VOLUME THIRTY-EIGHT

ARTESIA, NEW MEXICO, THURSDAY, JUNE 5, 1941.

NUMBER 23

Year's Rainfall During Month Is May Record

Gauge in Artesia Shows 10.15 Inches, Compared With 10.19 During All of 1940—50 Per Cent More Some Places.

Precipitation in Artesia during May was 10.15 inches, according to the gauge of the New Mexico Eastern Gas Company, only a few drops less than the total of 10.19 inches recorded for the whole of 1940. And it is estimated by a number of observers that at least 50 per cent more rain fell in some of the localities in the Artesia territory, including the Cottonwood, making a possible fifteen inches.

Average annual rainfall at Roswell, according to the Weather Bureau there, is about twelve inches and it is believed precipitation for Artesia is slightly below that figure, probably a little above the total for last year, but approximately the same as fell in Artesia then or last month.

In last week's issue, the total for May up to and including Wednesday, May 28, was given as 9.80 inches. To that was added .05 inch Thursday and .30 inch on Friday, making the total of 10.15 inches. None fell Saturday, the last day of the month.

The high month in 1940 was June, when 2.29 inches of rainfall was gauged, and May was second, when 2.19 inches of precipitation was recorded.

Here are the monthly totals for the first five months of 1941: January, 1.62 inches; February, .72; March, 2.56; April, .85; May, 10.15; total, 15.90.

Readings by months in 1940: January, 1.10; February, .75; March, .9; April, .96; May, 2.19; June, 2.29; July, 1.04; August, 1.30; September, .0; October, .54; November, .96; December, .06; total, 10.19.

In all of the deluges in Southwest New Mexico this spring, the Penasco and Eagle Draw territories seemed to have had less water than most of the watercourses and Artesia was spared a flood, whereas Carlsbad and Roswell both were hit. Carlsbad by far the worse.

Had Eagle Draw been required to have drained off as much water at any one time as did Clark Canyon and Hackberry Draw at Carlsbad and the Rio Hondo at Roswell, it is believed there would

Mrs. Virgie Bruce of Albuquerque, formerly of Artesia, and C. C. Newbold of Morenci, Ariz., were married Monday last week at the home of the bride's sister and nephew, Mrs. Nancy Bowman and Dr. Frank Bowman, in Albuquerque. F. P. Kahnt was best man.

Earlier the same day Mrs. Bruce was granted a divorce in District Court at Albuquerque from Robert J. Bruce of Artesia. In her complaint she said they were married in 1924 and charged incompatibility.

Custody of their four children was awarded Bruce during the summer months and to his former wife during the school term.

All Should Help, Whitson Says in Memorial Talk

At the annual Memorial Day exercises at the American Legion hut Friday morning, Howard Whitson, principal speaker, said the most proper and fitting manner in which to honor the dead would be "to do what they expected we would do, when they left the affairs of the world in our hands."

The exercises were poorly attended, but a few Legion and Auxiliary members and a handful of other citizens took time out to pay respect to the dead of the nation, first at the hut and then at Woodbine Cemetery, where the traditional "salute to the dead" was given at the grave of Clarence Kepple, who lost his life in the World War and for whom the American Legion post was named.

In his talk Whitson pointed out that Washington, Adams, Hancock and others were wealthy industrialists of the colonies, who risked everything they had in order to establish a free nation.

"They never dreamed nor anticipated that our industrial leaders in 1940 would hesitate and delay in accepting vital defense orders until they had assurance from the government of substantial profits," Whitson said.

The common people who joined the forces of Washington, he said, never anticipated that working people in 1941 would stop work on these same vital contracts until assured of high wages.

The speaker declared that many citizens need to change their attitudes and action, whereby all types of concerns and types of people are constantly demanding things from the government.

Whitson stressed that at times like this the 130 million people of the United States should be asking the government, "What can we do for you?"

Christian Science Calls on Members To Aid Democracy

Christian Scientists, gathered from many parts of the world, 6,000 strong, for the annual meeting of the mother church, the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, were called upon Tuesday by their board of directors to consecrate themselves to the defense of the democratic system of government, members in Artesia reported.

Allying the world-wide religious movement with the defenders of democracy everywhere, the directors characterized the democratic governmental system as the best human instrument for preserving the basic rights of mankind to "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness."

It was their conviction, the directors stated, that if social and political freedom is to be preserved, "democratic forms of government must be maintained."

Oil Operations In Eddy Resumed After Flood Days

Two Locations, One Completion
Are Reported From Fields
in County

After many of the oil well operations in Eddy County were shut down or running on irregular schedules for several days because of unusual rains and flooded conditions, the majority are back on regular hours and are drilling again.

However, during the last two-week period, only two new locations and a single completion were reported.

The completion was the Herbert Aid, State No. 2 well, in NW NW 16-17-29. The well flowed eight barrels a day from a total depth of 3,080 feet.

Locations reported: Martin Yates, Jr., Kelly 1, NW SE 2-18-25; Grayburg Oil Co., Burch 1-B, SE SW 19-17-30.

The J. D. Josey, Josey No. 1, in SE SW 19-20-23, in the foothills of the Guadalupe southwest of here, started operations this week after being shut down a number of months at 640 feet. It was reported drilling ahead at 645 feet.

Progress among wildcats and other wells of general interest in Eddy County and the adjacent Maljamar area in Lea County: Helm & Martin, Stephens 1, NW NE 22-15-29.

Lions Elect Glenn Stone President For Coming Year

Installation of New Officers Will Be at First July
Meeting

Dr. Glenn Stone was elected president of the Artesia Lions Club at the weekly meeting Wednesday noon, to serve for the year, 1941-42, succeeding Dr. J. J. Clarke, Jr., incumbent.

Dr. Clarke, who was elected vice president a year ago, stepped into the president's chair a few months ago when Dr. Wainright Miller, president, went into active service with the Medical Corps as a lieutenant.

Other officers elected Wednesday: First vice president, Guy (Whitey) Roberts; second vice president, Ralph Petty; third vice president, Leland Price; "Tail Twister," Ernest Houy; "Lion Tamer," Ormand Loving; secretary, Ed Shockley.

Fred Cole, the club's first president, and Bernard Johnson, who is completing two years as secretary, were elected directors, to serve for a term of two years. The hold-over directors are E. J. Foster and Leland Price.

The new officers will be installed at the first meeting in July and will serve until June 30, 1942.

The club voted to carry all members on the roll while they are serving with the armed forces. Two of the members, Dr. Wainright Miller and Dr. L. R. Clarke, both are serving in the Medical Corps.

E. J. Foster, who returned recently from the East Coast with Mrs. Foster, told briefly about that trip. Mrs. Foster was a delegate to the national convention of the Association of Parents and Teachers at Boston. Mr. Foster represented E. B. Bullock of Artesia, national representative of the Boy Scouts of America for this council, at a national meeting in Washington.

Weather Bureau Warns New Head Water on Pecos

Charles Gaskins, manager of the Artesia office of the New Mexico Eastern Gas Company, received the following telegram this morning from the Weather Bureau at Albuquerque:

"Heavy local rains have resulted in the Pecos cresting at 2 a. m. at 10.3 feet at Fort Sumner.

"Alamogordo Dam is now discharging approximately 30,000 second-feet, with the peak shortly after midnight. This will result in a rise in the river at your station with some spilling of lowlands from Fort Sumner to Red Bluff.

"Continued thunder shower activity is indicated in this watershed this afternoon and tonight.

"Please advise proper local authorities."

Artesia Beats Cave City All-Stars Here Sunday by 15 to 8

The Artesia ball club took the Carlsbad All-Stars to time here Sunday 15 to 8, with Joe Greeno again doing the hurling for the local boys, striking out fifteen men and then backing himself up with a homer, two doubles and a single in four trips to bat.

"Scratchy" Rideout clouted out another four-bagger for the Artesia team.

The United States Potash Company team will meet Artesia on Morris Field at 2:30 o'clock next Sunday.

NAMED PRINCIPALS AT LAKEWOOD, COTTONWOOD

R. C. Kornegay was named Lakewood principal and Miss Margaret Lane Cottonwood primary teacher for next year at a county school board meeting in the office of County School Superintendent R. N. Thomas.

Thirty-Seven in Golf Tourney for Aid to Britain

Honors in the Artesia Golf Club's "Empire Day Golf Tournament" over the week end, in cooperation with hundreds of other clubs to raise funds for the relief of Britain, were split between Miss Velma Springer, who won the women's division; A. B. McGuire less than 50 years old and B. E. Spencer for men more than 50. Thirty-seven persons played in the three divisions.

