Eddy Tax Roll Passes Million, Westaway Says

Richard A. Westaway, chief deputy assessor, has announced the Eddy County tax roll for 1948-49 will be $1,040,601.15, as compared with $860,163.53 for the previous fiscal year.

The tax roll, representing the amount of taxes to be collected in 1948-49, is based on a valuation of $43,881,716. Oil production value, which is figured on the calendar year, is expected to add between five and six million dollars to the present valuation total after Jan. 1.

Last year, oil production raised the valuation of $38,859,108, basis for the previous tax year to $42,829,025.

The next tax roll went to the county treasurer's office Nov. 2 and tax notices will be sent out immediately. The first half of the taxes will be due during November.

Greatest increase in any fund in the new tax roll is that for school district operating expenses, which includes bond retirement. The 1948-49 amount is $290,749.05, compared to $205,205.15 for 1947-48.

Comparison of other funds for the 1948-49 and 1947-48 tax rolls follows:

State, $252,319.89 and $227,325.78.

City and rural school maintenance, $219,408.59 and $194,295.54.

County purposes, $146,784.35 and $132,626.07.

State livestock special funds, comprising beef and dairy cattle, horses, sheep and hogs, $6,006.34 and $6,657.27, a decrease.

Artesian well conservancy district, $20,706.41 and $15,245.99.

Carlsbad city funds, $80,223.78 and $57,578.96.

Artesia city funds, $23,542.07 and $20,710.18.

Loving funds, $763.63 and $325.75.

Hope funds, $97.04 and $91.84.

Mrs. Bryan Savoie, 51, died at 2:30 o'clock Monday morning at Artesia Memorial Hospital after a lingering illness.

Funeral services were from St. Anthony Catholic Church at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning by Rev. Fr. Stephen Bono. Burial was in Woodbine Cemetery.

Mrs. Savoie is survived by her husband, a son by a previous marriage, Harold H. Wyatt, and a brother and three sisters, John Ward and Mrs. Lula Summers, Comanche, Texas; Mrs. Annie Lacy, Blanket, Texas; and Mrs. Olene Lowe, Lometa, Texas.

As Isla Odesa Ward, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Ward, Mrs. Savoie was born April 2, 1897, in Comanche County, Texas.

She and Mr. Savoie were married here in March, 1946.

Mrs. Savoie came to Artesia from Big Spring, Texas, in 1932.

Advocate Will Come Out Day Early Next Week

As next Thursday, Nov. 11, is Armistice Day, The Advocate will come out on Wednesday. Because of the holiday copies of the newspaper would not be delivered through the postoffice until Friday, if the regular schedule were adhered to.

Advertisers, correspondents, club reporters, and others are asked to co-operate by getting copy in early, as much as possible the latter part of this week, so the job can be wound up Tuesday night and Wednesday morning.

As has been customary in Artesia many years, the majority of Artesia businesses are planning to close on Armistice Day.

By coincidence the big game season will open at noon next Wednesday.

The same early schedule will maintain two weeks later for the Nov. 25 issue, as that date will be Thanksgiving.

General Sage Is Honor Guest At Battalion Dinner

About 130 members of the 670th AAA Battalion, New Mexico National Guard, embracing Artesia, Roswell, Carlsbad, and Hobbs batteries and the headquarters battery of Carlsbad, attended a barbecue dinner Wednesday evening of last week at the Veterans Memorial Building in Artesia, at which Brig. Gen. Charles G. Sage, the adjutant general of New Mexico was honored guest.

In a brief and informal program at the conclusion of the dinner, General Sage spoke briefly.

Lt. William C. White, commander of Battery C of Artesia, the host battery, introduced Lt. Col. C. M. Woodbury of Roswell, group commander, and Lt. Col. Herbert C. Gray of Roswell, battalion commander, for a few words each.

General Sage was flown to Artesia in a C-47 by Capt. George H. Parsons of Kirtland Field, Albuquerque. They returned to Santa Fe after the dinner.

All batteries in the battalion were represented by officers and men. The visiting battery commanders, all of whom were present, Headquarters, Carlsbad, Lt. Robert Jenks; A. Roswell, Lt. William Lovett; B. Carlsbad, Capt. Glenn Lovett; D. Hobbs, Capt. Varnell Fleming.

Another guest was Maj. Raymond B. Rounds, a Regular Army instructor stationed at Carlsbad.

Bulldogs Bow To Snappy Institute Colts Here 33-0

Bowing to the largest defeat this season, the Artesia Bulldogs allowed the snappy ball club from the New Mexico Military Institute to slip and slide over them for a 33-0 win on Morris Field Friday night.

Displaying the snazziest bit of ball handling seen on Morris Field this year, Colt Backs Brewer, Chaillot, Curtis, and McQuiddy lead the Army to victory with their long spectacular runs shot from the "T" formation.

Artesia's threat was that little, but fast Danny Fuller, who piloted most of the Dogs' 11 first downs.

The Colts gave a preview of the coming attractions the first time they were in possession of the ball; when a long drive from their own 36-yard line concluded as Chaillot gathered the first honors.

Lax was the word in the enemy corral the remainder of the first period, but the gates were once again opened in the second, as Bible passed to Brewer, who galloped a magnificent broken-field pattern for 65 yards and a score. The referee's red flag immediately broke the Institute's triumphant cheers as a penalty for a holding was called and they were forced back with a loss of 15 yards. Quarterback Brewer decided that if it

Trio Chest Is Only Half Way To $7000 Goal

The annual Trio Chest Drive campaign, which was launched last Thursday, with hopes the goal of $7000 could be reached in one day, did not do as well as expected and is continuing, William M. Linell, chairman said this morning.

Up to today, he said, $3560.50, or about half, has been collected, of which about $3000 came in last Thursday, when an intensive drive was staged by members of four teams.

It was not so much a case of workers being turned down—for turn-downs were few—as it was a case of workers not being able to cover the entire field in the one day and the fact a number of persons were not found at their places of business or at home.

As all of the workers are busy people and can devote only a limited amount of time to the campaign, Chairman Linell said, they are contacting those designated to them at their own convenience. This takes more time than when all are on the job until a campaign is completed, he pointed out.

However, he said, the workers all have names of those upon whom they are to call and the amounts expected from those probable donors should more than put the campaign over.

The funds are to be split among the Boy and Girl Scout organizations and the Artesia Community Chest, all of which need money with which to carry on.

