Lions Will Sponsor Two-Night Boxing Show Here July 22-23

Will Be at Morris Field, First Outdoor Tourney Ever Staged in Artesia—Joe Greeno Will Direct Show for Club.

IS ONE OF A SERIES

Carlsbad, Roswell Also Plan Fight Cards—Fine Scrappers Sign Up.

Members of the Artesia Lions Club are looking forward with considerable enthusiasm to the first outdoor boxing tournament ever held in Artesia, to be sponsored by the club at Morris Field Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, July 22-23, for all indications at this distance point to a more successful endeavor than was the Lions tournament last spring.

Joe Greeno, who will direct the tournament for the Lions, is receiving entries every day and already has assurances from Carlsbad, Hobbs, Jal, Roswell, Lake Arthur and Hope that scrappers will be here to fight in either class "A" or class "B."

And Greeno's own team, made up largely of boys who have had tournament experience, is looking mighty fine, as the past champions and novices work out for the two-day card.

Greeno said his team looks better than ever before, with a number of his boys well trained and with considerable experience behind them.

Fourth Is Quiet In Artesia, Many Going to the Hills

No Serious Accidents Close—Two Die in Mountain Plane Crash

The Fourth passed relatively quietly in Artesia, on which day the city nearly was deserted, as hundreds of local people went to the mountains. Many stayed through Saturday and Sunday, for a three-day holiday.

Most popular place for Artesia residents was Ruidoso, where dozens of families helped fill the White Mountain resort to overflowing. Throngs from many localities in New Mexico, as well as thousands from Texas were there, some attending the rodeo in the afternoon, while others rested and enjoyed the mountains.

Many from Artesia went to Clouderoft and other places in the Sacramento Mountains, while dozens more fished at Lake McMillan, Millan.

Accidents in this section were at a minimum, although there were a few people hurt in traffic mishaps.

The only deaths were in the Mesalero Indian reservation about five miles west of Ruidoso, where two Odessa men, Lamond A. Miller, 22, and his father, T. L. Miller, 50, lost their lives in an airplane crash. It was believed the men, who fueled up at Carlsbad and were going to Ruidoso to visit a sister and daughter, were caught in a downdraft between peaks as they sought to clear the mountains and circle for a landing, probably.

Bear Reported Seen Near Town of Weed In the Sacramentos

Bear are being reported in the Sacramento Mountains near Weed, something unusual there for a number of years, although bear are found and hunted in the White and Capitan Mountains not many miles north.

The Penasco Valley News, of Hope said last week that some of the Weed citizens were considerably excited a few days prior when a bear was seen crossing a field just west of the village.

However, The News continued, "it is reported that others of the Bruin family have been seen meandering around through the forest."

BOYS AND GIRLS PLAY ON FRIDAYS

Attendance at the weekly play period last week sponsored by the Junior Woman's Club was cut somewhat, as the day was set up to Thursday from Friday, the latter day being the Fourth of July. However, more than fifty boys and girls from primary age to 12 years were present.

The week prior more than eighty youngsters had a morning of fun at the high school and municipal swimming pool, all of whom were given a refreshing drink during a rest period.

Several local organizations have come forth with an offer to furnish drinks for one of the play periods, and the Junior Woman's Club is asking that any organization interested in helping out, furnish the refreshments for one play-day.

Now with the Fourth out of the way, the regular play periods will be from 8:30 to 11 o'clock each Friday morning during the summer months. All children up to 12 years are invited.

Three Hundred Gas Employees Attend Outing

More than 300 persons, employees of the Southern Union Service Company and their families, enjoyed a three-day outing and picnic at Black River Village from the Fourth of July through Sunday.

Included were employees from Pecos Valley cities of the New Mexico Eastern Gas Company, a member of the Southern Union, and their families, all of whom were able to attend at least part of the time, by taking turns on duty.

Locals Named In Streamlined Defense Group

Mayor Carper, Charles Morgan and Mrs. Ben Pior Represent Artesia in New National Council Set-up.

Major G. D. Macy, coordinator of the New Mexico State Council of National Defense, this week announced the members of the council named in the recent streamlining process, formed in pursuance to the desires of Director General La Guardia.

The list includes members from all of the principal municipalities, including Artesia. Appointed from Artesia were Emery Carper, mayor, and head of the Carper Drilling Company; Charles Morgan, superintendent of the Continental Oil Company refinery here, national executive committee member from New Mexico of the American Legion and major in the State Guard, and Mrs. Ben Pior, past department president of the American Legion Auxiliary.

The new streamlined council replaces the former set-up, whereby boards in various divisions were scattered over the state. The new form simplified the set-up, centralizing boards in each county and municipality and is believed to be a step towards efficiency.

The executive committee, headed by Gov. John E. Miles as executive chairman, has also the following members:

Lt. Col. H. P. Saunders, Jr., Roswell, executive vice chairman; Brig. Gen. R. C. Charlton, Santa

Meter Deposits For Water Use Will Be Raised

A city ordinance passed last week by the council provides for raising the water meter deposits from $3, which has maintained heretofore.

Residence meter deposits, according to the ordinance, publication of which is being made in this issue, are being raised from $3 to $6. Deposits for business and industrial outlets with service connections are to be fixed by the city manager or the city clerk, based on the anticipated use. Members of the council said it has been found in a number of cases, particularly in business and industrial uses, that the deposit is not large enough to cover the amount of water usually used.

It was pointed out that meter deposits at other places in the Pecos Valley mostly are $10 and up.

According to the new ordinance, present deposits will suffice, provided water bills do not become delinquent. In such case, the amount of delinquency will be taken from the deposit and service will be discontinued until a new deposit is made in compliance with the new ordinance.

Fall Is Fatal To A. C. Bush At Loco Hills

Former Newspaperman, 67, Fractures Skull Saturday Noon—Body Is Taken to Fulton, Mo., for Rites and Burial.

