

Young Mother Is Charged With Killing Baby

Marion Delia Varner of Artesia, wife of George Edgar Varner, was bound over Wednesday to the action of the Eddy District Court on a charge of first degree murder in connection with the death last Thursday of her daughter, Ramona, 20 months old, whom the state alleged was killed by injuries inflicted by the mother.

At the inquest Friday, it was brought out by testimony that the baby had died about 2:15 o'clock the afternoon prior at Artesia Memorial Hospital, where she had been taken by ambulance from the office of a local physician, to which she had been taken from the Varner trailer home at B. & B. Courts by her mother and Mrs. Roy Burris in the Burris automobile about 11:30 o'clock in the morning.

Dr. R. C. Derbyshire, who performed an autopsy at the Paulin Funeral Home, and Dr. Pete J. Starr, who assisted him, both gave testimony at the inquest that all parts of the baby's body bore numerous bruises and that there were some scratches. They said their findings were that the child had died from cerebral and abdominal hemorrhages.

However, at the preliminary hearing Wednesday, Don Bush, counsel for the defense, questioned the physicians at some length as to the possibility the Varner baby might have been suffering from purpura, a condition or disease characterized by livid spots on the skin, caused by a deficiency in the platelet count.

Although firm in their testimony that they had no way of ascertaining that, both physicians said it was possible the baby were so afflicted.

Under cross examination, the physicians testified likewise that if the Varner baby were suffering from purpura it would be possible that multiple bruises on her body could have been incurred in normal play with an older sister. Ramona's sister, Andrea, is about 2 1/2 years old.

A third physician, Dr. L. F. Hamilton, was called by the defense to testify as to the possibility of purpura. Dr. Hamilton said he had examined the Varner baby after the body had been embalmed and that his first impression was that she showed indications of purpura.

Dr. Hamilton, as had the other physicians, described the numerous bruise-like spots on the baby's body. He said they were practically all over, in size from quite small to about the size of a quarter.

Legalized Gambling

THERE IS A BILL now introduced in the Legislature to provide for legalized gambling in New Mexico—all kinds and types of gambling.

The bill only provides for local option and it will require the signatures of 25 per cent of the voters in each county to secure the election.

The measure, of course, is going to be opposed by those who have shared in the "pay-off" for the gambling, which has been underway and which rules now, while those, who are being required to make the pay-off in order to continue to operate, are going to be working for the passage of the measure.

But the fact remains that if we are going to have legalized gambling there should be sufficient license fee attached to the license to help operate the state. The proposed fee is only $1000 with the county and cities authorized to collect their license fees.

Without a doubt there will be plenty of discussions and plenty of action. And if the measure does pass, the fights will continue in each county where those favoring legalized gambling can muster enough signatures to call for an election.

We don't believe that enough voters could ever be secured to legalize gambling in Eddy County, even if sufficient signatures can be obtained on a petition to call an election.

And we have no doubt but what there will be plenty of action between now and the time the bill gets into the hands of the Legislature for a vote there. We question that the churches, the church people, or the ministers will let up on their fight to halt the passage of the proposed measure.

We have always opposed legalized gambling. We know there are those who should never gamble and we know they have to be protected. We know there is always an atmosphere built up around gambling places which is anything but healthy.

But we do not like the type of gambling, which we have today with the pay-off; the open violation of the law, and the corrupting of politics and politicians. But we have gambling. We even have slot machines operated in so-called private clubs in open violation of the recent ruling of the attorney general.

The purpose for which the funds goes does not make the operation of slot machines legal. They are against the law, just as gambling is against the law.

But we would prefer legalized gambling to what we have today just as we prefer open saloons to prohibition with the bottlegging and the gangs we had. And we would prefer to live in a dry community.

But if we are going to have legalized gambling, then we think we should have a sufficient license fee to justify it. We think that if we are going to have legalized gambling, then it should certainly pay most of the tax bill and it won't do it at $1000 for a state license. That license should be $5000 to $10,000. We expect the pay-off is that great or greater now.

And if we are going to have it, and we don't think we are, then let's put the license fee where it can and will mean something in the way of revenue to the state, the counties and the cities—O.E.P.

