Kidnapping Ended Near Springlake

After midnight Sunday, Gary Maddox, Muleshoe City Police officer was notified that a four year old boy had just been kidnapped after his mother was assaulted.

A description and license tag number were given for the vehicle driven by the alleged kidnapper, but no direction of travel.

Officer Maddox went to the woman's home then asked for a deputy sheriff to be called out. Responding were Deputies Steve Bearden and Richard Bonham.

Information on the vehicle, and the fact that the man had supposedly been drinking heavily and was armed with a pistol, was told to area officers.

After local officers didn't find the suspect vehicle on the streets of Muleshoe, or at a couple of possible locations, an officer from Earth notified Muleshoe that he was behind the vehicle, and they were eastbound on Highway 70.

The officer from Earth asked for a backup from Olton, but when he didn't see the 'back up' officer, elected to stop the car.

He then said, "I have two men face down on the ground, and I am approaching them very slowly." He disarmed the men and waited for Deputy Bonham to arrive from Muleshoe.

The duo was taken to jail in Littlefield on charges of driving while intoxicated, public intoxication and unlawfully carrying a weapon.

Deputy Bonham returned the young boy to his mother, then he and Deputy Bearden each went back to their homes, while Patrolman Maddox went back on routine patrol for the night.

USDA Gives Purchase Plan For Borrowers

The Farmers Home Administration (FmHA), is offering rural communities with water, sewer and other essential facility loans from FmHA an opportunity to purchase their loans at a discount, FmHA state Director, J. Lynn Futch said Monday.

Letters explaining the purchase offer should reach borrowers throughout the state early this week, he said.

FmHA is required to raise $584 million from asset sales this fiscal year, the third sale mandated by the 1986 Reconciliation Act. Last year, more than $900 million was collected when borrowers bought 3,300 loans nationwide.

"We don't know what to expect in terms of purchases this year," Futch said. "But if we don't raise enough in that way, we will have to consider other approaches, including a sale of loan assets, to enable us to meet the target."

Futch said no deposits will be required for loans purchased by March 9. For loans purchased between March 10 and May 9, a five percent good-faith deposit is required by March 9, and the sale must be completed by May 9.

The discount will depend on factors such as the loan's interest rate, type of financing, and maturity. Letters have been sent to the borrowers including a "pricing grid" to help borrowers determine their discount.

LAZBUDDIE COMPUTER TEAM GOING TO STATE--Last Saturday, in competition in Amarillo, the computer team from Lazbuddie High School received more points than second place Dumas and third place Amarillo High School, and will represent their district in state competition in Austin in April. Members pictured with their trophy are from left, Adrienne Willingham, Jonessa Jennings and Mia Jennings. They were very proud of having beaten Amarillo High School and Dumas. (Journal Photo)

Economic Development Speaker Praises Group

"Bubbly, effervescent, enthusiastic and positive," were some of the descriptive phrases used to describe special guest speaker for the Muleshoe Area Industrial Foundation Tuesday night. Cheryl Pink, with the SPS Economic Development division of Southwestern Public Service Company, provided "oomph" to the group of members and special guests at the annual MAIF meeting at the Bailey County Civic Center.

Computer Team From Lazbuddie Going To State

One of the Lazbuddie computer teams placed first at the regional Texas Computer Education Association competition held in Amarillo on Saturday, February 11. Approximately 20 teams participated in the contest which was sponsored by the Region XVI Educational Service Center.

Team members Jonessa Jennings, Adrienne Willingham, and Mia Jennings have earned the right to participate in the state contest which will probably be held in Austin on April 8.

Connie Gonzales, Sandra Martinez and Michelle Flores also participated at the regional meet.

Dumas High School placed second and Amarillo High School placed third.

Adrienne and Hardy Carlyle, the computer teacher and sponsor, both stated how pleased they were to win the competition over much larger schools.

"It really feels great to win!" stated Adrienne. "It proves that little schools are just as good as anyone else."

Carlyle said, "I'm really proud of all my competitors. Our winning shows that the educational program of Lazbuddie is excellent."

Fire Department, Lazbuddie EMS Set Benefit Meal

The Lazbuddie Fire Department and EMS are having a BENEFIT DINNER Thursday, February 23, at 6:30 p.m. in the Lazbuddie School Cafeteria.

Barbecue brisket, sausage, beans, cole slaw, potato salad and all the trimmings will be served by the Cattle Call from Amarillo.

Tickets are $7.50 for adults and $2.50 for children 10 and under. They may be purchased from any fireman or EMS, or at the door. Additional donations will be appreciated.

Entertainment will be provided by The Playboys, a country swing band from South Plains College.

The meal is being donated by Rhone-Poulent Ag Chemical Co., makers of Temik, Prep, Torch, and other ag chemicals used in this area.

Proposed plans for an additional fire station will be on display.

Lazbuddie FFA Youth Exhibit At San Antonio

Several Lazbuddie FFA members have been participating in the annual San Antonio Livestock Show this week, according to vo-ag instructor, Rick Copp.

Sheldon Mason received an eighth place for a medium weight Suffolk lamb; and a third for his Angus heifer.

Ginger Jesko and Dawnda Magby showed in the lamb division.

On Wednesday, Mandy Magby was due to show her pigs in the show, added Copp.

South Plains Future Still Tied To Cotton Production, Textiles

"One century ago, cotton was the driving force behind the Texas food and fiber industry. Today, conditions are ripe for the development of an expanded cotton industry in Texas and the best news is that we already have the tools to get the job done," Deputy State Agriculture Commissioner Mike Moeller said on Monday.

Moeller made the comments at a news conference held at the Texas Tech University International Center for Textile Research and Development. Moeller was joined by State Representative David Counts of Lubbock and Dr. James Parker of the Textile Center.

"The staff of the Texas Department of Agriculture has just completed an overview, titled Texas and Apparel Industry Overview: Cotton, which outlines the conditions which

Fine Arts Boosters Plan For Festival

It's time for the annual Fine Arts Boosters Sweetheart Festival. It is scheduled for 7 p.m. Saturday, February 18 in the Bailey County Civic Center.

The Fine Arts Boosters plan lots of fun, food and entertainment for the entire family prior to the coronation of the Sweetheart Queen and King at 9 p.m.

Candidates for Queen and King from the Muleshoe High School 'M' Band are Marsha Wilson and Matthew Madrid; Michele Cox and Jeff Hicks will represent the MHS Speech department and Jenifer Hayes and Chad Garlington, MHS Art.

The only candidates from Watson Junior High School will be Sonia Cisneros and Matt Boehler, representing the Band. All proceeds from the Festival will be used to benefit Art, Speech and Band students from High School and Junior High, according to the Fine Arts Boosters.

made the 1990's an ideal time for the large scale development of cotton processing plants in this state. It's no secret that Texas is a major cotton producer.

