highway. (Continued on last page, col. 2)

Youths in Jam Over Theft of Car on Sunday

Two Artesia youths were bound over to action of the District Court Tuesday morning in justice court of Judge W. H. Ballard on their pleas of guilty to "taking away the auto of E. H. Hope without the owner's permission."

Alvin Wheeler and Calvin Blevins, both about 19 years old, were arraigned before Judge Ballard for the theft Sunday evening of the Hope automobile.

The car, stolen from Main Street here, was recovered near the home in East Artesia of Hope the next morning, after it had been driven a number of miles. And it showed up with two bullet holes in it!

After report of the theft of the car, officers searched the city for it, but could not find it.

Later in the evening, a car answering the description of the Hope car was driven into a filling station north of the Felix, between Hagerman and Dexter. Two youths in it called for gasoline and then told the service station man to "charge it." When he refused, they drove off and he quickly got his gun and opened fire at the fleeing car.

One of the bullets which struck the Hope car went through a fender. The other penetrated the back in a line with the driver's seat, but as it was a soft-nose bullet, it flattened out in the upholstery.

Judge Bullock set appearance bond at $250 each for the young men. Blevins gave bond and was released, but Wheeler was committed to jail.

FLEMING MOTHER AND BABE DOING NICELY

A daughter was born at 9:50 o'clock Monday night at Artesia Memorial Hospital to Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Fleming. She weighed six pounds at birth.

Both mother and baby are doing well now.

Here's the Way Artesia High School Band Should Look

This is the Odessa (Tex.) High School band, one of the best uniformed and best bands in West Texas, all decked out as it appeared at the Permian Basin Association convention at Odessa last month.

And the Artesia High School band will take on an appearance similar to that of Odessa as soon as new uniforms are procured. A drive, which began several weeks ago, has not been pushed because all of the committee members have not been in town. But all are here now and that committee will meet Friday morning for a whirlwind clean-up, to be complete in short order.

Already a number of firms have pledged themselves to furnish one uniform, or the price of a uniform, and others are expected to follow suit.

It is hoped to have the local band uniforms bought and paid for and delivered by the opening of school in September.

ONE BET WE'VE OVERLOOKED

As Artesia progresses and grows, adding more stores and types of businesses from time to time, the community is overlooking one of the latest conveniences of mankind, which in many parts of the country is quite popular and has been found economical and handy for the people. And that is a locker storage plant.

A typical 300-locker plant costs about $10,500 and rents at between $10 and $15 a year per locker, including cost of operation.

Average locker users can store 400 to 500 pounds of food at an estimated savings on the family food budget of $100 a year.

You may make economical purchases of large amounts of perishable foods and serve them in and out of season.

In advancing the probable desirability of such a plant for Artesia, we have no desire to foster anything which would take business away from any established business. But we do not think that would result.

There are numerous farmers and ranchers in this locality who would welcome such an arrangement, so they could keep their own meat better and for a longer length of time.

And, of course, there would be some city residents who would subscribe. We, for one, especially if we get our next November.

Good heavens, how time flies; it'll only be a little more than three months now until we'll be needing a storage locker.

A ROSE BY ANY OTHER NAME . . .

There's only one thing we can see Willkie has which Roosevelt does not. It is the ease with which his name is pronounced. So far we have heard it only one way. But it was a disgrace the way good Democrats mouthed and mispronounced the name of our president at the Chicago convention.

We sat up far into the night and heard the nominating and seconding speeches. And hardly two delegates pronounced FDR's name the same, many speakers of whom were big shots in their respective states, in the party and in the nation.

As we said some months ago, in taking Old Tack of The Amarillo News to task, it is Franklin DEL-n-o ROSE-svelt.

Teddy was ROSE-sa-velt, even though they are of the same family. He preferred it that way.

But the Democratic statesmen who pronounced FDR's second name De-LEE-no, and De-LAY-no and Del-a-NO and what not, and those who rhymed his last name with "booze," calling him ROOSE-sa-felt, or made in RO-sen-felt and RO-sie-felt should be taught better.

Roosevelt is our president, had to be for seven and a half years and will be for another four and a half years.

And it's a crying shame that the people of the United States, especially the Democratic party leaders, do not know what his name is!

Although a ROSE-svelt by any other name is just as great a president, the people should extend to him the courtesy of learning his right name and so calling him, just as they should know the words of "The Star Spangled Banner" and "America." And today they should learn the words of "God Bless America" as well.

LEARN "GOD BLESS AMERICA"

Speaking of the words of "God Bless America" there has been a decided movement in Artesia, as over the nation, to bring that splendid composition and poem to the fore as a recognized patriotic song.

Some of the Artesia organizations are using it more and more at their meetings, but the words are not generally known. So here they are. It might be well to clip them and save them.

God Bless America,
Land that I love,
Stand beside her and guide her
Through the night with a light from above,
From the mountains to the prairies,
To the oceans white with foam,
God Bless America,
My home sweet home.

IT NEEDS ANALYZING, MR. CHERIN

If we knew which editorial William B. Cherin of San Francisco refers to, we might republish it. But we have had a number of them recently on the "fifth column," most of which have brought forth favorable comment, so we do not know which one he means.

Writes Mr. Cherin: "I was very much interested by your recent thorough-going analysis of the 'fifth column.' While I very seldom write fan letters, I certainly felt you deserved one on this occasion. Bravo!"

THIS MAKES US QUITE HAPPY

We thought our official handle was somewhat misleading until our eyes happened to fall on the word while looking up something else in Webster's Guide to the Dumb the other day.

A definition of editor, we found, was: "One who prepares the work of another for publication; one who revises, corrects, arranges or annotates a text . . ."

All the time we thought it was simply one who compiles for publication.

A few weeks ago we were startled by the talk of billions of dollars. But the other day, when the amount for national defense was boosted only four billion dollars, it rated but a single column head in our favorite daily.

We haven't noticed any great activity in the trimming of trees along the sidewalks since our last periodical comment. We wish more people would have to walk to work once in a while.

Snatch of conversation heard on the street. "It was the Presbyterians, Methodists and Baptists who elected Roosevelt before, and I'll tell you why." But that's all we heard, so we can't pass on the rest of the information.

Little Known Facts and Sidelights on Oil Industry

Business Instead of Bombs—

Flivver airplane traffic over 5,000 miles of fuel-serviced airways brought business instead of bombs to Florida. Aviation experts from the recent experimental skyway tourist trip, planned and serviced by an oil company, "the greatest movement of airplanes, civil or military, in the history of the United States." Engineers call it a "pre-view of air travel to come."

Neither snow nor zero temperatures nor headwinds stopped these hardy pioneers. Flying along in planes so light they have to be anchored to the ground when parked, with fewer dials on the dash than a modern automobile and more often than not only a road map in the pocket, 600 air tourists flew to St. Petersburg Airport with families and friends from all parts of the country without a single fatal accident.

Danger evidently is the last thing an air tourist thinks about. Every one of these sturdy pilots is convinced that his little "Putt-Putt" is the cream of the crop. Each has a hunch that cross-country navigation might be a bit difficult for some people, but not for him! And they flew thousands of miles in little 40 to 75 horsepower jobs because they love to fly.

Light plane designers are adding to the fun of flying with fine planes equipped with safety devices similar to those in larger ships. One putt-putt's motor failed just after the ship had reached 75 feet altitude on the take-off. With the skill of a veteran, the pilot made a right turn and landed safely in an adjoining field. In any orthodox, old-time machine, that episode would have ended in a nasty crack-up.

Light planes are high-winged monoplanes with four-cylinder air-cooled engines, average 70 to 100 miles an hour. On the trip to Florida refueling stops were spaced at intervals from 40 to 120 miles, comfortably within their cruising range.

Framework is carbon and chrome molybdenum steel. The wings are shaped and straightened with aluminum-nickel alloy "ribs" and the structure is covered with a mercerized cotton fabric which is "doped" with cellulose acetate. More than one-half the nation's planes are in the "flivver" class.

Hidden Power—

Movie fans are seeing the saga of the Clermont, the steamboat which Robert Fulton guided up the Hudson River in August, 1807, enacted on the silver screen. It looks like the real ship which astounded the world, but of course it's only Hollywood.