Mrs. C. J. Dexter took second honors in the women's division and Miss Ruth Bigler, third.

Among the men under 50 years old, Lester Anderson was second. Dr. H. W. Crouch played off a tie yesterday with C. A. Baker for third-place honors and won his match.

A similar situation was found in the division for men more than 50 years, with W. W. Byers rated second, but with C. J. Dexter and Earl Bigler tied for third. However, Dexter and Bigler decided not to play off the tie, but to take turns wearing the third-place medal, which will be awarded by Maple Leaf Fund, Inc., general sponsor of all participating tournaments.

A barbecue at the course last Thursday evening in conjunction with the tournament was attended by 110 persons.

WANT AD DID NOT CONCERN MRS. GRAY

An advertisement in The Advocate shortly after the first of the year, through which a young mother sought work, was not placed by Mrs. Eddie Gray, who took her own life May 6, nor did it concern her.

There has been a rumor to the effect that Mrs. Gray had so advertised a few days after the arrival of her baby, and it has been implied that she was destitute and needed work for the support of herself and infant.

Because of the reflection, through misunderstanding, on the husband of Mrs. Gray and his family, The Advocate is happy to explain that the advertisement was placed by another person and in no way was connected with her.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kimball moved Sunday to Roswell, where Mr. Kimball has work as a refrigerator expert.

STOUT TELLS ROTARY OF ST. LOUIS CARDS

The Rev. Henry S. Stout, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, who returned home Saturday from St. Louis, where he attended the general assembly of the Presbyterian Church, told the Rotary Club members at the weekly meeting Tuesday noon about four baseball games the delegates took time out to attend.

The local pastor, a Cardinal fan, described a number of unusual plays the St. Louis players made. There were opposing teams at all games, he admitted!

'Go-to-Church Sunday' Will Be Observed Here

Artesia churches are cooperating in a local "Go-to-Church Sunday," which will be observed here next Sunday.

On that day it is hoped that every home in Artesia and the surrounding territory will be emptied during at least one church period and that the occupants will be attending services.

Members of the various churches send the observation of "Go-to-Church Sunday" at this time is not a national movement, but is a local effort to try to make Artesia 100 per cent church conscious.

Some of the pastors have announced the special day, but no extra programs are planned in general.

Rather, it is a movement from the memberships, instead of the pastors, in an "all-out" effort.

Lyman Gilliland, Former Artesian, Drowns in Flood

Death of Carlsbad Man West of
Roswell on Last Thursday Night

Lyman Gilliland of Carlsbad, 28, a member of a former Artesia family, drowned Thursday night when flood waters swept down Blackwater Draw eight miles west of Roswell and carried him to his death.

His brothers, T. W. and Jack Gilliland, 23 and 19, escaped death by swimming to safety when their automobile stalled while they were crossing the swollen stream, and it was washed away.

At a coroner's inquest Monday, it was brought out in evidence that the car, driven by Lyman Gilliland, entered the dip while there was a relatively small amount of water running, but that the motor was drowned out. He and his brothers got out of the car and attempted to start it. As the water rose in the dip, they climbed to the hood and then were carried down stream.

The brothers were saved, but Lyman Gilliland who clung to a telephone pole about two hours, finally lost his hold and drowned. Attempts on the part of Highway Department workers, state police, sheriff's officers and others to rescue him were fruitless.

His body was recovered Saturday on the bank of the Berrendo River about fifteen miles from the scene of the accident and the car was found two miles from the place where it was washed away.

Officers at the inquest testified that stop signs had been put on the highway and that about fifteen cars had been halted at the dip before Gilliland drove in.

The death of Lyman Gilliland came after hard rains west of Roswell, which flooded that city late (Continued on last page, col. 7)

Roy Ansley Nearly Loses an Ear When Truck Turns Over

Roy Ansley is recovering from injuries sustained when a tank truck overturned on the second turn this side of Hope Friday morning, in which he nearly lost his right ear.

Returning from the highway project west of Hope, where he had hauled a tankful of scalding oil, the truck left the highway and turned over twice.

The ear, which nearly was severed from his head, was sewed into place at Artesia Memorial Hospital. Ansley suffered only a few minor injuries otherwise.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kimball moved Sunday to Roswell, where Mr. Kimball has work as a refrigerator expert.

Poppy Sale on Saturday Brings More Than $200

Although postponed a week because of rain and flood conditions, the observation here Saturday of Poppy Day by the American Legion Auxiliary was one of the most successful in the history of the unit, Mrs. John Lively, chairman, reported.

Total poppy sales in Artesia were $202.36, which will be used in the unit's rehabilitation work.

Mrs. Lively expressed, in behalf of the Auxiliary, thanks to everyone who helped make Poppy Day a success in any way, and she added her personal thanks to the members of the organization who worked Saturday and sold poppies.

The sale of poppies, she said, not only provides funds for the unit in its work, but the flowers were made by disabled veterans who cannot do ordinary work, providing them a certain amount of cash and giving them a chance to keep busy at a simple task.

Although the Auxiliary members worked from early to late Saturday, contacting practically everyone in the business district, it was considered unusual that a postponed affair should be so well supported, for past experience has shown that setting a new date usually cuts into proceeds of anything.

In response to Mrs. Lively's thanks of her workers, a number of the Auxiliary women gave her credit for the success of the day, pointing out that she covered every possible angle and kept her workers on the job and busy.

Employment Service Office Closed Here; Files to Carlsbad

The State Employment Service office in the Artesia city hall, established here last June 24, was closed Saturday and the local files were taken to Carlsbad, out of which office all business of the service in Eddy County will be conducted.

However, the Carlsbad office will maintain an itinerant service to Artesia each Tuesday and Wednesday, when a worker will be at the city hall.

Howard Rutz, who opened the office in Artesia last year and has been in charge, was transferred to the Carlsbad office.

Persons who have made application for unemployment compensation benefits and whose reporting dates are subsequent to Tuesday and Wednesday should report on next Tuesday, the Carlsbad office said. Orders placed on those days by employers for workers will receive prompt consideration.

Auxiliary, Legion Install Jointly at Hut Here Tuesday

Mrs. Frank Smith, Artie McAnally
Head Organizations for Coming Year

Artie McAnally and Mrs. Frank Smith were installed respectively as commander of the American Legion and president of the American Legion Auxiliary at joint installation exercises Tuesday evening at the hut.

Mrs. Ben Pior, past department president of the Auxiliary, served as installing officer for that group, the new officers of which were installed first.

Other Auxiliary officers installed: First vice president, Mrs. A. L. Bert; second vice president, Mrs. C. R. Baldwin; treasurer, Mrs. S. O. Pottorff; secretary, Mrs. Earl Bigler; historian, Mrs. John Lively; chaplain, Mrs. J. M. Story, and sergeant-at-arms, Mrs. Roger Durand.

At the close of the Auxiliary installation, Mrs. P. V. Morris presented the outgoing president, Mrs. J. B. Muncy, a past president's pin in behalf of the organization and spoke highly of the accomplishments the last year under the leadership of Mrs. Muncy.

Under her leadership the Auxiliary has had one of the most successful in its history, with much accomplished by way of rehabilitation work and other projects.

Mrs. Muncy had good cooperation, but was constantly on the job, even though she lives several miles out in the country, and she kept her committees working.

Getting Ready For Good-Will Trip to Hills

Caravan Will Shove Off
From Artesia at 7:30
O'clock Wednesday—
Warm-up Concert Tuesday,
Honor Ann Crouch.

A caravan of Artesia businessmen, fun makers and other goodwillers will shove off at 7:30 o'clock next Wednesday morning on the annual two-day trip to the Sacramento Mountains.

The "Westward-ho" signal will be given at Fifth and Main Streets by Charles Morgan, president, and Arba Green, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, which organization sponsors the annual trek into the hills as a gesture of friendship to the many people living there.

The motorcade is to form at 7 o'clock in the center of Main Street, facing west, behind Green's automobile, which will be parked in front of the city hall. Thirty minutes later the group will head for Hope, where a number of local people are expected to join the Artesia representatives.

A pep meeting and warm-up for the trip will be held in Central Park at 8 o'clock next Tuesday evening, on the eve of the start of the trip, when the school band, under the direction of E. L. Harp, will play a program.

At that time Ann Crouch, phenomenal band drum major and baton twirler, who has brought many honors to the band, school and city, will be honored by the community.

And she will perform at that time, assisted by members of the Majorette Club, when there will be union baton twirling, flip baton twirling and exhibition baton twirling.

