Town Admonishes Seniors to Anger Against Things Evil

Isaac Watts channeled steam to produce power, Rev. Brown pointed out. The anger of the individual may follow the same course as steam, he said, "blowing up in hot air," or being directed to use. Patrick Henry directed his anger for the cause of the American colonies, a use for the betterment of his people, the speaker said.

And so, he concluded, the seniors should have an aggressive attitude of mind towards things evil, as they go out to take their places in the world.

Magazine Article Recalls Hazardous Trip of Frost and 'Fast-Water Man'

John A. (Jack) Frost of the U. S. Geological Survey here and who with F. A. Thurman went down the San Juan River last summer in a dangerous boat trip, also accompanied Norman Nevills, who is described as "Fast-Water Man" in a recent article in The Saturday Evening Post. Nevills is considered an outstanding authority on traversing fast rivers and has gone down the San Juan and Colorado Rivers.

He has established for himself an outstanding reputation as a guide, according to the story, on these two dangerous trips and builds boats especially prepared for the hazardous trips.

The magazine article described in detail how Nevills made his first trip and how he had made numerous trips since that time.

Frost made the trip last year down the San Juan River from Bluff, Utah, and on into the Colorado River to Lee's Ferry. He visited the Rainbow Bridge, Music Temple, and other points of interest along the 180 miles of the San Juan River and the 60 miles of the Colorado River, which they traveled.

Thurman, who is a geologist for the Pure Oil Company, and Frost spent three months in preparation for their trip and in making their boat.

But with the publication of the magazine article, Frost explained here, that he has not only helped Nevills build his first boat but that he and Mrs. Frost were present and made the trip in that first boat. The first boat used in traversing the dangerous waters and the rapids of the San Juan were described in the article as similar to a water trough. It made the trip in safety, however, following some anxious minutes over the dreaded rapids.

Nevills lives at Mexican Hat, Utah, on the bank of the San Juan River. There he is employed by the Geological Survey and takes soundings of the San Juan River. The trips down the river, of course, are a sideline with him. Mexican Hat is described as an extremely dry place in an isolated section.

Mr. Frost plans to visit Mexico and Nevills in the very near future on an inspection trip through Utah, Arizona, and Northwest New Mexico. They will likely talk over the first trip they made as well as the one, which Frost made last July.

Summer Program Of Play to Start On Monday, June 3

After one full week's vacation the summer program of the Artesia schools will get under way on Monday morning, June 3, it has been announced here.

A full schedule for the morning activities is expected to be worked out by the three instructors prior to the opening of the summer sessions. These instructors are F. L. Green and Mrs. Flora Thompson, physical education instructors, and J. Bud Farrar, instrumental instructor.

The schedule for the various groups will be announced as soon as completed. Every effort is made to prevent any conflicts and to permit all boys and girls to participate in all phases of the athletic and musical program.

All school students, of course, are eligible to participate in the summer program and they are urged to do so.

Enrollment for the 10 weeks' classes is expected to take place on Monday. It is planned for the program to continue through Aug. 9.

This will be the second year that the program has been carried out here. It was inaugurated last summer and although enrollment was not as heavy as expected, it is hoped this year will be increased this year.

"Approximately 250 members of Youth One-Variety Cotton Community who plant about 2200 acres in cotton annually had a 1938-45 average value per acre of lint and seed of $90.75, compared with the state average of $45.78. Premiums for better staple and extra yield amounted to $820,500 in eight years, or over $100,000 annually."—From Georgia Extension Service report.

Teachers Have Big Plans For Summer

(From Artesia Hi Beacon)
By Margaret Moutray

By the time that summer comes most of the teachers have big plans for the vacation that they are going to take, or the things they are going to do.

Now take our superintendent, Mr. Kerr: He is spending most of his time here, but he is also going to Lake Chataqua, New York, and Buffalo, New York, to attend the National Education Association meeting from June 27-July 5. Miss Anne Howarth has big plans. She is going to Alaska and from there to California in her car.

Miss Alma Sue Felix is going to Phoenix, Arizona, to see her sister for about a week. After that she has no further plans.

