

Wetbacks' Brought To North Eddy In Sprinkler

capture in Eddy County of a truck, which Immigration Border Patrol officers said was used to transport 13 "wetbacks" from the Rio Grande, and set off a chain of events which may prove to be one of the biggest alien smuggling operations in years.

Mauro Ruiz, 25, and Mauro Ruiz, 25, and Mauro Ruiz, 25, were arrested Monday before R. E. Crawford, United States commissioner, in connection with the alleged transportation of aliens.

Both men were taken to the county jail in default of bonds of $500 each. It was said both are states citizens.

It was said to have been the driver of the truck, while Immigration officials said Lujan had used the sprinkler truck to transport the wetbacks to the Pecos County about six miles north of the Rio Grande, where the Reclamation Bureau, which has a sprinkler, was captured last Thursday at Carlsbad. Sheriff Dwight Lee's forces, North Eddy County farm, tipped off O. T. Lindsey, chief of police, was

United Vets To Stage Parade, 'Hot-Rod' Races, Dance VJ-Day

The second anniversary of VJ-Day will be observed here Thursday, Aug. 14, with an all-day, communitywide celebration, sponsored jointly by the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and Disabled American Veterans.

Tentative plans drawn up at a meeting Wednesday evening of last week by a central committee representing the three veterans' organizations call for a big parade in the morning, automobile races in the afternoon, and a dance at the American Legion building in the evening.

Proceeds from the races and dance are to go into funds for the American Legion building, which is to be given a permanent name in the near future and which is now being administered by the three groups.

On the administrative board are Commander Harry Gilmore and Don Bush, American Legion; Commander J. B. (Buster) Mulcock and T/Sgt. Preston Triplett, VFW, and Commander Leland Wittkopp and Wade Cunningham, DAV.

They disclosed that the city authorities have authorized use of the eastern quadrant at the municipal airport for building a half-mile racetrack for use on VJ-Day and at other times. It was pointed out that that location will

Cornerstone Laying Of Masonic Temple Is Today

The cornerstone of the new Masonic Temple at Roselawn and Richardson Avenues in Artesia will be laid at a public ceremony at 3 o'clock this afternoon, with Rupert F. Asplund of Santa Fe, most worshipful grand master of the Grand Lodge of New Mexico, in charge.

He is to open Grand Lodge in the basement of the temple at 2:30 o'clock with only Masons present. They will then march to the second floor of the incomplete structure, which will serve as the ceremonial platform, reserved for members of the Grand Lodge and other Masons.

The general public has been invited to attend the cornerstone laying, but will not be permitted on or in the building until after the conclusion of the ceremony. At that time the public will be invited to inspect the building, it was announced by Marshall Rowley, worshipful master of Artesia Lodge No. 28.

Grand Master Asplund will be assisted in the laying of the cornerstone by three officers of the Grand Lodge, Deputy Grand Master Walter F. Edwards of Hobbs, to whom has been designated the

Century-Mark Is Broken 20th Time Here Wednesday

The 100-mark was broken here Wednesday for the fifth time this month and the 20th time this year, an unusually large number of days for a complete summer in this area.

And of the 20 times, the century figure was broken three times in the first week in May, when it went to 103 on May 4 and 5 and to 100 on May 6.

According to the recording thermometer of the Southern Union Gas Company, the daily maximum has been below 90 degrees only five times since June 1, and of them it was below 80 degrees once, on June 13, when the maximum was 79 degrees.

The highest temperature recorded to date this year was 106 on June 7. But it went to 105 June 30, which was the maximum on June 29 and July 5.

The thermometer read 103 on the Fourth of July and 100 degrees on July 3, 8, and 9.

Explanation Given For Subscription To Alaska

Recently, when The Advocate ran a story regarding a subscription which was being sent to Alaska, many inquiries were made as to why Jack K. Jones, a resident of Juneau, Alaska, wanted the local news sheet. Last week the answer came in. Mrs. Jones is the former Gerry (Geraldine) Pickett, who lived here with her parents for many years and attended the Artesia schools. She moved to Los Angeles, Calif., a few years ago and has since become Mrs. Jones.

Mr. Jones reports that they have been in Alaska since March and are very well pleased with the country. The town is approximately the size of Artesia, is built on a waterfront, and is surrounded by mountains. The prevailing weather is rain, but this summer it has been beautiful, he said. The sun stays up until 10 o'clock in the evening and is quite warm. Juneau, being the capital of Alaska, is a busy town. The chief industries are salmon and halibut fishing. The largest gold mine in the world also is at Juneau.

Mr. Jones closed his letter by saying that if the people in the United States realized how beautiful Alaska is, they would all want to come up.

Salvation Army Drive Falls Short Of $3500 Goal

The annual campaign for funds for the Salvation Army fell down here somewhat below the goal of $3500 set by Baron J. V. Aauremma, but he said Tuesday as he was leaving the community that promises of checks might put the drive over the top when they have been received.

He said checks backing up such promises and other donations may be mailed to L. B. Feather, local treasurer, at the First National Bank.

The campaign here was conducted under the sponsorship of the Elks Lodge, which also made a substantial financial gift, the baron said.

Funds actually on deposit at the bank when Baron Aauremma closed the campaign were in excess of $3000.

The Salvation Army man expressed the thanks of the organization and the local committee to the B.P.O.E. and to everyone in North Eddy County who made contributions.

Besides Feather, the committee is composed of Martin Yates, Jr., Lee Glasscock, and E. B. Bullock.

Proving Grounds Commander Will Speak At Lunch

Lt. Col. Harold Turner, commanding officer of the White Sands Proving Grounds, will be the principal speaker at the monthly luncheon meeting of the Artesia Chamber of Commerce, which will be held on the Roof Garden of the Artesia Hotel Friday noon of next week, July 18.

The meeting, usually held the second Friday of each month, was postponed a week, because Dave Moore, manager of the Chamber of Commerce is attending a Southwestern institute of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States in Dallas, Tex., this week.

It is expected that the proposed Eddy County fair will be discussed, along with Artesia problems and the Chamber of Commerce Artesia folder, which is to be ready for distribution about Oct. 1.

At present a dummy for the folder is being prepared by Ward Hicks Advertising, Albuquerque, for final approval by the board of the Chamber of Commerce before it goes to press. All pictures for the folder have been taken and are now in the hands of the advertising agency.