Folks who peeked when the Clermont was on the production lot discovered she was powered by no pioneer marine steam engine. Instead, squatting shamelessly in the dark recesses which the camera's eye never penetrates, was a diesel tractor.

Added insult to an antiquarian's sense of the aesthetic is the steam. It looks like steam, but actually it is compressed air and oil vapor, puffed from a giant atomizer.

The smoke? It comes from a smudge pot concealed in the stack.

Great Grandfathers— William Thompkins' home-made invention is known among oil men as the great-grandfather of oil and gas separators. In the Kanawha Valley, West Virginia, in 1841, he used a hoghead to separate the gas piped to his furnaces from the salt water which was evaporated in them. The salt water was lifted by the gas and poured into a reservoir under the hoghead while the gas was piped out overhead.

Daniel Foster, digging a water well near Findlay, Ohio in 1838, struck gas and turned it to practical use by inverting a sugar kettle over the gas stream and conducting it into his home by a wooden pipe. He made what is believed to be the first gas burner west of the Alleghenies by drilling holes in a gun barrel, utilizing the flame for heat and light cooking.

From the pipe running to a boiler from a gas well owned by Milton Stewart on upper Benninghoff Run, Oil Creek, Pa., Edwin C. Bell collected natural gasoline in 1873. The "casinghead gasoline" was collected on the high pressure side of the regulator, thereby proving that natural gasoline could be produced from natural gas by compression.

The Baker brothers, M. C. and C. E., water-well drilling contractors of South Carolina, discovered in 1882 that a flow of water by gravity through a drill stem would wash cuttings between the drill stem and the walls of the hole to the surface. A small diameter drill pipe rotated by a team of horses, walking in a circle around the hole was another Baker brothers' experiment which led to the first rotary-drilled oil well in the Spindletop field in 1901.

No Two Alike—

Oil is oil in the sense that "pigs are pigs," but there is more variation in oils than in pigs. In fact crude oils from different fields vary almost as much as the same number of human beings.

An oil may be high in gasoline or low. It may have a large kerosene cut or none. It may be rich or wanting in lubricants. It may have an asphalt base or a paraffin base or a mixture of both.

Most oils look black at first glance, but only the heavier asphaltic oils are really black. The paraffin base oils, and some of the lighter mixed base oils, are greenish if viewed directly and dark reddish if one looks through them. A few oils are even straw-colored. As a rule the asphaltic oils are heavier and more viscous, the paraffin oils lighter and more fluid.

Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Stromberg left Saturday for Ardmore, Okla., where they will visit home folks for about ten days.

Mr. and Mrs. William Foster of the oil field section, expected to leave this week for a visit with relatives in Oklahoma and Illinois and to attend a family reunion in Huntington, Ind.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Paton returned last week from a visit with relatives in Illinois and Ohio. Mrs. Paton spent a month in Peoria, Ill., with her mother and brother. She was then joined by Mr. Paton and they visited relatives in Ohio. Miss Hazel English, a cousin of Mr. Paton, who has visited here several occasions, accompanied them home for an indefinite visit with the Paton families.

Mrs. Jim Runyan of St. Joseph, Mo., sister-in-law of D. W. and Tom Runyan, who had been visiting the Runyan families here the last month, left Saturday for her home. Mrs. Runyan made the trip with Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Runyan of Elk who were to join a party of several couples from Oklahoma for a vacation at a Wisconsin summer resort. They will be accompanied home by their daughter, Miss Jacqueline Runyan, who has been spending the summer vacation with her grandmother in Slayton, Mo.

Loans for Defense

In financing the government's large defense program, the banks of the country are again proving their traditional loyalty and readiness to meet the needs of business and government.

Here in Artesia we naturally do not have occasion to participate directly in this program as do banks in the large industrial centers of our country. However, we do have the opportunity to be helpful to our local interests, farming, ranching, oil production and commercial.

We are glad to be of service to our friends and customers. We feel that in meeting the legitimate requirements of our own community we are doing our bit to help Uncle Sam in his huge program for the defense and protection of us all.

Lawrence Coll Weds Roswell Girl In Church Wedding Saturday

In an impressive candle-light ceremony before an altar banked with summer flowers of pastel shades, Miss Lulu Burnworth of Roswell, became the bride of Lawrence Coll of Artesia at 9:30 o'clock Saturday morning at the First Methodist Church in Roswell. The Dr. Thomas W. Brabham, pastor, read the single ring ceremony in the presence of relatives of the bride couple and a few close friends.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, approached the altar as Mrs. Brabham played the "Bridal Chorus" from "Lohengrin." Nuptial music was softly played during the ceremony and Miss Evelyn Hitchcock sang "I Love You Truly." The recessional was Mendelssohn's "Wedding March."

The bride was lovely in a soft dusty rose crepe dress with natural lace trim. She wore a white straw, picture-model hat with other accessories also in white. She carried an arm bouquet of bride's roses and gladioli.

Miss Inez Ward of Roswell, maid of honor, was dressed in a blue crepe dress with white accessories. Her corsage was of pink rosebuds. The bridegroom was attended by Dean Martin of Artesia as best man. Both were dressed in dark suits with white carnation boutonnieres.

Miss Burnworth lived in Roswell with her parents the last fifteen years and graduated from the Roswell High School last spring. Mr. Coll, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Coll of Artesia, was a member of the 1938 graduating class from Artesia High School, and is now an employee of the Pecos Valley Machine Shop.

Mr. and Mrs. Coll left immediately after the ceremony on a short wedding trip without revealing their destination. On their return they will make their home in Artesia.

Youths' Crusade At M. E. Church Is Well Attended

The Youths' Crusade which is being conducted at the Methodist Church here this week has created a great deal of interest and is being well attended by the young people of the Methodist Church as well as by a number of the young people from other churches.

Miss Peggy Brainard of Artesia, dean of the crusade, announced that the enrollment has reached about fifty, not including visitors at each session. Members of the Caravan who were announced last week arrived with the exception of James Parker of West Blocton, Ala. Mr. Parker, a reserve officer of the United States Army, was called to report for service immediately while in Carlsbad last week, just after he had addressed a radio audience over KLAH on the subject, "An Unknown Soldier Speaks."

Members of the church board of education entertained the caravan group, including H. M. Love of Cleburn, Tex.; N. B. McRee of Central City, Ky.; Miss Genevieve Reynolds of McAllen, Tex.; Miss Velma Carter of Kilgore, Tex.; and Mrs. Joe Mason of Pecos, Tex., and the young people active in the program of the week with a fried chicken luncheon at the church Monday. Covers were laid for 26. Miss Reynolds, a member of the Caravan group, was complimented with a birthday surprise when she was presented miscellaneous gifts and a birthday cake decorated with the correct number of lighted candles.

The Youths' Crusade program, which is new in the Methodist Church, is being enthusiastically received wherever conducted. It is expected to become one of the major projects of the church.

The program will close here Friday evening and the caravan will go to Hagerman where a crusade program will be conducted next week.

Gowns of 1870 Period Attract Much Attention

Wedding gowns of 1870 which were placed on display in the Toggery Shop window last week have attracted much attention. The gowns, a white brocaded satin wedding dress and the second day dress of orchid crepe de Chine, trimmed in gorgeous hand made lace, are 70 years old. They are well preserved as well as the white satin slippers, size 3, and the heavyweight white silk hose.

The dresses which were a part of the trousseau of the daughter of a ship captain who today is Mrs. Laura E. Wade of San Francisco, were given to Mrs. Mabelle Hagor, an intimate friend, before her departure to Artesia recently to make her home with her cousin, Mrs. Tex Palk.

Materials for the trousseau of Mrs. Wade were gathered from many ports, of the world.

YATES ENTERTAIN WITH SCAVENGER HUNT FRIDAY

Mr. and Mrs. St. Clair Yates entertained with a "scavenger hunt" at their home Friday evening.

The guests were divided into groups and each given a poem from which they picked the items they were to hunt. Light refreshments were served the guests when they returned from the hunt.

Nickel-a-Bale War Chest for Cotton Plan on the Way

Local Firms and Farmers Are Called on by National Council

Cotton firms and cotton farmers of Artesia and surrounding area have been called on by Oscar Johnston, president of the National Cotton Council, for "100 per cent allegiance in cotton's total war for increased consumption."

