Red Cross Roll Call Is Falling Behind Quotas

Is Still Under Half Set for North Eddy—Workers Will Be on Duty Saturday at Bank and Artesia Postoffice.

Although workers in the women's organizations assisting in the annual Red Cross roll call are doing a splendid job in making contacts, results of the North Eddy County chapter are falling behind other chapters, C. J. Dexter, chairman, said this morning.

Whereas other chapters in this region have reached their quotas already, only 515 memberships for 1942 had been reported, less than half of the quota of 1,050, Dexter said.

However, the roll call chairman was somewhat encouraged by reports of members of the Junior Woman's Club, who made a house-to-house canvass, that many persons at the homes said they would subscribe for their memberships when workers go on duty in the lobbies of the First National Bank and the postoffice.

Dexter had not intended to place workers in those two places this year, but because of the demand he has announced there will be women on duty at both lobbies all day Saturday.

The chairman again pointed out the grave need for memberships in the Red Cross and for funds, as the organization has taken on additional duties during the national emergency and the war conditions abroad.

At Carlsbad, where the people learned this year the great work done by the Red Cross, response was good and the quota has been reached, Dexter said.

But, he added, the people of North Eddy County, because of their proximity to Carlsbad and their knowledge of the disasters there by flood waters and the work done by the Red Cross, should come forward in greater numbers in the annual roll call. Twice during the current year the Red Cross established temporary headquarters in Carlsbad and did splendid work in relief and rehabilitation work.

Sees Doubling State Royalties Through Potash

H. R. Rodgers, state land commissioner, hopes to more than double state royalties of $40,000 last year by an agreement with potash companies for development of their state leases in the Carlsbad area.

Concluding conferences in Carlsbad and in Santa Fe, Rodgers announced agreements with the Potash Company of America and the Union Potash and Chemical Company to submit plans to him by Dec. 13 for operations on state lands.

R. M. McGraw, general manager of the Potash Company of America, said that core tests looking toward cooperation with the state were under way already on several sections of 10,000 acres of state land which it leases.

The Union Company has small land holdings and the United States Potash Company, third operator in this field, is the major producer from state deposits now. The U. S. leases provide for taking out 50,000 tons annually.

In agreeing to company proposals to submit programs, Rodgers explained he had waived the state's right to require development of leases on state land at once.

"We have no intention of forcing the companies into uneconomical production," he declared, "in order to reach the state-owned deposits. We know they will be used eventually, and our interest is to bring about that development as soon as possible."

JENSEN AND O'BANNON
ATTEND 20-30 MEET

Don Jensen and Douglas O'Bannon represented the Artesia 20-30 Club at a sub-district meeting in Hobbs for officers of clubs, respectively as delegate and alternate.

Plans were made at that time for the mid-winter convention at Ruidoso Jan. 24-25.

Barnes, Former Artesian, Loses Life in Blaze

Lester Barnes of Eastland, Tex., a former Artesia baker, was one of six persons burned to death near Ranger, Tex., Sunday, when they were showered with flaming gasoline while watching two trucks burn after a highway crash. He was about 45 years old.

Five men, including Barnes, and a boy lost their lives and eighteen other persons were burned, two critically.

All the dead and injured were spectators at the crash scene. The fire set off a gasoline tank explosion which spread the flames among the watchers. The accident happened about midnight, seven miles east of Ranger. A lumber-laden truck, investigating officers said, stalled on a hill and put out flares to warn approaching vehicles. Another truck crashed into it and both machines caught fire, igniting the lumber.

The burning lumber, officers reported, apparently set off an auxiliary gasoline tank.

Mr. Barnes left here about fourteen years ago. His widow is the former Romaine Carroll of Artesia. He was a veteran of the World War.

Examinations Held in Artesia Wednesday For Food Handlers

Dr. R. T. Spencer, venereal disease clinician for Eddy, Chaves and Lea Counties, examined several dozen Artesia food handlers at a clinic at Artesia Memorial Hospital Wednesday, under the direction of Dr. O. E. Puckett, county health officer, and in cooperation with the city administration.

The examinations were ordered under authority of the state laws in a drive to assure the public that all food handlers are not infected from communicable diseases.

Follow-up clinics will be held in Artesia each Wednesday, Dr. Puckett said.

The governor said the messages should be mailed to any of the following amateur stations: W5ENI, Lovington; W5HJF, and W5JWA, Portales; W5ZM, Roswell; W5IOB, Hobbs; W5FSP, Carlsbad; W5DLG, Tularosa; W5ICA, Albuquerque, and W5JZT, Las Vegas.

MAY RENEW DRIVERS' LICENSES ANY TIME

Drivers' licenses for 1942 for those who have 1941 licenses were made available Saturday, Tom Ragsdale, city clerk, announced this week.

Anyone having no 1941 license either must wait until next Jan. 1 for his 1942 license, or will be required to first take out a 1941 license before being issued one for next year, he said.

Nearly 800 Children Visit Library During 'National Book Week'

The interest shown last week in "National Book Week" was quite gratifying to Mrs. C. O. Brown, president, and members of the board, it was reported, for nearly 800 school children and an unusually large number of adults visited Artesia Public Library.

All of the school children, coming by rooms with their teachers, were given treats as they were shown about the library and were encouraged to use it more.

Mrs. Nellie Hartell, librarian, was assisted during the week by Mrs. Effie Wingfield in entertaining the children.

Company 8 Is Up To Full Strength Of Forty Men Now

Remaining Rifles, Uniforms Are Expected Soon—Target Practice Planned

Company 8, First Battalion, New Mexico State Guard, of Artesia now is recruited up to its full strength of forty men, the officers announced this week.

Although there are on hand uniforms and rifles for only thirty men, the remainder have been requisitioned and are to be here soon.

In fact, Capt. S. A. Lanning was in Santa Fe and Albuquerque over the week end and brought back with him considerable equipment. He and other officers are certain the men as yet not uniformed will be supplied soon with virgin wool outfits, just like the splendid uniforms being worn by those who have been in the company for some time.

The company commander has been assured of more ammunition soon, so the men can have target practice. As there is no range here, it is possible the men will use either the Roswell or Carlsbad range until one is provided.

Regular drills are being held each Monday evening at Morris Field and the commissioned and non-commissioned officers are meeting each Friday evening at the Junior High School gymnasium for study.

First Lt. Oscar Samelson said it is gratifying the interest being taken by the men, for it is especially important at this time, knowing that "if anything comes up, there will be a bigger front at home than abroad."

Major Loren Neeley Has Legion Barbecue Practically in Pot

Loren Neeley, "major domo" of the American Legion's "wild barbecue and dance," to be held at the hut Thursday evening of next week, said this morning arrangements are coming along nicely.

Already the meat has been arranged for, as well as the orchestra, and as the ticket sale goes along nicely, even this far in advance, Neeley believes the affair may be even more successful than was a barbecue a few weeks ago.

Neeley said that part of the meat on hand is venison, which will be free.

