Legion Auxiliary
Poppies Saturday

Men Dead of Two Wars Will Be Dressed As Women Sell Memorial Poppies—Funds Help Disabled

Lead of two wars will be Saturday, when millions of Americans will wear red poppies as a symbol of remembrance.

In other cities throughout the country, women of the Legion Auxiliary will be dressed in uniform and sell poppies. A large number of volunteer workers has been organized by Mrs. Frank Carper, chairman, to distribute poppies to everyone in the city.

Headquarters will be at the Cottello Theater office, from where they will be working at the poppies. The poppies will be distributed by 8 o'clock Saturday.

Mayor Proclaims
Saturday Poppy
Day in Artesia

Whereas, the United States of America is again being forced to crush powerful enemies seeking to establish their tyranny over the world,

Whereas, the young men of Artesia and North Eddy County again are offering their lives in the nation's service, and Whereas, their service and sacrifice is symbolized by the memorial poppy of The American Legion and American Legion Auxiliary, now therefore

EMERY CARPER,
Mayor of Artesia.

To Have Daily Pause for Prayer

A minute of prayer for the world and nation is to be observed in Artesia at 11 o'clock each weekday morning, starting Friday, in a plan started first by a group of church women and then adopted by members of the Ministerial Alliance and the Catholic fathers.

At that hour each day, through consent of Mayor Emery Carper, who has made arrangements with the city manager, P.
V. Morris, the small, auxiliary siren—not the one regularly used for fires and emergency... will be given three short rolls.

When it is blown, everyone is asked to stop wherever he is for a minute of silent prayer that the terrible conflict may soon end and from it will spring a better, cleaner world.

Further plans have been made by pastors of the city to hold prayer meetings in the several churches immediately after word of the invasion is received, be it day or night. At that time the large siren will be blown and the pastors will go to their churches to hold services for those who will come.

Lt. Emmons and Sgt. Thalman Reported Missing in Action

War Department Messages Disclose They Fail to Return Respectively From Missions Over Italy and Belgium

Two north Eddy County boys, 2nd Lt. Alexander St. Clair (Bud) Emmons of Artesia, 27 years old, and S/Sgt. George L. Thalman of Loco Hills, 20, both members of the Army Air Forces, were reported by the War Department during the last week missing in action in the European theater.

Lt. Emmons, a son of Mr. and Mrs. St. Clair P. Emmons, had been on a number of missions as a pilot on a B-24 Liberator bomber at the time he failed to return, reported in the message to his parents as April 28. The telegram arrived Saturday and said he was missing over Italy.

Sergeant Thalman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Thalman, were notified by wire Tuesday that their son, a tail gunner-radioman, has been missing over Belgium since May 11. He also is believed to have been on a number of missions prior to that time.

Three brothers of Lieutenant Emmons are also in the service and a fourth has served and been honorably discharged. They are: Sgt.
Charles Emmons, Corps of Engineers, Fort Leonard Wood, Mo.; Cpl.
Earl Emmons, paratrooper, Camp Macall N. C.; Cadet Shannon Em-mons, Naval ROTC, University of New Mexico, and Marvin Emmons, Artesia, formerly in the Signal Corps.

Mr. and Mrs. Emmons also have four other children: Laura, Mrs. R.
D. Major, in Alabama with her husband, a lieutenant in the Army; Miss Mary Emmons, Ricardo, N.
Mex., and Miss Frances and Robert Emmons, at home.

Lieutenant Emmons was born Oct. 29, 1916, at Molino, Mo. He came to Artesia in 1938 before the other members of the family and was employed for a time in the Eddy County oil fields. However, he was working at Detroit, Mich., when he went into the Army prior to Pearl Harbor.

He was in the ground forces of the Air Corps, before becoming a cadet. Lieutenant Emmons received his wings and commission at Altus (Okla.) Army Air Field July 29, 1943. He left for overseas service last Christmas.