"In fact, Texas cotton production has leaped from 2.3 million bales in 1986 to an estimated 4.6 million bales in 1987. As a result, Texas now accounts for 31 percent of the cotton grown in the United States. When the last study on the Textile industry was completed 14 years ago, Texas had only 34 cotton fabric mills. Today we have 99 such mills," Moeller said.

"Unfortunately, our report found that Texas processes far too little of the high quality cotton that we grow. Roughly 55 percent of our cotton is exported abroad, mostly to Japan, Korea and Taiwan. Another 31 percent of our cotton is shipped to mills in other parts of the United States. A mere 11 percent of our cotton is processed within Texas' borders. While we value these outside markets for cotton, Texas is clearly missing the full benefits of being America's number one cotton producer.

"Our goal in completing this

Local EMS Sets CPR Classes For Next Week

Starla Ellis said the first CPR (Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation) class will begin at 6:30 p.m. on Thursday, February 16 at the Bailey County EMS building behind West Plains Medical Center.

The second class will be on February 23, also at 6:30 p.m. Each of the classes is four hours long.

Since the class is limited to 25 people, a second class will be scheduled in March, if necessary. So, if you are interested in the class, be sure to be at the ambulance building this Thursday night to sign up. It will be held on a 'first-come, first-serve' basis, with those arriving too late being given the opportunity to attend the classes in March.

study was to find out what conditions were necessary to get our cotton fiber processing industry in proportion with our production of raw cotton. The state of Texas, with an estimated population of 16.8 million, represents a huge market for an in-state textile manufacturer. Previous studies concentrated on developing markets for North-eastern U. S. textile mills. Our state's young and growing population represent a significant marketing advantage for anyone willing to open textile mills in Texas. Texas' cotton growing regions are within a few hundred miles of growing apparel manufacturing plants in Dallas, San Antonio and El Paso. By locating a textile plant in Long Arm of Law Reaches Out-And Touches Someone!

"Reach out and touch someone" is the motto of a telephone company. But, the Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission could also have a motto -- "Reach out -- way out -- and nab someone!" And, that's just what happened last Saturday afternoon.

A game warden from Littlefield contacted a Bailey County deputy sheriff by radio and told him he was headed toward Progress from Littlefield, and asked the deputy to go out north of Progress and attempt to locate a vehicle and three hunters in a field.

He also told the deputy that he had been notified from Austin that the men were illegally hunting.

So, the deputy sheriff drove to the general location -- and sure enough -- ran across three men about 200 yards away from a parked vehicle, in a field and carrying shotguns.

The Muleshoe men were 'nabbed' by the Littlefield game warden, who had been notified from Austin. How's that for the "long arm -- a real long arm -- of the law!!!"

Bank Shot! Local Man Suspected

If you are the young man, or know the teenager who called the Muleshoe City Police Department around 9:30 p.m. Monday night reporting that "Someone just shot up Muleshoe State Bank," you are asked to please contact the Muleshoe Police Department or the Bailey County Sheriff's office.

The caller failed to give his name, and Sgt. Julian Dominguez said he believes the person who reported the incident could possibly provide additional information to the police.

The officers said you can remain anonymous if you wish.

The dispatcher who received the call notified officers on duty, and soon, almost all local officers had responded to the call.

They found the west doors of the bank shot out, and a window above a door on the north side of the bank had been shot.

They did find shells and know what type weapon was involved in the incident.

At presstime, the incident was still under investigation by officers from the Muleshoe City Police Department and the Bailey County Sheriff's office.

Clean-up of shattered glass was going on at the bank early Tuesday morning, and preparations were being made to replace the shot outer west doors of the bank.

From The State Senate

By: Tell Bivins

O. K., I admit it. I am controlled by a single powerful special interest - our two year old daughter, Katie.

Nancy and I were invited to dinner at the home of Max and Gene Alice Sherman. Max, of course, is a former Senator from Senate District 31 and is currently the dean of the LBJ School of Public Affairs.

The only other guests were to be Lt. Governor Bill Hobby and Camilla and John Bordie. Camilla was Hobby's Parliamentarian for 14 years in the Senate. She is highly respected by Senate members and staffers alike.

Nancy and I were excited about the evening because the Sherman's were old friends and it would be a good opportunity to get to know Governor Hobby better.

A student from Amarillo was to baby-sit. On her arrival, Katie went into hysterics. She let it be known that the world would end if we left her. Because the sitter was new, Nancy decided she had better stay home with Katie. Nancy called Gene Alice to let her know but she wouldn't hear of Nancy not coming. She very graciously insisted that we bring Katie with us, since the evening was supposed to be very casual. So, yielding to our special interest, off we went with Katie in tow.

The dinner was terrific. Katie, knowing the trouble she had caused, was very well behaved.

Bill Hobby is a quiet man with considerable intellect and great wit. You often have to strain to hear him in conversation. He values reason and leans toward political pragmatism as opposed to ideology.

As you might expect, the conversation covered many topical items that related to state government, from public education to the condition of the states' financial institutions. The topic that drew the most discussion was the need for new prisons and how to pay for them.

I was most pleased to learn that Hobby shares my belief that Texas must have additional prison capacity. He is convinced that the revolving door of TDC has severely weakened any deterrent effect that the threat of incarceration may have.

Moreover, he told Nancy and me that his opinion of boot camp style incarceration for first offenders had begun to change. He was not a supporter of this concept in the past. However, he had recently visited an experimental boot camp style facility in Travis County. He told us that he was very impressed and was, in fact, re-thinking his position.

The conversation then turned to the always difficult question of how we should finance the much needed additional prison capacity.

The Legislative Budget Board, in its initial draft of the new budget for the 1990-91 biennium, assumed that some 10,500 new prison beds would be paid for out of general revenue. The cost: approximately $350,000. This was a big piece of the billion dollar short fall projected by the LBB for 1990-91.

One way to take the sting out of the budget -- and still get those beds -- would be to use general obligation bonds to pay for them. It is argued by some that this would be a legitimate method to finance an asset that has a 50-year useful life. Others argue that bond financing will force our children to pay, in the future, for our problems today.

Politically, there is a strong temptation for the legislature to use G. O. bonds to finance the needed prison beds. There's been a tax increase in each of the last three sessions of the legislature. Many of the members this session don't even want to say the "T" word.

Unfortunately, there are also many members that do not want to focus on the spending side of the budget to find the revenue to build new prisons. Governor Clements, Hobby and Speaker of the House, Gib Lewis, have all indicated support for using G. O. bonds.