A. C. Bush, 67, switcher on the Continental Oil Company-Martin Yates, Jr., lease in the Loco Hills pool, formerly a prominent Missouri newspaperman, sustained a fatal skull injury when he fell at his home on the lease about 12:15 o'clock Saturday afternoon, shortly after he returned home from Artesia. He was dead when help reached him.

The cause of his death was determined in an autopsy performed by two local physicians, who found his skull was fractured. Mr. Bush, who was taking some bundles purchased in town to his house, fell at the porch. Louis and Ralph Bellew and George Powell, who were working near by, picked him up and carried him (Continued on last page, col. 3)

Chief Richards Is Artesia Defense Fire Coordinator

Mayor Carper Issues Proclamation, Orders Auxiliary Corps Formed

Emery Carper, mayor of Artesia, on Wednesday designated Albert Richards, chief of the fire department, as fire defense coordinator for the city and directed him to immediately establish a fire auxiliary corps to function under his immediate supervision.

Designation of Richards as fire defense coordinator was made in an emergency proclamation, carrying out the desire of President Roosevelt in order to have a coordinated national defense, able to cope with any emergency which might arise.

In the proclamation, Mayor Carper said that all department heads of the city of Artesia shall send to the chief lists containing the names, ages, addresses and telephone numbers of all male employees of the city government who have volunteered for the auxiliary fire corps and who are not of military age or who have been or are likely to be rejected physically for military duty.

The lists are to be made in duplicate and filed with the fire defense coordinator not later than 9 o'clock next Tuesday morning. Such employees and enrollees certified to the fire defense coordinator will constitute the basis of the fire department auxiliary corps for Artesia, the proclamation said.

Mayor Carper said they will be subject to call for training or duty in accordance with regulations to be established.

He said it shall be the obligation of every citizen, employer and department of city government to give unqualified cooperation and assistance to Richards in discharging the duties of his office.

Barham Says to Discount Report Of Grasshoppers

Fred A. Barham, Eddy County agent, said Wednesday reports of bad grasshopper infestations in the county are unfounded and can be discounted.

He and John F. Brandenburg, Albuquerque, of the Bureau of Entomology made an inspection tour yesterday and found that all infestations are of native hoppers.

No great damage was found, he said, and the hoppers are feeding mostly on the ranges.

Even though infestation might look heavy in some places, Barham said, he does not think it will be necessary to go to the expense of poison.

However, if anyone does wish to use poison for grasshoppers, Barham suggested the following formula: 100 pounds bran, 300 pounds or about three times the amount of bran in volume of sawdust, two gallons of sodium arsenate and 12 to 13 gallons of water. The liquid consistency should be such that when the mixture is squeezed in the hand, only a few drops will come out.

Barham said to scatter the mixture thinly, about twenty-five pounds to the acre, so livestock cannot pick it up.

Ann Crouch Listed Division Winner in The School Musician

The School Musician, a national publication, in a recent number listed Ann Crouch of Artesia as a first division winner in baton twirling in the Texas district, as winners in all school music contests in the United States were given.

Miss Crouch won the honor, to add to many previous honors, at Waco, Tex., in May in a contest sponsored by the National Music Association.

Wellington McNett of Tahlequah, Okla., brother of George McNett of Artesia, was listed as a first division winner in baton twirling in the Oklahoma district. He is the young man who was visiting here two years ago at the time of the good-will trip to the mountains and twirled with the Artesia band. Both he and Miss Crouch are from region No. 6.

Qualifying for Annual City Golf Champ Tourney

Qualifying rounds for the annual city golf championship tournament started on the Fourth and are to be in by Friday evening of next week, at which time the medalist will be announced and matchings for the various flights will be made.

Tournament play will start Sunday, July 20, and the championship matches are to be played by Sunday, Aug. 17, allowing a week for each match.

There will be sixteen players in each flight and there will be flights for everyone, it was announced. Those who are qualifying for the championship flight must play thirty-six holes, whereas eighteen holes will suffice for all other flights.

Henry Bailey, former Artesia Golf Club pro, who left the first of April to be the pro at the Roswell Country Club, is to return here in his old capacity Monday.

Paul Bugg, who has been serving as course manager since Bailey went to Roswell, has resigned.

Two and Half Inches Rain in Sunday Deluge

City Plunged into Darkness as Wind Whips Into Trees—Water Over Gutters and Floods Some Buildings.

As though the heavy rains and floods of May and the fact that it can rain in New Mexico otherwise might be forgotten, the heavens opened Sunday evening and poured forth 2.50 inches of water on Artesia in an hour and a half, according to the New Mexico Eastern Gas Company gauge, flooding streets and some buildings and stalling automobiles.

A high wind accompanying the rain blew wires of the Southwestern Public Service Company against wet limbs in trees at three different places, burning through and plunging the city into darkness, in some sections for an hour and ten minutes.

Principal trouble was from wires strung through a tree adjacent to the company plant on South First Street, during the repair of which all city circuits had to be (Continued on last page, col. 5)

Tourist Travel in Carlsbad Caverns Sets New Record

Boles Tells Advocate First July Week 3,000 Over Year Ago

Record-breaking tourist travel is now in full swing at the Carlsbad Caverns, according to Colonel Thomas Boles, who visited the office of The Advocate Tuesday. More than 14,000 tourists saw the Carlsbad Caverns during the first week of July, an increase of nearly 3,000 tourists over the first week of last July, he said.

On July Fourth there were 2,766 tourists in the cavern; on the fifth there were 3,707, and on the sixth there were 2,101, making a total of 8,574 tourists in three days.

The 3,707 on Saturday, July 5, lacked but sixty-four of equalling the record of 3,771 set three years ago on July Fourth, but that day's record included a night trip of 300 persons who had attended the Carlsbad rodeo in the afternoon, whereas on last Saturday the entire 3,707 were in the cavern at one time, handled in four separate groups.

