

Through Efforts of FBI Many Men Are Made Available for Induction

The Department of Justice announced that during April, as a result of FBI investigation 3,899 persons were arrested and 584 persons were convicted for violation of the Selective Service Act.

Director J. Edgar Hoover of the Federal Bureau of Investigation pointed out that the FBI has conducted more than 200,000 investigations of Selective Service violations in the United States and its territories since the nation's new draft legislation became effective Oct. 16, 1940.

As of May 1, 1943, 86,545 men were located and made available to the armed forces as a result of the investigations. Hoover said that the vast majority of cases involved registrants who were not grossly negligent or who had not wilfully failed to fulfill their obligations and that they were permitted to comply with the act.

Violation of the Selective Service Act, Hoover asserted, has resulted in the capture of several dangerous felons. When Roger Touhy, Basil Banghart and their five fellow gunmen made the spectacular break from Stateville Prison in Illinois last October, they were hunted down by the FBI because they had violated a federal law.

Several potentially dangerous American citizens possessing definite anti-American sympathies have been prosecuted for violation of the Selective Service and Training Act. Joseph Antonio Gagliardo, an American citizen of Italian parentage, was sentenced to a term of four years as a result of his failing to report for induction into the United States Army to the local board at Pecos, Texas.

Hoover stressed the importance of every registrant keeping in touch with his local board and at all times carrying with him his registration certificate and his most recent classification card.

Santa Fe System carloadings for the week ending June 26 were 26,704, compared with 25,304 for the same week in 1942. Cars received from connections totaled 12,217, compared with 10,694 for the same week in 1942.

LIMA, CITY OF KINGS

Lima, "the noble, distinguished, and very loyal City of the Kings," richly deserves the name thus conferred upon it by its founders.

But Lima was more than a political capital. It was also the intellectual and commercial center of Spain's empire in South America.

Through Lima passed the wealth of the colonies on its way to Spain. Huge trading houses developed, and from every section of the continent came gold and silver and other products of the soil destined for the mother country.

Many of the vestiges of the colonial era are still in evidence in the Lima of today. There are still the narrow streets typical of every Spanish-distinguished town.

IS LUNCH THE 'ORPHAN' AT YOUR HOUSE?

Is lunch left in the lurch today because cooks haven't caught on to the wisest way to spend their points, both red and blue?

Rationing or no rationing, the midday meal must still account for one-third of the day's nutrition, a trick that can still be turned whether lunch is served at home or packed to take to work.

Roll out the unrationed and the very low-pointers when the noonday whistle blows; spread out your points to allow for leftovers to use at lunch; don't save points for a big dinner, at the cost of a poor lunch, any more than you would save all your red points for one day's blow-out (bad behavior!).

Shift eating habits around a bit. Some days let cereal and fruit take the breakfast burden and use the breakfast eggs for casseroles, creaming, curries, sandwich and salad fillings. Count in plentiful unrationed cereals (the restored ones are vitamin-rich) for eating "as is" or in pancakes, waffles, muffins. Make these (and biscuits too) with an all-phosphate baking powder and with every teaspoon used you get one-third your daily calcium requirement and one-half your daily phosphorous requirement.

SOME LUNCH-IDEAS

Serve a big fresh fruit salad for tingly taste and vitamin C or precede home lunch with a big glass of fresh citrus juice.

Canned meats have low-point ratings for bean-cakes, egg-and-meat scrambles, for lunch at home; they make grand sandwich fillings for lunch-on-the-job.

Seven ounces of good nutrition in a No. 1 can of shrimp, which costs you but three points, for shrimp contains vitamins A and D, many minerals and is a good source of protein. One can provide some sandwiches for the lunch box, a few for a cup or two of bisque, and some left for dinner salad or first course.

Get the idea? Follow it through with these recipes for making that little orphan a child of which to be proud!

Shrimp for Lunch

No. 1 can (7 oz.) shrimp, 3 1/2 cups 1/2 in. bread cubes, 3 eggs, 1 teasp. salt, 1/2 teasp. pepper, 2 cups cooked tomatoes, sliced scallions (including tops).

Drain shrimp; combine with bread cubes. Put into oiled casserole. Beat eggs; add salt, pepper, tomatoes and scallions. Pour over shrimp mixture. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 45 mins. Serves 6.

Fluffy Bran Waffle

Three eggs, separated; 1 cup milk, 1/2 cup bran cereal, 2 tbsps. melted margarine, 3/4 cup flour, 1/2 teasp. salt.