In a message addressed to local producers throughout the county, Johnston declared that "the raw cotton industry is arming as never before in its history to smash down the blitzkrieg of substitutes, surplus and foreign competition."

The message came simultaneously with the National Cotton Council's announcement of a "universal service" plan to provide funds with which to carry on the fight during the coming year. The new plan, to go into effect Aug. 1, calls for a defense fund of 5 cents on every bale of lint and 3 cents on every ton of seed, mobilized with the help of each of the five primary raw cotton interests.

Under the new plan, arrangements have been perfected enabling the producer to make his nickel-a-bale contribution at the first point of sale, either to the cotton merchant, large or small, or the gin or warehouseman acting as merchant. This contribution is carried on from merchant to compressor, who remits the accumulated funds to the council when the bale is first compressed, or from merchant to textile mill which remits on uncompressed cotton.

Similarly, contributions on seed, which are made by the gin and crusher, are assembled and remitted to the war chest by the oil mills.

Johnston said, "For fifty years we cotton farmers have been talking about an organization like the National Cotton Council to defend our markets and find new ones through judicious advertising, intelligent research and organized opposition to restrictive legislation."

At last we have it, and in two years, equipped with modern weapons, it has accomplished more than any of us though was possible in so short a period.

"Domestic consumption has been brought back virtually to the all-time high, with every indication that a new record can be set in 1941. Plans are ready for a vigorous attack on the acute problem of foreign trade. Council scientists are on the trail of new uses. A united cotton industry has gone to war."

Roswell Office Of SCS to Close In Near Future

The office in Roswell of the Middle Pecos area of the Soil Conservation Service of region 8 is to be closed in the near future, according to a statement made by Loring F. Jones, acting area conservationist. The closing of the office was made necessary as a result of the president's reorganization order No. 4, which calls for transfer of personnel, equipment and funds from the Soil Conservation Service of the Department of Agriculture to the Department of the Interior, "in proportion to the amount of personnel, equipment and funds which have been used in carrying forward the soil and moisture conservation program on Department of Interior lands."

Region 8 of the Soil Conservation Service, with headquarters at Albuquerque, was the hardest hit of any of the regions within the United States by this presidential order, as approximately 75 per cent of the Department of Interior lands in the United States lie within this region.

A total of more than 300 employees within region 8 are being transferred to the Department of the Interior. The number of Area offices within this region will be reduced from fourteen to nine. Besides the office at Roswell, offices to be abolished are: Navajo at Window Rock, Tucson, Silver City and Farmington. A redistribution of the territory within region 8 has been worked out so that the territory which was administered by the area offices now being abolished will be divided among the remaining area offices.

The territory administered by the Middle Pecos area office in Roswell will be divided between and administered by the Mesilla office at Las Cruces and the Upper Rio Grande office at Santa Fe. The Mesilla office will administer Eddy, Chaves, and Lincoln Counties, while the Upper Rio Grande office will administer DeBaca and Guadalupe Counties.

The procurement for two CCC camps, the land utilization project at Hope and the area office, amounting to approximately $3,000 a month, has been handled through the Roswell office and purchases were made there.

Artesia Golfers Play in Open at Roswell Sunday

Three Artesia golfers played in the championship flight of the New Mexico open golf tournament at Roswell Sunday, one of whom was defeated by Bennie Adams, Odessa, Tex., professional, who defeated Spec Stewart of Roswell 4 and 3 to win the meet.

Henry Bailey, Artesia Golf Club pro, lost in the second round of the championship flight to Adams, after winning from Billie Walker of Hobbs in the first round.

Stewart, the runner-up in the tourney, defeated R. M. (Tex) Henson of Artesia in the first round, and Lester Bailey of Artesia took the first bracket in the championship flight from Nickson of Roswell, after which he dropped out to Stewart in the second round.

While some of the Artesia golfers were in Roswell playing in or watching the open tournament, others were on the local course playing a "woof" tournament, in which customary rules of silence are suspended and it is fair play to "raze" players as they address the ball.

B. E. Spencer came through with a 38 to win and Lynn Cobble seemed to have been most effected by the "woofs," as he ran up 55 as high score man.

The four players having the highest scores and the three low score players received two golf balls each as prizes.

Qualifying rounds started Sunday also at the club links for the city tournament, play of which will begin Aug. 4. The qualifying rounds will continue until the first of the month. Club officials asked that all expecting to play in the tournament get their qualifying rounds out of the way, so they can be placed in their proper brackets.

A number of valuable prizes are being offered for the tournament this year, both by the club and Artesia merchants. It is planned also to have a Calcutta pool for the championship flight.

Navy Expansion To Make More Wages in State

New Mexico will benefit in increased employment, wages and sales resulting from the new Navy expansion program involving construction of ninety-two combat vessels at a cost of $1,140,000,000.

S. A. Spear, staff representative for the Office of Government Reports, said New Mexico manufacturers or producers copper ore, zinc, petroleum, wool, mica and paints and, to a lesser extent, many other products used in modern naval construction.

"On the basis of Bureau of Labor Statistics estimates, the construction of nine-two vessels will result in $445,000,000 in wages to labor employed in the shipyards," Spear said, "but even more will be spent in wages in the mines and factories where the raw materials are produced, and in transportation."

According to the Bureau of Labor Statistics' estimate that 41 per cent of total costs in private shipyards is spent for materials, more than 467,000,000 will be expended for materials and manufactured products for naval expansion.

"There are more than 200 major industries producing materials used in ship construction," Spear said. "More than 540,000,000 man-hours of work in shipyards and more than 647,000,000 man-hours of work at mines, factories, and in transporting materials will be created by the new program, providing sufficient work to keep the equivalent of 242,000 workers employed two full years."

"Although there are more than forty types of skilled mechanics needed to build a ship," Spear said, "the actual building of the ship requires less labor than does the production of the materials used."

Fred Wilson, Possible Congress Candidate, Coming Next Week

Fred E. Wilson of Albuquerque, formerly of Hope and Carlsbad, who is being mentioned prominently in news accounts for representative in Congress from New Mexico, is expected in Artesia next week on business and to visit his former law associate, James Warden. He expects also to be in Carlsbad.

Wilson, who was prominent in Eddy County politics while a resident, enlisted for service during the World War from Artesia. After the war he settled in Carlsbad, where he served as probate judge and assistant district attorney. He married Mona Heard of Carlsbad.

The former Eddy County man has served as attorney general of New Mexico, in the state legislature and as judge of the second judicial district in Albuquerque, where he is a member of the law firm of Hannah, Wilson & Brophy. It was that firm with which Warden was connected about five years prior to moving to Artesia last year.

Missionary Car of Rev. Gonzales Needs Further Financing

The Rev. Constantino Gonzales, pastor of the Spanish Mexican Church, said he wishes to call on all who are interested in missionary work to help him with the payments on his missionary car. He has to pay $64 every month and is nearly two months behind.

If the public does not come to his assistance he will lose his means of traveling and that means that the missionary work here will have to stop, he said. It is hoped that many will help him in order that the work may go on and he will not have to lose what has been put in it.

He could be relieved of that load if someone interested in missionary work could hear the call and take this obligation on the part of the Spanish preacher and let him devote all his time to spiritual work among his people. He plans again to see some of the same supporters who have helped him already and give them a chance to do something more.

The work is going on very well, he said, and it is planned to put the last inside coat of plaster on the church.

It has been expressed that "if we all get united, we will be able to do much in helping the Rev. Mr. Gonzales with the missionary work and though we cannot speak Spanish, he will be doing it for us and he will be doing our preaching if we have heart enough to support him."

Guy Event Comes At Peak of Car Vacation Travel

An annual mid-summer automobile tire sale, a long-looked-for event, according to Clyde Guy of Guy Chevrolet Company, local Goodyear dealer, coming at a time when highway travel is at its peak and tire trouble can be dangerous as well as very inconvenient, is a welcome ten-day opportunity for the pocketbook of the average car owner.

"Our sales have been so successful that we are glad to be able to put on this mid-summer event again and we are running the usual advertisement in The Advocate," said Guy. "And, whether a car owner has the cash or not, doesn't make any particular difference, because there is a budget or time payment plan available, enabling him to take advantage of the sale and pay for the tires at his convenience."

