On Tuesday, some 68 percent of the County's 3486 registered voters trekked to the polls to name a new President, as well as other state and county officers.

AARP Salad Lunch Set

Today, Thursday, November 10, you will have the opportunity to enjoy a satisfying meal of ham and salads, help the West Plains Medical Center obtain some very vital supplies, and win one of at least eight door prizes.

From 11 a.m.-2 p.m., the Muleshoe Chapter of the American Association of Retired Persons (AARP) will be serving at the Bailey County Civic Center.

All proceeds will be presented to West Plains Medical Center to purchase needed supplies.

Kay Swint, Director of Nurses, will receive the check, and make out an order for supplies that the WPMC budget cannot make allowances for at this time.

It was decided to let the nurses determine what would be ordered to avoid duplication of supplies.

Tickets for the luncheon are currently on sale for $4 for adults and $2 for children under the age of 12. Carry out orders will also be available.

Some of the door prizes, according to Myrtle Creamer, AARP President, include a hand made baby quilt; 11x14 picture; sofa pillow; baby bunting; bread warmer; large box of Millionaire candy and a painting.

Be sure to make your plans to be at the Civic Center Thursday at noon.

Methodists Plan Turkey Dinner Here Thursday

At noon on Thursday, November 10, the First United Methodist Church will again host their annual turkey and all the trimmings dinner.

The meal will be served in the fellowship hall of the church from 11 a.m.-1:30 p.m., and will feature turkey and dressing, and conclude with appropriate holiday desserts.

Tickets are currently available for $6 for adults and carry out orders will be available up to 10:30 a.m. by calling the First United Methodist Church.

This year, the money will be staying in the community, with half going to the hospital and the other half to help feed the community's hungry people.

With 2379 voters making the polls during the day, most judges reported a steady stream of voters throughout the day until the polling places closed at 7 p.m. The 68 percent was not a record as 71 percent of the voters went to the polls four years ago. With 200 more registered voters in 1984, 2618 voted in the general election.

Following a nationwide trend, Bailey County opted for George Bush-Dan Quayle, with 1459 votes to 876 for Michael S. Dukakis-Lloyd Bentsen.

However, the very popular Lloyd Bentsen was the favorite in Bailey County, as well as across the state of Texas, and retained his Senatorial seat, 1186 to 1074 for his opponent Beau Boulter of Amarillo.

U. S. Representative Larry Combest had little trouble. Cont. Page 6, Col. 1

Christmas Card Project Is Off To Flying Start

True!! It's only November, but it's time to start thinking about the annual Muleshoe Nursing Home Christmas Card Project.

Sammie Ethridge has been named chairman of the annual project, and has the plans for the event in 'full swing' at this time.

Local people and businesses are encouraged to donate whatever amount they would have spent for Christmas cards to mail locally to the Christmas Card project.

Then in the Christmas issue of The Journal the names of all the contributors will be listed on a special Christmas Card page.

And, as always, the funds received from the Project will be spent to help make life easier for residents of the nursing home.

For instance, a projector and screen was one of the latest things purchased from Christmas Card Project funds.

This year, due to the hospitalization of Nursing Home Administrator Jim Swanner, no particular 'Project' has been chosen as yet. However, the specific item or items to be purchased this year will be announced at a later date.

Contributions to the Muleshoe Nursing Home Christmas Card Project may be made at any of the local banks, or delivered in person or mailed to the Muleshoe Nursing home at 708 South First Street.

Deadline for getting your money in to be included on the annual Christmas Card will be December 14 at 5 p.m.

How School Handles Stress To Be Studied

As everyone in Muleshoe knows, the Muleshoe High School has had more than its share of tragedy this school year. Students and faculty alike have learned to share pain and loss. A high level of mutual care has been seen in the supportive atmosphere demonstrated at the high school.

Workshops on "Dealing With Grief" have become very common in some settings. These programs have proven very helpful for senior citizens who have lost a mate or other support person in their lives. The Ronald McDonald Houses have been especially designed to deal with grief. Trained support personnel are a part of the design. Society is learning that love and good intentions are not enough. Skilled and qualified counselors and trainers are the key to real success.

