Inventory Time

JANUARY IS ALWAYS INVENTORY TIME. Merchants and business people take stock of what they have; what they have sold and try to see just how they have made out during the past year and try to determine what they can and should do during the new year.

They go over the stock on hand; plan to purchase new stock; and check up on their business. And if the business takes an inventory, and it does, it might not be a bad idea for individuals, clubs, groups, and organizations to take an inventory of themselves. It might be well for them to check up to see what they have done; see what they have failed to do; and look to the future and to plan for the future.

Most of us have not done all we can do. Most of us have failed to accomplish some things we had hoped to accomplish at the beginning of the year. Some of us did not bother to do things, which we should have done.

It is true, of course, that we have a new year in which to do those things we failed to do but it is also true that we have a year less in which we accomplish them. As we gain the new year we are all one year older. We have passed another milestone in our own life and have one year less to live even if we enjoy the normal span of life.

But there are many things, which we as individuals failed to do that we could and should have accomplished in the year just past. There are many things that the organizations to which we belong should and could have accomplished and yet they didn't do them.

But during this new year, if we take an inventory of the situation, we can check up and determine our failures and our shortcomings. And when we determine these—well we are in a position to do something about them in the weeks and months ahead.

Yes, most of us should take a little inventory of ourselves and of our organizations at the beginning of the New Year.—O.E.P.

Woodman, Spare That Tree

THE STATE OF NEW MEXICO, through the State Land Office, is advertising for bids on the timber rights on 12,256.94 acres of state land on the Lincoln National Forest, situated on the east slope of the Sacramento Mountains, roughly on the watershed between the Penasco and Ruidoso Valleys.

It is understood the land is the last remaining virgin timber land on that slope, the last stand which still retains the protective covering that Nature took thousands of years to provide—a covering which is very necessary for conservation.

We realize that our natural resources must be used if we are to get any good out of them. But we must keep a balance. And, as has been the practice of the white man in many lines, we have cut too much virgin timber throughout the United States.

We are certain that the floods on the Upper Penasco and Ruidoso in 1941, which removed top soil laid down over many centuries, would not have been so severe had we begun our conservation program many years ago and had not overcut the forests.

We sometimes wonder if there is as much water going into the Artesian underground water rivers as there used to be, because there is not enough vegetation in the forests to keep it from running off rapidly into the gulleys, canyons, and arroyos, and thence down the principal mountain streams, carrying soil with it and running off the water in floods.

The State Land Office advertisement says the estimated lumber available for cutting on the tract is 12 million feet, board measurement. That's considerable lumber, and it would be of great advantage to anyone able to finance the deal to buy it and to cut it.

But in the meantime, we are afraid an irreparable loss would be incurred. We believe that the gain to the state in board feet of lumber would be far outweighed by the future gain to the state were the virgin timber allowed to remain, a section where wildlife could flourish, where lumbering operations would not rob the mountains and the Pecos Valley of a natural reservoir for water.

The advertisement, appearing in The Alamogordo News, says the timber rights will be sold at the courthouse door in Alamogordo the morning of Feb. 11.

If the sale is stopped, it will take the concerted efforts of the people in the mountains and the Pecos Valley. But it should be stopped in the name of conservation and future generations.—A.L.B.

Park 'Em Right

WE HAVE OFTEN HEARD that otherwise courteous persons become maniacs when they get behind the wheels of automobiles.

Some men who would go out of their way to escort an old woman across the street, when behind the wheel of a car would romp on their car horns and scowl at the same old woman, attempting to cross the same street.

The same seems to maintain as to driving habits when parking regulations go off schedule. People who carefully park between two white lines during the daytime, while the parking meters are operating, seem to take fiendish glee in straddling the same lines after 6 o'clock, thus depriving someone else of a parking place.

We noticed three such examples the other evening within a half block. Had the motorists so parked during the daytime they would have been subject to parking tickets. Why not after nightfall as well?—A.L.B.

It would be interesting to know how many Christmas presents will be used as wedding presents come June.

A compromise is when a man agrees to let his wife buy what she has been arguing about if she will just shut up.—Amarillo Daily News.

SPEAKING OF "WHEAT SPECULATORS"

Farmer Committees Are Lauded At PMA Conference In Colorado

The importance of farmer-elected committees in the Agricultural Conservation program was emphasized at the national conference of the Production and Marketing Administration, held at Colorado Springs last month, according to C. V. Hemphill, chairman of the New Mexico PMA Committee.

It was brought out repeatedly that the farmers who administer production and marketing programs on the county and community level are the real strength of the farm programs and constitute one of the most significant developments in agriculture.

W. Leslie Martin of Artesia, a member, and Archie M. Vance, executive officer, accompanied Hemphill, as representatives of New Mexico at the conference.

The chairman said that this meeting was the first at which all branches of PMA had been represented since PMA was organized more than two years ago. PMA was formed by combining 14 agricultural agencies including the former Agricultural Adjustment Agency.

Reporting on the conference, the state chairman said Secretary of Agriculture Clinton P. Anderson again emphasized the importance of the farmer-elected committees. He quoted a previous statement regarding these elected committees in which he said, "This approach, right down to the county and community level, has proved itself the most effective organization yet devised for the administration of any national farm program. This country has never witnessed a finer demonstration of the processes of democracy in action than the committee system under the Agricultural Conservation Program."

Bulletin Reports Cotton Fertilizer, Rotation Tests

Few cotton farmers get the same results from the same fertilizer or crop rotation, because their soils vary in fertility and physical characteristics. But the cotton fertilizer and crop rotation tests, conducted on a variety of soils for many years at the New Mexico College experimental agronomy farm, have resulted in some findings which apply to all cotton farms.

These findings have recently been published as an experiment station bulletin "Maintaining Cotton Yields Through Fertilizer and Crop Rotation," by Glen Staten, associate agronomist, and D. A. Hinkle, formerly with the station.

