Eighty Seniors Candidates for Diplomas Here

Commencement Exercises to be Thursday of Next Week — Baccalaureate Services in Auditorium at 8 Sunday Night.

Artesia High School has a record crop of young Americans this year, with eighty candidates for graduation announced by W. E. Kerr, superintendent of schools. They are to receive their diplomas at graduation exercises in the school auditorium Thursday evening of next week, when Dr. D. M. Wiggins, president of the Texas College of Mines and Metallurgy, delivers the commencement address.

The number of candidates for graduation surpasses by eighteen the previous record of sixty-two, set a year ago.

As the seniors approach the day for which they have worked twelve years, they have a number of activities scheduled for the coming week, including baccalaureate services in the school auditorium at 8 o'clock Sunday evening.

The baccalaureate sermon will be delivered by the Rev. Dr. I. L. Morgan, pastor of the First Methodist Church.

The entire program: Processional, school orchestra; invocation, the Rev. Dr. Oren Orahoad, pastor of the First Christian Church; music, "Cujus Animam," from "Stabat Mater," by G. Rossini, orchestra. Scripture and prayer, Dr. Morgan; music, "Lo, How a Rose E'er Blooming," by Michael Praetorius, and "Calm Be Thy Sleep," by Noble Cain, mixed chorus.

Baccalaureate, Dr. Morgan; music, "Agnus Dei," from "L'Arlesienne Suite," by G. Bizet, orchestra; benediction, the Rev. Dr. Orahoad; recessional, orchestra. (continued on last page, column 4)

Cemetery Board Warns Vandals Away at Night

The board of Woodbine Cemetery has issued a final warning to vandals, who have been entering the cemetery at night since a warning several weeks ago.

At that time the gate was ordered locked each evening at sundown, but trespassers were in the cemetery Tuesday night, when they were seen and chased away by the sexton, and again about 6 o'clock Wednesday morning.

Members of the board said that if the practice does not cease, "someone is likely to get hurt." The sexton has been ordered to use force against trespassers, if necessary.

And, they added, if vandals or trespassers are caught, they will be prosecuted for trespassing.

Three Producers, Five Locations in The County Fields

Miller Wildcat Southwest of Artesia Is Showing Great Promise

Three Eddy County oil wells were completed during the last week, while five new locations were staked.

At the same time, interest again turned to a rank wildcat six miles southwest of Artesia, inactive the last year, which is showing strong signs today of becoming a producer as work on completing it is resumed.

The J. R. Miller, Kelley 1, in NW SE 2-18-25, at a total depth of 1,677 feet, today is swabbing dark green oil, after two squeeze jobs of 2,500 pounds each have been completed to shut off Artesian water.

A year ago, when operations were temporarily abandoned, the hole stood full of water after acidizing. In the current operations, Miller said, the water was swabbed out, the squeeze jobs were accomplished and the free oil was (continued on last page, column 5)

More Than 100 At Hospital for 'Baby Day' Here

"Baby Day" was observed at Artesia Memorial Hospital Tuesday afternoon, when more than 100 persons attended open house, including babies born in the hospital since it opened Sept. 25, 1939, mothers and other relatives of the babies and visitors.

High spot of the afternoon for the children was the refreshment hour, with the guests, young and old, at a long table, in the center of which was a stork holding a baby doll. A cake, decorated in blue and pink plaid, was served with punch to the adults. The children old enough for the refreshments were served cookies and mints in pink and blue, which they found in cardboard and crepe paper baby shoes. The booties were arranged around the edge of the table.

Presiding at the table was Mrs. W. S. Hogsett, mother of Charles William Hogsett, the hospital's first baby, born Sept. 28, 1939, and Mrs. Raymond Bartlett, with Charles William the guest of honor.

Mrs. J. W. Johns, superintendent of the hospital, showed the guests through the hospital and then took them all out on the lawn, where color movies were taken, with the babies and adults in front of the beautiful hedge of roses, now in full bloom. And many of the babies were weighed.

The first baby shoes of Charles William, which had been bronzed and made into bookends, were presented to him by Mrs. Johns.

New War Savings Bond Drive Is to Start on Monday

Follow-up on Previous Campaign Staged Earlier This Year

A follow-up campaign for the sale of War Savings Bonds is to start in North Eddy County Monday, it has been announced by L. B. Feather, local chairman of the War Bond and Stamp staff.

In the campaign, workers are to contact persons who were missed in the drive in mid-April and those who at that time declined to pledge a portion of their regular earnings for the purchase of the bonds and stamps.

An attempt is being made nationally to sell a billion dollars' worth of War Savings Bonds each month and the New Mexico quota for May has been set at $1,054,500 and that for Eddy County at $53,300, Feather said.

