North Eddy Infantile Paralysis Chapter Is Organized Here

Organization of the North Eddy county chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis was perfected at a meeting last Thursday evening, with Clarence E. Fischbeck, who has served as annual campaign chairman the last two years, elected the chapter's first chairman.

The action here has been approved by the state organization at Albuquerque and the regional organization in Denver, but it must receive final sanction from the national office in New York City before a charter is granted.

The North Eddy County chapter is the first in the United States to embrace less than a whole county. It was explained at the meeting Thursday by Walter I. Ertle, representative of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. Heretofore Artesia and all of North Eddy County have functioned under the Eddy County chapter, which had its chairman and organization in Carlsbad.

Because of the distance and the geographical division between North and South Eddy Counties, it was thought advisable to divide the county into two autonomous chapters. At a meeting in Carlsbad recently the correction line seven miles south of Lakewood was set as the boundary line between the North and South Eddy County chapter territories.

At the meeting last week it was decided to elect seven directors and they to elect officers. Ertleman pointed out it is the desire of the national organization for the directors to choose officers from their number, which was complied with as far as the chairman, vice chairman, and treasurer was concerned. A. P. Mahone and Fred Cole, directors, were named vice chairman and treasurer respectively.

Besides them and Chairman Fischbeck, directors elected were Doyle Hankins, William M. Siegenthaler, Chester Miller, and C. E. Mann.

Mrs. Charles E. Currier, who agreed to give the necessary time, was elected secretary; Wayne Paulin, publicity director; and Dr. C. Pardue Bunch and Dr. L. F. Hamilton, contact men, to work out a medical advisory group with members of the staff of Artesia Memorial Hospital.

The doctors of the city are to set up their own organization for a (continued last page this section)

REA Wins Over VFW In First Play-Off Game

The REA softball team on Monday night won 3-1 over VFW in the first of a three-game play-off to break a tie for first place honors in the city leagues schedule for the first half of the season.

The dates for the remaining two games have not been announced. As a preliminary to the play-off league game, the Carper-Booker girls' team showed up the Artesia Lions Club 2-1 in a game filled with fun. An estimated 3000 people saw the two games.

REA completed the first-half of the regular season last Thursday night, defeating NuMex 17-7 in a rousing-out game. The two teams likewise were scheduled to meet that night in their opening clash of the second half season, but that game was postponed in favor of the rained-out game.

However, VFW and Artesia Shoe met in a second-half game that night with VFW winning 17-7.

In further second-half games Friday evening, Lake Arthur defeated the Westerners 28-14, and VFW defeated REA 6-1.

On Tuesday night NuMex beat Artesia Shoe 14-12, while a game scheduled between VFW and the Westerners was called off because of rain.

Scheduled for tonight are Artesia vs. Lake Arthur, and NuMex (continued last page this section)

Transfer Leaves Artesia Without State Cop Again

State Patrolman C. S. McCasland had been assigned to Artesia for the last few months, was transferred Friday, leaving Artesia without any resident patrolman until another assignment is made here.

Notification to Patrolman McCasland came from state headquarters by telegram, ordering him to report at once.

It was understood the chief of police at Hobbs recently resigned there had been somewhat of a police shake-up there, and that a patrolman assigned to that area resigned to become the new chief. It is presumed that because of the situation at Hobbs State Police headquarters thought a patrolman was needed there more badly than in Artesia.

BOY SCOUTS ARE REV. FIELDS

Members of Troop 69 at Loco and their parents have expressed their appreciation to Rev. Fields for his time and service going to Camp We-Hin-Ah-Pay in the Sacramento area to their adult leader.

Celebration To Be Aug 31, And Not In July

The celebration to observe the completion of State Highway No. 83 will be held in the Sacramento Mountains Tuesday, Aug. 31, instead of Saturday, July 31.

The discrepancy of a month in the announcement of the celebration in last week's issue arose through a misunderstanding of the date Gov. Thomas J. Mabry will be able to attend, which was set the date of the celebration.

Many Artesia merchants were quite unhappy last week when the date of July 31 was announced, as they would be unable to attend on a Saturday. However, when it was discovered Governor Mabry had said Aug. 31, that difficulty was overcome.

The celebration will be at the forest park about two miles above Mayhill in James Canyon.

NuMex Refinery Program To Cost Third Of Million

Announcement was made this week by Claude Withers, vice president and general manager of the New Mexico Asphalt & Refining Company, of an expansion program during the next year to cost between 300 and 350 thousand dollars.

He said construction will start soon on a 7500-barrel topping unit, the first stage in enlarging the plant. The estimated cost on the unit will be 200 to 250 thousand dollars.

Withers said the new construction will be of the finest material available and will be the very latest in design.

It is anticipated the construction will be complete and ready for use by next March 1, the vice president said.

The refining company at this time has on order much of the material to be used in the expansion, with construction to start in the near future.

'Doc' Haldeman Is Named Head Of State Elks

Artesia was honored by the appointment at Pennsylvania, Pa., of H. T. (Doc) Haldeman as district deputy grand exalted ruler of New Mexico of Elks at the 1948 annual convention.

Haldeman who was elected the first and second exalted ruler of the local lodge when it was formed a year and a half ago and recently was re-elected, perhaps a member of the youngest lodge in the United States to receive such an honor.

He was appointed by I. D. Hall of New York City, grand exalted ruler of the organization.

Exalted Ruler Haldeman will be invested and take the oath of his high office at the meeting in Salt Lake City Aug. 7, which the grand exalted ruler and past exalted rulers are to attend.

The national meeting at which Artesia's exalted ruler was named grand exalted ruler for New Mexico was held in Philadelphia July 4-8. Mr. and Mrs. Haldeman and their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Vance Haldeman, attended the convention from Artesia. They reported that in the convention parade all delegates from the New Mexico lodges were dressed in Western attire and that newsreel representatives filmed the proceedings.