Some of the findings in the bulletin are: One pound of a mixture of combined available nitrogen and phosphorus increased the yield of lint slightly more than the sum of the increases from one pound of available nitrogen alone and one pound of available phosphorus alone.

Small applications of fertilizer gave small returns, but larger returns were received from such applications as 30 to 40 pounds of available phosphate combined with 60 to 100 pounds of available nitrogen per acre.

Use of fertilizer on sandy land which had no underlying heavy soil layer, on alkali land, or on land which allowed little penetration of water paid poor returns.

Use of fertilizer on cotton is profitable when fertilizers are comparatively cheap and cotton prices are good. When the price relationship is reversed, the use of fertilizer is not profitable.

Cowpeas, soybeans, and sesbania, which required a full crop year for production, did not produce profitable increases in cotton yields.

Alfalfa, sweet clover, and sour clover did increase cotton yields profitably in most cases. In single tests, when cotton immediately followed alfalfa and sweet clover, the plants grew large but failed to set fruit for a good crop.

Further details and complete explanations of the tests are given in the bulletin. A copy may be obtained from the county agent's office in Carlsbad.

As Artesia Grows

TWENTY YEARS AGO (From The Advocate files for Jan. 5, 1928)

The Central School gymnasium was to be formally opened with three basketball games with Artesia and Dexter leading the bill. The Artesia and Dexter girls' teams were also scheduled for a game.

The last lap of the Fort Worth-Artesia highway was nearing completion.

The Advocate was issuing a warning to all eligible bachelors to be on the lookout during Leap Year.

Featured as an "Artesia History Maker" was J. E. (Jimmy) Robertson, president of the First National Bank and Artesia School Board.

The Citizens State Bank held its annual election of officers and re-elected E. A. Cahoon, president; Rex Wheatley, vice president; Dr. Chester Russell, vice president; C. E. Mann, cashier; and Fred Cole, assistant cashier.

While in E Paso over the weekend, Dr. J. J. Clarke was granted a short interview with Albert B. Fall, former secretary of the Interior.

TEN YEARS AGO (From The Advocate files for Jan. 6, 1938)

Arba Green, Mrs. Fred Cole, Mrs. Lloyd Simon, and Mrs. M. G. Schulze were among the prize winners in the Christmas decorating contest.

Rev. S. M. Morgan was injured in a car accident, which was caused by a blowout, while on the way to Albuquerque to attend a Baptist convention.

The Malco Refineries, Inc. office safe was trucked away in a bold robbery. The robbers entered the building through a rear door and carted the safe away. It contained many valuable records and papers.

Mickey Rooney was starring in "Hoosier Schoolboys" at the Valley Theater.

Marriage licenses for the year of 1937 totaled 393 at the office of Rude Wilcox, Eddy County clerk. And 75 divorces were granted by the Eddy County District Court in the same year.

Horticulturist Says To Buy Fertilizer For Next Year's Supply

Recent reports on fertilizer production indicate that next spring's supply will be from 4 to 6 per cent above last year's, according to L. C. Gibbs, state extension horticulturist.

But these figures do not, of course, take into consideration any strikes or other transportation difficulties that could arise, Gibbs says.

"The old saying that a bird in the hand is worth two in the bush can well be applied to fertilizer purchases," Gibbs points out. "Every wise farmer should estimate his needs right away and buy all the fertilizer he will need in next year's farming operations."

"If you make your purchase now, the fertilizer manufacturers will keep making and moving their products without tying up too much storage space. And, of course, you will have the bird in hand—the fertilizer."

The Advocate has all colors of stamp pad inks.

Practices To Fit Conservation Is Program Method

Despite a great variety of soil climate, methods of farming crops, and other conditions, the Agriculture Conservation Program has been developed until it is adapted to fit local conservation needs right down to the individual farm.

According to Allen W. Manchester, acting director of PMA's Agricultural Conservation Programs Branch, this assures the nation of its money's worth for funds used to assist farmers in carrying out soil and water conserving practices. He explains that since assistance to farmers covers only about 50 per cent of the out-of-pocket cost with the farmer paying the balance and doing the work, the nation is getting two or three dollars' worth of conservation for each dollar spent.

To illustrate the accomplishments of farmers with the assistance of the ACP program, Manchester cites figures on 1946 accomplishments in Texas County in the western part of Oklahoma.

Terraces constructed, 402,000 cubic feet; intertilled crops seeded on the contour, 525,798 acres; close sown crops seeded on the contour, 616,567 acres; protected summer fallow, 223,074 acres; erosion controlling dams and reservoirs built, 15,764; grasses and legumes seeded on 3132 acres, and deferred grazing practiced on 8466 acres.

Texas County, Manchester explains, is in the heart of what was once called the "Dust Bowl," and the practices carried out under the program are those recommended by technical committees as the best means of meeting the wind-and-water-erosion problems of the area. The specifications for the practices are drawn up by scientists and practical farmers.

The acting director explains that the conservation program is similarly adapted and worked out to meet local needs, and similar results are being obtained in each of the more than 3000 agricultural counties in the United States.

Efficient Feeding Of Livestock Is Always Way To Make Money

General efficiency in feeding livestock is always a money maker for the farmer but it is now doubly important because of the world feed and food shortage.

Efficiency in feeding, balancing rations to get the most out of the feed, is probably one of the best ways to conserve grain now.

Feed grains are scarce and expensive throughout the United States, making it difficult to supply what is needed to prevent starvation and chaos in Europe. Relieving these conditions in Europe is considered the best way to prevent the threat of another World War.

Feed conservation on New Mexico ranches thus becomes an aid to peace throughout the world.

Many In State See Extension Films In 1947

More than 81,000 New Mexico farm and ranch people attended showings of motion picture films distributed from the library of the State Extension Service during 1947.