From there "it takes all kinds to make the world go round" department, one House member opposes issuing $350,000 in G. O. Bonds, but would support 170,000,000!

Before you can decide if debt financing for prison construction is sound fiscal policy, you must focus on our current debt load in Texas. As of January, 1988, combined state and local debt in Texas totaled approximately $47,600,000,000. This level of debt ranked Texas second among the 14 most populous states. Yet when you just focus on Texas state bond debt the numbers are very different. As of August 31, 1988, total state bond debt was only approximately $7,000,000,000. This level of state debt ranked Texas 49th among the 50 states.

Yet Texas state debt has increased 142 percent since 1980. This has caused many to argue that the legislature is using debt to circumvent the state constitutional requirement to operate on a balanced budget.

Hobby said that, in his opinion, it is uncertain which financing route the legislature will take. But he went on to say that regardless of the method of finance, he was optimistic about the legislature authorizing the new beds.

At this point in the evening, Katie, who had been very good all night, let us know that she thought it was her bedtime. We gave Governor Hobby a ride home. Katie was far more interested in the fact that her bear, K. B., could see out of the window than the fact that the Lt. Gov. of Texas was in the front seat.

Fresh Food

Producers and grocers today hide information essential to the consumer seeking to avoid stale food. The usual dodge is to use a code only the grocer knows--which gives the date the product is no longer fresh.

Confronted on this, the grocer says store personnel remove unrefresh food from shelves before it's sold. Not true, in many cases.

With products like milk, bread, and eggs, much progress has been achieved and most containers now have expiration dates displayed. But not all--and sometimes they're removed or unreadable.

A good idea is to ask grocers to explain all freshness codes, or stop using them.

Pauline Houston Funeral Services Held Wednesday

Funeral services for Pauline Houston, 64, of the Lazbuddie Community were held at 3 p.m. Wednesday, Feb. 15 in the First Baptist Church with the Rev. Barry Bradley, pastor, officiating.

Burial was in Bailey County Memorial Park under the direction of Ellis Funeral Home of Muleshoe. Justice of the Peace Albert Smith of Farwell pronounced her dead at 2:15 p.m. Monday at her home.

Born April 26, 1925, she had been a resident of the Lazbuddie Community since 1951, moving there from Muleshoe. She was a homemaker and a member of the Muleshoe First Baptist Church.

Morris Childers Services Held Here Wednesday

Funeral services for Morris Childers, 78, were held at 2 p.m. Wednesday, Feb. 15 in Ellis Funeral Home Chapel of the Chimes with the Rev. Richard Edwards, pastor of the First United Methodist Church, officiating.

Burial was in Bailey County Memorial Park under the direction of Ellis Funeral Home of Muleshoe. Childers died at 5:55 a.m. Monday in West Plains Medical Center.

Born Dec. 15, 1910, in Roxton, TX, Childers moved to Muleshoe in 1934, from Roxton. He married Rebecca L. (Peggy) Land on Aug. 5, 1937, in Albuquerque, N.M. He was a former co-owner of Wiedebush and Childers Gas and Butane, a member of the Muleshoe First United Methodist Church, Muleshoe Masonic Lodge and a Shriner.

Survivors include his wife, Peggy; a son, Pat Childers of Cody, Wyoming; a daughter, Doris Mardis of Clovis, N.M.; five grandchildren; and one great grandchild.

The family suggests memorials to the Shriners' Children's Hospital in Galveston, TX.

Tax Tips To Help!

DO YOUR DEPENDENTS HAVE SOCIAL SECURITY NUMBERS?

Will you claim an exemption for a dependent who was age five or older on December 31, 1988? If so, you must list the dependent's social security number (SSN) on your tax return.

The social security number requirement applies to each dependent claimed on your tax return. It includes both adults and children.

To obtain a social security number for a dependent, you must fill out of Form SS-5. You may obtain this form at your local H&R Block office or your nearest Social Security office.

Do you have questions about how the tax laws affect your return? Call your local H&R Block office.

Pre-Entrance Nursing Exams Set At College

A pre-entrance exam for the associate degree nursing program at South Plains College will be given February 18.

The exam is scheduled at 9 a.m. in the SPC Student Assistance Center, located on the third floor of the library. A $10 fee, payable in advance, will be charged.

Licensed vocational nurses and others who want advanced placement should take the exam by the end of February," said Marla Cottenoir, R. N. director of the associate degree nursing program and chairperson of SPC's nursing department.

Additional exams will be given February 22, February 25, March 11 and April 1. All exams begin at 9 a.m.

