Oil Outlook in State Is Bad, H. M. Dow Says

Drilling May Be Stopped By End of the Year, Roswell Man Says on His Return From PRA Meeting in Washington.

A none-too-bright outlook for the petroleum industry in New Mexico was given this week by H. M. Dow of Roswell, chairman of the permanent conference of oil regulatory bodies, upon his return from Washington, predicting drilling may be stopped by the end of the year.

He reported that some progress was made toward a solution of present oil problems, particularly as they affect this part of the country, while he was in Washington.

A statement by Dow, made for publication in The Roswell Dispatch which summarizes his findings of interest to oil men, is here reprinted:

"While in Washington in attendance at the national conference of Petroleum Regulatory Authorities, I contacted each member of our congressional delegation. I found them active in support of measures that vitally affect the oil industry, and, particularly, the independent producer.

"Senator Guffey of Pennsylvania on July 6 introduced a bill designed to transfer price authority on petroleum to the petroleum coordinator for war. Since no action can be obtained through Leon Henderson's office, some such proposal as this Senator Guffey seems inevitable. Petroleum Coordinator Ickes has sufficient understanding of the operations of the oil industry to allow his office to act upon such problems with greater understanding than is possible under the present price administration set up. This measure would simplify the necessary study on petroleum prices and place the full responsibility for petroleum prices in the office of the petroleum coordinator.

"Senator Hatch is proposing a hearing in New Mexico by the subcommittee on public lands, and this would provide an opportunity for independent oil producers to state their views. Secretary Ickes has indicated his intention to be present at this meeting if at all possible, and definite word with regard to the hearing should be received this week.

"The situation with regard to transportation is yet very bad. Transportation projects now under way will not solve the present petroleum supply difficulties by winter, although the big twenty-four-inch line is scheduled for completion by December. The best that we can presently hope for is that arrangements already made or being made to move oil overland, plus some help from ocean tankers, will enable authorities to meet minimum essential requirements during the balance of this year. Four Oil Wells in County Reported As New Producers

Four oil wells in Eddy County were reported as producers during the last week, while one new location was staked. At the same time, operations were started on a number of wells, the locations of which were made the latter part of June.

The completions:

Dixon & Yates, Saunders 6-A, SE NW 12-18-29; total depth 2,689 feet; flowed 40 barrels in three hours after shot.

Barney Cockburn, Etz 4, SW NE 35-16-30; total depth 3,403 feet; flowed 60 barrels oil per day.

Danciger, Turner 15-A, SE NW 19-17-31; total depth 3,442 feet; flowed 40 barrels oil per day after acid.

Neil Wills, State 4-A, NW SE 17-20-30; total depth 1,539 feet; pumped 10 barrels oil per hour for two hours, natural.

Three Artesians Pass Tests for Glider Training

Robert Franklin McQuay, Benny Clyde Mattison and Rell Leon Johnson of Artesia were among nine Southeast New Mexico men, who recently passed screening tests to qualify for an Army Air Corps glider training school at Carlsbad.

Announcement was made Wednesday by Joe Sides, president of the Carlsbad Aviation Development Association and coordinator of the school.

Seventeen men took the tests at Carlsbad High School two days last week. Other successful applicants were Sam L. Cox, John Dix McKay, Arthur Soladay and Horace Hubert, of Carlsbad; Roy Clyde Phillips, Roswell, and Walter Richard Friel, Hobbs.

The students will be given 240 hours of ground school instruction at Carlsbad High School and thirty-five hours of flight training at Riverside Airport, near Carlsbad. They will receive $50 a month for the duration of the eight-week course.

After completion of the course, the students will be transferred by the Air Corps to advanced glider training schools.

Sides said men between the ages of 18 and 37 years will have a chance to qualify for the course. A third screening test will be given at Carlsbad High School at 1 o'clock next Monday afternoon.

Guard Has War Game Sunday in The Guadalupes

Members of the State Guard company from Artesia camped Saturday night at Sitting Bull Falls and underwent maneuvers in the Guadalupe Mountains Sunday, when members of the Carlsbad company joined the local men.

Although the maneuvers were interesting and instructive, they were hampered somewhat because of a small number of guardsmen present, due partly to loss of members to the Army and defense industries, Capt. Oren C. Roberts, company commander, said.

He pointed out there are a number of openings in the company and that the age limit for recruits has been raised from 45 to 55 years.

The State Guard physical requirements are not as exacting as those for the regular branches of the armed forces, Capt. Roberts said, and the organization makes it possible for men not likely to be called into active service to do their part in the defense program.

He pointed also to the enjoyment side of the State Guard, for members have fun on field trips, as well as taking part in the vital training work.

