City Budget For 1942-43 Is Tentatively Okeyed at Hearing

War Conditions Occasion Some Changes, as Hearing Is Held in Artesia With Commissioner P. B. Harris.

GENERAL FUND CUT Figures Submitted Are Accepted, But Subject To Final Approval.

The budget for the city of Artesia for the fiscal year 1942-43 was tentatively approved last Thursday as submitted, when the annual budget hearing was held at the city hall under the direction of Paul B. Harris, chief tax commissioner. The budget, however, is subject to final approval.

Because of conditions occasioned by the war, considerable variation is shown in some items in a comparison of the budget for the last year and the 1942-43 year.

A reduction of $3,935 in the anticipated receipts and disbursements of the general fund was shown, as the budget was set up for $33,315, as compared with $37,250 for last year. On the other hand the budget shows an anticipated increase of $250 in the water department fund.

Reduction in disbursements in the general fund are shown in several items, outstanding of which is garbage disposal. This is accounted for by the purchase of a garbage disposal truck last year, cost of which is included in the item of $7,500 for the year, as compared with $4,000 for the coming year. Likewise, election expenses of $200, which were shown for the last year, are eliminated for the coming year, during which there will be no municipal election.

Special Effort to Be Made in Drive For Old Records

Public Invited to Phone Legion or Auxiliary — Are to Collect Friday

Although citizens of the Artesia community have been slow in turning in old phonograph records in the drive by the American Legion and Auxiliary, it is hoped to receive many hundred by Friday evening, as a concerted drive is to be put on Friday, it was announced this morning by Howard Whitson, commander of the Legion.

A preliminary drive started this morning and will continue until noon Friday, during which period anyone having old records may call members of the Legion or Auxiliary committees and the records will be collected in the afternoon.

Mrs. Oren C. Roberts has named a committee of three, any of whom may be phoned. They are: Mrs. Henry Paton, chairman, phone 578; Mrs. P. V. Morris, 288, and Mrs. Frank Smith, 408. Mrs. Roberts' phone number is 738.

Bill Dunham, adjutant of the Legion and chairman of the general record campaign, may be reached at 374-J.

Anyone wishing to deliver his old records may bring them to The Advocate office, where they are being placed in a window, or to the plant of the Artesia Laundry and Cleaners.

The national organization of the American Legion will sell the old records for scrap and will use the funds raised to purchase at manufacturers' cost new records to be sent to the men in service away from the United States.

The Legion has estimated $937,000 will be raised for the fund, which will buy many thousands of records for the entertainment of the boys away from home.

Pictures to Be Shown, Traffic School Tuesday

At the final session of the traffic safety school at the Woman's Club building in Artesia at 7:30 o'clock next Tuesday evening, Ingram B. Pickett, state safety director, will show some interesting and instructive pictures, which everyone is invited to see, whether registered for the course or not.

Pickett will discuss blackout driving and evacuation, both of which are of interest to everyone in civilian defense work.

The class members will have their final examinations at that time, embracing the things they have learned at the three first sessions and phases of the discussion that evening prior to the quiz.

At the third-week session Tuesday evening, Sgt. Scroggins and Patrolman Lewis of the State Police, both stationed at Roswell, were in charge.

They gave an examination of thirty questions and Sgt. Scroggins discussed a number of traffic problems, pointing out also that accidents are of value to the enemies of the United States.

BRO Head Is To Speak On Friday As Guest Of 200th

Public Urged To Hear Spensley At 8:45 O'clock At American Legion Hut

Dr. V. H. Spensley of Albuquerque, chairman of the Bataan Relief Organization, will speak at the American Legion hut in Artesia at 8:45 o'clock Friday evening on "America or What?" by arrangement with The 200th, local organization of mothers, wives and sisters of men in the 200th Coast Artillery.

Mrs. J. D. Thorpe, president of The 200th, announced that the public is invited and urged to hear Dr. Spensley, who is one of the most enthusiastic workers for the BRO and its efforts in relief of the boys who are prisoners in the Philippines.

The initial announcement of Dr. Spensley's coming was made at the regular meeting of The 200th last Thursday evening when a letter from him to the organization's president was read.

In it he said his message will be for Eddy County first, but that "it is your message and is going to be a fighting talk for all of New Mexico."

Dr. Spensley, it is understood, will reveal facts many people have not thought about.

As chairman of the BRO, Dr. Spensley announced this week an additional $1,800 has been added to the fund to send relief to the men captured in Bataan and Corregidor, coming from a club at Fort Worth. All funds for that purpose are being diverted through Red Cross channels.

Principal discussion of The 200th last Thursday evening was the public meeting tomorrow evening and plans were made for a good-sized audience, as various members urged that the general public turn out to hear the visiting speaker.

The organization planned also to have a covered dish supper prior to the public meeting, for members and husbands of The 200th only.

Boys and Girls Tie Record Attendance Of 120 Last Playday

Although the record of 120 boys and girls at the weekly playday session two weeks ago was not broken last Thursday morning, the attendance held its own, encouraging the sponsoring Junior Woman's Club that a new high may be set today.

In their weekly song of thanks for the treats, the children sang "Thank You Lions."

Mrs. Hugh Parry, project chairman, again pointed out this morning that all boys and girls up to 12 years old are invited to join in the fun from 9 to 11 o'clock each Thursday morning at the high school and municipal swimming pool.

Dr. Catherine Clarke of Leesburg, Va., daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. J. Clarke, Sr., arrived Wednesday for a vacation of a month with her parents.

State Police Are to Crack Down on Use Tax Stamp Violators

State police said this week the department has been authorized to enforce the federal use stamp tax law and will start soon to check on all motor vehicles in use.

Members of the state police force will take the names of persons violating the law, by driving without use stamps displayed prominently, for the year which started July 1 and will turn the names over to the Bureau of Revenue for prosecution.

Police said there is a penalty imposed for violation of the regulation.

Rev. Ramsey to Be Presbyterian Pastor, Artesia

The Rev. J. Basil Ramsey of Merkel, Tex., has been selected by the congregation of the First Presbyterian Church of Artesia to be its new pastor, succeeding the Rev. Henry S. Stout, who resigned when made a chaplain in the Army with the rank of first lieutenant.

The new pastor will come as soon as possible, but will be delayed until he completes two young people's conferences at Buffalo Gap, Tex.

The Rev. Mr. Ramsey was heard by the Artesia congregation several weeks ago, immediately after Lt. Stout left, and he made a very favorable impression on the congregation. At that time he delivered both the morning and evening Sunday sermons.

He is married and has an 18-month-old daughter. At present the manse is being repaired and decorated for occupancy by the new pastor and his family.

The Rev. B. H. Fryer of Phoenix, Ariz., was guest speaker at the church Sunday. He formerly was with the CCC, but since that has been disbanded, he has been notified he is to report to the Army as chaplain.

Air Corps Examining Board Is to Be in Roswell Monday

An Army Air Corps cadet examining board will be at the recruiting office in Roswell next Monday, at which time local men interested in flying are invited to apply or inquire, it was announced in Artesia Wednesday by Pfc. Harry Hickox, representing the district recruiting office at Santa Fe, in charge of Major Howard T. Clark.

He said applicants should have their birth certificates with them, if possible, as well as three letters of recommendation.

Pvt. Hickox, who was detailed to come to Artesia by Sgt. Dale Woolsey, recruiter at Roswell, said that enlistments in branches preferred are being stressed at this time to men eligible to draft.

The recruiting office in Roswell is in the postoffice building.

Red Cross Life Saving Classes Being Planned

Walter Cave, who recently passed the water safety instructors' course of the American Red Cross under P. V. (Pat) Dolan, field representative, will teach junior and senior life saving at the Artesia municipal pool, provided there are enough registrations to justify him coming from Carlsbad for classes.

The courses are free and anyone wishing to take either junior or senior life saving may register at the pool.

Cave pointed out that these are not swimmers' courses, but life saving. However, anyone wishing to learn to swim may register and an instructor will be provided.

The instructor is one of nine Carlsbad people who qualified as instructors with the Red Cross.

Dolan said Cave is a very capable teacher, especially in artificial respiration.

CPL. DENTON LEAVES FOR CAMP AFTER FURLOUGH

Cpl. Charles Denton left last week for Camp Cook, near Santa Barbara, Calif., where he is stationed with the Field Artillery, after spending fifteen days visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Denton, and sister, Miss Juanita Denton. Charles, who was manager of the Denton Lumber Company, was drafted into the Army in January.

FOR CONVENIENCE OF HOPE PEOPLE

People in the Hope community may apply for canning certificates to Mrs. C. B. Altman at the telephone exchange there, it was announced by the Eddy County rationing board this week.

Geo. E. Currier, Artesia member of the board, said the arrangement has been made in order to save people the inconvenience of driving to his office here for the canning certificates.

Applicants should have their ration books with them and be prepared to tell how many quarts of fruit were canned last year, how many quarts they now have in possession and how many quarts of each kind of fruit they wish to can.

Corsages Help Sell War Stamps Here on Tuesday

It seemed Tuesday that everyone on the streets of Artesia was wearing a corsage or boutonniere made of War Saving Stamps, but the impression was wrong, for there were only 200 of them, whereas the members of the American Woman's Voluntary Services, who made and sold them, were disappointed that they were not prepared to sell twice as many, or three times.

Thinking that 200 of the nose-gays, which sold for $1 each, would be ample and not wishing to take a chance with too many of the valuable stamps, they stopped at that figure—and then they were sold out by 10 o'clock, with several hundred prospects still to be seen.

However, as there were 90 cents worth of War Stamps in each bouquet, the AWVS managed to sell $180 worth and received $20, most of which was absorbed in the purchase of materials.

Members of the AWVS are looking ahead a few weeks, when it is planned to repeat the stunt, by way of increasing the sale of War Saving Stamps. But they'll have more than 200 nose-gays then!

Eight New Oil Well Locations Staked In County Fields

Four Are Made By Sanders—Etz No. 2-E Is The Only Completion

Staking of new locations again took an upward trend during the last week, when eight were announced, four by Sanders Bros., all in section 33-16-30.

During the same period a single producing completion was made. It was the Etz 2-E of Etz Oil Company, in SW SE 25-16-30, which flowed 120 barrels of oil per day, natural, during the second twenty-four hours, from a total depth of 3,101 feet.