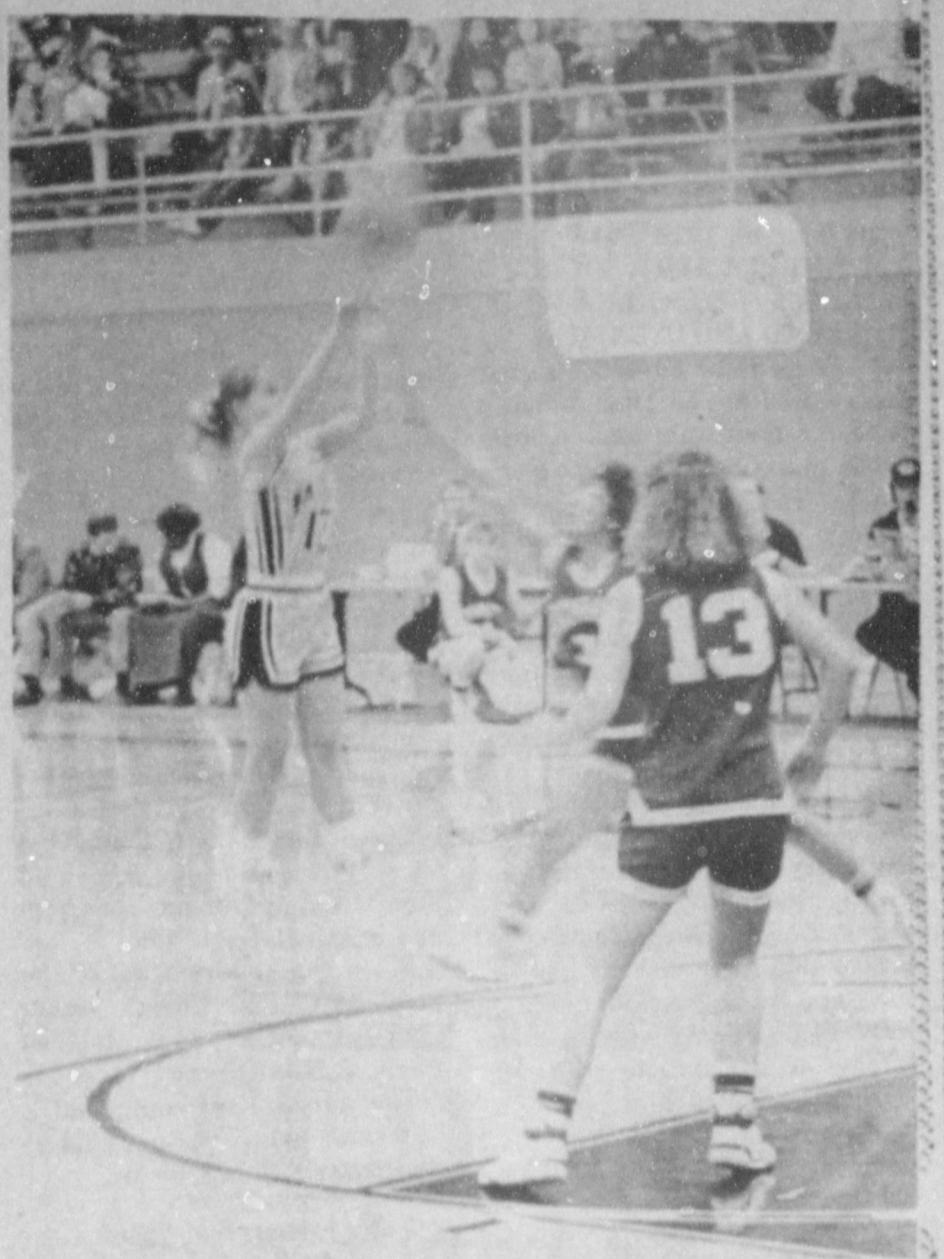

Graduates of the two year program are eligible to take the state board exam (NCLEX) for licensure as registered nurses, she added.

For more information on SPC's associate degree nursing program, contact Mrs. Cottenoir of the SPC counseling office at 894-9611, ext. 364.

Feeding Infants Meat

Q. My baby has just started eating Gerber Lean Meat Dinners. How do these products compare to the single-ingredient meats and vegetables?

A. Gerber Lean Meat Dinners combine meat and vegetables in one jar. Each serving (4.5-ounce jar) provides at least 40 percent of the U.S. RDA for protein for infants.

The meats used in the Lean Meat Dinners contain less than 10 percent fat. The total percent of calories from fat in these dinners is about 30 percent. The percentage of calories from protein and carbohydrate reflects current pediatric recommendations for caloric distribution. About 30 percent of calories should be from protein and fat, and the remaining calories should be from carbohydrate.

Lean Meat Dinners have more protein than plain vegetables or vegetable with meat combinations. Vegetables provide other nutrients such as Vitamins A and B6 and riboflavin. A serving of strained meat (2.5-ounce jar) provides more protein than a serving of lean meat dinners.

Lean meat dinners should be used in your baby's diet to replace separate servings of other strained foods. Serve these dinners along with milk and fruit for a balanced meal.

For more information about infant feeding, call 1-800-4-GERBER.

HOMESTEAD EXEMPTIONS

CAN LOWER THE PROPERTY TAXES ON YOUR HOME

A homestead Exemption

lowers the property taxes on your home by lowering its taxable value. For example, if your home is valued at $50,000 and you receive a $5,000 homestead exemption, your home will be taxed as if it were worth only $45,000.

You qualify for a homestead exemption if you owned your home on January 1 and used it as your primary residence on January 1. It doesn't matter whether your home is a house, a condominium or a mobile home.

Exemptions are available to all homeowners on their school taxes. Additional exemptions are available to homeowners who are disabled or age 65 or over. Other exemptions may be offered to homeowners by school districts, counties, cities, and special districts. All taxing units offer exemptions to disabled veterans.

WANT ADS ARE A SOURCE OF PROFIT TO PEOPLE WHO READ AND USE THEM

There is no advertising that pays greater on the amount invested than want ads. A little want ad has been known to bring big returns, with but little pocket change invested. The want ads is often the means of finding a buyer or a seller of some article, perhaps of little or it may be of great importance, just at a time when the sale or purchase meant a great deal to one or both parties effected. Remember you can insert a three-line want ad in the Journal for the small sum of 25 cents. A great many times no more than three lines are required for advertising some article that you wish to sell or buy, and there is seldom ever a want ad that doesn't get results. It pays to use and to read the want ads. Try It.

40 COUNTIES IN STATE DO NOT USE HORSES OR MULES FOR FARM WORK

Texas farmers are making long strides toward complete mechanization of crop production, according to H.P. Smith agricultural engineer of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

Smith has just completed analyzing information on power used on Texas farms in crop production furnished him by county agricultural agents.

No horses or mules are now used in crop production in about 40 Texas counties. With the exception of some hand hoeing and hand harvesting of cotton, crop production in these counties is completely mechanized, Smith said.

Tractor power is used almost exclusively in the production of all crops in the block of 77 Northwest Texas counties. It was reported that few farmers in these counties still keep a team or two for odd jobs about the farm or for hauling feed.

There are about 47 million acres in these 77 counties. The total devoted to crop production amounts to about 14 1/2 million acres.

SURPRISE SNOW DUMPS FOUR INCHES

Adding to winter's woes was a 'sneak' snow that surprised area residents as well as weather forecasters Tuesday morning.

Most weather services predicted the snow would stay well south of this area as they gave amounts of up to seven or eight inches, in Carlsbad, Artesia and Roswell areas and down through the southwestern part of Texas.

However light snow began falling in Muleshoe around 10:30 p.m. Monday and by morning approximately four inches of snow was on the ground, and snow continued throughout most of the morning.

Friendship Club

The Friendship Club met Friday, Feb. 10 in the home of Maude Young with Jewell Griffiths as co-hostess. In the absence of the president, Pauline Guinn, Olene Watts, vice president, called the meeting to order.

Mrs. Young gave the opening prayer. After roll call, minutes of the previous meeting were read. The treasurers report was given by Gladys Darsey, secretary and treasurer. A short business session was held after which Arlene Watts gave a report on an article written by John Faulk, called "The Art and Science of Porch Settin." It was reported that this was real entertaining and enjoyed by everyone.

Due to illness, only five members were present. Those present included: Olene Watts, Gladys Darsey, Sammie Ethridge, Jewell Griffiths and Maude Young.

Refreshments were served and the meeting was closed.

Muleshoe Study Club met Feb. 9 in the home of Wanda Lewis, for the Valentine meeting.

Louise Agee called the meeting to order, with Wanda Lewis calling the roll, as each member answered with "A tip on love".

Committee reports were given and a discussion was held on the possibility of a garage sale but the decision was made to wait for warmer weather.

Handmade gifts were exchanged.