Pilots Fly Greatest Distance To Attend Breakfast In Texas

Bob Collins and Jack Britton flew to Wellington, Texas, Sunday to attend a flying breakfast party and turned out to be honor guests for having flown the greatest distance to attend.

The breakfast party was sponsored by the Wellington Chamber of Commerce, which not only paid for the Artesia airmen's breakfast, but bought them their lunch and refueled their plane as well.

Part of the entertainment for the Artesia men and other pilots attending was a swimming party.

Helen Beaty Takes Second In National Music Competition

Miss Helen Beaty, 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Beaty of Artesia, was runner-up in the ninth annual Edgar Stillman Kelly junior scholarship competition of the National Federation of Music Clubs, which was won by Roy V. Bogas, 14-year-old California pianist, it has just been announced in New York City.

The young Artesia vocalist previously had won top place in New Mexico, singing at Santa Fe, where her voice was recorded, the recording to be played back before national judges.

Although hers is a national honor, the annual contest is held each year in only one region, which this year consisted of the states of New Mexico, Arizona, California, Colorado, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, Oregon, Utah, Washington, and Wyoming.

While the second place does not carry with it a scholarship for Miss Beaty, it probably will lead to other honors and recognition.

The award to young Bogas, which is financed by penny gifts from the federations 60,000 or more junior members, covers tuition of $250 annually, available for three successive years if the rate of progress warrants it, to a school or with a teacher approved by the federation's scholarship committee, of which Mrs. Gaillard B. Fuller of Loudonville, Ohio, is chairman. The auditions are held each

Britton Coll Is Named Member FHA Committee

Appointment of Britton Coll of Artesia to a three-year term on the Farmers Home Administration county committee of Eddy County has been announced by Glen Grisham, state director, Albuquerque.

Coll succeeds Fred L. O'Cheskey, Carlsbad, whose term expired June 30. Also on the Eddy County Committee are Albert J. Calvani and Enes Grandi, both of Carlsbad.

A committee of three serves in each agricultural county throughout the nation in which the agency makes farm ownership and operating loans. Appointments are scheduled so that a committee always has two experienced members.

The Eddy County Committee has an important place in making supervised credit available to farmers, according to Welton H. Bason, county supervisor. Before any money can be borrowed through the agency an applicant must have the approval of the county committee. In the case of farm ownership loans, the farm to be purchased, enlarged or improved must also be approved by the committee. The members know agricultural conditions in this with the farm the applicant plans to operate, Bason explained.

In addition to approving loans, the committee co-operates with the county supervisor in overall administration of the program in the county. Periodically they review the progress of borrowers to determine whether they have reached a financial position that would enable them to finance their loans through private lenders. A farmer who is eligible for credit from regular lending sources is not eligible for a loan from the Farmers Home Administration.

Using this system of operation, the agency during the last 12 months has helped 177 families in Eddy County toward better farming and better living with farm purchase and farm operating loans, Bason said.

Lions Discuss Park For Ball Games And Community Activities

Members of the Artesia Lions Club at the weekly luncheon Wednesday noon discussed ways and means of the club in helping to obtain a city park for public use for baseball and softball games, as a rodeo grounds, and for other similar community activities.

Wayne Paulin, president, appointed D. D. Archer, B. R. Gorman, Ray Carpenter, W. R. Petty, and William M. Siegenthaler as a committee to look further into the proposition.

Guests included T. J. Tipton and Foster Morrell, members of the Carlsbad and Roswell Lions Clubs respectively; Bert Ponder of Dallas, Texas, and Dr. Jack Perry and Dr. R. C. Derbyshire of Artesia.

Budget Is One Of Big Jobs In School System

Many of the problems confronting the schools as well as those which administrators must face were disclosed Tuesday noon in a vocation talk at the weekly luncheon of the Artesia Rotary Club by A. R. Wood, business manager of the schools.

Listing several dozens such problem, one or more for each letter of the alphabet, Wood said the making of the budget takes as much or more time than any other.

The state school budget, he said, is about 22 million dollars for the next fiscal year, the highest in history. And of that $1,369,000 is allocated to Eddy County's four school units, the Artesia, Carlsbad, and Hope municipal schools, and the rural schools. The budget for the Artesia schools for the fiscal year is $422,000, as compared with 376,000 for the 1947-48 fiscal year, Wood said.

He said the largest item is the teachers' salaries, which causes more concern in the budget set-up than any other.

Under the uniform salary schedule in Eddy County a teacher with a bachelor's degree but no experience receives a starting salary of $2400 a year, whether a high school or a grade school teacher. A master's degree calls for a starting salary of $2600, and a teacher in either class may earn $5 more for each hour of additional schooling up to 30 hours for a bachelor's degree and 15 hours for a master's degree, he said. In addition all teachers are being given a high cost (continued last page this section)

Mrs. Stahler In Texas For Return Of Son's Body

Mrs. Bertha Stahler, bookkeeper at the L. P. Evans Store, is in Jacksboro, Texas, where the body of her son, First Lt. Robert F. Stahler, is to arrive Monday from England.

Lieutenant Stahler died of wounds at Shipham, England, Jan. 20, 1944, and was buried in the American Military Cemetery at Cambridge.

He was a member of the 68th Bomber Squadron, 44th Bomber Group, and was based in England. Lieutenant Stahler was engaged in shuttle bombing from England to Africa until the time of his death.

His brother, Lt. Col. Charles L. Stahler of the New Mexico Military Institute at Roswell will escort the body of Lieutenant Stahler from the distribution center at Fort Worth, Texas, to Jacksboro.

Funeral services for Lieutenant Stahler and burial will be at Jacksboro next Tuesday afternoon.

Pioneer Goes To Bat For Stop At Artesia

Pioneer Air Lines, Inc., of Dallas, Texas, is making application to the Civil Aeronautics Board, seeking to initiate service to Artesia as soon as possible, according to a letter from Robert J. Smith, president, to Luther E. Sharpe, manager of the Artesia Chamber of Commerce.