In the drive to be launched next Monday, a number of workers are being enlisted, as was done last month. However, this time the area is to be divided into voting precincts, with a captain for each.

Feather pointed out that the objectives of the drive are to raise funds to prosecute the war, to prevent inflation in prices, to give every citizen an interest in the financial stability of the government and to cushion the financial shock, which will be caused by the cessation of the war.

He stressed that the pledging of a percentage of one's earnings, or a definite amount each payday, for the purchase of War Bonds and Stamps is done in order that a cross-section of the nation's savings for war may be determined.

To those who refused to pledge before, Feather is making a special appeal. Many people, he said, have set their own program, but hesitate to make pledges for fear they might have to break them. Feather said they should not hesitate for that reason, as the pledges plainly stipulate that the pledge is to be carried out "if possible."

James Warden Will Move Law Practice To The Cavern City

James F. Warden, Artesia attorney, is closing his office here and moving to Carlsbad, where he will occupy the offices formerly used by George L. Reese, Jr.

Reese has accepted a position as counsel for the Office of Price Administration at Albuquerque and has assumed his new duties.

Warden came to Artesia in January, 1940, from Albuquerque, where he was associated in the practice of law with Hanna, Wilson & Brophy. Mr. and Mrs. Warden will live for the present at the Crawford hotel, until they find a permanent home.

DAY OF PRAYER TO BE OBSERVED

A special day of prayer will be observed in Artesia churches Sunday for men from this community who have gone to the war zones, especially for those in the Philippine Islands.

The day was set aside by proclamation of Mayor Emery Carper last week, immediately after the capitulation of Corregidor.

Pastors of the several churches will observe the proclamation in various ways, but all contacted said they and their congregations would cooperate in the spirit of the proclamation.

All people of the community are invited to take part in the day of prayer at the churches of their choice—in the democratic way.

Three Local Boys At Fortress When It Was Captured

Whitted, Phillips and Hnulik Are Listed Among Bataan Evacuees

The names of three Artesia boys were included in a list of 106 members of the 200th Coast Artillery, Anti-Aircraft Regiment, who were evacuated from Bataan Peninsula to Corregidor Fortress prior to April 9, when the peninsula fell. They are Jess Whitted, W. R. Phillips and Richard Hnulik.

A number of Carlsbad boys also were named and there have been more from North Eddy County than the three, but if so the name of none was recognized.

The message, which was wired to Gov. John E. Miles from Maj. Gen. A. D. Surles, director of the Army's public relations bureau, and was released Saturday, was of little consolation to members of the families of the boys, for Corregidor capitulated Wednesday of last week and it is presumed all of the living now are prisoners of war in the hands of the Japs.

No word has been received in regard to any other members of the 200th dated since the collapse of the Bataan defenses a month ago. It is reasonable to assume that many were taken prisoner and still others escaped to the mountains with natives of Luzon Island, where they may remain until the end of hostilities.

An official card, written by Chester L. Nicholson, who was with Battery H, 200th, was received Tuesday by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chester L. Nicholson. It was dated March 1.

The card read: "I am well and getting on well. Letter follows at first opportunity. I have had no letters from you in a long time."

Miss Fannie Woodruff, principal of the Artesia grade school, is confined to her bed at her home here and expected to remain there the rest of this week. Miss Woodruff was taken ill Tuesday.

Prizes Given to Platoon, Squad Of Cadet Corps

The second platoon of Company A, Artesia High School Cadet Corps, was awarded a $25 cash prize last Thursday evening, when the boys had competitive drill before Lt. Col. W. H. Powell, staff officer of the New Mexico State Guard.

Inspecting the boys with Col. Powell were Major Charles Morgan and Capt. Oren C. Roberts, also of the State Guard, and Fred Brainard.

The second squad of the second platoon of Company B won a $5 prize in squad competition.

The winning squad: Sunny Runyan, leader, and Freddie Wiggins and Ishmel Juarez.

Sugar Adds Up To a Big Total In North Eddy

Ration Books Issued to 6,192 in Artesia—Some Sidelights, Wherein Are Headaches for Members of the Board.

Perhaps it seems to the individual that a half pound of sugar a week for the eight-week period starting Tuesday of last week is very few grains, but it all adds up to about fifteen tons of sugar for North Eddy County until June 27—and that's plenty sweet!

The figure represents four pounds of sugar for each person issued a ration book on one of the first four days of last week, during the registration period, in Artesia, Hope and Loco Hills, and allowing a few extra sacks for those in this part of the county for which the rationing board did not have figures immediately.