The hostess served refreshments to the following members: Louise Agee, Betty Jo Carpenter, Joylene Costen, Fern Gilbreath, Jewel Pool, Izetta Shain, Alma

The next meeting will be Feb. 23 at 4 p.m. in the home of Mae Wilterding. The program will be on conservation and agriculture with Jim Lutz, Bailey County Soil Conservation Agent, speaking.

A point to ponder: "To handle yourself use your head. To handle others use your heart."

Creative Living

by Sheryl Borden

Information on childhood safety, entertaining, and gosling tapes will be featured on "Creative Living" on Tuesday, February 21 at 12 noon and repeated on Saturday, February 25 at 21 p.m. on KENW-TV. (All times are Mountain.)

Accidents are the leading cause of death among children one year of age and older. Anne O'Malley, with World Book, Inc. in Chicago, IL, will be presenting a new childhood safety program called Play It Safe! that features the Alphabet Pals. Anne will explain how this program can help parents prevent many childhood injuries.

Donna Haverstock, representing Norwegian Dairies, will demonstrate several Norwegian cheeses that are delicious and well suited for preparing many different types of party foods. Donna lives in Key West, FL.

The flashback segment will feature gosling tapes--polyester tapes from Europe that are used to make decorative curtain and drapery headings. Barbara Miller will show how to use these tapes to make some holiday items as well as many other creative uses for this product.

On Tuesday, February 21 at 9:30 p.m. and on Thursday, February 23 at 12 noon, "Creative Living" will feature figure focus through wardrobe analysis and a product called "Restore-X Exterior Paint Remover".

Audrey Childress, with her business, Fashion/Sewing Seminars in Metairie, LA, will talk about selecting becoming clothes and explains that this should be a challenge to every individual. The challenge is to select clothes that will conceal your poor features and improve the good ones. It is important to understand the effect of line and design on the figure.

The flashback segment will feature Roger Langenberg with Restech Industries in Eugene, OR. Roger will explain the product "Restore-X Exterior Paint Remover"--product manufacturers describe as "liquid sandpaper". This item is biodegradable, convenient, environmentally safe and cost effective.

"Creative Living" is produced and hosted by Sheryl Borden. The show is carried on more than 100 PBS stations in the United States, Canada, Guam and Puerto Rico and is distributed by Pacific Mountain Network, Denver, CO. Viewers can request copies of printed materials offered on the show by calling on KENW-TV's toll-free telephone lines between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. In New Mexico, the number is 1-800-432-2361, out-of-state: 1-800-545-2359 and Portales and Roosevelt County: 562-2112.

JALAPENO APPETIZER WEDGES

1/2 cup chopped green onion
3 jalapeno peppers, seeded and finely chopped (1/2 cup)
1 pound Jarlsberg cheese, shredded
6 eggs beaten
Sprinkle onions and peppers in well buttered 9-inch pie plate. Cover with cheese. Pour eggs over all. Bake at 350F for 30 minutes, or until set. Cool 10 minutes. Cut into wedges to serve. Makes 8-10 servings.

MUSHROOMS SUPREME JARLSBERG

24 large fresh mushrooms
1 package (10 ounces) thawed and well drained frozen chopped spinach
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1-1/2 cups shredded Jarlsberg cheese
1/2 cup pine nuts (pignolis) or slivered almonds
1 large clove garlic, minced
1 medium onion, finely chopped

1/4 teaspoon ground nutmeg
Wash and dry mushrooms. Remove stems and chop. Set mushroom caps aside. In large skillet, saute mushrooms stems in butter with onion and garlic until golden, stirring often. Remove from heat. Blend in spinach, 1 cup Jarlsberg, pine nuts and nutmeg. Spoon mixture into mushrooms. Top with remaining Jarlsberg. Bake at 400F for 10 minutes, or until heated through. Makes 24 mushrooms.

NORDIC DESSERT FONDUE

1 cup half-and-half
1 cup shredded Gjetost cheese
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
1 1/2 tablespoons light sherry or unsweetened apple juice
3 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon grated orange peel
2 tablespoons brown sugar
In saucepan, combine half-and-half with flour. Cook over medium heat, stirring until mixture is thickened and smooth. Add remaining ingredients. Heat, stirring until cheese melts and sauce is smooth. Makes about two cups sauce. Use to dip assorted fresh fruits and pound cake, or serve as a sauce over ice cream.

SWING YOUR PARTNER--A large crowd attended the Square Dance Saturday night at the Civic Center. Dance Clubs from surrounding towns gathered for their annual Valentine Dance.

Junior Girl Scouts News

Muleshoe Junior Girl Scout Troop No. 152 traveled to Plainview Saturday, February 11 to attend a badge workshop.

They had a picnic lunch at the Girl Scout Hut in Plainview followed by an afternoon of bowling. For some of the girls it was their first time to experience bowling. This workshop goes toward the "Individual Sporting Badge" the troop is currently working on. Everyone had a good time and is looking forward to their next chance to go bowling.

Those attending the workshop included: Aimee Hugg, Tiffany Bond, Lacy Morris, Margaret Olvera, Kimberlee Vaughn, Leslie Radford and troop leaders, Arelia Morris and Terry Radford.

SURPRISE--Joy Stancell, activity director at the Muleshoe Nursing Home, was surprised Friday afternoon, her birthday, when the residents presented her a necklace for her birthday, while she was preparing for a Valentine party for them.

It may be surprising to learn that sour cream contains only 25 calories per tablespoon while mayonnaise contains 101 calories per tablespoon.

Education is a process that either never begins or never ends.

Selfishness will break up any partnership.

TAXPAYERS' Rights, Remedies, Responsibilities

Want to learn more about the property tax system? That's possible by reading a pamphlet the State Property Tax Board has written and made available at the local appraisal district office.

It's called "Taxpayers' Rights, Remedies, Responsibilities" and it may help you save money. Learn about tax relief available through

- homestead exemptions
- disabled veteran exemptions
- special productivity value for farm, ranch, and timber land
- tax deferral for over-65 homeowners

You'll learn how your property is appraised. That way, you can decide if the appraisal district's value is reasonable.

If you think it isn't, the pamphlet tells you how to prepare an appeal to the appraisal review board. You'll learn the types of protests the appraisal review board can hear and useful evidence to bring to your hearing.

Important dates in the tax year are listed. You'll know what your responsibilities are and when you are obligated to satisfy them.

"Remedies" is free to taxpayers. Ask for yours today at

Chairman Duane Castleberry, who opened the business meeting reported on the State of the Foundation, and his first words were "We're okay!!"

He then went on to tell about schools the board of directors had attended commenting, "We have been learning that economic development is a major undertaking."

