Lightweight Bulldogs Lose to Coyotes

Roswell Wins First Game of Season 21 to 0 Over Artesia

Heavier, more-experienced Coyotes defeated the Artesia Bulldogs 21 to 0 in the grid opener at Roswell Friday afternoon, as the lightweight Bulldogs fought hard and well.

The Bulldogs were composed almost entirely of boys never before had played football. The Bulldogs team did well to the Coyotes to three touchdowns and extra points.

Roswell made one touchdown in the first, second, and fourth quarters.

The Bulldogs, who started off slowly, tightened up immediately after the Coyote score and carried the ball after receiving from Roswell 30 to the Roswell 20 line, where Roswell took possession on a fumble. It was evenly matched until the remainder of the quarter which ended with the ball in Roswell's possession on the 40.

In the second quarter started, Coyotes opened up again on a drive down the field, which was recovered by another fumble, recovery by Roswell, and Verlin Hall, halfback, made a score on a drive from Harold Haines, fullback, remainder of the quarter it was three plays and punt after the third period the Bulldogs led off with four first-and-ten after receiving the kickoff, carried the ball down to the 25, where two incomplete passes gave the pigskin to Roswell. Again there was an exchange of plays in midfield as the quarter ended.

Prior to the end of the third quarter, Bill Phillips, Artesia center, sustained a bad blow in the line of his right eye, which closed him out. It is not believed eye is hurt and the wound is healing nicely.

After advancing to midfield on the consecutive series of plays, Bulldogs relinquished the pigskin to Roswell in the fourth quarter. The Coyotes then made two hand-ten on first plays, and in three plays to the four-line. From there Allen Jones, fullback, went through the line for the final touchdown.

The next scheduled game for the Bulldogs will be at Hobbs Oct. 13, and arrangements are complete for a game here against the Artesia Military Institute Oct. 29 or Oct. 6.

During the period until Oct. 1, retailers are not giving blue tokens to customers for ration change. During this period, shoppers can spend their blue tokens only in groups of ten. If necessary, they may pool tokens to make up units of ten. Fewer than ten blue tokens cannot be used.

Housewives should be sure to use all their blue tokens by Sept. 30.

Dempsey Declares State Must Look Ahead, Not Back

Gov. John J. Dempsey expressed surprise in Artesia last Thursday night that Carroll G. Gunderson of Grants, Republican candidate for governor, who had spoken in Artesia the evening prior, apparently was looking backward, having seen him quoted as in opposition to super-highways in New Mexico.

The governor, guest at an informal luncheon in his honor on the Roof Garden of the Artesia Hotel, addressed a group of Artesia businessmen, oil operators, farmers, and ranchers in behalf of his candidacy to succeed himself.

Governor Dempsey, who spoke here less than a day after Gunderson and his party were guests at a Republican rally, said he had noticed in daily newspapers where his opponent was quoted "to the effect that rather than super-highways, we need farm-to-market roads."

The governor himself has stressed the need for farm-to-market roads, but he also is strongly of the opinion that New Mexico should work for super-highways, both east-west and north-south, in the blueprint stage of which this state has been included.

"New Mexico is confronted with the problem of going forward or backward," Governor Dempsey declared. "We cannot stand still. God gave us good scenery and good climate, but the road building He left to us."

"Preliminary work has routed a super-highway from Canada to Mexico through part of our state and a super-highway from the East Coast to the West Coast through another part of it. We should not stand in the way of progress."

"I have never seen a person in New Mexico who refused to use good roads. Opposing them is looking backward, not forward."

The governor said he understood there had been criticism in Artesia of the addition of a tobacco tax by the last Legislature in violation of the "no new tax" pledge given during the campaign.

Remarking that he wrote the plank in the platform which said "No new taxes," Dempsey said that he assumed full responsibility for the action.

Pointing out that sources of income had dried up in some places due to the war, he painted a picture of many aged persons over 65 years of age, many sick and all broke, who were in need of funds.

Postoffice at Dayton Is to Be Discontinued

According to information received by J. L. Truett, Artesia postmaster, from the Post Office Department in Washington, D. C., the post office at Dayton will be discontinued effective Oct. 1.

Persons now being served through the Dayton postoffice will receive their mail through the Artesia office after that date and will be included on rural route No. 1.

Truett suggested that Dayton patrons erect rural route boxes on the route. Numbers will be assigned by the carrier, he said.

It was planned some months ago to discontinue the post office at Dayton, at which time the Post Office Department made an announcement to that effect, but the order was cancelled before it went into effect.

Second Lt. Dale S. Hannah, 22, a son of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Hannah of Artesia, the pilot of a medium bomber, is missing in action in the South Pacific as of Aug. 30, according to a telegram from the War Department Monday morning. No details were given.

He was commissioned at La Junta, Colo., last January and completed his training and went overseas in May.

Handle on Hit-Run Car Rins Man's Arm From Elbow Down

Marvin C. Douglas, an employee of the New Mexico Pipe Line Company from Eunice, sustained a painful and serious injury about 8:30 o'clock Saturday evening, when the handle on an automobile driven by a hit-run driver, pierced his left arm at the elbow and lay the arm and hand open to the base of his fingers, cutting the leaders to the two last fingers.

Douglas was on South First Street, going from Livingston Courts to his rooming house, which is on the east side of the highway, when he was overtaken by the car.

He was taken to Artesia Memorial Hospital, where the severed leaders were sewed together.