In greater Artesia—embracing the Artesia school district—6,192 rationing books were issued, while Hope reported 539 and Loco Hills 547.

At the registration for the Artesia school district, held at Central School, 6,473 applications were made, but in 281 cases ration books were not issued, because the applicants had more sugar on hand than allowed under the regulations, or for other reasons.

Scouts Attend 'Camp-o-Ree' in Rocky Arroyo

Boy Scouts from the Artesia, Hobbs and Carlsbad districts of the Eastern New Mexico council area participated in a "Camp-o-Ree," a variation of the customary "Camp-o-Ral," on Rocky Arroyo from last Thursday afternoon to Saturday afternoon and reported a successful camp. Present were 156 boys besides their leaders.

Whereas heretofore the camps have been held in parks or other places close to town, the "Camp-o-Ree" was held in rough country somewhat removed from the conveniences of home and, their leaders said, the boys "ate it up."

Although troop and patrol ratings for most phases of the camp have not been announced as yet, one patrol of troop 8 took second place in an "adventure trail of scouting skills" Saturday morning. In that activity seven leaders were at as many stations and gave the patrols tests when they arrived.

Miss Gladys Thompson, a nurse at Fort Sam Houston, Tex., is expected home Sunday on furlough to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Thompson.

WE THANK YOU ONE AND ALL

Acknowledgment and thanks are made by The Advocate for the cooperation and assistance of all merchants and manufacturers, who participated in the Happy Kitchen Cooking School.

Topping the list is the New Mexico Eastern Gas Company which furnished Roper ranges for the use of Miss Jessie Hogue and gave a $50 War Savings Bond as a prize.

Local merchants tying in directly were: Peoples Mercantile Company, Safeway Store, Brown Mercantile Company, Star Grocery, Bati's Food Store, Price's Creameries, Inc., Toggery Shop, Mann Drug Company, Ross Bakery, Star Bakery and The Flower Shop.

Practically local was the Pecos Valley Packing Company of Roswell.

Manufacturers of Mrs. Tucker's Shortening, K C Baking Powder and Kellogg's All Bran and Rice Krispies also cooperated.

The Advocate likewise is indebted to the Southwestern Public Service Company for the use of floor lamps and to Purdy Furniture Company for the use of kitchen furniture.

Teaching Aliens To Become U. S Citizens Here

Miss Ethel Pino of Portales, an instructor of citizenship classes to combat subversive activities, set up under the State Department of Education, is conducting regular classes at the community center in La Loma, the Spanish-American settlement at the north edge of Artesia and, with her charges, will observe "I am an American Day" Sunday.

The local program is part of the national citizenship education project, being undertaken in order to train aliens and prepare them for citizenship of the United States, as well as to implant in them the principles of democracy.

Artesia is one of fourteen cities in the state, where the program is being carried out. Through the schools it is hoped to contact many of the 12,000 aliens in New Mexico. Cooperating with the State Department of Education is the U. S. Immigration and Naturalization Service. Miss Rebecca Graham of Santa Fe is state chairman of the citizenship education program.

Miss Pino asked that those aliens already enrolled in the classes bring others for enrollment and that citizens of the United States knowing of aliens, who should be interested in the course, urge them to contact her.

Drawing Plans for Proposed Artesia Airport Facilities

Include Hangar for Fifteen Planes —Training Pilots Apply

Fred Brainard, chairman of the airport committee, said this morning that plans, specifications and an estimate of costs for a fifteen-plane hangar and other improvements for the Artesia airport are being drawn up, as the movement to improve the airport gains momentum and qualified instructors for an Army pilot preliminary training school show interest in the project.

The plans and estimates are being made by Fred Jacobs, superintendent of the Loco Hills Pressure Maintenance Association, Inc.

Besides the fifteen-plane hangar, to be 60x100 feet, they include a lean-to machine shop, a four-room caretaker's house and a 20x20-foot office.

Plans as being drawn by Jacobs call for the hangar to be of oval dome construction, constructed with a pipe frame, probably welded, and covered with sheet metal.

Brainard said the committee members believe capacity for fifteen planes should be a minimum, as at least four or five planes would be used in connection with a training school, there are three local planes to be housed and there should be ample hangar space for visitors. At present there is a demand by Roswell and Carlsbad pilots for hangar space, as their local facilities are inadequate.

The chairman also pointed out that the field and its facilities, even if not taken over by the government for an Army Air Corps training school, which local men (continued on society pages)

Miller Sings At Rotary Club Meet Tuesday

H. O. Miller, high school vocal instructor, favored the Rotary Club Tuesday noon with two baritone solos, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. I. L. Spratt, elementary school music supervisor.