THE FLOWER SHOP AND TARBET STUDIO MOVE

The Flower Shop and Tarbet Studio both moved to new locations this week, announcement of which is made elsewhere in this issue.

From its old location in the Stone building at 415 West Main Street, The Flower Shop moved into the new McClay building at 409 West Main Street and Tarbet Studio moved from 324 West Main to the building vacated by The Flower Shop.

Prize Awards For Buck Deer Are Split Up

Biggest Weight Here, 200-Pounder of W. T. Santo, Fails to Win—Deputy Warden Killed in Sacramentos.

Honors for the deer season are somewhat divided, as stores offering them announce the lucky hunters.

In first place, the nimrod who killed the biggest buck reported locally, failed to win a prize, for he failed to register at the places where weight counts before taking to the hills. He is W. T. Santo, who killed a buck weighing 200 pounds the opening morning of the season near Elk.

But one of the largest bucks killed, though weighing 176 pounds drawn, had only six points, thus allowing it in the contest sponsored by Brainard-Corbin Hardware Company and winning for Willis Rowland a gasoline camp stove as his prize.

Several interesting sidelights were disclosed in regard to that buck, first that it was killed the opening morning after only a half hour of hunting. In the second place, young Rowland is only 19 years old, and it was the first he ever killed. It had a perfect head.

With him were two high school boys, Jack Rowland and Pat Casey, and all scored. Jack killed a 105-pound buck having seven points the second day and Pat completed the 100 per cent for the party the third day, when he killed a buck weighing 125 pounds with eight points. The boys, none of whom scored a year ago, hunted in the neighborhood of Fort Stanton.

A. J. Fuchs of Lovington was the lucky hunter at the L. P. Evans Store, where he was awarded a bedroll. Weight did not count there. His deer weighed 123 pounds and had eight points.

The probable winner at Baldwin's, where a $10 hat was offered as the prize for the biggest buck to the hunter who registered prior to going hunting, was H. R. Paton, with a deer weighing 183 pounds. However, the contest there was to be kept open until store-closing time Wednesday, so other registered hunters still had a day to weigh in at the time C. R. Baldwin announced Paton the probable winner. Santo, who was said last week to stand the best chance there, was found not to have registered at Baldwin's.

Besides lucky hunters listed in these columns last week and the week prior are included Ormand Loving, Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Richards, J. M. Needham, Mrs. Pearl Johnson, Frank Clowe and Lloyd (continued on last page, column 6)

Mrs. Edwards Critically Hurt In Car Wreck

Mrs. Bill Edwards, wife of the shop foreman of the Artesia Auto Company, is in critical condition in a Roswell hospital from internal injuries sustained in an automobile accident in Texas between El Paso and Alamogordo about 10 o'clock Sunday morning.

It is believed she is suffering from a liver rupture, but positive diagnosis had not been made up to Tuesday night, when she was given a blood transfusion. Little hope is held for her recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwards were returning home from El Paso with a couple from Roswell, when they were met by two other cars, the second of which, driven by a Spanish-American, attempted to pass the first, meeting the Edwards car in the east lane.

Edwards, in attempting to avoid a head-on collision, pulled towards the ditch, but the other car struck the left rear of his automobile, giving a severe jolt, although not overturning it.

Claud Worrell of Artesia was called and he went after the party, taking the members into Alamogordo, where Mrs. Edwards received attention. As it was thought she was not badly injured, they continued towards Roswell, but Mrs. Edwards became quite ill and a Roswell ambulance was called for her from Hollywood.

LITTLE THEATER WILL PLAN FOR PRODUCTIONS

Russell Floore, president of the Little Theater of Artesia, has called a meeting for 7:30 o'clock Friday evening of next week at the city hall.

The meeting is for old members and prospective members to reorganize for the winter season and to talk over the producing of some plays.

Will Sing Praises of Artesia From Paso On Monday Morning

In a series of programs about cities embraced in the territory covered by the Associated Southern Chambers of Commerce, of which Artesia is a member, L. P. Bloodworth of El Paso, manager-secretary, will broadcast a program about Artesia over radio station KROD, El Paso, from 7:45 to 8 o'clock Monday morning.

The program, which is non-commercial, but one of the series prepared by Bloodworth, will sing Artesia's praise and tell of the many things which make this little city tick.

Bloodworth was in Artesia Tuesday and was a guest at the weekly Rotary Club meeting.

Turkey Day Clash At Lovington Will End Grid Season

Both Coaches Think They Have Some Tricks Up Their Charges' Sleeves

The Bulldogs of Artesia High School will wind up another mediocre football season Thursday afternoon, when Buster Riddle's charges meet the once beaten, once tied Lovington powerhouse on Wildcat Field in their annual Turkey Day grid game.

Two years ago the Wildcats came here and were rated to be an easy touch for the Bulldogs, who had had a good season behind them, while the Lovington boys had not played anyone of importance and had not won many of the ones they did play. Artesia scored on the first play of the game, missed the try for point and went to pieces. Little Lovington marched down on straight line plays over a line that had held off some of the best teams in the state several times during the season and scored and kicked the point after touchdown.

The game went scoreless until the final minute of play when John Rice II, Artesia halfback, broke away on a thrilling play and scored for the locals again. The final score was 13 to 7 in favor of the Bulldogs.

Last season the Wildcats took their revenge, however, for the Bulldogs fell before a strong Lovington eleven 14 to 0 at Lovington. Coach Joe Greeno, then coaching the Bulldogs, took his injury weakened and football weary charges to the Wildcat city with eleven weeks of bruising football behind them.

The Bulldogs had played the toughest schedule of any prep school in the state and could barely manage to put eleven boys with two sound limbs and arms on the field the afternoon they played Lovington.

Lovington never plays as tough a schedule as do the Bulldogs, scheduling two or three really tough teams each season, and playing comparative pushovers the rest of the year to insure a good season record. The Wildcats undoubtedly have a strong team this year though, for they have beaten two of the tough ones.

Monument, Eunice, Hagerman, New Mexico Military Institute Colts, Tatum and Melrose all have fallen to defeat before the Wildcat onslaught this fall.

The Institute Colts, who soundly thrashed the Orange and Black earlier in the season 37 to 7, were beaten 10 to 2 by the Wildcats. The Artesians played the Colts at the Institute and the Lovington outfit met them at Wildcat Field.

Lovington was held to a scoreless tie by Fort Sumner there and even though the Bulldogs have not played them, the locals have beaten Portales, a team that defeated Fort Sumner.

The Wildcats' only defeat of the year was handed them by the Golden Panthers of Jal High School 10 to 7 two weeks ago at Lovington. Artesia fell before the Panthers by a 16-to-13 score early in the (continued on last page, column 5)

About $1,000 Is Collected in Boy Scout Campaign

The annual drive for funds for the Boy Scouts last Thursday brought in about $1,000 and workers figured another $400 would be collected in the clean-up campaign, necessitated because all contacts could not be made in the short period.

The amount is in excess of that collected last year, the total of which was not announced. However, it is believed the one-day type of drive is more effective than the method used heretofore.