Savings Stamp Corsage to Be Sold by AWVS

Members of the American Women's Voluntary Services will offer the corsages in Artesia Tuesday of next week, which has been designated as "National War Stamp Day."

The corsages, which will be made of 10-cent War Savings Stamps, will sell for $1 each. The stamps will not be injured and may be stuck in the savings books after they have served their purpose as the "blossoms" in the corsages.

The women will make the nossgays up according to a pattern being used nationally and will offer them for sale in the business houses and on the streets.

Decision to make and sell the corsages was reached at the regular meeting of the AWVS Friday evening.

At that time Mrs. A. L. Bert was elected first vice chairman, an office previously unfilled, and Mrs. Helen Hefley was elected secretary to fill the vacancy made by the resignation of Miss Blanche McCoy, when she went to Roswell to accept a government position.

UNDERGOES SURGERY IN EL PASO HOSPITAL

Mrs. Fred Brewer, who underwent major surgery in an El Paso hospital Monday, is reported to be in fair condition.

Guy Chevrolet Will Operate on Shorter Hours After Aug. 1

Clyde Guy of Guy Chevrolet Company announced this week the company's established twenty-four-hour service will be discontinued Aug. 1 until further notice, possibly for the duration.

The shop and parts departments will be open starting on that date from 7 o'clock in the morning until 6 o'clock in the afternoon, while the gasoline service station will open at 5 o'clock in the morning and will close at 10 o'clock at night.

Guy said the curtailment of twenty-four-hour service was made necessary because of the war. At present, he said, it is impossible to engage enough first-class men to stay open around the clock.

Sgt. P. J. Leonard, Gunner With Doolittle, to Be Honored Saturday in Denver

Tech. Sgt. P. J. Leonard, Brig. Gen. Jimmie Doolittle's 29-year-old engineer-gunner on the daring Tokyo raid in April, brother of Mrs. C. O. (Cap) Fulton of Artesia, is to be presented the Distinguished Flying Cross by Col. Harvey S. Burwell, commander of Lowry Field, Denver, at the field Saturday, and his sister, Agnes—that's Mrs. Fulton—will be right there to see the honor conferred.

The sergeant, who claimed Artesia as his home until he married in Denver, while stationed at Lowry Field, has been in Denver the last few days, spending a furlough with his wife, Lois, 22.

All of Denver is standing by for the presentation of the Distinguished Flying Cross, for it will be the first award made in Colorado since the start of World War II. Besides, Denver claims Sgt. Leonard, just as does Artesia.

He learned since arriving in the United States early this month that he had been promoted to technical sergeant from staff sergeant in recognition of his work in the flight over Japan April 18.

Sgt. Leonard disclosed in Denver last week that Gen. Doolittle's plane, which the general himself piloted, flew so low over Tokyo that at times the sergeant feared they would strike telephone poles or electric light wires.

"We flew quite low over the palace," he related. "With my guns I could have mowed down thousands of pedestrians in the main streets. But we had been told to attack oil refineries, ammunition plants and aircraft plants. This we did. The damage was extensive.

"We hear stories about how our planes bombed hospitals and residential districts. This is not true. Had we desired, we could have blown a very large part of Tokyo into smithereens, but we took particular pains to concentrate on military objectives."

Mrs. Fulton, so excited about the prospects of seeing her brother and witnessing the conferment of the honor on him at Lowry Field Saturday, did not disclose how or when she would go to Denver, or whether Mr. Fulton will accompany her. "But," she declared, "I'll be there. Paul flies; maybe I will too."

Judge W. H. Ballard went to El Paso Sunday, to have his eyes examined, and returned home Wednesday morning.

Legion Wants Those Old Phonograph Records To Salvage for New Ones for Armed Forces

Whether it's a recording of "The Dying Cowboy" by the Sunshine State Yodelers, George Gershwin's "Rhapsody in Blue" recorded by Paul Whiteman, or a Gold Seal platter of Tchaikovsky in one of his heavier moods; whether it's Kate Smith telling about "When the Moon Comes Over the Mountain," Kay Kyser singin' for his chillins', Bing Crosby boo-boo-booping, or O' Sashmo speakin' at his ivory—if it's old records you have on the ranch, the American Legion wants them, so the boys in the armed forces may have new records, by way of entertainment and keeping up their spirits.

The national Legion plans to collect 35,500,000 old records during a two-week period, starting Friday, to be sold for scrap at an

Former Artesia Girl's Husband Is Asphyxiated

Edward B. Hall, 35, of Jal, the husband of an Artesia girl, the former Mary Mae Savoie, was one of three oil field workers asphyxiated Friday while working on a well ten miles south of Jal.