A report on the recent district conference of Rotary Clubs at Roswell was made by B. N. Muncy, Jr., who said the keynote of all speakers was to the effect: "Victory through the help of God." He said that through no prearrangement, the thought prevailed in all messages.

Tom Davis, president of Rotary International, sent a message that the big aim of the organization this year is for hemispheric solidarity and said that Rotary and its principles should play a part in forming a permanent peace after the war, Muncy reported.

The Artesia club showed an attendance average for the year prior to the conference of 94.22 per cent, ranking tenth out of thirty-five clubs in the district. Lovington topped the list with a percentage of 99.8.

USO Drive in Eddy Will Start Monday, Benefit of Service Men

State Geologist Asks Review of Refinery Curb

A request for review of data in regard to an order by the office of Petroleum Coordinator Ickes to curtail the petroleum processing rate in New Mexico by 30 per cent has been lodged by John M. Kelly, state geologist, with the coordinator's office.

The recent order of a 30 per cent cut in crude runs in district No. 3, which includes all of New Mexico, affects the Artesia refineries and four others, which Kelly said have an aggregate of only 10,000 barrels maximum crude charge per day.

Affected locally are the plants of Malco Refineries, Inc., Continental Oil Company and New Mexico Asphalt & Refining Companies. Others in the state are Johnson-Lodewick, Roswell; Continental, Farmington; Petroleum Products, Prewitt, and Brickland, near El Paso.

Kelly pointed out that the geographical location of the New Mexico refineries prevents them from competing with any other refineries in the district.

The state's refineries, he said, supply only about 50 per cent of the local demand. By supplying their customary runs the transportation facilities for the work are relieved greatly for use elsewhere, Kelly said.

The New Mexico refineries produce a total of about five million gallons of gasoline a month.

"Victory Review" At Morris Field On Friday Evening

Physical Ed, Cadet Corps, Band to Be Aided by State Guard Company

A "Victory Review," in which the boys' and girls' physical education departments and the band of Artesia High School Cadet Corps will play prominent parts, will be presented at Morris Field at 8 o'clock Friday evening in a public program.

The high school groups will be augmented in the exercises by the local State Guard company.

W. E. Kerr, superintendent of schools, said the "Victory Review" will be a final summary exhibition for the school year of the physical education and military preparedness program of the school.

Everyone interested in the high school boys and girls, as well as in the phases of the work that will be demonstrated, is invited to attend.

In the reviewing stand will be Major Charles Morgan, commander of the 2nd Battalion, New Mexico State Guard; Lt. Frank McCarthy, Hagerman, of the battalion headquarters company; Artie McAnalley, commander of the American Legion post; Fred Brainard, representative on the Cadet Corps board of the Legion, sponsoring organization; Mayor Emery Carper; N. M. Baird, coordinator of civilian defense; Superintendent Kerr and A. L. Bert, Legion representative and editor of The Advocate.

The program: Processional, in following order: High school band, playing "Salute to the Stars and Stripes," by Huff; girls' physical education class and boys' physical education class. (continued on last page, column 3)

Merchants Asked to Attend State Meet On Maximum Prices

John Murphy, manager of the Albuquerque Chamber of Commerce, this morning wired Arba Green, secretary of the Artesia Chamber of Commerce, calling attention to an important meeting in Albuquerque at 7:30 o'clock next Tuesday evening, held by the Office of Price Administration, at which the rules and workings of the maximum price regulations will be explained.

Murphy urged that a number of Artesia merchants attend. Green is contacting the Artesia merchants today and said it is hoped they will select a committee of four or more to represent them at the meeting.

Grady Booker, Chairman for Artesia, and Board Are Set for Concerted Campaign During All of Next Week.

HORNE COUNTY HEAD

Mrs. Irvin Cox Appointed for Hope Community—For a Common Cause.

Artesia and Eddy County on Monday will start their drive for funds in the national United Service Organizations campaign, to provide money to be used in furnishing clubs, entertainment and refreshments for men in the armed forces, while off duty.

Grady Booker, who served in the initial USO drive here last year, again has been appointed chairman for the Artesia community, while Mayor Sam Horne of Carlsbad is Eddy County chairman. At Hope Mrs. Irvin Cox is chairman. The county quota is $1,650.

The national drive, to last a month, started Monday of this week, but the county and local organizations decided to wait until next Monday and then devote a week to concerted effort, with follow-up campaigns during the remainder of the period, if necessary. Workers' desks will be set up in prominent places in the business section.

Booker is being assisted by officers and a local board, the latter representing various women's organizations in Artesia.