Little could be learned about Sergeant Thalman, as his parents are at Loco Hills. He worked for the New Mexico Asphalt & Refining Company before entering the service. He was shipped out for foreign service just prior to last Christmas.

Hultman Should
Soon Be Drilling
Farther Into Pay

The Sanders Brothers, Hultman 1, two miles north of Artesia in SE NE 32-16-26, which held the oil spotlight last week after drilling into a deep formation of high-gravity petroleum at about 6,325 feet, has been drilled no deeper as yet, because of the setting of pipe and slight difficulties, but should soon be drilling ahead into the pay formation.

From the total depth of 6,357 feet, the hole was plugged back to the top of the formation last Thursday, for the running of pipe.
After the cement had set early this week, a small line was lost in the hole, for which workers were fishing yesterday. It is probable drilling operations will be resumed today.

During the last week, five completions were made in the Eddy County fields, three of them plugged and abandoned holes, while four new locations were started.

The completions:
Skelly Oil Co., Dow 8-B, SE NE 21-17-31; total depth 3,677 feet; flowed 65 barrels of oil per day after shot.

R. R. Woolley, Arnold 6-A, SE SE 23-17-30; total depth 1,992 feet; pumped 30 barrels of oil per day after shot.

Yates & Nix, Matthews 3, NW NW 22-21-28; total depth 2,919 feet. (Turn to last page, please)

Eyring Gives
Post-War Plans
To Rotarians

With his experience recently as one of ten men who made a survey of post-war planning in Colorado from which to draw, Dr. Edward Eyring, president of New Mexico Highlands University, gave members of the Artesia Rotary Club some concrete ideas on the subject at the weekly luncheon Tuesday.

In Colorado, he said, they are working in five areas of thought, public information, economic development, minority groups, youth, and health.

The commission with which he worked found that although much planning has been done by the larger industries, relatively little has been done in the small communities beyond the "talking stage," Dr. Eyring said.

The philosophy there is to start out on the assumption that human beings are a social asset, that no normal human need be a liability.
By an ever expanding sphere of business and industrial activity, rather than to divide jobs among the millions of men in the armed forces and others in war industries return, there need be no idleness, the speaker said.

"We must plan for jobs that did not exist before; we need leaders who can create jobs," he said.
The national debt is getting large, Dr. Eyring said, but that need not be alarming, with an expanding sphere of activities, for it is not the amount, but the income, which counts.

Dr. Eyring gave a number of other thoughts to make people think and worthy of repetition, which will be used editorially from time to time.

Dr. D. M. Schneck, president of the club, announced there will be no Rotary meeting next week, as the meeting day falls on Memorial Day.

Will Collect Waste Paper Friday and Saturday Next Week

The waste paper drive in Artesia will be resumed Friday and Saturday of next week, when it is hoped to have Army trucks here again.

Mrs. H. R. Paton, president of the A.W.V.S., sponsoring organization, said a sufficient amount of paper was not collected in the two previous two-day collection periods to fill a freight car. It is hoped this may be accomplished next week.

People still having paper are asked to get it assembled and tied into flat bundles for the collection next week.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Barnett have received a message from their son, Bob Barnett, seaman second class, saying he was back in the States.
His former port of embarkation was San Francisco, Calif., but is now New York. This is the first word they have received from their son in three months.

Summer Program
For Playground
To Start June 1

A meeting will be held in the auditorium of Artesia High School at 9 o'clock Thursday morning, June 1, for those planning to attend the morning sessions of the summer playground sponsored by the school system, it was announced by W. E. Kerr.

All boys and girls between the ages of 5 and 8 years are invited to this morning session. Parents who are interested in the program may attend for the purpose of learning what to expect of the program are also invited.

The older boys' program will start at 1 o'clock the same day.

The program will include sports, such as volleyball, baseball, tennis, horse shoes, and badminton, lower form games for the younger children, story hour, music appreciation, and hobby club.

