

Athletic Board of Control Tracks Grid Play-Off Plan

Votes Proposition Down, But Leaves It Action of Member High Schools, Case Referendum Is Petitioned

An immediate decision on a proposed state play-off for football was tracked last week at a meeting in Albuquerque of the board of the New Mexico High School Athletic Association, but was left open for a referendum vote of member schools. The board met Wednesday evening of last week in connection with the annual convention of the New Mexico Educational Association and by a vote of 8 to 0 the proposal, advanced several weeks ago by E. Jackson, Lovington sports fan. The proposal was presented by Jackson, who said he had letters from about half of the schools in the state favor a means of playing the best team each season. E. Kerr, superintendent of Artesia schools, who was in Albuquerque for the convention of the New Mexico Educational Association, represented not only Artesia High School, but also local fans, of whom met two weeks ago and went on record in favor of the proposition down.

Son of Early Publisher Is Back on Visit

H. D. Biles, a son of an early-day publisher of The Advocate, C. E. Biles, was a visitor in Artesia last Thursday. The son is associated with the American Manufacturing Company of Texas, located at Fort Worth, which handles oil field supplies. The elder Mr. Biles came to Artesia with his family from Sharon, Tenn., in April, 1905, when H. D. Biles was 10 years old. Gayle Talbot was publisher when the Biles family came and he took it back at the expiration of a one-year lease. C. E. Biles died in 1915, but Mrs. Biles is still living and makes her home with a daughter, who was born in Artesia and now lives in Wichita Falls, Tex.

VOLUME FORTY-ONE ARTESIA, NEW MEXICO, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 2, 1944 NUMBER 44

Bulldogs Take Eunice 7-6 Here Friday

Pool Snags Pass For Eighty-Yard Run—Monty Kicks

An eighty-yard run by Fred Pool on an intercepted pass for a touchdown and a place kick for extra point by Roy Montgomery gave the Artesia Bulldogs a win over Eunice 7 to 6 Friday evening on Morris Field here.

Coach F. L. Green's Bulldogs scored in the third quarter and Eunice in the fourth, when Gene Hill ran from the Artesia forty-yard line for a touchdown.

But on the try for extra point, the two teams piled up, with Everett Lapsley, Artesia end, and Melvin Wilkins, Eunice end, on the bottom of the heap, both knocked out.

Several of Lapsley's ribs were pulled loose, but he probably will be back in the game Friday evening, when the Clovis Wildcats come to Artesia.

The game was played to a scoreless tie in the first half, with Artesia having the edge on Eunice, making seven first downs to five for the visitors. In the closing minutes of the half, the Bulldogs staged a march down the field, with four consecutive first downs, but on intercepted pass inside the twenty gave Eunice the ball on the visitors' twenty-one. The half ended on third down.

Artesia again had the edge on first downs in the second half, making five, to four for Eunice. However, Eunice made a bold threat in the last minute of play, when a sleeper pass was attempted, after several other tries in the game, and the receiver was nailed in his tracks by Izzy Juarez, the only one of the Bulldogs between the receiver and the goalline.

Between halves the Artesia High School band put on a rousing demonstration with maneuvers, under the direction of J. Bud Farrar.

Coach Green's boys are cooking up some new plays this week to be sprung on the Clovis Wildcats, when the game starts at 7:30 o'clock Friday evening.

Extension Agent Warns of Range Fires This Fall

Dallas Rierson, Eddy County extension agent, this week warned farmers and ranchers of the great danger in the near future from range fires because of the lush vegetation, and suggested that they get together and take steps now to prevent the spread of fires.

He said the threat is especially great in the vicinity of the various bombing ranges, which the student bombardiers do not always hit.

Rierson said it would be well for farmers and ranchers to make fire guards before killing frosts bring about a dry range condition, and plan to combat any fires which might be started either by practice bombs or other causes.

Candidates See Great Future For Oil Industry

Four Democratic candidates on the state ticket were in Artesia Friday and were entertained at noon at an informal dinner at the Carper Terrace, where each spoke briefly, chiefly in regard to aid to the oil industry and its great future in New Mexico.

The candidates were Clint Anderson, candidate for re-election to Congress; John E. Miles, former governor and candidate for land commissioner; Guy Shepard, candidate for state treasurer, and Clyde C. McCulloch, candidate for attorney general.

Congressman Anderson discussed the possibilities for the oil industry in New Mexico and said proposals of planning commissions indicate an expansion into the Western States after the war. He predicted this will have a good effect on business in New Mexico and the future of the oil industry.

With new developments in machines and transportation, oil will continue to be scarce, which should lead to more explorations for crude petroleum, Anderson said.

Miles pointed out his experience in the past with the development of the oil industry in the state, both as tax commissioner and as governor, has given him a knowledge of the industry.

After the war, he predicted, if the oil industry is encouraged, it probably will develop more than any other in the state.

Miles told his listeners they can be assured that if he is elected the Land Office will be conducted on a sound basis. Any assistance he can render will be gladly given, he said.

Pointing out his familiarity with the oil business, Miles recalled that he was one of nine governors who appeared before the Cole Committee in Washington, and that he attended a hearing here of the Public Lands Sub-Committee of Congress. He has made a study of the industry and will be able to guide the affairs of oil men, Miles said.

Shepard said he realizes the biggest source of revenue in New Mexico comes from the oil fields. He is interested that the sources of revenue be kept in good condition, so he is interested in keeping up the oil industry, he said. Shepard said he will work with the commissioner of public lands if elected.

McCulloch referred to his three years of experience in the attorney general's office as evidence of his knowledge of work in the office and his qualifications to carry on. He pointed out the fact the office has been run to the satisfaction of the public and that as a member of the staff, he knows what the people want. The public wants advice to be correct, honest, and unbiased, and in conformity with the laws, McCulloch said.

Grady Booker of Artesia spoke briefly, saying Congressman Anderson was the only politician invited to talk at the recent oil men's meeting in Dallas and that his remarks were a credit to the state of New Mexico. "The people would have been proud of Clint," Booker said.

MASONS WILL CONFER THIRD DEGREE TONIGHT

A special meeting of the Artesia Masonic Lodge will be held this evening for the purpose of conferring a third degree.

Gov. Dempsey to Continue Fight For Oil Price Hike

Gov. John J. Dempsey is continuing his fight for a raise in the price of crude petroleum in New Mexico, as he has been doing many months.

He announced this week he will leave next Thursday for Washington, D. C., to confer with Judge Fred Vinson, head of price control of the Office of Price Administration.

JOHN J. DEMPSEY

in behalf of independent oil men of New Mexico, for the purpose of securing a raise of 10 to 12 cents a barrel in the price of oil.

Such a raise, the governor said, will bring the New Mexico price up to parity with that received in North Texas.

Governor Dempsey will meet with Judge Vinson and other officials in the capital, making a plea that the existing price of oil in this state is not on parity with that in other states.

The governor made a trip to Washington some months ago on a similar mission and has been constantly hammering at officials there in behalf of producers in his state.