"We also know that General Motors is not coming here to put a plant in, so we're concentrating on helping existing businesses with growth and financial programs."

He said MAIF is planning a quarterly newsletter, with a firm belief, "You don't keep people in the dark, you let them know what's going on."

He said "We want your input and ideas. We enjoy support from the community."

Although MAIF does not become involved in politics, they are outspokenly endorsing the hospital, and are committed to helping keep the doors of the hospital open.

Treasurer Bob Stovall said just over $2,000 is in the MAIF checking account, and there is a certificate of deposit totaling $17,154.53, which matures this month.

The membership at the dinner approved several by-law changes, mostly designed to clarify the existing by laws of the organization.

Directors of the board include Duane Castleberry, chairman; Duane Lloyd, Troy Stegemoeller,

Jennyslippers

Will Sponsor

Student Night

It was announced Tuesday morning that the Jennyslippers will be sponsoring the second annual High School Students/Parents Night to give information on ways to seek financial assistance for students to attend college.

The special seminar will be held at 7 p.m. on Monday, March 6, in the Muleshoe High School Cafeteria.

An informative meeting is being planned and more instructions on the actual application process will be given.

Speakers will be Lynda Tinsley, director of financial aid, WTSU, Canyon; Cathy Wright, Opportunity Plan; Dr. Ronny Barnes, financial aid department, Texas Tech University; Major Wood, Texas Tech ROTC; Mattie Hicks, nursing instructor, South Plains College; Mrs. Linda Marr, Muleshoe High School counselor; Wayland Ethridge, principal and Dr. Lawrence Ward, superintendent of the Muleshoe ISD.

A Jennyslipper spokeswoman said, "Let us help YOU get your foot in the door."

James Turnbow, Bob Stovall, Cliff Black and Howard Watson.

Four members of the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture Ambassadors, Heather Hutton, Amy Harrison, Kim Harris and Shelley Berry, registered guests and issued name tags.

Special guests introduced included Muleshoe Mayor and Gayle Turner; Bailey County Judge and Sandy Watson, City Manager Dave Marr, CofC manager and Joan Smith, Rotary President and Dianne Nieman, Jennyslipper President Sandi Robertson, Channel 6's Joella Flowers and The Journal's Clea Williams.

Commemorative

Buckles Will

Be Given By CofC

Members and non-members are issued a cordial invitation to attend the annual Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture Banquet.

It is scheduled for 7 p.m. on Saturday, March 4, 1989 in the Bailey County Coliseum.

This year, members of the CofC have a special 'bonus' waiting if they purchase banquet tickets in advance.

With the purchase of two advance banquet tickets at $10 each, a member will be entitled to receive a genuine pewter Muleshoe Commemorative Belt Buckle.

Smith explained that this buckle bonus is limited to advance sales only, and none will be given to persons who purchase tickets at the door. There will be only one buckle for each member.

Scheduled as speaker is Dr. Lawrence Ward, superintendent of the Muleshoe Independent School District.

Money Talk

By Edward Thorlund

With government bonds paying nine percent interest, one can see why much of today's lavish supply of money is going into bonds.

The stock market will appear more attractive when and if interest rates on bonds decline. But the trend in rates is a matter of controversy. President-elect Bush wants rates down, and says they should move downward.

Others think they must go higher before easing.

With the yield on government paper so high, it could be expected that municipal bond funds and Ginnie and Fanny Mae's would be yielding interest rates comparable to what they paid the last time government bonds were paying such handsome interest.

Texas, close to the raw material and the market for the finished product, a manufacturer can save an average of $6.71 per bale of cotton over production costs in other parts of the nation," Moeller added.

"Texas is in an excellent position to take advantage of the American public's growing demand for natural fibers. Cotton now holds nearly half the total apparel and home fabric market. Recent technological improvements in cotton processing have expanded the uses for the upland cotton varieties grown in Texas. Total consumption of natural fibers by American textile mills was in excess of 12 billion pounds last year. Despite stiff foreign competition, U. S. cotton finishing plants have a backlog of orders totalling 179 million linear yards.

"If Texas can pick up a larger share of the U. S. textile and apparel market, the economic benefits would be felt in every part of the state, especially in West Texas. For example, each percentage of the cotton fabric market captured by Texas means an additional $48 million for the Texas economy in direct earning and an estimated $118 million in additional economic activity. The development of an expanded textile industry means better conditions for Texas cotton farmers, new jobs in rural and urban areas, and new business for Texas utilities and trucking

Former Resident Receives Award For Service

Former Muleshoe resident, Leon Watson, son of Lutishia Watson and the late C. A. Watson, received honors as District Manager of the Year from the Lubbock Avalanche Journal.

Watson, who has been employed with the newspaper at Lubbock since August 1987, was chosen as City District Manager of the Year because of his vast experience and dedication to his job, according to Abel Cruz, A-J city circulation manager.

"Leon has been in the newspaper business for a long time," he said. "He is very knowledgeable about the business and has shown the dedication and desire to be worthy of this goal."

Watson, along with three other A-J employees were honored during the A-J's annual Carrier Awards Banquet last Friday night in Lubbock.

Local Magician

Thrills Rotary

With Illusions

Four new members were installed for the Muleshoe Rotary Club Tuesday at noon. Buck Campbell performed the installation service for Richard Drachenberg, Roger Clarkson, Jerry Hicks and Nick Bamert. New member Dr. Lawrence Ward was away at a seminar and will be officially installed at a later date.

Campbell gave the purposes and ideals of the Rotary Foundation for the new members. He also outlined various Rotary projects and admonished the new members to become a part of the 'active and working' Rotary.

George Nieman was the weekly winner of the Polio Plus drawing. It was announced that since the international Polio Plus project began, the Muleshoe Rotary Club has contributed some $6,000, which will inoculate 48,000 youngsters against polio.

Nick Black, Muleshoe's own magician, performed a few magic tricks for the Rotarians and said he would like for Rotary to sponsor a magic show as a fund raiser.

The show would be nearly two hours long. He said he and his wife, Jaton, have worked up several new illusions.

Visitors at the Rotary meeting included Don Staggs, Nick Black, Jeff Hicks, Mark Williams, Tim Wetzell, Scott Campbell and John A. Chisholm.

NEWS VIEWS

William F. Burns, head of the U.S. disarmament agency:

"We believe the goals here have been accomplished. The discussion heightened the concerns of the world about chemical arms."

George Bush, President:

"Further expansion of public school choice is a national imperative."

E. Everett Koop, Surgeon General:

"The decline in the proportions of American smokers from 40 percent of the population in 1965 to 29 percent of the population in 1987 was a revolution in smoking behavior."