The new locations made by Sanders Bros. in 33-16-30: Evans 9, SW NE; Evans 10, SE NE; Evans 11, NE NE; Evans 12, NW NE.

The circular reads: "There will be required in the future a separate assignment of each oil and gas permit and lease when transfers of interests involve record titles, whether the interests are of the entire permit or lease, title to specific tracts, or undivided title interests."

The Advocate's Bob Fulton Leaves Today For Officer Training

Bob Fulton, Linotype operator and printer for The Advocate for more than four years, is leaving today for Fort Bliss to report Friday for volunteer officer training. He completed his examinations for the training some weeks ago.

Fulton is a veteran of World War I, in which he saw considerable service overseas, and he was for a number of years a reserve officer when he lived in Oklahoma.

He resigned his commission when he came to New Mexico a few years ago to work at Carlsbad for The Eddy County News. He later joined the force of The Advocate and was a member continuously since, except for a brief period, until he resigned last week.

Mrs. Fulton will remain in Artesia until the middle of next month, when she will go to her former home, Wichita, Kan., for the duration.

Bob and Lou, as The Advocate family best knows them, were honored at a picnic Sunday afternoon and evening at Lake McMillan by all members of the editorial and mechanical staffs and their families.

Kerr Club Report, Of Public Interest, Is To Be Published

W. E. Kerr, who represented the Artesia Rotary Club at the annual convention of Rotary International at Toronto in June, on Tuesday noon concluded his report, which he started Tuesday noon of last week.

The portion of the report this week was a summary of thoughts brought out at Toronto by various men on the program, some of international renown, which the delegate had incorporated into a splendid paper.

Kerr has consented to permit the publication of the greater part of that paper in The Advocate, and it will be used as a guest editorial next week, not as a Rotary report, but because it is crowded with many serious thoughts on affairs affecting everybody.

He gave the same report Wednesday noon at the weekly meeting of the Carlsbad Rotary Club.

DR. METZGER IS SWORN IN AS CAPTAIN FRIDAY

Dr. E. A. Metzger, Artesia physician, was sworn in Friday as a captain in the Army Medical Corps and now is waiting orders.

He has no idea where he will be sent, but expects a call for active service within a month.

Mother of Local Women Dies in Texas Thursday

Mrs. W. L. Byrd, 70, mother of Mrs. M. A. McLean of Artesia and Mrs. Walter Newton of Oilfield, died in Brownwood, Tex., last Thursday. She suffered a stroke last November and was able to get around again, but she fell a few weeks ago and never recovered from the shock and injury.

Funeral services were at Brownwood Friday and burial was in Cedar Point Cemetery there.

The two daughters from here had been at the bedside of their mother the last two weeks before their mother's death and they were joined at Brownwood by their husbands for the funeral.

Mrs. Byrd is survived by her husband, who is 85 years old, and five daughters and a son: Mrs. McLean and Mrs. Newton, Artesia; Mrs. Mertie Johnson, Brownwood; Mrs. Porter Jones and Mrs. Dewey Hestor, Glendale, Calif.; and L. D. Byrd, Bangs, Tex. All were at the funeral except Mrs. Hester, who was unable to attend because of illness. Mr. Byrd will make his home at Bangs with his son.

Before her marriage to Mr. Byrd in December, 1881, Mrs. Byrd was Sallie Ann Elizabeth Wise. She and Mr. Byrd had visited the daughters here many times.

Mrs. Hugh Donald Burch and her small daughter who have been in New Jersey near Mr. Burch, who is stationed there with the United States armed forces, is reported to have recently returned to Empire, Colo., to the home of her parents.

Local Men Are Shown In Jap Capture Picture

At least three Artesia boys and two from Albuquerque have been reasonably well identified in a picture in the current issue of Life, showing American prisoners at the capitulation of Bataan, heartening to some of the families of local men of the 200th Coast Artillery.

Although the picture, taken by the Japanese and obtained by the magazine by way of neutral Switzerland, obviously is greatly "blown up" from a smaller photograph, cutting down detail, relatives of the boys are certain of their identification.

They are Sgt. Tony King, Don Adams and Jess House of Artesia and Warrant Officer Jimmie McCahan and Sgt. John St. Clair of Albuquerque.

The picture shows several hundred men lined up near numerous trucks, which, the caption says, were used by other men who escaped to Corregidor before Bataan fell.

As most of the boys of the 200th probably were in the same sector, it is possible more from this community are shown in the picture, but the lack of detail makes it impossible to identify many. Those identified were in the foreground. Or, it has been pointed out, others might have been in the same group, but out of range of the camera.

Harp March Is to Be Included This Evening by Band

"King of the Nations" Composed by Conductor Local Organization

At the weekly concert of the alumni band at Central Park at 8:15 o'clock this evening, which will be sponsored by the Artesia Chamber of Commerce, local people will have an opportunity of hearing "King of the Nations March," composed by the school and alumni band director, E. L. Harp.

The march, which will be played by Harp by request, has been broadcasted twice over an NBC national hook-up by the U. S. Marine Band at Washington, D. C.

The program, including the Harp march, has been arranged to be given at some time in the near future for the flying cadets at the Roswell Army Flying School and probably at Carlsbad and other flying schools. Included on the program will be Miss Ann Crouch, baton twirler extraordinary, and the Artesia majorettes.

The program: Flying Cadets March, Karl King; Remember Pearl Harbor, Don Reid and Sammy Kaye; Keep 'Em Flying, Bill Coleman; American Patrol, F. W. Meacham; Spirit of the Nations March, dedicated to President Franklin D. Roosevelt by composer Mrs. Alfred S. Gillett, with union baton twirling by Artesia majorettes.

Three Artesia Men Leave For Volunteer Training As Officers

Keith Quail, Artesia attorney; Bob Fulton, member of The Advocate force, and J. Don Hudgens, formerly of Artesia but recently of Carlsbad, are to report Friday morning at Fort Bliss for induction for voluntary officer training.

After their basic training period, they will be promoted to corporals and transferred to some school for training, to be graduated as lieutenants.

Mr. and Mrs. Quail left Tuesday for a short vacation at Ruidoso, from where he planned to leave today for El Paso.

Hudgens and Fulton were to leave today direct for Fort Bliss.

Death Comes Sunday to Ovid Hoyt, 20, of Pasadena, and J. E., 13, Artesia, Sons of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Montgomery, Artesia.

YOUTH BADLY HURT

Party of Eight Returning Here From Texas — A Rear Tire Blows.

Ovid Hoyt Montgomery, 20, of Pasadena, Calif., and J. E. Montgomery, 13, of Artesia, sons of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Montgomery of Artesia, died Sunday in Artesia Memorial hospital from injuries sustained in an automobile accident east of the Pecos River bridge here about 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon, in which their nephew, Johnny Montgomery, 7, of the Cottonwood community was critically injured.

Also injured were Johnny's mother, Mrs. O. B. Montgomery, of the Cottonwood and Bert Smithers, 19, of Lipan, Tex., while Jimmie, 5, another son of Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Montgomery of the Cottonwood, and Everett, 16, of Artesia and Hesper Lee Montgomery, 18, of Pasadena, sons of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Montgomery, sustained only minor injuries.

The accident happened as the party of eight was coming to Artesia from Weatherford, Tex., where they had visited relatives. The right rear tire blew out, the car skidded for a considerable distance and then overturned several times, scattering the occupants.

Ovid Montgomery, driver of the car, and his brother, Hesper Lee, had come to Artesia to visit their parents, as Ovid was expecting to be called to the Army at any time. Here they picked up their two brothers, J. E. and Everett Montgomery, their sister-in-law, Mrs. O. B. Montgomery, and her sons, Johnny and Jimmie, and drove to Weatherford. They were being accompanied back here by Bert Smithers, who grew up with the family.

The death of J. E. Montgomery came at 11:45 o'clock Sunday morning from head injuries. It was believed his neck also was broken. (continued on last page, column 4)

New Streamlined Civilian Defense Council Is Named

Members Appointed by Governor Miles, Organize Here Last Evening

Appointments for an eleven-member civilian defense council for Artesia were received Monday from Gov. John E. Miles, replacing the former committee of four members, and the new body met last evening at the city hall to organize and name an executive committee.

Although the size of the local council has been more than doubled, it is a move towards streamlining the civilian defense program, it was explained by N. M. Baird, coordinator of civilian defense for Artesia and a member of the council.

The action came out of a recent meeting in Albuquerque, to which representatives from all communities in the state were called in by way of discussing ways and means to step up the entire program.

Baird explained that enlargement of the council was made in order to delegate special work and activities to each member, thus taking the load off of two or three men.

As before, Mayor Emery Carper heads the council as chairman. Besides him and Baird, the members are: Fred Brainard, representing the city council and assistant to the mayor on the defense council; C. J. Dexter, chairman of Red Cross chapter; Charles Morgan, major State Guard; Mrs. Ben Pior, American Legion Auxiliary; H. G. Watson, state and federal agencies; Howard Whitson, American Legion; Miss Juanita Denton, AWVS; Chief J. C. Floore, police department; Chief Albert Richards, fire department. IT'S AN ILL WIND

We are rooting for Elmer Davis, new head of the Office of War Information, and believe that through his efforts the nation soon will be receiving dispatches of all the war news which possibly can be released.

When he was appointed by President Roosevelt, it was the intention that Davis serve as a sort of coordinator of news and that all news pertaining to the war and coming from the several government departments be sifted through his office, as we understand it.

It made us somewhat angry when we learned that a member of Davis' staff had been rudely dismissed by a general, when the press representative was sent to obtain news of the trial of the eight saboteurs.

But we noticed the next day that the trial was being covered better than it had up to that time, indicating that Davis had gone to the top and that the word had been passed along that some sort of story should be given out for the benefit of the public.

We hold no brief with officials who wish to suppress certain phases of that trial, or of any other news story which should not reach the general public for military reasons. No doubt there was certain evidence brought out at the trial which will prove valuable in the future, hence it should be withheld. That, we believe, is why the trial was held behind closed doors.

On the other hand, for the benefit of the Office of War Information in the future and for the benefit of all newspaper readers, we are somewhat happy now that the general did dismiss the OWI representative curtly.

That is because the more complete subsequent news releases indicated that Davis' office is to be respected.