AWVS Unit Plans Dance at Hotel Saturday Night

The local unit of the American Women's Voluntary Services, Inc., has announced a dance will be given Saturday evening on the Roof Garden of the Artesia Hotel.

The dance will be given in order to help the organization carry on its work in connection with civilian defense.

The AWVS is not permitted to solicit funds for the work, so the local members decided on the public dance for the purpose.

Tickets may be purchased from members of the unit, all of whom have them for sale.

Cooking School Is Big Success Here Early This Week

Mrs. Frank Cogdell Is Awarded Best Cake

Another successful cooking school of The Advocate has come and gone, leaving in the minds of hundreds of women of this community new wrinkles for economical cooking and household duties, as well as many tasty recipes they were taught by Miss Jessie Hogue, demonstrator.

Perhaps the happiest woman at the school, which was held Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday mornings at the Ocotillo Theater, was Mrs. Frank Cogdell, who was awarded a $50 War Savings Bond at the school, the gift of the New Mexico Eastern Gas Company. But there were dozens of other prizes and even those who did not receive prizes were well repaid for the mornings spent as guests of The Advocate and the cooperating merchants and manufacturers.

The total attendance for the three days was 1,536 with the largest crowd Wednesday.

Champion cake baker this year was Mrs. Forrest B. Carroll, using the recipe with which Mrs. Herman Green won at the school two years ago. Mrs. Green slipped slightly—very slightly, Miss Hogue said—and took third place this year.

The second-place winner was Mrs. Preston Camp, fourth was Mrs. R. H. Leslie and fifth was (continued on last page, column 7)

IT COSTS, BUT WE'LL SPEND

Sometimes it seems as though we are two-bitted to death in this war, for at every turn there is a new place to spend money.

To start with, there are increased taxes and then there is the purchase of War Savings Bonds and Stamps, all of which a year or two ago would have made most of us flinch, were we to realize just how much we would be spending in those two matters.

But we are doing it, and most of us are going further. There's the Red Cross and the USO, the Salvation Army and the Navy Relief Society, China relief, State Guard and AWVS dances, civilian relief expenses and many other things.

And up to now we have seen very few people who did not grin and bear it!

Yes, there is an extra expense here for an entertainment, to help one of the worthy organizations carry on its work in civilian defense, an extra expense there in some new drive.

And there will be more all the time, some for entertainments, so as to make the contribution seem the contributors are getting value received, others out-and-out donations.

As long as we can find ways and means to help in all of these worthy affairs, our boys in the service can be assured we are keeping up our morale on the home front and are spending for their good, at the same time having a bit of fun doing it.

As serious a thing as this war is, we cannot afford to cease having wholesome entertainment at home, so they in the camps can have fun too. And the other expenses must be met, so the war effort can be carried along smoothly and our civilian defense program can be hastened.

Next on the program of drives is that for the United Service Organizations, to start in Artesia Monday.

When the original drive of the USO was staged last year, we were not at war, the organization was new and few people realized just what it all was about. But North Eddy County went over the top, far above the quota set. And North Eddy County, incidentally, was the only community in the Pecos Valley to take part in that drive.

Now we know what the USO is. Many of us have heard from our boys in the service, telling about the fun they have at the USO clubs and of the entertainments and eats furnished.

We realize that the boys, away from home, need some sort of place to go off the reservation, where they may be provided with good, wholesome recreation and rest. Often a trip to a USO club might take away that feeling of nostalgia. Certainly it is better to go there than to no one knows where, when the boys are "on the loose."

Let's meet our USO quota in Eddy County next week and again go over the top. And let's meet every other drive or entertainment for the benefit of any war project in the same way.

We can—and we will—take in our belts little by little for the direct or indirect benefit of the war effort, for we are learning week by week to be more conservative in our daily habits and to spend more for a common cause—licking the Axis.

BIKE RIDING ON SIDEWALKS IS TOBOO

This is hot off the griddle, written only a moment or two after seeing the incident which inspired it.

It has to do with riding bicycles on the sidewalk. Our heart is still pounding somewhat after grabbing a tot, as he was struck by a bicycle ridden by a young man—on the sidewalk in front of The Advocate office.

The bicycle, dodging between many people on the sidewalk, did not hurt the child, but that is beside the point. The child had a right to be on the sidewalk; the bicycle did not. It was luck and quick reaction on the part of the rider, by way of applying the brake on the bicycle, which avoided what might have been a serious accident.

There is but one answer: Bicycles have no place on the sidewalks, as we have said before. They belong in the street, along with other vehicles, for that is what bicycles are, vehicles, pure and simple.