Beat egg yolks with milk. Add bran cereal. Stir in melted margarine. Add sifted flour and salt. Stir 'til batter is smooth. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Bake on hot waffle iron 'til no steam is visible.

Florida Spiced Salad

Four whole cloves, 1 cup water, 1 pkg. lemon gelatin, 3/4 cup orange juice, 2 cups orange sections, seasoned cottage cheese, salad greens, mayonnaise.

Boil cloves in 1 cup water 5 mins.; remove cloves. Dissolve gelatin in clove water; add orange juice. Chill 'til syrupy; fold in orange sections. Pour into mold which has been rinsed in cold water; chill 'til firm. Form cheese into balls. Unmold gelatin on greens; serve with cheese balls and plenty of mayonnaise. Serves 6.

Corn Shortcake Squares

One and one-half cups flour, 1/2 cup corn meal, 1/2 teasp. salt, 3 teasp. baking powder, 3/4 cup shortening, 3/4 cup milk, 2 cups medium white sauce, 2 cups cooked vegetables (peas, carrots, beans, asparagus).

Sift together flour, corn meal, salt and baking powder; cut in margarine or other shortening. Add milk to make soft dough. Roll out dough in oblong 1/2 in. thick. Cut in 6 squares. Bake in very hot oven (450 degrees F.) 15 to 20 mins. Combine white sauce and vegetables. Split biscuits; fill and top with vegetable mixture.

Washington Gingerbread

Mix up a package of the old-fashioned rich gingerbread mix which is based on the original home recipe of Mary Washington; follow package directions. Cut in squares and serve piping hot with:

Strawberry Fluff Topping

Two egg whites, 1/4 teasp. salt, 1/4 cup syrup, 1/4 cup sliced strawberries.

Beat egg whites stiff; add salt. Gradually add syrup, beating constantly 'til mixture holds shape. Carefully fold in strawberries. Serve immediately.

At Peshtigo, Wis., Pete Dzurick had to cancel a proposed fishing trip in the interest of kindness to birds. Now Dzurick will wait until the little robins get their wings before he goes fishing.

War-time Pastries
YOU can have your "sweets" without raiding your ration coupons. The secret, of course, is butterless, sugarless and practically eggless cakes, pies and cookies.

Instead of sugar, there are corn syrup, honey, molasses and — here's hoping — perhaps corn sugar. As alternatives for butter and shortening, we'll do as our Grandmothers did — use drippings, chicken and goose fat. And when the supply of packaged spices and flavorings run out, we can always fall back on grated lemon, orange and grapefruit rind.

To "doll" up these wartime cakes here's a frosting that's equally considerate of ration coupons: add 1/2 glass of red jelly (the tarter the better) to the white of one egg. Put in electric mixer. Start mixer on slow speed and as ingredients begin to mix, increase speed. Continue brisk mixing for about ten minutes or until icing is thick enough to hold its shape.

Know Your Oats with Meat Dishes

A HALF-POUND of hamburger—three points or less on your ration list—makes this meat-flavored oatmeal and vegetable loaf that will satisfy six hungry people. Principal ingredients with the exception of the meat are unrationed. Here's how it's done:

MEAT AND VEGETABLE LOAF

Sauté 1/2 lb. Hamburger in 2 tbsps. vitaminized margarine. Add 1 teasp. salt. And 1/2 c. chopped onion. Meantime, boil 1 c. each finely diced carrots and celery. Also 1/4 c. chopped green pepper for 15 mins.

Drain off liquid. Add enough water to make 2 c. liquid. Add, if possible, 2 bouillon cubes. Measure 1 1/2 c. quick cooking oats. And 1 1/2 c. old-fashioned oats.

Sift, measure, add 1/2 c. enriched all-purpose flour. Add to oats with 2 tbsps. baking powder. Mix all together lightly.

Turn into loaf or ring mold pan well-greased with vitaminized margarine and sprinkled with old-fashioned oats. Bake in moderately hot oven (375° F.) for 1 1/4 hrs. Serve hot with Mushroom, Tomato or Mock Hollandaise Sauce. Serves 6.

- 1. Tell me how to extend the meat purchase from day to day.
- 2. Is there an easy way to remove paraffin from home made jelly?
- 3. What's the best way to cook fresh frozen vegetables?

1. Use cereals such as rice and barley, bread or cracker crumbs and vegetables in meat loaves and stuffings. Also the flavor of meat may be extended through the gravy, vegetables, noodles and dumplings in stews, meat pies, creamed meats and so forth.