In all 115 films were circulated 625 times for 1250 showings to agricultural groups in all parts of the state.

Designed as an educational feature, most of the films are loan to the New Mexico Extension Service from the U. S. Department of Agriculture and various commercial concerns.

Agricultural subjects covered by the films include animal husbandry, dairy husbandry, economics, crops, food preservation, 4-H Club work, gardening, nutrition, poultry, soil conservation, veterans on the farm, and wildlife.

A catalog of all films distributed by the State Extension Service may be obtained by writing John M. White, extension editor, at State College.

Elimination Of Owl, Goils, Insects The Pa Save Grain

Grain H. radiating weevils and other highways in stored grain is one way to help conserve badly needed rain supplies. And a few cents outpocket now on fumigants means big money in the pocket at selling time.

The steps in checking for and controlling insects, as outlined by County Agent Dallas Rierson:

Inspect all stored grain by crawling over the surface. If the surface of the grain is hard,
crusted, or damp, there are probably insects at work.

Push a thermometer down into the grain. Push it in two feet below the surface and in the center of the bin. If the temperature at that point is 70 to 75 degrees, examine the area for insects.

When insects are found, Rierson recommends fumigation with six gallons of ethylene dichloridecarbon tetrachloride mixture (EDE), or six gallons of carbon tetrachloride alone, per 100 bushels. The fumigant should be poured over the surface of the grain with a sprinkling can.

For smaller amounts of grain,
use one gallon per 100 bushels

and cover the grain with a canvas.

These fumigants are non-expl-sive and non-inflammable, Rierson says, and they won't affect the germination or quality of the grain. Nor will they injure livestock. However, the fumigator should not breathe any more of the fumes than is necessary.

Cotton Crop For 1947 May Be Three Million Bales Up Over 1946

The 1947 cotton crop may be three million bales larger than the previous year's small production, according to estimates of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics. Increases in prospective yields in California and Texas have boosted the expected yield.

The cotton forecast now stands at 11,694,000 bales. Lint yield per acre is computed at 265.4 pounds, 30.1 pounds above that of 1946
and 14.8 pounds above the 1936-45 average.

Acres of cotton in cultivation
last July 1 was estimated at 21, 387,000 acres, compared with 18,
190,000 acres for 1946 and 24,517,
000 acres for the 10-year average.
Abandonment this year amounts to only 1.1 per cent, leaving 21, 148,000 acres for harvest. This is 20 per cent more than was harvested in 1946.

Roosevelt County Safety Program Is Tops In State

Roosevelt County has again been selected by the State Extension Service as carrying out the most outstanding 4-H safety program of the year in New Mexico. As a reward, the county extension office at Portales will receive a plaque of merit, appropriately engraved to designate the honor. The county also won this honor in 1946.

Ann Nabors and Joe Cole, assistant county extension agents,
reported that 306 of the 360 4-H members enrolled in safety projects and completed safety surveys.

In their safety program the 4-H members practiced bicycle safety rules, farm, home and highway safety, first aid, and proper ways
of transporting a sick person.

Members working in the safety drive appeared at 20 public programs during the year to make speeches. In addition they gave 20 demonstrations and appeared on two radio programs. Some phase of safety was included in the program of every club, and every boy and girl enrolled in 4-H Clubs in the county participated in a safety project.

During "Child Safety Week,"
the Roosevelt County Fair was being held, so the 4-H Club sponsored a safety program which included a speech given by Gov.
Thomas J. Mabry, and one by Travis Corbin, a 4-H'er who was a national winner in the 4-H Farm Safety Awards program in 1947.
Jackie Pool of Portales, 1946 national winner in the safety program, presided at the event.

State's Bumper Cotton Crop Will Be Larger Than Was Estimated

Latest estimates of the U.S. Department of Agriculture indicate that New Mexico's 1947 cotton crop will be even larger than has been previously expected, according to Arthur M. Hauke, state extension economist.

The Dec. 1 estimated predicted a crop of 160,000 bales, instead of the 155,000 bales forecast in the Nov. 1 report. Such a harvest would be 18,000 bales greater than in 1946 and 48,000 bales
more than the 1936-45 average.

The lint yield per acre for 1947
in New Mexico is expected to be 525 pounds. Last year's yield per acre was 573 pounds. Average yield per acre for the nation in 1947 is estimated to be 265
pounds.

Cottonseed production in 1947
in New Mexico is now forecast at 64,000 tons, an increase of 8000
over last year.

Total U.S. cotton crop in 1947
is estimated to be 11,694,000
bales, about three million bales
more than in 1946.

About 226 pounds of paper are used annually for every person in the United States.

About 61 million cords of wood are used annually for fuel in the United States.

The United States has 161 national forests with a total area of 181 million acres.

Herds and Flocks

Pond water piped to farm buildings for livestock can be filtered by building a solid housing of soft brick (laid in cement) over the end of the pipe in the bottom of the pond.

Water filters through the pores of the brick.

First treatment for cattle grubs should be made early in winter, as soon as the tell-tale bumps appear on the backs of animals. Several treatments a month apart will be necessary. Use a cattle grub dust containing 1 1/2 per cent rotenone.

The current shortage of feed makes it important to do continuous culling in the laying house.

Dairy cows lose a lot of energy pulling through heavy mud in the barn lots. Lost energy means less milk. Paved lots that take cows out of the mud soon pay for themselves.

Hog Mange Causes Average Loss of $2 How Insecticide Proves Effective in Control

Common mange of hogs is another widespread disease that has yielded to the results of animal health research. The U. S. department of agriculture says the average losses from mange probably amount to $2
a head. This figure covers the loss from stunted growth, delay in fattening, occasional deaths and dock-age when mangy hogs are marketed.

The effective weapon against mange is benzene hexachloride, frequently referred to as "666." In Nebraska tests this newly-discovered insecticide was so effective it eradicated mange with one treatment. Not only did it eradicate mange — it also got rid of lice.
This makes the old mange treatments obsolete.