Chuck Aston, president of the Chamber of Commerce, said that Colonel Turner will speak on "Push-Button Warfare," giving a picture into the future as new implements of war are developed.

It is presumed Colonel Turner will explain to the Artesia citizen something about the V-2 rockets and the experience with them being carried on at the White Sands Proving Grounds.

Colonel Turner is to bring some motion pictures illustrating his remarks, which will be shown if possible.

President Aston this week urged all Artesia business and professional men to correct their calendars, showing July 18 instead of July 11 for the Chamber of Commerce luncheon.

If Flying Discs Are Seen Here, Please Report

While flying discs have been reported seen in nearly all states and the stories of them have whetted the imagination of the nation, none has been reported in the Artesia locality.

But if the discs are more than spots before the observers eyes, it may be that some will be sighted by local observers.

Should such be the case and in order that others may share the information, The Advocate asks that anyone believing he sees one or more of the mystery discs report it as soon as possible.

Observers should, as far as possible, note the time of the day, the direction from which they come and to which they are going, direction from points of observation, ascending or descending, accelerating or decelerating, altitude, appearance and behavior.

Eddy County Fair Association To Be Formed Friday Evening

All Artesia organizations were urged at a special Chamber of Commerce meeting here Tuesday evening to assist in making plans for an Eddy County fair and to send representatives to a countywide meeting at the Crawford Hotel in Carlsbad at 8 o'clock Friday evening, when it is hoped to perfect a fair organization.

It had been previously announced at various service club meetings here during the last week that the countywide meeting would be this evening. But Herman Wertheim of Carlsbad, chairman of the organization committee, who headed a Carlsbad delegation of seven men at the Chamber of Commerce meeting here Tuesday evening, said the date had been changed to Friday, when it was hoped more interested citizens of the county could attend.

Wertheim and other members of the delegation told the Artesia men that there is an ideal set-up at the Carlsbad Army Air Field for the establishment of a county fair with a relatively low outlay of money, in that buildings erected by the Army can be purchased at a low figure.

He said that 13 buildings which cost $176,703 have been offered by the War Assets Administration to the city of Carlsbad for $13,946.15, but that they must be purchased by July 19, or they will be released to others.

The temporary committee is taking donations at this time for the purchase of the buildings, which are on land owned by the city of Carlsbad. Wertheim said no guarantee can be made that such money ever will be paid back to individuals putting it up, but that he believes public-spirited citizens of Eddy County will make the purchase possible in order to establish a county fair.

Wertheim pointed out that one of the features of the proposed purchase is that the buildings will not have to be moved, but that they are on the grounds of the county fair site. He said they contain utilities worth about $100,000.

Ways and means of raising the $13,946.15 for the purchase of the buildings will be discussed at the meeting Friday evening, Wertheim said at the meeting here Tuesday.

It was brought out at the meeting that it will be impossible to have a county fair this year, but that it is hoped to have the first one in the fall of 1948.

Members of the delegation from Carlsbad said the proposed fair should stress the various phases of the oil industry, which is largely located in Eddy County, as well as potash, farming and ranching, and other phases of industry and agriculture in the county.

It was suggested that there be special days set aside at each annual fair for Artesia, Hope, and North Eddy County.

Kingston Man Slightly Injured 83 Sunday

Brooks of Lovington, 66, was injured in an automobile accident on the Lovington highway, six miles east of Artesia, at 10 o'clock Sunday afternoon. Other occupants of the car were injured, when the right side of the Brooks car blew out.

Brooks died at Artesia Memorial Hospital at 7:30 o'clock Sunday night. His ribs had punctured his lungs when he was thrown against the steering wheel.

Brooks was taken to the hospital by Sheriff J. B. Mulcock, who investigated the accident. The car did not overturn, but jumped a 21-foot ditch and rolled into the far side, where it was damaged.

Kiwanians Urged To Help In Plans For County Fair

A mass meeting is to be held this evening at the courthouse in Carlsbad for discussion of a county fair, it was announced last Thursday noon by Jack McGarry of Carlsbad, assistant district attorney, at the weekly luncheon of the Artesia Kiwanis Club.

McGarry was here to explain to the Kiwanians the tentative plans for such a fair and to urge that members of the Kiwanis Club and other Artesia service clubs have representatives at the meeting in Carlsbad Friday evening and take an active part in planning of the fair.

Similar announcements were made this week at meetings of the other Artesia service clubs.

McGarry asked the co-operation of all Artesia citizens and organizations (continued last page this section)

Judge Josey Is Kept Busy Over Holiday Week End

The holiday week end was a busy one for Judge J. D. Josey in city court, as defendants streamed into court on various charges, primarily drunkenness, speeding, and disturbances.

One celebrant found liquor and driving never mixes even for a once-a-year occasion as the Fourth, as he paid a fine of $150 and his license was revoked for a period of 12 months for driving while intoxicated. He was Jonnie C. Gooch.

Saturday four persons charged with drunkenness were fined $15 each. They were Carl W. Henry, Roger Valencia, Weldon Rook, and P. W. Clifford. Disorderly conduct brought a $20 order for James Turner that day. Charlene Ingle paid a $15 fine for disturbances. Leonard West and H. G. Petree paid fines of $10 each for speeding.

Monday and Tuesday the court found several choosing to continue their celebrating past the holidays. Fernino Melchor was fined $15 for drunkenness; O. E. Ford and David Navarette, $10 for speeding, and Taft Jackson, $15 for disturbances.

Two Are Uninjured In Forced Plane Landing Late Monday Afternoon

H. J. (Skinnie) Bradley, private pilot, was uninjured and his passenger, Paul (Shorty) Vandagriff, sustained only a finger injury, about 6 o'clock Monday afternoon, when the light airplane piloted by Bradley was badly damaged in a forced landing between Artesia and the municipal airport.

Bradley said his engine cut out at an altitude of about 1000 feet near Artesia and that he had been gliding downwind to get away from the city and to the airport if possible. Seeing he could not make the airport he turned into the wind, crossed a road and stalled in from a low altitude.

Examination of the plane disclosed the tank from which the engine was getting gasoline had gone dry, but that the other tank was full.

Artesia Fire Eaters Re-elect Officers At Meeting Monday Night

Members of the Artesia Fire Department, at the annual meeting Monday evening, heard the minutes of the 1946 annual meeting read, accepted them as recorded, and moved to duplicate them by getting the business out of the way, so the checker game could be started.