Each week one special event will be planned for the playground.
Some of the events will be picnics, hikes, treasure hunts, special talent programs, and Wiener roasts.
Kerr said a specific schedule will be announced later, as much will depend upon the number of children who go to the playground and their interest. Although plans have been made as to the program of recreation, they are quite elastic and will be adjusted to the interest of the group to be accommodated. (Turn to last page, please)

Graduates Told Their Destiny Will Be to Reshape the World

Eyring, Highlands Prexy, Visualizes New Era of History at Commencement—Fr. Francis Says to Build for Character

Graduates of 1944 will have much to say about what will be done in the world after the war—graduates of Artesia High School and their fellows—the seniors of the local graduating class were told Tuesday evening at commencement exercises by Dr. Edward Eyring, president of New Mexico Highlands University, who spoke on "The World We View."

After the war, Dr. Eyring said, "if we rise to the occasion, we can begin an era of history far surpassing anything ever before seen, if we but will to do that thing."

The address of Dr. Eyring followed closely in some respects the baccalaureate sermon Sunday evening by the Rev. Fr. Francis Geary, O.M.C., pastor of St. Anthony Church, who told the graduates they should strive to play important parts on the stage of life and in the battle of life.

All have parts to play, he told the graduates, but it is up to them to build their lives on character and to strive for a better nation and the world, each taking his place during the war and in the post-war world, as he goes out from the school.

Throughout history men have desired peace, but man has not found how to keep it, Dr. Eyring said Tuesday. But he said he believes that after this war men can agree on terms for lasting peace, provided a simple formula is engraved in the hearts of all men, a simple doctrine towards which to strive.

If all are willing to pay a price for peace, as is paid for war, there will be no more war, Dr. Eyring declared. "We are inclined to take any advantage we can get, hold steadfastly to it, and not yield an inch," he said. "But so long as we maintain an unyielding attitude, so long will we have war."

Dr. Eyring suggested a world court to settle differences and to make international laws, which heretofore have had to do mostly with warfare.

The speaker visualized a greatly changed world after the war, in which activities will be built around airports, as they were around stations when the railroads came. But in building around airports, the builders—the graduates —should plan for useful occupations and to "get things together which belong together." He proposed that the young people should think of community centers, about which everything in the communities would rotate, with various public agencies grouped, rather than being scattered as they are today.

If the men and women of the future are willing to pay the price, the possibility of a high degree of civilization is tremendous, Dr. Eyring concluded.

Last Warning to License Dogs in Artesia Is Given

A final warning to dog owners was issued this week by the city of Artesia, that they either must have tags or be destroyed.

To date, since a former warning several weeks ago, police have destroyed seventy-three dogs, in each case after giving the owner a chance to purchase a license for his dog.

"But we're done giving warnings," Chief G. Kelley Stout said this morning.

More than 250 licenses have been issued in the office of Tom Ragsdale, city clerk.

But there still are hundreds of dogs running loose in Artesia, many more than the 250 which have been licensed, and of them some may have owners, who wish to keep them. If so, police warn, they had better visit Ragsdale's office promptly "and plunk down, $1 for males, $2 for females—and pronto."

George M. Jensen, formerly of Exira, Iowa, brother of O. S. Jensen, is here now helping in the Jensen & Son store.

Mrs. Zona Pennell, secretary for Dr. Ed Stone, left Monday for Wichita, Kan., to visit relatives on a two-week vacation.

Miss Josayle Bunting, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Bunting, returned home Sunday from Tucson, Ariz., where she completed the sophomore year in college at the University of Arizona.
Mr. and Mrs. Bunting and their daughter, Miss Maxine Bunting, went to Tucson for her.