"These sales are the evidence of a new trend in merchandising," said Guy, "making tire buying easier on the pocketbook at a time when there is the greatest need and demand for replacement. Our sales in the past have proved this, have helped many persons get tires when they needed them."

With highways crowded by vacation travelers from now until the opening of school this Fall, there is good reason to look to tires' safety in advance that accidents may be avoided. Peak of the accident toll is very likely to be in the days of heaviest motoring, Guy explained.

"Safety, like charity, should begin at home, on the family car. By that I mean the car owner should contribute his part to highway safety by being sure his own tires are tip top before he starts out."

John Lanning, who underwent a serious major operation at Artesia Memorial Hospital July 4, was taken to his home this morning, convalescing nicely and rapidly.

Body Shop and Gasoline Alley Open on First

Announcement is made in this issue of a new one-stop automotive service establishment at First and Richardson, embracing two firms under one roof.

They are the Artesia Body Shop and Walt's Gasoline Alley, separate, but functioning together as different departments.

The businesses are housed in Artesia's newest automobile service building and one of the best. It just has been completed by Gore & Gore of Carlsbad, owners, who have leased the departments. The building is of glaring white stucco finish on the east side of the highway, facing west.

At the south end of the building is the entrance to the Artesia Body Shop, managed by Elbert Ditto, and specializing in wheel alignment and body work. Wrecker service also will be stressed. Modern machinery and devices mark the efficiency of the shop.

Ditto has had ten years of experience in that line of work and worked the last five years for the Artesia Body & Fender Works. The service station business, at the north end of the building, is managed by Walt Thompson, who has been employed by Pior Rubber Company here for the last five years.

He is authorized as a Skelly dealer and handles also Dayton tires. The wash and grease rack is of the latest design. Taken as a unit, the two firms in their new, modern building have added another advancement to the business activities of Artesia.

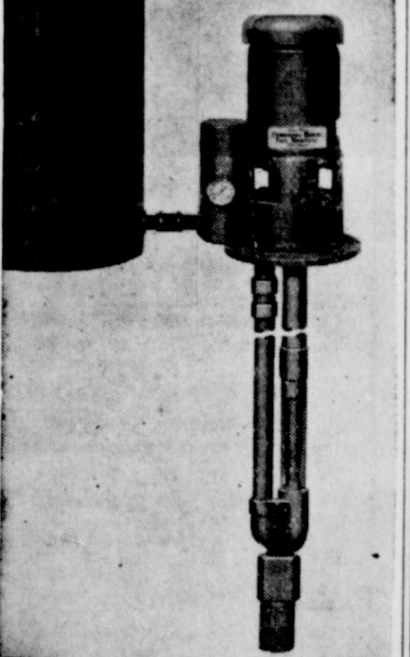

Glenn Lutterell, 13-year-old son of Mrs. Rose Hunt, returned to his home today from Artesia Memorial Hospital, where he underwent an appendectomy.

Joe Richards, who is convalescing at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Jack Johns, in Carlsbad is expected to return here for a few days at home next week.

Mrs. Paul Otts and children, Marilyn and Reece, were here from Lovington the first of the week. Mr. Otts expects to enter the Veterans Hospital at Albuquerque next week for a major operation.

Patsy Lou Holman, 5-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Holman, who entered Artesia Memorial Hospital Wednesday of last week as a medical patient, was reported this morning as greatly improved.

Young Men Can Be Appointed Middies After Naval Cruise

The Navy Department has announced an unusual opportunity for young college students and graduates to become officers in the U. S. Naval Reserve. Five thousand are to be given one month's training at sea in naval vessels with all expenses paid.

After completing thirty days of cruising, successful candidates will be appointed midshipmen, U. S. Naval Reserve. Upon successful completion of a ninety-day course of instruction midshipment will be commissioned ensign, U. S. Naval Reserve.

Applications for the first cruise have been closed. Applications for the second cruise are now being taken at the Navy Recruiting Station, El Paso, Tex., for men in this district.

The second cruise, which will consist of a division of three battalions, starts Aug. 19 and will end on Sept. 14. This should allow students ample time to re-enroll in college and resume their courses in the fall.

Further information may be obtained by visiting or writing to the Navy Recruiting Station, El Paso.

W. H. Hayes, who was burned severely June 1 on the Monroe Howard farm and had been a patient at Artesia Memorial Hospital since, returned home Monday.

Mrs. M. F. Willis underwent an appendix operation Sunday morning at Artesia Memorial Hospital. She was reported this morning as doing nicely.

Valuable Prizes Offered in Meat Animal Contest

For the eleventh year, 4-H Club members enrolled in meat animal projects may share in the benefits of the national 4-H meat animal contest conducted by county agents under the direction of the State Extension Service, which has accepted the activity as part of its state-wide program, according to G. R. Hatch, state club specialist.

The contest encourages young people to learn to grow, feed and fatten meat animals in their projects, through which thousands have been led to start a profitable herd or flock. Gross returns of such enterprises often run into thousands of dollars, and start young men soundly in farming. Last year the three boys making up the national blue award group reported total returns of their efforts were $17,000.

Club members making the best county record will be awarded specially embossed gold fobs and state winners will receive 17-jewel gold watches, appropriately engraved. From the latter group, one will be named from each of the four extension sections to receive a trip to the nineteenth National 4-H Club Congress and International Livestock Exposition in Chicago Nov. 29 to Dec. 7 with all expenses paid. Three of the four will receive blue award plaques in the nation, and college scholarships of $200 each, provided by Thomas E. Wilson of Chicago.

Jack Thompson of The Hobbs News-Sun was in Artesia Tuesday.

Chavez Predicts Coronado Stamp to Be Issued Sept. 7

Senator Dennis Chavez predicted Saturday after a conference with Post Office Department officials that a commemorative Coronado stamp would first be issued at Albuquerque Sept. 7.

The senator talked with Ramsey S. Black, third assistant postmaster general, and Robert E. Fellers, superintendent of the stamp division.

Fellers said arrangements were only tentative, but Chavez said the issue was virtually assured. The stamp design selected was understood to be one by the late Gerald Cassidy of Santa Fe, depicting Coronado on a white horse.

The issue probably will be in the 3 cent denomination, it was said. The design was reported to have been approved by President Roosevelt, himself a philatelist.

It will be submitted, however, to the United States Coronado Exposition Commission at Albuquerque for final approval as to design and date.

An Irishman in a Boston court was endeavoring to disprove that he had a brogue. The judge listening to his statements, interrupted, saying: "Pat, if you wish to deny your brogue, may I suggest that you put it in writing?"

Mistress: "How did it happen, Mary that you never saw finger bowls before? Didn't they use them in the last place you worked?"

Mary: "No mum, they mostly washed themselves before they come to the table."

Here Is Clyde Tingley's Record

—It Speaks For Itself

HE GETS THE JOB DONE

Once again the people of the State of New Mexico have demanded that Clyde Tingley become a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor and again he answers their call by announcing his candidacy . . . basing his campaign upon his eagerness and ABILITY to build a GREATER NEW MEXICO . . . continuing the fine work he did for the State during two terms in office as Governor from 1935 to 1938 inclusive. The wheel printed above records the brilliant achievements of this dynamic former Chief Executive and vividly portrays his ability TO GET THE JOB DONE . . . and to give the State efficient and economical government while he is doing it.

Clyde Tingley championed AND BUILT good roads all over the State. He demanded AND GOT better school facilities for every section. He visualized a hospital for crippled kiddies and he worked until it BECAME A REALITY. He fathered the State's present tourist advertising campaign on a large scale . . . AND HE PROMISES

NEW DEVELOPMENTS IN THIS LINE. He cooperated with New Mexico's Senators and Congressman in obtaining Federal funds which ran into MILLIONS OF DOLLARS for permanent benefits within the State. He drafted able citizens as members of boards and commissions to serve the public . . . and he did not hinder their performance by political interference. He worked WITH and FOR the laboring man, the stockman, the farmer, the business man . . . big and little . . . teachers, and every other group IN EVERY SECTION OF THE STATE.