TWO ONIONS RAISED BY GOODEN NEAR DAYTON ARE WHOPPERS

Two large and unusual onions, grown by R. G. Gooden about three miles northeast of Dayton, were brought to The Advocate office last week end by his father-in-law, P. R. Ramuz.

They weighed 2 and 1 3/4 pounds and would have been placed in one of the windows at The Advocate office, but the September sun through the glass was too hot for them. One of them has since made a fine pot of onion soup.

Gooden has about twenty acres in onions this year, after starting last year to raise the crop on a large scale. Part of the field is doing very well, but another part "damped off." The onions, raised from seed, have been selling at 98 cents a sack, compared with the retail price of onions last winter, which went as high as 18 cents a pound.

Gene died at 6:30 o'clock in the morning and his twin sister died at 11:45 o'clock.

Artesia Churches Will Be Open for Prayer on V-Day

At a meeting of the Artesia ministerial Association Monday, attended by the pastors of the Baptist, Christian, Catholic, and Methodist Churches, it was decided that when V-Day in Europe comes all the churches of Artesia will be open for prayer, praise, and thanksgiving in the forenoon, if the announcement comes at night or early in the morning, and that each church will hold a public service at 7:30 o'clock in the evening.

When the siren sounds—an extended blast for about five minutes, interrupted only at long intervals with a down roll—all the churches will open immediately, regardless of the hour, and the public is urged to go to some church for prayer.

S-Sgt. Warren's Medal Presented To His Mother

Carlsbad Army Air Field troops paid tribute posthumously to S/Sgt. Melvin E. Warren of Artesia in an impressive retreat parade and ceremony Saturday, at which Col. John P. Ryan, commanding officer, presented the Air Medal with three Oak Leaf Clusters to the sergeant's mother, Mrs. R. E. Warren.

Sergeant Warren, who was killed on a combat flight in the European theater, was a gunner with twenty bombing missions to his credit.

Mrs. Warren, accompanied by her daughters, Mrs. Kermit Hoover, Mrs. Charles Gleghorn, and Miss Frances Warren, all of Artesia, took a place on the reviewing platform with Col. Ryan and his staff as the troops formed on the parade ground.

After the presentation and retreat, the troops—cadets, enlisted men, and WAC's passed in review.

Lt. Charles D. Leech, Jr., read the citation for the decorations and Colonel Ryan then presented the medal with three Oak Leaf Clusters, representing three additional awards of the same decoration.

These were posthumously awarded to Sergeant Warren "for exceptional meritorious achievement while participating in twenty separate bomber combat missions over enemy occupied continental Europe. The courage, coolness and skill displayed by him upon these occasions reflected great credit upon himself and the armed forces of the United States."

The ceremony was the first of its kind at Carlsbad Army Air Field, and marked the first parade of troops on the newly prepared parade ground.

Constitution Is Topic of Paper by Clowe at Rotary

A comprehensive paper on the Constitution of the United States was read Tuesday noon at the weekly meeting of the Artesia Rotary Club by D. I. Clowe, in observation of the 157th anniversary of what the speaker termed "as fine a document as was ever conceived by man."

Clowe devoted the greater part of his paper to the Bill of Rights, which, he said, was ratified as late as 1939 by two of the original United States.

The paper was originally prepared for delivery at a Bill of Rights mass meeting at Artesia High School in 1941.

Mayor Emery Carper was the weekly five-minute speaker. He pointed out that courtesy pays dividends and stressed that "even if we are at war, courtesy is not rationed."

Nunn recently sold 3,000 cattle on Kansas ranches to Safeway Stores and left Saturday to look after that business.

Will Have Military Rites Here Friday for First Lt. Horner

AAF Pilot-Instructor and Four Others Are Killed Last Thursday on Flight From Texas to Walla Walla, Washington

Full military honors will be accorded First Lt. R. C. Horner of Artesia, who was killed in an airplane crash near Walla Walla, Wash., last Thursday afternoon, at funeral services here Friday afternoon.

Lieutenant Horner and four other servicemen were killed when the training plane he was piloting from San Marcus (Tex.) Air Field to Walla Walla crashed into a mountain near the Oregon-Washington line, after ice forming on the wings forced the lieutenant to drop down from about 10,000 feet to 4,000 feet. Another plane, accompanying him, made it through safely.

The flight was being made from San Marcus (Tex.) Air Field, where Lieutenant Horner was stationed as an instructor, to Walla Walla Air Field.

Lieutenant Horner is the twenty-fourth North Eddy County man known to have lost his life in World War II.

The commanding officer at Walla Walla has wired Mrs. Horner that the body of her husband was shipped from there Monday evening and will arrive in Artesia Friday on the southbound Santa Fe train.

Funeral services will be from Bayless Funeral Home at 4 o'clock Friday afternoon by the Rev. Allen E. Johnson of Roswell, former pastor of the Church of Christ Church in Artesia.

Military rites will be accorded Lieutenant Horner at the grave in Woodbine Cemetery by a chaplain, firing squad and two buglers from Roswell Army Air Field.

Six first lieutenants from RAAF will serve as active pallbearers and honorary pallbearers will be Donald Fanning, Leon Clayton, Fritz Crawford, Martin Yates III, Stanley Jones, Glenn Booker, Stanley Carper, Jack Shaw, and Ralph Petty.

Members of the American Legion are to attend the funeral services in a body, it was announced by J. B. Muncy, commander. He asked that members wear their Legion caps.