At the pep meeting and concert honoring Miss Crouch, sponsored by the Artesia Lions Club, the following program will be presented: March, "Time Out," J. Olivadotti; overture, "Footlights," G. E. Busload of Young Presbyterians Will Attend Conference

The Rev. Henry S. Stout, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, plans to leave Monday morning with a bus full of about thirty young people from the Pecos Valley churches for the senior young people's conference at Presbyterian Conference Grounds in the Sandia Mountains. The conference will be from Monday, June 9, to Monday, June 16.

Delegations of young people from Hobbs and Carlsbad will come here and will leave Artesia in Jim Ferguson's bus. They will pick up others at Hagerman and Roswell.

Safety Patrol Boys And Girls Are Cited By Governor Miles

Nearly 300 certificates have been signed by Gov. John E. Miles for school boys and girls, who during the last school term served voluntarily, without pay, as members of the safety patrol.

Their duty was to protect schoolmates from traffic accidents and state highway traffic, and W. R. Eccles, safety engineer, said, "They did an excellent job of it."

There were more than a score of these patrols active during the year. Next year, in view of their success, Eccles plans to extend the plan to other schools, especially those on the main highways.

The young patrolmen have no uniforms, but they are furnished with a distinctive belt, Sam Brown style, in white. They are also furnished with badges, and are trained in safety work and traffic problems.

Miss Margaret Compa, who is taking nurses' training at St. Joseph Hospital, Albuquerque, came home Monday to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andy Compa, three weeks.

HOW WE CONQUER IN AMERICA

A mechanized force from Artesia will head west next Wednesday morning, driving steadily into the mountainous regions, up the canyons and between ranges, pressing ever higher, then circling a part of the region, thus taking in its stride a considerable territory, bringing the inhabitants of that region into the influence of this little valley city.

But there will be no resistance on the part of the people living in that territory; there will be no clashes, other than in friendly rivalry; there will be no dictum to the "conquered" area.

That is the way we do it in America.

We ever strive to increase the limits of our influence, to bring into our circle more and more people, through the medium of good, friendly advertising.

We try to add to our material beings by means of friendship gained in such "invasions."

Never do we try to bring people to our way of thinking by "saving them" from some other influence, at the same time violating their territory and slaying the men, women and children.

If, after such an attempt is made to gain the good will of a community, we fail, then we withdraw and bide the time when we can attempt our goal again.

How much better is the American way!

THE PHONE NUMBER IS SEVEN

Any newspaper welcomes constructive criticism and we doubt if there be one which does not receive such in plenty from time to time. Nor do newspaper people consider that a person is butting in if and when he steps forth with something of a constructive nature, which will improve the newspaper and the community.

But no one likes to have criticism, though constructive, from a person who declines to sign his name.

Filed away the last six weeks or two months, just deep enough that it will turn up at frequent intervals, is an anonymous letter addressed to the editor of The Advocate, signed by "A Subscriber."

In it are a number of good thoughts, but reading between the lines discloses that the writer, or some of his or her kith or kin, seem to have been slighted.

That does not distress us one iota. Usually we are distressed when news, no matter how unimportant, is overlooked, as always is the case, for it all cannot be gathered, nor could it be even with double the editorial force. But when a social event, or a local happening, takes place and the principals involved want it in the newspaper, all they have to do is telephone No. 7. That's us!

For instance, here's a quotation from the letter we received, even though we do not care to dignify an anonymous letter by publishing part of it: "Make mention of folks visiting in Artesia, even though they may be relatives of some of us who don't care much about the Social Register."

Now isn't that something? We wonder if it is right to accuse this newspaper, or its personnel, of being snooty. That is our interpretation of the above!

On the contrary, we don't care a whit whether a person belongs in the Social Register—which we did not know existed in Artesia; at least we didn't print it, if so—how he butters his bread, or how he votes. If he makes news which comes in the category of those things we customarily print and we know about it, then it is printed. If, on the other hand, it does not meet with our editorial policy, we do not print it. And, for the information of everybody, we have a very definite line in all matters. If it falls on one side, it is to be published; if on the other, it is not.

We do, however, like the fourth item in the list found in the letter: "Remember, we have just as good a time and really enjoy seeing our names in print once in a while."

To the writer of those words we would reply: Most everyone does! And to him or her we would add that we would be happy for his or her name to appear, not once in a while, but quite frequently.

We think nothing of a person calling up and reporting an item. In fact, we appreciate it, for we are dealing in names.

Names, you know, are news. And that is all we have to offer to the public, news of people, and news of the merchants and manufacturers.

If the writer of that letter thinks we have time to stop and analyze the fact that he or she called up last week about something which is of relatively little importance, he or she is wrong.

Someday we are going to count names which appear in an average issue of The Advocate. And we will tell you about it. Then you will realize that people, because of the numbers involved, to us are just like the merchandise on a grocer's shelves, or the cars in a dealer's showroom, or the various products in the baker's case. Not that we do not like people—for we do—but we treat them not as friends or enemies, but as humans who are doing the things humans usually do, some good, some bad, some of more importance, some of less.

We do not consider how much money a person has in the bank when we write an item or a story, but we ask ourselves: Of how much news value is this to the community? Notice please, we did not say, "to our subscribers."

Well, that is that. We did pick up some splendid pointers from our anonymous correspondent; we did get a thing or two off our chest; we hope he or she will telephone No. 7 and cooperate with us the next time, just as we really invite everybody to do.

That way we will have a better newspaper, something we ever strive for. We always aim just a little higher; we will continue to climb with cooperation.

PANTYWAISTS, SO IT SEEMS

We got it over the radio and failed to catch where it was, but the dean of women at some school sewed lace on the tail of a man student's shirt when he wore it out.

The boys there have quit wearing their shirttails out now!

Our salutations, madam or mademoiselle.

"God the Only Cause and Creator" is the subject of the lesson-sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, June 8.

The Golden Text is: "Great and marvelous are Thy works, Lord God Almighty; just and true are Thy ways, thou King of saints." (Rev. 15:5)

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "For the word of the Lord is right; and all His works are done in truth." (Ps. 33:4)

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook: "There is but one primal cause, and there can be no reality in aught which does not proceed from the great and only cause."

Of Your Country Cousin

One trouble with idle words is that they don't stay that way.

Reckon this here universe is bein' run about right most of the time, 'cause you sure hear a heap of complainin' if there's a little too much of one thing er a mite too little of another turned loose.

A long board'll take a feller higher in this see-saw of life—but a short one is a lot easier handled.

Even a kid's rubber doll makes an awful sound when you step on it in th' dark!

Kinda seems like personal faith is a tiny magnet that helps reveal a mighty universal force.

A kingleit can eat about as many bugs as a crow—an' he sings a heap prettier!

Pecos Valley Boys and Girls Give Violin and Guitar Recital Here

About fifty-five boys and girls of the Pecos Valley cities of Artesia, Carlsbad and Roswell and their vicinities, shown above, presented a program of violin and guitar music in the auditorium of Artesia Junior-Senior High School last Thursday evening.

The youngsters, none of whom is more than 16 years old—and some are less than half that old—are students of Ted R. Best.

The concert here was the third of a series, the boys and girls having appeared in Roswell and Carlsbad earlier in May.

Two special numbers on the Artesia program included a violin solo, "Il Travatore Fantaisie," from the opera by Verdi, played by Everett Dean O'Bannon, and a violin duet, "Alita," by Losey, played by young O'Bannon and John H. Millman.

Miss Bill Ward, who have been attending Eastern New Mexico College in Portales, are home for the summer vacation.

Mrs. R. J. Murray and daughter, June, and Mrs. Sam Zumwalt of El Paso were here last week visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hilary White, Sr.

Mrs. R. J. Parks, Mrs. Dave Bunting and Mrs. Cy Bunting were hostesses at a dance at the Women's Club in Artesia Wednesday evening of last week. Refreshments of cake and coffee were served to about 120 guests.

Charles H. Fink, who has been a resident of Hope several years and was project manager for the Soil Conservation Service during that time, moved away last week. He will be in Albuquerque until more definite plans for the future are made.

The improvement work begun some time ago on the upper cemetery is still going forward slowly. Due to very busy times in the community, less has been done than would have been otherwise. We hope to have the stock guard installed and the new gate soon. We intend to keep agitating the work until things are in much better condition and until the improvement progress also includes the lower cemetery. Interest in the work has been good and responses to our call for support of this work have been fairly satisfactory, and we are sure that many others will help out in the future.