Plan For Reduction

A NUMBER OF MEASURES are in the State Legislature calling for the increasing of pay of both state and county officials. There are also some measures being introduced calling for an increase in the pay of the members of the Legislature.

There is no question, of course, but what some of the salaries are low or that they have been low during the period when many others were receiving high salaries. There doubtless is every reason to increase the pay received by the legislators while they are on the job.

However, all of these candidates knew the pay when they made the race for the jobs. They wanted these jobs with the pay, which was available then. It doesn't exactly look like good faith to seek an office, are elected and then serve. They know they lately start scrambling to get an increase in pay.

We also have never felt that the jobs in the Legislature should be made yearly jobs, when the Legislature is only in session once every two years for about 60 days. The efforts to place the members of the Legislature on an annual salary has always appeared to us to be a deliberate effort for politicians in the Legislature to get a year-around job with little work attached.

Many of the members of the Legislature, of course, make a real sacrifice when they seek the office, are elected and then serve. They know they are giving their time, their ability, and their efforts to the state. They do not want any more pay for this time and won't work for it.

Others want to make their job in a Legislature a full-time job and would like to be on the payroll for the year, but we have never felt the job was worth $2000 a year for about 60 days work every two years.

We also recall that back during the early 1930's, when the depression was underway and everyone else was taking cuts in pay, that salaries of public officials were not reduced.

And if some of these are raised now, and probably they should be, then plans also should be made to reduce them if and when we get back to normal or when the pay of others is reduced.

And now is the time to plan for that when the salaries are being raised.—O.E.P.

Buy 'Em At Home

AN APPEAL WAS MADE recently by Postmaster Jesse L. Truett to those receiving baby chicks by mail to be sure the post office has been notified how to get in touch with the recipients of the chicks, for they must be sold as soon as possible after they are 72 hours old, if still in the hands of the postal authorities.

That is all well and good, for the post office should have co-operation and baby chicks should not be made to suffer for want of feed and water.

But we cannot see why so many baby chicks should be coming through the Artesia post office, when we have two reliable sources of supply right here at home.—A.L.B.

Land Leveling

WE HAD AN ENJOYABLE TRIP to a number of farms in the Central Valley Soil Conservation District the other day with Ernest Hill of the Soil Conservation Service, in order to understand better what he and other conservationists are talking about when they refer to land leveling, benches, concrete drop structures, improved irrigation systems, and the like.

And we were amazed at the amount of land leveling which has been and is being done in this immediate area.

We saw the fields of a few of the 50 farmers who had been given assistance since Jan. 1. And in between we saw some of last year's cotton fields, in which the stalks were standing—here and there. And that was one point which impressed us—that here and there business.

If Hill could demonstrate to us on a short trip the feasibility of land leveling and benching, then it looks as though any farmer who knows or pretends to know his business should be able to see the economic advantages of such work.

Not only does the job eliminate the greater part of erosion and help save the soil for future generations, but in many cases it practically assures bigger and better crops.

Hill pointed out that this is the rush season for land leveling and structure work for the SCS and farmers alike and that it cannot all be done in one year. So the SCS seeks to have each individual farmer do only one field at a time, thus making it possible for others to have the assistance of the SCS engineers and the use of necessary dirt-moving machinery.

Nevertheless, the first two months of this year 358 acres in the district were land leveled and 46 concrete drop structures were built, compared with 278 and 23 during the same period a year ago.

But there are other practices essential to conservation on irrigated land, Hill pointed out. These include crop rotations, proper application of water, weed control, irrigated pastures for excessive slopes, green manure crops, and application of fertilizers.

At this season, however, it is interesting to note the work being done by way of land leveling and it is proper to salute the Soil Conservation Service, which is helping to educate the farmers of the nation in stopping the wasteful loss of our soil, which marked the pioneering and development of our nation in its few years of existence.—A.L.B.

Land Of The Free

WE RECALL READING IN HISTORY BOOKS of some of the persecution and the punishing of religious leaders, political leaders, and even individuals back in the years of long ago. Most everyone else recalls some of those stories.