R. C. Horner, the son of Robert C. and Cora Brown Horner, was born in Coleman County, Texas, March 22, 1918. His mother died in 1920 and he came to Artesia in 1926, when his father came to operate the old refinery at Dayton, the first in this community.

He graduated from Artesia High School in 1935, after which R. C., as he was best known to his many friends, was employed as a driller in the Eddy County oil fields.

R. C. enlisted in March, 1942, and was called in June of that year for training as a pilot. He had been flying several years at that time and has a private pilot's license.

He received his wings and was commissioned at Ellington Field, Houston, Tex., in February, 1943, since when he was an instructor.

R. C. Horner and Jeanne White were married at Carlsbad Nov. 5, 1939. They had no children.

At the time of Lieutenant Horner's death, Mrs. Horner was at Lockhart, Tex., where they were living while he was stationed at San Marcus Air Field. Upon receipt of word of the accident, Mrs. Horner's sister, Mrs. Mittie Hamill of Artesia, immediately went to Lockhart and brought Mrs. Horner back to Artesia. They arrived here Sunday, on which day his father, Robert C. Horner of Copperas Cove, Tex., also arrived in Artesia.

Besides his wife and father, Lieutenant Horner is survived by his step-mother and two half-brothers and two half-sisters, A/C Robert B. Horner, stationed at Maccon, Ga., and Bill G., Elizabeth Ann, and Mary Lillian Horner, of Copperas Cove, all of whom are here.

Oil, Gas Leases on Federal Lands Extended Year

A bill introduced into the Senate the latter part of August, designed to extend for a year leases on federal lands, which under previous legislation would have expired Dec. 31, passed by both the Senate and House during the last week, according to information from Senator Carl A. Hatch and Congressman Antonio M. Fernandez of New Mexico.

Introduction of the bill grew out of the hearing in Artesia Aug. 14 of the Public Lands Sub-Committee, as related in these columns Sept. 7, just after it had been introduced in Congress.

Congressman Fernandez, chairman of the sub-committee, led the promotion of the bill in the House. He was assisted in the work by Congressman Peterson of Florida, a non-producing state, who is a member of the sub-committee and was at the hearing in Artesia.

Upon the recommendation of Congressman Peterson, the bill, after it had been discussed, was passed unanimously in the House.

Besides Senator Hatch and Congressman Fernandez, the other New Mexico legislators, Senator Dennis Chavez and Congressman Clinton P. Anderson, were backing the bill.

The bill recites that "the term of any five-year lease expiring prior to Dec. 31, 1945, maintained in accordance with the applicable standards of the act."

More Legislation Is Outcome of Recent Hearing

The second definite action in Congress for the ultimate benefit of oil operators since a hearing in Artesia Aug. 14 of the Public Lands Sub-Committee of Congress was in the introduction of a bill in the House of Representatives designed to amend the existing "act to promote the mining of coal, phosphate, oil, oil shale, gas, and sodium on the public domain."

The bill was introduced by Congressman Antonio M. Fernandez of New Mexico, who wrote to Mayor Emery Carper of the action and of the work members of the sub-committee are doing in behalf of the oil industry, as a result of testimony at the meeting Aug. 14.

If passed, the new legislation will provide that the secretary of the interior "is authorized to issue new leases to lessees holding oil or gas leases under any of the provisions of this act issued on or before Jan. 1, 1940, such new leases to be in lieu of the leases held by such lessees and to be at a royalty rate of not less than 12 1/2 percent in amount or value of the production and upon such other terms and conditions as the secretary of the interior shall by general regulations prescribe: Provided, that no limitation of acreage not provided for under the law or regulations under which any such oil lease was issued shall be applicable to any such new lease."

Mayor Carper explained that under the former provisions, holders of "B" leases issued before Jan. 1, 1940, could renew them only at a disadvantage. Passage of the bill will effect a considerable saving to operators, he said.

Previously Senator O'Mahoney of Wyoming introduced a bill designed to extend for a year leases on federal lands, which under existing legislation would expire next Dec. 31.

The Harry Fletcher family left this morning to return to their former home at Fayetteville, Ark.

Star Route to Lovington Will Be Established

Sealed bids for a star route to be established between Artesia and Lovington in the near future will be received by the Post Office Department, Washington, D. C., up to Sept. 26, it was announced by J. L. Truett, Artesia postmaster.

The route will be from Artesia to Loco Hills, Maljamar, Buckeye, and Lovington, a distance of 86 1/2 miles, and return, and will be covered six days a week. It will be necessary to make bond of $4,500.

The new route will give Artesia a direct communication outlet to West Texas.

Heretofore all mail into Artesia from West Texas, or out of here for there, has had to take quite a roundabout route, often causing a delay of many hours.

PULL THE OLD ONSIDE KICK OUT OF THE BAG

THE FACT so many United States troops have been air-borne in recent weeks possibly has been a matter of wonder to citizens of the Artesia community and other communities, where phases of the glider training program were being carried out about two years ago. When the pre-glider school at Artesia was closed the latter part of 1942, it was generally understood the program was being curtailed and that no more glider pilots were to be trained.

We were led to believe that although the Germans had used glider transportation at Crete and other places to great advantage, the plan was thought to be profitable no longer. But the Army evidently slipped one over on us, as well as on the nation as a whole and, we trust, on the Germans.