The Muleshoe High School principal, counselor, and teachers have reached beyond the normal requirements of their profession and training. Their response to the needs of students has been recognized and appreciated. However, there is always the chance for improvement. The Muleshoe Independent School District will be evaluating their response to see how well they met the needs of both faculty and students.

Mike Whitecotton, from Charter Plains Student Assistance Program, will be in Muleshoe November 17, to visit with school personnel. His first visit will be with Dr. Lawrence Ward, Muleshoe Superintendent of Schools.

Whitecotton will then visit with the high school principal, Wayland Ethridge; the high school assistant principal, Jerry Johnson, and the high school counselor, Mrs. Linda Marr, as he evaluates the school's response to student and faculty needs.

He will visit with faculty members as he assesses how students and faculty have adjusted to a crisis situation. He will inquire about such items as changes in student behavior, changes in student performance, changes in routines and signs of unusual stress.

To help Whitecotton assess group and individual reactions, parents are invited to meet with him to share their observations or concerns if they wish. The school will coordinate appointments during the day for parents who want to visit privately with Whitecotton.

Dr. Ward pointed out that students will not be visited or individually assessed. "Our purpose is to assess our response so we may better serve students at all times in a variety of situations."

MAC Bucks, Turkeys Given Last Saturday

Saturday was another big day in Muleshoe, the MAC Buck Committee gave $250 in MAC Bucks to four lucky women. Yellow was the name of the game since each of the tickets drawn was yellow. Lawanna Stroud was holding yellow ticket No. 0302075 and won $25.00.

A yellow ticket No. 0352979 was drawn for $50.00 and Roseann Gloria was holding this ticket and walked away with $50.00. Ms. Gloria stated that this wasn't her first win. She had previously won $25.00 and another time $10.00. She has also won a brisket and two cases of Coke. "I do all my shopping in Muleshoe and it really pays"

Lazbuddie Longhorns Going Into Play-Offs

When the Lazbuddie Longhorns hosted the Cotton Center football team last Friday night, the hard-hitting Longhorns put the game away early in the third quarter on the 45-point rule.

With 7:13 left to play in the third, the game ended with the Lazbuddie Longhorns being the victors at 49-0.

According to six-man football rules, when at least half a game has been played, and one team is 45 points ahead of their opponent the game is over.

At halftime, the game was 37-0 after Eddie Zamora scored twice in the first quarter, on an 18 yard run and a five yard run. Bryan Glover kicked the extra point on Zamora's second TD after failing the PAT following the first touchdown.

Also adding points in the first quarter was Scott Miller, who latched onto a 26 yard pass from Michael Williams, with Glover kicking the extra points.

In the second, Zamora slammed into the end zone after receiving a 10 yard pass from Michael Williams. Glover added a couple of points with his kick.

Also in the second, Williams scampered downfield 65 yards to paydirt, then Donnie Holt received a pass from Scott Miller for the extra point.

Coming back after halftime, Casey Russell added the first points on a 2 yard pass from Kevin McGehee, but the PAT failed.

Kirk Jesko made the final points for the 'Horns on a three yard run. Lazbuddie racked up a total of 306 offensive yards, while holding Cotton Center to 141 yards offensively.

Named outstanding player was Eddie Zamora, who scored three touchdowns.

This Friday night, the Lazbuddie Longhorns will play Higgins for the Bi-District title. The game will be at 7:30 p.m. at Groom.

J. E. McVicker In First Place For This Week

Most of the weekly contestants in the Merchants' Football Contest found it 'rough sledding' this past week. Either a lot of hard games were chosen, or a lot of upsets occurred.

J. E. McVicker won first place, after being the only contestant to miss just six games.

He gets a $10 check and 10 points for this week.

Several people missed seven games, so it was off to the tiebreakers to determine the second and third place winners.

Kay Graves was closest, at 48 points off, to take second place, along with the $7.50 check and six points. Marilyn Engelking won third place, and received a $5 check and four points. She was 51 points away on the double tiebreakers.

Others missing seven games, and their tiebreaker scores included Spencer Tanksley, 53; Barbara McCamisi, 62; Margrethe Taylor, 62; Richard Engelking, 67; Forest Creamer, 72 and Gerald Shanks, 73 points.

There's approximately four more weekly contests for this year, and with no clear-cut leader, it's still anyone's ballgame. So keep those entries coming in.