Computer Team Wins First, Advances To State

This past Saturday, February 11, 1989 the Muleshoe High School Computer Club teams traveled to Lubbock to compete in Area Programming Competition. Their sponsor, Colleen Tollett, the computer teacher in high school was excited and hopeful for a trophy this year. Team one consisted of: Andrew Espinoza, Sr.; Jaime Reyes, Sr.; and Julie Crittenden, Sr. Team two: Jesus Martinez, Soph; Mandy Robertson, Sr.; and Jeremy Carpenter, Sr. Team three: Dustin Elliott, Fr.; and David Quintana, Fr.

The competition began as the teams and their brains set to work. There was to be a two hour time limit. The object is to accumulate the most amount of points. You do this by the programs you solve. Each program has a difficulty of either 2, 5, or 9 with 2 being the easiest and 9 the hardest. When the whistle sounded for the competition to stop, Team One had 27 pts. while a Plainview team had 25 pts. The most nerve racking moments were waiting to see if the team had turned in a program that had not been posted yet. Sure enough, the judge walked over and changed their 25 to a 27 and we were tied for first place.

The judges then assembled to discuss the ruling of a tie for first. Finally, they chose a winner. We were still forced to wait for the announcement. They went through the usual routine of passing out participation certificates, which seemed to take forever. Finally, the time came when they were to announce the winner. Starting with third place they announced, "Muleshoe's Team Two." They then had to go through all the criteria to determine a second and first place. After what seemed like an eternity they congratulated Plainview on a good competition and presented them with the second place trophies and plaque. We were elated. We had won first place and would be going to State in April. It was hard to believe we had actually come out on top. In addition, the second team, Jesus Martinez, Soph.; Mandy Robertson, Sr.; and Jeremy Carpenter, Sr., placed third.

One frowned: His roses had thorns. Another smiled: His thorns had roses.

Said the wise one: "Life handed me a lemon, so I made lemonade."

Failures follow the paths of least persistence.

COMPUTER TEAM

Mock Trial Team Selected

Mrs. Allison's civics classes have worked through the weeks on the Mock Trial and the common court procedures. Each class had its own team and each exhibited the trial in their individual classes. From the weeks class competitions Mrs. Allison was able to compile a Mock Trial team. Mrs. Allison stated, "This year as every year it was very difficult in deciding the team, but I believe that this team has the best potential in years."

The Mock Trial team has many requirements and various regulations that must be followed. The team can only consist of six members. The entire team includes two attorneys for the plaintiff, two attorneys for the defendant, two witnesses that must be prepared to play more than one witness, and two alternates. The 1989 Mock Trial team is Debbie Brown and Justine Hanes as the attorneys for the plaintiff, Brandon Wilson and Selina Gonzalez as the two attorneys for the defendant, Norma Jean Del Toro will play the two roles of female witnesses. Dusty Rhodes will play the two roles of the male witnesses, and the two alternates are Julie Crittenden and Troy Evins.

The team has its first meeting on Tuesday night at 7 p.m. at The Old Corral. Their first meeting is basically to discuss and plan all the rules and regulations. All of the participants including the alternates must be completely familiar with all of the facts and the witness statements. The Alternates must be familiar with all sides of the case and it's witnesses because they have no idea if and when they will be needed and to which side they may have to play. The team has two weeks to prepare for the district competition that will be held in Lubbock at the Texas Tech Law Department. Competition is on Saturday, February 25th beginning at 8:30 a.m. The only teams that will be competing will be Muleshoe High and Lubbock. If you happen to be in Lubbock on that Saturday come out and support Muleshoe and good luck to all the participants. State Bound!!

The Entrepreneurship Written Event involves writing a forty page manual detailing the various aspects of owning and operating a business and requesting the funds necessary to start and or maintain the enterprise. It not only involves the written manual but also an interview with a panel of bankers or venture capitalists.

The theme of this year's conference is "Celebrating Your Success." Approximately two-hundred students from the Panhandle region participated in the conference which was held at the Lubbock campus of Wayland Baptist University and the Lubbock Plaza.

Congratulations Carrol and good luck at the state competition. DECA/Developing

February Considered Season Of Love, Friendship

As a Senior, time seems to speed by and reality begins to catch up with each. I find myself reflecting back into the past and remembering events that are both heartbreaking and joyous in my mind. The month of February is considered a season of love and friendship. This week's editorial deals with the love and friendship I have with my childhood shadow.

MY FRIEND

By Justine Hanes

We were library helpers together in the fourth grade. At first I thought she was definitely not my type; at first I could not stand her. As time went on, we grew and so did our friendship. She was my best friend; we did everything together. We shared everything; if I did not like someone, neither did she. If we went somewhere, we went together. Most people considered us sister rather than just friends. Every weekend she was at my house or I was at hers.

Once while I was in the fifth grade I got very sick and had to stay home for many days. My friend called me excessively each and every day to tell me all the details of that day. When the time came for us to hang up, we both cried because we had not seen each other in a whole week!!

As time swirls past, girls begin to grow up and mature, and so we did. We reached the big junior high and began to wear make-up and notice that boys were not as dumb as they seemed. Again my friend and I shared everything; in fact, we would trade boyfriends off and on every other week. The boys never seemed to mind, but it eventually made our friendship at odds. We would argue and call each other names behind each other's back. I would go home and tell my mom that I was never going to talk to her (my friend) again. She would laugh and say, "Oh yes you will. By tomorrow you will want to spend the night at her house!" To this day my mom still amazes me on just how right she usually is. Sure enough, one of us would call and say we were sorry and ten times out of one we both would end up not liking that guy whom we were fighting over. Yes, in the sixth grade we were the crazy inseparable. We had made all kinds of plans. We were going to college together and have our own apartment. She was going to be a nurse and I was going to be a doctor. We, in our minds, we had our future solved, together we could do anything.

We finished the sixth grade and the excitement of summer begun. However, I began to notice a change in my friend, she seemed to be more quiet and more touchy on things that I used to kid her about. She finally told me one day when I had routinely spent the weekend at her house. She broke the news to me—her parents were going to get a divorce and she was going to move with her mom and her sisters. At first I thought she was kidding, but I looked into her eyes and saw the tears and knew she must not be joking. This had to be a dream—my shadow leaving me! What would I do with out her? We spent the whole night crying and reminiscing about all of the good times.

The summers days got hotter and the day for my friend to leave grew closer. We spent the last day at my house playing and talking. I made her a scrap book of all our wonderful times together and a white ceramic cat with bright blue eyes. We both cried all the way to town. We both promised to write and call, and we would never lose touch. She got out of the truck and so did part of me.