There was a good turn-out for the all-day clean up meeting. Contributions received so far include: E. P. Cox, $2.50, Mrs. Jim Banta $1, John Teel $10, Mrs. John Ward $15.40, Newt Teel $10, George Teel $10, Lit Prude $5, Mrs. Harris $1, Jesse Young $5, Bobbie Buckner $1. Contributions other than money were by Mrs. Will Keller, 10 elm trees and canna bulbs; Anderson Young, 50 cedar posts. The county donated material for a stock guard. The expenditures so far are for wire, $9.50; additional posts, $3.25; elm trees, $15.40. The cash on hand is $17.85. Part of the money now on hand is being used to buy a new gate for the south entrance, and the balance is to be used in further improvements later in the summer or fall as more time is available. We wish to thank all those who have cooperated in this good work.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Dannenbaum and daughter, Carlynn, spent the week end in Clovis and Albuquerque. They also took Mr. Dannenbaum's mother, Mrs. Rica Dannenbaum, to her home at Grants, N. Mex.

Miss Mary Lou McConnell, a teacher in the Lindsey schools at Portales, who has been visiting her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Knoedler, for several days, returned to Portales Monday evening. From there she will go to California where she will enter the Leland Stanford University in Los Angeles for summer school.

The main thoughts of the convention were on the modern problems of education today and defense, Mrs. Foster said.

The Advocate correspondent at Hope had written the item properly, in advance, saying the dance was on Wednesday evening. In the process of editing, the words, "of last week," were added. However, the dance was last evening.

News Briefs of the "Sunshine State." Gleaned from Many Sources

The interstate commerce commission has postponed any final action on the Denver and Rio Grande Western Railroad's proposed abandonment of its branch line from Santa Fe to Antonito, Colo., State Corporation Commission Chairman Don R. Casados announced.

The stork is working overtime at the City Zoo in Albuquerque. A youngster, sex undetermined as yet, has been born to an Indian antelope, eleven geese and fifty pheasants have been hatched out and some white deer are on the way, it was reported. More pheasants are coming too; 250 more eggs have been set and are expected to hatch soon. Only last week a camel was born at the zoo. It was reported the as yet humpless youngster was "coming along fine."

Five nice fat trout, ranging from 12 to 16 inches long, on a single cast of his line in the Chama near El Vado was the feat claimed by George Gibson of the TWA office in Albuquerque. It was no trick at all, Gibson explained. Somebody else had caught the fish first, tied them on a line and left them dangling in the stream, apparently not very well anchored. Gibson's hook snagged the string of fish as it floated through a pool in which he was fishing. He couldn't find the angler who caught the five trout originally, and brought them home with enough other beauties to make up a limit bag.

The state board of education will open bids June 11 on a group of new free text books, including newly authorized works on national defense, humane education and elementary Spanish. The Spanish texts, for the fifth to eighth grades, will be used only in districts where local boards decide such instruction is practicable.

A Chaves County dispute over routing of U. S. Highway 285 out of Roswell resulted last week in launching of plans for a county referendum. The plans were undertaken after District Judge James B. McGhee dismissed an injunction action by John Tweedy, a roadholder, to prevent routing the road through his farm southeast of Roswell. The highway, an alternate route, would extend eight miles south of Roswell. Two of the county commissioners agreed to abide by result of a referendum of property owners if they opposed the route by vote.

Extension of the state's developing maganese industry to Dona Ana County was marked with announcement of construction of a maganese refining plant in the southern part of the county within 30 to 45 days. Nevada-New Mexico Explorations, Inc., will be the builder, according to Edwin Pfister, Jr., company field superintendent, who said production was scheduled to start by early fall. Development of maganese deposits over the state has been spurred during the last year by war and defense demands.

In the Fifteenth Legislature the total number of measures introduced in both houses was 620, as counted by the director of the Taxpayers Association of New Mexico. Two hundred and fifty of these measures were passed, in-

Women of Elk Community Fete Their Menfolk

Women of the Elk community observed an old custom there, that of entertaining the husbands, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank D. Crockett Saturday evening, when a steak and chicken dinner was served on the lawn.

With bright lights adorning the lawn and house and roses and wild flowers used for decorations, the women as day faded, led by Mrs. J. F. Wasson and dressed in formal evening gowns, marched out and paid obeisance to their husbands.

Mrs. Crockett read a clever essay, founded on the story of the Creation, in which Man was pictured as the ruler of the earth, but walking side by side with Woman.

After invocation by W. A. Reeves and the delicious meal, the men were given long cords, the unwinding of which disclosed gifts all the way from "Blondie" to "Popeye," demonstrating the comical side of each recipient.

The geographical and historical knowledge of each one present was tested by questions, after which games and community singing were enjoyed by all, closing with "God Be With You Till We Meet Again."

Besides Mr. and Mrs. Crockett, those present were:

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Paxton, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Cox, Mr. and Mrs. Hood Formwalt, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Reeves, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Neatherlin, Mr. and Mrs. Jake Cox, Mr. and Mrs. Wyley Formwalt, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Garrard, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Durham, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Durham, R. K. Crockett, Mrs. J. F. Wasson.

Misses Sophia Paxton, Helen Formwalt, Eula V. Reed, Virginia Formwalt and Eula and Ruth Anne Cox.

Charles Formwalt, Lewis Neatherlin, J. W. Cox, Thomas Garrard, Ebbie Garrard, J. W. Formwalt and J. E. Durham, Jr.

Mrs. N. R. Stout of Altus, Okla., here visiting her mother, Mrs. D. Terry, and other relatives for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. Gail Hamilton and children of El Paso were here over the week end visiting relatives and friends.

Determination Of British Is Shown in Tale

Many tales of heroism have come out of England, most of which are interesting only as such, but one recently brought to light, although having no direct local tie-in, is brought a little closer to home, for it concerns the brother-in-law of the former Miss Neva Mary Schnoor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Schnoor of Artesia, now Mrs. Emlin Davis of Weymouth, Dorset, England.

A clipping from an English newspaper to Mr. and Mrs. Schnoor reads:

From a prisoners of war bulletin, circulated by the sergeants' mess of her son's battalion, Mrs. Olivia Davies of Weymouth learns that her son, Sgt. John Davies, who is a prisoner of war, owes his life to his friend Sgt. Edwards.

Davies, in the Welsh Guards, was reported missing last May, and seven months later it was learned he had his right leg amputated in a hospital in enemy-occupied France. His wife, who is staying with her little son in Wales, has had letters from him saying that the French doctors tried to save his leg.

The circular reveals the heroism of Edwards, who by sticking to his friend has lost his freedom and is also a prisoner of war in Germany.

When the two were waiting to be evacuated from France, Davies said he wanted another shot at the Germans, and the two men went off together. They were not seen again. Davies received a bad leg wound and for miles Edwards carried him on his back until he found a hospital. Later it fell into German hands, and both were taken prisoner.

MacKay Resigns as President Eastern New Mexico College

Donald W. MacKay, president of Eastern New Mexico College, Portales, since the institution opened in 1934, has resigned, effective on May 31, it was announced by C. M. Compton, Jr., chairman of the board of regents.

Compton said the college is attempting to induce Dr. H. L. Kent, former president of New Mexico State College, to accept the post.

No explanation for MacKay's resignation was given, but Compton spoke of "certain alleged disagreements" and "clannishness" between college faculty members and the people of Portales.

The resignation came the day after the college had awarded its first bachelor of arts degrees to its first four-year class.

SMALL STATEMENT

Opossums are not very well developed when born. Some idea of their size at this stage is indicated by the fact that an ordinary teaspoon will accommodate a litter of eighteen newborn babes with a little room to spare. Those who may doubt the authenticity of this statement, and it has been questioned in the past, are referred to the August, 1930, issue of Nature Magazine wherein there appears just such a picture—a teaspoon containing eighteen tiny 'possums.

"Can't you stop it?" asked the frantic husband. "No, I've forgotten how." "Well, then see if you can't run into something soft and cheap."

Requirements of Naval Reserves Are Made Lower

The standard physical requirements for enlistment in the U. S. Naval Reserve have been lowered for the period of the present emergency, according to announcement by the officer in charge of the Houston Navy recruiting station. The groups affected by this change are as follows:

Aviation cadets—The minimum height has been reduced from 66 to 64 inches.

Reserve midshipment—The minimum height has been reduced from 66 to 65½ inches.

Applicants for enlisted ratings—The minimum height has been reduced from 64 to 62 inches. Well proportioned and muscular applicants will be accepted even though they do not meet the prescribed weight standards, and chest measurements will be considered satisfactory if commensurate with weight and height.

This means that several hundred applicants for enlistment in the various classes of the Naval Reserve, who have been rejected because of the former physical standards, are now eligible for enlistment and may apply for re-examination at the Navy recruiting station nearest their home.

There has been no change in the physical standards for enlistment in the Regular Navy.