In the Nebraska tests, crude benzene hexachloride (a wettable powder) was mixed with water (10 pounds powder in 100 gallons) and sprayed on the hogs.

One objectionable feature of the crude benzene hexachloride is its terrible odor. This odor is not present to any marked degree in commercial hog oils prepared by use of a solvent which takes the active ingredient (the gamma isomer) out of the crude benzene hexachloride and leaves behind the ineffective ingredients—the ones that have the disagreeable odor.

Farm Briefs

By Dallas Rierson
Eddy County Agent

Right now is a good time to start making plans for treating your crop seeds before they are planted next spring. Cost of treatment is low and puts more money in your pocket. Treating destroys seed-borne diseases which otherwise would reduce the yield and quality of crops. It also helps control weeds by making possible
good stands of vigorous crop plants. Seed treating in many cases increases the market value of your crops, by raising both the quality and quantity of production.

You can save a lot of money in machinery repair bills and fuel expenses if you plow and plant on the contour. That's the report of engineers who have spent four years comparing the use of time,
labor, and fuel used by machines running on the contour and those following the old up-and-down-hill pattern. They found that contouring boosted grain yields up to 17 per cent and cut production costs about 36 cents an acre. In the Kansas wheatland it was discovered that running tractors on the contour used 20 per cent less fuel and saved 10 cents in time. And that's not even counting fewer layoffs for repairs and the loosening of wear on your machinery.

Those mice you see around your home, near grain elevators, and around the farm do a lot of damage despite their size. Besides destroying grain, they contaminated food, chew holes in feed sacks, and are carriers of such diseases as infectious jaundice and perhaps endemic typhus. To control mice in your house, use traps. Poison will kill them, but doesn't work fast enough to kill the mice before they get back into the walls. In barns and granaries a few kernels of poisoned oats or wheat in runways and holes will do the job. Strychnine is a good poison to use in ridding your farm of these costly pests.

To produce certified seed, farmers must plant seed direct from a breeder or from certified seed bearing the official tag of the New Mexico Crop Improvement Association. This seed must be planted on clean land and kept free of noxious weeds and must meet the isolation distance requirements, to prevent mixing.
The crop will be inspected while growing. Lastly, before it can be sold as certified, the seed must pass tests for purity and germination.

With the major part of crop harvesting out of the way for this year, many farmers in this county will find that a few hours spent in making an inventory of the farm business will prove worthwhile.

Looking at a good report of operations provides a sound basis on which to make plans for the future.

have kept records indicate that

Winter Is Tough Time Of Year On Car Batteries

Battery trouble is likely to develop at any season of the year, but it is more prevalent during the winter season because of the heavier duty required of batteries during that time.

Each battery is made for a particular kind of duty and the length of life and kind of service it gives depends on the type and the kind of use it actually receives. Here are a few "don'ts" which will prolong the life of a battery:

Don't allow a battery to be neglected and stand idle until it becomes sulphated. It does not take long for the places to become permanently hard.

Don't charge a battery at high rates for long periods. A safe rate is a 10th of the battery's rated capacity. This would be eight amperes for an 80-ampere-hour
battery.

Don't boost a battery too hard.
Booster charges are all right if used according to the instructions laid down by the manufacturer of the booster equipment. These instructions are rarely followed by posting a few affected birds, but the above symptoms are signs that should be watched for. Egg production falls off if either lice or worms are present in great numbers, so eliminating them is important from a profit standpoint.

To begin with, the chances for worms to hurt the flock are greatly reduced if the house is cleaned and disinfected regularly. This removes much of the dirt and filth which makes a good breeding ground for the parasites.

Lice may be eliminated either through the use of an individual dusting powder or a roost paint type of delouser. Another method of gaining favor is spraying the flock with a wettable DDT powder mixed in water.

Some species of intestinal capsules, which are given to each bird individually, or by mixing medicine in mash and allowing the birds to consume the medicated feed for a certain period of time. Many poultrymen follow this practice regularly to prevent worms from gaining a foothold.

Committeemen In Key Positions Of Conservation

What happens to land in 1948—the land from which comes food—will be determined to a large extent by some 9000 farmers, who are in key positions to protect the nation against the destruction which has come to older countries through soil erosion and depletion.

C. V. Hemphill, chairman of the New Mexico PMA Committee, explains that these 9000 farmers are the county committeemen elected to administer the Agricultural Conservation Program at the county level. They are assisted by 28,000 community committeemen comprised of one from three members. In New Mexico there are 83 county committeemen and 450 community committeemen.

These community committeemen were elected to administer the Agricultural Conservation Program in 1948.

The 9000 farmers who make up the 3000 county committees of the nation have the responsibility of passing on all conservation practices carried out under the program in their counties. They have to decide how the funds allocated to the county are to be spent to get the most conservation for each dollar spent. They and the community committeemen work with the individual farmers in the county in planning the conservation practices to be carried out.

Farmers Urged To Plow Under Good Green Crop

One of the effective ways of restoring fertility to the soil and at the same time making the land easier to handle is to plow under a good crop of green manure, says Roy Forehand, chairman of the Eddy County Agricultural Conservation Committee.

The green-manuring practice will be included again in the Agricultural Conservation Program for 1948, the chairman said. He advised that the approved crop must be plowed under to qualify for assistance and prior approval of the county committee must be obtained before the practice is carried out.

The chairman explained that

MUGGS AND SKEETER

the organic matter turned under releases plant food for the growth of other crops. At the same time, the structure of the soil is improved, allowing more moisture from rain or snow to soak into the ground. This reduces run-off and cuts down on erosion.

Among the crops approved for plowing under as green manure are sweet clover, Austrian winter peas, blue lupine, alsike, and ryegrass.

The county Agricultural Conservation office has a list of the crops which are approved under ACP for plowing under as green manure.