Funds For Yule Lights Will Be Sought Tuesday

An active campaign will be staged next Tuesday under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce to have the cost of erecting and maintaining the annual Christmas street lights the coming Yule season.

About 20 to 25 active workers are to have breakfast at the Masonic Temple at 7:30 o'clock that morning after which they will start out to collect the $1800 estimated as necessary to put across the program this year, it was announced by Luther E. Sharpe, secretary-manager of the Chamber of Commerce.

He said it is planned for guy wires to be placed permanently, so they may be used for celebrations or any other community purpose in the future.

G. E. Kaiser, lighting committee chairman, asked that merchants and others in Artesia respond generously, in order that the lighting may not only come up to that of past years, but surpass it.

Manager Sharpe pointed out that in the past there has been good support in Artesia and that the city has as a result been one of the most beautifully lighted cities in this section.

Two-Thirds Of County Bumper Cotton Crop In

Dallas Rieron, Eddy County agent, predicted Tuesday that by today 25,000 bales of the expected 36,000 bales of cotton in this year's record Eddy County crop would have been picked.

He said of the total in the county, North Eddy County is raising about two-thirds.

The previous record was last year, when the county produced 31,000 bales of cotton, surpassing 1937, the record year prior to that, the county agent said.

He attributed the new high to four factors, that there has been a 20 per cent increase in the acreage planted to cotton this year, the fact that this has been an unusually good year for cotton, that farmers used more fertilizer, and that they have done more dusting for insects.

Greatest Vote In History Of Artesia Polled

Great interest in the presidential election and the concerted local effort in the "get-out-the-vote" campaign sponsored by the Artesia Kiwanis Club brought out not only a record vote in the Artesia precinct, but helped to poll the greatest percentage of registered voters ever recorded here.

However, the same trend was reflected throughout the state and nation, as many similar campaigns were launched in numerous localities spontaneously.

Some commentators have pointed to the three-way split in the Democratic party and the fighting spirit which President Truman showed in the final days of the heated presidential campaign to the heavy vote throughout the nation. Many Democrats who might otherwise have stayed away from the polls, as do so many citizens and members of both major parties when the campaigns are not so heated, liked the spirit the President manifested and came out to support him, it has been pointed out.

Of 3891 registered voters in the Artesia precinct, 2297 cast ballots Tuesday, a percentage of 59. In Eddy County as a whole 10,169 of the 16,104 registered voters voted in the governor's race Tuesday, or 63 per cent. This figure would be somewhat cut probably below the Artesia percentage, were all ballots cast counted, including those which were contested and those (continued last page this section)

Bulldogs And Coyotes To Meet Here Friday In Homecoming Game

The Artesia Bulldogs will meet the Roswell Coyotes in the homecoming game to be held on Morris Field Friday night.

A snake dance and bonfire at a pep rally tonight will start the festivities. Friday night at half time, the 1948 football queen will be crowned. After the game there will be a dance for the alumni at the high school gymnasium.

The chairman of the homecoming committee, Joe Gray, announced that 200 alumni are expected.

Model Airplane Meet For Valley Enthusiasts To Be Here On Sunday

Model airplane enthusiasts of Artesia, Roswell, and Carlsbad will have a meet and fly their models at the softball field north of Morris Field starting at 9 o'clock Sunday morning.

One of the purposes of the meet is to organize a Pecos Valley model club, with plans to have contests at each of the three cities every year.

The Artesia Air Modelers are to be hosts to model builders from other two cities.

In a Democratic victory Tuesday President Harry Truman was swept back to office and both houses of Congress attained Democratic majorities, while Artesia, Eddy County, and New Mexico at large went straight Democratic.

The re-election of President Truman was not a surprise in many quarters, but it was contrary to the predictions of the Gallup Poll and many of the nations top dopesters.

Thomas E. Dewey, the Republican nominee for president, early Wednesday conceded the election to President Truman and wired him congratulations.

New Mexico's popular Governor Thomas J. Mabry, was given a flood of votes to swamp his Republican opponent, Manuel Lujan, and the entire Democratic ticket went down the line with him. The incomplete and unofficial count Wednesday gave the governor 63,397 votes to 32,248 for Lujan.

The Artesia boxes gave Governor Mabry 1694 votes to 556 for Lujan, while the unofficial count for all 28 of the Eddy County boxes gave him 8189 to 1978, or slightly better than 80 per cent, believed to have been the highest percentage in the state.

Elected to the United States Senate to succeed Sen. Carl A. Hatch was Clinton P. Anderson former secretary of agriculture, who ran up an unofficial, incomplete vote of 57,145 to 36,953 in the state over his Republican opponent, Gen. Patrick J. Hurley. Brijido Garcia Provenio, the Wallace ticket candidate, received a very small vote, of which 72 were cast in Eddy County, while Anderson polled 7973 here to 2109 for Hurley.

Congressman Antonio M. Fernandez was re-elected to Congress, while his running mate, John E. Miles, former governor of New Mexico and current land commissioner, will accompany him to Washington.

In Eddy County Miles topped the vote for Congress with 7996 votes and Congressman Fernandez polled 7636. Their Republican opponents, Ben F. Meyer and Herman G. Baca, received 1947 and 1912 votes, respectively, and Clinton E. Jencks, the Wallace candidate, polled 78, of which two were in Artesia precincts.

Lt. Gov. Joe M. Montoya, who was re-elected over L. Andrew Hendrix, Republican candidate, by a good majority in the state, and polled 7825 to 1978 votes in Eddy County by unofficial count.

All other Democratic candidates on the state ticket won over their Republican opponents by substantially the same majorities in the state at large and Eddy County, as did Governor Montoya over Hendrix.

Although returns from the entire district could not be learned, if the Eddy County vote indicates the trend, Randolph Reese of Roswell, Democrat, will succeed G. T. Watts as district attorney. Eddy County gave him 7414 votes over his Republican opponent, Jack McGarry of Carlsbad.

In the only contested race in Eddy County, J. S. Windham, Democrat, was elected commissioner from the first district over C. C. Bacon, Republican, by a vote of 8112 to 1792. In Artesia the vote was 1631 to 550 for Windham.

All other county offices will be filled by the Democratic candidates without opposition.

Returns on the voting on the bond issue and six constitutional amendments was slow coming in and no definite picture can be given.

On Amendment No. 3, the "right-to-work" amendment, which attracted more attention than any of the others and as a result had more voters, there seemed to be a race on as to its passing or not.