The board some weeks ago scheduled a hearing on an application made by Artesia for the service, but it is the hope that the CAB will grant Pioneer an exemption making it possible for the airline to serve Artesia in the near future.

At present the Pioneer line from Amarillo to El Paso makes stops at Clovis and Roswell and then goes on to El Paso.

Artesia's exhibits on the city's application are to be in the hands of the CAB by Sept. 7, with the hearing set for the early part of October. That would not permit the inauguration of air service here until some time after the hearing, possibly in November at the earliest.

If an exception is granted on Pioneer's application for immediate action, the airline would be able to start serving Artesia within 30 days afterwards, according to the letter from the company's president which reads:

"The Staff of Pioneer Air Lines is now engaged in the preparation of an application to the Civil Aeronautics Board, requesting that the board grant Pioneer an exemption permitting it to initiate service to Artesia.

"As you know, the board has scheduled the application of Artesia for service to be heard early in October. However, the planes of Pioneer are presently operating between Roswell and El Paso, and the authority which Pioneer will now seek will be that required to permit those planes to include Artesia for service on the present route of Pioneer between Roswell and El Paso.

"Of course, it is not known what action the board will take upon this application, but it is the hope of Pioneer that the board will permit it to initiate this service without waiting the outcome of the hearing on the formal application of Artesia for service.

"If Pioneer is successful in its application, then it will immediately install radio equipment and station equipment, and should be able to initiate service with a minimum of two round trips daily, within 30 days of the date of the decision of the board.

"We would use Douglas DC-3 equipment, such as is used throughout the Pioneer operation.

"We appreciate very much the interest which Artesia has manifested in this proposed service and we hope that we may soon become a part of your city." (continued last page this section)

New Pressure Unit Will Spray DDT In Alleys

The city has purchased a new Bean pressure sprayer for spraying DDT in all alleys and side streets and on adjacent buildings, shrubbery, and walks Mayor Owen C. Roberts announced.

The unit is mounted on a truck from which the alleys can be sprayed, making for much more complete spraying than heretofore, when a hand outfit has been used to spray garbage cans.

It develops enough pressure whereby the truck can be driven down the alley and both sides of the thoroughfare can be sprayed, and it will throw spray as high as 40 to 50 feet.

Mayor Roberts said the city earnestly solicits the co-operation of the citizens in the war on flies and mosquitoes, and requested that they spray around their own back porches, screens, and shrubbery not service by the new pressure outfit.

He said that with a concentrate effort on the part of the city and the citizens the hazard of spreading disease will at least be somewhat eliminated.

More 'A' Cards Are Issued By Health Officer

In addition to "A" cards issued to eating and drinking establishments in the city by Richard W. Swartz, sanitary health officer for the State Health Department on July 1, when the new Artesia city sanitary ordinance went into effect, three others have been issued to establishments, which at that time had not received all equipment required or had been unable to meet the deadline.

These are the Artesia Pharmacy, which had just been rebuilt and recently had its reopening, but on which all improvements had not been completed; Coney Island Cafe, which had not reopened on July 1 after being closed a month, and El Rancho.

The name of Dairy Queen was inadvertently omitted from the previous list of those to whom "A" cards were issued July 1.

Swartz likewise had issued permits for grade "A" milk to the Everett and Valley Pure Dairies and to C. E. Porter, a producer, in the Artesia area, and to the Young Johnson, Weddige, Newbill, Barley, Crockett, and Gutherie milk producers at Hope.

Troop 8 Scouts Have Over-Night Camp Saturday

Twelve Boy Scouts of Troop 8, sponsored by the Artesia Rotary Club, accompanied by George Nichols, assistant scoutmaster, camped out Saturday night on the Joe Mitchell ranch near Hagerman.

Scoutmaster Bill Terpening joined them Sunday, accompanied by Mrs. Terpening and Mrs. Nichols and young daughters. Other visitors at the camp were the ranch owner and Bill McCree, local Boy Scout field director. Transportation for the Scouts was furnished by Big Jo Lumber Company.

Glen Danford, Jr., and Archie Miller, who completed their second-class work and passed at a Court of Honor at Camp We-Hin-Ah-Pay in the Sacramento Mountains recently, did work for their first-class badges at the week-end camp.

Tons Of Free Fish To Come Out Of Clark's Lake Friday

Friday will really be fish day in North Eddy County and there should be many fish fries, with perhaps as many as five tons of fish available—and for free!

Throughout the co-operation of the North Eddy County chapter of the Game Protective Association and the State Game and Fish Department, all of the fish in Clark's Lake about six miles north of Artesia are to be removed and the rough fish will be given away to all newcomers from this community between 8 and 10 o'clock in the morning.

None will be available before 8 o'clock and no one will be allowed on the property before that hour, except members of the GPA and department, who will be busy with the big task.

And at 10 o'clock, if there are still fish to be given away, rather than have them go to waste, they will be given to persons or organizations from other communities.

Game fish—bass, crappie, bluegills, and catfish—will be reserved by the Game Department for charitable organizations, it was announced by Clarence E. Fischbeck, president of the local GPA chapter.

All fish in the lake will be chemically killed by Game Department men, but the chemical in no way will affect the fish for human consumption or in taste. But the job will be thorough, absolutely killing all fish and turtles.

President Fischbeck said this is done in order to eliminate the rough fish from the lake so that it may be replanted in the fall with game fish, thus insuring better fishing at Clark's Lake in the future.

He said Game Department and fisheries men have estimated between three and five tons of rough fish will be removed from the lake, whereas there will be only several hundred pounds of the game fish.

When the lake is restocked, it will support several tons of game fish, without the rough fish there to deplete it of food, the GPA president said.

He said that after the lake is treated with the chemical, the fish will come to the surface for a short time and that men in boats will pick them up, the GPA members taking the rough fish and Game Department men gathering the game fish.