Perhaps the glider, although known and well understood, has been used as a secret weapon. Certainly we have not heard of pilot training for many months. It's just like the old onside kick, many years ago in football. It became quite popular, so popular in fact that it became outmoded, and coach after coach discarded it.

But it was not removed from the rules. And Bob Zuppke, Illinois mentor, reached in his bag of tricks more than twenty years ago, when we were a student at Illinois, and came up with the onside kick, when everyone else had forgotten it.

Prior to the game in which he planned to spring it, he called it to the attention of the referee and other officials. Some of them never had seen it, perhaps had not heard of it. But Zuppke proved to them that the play was legal and asked them to watch for it.

Then at a crucial point in the game—against Michigan, as we recall—the onside kick was used, to the surprise of the visiting team, all of the spectators, and the press box boys.

Nobody, except Zuppke and his Illini, knew what had happened, except that an Illinois player had kicked and that another had caught the ball and had run, unmolested, for a touchdown, with the Wolverines standing around laughing at the crazy fool toting the ball.

And the play stuck, as did the score. And Illinois won the game. However, just for the record, the onside kick was made illegal within the next year or two.

We might call the use of gliders an onside kick, in which the man who receives the ball must be behind the kicker at the time of the kick. Then he bolts forward and snatches the pigskin for a touchdown deep in enemy territory.

That is the way the glider-borne type of warfare was played, until it became more or less a common thing, too common to attract any further notice.

So the coaches of the United States and Allies said it was antedated and would not be used by us. But the coaches did not forget the play, although the other team did, as did the spectators, both on our side and on the other. And then they pulled a fast one, just as did Bob Zuppke in about 1920 or 1921, using the onside play, in which the gliders started from behind the line of scrimmage, soared over the head of the enemy and landed in his territory, close to the goalline.

And that is just what has happened. And it will be so much easier to make a touchdown from there. Just watch and see.

LITTLE LESSONS IN ENGLISH

FRANK COLBY, author of the syndicated column, "Take My Word for It," always has some good pointers in grammar, pronunciations, definitions, and the like, of value to those of us who deal in words in our business, as well as everyone else who uses the English language. And sometimes he gets off a honey.

Recently he received from a correspondent in Los Angeles: "Thanks for rebuking those who 'feel badly.' It makes one feel 'sadly' to hear it, because it sounds so 'carelessly.' I hope I never make this error, for it would make me feel regretfully."

To which Colby replied: "Thanks, amigo; you make me feel 'finely.'"

And to that we would add, we hope this little lesson will make some of our friends "more smartly."

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "For your obedience is come abroad unto all men. I am glad therefore on your behalf: but yet I would have you wise unto that which is good, and simple concerning evil." (Rom. 16:19).

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook: "Belieffogged in error (the error of believing that matter can be intelligible for good or evil), we can catch clear glimpses of God only as the mists disperse, or as they melt into such thinness that we perceive the divine image in some word or deed which indicates the true idea.—the supremacy and reality of good, the nothingness and unreality of evil." Regulations For Hunting Are Announced

Pheasant Season To Open at Noon Here on Oct. 21

Dates, special seasons, and general information on both big game and bird seasons in New Mexico have been announced by the State Game Commission. The regulations and dates pertaining to migratory waterfowl are in conformity with those set by the Bureau of Fish and Wildlife, formerly the Biological Survey. Information as to dates, areas, and permit numbers for the antelope season were given in last week's issue.

The commission set two different pheasant seasons for various sections of the state. In the Pecos Valley in Eddy and Chaves Counties from Lakewood to six miles north of Roswell and east of the range line between ranges 21 and 22 east, and in some other sections, the season will be from noon Saturday, Oct. 21, to sunset Monday, Oct. 23. The bag limit will be two cock pheasants for the season.

A thirty-day statewide season on Gambel and scaled quail from sunrise Nov. 10 to sundown Dec. 10 was set. The bag limit will be twelve birds a day and forty-eight for the entire season, with a possession limit of twelve.

The season on ducks, geese, and coot will be Nov. 2 to Jan. 20, inclusive, extending ten days from the season set last year. A wire service report in some of the dailies a few days ago gave the closing date as Jan. 30, which was in error.

The daily bag limit on ducks is ten and in addition five singly or in the aggregate of mallards, pintails, and widgeons. Two geese may be taken daily. Any hunter may possess double the daily bag limit of ducks or geese, except on opening day.

Bag limit and possession limit on coot is twenty-five. The federal bag limit on American and red-breasted mergansers, fishduck, is twenty-five, while there are no state restrictions. Seasons on lesser game birds: Blue grouse, Sept. 23-26, season limit of five birds; handtail pigeons, Sept. 16-Oct. 15, ten per day or in possession; rails and gallinules, Sept. 1-Nov. 30, bag and possession limit fifteen.

The shooting hours for migratory birds of all kinds is a half hour before sunrise to sunset. Shooting hours on quail, grouse, and pheasants are sunrise to sunset.

Upland and migratory birds may be taken only by means of a shotgun not larger than 12-gauge. Rifles and pistols of any kind or caliber are prohibited in taking birds of any kind except turkeys. No shooting is permitted over baited grounds, and live decoys may not be used. The use of livestock for blinds is prohibited.