Had not the incident been so bold and made the daily newspapers, perhaps Davis would have had to struggle along without cooperation of other government agencies.

As it is, we believe it has been brought to a head quickly and the public in the future will stand a better chance to have all the war news which possibly can be published, and that it will be well edited and authentic, without conflicting reports.

More power to Davis and his department.

PRINTING PROMOTES PATRIOTISM

There is no lack of any kind of printing paper! The authority for that statement is the War Production Board. A few months ago there was launched—how, we do not recall, nor by whom—a campaign planned to make the nation conscious of an alleged shortage of printing paper.

In the willingness of the people to cooperate in any and every war effort, thousands of tons of waste paper were gathered in all sections of the country and there was a great curtailment of the use of certain types of printing.

In Artesia the Lions, the Boy Scouts and others staged waste paper campaigns, all of which had to be stopped because there seemed to be no adequate outlet. It was generally understood that shipping costs ate up the value of the paper saved and that the transportation facilities were more needed for moving other things than paper.

And now we have it on the authority of the War Production Board that there is no shortage in printing papers.

We do not mean to imply that paper, in any form, should be wasted, but we do urge that paper be used without stint when and where needed.

Industry has come to depend on paper in many forms in the offices. The reading public has come to depend on weekly and daily newspapers and periodicals for information and pleasure. The nation has seen the printing industry grow, until it is the sixth greatest industry of the United States industries, which can best serve the war effort by continuing to print democracy's wartime and civilian messages.

IT MUST BE A GIFT

How Will Robinson, the prolific Roswell newspaperman, does it, we don't know.

That old boy can learn more about more people than anyone we ever saw, and still he doesn't seem to get about so much.

He realizes that newspapers sell names, and names he has in the columns he writes for The Record.

Robinson has a deft way of gleaming a squib, item, story or human interest blurb out of the most homely incidents, but somehow the names involved usually are the monickers of people who make good news. And most of his stuff is good reading—better than this, for instance.

NOT FOR SALE, BUT FOR THE BOYS

We had a chance the other morning to sell some phonograph records to a couple of cowboys, who saw them scattered in our window.

However, those records are not for sale; they are the forerunners of the records the American Legion and Auxiliary are collecting, to be sold by the national organization and the funds used to purchase new records for the boys in the service.

Which is by way of reminding you to bring in all of those old phonograph records.

SO WE BREAK THE RULE TOO

Speaking about news stories from governmental agencies, they must be having a hard time getting good writers for some of the offices.

One of the first things we learned, when we first had a yen to write, was that news stories never start with participles—that is, if well written.

Now there comes to our desk a release, each of the first three paragraphs of which begins with a participle!

The present makes up for the past if the good wife likes what you picked out.—Amarillo Daily News.

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "The lip of truth shall be established for ever; but a lying tongue is but for a moment." (Prov. 12:19)

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook: "Truth cannot be contaminated by error. The statement that Truth is real necessarily includes the correlated statement that error, Truth's unlikeness, is unreal." Visitors always welcome.

Sands of Time

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

(From The Advocate Files for July 21, 1927)

The outstanding event of the year in Southeast New Mexico oil development was a gas strike Saturday in the Texas Production Company's Robinson No. 1 well in NE SW section 25-16-31 in the eastern part of Eddy County. At a total depth of 3,885 feet, with tools still in the hole, the well gauged 11,700,000 cubic feet of gas, which probably will be doubled with the removal of the tools. At the same time the well is spraying about 20 barrels of oil a day.

The infantile paralysis situation in Eddy County is believed to be fairly well under control, despite three cases reported the early part of the week, one each at Artesia, Otis and Malaga.

A son was born Monday, July 18, to Mr. and Mrs. Dick Attebery.

The county commissioners at Carlsbad last week appointed S. W. Gilbert to the office of justice of the peace, succeeding the late L. L. Feather. The duties are not new to Mr. Gilbert, as he previously served in that capacity a number of years ago.

Lewis Story drove to Cloudercroft this morning with his wife and two children and his mother, Mrs. J. M. Story, who will spend some weeks in the mountain resort. He expects to return tonight.

A number of members of the Pecos Valley Orchestra will leave Friday for the Paisano Baptist encampment in the Davis Mountains of Texas.

EARL SCHNEIDER GETS PROMOTION TO CORPORAL

LETON GETS WINGS

The promotion to corporal of Earl Schneider, 24-year-old son of Mrs. Elizabeth Schneider, of Artesia, was announced by Colonel Ralph E. Spake, commanding officer, Army Air Forces Command, California Group.

Schneider, who has been in the service eighteen months, started his Army life at Barksdale Field, La., where he received his basic training. He then went to Chanute Field, Ill., for his air mechanics course, a New Mexico air base for his four-engine training and then to his present post for duty as a flight engineer.

Cpl. Schneider is a graduate of Artesia High School.

Dehydrated vegetables have only about one-fifth the weight of fresh vegetables and for that reason can be shipped more easily under war conditions.

Enlistments to Men 45-50 for Duty on Staff Are Now Open

Brig. Gen. R. C. Charlton, state director of Selective Service has announced the Army is opening a limited number of enlistments to men between the ages of 45 and 50 years for staff duty.

The order, which applies to men who reached their 45th birthday prior to last Feb. 16 and who will not have attained their 50th birthday at the time of enlistment, is designed to release younger soldiers fit for active military duty.

The state director said men from the older age group will be accepted for enlistment and direct assignment to the corps area service command of War Department overhead units and installations, provided they are otherwise qualified and that vacancies exist in the respective units.

The acceptance of volunteers in this age group will be restricted to individuals having character, skills and aptitudes which make their enlistment desirable, he said. Prior to acceptance, men enlisted under this authority will be cleared through their local draft boards.

Even if highway traffic doubles after the war, two lanes will be wide enough for 98 per cent of the nation's roads, according to R. E. Tone, chief of the division of design of the U. S. Public Roads Administration.

BRIEF FORM

From Near and Far, Some Timely, Some of Human Interest

Mrs. E. E. Young of Seattle, more than likely, will follow her hunches in the future. Up at 3 o'clock to get an aspirin tablet, she thought she saw three men near her daughter's car. Her first impulse was to investigate. Instead, she took the aspirin and returned to bed. In the morning she found the spare tire missing.

Ever wonder just how much of a bargain the white man made in purchasing Manhattan Island from the Indians for $24? Well, it was a pretty good one, it seems, for the tax commission has put Manhattan's assessed value for next year at $7,664,078.941. Red men are welcome to figure out the percentage for themselves.

It took an automobile wrecker to retrieve the high-diving cow from Hubert Rhode's farm near Oswego, Kan. The cow, grazing atop a 50-foot bluff, was bumped by another and plunged to the river below. Hoisted up again, she walked away.

At Portland, Ore., Fireman Ed Lawrence rolled out with the alarm. In his haste he kicked his pants and shoes under the bed. Madly he groped for them, but the truck was roaring, ready to move. There was only one thing to do, and he did it. At the fire it was not the heat that made his face red.

It is cheaper to farm with horses than with tractors, according to C. E. Howell, manager of the University of California's W. K. Kellogg Institute of Animal Husbandry at Pomona. "The working life of the horse is longer than that of the tractor," says Howell. "The horse lives off the land and needs no spare parts. He provides the fertilizer."

In Denver, a burglar was disgusted when he found only 15 cents in a piggybank after breaking into the John Johnson apartment. So he smashed two dozen eggs on the walls and ceiling.

Arthur W. Anderson, South Pasadena, and William M. A. Brandt, North Hollywood, met for the first time when they boarded a troop train in 1917. They became corporals, then sergeants and finally second lieutenants at the same time, and sailed on the same transport for France. Then, after a lapse of twenty-three years, they met again. Both reported to Col. William A. Aird for duty as Army captains.

W. H. Formby of Italy, Tex., has an obliging hen. She always lays eggs with handles on them.

Kenneth A. Miller, who was defeated for a fourth time for the Democratic nomination for mayor of New Albany, Ind., entertained the sixty-eight persons who voted for him with a banquet. Miller said he would order 100 dinners so that any persons whose votes were thrown out would not be overlooked.

Lightning struck in different places, all right, but hit the same man twice. Robert Hudson, Bennington, Mich., contractor, was knocked unconscious when a bolt struck near him as he supervised a job. Only ill effect was a headache. The next day he was knocked down by another bolt while working on hospital construction. He suffered a minor injury.

Now the victory scavenger party. Harlingen, Tex., hostesses, instead of sending their guests out for the usual odd assortment required in scavenger hunts, have a victory list which includes every kind of scrap needed for the war effort—rubber, copper, iron and the like. The first one back with a piece of every item on the list wins the prize—War Savings Stamps.

Ensign Hyman Harris, former University of Oregon football player among the survivors of the aircraft carrier Lexington, told of his rescue by a destroyer after spending an hour in the water. Shortly after clambering aboard, "a light bulb above my head worked loose and fell to the deck with a bang. I nearly jumped back overboard—I thought sure the Japs had come back."

A promotion from second to first lieutenant caught up with Earle K. Radford, Jr., while he was stationed on a South Pacific island. There were no silver bars available to show his new rank, so the young Marine officer borrowed a soldering iron and did a neat plating job—with solder.

"Is this Mr. Smith's home?" a young man asked Mrs. Adam Todd of Denver when she came home and found him in the parlor. "I came to collect and he told me to walk right in in case he wasn't home" the polite young man explained, then sauntered out, assured that he had the wrong address. Later Mrs. Todd discovered he had "collected" some change from a sewing table cache.

Mrs. Carl F. Harber are the parents of a new daughter. Her name is Pearl.

A draftee from Pottawatomie County, Oklahoma, draft board No. At Fort Wayne, Ind., Mr. and

1 went AWOL and nothing was heard from him for a time. Then to the board came a letter asking for an honorable discharge from the Army "for the reason that I have found employment that much better my living conditions." The draftee reported that he was working in Colorado at $41 a week—and wound up with: "Hoping to hear from you immediately—" He will.

Los Angeles housewives now are asked to save their milk bottle tops, because the county government cooperating with the Federal Forest Service, is forming a volunteer fire watching service, and the cardboard tops from milk bottles are needed for identification badges. On one side will be the fire watchers' corps insignia; on the other complete instructions in the event a fire is spotted.