Four trips are now available each day, the first starting at 8 o'clock in the morning, second at 9:15, third at 10:45, and the fourth at 12:30 o'clock in the afternoon, at which time one may either walk in or go down on the elevator and join the 10:45 o'clock party in the luncheon 750 feet under ground. Boles was enthusiastic over the (Continued on last page, col. 5)

Crusaders Are Mixing Fun With Work in Artesia

Members of the Methodist crusade caravan, who are visiting Artesia this week, are mixing fun with their serious work, that of carrying Christian teachings to the young people of the community.

While entertaining tired business men with programs during the Tuesday and Wednesday noon hours, as they visited the Rotary and Lions Clubs and presented programs, they were having repites from their summer tasks.

At each club meeting the young crusaders sang and entertained and explained their work, telling (Continued on last page, col. 6)

Two New City Ordinances in Effect Tuesday

Similar to State Laws on Brake and Light Stickers, Drivers' Licenses—Council Puts Teeth Into Measures.

Two new city ordinances which follow closely state laws regarding brake and light stickers, and the possession of drivers' or chauffeurs' licenses, to be enforced within Artesia, became effective Tuesday.

The ordinances, passed late Wednesday last week and published in The Advocate last Thursday, were designed to take effect five days after the date of publication, which was Tuesday of this week.

The council, in passing the ordinances, put teeth into them, setting forth penalties to be imposed for their infraction.

For the ordinance regarding the possession of a driver's or chauffeur's license, punishment was set at a fine not to exceed $100, or imprisonment of not more than thirty days, or both.

A fine not to exceed $25 was set for violation of the ordinance regarding driving on the streets of Artesia with proper lamps, brakes or steering equipment.

The license ordinance recited that it shall be unlawful for any person to drive upon any street or other thoroughfare of Artesia without having in his immediate possession a valid driver's license or chauffeur's license in accordance with the laws of New Mexico. And, it states, it shall be unlawful for any person to knowingly (Continued on last page, col. 6)

General Program Will Be Given by Band This Evening

Old-Timers' Concert Scheduled for Thursday Night of Next Week

The program by the Artesia band this evening in the summer series of Thursday evening band concerts will be of a general nature, E. L. Harp, director, announced.

Old-timers of the Pecos Valley who have been residents twenty-five years or more will be honored Thursday evening of next week, when the program, sponsored by The Advocate, will be dedicated to them.

Both the band director and The Advocate are striving to obtain a list of old-timers to be honored and invite everyone to turn in such names, along with their favorite musical compositions, if known. As many as possible of the suggested tunes will be played on the program.

Anyone wishing to submit names of old-timers may contact either Harp or this newspaper, but it should be done promptly so the director can try to obtain the music.

The program for this evening's concert, which will start at 8 o'clock:

Sleeping Sickness Prevalent in State, County Agent Says

Sleeping sickness is quite prevalent in the state, Fred Barham, Eddy County agent, said this week, as he recommended vaccinating horses, using the chick embryo vaccine. In some communities, he said, the disease is becoming serious.

Because of the bad results a year ago in the use of the chick embryo vaccine, the strength has been reduced this year from ten cc. to one cc., with recommended vaccinations of two doses a week apart.

"THERE SHOULD BE A LAW—"

In a front-page news story last week it was related that "the most hated of humans—or inhumans—the dog poisoner, is on the loose in Artesia again."

And now comes that anonymous person, "A Reader," with a letter about the matter, in which he seems to take exception. Whether it is the dog poisoner or not, we do not know, but the fact that he chooses to remain anonymous puts him under suspicion.

We have told many times what we think of anyone who will write a letter and be ashamed to sign it. We write in this column every week for hundreds of readers and take definite stands, some of which are subject to discussion, or might step on someone's toes, but there is no doubt about who is speaking. So why should anyone be ashamed to sign a letter to us?

We usually pay little attention to unsigned letters, but sometimes we decide to dignify them by taking note, rather than throwing them in the wastebasket where most such stuff goes. Which we have decided to do in this case.

"A Reader" asks, "Now wouldn't it be far better if you advised dog owners to give their dogs and other pets proper protection so that they would not be a nuisance to the city?"

If "A Reader" will recall, it was only a few weeks ago that we had an editorial to the effect that dogs do constitute a nuisance in Artesia, that they dump over garbage cans and destroy gardens and trees, and that they should be kept up so as to protect property.

So far we agree with "A Reader" and we do agree with a statement made in the letter about alleys being so infested with dogs that garbage "and rotten offals"—probably meaning "offal"—are scattered about until it is almost impossible to live.

But then he says, "If there are dogs poisoned in the different parts of the city, as you say, you can hardly blame some of the property owners."

With that we disagree! Last week not editorially, but as news—although we will admit our personal thought was in it by referring to the dog poisoner as "inhuman"—we told about what is considered one of the most inhumane practices.

Now we say so editorially: A dog poisoner is one of the lowest forms of humanity.

That many dogs should be destroyed is true. That they are a nuisance is true. That we have said so before is true.

But there are other ways and means to get the job done. Maybe this is one of them!

MAYBE THERE SHOULD BE TWO LAWS

And speaking about nuisances, there is the person or group of persons who uses grader ditches in the country in which to dump all kinds of trash and garbage.

Whether the practice is followed by people in town or by other country people, we do not know.

If it is townspeople, they should remember that we have a regular system of garbage and trash disposal, set by ordinance, and that it is unnecessary to go to the trouble of driving out into the country to dump things.

On the other hand, if it be country people who litter up the roadsides of their neighbors, they should be prosecuted for committing nuisances.

In this case, as in so many others, the Golden Rule should apply. No one wishes his own place used for a dumping ground. Neither does his neighbor.