What Are "Genuine Parts?"

This word "Genuine" has caused a lot of confusion in the minds of our customers, due to the propaganda of auto manufacturers, dealers and authorized service stations.

Our customers are often led to believe that parts purchased by us are "inferior," "seconds," and "cheap." We hope to point out that such statements are entirely false and erroneous. Our prices are low because our volume is much greater than that of the average parts dealer; not because of the quality of our merchandise.

Now let us look at a list of just a few of the parts that are claimed to be "genuine," which are manufactured for (not by) the majority of auto manufacturers of today—Bumpers, Guards, Lamps, Horns, Cranks, Radiator Caps and Hose—Tires—Tubes—Wheels—Brake Lining and Drums—Springs—Tie-Rods—Lubrication Fittings—Fans and Belts—Timing Chains—Gaskets—Pistons and Rings—Top Material—Upholstering—Valves and Springs—Babbit, Roller and Taper Bearings—Bushings—Carburetors—Spark Plugs—Ignition Coils and Wires—Generators and Cutouts—Batteries and Cables—Starter Motors and Parts—Clutch Parts—Windshield Wipers—Mirrors—Clocks—Mouldings—Grease Retainers—Shackles and numerous other items, not to mention extra equipment such as Seat Covers, Heaters, Defrosters, Radios, Winter Fronts, Steer Wheels and Horns, etc. ONLY A SMALL PART OF THE CAR IS ACTUALLY BUILT BY THE MANUFACTURER. They might better be known as assemblers.

Daniel Webster's definition for "Genuine" is, "Actually from the reputed source." If then, Mr. Webster is correct in his definition, and we assume he is, these would-be "Genuine" parts can not truthfully be termed as such.

With the above in mind it is only logical to assume that the phrase "Genuine Parts" is merely a theme of a costly advertising campaign naturally aimed at influencing prospective customers.

If there were a truly "Genuine Part," we too could boast of such, because in many instances we buy from the manufacturers who supply these ORIGINAL equipment parts. We term a "Genuine Part" as one which is manufactured to accurate specifications by the same manufacturers who have supplied original parts to the industry for years and whose reputations cannot be questioned.

You should now be in a better position to decide for yourself what really constitutes a so-called "Genuine Part."

Business Growth Continuing in Mexico

Business growth in Mexico is reported by Ben Luchini, chairman-executor of the Employment Commission of New Mexico, reports that from October to November there was a net increase of 105 covered employees.

An increase was noted in all groups except manufacturing, which shows a net loss of 25 units. The largest increase was in wholesale and retail trade with a net increase of 29 establishments, while the construction industry shows a net increase of 26. Twenty-six of the 105 firms are located in Bernalillo County. The next largest number, 13, is in Eddy County.

Unemployment benefits paid in November by the Employment Security Commission followed the seasonal trend of October, increasing by 4.6 per cent both for veterans and non-veterans. The construction industry workers received the largest percentage of the total benefits paid. This industry naturally curtails employment during the winter, but in addition was forced to lay off workers during November because of the shortage of cement. Workers from wholesale and retail trade received the second largest amount of benefits.

The New Mexico State Employment Service, which is a division of the Employment Security Commission, has a program for visiting employers to assist them with their staffing problems, Luchini reported. During November, the 25 local offices located throughout the state reported 3010 visits to employers, which resulted in 4331 job openings for workers. There were 3948 placements made by the Service during the month, of which 1927 were veterans, 708 were women.

PALE PINK batiste is the medium for this frothy yet not too ruffly nightgown. It is pointed up with wide bands of matching eyelet embroidery laced with baby blue satin ribbon. The bands are softly ruffled to form shoulder straps and also are ruffled at the hem of the skirt which flares out from a midriff tight waistline.

As We Think, So Shall We Live

Does it really matter what one believes, if he lives within the moral law?

The trouble with the inquiry is that it involves a contradiction. One cannot long live in a socially approved manner unless he thinks straight! What a man thinks or believes eventually determines his course of action. Every action was first a thought! An architect must design the house before he can build it.

No man can continually think wrong and live right. He cannot scheme selfishly and expect to live unselfishly. Conversely, one does not dream and plan and meditate on thoughts that ennoble without sooner or later finding that these thoughts literally chisel themselves into the features of his face. Unselfish thinking soon finds expression in unselfish living.

Jesus preached the memorable Sermon on the Mount in order to clarify man's thinking. When we think His thoughts after Him, we fortify ourselves in the best way possible for courageous, useful and happy living!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend and support the church of his choice. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church on Sunday and read your Bible daily.

Miss Evelyn Dunlap Of Tatum Is Wedded To John H. Terpening, Jr.

In a simple but beautiful ceremony, Miss Evelyn Dunlap, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Dunlap, Jr., of Tatum, became the bride of John H. Terpening, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Henry Terpening, Sr., Wednesday morning in the home of the bride's parents. Rev. R. T. Cribb from Imperial, Tex., former pastor of the Methodist Church in Tatum, read the double-ring ceremony.

Miss Cathryn Dunlap, a sister of the bride, played the "Bridal Chorus" from "Lohengrin," by Wagner. The couple exchanged vows before an improvised altar of white, twined with greenery, and flanked by tall stands holding white candles.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a traditional white satin gown made with a high, boat neckline, long, fitted sleeves, a fitted bodice, and a flared skirt, over which a peplum, short in front, dipped to a long flowing train. Her fingertip length veil was held in place by a bandeau of orange blossoms. Her "something old" was a gold wedding ring belonging to her grandmother, and the "something new" was a strand of pearls, which was a gift from the bridegroom. The bridal bouquet was of tallismans roses tied with white net and satin ribbons.

The bridesmaid, Miss Marjorie Dunlap, another sister of the bride, wore a sky-blue faille dress made with a fitted bodice and bouffant skirt. She carried a bouquet of deep pink roses.