Which was by way of re-electing Chief Albert Richards, Assistant Chief Elmo Naylor, and Secretary Dallas Golden.

Summarizing of the record for the 1946-47 fiscal year was dispensed with, because Secretary Golden at a fish fry Monday of last week made his report, in which he disclosed 83 calls were answered during the year.

Plans Are Rounding Out Nicely For Pecos Valley Music Festival July 22

Plans for the Pecos Valley Music Festival here Tuesday, July 22, are rounding out nicely, it was announced this week by Franklyn L. Wiltse, local band conductor and a member of the festival committee.

During the last week he solicited the assistance of members of the four service clubs here in staging the festival and was assured by all that help will be given.

The Artesia 20-30 Club agreed to sponsor the dance contest of the festival, which will be held at the big evening show on Morris Field in conjunction with mass music events.

It was planned to have a platform on the field for the dancers, for whom appropriate music will be provided in any of the various types of dancing from jitterbugging to ballroom dancing.

Conductor Wiltse said it is hoped many couples from this area will enter the contest and he invited all to register either with him or with Dave Moore, manager of the Chamber of Commerce.

The ticket end of the festival is being handled by the Kiwanis Club, while members of the Lions, and Rotary Clubs are soliciting enrollments for the various events.

The Bulldog Boosters will have a food and drink concession during the festival, Conductor Wiltse announced.

He said that T/Sgt. Preston Triplett, Army recruiting officer here, is making arrangements for an Army band to be used on the field and also for a detail of military police to help handle the (continued on last page)

Reader Interest

DISCUSSING ADVERTISING and types of advertising, one of the most important things, is the interest the individual reader and prospective shopper takes in the advertising medium.

In newspapers, the phrase used is reader interest. Much can be said regarding circulation, but if the newspaper does not possess the reader interest—then it, of course, hasn't much value as an advertising medium.

It is natural, however, if a newspaper has a large circulation, that it also has a great reader interest.

And by reader interest, of course, we mean the care with which the readers peruse the paper and the items and advertising, which appear in the paper.

We are firmly convinced that The Advocate has a genuine reader interest. That is proven, not by The Advocate, but by our readers. The subscription list; the news stand sales; the demand for copies of the paper on Thursday morning—all of these indicate the reader interest.

It all means that your advertisements in The Advocate are read—that you reach the shoppers with your message.

The Advocate not only gives you ABC or guaranteed circulation of 2230 with an average of approximately 8000 readers every week, but it also gives you the interest of these readers.

Your advertising message in The Advocate reaches the buyers.

You know exactly what you are purchasing when you buy advertising in The Advocate.

And for your advertising to be successful it should not only be in The Advocate but it should be consistent advertising—merchandising messages should appear regularly. The readers come to watch for them and to depend on them before doing their buying.

You get reader interest and circulation in The Advocate.—O.E.P.

Worth The Effort

THERE ARE LAWS under which we live as citizens and which we operate our businesses. This is not only true about our city, county and state, but our nation.

We have become accustomed to try to get along. Most of us place business far ahead or above what is right. And then we let fear enter the picture—fear we will make someone mad; fear we will lose some business; fear that those we feel are not doing the right and just thing may attempt to get even with us.

Yet the fact remains that right is always hard to destroy. We may find that right can be crushed; we know that it can be forgotten; and that right always needs a champion. Yet, the fact does remain that regardless of what happens to right and truth, they spring up and grow again. But it always takes someone to make these formal demands. It takes someone willing to stand the "gaff," so to speak, before we can accomplish the thing, which needs to be accomplished.

But laws, which are on the books, were placed there for the protection of all, not the few or the minority. Officials elected to office were named to those offices to serve all the people and not just their own little group and clan.

For instance, in our own city, those legally qualified and licensed to operate and to sell intoxicating liquors agreed to abide by the laws and regulations and the rules. They agreed not to sell to minors; not to sell to those intoxicated; not to sell to habitual drinkers; and they agreed to conduct an orderly place of business.

And if they don't it is the right of every citizen or any one citizen in that community, to register his objections. And when the conditions become such that they demand and require attention and if officials fail to give attention, then any or every citizen has a right to register their protest and not be insulted or subjected to punishment merely because they ask that the law be followed. And we need to speak out a little more often than we usually do.—O.E.P.

Doing Their Own Job

GOV. THOMAS J. MABRY has not had to send the state police into North Eddy County or into Artesia to halt gambling.

He hasn't had to send in the state police to halt gambling because the job is being done by the local peace officers, city and county.

That, of course, is only as it should be. These officers took a solemn oath to uphold and enforce the law. And there is a law, which prohibits gambling.

It shouldn't be necessary for the state police to have to go into any community or any county to halt gambling. Governor Mabry knows that and he emphasized that fact. But when the local officials refused to perform their solemn and sworn duties, he did the job for them.

But the citizens in every community where officers have failed to do their duty should speak out in protest against it. They should demand that these duties be carried out. They should see that gambling and all other illegal practices in so far as possible are halted.

But Artesia can be proud of the fact that her officers are seeking to halt gambling. They are seeking to keep the city clean and to regulate it in keeping with the desires of good citizens.

And a few words of appreciation for this from the citizens of the community always lends encouragement and results in the job being done and continued to be done.

Let's show our officers we appreciate the fact they are halting or preventing gambling and that we want this continued in the days to come.—O.E.P.

Need Is More Rent Houses

PRACTICALLY EVERY OTHER CITY and town in the state is facing the same problems, which are facing Artesia in so far as housing those, who desire to make their home in Artesia.

There is a demand for more places to live everywhere.

The demand seems to be growing to the west and indications are that it will continue to grow.

Artesia, of course, has built many new homes and it has built some rent houses. But as yet it hasn't built enough homes to be rented to meet the demand.

It is true, of course, that those desiring to build houses to rent encounter many problems. They find high cost of building; they find prices of lots high; and they find that rent is not too good, or at least they contend it is not in keeping with the investment, which they must make.

But the problem remains. If Artesia expects to grow and expand it must have places for people to live, desirable places. And it must realize that many, who come into the community to work and to live, cannot always purchase homes in which to live. In other instances, those who come in and buy businesses or make investments also are not in a position to invest large sums in houses.