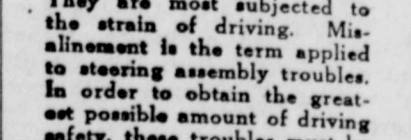

The possession limit of migratory birds may be held in storage for forty-five days after close of season. The possession limit of upland birds, such as quail and pheasants, may be held in storage for twenty days after close of season. In general, the big-game season on deer, turkey, and squirrel will be Nov. 10-21. In addition, fifty permits for elk of either sex will be issued for the west side of Vermejo Park at a fee of $10. The final date for receiving applications will be Oct. 23.

Six special deer areas for the taking of either buck or doe deer have been announced. However, the West Sacramento area is not included this season. The regular big-game season and rules will apply there. The final dates for receiving applications for the special permits vary with the areas. More complete information on the dates, fees where required, and other regulations may be obtained at the Advocate office or from any license dealer.

Mrs. E. E. Coll and her daughter, Miss Addie Coll, who spent the summer at the Coll cabin in Ruidoso, have returned to their home here. A. B. Coll went to Ruidoso for them last week.

Is This America?

BY BILL DUNNAM

Governor John J. Dempsey's radio speech at Carlsbad last week was the typical New Deal balderdash, smear and ranting of a man who fears he may be defeated.

The Governor was quite angry with this writer because we had dared him of blacktopping streets in West Carlsbad at this particular time in the hopes of influencing the vote. He denied he had given the blacktopping any thought or consideration.

The Governor's talk was the usual New Deal type. All successful men are selfish and heartless; all Republicans were crooks; only the Dealers have any boys or relatives in this war, hence only New Dealers know anything about it. Only the New Deal had done anything for the poor, the lame, the halt and the blind.

If Governor Dempsey had said only the New Deal had stooped so low as to use public money to try and buy the votes of those groups, it would have been speaking truthfully.

As a taxpaying citizen, Governor, we'd like to ask you a few questions. Questions Eddy County citizens want straight-from-the-shoulder answers.

You claim you had been working with Carlsbad city officials for many months on the blacktopping for West Carlsbad and politics did not get into it.

IF THAT IS TRUE, WHY DID YOU ANNOUNCE IT THROUGH THE NEW DEAL COUNTY CHAIRMAN, CHARLIE MONTGOMERY, INSTEAD OF CITY OFFICIALS?

Second, your reference to my accusation was, to put it mildly, negative. You lead your listeners to believe I referred to oil in it. I said no such thing. I said, "materials."

"Materials," Governor, could mean asphalt—Oklahoma asphalt. Were you dealing in oil when you became known throughout the state as "Asphalt Jack?"

Is it true that shortly after you became governor, you appointed Clyde Oden as chairman of the highway commission and at one of the meetings you demanded of Oden that the commission purchase a certain number of cars of Oklahoma asphalt which you had on a road siding waiting for action by the commission?

Is it true that Clyde Oden refused and resigned from the commission? Or did Oden purchase that shipment before resigning?

Is it true that, while you were a congressman from New Mexico, an Oklahoma Asphalt company paid you $6,000 (1938) and charged it up their income tax return as "entertainment," and that the Federal income tax officials took the company into a Federal District court in Oklahoma, and according to the court records, the only service the company could show that you had rendered for the $6,000 was you had deducted seventy odd dollars and some cents demurrage for the company?

Is it true that on your recent campaign trip to Carlsbad and this part of the state you used a state-owned car, driven by a state-paid employee, using gasoline paid for by the taxpayers and that you were carried on the trip by a number of high salaried state employees, who were paid as flunkies?

Don't you think you went beyond the pale of decency and truthfulness when you insinuated that all Republicans were crooks?

Don't you think a Governor is getting pretty low when he smears the governors who have been dead to these many years?

Now, Governor, having asked a few questions, we are going to tell you a few things.

Since hearing your broadcast, I want to change the statement in my former ad in which I intimated you were doing the blacktopping in West Carlsbad to influence the voters over there.

I think now that you believe you can buy their votes with $25,000 of their own money.

Speaking before an audience that night in Carlsbad, George Shipman, candidate for attorney general on the Republican ticket, said:

"I'm from Tennessee; Bill is from Alabama. Tennesseans and Alabamians never had much truck with each other because they were usually feudin' among themselves. Bill and I brought that feud to Mexico. The only time Tennesseans and Alabamians stand shoulder-to-shoulder and fight an enemy is when one of us is attacked by a many Hall Carpetbagger. We are with you, Bill."

We appreciate your interest in the oil industry in and around Carlsbad, Governor, but that was a flourishing industry when I first came to this section in 1927, several years before you arrived, wasn't it? So you can hardly claim credit for that industry.

Here's something, though, Governor, you can claim full credit for. You and other New Dealers can take full credit for darn near strangling that business, and nearly every other line of business, to death by your rules, regulations, executive orders, crackpot and screwball decisions and directives.

Adios, Governor.

PEPPER ERUPTS

Senator Claud Pepper, smear artist de luxe for the forces Hillman-Browder-Roosevelt, speaking before Hillman-Browder followers in California recently, just about violated every principal of decency that can be referred to Governor Dewey, candidate for the Presidency, one who has to sit on a telephone directory to fill a man's chair." Every American will resent such a slur, although they have begun to suspect any and everything un-American from men like Pepper and the foreign ideologies and philosophy of government he represents. The Republican party wouldn't hesitate two minutes to toss out on his ear any speaker who referred to Mr. Roosevelt, because of his affliction, as "Old Limberlegs," or "His brain is as wobbly as his legs."