Forty-six workers gave all or most of the day to the drive, which was opened with a breakfast on the Roof Garden of the Artesia Hotel. It closed at 8 o'clock in the evening, when the workers reported back for a check-up and coffee.

About 200 persons contributed to the Boy Scouts in the drive, which was part of a general drive over the Eastern New Mexico area this month.

Drivers' Tests Will Be Held in Artesia On Friday, Nov. 28

Plans are going ahead for safety driving tests in Artesia Friday of next week, Nov. 28, under the sponsorship of the Parent-Teacher Association with equipment from State Teachers' College, Silver City.

The examinations will be for all drivers, private and commercial, and will be free.

The equipment will be brought by truck and will be set up in some handy place, to be announced next week, where all drivers are invited to take the tests for their own information.

It is hoped as many as 400 drivers in this community will take advantage of the tests, Mrs. E. J. Foster, president of the P.-T. A., said.

Navy Recruiter Is Back From Meeting, Full of Enthusiasm

Chief Machinist's Mate R. A. Peterson, Navy recruiter from the office at Carlsbad, who regularly calls in Artesia on Tuesdays, said this week that he is out to show the new officer in charge of this district, Lt. Com. G. D. Wood, U.S.N.R., that there are many potential sailors in the desert.

Just back from Houston, where Com. Wood relieved Lt. Com. S. L. Shade for the South New Mexico-South Texas district, Chief Peterson was filled with enthusiasm as to the possibilities for recruiting in this area.

All recruiters for the district were called into Houston for a meeting Saturday.

Must Step Up in Food Production Barham Declares

County Agent Points Out Need on Home Front, as Well as For Britain

Fred Barham, Eddy County agent, who has been instilling into farmers and ranchers the necessity of stepping up the agricultural program both in order to properly feed the people at home and to provide foodstuffs for Britain, made an appeal to the city people to understand and back the program, when he addressed the Artesia Rotary Club Tuesday noon.

In each county, he said, there has been appointed a USDA national defense committee, headed by the county AAA chairman and with representatives from other government agencies, which is in charge of the "Food for Freedom" program, and which is urging farmers to sign up voluntarily for it.

It has been found out during the last year, Barham said, that 45 per cent of the American people are underfed, 20 per cent of whom are in the low income group and the others of whom "like to eat what they like" or are ignorant of what they eat.

Of the two and a half million boys called up under Selective Service, a million have been rejected because of eye and tooth deficiencies, caused for the most (continued on last page, column 2)

Top Teams Are Felt Out for Gateway Bowl

Invitations Will Be Issued After This Week's Contests, Records Considered—Block of 600 Seats Will Be Reserved.

A number of feelers were sent out this week by the Gateway Bowl Association to schools whose season football records to date have been good, asking the officials if they would accept invitations to play in the annual event here Friday, Dec. 5, provided they were forthcoming.

However, members of the association board declined to announce what schools were being considered.

At a meeting of the board Monday evening, called by Hollis Watson, president, the records of about a half dozen schools were studied and Arba Green, secretary, was instructed to send out feelers.

By this week end the board hopes to have replies in regard to the season records up to last week end and will be able to study the results of Thanksgiving Day and Friday games of this week. At that time two schools will be invited to send their teams for the Gateway Bowl Game, one representing Southeast New Mexico and one outstate.

In letters sent out this week, the school officials also were questioned regarding the sending of bands to the game. It was hoped that both contending schools will send their bands along with the teams. However, it is possible the Artesia High School band will have to represent the outstate team, as was done last season, when Clayton played in the game, but did not send the band.

The teams and bands will be invited to visit the Carlsbad Caverns the day after the game.

The board Monday evening decided to make the general admission price $1 plus tax, as has been charged heretofore, with half-price tickets for students. But a block of 600 tickets between the two thirty-yard lines was set aside as a reserved section, for which the tickets will cost $1.50, tax included. (continued on last page, column 4)

Joyce Acquires Vast Ranch in Lea Plains Area

Acquisition of the 22,000-acre Pello Etcheverry ranch holdings in the Lea County Plains area, seventeen miles southwest of Lovington, by John R. Joyce II & Company of Carlsbad, was announced this week by Marion Alzugaray, company official. The deal is said to have involved approximately $200,000.

Joyce is a member of the family by that name founder of Joyce-Fruit Company, whose store here was a pioneer mercantile establishment. The company sold out last year to Brown Mercantile Company.

The Joyce Company assumes immediate possession of the vast ranch and the cattle and sheep herds, with the exception of cull animals which were not included in the deal, Alzugaray said. The ranch has about fifty acres of fertile farm land.

Mr. and Mrs. Etcheverry, who have been prominent New Mexico ranchers for more than thirty years, are retiring from active ranching.

The wool clip at the Pello Etcheverry ranch has had a national reputation for more than twenty years, attracting the attention of leading Boston buyers. Joyce said future clips will be taken to Carlsbad.

Addition of the Etcheverry interests make the Joyce Company one of the three leading wool producers in Southeast New Mexico and among the high ten in the state, local stockmen said. The firm now has ranching and livestock interests in four counties, Eddy, Lea, Chaves and Otero. The present company is named for the firm which first operated in the Pecos Valley in 1883.

Glenn Booker returned Tuesday from Fort Worth, where he went on business. He made the trip in his own private plane.

AND SO WE'RE THANKFUL

Things seem to be coming to a pretty pass, what with more and more taxes for defense and the added costs of government, the increased costs of living, the difficulty encountered in trying to buy merchandise, the tightening of government regulations on this and that and almost everything, the day-by-day approach of war and of a hundred other things about which we could squawk.

But still we are mighty thankful this Thanksgiving Day. Although we are not as yet in the war, we know that we are almost certain to be drawn into it and that with entrance into the conflict taxes and other costs will mount even more.

But still we are mighty thankful this Thanksgiving Day. There remains in this country food aplenty, natural resources aplenty, wealth aplenty with which to continue existence in an almost normal way.

And so we are mighty thankful this Thanksgiving Day. Our boys, though in training camps and stationed in the outposts of the United States, though griping their heads off because they have another eighteen months—or more—to serve, after their initial year is up, are not on the battlefields of Europe.

And they too should be mighty thankful this Thanksgiving Day. Some of them will never return home, for there will be shooting and there will be many casualties and there will be suffering among them, but they know they have a just cause and that they are doing and will do just what any red-blooded American should be willing to do—fight for liberty and democracy.

So they and we should be mighty thankful this Thanksgiving Day.

When the conflict is over—and it will be some day—our boys will have homes to which they can return, a stable nation which will continue to function with liberty and justice for all, a country less scarred by the ravages of war than will be any in Europe.

And so we all should be mighty thankful this Thanksgiving Day. Don't you think so?

IT SURELY WAS A HONEY, DON'T YOU BET?

We wish we could remember all gaglines we hear, as well as we can remember the tale or story when the line is recalled.