2. If the paraffin is sufficiently thick, insert a corkscrew and lift out paraffin from glass as you would a cork from a bottle.

3. It is best to follow directions on package. But, in general, slip block of vegetables UNFROZEN (exceptions are spinach and corn on cob) into a small amount of rapidly boiling water; turn up gas flame so water will resume boiling, and shorten usual vegetable cooking time—for frozen vegetables should not be over-cooked.

Pix Rhapsody

By Mary Jane

Continuing his rapid advance to the top in films, John Archer, who won his first chance in Hollywood through Jesse L. Lasky's "Gateway To Hollywood" talent quest, plays one of his most important roles in "Shantytown," the Republic picture starring Mary Lee, which is currently showing at the Ocotillo Theater, Sunday, July 10. In 1937, John was spotted by Ben Bard who, after some argument, convinced him that he was a motion picture type, had talent, and should take up acting as a career. To clinch the argument, Bard offered John a free scholarship in his school. John spent the next year and a half at the school, appearing in numerous plays and shows of various kinds. Early in 1939, he was given a screen test at R.K.O.-Radio and was about to be offered a contract when the "Gateway To Hollywood" talent quest was announced. He decided to defer the immediate contract and enter the contest, feeling that if he won it would be a bigger boost for his career. Thirteen weeks of tests, trials, broadcasts, and just plain waiting followed, but in the finals his outstanding talent was awarded the winning palm. He was immediately given a contract at R.K.O. and a featured role in that studio's production, "Career."

Allowances for Dependents Has Been Clarified

Brigadier General Russell C. Charlton, state Selective Service director, announced that national headquarters had issued a clarification regarding government allowance to Class "B" dependents of servicemen for the cases where there are more than one man in the Army from the same home. He said that if it can be shown that a soldier prior to his entry into the armed forces had contributed a substantial portion of his earnings or services toward the family support, or if a relative through circumstances beyond his or her control has now become dependent upon the serviceman for support since his entry into the armed service, the family is entitled to receive contribution from one or more servicemen. For example, a parent having two sons in the armed forces may receive the government contribution for both of them, provided it can be shown that each son prior to his entry into the armed forces had contributed a substantial portion of his earnings or services to such parents support, or such parent, through circumstances beyond his or her control, became dependent upon the son for support after his entrance into the armed forces.

Machinery and Farm Equipment Quotas Tripled

Implementing the War Food Administration's huge food program, the War Production Board has nearly tripled quotas of farm machinery and equipment to be manufactured after July 1. The new quotas, representing an increase from the previous 23 per cent to 70 per cent of a factory's highest production for 1940 or 1941, are based on WPA's estimate of actual minimum needs of farmers and ranchers, said Murray Sprague, New Mexico WPB manager, today in commenting on this latest step toward increasing food production. Varying from 12 per cent for one-row, tractor-mounted listers to 150 per cent for beet loaders, production quotas under the new program can be bracketed to provide for elimination of items of which there is a temporary surplus in favor of increased production of items that may become scarce, Sprague pointed out. As an example of bracketing, he said that a manufacturer with a 70 per cent quota of, say five items, could use the total of 350 per cent for production of a single item, if necessary. WPB's new farm machinery program is designed to assure that there will be no critical shortage of equipment for farms and ranches of the southwest, Sprague said.

Sgt. E. L. Bean of Nashville, Tenn., visited his sister, Mrs. P. J. McCullough, and Mr. McCullough from Sunday to Wednesday of last week.

Really funny how some little every-day things can affect the course of history. For instance, did you know that one of the main reasons for the Pilgrims landing on Plymouth Rock was because the Mayflower was running out of beer?
Yessir, you can read it in an original manuscript of 1622, an account of the settling of Plymouth—where it says: ". . . we could not now take time for further search or consideration;

the 7th day of June, 1943, in accordance with Chapter 131 of the Session Laws of 1931, Richard T. Schenck of Lakewood, County of Eddy, State of New Mexico, made application to the State Engineer of New Mexico for a permit to change location of well drilled under authority of Permit No. RA-1343 from the SW 1/4 SE 1/4 SW 1/4 of Section 11, Township 19 South, Range 26 East, to the NE 1/4 NW 1/4 NW 1/4 of Section 14, Township 19 South, Range 26 East, N. Any person, firm, association, corporation, the State of New Mexico or the United States of America, deeming that the granting of the above application will be truly detrimental to their rights in the waters of said underground source, may protest in writing the State Engineer's granting of approval of said application. The protest shall set forth all protestant's reasons why the application should not be approved and shall be accompanied by supporting affidavits and by proof that a copy of the protest has been served upon the applicant. Said protest and proof of service must be filed with the State Engineer within ten (10) days after the date of the last publication of this notice. WORLD NEWS in BRIEF FORM From Near and Far, Some Timely, Some of Human Interest

The "surprise" 10-year-old Danton Jacobson of Philadelphia planned for his parents was a dinner, cooked all by himself. He surprised them, all right. Returning from a half-hour visit with friends, they found the stove, windows and dishes shattered.