J. Clark Bruce is going to get a car first, then go to Illinois for about a week, and then to California for two months. Miss Linna McCaw is going to take a trip which might be California, or Mexico City. Miss Marion Clark Wood is thinking about going to Washington University. Mrs. Leone French may go to California. Rufus Stinnitt will visit in Colorado and Kansas.

Robert Parham plans to stay in Artesia and work, raise a garden, particularly melons. Flora Thompson will take a vacation, probably in Colorado, and will work part of the summer here on the recreational program. Coach Alan Thompson will run the swimming pool, and take some correspondence work for college. J. Bud Farrar will teach summer instrumental music, then he and his wife will go on a vacation to Florida, in August. Mrs. Anne Kinder will work, holding a pre-school clinic.

Howard Miller is going fishing, and just more or less loaf. Don Riddle might go to Indiana. Miss Alyce Erickson is going to Bellflower, California. Charles Wallis plans to go to Texas, California, and Oregon, on a vacation with his wife. Miss Esther Ekstrom is going to Denver, then to Kansas for a vacation. Miss Isabel Moore is going to Boulder, Colorado. Miss Lois Nethery will be at home in Norman, Oklahoma, and will work part time in the reference department at the University of Oklahoma.

Mrs. Ralph Hayes will go to school in Oklahoma. Mrs. Margaret Bildstone is going to Denver, Colorado, for her vacation.

Municipal Pool Opens Wednesday For 1946 Season

The Artesia municipal swimming pool opened at noon Wednesday for the 1946 season, with Alan Thompson of the high school faculty again in charge as manager for the city, as he was last season.

Thompson has announced the pool will be open from 9 o'clock in the morning to 6 o'clock in the afternoon each Monday through Friday and on Sundays from 1 to 6 o'clock. The pool will be closed on Saturdays for draining, cleaning, and refilling.

The manager said that during the summer, Red Cross life saving and swimming courses will be offered by F. L. Green and Mrs. Flora Thompson, also of the high school faculty.

Likewise, the pool will be used during the summer in cooperation with the playground program, with swimming instruction offered to the boys and girls.

Thompson said two qualified and experienced lifeguards, Jimmie Blue and Robert Painter, will be on the job this season.

The pool manager will operate a concession stand, in connection with admissions and the rental of swimming suits and towels.

No season tickets are being offered this season.

The government's emergency wheat purchase program has been amended to apply to wheat produced prior to last year as well as to the 1945 crop. Only specification now required for wheat delivered under the program is that it meet CCC loan eligibility requirements as to quality.

Mrs. Nelle Hamann is just going to keep house this summer. James Allen is going to keep cool this summer, as he is going to his cabin at Ruidoso, then to Oregon and back to his Ruidoso cabin. Coach F. L. Green will be in charge of the boys' playground, and see all of the parks and playgrounds in the "land of enchantment." And last, but not least, Mr. Don Marshall will be on duty here part of the summer, but if he can buy a new car he is taking his family to Oklahoma.

Never Too Busy For This

Iika Chase, famous for her satirical writing, radio programs and attire, finds her days hectic to say the least. But she gives her full attention to a job she knows cannot be neglected—the job of saving used fat in her New York apartment kitchen. She realizes how important it is to save and turn in every drop of kitchen grease to help make soap.

PRODUCTION OF BALE TIES BEHIND SCHEDULE

Hay producers who are planning on baling their 1946 crop must either make sure immediately that they can secure enough bale ties to meet their needs or start making other plans to handle their production. Production of ties during the first half of the year is expected to be 25,000 to 30,000 in short of demand. Continuous production at full capacity after an early settlement of the coal strike still would be insufficient to fulfill the 110,000-ton demand estimated for the year.

HALL AUTO PARTS

We leave no pain for others without keeping an equal amount for ourselves. The hurt of a word or deed plants a seed in two hearts. The thief steals a like amount from himself. We can keep only that which we give of good or evil, hate or a prayer, tears or a song.

If winged mustangs break their stake-ropes on the lush prairies of Valhalla, and the sound of muffled hoofs and chiming spurs pour out of the sky range where old cowboys have watched star fires burn in endless night, there is cause for pandemonium. Some new hand in paradise has brought the word that cowboy's shirts sell for as much as $60 in the sage and mesquite land where work and wage used to be important.