The others were S. R. Allison, 50, of Jal and Charles Beck, 21, of Hobbs. All three were employees of the Continental Oil Company.

G. M. Purswell, superintendent for the company, said the men had been gassed while working in the well cellar under the derrick floor. They were found unconscious by T. T. Shivers, pumper in charge of the well, shortly after noon, and died after aid was summoned and inhalator crews tried to revive them.

The men had been dispatched to the well to start the flow by piping natural gas into the well, a routine procedure to resume a well flow.

Whether there was an accident, or how all three happened to have been caught, was not known, Purswell said.

However, B. A. Rea, district foreman for Continental, said escaping gas from the well apparently had gathered in the cellar, and the men did not notice the fumes in time to escape.

Funeral services for Mr. Hall were at Jal at 11 o'clock Sunday morning, after which the body was brought to Artesia for burial in Woodbine Cemetery by the grave of an infant son, Gary Eugene Hall, who died Sept. 17, 1941. The Rev. S. M. Morgan, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Artesia, officiated at the grave Sunday.

Mr. Hall and Mary May Savoie, daughter of L. D. Savoie of Jal, formerly of Artesia, were married here in December, 1936. Mrs. Hall was born and reared at Artesia. Mrs. Julia Savoie of Artesia is her grandmother and Mrs. Paul Terry is an aunt.

J. S. Gibson Candidate for Commissioner

J. S. (Si) Gibson of Carlsbad, this week announced his candidacy for county commissioner from district 1, subject to the Democratic primary Sept. 12.

He is co-owner with his brother, Paul Gibson, of the Coca Cola Bottling Company of Carlsbad and owns a ranch and farm at Carlsbad.

Gibson, who has been serving as chairman of the Eddy County rationing board, is resigning that office to run for commissioner.

The candidate, a large taxpayer in Eddy County, has the interests of the entire county at heart and having operated considerable business interests knows what the county needs and how to supervise county monies.

Gibson's family consists of his wife and four children. They have lived in Carlsbad for many years.

He is a Mason and Shriner and belongs to the Eddy County Sheriff's Mounted Posse.

In announcing his candidacy, Gibson pointed out the difficulties this year of reaching all of the voters of the county and stated his desire to conserve rubber as much as possible. Because of this, he asked that voters accept his announcement as a personal appeal for their consideration and support at the Democratic primary and, if then nominated, at the general election in November.

Budget Hearings for Municipalities, County Being Held Today

Budget hearings for Eddy County and municipalities in the county for the year, which started July 1 and will end next June 30, are being held today under the direction of Paul B. Harris, chief tax commissioner.

Hearings for Artesia and Hope were being held this morning at the Artesia city hall.

The county and Carlsbad hearings will be in Carlsbad this afternoon.

Scheduled to be with Harris were Tom Hughes and Donaciano Rodriguez, associate commissioners, and the Taxpayers Association of New Mexico was to be represented by Manuel R. Baca.

Two Pounds Sugar Allowed as Bonus Good Until Aug. 22

Other Regulations Are Announced by the Office of Price Administration

Many sugar users have taken advantage of a "bonus allotment," announced Friday, whereby stamp No. 7 permits the purchase of two pounds of sugar any time up to Aug. 22, in addition to the regular allotments provided for by stamps Nos. 5 and 6. It is not a canning allowance, but strictly a bonus.

George E. Currier, local member of the Eddy County rationing board, said the bonus in no way alters the use of Nos. 5 and 6, but was allowed in addition to them, when the sugar problem eased up somewhat.

Stamp No. 5 entitles the holder to purchase two pounds of sugar up to July 27 and No. 6 is good for the same amount up to Aug. 22. Any time during either period No. 7 may be used.

In addition to the announcement about the sugar bonus, the Denver regional office of the OPA announced three other important regulations pertaining to sugar rationing, in regard to farmers, public and charitable institutions, and operators of new restaurants, boarding houses and other types of institutions.

Farmers who board seasonal labor will be granted extra sugar allowances at the rate of half a pound a week a person. In making out his application to his local board, the farmer must state that the war ration books of his hired men have been or will be surrendered to him and will not be used by him, or that his hired men have no books. The order was intended to cover threshers, corn huskers, cotton pickers and other workers, whom a farmer employs and boards in addition to his own family to work on the annual harvest.

Public and charitable institutions, which in the past canned fruit for on-the-premise consumption, will be granted sugar allowances for canning on a basis similar to that of consumers who are living in their own homes.

The procedure for obtaining sugar allotments to be followed by operators of new restaurants, cafeterias, boarding houses and other types of institutions was announced and provides that such allotments may be made by local war price and rationing boards. A sugar allotment base for new establishments of not more than one pound of sugar for each sixty meals to be served during any allotment period has been established.