NUMBER 53 ★ How to cut down on waste by eliminating baste ★ A list of foods that are really low priced ★ An illustrated story worth reading

Haste in shopping makes waste in food and in time too

It has always been our family duty to waste as little food as possible—today it is our patriotic duty. And certainly the most effective way to do this is to plan menus and shopping lists together—a week at a time. For this gives you the opportunity to fit one day's leftovers into the next day's menu—to vary meals—to keep meals well-rounded nutritionally—to stick to the budget—and to plan definite times for shopping, thus cutting down on shopping trips. But streamlined shopping schedules take careful planning. And at all times the perishability of different meats and vegetables must be kept in mind.

For meats, you might select shoulder lamb chops, enough ham loaf for two nights, and Swiss steak. If stored in the refrigerator, most meats will keep about a week; cured meats like ham and bacon will keep longer; but ground meats, poultry, and fresh fish should be cooked the same day or day after.

For vegetables, you might choose corn, string beans, carrots, tomatoes, cucumbers, green onions, lettuce, and celery. That's not counting the potatoes and onions you'd have on hand already. As soon as you get home, wash the vegetables quickly, dry, and store them in a covered container in the refrigerator. Use green and leafy vegetables that day or the next. Carrots and corn will keep longer.

Now let's say, for example, that you are buying these meats and vegetables on Monday to last until Friday. Here are the dinner menus the Safeway Homemakers' Bureau suggests you might have planned before buying.

Mann Sisters Married in Baptist Church Weddings in California

Miss Lela Bess Mann and Miss La Rue Mann, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Mann of Artesia, are July brides at church weddings in California.

Lela Bess, fourth daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mann, was married to Mr. David Charles Barnette, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Barnette, 1607 Yosemite Drive, Los Angeles, Calif., at 7:30 o'clock Friday evening, in a pretty church wedding at the Wee Kirk of the Heather, Forrest Lawn, Glendale, Calif.

The Rev. John F. McArthur, pastor of Eagle Rock Baptist Church, Los Angeles, was officiant.

The church was gorgeously decorated with palms, ferns and flowers arranged in baskets. The altar was lighted by tall white tapers in seven-point candelabras. The aisles and altar were laid with white satin.

A medley of pre-nuptial organ music began promptly at 7 o'clock. Mrs. Fred Cole, sister of the bride, sang the wedding song, "Ruth," by Hartley.

The bride wore a lovely white satin wedding gown, styled with a fitted bodice and flaring peplum at the waistline, a sweetheart neckline and long, fitted sleeves, which tapered to a point over the hands and trimmed with self-covered buttons. Her fingertip veil of white silk tulle was held in place with a wreath of orange blossoms. Her only ornament was a pearl necklace. She carried a shower bouquet of white carnations and lilies-of-the-valley mixed with baby's breath, massed in lace, white tulle and tied with white satin streamers. The traditional custom of something old, something new, something borrowed and something blue was observed by the bride.

Miss Janice Mann, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a blue marquisette gown and a fluted headpiece of blue tulle and a blue veil of shoulder length. She carried an arm bouquet of pink carnations and sweet peas, tied with pink satin ribbon.

Miss Patricia Murphy of Riverside, Calif., and Miss Hattie Ruth Cole of Artesia, a niece of the bride, were bridesmaids. Miss Murphy wore a pink marquisette frock, with a pink velvet bow in her hair. She carried an arm bouquet of pink carnations and blue sweetpeas, tied with blue satin ribbon. Miss Cole wore a yellow marquisette formal with a large yellow velvet bow in her hair. She carried an arm bouquet of yellow carnations and orchid sweetpeas, tied with orchid ribbon.

Mrs. Mann chose for her daughter's wedding a navy sheer suit with white accessories. She wore a shoulder corsage of pink and white gladioli and baby's breath.

The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Barnette, wore a black lace gown with rose accessories and a corsage of rose and white gladioli and baby's breath.

The bridegroom and attendants were attired in black tuxedos. Each wore a white carnation boutonniere. William Barnette, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Jack Hennessey of Long Beach, Calif., and Donald Arries of Los Angeles, were ushers.

Mrs. Barnette, was born and reared in Artesia. She received her AB degree with a major in music at Occidental College, Los Angeles, in June.

Mr. Barnette, who is now employed in defense work, attended Los Angeles City College and expects to attend the Eastern Theological Seminary in Philadelphia, Pa., next year.

Immediately after the wedding ceremony, a reception was held for members of the wedding party, at the home of the bridegroom's parents.

For traveling the bride chose a gabardine suit of canary yellow, with which she wore black accessories. After a brief honeymoon trip Mr. and Mrs. Barnette will be at home at 330 Lime Street, Long Beach, Calif.

Miss Barbara Brown, Hollywood, Calif., caught the bride's bouquet, which was thrown as she departed on the wedding trip.

Miss Brown and Miss Rita Nunn were cohostesses in entertaining with a lovely bridal shower for the bride-elect at the home of Miss Nunn in Hollywood Wednesday, July 15. She also was shown a number of courtesies in Artesia before returning to the Coast for her wedding.

Miss LaRue Mann, third daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mann, was married to Mr. Andrew Broadus White, son of Dr. and Mrs. J. R. G. White of the state of Alabama. Dr. White is a former pastor of the First Baptist Church in Artesia.

Wedding vows were exchanged at the Little Church Around the Corner, Englewood Park, Englewood, Calif., at 7 o'clock Sunday evening. The Rev. Herbert Davidson, pastor of the Fifth Avenue Baptist Church, Los Angeles, officiated.

The church was decorated with palms, ferns and masses of flowers arranged in baskets. The altar was lighted by tall white tapers in seven-point candelabras.

A medley of wedding and love songs was played on the organ preceding the ceremony. Mrs. Fred Cole, sister of the bride, sang,

"Ruth," by Hartley and Mrs. David Charles Barnette, also a sister of the bride, sang "Believe Me If All Those Endearing Young Charms." Mrs. Helen Henson of Los Angeles, a sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Mrs. Henson wore a hyacinth blue satin formal and carried an arm bouquet of blush pink roses and blue delphinium, tied with pink tulle.

The bride was lovely in a white satin wedding gown, fitted princess style with long full skirt and close-fitting buttoned sleeves, which came to a point at the hands, and a sweetheart neckline. Her fingertip veil of white silk tulle was worn with a bandeau of orange blossoms. She wore a single strand of pearls and carried a bride's bouquet of white roses centered with a single white orchid and a shower of lilies-of-the-valley.

James Dyer, Los Angeles, cousin of the bridegroom, was best man. The bridegroom, a captain in the United States Army and aide-de-camp to Brigadier General Donald A. Robinson, commanding general of Cavalry Replacement Training Center, Fort Riley, Kan., was attired in white uniform; the best man in black tuxedo. Each wore a gardenia boutonniere. Ushers were George Dyer and Frank Donovan of Los Angeles.

Mrs. Mann, mother of the bride, wore a smart navy sheer suit, with white accessories and a corsage of Tallisman roses.

Mrs. White who was born and reared in Artesia, attended Hardin Simmons University, Abilene, Tex., Columbia University, New York City and received her AB degree from the University of New Mexico, Albuquerque. She taught in the public schools at Artesia and Santa Fe and this last year at Englewood, Calif.

Captain White received his master's degree from the University of Arizona. He also has studied two years at the Feagan School of Dramatic Art, New York City. In 1931 he was awarded the Atwater Kent addition award. He studied voice with Sidney Dietch, New York City, for a number of years. He has been connected with a number of radio programs in New York City and recently was baritone soloist with Fred Waring on the Chesterfield hour. Captain White has had a great deal of experience in concert and oratorio work in addition to his radio appearances.

After the wedding ceremony a beautiful wedding reception was held at the home of Mrs. Blanche Henderson, 4901 Sixth Ave., Los Angeles. Hostesses were Mrs. Mann, mother of the bride; Mrs. James Dyer, cousin of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Henderson.

The wedding cake was cut by the bride, who used the bridegroom's sabre. Mrs. Mann presided at the punch bowl and Mrs. Dyer at the coffee service.

Mrs. White chose for traveling a chartruse bemberg sheen suit and white accessories.

The bride's bouquet was caught by Miss Mary Evans, Los Angeles. Captain White and his bride left immediately after the reception for a wedding trip to San Francisco and other points. They will be at home in Fort Riley, Kan.

Mrs. Frank Cockley of Englewood entertained with a lovely bridge-luncheon and bridal shower for the bride-elect July 14. Guests included teachers with whom she had taught in the Englewood School and a few close friends and members of her family who were there for the wedding.

Have Physical Fitness On The Home Front

Physical fitness on the home front means more planes, more tanks and more ships for our fighting forces. The men and women of the life insurance business who have such wide public contacts, can therefore lend to the war drive by inspiring health conservation activities in their communities and by spreading the message of the five fundamental rules of health, which follow:

Eat Right — Milk, butter, eggs, fish, meats, cheese, beans and peas, fruit, leafy green vegetables and the yellow ones, whole-grain or enriched cereals and bread—these are the key foods. Eat plenty of them. And eat three meals a day.

Get Your Rest — Regularity counts most. You can't catch up on lost sleep or missed relaxation. Try to keep on a regular schedule every day. Take it easy for a little while after lunch and dinner. Go to bed on time, get up on time.

See Your Doctor Once a Year — You have your car checked and serviced every thousand miles. Do as much for your body. Physicians can prevent many diseases and illnesses for both children and grown-ups nowadays. Give your doctor a chance now, before you get sick. Go to see him.

Keep Clean — Plenty of baths, lots of soap. Clean hands, clothes, houses, beds. Get fresh air, sunshine. Drink lots of water.

Play Some Each Day — Romp with the family, visit with friends, take walks, play games — or do whatever you like to give your body and mind a change from the daily grind on the job. "All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy."

B&PW Women Are In Favor Wage Stability

Business and Professional Women's Club representatives from forty-five states met last week in Denver, Colo., for the national executive board session.

After the final banquet members were recalled for an emergency session to consider a stand on stabilization of wages during the war. Board members went on record to instruct clubs to send messages to Congress urging the stabilization of wages, which was greatly favored.

Around $11,000 in the federation's building fund and $2,500 in its student loan fund have been turned into War Bonds. The remainder of these funds already are in Government bonds.