Experience is not only a severe teacher, she is persistent to the extent of punishing us for the same mistakes as often as necessary.

Dismal rain fell on the auction lot where many had stood to pay more than they could afford for objects they would not purchase in any other mart. Only two articles remained unwanted, a crude pulpit and a pool table. Being merely an observer of life on this dangerous star, my mistakes are more frequent than the days, but I would not fail in my guess at the object which would have caused greater bidding, had the auction continued. Men would probably be more concerned about their souls if there was a way to avoid thought in the process.

Golden urns held the flames of clouds licking night's half-drawn curtains and the scent of rain was on spring's enchanting gown, swishing through the little valleys. It was a twilight to rouse old memories from their couches in corridors of the past, and like restless phantoms, trek through the opened door. Each spring is cut from the pattern of a thousand others.

Mothers Are Honored at Lunch By Lions Club
In observance of "Mother's Day," members of the Artesia Lions Club had as their guests 23 mothers at the weekly luncheon Wednesday noon, May 8.

The tables at Duration Hall of the First Baptist Church were gay with decorations of spring flowers, and each of the honored mothers was presented a corsage.

Vote For MRS. GEORGIA L. LUSK

Candidate For Democratic Nomination For United States Representative

Mrs. Lusk is a native of New Mexico, born in Carlsbad, who has spent her entire life in the state.

From 1925-29, she served as Lea County School Superintendent. In 1930, 1932, 1942 and 1944, she was nominated by the Democratic party and elected to the office of State Superintendent of Public Instruction. In that office for eight years, she has worked consistently for the raising of educational standards and for a legislative program which would attract capable educators to serve New Mexico through a retirement law recognized as a model throughout the United States and for a Teacher Tenure Law designed to remove further the state's schools from politics.

Following the death of her husband in 1919, Mrs. Lusk became the head of a family engaged in the ranching business in Lea and Guadalupe Counties. During this time, she served capably as Lea County School Superintendent for two terms, and as State Superintendent of Public Instruction for two terms. Also during this time, she saw her three sons, Virgil, Dolph and Eugene, grow to manhood, educated in New Mexico schools, start their careers and in 1941 volunteer for service in the armed forces when the country was threatened. One son, Virgil, lost his life during the war.

Of her candidacy, Mrs. Lusk says, "A study of my record in public office will, I feel, show that my experience and training have enabled me to render efficient public service. My work with the public schools of New Mexico has taken me into every county and most communities, large and small, during the seven years that I have served you as State Superintendent of Public Instruction. Those visits have given me a clear picture of each community's needs and problems and how they are integrated with the needs and problems of the state as a whole. Also, being head of a family engaged in the ranching business gives me an understanding of New Mexico economics.

"Personal interest in the welfare of New Mexico's veterans will continue to guide my actions as a public official, should I be nominated and elected to the Congress."

Mrs. Lusk promises to render to New Mexico the same service which her record shows that she has rendered in the past. She believes that in public office there can be no substitute for experience.

Nugent Starts Construction on Eight New Houses for Veterans

Actual construction of the first homes here either to be sold or rented to ex-servicemen was started Monday morning by Walter Nugent, local contractor. Nugent, who recently announced the purchase of building sites for the erection of about 20 homes, announced he has received a permit for the construction of eight new homes through the Federal Housing Administration at Albuquerque.

The houses will be built on full-sized lots, 50x140 feet and will consist of four rooms and bath. They will be stucco and plaster construction, he stated.

Four of the new homes will be erected on West Dallas and four on West Grand. These are not being placed at this time in the new addition. He does plan, however, if additional permits can be secured, to erect homes on the sites purchased just west of the Alta Vista addition, which adjoins Artesia on the southwest.

Construction got underway on Monday morning and is to be continued with the houses being erected as rapidly as possible. Nugent plans to erect other homes when these are completed.

He recently announced that he had been contacted by many when he announced he planned to erect the homes and he explained that he believed he could sell or rent 50 homes if he could build them.

He made a special trip to Albuquerque to present his request for the permit to build homes for ex-servicemen. It required about three weeks to secure the necessary priorities. He has obtained sufficient building materials.