My shadow was gone. She moved to Midland and we continued to be close long-distance friends. I had my life and had made new friends and so had she. Even though I had my own life, it missed completion without my shadow. I dreamed of the day when my shadow would return. Finally after about a year and half, she moved to Hale Center, which was only sixty miles away.

When she got moved, I went to visit her. We had a great time; our friendship had not changed in the least. This continued for several months—double dates and much visiting. My friend however developed a serious relationship and started to make plans to get married. I did not even let the thought enter my mind; after all, we were only sophomores. I could not bear the thought of losing my shadow again, we had to stay together.

With high school there is always so much to do, and we, of course, were both very involved in our activities. Because of our multiple school activities, we began to lose touch. I resented her boyfriend and was jealous of their close relationship. She did not come to Muleshoe because she could not leave her boyfriend and I did not go to Hale Center because I did not want to share my friend with her boyfriend. Time went on and less and less communication occurred.

In the middle of my junior year my friend called me. I had not talked to her in many months. She invited me to come down because she had broke-up with her long time boyfriend and had a new one.

I again lost communication with my friend but this time it lasted longer than I would of ever imagined. I had heard that she was going to get married and I did not pay much mind to it because I had heard that line before.

Today, my lost shadow called me and asked me to be her maid-of-honor in her wedding. We talked as if we were strangers with the general questions. She told when the wedding was and what I needed to do. She told me that I needed to come to visit so I could get fitted for my dress. I could not think of things to say; none of the usually buddy subjects seemed to be appropriate. We have both grown up and our dreams and plans are not the same. We no longer share boyfriends, thoughts, or spend weekends together. My shadow is gone; she has her own plans and thoughts. I feel the loss and continuing ache for my childhood shadow.

Money Talks

By Charles B. Carlson, CFA

It's hard to imagine that a $650 million penalty is a light sentence for a crime, but that's the opinion of many Wall Streeters in the wake of Drexel Burnham Lambert's guilty plea to securities fraud.

Perhaps the biggest story yet to unfold is how all of this will affect the financial markets, specifically the junk bond market as well as takeover activity that has been fueled to a large extent by Drexel's financing capabilities.

So far, it seems the markets have taken it all in stride.

Stay Young

We all grow older, inevitably; the process can't be arrested.

And yet, in one sense, we can stay young. It takes will power and positive thinking, perhaps luck as far as health is concerned. But most of us can do it.

There are rules. They include watching one's diet, so one doesn't accumulate too much fat.

Another is to exercise regularly. We must keep muscles in tone. That also keeps our bodies and movements graceful and agile.

Another rule concerns state of mind. We must remind ourselves to remain young in mind, thought and spirit.

CPR Classes Planned Soon In Lubbock

Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation is serious business! When someone suffers a cardiac arrest, immediate aid is essential. Emergencies can happen at any time, any place to a family member, friend, or co-worker. If you know how to administer CPR, it is possible to make the difference between life and death.

In our effort to educate our area communities how to respond to and be effective in a life-threatening situation, the South Plains Regional Chapter of the American Red Cross will be hosting their Fourth Annual Mass CPR Day held at the Texas Tech Rec Center, Saturday, February 25th from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. There will be a choice of three different starting times: 9 a.m. to approximately 3 p.m.

10:30 a.m. to approximately 4:30 p.m.
12 noon to approximately 6 p.m.

Actual time spent in each class will depend on whether the materials were picked up in advance and read. Pre-registration is required. Pre-payment is strongly recommended so the workbook can be read over in advance.

As a special incentive, everyone passing the course will receive discount coupons from Burger King and Pizza Inn. Snacks and fresh fruit to be served throughout the day, and will be provided by August Pic Company, McDonalds, Albertsons and Southern Maid.

For more information and to sign up for the Mass CPR Day, at Tech, call 765-8534.....

February: Heart Month

February is National Heart Month. To help you take better care of yours, there's a toll-free hotline offering facts on heart-healthy diets.

Call a toll-free number and a nutritionist will answer your questions about cholesterol.

The number, made available by the manufacturers of Your Life® vitamins, is 1-800-533-VITA. Whether you're already on a low-fat, low-cholesterol diet or just starting one, hotline operators can provide valuable suggestions on healthy food selections.

Nutritionists will be available to answer questions and callers can also get a free booklet on lowering blood cholesterol that includes a diet and exercise plan. The hotline will be answered Monday through Friday, from 9 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Eastern Time through March 31.

MICROWAVE TIPS

Last week we talked about microwaving ground beef in a colander.

In today's tip, we consider microwave-cooked meatballs. Remember the inner part of a lump of beef remains pink longer?

To avoid any uneven cooking, in making meatballs, one can use pineapple chunks, around which a layer of meatball mixture is wrapped.

Place meatballs in two rows around a 10-inch pie dish and cover with wax paper. Heat 6 minutes at high, turning dish 1/4 after three minutes. Pour off the drained fat, apply whatever sauce you like, and microwave meat balls five minutes more, rotating once.

STRAIGHT TALK FROM TDA

MIKE MOELLER
DEPUTY COMMISSIONER
TEXAS DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

If I asked you to name the fourth essential ingredient in agriculture--an ingredient as vital as soil, sun and water--what would you say? An understanding banker? A strong back? Lots of good luck?

Those things help, but they're not essential. The most basic ingredient for farming and gardening is seed. Needless to say, you couldn't grow a thing without it. And that's why farmers and dedicated backyard gardeners take the business of seeds very seriously.

Serious growers pay close attention to things like seed purity and germination rates, regardless of the amount they use. A farmer might need a 100-pound sack of seed, while a single 59-cent packet might be more than a backyard gardener needs. But both need seeds that will sprout and grow the kind of plant that's named on the label.

Like every other state in the union, Texas has a law that assures seed quality for farmers and city gardeners.

The Texas Seed Law, enforced by the Texas Department of Agriculture, sets standards for how many seeds per hundred will sprout and what percentage of any given batch can be weed seeds. (No sample of seeds is going to be 100 percent pure; weeds are a fact of life.) It's illegal to sell a batch of seed that contains too many weeds or that is not the exact crop variety named on the label.

If you've ever bought seeds in bulk from your local feed and seed store, you've probably seen the tag next to each seed bin that tells you the germination and weed-seed percentages.

Buying seeds in bulk is the best bargain, especially if you plant more than one packet of seeds per crop. If you have a smaller garden, it is more convenient to buy your seeds in packets.

Seed-packet labels must state whether or not the seeds are hybrids and identify what pesticides they've been treated with, if any.

Labels must also state the season for which the seeds were packed. Packing by season instead of by year means that seeds labeled "packed for spring 1987" are good until spring 1988.

If you like the results you get from a plant you've grown, you might try saving its seeds for future use. But seed-