Everyone interested in receiving some of the fish is invited to be at the lake between 8 and 10 o'clock. Each car must enter the grounds over the cattleguard, and all cars will be checked.

Representatives of groups from communities some miles away have asked for fish, but President Fischbeck said they will not be served until after 10 o'clock, while residents of North Eddy County and South Chavez County will be given preference up to that time. However, after 10 o'clock any fish remaining will be given to anyone seeking them.

The Game and Fish Department, in co-operation with other GPA chapters, is carrying out the same program in lakes and streams in other localities in the state.

President Fischbeck said he hopes some of the local clubs and other organizations will plan fish fries and will have representatives at Clark's Lake in the morning to receive them.

He asked that members of the local GPA chapter who are willing to help in the distribution to be at the lake shortly before 8 o'clock

Chamber To Assist Vets In Staging $10,000 Rodeo V-J Day

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Artesia Chamber of Commerce Monday night, members voted unanimously to assist in every way possible the United Veterans Club in the veterans' efforts to stage a three-day rodeo here Aug. 13-15 and a big V-J Day celebration on Saturday, Aug. 14.

It was brought out at the meeting that rodeo produced by Howard Brown of Dublin, Texas, which has been booked by the veterans' organization, is one of the best anywhere. For 17 years Brown has taken his rodeo to Madison Square Garden in New York City, and Luther E. Sharpe, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, said the Artesia community is fortunate that the United Veterans Club is having Brown produce the same rodeo in Artesia.

As it will take approximately $10,000 to have the show here for three days, the Chamber of Commerce, through the board of directors, is asking the merchants of the city to underwrite the rodeo. To this end a special committee of veterans will begin the solicitation of funds this week to produce the show.

Members of the chamber board said it is hoped that as the merchants are approached they will see the wisdom in helping in a material way in getting this program for Artesia.

The board also announced that all stores in Artesia are being asked to remain open on V-J Day, as it is expected there will be thousands of visitors here that day who will (continued last page this section)

Robert Painter Named President Of Conference

Mrs. John Lanning has announced that Robert Painter was elected president of the Sandia Conference at the annual meeting July 5-12 at the Presbyterian Sandia Camp near Albuquerque. This announcement was made at a meeting of the Women's Council of the First Christian Church in the undercroft of the Church last Thursday afternoon.

Painter was elected to succeed Johnny Lanning. Four young people from this community attended the conference. They were Johnny Lanning, Robert Painter, Miss Jo Margaret Gore, and Miss Sylvia Amstutz.

At the meeting last Thursday, Mrs. C. C. Connor, program chairman, gave a resume on the first six (continued last page this section)

Kenneth Wayne Needham, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Willard W. Needham of Lake Arthur, died at 10 o'clock last Thursday morning in Roswell after an illness of two days.

Funeral services were held in Paulin Chapel in Artesia at 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, and burial was in Woodbine Cemetery.

The baby, who was born at Roswell last May 12, is survived by his parents and a brother and sister, Jerry Lee and Charlene Needham.

Block Our Growth

NEW MEXICO HAS GROWN considerably in the years which have passed since she became a state. And everyone has been more than happy and content over the growth and development in the territory. There has been a happy and contented feeling. More people mean more customers for business. And more people mean that business and professional lines can be built up.

But we can't build up New Mexico by barring business coming to the state. We can't expect to expand or even to secure the needs of the state by preventing certain professional men from coming to the state.

The state has a perfect right to set up regulations to govern those who practice in the state. But when these are set up by the members of that profession and are not for the public good, they are not for the public good.

The public is very much concerned about these things because it is the public and the public interest which makes it possible for the state to enjoy their business.

But when this fact is forgotten. Only a few members of the medical profession, for example, who called him on the phone, and he appreciated them for coming to see him and he appreciated them for coming to see him and he appreciated them for coming to see him.

State Highway No. 83. Certainly either one of these highways has inducements to offer Texas traffic coming into the state. Highway No. 285 brings the travelers into the eastern part of the state to the famous Carlsbad Caverns. It then extends north from Carlsbad through Artesia, Lake Arthur, Hagerman, Dexter, Roswell, and on north across or linking with Highway No. 66. Or it extends on north through Santa Fe, through to Las Vegas, Raton, and on into Colorado.

Highway No. 83 runs west from Texas across the Eastern part of the state on west through Artesia, Hope, Elk, Mayhill, Cloudercroft, across the Sacramento Mountains to link with Highway No. 70 north of Alabogordo. And this, of course, provides an interesting and a good route to the West Coast.

And a little plugging and advertising of these highways would not hurt any of the cities along these routes. The public, of course, hears so much about the other highways in the state they become convinced that they are the only routes to follow.

However, the fact does remain that both Highway No. 185 and Highway No. 83 are good routes to travel in seeing certain sections and parts of New Mexico.

And those who travel these routes, will be spending money in the cities along these highways. —O.E.P.

We Like It That Way

ARTESIA IS THE SORT OF TOWN in which informality is carried to such an extent that many persons are referred to in almost any conversation by their Christian names or nicknames without further identification, and everyone knows to whom one is referring.

It is true there may be a little confusion in some cases, where there is more than one man having the same name, but even then the topic of conversation will usually identify the man in question.

One may refer to Ross, Sam, Hollis, or any of several dozen others of more or less prominence, and there is no doubt in anyone's mind who is meant.

Doc, besides being a nickname for physicians and dentists, identifies two other fellows, Doc Haldeman and Doc Mahone. Chuck could be either Chuck Ashton or Chuck Baldwin. But for the most part only one man is indicated by a name.

No one ever before refers to C. E. Mann; it's always Uncle Charlie. The same is true of A. H. Hazel, whose only name, as far as many people are concerned is Sug.

Wayne, Taylor, Martin, Emery, Maje, Tommie, Buster, Max, Jess, and even Pot indicate one man each, whose identity 90 per cent of the readers of this idiosyncrasy will recognize at once. Many more could be named.