The other day we read a honey of an editorial squib, and on the moment we decided to pass it on to you, but it has slipped us. It makes us chuckle now to think of it and you'd die laughing. Wonder what it could have been!

OR MAKE IT NEXT TUESDAY

A fellow told us that it is all wrong to observe Thanksgiving this week, the president and governor to the contrary nevertheless notwithstanding.

That's all right with us, and he can and may observe it next week, just so he stops to consider how many things for which he has to be thankful.

WE'RE JESTING IN SERIOUSNESS

How gullible is our old friend Homo Sapiens! We heard on the radio the other evening something advertised which the announcer declared was made of "genuine simulated mother of pearl."

IT'S YOURS, AND OURS, AND EVERYBODY'S

Other towns have their annual events, rodeos, fairs or what not, and Artesia has its Gateway Bowl Game, the event of the year. Everyone in Artesia should put a circle around the first Friday in December, whether he be a football fan or not.

IT'S JUST LIKE IN HORSESHOES

Many of the fellows around town have been commenting on the closeness of the vote by which Artesia is permitted to have its annual Gateway Bowl Game, 29 to 26.

But that is one thing which is like horseshoes—close counts.

BUT LOOK OUT DUCKS, HERE WE COME

No pheasant this year!
No quail this year!
And then we failed to even get a shot at a buck.
Taint fair, we tell you. There oughta be a law!

Sands of Time

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

(From The Advocate Files for Nov. 18, 1926)

"Peeping Tom" again has made his appearance in Artesia during the last week. Several persons have reported that an unknown person has been peeping into various dwellings.

Gail Hamilton, local manager of the Mountain States Telephone Company, reports steady gains in the number of telephone subscribers during the last few months.

Local hunters met with unusual success in bagging their bucks, judging by the reports available so far.

A. F. Phillips, local oil operator, was accidentally shot with a .22 rifle while out hunting in the hills Friday. The ball passed through the fleshy part of his leg just above the ankle. While the leg wound was somewhat painful at the time, Mr. Phillips went to camp and returned the next day to Artesia, where the wound was dressed.

Work will start on the highway north from Artesia to the county line about Dec. 1, and The Carlsbad Current-Argus reports that work soon is to start on the highway from there to the Texas line.

Harry Houdini, famous magician and escape artist, is dead.

D. I. Clowe and family enjoyed a visit from his brother, G. A. Clowe of Lingle, Wyo., who spent Sunday in Artesia.

Doc Loucks has been made a member of the Automobile Electric Association, a national organization.

Seven hundred hunting and fishing licenses have been issued by the local hardware stores for the year 1926. Some of the applicants, however, have taken out as many as three kinds of licenses, which would cut the number of persons concerned.

What happened to the vanished bride? As if the earth swallowed her, she disappeared on her honeymoon, leaving no clue for searchers, and now he ex-husband has married her rival after years of waiting, while other relatives disagreed over whether or not she is dead. Change Menus' Dresses Too, As You Change Your Gear for Fall

When the leaves turn to gold and the radiator's turned on, your menus turn to hot from cold and summer's really gone! (Prosy Po'try and no perhaps, but good cold logic just the same.) Down from the shelves out of the cedar chest under the bed, back from the cold storage people, come fur coats (lucky you!) inch-thick blankets, and those velvet portieres for the dining room. Such autumnal upheaval is accompanied by less cumbersome but just as vital plans for making a change in menus!

Salads now become casseroles, iced drinks become cockle-warmers, and ice cream turns to pudding as fast as Cinderella's coach reverted to type. Icy punch in the heat of the day becomes hot grapefruit juice toddy at bedtime; platters of cold cuts become heart-warming stews, loaves, roasts; sandwiches once blanketed in waxed paper are now dressed in hot gravy; even salads become hot stuff.

Change your menus' gear while you change your own; summer staples are easily and happily converted when you "turn on the heat," something like this:

Casserole of Salmon
(Formerly Salmon Salad!)

2 cups hot cooked spaghetti or rice, 1-lb. can salmon, broken in large pieces, 1/4 teasp. salt, 1/4 teasp. pepper, 1/2 cup mayonnaise, 1/2 cup water, buttered bread crumbs.

Place alternate layers of spaghetti and salmon in greased casserole. Place in pan of hot water. Bake, covered, in hot oven (400° F.) about 15 minutes. Add salt and pepper to mayonnaise. Gradually add water, stirring after each addition until smooth. Pour over contents of casserole and top with buttered crumbs. Bake, uncovered, about 15 minutes longer; if overcooked, sauce will curdle. Serve immediately. Yield: 6-8 portions.

Broiled Banana Apple Rings
(Fruit Salad Last Summer)

1 cup sugar, 1/2 cup water, 2 apples, unpeeled, 3 firm bananas, melted butter, salt, cinnamon. Use all-yellow bananas. Mix together sugar and water. Bring to a boil and cook until sugar is dissolved. Core apples and cut crosswise into 3 thick slices. Add to syrup. Cook until tender, but still firm. Remove apples from syrup. Place on broiler rack or into pan. Peel bananas. Cut into thin slices. Cover apple rings with overlapping slices of bananas. Brush with butter and sprinkle with salt and cinnamon. Broil about 10 minutes, or until bananas are brown and ten-

Attendance at the Shermom Memorial Sunday school was eighty-eight Sunday. The junior class sang as a special number "God Bless America." Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Stewart's daughter delivered a short message after Sunday school. Mrs. Dan Yancey was to conduct the prayer meeting Wednesday night. The attendance contest between the "Yellows" and the "Blues" will close next Sunday. Everyone is urged to attend Sunday school and help his favorite side to win.

der... easily pierced with a fork. Serve hot with roasts or chops. 6 servings.

Devilled Shrimp, Florida
(Heat Turned on a Salad!)

1 Florida grapefruit, 2 cups canned shrimp (2 No. 1 cans) flaked, 4 tbsps. butter, 2 tbsps. flour, 1/2 cup milk, 1/2 teasp. salt, 1/4 teasp. mustard, dash cayenne pepper, 1 cup soft bread crumbs, paprika.

Peel Florida grapefruit with sharp knife, removing white membrane with peel. Cut in either side of each dividing membrane and remove section by section. Drain the juice from sections. Sprinkle shrimp with drained grapefruit juice. Melt 2 tbsps. of butter in saucepan, blend in flour; add milk, stirring constantly, and cook until thickened. Add seasonings and shrimp. Put into 6 individual ramekins or baking shells. Melt the remaining 2 tbsps. butter and stir in bread crumbs; sprinkle over shrimp. Place 2 grapefruit sections on top of each; bake in moderate oven (350° F.) 30 minutes. Serves 6.

Veal Shortcake
(Translated From the Strawberry)

2 cups sifted flour, 4 tbsps. all-phosphate baking powder, 1/2 teasp. salt, 4 tbsps shortening, 1/2 cup milk.