Oil Interests Will Be Required to File Reports Each Month

New Mexico oil producers, transporters and refiners will be required to submit monthly reports on the origin and disposition of petroleum stocks in the interests of national defense, according to an Associated Press story from Washington.

Secretary Ickes, petroleum coordinator, announced that the reports, now required in the East Texas field, also would be submitted by the oil industry in Louisiana and other fields in Texas.

Ickes said the reports would "enable the federal government to have accurate knowledge concerning the production and refining of petroleum" produced and shipped from the affected areas. The subordinate offices of the Federal Tender Board No. 1, Kilgore, Tex., will gather the reports.

CONSULT TO CHIHUAHUA VISITS IN MYERS HOME

Mr. and Mrs. Noel Baker and daughter, Nancy Lee, have been visiting Mrs. Baker's mother, Mrs. G. C. Kinder, and Mr. Kinder.

Mr. and Mrs. George Ashley of El Paso, son-in-law and daughter of Mrs. Nellie Cogdell, arrived here Wednesday of last week for a visit. Mrs. Cogdell and niece and grandniece, Mrs. Margaret Metcalf and Joyce, accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Ashley to Ruidoso Saturday.

The Artesia party returned home Sunday evening, but Mr. and Mrs. Ashley are staying at Ruidoso until the latter part of this week.

Carey Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Thompson, who has been attending Texas Tech at Lubbock, left there this week for six weeks of intensive training at Camp Bullis, San Antonio, in conjunction with his third-year R.O.T.C. work at the college. His parents drove to Lubbock last Friday to spend the day with young Thompson, as he could not come home between the end of the school year and time to leave for camp.

Little Known Facts and Sidelights on Oil Industry

Asphalt in the Bush—

Ten million square yards of runway surface, equivalent to more than 800 miles of standard highways, are being paved in the new airports on the prairie, bush, and farm lands in Canada.

Upward of 165,000 tons of material are used in building the hard-surfaced runways for one heavy bomber field. In a mixing plant on one side of the field asphalt is blended for surfacing with 60,000 tons of aggregate, hauled from a nearby quarry. To control the moisture under the runway, the base stone is combined with other materials before being spread down the field. Watered and rolled, it provides a strong foundation for the application of asphalt and stone chips. Before the asphalt mix is applied, the base is sealed with a coat of liquid asphalt primer to prevent moisture from working up through the base.

Simplest are the fields used by the elementary flying schools—turf areas of 200 acres on which only light training planes are operated. These are at least 2,500 feet square with landing strips 2,500 feet long and 750 feet wide, which fan out in all directions.

More complicated are those for service flying schools which have living quarters for 1,000 or more men as well as hangars and shops. Specifications call for a spaced wheel of landing strips, each strip being 3,000 feet long and 1,000 feet wide to provide for the landing of five planes abreast. On each strip are two asphalt runways 100 feet wide. Other airports of 500 acres or more require landing strips 3,000 feet long with paved runways 2,500 feet long and 150 feet wide on each strip.

Free Funnies—

New York City traffic cops are getting philosophical about the chronic traffic congestion at the corner of Forty-Sixth Street and Broadway. It's the corner where comic strip fans read the funnies, but free. With only a slight elevation of the neck they see a continuous performance of animated electrical cartoons on Broadway's most sensational advertising sign which plays to a full sidewalk daily.

The idea seemed a good one to the designer, a lifelong student of the outdoor sign business, particularly when he discovered the attention-calling possibilities of transparent acrylic plastic. No designer had ever used real fountains on a Broadway sign before.

Eight large fountains enclosed in specially processed brilliantly clear tubes of this weatherproof, unbreakable material spout 2,000 gallons of water a minute to heights varying around twenty feet, while fifty-six colored lights play on myriads of multi-colored floating bubbles. Small air holes keep the plastic cylinders free from frost and a mixture of antifreeze keeps the water from freezing in cold weather. Below, a giant thirty-five foot three-dimensional bottle and a pouring effect in colored bulbs advertises the product.

Crowning glory are the animated funnies of unusual detail, which are turned into electric lights by the magic of more than 4,000 photocells. Opening show was a comic version of "Three Bears," views of American statesmen with the flag waving electrically in the background and a cartoon called "The Sport of the Month," which happened to be log-rolling.

No Bottlenecks—

Search for potential bottlenecks

in the petroleum industry has revealed that petroleum is in the best position of any basic industry to serve the nation in defense. No industry of comparable importance to defense has so few even potential bottlenecks, technologists report.

Present plans for national petroleum defense include the building of more refineries for super-aviation fuel, an increase in transportation facilities, particularly tankers, the building of more storage tanks, and provision for the safeguarding of present storage points from sabotage and possible attack.

New Angles On an Old Problem—

Oil transportation men who wage war continually on pipe-line corrosion have been awaiting the recent completion of a 10-year test of thousands of applications of different protective coatings for pipe lines throughout the country. Examination of the buried pipes reveals that many coatings vary in the amount of protection they give even under identical conditions. Not infrequently one section of a coating showed many times the conductance of another section of the same coating at the same test site.

Interesting supplement to these recently-discovered facts is a new theory resulting from research on power line deterioration conducted by the power industry in which oil companies cooperated.

Electrical researchers are inclined to believe that bacteria surviving the high temperatures used in preparing the mineral-oil impregnated paper which helps to insulate copper-wire cables may be partly responsible for deterioration. Future lines may be sterilized and contain antiseptics as well as insulating oil to combat sabotaging bacteria, it is believed.

Mrs. George Nelson underwent a major operation Friday at Artesia Memorial Hospital. She is convalescing nicely.

Hats Are a Headache, but There's A Reason for Those Wacky Styles

There's a reason for those wacky hats! Ask 800 millinery manufacturers. On second thought, don't ask them. They've got troubles of their own, what with fashions that change faster than in any other style commodity, frenzied price competition from myriads of competitors fighting for orders, retail outlets which number not more than two to a town and women customers who can spot a bargain at 100 paces.

The retailer's lot isn't a happy one, either. Millinery for him is a wild gamble. He must stock the hats that women want this month, but not stock too many of them or he will throw away his profits in mark-downs. That wild look in his eye comes from the everlasting search for "numbers" which competitors haven't stocked to sell at prices they won't undersell.

Such is the millinery business, which does an annual wholesale volume of about $100,000,000. The mortality rate among manufacturers is estimated at 26 per cent per annum! A few weeks ago a retailer was ordered to cease and desist "barking" on the sidewalk in front of the store! The hats were priced at three for $1.

Once in a while a glimmer of light appears on the headgear horizon. Merchandising based on quality and becoming style rather than price appeal, for instance. This pioneer plan, developed by a young merchandiser, for selling hats "to fit the face" had possibilities, but it had to be abandoned for another. Sad to relate, women are likely to have a keener sense of what is different than what is becoming.

All is not lost, however. The venture stimulated others, more successful. The inventory-control system, for instance, developed by a leading hat house. For precision and value it is said to be without parallel in the industry. It consists of issuing a limited number of models each season and of carefully checking their selling record. A balanced stock is maintained constantly at retail outlets, all but eliminating the necessity for mark-downs. Another manufacturer has created a selling "identity" for his models through the simplicity and character of their design.

Changes in the hat manufacturing and selling set-up have been rapid in recent years. Swiftly-changing styles have made merchandising more and more a question of scientific management. Many retailers have turned their millinery departments over to outsiders in return for a certain guaranteed income. The outsiders are syndicates—millinery chains in disguise, running departments leased in independent stores. Their success lies in increased buying power, wider experience and proximity to style sources and manufacturing centers. According to the Labor Department's estimate, 38 per cent of manufacturers' sales are now made to syndicates or to chains.

Retailers go and syndicates come, but style goes on forever. Today it's more important than ever, now that the world's fashion center has shifted from Paris to New York. Style, milliners say, is something in the news, something in people's emotions that makes them read "Gone With the Wind" one year and "The Grapes of Wrath" the next. A... something in the minds of a handful of designers. Every year some style is successful. Who the lucky manufacturer will be, none knows. But the American women decide.

CLOWE SPEAKS TODAY TO AMARILLO ROTARY

D. I. Clowe, secretary of the Artesia Rotary Club, is to address the Amarillo Rotary Club today on his now quite famous speech, "We Live in America."

The Amarillo club's weekly bulletin, "Wheels," in announcing the program for today, said in part, "Mr. Clowe is to New Mexico Rotary what Jeff Williams is to Oklahoma. Their 'sidelines' and hobbies are furthering the interest of Rotary and their country through bringing their messages to the attention of other clubs. Jeff specializes in humor; Die, as we understand, veers more to the serious side and has as his theme 'Americanism.'"