General cooperation will make it a healthier Greater Artesia, and a neater community, one in which everyone can enjoy to live.

NEED DEEP-ROOTED LOVE OF AMERICA

We had the displeasure recently of witnessing a deplorable demonstration—or lack of demonstration—by a group of CCC boys, and then had the pleasure of hearing them verbally spanked for disrespect to the flag of the nation which has made the CCC possible.

Several truckloads of the boys were parked along the main street in Ruidoso last month to watch the annual American Legion parade. When the colors passed, they remained seated and covered, which brought the wrath of the Legionnaires, representing Americanism and patriotism in its broadest sense, and a proper resolution was drawn up and adopted, in which the boys were severely condemned, because they allegedly "failed, neglected and refused to pay respect to the flag, due to ignorance or lack of training."

At no time in the nation's history should everybody rise spontaneously to greater patriotic fervor than now. And certainly anyone employed by the government in any capacity, even though it be only for reclamation or conservation or similar work at low wages, should show some respect for the flag of his country.

But there have been charges of the development of "pinks" among the CCC and NYA youth organizations.

If it be true, there is something wrong. We cannot teach and preach Americanism and democracy, at the same time spending the taxpayers' money to develop a bunch of un-American boys.

Right now, as never before, we need real respect to the flag—not flag-waving—but deep-rooted love of America and her national emblem.

Wednesday service, 7:30 p. m.

"Sacrament" is the subject of the lesson-sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, July 13.

The Golden Text is: "A new commandment I give unto you, That ye love one another; as I have loved you, that ye also love one another. By this shall all men know that ye are my disciples, if ye have love one to another." (John 13:34, 35)

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "Then he called his twelve disciples together, and gave them power and authority over all devils, and to cure diseases." (Luke 9:1)

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook: "Christianity as Jesus taught it was not a creed, nor a system of ceremonies, nor a special gift from a ritualistic Jehovah; but it was the demonstration of divine Love casting out error and healing the sick, not merely in the name of Christ, or Truth, but in demonstration of Truth, as must be the case in the cycles of divine light."

It's been noticed that abnormal size of th' head often retards th' development of th' backbone!

By Mary Jane

Readin' and 'ritin' are all very well, but rhythmic is the favorite subject of Betty Co-Ed, if Columbia's "Sweetheart of the Campus" is any indication. And, while the film which opens Sunday at the Valley Theater, may be slightly wacky in matters academic, it is an effervescent example of what motion picture audiences want. Light and gay, carefree and casual and comedic, the splendid new musical is played by a noteworthy cast, possesses a romantic narrative and a background of tenebrous new song hits which do much to enhance the entertainment qualities of the film.

Ruby Keeler is the tap-dancing star of the musical romance, with Ozzie Nelson and his Band, Harriet Hilliard and Gordon Oliver appearing in important supporting roles. Edward Dmytryk directed the film, light-hearted story of a night club that went to college, from a screen play by Robert D. Andrews and Edmund Hartmann.

The seven tenebrous new hit songs which supply the rhythmic interlude and background to the story are "Tap, Happy," "Beat It Out," "Here We Go Again," and "Zig Me Baby With a Gentle Zag," by Eddie Cherkose and Jacques Press; "Where" by Jacques Kraeker; "Tom Tom" by Walter G. Samuels; and "When the Glee Club Swings the Alma Mater," by Walter G. Samuels and Charles Newman.

Miss Keeler is the dancing favorite in a night club near the campus of Lambeth College; Ozzie and his band are the swingers. Their place is closed down, under an ancient statute forbidding places of entertainment within five miles of the school campus. Desperate, the musicians move right onto the campus itself! With the assistance of lovely Harriet Hilliard, seen as the daughter of the school president and head of the student organization, Ozzie and Ruby manage not only to keep going but, through their radio broadcasts, to attract hundreds of jive-eager students to the school.

The players are splendid in their roles, not only for their own special talents but for the graceful manner in which they move through the more dramatic portions of "Sweetheart of the Campus."

Miss Peggy Brainard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reed Brainard, who is attending summer school at the University of New Mexico in Albuquerque, was home over the week end.

Nearly One Out of Ten in U. S. Infected With Undulant Fever

Some 12,000,000 people in the U. S. are infected with the germs of a strange, lingering, milk-borne disease called undulant fever (brucellosis). So wrote Health Officer Harold Jerome Harris of Westport, N. Y., last week in a full-fledged book on the subject. (On the island of Malta, British soldiers who drank infected goats' milk came down with the disease. Until recently it was widely known as Malta fever.)

Undulant fever may smolder for years, suddenly flare up into a complex disease resembling typhoid, malaria or tuberculosis. It is caused by any of three germs of the group Brucella (named after Sir David Bruce, who discovered the strain in 1886). Brucellae infect cattle, sheep, goats and pigs, cause a disease known as contagious abortion. Between 11 and 20 per cent of all U. S. cattle are infected, causing a yearly loss to farmers of some $80,000,000. The disease is transmitted to man through milk, butter, cheese, and through handling of infected carcasses; it is not passed from one person to another.

Anyone who lives in the country and drinks unpasteurized milk from an infected cow, or pours a spot of tainted cream in his coffee, is liable to come down with a low fever and vague pains. He may feel fine every morning, but in the afternoon his temperature soars, and he gradually loses strength. This may keep up for years. Symptoms range all the way from mild backaches to bone and nerve infections, heart disease, insanity. Hardly an organ in the body is safe from invasion. Victims of brucellosis may be suspected of having tuberculosis, meningitis, arthritis, influenza, glandular disorders. Dr. Harris' five-year-old daughter, who suffered for many months from serious kidney trouble, was primarily sick with brucellosis. Although it maims its victims, brucellosis seldom kills them.