The Jennyslippers will sponsor youth skating at the Bailey County Civic Center 7-9 p.m. on Friday, November 11. Admission will be $1 per skater.

A regular board meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Muleshoe Independent School District will be held at 7:30 p.m. on Monday, November 14.

Following formal opening of the meeting, financial reports will be heard on bank balances, fund balances and approval of payment of current bills.

Under business items will be the selection of a community representative to serve on the Management and Leadership Development Advisory Committee; evaluate the possibility of securing uniforms for custodians and maintenance employees and taking appropriate action; discuss passes to all (or selected) local school events for all Muleshoe ISD employees and take appropriate action; hear and approve the 1987-88 school financial audit; approve Sudduth, Field, and Co. to do 1988-89 school financial audit; consider Muleshoe State Bank request to withdraw securities and take appropriate action; consider adopting a resolution to send state officials stating that needs of local school districts be addressed timely and appropriately by the legislature and other state officials; hear further report on Educators Group Health Trust (EGHT) and take appropriate action if needed.

In other action, the board will hear the tax collection report; correspondence and administrator's reports.

*** Bailey County Commissioners Court will meet in special session in the Bailey County courthouse at 9 a.m. on Thursday, November 10, 1988.

Items on the agenda include to canvass the votes of the general election of November 8, 1988 and miscellaneous items.

*** SFC Randy Williams returned to Fort Sill, Okla. on Friday morning. He had come to Muleshoe to be with his mother, Cleta Williams, who was a patient in West Plains Medical Center.

While in Muleshoe, he visited with his grandmother, Myrtle Creamer; an uncle, Forest Creamer, and a niece, Christi Creamer.

MAC BUCK WINNERS--Saturday afternoon the MAC Buck Committee gave away $250.00 in MAC Bucks to four lucky Muleshoe women. Patricia Wilson, left, won $100.00; Olga Chavez was the lucky winner of $75.00; Rosann Gloria, $50.00; and Lawanna Stroud, $25.00. Eighteen turkeys were also given by Muleshoe businesses. In Fashion

A peek at fashions for summer of '89 shows skirts are coming down. The new look for spring and summer '89 is long and loose.

Pants and skirts create a softer, quieter mood than last season. Pants may be cropped at the calf or flow softly to the ankle. Pants and long skirts buttoned to the hem are given equal billing.

Waistlines tend to be higher or placed for comfort on the hip to enhance the new long skirts.

No group has the right to force its way of life on other people.

MICROWAVE TIPS

If you have peppers from the garden or can buy fresh peppers, they can be microwaved very quickly.

They should be cut into strips or rings and placed in a large dish. The oven should be set on high and one can estimate the time as about five minutes for two large peppers.

The dish must be covered, and after four minutes one can taste to see if the strips or rings are crisp and well done. They might require 5 or 6 minutes.

Drain away excess water that will have accumulated in the dish before serving.

defeating his opponent Democrat Gerald McCathern, winning the bout 1407-863.

For State Senator, District 31, Teel Blevins, Republican, had a slim margin over his opponent, Mel Phillips, with the vote tally showing 1116-1060.

The only local race that generated much interest was the unexpired term for Bailey County Judge.

Democratic candidate Jimmy Watson won the race with 892 votes. John Smith, Republican candidate received 700 votes; Independent Linda Huckaby got 582 votes and James Warren, write-in candidate received 116 votes.

Around 10 p.m. Tuesday night, Michael Dukakis realized he had lost his bid for the Presidency, conceding that Bush had received the necessary electoral votes to become the 41st President of the United States.

It was also around 10 p.m. Tuesday that Democrat Mel Phillips conceded the race for State Senator to Amarillo attorney/cattleman Teel Blevins.

Around 9:50 p.m. Tuesday night, Lloyd Bentsen acknowledged he had maintained enough lead in his bid for re-election as U. S. Senator to become the winner. Bentsen gained an early lead in the race across the state, and his lead was maintained with some 55 percent of the state's vote tallied and reported.

See the complete election returns for Bailey County on Page 10 of this issue of The Muleshoe Journal.

Bailey County voters approved Proposed Constitutional Amendment No. 1 (the highway proposal) by a vote of 1659-240. They also approved Proposed Constitutional Amendment No. 2 by a vote of 1012-766, but defeated Proposed Constitutional Amendment No. 3 by 780-1104.