Congressman Clint Anderson and Antonio M. Fernandez of New Mexico likewise have been striving to have an equitable raise approved in the price of crude oil.

V. S. Holley of Artesia Dies In Albuquerque

Virgal Sigsby Holley, a resident of Artesia since the early oil boom days, died in Albuquerque Wednesday night of last week on the way to a hospital from the station, after making the trip by rail for treatment at the hands of a specialist for complications arising from pneumonia. He was ill of pneumonia nearly a month and was a patient at Artesia Memorial Hospital. It was decided Wednesday of last week to take him to the specialist in Albuquerque.

The body was taken to Tolar, N. M., Mr. Holley's old home and the present home of his parents. Funeral services were conducted at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the Baptist Church of Taiban, N. M., by the Rev. B. M. Jackson, pastor there, assisted by the Rev. S. M. Morgan of Artesia, pastor of the Baptist Church. Burial was in the cemetery at Tolar.

Mr. Holley is survived by his widow and five children, Mrs. H. B. McCormick, Kermit, Tex.; Pfc. Raymond Holley, San Antonio, Tex.; Mrs. W. H. Bynum, Gladys Holley, and Marvin Holley, Artesia. Also surviving are two sisters, Mrs. E. G. Dennis, Wink, Tex.; Mrs. B. F. Mayes, Portales, Carl Holley, New York, and Garry Holley, Oregon, and four grandchildren.

Virgal Sigsby Holley was born June 30, 1898, at Bailey, Okla. He married Miss Vera Smith of Taiban May 4, 1920, and to them were born the five children mentioned.

Mr. Holley followed work in the oil fields in Oklahoma and Texas before coming to New Mexico after the discovery of oil. He was considered an excellent mechanic. He had been a member of the Baptist Church since he was 16 years old.

Mrs. Holley and all the children, as well as Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Edmonson of Artesia, were present at the funeral.

Advocate Plans Election Party Tuesday Evening

The customary election party for the Artesia community will be at The Advocate office next Tuesday evening.

Results from Eddy County boxes and the state at large, as well as any national news received, will be compiled and given as rapidly as possible.

In order to facilitate this service, judges from all boxes in North Eddy County are asked to bring, send, or phone in the unofficial returns promptly. The Advocate will exchange returns with the Carlsbad Current-Argus, which will compile figures for South Eddy County. The two newspapers, working together, should be able to give a reasonably complete picture of the county within reasonable time.

As to election day itself, it is the duty of every qualified voter to go to the polls and vote—as he sees fit, that is the American way, the democratic way, for which the boys in service are fighting.

Demos Offer Clubs $200 to Get Out Vote

In an effort to get out the vote on election day next Tuesday—all votes, regardless of party affiliation—the Eddy County Democratic Central Committee is offering $200 in cash in a contest among women's organizations.

The Artesia Woman's Club, Sub-Deb Club, and American Legion Auxiliary have entered the contest, for the plan fits in with objectives of the organizations.

Mrs. Elmer Perry has been named chairman for the Women's Club, including the Sub-Deb Club, and Mrs. Leon Smith for the Auxiliary.

The club which registers through its members the greatest number of voters in North Eddy County will be given $150. Second prize will be $50.

It is hoped that through the contest every qualified elector will go to the polls Tuesday. The two chairwomen said each is to be conducted to the polls in a dignified manner.

The clubs are not interested in how anyone votes, only that everyone does vote. As it is an objective of the organizations to urge not only their own members, but all women to exercise their franchise, they will strive to see that all will vote for those whom they think best fitted for the various offices, in order that democracy for which the boys are fighting will not die.

Should any mother find it impossible to go to the polls because of small children, or illness in the home, she may call Democratic headquarters, or Mrs. Smith, phone 417, or Mrs. Perry, phone 569, and there will be someone to assist her. Or if transportation is needed, any of the three may be called.

Members of the organization do not plan to use their cars to take people to the polls unless it is necessary, in which case they will be glad to assist.

BALLOTS, PRINTED BY ADVOCATE, ARE READY

Ballots for the general election next week, 17,000 of them, have been delivered to the county clerk's office and are ready for distribution to the polling places.

The job, involving considerable detail and precision work, was done by The Advocate. The ballots for each box are numbered consecutively in two places, calling for constant vigilance while being printed.

OLD-AGE REPRESENTATIVE TO BE HERE WEDNESDAY

A representative of the Bureau of Old-Age and Survivors Insurance, Social Security Board, Roswell, will be in Artesia Wednesday afternoon. Anyone wanting to contact him should telephone or go to the Chamber of Commerce office.

Sgt. Bettye Brainard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reed Brainard, has arrived safely in the Netherlands East Indies, according to a letter her parents received Monday.

Legion Plans Secretary to Assist Vets

Post Would Employ Someone to Find Jobs, File Claims

A committee headed by Fred Brainard was named last evening at the November meeting of the American Legion to work out a plan for the appointment and payment of a secretary to serve returning servicemen, by way of employment and other problems relative to their return to civil life.

The exact duties of the proposed secretary were not outlined, but it came out in general discussion that such a person is needed now and will be needed more badly as more men are discharged, especially after Germany and Japan are defeated and the boys come home in great numbers.

It would be the secretary's job to contact every serviceman when he returns home, striving to help him find gainful employment, assist him in making and filing various kinds of claims, and in general help him take up civilian life where he left off.

J. B. Muncy, post commander, named Oscar Samelson, Oren C. Roberts, Howard Whitson, and M. E. Baish as members of the committee to serve with Brainard. It will be up to the committee to work out a plan and report at the December meeting.

The members had considerable discussion as to the method of financing a secretary, whether it should be done entirely within the Legion membership or outside assistance should be sought.

The discussion and subsequent action was taken after the reading of a letter from Brainard, who was unable to be at the meeting. Brainard was appointed more than a year ago to the Eddy County Selective Service Board to serve in North Eddy County as re-employment committeeman, a job which he feels should have the attention of someone who can give it ample time, either as a part-time or full-time secretary. The administration would have to remain in Brainard's hands, but the detail work would be under the American Legion's secretary plan.

Recognition of the services during the last Legion year was awarded three members of the post by means of cards signed by Warren H. Atherton, national commander for 1944. They were presented Oscar Samelson, past district commander; Oren C. Roberts, past post commander, and Bill Dunham, past post adjutant.

DEWEY'S MISTAKE

GOVERNOR DEWEY'S attempts to picture President Roosevelt as an old man in his dotage are nauseating. If the Republican nominee for president of the United States, who is only 42 years old, really feels that Mr. Roosevelt is old and feeble, he should show him more respect.

Truth of the matter is Mr. Dewey does not feel that way. He knows Mr. Roosevelt is an antagonist worthy of his steel and he is hitting with every verbal punch that he can think of—and at times he is not so careful about where his blows land.

Mr. Dewey, in his speech of Tuesday night (Oct. 24), was guilty of the worst kind of sarcasm (whose origin was in words meaning "to tear flesh like dogs.")