Peggy Jo Bentley and Jack Bentley, niece and nephew of Mrs.
John Livley of Artesia and Cecil Holeman of Maljamar, left Friday night to join their mother, Mrs.
Vernon Shockley, in Richmond, Calif. The children lived at the Livley home and attended school here last school year. Mr. and Mrs. Holeman and their small daughter, Druella, were in the city Friday for a visit before the children left. (Turn to last page, please)

Honors, Awards Go to Seniors at Commencement

Honor students were named and awards were given at the annual commencement exercises of Artesia High School Tuesday evening by C. D. Marshall, principal.

The school, which never names a valedictorian, each year discloses the names of the top ranking 10 per cent of the seniors, but not necessarily in the order of their grades. Marshall said that the grades of the seven named were within a spread of 1.3 per cent.

They were John A. Stuart, Marvin Blaine McGuire, Dorothy Jean Mayes, Patti Jean Runyan, Carrie Margaret Hannah, Robert J.
Blount, and Christine Anderson.

The seven, was singularly honored
the seven, was singularly honored by receiving two awards. One was the annual good citizen certificate presented by the Daughters if the American Revolution. The other was a $75 tuition scholarship, issued by Federal Institute, Tyler, Tex.

The only other scholarship was issued to Marvin McGuire by Eastern New Mexico College, Portales, an all-tuition scholarship. Marshall explained that a number of schools and colleges which heretofore have made scholarship awards are not doing so this year, as they are being used largely as military training institutions.

The annual sportsmanship trophy given by the Artesia Lions club was awarded to J. E. Champion, whose athletic participation in Artesia High School included four years each of football and basketball and a year of baseball.

Robert J. Blount was presented the annual award of Bausch-Lomb Optical Company, Chicago, for having the outstanding record in science. (Turn to last page, please)

IN FLANDERS' FIELD

"In Flanders' field the poppies blow, Between the Crosses, row on row . . ."
So wrote the poet, whose words gave birth to the idea to use the poppy as a memorial flower for the dead of World War I.

The poppy was the one touch of beauty which survived the hideous destruction of war, the flower of Flanders' fields immortalized in his poem by Col. John McCrae.

In memory too there is beauty, for we think of the fallen heroes of World Wars I and II as we know them, as they were at home, as we visualize them under certain pleasant circumstances, not as dead loved ones in the hell of the battlefield.

We have adapted the use of the World War I memorial flower to the memory also of the dead of World War II, an ever increasing number, as the brave lads fight deeper and deeper into enemy territory, ever on the road to victory and a better world.

And the poppy has another touch of beauty, in that its manufacture brings some joy and light into the lives of the living dead of the two wars, those who have come home wounded, and crippled, and ill.

The making of the poppies gives them something to do, something to keep their minds occupied, at the same time giving them some compensation for their labors.

The funds derived from the slight profit in the annual sale of the poppies by the American Legion Auxiliary likewise is used for those men and for their families, and for the widows and orphans of those who have given their all.

Poppy Day will be observed in Artesia Saturday by the American Legion Auxiliary, when the mothers, wives, sisters, and daughters of the men of the armed forces of the two wars will offer the red, memorial flowers at your price. Don't seek a bargain, but pay a good price for your poppy; the men whom they commemorate and those who have made them were not seeking bargains, but were playing for keeps!

TO ALL WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

Years ago we saw a vaudeville skit, in which the girl was relating something about her father, whom she said nearly swore. The man asked her in astonishment, "Does your father swear?" To which she replied, "No, but he knows all the words."

Frankly we don't know why we should have remembered anything so unfunny, but we did. But we are somewhat like the girl's father; we are not particularly given to swearing, but we do know all the words.

Therefore, our reaction when we hear obscenity and profanity is not one particularly of shock. But we are amazed that anyone with as much as a third-grade education should not have sufficient vocabulary to express himself by means of legitimate words. There are thousands in the English language, you know, at least one for every use, including adjectives, for which the profanity is usually used.

We can condone a certain amount of it at times, to illustrate a point, or even when a fellow hits the wrong nail with the hammer, so we are no Pollyanna.