Clyde Tingley promises, if he is returned to office, to resume working for the progress of New Mexico and the welfare of its citizens, to protect the interests of EVERY PART OF NEW MEXICO, to raise the efficiency of State government to the high plane established by him during his first two terms in office . . . and to LOWER TAXES WHILE HE IS DOING IT! Never lose sight of this fact about Clyde Tingley . . . HE GETS THE JOB DONE!

Candidate for the Democratic Nomination for

GOVERNOR OF NEW MEXICO

HIS PLATFORM

CLYDE TINGLEY PLEDGES HIMSELF, IF ELECTED TO OFFICE AS GOVERNOR, TO EFFECT THE FOLLOWING REFORMS:

A General Economy Program, including the saving of $2,000.00 a day by elimination of political "dead-heads," and the reorganization of governmental departments to raise the efficiency of these departments and eliminate all unnecessary waste.

The immediate elimination of the forced 2% salary "contribution" now being collected from all State employees, and the "kick-back" required from all of those doing business with the State.

Strengthening of the State Primary Law which was made possible during the administration of Clyde Tingley. An advisory group would be appointed to suggest revisions in the light of present conditions to prevent its misuse in the future as is now being practiced.

Careful consideration to be given to the National Defense and full co-operation to be given the Federal Government in the present National Crisis.

To lend all possible assistance to the Federal Government to provide a network of airports throughout the State to aid in the National Defense.

Strict adherence to the Hatch Acts.

The completion of Federal-aid and State Secondary Roads in the State, extending them to ALL COMMUNITIES as quickly as possible.

The unqualified removal of all State Educational Institutions from political domination of any type, and the establishment of a salary scale comparable with those in effect in adjoining states.

Oil Conservation control to be continued and exploration encouraged until possibilities in 21 potential producing counties have been completely determined.

The elimination on January 1, 1941, of the 25c notary fee on automobile licenses.

Reduction of administrative expense in the Department of Public Welfare so as to increase amount available for payments of public funds to crippled children, needy blind and aged dependents with the intention of increasing old age benefits to a minimum of $20.00 per month.

CLYDE TINGLEY PLEDGES HIMSELF, IF ELECTED TO OFFICE AS GOVERNOR, TO URGE THE STATE LEGISLATURE TO PASS LEGISLATION TO ELIMINATE OR

CORRECT THE FOLLOWING STATE LAWS:

The immediate repeal of the Use Tax.

Revision of the State Labor and Industrial Commission to assure better understanding and agreement between labor and employer.

A "Little Hatch Act" and Merit System to apply to All Departments of State Government. This would be done to strengthen and broaden the scope of the State's first Merit System which was set up by Clyde Tingley.

All State Departments to operate on a budget basis eliminating the huge waste of funds resulting from the percentage basis now in effect in the Bureau of Revenue.

THE STATE HIGHWAY DEPARTMENT to be included in the State Departments having to ask for bids on purchases of $200.00 or more, and having to advertise for bids on all purchases of $500.00 or more.

Preserve against any other State's claims our water rights in stream systems of the State of New Mexico. Use every State facility to promote conservation of water, prevention of flood damage and expansion of storage. ELIMINATE SALARY OF $1,000.00 monthly to attorney for Interstate Stream Commission and employ able counsel on fee basis. The creation of a State Business Manager to keep expenses below income and to ELIMINATE WASTE from State Government by placing all State Departments on a strict business basis.

Norfolk, Va., police nabbed a couple of men they said were furnishing a new residence in a novel and somewhat illegal manner. They were hauling furniture in the dead of night by taxicab from retail storage warehouse. On the second trip the cops moved in.

In Kansas City it was a Democratic rally. Former Senator James A. Reed was introducing Maurice M. Milligan, candidate for the party nomination for U. S. senator. "Who," he demanded in pointing to the importance of the office, "is going to run the nation for the next eight years?" "Willkie!" came several shouts from the crowd.

The reason why the members of the United States Fat Men's Club of Lynnfield, Mass., are fat was revealed at their annual outing. After twenty-five members consumed a 29-pound turkey, cleaned other platters and put away seven cases of soda pop they gained an average of 2 1/2 pounds per man. Top heavyweight was Charles F. Shaw, Melrose, 315 pounds.

In Kansas City, Kan., W. H. Stone has been chief of police seven years. He carries no gun. Two men held up the manager of his drug store while Chief Stone was working behind the prescription counter. He caught only a fleeting glimpse of the pair as they escaped with $15. It was the fourth time his store has been held up.

Charley Jenkins of Dallas, who likes fish and fish stories—hooked his strangest catch in his own garage and he wasn't even there. Attracted by the howling of the family pup to the garage where he had left some tackle, Jenkins found a baby o'possum hooked through the jaw.

A turtle weighing 1,100 pounds was lassoed and brought to shore in the Sabine Channel of Texas recently.

Anyway that holiday fishing trip of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Crawford and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Thurston of Parsons, Kan., wasn't a total blank. They fished and fished, but nary a nibble. They gave up in disgust and started to row to shore. A two-pound bass leaped from the water and landed in the boat. They all swear to it—so helpum.

A Homer, Neb., liquor store operator was dumfounded by Nebraska's recent flood. When the water receded all the labels had been washed off the bottles.

In Detroit, receiving hospital attaches are still seeking the key to this mystery. A woman telephoned to report in a quivering voice that she had swallowed a key and what should she do about it. Drive to the hospital as quickly as possible, a physician advised. "But I can't do that," came the reply. "It was the key to my automobile."

O. W. Haines, a piano tuner observing his sixty-first birthday in Los Angeles, estimated he had sweetened more than 6,000,000 sour notes. He added: "I have found in pianos everything from love letters to false teeth, from salt shakers to $500 in $20 gold pieces."

A little Negro boy stood in the foyer of one of Dallas' largest hotels. He clutched a slightly soiled handful of cape jasmine. "Is this year a convention, or what?" he asked mournfully. "It looks like a convention, but it don't buy like Strike off a medal for Whiskers, a little black dog owned by the Sherman Noyes family in Alaska. Their 5-year-old daughter was left at a cabin on the Yukon while the mother and friends went out on a boat. Pretty soon Whiskers' barking attracted their attention. They saw, with horror, Dierdre attempting to play with a large black bear. Whiskers, however, barked and leaped at the bear's flanks and so distracted it that it finally shuffled off into the brush, leaving the girl unharmed.

Farmer Jack Welch of Greenfield, Ohio, can't wait for his corn harvest next fall. Plowing a field recently he turned up an earthenware jar filled with gold coins worth $700. The coins were from 41 to 100 years old and Welch is going to plow the whole 20 acres as soon as his corn is in the bin.

Harold Long was fined $15 in Boston for driving an automobile with no windshield wiper, no lights, no horn, no brakes and three tubes showing through the tires. Long was surprised. The car, he said, was in good shape and had been rolling right along since he left LaPorte, Ind.

The tempting shine of a hotel bannister overcame Mrs. Stella Kronnick's dignity. She slid. Treated for a sprained back, Mrs. Kronnick, 21, told Spokane, Wash., hospital attendants she had forgotten the technique of dismounting at the foot of the stairs.

Biological Survey Exterminates Five Thousand Predatory Animals

The Biological Survey killed 2,204 more predatory animals in New Mexico in the fiscal year ending July 1 than in any similar period since it began operations in the state, E. C. Cates, district agent, announced.

The total kill was 5,241. In addition, non-supervised hunters took 3,560.

The survey, now operating as the Federal Fish and Wildlife Service, has made plans for improving its campaign against predatory beasts and rodents during the new fiscal year, by creating thirty districts in the state, each to be in charge of not less than one permanently assigned trapper. Previously, the state was divided into fifteen districts, in which trappers worked on assignment as need seemed to require.

This expansion of about 40 per cent, means permanent protection in all parts of the state, Cates said. Additional men will be available any time any district trapper finds predatory animals growing too numerous in his area. During the last fiscal year, the survey employed eighteen regular trappers and sixteen part-time trappers.

In its fight on rodents the survey treated 304,820 acres of prairie dog-infested lands; 843,440 acres of kangaroo rat-infested lands; 56,309 acres of pocket gopher-infested lands. It also took care of local control, on request, of house rats and mice, and furnished both predatory animal and rodent control poisons to cooperatives.