Gen. Ira Eaker Is Son Former Artesia People

Brig. Gen. Ira C. Eaker, who has been entrusted with the task of blasting an invasion path in Western Europe, is a son of former Artesia and Cottonwood people, Y. Y. Eaker, now of Eden, Tex., and the late Mrs. Eaker, who died in 1929, and is a nephew of Mrs. W. A. Eaker of Artesia.

Although Gen. Eaker never lived in this community himself, he visited here several times, while his parents lived in Artesia and on the Cottonwood about 1923-25 and he is known to many people in North Eddy County.

Gen. Eaker is second in command to Maj. Gen. Carl Spaatz, newly-named commander of the growing air forces of the United States in Europe and has been named chief of the Army bomber command.

The general entered the Army in 1917 and saw service in World War I. Since that conflict, he has made aviation history. In 1927 he was on the Pan American good-will flight. He made headlines in 1929 as pilot of the "Question Mark," which established an endurance record. In 1936, he made the first blind instrument flight across the United States.

New Record Set For Playday on Last Thursday

A new record was set last Thursday morning, when 120 boys and girls up to 12 years old turned out for the weekly playday session at the high school and municipal swimming pool, sponsored by the Junior Woman's Club.

The previous record since the project started last summer was three weeks ago, when 115 children were present, the first time more than 100 showed up for the supervised fun. Two weeks ago the number dropped to ninety-six because of threatening skies.

As usual the children had a treat last Thursday—and also as usual—they showed their appreciation by singing their weekly song of thanks, this time making it "Thank You Leslie Martin."

Mothers of the youngsters are showing more interest in the project and Mrs. Hugh Parry, project chairman, reported there were "lots of mothers" out last Thursday.

However, she and the other members of the Junior Woman's Club would like to see more mothers come along with the children, or drop in during the play period, from 9 to 11 o'clock, to watch the fun.

And last Thursday about sixty of the children were in the swimming pool—under the eagle eyes of the lifeguards, as well as of some of the qualified club members.

Attendance at Safety School Good Tuesday

Attendance at the second session of the traffic safety school in Artesia held up well Tuesday evening, with about fifty persons in attendance, as compared with fifty-six registering at the first session last week.

John Kennedy, traffic safety engineer of the State Highway Department, was in charge and explained the standard type highway signs, which are used in New Mexico. He also conducted an examination on information from the school textbook, "Sound Driving Practice," which was handed out Tuesday of last week by Ingram B. Pickett, state safety director.

The school next week will be in charge of state police.

At the final session Tuesday evening, July 28, Pickett will be here again, Kennedy said. At that time the safety director will show some interesting pictures, which the public is invited to see, whether the individual is enrolled in the class or not.

Pickett also will discuss blackout driving and evacuation at that time.

ENROLLS AT NORTHWESTERN

Miss Lois Laverne Schnoor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Schnoor, is listed among the 5,000 students at Northwestern University at Evanston, Ill., this summer. The summer session is the largest in the history of the university.

Scrap Efforts Must Continue, Holly Declares

Not Only for Rubber, but Other Materials — Fat Is Needed for Glycerin — Housewives Get Four Cents a Pound.

Although the special nationwide rubber scrap drive ended Friday and North Eddy County made an excellent showing, running far ahead of the average, Odus Holly, chairman of the conservation board, said efforts must continue not only for rubber, but for other scrap as well.

His announcement that North Eddy County accounted for about 150,000 pounds of scrap rubber, an average of possibly fifteen pounds per person, came at the same time the Rocky Mountain States regional office of War Information disclosed a new and greatly intensified national savings program is being launched in a determination to help solve America's raw material shortage problems.

The new program opened Monday on the heels of the scrap rubber salvage campaign, designated to reach into every home, farm, ranch and industrial plant in the nation to increase the flow of scrap materials of all kinds to the country's war plants.

Objectives of the campaign are metals of all kinds, particularly iron and steel; any additional rubber, which the campaign just closed failed to turn up; household fats to be converted into glycerin for explosives and rags.

The metals, as heretofore, are to be taken to the Artesia Alfalfa Growers Association yard, from where about thirty carloads of iron and steel scrap have been sent since the initial call for iron a number of months ago.

Old rubber is to be taken to any gasoline service station, as was done during the drive ending last week.

The Denver office of the Office of War Information said that housewives are asked to save their bacon drippings and other waste fats in clean coffee cans, kept under refrigeration. When a can is full, it is to be taken to the housewife's meat dealer, who will purchase it for 4 cents a pound and will send it into war production channels. All merchants will be paid an allowance for handling.