Dr. Harris warns physicians in rural districts to keep an eye out

undulant fever should be prosecuted as bovine tuberculosis now is: Let Federal inspectors track down all infected animals, kill them, reimburse the farmers. He also believes that states should pass laws enforcing pasteurization of all milk.—May 26 Time.

Mrs. Frank Linell, who suffered a broken arm about two weeks ago when she fell in her yard, is able to be up and around, but is still suffering very much due to the injury.

Artesia Four-H Girls Are Given Canning Budgets

"That family sure plans to have lots to eat," was the remark made by one of the Artesia 4-H Club girls while planning the canning budget for a family of five. Perhaps the food preservation budget did sound rather large, but in reality it was only the minimum amount to supply this family an adequate diet.

This budget can be used in figuring the number of jars to can for one's family: Simply multiply the number in the family by the number given below. Of course, small children will not need the same amount of food as a child of 10 years. Selecting from the following yellow, green and leafy vegetables, a total of thirty-five quarts canned or seventy pounds stored is sufficient for one individual over a period of seven months when the garden is non-productive: Asparagus, green snap beans, cauliflower, celery, English peas, greens, cabbage, (kraut), blackeyed peas, pumpkins, yellow squash, young lima beans.

At least a total of thirty-five quarts or seventy pounds stored is likewise necessary for the individual over the same period of time of the following vegetables: Pinto beans, beets, corn, peas, white squash, turnips, onions, peppers and chili and at least twenty quarts of tomatoes and fifteen quarts of tomato juice.

Selecting from the following fruits at least twenty quarts of canned and twenty quarts of dried or stored for the individual: Apples, apricots, peaches, grapes, pears, plums, cherries, berries and melons.

In meats: Ten quarts of beef and pork, five quarts of sausage, three quarts chicken, three quarts chili and three quarts of fish or game. Fresh meat to be used in addition.

At least twenty containers of preserves, marmalades, jellies and jams, and fifteen containers of mincemeat, pickles, relishes, soups and farm processed cheese.

ATOKA WOMAN'S CLUB MET TUESDAY AFTERNOON

The Atoka Woman's Club met Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Paul Zeleny.

A report was given on a recent County Council meeting at the Artesia city hall. One-third of the money in the treasury was given to the U.S.O. The club will be responsible for the comfort project to be at Atoka School, it was decided. "Achievement Day" will be observed, when those entering the canning contest will bring their project at that time, also articles of handwork, such as rugs, curtains and pillow tops, will be on exhibit. Miss Rosamond Deen has asked club members to keep an accurate account on all canned fruits and vegetables.

Miss Mary Ruth Hearn gave several musical numbers on the piano and Mrs. Clyde Dungan, accompanied by Miss Hearn at the piano, sang several solos.

About nineteen members were present. The next meeting will be on Aug. 5 at the home of Mrs. G. E. Kaiser.

WHAT'S WHAT in NEW MEXICO

News Briefs of the "Sunshine State," Gleaned from Many Sources

Adj. Gen. R. C. Charlton said that recent State Guard Rio Grande flood control work would cost the state approximately $5,000, including $2,000 for sand bag purchases. "It probably will come to a little less than $5,000, and less than half of that total will be for guardsmen's wages," said the adjutant general, adding, "And I think that's pretty cheap." The guardsmen, eligible for regular National Guard pay, worked about three weeks, warning and evacuating families and directing flood-control work in several areas. Charlton said the men would not be paid until the state finance board approved the expenditures and determined what state funds would be used to pay the bill.

New Mexico has more than twice as many volunteers as draftees in the nation's armed forces, Adj. Gen. R. C. Charlton said. Of 8,238 New Mexico men in all branches of the armed service, 5,408 are regular enlistees and 500 or 600 have volunteered for a year of selective service training. The remaining are draftees. The number of a state's volunteers is a factor in determining future draft quotas.

Former Territorial Governor George Curry of Hot Springs conferred with state offices in Santa Fe preparatory to becoming custodian of the Old Lincoln County courthouse where two of his children were born in the days of Billy the Kid. The 80-year-old former Rough Rider was full of plans for establishing a Western museum in the historical building, which is maintained as a state monument. Plans are being worked out, he said, for a small grant for clerical hire. The bill creating the custodianship appropriated only $50 a month for the custodian. The law becomes effective in July. Curry served in the courthouse from 1886 to 1892 as treasurer, clerk, assessor and sheriff. He was a deputy under Sheriff Pat Garrett, the slayer of Billy the Kid.

New Mexico contractors booked contracts totaling $755,843 in May, compared with a total of $458,719 a year ago. Figures compiled by H. W. Pyeritz, editor of Daily Construction Service, showed the far Western states' combined contracts for the month were $60,741,389, yet a drop from the West's record peak of $134,804,000 in April. Contracts already awarded in the West this year exceeded the total volume of every year in the entire decade beginning with 1930. The total for the first five months of this year is $430,577,000 compared with $425,980,000 for all of 1939, biggest year of the thirties. In the first five months of 1940, total contracts were $161,560,000. Biggest task now facing Western contractors is finding skilled workers, rather than making jobs.

Clovis' 1941 rainfall passed the 26-inch mark with the .37-inch fall June 15. The total for June so far was 7.49 inches and for the year, 26.04 inches.

Although several fatalities resulted from accidents since the speed-up in New Mexico mining to supply national defense demands, Warren Bracewell, Albuquerque, state mine inspector, believes accidents have been held to a minimum by safety regulations

The Raton city council has granted a new twenty-five-year franchise to the municipally owned Raton Public Service Company.