Garden Club Meeting Monday Afternoon

Members of the Garden Club met Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Lee Francis in her lovely flower garden.

Mrs. Pete Loving, president of the club, presided at the meeting. Plans were made for the club to sponsor a campaign for all weeds on vacant lots to be cut. Everyone is being urged to cooperate and clean all vacant lots.

A picnic was planned for members and their families to be at 7 o'clock Thursday evening, Aug. 6, at Morris Field. The Hoover rose was named by the majority of the members as their favorite rose.

Mrs. J. W. Jones, Mrs. Clyde Roberts and Mrs. Francis were program chairmen. Mrs. Loving gave an interesting talk on her trip to California.

After refreshments were served to eighteen members, the yards of the hostesses, Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Roberts and Mrs. Francis were toured.

Mrs. H. A. Jordan and Mrs. J. H. Naylor will be the hostesses at the August meeting.

The club is in receipt of a letter from Haj Al-Ford ibn-Roos of Vanadium, N. Mex., who in a column which he writes for an El Paso newspaper, recommended the planting of the Ziziphus Jujuba trees in the Southwest.

The writer reported that he has ten of the trees now in blossom at his home in Vanadium, with the bees working on the fragrant flowers. He said the fruit will ripen in October and may be prepared in fifty different ways. Jujuba trees are of quick growth and will begin fruiting the second year, the writer said. He has promised to send one tree and some seed to the Garden Club for experimentation in this locality. Mrs. Glenn Sharp, secretary of the Garden Club, now has one of the trees in blossom.

The writer also recommended to the club the planting of the Prunus Tomentosa, or Manchu cherry, a native plant of China. He reports this to be a hardy tree, which produces loads of crimson fruit of extremely delicious flavor, which is not a cherry flavor, as the name might indicate.

Learn How to Use Less Sugar in Your Canning

Get ready for the 1942 fruit-canning season by checking up on ways to can with less sugar, suggests Mrs. Dorothy Y. Hanny, nutritionist, with the New Mexico extension service.

Mrs. Hanny passes on the following sugar-saving suggestions from Dr. Louise Stanley, chief of the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Bureau of Home Economics.

Remember, sugar is not needed in canning to keep food from spoiling. But it does help fruit hold color and flavor.

If you pack fruit hot in its own juice, you'll need much less sugar than if you pack the fruit cold, then cover it with a sugar-and-water syrup. By sweetening the fruit slightly, then heating it, you draw out the juice from the fruit itself, and in many cases it is unnecessary to can any added water.

For juicy fruits, it's best to separate the riper fruits from those that are less ripe. Then you can crush these riper fruits, heat them and extract juice from them. Pre-heat the less ripe fruit, which you have set aside, in this juice; add sugar to sweeten slightly, if necessary. Fill the jars. Make sure there is plenty of juice to cover the fruit. Process in a water bath.

Certain varieties of peaches and pears may not yield enough of their own juice to make the canning liquid. You'll get more juice from these fruits if you slice them and add a little sugar before you pre-cook them. If there is not enough juice to cover the fruit in the cans, use sirup to fill the jars, a sirup made from one or more cups of sugar to one quart of water.

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Vandagriff left this week to spend about two weeks at their cabin in Ruidoso.

Plenty of Pertinent Paragraphs!

"Ann Batchelder's Own Cook Book" Is Full of "Independent Ideas"

Culled from the pages of "Ann Batchelder's Own Cook Book" just published by M. Marrows & Co., New York, are the following gems: "Handle a cake as if you trusted it—and had confidence in yourself."

"Cheese is the experienced evidence of the cow's good intention toward man."

"I'm for open rebellion openly arrived at against the white sauce menace."

"A recipe is known by the result it produces."

"The perfect baked potato is one that has grown up and found itself."

"There is no drudgery in cooking. Drudgery is a word to frighten the unthinking. Cooking is love's labor."

Pertinent Paragraphs

Tangy Topping: After you make gingerbread with a package of the handy mix based on Mary Ball Washington's recipe, top with whipped cream into which you've added crushed peppermint candy. Looks pretty good, too!

Dressy Dessert: Bake your favorite cup cake recipe in muffin pans about 1 1/2 inch in diameter, dip in 7 minute frosting and then roll in coconut for snowballs. Serve with compote of Florida grapefruit sections with a cube of raspberry gelatin in center. Pretty, pretty!

Speeded-Up Production: How about combining a No. 1 can of shrimp with a can of spaghetti in tomato sauce, sprinkling with grated cheese and buttered bread crumbs in baking? Well, how about it?

Brown Beauties are sandwiches—you combine equal portions of peanut butter and bran cereal and spread on brown bread.

Bacon Curls cute as a wink if you give a quick twist of the fork as you remove the bacon from the pan; gives it a real permanent.

Ball-Babies: Peel large apples and cut out little balls with a vegetable scoop. Slice Brazil nuts, and drop with apples into a warm sirup made of 1/2 pound red cinnamon candies, 1 cup sugar and 1/2 cup water. Let simmer slowly for 5 or 6 minutes and serve on a platter as a meat garnish; or, for a different salad accompaniment, drain and serve with fruit salad.

Salad Circle: Orange slices, onion rings, topped with balls of cream cheese and bran cereal blended together and served with French dressing.

Mace Adds Grace to spinach; put it on top after the greenery's cooked.

Good Gash Amighty! Just before broiling a thick steak, make little gashes with a sharp knife in both sides and insert ever so small an amount of prepared mustard.

Odds 'n' Ends

Stale candy? Crush it fine and use instead of sugar atop your half-a-Florida-grapefruit.

Those breakfast prunes are grand with bran, and have you tried the two together in muffins?

Pearl onions make a tiara for your pot roast. Getting scarce, though.

To keep bananas from turning dark after slicing (when you must wait to serve them, or have some left over) sprinkle or cover with grapefruit juice (fresh or canned), orange juice or lemon juice.

Make a bi-weekly survey of your refrigerator. Use odds and ends of left-over fruits for salads, puddings, fruit sauces; use the "dabs" of vegetables to combine in a casserole dish (crumbs on top) or for soup, loaves; or combine with baked potato as a luncheon dish.

Shrimixture!

A "shrimixture" sounds like a word from the ancient Greek or something. It's really a made-up word for any made-up dish which owes its goodness to canned shrimp. Mix this into a medley of flavor:

Southern Style Shrimp

6 green peppers, 4 tbsps. butter, 1/4 cup chopped onion, 2 No. 1 cans shrimp, 2 cups boiled rice, tomato juice, 1/2 cup chopped Brazil nuts.

Remove stem end from peppers; scoop out seeds. Cook peppers 5 minutes in boiling salted water. Melt butter in saucepan, add onion and saute 10 minutes. Add shrimp, rice and enough tomato juice to thoroughly moisten ingredients. Fill pepper cups with shrimp mixture. Set in baking dish, pour 1 cup boiling water around peppers, and bake in moderately hot oven (400° F.) for 45 minutes, until peppers are tender. Sprinkle with chopped Brazil nuts the last 15 minutes of baking. Makes six servings.

Howard Lydeker, head of Republic Studio's Miniature Department, recently turned out one of the masterpieces of his career—only for the purpose of having it draw jeers and cat calls from the nation's movie fans.

That's because it was a miniature Japanese battleship used in "Remember Pearl Harbor," the Republic action drama which comes July 31 to the Ocotillo Theatre.

Built to scale, the ship has twenty-four feet long, seven feet high, and three feet and ten inches wide across the beam. It had dual airplane catapults, eight fourteen-inch guns, and six anti-aircraft guns. Constructed under Lydeker's supervision, it required eighteen men nine weeks to build. It is apparently built up in a climatic scene in "Remember Pearl Harbor," but it will be visible on the screen long enough to let audiences boo it loudly and lustily.

"Remember Pearl Harbor," the story of which is, of course, entirely fictional—deals with the exploits of a dauntless group of American soldiers engaged in defending one section of the Philippines against the Japanese aggressors. In the cast

OPC Is to Review and Report on Exceptions Covering Well Spacing

The office of the supervisor of oil and gas operations, U.S. Geological Survey, Roswell, at the request of the district director of production, Office of Petroleum Coordinator for district No. 3, Houston, Tex., will review and report on all applications for exceptions within the state of New Mexico to conservation order M-68, covering spacing of wells drilled for oil and gas.

To conserve steel and other critical material essential to the war effort, the War Production Board's conservation order M-68, issued Dec. 23, 1941, limits the use of materials for oil and gas well operations with certain exceptions to those wells which conform to a uniform well-spacing pattern of not more than a single well to each forty surface-acres in the case of any oil field, or to each 640 surface-acres in the case of any gas field. Under amendment No. 3, issued Feb. 18, the first well spudded subsequent to Dec. 23, 1941, determines the "uniform well-spacing pattern" for all others drilled thereafter in the same field.

Provision is made for filing applications for exceptions from the general order for the development of individual leases or entire fields. Several such exceptions have already been approved by the War Production Board for oil and gas operations in New Mexico.

Under current instructions, three copies of applications for exceptions are required to be filed directly with the director of production, Office of Petroleum Coordinator, New Interior Building, Washington, D. C., and one copy with the district director of production, district No. 3, Office of Petroleum Coordinator, 245 Mellic Esperson Building, Houston, Tex. It will be helpful in expediting action for oil and gas operators to file an additional copy of each application for exception under conservation order M-68 with the supervisor, U. S. Geological Survey, in Roswell. The supervisor will be glad to assist operators in determining where exceptions are necessary, the "uniform well-spacing pattern" of fields, and, by reference to General Land Office survey plats, the size and location of legal subdivision lots of less than 40 acres, drilling on which requires approved exception. This service through a local governmental agency, should be beneficial to operators in New Mexico.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Payne of Carlsbad were guests Sunday at a dinner of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Buck of here.

W. Moore, who is living on the J. L. Taylor farm, returned home several days ago from Oklahoma, where he was called to the bedside of his father, who is quite ill.

Mrs. B. F. Womack of Snyder, Tex., is here visiting her old friend, Mrs. Glenn O'Bannon, and family. She also is visiting her son, Ernest Hester of Artesia.

Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Green of Cottonwood have as their guests their daughter, Mrs. A. C. Tomlinson, and Mr. Tomlinson and son, Max, of Hobbs and their daughter, Mrs. Garland Rideout and Mr. Rideout of Artesia.

Victor Parker of here has sold his store building to J. L. Taylor, and James and Dorothy Norris. The building will be moved to the Norris & Taylor Store, where it will be remodeled.

Miss Dixie Dan Goode, daughter of Mrs. Pearl Goode, and Julius Goodart, son of Mrs. Daisy Goodart were married at the First Baptist church in Roswell at 8 o'clock Saturday morning. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Arthur A. DuLaney, pastor of the church before a small assemblage of relatives and friends. Palms and floor baskets holding arrangements of gladioli in shades of pink decorated the altar. Mrs. Luther Tankersley played a program of organ music preceding the ceremony and also accompanied Miss Joyce Wyly when she sang "I Love You Truly." The traditional wedding marches were used and "O Promise Me," was played softly during the ceremony. After the wedding the young couple tarried in the church yard to receive the best wishes of their friends, after which they left by motor for a wedding trip to El Paso and Mexico. The bride, an unusually talented musician, was graduated from Roswell High School last spring. The bridegroom is also a graduate of Roswell High School and is employed by the Mountain States Telephone Company. Mrs. Goodart attended the Lake Arthur grade school before moving to Roswell and is well known at Lake Arthur and on the Cottonwood.

War Research

In war the advantage is on the side with the best weapons. The work of scientists in America's research laboratories, developing new materials and new equipment, means a lot to our fighting men.

1. It takes years to build up and equip a large, organized, and able staff for research. Fortunately, industry did this long ago.

2. Long before Pearl Harbor, laboratories like General Electric's were serving their country—solving technical problems of war.

3. History repeats! In the last war "wireless" was developed for military needs—to become, with peace, a giant broadcasting industry.

4. So it will be this time. Research will help to win the war, and its many wartime discoveries will help to build a better future.

General Electric believes that its first duty as a good citizen is to be a good soldier.

News Briefs of the "Sunshine State" Gleaned From Many Sources

Exclusive of $47,000 realized from the resale of the Sangre de Cristo grant in Taos County, the state tax commission received $150,838 from sale of tax-deeded property in the year ending May 31, Commissioner Paul Harris said. This compared with $133,905 realized in the previous year. Proceeds of the Taos grant resale will not be divided among the various funds, but a special distribution will be made with most of the money going to Taos County.

It has been suspected that one of them would happen someday and the other was inevitable. And both happened in Hobbs: An automobile and a boat had a collision at the corner of Marland and Dal Paso Streets. The boat was on a trailer behind a car operated by Ross Edwards. Hobbs has adopted the Hoss 'n Buggy days for the duration. The Herrin Bakery has been making its afternoon deliveries in the city with a horse drawn wagon, which Manager Bob Herrin had been preparing for the emergency. The regular morning deliveries through the city and to the outlying points are made by truck.

Director Joe Bursley of the State Tourist Bureau says there is less tourist traffic in New Mexico with each passing month. Reporting an over-all decrease of 18 per cent in non-resident traffic, Bursley pointed out that the percentages of decreases by months were 11 in February, 16 in March, 21 in April and 40 in May.

The Census Bureau reported that 66,609 homes in New Mexico reported having a radio in 1940, while 58,525 dwellings were without one. In the 18,079 dwellings in Bernalillo County, 12,688 reported having a radio and 4,461 had none. In Rio Arriba's 5,499 homes 1,039 had radios and 4,359 had none; San Miguel, with 6,330 dwellings, reported 2,029 had radios and 4,150 had none; and in Taos, with 4,109 homes, 921 boasted a radio and 3,041 had none. There were 4,341 homes in the state for which no report was made on the possession of a radio.

The Indian grapevine over the vast reaches of the Navajo reservation is producing amazing numbers of old automobile tires. Trader T. R. Fleishauer of the White Water Trading Post north of Gallup passed out the word that he was paying a cent a pound in trade for old rubber. Several days later Fleishauer found himself with 1,000 pounds of old tires from a land where nothing but horseshoes was thought to grow, and he forecasts his final rubber-drive take would triple that. "All I need is a little time for the word to spread and there's no telling the limit of this collection," he declared. Among his tire stock Fleishauer reported finding an antique narrow-gauge model, worn slick by long miles of travel. Carefully superimposed around it, and attached with pine pitch and tire cement, was an unbroken tread from a larger tire sliced off with a knife.

New Mexico had 138,000 acres of cotton in cultivation July 1, or 13 per cent more than in 1941, with the average likely abandonment 2.9 per cent. Texas figures were 8,250,000, 5 per cent, and 2.6 per cent.

The USO drive in New Mexico far exceeded its state quota by raising $41,954, Thomas J. Mabry, campaign chairman, announced. Quota for the state was $33,000. New Mexico was the first state to reach its quota and now has the biggest percentage of oversubscription in the nation.

New Mexico cattle shipments in June totaled 15,480 head, compared with 32,494 in May and 12,321 in June, 1941, Secretary Sam McCue of the New Mexico Cattle Sanitary Board reported. Shipments for the first half of the year numbered 144,942, an increase of 17,557 for the same period a year ago. June totals by shipping points included: Las Vegas 19, Tucumcari 1,024, Roswell 1,960, Albuquerque 1,961, Santa Fe 92, Carlsbad 1,025, Lovington 300, Clovis 3,784, Hobbs 796.

School Superintendent W. G. Donley said that the Federal Works Agency had rejected a request for additional school facilities in Hobbs to meet the problems resulting from the loss of the high school building by fire and an increased school registration because of the location of an Army flying school there. The FWA turned thumbs down on the Hobbs projects under a new order requiring that all school facilities be used 200 per cent of capacity by double shifts before any new construction is permitted. Donley said also that

Girls Go Military by Wearing Uniforms

Adoption of similar uniforms is considered by thousands of women and girls everywhere.

Overseas caps are Army type and the jackets are single breasted, have four buttons, epaulets and slit in back, similar to Army officers' blouses. Buttons are Army type. The skirts are flared, have deep single "kick pleat" in front and back, with zippered side fastener and a belt overlapping. Shoes are Army officer style with strap and buckle over instep and with spectator heels. Shoe color is "turf."

a $9,000 WPA allocation for cleaning up the wreckage of the high school building had been cancelled. A WPA work order had been issued for July 1, he said, but that the WPA meanwhile decided to abandon its operations in Lea County and the work order was rescinded.

New Mexico fell $497,000 short of its $1,452,000 June quota in the War Savings Bond drive, Steve Vidal, state chairman of bond sales, said. Efforts to make the July quota will be doubled, the chairman said. Along with his announcement, the Student Union Association of the University of New Mexico, through Dean J. L. Bostwick, announced the purchase of $5,000 in War Bonds.

A supplemental brand book, in which about 3,500 additional brands will be listed, is expected to be ready for distribution by late August, Sam McCue, secretary of the New Mexico Cattle Sanitary Board, said. All brands were re-recorded by the board up to July, 1940, eliminating a large number of dead or inactive brands. At that time a total of about 24,000 were listed. The supplemental book is to list the new brands, or those that have become active since that date.

Six youths, three from Bernalillo and three from Old Albuquerque, were turned over to the Juvenile Court, which probably was to be only half their punishment for stealing green apples from orchards. The other half of the punishment? It was expected momentarily, because the boys ate the unripe fruit.

No beans in the Army? Such appeared to be the sad plight of New Mexico soldiers serving with the 301st Ordnance regiment at Camp Sutton, N. C. As a result, Secretary John Murphy of the Albuquerque Chamber of Commerce has procured a bag of pinto beans and chili for shipment to the New Mexicans. The bean SOS came from Pvt. Louis Blackburn, former New Mexico newspaperman. To make certain the situation was properly handled, Murphy got together recipes for the benefit of the company cook.

The State Taxpayers' Association has urged defeat of a proposed constitutional amendment to establish a "New Mexico educational institutions board." The board would have jurisdiction over all state institutions of higher education, making budget recommendations, prescribing standards, determining functions and granting degrees. "The effect of this proposal, if ratified, would be to delegate too much legislative power to an administrative board," said an association bulletin. "It is believed the adoption of this amendment would cause more problems than it would solve."

High school student labor will be available this fall for cotton picking in Dona Ana County. The Hatch Union High School board agreed to start its school year Aug. 24 to permit a school holiday during October at cotton picking time. The board's decision was made in a notification to Max Hood, manager of the Las Cruces Chamber of Commerce, by Supt. F. E. Ferguson of Hatch High School. This agreement is an outgrowth of efforts in Dona Ana County to meet an anticipated critical shortage of labor this fall, when the valley cotton crop is to be picked.

Recognition of increased air travel by life insurance underwriters was an outstanding development of the last year, many companies eliminating all restrictions on commercial air travel. This is one more step in the long history of life insurance policy liberalization.

Rev. Waller Leaves For Kaufman, Tex., to Conduct a Meeting

The Rev. A. F. Waller, pastor of the Church of Christ, left this morning for Kaufman, Tex., where he will conduct a meeting for three weeks.

He was accompanied by Mrs. Waller and their son, Arthur Waller, Jr., who will direct the song service for his father.

During the pastor's absence, the services here will be in charge of Clifton Stark, lay member.

New Mexico Ranks Above Average In Percentage Children in School

New Mexico ranked higher generally than the national average for percentage of young people attending school when the 1942 census was taken, the Bureau of Census reported.

The bureau found 220,522 persons of school age in New Mexico, of whom 129,187, or 58.6 per cent, were in school between March 1 and April 1, 1940.

The national average for school age groups — between 5 and 24 years—in the same period was 57.7 per cent. In the seven mountain states, including New Mexico, the average was 60.2 per cent. This figure was equalled in New England, but exceeded only on the Pacific Coast, where 61.4 per cent were enrolled.

Most of New Mexico's school enrollment was for the lower age groups. In the higher education groups, 21-24, only 4.5 per cent were in school as compared with 5.1 per cent nationally.

School attendance, the report observed, generally paralleled state compulsory school attendance laws.

In New Mexico, attendance is required through the sixteenth year, except that children 14 years old or older may be excused if their work is necessary for family support.

The largest New Mexico school group was 7 to 13 years. In this group were 82,920, of whom 77,493, or 93.5 per cent, were in school. Nationally, the average was 95 per cent.