And when we recall these stories or read them we are all convinced that nothing like that could happen today. We pat ourselves on the back and boast of our advancement, of our civilization, and of our justice of today.

But some of the things, which have happened in the past 10 years and even the last six months, make many of us begin to wonder. When we see people tried and convicted without just trials; when we see others persecuted and forced to flee a country; when we hear of the imprisonment of others—we begin to wonder whether the world has advanced very much and whether our so-called civilization of today is much better than it was back in the dark ages.

We even begin to wonder at times about our so-called land of the free when we see the pressure applied on individual not only to make them think but to do our bidding. And it happens in our cities and counties, in our state, and in our nation.

We still find those with the political stick swinging it. We still find those in a position of power applying the pressure and seeking to control others. We not only demand they vote as we want them to vote but we even seek to force them to spend their money where we want them to spend it.

We still remove individuals from jobs regardless of how good a job they may be doing merely because they are not of the right political faith or because they didn't vote as we wanted them to vote. Only recently we heard of an official who fired an employe because this employe, did not trade in the store of the city official.

Yes, we sort of wonder about our much talked about freedom and about our land of the free when such incidents occur in our own home cities and counties, our state, and our nation.

But it happens—happens every day. The freedom of most of us in the final analysis is pretty limited. And in some instances it is limited by some of those who talk the loudest about our land of the free.—O.E.P.

Construction Requirements Are Defined

Minimum construction requirements, designed to assure veterans that the houses they purchase with the aid of GI loans are of sound construction, were announced by Veterans Administrator Carl R. Gray, Jr., and released through the VA branch office in Denver.

The standards apply only to proposed construction for sale to veterans, when VA is asked to give an appraisal of reasonable value before construction begins.

An individual veteran building a home for his own use may disregard the standards if he chooses, provided the house meets requirements of the GI Bill that it is "suitable for dwelling purposes" and the cost does not exceed the "reasonable value" as determined by VA. However, VA inspection service during construction will not be provided unless the plans meet the minimums prescribed.

Administrator Gray also issued suggested guides for site planning and architectural design and arrangement of such homes. While not mandatory, these guides are strongly recommended by VA and will be taken into consideration when new properties are appraised for GI loan purposes.

The construction requirements, which became effective Dec. 15, deal with quality of materials, construction techniques, workmanship, installation of necessary home equipment and related structural details. They parallel minimum construction requirements of the Federal Housing Administration.

VA emphasized that the prescribed standards represent only the basic minimums acceptable. They are in no way intended to discourage buildings from incorporating features superior to the minimums established.

Purpose of the standards, VA said, is to promote good building practice for the mutual benefit of veterans, lenders and the government, which guarantees the veterans' mortgage.

Site planning guides are designed to assure useful and practical plotting of building lots, availability of utilities, transportation and essential services, reasonable proximity to schools and stores, protection of the purchaser against unanticipated future assessments.

Building plan guides are aimed at providing better architectural design and arrangement, eliminating poorly planned living space and provide adequate rooms, closets, storage space, ventilation, lighting and related facilities.

The standards are adaptable to conditions and practices in local areas, including building codes, climatic conditions, and established community preferences, VA said.

The most eastern point in the United States is West Quoddy Head, a Maine cape.

State Produces 91 Million In Stock Last Year

New Mexico's livestock industry produced $91,430,176 in 1948, the New Mexico Stockman reports in its annual industry review Cattle and calves account for $72,680,590; sheep, lambs and wool, $9,867,922, while sales of dairy cattle and products horses, mules, hogs, hides and poultry totaled $8,103,326.

Sales of registered livestock at public auctions and at private treaty totaled $644,684.

The Stockman's analyst notes that for the first time since the drought-disaster year of 1934, the state's annual livestock production total shows a decrease from that of the preceding year. The 1947 total was $101,923,596. The 10 million dollar decrease is accounted for by sharp drops in totals of cattle, calves, and sheep sold. Cattle and calves shipped in 1947 totaled 724,192 as compared with the 1948 total of 613,644, a decrease of 110,548. The 1947 total shipments of sheep and lambs was 634,675, as compared with 465,762 in 1948, a drop of 168,913. Estimated wool production shows a decrease of approximately a million pounds in 1948 as compared with the 1947 total.