And we like it that way, for Artesia is just that sort of informal town.—A.L.B.

Fatal Accidents

A JOINT REPORT issued by the American Association of State Highway Officials, the American Public Works Association, and the Institute of Traffic Engineers tells what causes fatal automobile accidents, without giving any opinions or preaching any moral sermons, but merely giving the facts, which we pass along:

Seven out of 10 drivers involved in fatal accidents were violating traffic laws at the time.

One out of six had been drinking. Persons 16 years of age drove 2,300,000 miles per fatal accident, while persons 45 to 49 years old drove 21,900,000 miles per fatal accident.

When persons pass the age of 50, their accident record again mounts as their physical abilities decline.

Approximately 6 per cent of the drivers involved in fatal accidents are women. However, women drivers account for only about one-sixth the mileage of male drivers.

The committee issued the report, unadorned with opinion, moral lesson, or anything other than plain statistical facts. Maybe that is why it impresses us as being a very strong argument for obedience to law and for stricter enforcement. —A.L.B.

Excellent Showing

THE VERY EXCELLENT SHOWING made by the Mabry administration for the fiscal year, which an additional one million dollars was added which closed on June 30, by which an additional one million dollars was added to the cash surplus in the general fund after all the bills were paid, has brought congratulations and words of commendation even from the staunch Republican paper, The Santa Fe New Mexican.

Speaking of the saving and the fact also that the nearly one and one-half million dollars set aside formerly for the new capitol building and improvement had not been touched by the present administration although the Legislature had tentatively appropriated all of this for the general purposes, The New Mexican says: "Mounting revenues diligently collected, and a creditable practice of restraint on spending made the saving possible. Gov. Tom Mabry set the policy and his aides carried it through."

And that, of course, is real praise when it comes from a paper devoted to the Republican party when the party in power is Democratic.

We sometimes wonder whether newspapers generally wouldn't command more respect as impartial umpires of public opinion if they all did more of this thing—recognizing good service even if from a public official of political faith opposite to that espoused by such newspapers.

New Mexico is a sparsely settled and, comparatively speaking, a poor state. We think that any administration which can set aside a million dollars with the additional demands made on it because of the increased costs of government operations deserves a hand. Here is ours, too! —O.E.P.

Who remembers the good old days when kicking and biting were barred on the dance floor? Advice usually can be had for nothing—which is exactly what a lot of it is worth.

Avocational GI Training Is Cut Under New Rule

The Veterans Administration has issued instructions to eliminate a vocational and recreation courses under the GI Bill. Specifically named are certain courses in dancing, photography, glider, bartending, personality development, public speaking, instrumental and vocal music, sports, and some types of flight training.

The instructions are based on restrictions contained in the Veterans Administration's 1949 appropriations bill which President Truman signed June 30. The law specifies that no part of the appropriation may be used to pay for any courses started after June 30, which the administrator of veterans affairs determines to be avocational or recreational. The restricting proviso further stipulates that flight training and related aviation courses a veteran may take in connection with his present or contemplated business or occupation shall not be considered avocational or recreational in character.

Veterans enrolled at present in all courses affected by the new law will be permitted to complete their training, VA said.

"The law simply means," explained Creighton E. Hays, VA's deputy administrator for Colorado, Wyoming, Utah, and New Mexico, "that the Veterans Administration will no longer pay for vocational or recreational courses and therefore veterans should not attempt to pursue them. Only courses which will contribute to an employment objective will be permitted."

Most of the accidents that occur in the farm shop could be prevented by carefulness. Why not keep these safety rules in mind when you're working in your farm shop.

Open a door or window before running a machine inside the building. Guard all moving parts on machinery. Be sure you're not in contact with water when touching electrical outlets and equipment. Keep paints, oils, and greasy rags, in well-ventilated cabinets.

Wear goggles when welding or grinding. Keep explosive fuels away from fires. Store tools so that sharp edges are not exposed. Block hoisted objects before working near them. Keep the floor free from grease, oil, and rubbish.

Store tools and materials so that they will not fall and cause injury. Keep clothing away from moving parts of machinery. Use a push stick when operating the table saw.

Good selection of the herd sire is extremely important to the dairy farmer. The only measures of a bull's ability to transmit high production are the production records of his daughters or the production records of his ancestors. So, be sure that your next herd sire is selected on facts, not hope. Only tested herds have the facts.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Fire!!

The fire that ate up Job Crowell's cow barn Saturday is just another reminder that the best way to put out fires is before they start—by inspection for defective wiring, faulty heating units, and any other source of combustion.

That's true, not just of fires, but of everything. The brewers for instance make every effort to prevent unpleasantness or trouble within their industry—by inspecting all taverns selling beer for possible sources of dissatisfaction. They call it Self Regulation—because when any tavern is found lacking in any respect, it's warned by the brewers to either mend its ways, or they'll call on the proper authorities for action.

From where I sit, prevention is always the best cure. And by getting after trouble before it starts, the brewers have maintained a high tradition of cleanliness, courtesy, and obedience to law among all places selling beer.

Uncle Sam Says

You do not need to be a crystal ball game to figure out the truth of the saying that the future holds for you what you hold for the future.

If you look into your present you'll find the answer to how much security you can count upon for yourself and your family. Are you bringing home United States Savings Bonds regularly? Millions of my nieces and nephews know that these bonds are among the most essential assets to hold for their future because savings bonds are safe and profitable.

Salvation Army Man Arrives To Conduct Annual Funds Drive

Adjunt I. James Wycoff, service extension director for the Salvation Army, arrived in Artesia Monday and has started the annual campaign for funds to assist in the general program.

He comes here as the successor of the late Baron J. V. (Sunny Jim) Aurimma, who made the annual appeal in Artesia over a period of more than two decades.