Utah led the nation with 97.9 per cent and Mississippi lowest with 88.3.

By other age groups, the census gave this picture of New Mexico and the nation's school attendants:

Age	U. S.	New Mexico
5-6	43	34.2
14-15	90	87.1
16-20	41.6	41.1

Small Saboteurs In Cotton Need A Good Dusting

Fred Barham, Eddy County agent, reported Wednesday the completion of spot checking for injurious insects in cotton, which, he said, were found in dangerous quantities in most localities, calling for dusting operations.

Whereas dusting is recommended when 12 to 15 of the "little saboteurs" are found in 100 sweeps of a net, Barham said test sweeps turned up from 8 to 40 of the injurious varieties. Most of them were flea hoppers, he said, although some boll worms were found.

Barham suggested that the first dusting be made with straight sulphur at the rate of fifteen pounds to the acre, but that if boll worms, or other than flea hoppers, are found, that two-thirds sulphur and one-third calcium arsenate be used.

The county agent said the farmers in Eddy County plant a good grade of cotton, of which 45 per cent is 1½-inch staple or more, and it is a patriotic duty to see that it develops into good quality cotton, for which the government is asking, free from spots due to insects. A premium is paid for cotton of the better grades, Barham said.

SUCH IS TRUE LOVE

Donald McCaution sat with his arm around Mary McTrifty. It was a night for love. His heart was stirred by sentiment. He longed to do something wild and bold; to say something romantic and passionate and startling. Suddenly he was swept away from all reasoning by a wave of overwhelming inspiration.

"Mary," he gasped, before he could resist the frenzied impulse of the idea, "Mary, a penny for your thoughts."

The girl's heart fluttered. So he loved her as much as that? She, too, would do something noble and heroic; he would know his love was requited.

"Na, na, Donald," she whispered, "keep your penny."

Grazing Service Has Limited Supply Blue Grama, Clover Seed

Carl Welch, district grazer, announces that the Grazing Service has a limited amount of blue grama, sweet clover and sacaton seed on hand.

It was planned for this seed to be sown by the CCC personnel, Welch said, but the abandonment of the CCC has interfered with those plans. The seed is not going to grow into feed for stock as long as it is stored away, he emphasized.

Ranchers who are interested in re-seeding bare or partially depleted areas within their allotment may obtain some of this seed by calling at the Grazing Service office in the White Building in Roswell.

DIAMOND CUTTING TRADE OFFERED DISABLED MEN

Members of the armed forces disabled in the present war who want to learn the small diamond cutting trade will be given special consideration, according to Paul V. McNutt, war manpower commission chairman.

Previous experience is not required, but the veteran must be able to do a full day's work, and his eyes and hands must be unimpaired.

Duck Season Is Extended By Ten Days To Jan 10

Hunters of migratory waterfowl will have an extra ten days of season under the 1942 regulations announced by the Department of the Interior and the dates for the southern zone, which includes New Mexico, will be from Nov. 2 to Jan. 10, seventy days in all.

The additional ten days have been tacked on at the end of the open season, extending into January, which, many hunters observe, should provide some good sport in this region, as the best hunting heretofore has started about the time the season ended.

Another new provision which the nimrods are eyeing with approval is the extension of hunting hours from sunrise to sunset, instead of sunrise to 4 o'clock in the afternoon, as has maintained the last few years.

The daily, unchanged bag limits on ducks are 10 of all kinds with not more than one wood duck, or more than "three singly, or in the aggregate of redheads and buffheads." No one at any one time may possess more than twenty ducks.

Mourning dove bag and possession limits were reduced from 12 to 10. This limit applies also to the white-winged dove and if both kind are taken the total in a day may not exceed ten. Mourning doves may be taken from sunrise to sunset during open season which, in New Mexico, will be Sept. 1 to Oct. 12.

Captains John C. Allen and Julius Mueller were born the same day, the same month, the same year. Both fought in World War I, both were commissioned lieutenants in the National Guard in 1931, and now both are on duty in the headquarters of the Second Air Service area command. Allen is a former mayor of Popular Bluff, Mo., and Mueller's home is in Amarillo, Tex. Oh, yes. Their commissions advancing them to captains arrived simultaneously on their birthdays. The Army didn't say which birthday it was.

A 600-pound pig broke up an afternoon tea at the estate of socially prominent Mrs. Thomas G. Ashton of Philadelphia. It drove the guests to cover, wrecked glasses, consumed cakes and scones, and finished its meal from a bed of petunias. Patrolman Philip Minnie, who captured it after a chase through Mrs. Ashton's gardens, said it had fallen from a passing truck enroute to market.

Scott, Formerly of Hope, Enlisted From Roswell, Not Artesia

C. W. Scott, Jr., who was reported by the Navy Department as missing in action, as told in the July 9 issue, is a former Hope boy and his mother, Mrs. Marie Summers, the former Mrs. Scott, now lives at Roswell. The Advocate has been informed.

Mrs. Will Scoggins, now of Portales, and Mrs. J. C. Bumgardner are sisters of the sailor, who, it is understood, enlisted from Roswell.

The El Paso Times gave his home as Artesia, but The Advocate was not able to identify him immediately. Now it is learned the Roswell newspapers some days ago listed him as missing and later as killed in action. The Times on July 3 mentioned him as missing, from which account The Advocate's story was taken.

Casualties of New Mexicans Believed Small

Mrs. Dennis Chavez, wife of the senator from New Mexico, said in Washington recently that interviews with Army nurses, who were stationed on Bataan, led her to believe that the state's two regiments on the Philippine peninsula sustained a "relatively small number of casualties" and that most of the men now were prisoners of the Japanese.

"The two hospitals on Bataan, which were caring for 8,000 men, had few New Mexico boys as patients," Mrs. Chavez said. "This leads us to believe that our boys were active until the last and then taken prisoners."

"We carefully combed the list of the personnel, but the nurses were not able to furnish us with information about individuals. If we had a large number of wounded, it is reasonable to assume these young women would have known about it."

Mrs. Chavez said the nurses, who were removed from Bataan on April 8 and now were on duty at Walter Reed Army Hospital in Washington, voice high praise for the fighting ability of the New Mexico soldiers.

"They were fighters all," she declared. "The girls were certain of that."

Is Not Provided For Permanent Deferment Men

Brig. Gen. R. C. Charlton, state director of Selective Service, emphasized that the four categories set up for Selective Service in the new allotment law do not provide for the permanent deferment of men with dependents.

"Rather do these broad categories provide the order in which registrants with dependents will be inducted," he said.

Local boards will continue to review the facts in each individual case, he continued, adding that setting up of the four categories does not affect occupational classification in any way.

The new allotment law provides for family allowances for dependents of enlisted men of the Army, Navy, Marine Corps and Coast Guard, with allowances accruing from June 1. Brig. Gen. Charlton emphasized, however, that the allowances will not be paid in any case until after Nov. 1.

Categories set up under the new act:

Registrants otherwise qualified for military service having no bona fide financial dependents; registrants otherwise qualified for military service who have financial dependents other than wives or children; registrants otherwise qualified for military service, who have wives with whom they are maintaining a bona fide family relationship in their homes and who were married prior to Dec. 8, 1941, and at a time when induction was not imminent; registrants otherwise qualified for military service who have wives and children, or children alone, with whom they maintain a bona fide family relationship in their homes, who were married prior to Dec. 8, 1941, and at a time when induction was not imminent.

Because property owners in the township of North Hempstead, Manhasset, N. Y., have been paying their school taxes too promptly, tax receiver Ralph W. Latham's budget is out $526.78. Latham explained that the township allows discounts for prompt payments, just as it collects penalties for late payments, and reported that in the last six months taxpayers earned $5,549.76 in discounts and paid only $5,022.98 in penalties.

Now it's portable electric traffic signals. They can be wheeled to busy intersections and carried away when their job is finished.

Hunting and Fishing License Sales Up for Year Ending June 30

Receipts from hunting and fishing licenses and permits in New Mexico amounted to $187,123.76 for the fiscal year ending June 30, as compared with $174,350 for the previous year, according to report released by Elliott S. Barker state game warden. The report showed permit sales amounted to $15,463.69, Pittman-Robertson Act funds $17,483.96, and miscellaneous receipts were $1038.58, bringing the total receipts of the department up to $221,109.99.

"While receipts have been good during the past year, we have been cutting down expenses everywhere possible in anticipation of a drop of 25 per cent or more in revenue during the ensuing year," said Barker. "And we closed the year with a cash balance of $63,182.84 and an additional $10,000 due from Pittman-Robertson Act funds."

Vale, Ore., stores don't open until 1 o'clock these days. Townspeople arise at sunup and work until midday in the nearby sugar beet fields, volunteering their services to save the labor shortage-threatened crop. Then they come back to town and the business day begins.

State Highway Engineer Burton Dwyre said he would take prompt action to remove unnecessary state-owned cars from the roads. "We aren't going to make any recommendations, because they would not do any good," he said. "We simply are going to take the cars away and store them." Under law, Dwyre is vested with jurisdiction over all state-operated vehicles. He said a complete report of an investigation into use of state-owned cars was to be completed by early this week. Coincidentally, state sales tax director G. S. Carter voluntarily turned in his car to be stored for the duration. He wrote: "Following your suggestions to me, I find the director can dispense with the services of this official car and make such trips as he is called upon to make by bus or in cars in territories that he wishes to visit that are used by the field auditors of these divisions."

Soldiers, just like everyone else, must have hunting and fishing licenses. "Our sympathies are with the service men," Game Warden Elliott Barker warned, "but the Legislature has made it specific that all persons over 14 must have licenses to hunt or fish."

SON BOB: Silence, worm! I've got an ad here. It's about motor oil and it says: "You can hardly think of one working part in your engine as cheap to replace as dirty, thin oil—a jinx to precious parts."

FATHER: I get it, son... and that car of ours has to go another two years at least. What oil is it?

SON BOB: It's Conoco Nth motor oil and the ad tells how the six engines were run to destruction in a Certified Death Valley Test. Conoco Nth made twice the mileage averaged by the five other big-name oils.

FATHER: Son, you get the first dollar. Take the car down tomorrow and get Conoco Nth oil.