If Democrats had control of their party, Pepper would be denounced, as he should be, but due to the fact that the present Democratic party is under the complete control of such figures as Russian-born Sidney Hillman and Earl Browder, no such action will be taken.

In slurring men of short-stature, Pepper belittles such men as Winston Churchill, Joe Stalin, Generalissimo Chiang, the late Theodore Roosevelt and many others. All of those are shorter than Dewey who is five feet, eight inches.

Girl Scout Group Makes Growth In Few Months of Organization; Citywide Interest Is Increasing

Interest in both Scouts, mothers, and others in Artesia in the Girl Scout program has steadily increased since the organization of the Artesia Girl Scout Association last spring, at which time Mrs. Mark A. Corbin was elected president of the association.

Plans are now being made for "Girl Scout Week," which is to be observed from Oct. 22 to Nov. 4. A poster contest has been announced and is open to any girl between the ages of 7 and 18 years. The contest has been divided into three classes: Group 1, 7-10 years; group 2, 10-15 years, and group 3, 15-18 years. Prizes offered are $1.25 for first prize and 75 cents for second prize in all three classes. Winning posters are to be exhibited during "Girl Scout Week."

A request has been received from national headquarters for all Girl Scout Associations to stress hospital work during the observation of "Girl Scout Week." A request is being made by the local president that each troop do something for Artesia Memorial Hospital during the week. There are many things which can be done by the girls, such as making favors for sick trays, and sewing and mending by the older girls, Mrs. Corbin said.

Girl Scouts over the nation have been called on by the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Association to assist in the collection of used clothing for use this coming winter in European countries. The city of Artesia is to be divided into districts, it has been announced by J. D. Josey, chairman of the clothing drive for this city, and a systematic drive is to be made, he said. Everyone is urged to save good used clothing and have it clean and in order.

Girl Scouts of Artesia are ready to assist when the time comes for the drive.

A capping ceremony will be held early in October for two classes of girls in the Hospital Aide Group. One class has finished and passed its tests; the second group is now organized and beginning study.

Miss Capitola J. Hill, state staff member for Southern New Mexico, is to be here the first week in October. Miss Hill, who comes very highly recommended as a trained leader, expects to spend some time each month in Artesia in the interest of Girl Scouting. A recommendation has been sent in to have Miss Hill make Artesia her headquarters in the valley.

More leaders are going to be needed. Anyone who is interested in taking leadership training is requested to contact Mrs. Corbin, president of the association.

Members of Troop 1, intermediates, were joined by Troop 2 last Thursday evening at the home of their leader, Mrs. Vilas P. Sheldon, for a cook-out. Fire builders were Norma Smith, Betty Brown, Virginia Green, and Betty Ann Arnold. Cooks were Fid Hamill, Dorris Stevens, and Opal Stone. Hoppers were Patricia Early, Patricia Brown, and Majorie Rogers. Mrs. Fred Jacobs, Mrs. Howard Gissler, and Mrs. Grady Booker are committeewomen.

Members of Troop 2, Brownies, Mrs. R. A. Thomas, leader, Mrs. C. V. Miller, assistant leader, and Mrs. Joe Nunn, Mrs. J. D. Smith, and Mrs. Marshall Rowley, committeewomen, hiked to the home of Mrs. Nunn one day this week for an hour of games in the

Their granddaughters, of whom Miss Bernice Marie Baldwin of Artesia was one of the four, presided at the punch bowl and served angelfood squares. Plate favors were wedding bands with the inscription: "From C. B. to P. H., Sept. 5, 1894."

Entertainment rooms of the Baldwin home were decorated with pink roses and daisies and in the dining room was a large golden bouquet of marigolds.

Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin have lived in Lamesa since 1925. They farmed the first four years of their married life, later were in the mercantile and grocery business for a few years, and since have been in the dry goods business, in which Mr. Baldwin is still actively engaged.

To Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin seven children were born, six of whom are living. A son, Bernice F., died of wounds in World War I. Two other sons served in World War I and a son and a grandson are in the service now. Eight of their ten grandchildren were present for the celebration.

They are active members of the Baptist Church in Lamesa and Mr. Baldwin is active in business circles of the city.

Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin make frequent trips to Artesia to visit their son and his family and in interests of Baldwin's Store.

Many Entries Are Expected at Fall Flower Show Here

Many entries are expected to be made at the coming fall flower show, which is being sponsored by the Garden Club Saturday at the Service Club.

Anyone who has flowers in Artesia or the Artesia communities is eligible to exhibit in any of the five classes of dahlias, roses, perennials and annuals, table arrangements, and pitcher arrangements.

All exhibits must be at the Service Club and arranged by 10 o'clock Saturday morning. The show is open to the public without admission charge from 2 to 8 o'clock.

Bring your flowers and own containers. A list of the classifications will be found at the place of the show and members of the Garden Club will be there to assist those who wish to exhibit.

Whether it is a single blossom or many, bring them, help make the show one to be remembered, said club members.

Why is there a shortage of new telephone facilities?

COMMUNICATIONS equipment is vital to our fighting men on land, at sea and in the air. Switchboards, wire, cable and telephone instruments are helping achieve the coordination so vital in this swift-moving war.

That's why manufacture of telephone instruments and equipment for civilian use was stopped nearly two years ago. Certain orders such as those connected with war, public health and safety are being handled promptly but other requests for service must depend on release of telephones through disconnections.

If you are waiting, your understanding is genuinely appreciated.