Read again what he said in describing President Roosevelt's Saturday night (Oct. 21), speech:

"He (the President) sat by the fireside and dreamed of yesterday. He paraded before the American people ghosts of the dead past. He told us a few bits of history, carefully selected and then said, in effect, 'to ask me no questions—you are not entitled to know where we are going. Just leaving everything to me.'"

Even Mr. Roosevelt's political enemies know he is quick mentally and that his grasp of world conditions is far ahead of Mr. Dewey's, Mr. Dulles', Mr. Hoover's, or any other man's the Republicans can produce.

Mr. Dewey proved that when he jumped from lambasting Sidney Hillman to trying to prove that Mr. Roosevelt is an isolationist. (That is even more ridiculous than Mr. Dewey's attempt to show Mr. Roosevelt is an old, tired man.)

Today, Mr. Roosevelt's vision probably is years ahead of Mr. Dewey's. The word "probably" is used because no one knows what the future holds.

MR. DEWEY and his crowd are so wrapped up in trying to "unshackle" business, and open the till to big profits that they cannot see beyond the dollar mark. They dream of 1929, but refuse to think about the morning after the night before. They insist that government should leave business alone, leave the bills unpaid so business will be encouraged to expand, thus furnishing employment. They say nothing about what business should do for workers whom it was found necessary to lay off during hard times. They know that is a government problem, but they do not want to hear about it. They want no government control of themselves.

Some of Mr. Dewey's supporters are frank in saying they are afraid President Roosevelt, if re-elected, will try to feed the hungry people in countries devastated by war who will find themselves temporarily unable to take care of themselves. This nation, like a better off individual, should help the unfortunate. That is a matter of self protection as well as generosity. Nothing is more dangerous than a hungry man. That also applies to nations.

ALL IN ALL, Mr. Dewey has waged an unfair, tricky campaign. He has tried to be all things to all men. He has gone the president one better on Social Security. He claims to know the answers to the problems. He has said what the Roosevelt haters wanted him to say. He has pleased them tremendously. Being very vociferous, that section of the American population has yelled loud and long in its efforts to discredit Mr. Roosevelt.

When the shouting is all over, that crowd will find out something. They have been merely talking to one another and applauding one another. The masses of this nation have not been saying much—but that is where the votes are.

There was a time when Mr. Dewey may have stood a chance of being elected. But he took the wrong course. He permitted himself to be led into a campaign of abuse and bitter criticism aimed at President Roosevelt. He listened to the Roosevelt haters. All that did was to make votes for the president.

There was a time when many Roosevelt supporters were displeased with him. They would not have complained too much if Mr. Dewey had been elected—they might even have voted for him. But now, it's a different story. Mr. Dewey has made that group angry. They felt like it was their privilege to criticize the president, but anger swelled up inside of them when Mr. Dewey and his lieutenants began to abuse Mr. Roosevelt. And how could Mr. Dewey possibly win unless he took supporters from Mr. Roosevelt? Votes of the last three elections prove that.

This newspaper believes Mr. Dewey has lost any chance that he may have had of being elected. All he has done has been to bring out the bitterness of those who already were opposed to Mr. Roosevelt, to solidify those who already were for Mr. Roosevelt, and to swing back into line those Roosevelt supporters who were wavering.

That is what comes of abusing a man who has done so much for the masses—and that is where the votes are. People are fickle, but they are not that fickle. The spirit of appreciation has not disappeared entirely.—El Paso Times Oct. 26.

YEP, WE'VE BEEN THROUGH AGAIN

THE BOYS in the editorial rooms up and down the line have been having fun talking about the Carlsbad Caverns crowd, which is far more tame than the Carlsbad Caverns bats.

Well, we saw the "crow" Sunday and it isn't a crow at all; it's a raven, if we ever saw one, about which we wouldn't take an oath, but we think we have. And there is a difference, so we have been told by Webster's Guide to the Dumb, one of our constant companions, which convinces us that the critter is a real-for-sure raven.

The only reason we cannot prove that it was a raven we saw perched on various shoulders, being photographed, is that it quoth not.

And while we are on the Carlsbad Caverns, Col. Thomas Boles has added a new wrinkle to his talk at the Rock of Ages. He invites the many members of the Air Corps to stay for the daily bat flight, "as I would like to have you fliers see the bats. And I'd like to have the bats see you!"

Maybe the reason for reminding us of the mistakes of the last generation is to make us forget the mistakes of the present generation.—Aztec Independent-Review.

Very gratifying, the results of these international conferences. With all cards laid on the table, there is agreement on everything except who introduced the fifth ace.—Detroit News.

ORDERLY CATTLE MARKETING EXPECTED

Prospective adequate supplies of feed grain and roughage are expected to be a definite influence toward preventing the too rapid marketings of livestock. The pasture feed situation improved considerably in September, and the supply of feed grain on farms on Oct. 1 was indicated as about the same as a year ago. Present indications are that livestock and poultry will show a reduction of about 15 per cent next winter.

AMERICAN FARMERS HAVE DONE IT AGAIN

American farmers have established another food production record, War Food Administrator Marvin Jones says. There was no comfort for the enemy in the latest crop reports, which indicated new production records for corn, wheat, commercial vegetables, tree nuts and fruits, and grain sorghums.

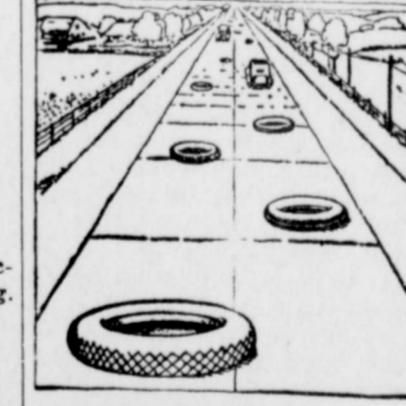

"With this year's all-time record food production," Judge Jones said, "we are safely through that critical period of expanding needs, both for immediate use and reserves, which challenged us at the beginning of the war."

Papa (sternly to son across the table): "Another bite like that and you'll leave the table."
Son: "Another bite like that and I'll be finished."

Farmers Must Apply To OPA Boards for Their Gas Rations

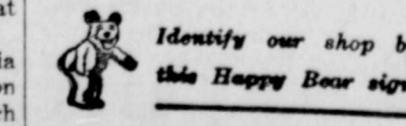

Under a new rationing procedure, farmers and ranchmen who apply for temporary and non-recurring gasoline rations will make application to OPA's local war price and rationing boards, rather than to ODT district offices. The rations will be issued by local boards, and appeals will be handled by OPA. The change is expected to improve service, as there are 5,500 local price and rationing boards, as compared with 142 ODT district offices. County farm transportation committees will continue to make recommendations on temporary gas allotments for trucks owned by farmers.

Bulova Teaches Disabled Veterans to Repair Watches

As a measure to aid physically handicapped war veterans, the Bulova Watch Company has built and dedicated a new Bulova school at Long Island, N. Y., to teach disabled veterans the science of watchmaking, clock, and instrument repairing and making, and jewelers country over are being asked to pledge jobs for graduates of the school so that the disabled soldiers will go directly to a well paid job of their own.