Sift flour, baking powder and salt together. Cut in shortening to the consistency of coarse meal. Add milk to form a soft dough. Turn out on lightly floured board, knead gently for 1/2 minute. Roll out to 1/2-inch thickness. Cut with medium sized biscuit cutter. Bake in hot oven (450° F.) 12-15 minutes. While hot, fill with creamed veal mixture.

Ham Bran Pancakes
(Direct From Cold Cut Platter)

2 eggs, 2 1/2 cups milk, 3 cups flour, 4 tbsps. baking powder, 1 1/2 tbsps. salt, 1/2 teasp. dry mustard, 1/2 cup melted shortening, 1 cup bran cereal, 16 slices boiled ham. Beat eggs, add milk and mix well. Sift flour with baking powder, salt and mustard; add to first mixture, stirring until flour disappears. Add melted and cooled shortening and bran cereal. Dip ham slices in batter and bake on hot griddle, turning over once. Yield: 15 cakes.

Mrs. Ceelia Leaf of Moline, Ill., arrived Saturday for an indefinite visit with her daughter, Mrs. L. E. Knoedler, and Mr. Knoedler and children of Espuella.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Pennell returned Sunday evening from Galveston and Houston, Tex., and Shreveport and Warden, La., where they visited relatives several days.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Basel, who have been vacationing on the West Coast for several months, visited friends and transacted business in Artesia several days last week, leaving for their home in San Angelo, Tex., Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Withers of Carrizozo are in Artesia visiting friends and relatives for several days and looking for a ranch. Their ranch at Carrizozo was one of the sixty taken over by the government for a bombing range.

WORLD NEWS

BRIEF FORM

From Near and Far, Some Timely, Some of Human Interest

Seventy-year-old Morris Rudin of New York, told by two bandits to put up his hands, obliged—by knocking one of the men on his ear after taking away his gun. Although the bandit retrieved his weapon and beat Rudin on the head, the aged storekeeper stubbornly fought back until the two men fled his linoleum shop empty-handed. "It wasn't the money I was fighting for—it was my self-respect," explained Rudin to police.

Twice the front page of the New Haven (W. Va.) News fell to pieces or "pied" as it was being loaded on the weekly's press. Exasperated editors put out the paper with a banner headline: "The Jinx Downed Us This Week" and this explanation over page one: "Two doses of pi is too much to overcome in one week end, so our readers will be obliged to take the first page blank. Page one fell to pieces, 'pied,' as it was loaded on the press, was reconstructed only to pi again. Sorry, but accidents happen to all of us sometimes."

At Dallas, Tex., Mrs. L. A. Westbrook spotted a baby pecan tree in her yard and spaded it up to transplant it. She found the roots entwined around an old baseball. The ball, she figured, was a home-made one with a pecan as a center.

Butling for Jack Benny pays well. Eddie Anderson, who does, as Rochester on Bennys program, has purchased four race horses at Saratoga, N. Y., and plans to race them in the West. The Negro comedian also owns a yacht, a station wagon with a horse trailer, and a larger limousine than Benny himself.

Five-year-old John Santana of New York trudged unaided into a movie theater but it took his father, mother, the theater manager, two assistants and a police emergency squad to get him back out. The boy fell asleep and wedged his head between two metal bars of a seat rest. The show was halted while unsuccessful efforts were made to pull him free. Police finally had to saw the bars. Johnny was unhurt.

A mother anxiously telephoned the Marine Corps recruiting officer at Buffalo, N. Y.: "My son is on his way to enlist but please don't let him. Beans make him sick." The son was too young anyway.

E. A. McNamara, Huntington, Ind., druggist, teeing off on the fifth hole of the Lafontaine Country Club, hit his golf ball into an empty coal car of an Erie Railroad freight train. His partners checked up, found out the car was bound for West Virginia and credited him with a 600-mile drive.

John Hodge, Sangamon County, Illinois, rural rehabilitation director, found out how it feels to be a millionaire—but only for a few hours. He went to a Springfield bank and purchased a cashier's check for $200. When he examined the check a few hours later he found it was made out for $1,000,200. Bank officials were glad to get the check back.

Penn coeds are up in arms over the football situation but they aren't getting any help from the university's callous students. They protested against men students being allowed to buy cut-rate tickets a week before they could, but the university's Daily Pennsylvanian dismissed the matter with the comment: "The girls will have a terrible time attempting to convince a lot of skeptical guys that a game started for men, played by men and numbering men among its most avid spectators is passing under the control of women."

The problem of moving 60,000 books from the old to the new library at Davidson (N. C.) College didn't worry anybody. The 700 students were given a holiday, told to form a line resembling an old-fashioned fire brigade and pass the books from hand to hand.

Nelda Ann Holmes, an unclad blonde of 2 years, locked herself in the bathroom. Offers of lollipops, chewing gum, and a new doll dress wouldn't budge her. Patrolman P. W. Johnson, summoned by the Salt Lake City family, has a way with blondes. He just banged a fist on the door and roared: "This is a policeman. You'd better come out." Meekly Nelda Ann emerged. But she exercised her woman's right to the last word: "Fank you Mr. Policeman for letting me out."

A kind but practical Tampa, Fla., woman took three motherless kittens to the Humane Society, planning to give them away. But society officials performed a job of super-salesmanship and when the woman returned home she had: The three kittens she started out with, plus a mother cat that had lost her kittens, plus two other orphaned kittens.

Thirteen thousand, sixty-nine dollars is a lot of money to forget, but that's the total cash found in clothing sent last year to the valet department of the Waldorf-Astoria, New York City. Fred W. N. Tasker, head of the valet department, remembers when one guest overlooked $6,000 in cash and traveler's checks.

Chefs at Carlstrom Field, Arcadia, Fla., were concerned over British appetites when Royal Naval Air Force cadets arrived for training and were prepared to serve roast beef, kidney pudding and tea. Instead they found the youthful Britons preferred all the same foods as husky young Americans and in about the same plentiful quantities—with broiled, inch-thick steak, Southern fried chicken and coffee tipping the list. No longer limited by the food rationing that prevails in their homeland, the boys really go for a plate of golden brown chicken, escalloped potatoes, fresh green peas and vegetable salad—or fish, string beans, French fried potatoes and salad.

Small-scale maneuvers were in progress and a number of troops had been posted around a clearing at Camp Davis, N. C. Orders were to hold those positions until the bugle sounded for mess. All went well until several buglers started practicing. The troops scrambled from their posts, were wiped out quickly by the enemy, and arrived at mess hall only to find they were an hour early.

Two-year-old Gerald Wetzel of Indiana, Pa., has a sharp appetite for sharp things. His mother, investigating what he was chewing with relish, found it was a double-edged razor blade. The youngster had chewed the blade into little pieces, but his mouth was not cut.

At Portland, Ore., someone took exception to those political posters Mrs. Grant Harris displayed on her porch during the 1940 campaign and splattered them with tomatoes. Now she's harvesting a bountiful tomato crop. The seeds from the missiles sprouted last spring.