Watson Says FDIC Insurance Is Not Affected By War

Deposits in the First National Are Protected Up To The $5,000 Maximum

Deposits of the First National Bank of Artesia continue to be protected in war as in peace by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation according to H. G. Watson, president of the bank. This agency of the United States government insures each depositor of the bank to a maximum of $5,000 against loss arising out of a bank failure from any cause whatever.

The advent of war has in no way lessened the adequacy of FDIC protection, Watson pointed out. The safety and liquidity of deposits in about 13,500 insured banks throughout the country are assured, he said, not only by the vast resources of Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, but also by the standards of safe and conservative management that prevail in the country's banks.

All insured banks operate under government supervision, according to Mr. Watson, and their affairs are examined periodically. These examinations effectively guard against the development of unsafe and unsound practices in individual banks, and so keep bank failures to a minimum.

Insured banks participate actively in the insurance plan, paying about $55,000,000 annually into the deposit insurance fund. These charges are borne by the banks, not passed on to their customers.

The First National Bank of Artesia was among the first institutions to become affiliated with Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, its membership dating from August 23, 1935.

This bank on June 30 had assets totaling $2,125,000 and deposits of $2,000,000. Its loans amounted to $558,000 and it held $104,000 of U. S. government securities. The institution offers a complete range of banking services to Artesia and the surrounding territory.

Officers of the bank include H. G. Watson, president; S. O. Potorff, vice president; L. B. Feather, cashier and Fred Cole, W. M. Linell and Russell Floore, assistant cashiers.

Violations Game Laws Reach 247 For Fiscal Year

Prosecutions for game law violations reached an all-time high of 247 cases handled during the fiscal year ending June 30, Elliott S. Barker, state game warden announced.

Of the 247 cases taken to court, only five were lost, making 98 per cent successful, he said. Fines ranged from $25 to $200 and costs, and the total fines assessed amounted to $10,703.35. All such fines go into the current school fund. In addition to these cases, the field game wardens dismissed hundreds of minor technical cases of violation with an appropriate warning, Barker said.

The record shows 48 non-residents were prosecuted for fraudulently securing resident licenses, 22 residents for making false statements on application for non-resident licenses, 27 for illegal possession of game, 21 for fishing without a license, 18 for possession of firearms and hunting on a game refuge, 14 for using illegal methods in fishing and 12 each for hunting in closed season and hunting protected game. There were from one to nine of various other charges.

In handling these cases, the warden said, very valuable assistance was rendered by some voluntary deputy game wardens, Fish and Wildlife Department officers, forest officers and others, which was appreciated.

Barker is appealing to everyone, as a patriotic duty, to cooperate fully in game law observance and fire prevention for the duration, and said he is counting on sportsmen generally to be of assistance in law enforcement work during the emergency more than ever before.

Sudden Departure From Earth Is Possible in War Time for Snoopers

Do you have one to ten years in which to repose in a federal prison, or one to ten thousand dollars which you would like to donate under pressure in payment of a fine? Or better still, how would you like to depart from this world at the wrong end of a firing squad? It can be arranged, according to Lt. Ralph H. Ayer, public relations officer at the Roswell Army Flying School, who continues:

The United States is at war, and during times of war there are certain rules and regulations pertaining to citizens, which in times of peace are seldom given a thought. The particular laws referred to here pertain to those which come under the espionage act, and the severity of the penalties imposed depends entirely on just what you knowingly or unknowingly have violated. In times of war, ignorance of the law will not protect you from languishing in prison, from the violation of your pocketbook, or from being unceremoniously shot, so don't play dumb. Wise up to what's what. This is your country. Protect its secrets from falling into enemy hands.

Don't take pictures of military establishments and their contents or draw sketches of same. Uncle Sam has a definite penalty to take care of such a thoughtless photographer or artist.

Don't run off at the mouth about some choice bit of military information which has inadvertently come to your attention. The wrong person might pick that information up, which in turn could raise merry hades with our national defense. If you think it is harmless to be an old gossip, try it. The odds are that you can get yourself shot dead, or draw up to thirty years in the jug.

If, because you are a prominent citizen in your respective village, you get an opportunity to visit around military installations, don't think that you can carry home a souvenir. In times like these such an act on your part is called an injury to defense. Generally speaking, they do not shoot you for such a cute trick—not the first time. But you are due for five years in the clink and $5,000 worth of fine. An inexpensive souvenir, except that the United States government calls it sabotage!

This little yarn could go on and on and include such items as subversive activities, seditious conspiracy, treason, enticing desertion, killing, assaulting, or interfering with a government officer, criminal correspondence with foreign gov-

REA Bookkeeper Is Attending a Special School at Lubbock

Lucien L. Noble, bookkeeper of the Central Valley Electric Cooperative, Inc., left Sunday for Lubbock, Tex., where he is spending this week attending a special rural electrification bookkeepers school, according to George E. Kaiser, manager of the system.

The first four days of the school are being devoted to a study of approved standard accounting methods used in rural electrification systems throughout the country and on Friday the sessions will be given over to general operations problems.

Part of the final session will be given to a discussion of what REA lines have done and can best do in the war effort. How to make the best possible use of present facilities and how to prepare and maintain the cooperative's records in such shape that quick adjustments can be made to every war emergency, will be discussed at Friday's session.

A new industrial process transforms old automobile and bicycle tires into elastic thread. One pound of old tubes, it is said, can be made into 3,760 pounds of thread.

Two hundred fifty thousand new chemical compounds and 10,000 new metal alloys have been discovered within the last few years.

ernments, or their agents. And so on.

The point to be remembered is that your country is at war. Protect and safeguard it in every possible way. Lay off being a sidewalk strategist and a candid camera field. Play on the square with your government, the men in the service and your next door neighbors. We are in this war to win, and for those who can't see things the American way, Uncle Sam has some mighty potent penalties. And in times of war, your Uncle Sam is a mighty tough customer to tangle with.

...Uniting the Country in Spirit and Speed

For the duration, it will be necessary to share the telephone equipment now available so that vital materials like copper, zinc, rubber and others can go into war production. A "good neighbor" policy gives better service to all persons using the telephone. You can help by remembering the following:

- 1 Hold the line only as long as reasonable. Long conversations may needlessly delay urgent messages. Telephone lines to war industries, army camps, government offices, and to your home are all part of one great interconnecting system.
- 2 Answer as promptly as possible.
- 3 Be sure of the number before you call.

Little Known Facts and Sidelights on Oil Industry

Shiny Noses—

Shiny noses are fashionable this year—for bombers.

The dome-like noses, processed with plastics in streamlined sections, fit smoothly on the tips of bomber planes, and give gunners perfect visibility along with protection from the cold at high altitudes. Strong enough to carry machine gun mounts, yet lighter than glass, the plastic enclosures withstand terrific air pressures in power dives.

In forming the plastic sections for noses, gun turrets, observation domes, tail empennage, and windows, skilled workmen use every precaution to prevent the slightest defect which might distort vision. The plastic, in sheets, is heated until soft at approximately 200 degrees F., then drawn over cloth-covered molds and clamped into positions. When cool they retain three-dimensional curves.

Formed halves are cemented together, and polishing and buffing with cloths and power buffs produces finished pieces for bolting into position. While not bullet-proof, the plastic does not shatter. The weight saved adds to airspeeds and bomb capacity.

Calling All Inventors—

Every war produces a crop of inventors with new devices. Many of the inventions are impractical, and some are excellent, although they may fail to gain recognition.

This time, apparently, things are going to be different. Mechanized warfare is focussing attention on the mechanical. In this country, the National Inventors Council is calling all inventors.

The Council wants to hear from inventors who think they have something new, and has asked every industry engaging in research to report new developments which might have military value. The Council has promised inventors a hearing. All they have to do is to drop a line about their gadget to the National Inventors Council at Washington. The Council insists that if the invention has a military angle, or value, things will happen, but fast.

Plastic Coating—

A new, white plastic finish will keep dial faces shining through the ups and downs of temperature, corrosive fumes, and humidity, technicians report. Discoloration which often hampers the reading of instruments will be eliminated, it is believed.

In laboratory tests, finished dials were placed in chambers where the heat and humidity of the tropics and the cold of polar regions were reproduced with no detrimental effects.

New Gadgets—

Three-room trailers, with everything from oil-burning heater to Venetian blinds.

Washers for faucets, made from synthetic rubber, with twice the shelf and service life.

Patented process for using dry ice to preserve tobacco.

Low-cost champagne to fill the void left by the 5-cent cigar.

One candlepower kerosene lamps for use during blackouts.

Kit for hobbyists who insist upon making jewelry from plastics.

Transparent plastic oil cups.

Shirt fronts of vinylite, cleaned by wiping with a damp cloth.

Transport planes carrying armored tanks in sections for rapid assembling.

Welding of tankships, cutting

Crude or Refined?—

Reports from Europe indicate that Germany faces a difficult choice if the campaign against Russia is intended to increase the Nazi oil supply on any large scale.

Most helpful to Germany would be capture of refineries in the Lemberg area of Poland, which were not damaged in the 1939 campaign. However, the equipment might be destroyed by the Russians before the Russians arrived. On the other hand if the Germans capture the oil area of the Ukraine, Don River, and Caucasus, where refineries certainly would be destroyed by the Russians, they would gain only supplies of crude oil, and would face difficult transportation and refining problems.

It is believed that if the Nazis should capture both the Polish and Ukraine areas, Russia still would have interior fields and refineries capable of meeting large needs.

They Struck China—

Texas oil-well drillers, who've been keeping a weather eye out for China, can relax now. It's been sighted. Researchers, doing a little prospecting on their own, have found it, spelt with a small "c," in abundant supplies of pay dirt, hitherto unknown, even in Texas—volcanic ash.

From this unique formation, there has been developed china tough enough for Army mess boards and fine enough to grace the governor's banquet table. The new porcelain, three times stronger than ordinary china and of an unequalled snow-whiteness, will tend to relieve the shortage of fine china imports from Europe, it is believed.

SHORTEST DISTANCE BETWEEN TWO POINTS

Did you ever think of advertising as a short cut, a time saver? As a matter of fact, that's all it is.

It enables a store or firm with a lot of merchandise to sell to find a lot of people who want it.

The people who use advertising find it the cheapest way of doing this job.

Which helps to keep prices down.