Jensen & Son of Artesia, in the interest of aid to disabled veterans, has chosen the following from the National Jeweler, explaining the school:

On April 21, 1944, the charter of the Bulova School of Watchmaking was granted by the Board of Regents of the State of New York. Arde Bulova, John H. Ballard, Samuel P. Epstein, Otto Brull, and Stanley Simon and their associates and successors were named as trustees of the institution to conduct a school in which students learn the art and trade of watch, clock and instrument repairing and making.

HELPS VETERANS

The school formally was dedicated on August 23. It was established to aid physically handicapped war veterans. This training will be given without charge to the veterans and without any reimbursement to Bulova from the government. Upon leaving the school, each student will receive in full the government's own allowance for the training of disabled veterans.

The training will not be limited to watch, clock and instrument repairing, but will include instruction in the essential duties required in the jewelry store. For this purpose, a model store will be set up at the school and each man will be taught waiting on trade, sales, and the school will be Howard L. Beecher, well known craftsman and former president of the Horological Institute of America.

SECURES POSITIONS

The object of the school is not only to train the veterans, but also to secure positions for them through the cooperation of retail jewelers throughout the country.

"SERVING THE WORLD"

The essence of American democracy is well expressed in the motto that shall ever be the motto of the Bulova School of Watchmaking—"To serve those who served us."

The school is at 62nd street, near Woodside avenue, Woodside, N. Y. Woodside is just across the river from New York proper and is Greater New York.—Jensen & Son, Jewelers pledged to employ at least one veteran, maybe more.

Calves in Junior Stock Show Bring $3,706 Saturday

Eddy County 4-H Club and FFA junior livestockmen were nearly $4,000 richer at the close of the annual show and auction in Carlsbad Saturday afternoon, when fifteen prize-winning animals brought a total of $3,706.91 in sales prices and prize money.

Billy Woods, Carlsbad, sent his grand champion Hereford into the sales ring with $100 prize money on his head to sell at a bid of 30.5 cents a pound. The 892-pound animal brought $272.06 under the auctioning of W. F. McIlvain as it was purchased by the Potash Company of America.

Earl Forehand saw his reserve champion, with $75 prize money on it, sold to the United States Potash Company at 31 cents for a total of $375.70 for the 970 pounds. With the prize money, Forehand received $3.64 more than Woods and topped the day's "take."

Having disposed of the two top heavies, McIlvain called for the No. 1 animal in the light class and Marion Hughes of El Paso Gap led his 824-pound Hereford into the ring to be knocked down to the Southern Union Gas Company at 29 cents the pound for a total of $238.96. Added to this was $50 in prize money, or a total of $288.96. Jimmy Thomas got $267.28 from the City Creamery of Carlsbad for his 1,028 pound entry at 26 cents a pound, to which was added $50 in prize money to place him third highest in amounts received.

The Artesia Alfalfa Growers Association of Artesia bought Ray Savoie's 814-pound fourth-place heavy for $219.78 at 27 cents a pound. Prize money of $40 was added.

Jack Campbell's Angus, weighing 1,164, brought 20 cents a pound from the Carlsbad Chamber of Commerce, whose $232.80 check went with prize money of $40.

The Carlsbad National Bank and the Corner Grocery of Carlsbad chipped in to bid 20 cents a pound for Jimmie Thomas' 911-pound third-place Hereford and Jimmy got a check for $182.20 and prize money of $30.

The second place light, entered by Enea Grandi, Jr., was not brought into the auction ring as Enea is going to exhibit the animal at El Paso. The Hereford was entered at 805 pounds.

The United States Potash Company, with a bid of 25 cents a pound, wrote a check for $235 for Morris Roberson's 940-pound third place Angus. The black baby carried $30 in prize money.

The American Bank of Carlsbad and the Corner Grocery chipped in a check of $207.69 at a bid of 21 cents to buy the 989-pound Hereford entered by Tom Grandi, which carried a $10 prize, and had fifth place rating in the heavies.

McIlvain knocked down to the City Creamery, at a 23-cent bid, Raymond Grandi's fourth place heavy Hereford and Ray got $10 in prize money and a check for $205.16.

Fred Savoie of Artesia sent his 863-pound entry in and on a bid of 21.5 it was bought by the Loving Oil Mill for $185.55 with a prize of $10 added to the fourth place light.

The Southwest Public Service Company wrote a check for $172.40 to pick up Kenneth Bindel's 862-pound animal at a bid of 20 cents. Kenneth also got a $10 prize for his fifth place light.

Dick West's 824-pound entry cost the Otis Gin & Warehouse Company $179.89 on a bid of 19 cents. West also got a $10 prize. Dick's entry was sixth in the heavy class.

The First National Bank of Artesia picked up its hometown boy's entry on a bid of 21.5 cents to give Wade Green a check for $177.16 for the 824-pound Hereford. The animal was sixth in the light class and carried a $10 prize.

The final sale in the junior show was made to the Elks Club on Henry Savoie's 674-pound seventh place light. The BPOE forked over a check for $148.28 on their bid of 22 cents a pound to the Artesia boy. The animal also carried $10 in prize money.

Stockmen generally expressed the opinion that this year's entries topped those of last year and the boys seemed pleased with the general results. Packers' guarantee bid was 14 cents.—Carlsbad Current-Argus.

Is This America?

BY BILL DUNNAM

LOOK OUT, OIL INDUSTRY!

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Oct. 13.—Easy-going Harry S. Truman, the former Missouri County Judge, who wants to be Franklin D. Roosevelt's 3rd vice president, wound up a brief swing across south Texas here Friday with a promise that the Democrats will look out for the cotton farmer but oil must look out for itself. . . . On oil he was more outspoken. "We can't raise the price of oil until the war is won," he declared. "Those guys can stand a little hardship like the rest of us."

The above was handed us by a Democrat. It needs no comment from us, other than this statement: "If you want to strangle the oil business to death then vote for Roosevelt and Truman."

STATE GOVERNMENT UNBELIEVABLY CORRUPT

Who said that? John J. Dempsey, according to the Silver City Daily Press, July 6, 1942, while Mr. Dempsey was in that city campaigning for governor. We quote the Daily Press:

"J. J. Dempsey, candidate for governor on the Democratic ticket says, HE REALIZES THE STATE GOVERNMENT IS UNBELIEVABLY CORRUPT AND SOMETHING HAS TO BE DONE ABOUT IT QUICKLY."

"Specifically Mr. Dempsey proposes to, if elected, governor of New Mexico, get rid of the boodlers and idlers and to appoint to office those who can be depended upon for efficient and honest administration. The former Undersecretary of the Interior and Congressman asserts that the conditions ARE WORSE EVEN THAN THE DAILY PRESS HAS SAID ON MANY OCCASIONS."

"The Miles administration has been marked by boodling and waste EQUAL TO ANYTHING THAT HAS HAPPENED IN LOUISIANA OR ELSEWHERE."