An outstanding achievement was the killing last winter of 15,000 jackrabbits in Quay County, at a total cost to cooperatives of $45.50.

The survey operated in cooperation with the state and other federal agencies, and the Fish and Wildlife Service will continue to do so.

Banks in State Make Thirty-Two Million in Loans

Forty-eight per cent of New Mexico's commercial banks made more than 57,000 loans totaling more than $32,000,000 to business firms and individuals throughout the state during the year 1939, according to the second semi-annual survey of bank lending activity of the American Bankers Association.

The survey was participated in by twenty banks, or 48 per cent of the forty-one commercial banks of the state. The twenty banks reported that during 1939 they made: 34,501 new loans totaling $17,399,423; 22,854 renewals of loans, totaling $14,480,990; 434 mortgage loans totaling $927,780; 67,789 loans totaling $32,808,193.

The survey also reveals that business firms in the state are using about 60 per cent of the "open lines of credit" maintained for their use on the books of the banks. Four banks in the larger centers of the state reported that they carried on their books during the second half of the year $520,305 in "open lines of credit" consisting of specific amounts of credit offered to and kept available for established borrowers for use as needed by them. Of this amount $314,428 or 60.4 per cent was actually used.

The average number of new loans made per bank was 1,725 and the average new loan was $504. The average number of renewals per bank was 1,143 and the average renewal was for $634.

The average number of mortgage loans per bank was twenty-two and the average mortgage was for $2,138.

The New Mexico survey was part of a national bank lending activity survey made by the American Bankers Association.

For the country as a whole 6,333 or 44 per cent of the commercial banks reported that they made 24,998,000 credit extensions totaling $39,810,810,000 during the year. These consisted of the following: 12,680,000 new loans totaling $29,120,000,000; 12,033,000 renewals of loans totaling $15,791,000,000; 285,000 new mortgage loans totaling $899,810,000; 24,998,000 loans for $39,810,000.

The number of new loans increased 10 per cent and the dollar volume increased 20 per cent.

2 Typical experiences WITH THE FREE MILE-DIAL

CAREFUL SHOPPER type tells you:

"I'm driving the car all day while my husband's at work, so I really buy most of the family gasoline out of my own budget. If I can get even 2 or 3 miles more to a gallon I want to know it. That's why I went to a Conoco station for my Mile-Dial—not just because it's free, but because it really lets you know your true mileage, exactly as a woman wants to really know about anything she pays for. I like buying tested things—the same as any up-to-date consumer—and this certified Mile-Dial is like giving us consumers our own easy way of testing Conoco Bronz-z-z for mileage.

"Anyway, it's almost like a game, dialing your correct mileage on the Mile-Dial—awfully clever. My husband says so, too. By the way, my driving is just as economical as his, the way it proves out on our Mile-Dial. Isn't that interesting? And we're keeping on dialing to make sure of our average in all different driving. Right now, after 61 gallons of Bronz-z-z in all, we're a good 200 miles ahead of what we used to expect from that much gasoline."

"DIDN'T CARE" type of driver says:

"I didn't much care what gasoline I bought as I went along. But this Mile-Dial being free, and really daring you to keep your own close tabs on Conoco Bronz-z-z gasoline, I went for it. And now I know why they've got the gimp to let the Mile-Dial tell all. For you can see by my Mile-Dial right on the dash that I've gone 633 miles on 37 gallons of Conoco Bronz-z-z.

"Now if you'll watch this smart Mile-Dial work—next to automatic—you'll see it giving the answer: . . . above 17 miles to the gallon of Bronz-z-z in this big eight, around town here. But I'm leaving for about a 700-mile trip—mostly open country. So don't be surprised if I even get better mileage. And don't say that's a brag, because you can't help believing the Mile-Dial. Besides settling the economy of Conoco Bronz-z-z it's sort of swell fun dialing your honest mileage. The Conoco boys must know what their gasoline's got, to give you a Mile-Dial free. I'll bet you would like one yourself and they're free as air, around a Conoco station. You ought to go quick and get yours."

News Briefs of the "Sunshine State," Gleaned from Many Sources

The National Youth Administration allocated last week $26,240, 281 to finance NYA student work during 1940-41. New Mexico's allocation included $50,813 for school work program and $41,445 for college and graduate work program.

Presidential approval has been given a $17,716 allotment for school improvement and a community playground at Madrid.

A training plane is expected next month for the newly-organized Portales Flying Club, whose fifteen members hope to obtain private pilots' licenses through group participation in flying expenses. The club is headed by A. E. Hunt.

Cattle shipments from New Mexico points during the last six months totaled 132,766 head compared with 166,115 in the first six months of 1939, the Cattle Sanitary Board reported.

Better business conditions in New Mexico have reduced unemployment among workers covered by jobless insurance to the lowest point since January, 1939, a report released by the Unemployment Compensation Commission of New Mexico revealed. Jobless insurance payments made during June totaled only $79,572, compared with $118,748 paid to jobless workers in New Mexico during March. It was the lowest monthly total since January, 1939, when benefit payments aggregated only $67,272, and it was more than $30,000 smaller than that of the corresponding month one year ago.

The New Mexico cattle sanitary board announced that cattle shipments during June totaled 9,433 head, the smallest number in any month in several years. Shipments during May were 28,867 and shipments for the first six months of the year were 132,766 compared with 166,115 for the same period last year. Last month's shipments include Roswell, 800; Carlsbad, 609; Hobbs, 514, and East Vaughn, 223.

The Navajo Indian reservation in New Mexico and Arizona operates its own coal mines. Production in 1939 was 51,000 tons.

A quartet of New Mexico cowgirls—sisters and students at New Mexico Normal University—entertained the Democratic national convention in Chicago last week with "Home On The Range." The song was sung in memory of the late Will Rogers.

The mystery "of a Nazi swastika over the main entrance of State Teachers' College auditorium last week was solved with the announcement by President H. W. James that it was "a student prank." James said a youth and two coeds were involved, admitting the act. The college president, expressing regret for the incident, said the trio had been reprimanded. The symbol created a sensation with officers called in to investigate the possibility of its being the work of a Nazi sympathizer. James said there was no "Nazi sentiment" among the student body.

People, Spots In The News

EMBRYO AIR ACES . . . Flying cadets at Randolph Field, Texas, shown getting ground instruction before going up for training maneuvers. Under new Air Corps Expansion plan seven thousand army pilots will be trained annually.

TOPPING TARPON . . . Kenneth L. Coogie of Atlanta is shown with giant silver tarpon he landed in Tampa Bay after 35-minute tussle. Giant catch, weighing 173 pounds and standing full head higher than his captor, may bring Ken $5,000 prize in national tournament.

tribution of funds was based upon farm population and the prevalence of tendency in the states. The administration estimated about 9,000 farm tenants, sharecroppers and farm laborers would purchase farms under the new program. Loans will be made in counties designated by the secretary of agriculture upon recommendations made by voluntary state farm security advisory committees. New Mexico's allocation was set at $129,890 for approximately fifteen loans in four counties.

State bank resources as of June 29 were up $714,911 for the year to a total of 14,350,063, State Bank Examiner Nolan Walter announced. Both deposits and loans and discounts increased, the former totaling $12,814,820, the latter $5,895,677.

Mountain lions and coyotes, among other predatory animals in New Mexico, found this year that the U. S. Biological Survey had reached a new high in unsociability. District Agent E. C. Cates reported that survey trappers had killed 5,241 predatory animals during the year ended July 1, or 2,204 more than its previous record mark. Cates' figures on rodent extermination included 15,000 jackrabbits, killed last winter in Quay County.

New Mexico's newly organized anti-aircraft regiment is now known as the 200th Coast Artillery. It swapped its original designation, the 207th, to a recently converted New York outfit which wanted to keep in step with tradition. The 134-year-old eastern regiment first was known as the 7th, later became the 107th.

There were seventy-two less coyotes in New Mexico July 1 than there were at the beginning of June, a report of predatory animal kills released by State Game Warden Elliott Barker showed. Other predators taken during June: Lions, 3; bobcats, 44; skunks, 43; golden eagles, 23.