It is our problem as a city and a community and we must solve it. Up to the present time, we have not given it our serious consideration.

In some cities over the state more homes are being erected. In some cities, large building concerns are erecting residences and then offering them for sale.

And in some communities, even more rent houses are being erected. Perhaps there will be a drop in building prices and perhaps Artesia can sooner or later join in the move to provide places for people to live.

Artesia, in its growth and expansion, still finds that a lack of houses, which can be rented and a lack of places for people to live is one of its greatest problems.—O.E.P.

Keep Buying At Home

IT IS ALWAYS INTERESTING to note the comment about the business, which goes out of a city or town, and especially is that true if the small city is near to a large city.

It is true, of course, that all towns and cities lose business.

We have always had those, who feel there is nothing in the home town quite good enough for them. And the result is they always go to the larger city, if that is possible, to make their purchases of clothes, furniture and many other items.

But on the other hand there is a far greater percentage of individuals, who believe in buying at home and who will buy at home if it is possible to do so.

And that is where we as business people come into the picture. It is up to us to make it possible for these people to buy and trade at home. It, of course, has not been so easy to do that in Artesia. We have faced many problems of business people in attempting to buy and securing certain items and merchandise.

Local merchants point out that the fact that Artesia has grown rapidly in the past four to five years has resulted in a far greater demand for merchandise that the merchant is able to obtain. In shipping goods, the manufacturer or wholesaler still wants to place these shipments on the basis of what was needed five years ago to take care of the customers here.

But slowly more goods are becoming available. And slowly but surely local merchants are seeking to secure the merchandise needed and wanted. And we feel sure the merchants will continue to endeavor to stock those things needed.

We can preach trade at home, but the things for us to do as merchants and business people is to stock the merchandise; offer the service; and do the best job we can on prices.

If we do, then folks will buy at home and their dollars will remain here to continue to work for the entire community.—O.E.P.

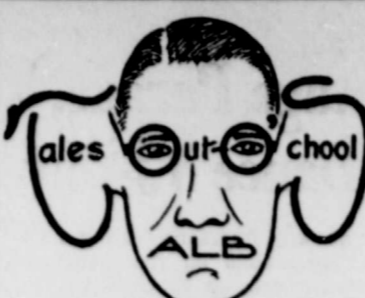

Don't Race To Fires

PERHAPS EVERYONE DOESN'T KNOW IT, but we have in Artesia a pretty efficient Police Department, made up of a bunch of good officers, who are courteous, but who can be firm when they need be.

And they know there is a city ordinance prohibiting the following of fire trucks and parking within a certain distance of fire apparatus. And they have observed several times, lately that far too many motorists in Artesia pay little or no attention to the ordinance.

They likewise know that some of the firemen had a hard time reaching the scene of a blaze a recent Sunday afternoon, slowed up by a lot of needless traffic.

And perhaps everyone doesn't know it, but those same courteous and efficient cops are going to do something about it. As they should.—A.L.B.

Perhaps this is old stuff—and it seems we have read something quite similar in the past—but we believe we will pass it along. Dr. G. Ward Fenley, in his "New Mexico Weekly Newsletter," credits Bob Nelson, columnist in The Tucumcari American, with "Women Are Like Newspapers," which reads:
"They have forms.
"Are made up.
"There are bold types.
"They always have the last word.
"Back numbers are not in demand.
"They have a great deal of influence.
"They are well worth looking over.
"You cannot believe everything they say.
"They carry news wherever they go.
"They are never afraid to speak.
"They are much thinner than they used to be.
"And, finally, every man should have one of his own, and not borrow his neighbor's."
To all of which we might add—in fact we will add—some of them are too thin, need a fresh make-up, and don't seem to know how to punctuate their remarks for clarity.

Which reminds us that we read somewhere about a properly placed comma in a sentence in an English newspaper, quoting a clergyman:
"I object to wearing clothing, which will distinguish me from my fellows."
Perhaps in that case, it would be better to appear without a comma than without clothing!

At the Lions Club ladies' night banquet last week Fred Cole and Wayne Paulin brought down the house, when, dressed as women, they put on a telephone conversation skit, kidding nearly all of their fellow Lions and wives. But the prime one was when, calling by name one of the most blessed members of the club, they had a conversation something like this:
"Stella, I see that Mr. and Mrs. Doakes are raising ducks now."
"Why, Bertha, I don't believe they are. What makes you think so?"
"Well, I saw a duck out in their front yard today."
"Now, now, Bertha, that wasn't a duck. It was the stork with his legs worn down."

Typical of why some people become prematurely gray:
A local chap ordered a certain gadget, with which there would have to be numerous smaller gadgets, such as ball bearings, washers, and nuts.

But when he started to assemble the thing, he discovered the smaller gadgets were not the right size. So he immediately called up the place from where he had ordered the outfit.

From the other end of the line came: "Oh, yes, we know they are the wrong size. But we were out of the right size, so we substituted the others."

Fourth of July observations: One trouble with the Fourth is that there are no funnies in the papers. . . . A druggist observing "It's a poor Sunday, business isn't as good as last Sunday" . . . And a short week coming up, with Monday and Saturday rolled into one.

Tucumcari voters approved a $104,000 school bond issue by a margin of 281 to 30 in a special election. The bonds provide for finishing a 3000-seat gymnasium and 12-classroom structure, both already under construction, and building of a vocational shop. L. H. Rhodes, superintendent, said they were required to accommodate a 40 per cent increase in enrollment.

As Artesia Grows

TWENTY YEARS AGO (From The Advocate Files for July 7, 1927)

Luther Foster had been sentenced to "not less than 90 and not more than 99 years in prison" for the murder of Fred Halsey. Mrs. Halsey, Foster's accomplice, had been sentenced to hang but the sentence was revoked and remanded for a new trial.

Seven bootleg joints, all in residential sections of Carlsbad, were raided by Sheriff Joe Johns and deputies. A beer cache of around 1200 bottles was reported. Eleven arrests had been made.

American "safety-first" toys were being advocated in a weekly column, "What Children Should Know." Seems mama's darling was falling prey to those horrid German and other foreign-made toys such as horses with tails and manes that pulled out and could be chewed or even swallowed by baby. Also, vicious points, strings, and tuzz were being done away with. With all that to cope with in sandpiles, it's a wonder as many grew up as did!