The demand for rent houses, apartments, light housekeeping rooms, and even homes that can be purchased continues here extremely heavy.

Paul Case, Congress Candidate, Visits Artesia On Friday

Paul Case of Socorro, and who was discharged from the armed forces two weeks ago, was an Artesia visitor Friday in the interest of his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for Congress.

He has served several terms in the State Legislature and is well known over the state.

He discussed his campaign with friends in Artesia and was campaigning in the interest of his candidacy.

Some seven candidates have filed on the Democratic ticket and three on the Republican ticket. Two places, of course, are to be filled at the fall election. Congressman Fernandez is a candidate for re-election while the other place is that of Secretary of Agriculture Clinton Anderson, who resigned from Congress to accept the cabinet appointment.

going into the farming business. Leonard Appleton, extension economist of New Mexico A. & M. College, offers some suggestions for these prospective farmers.

First of all, he says, they should try working on a farm for at least a year in order to gain the practical experience essential for success in farming and to find out for sure if they like farm life. Other suggestions and warnings are:

Avoid investment in a farm that is too small or does not have the productive capacity to support one's family, unless there is some other source of income.

Do not buy a farm until you have enough money to pay down and to equip and operate it without going too heavily in debt.

Do not buy a farm unless you have a wife who knows from farm experience that she wants to live on a farm.

Do not buy a farm unless you know that you want to do the kind of farming for which that farm is adapted.

MABRY FOR GOVERNOR

(Democratic Primary June 4)

was born on a farm in Carlisle county, Kentucky, 1884, was educated at Bardwell, Ky., high school of New Mexico, and University of Oklahoma. He moved to Mexico in 1907, locating at Clovis, after having a 160 acre "claim" nearby. After study of law he was married to Katherine Burns, teacher of Clovis; and he removed to Albuquerque to enter the practice of his profession. The Mabry children and four grandchildren.

He has held many offices of honor and trust during forty years residence in the state. He was the member of the historic convention which wrote the Constitution in 1910, a delegate from the then territory. He was again elected by the people of the territory to represent them in the first state senate, where he served from 1912 to 1917.

He was elected district attorney (Albuquerque) for the term of 1933 to 1937. He was elected in 1938 to the same district carrying Bernalillo county by a majority over a strong and able Republican opponent.

He was nominated in 1938 as the Democratic party candidate for justice of the Supreme Court (the last nomination before the primary came in) by nearly a majority of the convention, was elected over an able Republican opponent by over 26,000 majority, and again carrying the county by a little less than 6000 majority.

The past year he served as Chief Justice of the Supreme Court to which he was elevated in 1938, and recently he ran the race for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

Tom Mabry is not claimed by any faction or group. He has always worked for party harmony and has been richly rewarded for his efforts. But he is not afraid to stand for what is right, inside or outside the party.

He is known to be courageous and strong in his convictions and is the right and proper conduct of those intrusted with the office.

Even the opposition agrees that Judge Mabry's record over the long period of thirty-six years shows a man who would reflect upon him as an able, conscientious and public servant.

His nomination will give us an able, aggressive and capable candidate for governor, which will bring victory to the state.

Vote for Mabry and good government.

On its widespread list of achievements the club can name many successful public benefits, such as plays and minstrel shows. At one time it was instrumental in securing playground equipment for Cottonwood School.

Along civic welfare lines, the club has brought many beneficial subjects within reach of its members. Some of them are: Cooking, sewing, millinery, tailoring, interior decoration, remodeling clothing, making dress forms, basic pattern making, nutrition gardening, and studied nutrition.

Farmers In Need Of Labor Should File Applications

Farmers needing farm labor and who are unable to find it in their section of the country should file applications for laborers at the county office of the Agricultural Extension Service, County Agent Dallas Rierison said.

Farm laborers desiring work should also file applications at the county agent's office, Rierison said. "By this method," he added, "persons wanting farm work can be put in touch with farmers desiring workers."

When more applications are received for workers than there are workers' applications available in the county agent's office, he will then request additional workers from the United States Employment Service office, Rierison explained. Rierison also explained that if there are not enough laborers within a county to supply the demand, the county agent will then notify the state supervisor of emergency farm labor of the shortage. The state supervisor will report the shortage to counties where labor is available and make every effort to recruit workers for labor shortage areas.