Lyle Terpening was his brother's best man. Miss Carolyn Dunlap, smallest sister of the bride, served as trainbearer.

Immediately after the ceremony, a reception was held with the bride and groom cutting the first slice of a three-tiered wedding cake. Miss Cathryn Dunlap and Mrs. Lewis Dunlap, a sister-in-law of the bride, presided at the serving table.

The couple left soon after the reception for a trip to points of interest in New Mexico. The bride chose for her going away ensemble a soft-blue wool suit with brown accessories. Her corsage was of tallismans roses.

Out-of-town guests and friends, who attended the wedding, were Mr. and Mrs. J. Henry Terpening, Sr., A. L. Terpening, a brother of the bridegroom; Mrs. Hester Terpening and son, Calvin; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Terpening, all of Artesia; Miss Doris Ann Krogh of Albuquerque and Miss Ella Jean Pattison of Clovis, both college classmates of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. Dale Derrick of Carlsbad, Mrs. R. T. Cribb and daughter, Martha, of Imperial, and Mr. and Mrs. Lewis A. Dunlap of Woodruff, Utah.

Members of the bride's family present, in addition to her parents and sisters, were her grandfather, L. L. Derrick, and her brother, Jim Tyson Dunlap.

Mrs. Terpening is a graduate of Tatum High School and is in her sophomore year at New Mexico A. & M. College in Los Cruces, where she is majoring in home economics.

Mr. Terpening, who graduated in Artesia and has lived here most of his life, served two years in the Navy during the war. He is now attending New Mexico A. & M. College and majoring in business administration.

The couple will be at home on McFee Street in Las Cruces.

Granddaughters Honor Mrs. Walter Archer Of Oklahoma City
Mrs. Charles Denton and Mrs. Leland Wittkopp gave a tea Wednesday afternoon of last week honoring their paternal grandmother, Mrs. Walter Archer of Oklahoma City, in the Denton home.

Mrs. T. L. Archer poured at a maderia-laid table, which was graced with a centerpiece of white chrysanthemums flanked by white candles.

About 30 guests called to meet the visitor.

Mrs. O. R. Gable, Jr., honored her daughter, Gwyn, on her fourth birthday with a party in her home Monday. Mrs. William C. Thompson, Jr., assisted.

The birthday cake carried four lighted candles and was surrounded by small baskets of candies, which were given as favors.

The guests for the occasion were Barbara Thompson, Barbara Quail, Betty Bullock, Glenda Ledbetter, Marnee Moore, Fulettie Pearson, Martha Jo Maschek, Jimmy Starr, Nelson Muncy, Hershel Scott, and Rebecca Roberts.

Auxiliary Of AL At Carlsbad Honors Mrs. Paton Monday

A delegation of Artesia members of the American Legion Auxiliary visited a Carlsbad chapter meeting Monday evening. Mrs. H. R. Paton, fifth district president of the American Legion Auxiliary; Mrs. A. R. Compary, department child welfare chairman, Mrs. J. B. Muncy, and Mrs. C. R. Baldwin made up the delegation from Artesia.

They were honored with a covered-dish luncheon, after which the hostesses presented Mrs. Paton with a demitasse cup as a token of appreciation for the work she has done as president of the district.

Mrs. Paton made a short talk and was followed by Mrs. Compary, who reported on her recent visit to Phoenix, Ariz.

This was one of Mrs. Paton's many official visits to Auxiliary units in her district.

Among the high spots of Mrs. Major's dramatization of the Mary Mapes Dodge story are several exciting skating scenes, in one of which Hans and his sister, Gretel, compete for the prize of a pair of silver skates.

Juvenile audiences invariably cheer when the big race starts on the stage. The skaters disappear from view and the onlookers follow their speedy flight around the imaginary half mile course until they are nearing the finish line, which brings them on stage again. It is surprising what suspense is felt by the audience during the playing of this scene, members of the committee said.

It is here that Hans Brinker, who has had his heart set on winning the pair of silver skates, is called upon to make a difficult choice just before the race. How he will decide determines whether he possesses good sportsmanship.

Any boy or girl of weak character, placed in Hans Brinker's position, would have been tempted to take the easy way out, the committee members said.

Notice of ticket sales will be announced later.

Miss Dorothy Gilmore Becomes Bride Of William Dunn Wednesday, Dec. 31

MR. AND MRS. BILL DUNN —Gable Photo

Miss Dorothy Gilmore, daughter of Mrs. Lois Gilmore and the late W. H. Gilmore, became the bride of William W. Dunn, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Dunn, Wednesday morning of last week in the home of the bride.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by Rev. J. T. Barbee of the Baptist Church in Carlsbad before an improvised altar of fern, which was flanked by baskets of pink and white snapdragons.

As the guests assembled, a medley of favorite tunes of the bride and bridegroom was played by Mrs. Clyde Dungan, who also played the traditional wedding march and sang "Threefold Amen," during the ceremony.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Harry B. Gilmore, wore a blue crepe street-length dress with a draped neckline. Her hat was of winter-white felt with matching feathers and a short veil. She carried a white Bible, which was topped with lilies of the valley and streamers of white satin ribbons tied in lovers' knots.

For something old, the bride wore a birthstone ring of garnets and pearls belonging to her mother; for something new, she wore an Eisenberg necklace and carrying a set; something borrowed was her wedding dress, and a penny was worn in her shoe for luck.

The bride was attended by Miss Flora Coggin, who wore a beige suit accented by brown. Pink carnations made her corsage.

Carl Dunn, brother of the bridegroom, attended as best man. His boutonniere was a white carnation, while the bridegroom wore a lily of the valley from the bride's bouquet.

Mrs. Gilmore, mother of the bride, received the guests in a black velvet ensemble with a corsage of red roses.

Mrs. Dunn, mother of the bridegroom, was costumed in black crepe. Her corsage was of red roses.