Dr. Alfred C. Crofts of Eastern New Mexico College believes the United States had two chances to maintain the world peace, but "we passed these chances by." He told the eighth annual educational conference at the State College summer school that this nation missed two chances for peace when it failed to join the League of Nations and when it failed to place an embargo against Japan after the Chinese invasion. "Now we have a third chance which we must not let slide if democracy is to be saved," he said. "We cannot conquer the blitzkrieg and all that it stands for in ruthlessness without shedding the blood of American youth. There can be no peace along the road of the pacifist and the appeaser."

BRIEF FORM

From Near and Far, Some Timely, Some of Human Interest

Last spring Councilman Don Kennedy of Felecity, Ohio, heaved some old potatoes into a trash can already containing tin cans, rope, paper and other rubbish. Now he's eating new potatoes out of the trash can "planting" and waiting for his garden crop, planted at the same time, to produce.

Not a man moved from his chair or took his eyes from his cards more than a flickering moment when an auctioneer at a creditors' sale stepped up to a round table in the Biltmore Athletic Club in Baltimore. "What am I bid for this fine poker table?" he asked the crowd of buyers and kibitzers. Just to make sure the game would continue, one of the players bought the table. And to make sure the club would continue, two past presidents bought the entire property after bids had been made on individual items.

C. Ben Ross finds farming much more remunerative than serving as governor. Says Ross who retired to his ranch in 1937 after three terms as Idaho's chief executive: "In May those seventy cows I'm milking brought in $813, nearly twice as much as I ever got in one month for being governor."

S. Kusachi of Hood River, Ore., owes his life to his pet ram which proved more than a match for a 350-pound boar. When the 76-year-old rancher was attacked by the boar, his cries for help brought the ram on the run. The pet leaped a fence and battered the boar into submission. Musachi, seriously hurt, crawled to safety.

From Oklahoma City now comes the story of the hearing ex dog. Mrs. J. D. Keller, who is hard of hearing, trained Peewee to listen for the doorbell and notify her when it rings. But the dog went her one better. It now goes to the door, sees if anyone is there, then notifies its mistress by rubbing against her leg.

In a campaign against noises the Centralia, Ill., city council appealed to railroad officials to eliminate all unnecessary tooting of railroad engine whistles. One company asked for provisions of the city ordinance governing such matters. The council investigated and found regulations passed prior to 1896 required railroad engine bells be rung continuously while the engines were operating inside the city limits, that whistles be blown at every crossing and that the speed of trains be limited to ten miles per hour. Some revisions are contemplated.

Whether All Souls Universalist Church in Brooklyn gets a new coat of paint, come fall, lies largely in the hands of the Brooklyn Dodgers. The pastor, the Rev. Cornelius Greenway, had $325 in church funds—not enough for the job—so he distributed it at $1 each among the congregation. "Invest it," he advised, "and return the proceeds in September." A father-and-son combine said they'd bet their dollar on the baseball team's chances of winning the National League pennant. Others followed suit, and Mr. Greenway now reads the sport pages.

The Navy turned down Ethan F. Parker, Independence, Ore., because one of his fingers was stiff. Parker got in anyway. He marched to a hospital and ordered the finger cut off. And at Goodland, Kas., Harold McDaniel refused to let a deformed toe end his naval career. Given a medical discharge from the Great Lakes, Ill., station because of the toe, McDaniel returned home and had it amputated. Now he's back in training.

I will try to return all books and dues when possible—if." The letter came from a Royal Canadian Air Force recruit at Manning Field, Toronto, Ontario.

You've heard of the golfer making a birdie the easy way—by smacking one of the feathered friends in the head with the ball. At Tulsa Otto Detjen added a new twist. His ball struck a bush. A crow swept out, picked up the ball in its bill, flew over the green, depositing the pellet four feet from the cup. His opponents made him play it over.

Olivio Santoro, 12-year-old boy yodeler, dons a cowboy outfit for his radio program, but he's stopped wearing his pearl-handled dummy six-shooter on the way to the studio in New York. At Fort Jackson, S. C., a soldier asked Yola Gallo, soprano with a troupe of entertainers sent on a tour of Army camps, if she were a prima donna. "Of course not," she answered. "I'm a chanteuse." The soldier thought a moment and said: "Well, well, I'm a selectee; shake."

Richard Sharpless testified he waited eight years for his wife, Emma, to come back after she told him she was in love with another man and went away. "That was right after our golden wedding anniversary," he added. "I'm 83 and Emma's 76. She isn't back, so I want to insure my future happiness." He got a divorce in Spokane.

At Brazil, Ind., Judge John W. Baumunk fined Thomas J. Smith, carnival manager, $25 and costs on his plea of guilty to a charge of possession of ten slot machines, and ordered the machines destroyed. When they were opened, nickels poured out to an amount 5 cents more than the fine and costs. The judge took the jackpot.

This Problem of Defense Consumption

● We know the necessity of defending America through increased production. But have we considered the enlarged demands on consumption which defense entails?

In 1927 we shipped 10,926,614 bales of American cotton to foreign markets—the equivalent of 86% of the cotton crop of that year.

In war-torn 1941 we can expect to ship no more than a million bales to foreign markets—less than ten percent of a restricted crop.

Here is the essence of the second World War's effect on the cotton farmer—the destruction of his traditional foreign markets.

And here is the essence of an immediate challenge the second World War brings to American consumers—to replace those lost foreign markets by giving greater preference to cotton products at home.

The defense of American agriculture and industry is a job for consumers as well as producers. It's a job for us all.

When we buy cotton we build America's future.

The Grayburg Oil Company held a barbecue Sunday evening. Those attending were Jim Berry of Artesia, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Phelps, Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Mulcock and family; Mr. and Mrs. Orlando Briscoe, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Herbold, Mr. and Mrs. Don Maudsley, Willis and Lee Baker, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Heard of Missouri, Mr. and Mrs. Burl Heard and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Heard, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Heard and family; Mr. and Mrs. Pete Heard and family; Floyd Heard of California and Jewell Heard and son, Bob, and Mrs. Grace Rhodes of Loco Hills.