Rierison has already contacted the USES and is making every effort to obtain labor. The state supervisor is now working on recruiting labor from the northern counties. If a farmer needs labor, he is sure and let the county agent know as far ahead and the time as possible, Rierison said.

PRACTICAL FARM BUILDINGS

One-Story Farmhouse

By W. J. Dryden, WNU Farm Editor.

The building of a farm house calls for careful planning. Local building supply firms should be consulted as to available supplies before definite plans are completed. The Minnesota house, shown on this page, will prove an excellent basis for drawing up plans for a one-story home. Additional rooms may be added as desired. The rectangular or square farm house has taken the place of the l-shaped house and has become a the location of the driveways and other buildings. It is desirable to have the driveway and barn in view from the kitchen windows.

The benefits derived from a well-lighted house are well recognized, and are carefully guarded in recent years. When electricity is not available, the newly constructed house should be wired for the day when it will be attainable. These houses may face south, east or west and, by reversing, will face type that has many features to justify its popularity. The arrangement of the rooms is influenced by the direction the house faces and by the work that is to be done in the house, as well as by north. It is easy to change the arrangement as found necessary to suit individual needs. Bricks, plywood, lumber, concrete and tile may all be utilized as building material.

Ross Paints Dark Picture As to Bread

The gravity of the flour situation was stressed Tuesday noon of last week at the weekly luncheon of the Artesia Rotary Club by M. C. Ross of Ross Baking Company, who said the mills do not know where the wheat is coming from for the June milling.

If there is no flour available in June — which seems possible — bakers will have to close up, Ross predicted.

He explained that the present flour being used, somewhat darker than that to which most are used in this nation, results from the government order requiring 80 per cent extraction flour, as compared with the former 72 per cent.

The additional eight pounds out of each 100 must come from feed, Ross said, which made him wonder whether it actually saves wheat, taking the feed wheat off the market.

Flour may get much worse before it gets better, the speaker predicted, adding that the sooner this comes about the better, as it might bring about action by the government.

He termed the 30-cent increase in price of wheat, recently allowed, as a "legal black market."

Mills in this nation are limited today to milling 75 per cent of the amount of wheat for domestic consumption they milled a year ago, Ross said. And if they were in export trade then, they are by necessity closed now.

Sheep Will Be Allotted to 4-H Club Members

An essay contest with 12 South-down ewe sheep and one ram to be allotted to 4-H club members is being sponsored. The essay will be "The Advantage of the Farm Flock," and it will be more than 300 words in length. This essay will have to be in the county agent's office by June 1 to make the participant eligible for the contest.

These sheep will be allotted to four boys or girls who will show them in the district fair at Roswell and at "Achievement Day" in Carlsbad.

The following prizes will be given to those members who take the best care of their sheep in the county: $60, $40, $25, $10. These prizes will be given with the un-

Harrald, Tex., Seniors Welcomed Chamber Introduces New Ideas

Members of the Harrold (Tex) High School graduating class and three accompanying teachers were given a special welcome to Artesia May 13 afternoon as they were making a trip to the Carlsbad Caverns, the first of its kind accorded to a visiting group here.

To the surprise of both seniors and teachers, each was handed an envelope containing a personal welcome to the Oil Capital of New Mexico, along with Artesia and New Mexico literature, prepared by Tom Watson, manager of the Artesia Chamber of Commerce, in behalf of the business and professional men of the community.

The party of 14 seniors and three teachers left Harrold Sunday morning and spent that night in Lubbock, Tex., before coming on to Artesia. They spent Monday night in Artesia and went through the Carlsbad Caverns on Tuesday. The seniors and teachers returned to Artesia Tuesday night and left Wednesday morning for Harrold by way of Hobbs.

R. S. Vanhoove, principal of the school, was in charge of the party. Other teachers in the party were Mrs. J. B. Taylor and Mrs. L. H. Bryant.