At Morganton, N. C., Vernon T. Garrison saw his fox terrier trotting home with something in his mouth—then Garrison blinked and stared. It was a dollar bill.

Ensign Winslow Beckwith, West Newton, Mass., wrote his mother during an overnight stop. Pvt. Walker Beckwith, also en route to a new assignment, stayed all night in Kansas City. He wrote his mother. The letters revealed the brothers, who haven't seen each other for a year, stayed in the same hotel the same night. And they still haven't met.

Mrs. Minnie Zahn of Milwaukee, 44, told Judge Harvey L. Neelen why she "pulled" a fire alarm box. Her telephone was torn out, she said, by her husband. She didn't want to disturb the neighbors to call police during an early morning argument with her mate. But a few minutes later the neighborhood was disturbed by shrieking sirens on the fire-fighting apparatus. Judge Neelen disturbed Mrs. Zahn's pocketbook for $25 for turning in a false alarm.

In Los Angeles, Leo Brock put this sign in front of his lunch counter: "Waitress wanted—please!" The "please," he said, brought two applicants the very first day.

Six-year-old Jerry Larrimore and sister Arleen, 5, of Los Angeles, went to the theater when they opened in the morning. The janitor found them at midnight after they'd watched seven features, four news reels, four government

"I haven't driven a car for twelve years," he apologized. "I've about forgotten how to operate." The curious cops wondered why he hadn't driven for so long. Now the erring motorist is on the way to the penitentiary identified as Edward Lewis, an escaped prisoner.

Sgt. Donald Zelinsky, 23, crossing the Atlantic last year, heard the Nazi news flash announce an American ship had been sunk. He was mildly surprised, because it was the ship he was aboard.

The bride, who traditionally carries white blossoms, now carries red, white and blue—also pink and yellow, says Horace Head of the Florists' Telegraph Delivery Association. It's the war, he said; with help scarce, florists can't grow as many white flowers. Brides must take whatever's available.

Navy Coxswain Tom Cain arrived on the saddest mission of his life—that of telling the parents of his old buddy, Bill Cottrell, that Bill was believed dead. He had watched Bill's ship go down in the Pacific. As he got off the bus, in Midland, Texas, he ran into Bill.

Parachute packs have become common among military luggage at Union Station, Kansas City, but baggage handlers are approaching them with caution now. A redcap scooped up a pack by the ripcord the other day. Clouds of white silk and shroud lines spurted forth over the lobby crowd.

Looking for an apartment for rent? Here's a sure-fire, guaranteed system for finding one, concocted by Arthur W. Hamer of Kansas City. He advertised six pairs of nylon hose as a reward for information leading to rental of an apartment. He received forty calls just that quick.

Life with rationing was too complicated for George L. Lampher of Kalamazoo, Mich., so he's back in the Army. Honorably discharged because he was 38, Lampher said he found civilian life "just one coupon after another." He didn't like it, re-enlisted.

Held up in Los Angeles by a man who threatened him with a razor and a pistol, Robert J. Reed, 55, handed over $10.90. "I've got a sick wife," Reed protested. "I really need this money for medicine." The robber returned one of Reed's dollar bills and said: "Okay, here's a buck. I'm no heel. And forget about paying me back, pal."

Kokomo, Ind., police aren't happy about the fact that a single parking meter brought in $5 for one hour's parking. They are pawing through nickels from about 1,000 meters looking for a $5 gold piece which Mrs. W. L. Gunther inadvertently dropped into the slot.

Near Idaho Falls, Idaho, Ray Smith, Bonneville County farmer, lit a cigarette. Gasoline he was using to clean an electric water pump exploded. He went to the hospital, his arms and head swathed in bandages. He attempted to light another cigarette. Medicine-soaked bandages on his right hand caught fire.

Assistant Police Chief A. L. Chaffee of Seattle, Wash., posted this special order at headquarters: "Unnecessarily ringing elevator signal bells or shorting of the wires by placing pins in the buttons will not be tolerated at any time. Only the regular signals will be given."