DEFENSE BOND QUIZ

Q. Just what is inflation and how can it be minimized?

A. Inflation is a decrease in the buying power of the dollar caused by a rising cost of living. This, in turn, is brought about by a heavy public demand, resulting from a rapid increase in the national income, for things which cannot be produced in large enough quantities. Every citizen can help minimize inflation by buying Defense Bonds and Stamps.

Q. How can I get cash for my Defense Savings Stamps if I should need to redeem them?

A. Go to any postoffice.

Q. What can I do to help my son who has just entered military service?

A. Your boy must be clothed, fed, and supplied with the latest equipment. This requires money. Buy a Defense Savings Bond and help the government to equip your son.

Q. What is labor's attitude toward the Treasury's defense savings program?

A. Strongly cooperative. The A. F. of L., the C. I. O., the Railroad Brotherhoods and numerous other labor groups all over the country have endorsed the program.

Q. I cannot find the word, "defense," anywhere on the Defense Savings Stamps I have bought. Are they mere Postal Savings Stamps, or does my money invested in these stamps go into the defense program?

A. The money you use to purchase these stamps goes definitely into the defense program. The stamps bear the words, "America on Guard," which indicates that they are an integral part of the defense program.

Q. What is the Treasury's purpose in putting Defense Savings Stamps on sale in retail stores throughout the nation?

A. To make it as easy as possible for Americans everywhere to buy these stamps, which, as everyone knows, may be exchanged at many postoffices and banks for Defense Savings Bonds.

To buy Defense Bonds and Stamps, go to the nearest postoffice, bank, or savings and loan association; or write to the Treasurer of the United States, Washington, D. C. Also stamps now are on sale at most retail stores.

New Mexico income topped the national average during 1940 with an increase of 10 per cent over 1939 as compared with a 7 per cent advance for the United States in the period, the Department of Commerce announced.

The department placed the state's 1940 income at $190,000,000 and said the increase was due mostly to increased agricultural income and larger government and other payrolls. Farm income in the period rose from $34,000,000 to $40,000,000 and wages from $4,000,000 to $6,000,000, payments to government employees were $26,000,000 in 1940, up 11 per cent over 1939.

Bulldogs Bow to Carlsbad Cavemen on Friday, As Visitors Take Lone Tally in Heartbreaker

(By Leon Bert)

After fighting tooth and nail on even terms in a scoreless deadlock for almost three periods on Morris Field Friday evening, Coach Bob Cox's Carlsbad Cavemen played some primitive football and shook a halfback out in the clear and Artesia High School's winning streak was just a fond memory. The final score was 6 to 0. Coach Buster Riddle's Artesia lads played brilliant defensive ball for the most part, but the Bulldogs never really made a good offensive drive at any time. They seemed to have again lost the scoring punch that was so prominent in the Portales game.

Both elevens were about as evenly matched as any two teams could be and they were both fighting their hearts out before the largest crowd that ever assembled for a regularly scheduled game on Morris Field, estimated at upwards of 1,500 persons.

Carlsbad scored the lone touchdown of the game with just three minutes of the third quarter left to play, when Willis, Caveman halfback, went over left tackle on a 33-yard run into Bulldog pay dirt. A try by Stripling, Carlsbad end, for extra point was no good.

A Riddle special brought the fans to their feet on the opening kick-off when the Cavemen punt carried to the Artesia 10-yard stripe, where LeRoy Harmon, Bulldog fullback, took the ball and, after running ten yards, kicked it back to Carlsbad, way down to the 32-yard line.

The Bulldogs had "fumblytus" in the first period, losing possession of the ball several times, but never in very dangerous territory. Neither team came close to scoring.

Early in the second canto the Cavemen knocked on the touchdown gate but the door wouldn't open, the Bulldogs holding for four downs deep in their own territory. The pile-driving Cavemen drove to the Artesia 20-yard stripe before their march was halted by a stubborn line.

Late in the same canto, Nunez, Cox star back and ace passer, fired one complete to Thompson, Carlsbad back, to the Artesia 12-yard line.

After two line plays and an incomplete pass picked up only two yards in three tries, Stripling tried a field goal from the 10-yard line with Nunez holding, but it was wide and low.

Primitive football, straight line plays with no razzle-dazzle mixed in, set up the Carlsbad tally in the third quarter. Carlsbad bucked the center of the Artesia line or flanked the end for three first downs and Willis counted on the next play on a pretty run from the Artesia 33-yard line. Stripling tried to convert but his placekick attempt was no good.

Artesia took to the air in the fourth period with Harmon tossing, and it looked for a while as though the Bulldogs had come back into their own.

Harmon passed complete to Weldon Owen, Bulldog quarterback, for ten yards and a first down on the Artesia 40-yard stripe. Two plays later Harmon again shoved off another aerial to Owen who took it on the 50-yard line and went on down to the Carlsbad 17-yard line before being hit down hard.

Scoring hopes died soon afterwards though, for Harmon passed three times without finding a receiver and McCasland, Artesia halfback, was thrown for a six-yard loss, when Carlsbad took possession.

With hardly four minutes left to play the Bulldogs woke up and began to move. McCasland picked up sixteen yards around left end and over the left side of the Carlsbad line for a first-and-ten on his own 25-yard line.

A penalty for unnecessary roughness on the Cavemen helped the cause along and James Powell, Bulldog halfback, flanked the left side of the Caveman line for sixteen yards and another first down on the Bulldog 47-yard line on a reverse.

Here the Bulldog drive stalled momentarily, but after an exchange of punts the geared up Artesians began to move again.

Harmon filled the air with passes and Owen pulled one down and went twenty yards before he was stopped for a first-and-ten on the Caveman 30-yard stripe.

Carlsbad was penalized five yards for too many times out and after three incomplete tosses in the flat again, Owen came through on the receiving end and went ten yards for another first down as the game ended.

Prosperity of State Reflected In Payroll Tax

New Mexico's current prosperity is reflected in the greatest payroll tax collections in history.

Benjamin D. Luchini, chairman of the employment security commission, reported October's collections of employer contributions at $433,721, a figure that not only set a new record for one month's collections, but exceeded any three months' total since unemployment compensation was inaugurated.

The highest previous quarter's collections were made in the second quarter of this year, when $399,692 was added to the fund. Collections for the same quarter last year aggregated only $352,252.

Included in the month's contributions checks was one for $57,000, the author of which could not be revealed, Luchini said, because payroll information is kept in strict confidence by the commission.

The October revenue brought the total in the unemployment compensation fund, which can be used only to pay jobless insurance, to $3,371,262.

The Prettiest One Is Our Ann

The one with the smile on her face is Ann Crouch.

The others are chrysanthemums presented Ann Friday evening at the Artesia Bulldogs-Carlsbad Cavemen football game at Morris Field, half by the Artesia Rotary Club and half by her parents, Dr. and Mrs. H. W. Crouch.

The occasion was the completion of Ann's last baton demonstration at a home football game during her high school years, for she is to graduate next May, then go to one of several universities which have offered her scholarships in return for her phenomenal baton twirling.