Has anything happened during the past two years that would give you grounds to think that Johnny Miles would make any better land commissioner than he did Governor?

DEMPSEY AND THE RECORD

During the Miles administration, which Mr. Dempsey has already described for you, the persons below were indicted by a Grand Jury. Mr. Dempsey lead the people to believe if he were elected Governor he would use the power of that office to see that the guilty were punished and the "boodlers and idlers" were fired from the state government. He has not only retained practically everyone of them who wanted to remain, but, according to reliable information, has used his office to stymie the trials of the guilty. Here are the indictments and the charges:

J. O. GALLEGOS, $5,000-a-year State Revenue Commissioner, indicted for obtaining money under false pretenses and five violations of falsifying public accounts.

S. T. JERNIGAN, State Liquor Control Chief, indicted for obtaining money under false pretenses on ELEVEN COUNTS and falsifying public records on ELEVEN COUNTS.

AL S. ROUGHTON, Director of State Operator's License division, FOURTEEN COUNTS on each charge.

GILBERT LOPEZ, employee of Commissioner of Revenue and of the School Tax Division, THREE COUNTS on each charge.

N. W. OWENS, former FIELD SUPERVISOR, STATE OPERATOR'S LICENSE DIVISION, NINE COUNTS on each charge.

TOBY YOUNIS, Field man for Revenue Commissioner, and Taos Democratic (New Deal) Chairman, THREE COUNTS on each charge.

WHAT OF GOV. MILES?

"The Grand Jury finds that one EDNA DEAN, owner of the Capitol Bond and Insurance agency, which handles the bulk of the capital insurance business, HAS MADE SUBSTANTIAL PAYMENTS OF MONEY FROM TIME TO TIME, INCLUDING WHAT APPEARS TO BE A DIVISION OF COMMISSIONS ON PREMIUMS FROM A GROUP INSURANCE POLICY ON STATE EMPLOYEES, TO GOV. MILES."

THE "BOODLERS AND IDLERS"

Where are they, Governor Dempsey? Most of them—Gallegos, Younis, Roughton—possibly others—are still on the payroll, members of your administration, just as they were of Miles'.

No matter how sincere Governor Dempsey might be in wanting to fire them, he dare not. They are important, vital cogs in his political machine. To fire them would mean certain defeat for Dempsey or any

Bobby Barley of Hope Wins Santa Fe Chicago Trip

Bobby Barley of Hope is one of three 4-H Club boys in New Mexico and sixty-five boys and girls in the nation selected for annual educational awards given by the Santa Fe Railway, which includes for them all an all-expense trip to the National 4-H Congress in Chicago Dec. 3-6.

The others from New Mexico are Clifford Eakes of Albuquerque and Ernest Pompeo of Maxwell.

In addition to the educational award, each winner will receive a certificate of merit from Fred

G. Gurley, president of the Santa Fe.

The New Mexico boys were certified to the railway by Miss Rosemary Gilbert, acting state extension club specialist.

Pvt. John W. Mitchell, candidate for the U. S. House of Representatives, spoke very briefly at a reception by admirers in Kansas City: "Because of Marine Corps restrictions, I shall make no speeches and no promises," and then added, "I shall not campaign in the usual sense."

Mrs. Skunk: "Haven't I told you not to kiss me when you've been eating onions?"

other New Dealer. That's why no party can clean itself up. THAT'S WHY IT'S TIME FOR A CHANGE.

If you want clean, honest government go to the polls Tuesday and vote for Carroll Gunderson, Republican candidate for Governor and the entire state and national Republican ticket.

If you are sick and tired of Roosevelt and New Deal Commie-Nazi government, then mark your ballot straight Republican. Dewey stands an excellent chance to be the next President of the United States and he will need Congressmen like Manuel Lujan and Ben Meyer to carry through on his anti-Commie-Nazi program.

VOTE AS YOU PLEASE—BUT VOTE!

It makes no difference whether you voted the New Deal (Democratic) or Republican ticket in the Primary Election, you can vote as you please Tuesday. Some New Deal workers, we are informed, are telling many people, "if you voted a Democratic ticket in the Primary election, you must vote it in the General Election." That is not true. The law allows you to vote Republican or anyway you choose.

Erratic driving proves so inefficient in Wartime that it's no longer favored anytime.

Deftness is the style in motoring. Tactics like swooping in and out of line seem wasted, when the little coupe—from miles behind—presently shows up anyway in the "thrill-driver's" mirror.

That's skill—making a steady good average; not leaping and bounding to make it up. You'll show still greater regard for dutiful mechanism by having your engine OIL-PLATED—internally surfaced to resist corrosion by the unavoidable acids of combustion.

Changing to Conoco Nth motor oil will automatically give you an OIL-PLATED engine. Costly pioneer research created the special Conoco Nth ingredient that gives this popular-priced oil its magnet-like action. And that's what joins OIL-PLATING to inner engine surfaces, as if to stay.

Acids stay too, these days—infesting every cylinder in unreasonable quantities. Former chances of ousting corrosive acids are decreased these days by low engine temperatures—longer stretches of standing cold—mileage limitations of any kind. But you can keep your engine's fine inner finish under cover of protective OIL-PLATING—resisting corrosion! Just change to Conoco Nth motor oil at Your Mileage Merchant's. Continental Oil Company

FEWER LAMBS WILL BE FED THIS WINTER

Lamb and sheep feeding during the winter and spring will probably be somewhat smaller than last year, as the 1944 lamb crop in the Western sheep states was about 1,000,000 head smaller than last year. Shipments of feeder lambs into the corn belt in September was only 85 per cent as large as last year's figure.

FARM WAGES ARE UP 325 PER CENT

The Oct. 1 index of farm wages was 325 per cent of the 1910-14 average—46 points higher than on Oct. 1, 1943, and 160 points higher than on Oct. 1, 1941, just before Pearl Harbor.

NATION'S FARM CAPITAL SHOWS BIG INCREASE

During four wartime years of bumper crop and livestock production, United States farm owners and tenants increased their ownership equities by $30,000,000,000 and accumulated $12,000,000,000,000 in cash or easily convertible assets.

The net income of farm operators jumped from $4,800,000,000 in 1940 to $12,400,000,000 in 1943. Production increased 17 per cent during that period, while prices of farm products went up 92 per cent.

'Girl Scout Week' Is Being Observed In the City This Week, Celebrating Anniversary of Founder, Juliette Low

Girl Scouts in the city are joining the Scouts of the nation in observing "Girl Scout Week" in the city this week, in which "Service to Hospitals" has been chosen as the theme of the week, at which time the anniversary of the founder, Juliette Low, is being celebrated.

This is the first time in the history of Girl Scouting that an observance has been concentrated on one community service. This is being done this week to honor the Girl Scouts of our nation who have given 1,900,000 hours of service to hospitals since Pearl Harbor, said Mrs. Mark A. Corbin, president of the Artesia Association of Girl Scouts.

"Girl Scout Week" opened officially Sunday, when Girl Scouts in the city attended church in uniform, with "Hospital Aids" going in a group to the Methodist Church.