But the streets certainly are not the place for it, among men who know better, as they stand about in groups, sometimes even discussing perfectly proper subjects.

It seems to us there is an unusually large percentage of thoughtless men in Artesia on that score, most of them men who would resent others using their kind of language in front of their wives, sisters, and daughters. But they do it just the same.

Although our hearing is very good, we are certain it is not that of Superman, he who can hear through steel walls. So it follows that if we can walk down the street—or even sit at our desk inside the office, while others walk down the street—and hear obscenity and profanity, so can women on the street.

In the name of common decency, we wish the men of Artesia—those of them who are guilty—would wash their mouths out with soap!

ALL GOOD WHEEZES, IF IN SEASON

The boys on the make-up stones of The Amarillo News evidently ran out of current fillers for the editorial column Monday, and went back and dusted off a galley of fillers which had been in type many months, for lo! (not the poor Indian) here's what they poured into the form:

"The epidemic of influenza is something to sneeze about but not at. Winter is doing a swell job of acting as press agent for summer.

"At least women won't have to be told to do their Christmas swapping early."

POSTWAR DEVELOPMENT SIGNS

The establishment of Campbell's meat packing plant in Carlsbad, the survey being conducted by a manufacturer of potato chips, and inquiries daily at the Cavern City Chamber of Commerce regarding establishment of new industries in South Eddy County, is an indication of the commercial possibilities in the Pecos Valley after the war. Industrialists in this section of New Mexico and labor organizations have been pushing the cause of postwar development. The constant selling of Eddy County possibilities for manufacturers is a project which should be on every resident's list of musts. Carlsbad and Artesia possess joint possibilities for postwar development and economic progress of the Pecos Valley. The two cities should join hands in furthering postwar development as an integral unit.—Eddy County News, Carlsbad.

Miss Kuykendall And Lonas Young Marry Monday

Miss Julia Helen Kuykendall, daughter of Charlie Kuykendall and niece of Mrs. Belle Stevenson, with whom she has lived since infancy, and Lonas Young of Globe, Ariz., son of Mr. and Mrs. George Young, were married in Carlsbad at 8 o'clock Monday evening.

The ceremony was read by the Rev. C. E. Jameson at the Methodist parsonage. Witnessing the ceremony were Mrs. J. D. Cravey of Carlsbad and Mrs. Roy Burkhardt of Artesia, sisters of the bride, and Mr. Cravey and Miss Cora Lee Boggs.

The bride wore a white waffle pique ensemble with white accessories and a corsage of red roses. She was a member of the Artesia High School class graduating this week.

Mr. Young, a former resident of the city, is a graduate of Artesia High School class of '43. He is associated with his father in business at Globe, where the couple expect to make their home.

Mrs. Burkhardt entertained with a bridal shower and farewell party for her sister Wednesday evening. About twenty friends and classmates showered her with gifts and wished the newlyweds much happiness in life.

Mr. Young and his bride left Wednesday night for Arizona.

Senior Class Is Entertained at First Baptist Church

Members of the Baptist Men's Brotherhood and the Baptist Woman's Missionary Society entertained members of the senior class of Artesia High School at an informal lawn party on the Church lawn last Thursday evening.

More than fifty of the sixty-eight class members were in attendance. Eight of the class are in service and were unable to attend. More than 200 were reported at the party, where picnic foods were served attractively from laden tables and where group singing was enjoyed and toasts were offered for the future lives of these young men and women.

This is an annual custom of the Baptist Church folks to entertain senior class members. However last year, as food rationing was here, points were not allowed and the custom was not observed.

Church Activities

Baptist Church
For some time the prayer services at the Baptist Church have been centering around the idea of prayer for peace and loved ones in the service of their country. Recently a prayer service was held, with two people present for each church member in the service. Numbers of young men wrote home for remembering them. "Your prayers will do more than the shells we drop on the enemy," wrote one man.