Just after Ann had put on a superb demonstration of twirling, first with two lighted batons in the darkened stadium, then with a single lighted baton, and completing her performance with a conventional baton after the lights again were turned on, the flowers were presented her. Presentation was made in behalf of Rotary and Miss Crouch's parents by Miss Charlene Martin and "Tiny" Davis.

Flustered and somewhat taken aback, Ann smiled prettily as she accepted the tokens, while the cheer leaders went into action. Then Ann led the band off the football field for the last time, strutting just a little more than usual, it seemed, while the 1,500 spectators gave her an ovation.

And Ann Crouch is stepping out again Thanksgiving Day, but not at home. She is scheduled to compete at El Paso Thursday afternoon in The Times' annual drum major and majorette contest, in which she won the girls' division a year ago. The contests are to be held just prior to the Austin-El Paso High School annual game for El Paso high school honors.

About forty-five persons were present.

Mrs. Myers has a job there. Mr. and Mrs. Earl Christiansen and children took a load of iron to El Paso. They also visited relatives and friends at Ysleta, Tex., over the week end. Services will be held Sunday at the Morningside Baptist Mission with the Rev. Walter Johnson preaching. The B.T.U. of the Baptist Church in Artesia will have an interesting program. Everyone is invited to attend these services. Prayer meeting is held at 7:30 o'clock each evening. The program will be held at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon.

Cottonwood Items

Mrs. Noah Buck of Cottonwood received word that her mother, Mrs. Ella Avant of Hot Springs, N. Mex., was quite ill. Among those from here who went deer hunting and returned with a deer are Fred Chambers and two sons, Eugene and Orville; Clint Powell, Glenn O'Bannon, Monroe Howard, Ray Zumwalt, Orval Gray and Noah Buck. The Cottonwood Community Club will meet at the home of Mrs. Glenn O'Bannon for an all-day meeting and a covered dish lunch at noon next Tuesday. An election of officers will be held. All members are urged to be present. Mr. and Mrs. John Knowles of Beaumont, Tex., visited a few days with his sister, Mrs. Glenn O'Bannon, and family, and his brothers, Buster and Walter Knowles, and Mrs. Buster Knowles. They all visited their sister, Mrs. Archie McDonald, and family of Mentone, Tex., Monday. Miss Betty Jean Brookes was honored with a delightful surprise party on Tuesday of last week by Miss Edna Earl Johnson at the Johnson home on Cottonwood. The honoree received many nice gifts. Games were played until late. At the close of the delightful affair, delicious refreshments were served to about twenty guests. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Buck were honored Saturday night at their home at 1207 Washington Street, Artesia in celebrating their twenty-seventh wedding anniversary with a 7 o'clock dinner. A delicious turkey and all the trimmings were served from a long table with decorations of autumn flowers. They received many nice gifts. Those who enjoyed this happy affair with Mr. and Mrs. Buck were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Southgate and daughter, Sue; Mr. and Mrs. White, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Cline, Misses Mildred and Juanita Cline, and Alin Wheeler of Artesia and Mr. and Mrs. Clint Powell, Mr. and Mrs. John Buck and son, Ted, and Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Buck and children, Charles Edward and Mary Jean, of Cottonwood.

WHAT'S WHAT —in— NEW MEXICO

News Briefs of the "Sunshine State" Gleaned from Many Sources

Attendance at the Hobbs Lions Club weekly luncheons is booming, but some irregulars are plotting a barbecue which may end it all. The reason for the increased attendance is a goat who becomes the house guest of one of the stay-aways each week. The names of all absentees are placed in a hat and the first name drawn becomes the goat's host for a week. "The only way we can put an end to this stunt," declared one adamant irregular Lion, "is to have a barbecue and invite the goat."

New Mexico men in service, now rapidly nearing the 10,000 mark, have a sizable percentage in the life insurance data of the veterans administration, which reports a total of 610,000 during the year in which the new system has been in force. The cost, as low as 23 cents per month per $1,000, is so attractive that the department is taxed to the utmost of its facilities in completing the issuance of policies.

Raton is a law unto itself, and will celebrate Thanksgiving on Nov. 27 this year, even if the nationally set period is Nov. 20 and in the face of the fact that the state and national authorities are taking today off.

State gasoline tax receipts topped the half million dollar mark for October at $517,511, the Revenue Bureau reported, but were down due to seasonal causes from August and September. Receipts, however, for the first four months of the fiscal year totaled $2,168,163, a gain of nearly 10 per cent for the comparable period last year.

Attorney General E. P. Chase held that traveling salesmen selling to retailers such merchandise as candy, nuts, bakery goods and auto accessories were not subject to license fees imposed by the state on itinerant peddlers. "In arriving at this conclusion," added

Chase, I have, of course, assumed that the peddlers . . . have been pursuing their trade in the ordinary and usual course of business." The opinion was written at the request of State Comptroller C. R. Sebastian.

Fifteen thousand bluegill perch were planted in ditches north of Albuquerque recently by the GPA committee, headed by Dr. Miller Lane. The fish were brought there from the United States hatchery at Santa Rosa.

The state corporation commission has chartered the Sheriff's Posse of Las Cruces, a non-profit volunteer patriotic organization, incorporated by Claude Everett, Allie Issacks, B. E. Harvey, R. C. Miller and C. B. Baker.

Carlsbad, center of the state's potash industry, was the meeting place last week for renewed conferences looking toward greater production of potash on state lands.

Albert G. Simms of Albuquerque has given a registered Clydesdale stallion to the State Prison Farm at Los Lunas, Warden John B. McManus said. The horse, which Simms bought four years ago for $1,500, will be used for breeding to establish a stable of big work horses at the farm.

P. E. Flowers of Moriarty lost the hub cap from his car in a mud hole en route to Albuquerque. Homeward bound, he stopped to probe on the off chance he could find it. He found thirteen hub caps, but not his own.

Sometimes even newspapermen get playful. Wes Huff, Hobbs editor, got on the Associated Press wire Saturday night and messaged Albuquerque: "In sixth paragraph (of war story) when Hitler says, 'can not replace it in the next years,' how many years does he mean?" Vince Gullette, AP night editor at Albuquerque, replied: "Ask Hitler. He didn't specify." Queried Huff: "Okay. What's his phone number?"

The state board of education has ruled that teachers entering military service retain their certified status, State School Superintendent Grace Corrigan said. The ruling does not apply, however, to teachers taking positions in defense industry, she added.

Has the American Indian gone

sissy? When state game commissioners of New Mexico, the Redman's last stronghold, invited 300 applicants for bow and arrow hunters for a special deer season they expected to be besieged by Indians. Of the first 100, only three were Indians.

Public utilities must pay a $1 fee for each rate schedule filed with the state public service commission, regardless of how many are filed at one time, the attorney general's office held. The opinion was written by Assistant Attorney General Howard Houk for Commission Chairman G. S. Carter.