Each troop has celebrated in some manner during the week.

Troop No. 1, in observance of "Homemaking Day," has arranged a fine display at McClay Furniture. In one window is the room of a Girl Scout; in the other window, a room which should be occupied by a Girl Scout.

"Hospital Aid Scouts," who have given 283 hours of service to Artesia Memorial Hospital, are to be hostesses at a tea at the home of Mrs. B. A. DeMars Friday afternoon, honoring their instructor, Mrs. Dale Thomas, who taught the second class. The first class was taught by Mrs. Henry Worthington. Teddy Jane Archer, fifty-nine hours, and Louise DeMars, fifty-one hours, head the list in class No. 1 and June Ann Gissler, twenty-nine hours, and Margie Stevens, eleven hours, head the list in class No. 2.

Posters are in downtown store windows this week. Winners in the poster contest were Peggy Peppers and Geraldine Blount, Troop No. 7, and Dianne Thomas in the three first places. Peggy Troublefield, Betty Gibson, Erma Hopp and Alice Ray Martin were winners in the three second places. The founder of Girl Scouting, Juliette Low, born in Savannah, Ga., who was also the founder of the movement for both Girl and Boy Scouts, which was started in 1912, has rendered a distinctive service unequalled by few in our nation. The history and growth of the movement is a tribute to the vision of this American woman, whose birthday is being celebrated this week by Scouts over the nation.

Miss Capitola Hill, state director of Girl Scouting in Southeast New Mexico, is to be in the city three days this month, Nov. 9-11.

Mrs. Vilas Sheldon, who began the organization of the Girl Scout Association in Artesia early this year with the organization being completed last May, has been chosen the Juliette Low member of the association, which now has a membership of about 150 Scouts and adult leaders.

Plans are going forward for the organization of two troops at Cottonwood, under the sponsorship of the association in the city.

Girls of Troop No. 7 were entertained by their leaders with a Hallowe'en party, Monday evening at the home of Mrs. A. H. Hall, with Mrs. George Beadle and Mrs. Troy Peppers assisting. Twenty-two scouts and one visitor were in attendance.

Hallowe'en motifs of pumpkins and witches were used for house decorations.

Those entertained were Betty Gibson, Catherine Wiggins, Yvonne Yeager, La Verne Grimlan, Erma Hopp, Patricia Gustin, Peggy Jean Peppers, Geraldine Blount, Mary Jo Storm, Shirley Thorpe, Alice Rae Martin, Joan Short, Jolene Beadle, Louise Folkner, La Verne Beatty, Neta Rogers, Joan Amstutz, Delores Plattner, Vada Mae Dunlap, Jannie Wood, Billie Jean Muncy, and Kay Booker. Jewel Gray was a visitor.

Troop No. 1 A Hallowe'en costume party for Girl Scouts of Troop No. 1 and their friends is to be held at the ranch home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Gissler this evening.

Entertainment is being planned by Nona Glasscock, Dorothy Jean Williams, Linda Boyle, and June Gissler.

Refreshments are being planned by Fid Hamill, Gwen Hegwer, and Virginia Green.

Each Scout is to invite a friend as her guest for the party.

Brownie Troop No. 4 Six new members were invested into Brownie Troop No. 4 at a Hallowe'en party, held at the Woman's Club Monday evening.

The clubhouse was decorated with corn, pumpkins, and fall flowers.

New Members were Eileen and Irene Marshall, Paula Hastings, Frances Eddy Atwood, and Patsy and Beverly Seay.

Brownies who dramatized a Brownie story were Thea Mae Williams, Louise Beatty, Frances Cobble, Miriam Stroup, and Dana Chapman.

Other Brownies in attendance were Marilyn Saikin, Ann Easley, Mary Louise Harrison, Sandra Barr, Patricia Brust, and Sylvia Miller.

Hallowe'en refreshments were served after hilarious games.

BRIDGETTS CLUB MEETS

Mrs. Donald Marshall was hostess in entertaining members of the Bridgetts Club and guests last Thursday evening.

Guests were Mrs. Wallace Gates who received high score award, Mrs. John Lanning, winner of second award and Mrs. Leslie Martin who received consolation award.

Members who enjoyed the rounds of contract were Miss Patti Kemper, Mrs. Kenneth Williams, Mrs. Ralph Hayes, Mrs. William S. Cooley and Mrs. Marshall.

Light refreshments were served after the games.

Japanese Ideology Aply Discussed By Mrs. Martin Yates

Mrs. Martin Yates, who is perhaps one of the best informed women in the city on the Japanese subject, discussed in an able manner "Ideology of the Japanese," at the Woman's Club Wednesday afternoon. For months the speaker has gathered reference materials from reliable sources. Mrs. Yates' address will be remembered as one of the best of the year.

Splendid reports were given by delegates who attended the Third District Convention, held in Hobbs, last Friday. The convention theme of "Victory," attracted the attention of many clubwomen there by registering a record attendance.

A piano duet was played by Mrs. Glenn Caskey and Mrs. D. M. Scheneberg.

The Woman's Club and the Sub-Deb Club has entered the voters contest, sponsored by the Eddy County Democratic Central Committee, for the general election, Nov. 7. They hope to contact every registered voter in the city and nearby communities with pledge cards which they hope will bring most of them to the polls on election day. Clubwomen are not interested in how you vote, but they are interested that every registered citizen votes. If any one needs assistance to get to the polls, or needs some one to stay with small children or an ill member of the family, call a clubwoman, there are more than 300 of them in the city.

Chief Pyland, who is stationed on the U. S. S. Gunason, has been here the last ten days on leave.

Election Time Is Here

—and again I want to thank my friends for the wonderful support they gave me two years ago, that elected me Sheriff of Eddy County. I also want to thank the citizens of Eddy County for the splendid cooperation they have given me. Their cooperation has made it a pleasure to serve the good people of this county. Now this is the year of our national election. Our freedom was threatened by an enemy, who attacked us without warning or declaration, forced us into war at a time when we were not prepared. Fortunately we had a leader, who went into the struggle wholeheartedly. The enemy had to be held off while preparation was made. He did the job. He is still leading us, and he will lead us on to victory, if we will stay with him. That leader is . . .

It's Time For A Change In New Mexico State Government

During the Miles and Dempsey administrations other elective state officers have been figureheads, reduced to the status of clerks giving servile obedience to the orders of the man in the Governor's chair. This has been particularly true of the Dempsey administration. Miles, the smooth politician, found it wise to permit at least a semblance of authority over their offices to the other elected officials. Under Dempsey there has been but one voice . . . the voice of Dempsey. From him have come such trickles of information as the people have been permitted to receive. Dempsey has spoken, either in person, or through his appointees . . . not through the state officers elected by the people. These officers are charged with important duties. Under the constitution they are largely independent of the executive. If they have the courage, they have the RIGHT to conduct their offices and to tell the people how they are doing their jobs. YOU have the opportunity NOW to choose this latter type of officials. IT'S TIME FOR A CHANGE.