We believe; let us pray:
"A mighty fortress is our God, A bulwark never failing;
Our helper He amid the flood Of mortal ill prevailing."

More Women Are Needed in Army; Join The WAC's

The United States Army needs a minimum of 135,000 more WAC's—girls and women to help in its fight to keep this country safe and free. It needs them, not to fight with guns and bayonets as many of their sisters in Europe and in Asia are doing, but to do the things here at home, which will free men for the actual fighting. And it is not telling them, as are other governments. It is asking them—please! It is asking them to serve in a place of their own choice—near their homes if they wish, overseas if they prefer—and at work of their own choosing. It is offering 239 different jobs for which it will give them special training if they need it, training that will go far toward assuring them a good job in the post-war world.

They may qualify to instruct flyers or gunners, to help keep planes in trim or to direct them from the ground; to be radio operators or weather observers or laboratory or dental technicians, administrators, welders, or cooks. They may drive staff cars or jeeps or ambulances, be map-makers or photographers. In the Department of Supply, they may keep the men fed and clothed and in good health. And whatever job they do in the WAC they will be backing up that man they love who is facing the enemy overseas. They will be bringing him home sooner.

Any American woman from 20 to 50 years, who has no dependents under 14 years, and who can meet the educational and physical requirements, is needed. And for doing this necessary and patriotic service, she will get board and sleeping quarters, medical and dental care, an attractive uniform, from $54 to $138 a month, and the knowledge that she is serving her country.

A recruiter is in the city from the Roswell recruiting station each Wednesday.

Mrs. Leonard Kilburn and son, Leonard, Jr., and daughter, Dorothy Jean Mayes, and Jo Lavern Durbin left Tuesday night after graduation for Breckenridge, Tex., where Mrs. Kilburn and children will attend the funeral services of their grandmother and great-grandmother. After visiting there with friends and relatives they will go to Fort Worth, where they expect to do some shopping before going to Lubbock, where Miss Mayes and Miss Durbin will enter Draughon Business College.

June 2, from 9 to 11:30 o'clock each morning. Every boy and girl 4 to 16 years old in Artesia should be enrolled in Bible school for this summer. If you are not attending this school, attend the school at the Methodist Church or some other. Every parent should see to it that his children get to attend this year.

MRS. J. S. MILLS PAINFULLY BURNED

Mrs. J. S. Mills was painfully burned on both hands, down her left side, and on the left foot, when hot grease was upset on her at her home Sunday, while preparing dinner for guests. A visiting child had gone up into the attic and fell through an opening over the stove, and the grease was upset in trying to rescue the child, who was barely hanging from the ceiling.

WAC's Train Well In Surgery And Many Other Jobs

WAC's are being trained well for many jobs in the Army. An example was cited recently in a publication at Fitzsimons Hospital of Denver, Colo.

The new hospital building is a far different building than the one-room affair which at one time handled everything from removing toenails to obstetrics. Today each type of operation has its own room and specialized equipment, which is of modern type. Doctors and nurses are specialized in the fields in which they serve, thus they are able to give the patient the best service in his case. The WAC's assisting in surgery at the hospital are among the specialized medicals, who serve in only one surgical room and assisting with only one type of operation, the type for which they are trained.

Margaret Bean, Artesia, who spent Mother's Day here with her parents is detailed with the job of sterilization of all equipment in chest surgery at Fitzsimons. This was said of Margaret, "To see her at work from vantage point of the observation room, you would see a young woman with dark, short-cut hair, efficiently laying out scalpels, clamps, and other equipment with the sure hand of a veteran. She is dressed in the white operating gown and wears a respiratory mask across her mouth and nose. As the patient is wheeled in, she assumes her place near the doctor, prepared to hand him the instruments he desires, when he wants them. She must know what he will use next so that only a slight nod of the doctor's head produces the proper instrument."