Buck drawing. Winning $103 twice and $75.00 twice.

"When you see these same people winning over and over, it's because they shop in Muleshoe", said a member of the MAC Buck Committee.

The holder of yellow ticket No. 0297850 was not present to claim the $100.00, so a second yellow ticket belonging to Patricia Wilson was drawn. Therefore she walked away with $100.00 in MAC Bucks.

Eighteen turkeys were also given away. Adelina Mendoza won a turkey given by Bentsen's Department Store. Other turkey winners included: Olga Chavez, holding ticket No. 0113315, given by Harvey Bass Appliance; Neva Gray, turkey from Sonic; Amalia Villalobos, turkey given by Ben Franklin; and Sherry Shipman won the turkey given by Thriftway.

Yellow ticket No. 4297231 was held by Cleo Seagroves and she received a turkey from Pay and Save; yellow ticket No. 0667791 won Olga Chavez another turkey which was given by the Ranger; Della Snell was holding yellow ticket No. 0115057 and won the turkey given by Muleshoe Publishing Co.; Ollie Sebring was holding yellow ticket No. 0331141 and received a turkey from Bruce Inc.

Another yellow ticket No. 0296441 being held by Nelda Merriott was the lucky number and Mrs. Merriott received a turkey from Joe's Boot; Della Snell got lucky again (and had to dig her ticket from a coffee can) to receive the turkey from Anthony's Department Store; Robin Perez was the winner of a turkey from Higginbotham; and J.K. Adams won the turkey from Lamberts Cleaners with yellow ticket 0120602.

Olga Chavez got lucky for the fourth time when she was holding yellow ticket No. 0113330 and won the turkey given by Linda's Kitchen. Lookin Goods' turkey went to Rose Butner; Mrs. Nola Trieder was holding yellow ticket No. 0331951 and won the turkey from Muleshoe Trade Center; Muleshoe State Bank's turkey went to Anita Garcia with yellow ticket No. 0325206; and the last turkey given away went to Virgie Mason from Patio Beauty Shop.

So as you can see if you weren't holding a yellow ticket you were out of luck Saturday.

The December drawing will be held on Dec. 17 at the Bailey County Coliseum. At that time a grand total of $1200.00 in MAC Bucks will be given away, along with six of the world's largest stockings. From Dec. 1-15 you will receive double MAC tickets with your purchases.

only if they explain their concerns but if they are accompanied by their parents or if they have a written request from their parents. This is not to limit or discourage visitation, but is to protect students from any feeling of unwelcome intrusion.

Dr. Ward says, "We always care for the total well-being of our students. We wanted a follow-up to evaluate our professional staff's response to a crisis. We wanted an assessment that would either verify our efforts as appropriate or would add a new dimension to our understanding for meeting student needs."

As an added help, Whitecotton has agreed to present a special forum for parents and students on "Helping Youth Through A Crisis." This will be held at 7 p.m. in the board room at the MISD administrative offices. Questions will be welcome.

Rotary Views

Slides Taken

By Watson

As he fielded a lot of questions about Russia and the Russian way of life, Delbert Watson presented a slide program for the Muleshoe Rotary Club on Tuesday at noon.

Watson was introduced by Kenneth Henry, who was in charge of the program for the day.

Watson showed slides of Greenland, Finland, and Russia, as he explained life in the communist country.

"I believe you will have a whole different concept on life in this nation of ours after seeing the slides," said the speaker. "Maybe you will be a little more proud of your country."

He told of the relief felt by the entire American touring group once they left the Russian border, crossing into Finland by train.

Delbert Watson said when he was in Russia early in October, it was just beginning to turn to cold weather there. He likened the country to that in New Mexico and Arizona, and said they irrigated crops from canals.

Cotton harvest was underway, with a projected yield of two bales per acre.

All farmland in Russia is either state (government owned) or were collective farms. Collective farms are approximately 2,500 acres each, with a foreman or overseer for the entire farm, and the actual farming done by various families.

High schools visited were very advanced, with the students studying lasers, and deep into electronics.

Watson, in reply to a question, very carefully explained that the "food wasn't very good, and they would have given a $10 bill for a plain, unadorned hamburger."

Rotary President George Nieman said Roger Clark and Jerry Hicks were new members of Rotary.