Holly said no information has been received for the handling of rags, but he suggested that they be gathered and kept on hand for such a time that a definite call is issued. In some localities provision already has been made for the rags, but not in this region.

The local chairman pointed out that the salvage program is not a one-week or a one-month campaign, any more than this is a one-week or a one-month war, but that efforts must continue week after week. "None of us can afford to relax, but must redouble our efforts for the long pull," he said.

THE BOOK AGREES WITH US

As we read the booklet, "Sound Driving Practices," which we received Tuesday of last week at the first session of the traffic safety school, we chuckled in fiendish glee, for therein we found all of our favorite gripes about driving, the ones we habitually spout off about in our alleged editorials—just as we have tried to convince the public certain things ought to be done.

It would be presumptuous to intimate that we did not learn anything, for we did—plenty—but we are referring to the horse-sense rules, which are generally accepted the nation over, but which are broken habitually in Artesia.

One chapter in particular, the third, we could have written. In fact, we have written the same things here in small doses, but in different words, of course.

And we would like greatly to reprint much of it in this column and will, if we can get the permission of the American Automobile Association, which published the booklet.

In that way the many readers of The Advocate would have the advantage of reading an authoritative treatise on safe and courteous driving practices, instead of what they might figure to be the pipe-dream thinking of a loosed editor.

In order to put the thing over to the best advantage, some of the illustrations should be included, but that is out of the question. And that is too bad, for the ones showing how to turn a corner would make the whole thing worth while.

If out of the traffic safety school nothing else would come, we would be happy if the people of Artesia would learn something about driving lanes, slow traffic sticking to the right, and how to negotiate right and left turns.

TRYING TO CARRY OUT THE PLEDGE

Our editorial of June 25 under the caption, "We Will Not Let Them Down," was reprinted by The Albuquerque Tribune in its issue of July 1 under the shortened caption, "Made a Pledge," which led to our receipt of a gracious letter from Mrs. Howard W. Meyer, president of the Mother's Service Club of Albuquerque.

Mrs. Meyer's letter strikes a responsive note and should be of interest to readers in the Artesia community, especially the womenfolk of men in the 200th. It reads:

"I read with interest your article, reprinted in our Albuquerque Tribune, entitled 'Made a Pledge.'"

"Yes, we did make a pledge to our boys when we bid them goodbye at Fort Bliss—never to let them down—and we are trying to carry out that pledge in many ways.

"These are hard days in which we are living—to know that our boys have suffered as they have and God only knows how much more they will have to suffer, but we will carry on as they would have us.

"I think of no better way for us to do this than to buy all the War Stamps and Bonds that we can in order that our government may have the means to give to our fighting men all the implements of war that are needed. Our boys did not have enough and see where they are today. It is only as we sacrifice to the limit that we can hope for peace to come soon.

"Our Red Cross has said they have ample means to give relief to our boys and other prisoners of war just as soon as the Japs give them the word. 'Go,' and we as mothers are looking to the Red Cross and our government to do this relief work. I am sure they will, and only hope that we will soon get the word that they have been given that permission.

"Thanks again for the encouragement that you give in your article."

TO THE 200TH

Short, but splendid, is a six-line poem by the Rev. S. M. Morgan, pastor of the First Baptist Church, "To the 200th," which he published in the church bulletin for June 28.

Most closely kin to Love Divine
Is sacrifice of man for man.
Live on 200th! There you give:
Bright Freedom's fires for all the land,
And souls as yet unborn shall live
Beneath the Spirit of Bataan.

THIS ONE IS ON THE RECORD

For years we have wanted a phonograph and now we are especially sorry that we never have owned one, for that means we have no accumulation of old records.

If we did have some, all would be given to the American Legion, to be sold for reprocessing, in order that new records might be bought for the boys in the far-away places all over the globe.

But since we don't the least we can do is to urge everyone who does have records to dig them out and discard every one which possibly can be parted with.

THAT AIN'T THE WAY SHE HEERED IT

We accompanied the State Guard to Sitting Bull Falls over the week end as a "war correspondent."

It happened there were several families camped there and we passed close to them at one time during a rest period.

"What," asked one of the women, "are the soldiers here for?"

We explained that it was a State Guard unit which had come to the mountains to bivouac.

"Oh," she oled, as she glanced at a partially-hidden group of the boys on their knees, in a circle, their heads close together, one of them gesticulating with his right hand. "So that is what you call it!"

It's a funny thing, but most of the people who insist upon being their brother's keeper would scream to high heaven if their brother tried to dictate to them.—Lubbock Journal.