The letters of welcome to the members of the Harrold party, headed, "Seniors of Harrold High School, Welcome to Artesia," read:

"Greetings, Seniors of Harrold, Texas, High School: How're you feeling after your jaunt across part of your state and into New Mexico? You're now in Artesia—The Oil Center of New Mexico . . . in the Heart of the Pecos Valley—Yep, you're West of the Pecos! The River is about four miles east of Artesia.

"There are two things here that flow without pressure—the underground water of this area and the hospitality of the people who live here. That's where we get the name Artesia—the water flows to the surface when given an opening, so . . . the people took over the idea and their friendship is the same kind.

"You're about 63 miles from the entrance to the caverns. We hope you have a grand time on your trip—that you are able to describe the caverns when you have seen them—that you will come back to see us—and congratulations on your graduation!"

At the bottom Watson had added: "The gateway to the Mountains—The Crossroads to the Caverns."

The Chamber of Commerce manager indicated it is planned to greet every such group visiting Artesia, when advance notice of their coming has been received. And individual visitors, staying at hotels or tourist courts, who have sent in for reservations, are to be handed personal welcome letters.

Members of the Chamber of Commerce have indicated that the idea should help spread the good will of Artesia far and wide, as visitors are given personal welcomes and then go away feeling that this city is one of the most progressive and friendly in the nation.

World Becoming Better, Declares Dale Fischbeck

Dale Fischbeck declared "The World Is Becoming Progressively Better," in a talk by that title at the weekly Rotary Club luncheon Tuesday noon, May 7.

Scanning history quickly, the speaker pointed out that the world is ever going forward through religion and science. Religion, he said, causes people to go forward, while science instructs them how to do so. And, he added, science does not conflict in any way with religion.

"God created man and made him curious," Fischbeck said. "And if he had had no curiosity, he would not have advanced and investigated for himself." This civilization has always gone forward.

The personal opinion of the individual amounts to nothing, Fischbeck declared, but through differences of opinion and the combination of ideas advancement comes about. In this light, he said, good will comes out of this chaotic world.

Home, the speaker said, should be the center of knowledge, but there are other ways of getting knowledge, and the more one gets the better. Christianity, which should be in the fore in every family, is the only force the world has ever had which taught men how to live together peacefully, Fischbeck said. And when Christianity becomes worldwide, men will have learned to live together.

Methodists Gain 107 Members in Present Year

The 107 new members of the Methodist Church accepted into membership during the present year, were honored by the church with a chicken dinner and reception held on the church lawn on Wednesday evening, May 8.

The new members were welcomed into the church by a short address by Rev. C. A. Clark, pastor of the local church. The remainder of the evening was spent in fellowship and a general good time.

The majority of the new members, who have joined the church, were secured during the membership campaign conducted by the local church. More than 70 were secured in the first four evenings' work by visiting pastors and the laymen of the local church. The campaign conducted by the Artesia church is a part of the drive over the world by the Methodists to win members to Christ.

Reverend Clark has announced that he has accepted approximately 30 additional letters now of others, who expect to unite with the local church.

We hope that for each of you your dream will more and more come true, and congratulate every one of you in all sincerity and cordiality.

Eddy Farmers to Spend $393,000 On Improvements

Expenditures totaling more than $393,000 will be made in the next few years by home owners on farms and in small communities of Eddy County to improve present electric service and home plumbing.

These outlays will mean additional income to practically every local business and will finance additional wiring, bathroom improvements, and new electrical equipment for the county's 1427 farm and rural homes already served with electricity, according to a study released by the Tile Council of America.

Introduction of running water, installation of tiled bathrooms, and replacement of outmoded plumbing fixtures head the list of most wanted farm home features, D. P. Forst, chairman of the council's residential construction committee, revealed. One in five farm families throughout the nation plan bathroom improvements, he said.

Additional wiring is needed in practically every farm home with electricity, according to the study. A huge market likewise exists for milking machines, quick freezing units, electric motors, baby chick brooders, and other equipment.

Expenditures in the county are part of an $8,064,000 program to be undertaken by New Mexico farm and rural home owners in the next five years, the study revealed. An estimated $2,294,900,000 on similar improvements to present electric service will be spent in the nation during that time.

The war has made women so independent that the GI's new home will need two master bedrooms.