As Adjunt Wycoff is just getting acquainted with the citizens of the Artesia community, he asked that they accept him as the successor of "Sunny Jim," whose place he said he cannot take. Rather, he is merely to continue the work formerly carried on by the Baron.

fresh fruits, rice, pulses (beans and peas), tobacco, cotton, fertilizer, timber, and wool. Referring to the still-disrupted distribution systems abroad, Dodd said that the elemental requirement for European recovery is to see to it that workers who produce and earn money can buy for their families minimum adequate quantities of food. The quality of the diet also needs to be improved; there is a great need for more of the protective foods such as milk, meat, fruits and vegetables. Because of the urgent food situation, however, farmers in those countries have been asked to postpone rebuilding their livestock industries and to produce food, grains and potatoes and other items for direct human consumption.

Protein Will Pay Large Dividends In Cattle Gains

Protein pays large dividends in added gains on beef cattle when fed to supplement mature pasture grasses during late summer and early fall months, experiment station results and practical experience prove, according to A. L. Ward, educational director, National Cottonseed Products Association. Cottonseed cake costing $5 per hundred pounds returned $18 worth of beef when fed to steers valued at $24 per hundred pounds in trials as the Kansas Experiment Station, he points out. Cattle on pasture that received one and a half pounds of cottonseed cake, daily per head, for 88 days gained 152 pounds per head during the period in the Kansas test. Cattle that did not receive the protein supplement gained only 56 pounds. Each pound of cake fed resulted in a gain of approximately three-quarters of a pound. During July and August, most farm pastures and ranges begin to cure out or become "burned." Protein is the first nutrient to become deficient, the protein content of grasses frequently dropping 50 per cent or more as they mature. A protein concentrate, such as cottonseed meal, pellets, or cubes, is the only supplement for grass needed by cattle under most conditions during the summer and fall in the Kansas test, the addition of ground, shelled corn to the daily ration was not profitable during the feeding period, Aug. 1 to Nov. 1. When grazing is short, some dry roughage should be fed, but grains needed only when fattening cattle to a high finish for slaughter, or when grazing is so short that it will not furnish enough energy feed. Ward said. Protein concentrates are profitably fed in amounts exceeding those needed to balance the protein concentrates are profitable fed in amounts exceeding those needed to balance the protein content of dry forage when they are relatively cheaper than grains, as under present conditions.

Young Men Can Continue Training In U. S. Air Force

Despite crowded conditions in colleges and universities, qualified young men with high school diplomas can continue their training and education without interruption. Under the USAF Aviation Career Plan, men 18 to 34 years of age who have completed high school and are in good health can choose what technical course they would like to enroll in. If accepted, the applicant first goes through basic training, then to the course of his choice, which may range from airplane maintenance to photography. He is not obliged to enlist until he is accepted in the course of his choice. Once in the Air Force, the new airman will be eligible for enrollment in the United States Armed Forces Institute, which offers general educational and technical subjects up to and including college levels. He may then prepare himself for an officer's commission under the Aviation Cadet Pilot Training Program. Career specialists under the Air Force plan are eligible for promotion to private first class after four months. With pay and benefits, he earns approximately $60 a week civilian pay. If he takes the Air Force as a career, he is assured of substantial retirement pay after 20 to 30 years service. If a young man wants to fly jet planes, he would enter Aviation Cadet Pilot Training. Qualifications are that he be 20 to 26 1/2 years of age and have completed two years of college or its equivalent. A successful graduate is commissioned second lieutenant, given the aeronautical rating of pilot, and assigned to active duty with the Air Force. High enlistment standards, good pay scales, and excellent career opportunities are provided the Air Force with the best quality of men in its history, M/Sgt. Preston Triplett, local recruiting officer said.

'Call Northside 777' Is Taken From True Life

Packing a terrific wallop with the head-on impact that only a story free of make-believe and based unrelentingly on truth can achieve, Twentieth Century-Fox's "Call Northside 777" coming to the Lansun Theater, Sunday through Tuesday, emerges as a unique and unforgettable motion picture experience.

The unique quality of "Call Northside 777" is drawn from events that are not fictional. It is a true-life story—and the hard-hitting, realistic, on-the-spot technique which Director Henry Hathaway uses in its telling (the technique employed with such sensational effect in "Boomerang" and "House on 92nd Street") makes the picture a vivid, living experience.

"Call Northside 777" is based on a true case. In November, 1933, a guy named Joe—Joe Majczek—was found guilty by a Chicago jury of the murder of policeman William D. Lundy, and was sentenced to serve 99 years in the Illinois State Penitentiary. On Aug. 17, 1945, the prison gates swung open for Joe, and the state gave him $24,000 for 13 years of wrongful imprisonment.

"Call Northside 777" unfolds the story of a battle than won for Joe, known in the film as Frank Wiecek, his freedom. It is a story of a mother's unshakeable faith in her son's innocence. (The film's title is the phone number she inserted in a newspaper ad offering $5,000, sav-

LOOKING FOR THE FOUNTAIN OF YOUTH?

Throughout the ages men have been seeking the Fountain of Youth.
 Maybe we'll find it some day. Certainly scientists and doctors have already greatly lengthened our life span.
 If we could have eternal youth, it would save us a lot of trouble. We'd never have to plan for old age—because we'd never grow old.
 But meanwhile all of us still face the problem of economic security for the future.
 For most of us the only solution is regular saving. And there is no better, safer, or more painless way to save than by buying U. S. Security Bonds on the Bond-A-Month Plan.
 Ask your bank about it. It's automatic. You sign up and the money saves itself—and every $3 becomes $4 at the end of 10 years.
 And wise saving today helps to keep prices down. Your Security Bond dollars will do their part to stabilize prices.

medical advisory board to the executive committee.

It was announced there also will be a woman advisor to the executive committee, who will be some active members of women's organizations in this area. She will be selected under the direction of a woman advisor from Albuquerque who will be sent here to acquaint women of the chapter area with the organization and to enlist their aid in the movement.

Chairman Fischbeck said some school authority also will be selected, to be attached to the executive committee, and to take the true meaning of the National Federation for Infantile Paralysis to the school children.