In Eddy County as a whole, 4085 votes were cast against the amendment and 3582 for it, with the Carlsbad precincts accounting for its defeat in the county. By contrast, the five Artesia boxes showed a vote of 979 for the amendment and 218 against.

The Eddy County vote for President was 7339 to 2390 for Dewey. Henry Wallace received 104 votes, of which two were polled in Artesia, one each in 6-A and 6-C.

In Artesia the president received 1516 votes to 681 for Dewey.

Besides the two votes in Artesia for Wallace, two Prohibition and one Socialist presidential ballots were cast in the city. The totals for minority parties in the county as a whole were not learned.

Hundred 'Braceros' From Central Valley Are Returned Monday

Two busloads of "braceros"—Mexican national day laborers—who had been picking cotton in the Central Valley, were loaded out Monday morning for their return to Mexico.

The 100 workers were in charge of four Border Patrolmen.

Under an agreement, 100 of the Mexican nationals now working in fields throughout the Southwest, gathering various types of crops, are to be returned each day from some locality.

Election Is Over

THE ELECTION IS OVER. The voters have selected the officials they want to serve them and have had their say on the six constitutional amendments as well as on Senate Bill 264.

That phase of our program is all completed now for a few months. It is time to forget some of the things that were said and to return to the task of building New Mexico into a greater state.

But the work of having the kind of government we want is still before us. We still have plenty of problems confronting us and we will still have to demand the things we want if we expect to have them.

It is true, of course, that our opinions carry more weight and count more during the election than at any other time, but public opinion is a strong force and it can demand that we have the right kind of administration of our public affairs.

Whether we selected the right officials or not does not keep us from demanding and having the kind of a government we want. We can keep posted on the program of the county, the state, and the nation. If it pleases us—then we should let that fact be known. If the government doesn't please us—then we should let that fact be known, too.

It may be necessary for us to talk out, long and often, if we want to bring about a change. It may be necessary for us to continue to emphasize what we want done. It may be necessary for us to repeat our demands over and over, but if we will do that we still can have the proper administration of our governmental affairs.

Just talking about them; just complaining now and then; just criticizing won't accomplish what we want accomplished.

Because regardless of who was elected and who takes over the offices in the county, the state, and the nation, they are still working for the taxpayers. It is the taxpayers, who pay their salaries and provide the money for the operation of their offices. It is the taxpayers, who are entitled to an economical and efficient administration of their affairs.

And if those hired to handle these matters do not do it in a satisfactory manner, then the taxpayer has the same right to make demands that the operator of private business has.

Yes, the election is over, but as a taxpayer and an American citizen you still have the right to make demands.—O.E.P.

We Are Responsible

TOMATO TOSsing seemingly was a popular pastime during the past political campaign and seemingly it wasn't much concern of the throwers as to the party candidate involved.

Tomatoes were tossed at the Republican, the Democratic, and the Progressive party candidates.

A few years ago that would not have been tolerated. Each community would have handled such a problem because such conduct reflects on that community.

But those youngsters, who tossed those tomatoes, knew better than to do that, but they had the "urge" and they went ahead. They figured there would be little or no punishment and they were probably right.

We, as parents and as adults, seemingly have failed to instill into our boys and girls the respect which they should have for their elders, for those who have been honored. We have failed to instill in them respect for private and public property.

We have gone along firmly convinced, seemingly that it is all right to forget some of the old-fashioned and old-time punishment, which taught discipline.

We do a lot of complaining about the lack of discipline in our classrooms; in our public schools; in our Sunday schools; and even in some of our organizations.

There are those, of course, among the youngsters, who do have respect for leadership, for law, for order, for public and private property. They are worthy of the responsibility, which has been given to them.

But we still have others, who are not capable and who will not accept this responsibility. They need to be taught discipline and they must be taught this discipline at home. The schools neither have the youngsters under them long enough nor do they have the authority any more to handle this problem.

sponsibility for this situation to either the schools or to others. It is ours. We are the ones, who are to blame.

Maybe the razor strop and the woodshed are a little old-fashioned, but they would supply a little modern discipline, which certainly is needed today.

We as adults and parents can correct the situation and the condition, which prevails now if and when we really and truly desire to do something about it.—O.E.P.

Here We Go Again

INVARIABLY AFTER AN ELECTION we have our dander up, and almost as invariably we write an editorial about it.

We are referring to the so-called secret ballots used in New Mexico.

We do not say that anyone having access to the ballots after an election has ever peeked under the pasted-down corners to read the ballot numbers, and then compare them with the pollbooks. But it could be done.

In other states they do not number ballots. They are carefully counted before being delivered to the election officials, who must account for every one, those in the ballot boxes, those voided, and those unvoted. And they are validated by the simple expedient of having one judge at each polling place initial each either before it is handed to a voter, or after he has voted and before it is placed in the box.

When the State Legislature meets next January one of the sorry laws which should be changed is that of numbering the ballots and hiding the numbers under pasted-down corners.—A.L.B.

Better Watch 'Em

WARNINGS ARE BEING issued today regarding credit and credit accounts. Those, who claim to be in the know, are stressing the fact that everyone should watch credits more closely in the weeks and months ahead than in a good many years.

Those, who have good credit ratings, of course, are going to take care of their credit. They are going to continue to pay their bills promptly and on time. Those, who are inclined to be slow are going to continue to be slow and perhaps get worse.

As we have pointed out many times before, credit is a convenience to those, who are granted credit. It is a courtesy being extended to us. We have been granted a favor and should show our appreciation by paying this obligation promptly and on time.

But there are always those, who are not entitled to credit and they should not be given credit. Just how long as business people we are going to continue to grant credit where no right to have or seek credit has been earned, makes us wonder. But we go along and grant credit when we shouldn't, just as we continue to go along and cash checks, which shouldn't be cashed.

One of these days we perhaps are going to be wise and use a credit bureau or we are going to check with one another. And when we do we are going to reduce our bad accounts and we are going to have less losses from bad credits.

It is always far better not to have and enjoy business for which we cannot collect than it is to have the business and not be able to collect for the job after it has been done or after the merchandise has been delivered.

And now is a good time for us to begin to settle down and check credit ratings and to go over our accounts. Now is a good time to do the collecting, which is necessary and which should be done and to check those applying to us for credit.

Credit ratings must be earned and they must be deserved by those, who have them. We only enjoy good credit if we pay our bills promptly and on time. And we must continue to do this if we are to continue to enjoy good credit ratings.

And all credits should be checked very carefully in the days and the weeks ahead.—O.E.P.