The husband answering the phone said, "I don't know; call the Weather Bureau," and hung up. "What was that?" asked the wife. "Some fellow asked whether the coast is clear."

Household Hints

If you want fresh rhubarb to retain its dainty pink color, mix diced, unpeeled rhubarb with half as much sugar. Pour into a baking dish, cover tightly with a lid and bake forty-five minutes in a moderate oven. Stir several times with a fork. Serve warm or cold.

Have you ever tried mixing clam and tomato juices in equal portions and letting them start off your meal? They combine splendidly. Pep up with a little salt, paprika, chopped parsley, minced onion and lemon juice and serve icy-cold.

Put a thin layer of browned frankfurters on top of bean soup. Top cream of corn soup with freshly popped (or reheated) corn. Add a slice of lemon to each cup of clam chowder. Sprinkle mushroom soup with paprika and a dash of thyme.

Rounded glass coffee pots are easy to clean if you use brushes curved especially to fit into the rounded part. These brushes are inexpensive, easy to use and will last a long time. And remember that poor coffee is often the result of a poorly cared-for pot.

Let browned hominy slices pinch-hit for potatoes the next time you have fried chicken or browned fish. Press cooked, seasoned hominy into a buttered loaf pan. Let stand an hour or so in the refrigerator and then cut off half-inch slices with a knife, frequently dipped in cold water. Sprinkle the slices with flour and brown on both sides in a small amount of heated fat. Arrange the slices, with edges overlapping around the meat on the serving platter.

Puffy cheese canapes, served hot, are delicious with soups, salads, cocktails or tea. Beat an egg white until stiff, mix in a speck of salt, ¼ teaspoon paprika, ¼ teaspoon worcestershire sauce and cup grated cheese. Spread on about 18 round crackers and bake or broil until puffy and brown in color.

Extra lemon or caramel pie filling makes a grand top spread for crisp crackers for after-school snacks.

To remove the odor of fish from the hands, rub with salt and wash in warm water, then wash well in hot, soapy water.

The End: NO MORE OIL AND NO MORE ENGINE!

Ruthless Death-Test proves this New oil good for more than Twice the mileage averaged by 5 other big brands

In fiery Death Valley the dry heat hits extremes. And there's where 6 identical everyday cars, using 6 different big-name oils, were burned out on purpose to give you fair and square mileage comparisons on great new

CONOCO Nth MOTOR OIL
Now making Sales Records right Here

Death-Test cars—new—same make, same model—were taken apart for the Referee, to check uniformity; then were broken-in alike. Each got one 5-quart fill of some one big brand—bought retail by Referee. He kept engines under lock—no oil could be added. Cars held the same 57-mile speed, over the same desert, getting the same handling (by alternating the drivers). And there wasn't any end till there wasn't any lubrication... till engine after engine became a hunk of junk.

Conoco Nth oil kept on 5,683 miles longer than any other oil in the Death-Test... Certified. And all five competing Death-Tested oils didn't average half the mileage of Conoco Nth oil. Certified.

Man-Made new Life-Giver does it

Now think a moment of Vaccination—putting protective substance on guard to keep a trouble from starting. And the trouble aiming to start on motor oils lurks in every engine's normal firing. Filth forms that can spoil one drop; then two drops "catch it"—then four—then sixteen... faster, faster, FASTER. As the whole fill weakens, the oil-level sinks too fast... but not when the start of this oil-fouling trouble is inhibited—held back—by life-giving Thialkene inhibitor, the man-made new economy aid in patented Conoco Nth motor oil.

No, you'll never Death-Test your own Conoco Nth oil. You'll still sensibly drain and refill as recommended. But knowing how Conoco Nth out-mileaged the other Death-Tested oils, you can reasonably believe that every look at the oil-level won't mean adding a quart. Keep count of your saving after changing to Conoco Nth today at Your Mileage Merchant's Conoco station. Continental Oil Company—Pioneers in Bettering America's oil with Synthetics

AND CONOCO Nth OIL OIL-PLATES YOUR ENGINE

Long the keystone of Conoco success, OIL-PLATING comes from another great Conoco synthetic... man-made under the famed Germ Processed oil patent. Magnet-like action bonds OIL-PLATING to inner parts. It can't all quickly drain down—not while you're using Conoco Nth oil. So OIL-PLATING is on guard against wear in advance!... and helps mileage, as it did in Death Valley. An OIL-PLATED engine is one more economy you get from a change to popular-priced new Conoco Nth oil.

CERTIFIED I hereby certify that the Death Valley Test and related work were thoroughly and fairly conducted. Engine Destruction occurred in each case at the mileage stated.

Lions Will

The tournament here will be one of a series in the Pecos Valley, with tentative dates set for a similar tourney at Carlsbad on Aug. 5-6 and Roswell planning a two-night show there later in August.
In the tournament here, winners in the class "A" weights will be awarded bronze statuettes. Gold medals will go to the winners in class "B" and a twelve-inch sterling silver statuette is being offered to the scrapper in any weight who scores the fastest knockout.

The knockout trophy, it is believed, will make for some splendid fights, as the participants strive to win the honor. This is being given instead of a team trophy, Greeno said, because the latter is unfair to the smaller teams and the former makes for a better show.

Greeno said that among his better scrappers will be the McCasland boys, Dallas and Jay, bantam and featherweight, respectively, each of whom won the championship in his weight here last spring, as well as at Carlsbad and Portales. Jimmie Powell, welterweight, holds the same honors in his weight class.

Kit Carson, lightweight, holds Portales and Carlsbad honors, whereas Oscar Cassidy won the flyweight championship both at Artesia and Carlsbad. Izzy Juarez, also in the flyweight division, won class "B" honors at Carlsbad and now steps up alongside Cassidy in class "A."