He also said the District Governor (J. D. Cage) would make his official visit to the Muleshoe Rotary Club next Tuesday.

Robert Lepard was winner of the Polio Plus drawing.

Visitors at the meeting were Larry Morris, Joel Cowart and Julie Cage.

International Stockmen's School Set At Houston

The 1989 International Stockmen's School in Houston next Feb. 15-18 is aimed at helping stockmen with problems they face in making a profit.

The school, which will be held at the Astro Village Hotel, will feature in-depth concurrent sessions in beef cattle, dairy, horses, range, pasture and wildlife management, futures and options marketing, said Spencer Tanksley, county agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Also, a new section has been added for international guests.

The school is designed to address the needs and meet the challenges of those who will make their living in the livestock business in the years ahead, said

Tanksley. It is a joint effort of the Extension Service, the Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo, and the Agrivis' Foundations of Clovis, Calif.

A balance of outstanding livestock producers, consultants and university officials representing numerous states and several countries will be featured.

The beef cattle program will focus on how a cattle producer can balance fertility, growth, milk, muscle and frame in his production environment. Particular emphasis will be on the importance of size in assuring genetic progress.

A special session dealing with improving beef production on marginal lands will be presented in Spanish. The dairy section will explore the best management practices for super herds with cows that produce more than 20,000 pounds of milk annually.

The main focus of the horse program will be on new developments in the horse racing industry.

Information on registration, including the cost of the overall school as well as the separate sessions, is available from Dr. L.S. Pope, Director, 129 Kleberg Center, Texas A&M University, College Station, Texas 77843; telephone 409-845-3808.

Michigan In Hot Pursuit For Big Ten Championship

In hot pursuit of the Big Ten championship, Michigan heads into the final two games on its schedule against Illinois and Ohio State. At this point it appears that the Wolverines will be the party-of-the-second-part in the Rose Bowl. If Michigan can couple a win over Illinois this week its very convincing 31-6 win over Indiana three weeks ago, only an upset loss to below-average Ohio State could change the title picture. The Wolves are at home... the Illini are the underdogs.

U.C.L.A. and Southern California each have another hurdle remaining before they clash in their Pac-10 finale. The Bruins have already stumbled on one hurdle... Washington State. The Trojans are favored on the road against Arizona State and U.C.L.A. should beat visiting Stanford. We're just happy to have another week to contemplate a winner between the Uclans and Southern Cal!

Also very aware of upset clouds on the immediate horizon before their meeting in Morgantown on November 19th are West Virginia and Syracuse. West Virginia must travel to troublesome Rutgers and Boston College hosts Syracuse. The Mountaineers who averaged over 44 points in their first eight games should handle Rutgers, and the Orangemen are favored over Boston College.

Our forecasting statistics through games of October 29th: 1,266 right and 397 wrong for a .761 average. Yup, we're still smiling!

Akansas and Texas A&M tangle in Fayetteville for supremacy in the Southwest Conference. For the Razorbacks it's their final conference game, but the Aggies still must play T.C.U. and Texas. We lean just slightly toward Arkansas.

And Auburn hosts Georgia in the biggie in the Southeast Conference. The Tigers still have a date with Alabama later this month, but for the 'Dogs this is their conference finale. Auburn beat Georgia last season 27-11, and the home-standing Tigers are in the favorites' role in this one too.

Thanks A Million

To all the people who did so many nice things while I was in the hospital last week.

You're All Special!

Cleta Williams

Protect Newborn Babies Vaccinate Mothers

An often deadly infection that strikes newborn babies could be prevented by vaccinating pregnant women, researchers at Baylor College of Medicine reported today.

An estimated 3,500 babies die each year in the United States as a result of the infection and thousands more are left mentally retarded or blind. Mothers can become moderately ill, but generally recover after a few days of treatment.

A Baylor study reported in today's New England Journal of Medicine found that an experimental vaccine for group B streptococcal (GBS) infection, which attacks 11,000 American infants a year, safely provided immunity to more than 60 percent of the vaccinated women and to 80 percent of their babies.

Because the study involved only 40 women and vaccination did not provide immunity to all of them or their babies, tests in larger groups of women will be needed before vaccination against GBS becomes a common practice, said Baylor infectious diseases expert Dr. Carol Baker.