Gadget Advertising

A LITTLE BOOKLET, The Pocketbook, which comes to our desk, tells about a smartly dressed, smooth-talking man who dropped in to discuss a few matters with a merchant, among which was what he claimed to be a unique and highly effective advertising campaign.

"This advertising is something different," he told the merchant. The Pocketbook continues, "You can't get it anywhere else. Your newspaper can't provide it. This will be something exclusive with you. Just sign here."

But before signing here, there, or anywhere else, it might be smart to stop and ask yourself how anything that good escaped the men who spend millions of dollars yearly for advertising.

Men who spend millions for advertising also spend thousands to test their advertising and be sure that they are getting their money's worth. No promising proposition or scheme is blindly turned down. They waste proportionately less of their advertising money that most small advertisers because they seek results—not something different.

General Motors, Henry Ford, the big oil refiners, department stores, and food men don't spend their money for advertising in home newspapers because they like the editorial policy or because they haven't been offered hundreds of schemes and novelties. They advertise in newspapers for results—to make money.

Gadget advertising has no place in the retailer's budget, unless he can afford to be more wasteful than the big boys.—A.L.B.

PROPOSAL FROM A "TWO GUN MAN"

New Mexico's 200th Will Be Honored At Bliss Nov. 5-7

"National Guard units fighting in Bataan," said the terse communique of April 21, 1942, "were the 192nd and the 194th Tank Battalions and the 200th Coast Artillery, Anti-aircraft."

Three officers and 104 enlisted men of the 200th Coast Artillery were evacuated from Bataan and are now at Corregidor.

"All other members of these National Guard organizations," concluded the fateful words, "are believed to be in the hands of the enemy. There is nothing to report from other areas."

On the basis of such frugal dispatches did grimly sorrowing Americans begin to comprehend the triumph of courage that was making the names of Bataan and Corregidor synonymous with Bunker Hill and Valley Forge. What was taking place spelled out, from hour to hour, the sorriest defeat United States forces ever suffered abroad.

But it vouchsafed at home a nation's promise that a conflict born in defeat would terminate in ultimate victory.

Recognition of El Paso's own indebtedness to the stalwart New Mexico Guardsmen, many of them from North Eddy County, who trained at Fort Bliss only a few months prior to the Japanese onslaught will add a serious undertone to the Fort Bliss Centennial program Nov. 5-7. To be unveiled before 200th Regiment survivors and high military and civilian dignitaries will be the cylindrical memorial at Pershing Gate entrance to Fort Bliss, jointly commemorating the sacrifice of those who fought in defense of their country since frontier days.

Chronologically, it was in the spring of 1949 that the 11th Cavalry of the New Mexico National Guard was converted into the 200th Coast Artillery Regiment (AA). As such, the organization entered federal service Jan. 6, 1941, and trained at Fort Bliss until August of that year. Its men arrived at Fort Stoenburg in the Philippines on Sept. 26, and saw their first action the afternoon of Dec. 8, when attacked by Japanese bombers at Clark Field. The same evening, a cadre of 500 officers and men from the 200th was detached to Manila for harbor defense. This group later was designated the 515th Coast Artillery. Within a few days prior to the fall of Bataan both regiments were combined into a single brigade, designated as the Philippine Provisional Coast Artillery Brigade (AA). Its remnants were overwhelmed with remaining Luzon forces and surrendered to the Japanese April 9, 1942.

Arriving overseas, the 200th enjoyed the dubious distinction of being the only anti-aircraft unit in the Southwest Pacific area, excepting the Corregidor garrison. But that it should assume full defense of a vast perimeter in the fact of hundreds of enemy fighter and bomber assaults seemed to concern few people, least of all the 200th.

At Clark Field, the 200th was no match for the 300 Japanese planes that roared in from Formosa early in the afternoon of Dec. 8. Five of the attackers were shot down, but when the smoke cleared, their toll included much of the regiment's irreplaceable men and equipment. The same night, the 500 officers and men under command of Col. Harry M. Peck were assigned to the defense of Manila, the column going into action the next morning against 54 twin-engine bombers raiding the dock area.

Unopposed in the air in the vicinity of Clark Field, the Japs meanwhile sought to make doubly certain that the American Far East Air Force remained ineffective. Daily bombing and strafing was the lot of the 200th defenders whose only hope was that the base might be held for later aerial reinforcements.

Two weeks after Pearl Harbor, Japanese troops invaded Luzon, forcing the American withdrawal into Bataan. The parent 200th at Clark Field then assumed the mission of covering the retreat of the Northern Luzon Force into Bataan while the Provisional Manila Group christened Dec. 19 as the 515th Coast Artillery (AA), assumed a similar mission for the South Luzon force.

Successive withdrawals and deployments to keep pace with retreating units turned into a nightmare. The skeletonized 200th, covering withdrawal of three divisions of infantry, stretched its dwindling numbers to the utmost. The 515th, coping with a similar problem in withdrawal of the Southern Luzon defense, slugged it out with Jap forces at Calumpit Bridges for five days and nights before Filipino troops could withdraw.

With the Infantry finally bedded down in Bataan, the 200th and 515th turned to defense of the Cabacaban and Bataan air fields, successfully defending in the ensuing weeks the last six P-40 fighter planes in the Philippines. In the next three months, while enemy air actions were sporadic in scope, malaria and dysentery increased alarmingly, the incidence of cases averaging 70 per cent of some units.

Food, likewise, became a serious problem. By February, the static ration had been reduced to a half pound of rice per man per day with a can of sardines split two ways for dessert. With final depletion of sardines, hunting for monkeys, iguanas, carabaos, and snakes be-

As Artesia Grows

TWENTY YEARS AGO
(From The Advocate Files for Nov. 8, 1928)

The Artesia Bulldogs will meet the fast Portales Rams on the West Main gridiron here Friday afternoon. According to dope, these two teams are evenly matched and a good game is expected.

The Artesia business houses will close Monday, Nov. 12, in observance of Armistice Day, which falls on Sunday this year. The drug stores will observe Sunday hours, while the garages will remain open part of the day. The remainder of the stores will be closed, it was announced yesterday.

A general exodus to the hills is expected to take place Saturday, Nov. 10, at the opening of the deer season. Deer and wild turkey are reported plentiful in some of the game refuges.

The Methodist ladies gave their annual November chicken pie supper in the old Palace Drug store building last Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. John Lanning and little daughter, Bettynelle, left Tuesday for a three-week visit with relatives at Oklahoma City and Muskogee, Okla.