Prior to the election of directors the representatives of various other organizations who attended the meeting last Thursday, unanimously adopted the manual for chapters which is put out by the national organization.

The manual, which has to do with the origin, authority, purposes, territory, duties, organization, and administration of local chapters, was briefly outlined by Eittleman.

He also gave a brief resume of the national organization and its relationship to state and local chapters, setting forth the aims and objects, working relationships, extent of participation, and real guarantee and benefits derived from the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Members of the executive committee said they believe that inasmuch as the Artesia Fire Department has a portable iron lung available at all times, the three other items of essential polio treatment

On that morning also will be staged the big V-J Day celebration parade, with prizes totaling $100 for the best floats offered by the Chamber of Commerce. The prize money will be divided $50, $30, and $20 for the first, second, and third

Both the Chamber of Commerce and the United Veterans Club are urging that merchants, clubs, and other organizations start plans on floats, so as to have a first-class parade for the thousands of visitors expected here that day.

Other events of V-J Day will include a barbecue at noon and a dance in the evening at the Veterans Memorial Building.

At the Chamber board meeting Monday evening, the members voted to unite with the United States Chamber of Commerce, through which the membership in Artesia will receive a service on national and international affairs second to none.

Reports were presented on the housing situation, which members of the board are confident will be solved by the end of this year.

The firing was judged by a sergeant from Walker Air Force Base at Roswell. Others on the mountain camp trip were Assistant Scoutmaster Nichols and Boy Scouts Charlie Miller, Bobbie Gene Ham, Bobbie Perkins, and James Amstutz.

One more camp is being planned before school starts. Although the date has not been set, it was announced the camp will be in August.

The scoutmaster and assistant invited all boys who are or soon will be 12 years old and are interested in becoming Boy Scouts to attend the weekly meetings, which are held at 7:30 o'clock each Wednesday evening at Central School. The boys of Troop 8 were scheduled to play a softball game with Boy Scouts of Troop 28 last evening.

Conservation Is Farm-By-Farm U.S. Problem

It may be a terrace—it may be an application of phosphate and the growing of more legumes and grasses—or it may be a number of conservation practices are needed to keep soil from washing and blowing away and land from wearing out—but whatever it is, it takes timely action by farmers on the land to get results.

In this way C. V. Hemphill, chairman of the New Mexico PMA

Committee, emphasizes the way the Agricultural Conservation Program operates. Every farmer in every agricultural county in the United States and insular possessions may participate in this program of saving soil. And every farmer who does co-operate—and there are more than three million who do—carries out needed conservation practices on his own farm.

Every farm is a little different, but the problems are a lot alike, says Hemphill. All over the United States there are farms similar to the Donald D. Delagrang farm in Ohio. This farm is located in Westfield Township of Medina County—just a few miles from the Great Lakes and the Ohio River watershed.

The land is classified as silt loam and it is subject to erosion. It's up where floods begin and in the past the silt from this farm along with many others has helped build the great Mississippi River delta. From now on there will be little if any silt and run-off from the Delagrang farm.

Grass and clover with lime and phosphate to make them grow better are holding the soil. Green manure plowed under is putting humus into the soil so that it will absorb more of the water and hold together better. Contour strips are slowing down the run-off. Working together these conservation practices are saving a farm.

Delagrang says that if it had not been for the conservation program, his place would now be another abandoned farm. He says this also is true of the farms around him.

Cultivation Of Row Crops Must Be Done Carefully

Cultivation to control weeds should be done carefully at this time of year, says County Agent Dallas Rierson, because row crops, when they are a foot high, have root systems which occupy most of the soil between rows.

"Roots supply plants with moisture and mineral plant food," Rierson explains. "Any damage to roots prevents the healthy development of the plants and naturally reduces the yields. After irrigation, crop roots grow close to the surface, and careless cultivation may cause serious injury to them."

Rierson points out that sweeps or wing shovels, which cut off the

Four Measures Listed To Curb Elm Disease

Increasing Toll Noted Over Widespread Area

The dread Dutch elm disease, killer of thousands of trees, is spreading rapidly over large areas. Control measures should include: (1) Pruning and burning of all dead material from elms; (2) removing of the bark before elm wood is stored or dumped, if the wood is not destroyed; (3) piling of stored elm wood in a dry building or cellar; (4) removing and burning promptly all elm trees killed by the disease.

There are three good clues for spotting the diseased trees, according to University of Massachusetts specialists. Evidence of woodpecker work is one. Where strips of bark have been removed from tree limbs it may indicate that woodpeckers are feeding on elm bark beetles, carriers of the Dutch elm disease.

Shepherd's crooks are another sign of the disease. These crooks are twisted twigs branching out at the end of last season's growth. Third, lack of spring buds may indicate that the trees have been attacked by the disease.

Early detection of the disease will aid control measures, foresters say.

Electricity Serves New Chore in Poultry House

Electricity has added one more chore to its list of poultry operations. It has invaded the egg storage room in a battle against mold and musty odors.

Accompanying picture shows how this battle is being fought on a Virginia farm. The "armament" consists of two bactericidal lights. From a central place on the ceiling, the lights radiate powerful germ-killing rays into every part of the room.

The egg storage room has been free of mold and musty odors since the equipment was installed three years ago. As a result, eggs stored there have been rated as "top weeds just below the surface, do much less damage to crop roots than the old style straight shovels and leave the surface smooth and less susceptible to erosion.

Spearpoint or diamond-shaped shovels also do a good job, Rierson says, if they are set with plenty of forward pitch, if they are spaced to give complete coverage of the ground, and if they are not run too deeply.

"Tractor cultivators are often run too deeply and too close to the rows," the county agent adds. "Time taken to obtain proper show-eis, with the right adjustment, may prevent serious damage to the roots and add many bushels to the crop yield.