Bought from her noble French family by the wealthy Russian prince. In the second chapter of her intensely interesting memories of vanished European society, Princess Amelle Karapow tells of her life in an old-style Russian palace, how the prince regarded her no more than a dog, sometimes grew tender with her when drunk, and killed a servant when he felt like it. 6 CARS DIED IN OVERHEATED DEATH VALLEY TO PROVE THAT YOURS CAN LIVE LONG

New Oil a Life-Giver.
5-quart fill—None Added
—Lasted 13,398 Miles
More than Twice the mileage averaged by 5 other big-name oils in fiendish Destruction Test... Impartial... CERTIFIED THIRST killed gold-feverish Forty-Niners in Death Valley. You can stand there today on our Hemisphere's bottom, 279 feet below sea level. And some of the worst heat on U.S. Weather Bureau records will be drying you up.

... America's hotspot! ... where 6 identical everyday cars scorched along, testing 6 different motor oils, till 6 new engines were junk. Every condition was the same for all. Qualified authorities eyed every move. Speed: 57 miles an hour for all. The Referee had bought 5 of the oils right off the market; millions know their names well. The other oil was decidedly new. And this new oil that authentically delivered more than twice the mileage averaged by the others is named

CONOCO Nth MOTOR OIL
—Now on Sale here for Your Car

How could one fill of this popular-priced Conoco Nth oil keep lasting—without one added drop—for an official total of 13,398.8 miles? How could IMPARTIAL The 6 new cars were broken-in alike, after engines had been taken apart for the Referee, to check uniformity. All cars tuned alike. Same desert route for all. Handling evened up by alternating drivers. One 5-quart fill per car and no more ... engines under lock.

Conoco Nth oil outlast them all by 5,683 miles or more, even outlasting one "rival" by 8,268 miles! ... Certified.

New SYNTHETIC in Conoco Nth

You know of vitamin synthetics... man-made... replacing Nature's life-givers sacrificed in some modern food processing. Similarly, the latest refining methods steal life-giving elements from motor oils. But more than making up for that today—in popular-priced Conoco Nth oil—is Thialkene inhibitor... man-made. (Conoco Patent 2,218,132.) It inhibits or checks the effect of foul leftovers created by the normal engine explosions. Thus Conoco Nth stays more like its own good self... helps the engine keep fit—good way to save quarts.

A triumph matching Conoco OIL-PLATING
Another wondrous synthetic—long in use under the famed Germ Processed oil patent—still makes Nth oil give your engine OIL-PLATING... lubricant that can't all quickly drain down from inner parts. Instead, it's able to stay plated up... on guard against wear in advance, while you're using Conoco Nth oil. In addition you get the latest life-giving aid that foiled Death Valley... that eclipsed other oils tested... that made one 5-quart fill of new Conoco Nth oil last 13,398 miles. Certified.

That's like a mad extreme—beyond the utmost allowed by authorities on the subject. You'd never make your own car stand such proving-ground torture. But you want as wide a margin of engine protection and oil economy as your money will buy this Summer, and Conoco Nth has nailed up plain evidence. Ask today for Conoco Nth at Your Mileage Merchant's Conoco station. Continental Oil Company—Pioneers in Bettering America's oil with Synthetics

CERTIFIED
I hereby certify that the Death Valley Test and related work were thoroughly and fairly conducted. Engine Destruction occurred in each case at the mileage stated.

From Near and Far, Some Timely, Some of Human Interest

Colgate University's Director of Athletics William A. Reid, anticipating higher taxes next year, figured he'd saved $200 by trading in his old car, but it cost him $200 to enlarge his garage. The new car was too long.

At Fort Riley, Kas., Private Donald T. Jones is convinced the cavalry wasn't built for him. The Independence, Kas., selectee's trouble began when he was issued size 5 shoes, smallest in stock. He wears 2 1/2 D. Later he received field boots for mounted duty. The size was 5. Jones keeps the army shoes under his bunk, but wears his own. Footgear to fit him has been ordered. He attempted to drive a scout car. Two pillows in the seat were required so he could reach the pedals. He stands five feet 2 1/2 inches and weighs 107 pounds.

The situation at two Los Angeles egg plants is somewhat scrambled. It all began at Acme Egg Company plant, where the CIO sought a labor contract. The AFL got it. At Kahn Bros. Egg House, the AFL wanted a contract. The CIO got it. So the CIO began picketing Acme. AFL pickets began marching back and forth at Kahns. No strike is involved.

Called for induction into the Army, Harold Doto of Radford, Va., received a traveling bag and other gifts at farewell parties given by fellow office employees of the plant where he worked. Two days later he was back at work; the Army found he was underweight. The office force was glad to have Doto back and entertained again in his honor—at a homecoming party.

A Pueblo Indian seeking aid in filling out his questionnaire told the draft board he once had frozen his feet. "Very badly?" asked the interviewer. "No, just a little." "Do you think you should be placed in class 1A?" "No," was the reply. "I've got two artificial feet."

George C. Schmidt, supervisor of a Penn State defense training engineering course, says a student baffled by a drafting course quiz

Caverns Experience Smallest Day, But the Largest May in History

Although the Carlsbad Caverns experienced the smallest number of travelers one day in May in many years, when only one family of four viewed the world's greatest wonder, the total for the month gave these answers: Question 7: "If I could remember the formula, I could answer this one easily." Question 8: "I left my textbook home, or this one would be a pipe." Question 9: "I never could do mathematics." The final problem: "Oh, . . . I'll never be a draftsman."

"How would you distinguish a brigadier general?" the inspecting officer asked a private in the 43rd Division at Camp Blanding, Fla. "By two stars," replied the private, doubling the proper number and giving a major general's insignia. The officer looked askance, but before he could say anything, the private quickly added: "One on each shoulder."

The National Railway Board has advised all rail operators in Argentina to burn a mixture of 60 per cent coal to 40 per cent corn to meet two serious economic problems. One is the shortage of coal, usually bought in Great Britain, and the other the enormous carry-over and overproduction of corn with no visible markets abroad.

It took Philadelphia firemen to retrieve Policeman George Dougherty who had retrieved Mrs. Daniel F. Fairbanks' retriever, "Rowdy," from a storm sewer. Dougherty went to the rescue when the cocker spaniel darted into the open sewer to get a ball which some boys had tossed. The pit was eleven feet deep, and after the officer handed up the dog, he had to ask for firemen to lower a ladder so he could get out.

A landoffice business by merchants saved "Straw Hat Day" from a complete washout in Lewistown, Idaho. The parade was rained out. The mayor forgot to show up for a straw hat coronation. A machine broke down while freezing a straw hat in a cake of ice for a guessing contest. But it was a great day for umbrella sales.

Something happened in Milwaukee the other day, which could occur but once in five quadrillion times. A woman injured in an accident telephoned her physician at Marquette 4442. Then she called her attorney at Marquette 4443.

far surpassed any previous May and for the fifth consecutive month showed a great increase over the corresponding month in any year, according to a press memo released by Col. Thomas

Next she called an insurance company physician—Marquette 4444. The offices of the three people called were at different locations. A Milwaukee mathematician estimated that the chance of selecting three Milwaukee telephone numbers at random and finding them in sequence was about one in 4,911,526,198,260,000.

An excited voice phoned the fire department at Los Angeles that the Memorial Coliseum was afire with "flames leaping 100 feet in the air." Six trucks roared out—and back to their stations. The fire was atop the peristyle, the flickering flame of the Olympic torch, lighted for the 1932 Olympiad and relighted for youth preparedness week.

Uncle Sam is going for a $525 bus ride. Postmaster Clark Wallace of Compton, Calif., said the Post Office Department had agreed to pay for the estimated 10,500 rides Compton postmen take each year on local buses in making their rounds. The carriers have been riding free but starting July 1 it will be, "Fare, please," for the men who deliver the mail.

The only electric traffic signal at Belleville, Ill., was designed to direct traffic only—and, well, that's all. But when it went out of order and tied up traffic, workers opened the slotted, green-painted control box and discovered six postal cards and a letter deposited therein. They were removed and put in a mail box a few feet away and the traffic signal resumed operation unaided.

At Salt Lake City Ira Stormes was a one-man convention. He presided at the annual encampment, nominated and then elected himself Utah department commander of the Grand Army of the Republic. The 95-year-old Civil War veteran is the only surviving member of the Utah G.A.R.

At Trent, Ore., someone must have liked the Community Church sermon especially well. Among nickels and dimes in collection plates was a $100 bill. If it was dropped in by mistake, the claimant will have to take an oath that it was his.