The marriage of Miss Lois Hinulik to Hugh W. Kiddy, local barber, was the big social event of the week. Rev. John Sinclair, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, performed the ceremony. Mrs. S. B. Barnett, who now has two lively grandsons, entertained the Young Mothers' Club. Among the guests were Mrs. John Dunn and Mrs. Harold Attebery.

In contrast to names attached to a bank report of conditions in last week's Advocate, the report of 20 years ago was signed by Landis Feather, cashier, and J. E. Robertson, Mark A. Corbin, and D. W. Runyan, directors.

More than half the populace had attended a huge Fourth of July celebration at Dexter. Features of the day included ball games, races, dancing, swimming, boating, diving, and other innocent amusements. Music was furnished by the "Bartlett Juvenile Band."

TEN YEARS AGO (From The Advocate Files for July 8, 1937)

A widespread naval search for Amelia Earhart and her navigator, Fred Noonan, was in progress. (Conflicting stories, and there's always been a new one as to what really happened, still circulate among aviation enthusiasts.)

Miss Winifred Detterick was a guest in the home of Miss Ethel Bullock. Miss Bullock and Miss Opal Martin had recently visited Miss Detterick at her home in Las Vegas.

A cartoon showing what the 1937 bathing beauty would wear still leaves her looking very much over-dressed compared to today's models.

Neville Chamberlain was the new prime minister of Great Britain and succeeded Stanley Baldwin.

Mrs. Lowell Price, a recent bride, had been complimented with a shower given by her sister-in-law, Mrs. Leland Price.

Picnic hams were selling for 22 cents per pound, while pork and beans were going for 7 cents for a 16-ounce can.

Permit Required Under New Law To Drill Water

A bill passed by the 18th State Legislature requiring drillers' permits in declared underground water basins of the state has recently become effective.

Under the terms of the statute each water well driller must obtain a permit from the state engineer or his designated representative before he can drill a well in these declared basins.

These permits, in turn, will not be issued unless the land owner has a bona fide permit to have such well drilled. The law is designed to prevent unauthorized well construction which often results in irrigation of lands to which the appropriator has no right. Each permit applies to but one well, and a new permit must be obtained for each well drilled. Penalties for violation of the statute are provided.

Drillers contracting to drill wells in the Pecos Valley and Lea County Basins may apply for such permits to E. G. Minton, Jr., Artesian well supervisor, 506 East Second Street in Roswell. A charge of $1 will be made for issuing each permit.

Vacation Bible Schools Attract Many Children

Vacation Bible schools of the United States and Canada will have an enrollment of 5,000,000 children this summer, it was predicted by Miss Ruth Elizabeth Murphy, director of vacation religious education for the International Council of Religious Education.

Each year during the war the number of vacation Bible schools increased as churches and communities began to realize the opportunity offered to reach un-church-ed boys and girls during vacation periods. Miss Murphy pointed out, adding that now in the postwar years the addition of new schools is continuing.

With statistics showing that 13,500,000 of America's children under 12 years of age are not touched by any religious instruction—Catholic, Jewish, or Protestant—Miss Murphy asserted that vacation church schools offer one of the greatest opportunities for building Christian citizenship today.

"A vacation church school makes the weekdays of vacation time count for Christian teaching in every village, town, and city," Miss Murphy declared. "It is the summertime through-the-week educational program of the churches, and gives opportunity to share Christian conviction with others."

Last year, she said, 4,750,000 children spent part of their time in church schools which combine religion with handicraft classes, games, informal conversation, and outdoor activities. Thousands of schools use material prepared through the committee on vacation religious education of the International Council in which 40 Protestant denominations work together.

Scholarships Are Added To Frozen Foods Awards

New Mexico's state winner in the 1947 National 4-H Frozen Foods Awards program has the opportunity to win a $200 college scholarship in addition to a Chicago 4-H Club Congress trip, the National Committee on Boys' and Girls' Club Work has announced.

To further encourage learning how to freeze foods, four national scholarships of $200 each have been added to the 4-H awards. Last year the state winner could compete for only a national award, which was the Chicago award, and the winner also receives the national award of a scholarship. County and state awards remain the same in 1946.

In this activity, club members learn the foods best adapted to freezing, and to develop skill in preparing, packaging, and freezing. They are also encouraged to demonstrate that an ample supply of home-grown food is one of the best advantages of living on a farm, and to show the desirable variety that frozen foods can add to the home-raised supply.

Last year's state winner in New Mexico was Lucy Margaret Zartman of Albuquerque. County winners were named in San Juan and Socorro counties.

County extension agents will provide information and suggestions for carrying on the activity.

FARMERS ARE LARGE FOOD PURCHASERS

Nearly a fifth of a farmer's cash outlay for various commodities is for food, according to an article in a recent BAE Agricultural Situation.

Farmers last year spend about 2 1/2 billion dollars for food. This was equal to about an eighth of all the sales in retail food stores. Although most farmers still produce a large portion of the food they eat, food prices are important in figuring the farm budget.

Glorious Harvest

From this pleasant field and thousands like it comes the daily bread of the American people and the millions abroad who share our bounty.

Agriculture is the most basic of all industries, because it produces the food which sustains human life. It calls for hard work and a high degree of intelligence, training, foresight and skill.

The farmer is essentially a man of faith. He plows and plants and cultivates with firm belief that a gracious and all-wise providence will bring him an abundant harvest. This faith is the basis of his effort and the inspiration of his toil.

Faith in God is needed in every occupation and every walk of life. Without it, life is meaningless and our efforts are as those of a bird vainly beating its wings against an iron cage.

The mission of the Church is to teach men to love and trust God and walk in His ways. They are the ways of pleasantness, the paths of peace. Go to church on Sunday. It will inspire you to live better and labor with more purpose next week.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend and support the church of his choice. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church on Sunday and read your Bible daily.

Miss Dorothy Linell Becomes Bride Of Newton Idecker Here On Sunday

A late afternoon service Sunday at the First Presbyterian Church united Miss Dorothy Linell and Newton B. Idecker. Rev. Paul L. Brown read the double-ring vows before an altar banked with baskets of white gladioli and fern.

Pre-nuptial music was furnished by Mrs. Wallace Gates, who played accompaniment for Mrs. Paul Brown as she sang "I Love You Truly" and "Because."