FILEMON T. MARTINEZ, Republican candidate for Lieutenant Governor, is one of the ablest citizens of New Mexico. He is highly educated, a student of public affairs, thoroughly independent. It is sometimes necessary for the Governor to be absent from the state. (Not on frequent visits to Washington, as has been Dempsey's record). Martinez is thoroughly equipped to conduct the executive office in the absence of the Governor. He is a skilled parliamentarian and as the presiding officer of the state senate, will be able to expedite business and otherwise perform useful service to the state.

FILEMON T. MARTINEZ
Republican Candidate for Lieutenant Governor

SETH ALSTON, Republican candidate for State Treasurer, is an astute business man, thoroughly qualified by a wide and successful experience in large business affairs, to conduct one of the state's most important offices successfully and with profit to the state.

Mr. Alston has lived his mature life in New Mexico. He began as a sheep herder in Eddy county. Presently he owned a half-interest in the sheep he herded, and very soon, he owned the whole herd. He has been successively, farmer, livestock grower, banker, oil producer. His interest in community service is known throughout the state and outside our borders. Alston will be a highly valuable counsellor to the Executive and the State Board of Finance, on fiscal matters. No one will "boss" Seth Alston. He will say what he thinks is right and DO what he thinks is best for the public interest.

SETH ALSTON
Republican Candidate for
State Treasurer

CHARLES H. FOWLER, Republican candidate for justice of the state supreme court, is making no campaign. He holds that the judiciary should be apart from partisan politics. He accepted his party's nomination reluctantly. His party associates and his hosts of friends in both parties are urging his election because of his outstanding record as a lawyer and a district judge.

HUGH P. COOPER, Republican candidate for Corporation Commissioner is the type of young business man who has long been needed in that body. When the automobile business was flourishing in pre-war days, Mr. Cooper made a success of a large agency. At present his interests include sheep raising and feeding and real estate. He is one of the outstanding younger business men of Albuquerque and the state. He has never been a candidate for office before and was drafted for the job, which he will fill at a personal sacrifice to his business interests. All who know the record of the state corporation commission know the need for new blood and business acumen in that body. It's time for a change.

(Paid Political Advertising)

MRS. E. A. PERRAULT (above) is the Republican candidate for Secretary of State. Her home is in Taos. Her previous public service has been highly satisfactory. She is as capable as her picture indicates. Not many people realize the vast volume of business that passes through the office of the Secretary of State, or the importance of the proper conduct of that business. In Mrs. Perrault New Mexico will have an administrator who will operate the office with maximum efficiency at minimum cost.

Pix Rhapsody

Two of the nation's funniest men, Bud Abbott and Lou Costello, who have been absent from the screen for more than a year, will be seen again starting Sunday at the Ocotillo Theater in the funniest picture they ever made — Universal's "In Society," in which they are plumbers.

"In Society" tells the hilarious story of what happens when Abbott and Costello, who find themselves in society with a vengeance. There are many really riotous sequences, including a fox hunt to end all fox hunts, which winds up with the fox chasing Abbott and Costello. "In Society," produced by Edmund L. Hartmann, is packed with so many laughs, gags and original Abbott and Costello antics, as to compensate fans for the comedians' too-long absence from the country's screens, due to Costello's illness.

An outstanding cast of supporting players includes Marion Hutton, young, blonde singing sister of Betty Hutton, romantic newcomer, Kirby Grant, Anne Gillis, who not so long ago was playing tomboy roles, and overnight blossoms out as a glamour girl; Arthur Teacher, Thomas Gomez, Charles Coleman, Will Osborne and his orchestra.

Wool Growers Urged To Ship Fleeces Now For 1945 Annual Show

Feb. 6 and 7 have been set as the dates of the 1945 convention, wool show, and wool school of the New Mexico Wool Growers' Association, Ivan Watson, manager, announced. The convention will be held in the Hilton Hotel in Albuquerque.

"Wool growers should ship their show fleeces to Louis McRae, manager of the Wool Warehouse Company, by Nov. 10," Watson said. "This will allow time to sample and weigh each fleece before the wool show. We also plan to make cross sections of a sample from each fleece again this year."

Information from wool growers indicates that 100 fleeces will be entered in the open classes, from 50 to 60 in the junior show. Angora goat breeders also plan to enter few outstanding Mohair fleeces.

WPB PROMISES MORE FARM MACHINERY

WPB Chairman J. A. Krug has promised quick action on President Roosevelt's recent request for "all possible assistance" to the farm machinery industry in its efforts to increase the output of agricultural implements. Acknowledging the substantial increase in farm machinery production during the last year, the president pointed out that much of the older farm equipment is wearing out. He added that in the immediate future "we will be exporting substantial quantities of food."

Morgan Sees Great Church, City Growth

The Rev. S. M. Morgan on Sunday will begin the eighth year of his ministry as pastor of the First Baptist Church of Artesia.

As his seventh year here drew to a close this week, the pastor said he and his family have enjoyed "the most pleasant relationship imaginable" with the people. He said they have watched Artesia grow into one of the best cities in New Mexico and the local church from a membership of approximately 300 to more than 700.

While the membership has more than doubled, the enrollment in the Sunday school has doubled and the average attendance of the Sunday school has increased more than three times.

The Rev. Mr. Morgan said 907 people have come into the membership of the church during his pastorate, with an average of about fifty a year on confession of faith and baptism. The net increase in membership has been 454.

The annual budget of the church seven years ago was $3,500, the pastor said. This has grown to more than $14,000, with nearly $4,000 given to worldwide mission causes and relief of the war-torn world. And in the latter respect, the Rev. Mr. Morgan pointed out the First Baptist Church of Artesia has eighty-five members serving in the armed forces.

During his seven years here, the pastor has visited other churches and held meetings in thirty-five different places, he recalled. Hundreds have confessed faith in Christ and many others have been added to the churches.

To add to his enviable record the last seven years, the Rev. Mr. Morgan has served on the Home Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention six years, representing New Mexico, the State Mission Board of New Mexico, and the Historical Commission of the Southern Baptist Convention, and has served as moderator of the Pecos Valley Baptist Association.

Although the local Baptist Church is the seventh in size in New Mexico, the Rev. Mr. Morgan feels it is second to none in efficiency and service and that Artesia is second to none as a great place to live.

Jordan Installs Machine for Crankshaft Work

A new precision crankshaft machine, the only one in New Mexico, has been installed by G. E. Jordan Company here and now is in operation, rendering a service to users of engines, for which they formerly had to go many miles.

The machine, which is enormous, will take crankshafts up to ninety-six inches in length and with a throw of twenty-four inches.

Used in connection with the crankshaft machine is a metallizing outfit, by means of which the shafts are built up with the same metal from which they were made, prior to being placed on the crankshaft machine for precision tooling. In the metallizing process, the metal is put on in molten form by means of a gun, through which the metal is fed in the form of wire and comes out melted in a spray, mixed with propane gas and oxygen. The wire is fed automatically.

The grinder, or crankshaft machine, weighs 14,000 pounds and does its work with a close tolerance.