Margaret Bean and many others are doing a fine job in the Woman's Army Corps.

Miles Advocates Granting Federal Lands to State

John E. Miles, former governor and candidate for the Democratic nomination for land commissioner, is advocating the granting of at least ten million acres of United States public lands to New Mexico.

"The Federal government owns 40 per cent of the area of New Mexico," Miles said, "and instead of relinquishing any holdings, it is continually attempting to increase its acquisitions."

"I am not only opposed to any further land acquisitions by the federal government in New Mexico, but believe that a program should be undertaken to obtain another ten million acres for the state."

He said the federal government's holdings in New Mexico total more than thirty-one million acres of land, as against thirty-four million acres of private lands and 12,700,000 acres of state-owned land.

"Every acre that the federal government does not own... national forests, national monuments, and... state for the benefit of institutions," he said. He said present state lands makes a contribution to permanent schools and institutions as New Mexico grows will be greater and from lands will be smaller unless new revenue become available.

Beef Packers Setting Aside Smaller Amount For The Armed Forces

Beef which packers are required to set aside for the armed forces and other war uses was reduced from 40 to 35 per cent, effective May 15, C. E. Habiger, area supervisor, WFA Office of Distribution, announced.

This action, taken under an amendment to WFO 75-2, applies to good, choice, commercial, and utility steer and heifer beef processed by slaughterers subject to the order.

Supplies of beef cattle arriving at markets are being maintained at a level which makes it possible to reduce the set-aside requirements, Habiger explained.

LESS THAN 50,000 NEW CARS IN POOL

There are today less than 50,000 new passenger automobiles in dealers' stocks, OPA officials report. In February, 1942, there were half a million. Quotas and eligibility must be more and more restricted, it was said because some new cars must be saved as long as possible for highly important services by police, doctors, FBI and others.

Gunderson, Here Monday, Pledges Good Government

Carrol G. Gunderson, candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, spoke briefly here Monday noon at an informal luncheon at the Artesia Pharmacy with party members and oil men, again making his campaign pledge that if nominated and elected he will give the state of New Mexico good government and will do all in his power to fulfill that promise.

The candidate, a former Republican leader of the New Mexico House of Representatives, said the present campaign is a friendly affair between himself and his party opponent and close friend, Glenn L. Emmons, and that he is not making many political statements at this time.

Gunderson said, however, that changes are indicated, from the federal government down. He said he is against what he termed "gangster legislators," those who bring up "nuisance legislation," designed to bring lobbyists to Santa Fe. As a businessman, Gunderson said he intends to put a stop to that sort of legislation, which serves no good purpose to the state. If citizens and business interests feel the government will veto such "nuisance legislation," there will be no need for lobbying, Gunderson said.

As a businessman, he will permit no extra taxes on the statutes of New Mexico, Gunderson told the group meeting with him at the luncheon. He would have to pay part of such taxes himself, and as a businessman would give serious consideration before approving any such legislation, he said.

Tuesdays and Thursdays—8 o'clock, junior band marching; 9 o'clock, advanced band marching and maneuvers; 10 o'clock, beginners marching and maneuvers; 11 o'clock, advanced beginners marching and maneuvers.

Mrs. Raymond Bartlett, accompanied by Mrs. Jim Ferguson, left Monday morning to take L. C. W. Bartlett's car to him at Fort Knox, Ky. They expect to go on to Nashville, Tenn., for the graduation of her daughter, Shirley Bartlett, at Ward Belmont. Mrs. C. A. Mayo, mother-in-law of Mrs. Crighton Gilchrist, who has been visiting here, drove with them to Dallas, where she expected to entrain for her home in Washington, D. C. Mrs. Bartlett and Mrs. Ferguson and Shirley have reservations to return home by train.

T/Sgt. F. O. Ashton, who served three years in Alaska on two different assignments, is at home on furlough. He is to report the first of next month at Santa Monica, Calif., for reassignment.