TEN YEARS AGO

(From The Advocate files for Nov. 3, 1938)

Probably it would be easier to tell who did not go deer hunting than those who did, for the town seems deserted this week, the 15-day season having opened Tuesday. In fact, there will be few to read The Advocate this week, a casual glance up and down the street would indicate, but postal regulations require publication, so the office remained open and the force on the job, and here it is for all homebodies to read.

Mrs. Jess Funk of Cottonwood was elected president and Mrs. Lynn Buford of Artesia, vice president, of the Eddy County Women's Council at a conference in Carlsbad Saturday. Mrs. Ralph Thayer of El Paso Gap was named secretary-treasurer. Mrs. Funk replaces Mrs. C. T. Hopkins of Black River, retiring president.

Hallowe'en was a fairly orderly affair in Artesia, with no destruction reported and only one type of prank of a serious nature—turning on water hydrants.

By April 3, 1942, the Japanese had sufficient reinforcements with which to drive down the peninsula. An intense concentration of air and artillery fire was laid against the wavering front line while the rear areas sustained constant strafing and bombing attacks. On the same day, the 200th and 515th were merged into an anti-aircraft artillery brigade in command of Col. Charles E. Sage with Col. Memory H. Cain in command of the 200th. Within 24 hours, however, the organization was compelled to destroy its own anti-aircraft equipment to organize as infantry defending the line south of Cabacaban air field.

The 24-hour life span of the brigade saw new chaos. Japanese infantry units, paced by tanks, pushed through the sagging line, seeking only to exploit the breakthrough. Within a matter of hours, amid the scream of planes and shells, punctuated throughout by the throb of exploding ammunition dumps, came orders to surrender to the nearest Japanese units.

After the surrender came the infamous "Death March" and three and a half years of incarceration in Japanese prisoner of war camps. Of 1800 New Mexico men sent to the Philippines, 1000 were to return.

In official narratives of this organization, which in Gen. Jonathan M. Wainwright's words, was "the first one to go into action defending our flag in the Pacific," the terms, "magnificent defense," "outstanding technical ability and courage and devotion to duty," "tremendous effect in support," appear with commonplace regularity.

Yet, the mind's eye view of one leader who saw it through from beginning to end, seems far more poignant to any man or woman who would know the 200th.

"I met many men of the unit," he said, "during the war and in Japanese prison camps. Few on Bataan will ever forget the unflinching good humor of the boys from New Mexico, their willingness to help out, and their cheerful acceptance of impossible situations."

Pingrey Explains Economics Of Calf Feeding

H. B. Pingrey, associate agricultural economist at the New Mexico Agricultural Experiment Station, says it is reported that two Pecos Valley feeders met on the street one day and talked over the feeding situation.

Said one feeder, "I heard you bought some calves. Going to stock them through the winter?"

"Yep, just bought them this morning," was the answer.

"What did they cost?" asked the first feeder.

"One hundred and five dollars a head, and they'll weigh in" at 375 pounds a head."

"What will they bring next spring?" asked the first feeder.

"Don't know, but I expect the gain to cost me about 17.6 cents a pound."

"Won't make much, will you?" commented the first feeder.

"Maybe not," remarked the second feeder. "But don't forget that I will have the pleasure of the calves' company this winter."

"Let's analyze these brief remarks a bit more in detail," says Pingrey. At 28 cents a pound, a 375-pound calf will cost $105. Feed lot costs will approximate $27 a head. If the calves were on the farm 150 days, they would be grazed 80 days on pasture, from which alfalfa and other field crops had been harvested, and they would be fed a pound of cottonseed cake a day. During the other 90 days, they would be fed 10 pounds of hay, 2 1/2 pounds of grain sorghum, and a pound of cottonseed cake daily. At prevailing prices, this would cost about $21.50 a head. During the 150 days on feed, these calves should gain, allowing a 3 per cent shrink at sale time, about 154 pound a head, or slightly more than a pound a head daily. Feed cost will be approximately 13.9 cents per pound of gain. After allowing for labor, interest, and other incidental expense, this cost will be increased to 17.6 cents. This is equivalent to about $27 a head for calves.

A feeder, therefore, will pay a total cost of $132 a head. As the calf will weigh about 529 pounds at sale time, the feeder can break even if he receives a price of about 25 cents a pound. For each cent per pound advance in price above 25 cents, the feeder will make a profit of $5.29 a head. The pleasure obtained from feeding calves, Pingrey declares.

Electrification In Rural Areas Is 53 Per Cent

Farm electrification in New Mexico has reached 52.9 per cent, compared with 68.9 for the nation as a whole, the U.S. Department of Agriculture has announced.

According to the Rural Electrification Administration, 13,994 farms and ranches in New Mexico had access to central station electric service on June 30, while 15,701 farms and ranches in the state were still without such service. Statutory allotment for REA loans in New Mexico during the fiscal year 1949 total $1,706,920.

As for the nation, 4,019,476 farms were electrified by June 30, an increase of 444,835 over the same date last year.

Of the newly-connected farms in the U.S., 320,677 were reached by REA-financed rural power distributors, who placed into operation 119,375 miles of lines during the year, the department said. In addition to these farms, REA borrowers added about 100,000 other rural consumers to their systems during the year.

Despite this unprecedented gain, a formidable job of rural electrification remains, the USDA reported, for about 1,840,000 farms still were without electricity.

to get off to a good start? Then let your Mileage Merchant steer you right... tell you that when it comes to fast, winter starts, a lot depends on having the right kind of oil in your engine. He'll tell you, the right oil is winter-grade Conoco Motor Oil. For two reasons:
 because winter-grade N^o is specially formulated for cold-weather performance. It's freer-flowing. Saves wear on your battery... and on your nerves... because it gives you faster starts.

 And second, N^o oil extra-protects against "dry" friction starts... saves wear on engine parts... because it contains a special, added ingredient that actually OIL-PLATES metal surfaces. And this extra film of lubricant stays up... won't all drain down, even overnight!
 So, if you want to start off right—and right off—on the next wintry morning...

Make a date to Oil-Plate!

Staff of Artesia Hi Beacon Is Named This Week

The election of the Beacon staff of the Artesia High School journalism department was held this week as the first step toward the publishing of the school paper.

will preside as editor the first semester, with Shirley Sherwood as assistant editor. Circulation will be handled by Betty Brown and Peggy Johnson. Advertising managers will be Lewis Richardson and James Kelley.