Sands of Time

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO
(From The Advocate Files for July 14, 1927)

A fair apple crop is in prospect for this part of the valley. Estimates place the yield at twenty-five cars or better for this sector. The crop at Hope will be very light.

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce motorcade passed down the valley Monday and stopped over in Artesia for a banquet in the evening.

Members of the Roswell good-will tour were here Tuesday and were guests of the Rotary Club at noon. C. E. Mann, mayor of Artesia, gave the address of welcome.

More than 300 Boy Scouts and leaders have registered for the camp in the Sacramento Mountains.

H. G. Watson, who has been played by the Palace Drug Store the last year or so, has resigned and will put in a new drug store in Portales.

W. C. Cunningham and G. U. McCrary left Monday for Elephant Butte Dam, where they are to spend a week or so in quest of the famous trout of that region.

Jack Clady is taking a ten-day vacation from his duties in the office of the Illinois Producers and with Mrs. Clady is fishing on Black River this week. Later they will make a trip to Santa Fe and the Upper Pecos country.

STUARTS' SON INJURED

Wilbur Stuart, son of Mr. and Mrs. Austin Stuart of Artesia, an employee of the El Paso Natural Gas Company in Jal, escaped critical injury last Thursday when struck on the head by a falling structure while assisting in the installation of a large cooling system. His parents were called to Jal soon after the accident and remained until his condition was pronounced satisfactory.

SAFEWAY Homemakers' Guide

NUMBER 52 ★ How to save time and trouble in shopping ★ A list of money-saving foods to check ★ A timely story with a moral

This is a lesson in shopping that's worth reading

Because the war has made "time" more precious than ever before, it has become practically a patriotic duty to streamline our daily schedules as much as possible. This means our food buying habits must change. For one of the best ways to save time is to cut shopping trips down by planning menus and market lists a week in advance. These suggestions from the Safeway Homemakers' Bureau should help you in your planning.

Perishability is the best guide for dividing off your purchases. Staples like flour, salt, potatoes, canned and packaged goods can be bought weeks in advance. It's wise to replace them as soon as they're used, so you won't be caught short and, too, so you won't have to carry huge armloads at the end of the week.

Extra-heavy purchases can be saved for times when you'll have your car or can share a neighbor's, lightening your bundles on other days. And another thing, enough citrus fruits, bacon, coffee, butter, and eggs can be bought all in one trip to last a week or more. With these purchases out of the way early in the week, then you'll need to think only about buying perishable foods.

Foods that will keep 3 to 4 days without spoiling include most meats; vegetables like carrots, turnips, beets, parsnips, squash, egg plant, corn, tomatoes; most under-ripe fruits and the like. Buying these foods in advance saves extra shopping trips.

The most perishable foods, those which will keep only a day or two, are fresh green and leafy vegetables; ripe fresh fruits; fresh fish, chicken, and ground meats; milk and fresh dairy products; bread, cake, pastry.

To get your money's worth in vitamins and minerals, use fresh leafy and green vegetables the same day you buy them. As soon as you get them home, wash them quickly in a small amount of water, drain, and keep them in a covered container in the refrigerator until just ready to use. Don't pare or cut the vegetables until just time to cook or serve. Exposure to warm air, soaking in water, and cutting vegetables all tend to cause loss of vitamins and minerals.

All about cooking weights and measures. Read the July 17th Family Circle article, "Kitchen Arithmetic" for complete charts on weights and measures and equivalents used in cooking. Out Thursday, free at Safeway.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Williams have announced the marriage of their daughter, Miss Annadele, to Robert L. Setterlund, elder son of the Rev. and Mrs. Elmer L. Setterlund of Longmont, Colo.

The wedding took place in a beautiful church ceremony at the Central Presbyterian Church in Longmont, at 11 a. m., Monday, July 13. Vows were exchanged before the church altar which was banked with gorgeous old-fashioned garden flowers and lighted by tall white tapers in candelabra. The Rev. Elmer L. Setterlund, pastor of the church and father of the bridegroom, read the ring ceremony, which was witnessed by a small group of relatives and friends.

Mr. David Pugh, instructor of music at the Lamont School of Music at the University of Denver, of which the bride is a student, and also organist at St. John's Cathedral in Denver, played a medley of organ music before and during the ceremony.

The bride was attired in a summer suit of beige silk Shantung with which she wore brown accessories and a corsage of Talisman roses. For the traditional "something old" she carried her father's small Bible, in which there was inclosed a small bouquet of dainty white blossoms with a shower of white satin streamers. For "something borrowed and blue" she wore an antique locket with a blue setting which belonged to a close friend.

The bride's attendant was Mrs. Russell Smoot of Longmont, who wore a smart crepe frock of pastel blue and a corsage of pink roses.