After the ceremony, a short reception was held. The newly-married couple cut a three-tiered wedding cake, which was topped by miniature figures of a bride and bridegroom.

Guests were served cake and coffee from a lace-covered table, centered with pink roses and white chrysanthemums, flanked by tall white tapers. Mrs. Harry Gilmore, assisted by Miss Coggin, presided at the silver coffee service.

Mrs. R. L. Williams was in charge of the bride's book, which was signed by the 20 close friends and relatives present.

Mr. and Mrs. Dunn left soon after the ceremony for a visit of a week in Corpus Christi, Tex. Upon their return they will be at home in the McDonald Apartments at 409 West Main.

Mrs. Dunn wore a suit of beige and brown with matching accessories.

Payments Are Made To Assist In Conservation

"Why pay farmers for carrying out soil and water conservation practices?"

question, Roy Forehand, chairman of the Eddy County Agricultural Conservation Committee, says the question—as it is usually put—is itself a little misleading. Payments under the Agricultural Conservation Program are made to assist farmers in carrying out these conservation practices. The farmer stands about half the cost of the Eddy County Agricultural and all the labor of many practices.

But the county chairman went on to say that the main reason why payments are made to farmers to help them carry out conservation is that the conservation is vital to the nation and the program of helping farmers is the most efficient and economical method of getting the job done. "It's a job that has to be done if we continue to have abundant production," he said, "and this is the best way we've found to get it done."

In the first place, if the erosion and depletion were allowed to go unchecked as it did for a long time, the nation would pay many times over in higher comparative food prices, lower quality food, and a lower standard of living. Eventually, as has happened in older countries, it would mean the breakdown of civilization. Three of the nine inches of topsoil here when the Pilgrims landed has been lost already.

Next, telling farmers what ought to be done and even showing them has not been enough to get the conservation job done. They help, but some—in fact many—farmers cannot spare the money it takes. Many farmers are short-term tenants, and others for various reasons do not follow the instructions or heed the demonstrations.

But, with a helping hand through their own agricultural conservation association, more than two-thirds of the farmers of the nation are building the terraces, planting on the contour, applying the lime and phosphate, building the dams, and planting the grass that will conserve and build the soil.

Dividends to the nation — to the consumers and taxpayers — are an abundance of good food, at prices below what they would be if production were much less as a result of neglecting the land. And, through the carrying out of these conservation practices, we are building future security just as essential to national defense as big guns and atom bombs—maybe more essential, because without enough food all other forms of defense are weakened.

Nation Gals, In-gram Given at League Meet

The Artesia Story League met Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Wallace Hastings. Beautiful cut flowers were used throughout the house as decorations.

Mrs. M. A. Mapes, Jr., president of the organization, conducted the business session, during which several important projects for the near future were discussed.

After the business, Mrs. Hugh Parry, program chairman, introduced Mrs. W. M. Siegenthaler, Mrs. Sam Stewart, Mrs. Donald Bush, and Mrs. Joe Nunn, who were to represent the states of Kansas and Missouri on the program.

Mrs. Siegenthaler, dressed as a teacher, conducted a social studies lesson on these states. The pupils, Mrs. Bush, Mrs. Stewart, and Mrs. Nunn, were dressed appropriately with hair ribbons and bobby sox. The history of the states was given by asking and answering questions as one would in school.

Mrs. Nunn told of an interesting happening in the state of Kansas. Mrs. Siegenthaler gave a short biography of Mary Twain, and Mrs. Bush told the story, "The Glorious Whitewash, from the 'Adventures of Tom Sawyer,' by Mark Twain. Mrs. Stewart told the life of Eugene Field and read the poem, "Winkun, Blinken, and Nod."

The program ended with the ever popular "Missouri Waltz," sung by Mrs. Bush, with Mrs. Stewart whistling and Mrs. Siegenthaler accompanying on the piano.

At the close of the program the hostess served a salad course to the members and two guests, Mrs. C. M. Fountain of Iowa City, Iowa, and Mrs. J. A. Burleson of Dallas, Tex.

Mrs. Hastings was assisted by Mrs. Fletcher Collins and Mrs. W. G. Short.

Bob Wills Is To Play Saturday At Vets' Building

Tickets for the dance Saturday evening at the Veterans Memorial Building at which Bob Wills and His Texas Playboys will play, went on sale this week at all four Artesia drug stores and Keys Men's Wear store.

The dance is being sponsored by the United Veterans Club in the first of a series of which name bands are to play. It is planned to bring in such an orchestra about every six weeks, or as frequently as the public demands.

Don Bush, chairman, said Bob Wills and other musical organizations of that calibre demand a rather heavy guarantee, which the club cannot stand if the dances are not supported. The booking of future bands will depend upon the reception given Bob Wills and His Texas Playboys Saturday.

The orchestra has a reputation of being quite versatile, playing the tunes made famous by Bob Wills recordings, as well as being able to play "sweet" and "hot." And the orchestra has more than a thousand recordings to its credit.

With Wills on his visit here will be his entire troop, including Tommy Duncan, his well-known vocalist, who has been with Wills since 1928.

The table and all other decorations carried out the New Year theme.

Those present for the occasion were Misses Mary Jo Jacobs, June Ann Gissler, Shirley Feather, and Betty Blue.

Miss Archer returned to college the next day.

The first meeting of the Theta Rho Girls Club in the New Year was held in the I.O.O.F. Hall Tuesday evening. This was also the first regular meeting for Misses Linda Boyle, Janie Wood, Patsy Cobble, Charlotte Johnson, Altha Crouch, Carolyn Sperry and Jolene Beadie. They were initiated into the club shortly before Christmas.