We do know that there is a law in regard to bicycles on the sidewalk, and we do know that common courtesy towards pedestrians demands that bicycles be wheeled on sidewalks, if it is necessary for the riders to be there, especially in the crowded downtown district.

Next time we either will hold the offender for officers or report him to them! And Police Chief J. C. Floore says he's behind us and suggests that we remind everyone the fine is $10.

GIVING BLOOD, SO OTHERS MIGHT LIVE

As this is written, it is not known whether announcement will be made this week about a blood bank drive in New Mexico, but the story, of which we have known for several weeks, will break soon. It can do no harm to say a few words now, even if official release of the story is not made for another week.

This community will be asked for 1,000 units of blood and the type class will make no difference. A mobile unit will be here to process the blood into crystals, by a new method, and the crystals will be sent to the war zones.

You cannot tell, maybe your son, or your cousin—or even yourself—might need that blood, before this thing is over.

When asked to sign up for a donation of blood, do so!

SO GOOD, ADVOCATE COPIES ADVOCATE

Our linotype operator has a good one on us—catching us right in the act. We saw a dandy item somewhere, which we thought would make good reading for Advocate readers, so we clipped and edited it and hung it on the news hook.

Somehow it smacked of something familiar to the operator, who scratched his head and then recalled that it had appeared in this imitable sheet a couple weeks ago. Since then it had made the rounds, coming back to us in new form.

That just goes to show how good it must have been in the first place.

It's th' dirty window that gets noticed! Spillin' sugar nowdays is about as unlucky as spillin' salt.

Th' more a feller has in him, th' more he can see in others.

Sinister shadows or benignant shade are one and the same thing—it's their use that makes th' difference.

One reason some folks never sympathize much with th' other feller is they're too busy—bein' sorry for themselves!

Idle words don't usually stay that way.

Are You Serving Civilian Defense?

This is one of a series of releases from the Office of Civilian Defense explaining the various insignia adopted and the general duties of the wearers.

ROAD REPAIR CREW

The Road Repair Crew members will be identified by an indispensable symbol of their work—the shovel—done in red and placed in white triangle set in blue circle.

Regular street and road repair crews must be augmented by able civilian volunteers, preferably men, who can help to restore the normal flow of traffic quickly after an air raid or other major disaster.

The wearer of this insignia is limited to workers enrolled in the Road Repair Crew in the Artesia Civilian Defense Organization.

SANTA FE CARLOADINGS

The Santa Fe System carloadings for the week ending May 9 were 21,325, compared with 20,759 for the same week in 1941. Received from connections 9,629, compared with 7,363 for the same week in 1941. The total cars moved were 30,954, compared with 28,122 for the same week in 1941. The Santa Fe handled a total of 32,034 cars during the preceding week of this year.

Vaccinate Horses Now to Prevent Sleeping Sickness

Extension Specialist Advises Taking of Preventive Measures—Cases Reported

That dread disease of horses—sleeping sickness—has reappeared in several localities in New Mexico, according to reports received by Steve L. Brock of the New Mexico Extension Service.

As so many farmers and stockmen are depending on horses for power this year, said Brock, it is very important that farmers and ranchmen take steps immediately to prevent, insofar as possible, the spread of the disease.

"The best preventive treatment that we know," continued Brock, "is vaccination with encephalomyelitis vaccine, and farmers and ranchers should be very cautious in the use of this remedy in order to avoid the loss of vaccine and the danger of infection."

The treatment consists of two separate injections, the second being made seven days after the first. The vaccine must be put into the skin and not under it, and the second injection should be put on the opposite side of the neck from the first. All needles and equipment should be carefully sterilized both before and after administering the vaccine.

Infected animals should be put in a cool barn or a shady place, and the services of a qualified veterinarian secured as soon as possible. Animals that have the disease should be given fresh, cool water, small quantities of oats and alfalfa hay and one or two quarts of raw linseed oil daily. This treatment has proved quite helpful in some cases, but considerable care should be used in treating the animal.

"Although there is a serum that can be given infected animals," said Brock, "it is better to build up an immunity by early vaccination, so do not wait until sleeping sickness breaks out among your horses to start vaccinating. Do it now. This is real insurance against loss of animals later in the year."

Control Lice on Cattle, Barham Tells Farmers

Controlling lice on cattle in Eddy County will contribute greatly toward the beef production goals in 1942, Fred A. Barham, Eddy County agent, said this week.

Cows having a heavy infestation of lice will become weak and give less milk, he said. Lice also will prevent calves from raking rapid growth and reaching a maximum weight by shipping time.

He also said that ranchmen, who control this costly parasite, usually dip their cattle in the fall. Dipping is highly recommended where the practice is not carried out the previous fall.