Feature writers are Barbara Harold and Jack Rains. Art will be taken care of by Wanda McDonald. Nan Robinson and Norma Essex will be in charge of exchange. Photographers are Harry Fletcher and Glenn Exum. Sports will be handled by Joe Gray and Gerald Roach.

The first addition, which will come out Nov. 23, marks the 10th years of publication.

Report—

the city will have been paved. At the time of his report, eight blocks of residential paving had been completed, Mayor Roberts said. By spring 50 blocks should have been completed, he added.

If county and state aid is received, and he believes it will be, Mayor Roberts hopes to see the proposed truck by-pass from the Nunn stockyards corner on the north highway west to the Artesia County Club corner, and then south to Highway 83. It is hoped also to have 13th Street paved a mile north and south of Main Street with county aid.

Mayor Roberts said the garbage truck body for the new city unit has been delivered to the truck factory and delivery should be made reasonably soon. When delivery is received it will be possible to have garbage collection as frequently as needed, he said.

In his report on housing, President Gaskins said two separate surveys by engineers both indicate there is a need here for 750 more housing units.

At the present time, as for a number of months, there are 12 to 15 houses under construction, he said, but at that rate the situation is not being helped much.

Now, the chamber president reported, a corporation has been set up which already has under construction 10 houses, while application for 16 more is being made.

The corporation will be able to build as many houses as people can buy, and all are FHA and GI approved, he said. Although the final prices have not been set, he said the two-bedroom houses will sell for about $8200, and three-bedroom houses for $9500. Inspectors have informed President Gaskins that comparable houses elsewhere are selling for from $10,000 to $12,000.

He reported that the corporation is set up to produce houses for the Artesia community, rather than to make money.

The first of the houses now under construction will be ready for occupancy in November and the remainder in December, President Gaskins said.

In reporting on the recent CAB hearing in Albuquerque, Smith said the city now "has the ball rolling" and Artesia should have air service soon.

The factual data presented at the hearing by Manager Sharpe was the finest and most complete from any community represented at the hearing, Smith said, complimenting the chamber manager for the thorough job he did in preparing the exhibit.

Data presented at the hearing in Albuquerque must be reviewed by the CAB in Washington, D. C., before a decision is made by that federal agency, Smith said. But he was very optimistic as to the ultimate outcome.

Rev. Morgan Named President New Mexico Baptists At Convention

Rev. S. M. Morgan, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Artesia, was unanimously elected president of New Mexico organizations last Thursday at the closing session of the annual convention in Clovis.

Fred Cole of Artesia was elected vice president of the Baptist Men's Brotherhood.

could be done once it could be done again. This time Bible was the ambassador to pay territory. He took the ball on his own 84-yard line and evaded tacklers all the way to the goal. The try for conversion was good.

Once more before the half time, the Colts added to the fast growing score, as Curtis turned on the speed at the midfield stripe and journeyed all the way for tally No. 3. The oddity on this play was that he was touched by practically all the Bulldog squad, but because of his twisting and turning he managed to shake loose from them all.

After the half the Colts came back as powerful as ever as they scored the second play after the kickoff on a 44-yard run by Bible. The try for extra point after the score served as a morale booster the losing Bulldogs. Collins, the point kicker was swamped by the enraged locals, who blocked the boot and shattered his 100 per cent record for the season.

The last six points blossomed in the final period with Bible still on the march, this time from the 14-yard mark on a hand-off from Brewer.

Troubles galore confronted the Orange and Black clad hosts. The passes fell incomplete. Their gains were good, but carried them no place. They would tackle the runner, but couldn't get him down, and several star players were on the sidelines injured. Despite these faults they played hard and fast, but were just up against a better team.

Tomorrow night they will again be hosts to a Roswell team. This time it will be the powerful Coyotes who are old foes of the Dogs. The game will be played on Morris Field, at 7:30 o'clock, a half hour earlier than previous games here this season.

Prizes in the sorghum exhibits of hegar and milo will be $1.50, $1, and 50 cents, and the same premiums will apply to the display of cotton and garden plates.

All exhibits must be in place by 9:30 o'clock Saturday morning.

Carolyn Jones of the Artesia 4-H Club, who had the grand champion fat calf last year, and Tommie Grandi of the Carlsbad FFA Chapter, who showed the reserve champion calf, will be competing again for the fat calf honors. Mary Hughes of El Paso Gap 4-H Club, Charlotte Forehand and June Spurlin, Carlsbad 4-H members; Julius Roberson of the Otis 4-H Club, and Aubrey Kincaid of the Hope 4-H Club, whose calves placed and were auctioned last year, will be among others exhibiting again.

Billie Sherman of Carlsbad, who exhibited the first-place barrow last year, will compete again. Other 4-H members who will be back to compete with exhibits of fat barrows include Owen Carleton, Malaga; Perry and Hunter Zumwalt, Artesia, and W. L. Gray, Cottonwood.

Members of 4-H Clubs who will exhibit fat lambs include Eddie Mott and Frank Westfall, Carlsbad; Tom and Mary Evelyn Price, Lakeview; Margaret Nymeyer, Loving; Jean Rayroux, Carlsbad, and Jerry Hough, Otis.

Capons will be auctioned for the first time this year.

Bikes Are To Be Fixed Up With Scotchlite Today

At the conclusion of the weekly luncheon of the Artesia Kiwanis Club at noon today, members are to visit the various schools in the city to apply Scotchlite to students' bicycles as a safety measure.

The club voted some weeks ago to sponsor this project at club expense and to lead in the application of the luminous tape to bicycles of boys and girls of the city at no cost to them.

Further announcement is to be made by the club as to how other bicycle owners may secure tape for their bikes.

It was announced at the meeting last Thursday that 19 members of the club and wives and company had attended a past presidents' banquet in Roswell Tuesday of last week.

They were Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Cranford, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Dilard, Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Hankins, Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Mathis, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. McQuay, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Mulcock, Mr. and Mrs. George E. Traylor, Miss Alyce Erickson, W. W. Ports, and Rev. Ralph O'Dell.

At the meeting last Thursday, J. B. (Buster) Mulcock prevailed upon the club members to give all assistance possible to the "get-out-the-vote" campaign. Appreciation was expressed to the Boy Scouts for the part they were taking in the campaign.

Only one turkey may be taken during the season this year, and the big-game licenses for the first time have only one turkey tag in addition to the deer tag. The third tag this year is for bear.