Boles, superintendent. On Friday, May 23, things went on as usual at the Caverns, as the party of four visitors was escorted through, but flood prevented other tourists from making the trip, being marooned. The family, which was staying in Carlsbad, left for the cave early in the morning of May 23, shortly before the second and more disastrous flash flood hit the Cavern City.

Total for the month was 25,376 visitors, compared with 21,335 in May a year ago. The visitors came from all of the United States except Delaware, Alaska, District of Columbia, Hawaii and twenty-five foreign countries. Texas led the parade with 7,522.

Included in the May list of visitors were thirty-nine seniors of Sterling (Okla.) High School, who a few weeks ago agreed to sacrifice the trip and gave funds saved for it in an attempt to save a classmate's life, by an operation.

Carlsbad business men stepped in and agreed to foot the bill for the trip. The seniors arrived a few hours before Carlsbad was struck by floods that left 1,400 homeless. Quartered at a school, the youths graciously waited out the floods and Saturday, May 24, made the trip through the famous underground wonderland.

With the class was Mrs. Alice Newby, for whose son the class trip funds provided hospital care until his death of appendicitis.

News Briefs of the "Sunshine State," Gleaned from Many Sources

Gov. John E. Miles, who has commissioned many an honorary colonel, has declined to become a Massachusetts commodore. The honor, he was advised, would be his if he attended the Maritime Day celebrations at Boston June 29.

The Santa Fe Railway has added 100 men at its shops in Albuquerque, boosting the number employed to 970, largest in twenty-five years. Supt. G. R. Miller estimated the increase would add $12,000 monthly to payrolls. Booming freight business, stimulated by national defense production, and preparations for the grain harvest were given as reasons for the increase.

An excursion of seventy-three boys and girls from the Albuquerque Indian School set out last week on a two-week sightseeing tour of the Mexican capital and other cities. The group arrived by buses and will visit various Mexican points of interest. They will present a program of Indian dances on June 7.

A group of National Park Service officials visited White Sands National Monument last week and went over plans for future development of the recreational area. Attendance at the sands this year was said to be up 46 per cent from the same period of 1940.

Contracts were awarded by the state highway commission last week to low bidders on four road projects, including surface repair and seal-coating on forty-five miles on U. S. 66 west of Albuquerque. Sanders Brothers of Santa Fe got the U. S. job with a bid of $67,369.50. The second largest job, landscaping and construction of scenic turnouts on thirty miles of U. S. 64 between Velarde and Taos, went to Walter L. Denison of Las Vegas, with a bid of $51,012.40. Brown Brothers, Albuquerque, bid $46,767.75 for grading and draining 11.5 miles of State 68 between Gallup and Window Rock, and E. M. Silver, Albuquerque, $8,535.62 for building a timber bridge on State 65 in Las Vegas.

An extension of 1,920 acres in the Mount Sedgwick game refuge, eighty miles southwest of Grants, was announced by Cibola National Forest officials.

Add to the benefits to the state of the recent oil price hike—$10,000 in the purchase of road oil. Wilbur Rhea, Highway Department purchasing agent, said that the opening of bids on 400 carloads of road oil a few days before the price advance went into effect saved the state more than $10,000. Even so, the state will pay approximately 17 cents more than the average $2.50 a barrel price of last year, Rhea said, due to earlier advances in the price. The state has purchased seventeen cars from the Petro Company of California and seven cars from Talco in Texas under the terms of the new bids. Purchases during the year, Rhea said, will be made from qualified companies which can ship to the point of use at the lowest price.

A fellow attired in khaki walked up to Colonel Thomas Boles, big boss at Carlsbad Caverns. "My name is Thomas Boles," said the Army man. "You don't say?" said the colonel. "Uhm," said the soldier. "I hear you travel by that monicker yourself." "Yes, I do," the colonel said. "Well, we'll have to get together on this," said the khaki-clad man, "or else we'll be getting all mixed up." "Have you got a title?" asked the colonel. "Sure. You can call me Sergeant," said the sergeant. "Just call me Colonel," said the colonel.

A "Believe It or Not" item from The Roy Record: Fifteen years ago George Ray while making a round of his ranch holdings lost a diamond ring valued at $1,200. He and his workers spent many hours looking for the ring, but without success. A few days ago he was sitting in his car awaiting the arrival of a ranch holder who was looking over the property. He cast an eye to the ground, saw a sparkle of unusual brilliance, stepped from his car to see what it was and lo and behold there was his diamond ring.

District Judge Bryan G. Johnson adjourned his court to a hospital room in Albuquerque to hear a case in which Jerome E. Lassiter sought a divorce from Carol D. Lassiter. Doctors had informed the judge that Lassiter, seriously ill, would not be able to attend court for some time. The divorce was granted.

Re-opening of a road project at Silver Springs is expected to provide a gravel highway this summer between Cloudcroft and Mesacalero. Twenty men are employed on the re-opened project.

Summer arrived twenty-one days ahead of time at the Albuquerque Air Base—by official Army orders. Beginning Monday soldiers at the post began wearing cotton summer uniforms, discarding their O. D. woollens.

Federal officials are undertaking wildlife restoration surveys on New Mexico's two Apache reservations, the Jicarilla and Mescalero. State Game Warden Elliott Barker said. Both reservations have reported a shortage of game, which once formed a large portion of the Indian diet.

An automobile bogged in the middle of rain-made lake was the birthplace of a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Brown of Bledsoe, near Lovington. The Browns left their home Saturday night, May 24, for the Lovington hospital. Because torrential rains had made roads almost impassable, eleven men and two women accompanied the couple. The men pushed the Brown car and at times picked it up bodily to put it over a bog. At 5:30 o'clock Sunday morning, with the party halted in the middle of a small lake, the baby was born, with one of the neighbor women ministering to Mrs. Brown.

Fed by heavy rains and melting snows in the mountains, water in the Conchas Dam reservoir was pouring over the crest of the main dam spillway May 29 for the first time since the project was completed. With a reservoir area of twenty-six square miles, the water banked 151 feet deep at the dam, with a total capacity of 400,000 acre feet of water in the reservoir. Harold Mutch, resident engineer with the Bureau of Reclamation, said 300,000 acre feet of

Dedication of Mother's Day Church, Iglesia Metodista

Here is part of the crowd which attended the dedication of Mother's Day Church, Iglesia Metodista, on May 11.

Attending the ceremonies at the church, which is in the Spanish-American settlement of La Loma at the north edge of Artesia, were a number of Anglos, including the pastors of three of the Anglo churches in Artesia.

Sixth from the right in the picture is the Rev. Constantino Gonzalez, pastor of the Spanish-American church, through whose efforts and enthusiasm the church was built.

The cornerstone was laid on Mother's Day, 1939, and the dedication was on Mother's Day, 1941, just two years later, hence the designation, Mother's Day Church.

this amount was available for irrigation, which is sufficient for three years' irrigation purpose assuming the project was under full development. Water storage in the reservoir began in December, 1939. Storage during the first two years netted only 100,000 acre feet of water, compared with 300,000 acre feet which poured into the reservoir in the last three months. The Conchas dam lake will be opened for fishing July 1.

New Mexico's part in national defense "will be largely economic" because of its relatively few military projects, says Col. George M. Bull, field agent for the federal division of state and local cooperation. "All available natural resources should be developed and sub-marginal ore deposits, which couldn't be worked profitably in normal times, should be prospected and cataloged for possible emergency exploitation," said the colonel.

The total New Mexico cash farm income, including government payments in 1940, was $59,592,000, or 10 per cent above that in 1939. The cash income from livestock and livestock products of $40,723,000 showed a 16 per cent increase over 1939. There was a slight decrease in income from grains, but this was more than offset by a 24 per cent increase in income from cotton. Livestock was the most important source of farm income for the state, accounting for over two-thirds of the total for 1940. Income from this source has shown a regular increase for the past three years. In 1938 the grand total of cash farm income in New Mexico was $51,525,000. In 1939 it was $54,108,000 and, as shown above, in 1940 it was $59,592,000.

The largest cotton crop since 1937 was recorded in New Mexico last year, the Department of Agriculture reported. Revised figures placed the 1940 crop at 110,000 acres with an abandonment of 3,000 acres and a production of 128,000 bales of 500 pounds each. A

HIGH FINANCE

A man walked into a bank and asked for a loan of $10. The cautious teller asked him what collateral he had, and the man produced ten ten-thousand-dollar bonds. The clerk said, "What's the idea of this, asking for a $10 loan with all this money?" "Well, you see," he replied, "if I rented a safe deposit box in which to carry those bonds it would cost $3 per year. As collateral you keep them in a safe place for me, and the cost is only 60 cents."