"Rigging of corn, potatoes, or cotton will cover up and kill the weeds in the rows and will reduce the pushing out and sun-burning of tubers. But piling most of the soil in high narrow ridges may result in greater drought damage and in considerably reduced yields."

About a third of the American farmer's cash income last year came from the sale of meat animals. Meat packers paid out almost 10 billion dollars for livestock. From their total cash income, livestock producers paid out large amounts for stock, feed, help and increased operating costs.

Legumes, Grasses and Cereals Used for Silage

The term grass silage now includes all ensiled crops except corn and the sorghos and is different from them in that special precautions must be taken upon ensiling for the best preservation.

Grass silage may be made successfully from many crops: Legumes, such as alfalfa, clovers, soy beans, lespedeza and peas; cereals such as oats, wheat, rye and barley; grasses, such as timothy, sudan grass, canary grass, brome grass and orchard grass, and mixtures of these crops.

The illustration by Purdue university shows method of dumping silage that saves in labor and quality.

Activated Charcoal Used To Prevent 2,4-D Harm

Crop plants can be protected from harm by 2,4-D used for killing weeds by pre-planting treatment with powdered activated charcoal. The treatment is of special value for crops that are set out as young plants already rooted. This is done by dusting the roots with the activated charcoal powder before planting, greatly reducing loss caused by 2,4-D.

Good Salad Suggestions

By ALICE DENHOFF

SALAD making is an art and a delight, and if the family just picks at a salad, chances are that it is the same old tired-looking greens with an indifferent dressing, or that even if it is a nice salad, day after day of the same old fare becomes monotonous, to say the least.

More than one restaurant has risen to fame on countless bowls of beautiful salad concoctions, a joy to look at, and good, healthful eating.

This is the time of year to bring salads to table so here are some ideas. Use cooked broccoli stalks (thrifty thought) in your salads. Cut them in julienne strips, marinate, if you like, in French dressing, and serve with green or vegetable salads. Cauliflower, raw and crunchy, in little flowerets, is excellent in salads. Cauliflower and broccoli make a good combination. Fry them with a little sliced orange, some green pepper and chopped celery with a tart dressing.

Inside Leaves

Tender inside leaves of raw spinach, make excellent salad greens. Use the juices of canned fruits for fruit cups, to thin mayonnaise and to mix with French dressings. Chop raw cranberries and shower them through a coleslaw for taste and eye appeal.

Lettuce need not always be the king pin of salad greens. Try healthful watercress or good curly endive. Candied fruit peels make a wonderful fruit salad garnish, nice long strips of them.

Salad Suggestions

Now for some salad suggestions. A salad of green peppers, tomatoes and onions is a household standby in New Orleans, and a healthy affair it is, too. Slice 4 tomatoes, one large onion and 2 green peppers nice and thin. Arrange on a dish, placing a layer of tomatoes, an alternate layer of onion, green pepper and tomatoes mixed. Dress either before bringing to the table, or at the table, with plain French dressing. Fruit added to chicken salad, as it is done in California, adds something different to a staple main salad. Combine equal parts of cold cooked chicken cut in small pieces, and cut celery; moisten with French dressing. Allow to stand long enough to marinate. When ready to serve, add a tbsp. of diced orange, and peeled and seeded white grapes to each portion of chicken salad. Serve on crisp lettuce garnished with mayonnaise.

Raw Vegetable Salad

Sour cream dressing transforms a healthful raw vegetable salad into a gourmet special. For the salad, mix together one c. finely chopped new carrots, one c. finely chopped celery, 1/2 c. finely chopped white cabbage, one c. sour cream dressing, salt and black pepper to taste. Shape in a mound on a chilled platter and garnish with crisp lettuce.

To prepare the dressing, mix 1/4 cup, dry mustard, 1 1/2 cups, sugar, salt and pepper to taste, with three olive oil and 2 tbsp. vinegar, then beat in gradually one c. sour cream.

Hall said the rock, which is a volcanic glass, is found in great quantities in the volcanic areas in the west part of the state.

He is interested in Artesia because of the water and gas available. Hall said it would be economically sound to transport the rock here for the processing, which consists of grinding the rock, heating it to a high temperature in a patented furnace, and then exploding it. The process, he said, reduces it in weight as much as 85 per cent.

Perlite in its mortar mixture form can be sawed and nailed like wood, Hall said. It has been used here by Al Baca, who approves perlite as a building material.

Thompson Is Named To Conduct Cotton Field Work Project

Marshall Thompson, assistant Curry County extension agent the last year, has recently been appointed assistant-in-marketing to conduct the field work for the cotton marketing project which the state extension service is conducting under the Research and Marketing Act.

Thompson replaces Thomas M.

Stubblefield, who has resigned to accept a position as teacher of vocational agriculture at the Zuni Indian Reservation.

Thompson, who graduated from New Mexico A. & M. in 1941, served in the Army from 1943 to 1946. He is married and has one child. His father, W. C. Thompson, manages a co-operative cotton gin in the Mesilla Valley.

Purpose of the cotton marketing project is to encourage the identification and certification of cotton, the superior cotton developed for irrigated areas in New Mexico and District 6 of Texas.

dusting or spraying, a special provision will be included which will prohibit the use of 2,4-D in dust form. The restriction will not apply to 2,4-D sprays or to insecticide and fungicide dusts such as are used to destroy the boll weevil and specific plant diseases.

The Department of Agriculture's recommendation to the CAA is an outgrowth of a House of Representatives resolution calling upon the secretary of agriculture to take action to prohibit damage to valuable crops as a result of 2,4-D dust.

Damage to date has resulted from dusting rather than spraying of 2,4-D. However, weed experts of the department are now making test flights to study the drift of 2,4-D sprays at various altitudes and under varying wind conditions. When these tests are completed, the results will be used as a basis for further action, if needed, by the two departments to safeguard crops.

Agriculture weed control specialists also warn against use of 2,4-D dusts under other conditions. When such dust is applied from ground equipment it should be done with extreme caution, they advise. This