She conducted the study with colleagues at Baylor and Brigham and Women's Hospital in Boston.

"While this vaccine doesn't induce immunity in as many women as we had hoped, it does cause the mother to make the kind of antibody that is passed to the baby and is highly effective in helping the body's white blood cells to kill GBS bacteria," said Baker, professor of pediatrics, and microbiology and immunology at Baylor.

"There is no question that we should proceed with developing a better vaccine for prevention of GBS infections," she said. "But as time goes on, GBS infections are still prevalent and we need to seriously consider whether this vaccine should be used in the meantime."

Baker said that a modified version of the current GBS is being developed by her collaborators at Brigham and Women's Hospital and test may begin next year.

Group B streptococcal infections are caused by four different strains of the bacteria and strike children during the first three months of life. It is the most common cause of serious infections, including meningitis, during the first two months of life.

The infection kills approximately 55 percent of the premature infants affected, and 15 percent of the babies born at full term. Some are left mentally retarded or blind as a result of meningitis, an infection of the membranes covering the brain and spinal cord.

In women, group B strep infection strikes during or soon after delivery.

"GBS are bacteria that normally reside in the genital and gastrointestinal tract, but an event such as birth, especially cesarean section, can cause an infection to develop, usually in the uterus or in the surgical wound," Baker said. "The infection can be treated easily with antibiotics given intravenously, in the majority of cases, but it does keep the mother in the hospital an extra two or three days."

The National Academy of Sciences estimates that each year 48,000 American women develop GBS infections.

When an unborn child is in the womb, the mother and child exchange blood through the umbilical cord. In the last few weeks of pregnancy, that exchange includes antibodies against viruses and bacteria. But when the child is born, the level of those antibodies begins to drop. The baby eventually develops antibodies, but that process

Offshore Oil Production Down, Gas Up

Leases in state offshore waters produced 54,075 barrels* of oil during August, down from 130,894 barrels in July, according to Railroad Commission Chairman James E. (Jim) Nugent.

Gas well gas production from offshore leases amounted to 8,440,994 Mcf (thousand cubic feet) of gas in August, against 7,407,651 Mcf of gas in July.

Casinghead gas production totaled 64,588 Mcf* of gas in August, compared to 136,260 Mcf of gas in July. Casinghead gas is natural gas produced from oil wells.

Nugent said condensate production from offshore leases amounted to 15,903 barrels in August, against 18,658 barrels in July. Condensates are liquid hydrocarbons produced from gas wells.

In August, offshore crude production made up about 0.09 percent of the preliminary figure for crude production in Texas, according to Nugent. Offshore gas well gas production was approximately 2.34 percent of the preliminary state total.

August offshore production in state waters was reported from 28 oil and 417 gas wells.

usually takes several months. Vaccinating a pregnant woman several weeks before delivery allows enough time for the mother to develop antibodies to pass on to the fetus.

The vaccine Baker tested is made from outer surface or capsule of a type of GBS bacteria called "Type III," which causes two-thirds of GBS infections in infants. The vaccine does not contain any living parts of the bacteria.

In the Baylor study, 40 women received a single dose of the GBS vaccine 4 to 15 weeks before giving birth. Twenty of the 35 women who had little or no antibodies to GBS prior to vaccination had much higher antibody levels a month after being vaccinated. Another five women who had some antibodies before vaccination later developed two to ten times more antibodies after vaccination. The remaining 15 women developed antibodies after vaccination, that

Flu Immunizations Need Yearly Update

The influenza season is just about upon us, and right now is a good time for certain high-risk individuals to be immunized against this disease usually associated with the winter months.

"Influenza kills about 20,000 individuals in the U.S. each year, most of them in the high-risk categories," said Steve McInelly, a public health advisor with the Immunization Division of the Texas Department of Health (TDH).

"By high-risk categories, we mean persons age 65 or older, persons with chronic respiratory and cardiovascular conditions, and children weakened by health problems," he explained.

Flu season is most intense from December through April, although cases can occur in any month. And since the virus mutates frequently, immunizations should be updated yearly. The strains of flu predicted to be most threatening this year are A-Taiwan, A-Sichuan and B-Victoria. A single vaccine guards against all three of these strains, and persons immunized last year need to be immunized again this year to be fully protected. Because the vaccine is improved, it causes very few reactions, and takes full effect within about two weeks of the "shot."