Mr. Smoot was best man. Mrs. Williams chose a blue and white sheer for her daughter's wedding. Her corsage was pink roses. Mrs. T. C. Woods, grandmother of the bride, wore a black and white costume with a corsage of white carnations. Mrs. Setterlund, mother of the bridegroom, chose for the wedding, a green and white print with which she wore a corsage of mixed flowers.

Miss Williams, an only child of a prominent ranch family of New Mexico, whose ranch is located on the caprock about seventy-five miles northeast of the city, has been reared in Artesia. After graduating from public school she attended Radford School for Girls in El Paso, Stephens College in Columbia, Mo., and for the last year has been studying pipe organ and piano music at the Lamont School of Music in Denver.

The bridegroom graduated from the public schools of Nebraska and received his B.A. degree from Hastings College in Hastings, Neb. He was working towards a master's degree at the Denver School

Breakfast guests included Miss Wible, Mrs. Kennedy, Mrs. Henry Oliver and the hostess.

Call Meeting Woman's Club on Wednesday

At a call meeting of the Artesia Woman's Club at the clubhouse Wednesday morning, business was conducted by the executive board, since a quorum of the membership was not present.

It was voted to send in a recommendation to the third district president, Mrs. Bonnie Bailey of Portales, that the district convention be held in October as announced. Artesia is to be the hostess of this convention.

The exception of two clubs, all others are in towns located on the railroad coming down the valley which will take care of the transportation problem. It was felt also that at a time when organization means so much in the defense programs, the district convention should be of vital importance.

Program committees are expected to complete programs for publication in some kind of book form before the opening of the club year. The clubhouse floors are to be cleaned and waxed and the piano tuned.

With the opening of the club year in September and vacations over, interest is expected to be renewed for one of the most vitally important years in the history of the club.

It May Sound Corny, But Stalks in Ballard Patch Shoot Skyward

Two stalks of corn in the backyard garden of Mrs. W. H. Ballard are eleven feet tall — and still growing — giving promise of several more feet before the tassels have finished reaching skyward.

They are in a patch of sweet corn and it is not known whether they are freaks of that variety, or are volunteer Indian corn stalks, but the fact each has six ears coming would indicate they might be of the sweet variety.

In any event, Judge Ballard has been doing a bit of cuff figuring and he contends that, regardless of height, such corn should make 100 bushels to the acre. But the stalks look as though they will make some sort of record as to height as well.

May Apply for Cadet Training At Roswell Base

The aviation cadet examining board of the Roswell Army Flying School has announced it will welcome applications of young men between the ages of 18 and 27 years as aviation cadets.

These men will be trained as pilots, navigators or bombardiers. Married men may apply for aviation cadet training, if their wives are able to support themselves during the training period. Young men under 21 years must obtain their parents' consent.

All young men interested may call 1960, extension 491, Roswell, or write to the office of the Aviation Cadet Examining Board, RAFS, Roswell, for an appointment.

After making the appointment, they will be given a simple mental test, which a person of average intelligence is capable of passing easily. The physical examination is a thorough one, and the most stringent requirement is 20/20 eyesight. Men who pass both of these examinations will be sent immediately to a replacement center in California for training.

Men who are interested in aviation, but who are not particularly interested in it from a pilot, navigator or bombardier angle, can qualify as specialists if they have had two years of college training, preferably in the field of science. The fields open for these specialists are in communications, armament, engineering, photography and meteorology. The physical requirements for the specialists are not as stiff as those for pilot, navigator or bombardier.

Unemployment In New Mexico Is at a New Low

New Mexico joined America's back-to-work march in a big way during June and benefit payments to unemployed persons dipped to the lowest level in the history of unemployment compensation in the state, Benjamin D. Luchini, chairman-executive director of the Employment Security Commission, announced.

A total of only $35,566 was paid out in benefit checks to the entire state, Luchini said, as compared with a total of $60,294 in May of this year and $60,544 paid out in June of 1941.

Benefits in Eddy County were $2,190, while one county, DeBaca, did not receive a single benefit check. Luna and Mora Counties received only one check each, Luchini reported, while Bernalillo County unemployed received only 755 checks amounting to $6,949. A total of 1,040 checks were received by unemployed persons in Bernalillo County in May of this year, he added.

Lack of benefit payments throughout the entire state reflected much better employment conditions, Luchini said, and the June figure was the lowest since unemployment compensation started in New Mexico in December, 1938.

June's low amount of benefit payments was a decrease of 41.6 per cent from the June, 1941, total, a decrease of 55.6 per cent from the June, 1940, figure and a decrease of 63.9 per cent from the total of the same month in 1939, Luchini reported.