Some portions of the big-game country are closed to turkey hunting, including the Guadalupe division of the Lincoln National Forest and the adjacent foothills.

State Game Warden Elliott S. Barker has issued an appeal to hunters to be careful, so as to have no hunting accidents this season. "Be sure its legal game before you shoot," he said.

The first annual banquet of the Artesia chapter of the Game Protective Association, which was to have been held this evening at the Masonic Temple, has been postponed because speakers from upstate who were expected could not come at this time, it was announced Wednesday by Clarence E. All members of the newly-organized association are entitled to attend the banquet without cost, as their membership dues included a fee for a banquet. Guests will be permitted at the cost of host members.

'Kitchen Matches' Lead To Fires In Cotton Bales

A marked increase in cotton fires, attributed directly to "kitchen matches," prompted the National Cotton Council to issue a special fire-prevention warning to cotton growers, gins, and warehouses throughout the 18-state Cotton Belt.

A number of instances have been reported recently to the council in which "strike-anywhere," "non-safety" matches carried by pickers have found their way into seed cotton, later to star fires in the highly inflammable raw cotton or during the ginning process. Several disastrous fires this season have been traced to such sources.

The large influx of seasonal labor at harvest time brings workers into the cotton fields who are unaware of the constant danger of fire, the council reminds producers.

Extension Service Names Food Specialist

DR. EVELYN L. BLANCHARD, above, has been recently appointed extension nutritionist with New Mexico A & M College, succeeding Edith Mae Hughes, who resigned in September.

From May to July, Miss Blanchard was director-general of the Association for School Nutrition in Mexico City. She was head of home economics and biological research departments of the Golden State Dairy Co. in San Francisco from 1941 to 1948, and from 1938 to 1941, she was instructor in home economics at the University of California. A graduate of Iowa State in 1932, Miss Blanchard received her master of science degree from the University of Arizona in 1934 and her doctor of philosophy degree from the State University of Iowa in 1938.

As state extension nutritionist, she will advise county home demonstration agents and rural homemakers in problems pertaining to food preservation, food preparation, and food production.

Loans Cannot Be Made Unless Properly Stored

Although loans are available to support the farm price of wheat and grain sorghums, they cannot be made unless the grain is stored properly. Roy Forehand, chairman of the Eddy County Agricultural Conservation Committee, told farmers. Details of the loan program together with specifications for proper storage, may be obtained at the county ACP office, located at the courthouse in Carlsbad. Providing enough storage for a record crop of all grains has become a major problem for the nation. Preliminary surveys indicate the country is 800 million bushels short of enough storage space for the 1948 crop. Officials point out that every bit of the large crop is needed and none should be allowed to spoil through improper storage.

There is little chance to expand country and terminal elevator storage, so if the crop is all to be put under cover it will have to be stored on the farms, said Forehand. If farmers will make their storage requirements known instead of waiting until too late, it is possible that the problem can be met, the chairman said. He urged all farmers who have grain to store to be alert to the problem and not depend on country or terminal elevator storage which may not be available.

Brannan Speaks On Conservation Of Soil Practices

Some of the most important soil conservation gains cannot be measured in statistics, Secretary of Agriculture Charles F. Brannan pointed out recently.

Commenting that the Agricultural Conservation Program represents real progress but that we must not become over-optimistic, the secretary said:

"We have finally recognized that economic conditions have a definite influence on the use and misuse of soil. We have recognized that all of us share responsibility for building up and conserving the land. We have recognized not only

Little Pigs Stunted By Worm Infestation Tests Show Marked Retarding of Growth

Seldom are farmers inclined to argue with scientists, livestock specialists and others who keep warning that internal parasites are harmful to swine. Occasionally, however, a farmer will pose the question: "How much injury is caused by worm infestation?"

The answer to that question is provided in tests conducted by the bureau of animal industry to determine how much the growth of pigs is retarded by roundworms (ascaris).

Growth of this pig will be determined largely by number of worms present.

In carrying out the experiment the bureau used eight litter-mate pigs eight weeks old, feeding four of them infective roundworm eggs. The other four, which served as controls, received no worm eggs.

After four months all eight pigs were weighed, killed and examined for roundworms. None were found in the control pigs, but the other four harbored 109, 39, 20 and 12 respectively.

Growth of the four pigs that had roundworms at autopsy was less rapid than the four controls. The pig with 109 worms weighed 8.5 pounds less than at the time it was fed the worm eggs; its control litter-mate gained 96 pounds.

The pig with 39 roundworms gained only 46 per cent as much as its control; the one with 20 roundworms, only 55 per cent as much as its control. The growth of the pig with only 12 roundworms was not retarded very much; it weighed nearly as much as its control mate.

that conservation payments are right in our democracy but also that they are a tremendously effective aid in getting the job done.

"We have built a great system of administration in which farmers not only carry out a program but also study the needs of the local farms and help develop program improvements."

These three principles were listed by Secretary Brannan as essential to the success of any national conservation program and as a defined and specific measure for the security of the United States:

"Any program should be administered by locally-elected farmer committees.

"We should assist and encourage farmers in establishing soil and water conservation practices by means of payments for practices performed.

"We should provide the technical assistance necessary in making complete conservation plans and carryin gout complicated practices on farms."

Data Circulars By Raymond Lamb Are Released By Bureau

E. G. Anderson, director of the New Mexico Bureau of Mines and Mineral Resources, has announced the release of circulars 19-A and 19-B. Circular 19-A is entitled "New Mexico Oil and Gas Statistical Data for 1947" and the title of circular 19-B is "New Mexico Oil and Gas Engineering Data for 1947."

Both circulars were compiled by N. Raymond Lamb, former petroleum engineer of the bureau's Artesia office, and the Lea County Operators Committee, in co-operation with the New Mexico Oil Conservation Commission. They are the third of a series on oil and gas production and engineering data and include all pools in New Mexico. This service has proven to be of valuable aid to the state's operators.

Research to Intensify Winter in Meat Tests

Freezing is one of the oldest ways of preserving meat. It is also one of the newest, the U. S. department of agriculture points out.

In old-time freezing there was not much that could be done about the process. It was a winter method depending on continued cold. A mid-winter or early-spring thaw might spoil a meat supply intended to last for additional weeks or months. This was true whether the meat was wild game brought in by hunters or was from domestic animals.

Modern freezing is still so new that there is a good deal to be learned about it.