Squirrel whiskey, which federal agents said was a best seller at $5 a bottle, was introduced in evidence at the trial of a man charged with illegally making liquor at San Diego, Calif. Inspector Basil Stephens said the defendant admitted making it from squirrels, Chinese herbs, lizards and other creatures. He added whiskey, then aged the concoction two years.

The boys of fire engine company No. 11 in Seattle are very grateful to the Fremont district truck unit. The fire was atop the No. 11 roof and they didn't have a ladder long enough to reach it.

Miss Katherine Dore of Chicago took a stroll, spotted a glistening object on the sidewalk. It was a ring—which she identified as her own, which had been stolen a month ago with her purse and $50 in a theater.

Attendants at Central Emergency Hospital in San Francisco must have looked a bit blank when Lolita and Loretta Scaffidi, identical 14-month-old twins, arrived. Their mother said one of them had eaten some poisonous paste—but which one? Neither looked unhappy. A trace of the poison finally was found on Loretta's lips and treatment followed.

Tripped by big city ways! Kansas City police halted a driver who failed to observe a stop sign.

policy until sufficient time has been granted for fuller understanding.

"In order to accomplish this," the resolution said, "we suggest no effort be made to require or enforce unitization in any field without consent and approval of a majority of operators affected and that the proposed regulations be effective by June 9 not be placed into effect until full public hearing is held in this area."

General sentiment among operators for a complete understanding as to the unitization plan, probably augmented by the strong protest coming out of the meeting here, evidently prompted the Department of the Interior to hold up an enforcement of the regulation until it has been discussed and is thoroughly understood, both as to content and as to opinion of operators.

Brainard was chairman of the resolutions committee, with M. E. Baish, Bert Aston, Sam Sanders and Paul Sergeant serving with him.

Although local operators are somewhat pleased that the regulation on unitization will not be placed into effect until after the public hearing, they are disappointed that the meeting will be held in Denver, rather than in the oil producing area, preferably at Artesia, allowing many more interested operators to attend and express themselves.

afternoon, was in charge of Ray Robins of Lovington, camp director. He was assisted by F. E. Atkinson, field executive, and troop leaders.

The Boy Scouts were visited Monday evening by Hollis G. Watson and three tots, who treated them with oranges.

Guests of the camp Tuesday evening were the Rev. and Mrs. S. M. Morgan and Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Brown.

Participating in the "Camp-O-Ree" were members of troops Nos. 8, 27 and 28 of Artesia, No. 100 of Cottonwood and No. 87 of Loco Hills.

The Boy Scouts were getting themselves ready for the annual Scout camp at Camp We-Hin-Ah-Pay near Weed in the Sacramento Mountains.

It was a careful thief who stole a lawnmower from the Ross King home in Syracuse, N. Y. Neighbors reported the man cut a few yards of the lawn, apparently to see if the machine was worth stealing, then walked off with it.

Beth Jackson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Jackson of Elida, arrived Wednesday of last week for a visit of two weeks with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Jackson, and family. 26-1tp

Ralph Petty left for Denver on business Wednesday.

CARD OF THANKS We wish sincerely to thank our many kind neighbors and friends who came in to assist us during the illness and death of our beloved son, brother and grandson. Your kindness will always be remembered.—Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Savoie and family; Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Melton and family; Mr. and Mrs. Tom Thompson and family. 26-1tp

Plan Open House At Roswell Air Field on Fourth

Open house at Roswell Army Air Field July 4 will give young men of this vicinity an insight as to what the future holds for them if they join the Air Corps Enlisted Reserve program now open to 17-year-olds.

According to plans now under way, 17-year-old youths and their families will be guests of the field from 1 to 5 o'clock on the Fourth of July, and will be taken on a personally conducted tour of the post, with aviation cadets acting as guides. They will be allowed to visit such points of interest as the Link-trainer building, parachute rigging building, the bombardier ground school and the four-engine ground school, where a mammoth instrument panel of a B-17 has been constructed and will be explained. The various types of military planes used by the Roswell Army Air Field will be exhibited. Later the guests will be taken to the cadet recreation hall and to the cadet mess hall, where refreshments will be served.

At the end of the visit the young men should have a pretty good insight as to what the life of an embryo air crew member is like. If interested, they may join the Air Corps Enlisted Reserve, a plan whereby 17-year-olds may apply for air crew training before they have reached the minimum age requirement. If found qualified, they will be placed on inactive status and may continue their education or civilian pursuits until they become 18 years old.