"Contact your personal physician or local health department if you have questions about immunization," McInelly advised.

Typical influenza illness is characterized by an abrupt onset of fever, accompanied by a sore throat, "dry" cough and extreme malaise. Severe cases may lead to pneumonia or may be fatal to persons with other weakening conditions.

"Parents should always use caution in giving aspirin to children under age 16, because the ingredients in aspirin have been linked to the development of Reye Syndrome," McInelly added. Reye syndrome is a neurologic disorder which can develop in young persons during recovery from flu or chickenpox.

In general, flu lasts for five to seven days, and physicians usually recommend bed rest, fluids, and sometimes prescription drugs.

were low to provide immunity to themselves or their babies.

The mothers' antibody levels did not change three months after delivery.

Of the 25 infants born to the women who were successfully immunized, 80 percent had protective levels of GBS antibodies one month later, and 64 percent had protective antibody levels three months later.

"In test-tube experiments, the antibodies produced in response to the vaccine were extremely effective in allowing GBS bacteria to be engulfed and killed by white blood cells," Baker said.

The only side effects seen in the women were some mild swelling and tenderness at the site of vaccination. The infants had no side effects.

Baker has been testing experimental GBS vaccines for 10 years. She developed the Type III vaccine in collaboration with Dr. Dennis L. Kasper, co-director of the Channing Laboratory at Brigham and Women's Hospital, and the Edward Kass Professor at Harvard Medical School.

"Much of the delay in testing this vaccine in pregnant women has been because of concerns about the unknown risk to the fetus," Baker said. "But this vaccine would be given at a time when fetal development is almost complete. Our study suggests that the risk to the unborn child is negligible."

Baker's study was supported by the National Institute of Allergy and Infectious Diseases in Bethesda, Md.

FEDERAL EMERGENCY MANAGEMENT AGENCY FEDERAL INSURANCE ADMINISTRATION

Proposed Flood Elevation Determinations
AGENCY: Federal Emergency Management Agency

ACTION: Proposed rule.

SUMMARY:

Technical information or comments are solicited on the proposed base (100-year) flood elevations shown in your community's preliminary Flood Insurance Study and Flood Insurance Rate Map. These base (100-year) flood elevations are the basis for the floodplain management measures that the community is required to either adopt or show evidence of being already in effect in order to qualify or remain qualified for participation in the National Flood Insurance Program (NFIP)

DATES:

The period for comment will be ninety (90) days following the second publication of this proposed rule in a newspaper of local circulation in the community.

ADDRESSES:

Study and maps showing the proposed base flood elevations and their delineation are available for review at 215 South 1st Street, Muleshoe, Texas.

Send comments to:

The Honorable Darrell Turner
Mayor of the City of Muleshoe
Bailey County
215 South 1st Street
Muleshoe, Texas 79347

For Further Information Contact:

John L. Matticks
Chief, Risk Studies Division
Federal Insurance Administration
Federal Emergency Management Agency
Washington, DC 20472
(202) 646-2767

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

The Federal Emergency Management Agency gives notice of the proposed determinations of base (100-year) flood elevations, in accordance with Section 110 of the Flood Disaster Protection Act of 1973 (Pub. L. 93-234), 87 Stat. 980, which added Section 1363 to the National Flood Insurance Act of 1968 (Title XIII of the Housing and Urban Development Act of 1968 (Pub. L. 90-448), 42 U.S.C. 4001-4128, and 44 CFR 67.4 (a).

These elevations, together with the floodplain management measures required by Section 60.3 of the program regulations, are the minimum that are required. They should not be construed to mean the community must change any existing ordinances that are more stringent in their floodplain management requirements. The community may at any time enact stricter requirements on its own, or pursuant to policies established by other Federal, State, or regional entities. These proposed elevations will also be used to calculate the appropriate flood insurance premium rates for new building and their contents and for the second layer of insurance on existing buildings and their contents.