This is the purpose of an expansion of studies of meat freezing and curing made possible under the research and marketing act. A first step will be to survey freezing and curing methods now in use. Samples of meats typical of these methods of preservation will be assembled and compared for quality and nutritive value. Next, the experimenters will try first to duplicate, then improve the methods which the survey and comparison work indicate are most effective.

The bureau of animal industry will have equipment that can improve on even the most severe winter weather. It will be able to freeze meat at 100 degrees below zero if that proves desirable.

Quality Cream Boosts Returns to Dairymen

Production of high quality cream will pay dividends to the dairymen.

A few suggestions for assuring top production: Protect separate from rust; rinse with chlorine solution before using; wash with powder immediately after each separation by successful sheep men, therefore, is directed against development or reproduction of the offending worms. While most of the eggs and young worms of these parasites are destroyed in winter, sheep must be treated to prevent entry of worms into the intestinal tract.

Several Sheep Ailments Are Caused by Worms

Several ailments of sheep, including "modular disease," "stomach worm disease" and "black scours," are caused by worms. Main attack by successful sheep men, therefore, is directed against development or reproduction of the offending worms. While most of the eggs and young worms of these parasites are destroyed in winter, sheep must be treated to prevent entry of worms into the intestinal tract.

Be Sure It Is Legal Game Before Shooting

As the hunting season approaches sportsmen are beginning to think about where to go to get a deer or a turkey, and what rifle and ammunition to use and otherwise how to get their game. State Game Warden Elliott S. Barker declared:

"But there is something else of far more importance that hunters had better be thinking of," asserted Barker. "Seldom does a big game season pass that one or more hunters aren't killed. We were fortunate in getting by without any shooting fatalities last year. But the record was not too clean, for several men were shot and wounded by other reckless, trigger happy hunters.

"Now is the time to begin thinking about which is the more important, getting your game or that all your hunting buddies get back from the hunt alive. Just think seriously how you, Mr. Hunter, would feel if you should kill your hunting companion, or how your folks would feel if you had to be brought out of the woods on a stretcher.

"There is absolutely no excuse at all for shooting another for a deer, and there is one simple rule which, if followed, will positively prevent that ever being done. Just be sure it is legal game before you shoot."

Other matters that the warden called attention to is the killing of does, and said the same rule applies to avoid doe killing, that is, "be sure it's legal game before you shoot."

"Still another important item is," the warden warned, "to respect private and public property and the rights of the landowner. The greatest cause of lands being posted is the disregard of some hunters of the ranchman's rights and property. Treat him right and fair if you expect such treatment in return.

"If all hunters would just keep their indoor manners when they go out into the woods with a gun it would promote a lot of good will. "Be careful and we will have a good season."

again! They seem to have a knack for turning out hit films, one of which, "The Lost Weekend," won them the much-coveted Academy Award. Now, following their recent success with "The Emperor Waltz," comes "A Foreign Affair," rich with wit and originality and starring Jean Arthur, Marlene Dietrich, and John Lund.

The Paramount comedy, which opens Sunday at the Landsun Theater, is a sly combination of humor and love, in an extremely interesting setting—postwar Berlin. Background were actually shot by Director Wilder in Berlin and they give the film not only pictorial authenticity, but atmospheric as well.

Jean Arthur, who returns to the screen after a four-year absence, portrays a straight-laced Congresswoman, one of a committee come to Berlin to investigate morale among the GI's of the American occupation force. Her transition into a happily romantic woman in love is accomplished in a way which substantiates Miss Arthur's reputation as one of America's cleverest comedienne.

Marlene sings three unusual, torch songs written especially for her intimate style. They are "Illusions," "The Ruins of Berlin," and "Black Market."

of the ledger, government activities in Sandoval, Santa Fe, Bernalillo are undoubtedly responsible for much of the gain registered there. Moreover, the UNM has been able to make a survey in Bernalillo, but figures have not been available in all counties of the state on the situation, said Prof. Edgel.

Among the other 22 counties showing gains, the percentages as follows: Chavez and Grant each, Otero and Roosevelt 22, Quay 21, McKinley 20, Taos San Juan 10, Rio Arriba 9, Doña Ana 7, and Lincoln, San Miguel, Hidalgo, 2 each.

The New Mexico counties with their percentage loss since 1940 are: Harding 31, Socorro 28, Mora 12, Sierra Blanca 10, and Union 9 each, Colfax and Guadalupe 2.

National Drive For Scrap Iron Is Under Way

A national drive to collect scrap iron is now under way, according to a recent announcement by Secretary of Agriculture Charles F. Brannan.

"Although steel production is at an all-time high, it is still insufficient to meet our requirements," the secretary said. "In addition to the need for steel in our domestic economy—the farms, the homes, and industry—ever-increasing quantities of steel are necessary for the military program and the European Recovery Program.

"Scrap iron is bringing the highest price in history, but not enough of it is getting to the mills to permit them to operate at capacity.

"The farmers of this country are vitally affected by steel production, as they use so many steel products on their farms and in their homes. Farmers made a splendid contribution when they were called on to collect scrap during World War II. Once more their all-out effort is urgently needed."

Eddy Leads In Population Gain, Estimate Shows

With only nine of the 31 counties of New Mexico showing a decrease in population since the government census of 1940, the other 22 have gained enough to bring the overall picture to a 27 per cent increase, according to a new estimate by Prof. Ralph Edgel, director of the University of New Mexico Bureau of Business Research. The latest figures give New Mexico an estimated population of 667,000 as against 531,818, a net gain of 144,182 since the last official census eight years ago. Based largely on the school census, the UNM figures show Edg County well in the lead with a gain of 76 per cent followed closely by Luna and Bernalillo with 66 per cent each, Curry 60 per cent, Santa Fe 40, Lea 38, Sandoval 37, Valencia 35, and Dona Ana 31.

Of the leaders on the credit side of the ledger, government activities in Sandoval, Santa Fe, Bernalillo are undoubtedly responsible for much of the gain registered there. Moreover, the UNM has been able to make a survey in Bernalillo, but figures have not been available in all counties of the state on the situation, said Prof. Edgel.

Among the other 22 counties showing gains, the percentages as follows: Chavez and Grant each, Otero and Roosevelt 22, Quay 21, McKinley 20, Taos San Juan 10, Rio Arriba 9, Doña Ana 7, and Lincoln, San Miguel, Hidalgo, 2 each.

The New Mexico counties with their percentage loss since 1940 are: Harding 31, Socorro 28, Mora 12, Sierra Blanca 10, and Union 9 each, Colfax and Guadalupe 2.