Junior Woman's Club Opens Season With Luncheon at Roof Garden; Largest Membership Ever Recorded

The Artesia Junior Woman's Club opened the club year Wednesday with a splendid program and luncheon at the Artesia Hotel Roof Garden with seventy-six members and guests in attendance. The program theme was "Post-War Air Travel," in which imaginary trips were taken to foreign countries as musicians played and sang compositions of each country.

The first trip was to Ireland, when Mrs. Stanley Carper and Mrs. Wallace Gates played piano duet numbers of Irish composition, and Mrs. Gates, a Spanish number on the visit to Spain. Mrs. I. L. Spratt sang two lovely numbers by American composers and the Artesia High School sextet, under the direction of Howard Miller, rendered two numbers by American composers, of which the last was "The Yucca," the state flower of New Mexico Federation of Women's Clubs. The last trip to a foreign country was to China, when Mrs. Ralph Hayes reviewed "Burma Surgeon".

Greater than "The Good Earth"!

That's the only way to describe "Dragon Seed," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer filmization of this other literary landmark by Pearl Buck, who knows China and the Chinese people the way few other Americans do.

Here is the powerful, memorable story of the valiant Chinese in their struggle against the bestial Japanese militarist invaders. Here is the heart and soul of a nation transcribed to the screen in a truly epic manner, coming Oct. 1-4 to the Ocotillo Theater in a regional premier, booked four days ahead of Denver.

M-G-M has spared nothing to make this one of the most magnificent pieces of film entertainment ever produced. Merely to say in print that the cast is headed by such an imposing array of superb entertainers as Katherine Hepburn, Walter Huston, Aline MacMahon, Akin Tamiroff, Turhan Bey and many, many other outstanding performers cannot possibly convey the broad scope and strength of "Dragon Seed."

It is the moving story of Ling Tan (Walter Huston) and his family, who work their peaceful rice fields. The time is 1937. Suddenly the peace is shattered; the Japanese marauders are upon the pleasant, fertile valley.

Miss Hepburn and Turhan Bey, the sensational young newcomer, who share the leading romantic roles, both are their superb best, as are Huston and all the others, including Hurd Hatfield, another newcomer who will capture your heart and your imagination; J. Carol Naish, Frances Rafferty, Agnes Moorehead, and Henry Travers.

Pfc. John Gladfelter, stationed at Camp Howze, Tex., is here this week visiting Mrs. Gladfelter and their infant son, Donald Frank, who make their home with Mrs. Gladfelter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Youtsey.

Section 85. Appliance Installation Requirements.—(a) Domestic appliances hereafter installed must meet the American Standard Approval or Listing Requirements as to safety, efficiency of operation and durability of construction.

(b) The rated input capacity of gas appliances is based on sea level conditions. This rating must be reduced five per cent for each one thousand feet of altitude at the point of installation.

(c) Appliances shall be adequately supported and so connected to the piping as not to exert undue strain on the connection. Appliances shall be installed so that all parts are accessible for operation, adjustment, and repair.

(d) No gas appliance should be installed within six inches of any combustible material unless insulation or other adequate fire prevention methods are utilized. Each appliance connection must include an accessible gas cutoff in addition to any cutoff on the appliance.

(e) Water heaters shall not be installed in any bathroom, bedroom or unventilated space.

(f) No gas appliance, other than laboratory or similar equipment, shall be connected with non-metallic tubing.

(g) No device or attachment shall be installed on any appliance which may in any way impair the combustion of gas.

for Your PROTECTION

This clipping is taken from Safety Rules and Regulations, General Order Number 6, Effective November 17, 1941, promulgated by the New Mexico Public Service Commission.

Rubber hose connections are unsafe because they deteriorate and allow gas to escape... they are easily disconnected by children... anyone can trip over them, causing disconnection... they are inflammable. Why take the unnecessary chance that one of these accidents will strike your family? Your Gas Company has the rigid, metal tube connections and will install them for you. Take care of this important matter today before cold weather arrives. Make your home safe, as well as comfortable, for your family.

Faith, Hope, Love

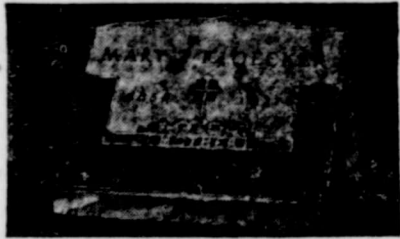

To express our faith in the immortality of the soul, our hope of the resurrection of the dead and our love for those who have passed over Jordan, indeed to express the greatest emotions of the human soul, there is no truer, finer monumental stone to be found than genuine

WINNSBORO BLUE GRANITE

"The Silk of the Trade"

And here are the reasons why:
(1) It is superbly beautiful because it is made up of the substance of precious stones and gems.
(2) It is most lasting because it is composed of the most durable minerals known.
(3) Inscriptions on it are clearly legible because of the marked contrast between cut and polished surfaces.

There are many granites which have a surface resemblance to Winnsboro Blue Granite, but they do not possess its durable qualities and lasting beauty. Write for Free descriptive literature.

Gadgets? I love 'em.