Two dippings are necessary in order to control lice. The second dipping should be made eighteen to twenty-one days after the first. Cattle should never be dipped in less than seventeen days after the first dipping.

"We have found the wettable sulphur-cube combination to be the best for this work. It is very effective, non-poisonous and easy to mix," said Barham.

"Cows with young calves can be dipped without any losses if extreme care is used in handling and working the cattle. Ranchmen will have no trouble in getting cows to claim their calves if this mixture is used. Assistance will be given any stockman in planning his dipping program."

Um! Bran Muffins Filled with Delicious Chopped Prunes

Kellogg's All-Bran Prune Muffins

2 tablespoons shortening	1/4 cup milk
1/4 cup sugar	1 cup flour
1 egg	1/2 teaspoon salt
1 cup Kellogg's All-Bran	2 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 cup soaked, chopped prunes

Cream shortening and sugar thoroughly; add egg and beat well. Stir in All-Bran and milk; let soak until most of moisture is taken up. Sift flour with salt and baking powder; add chopped prunes; add to first mixture and stir only until flour disappears. Fill greased muffin pans two-thirds full and bake in moderately hot oven (400° F.) about 30 minutes. This recipe makes 8 large muffins, each 3 inches in diameter.

Not only will you find these the most delicious bran muffins you ever tasted, but you can give them to your family with the knowledge that they are beneficial, too. Several muffins make a distinct addition to what doctors call "bulk" in your diet—and so help combat one of the commonest kinds of constipation. Eat KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN regularly, either as a cereal or in muffins, drink plenty of water, and "join the regulars."

Junior Class Fetes the Seniors at Banquet and Prom Friday Evening

One of the most impressive and timely banquets and proms in the history of Artesia High School was held on the Terrace of the new Carper building Friday evening. The juniors, hosts on the occasion, used "Allied Nations" as their theme and carried out the idea very effectively in table decorations, nutcups, which were the native flower of each country, place cards, which showed the native people, and favors. The room was banked with vases of roses.

Each table represented one of the Allied Nations and was centered with a scene which depicted something typical of that particular country.

The head table was the American table and was centered by a hand-carved and gleaming Statue of Liberty, the work of Allen Mills. Favors were small banks for dimes and quarters with a capacity of $18.75, enough for the purchase of one War Bond.

A ballet scene of miniature dancing dolls, created by Merideth Martin, was used on the Russian table. Tanks were given as favors.

A beautiful Viking ship, carved by Arthur Price, was used on the Norwegian table. Skis were used for favors.

The Canadian table pictured a group of northwest mountains before a snow-covered log cabin. Favors at this table also were banks.

A tiny airport with planes camouflaged, was the scene described at the Australian table. Favors were soldiers, nurses and airplanes.

In the center of the Mexican table was a bullfight scene. The favors were tiny sombreros.

The Philippine table was centered with a scene showing the grass huts of the natives. Banks also were given as favors here.

Carmen Miranda and her famous South American way were shown at the South American table. Tiny coffee cups and Brazil nuts were favors.

The Dutch table presented a cool countryside with a windmill, a pond and geese. Wooden shoes were given as favors.

A beautiful picture of the coronation with king, queen and attendants in gorgeous robes was representative of England. The costumes for the dolls were made by Elsa Runyan.

Greece was represented by the Parthenon. The hill was created by Arthur Price and the Parthenon was carved by Bob Strickler, a sophomore.

The menu cards were designed by Allen Mills and carried the pictures of the flags of the Allies.

The flags of all the Allied Nations were placed in a corner close to the framed picture of General Douglas MacArthur.

Sophomore girls, costumed in dresses in accord with the countries of the tables they were serving, waited on the tables. Before the banquet they presented a floor show skit, singing a parody to "Deep in the Heart of Texas." This was composed by Darlene Frazier.

A beautiful flag made of roses and blue and white flowers hung behind the American table. This flag was made by Grace Glasscock, Margaret and Constance Welch and Geraldine Pickett.

Viola Alanes and Sara Perez danced the Jarabe. A Chinese dance and a Dutch dance were given by grade school children under the direction of Miss Natalie Murdock.

Val Morgan, president of the junior class, was the toastmaster. He gave the welcome address to which Vernon Swift, president of the senior class, responded. Major Charles Morgan, president of the school board, and W. E. Kerr, superintendent of schools, were the speakers of the evening. H. O. Miller, accompanied by Mrs. I. L. Spratt at the piano, gave two vocal numbers.

Miss Alma Sue Felix, Miss Anna Howarth and Miss Ruth Brown, sponsors of the class, were in charge of the banquet and prom.