Others present for the meeting were Shirley Feather, president; Alice Ray Martin, vice president; Shirley Thorp, Elizabeth Horner, Marjo Storm, Betty Gibson, Nila Naylor, Joann Walker, Wanda Burch, Joy Williams, Vee Ann Mitchell, Corinne Aaron, Colleen Jackson, and the sponsor, Mrs. Effie Wingfield.

The next meeting will be Jan. 29 at the I.O.O.F. Hall. Formal initiation will be held for new members.

Alliance Revises-

Plans were made at a meeting Monday to complete the religious census which has been delayed because of illness and the intervening holiday season.

The canvassers will meet in the First Christian Church at 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon for assignment of territory in which to work. It will be necessary to re-visit 250 to 300 homes where the families could not be found during the original canvass even by a second and in some cases a third call.

The alliance asked the co-operation of the community in this effort to complete what is the most thorough religious survey of Artesia that has ever been undertaken in the community. When all of the information has been collected and detailed for the churches a full report will be made to the community through The Advocate.

Two-Legged-

The entire range of "Nine Toes" was not known, but his kills have been spotted on the Coffin, Runyan, Kinvald, Green, Bunting, Glasscock, National Livestock, and other ranches. Fuchs, who could spot the coyote's many kills from the air, said he has seen at least 75 to 100, always with the animal lying on its left side, and with only the heart and liver eaten.

Fuchs was at the stick of a Cub again on Saturday, when nine coyotes and four eagles were killed from the air.

Annual Meeting Of Scout Association To Be Held Monday

The annual meeting of the Artesia Girl Scout Association will be held at 7:30 o'clock Monday evening in the gymnasium at Central School.

All adults registered as troop committee members, board members, or leaders are voting members of the association, which is the governing body of the local Girl Scouts.

A board of directors, which will carry out the administrative responsibilities of the organization, will be elected at this meeting. Reports of the last year's activities will be submitted and a short program on summer camping will be given.

Crutches Tossed-

A kind, old lady across the aisle picked it up and sympathetically remarked, "Oh, you've lost your leg, haven't you?"

"No, ma'am," said Carson, "it's in this box." After glances around, with knowing exchanges of eyebrows, the passengers soon seemed to warm up, and it was not long until some of the windows were opened.

At any rate, Jack Carson's new leg arrived on New Year's Day, so he tacked on a sock, laced on a shoe, and put the crutches aside.

Bank Deposits-

And that was only a few days after the board of directors had declared on Dec. 24 a semiannual dividend of 7 1/2 per cent, the same as has been paid to stockholders twice a year for a number of years.

The annual meeting of stockholders of the bank will be held Tuesday, Jan. 13, for the election of directors for the coming year. The directors will then meet to elect officers.

The present building unit will have 8000 square feet of floor space without any posts. And the future manufacturing building will be the same size, according to Leland Lewis, manager. In it will be manufactured a number of items, including parts of prefabricated units, all from the kilned lumber.

Whereas the kiln will be south of the planing mill, the shavings and sawdust from that building will be blown through a pipe system to a bin to be erected to the north. From the bin the shavings will be fed automatically to boilers, from which the steam will be piped to the kiln for drying purposes and to the buildings on the property for heating.

Lewis said the kiln will have a capacity of about 70,000 feet of lumber every 48 hours. Lumber will be cooled 12 hours before it is rolled into the mill, he said. Plans call for building up of a stock of a million to a million and a half feet.

Present plans call for the installation of a 100-foot sorting chain and the building of offices east of the mill.

It is contemplated that the greater part of the output from the mill and the future manufacturing plant will go to Eastern markets, Nugent said.

He pointed out that he is joining the Western Pine Association, which will lead to the manufacture of certified grades.

At present on the grounds, which consist of 10 acres, there is stacked a considerable amount of lumber for air drying.

The operation of the Nugent Company by Nugent will be in addition to his plant in Artesia, where pumice and tile building bricks are being manufactured. There he is employing at present 15 to 20 men.

Carlsbad Woman-

(continued from page one) canned milk at that time and how she moved and guarded it, and of later obtaining a fractious cow, which gave but 12 cups a day, which the Johnsons and another family, which they had contacted, shared among the children.

Mrs. Johnson related that one learns to substitute for the things which one has always taken for granted. They boiled sea water to obtain salt, and they never allowed their fire to go out, carrying coals with them when they moved, because there were no matches.

The family moved frequently and sometimes Japanese patrols surrounded their home, usually a small hut.

The lack of medicine was another hardship the Thompsons suffered, along with the Filipinos. But the Thompsons were cautious and guarded their health, so as not to require medicine. As a precaution they boiled all water used.

Although she did not say so in her talk, Mrs. Johnson was typically American, in that she never lost her sense of humor, as demonstrated in a number of humorous incidents experienced during the more than three years.

Mrs. Johnson was introduced by Zane Smith, a former member of the Artesia Rotary Club, now a member of the club at Carlsbad.

Dr. D. C. Stringer To Speak Both Hours At Baptist Church Sunday

Dr. D. C. Stringer, popular evangelist and director of city missions at Albuquerque, will speak both hours at the First Baptist Church of Artesia on next Sunday, Jan. 11.

Dr. Stringer, a graduate of Oklahoma Baptist University and Southwestern Theological Seminary of Fort Worth, Tex., has spent several years in New Mexico as pastor, evangelist, and director of mission activity. He has preached several times and conducted evangelistic campaigns in Artesia. KSPV has carried his devotional messages to large numbers of people in this territory.

Siegenthaler's Finger Is Cut Off, But Not Lost, By Belt Pulley

William M. Siegenthaler suffered the amputation of the third finger on his right hand—but not its loss—Wednesday of last week when he was tinkering with his car.

A V-belt was slipping, he said, and he took hold of it to investigate. The tightened belt engaged and Siegenthaler's hand was pulled into the pulley.

After reporting to his physician, the latter suggested a search for the missing digit, which was pulled off at the first joint. It was found and sewed back on and, it appears, he will experience no great inconvenience.