A periscope on cars, instead of the little old mirror? ... Doors that slide? ... Or a sunshine top? Bring 'em on! Till then, however, my one main idea is to keep this car rolling. I need to. You can start naming motor oils or anything else that you think's helpful. First though, I want to warn you not to let engine acids do their worst damage, when you can easily outsmart them by getting your engine's insides OIL-PLATED. Listen, right on a can of Conoco Nth motor oil you'll read about Nth oil's modern synthetic. It works something like magnetism. That's how it makes metal surfaces keep hold of OIL-PLATING. Then what if the engine explosions produce deadly corrosive acids, as every expert and his brother will tell you? Those acids still wouldn't gnaw direct at fine steel that's shielded by OIL-PLATING—a real acid-fighter! It fights for your car. While waiting for new ones—who knows how long?—don't delay switching to Conoco Nth oil.

By BILL DUNNAM

The message to the E. A. Hannah family from the War that Pilot Dale Hannah has been missing in the South August 30 was discouraging, the family and friends are hope. Department notified the M. C. Roberts family, more than the death of their son, and months later, it developed he never, well, but not exactly happy. We have heard of many also, with the same happy ending. Possible that Dale may still be safe and sound on some remote section of the world. It might be weeks, or even months could be located and rescued. Possible, too, that he may be a prisoner of the Japs. In the while we wait and hope for his safety and his return, let us pray for it, as well as that of the thousands of our boys fighting themselves in similar situations. Still waiting for you, Dale. We refuse to give up all hope.

WE ARE SORRY

Hands, we are sorry we couldn't get a larger place for the week when we presented seven of our state candidates, Carroll G. Gunderson, for Governor, and Manuel Lujan, to our Republican and Democratic friends. Best place we could secure was the Artesia Hotel Coffee room about 60 comfortably. We seated and fed 82 there. Halfway through the list of those whom we thought would be attending and meeting the candidates, the capacity of the room had been exceeded. Into a similar, but worse condition at Carlsbad. Insufficient time, only a very few days, after receiving they were coming. After getting the notice there was no time between then and the time of arrival, hence the lack of time to have them back here and if we do, we'll try and meeting to which all will be invited and can be accommodated. Plenty of advance notice to tell the world about it. It hadn't been for Mrs. Albert Richards, Mrs. Earl Darst and their assistants at Carlsbad, the writer doesn't know what would have been done. Thanks a thousand times, folks.

FALSE CLAIMS ABOUT SOCIAL WELFARE
New Deal's oft-repeated claim that it is the pioneer in American welfare legislation is so absurd that it should need no refutation. It is a brief TRUE record:

CHILD LABOR

In 1900 and 1913 eleven States adopted laws limiting the labor of children. Of these eleven States the legislatures of the Republican. In 1909 thirty-one States had laws regulating or prohibiting work by children. Of these the laws of ten States could be inadequate and of these seven had been passed by Republican. Child Labor Amendment which is still before the States to be introduced by Representative Foster (Rep.) of Ohio and McBridge (Rep.) of California. This proposal passed a Republican and Senate by votes of 279 to 69 and 61 to 23 respectively. Immediately following 12 years of Republican administration the Children's Bureau reported: "At the present time our farms rely only to a small and decreasing extent upon the young persons." Large majority of children (eighty-four percent) who are employed live in States which have constantly been under the control. The Democratic States are the New Deal strong-and bearing on the subject of Child Labor are the facts of Public Education. In 1910 there were only a little over one million students in the high schools. In 1930 there were almost five million high school students. In the decade of 1920-1930, preceding the New Deal, the increase of students was practically the same as in the New Deal decade of 1930-1940. For public education of every kind the American people spent less than $5 per head in 1910, $10 in 1920, $19 in 1930 and a dollar less or $18 in 1940.

EDUCATION

OLD AGE PENSIONS

Experimental legislation on this subject began in 1914; a wider advance was made in 1923 and the big permanent forward movement was dated 1928. Between 1928-32 eleven States passed old age pension laws. This was before Mr. Roosevelt was elected for his first term. When the New Deal was still in its infancy and before it began to work on this subject there were old age pensions in no less than 25 States.

WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION

Measures which provide that injured laborers will receive adequate care and recompense without costly litigation were first adopted in 1902 in Maryland and in 1910 a Republican-dominated New York Assembly enacted the first modern law. By 1916 thirty-one States had passed 35 laws, for 18 of which the Republican Party was directly responsible; the Democratic Party sponsored only 8, while 7 were passed by mixed legislatures.

In a law passed by a Republican Congress and signed by Theodore Roosevelt in 1908 the principle of workmen's compensation was applied to employees of the United States Government.

By 1920 forty-one States and the Federal Government had substituted compensation for the old liability laws.

In 1927 President Coolidge signed a bill establishing a compensation system for longshoremen and harbor workers and in 1928 approved a similar act for workmen in the District of Columbia. Both measures were passed by a Republican Congress.

COLLECTIVE BARGAINING

As early as 1896 the Republican Party recognized the right of labor to collective bargaining and the need for mediation to avoid the conflict and industrial paralysis caused by strikes and lockouts; on June 1, 1898 President McKinley signed the Erdman Act which provided for mediation and conciliation in the settlement of disputes between carriers and their employees. A Republican Congress passed the Railroad Labor Act of 1926 which improved upon the Erdman Act.

This is but a thumb-nail sketch of the social conscience of the United States before the New Deal, but it shows plainly that recognition of human needs and values does not date from 1933 and that the Republican Party has led the way in our most important social reforms.

Let us remember also that by far the greatest piece of social legislation ever enacted in this country was conceived by Republican statesmen and signed in 1862 by President Abraham Lincoln, The EMANCIPATION PROCLAMATION which abolished slavery!