The bride, who was given away by her father, W. M. Linell, chose a powder blue summer gabardine and white accessories. She wore a large net hat. Her shoulder corsage was of white gardenias and Stephanotis. For something old she carried a handmade lace handkerchief, which was carried by her paternal great-grandmother at her wedding in 1832. The ensemble was both new and old, and for something borrowed she carried a white Testament belonging to Mrs. Bill Trembley.

Miss Kathleen Brodt, sister of the bride, attended her as matron of honor. She wore a suit of pale green with a fuchsia hat matching the bride's hat. White iris adorned her corsage.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Bill Trembley and Miss Lucille Haughey. They were dressed in white, also with net hats matching that of the matron of honor. Mrs. Idecker chose a rose-beige suit with lavender hat and a corsage of lavender carnations. Miss Haughey wore a pink suit and hat with a blue carnation corsage.

Mrs. Linell, mother of the bride, was charming in an afternoon dress of black net. She wore a black lace hat and other accessories also were of black. Her corsage was of pale pink gardenias.

A reception was held after the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents. A three-tiered wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom, was decorated with tiny bluebells and rosebuds. After the bridal couple cut the first piece, Mrs. John Lansing and Mrs. Leslie Martin served cake while Mrs. Hugh Kidder served punch. Miss Margaret Ferry kept the guestbook. The bridesmaids, matron of honor, and Mrs. Bill Felton assisted in serving.

For going away, the bride selected a blue jersey afternoon dress with white accessories. She wore the corsage from her wedding suit.

Mr. and Mrs. Idecker planned a wedding trip of several weeks to Denver and other points, after which they will be at home in St. Louis, Mo.

Mrs. Idecker is the younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Linell. She attended the Artesia schools and graduated in 1944.

Mr. Idecker, who is from St. Louis, Mo., served several years in the armed forces and is now employed in St. Louis.

State Fair Cash Premiums Total Nearly $30,000

Cash premiums offered in the livestock departments of the 1947 New Mexico State Fair total $29,432. Leon H. Harms, fair manager, announced.

This is an increase of about 30 per cent over the total offered in these divisions for the 1946 fair. The livestock premium total is approximately three times the $10,000 annual state appropriation for State Fair operation, Harms pointed out.

Entries in the senior livestock classes are open to the world.

This year's premium budget for livestock places the New Mexico fair in the class with the major national and regional livestock shows and larger state fairs whose appropriations for the coming fall shows range from $20,000 to $60,000 with the Grand National Exposition at San Francisco's Cow Palace leading with $77,000, including a large rodeo purse. The New Mexico State Fair's livestock premium budget does not include a $6000 appropriation for its annual rodeo.

"Our largest premium increase in the several livestock divisions for this year has been in the dairy cattle classes," Harms said. "Total cash awards being posted for the dairy breeds exceed $5000. We have been able to make this increase through co-operation of all major national dairy breed associations, which are adding from 10 to 20 per cent to our allotments from the fair treasury."

"We are receiving the usual added premium money allotments from the American Hereford Association, the National Aberdeen-Angus Association, and the American Shorthorn Association, as well as from the several national swine and sheep breed associations. Inquiries for entry forms have come from five states thus far and indicate that this year's fair will present our best livestock show in numbers and quality."

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Taylor returned home Saturday from Willard, N. M., where they had gone for a visit and to bring back Mrs. Taylor's father, Noah Buck, who was there on a business trip.

Grain Purchases By Government High To Meet Foreign Demand

The purchase of approximately 11 1/4 million bushels of wheat meet foreign allocations during the week ending June 13 brought total government purchases to July 1, 1946, to more than 17 million bushels.

Other grain items purchased since July 1, 1946, include round figures three billion pounds of flour, 76 million bushels of corn, 22 million bushels of barley, eight million bushels of oats, and two million of sorghums.

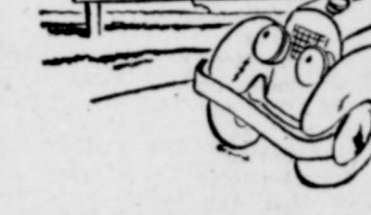

The department also has announced a total export quota of approximately 43 million bushels of wheat and other grains for the month of August. The July quota was about 48 1/2 million bushels. The August figure includes amounts to be supplied through trade channels as well as through Department purchases.

Wives Of Retired Workers Benefit By Amendments

Wives of retired workers will benefit from one of the 1946 amendments to the Social Security Act, according to an announcement by Perry A. Webb, manager of the Roswell office of the Social Security Administration.

Step-children and adopted children of certain retired workers will also benefit.

Under the social security laws, benefits have previously been denied the wife of a retired worker unless the marriage was prior to the date the husband became 60 years of age. Now the wife of a retired worker can be eligible if the couple was married for 36 months or more and if the wife is 65 years of age or older. Wives of retired workers who would qualify under this amendment should get in touch with the nearest Social Security Administration field office at once.

In the past a step-child of a retired worker has not been eligible under the social security laws unless the worker was married to the child's mother before the worker became 60 years of age. Under the amendment, the adopted child or step-child is eligible for benefits if the adoption or marriage to the child's mother took place as much as 36 months before the application is filed. In cases where benefits have been denied step-children or adopted children who may now be eligible, the parent should get in touch with the nearest Social Security Administration office as soon as possible.

State Rep. Irving Horowitz of Connecticut buys his fish bait in fruit stores. A year ago he jokingly told a nephew to put a chunk of orange peel on his hook. The nephew did and caught two fish. Horowitz says now he carries half a dozen oranges for refreshment and bait when he goes fishing and rarely comes home empty handed.

Looks that stay looked at

- and Ability to match

Give yourself five seconds, and you know that here's car styling as up to the minute as the time of day.

Spend a few fast minutes to see why — and you spot both smartness right from tomorrow's designing boards and everything that should go with it.

Measure the reach and spread of that Buick bonnet, brim-filled with Fireball power.

Sweep your glance over the broad beam that spells room, the stretch that means easy-riding wheelbase, the size that tells of enough roadweight to end jounce and jitter.

Here, you tell yourself, is something to see. Here are looks to hold the eye for seasons to come — and lively, durable ability to match:

... Rich abundance of smooth, hushed Fireball horsepower from a straight-eight kept young and lively by Accurite cylinder finish.