After the banquet the guests danced to the music of a local orchestra.

Approximately 192 were expected for the banquet and around 225 attended.

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Vandagriff and Mr. and Mrs. Boone Barnett spent the week end visiting Mr. and Mrs. Walter Douglas in the Sacramento Mountains.

Miss Mary Louise Paris and Norman Carlson Wedded Sunday

Miss Mary Louise Paris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Paris of Artesia, became the bride of Ensign Norman A. Carlson, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Carlson of La Grange, Ill., at 5:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents in Artesia.

The living room of the Paris home was decorated with a profusion of roses and honeysuckle. The single ring ceremony was read by the Rev. Henry S. Stout, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, before the mantle decorated with roses and lighted by four white tapers. Members of Miss Paris' immediate family and a few close friends were present.

The bride wore a white wool dress with hat to match and white accessories and a corsage of red roses. The only ornaments worn were a watch with a heavy chain, an heirloom of her family dating back three generations, and a pair of wings, a gift of the bridegroom. The bridegroom wore his uniform.

Miss Paris completed the Artesia schools. She attended Wheaton College, Wheaton, Ill., for three years and received her degree in Library Science from the University of Oklahoma, Norman. She resigned her position as assistant librarian of the National Association of Real Estate Boards in Chicago, Ill., six weeks ago, where she was employed the last two years. Miss Paris has been with her parents here since resigning the Illinois position.

Ensign Carlson, who was on a fifteen-day leave, received his degree at Wheaton College and did graduate work at the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor for one year. He is stationed at the Naval Air Station, Corpus Christi, Tex., as an instructor.

Mrs. Carlson chose for her going away suit of blue redingote over white with blue accessories.

The newlyweds left immediately after the ceremony for Santa Fe and Albuquerque for a few days and from there they expect to go to Chicago and vicinity where they will visit his parents and other relatives, after which they will go to Corpus Christi, where they will make their home.

Out of town guests attending the wedding were Mrs. Gail Hamilton of El Paso, an aunt of the bride, and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Robertson and son, James, of Carlsbad.

Pix Rhapsody

By Mary Jane

Modern love is to laughter what ham is to eggs. The mirthful flavor of contemporary romance is emphasized by Spencer Tracy and Katharine Hepburn in "Woman of the Year," first picture in which they have been co-starred, which will be shown at the Ocotillo Theater next Sunday through Tuesday.

In the picture, Tracy proposes in a newspaper office, where he is a sports editor and Miss Hepburn a columnist. At the psychological moment, Reginald Owen, portraying the managing editor, thrusts his head in the doorway.

"Anything happening?" he inquires casually.

"They don't beat around the bush. Their world demands quick decisions. They make up their minds and then go into action. This doesn't mean that they are any less romantic than their grandfathers and grandmothers, who courted for five years before getting engaged. But they come to the point quickly and they want their screen love scenes to do the same."

Prizes Given

Mrs. Albert Richards, second place last year.

The cake-baking contest is gaining in popularity each year, just as is The Advocate's Happy Kitchen Cooking School, as shown by the number of entries. Two years ago there were sixteen and last year there were twenty-three. Although it was presumed the sugar rationing would cut down on the number this year, there were twenty-five.

Mrs. Green's prize-winning cake recipe, with which Mrs. Carroll took first place this year:

Half cup shortening, 1 1/2 cups sugar, less three scant tablespoons; cup milk, 2 1/2 cups cake flour, three teaspoons baking powder, quarter teaspoon salt, six egg whites, teaspoon vanilla, quarter teaspoon lemon extract.

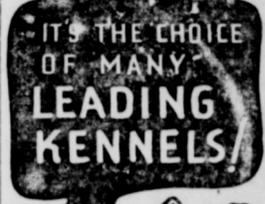

Cream shortening until light and fluffy. Gradually add sugar. Add sifted dry ingredients alternately with milk. Fold in egg whites, beaten stiff, but not dry. Add extracts and bake as loaf or layer cake at 325 degrees F.

Bill Paris Receives Commission in Navy

Bill Paris, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Paris of Artesia, a student at the University of Oklahoma in Norman, recently has received a commission as ensign in the United States Naval Reserve.

Bill also was elected to the responsible position of house manager of his fraternity, Delta Chi, for the coming year.

He expects to be home about June 1, where he will be employed as assistant chemist at the Continental Refinery.

It's the choice of many leading kennels. T. H. Flint, a patient at the Southwestern General Hospital in El Paso, is reported gradually improving. Mrs. Flint, who had been with her husband since he was admitted to the hospital, returned home Monday.