Bobbie Ferguson, middleweight champion at Carlsbad, will be on the card, as will be Orville Durbin, a welterweight, who quit scrapping a year or two ago, but will re-enter the ring.

Le Roy Harmon, a newcomer here from Houston, Tex., who will enter Artesia High School in the fall, will scrap in the middleweight division. He is a former Golden Gloves winner.

Lyle Gross, former West Coast welterweight champion, who is coaching the Carlsbad team, has sent word that among his scrappers will be Byron Price, middleweight fighter, who sometimes steps up to fight as a light-heavy. Price was seen in action here in the Lions' previous tournament, as was Orlando Nunez, lightweight.

Also on the Carlsbad team will be Sylvan Le Doux, welterweight; Perry Gresham of the potash mines, middleweight; Bruce Garner, heavy; Bill Williams, feather; his brother, Pete Williams, fly; Lawrence Fugate, light-heavy; Bill Putnam, welter, and probably several others.

Roswell is expected to send, among others, Abel Lujan, light; Joe Blanco, welter; Bloodworth, colored, bantam, and Tony Melendez, welter.
Johnnie Nihart, well-known lightweight from Lake Arthur, is expected to be in the bouts. He probably has the most enviable record of any scrapper already signed up, including the Golden Gloves honors several times in this region.

Jal probably will have Bill Brooks, heavyweight, who was seen in action here last spring and who was chosen on the all-Southeastern New Mexico football team, and Buddy Gamlin, featherweight. Crockett of Hope is expected to fight in the middleweight division.

Greeno said there already are a number of other fighters from the various towns who have signed up, but that those mentioned are the ones better known to fans here. And he expects many more entries before the tournament dates.

into the house and to a bed, where it was found he was dead.
An inquest was conducted at the home by J. W. Keienburg, Jr., justice of the peace, and the following jury: Gordon L. Corbell, B. L. Williams, Ed M. Smith, J. C. Jones, C. E. Jones and J. O. Bartlett.

Funeral services were held at McClay Chapel at 4 o'clock Monday afternoon by the Rev. John S. Rice, Pastor of the First Methodist Church.

The body was shipped that night by Santa Fe to Fulton, Mo., where services and burial were to be Wednesday afternoon. Burial was to be by the grave of a son, Aubrey Charles Bush, Jr., who died at the age of 4 years.

Mrs. Bush and her sons, Hilary Ashby and Donald Shannon Bush, both Kansas City lawyers, left by automobile for Fulton. The sons arrived here Sunday, called by the death of Mr. Bush.

Aubrey Charles Bush was born sixty-seven years ago at Columbia in Boone County, Missouri, the third generation of the Missouri Bush family, a pioneer family which followed the trail of Daniel Boone from Kentucky. His early associations at Columbia gave him a trend as educator and teacher and there he graduated from the University of Missouri.

After his graduation he married Miss Claire Emmons Grantham of Mexico, Mo. To them were born three sons, the one by whose grave Mr. Bush was buried yesterday at Fulton and the two sons in Kansas City, mentioned above.

Most of his married life Mr. Bush spent in the newspaper business, as owner, editor or field representative.

He and Mrs. Bush came to New Mexico about three years ago, at which time Mr. Bush became editor of The Hagerman Messenger, a newspaper published from this office. In April of last year he gave up newspaper work to become associated with his nephew, Martin Yates, Jr., and moved to the lease in Loco Hills where he lived until his death.

Mr. Bush was a member of the Methodist Church for many years and during his life had been identified with civic endeavors.

However, he said, volunteers will be welcome, especially those not of military age, or those who are likely to be rejected physically from military service. The coordinator asked that all volunteers wishing to serve hand in their names, ages, addresses and telephone numbers to him or to the city clerk not later than 9 o'clock next Tuesday morning.

Richards said there will be a one-week school of instruction here in the near future for members of the auxiliary corps, as well as for the regular volunteer fire department.

files will be steel, Carper said. Extra wide sidewalks will be made along the Fourth Street frontage, and over it will be a wide awning, supported by cantilever beams. At the rear, on the east side, there will be built a private drive, hard surfaced, and twenty feet wide, Carper said.
The lobby will have modernistic glass doors and the floor and wainscoting there will be tile. Office floors will be covered with asphalt tile. The building will have summer and winter air conditioning.

Carper Drilling Company is building the new office building for its own home, but is providing more space than is needed, both by way of office space and store rooms, as a step forward for Artesia.

There still are some offices not taken as yet, which will make splendid headquarters for other business or professional firms in this new-style, finest office building in Artesia. An advertisement elsewhere in this issue invites businesses to contact Carper Drilling Company for office space, which will be arranged to fit the individual needs.

Work on the foundation will start next week, Carper said, and it is expected the building will be ready for occupancy by the first of November. Roy Vorhees of Roswell is the architect and Tom Hefflin of Artesia has the contract for the construction.

Howard Williams, local manager for the company, said wire trouble also was experienced at Third and Washington and southeast of town, the latter of which was not discovered until after all city circuits had been opened.

The heavy rain, which started about 6 o'clock Sunday afternoon, at first seemed to come from scattered clouds, but soon the entire sky was covered and the precipitation, driven by the high wind, was falling in sheets, drowning out the ignition systems of many cars.
Water on nearly all east-west streets ran level with the curbing and in some places it spread out over sidewalks and into buildings. The basement of the Artesia Hotel was flooded.

In some places on First Street the water stood two feet deep as it banked up. Eagle Draw through the north part of town was bankful, but no damage was done.

The wind unroofed a few buildings in the outlying sections, but did no great damage.

During the day Sunday and that evening scattered rains fell over a wide territory in Southeast New Mexico, but the rain at Artesia extended no great distance. Another hard rain was reported from Dexter.

A number of the Caverns visitors came on to Artesia, which made a run on the tourist camps here.