... Tireless coil springing on all four wheels, leveling all roads to boulevard smoothness.

... Riding poise from two steadying tons of roadweight — ease of handling from balance to draw a ballet dancer's envy. Soft, roomy cushions seating three apiece — finish that's the very last word in richness and taste.

Yes, it takes no time at all to show that you and Buick belong together, should go together steady — so what's holding you back?

After all, we can't do much about getting one to you till you make your wishes plain. You do that simply by placing your order — which will get equal consideration whether or not you have a car to trade.

TUCK AWAY PLENTY! Roomy luggage compartments hold plenty — and high-lifting lids make it easy to get at any piece.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Fish Bites Woman!

Willie Wells was coming home from Seward's Creek the other evening with a string of trout, when a stern looking lady (visitor at the Boxwood Inn) stops him, and tells him a man his size could be better occupied than catching fish.

Willie tells her off real good-naturedly by saying: "Perhaps you're right, but if these fish had kept their mouths shut, they wouldn't be here." (At that, says Willie, laughing out loud, she looked just as if a fish had bit her!)

Blabbing mouths never cause anything but trouble. Nobody who knew the facts would ever criticize Willie's right to go fishing on his one day off—any more than they'd deny his right to come home to a mellow glass of beer.

From where I sit, the slower we are to criticize—and the quicker we are to recognize another's tastes, the better we'll get along together—whether those tastes apply to beer or fishing.

Joe Marsh

Feed Each Dairy Cow According To Special Needs

The only efficient and economical method of feeding the dairy herd is to feed each cow according to her production. County Agent Dallas Rierson pointed out "The practice of giving each cow the same amount of feed is wasteful," Rierson said. "The low producers usually get more than they need, and the high producers may not get enough feed to maintain a high milk flow. The low producers become too fat, and the high producers get too thin to do well."

The county agent said that a golden rule in feeding is to give the cows all the roughage they will eat and enough grain to keep them in good, thrifty producing condition. He added that the amount of grain fed will vary according to the fleshy condition of the cow, the progress in the lactation period, and the richness of the milk.

"Holstein cows in fair production will need about one pound of grain to every four to six pounds of milk produced," Rierson said. "For Jerseys and Guernseys, the ration is about one pound of grain to every three or four pounds of milk. This, however, is not a hard and fast rule — merely a guide. The condition of the cow and the relation of feed costs to the value of the dairy products sold should always be taken into consideration."

Anderson Warns Of High Prices Paid For Farms

While the farming industry is financially strong, the fact remains that thousands of farmers have incurred heavy debts to purchase farms at inflated prices. Many of them are likely to find themselves in difficulty when farm incomes decline to more normal levels.

This word of warning was part of the address with which Secretary of Agriculture Anderson opened the conference on farm real estate prices held at Washington.

Other points in the current farm land price situation brought out by the secretary were:

Farm land values in the United States have risen from a 1935-39 base-period average of 100 per cent to 192 per cent on March 1 of this year.

Land sales during the last four years were up 75 per cent over prewar.

In one out of seven farm land sales last year, loans were 75 per cent of the sales price. This meant mortgages were 50 per cent higher than the 1941 sales value of the land.

In one out of three farm sales last year, the mortgage was equal to the 1941 value of the land.

About half of the land sales last year were for cash.

Early in the war most of the farm land was bought by farmers, but this trend has slowed down.

Even though there is a dangerous parallel between the current situation and the aftermath of World War 1, total farm indebtedness is still relatively light, with debt only one-tenth of assets.

Awards Offered To Girls For Top Demonstrations

Three 4-H Club girls in each qualifying county in New Mexico will receive honor medals this year for showing community groups how to use dairy products to make appetizing, healthful dishes. One of the girls will be chosen as the best individual demonstrator and the other two as the top ranking team in the county.

From among the various county winners, the State Extension Service will select an individual and a team as state champions. Each of the three state winners will get a $10 U.S. Savings Bond award.

For their demonstrations, the girls may select any dish or combination of dishes using milk, cream, cheese, or butter.

It is pointed out that by giving demonstrations, 4-H girls not only strengthen their club records, but gain self-confidence and poise through speaking before public audiences.

This is the eighth consecutive year of the activity, in which last year's state champion individual demonstrator in New Mexico was Janie Gertrude Pritchard of Dexter.

The state's highest rating demonstration team members were June Pirtle and LaNeil Johnson, also of Dexter.

County winners were named in Mora, San Juan, Socorro, Roosevelt, Colfax, Union, Dona Ana, Grant, Bernalillo, Quay, DeBaca, Luna, Curry, Guadalupe and Eddy Counties.

Surplus Potatoes Still Available To Institutions

Surplus early potatoes may still be obtained without cost by public and charitable institutions.

The potatoes are those which the U.S. Department of Agriculture is directed by the Steagall Amendment to purchase as a part of the 90 per cent of parity price support operations. In its intensive campaign to make these potatoes available for human use before spoilage starts, the department will pay rail transportation costs for carload lots requested by eligible institutions.

Such organizations include charitable institutions operated at no profit and supported by tax grants or donations at no cost to recipients, and agencies distributing food for school lunch programs.

Of the 188,000 bushels which the department has been directed to purchase so far this year, 80 per cent have been No. 2 or "B" grade. The department has found useful outlets for all but 24,000 bushels of this total. However, more surplus potatoes may pile up as the harvest progresses.

The surplus situation in early potatoes, according to a recent statement by the department, should not be as troublesome this year as last, as this year's early crop is indicated at about 30 million bushels less than last year's 85.5 million.

Although No. 2 and "B" grade potatoes are discounted on the market, they are entirely satisfactory for human consumption if they can be moved before spoilage sets in.

to compare the quality of livestock now produced in the state. "Of course, these samples are displayed in the hope of making more sales as a result of the educational feature," he said. "But education is still the chief reason for holding the sale."

Field samplings of rams and ewes of wool breeds—a program which was adopted three years ago—will be continued at this year's sale, Watson said. Certification of length of wool production on a 12-month basis will be made on all rams and ewes sampled.

All stud rams will be short in the sales arena Aug. 12, as they were last year. After shearing, all studs will be lined up again for comparison. Complete information on each ram will be given, Watson said.

Ten head of registered yearling Rambouillet ewes will be sold after the auction of the stud rams.