Latest in the parade of outstanding screen attractions coming to the Ocotillo Theater is "Remember Pearl Harbor," the thrilling new Republic action drama which will run one day, Friday, July 31.

Donald M. Barry, Alan Curtis and Fay McKenzie head the excellent cast of players appearing in the film. Sig Ruman, Rhys Williams, Maynard Holmes, Robert Emmett Keane, Ian Keith and Diana Del Rio also have important featured roles.

The story—which is, of course, entirely fictional—presents Barry, Curtis and Holmes as three soldiers stationed at a U. S. Army post in the Philippines. Barry is the happy-go-lucky member of the trio whose main interest in life is romancing with the lovely Miss McKenzie. His blithe disregard for rules and regulations keeps not only himself, but Curtis and Holmes as well, constantly in hot water.

However, with the opening of war between the United States and Japan, he quickly reforms and proves himself to be a first-class fighting man. When a contingent of enemy troops attempts to land near the Army post, his valor in battle inspires the Americans and leads them on to victory in the encounter.

Because of Republic's desire to comply with censorship regulations and to do its part in preventing military secrets from being revealed to the enemy, no actual combat scenes from the field of battle were used in "Remember Pearl Harbor."

Kollenborn said he understood there had been a shortage of the use tax stamps at the Artesia postoffice, but that that condition has been remedied through requi-

WHAT THE BOYS WRITE HOME THROUGH THE ADVOCATE

Hartford, Conn., Saturday

Dearest Mom: I just had a few minutes and thought I would write you a few lines. I haven't heard from you in quite a while, either. Tell Jack and Eleanor to write. I would write them, but I haven't time. I think we will stay right here for the duration, because they took all of our trucks away from us and so I doubt if we will move around any more.

I have been spending my week ends up at a lake with some old people, who have a cabin up there. They treat me so nice it's nearly like being home. Clyde Cobble and I go up every week end. Clyde goes with their daughter and I go with one of her girl friends. We had a big turkey dinner last Sunday, and some clams last Saturday, and we go fishing and boat riding and there is the most beautiful scenery I ever saw. I wish you could see it. That's about all I know. Write soon.

Love,
Cpl. Quentin Rogers

Sheppard Field,
Wichita Falls, Tex.
July 2, 1942.

To The Advocate: I wish to notify you that I will change my address in the next few days and that you may hold the paper till further notified.

I graduated from the Air Corps School of Mechanics Friday, July 3, and will change addresses some time the next week.

I also wish to take this opportunity to thank G. A. White for sending or making it possible for me to receive The Advocate. It is people like Mr. White who assure a fellow that he is in the Army for a worthy cause.

Sincerely,
Pvt. Elmer D. Jackson

Champs to Vie In Bulldogging Match Sunday

Over the American Legion, with its satellite groups, the Auxiliary, the 40 and 8, the 8 and 40 and the Sons of the American Legion.

The stage, radio and record artists realized that entertainment can be taken to the boys on domestic duty—and it is—but for those in Iceland, Alaska, Australia and other places, music will be taken to them on brand new phonograph records, financed in the salvage campaign.

The Legion, Dunnam and The Advocate all want to see a record of records, which can be watched as the pile grows in this newspaper's front window.

Start in right now, weed out all of those obsolete records, those which long ago began to scratch, the broken and cracked ones and those others which should have gone into oblivion years ago and bring or send them to The Advocate office. Anyone who cannot transport them himself may call Bill Dunnam, phone 374-J, and they will be collected.

Kerr Starts Report On Rotary's Annual Confab in Toronto

Selection of sacred songs, arranged by William J. Kirkpatrick, including When Love Shines In, Jesus Saves, Saved by the Utmost, You May Have the Joy Bells, He Will Meet Me at the Portal and I Hope to Meet You All in Glory.

W. E. Kerr, delegate of the Artesia Rotary Club at the annual convention of Rotary International at Toronto, Canada, last month, gave the first part of his report to the local club at the weekly luncheon Tuesday noon, in which he brought out highlights of the trip and some of the outstanding personalities met and heard.

He will complete his report at an early meeting, at which time the delegate will give the Rotary aspect of the meeting.

A. P. Mahone, new president of the club, spoke before Kerr and said that Rotarians and others can take advantage of the tire shortage to get acquainted again with families, churches and other phases of life, which have been neglected in recent years. He said a good slogan for everyone to adopt would be "Work and win the war."

SCHOOLS HERE OPEN ON MONDAY, AUG. 31

The Artesia schools will open Monday, Aug. 31, it was announced this week by W. E. Kerr, superintendent of schools.