Folks:

There are letters from Sgt. Simons, Jr., who was slightly wounded in Sept. 16, and who is in a hospital in England, and David Simons, who is something of his trip to France with the 3rd Army. The boys are Mr. and Mrs. John T. The first of the letters from John, the second from David.)

Somewhere in England Oct. 3, 1944.

Dad and I have just had supper. They feed us in the hospital. Tonight the dogs and baked apples were nearly as good as the ones you used to bake for us in them. We have nearly every day.

Hospital life isn't half bad. I've forgotten how it was to be in a bed between two people. I got a bath which I really enjoyed. I have been in the hospital for three months. I change our bandages and gives us a back rub every day. We have a good doctor who would like to have him for the civilian life.

All the soreness has gone now and it won't be long before I'll be up and hobbling. I'll be glad when I can go to the movies every night. We are in our ward the other way was a gangster picture, I enjoyed it very much. It was a moving picture I had seen before.

Ed Cross is pretty good. They come around and give us coffee.

We haven't been paid in two weeks and we have to buy our food here. I was lucky I had a little money I was saving for my pocket, so I used it. We are on a partial payment while we are here.

I haven't received any mail in the last few days. I would like to see everything is at home.

I was in one city in France when you were in, in the same way you will have to guess.

I had an orange and I would give it to a French soldier to take to him and he would start running. "Grenade! Grenade!" They don't know what an orange is and the Germans have grenades that look something like an orange.

I finally got to see some beautiful French girls. I have heard so much about them. They are beautiful and dress like American girls. I haven't talked to them. Can't talk their way.

October and it won't be long before I have been overseas. Time sure flies. In a week it seems like a long time, and it doesn't. I have been so busy and seen so many things that the time passes rather fast.

Most of my time reading is about all there is to do. There is not much news I can read, so I'll close, hoping to see you soon.

Lots of love,
John, Jr.

Somewhere in France, Sept. 23, 1944.

Dad and I had a Saturday night and we were going to do, so will get a few letters written. I haven't forgotten how to write in a few weeks. I just didn't like writing. I may not be as good as I should, but I try to write you all the time. If we can get our children up just as well as you have done for us, they won't have any trouble.

This morning I had a breakfast of pancakes, cereal, coffee, and then I took a shower, which is something I haven't been able to do for some time.

Today we went into a town and had steak and French fried potatoes and was it good! Several times there were four Red Cross automobiles here and we had Bing Crosby and his troupe were here and put on a show for us. Bing is a lot better when you hear him in person than on radio or in movies.

There were two pretty girls in the show too, the first American girls we had seen in a long time. So you see, it's not so tough being one of Uncle Sam's soldiers.

If you know of any deferred civilians who would like to have all these nice things and get to see some of the most beautiful country in the world, I will be glad to exchange with them. Tell them one thing though: If they think they are not getting paid enough, or if their hours are too long, they won't be able to "sit down" and demand more wages, or they may wake up and find that all they have accomplished will have to be done over again. There are a few other inconveniences he will have to put up with, but he may have heard of some of them by now. If he still wants to come, I'll be glad to let him have the house and bed that I have most of the time.

Right now we are near one of the largest French cities we have been in. We are in garrison and have a pretty nice set-up, beds with straw mattresses and running water. I am so used to sleeping on the ground though, I can hardly sleep on a bed.

I can tell you something about where we have been now. When we landed on the beachhead, we went in a couple of miles and stayed a few days. During this time, the rear echelon was formed and I went back there. Then our boys went into battle to take the city of St. Lo. The first day we went in, the rear echelon got ahead of the troops and the Germans started shelling us. Luckily, they couldn't hit the broad side of a barn, so no one was hit. Then we moved back about five or six miles from St. Lo, and that is where I saw John, Jr. There we didn't have any trouble, except about 10 o'clock at night a few Jerries would fly over and we had to hit our foxholes to keep from getting hit by our own ack-ack. We went over to see one that was shot down about a half mile from us. It looked like a well-built plane.

The first night they came over, I had just talked to John, Jr., on the phone. That was the first time I knew he was in France and he told me to meet him by a gate. I was running towards the gate, when a plane came over and after something whizzed past me I ducked behind a tree until it was all over. By the time I got to the gate, John Jr.'s, ride came for him and he had to go back to his outfit. I was sure mad at that Heinie.

Soon we moved up to about a mile of St. Lo and were there about four days before the drive started. July 25 was one of the best days of my life. Three thousand heavy bombers passed over us and we sat on a hill and watched them drop their loads of bombs on the Germans and that was the beginning of the end for the Germans.

We went through St. Lo and I can't tell you how it looked, but if you saw the pictures in Life, you have a pretty good idea. We moved all night and went through one town that was still burning. We later found out the Germans retook the town.

We stayed at Torrigne-Sur-Vire about a week and some of the boys started trading cigarettes for eggs. I can't remember all the places we were. We were at Le Mans, Chateau Dun, and Troyes. Then we went to (censored).

You can tell Mrs. R. A. Thomas that her brother, Ivan Farney, has been cited. He got the Bronze Star, along with twenty-five other men in my company. Sure got a good outfit. I have received two Artesia Advocates and sent them over to Edwin Ward.

I have been writing this by candlelight, so guess I had better close and go to bed, but if you see anybody who wants to write, tell them not to wait for an invitation. We hope to have those Heinies whipped in a couple of weeks and be on our way home.

Lots of love,
David.

NO CERTIFICATE NEEDED FOR THESE "SPARES"

Keep spare lamp bulbs on hand in your home to replace burnouts as soon as they occur. Most electric dealers now have bulbs in all common home sizes. You need no points, coupons or certificates to buy them — never did, in fact. So don't be without light these dark fall days and longer evenings.

Begin by putting the RIGHT SIZE bulb in each lamp or fixture. Then keep the shades and diffusing bowls, as well as the bulbs, free of dust and dirt.

Use white or light-lined shades on your lamps, to reflect more usable light.

Move lamps closer to points of use, to shed more light directly on the work. You can often increase their usefulness by rearranging furniture so that one lamp will serve two people.

Your eyes need the correct amount of diffused light to perform difficult seeing tasks like reading or sewing without strain. Now is the time to see that your home lighting equipment can furnish proper illumination.

Chic Sale Fire on Hallow'en Provides Much Entertainment

The whole thing sounds as though it might be a Hallow'en story, or that the goblins had something to do with it, but it was quite on the up and up, and it happened at 7:40 o'clock Hallow'en. It was like this:

The old-time, much battered and used, standard two-ho Chic Sale behind the Wallace & Mathis garage was on fire, and it was a dandy.

Firemen and spectators, including costumed boys and girls, enjoyed quite a bonfire. The excavation was saved. It is not thought there was any insurance.

Cpl. Bill Hinds has arrived safely in England from Camp Hann, Calif., and says he finds it quite cold there.

A press dispatch under a Washington dateline Friday said Sgt. Jesse Cargill of Artesia has been awarded a Bronze Star Medal. He is in the Infantry.