Internal revenue taxes collected in New Mexico during the fiscal year just closed showed a gain of more than 50 per cent, the Treasury Department announced. For the fiscal year ended June 30, collections were reported at $4,426,111 as compared to $2,872,554 in 1939, a gain of $1,553,557. Corporate income taxes amounted to $545,000, a decrease from $560,490 in 1939 and excess profits $21,655, a drop from $46,749 the year before. In other brackets, the collections were up as follows: Individual income taxes $1,292,015, from $1,030,166 in 1939; employment taxes $704,997 from $653,630, and all other taxes $1,862,443 from $581,517.

The village of Taos, unincorporated in 1930, has a 1940 population of 953, District Census Supervisor Luis C. de Baca announced. No population figures for 1930 or previous years are available because the village then was included only in the county report.

J. R. Poe, state dairy commissioner, said he would like to correct an erroneous impression which farmers apparently received from a recent news story telling of the fining of a man for handling "bad eggs," and for operating without a license. The man fined, Poe explained, was not a farmer. He was a dealer. Farmers do not have to procure a license to sell their own eggs and produce, he explained.

The man who used his chimney was no Santa Claus, complained J. W. Dixon of Albuquerque, reporting to police the theft of a five-tube radio valued at $10. Entrance was gained by prying off a tin cover on the stovepipe hole through which the thief unlocked a door, Dixon told officers.

Dr. and Mrs. George Fulton and their daughter, Miss Jacqueline, of Oklahoma City were guests for a few days last week of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Martin and family of Artesia and Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Runyan of Elk.

Tom Runyan, rancher in the Penasco Valley, was brought to the home of his daughter, Mrs. Irvin Martin, Saturday after spending a week in a Carlsbad hospital. Mr. Runyan was considered improved in health.

"Reno- vation S"

MAHATMA GHANDI

His throne is the earth . . . . Out of the present chaos may come two new world precepts: Hitlerism and Ghandism—only one of which will be a religion . . . .

The Mahama is the spiritual leader of 350,000,000 people . . . he is the only man who could collect a dime from each one of them . . . but he doesn't do it . . . .

Ghandi has demanded complete independence for India . . . the British say no . . . proving you can't bulldoze John Bull . . . and that independence is still something one must fight for . . . .

The Mahatma believes in the spinning wheel as the symbol of progress and in turning the other cheek as a method of warfare . . . "Machines," he says, "are wrong. War is wrong." Two wrongs do not make one right, unless the one is Ghandi . . . .

He is the only full-grown ruler who wears a diaper . . . full dress means adding spectacles . . . .

He is the lightweight champion of the world in an age of little men . . . Hitler, Mussolini, Churchill—none as much as 5 feet 10 inches . . . .

ESSAY ON MOTION PICTURES

We gathered up ten known facts about Hollywood and herewith present them for future reference:

Hollywood shortened the continent. It is only a certain call from Broadway . . . .

It is really no wonder so many actors change their names when they get in films. Hollywood is an alias by itself.

Thomas A. Edison is responsible. He was the man who first unreeled film so that it cast a shadow on the legit theater . . . .

The first movie was a two-minute spot on the wall called "The Chase." That was before California dejuvenitized the business . . . .

A studio is a factory designed to put somebody else's imagination on cellulose somebody else made . . . Hollywood is a place in Los Angeles nobody can find unless he has a pull with a taxicab company . . . .

An actor is a guy with a familiar face and a fake name . . . . An actress is a little more. Her legs are familiar too.

Hollywood writers are people trying to make an honest living by rehabbing other writers' stories . . . .

Directors are guys who put on acts to get actors to act . . . . Executive quarters in studios are sometimes unofficially known as Kinnels . . . .

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Crain expect to leave Sunday for Denver, Colo., where they will spend a week attending a life insurance convention and sight-seeing in the Rocky Mountains.

The Rev. and Mrs. A. C. Douglas and small daughter, Clarice, of Raton, were here the first of this week looking after real estate and visiting their son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Douglas, and their daughter, Mrs. Glenn Stone, and Dr. Stone.

Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Southard and children, accompanied by Mrs. Southard's mother, Mrs. C. H. Bostick, were in Portales Saturday visiting in the homes of Mrs. Southard's sisters, Mrs. Jim Sain and Mrs. Jode Singleton. Mrs. Bostick remained for an indefinite visit, while the Southard family returned Saturday evening.

CHEVROLET TRUCKS

at today's low prices!

YOU KNOW THE LEADER IN TRUCK SALES
MUST BE THE LEADER IN TRUCK VALUE

Truck buyers are careful buyers—they thoroughly analyze and compare all types of trucking equipment—they want to make certain that they'll get the make and type of truck best suited to their business requirements.

It is a significant fact that more truck users choose Chevrolet than any other make of truck . . . because Chevrolet trucks could not have established their record of leadership in 1940 and maintained it for six out of the last eight years had it not been that Chevrolet trucks deliver more dollar-for-dollar value than any other make.

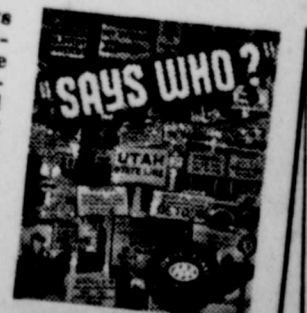

All models and types of Chevrolet trucks may still be purchased at today's low price levels, so it would be wise to consider replacing some of your trucking equipment with new Chevrolets now.

TRUCK BUYERS DEMAND FACTS—
Chevrolet Gives Certified Proof

Truck buyers are often bombarded with claims about the respective merits of various makes of trucks. But wise truck-buyers say, "Give me facts—give me proof—I must run my business according to actual facts and figures and I demand the same kind of facts about the truck I buy."

WRITE FOR FREE BOOKLET "Says Who?"
In order to provide conclusive proof of the dependability, economy, and value of Chevrolet trucks, Chevrolet recently sponsored a test run of a stock Chevrolet truck which was the longest test run ever conducted under the supervision of the American Automobile Association.

The performance facts compiled from this history-making test run are all contained in an interesting booklet entitled "Says Who?" You may obtain one from your Chevrolet dealer or by writing to Chevrolet Motor Division, General Motors Sales Corporation, General Motors Building, Detroit, Michigan.

An Important Message to the Tire Buyers of America
It Stopped the Fever and Added Thousands of Miles to the Life of Tires

THE ONLY CORD WITH BONDED FIBERS

Bibb HR Processed Cords are made by a revolutionary, patented process in which the fibers are bonded together and compacted—a result never attained in the history of textiles. Since the fibers cannot slip or rub, HR Cord will not generate heat and does not burn out or wear out because of friction heat. After wearing out the original tread the carcass remains in perfect condition for retreading or recapping. HR Processed Cords have changed all previous conceptions of heavy duty performances in tires, power transmission belts and many other products. Insist upon tires constructed of HR Cord.

Passenger car tires made with HR Cord afford a maximum degree of safety against blow-outs and provide a more comfortable ride because of greater flexibility.

Dayton Tires are made of HR Cord construction. We are offering a special demonstration allowance up to 40% for your old tires during July as a special introductory offer on Dayton Tires.

Bill Marsh—

Johnson, who was accompanied by Thomas A. Baker of Roswell, turned his car aside to pass the truck and then noticed Marsh crossing the road. In trying to avoid hitting him, Johnson swerved his car across the highway and nearly into the barrow pit.

Marks on the Johnson automobile indicate Marsh's head struck the right edge of the top, near the front of the car and that his side or shoulder hit the front window, for the door glass was shattered. The rear glass also was cracked. The right door was caved in and the door handle was doubled to the rear, probably struck by Marsh's left hip, the left side of the pelvis being fractured.

Dr. Wainwright Miller, who attended the injured man at the hospital Tuesday night and made an examination after his death, testified at the inquest that his injuries, besides the fractured pelvis, included a probable skull fracture, a severe brain injury, fractured jaw and multiple abrasions and bruises.

After the accident, Johnson and Baker picked up the injured man and rushed him to the hospital here. He never regained consciousness.

Fred Hill, deputy sheriff, was called and he, in company with the men and Clayton McDonald, night police officer, drove to the scene of the accident, where the officers decided it was unavoidable, as testified at the inquest.