Pursuant to the provisions of 5 USC 605 (b), the Administrator, to whom authority has been delegated by the Director, Federal Emergency Management Agency, hereby certifies that the proposed flood elevation determinations, if promulgated, will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities. A flood elevation determination under Section 1363 forms the basis for new local ordinances, which, if adopted by a local community, will govern future construction within the floodplain area. The elevation determinations, however, impose no restriction unless and until the local community voluntarily adopts floodplain ordinances in accord with these elevations. Even if ordinances are adopted in compliance with Federal standards, the elevations prescribe how high the elevations prescribe how high to build the floodplain and do not prohibit development. Thus, this action only forms the basis for future local actions. It imposes no new requirement; of itself it has no economic impact.

Lessees and owners of real property in the City of Muleshoe, Bailey County, Texas, are encouraged to review the preliminary Flood Insurance Study and Flood Insurance Rate Map available at the address cited above. Proposed base flood elevations along flood sources studied in detail are shown on the flood profiles in the study. The flood sources studied in detail are:

Source of Flooding	Range of base Flood Elevations *Elevation in feet (NGVD)
Blackwater Draw	*3,775-3,802
Playa No. 2-Outflow	*3,775-3,786
Blackwater Draw Diversion	*3,794-3,802

The End?

The world might indeed be close to the end. The other day in Florida a burglar sued a storekeeper he had robbed because he injured himself while being chased by the outraged storekeeper.

A Jacksonville, Florida

jury, however, turned the tables on the burglar, and instead of giving him an award, ordered him to pay the storekeeper $25,000.

It's getting so an honest burglar can't pick up a few bucks with a smart lawyer—if the first burglary fails!

State Comptroller Sends Extra Auditors To Houston

State Comptroller Bob Bullock Wednesday said he'll send extra auditors to Houston to look into complaints against a handful of charity bingo games.

"There's been a lot of finger-pointing and allegations about bingo games in Houston and we're going to get to the bottom of it," Bullock said.

He said he will work with Attorney General Jim Mattox in investigating accusations of rigged games, cash skimming and payoffs to charities.

"We don't have any solid evidence of wrongdoing at this point, but I encourage anyone with specific knowledge to step forward," Bullock said.

Bullock said his office will audit games and bingo halls and will take sanctions against unscrupulous operations, including license revocations and game closings.

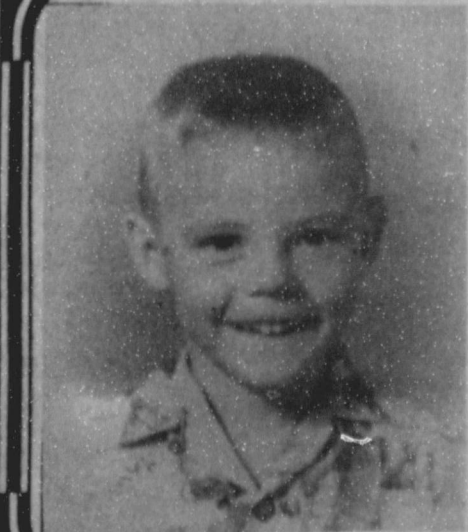

"We're limited in the remedies we have against these operators but we'll take our evidence where we need to for the fullest prosecution," Bullock said.

He said violations of the law would be referred to the Harris County District Attorney's office or to the Attorney General Mattox.

There are 98 organizations operating bingo games at 52 locations in Harris County, but it only takes a handful of rascals to taint the whole system, Bullock said.

He said his office received and investigated 44 complaints in Harris County this year. There have also been 51 audits in Harris County during 1988 and 20 licenses proposed for revocation.

"We're stepping up enforcement to assure that charity bingo is being played for the purpose it was intended," Bullock said.

KNOW THE WEATHER

Inversions are not understood by many who watch and study the weather. One form of a weather inversion is when those living at higher altitudes enjoy warmer air than those in lower altitudes. Because we have been taught that the temperature falls as we rise into higher air, we seldom think that those on top of a mountain might be enjoying warm sunshine while in the valley it's cold, damp, or foggy. Often it's the other way around, of course. Those on top of hills and mountains might be in the clouds and when a front passes, they get more wind and more wind-chill. But in winter, more often than summer, cold air will often settle in lower regions and leave the higher altitudes in sunshine and warmer air, air pushed up by the falling cold air. This is why at many ski resorts in the mountains skiers can often get a sun tan in brilliant sunshine and relatively warm air, while in the valley below it's colder and often foggy, misty or cloudy.