New Mexico's Junior Red Cross will include among its duties the making of writing boards for patients in military hospitals, State School Superintendent Grace Corrigan said. Mrs. Corrigan's announcement followed a conference with Miss Ivy O. Hendricks of St. Louis, Mo., assistant director of the organization for the Mid-West. Military hospital beds are placed so close together, said Mrs. Corrigan, that writing tables are impractical. As a substitute, writing boards will be made by manual training classes in New Mexico.

New Mexico dry cleaning establishments are not exempt from city or county occupation taxes because they have paid state license fee, Assistant Attorney General George Hunker, Jr., held in an opinion for the state dry cleaning board.

A seasonal increase in coal orders has brought reopening on a small scale of the Van Houten mine near Raton, closed a year ago. The St. Louis, Rocky Mountain & Pacific Coal Company said the property would be operated as a "stand-by mine" with 200 to 300 tons production a day to handle a season upswing in coal demand. Since the closing last year, the company has opened one other mine, the Brilliant.

Ranchers have been notified to remove all livestock from a wide area west of the Carrizozo-Tularosa road so that it may be used as an Army bombing range. Information was meager as to the Army's plans, but it was understood a strip of land about sixty miles long by thirty miles wide would be affected. It was estimated that livestock in the area totals about 15,000 goats, 3,000 cattle, 500 horses and a considerable number of sheep.

SCS and Cattle Association Men Stress Range Fall Fire Hazard

Through coincidence two news releases, both from Albuquerque, were received in the same mail, stressing the great fire hazard in the state this fall because of the excellent condition of range pasture.

The stories quoted J. L. Lantow, chief of the Soil Conservation Service range conservation division in the Southwest, and Tom Clayton, president of the New Mexico Cattle Growers Association, both of whom were emphatic that there is a great fire hazard, in spite of the fact the ranges may have been saturated by rain. In fact, that is what created the lush vegetation, which will dry rapidly during a few days without rain.

In the story from the Soil Conservation Service, Ludlow explained that the danger of fires may be lessened in several ways. One precaution is to distribute livestock so that the pasture most exposed to fire hazard is grazed first this fall.

In some areas, he said, the planting of a strip of vegetation which will stay green during the winter months will be helpful. In other areas, plowing of a fireguard may be necessary, although this strip of broken land may prove to be an erosion hazard later.

Combination of plowing and burning to provide a narrow fireguard may be used, Lantow stated, but grass must be burned only when wind and moisture conditions are favorable.

Another helpful practice is to blade off a strip, removing grass tops but being careful not to remove the grass crown.

Above all, ranchers can anticipate fire danger by forming organizations to fight fire systematically should one get started, the SCS official said.

"The possibility of a grass fire actually indicates good range management as well as favorable rainfall conditions, he said, "for when a pasture has a good stand of grass, there is actually more danger of fire damage."

And Clayton stressed that the State Game Protective Association, Highway Department, state police, Game Department, Tourist Bureau, railroads, Soil Conservation Service, Forest Service and other agencies have agreed to do everything within their power to assist in an educational campaign to keep grass fires from starting and once started to help put them out.

320 YEAR-OLD HOLIDAY

The first Thanksgiving feast was given after the Puritans' first harvest in 1621. It had no special religious significance. In 1623 an abundant rain followed a protracted drouth "for which mercie . . . they . . . set apart a day of thanksgiving." The first Thanksgiving proclamation was issued in 1668 by the Plymouth authorities. The observance of thanksgiving days was common from then on . . . George Washington issued the first presidential Thanksgiving proclamation. In 1864, President Lincoln proclaimed "the last Thursday in November" as Thanksgiving Day!

Will Lecture Here on T.B. Spread Prevention

W.O.W. WAR MEMORIAL HOSPITAL, SAN ANTONIO

"Preventing the Spread of Tuberculosis Through Adequate and Effective Control by Public Health Authorities" will be the subject of a free lecture to be delivered in the Artesia High School auditorium at 7:30 o'clock Monday evening by Dr. C. J. Koerth, medical superintendent of the Woodmen of the World War Memorial Hospital in San Antonio, Tex.

Dr. Koerth will speak to the students at 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon.

A four-point program to achieve public control of tuberculosis has been introduced in many states in lectures and writing by Dr. Koerth, and has found wide approval and adoption. It has brought him national recognition in professional circles.

The institution which he heads was erected as a memorial to Woodmen, who were killed in service during the World War, on a 200-acre tract of land near San Antonio and has discharged more than 3,000 members of the Woodmen of the World who have received free treatment. Under his superintendency, the hospital has achieved a remarkable record in restoring more than 91 per cent of the early cases to active life. It is one of the seventy-two similar institutions in the United States which have been approved for the training of resident physicians in tuberculosis and has been listed as a standardized hospital by the American College of Surgeons.

His lecture is illustrated by a series of moving pictures, which were made at the Woodmen of the World Hospital, and show a patient receiving the benefits of modern treatment, from the time of his admission until his discharge as an arrested case of tuberculosis.

The lecture in Artesia is being sponsored by the local W.O.W. Lodge.

Must Step Up—

part from improper eating, Barham said.

And a study in England disclosed that although the people look healthy and well-fed, they do not have sufficient strength to work properly. He added that it was found the people there, if they had enough meat to eat, could increase production 20 to 25 per cent within a week. The people there need dried milk, cheese, eggs, meats and vegetables, Barham said.

"This nation is going ahead and sending food to England, the county agent pointed out. So if agricultural production is not stepped up, there will be a shortage sooner or later.

"Our job is just as big as the job of those on the front," said Barham, as he pointed out that for Eddy County, as well as all other food-producing counties, there have been set quotas for the coming year for increases in the production of various produce and agricultural food products.

It was pointed out that all seats in that section are splendid and that many persons coming from a distance—as well as some at home—would appreciate having a guaranteed seat well near the center of the field. All seats in that section are to be interlined and numbered, so there will be no confusion the day of the game and a ticket will entitle the holder to a definite location.

Guy (Whitey) Roberts was placed in charge of the reserved seat section and he will supervise the marking of the seats.

Watson appointed Bob Bourland, chairman, and Don Jensen and A. L. Bert a committee to order trophies for the contending teams. The committee is working this week and hopes to have the trophies here in time for the game.

Toby Greer had his whole outfit here Friday evening to scout the Bulldogs at the Carlsbad game and from reports he considers they will be an easy touch.

Riddle is just as confident that there is a big surprise in store for the Lovington Wildcats Thursday afternoon, for he said, "If my boys play ball as they did two weeks ago, they will beat anything Greer can put on the field to face them."

The big fellow for the Bulldogs to watch is the "jarrin" wildcat fullback," Dick Fox, who is a hard man to stop.

It has been roughly estimated that only about 25 per cent of the hunters were successful in killing deer this year.

The only serious accident was the killing on the last day of the season, Saturday, of Norris Green, deputy game warden, in Grapevine Canyon southeast of Alamogordo in the Sacramentos, while checking hunters.

C. C. Oliver of Las Cruces is being held for the shooting, said to have been accidental, when Oliver mistook the warden, mounted on a horse, for a deer.