JUNE OIL ALLOWABLE IS SET AT 113,000 BARRELS

New Mexico's oil production allowable for June has been set at 113,000 barrels daily, conforming to the Bureau of Mines' recommendation, the oil conservation commission announced. The May allowable was 114,000 barrels, 1,000 more than the bureau figure.

Sands of Time

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

(From The Advocate Files for June 3, 1926)

Approximately ninety-five gallons of good, bad and indifferent booze went to the ants and the elements Monday afternoon, when officers proceeded to pour out the accumulation in the deputy sheriff's office. Carrie Nation's hatchet, which wrought so much havoc in the olden days, was again dexterously wielded by J. C. Floore, who sent the bottles to their respective happy hunting grounds.

Total precipitation from rains of the last week amounted to 1.75 inches.

A tentative paving program, calling for the paving of twenty-three blocks in Artesia's business and residence districts, soon will be submitted in a paving provision.

Pilot on Airline Gives Automobile Code for Driving

Captain M. D. Ator, pilot for one of the passenger airlines, when talking recently with Tom Harmon, the all-American football player, outlined this automobile driving code, taking into consideration his experience both in the air and also in driving cars:

Go easy on the speed. Don't try to show off or save a few minutes by stepping on the gas.

Watch the signals. In flying we get them over the radio and follow them to the letter. On the ground you've got to be alert for stop signs and slow signals.

Keep in trim. Your physical condition has a lot to do with reactions and quickness of response. Be fair and courteous to the other fellow. He's part of your driving picture.

Watch the condition of your car. Brakes, steering mechanism and lights are especially important. Take no chances. It doesn't take brains to take chances, so why not stop in time and avoid trouble.

Never think you're a perfect driver. Study your driving habits. Work steadily to improve your weakness.

Quartet to Sing at Nazarene Church

A male quartet from Pasadena (Calif.) College will be at the Church of the Nazarene Sunday evening, when they will present a song service, the Rev. Lee P. Phillips, pastor, announced this week.

The group, in charge of Dr. J. Proctor Knott, is one of several from the college which is touring the California educational zone of the church, of which the New Mexico district is a part.

The pastor said there will be no preaching, but that the evening services will be turned over to the quartet and Dr. Knott.

The group will be at Roswell Sunday morning and at Hagerman in the afternoon, coming here from there.

Year's Rainfall—

(Continued from page 1) have been considerable property loss in the north part of Artesia. Although sufficient water came down the Rio Penasco to fill to overflowing the retard dam at Hope, there has been no great head reported in that quarter at any time.

In the general rains over the mountain areas, the greater precipitation during May was in the Guadalupe to the south and the White and Capitan Mountains to the north, with the Sacramento Mountains receiving much less precipitation.

Principal damage in Artesia due to the heavy rains was to the blacktop streets, which stood up well considering the continued downpours. Some of the older streets were damaged somewhat, but the greater amount of damage was at places where repairs had been made or crossing intersection dips had been built, the continued water preventing the old and new blacktop from vulcanizing properly, hence leading to chipping of the new work. Repairs are being made as rapidly as possible.

Another trick the water played in Artesia was to prevent the orderly disposal of garbage, it being impossible to get within two miles of the garbage ground north of the city. However, temporary disposal was made west of town.

May, 1941, probably will go down in history as the wettest month ever known here and in Southeast New Mexico.

Getting Ready—

(Continued from page 1) the band will be in the big school bus of Jim Ferguson, from which the members first will pile out at Hope for a short concert.

A stop will be made at Duncan in the morning and at Pinon at noon for a barbecue lunch, in charge of "Chuck" Gage. Weed will be the next stop, and then Cloudercroft for the night.

The first stop Thursday morning will be at Wimsatt's Store and from there the good-willers will go to Mayhill, where there will be another barbecue lunch. The caravan will break up at Elk.

Final arrangements for the trip were made last week, when Arba Green and George Price drove over the route and met with local people. They said they met with a good reception everywhere and that the mountain people seemed anxious for the Artesia and Hope people to visit them.

Daniel Gives Key That Unlocks Secret of Hitler's Great Power

(In the more recent of two installments of an article by J. R. Miller of Artesia and El Paso, in which by means of the Bible he points out how present-day forecasts were made 2,500 years ago, he told of the great "living creatures" lifting themselves up from the earth—airplanes. In conclusion, Mr. Miller told how Daniel foretold Hitler. He continues.)

Isaiah saw the plane and made it known unto us by the statement, "Who are these that fly as a cloud and as the doves to their windows?" The dove is one of the swiftest birds on the wing and the prophet foreknew the speed of the plane.

Daniel looked 2,500 years through the vicissitudes of time and foretold the Greeks just what is happening in their nation today. In speaking directly to "Greece" he stated: "And in the latter time of their kingdom (referring to the future kings of Greece), when the transgressors are come to the full, a king of fierce countenance, and understanding dark sentences, shall stand up."

History fails to record a Nero, Titus or Nebuchadnezzar that compares with the transgressor, Hitler. Nowhere in history is found such a soulless beast as Hitler. A beast in the form of a man that will frighten children and their heart-broken mothers in order that he may stempede them like dumb cattle, was never known before. After the mothers and children are driven into the streets and mud-clogged highways, their bodies are blown into bits that he may so frighten the civil population until they will so completely choke their highways, making it impossible for their soldiers to defend the homes from which their wives and children were driven. Yes, this is the man that Daniel foretold "Greece" would arise in the latter days, one of "fierce countenance, and understanding dark sentences."

I believe an eternal God will hold just as guilty as Hitler the Nazi propagandists, Charles and Ann Lindbergh, and their deceived followers. Like Pharaoh, Hitler was brought up for a specific purpose. The scripture informs us that God hardened Pharaoh's heart in order to demonstrate the power of God; but woe to such a man. One year ago we stated Hitler was given power in order to chastize the United States, Germany, England, France and the nations of the world for every known sin, unbelief and open rebellion against God.

Daniel gives us the key that unlocks the secret of Hitler's power, and reveals the truth of the statement we have just made. "And his power shall be mighty, but not by his own power; he shall destroy wonderfully, and shall prosper, and practice, and shall destroy the mighty and holy people." To my mind, one of the most pungent and all important statements that was ever addressed to a people is the statement, "but not by his own power." This is positive evidence that God is using Hitler with which to chastise a wicked and godless world.

As foretold by the prophet, "The fourth beast shall be the fourth kingdom upon the earth (Daniel has reference here to four great beasts he saw come up out of the great sea, Mediterranean; and when the vision was made known unto him, the four beasts represented four great kings that would arise in the 'latter' days), which shall be diverse from all kingdoms, and shall devour the whole earth, and shall tread it down, and brake it in pieces."

A year ago we stated in published articles that some of the greatest naval battles the world ever witnessed would soon be fought in the Mediterranean Sea, and at that time it was peaceful and the storm was on the Baltic. We knew it was coming by Daniel's statement: "I saw in my vision by night, and behold, the four winds of the heavens strove upon the great sea." Note the statement, "four winds," which means destruction on the great sea. Study your Bible carefully and you will find the positive proof that the "great sea" had reference to the Mediterranean. You will recall that the four great beasts were "diverse one from another," and foretold the coming of Nazism, Fascism, Communism and Imperialism, which represented Germany, Italy, Russia and England, respectively.

We further stated, a year ago, "England will be destroyed as an empire. Mussolini is in the war the same as any other belligerent, but is waiting for the kill, and when the nations have fought to the death he will come in for the kill, and his part of the spoils. We are as sure to go into this war as it is an astronomical fact that nowhere on the earth do we find a morning star shining. Yes, Daniel foretold us of the destruction we have witnessed since 1914, and make no mistake, this is the fight to the death." (To be continued)

Auxiliary—

Charles Morgan, New Mexico department commander of the Legion, installed the officers of the men's organization, who, besides McAnally, were: First vice commander, Howard Whitson; second vice commander, Irvin Martin; third vice commander, J. L. Briscoe; historian, A. L. Bert; chaplain, C. N. Calmes; sergeant-at-arms, Gail D. Woodside; finance officer, S. O. Pottorff.

Howard Whitson presented a past commander's button to Steve Lanning, who was completing two years as commander, in behalf of the post. He also pointed out the accomplishments of the outgoing commander and the post under his leadership.

Lanning, in accepting the button, stressed that the coming year may be a hard one for McAnally and the other officers and the members, for it may be a trying year in which the Legion will be looked to for leadership.

McAnally spoke along similar lines and asked the continued cooperation of the membership. He named as his appointive officers the Rev. Allen Johnson as adjutant and Frank Smith as service officer. Standing committees will be named at the next meeting he said.