On Aug. 13, starting at 10 o'clock, 475 head of registered and range Rambouillet, Debouillet, Corriedale, Panama, Hampshire, and Suffolk rams will be offered for sale. All of these will be yearlings (except for a few head), and most of them will be in full fleece, with about 150 head of shorn rams. This year's rams will be of longer staple than those of previous years, Watson said.

The majority of them will be large, well grown, and of the smooth type. Everything seems to point to a bigger and better sale than ever.

Third Of Nation's Phosphate Used In Soil Program

A large proportion of the nation's total phosphate production — a third in 1945 — is used by farmers in co-operating with the Agricultural Conservation Program to improve the long-term value of the soil's resources.

Farmers spread 19 times more phosphate under the ACP in 1945 than they did in 1936, the first year of the program. Less than 4 per cent of the 1936 production of phosphate was spread under ACP.

During the 10-year period, 1936-45, the production of phosphate increased two and a third times from the 3,136,000 tons produced in 1936 to more than 7,300,000 tons in 1945. These figures are on a basis of 20 per cent superphosphate.

Phosphorus is one of the elements for plant growth. Of the total amount in the soil, only a small percentage is in a form readily available for use by plants. Cropping and erosion result in a continuous removal of the most available soil phosphorus.

While farmers apply large amounts of phosphate to cash crops outside the program, a greatly increased proportion is now being applied under the ACP program to get more luxuriant growth of such soil-conserving and soil-building crops as clover, alfalfa, and other legumes. The heavier growth of these crops protects the soil against wind and water erosion and at the same time returns more vegetable matter and nitrogen to the soil.

The largest amount of phosphate spread under the ACP has been in the North Central states with the Southern states next. Estimates by county agricultural conservation committees show that more than five times as much should be spread annually on soil-conserving and soil building crops throughout the nation.

Hangar Flying

Albert Polis of Edinburg, Tex., and Charles Denton of Artesia returned Tuesday night of last week from Durango, Colo., where they had been fishing. They reported catching all the fish they could eat and brought home 40 with them in the twin-engine Beechcraft they were flying.

Grady Warren of Brownfield, Tex., visited at the airport Tuesday of last week. Warren dusted cotton here last year from the municipal airport. When he was here last week he was on his way to Carrizozo to take charge of the flying service there.

Reil Johnson flew to Elephant Butte Dam on the Fourth of July to fish.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. (Sug) Hazel went to Colorado over the Fourth of July week end to fish.

Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Hubby dropped in from Mineral Wells, Tex., in a Stinson Voyager 150.

Dr. and Mrs. C. A. Robinson and son, Al, of Kermit, Tex., flew here Sunday to visit Mr. and Mrs. George Beadle and Dr. and Mrs. Pete J. Starr and family.

Walt Varner flew "Stinky," a Cub trainer, to the oil field Sunday morning to pick up a Mr. Hall.

Minnows are "neither farm products nor livestock" even if they are raised on minnow farms, the Texas attorney general's department held. The office was asked an opinion by Brown County Attorney David J. Morris in a case where a minnow farm operator was used with a farm vehicle carrying a lower license fee than a commercial truck.

Annual State Ram Sale Will Be Aug. 12-13

The tenth annual New Mexico ram sale will be held in the sheep barn at the State Fair grounds in Albuquerque Aug. 12-13, Ivan Watson, livestock specialist of the New Mexico Extension Service, announced.

The sale, sponsored by the New Mexico Wool Growers Association, New Mexico A. & M. College, and the State Sheep Sanitary Board, is primarily a growers' sale, conducted for the improvement of the sheep and wool industry of the state, Watson said.

Education phases will be emphasized throughout the sale. No effort will be made to make the sale a money-making enterprise. The "break even" plan will be the one followed by the sale committee.

The livestock specialist pointed out that auction sales have given breeders and buyers an opportutraining office in the city will be closed on or before July 22, it has been announced by Alan Thompson, training officer. Thereafter Artesia will be serviced for veterans' on-the-job training out of Roswell by a representative of the VA who will make regular calls here.

Thompson, who has been on the job here as service officer the last 13 months, is being transferred to the northern part of the state, he said. However, he has not been notified just where he is to be sent.

The elimination of the training officer's office in Artesia is part of a nationwide curtailment of the government agencies insofar as deemed possible.

Richard Loomis of Carlsbad, contact representative, will continue his weekly visits to Artesia each Thursday.

CAP Aircade Is To Visit Artesia Tuesday, July 22

An aircade is expected to visit Artesia Tuesday afternoon, July 22, as fliers of New Mexico and Colorado stop over at the municipal airport for an hour and a quarter on a nine-day trip.

The aircade, sponsored by the New Mexico and Colorado wings of the Civil Air Patrol, will leave Denver July 21 and will return there July 29.

According to the prepared schedule for the trip, the planes are to arrive at Artesia at 1:45 o'clock the afternoon of June 22 from Roswell, where the pilots will have been entertained at a Chamber of Commerce luncheon. They will take off from Artesia at 3 o'clock for Carlsbad, where they are to be entertained at a dinner by the Chamber of Commerce.

It is expected a number of pilots will make only part of the nine-day trip, with the aircade being joined at various points by local pilots for certain short legs of the entire route. All pilots having private licenses or better have been invited to join the air fleet for all or any part of the trip.

It is presumed a number of types of airplanes will be in the party, for the Civil Air Patrol announcement said any type may enter.

5 Points to Remember In the Purchase of Memorial

- 1 Choose carefully the dealer who is to serve you. It is reasonable to assume that the dealer who offers high-quality merchandise like Select Barre Granite has also high standards of service.
- 2 Take your dealer into your confidence. He is better able to satisfy your wishes if he has a clear understanding of your preferences of style and design.
- 3 Ask your dealer to advise you. He knows artistic values and good design. Remember he is a trained professional craftsman as well as a trustworthy merchant.
- 4 Visit a cemetery and choose your plot so that the size and design of your monument will harmonize with the background planned for it.
- 5 When you are choosing a monument, ask your dealer about the significance of the Barre Guild Seal and Certificate. The Guild Seal on the monument you choose is a stamp of endorsement from an independent board of experts. It means that the monument is approved by them for quality of material, workmanship and design. The Certificate, which is given with a Guild monument, is a permanent guarantee of quality for you and your heirs.