The verdict of the coroner's jury: "We, the undersigned justice of the peace and jury, who sat upon the inquest held this, the 24th day of June, on the body of William J. Marsh, found in precinct No. 6, County of Eddy, find that the deceased came to his death by reason of having been struck by an automobile being driven by Max Johnson. Accident was unavoidable."

It was signed by Judge Ballard and S. W. Gilbert, L. L. Prude, J. L. Walker, J. S. Shearman, A. C. Crozier and H. F. White.

William Jerry Marsh, truck driver for Orel Boteiler, was born Nov. 14, 1920, in Lynn County, Tex., a son of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Marsh.

The family came to Artesia in September, 1937, and here two years ago Mr. Marsh married Dorothy Helvy. They have no children.

There survive Mr. Marsh his widow, his parents and three brothers and a sister, Jack, Ted, Evelyn and Bobbie Marsh, all of Artesia.

Funeral services are to be from McClay Chapel this afternoon by the Rev. Allen Johnson, pastor of the Church of Christ. Burial will be in Woodbine Cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Greeno returned the latter part of last week from a summer vacation in the Middle West.

Mrs. D. C. Blue, her daughter and son, Betty and Jim, and Mrs. Charles Morgan and sons, Don and Val, left Wednesday for the Artesia Sacramento Camp where they will spend several days.

Mrs. W. H. Cobble is ill at her home on Quay Street. Mrs. Lily Sheridan, aged mother of Mrs. Cobble, who has been ill at the Cobble home for many weeks is still critically ill. Mrs. J. Will Taylor of Maljamar has been in the Cobble home for the last week assisting in the care of Mrs. Sheridan.

Discovery Well—

NE NW section 25-18-26, which is one location east and one south of the discovery well. It is planned to move the rig from the McCall No. 1 there shortly and start drilling.

The other new location in the same general region west of the Pecos was made by Martin Yates III and Stanley Jones, doing business as Yates & Jones. It is their Everest No. 1 and is located in NE SE section 15-18-26, approximately two and a half miles northwest of the discovery well.

Besides the McCall No. 1, two other wells were completed in Eddy County, one a dry hole, and three locations were made in the county other than the two in the Dayton region.

The completions:
Emperor Oil Co., Puckett 7, NW SE 24-17-31; total depth 3,920 feet; flowed 80 barrels of oil a day.

Brewer Drilling Co., Creek 1, NE NE 23-18-36; total depth 3,653 feet; plugged and abandoned.

Another completed well of interest in this locality, but in Lea County, was the Simon 1-B of E. G. Woods in NE NE 30-17-32. It was completed from a total depth of 3,742 feet and flowed 250 barrels of oil a day.

Locations in Eddy County, besides those in the Dayton area: Danciger, Turner 8, SW SE 18-17-31; Addison Oil Co., Ginsberg 3-A, NW NE 17-18-31; Aston & Fair, Brigham 2, NE SE 31-17-30.

Progress among wildcats and other wells of general interest in Eddy County and the adjacent Maljamar area in Lea County:

Artesia Drilling Co., Hoffman 1, SE SW 14-17-24.
Total depth 1,278 feet; shut down for repairs.

Powell & Matthews, Levers 2, NW SW 33-16-29.
Total depth 2,505 feet; shut in for storage.

J. B. Cowden, State 1, SW SE 3-17-29.
Total depth 2,976 feet; pumping 10 barrels per day.

O. H. Randel, Gates 1, SW SE 22-18-30.
Total depth 3,392 feet; plugged back to 3,324 feet; swabbing estimated 15 barrels per day.

J. B. Mulcock, Etz 1, SW SW 25-16-30.
Total depth 2,530 feet; pulling 8-inch casing.

Mac T. Anderson, Root 5, SE SE 1-17-29.
Total depth 3,267 feet; one bailer oil per hour; shut down for orders.

Grover Mann et al, Riggs 1, NE NE 7-20-30.
Total depth 390 feet; waiting on casing.

Schumaker & Richey, Levers 1, NE NE 33-16-29.
Total depth 2,725 feet; shut down for orders.

Bedingfield-Walker, Seale 1, SE SE 10-20-27.
Total depth 188 feet; waiting on casing.

Leo Manning, McClay 2, NE NE 21-18-30.
Total depth 3,219 feet; shut down for orders.

Sanders Bros., De Temple 1, NW NW 27-19-31.
Total depth 2,585 feet; cemented 7-inch casing at 2,570 feet; drilling plug.

H. W. Martin, Gates 4, SW SW 15-18-30.
Total depth 3,191 feet; shut down for orders.

Sanders, Miller 1, NE NE 31-19-31.
Total depth 2,396 feet; shut down for orders with hole full of water.

was interviewed, she disclosed that Mrs. J. A. Clayton, Jr., also had sunk the 144-yard shot in a single stroke.

The chances of anyone making a hole-in-one are quite remote, but when three members of one family all do the same thing, that is something. But to make it harder, all three did it on the same hole!

Mrs. Nora B. Clayton has four witnesses to attest to her feat last week, as she was playing in a five-some.

The others were Mrs. J. A. Clayton, Jr., Mrs. A. W. Harrell, E. E. Spencer and Paul Bugg.

Officers of the Artesia Golf Club will apply for a "Hole-in-One Pin" for Mrs. Clayton. It is known there must be a foursome playing. Whether it is limited to four persons, no more nor less, or four is the minimum is not known. However, the lucky player has four good witnesses to back her up, in case a fivesome counts.

Mrs. Frank Meidel and daughters, Jo Ann and Frances Lou, and small son, Bill, of Wichita, Kan., arrived Wednesday for a visit with Mrs. Meidel's cousin, Mrs. Lewis Story, and Mr. Story and family.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Denton and daughter, Marjorie, of Calgary, Alberta, Canada, arrived Friday for a visit with Mr. Denton's home folks, the H. A. Denton family. The visitors were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Denton to Las Cruces the first of the week for a visit with Mrs. Lucille Funkhouser and children. Mrs. Funkhouser was before her marriage, Miss Lucille Denton. Mr. Denton is an employee of the Anglo Canadian Oil Company.

Jesse Avert—

he retired from ranch life and made El Paso his home, where he had many friends.

Jesse Lafayette Avert was born Nov. 14, 1856, at San Antonio, Tex., where he grew to manhood. His early life was spent as a trail driver, driving trail herds from San Angelo, Tex., north into Nebraska, Kansas, Montana, the Dakotas and other points during the Indian days, where he had many skirmishes with the hostile Indians from time to time.

He also served four years as a special Texas ranger, and eight years as a New Mexico mounted police during territorial days. He was a man of great courage and his greatest ambition was to serve his country, his neighborhood and his friends. He held the greatest esteem of all who knew him.

On Jan. 26, 1881, he was united in marriage to Miss Ella Simons at San Antonio, Tex. To them were born nine children, seven sons, two now dead, and two daughters. Surviving are his wife and the seven children and sixteen living grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

The living children are: Howard, Vancouver, Wash.; Viola, Mrs. Noah Buck, Artesia; Leslie, Hot Springs, N. Mex.; Bundy and Marshall, Santa Rita, N. Mex.; Julia, Mrs. Ernest Gilbert, Santa Fe, and Fred Avert, New York.

Funeral services were in El Paso Monday of last week and burial was in Evergreen Cemetery there.

Mrs. Buck, called to El Paso, did not arrive until after the death of her father. She returned home last Thursday.

DAUGHTER IS BORN TO MR. AND MRS. COBBLE

Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Cobble are the parents of a daughter, born at 10 o'clock Sunday night at Artesia Memorial Hospital. The baby weighed 6 pounds 6 ounces at birth.

Mrs. C. C. Gist and daughters, Miss Carrie Beth Gist and Mrs. Melvin Morris, and Mr. Morris of Glendale, Calif., and John Garrett of Cottonwood, Ariz., were here over the week end visiting Mrs. Gist and Mr. Garrett's parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Garrett, and their sister, Mrs. John R. Brown, and family. Mr. and Mrs. Morris and Miss Gist and their cousins, Rowley and June Brown, enjoyed a trip to the Carlsbad Caverns Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Robinson returned from Richmond, Tex., Sunday, where Mrs. Robinson has spent the last month with her mother, who has been ill for some time. Mr. Robinson drove to Richmond for his wife.