Decrease in cattle and calf shipments, the Stockman notes, was attributed to under-stock ranges, caused in part by three years of continuous drought conditions in some sections and in part by heavy sales of breeding cattle during 1946 and 1947. "You cannot sell them," says the magazine, "if you do not have them to sell."

Drop in sheep and wool production in New Mexico was about in line with continued liquidation of the sheep industry throughout the western range states. The magazine carries the Jan. 1 sheep census taken by the Sheep Sanitary Board of New Mexico, showing a total of 1,404,000 sheep and goats on state sheep. The total compares with 2,202,000 in 1939, a decrease of approximately 800,000 head within Spectacularly low death rates of under one per 1000 were recorded for the United States in 1947 for ages 5 to 14 among white boys and 5 to 24 among white women.

The 10-year period.

The Stockman reports the state's livestock industry in its strongest financial position in history, with smallest indebtedness on record and its largest cash reserves, and forecasts a period of restocking by both cattle and sheep growers.

Cattle and sheep were reported in good condition as of the beginning of February, with practically no losses because of winter storms and with currently good prospects for early and good range conditions throughout the state.

Charity work occupied the time last Thursday afternoon of the Presbyterian Ladies' Aid, which met at the church. Mrs. L. L. Strickler was hostess. The next meeting will be March 23, when Mrs. Hugh Kiddy is hostess and Mrs. Frank Smith will be in charge of the program on "Japan."

An all-day meeting of the Atoka Women's Club was held at the home of Mrs. Nevil Muncy. A covered-dish luncheon was served at noon to 15 members and guests.

Take care of your clothes Electrically

EVER stop to think of what a beating your clothes take when hanging on the line on a windy spring day? That whipping wind tosses them, pulls them, twists them, detracting every minute from their future usefulness to you. That can be easily avoided through the use of a scientifically designed labor saving home clothes dryer. In this economical machine, gentle puffs of warm air remove the moisture from your wash, leaving it toasty dry. You'll avoid, too, the trouble of bundling up to go out to "hang up clothes" and resulting colds and sniffles. Put an electrical clothes dryer on your list of electrical needs... you'll like it. Your appliance dealer will gladly give you a demonstration of the efficiency of the new automatic clothes dryers. See him soon.

Chairman Mahone said the organization likewise needs funds for disaster relief, wherever disaster may strike, and that there are dozens of such cases, large and small, every year. And one never knows when disaster may come to this community, he added.

He repeated his request for citizens of the community to anticipate workers in the campaign and to have their donations ready.

Ferguson-Steele Entertains Here At Dinner-Dance

The Ferguson-Steele Petroleum Transportation Company of Dallas, entertained employees and wives with a dinner and dance at the Artesia Hotel Coffee Shop Saturday evening. Seventy-five persons were present.

G. H. (Jack) Little, of Amarillo, Texas, president, gave an interesting talk on progress of the company's safety record and the future of the Ferguson-Steele. Mrs. Little accompanied her husband.

C. W. Brooks of Buchanan, Va., and Frank Butler of El Paso, of the insurance company which carries the company's insurance, were also present.

Eleven safe driving awards were presented to drivers, W. L. Phillips, L. J. Parker, Bill Walker and J. F. Galvin, all of Amarillo, and Jim Clark, Earl Turner, Jack Haggins, Bussier Hualik, L. L. Funk, H. L. Wade and Perry Barnett, all of Artesia. The El Paso terminal has not been in operation long enough to receive awards, but the hope was expressed El Paso will show up well at the next meeting. As Dallas is the general office, no awards are made to personnel from there.

James Robertson, terminal manager at Artesia, was introduced and was given a big hand for his fine work, as were E. E. (Babe) Walker, terminal manager at Amarillo, and Clarke Miller, terminal manager at El Paso.

George Duncan, shop foreman of the Artesia terminal, from which all the large Diesels operate, was introduced and given a big ovation for his fine work on the Diesel units. Before coming to Ferguson-Steele, he was employed by the Santa Fe Trailways of Albuquerque.

He said.

The chief said Mrs. Varner told him there she had spanked the child, who held her breath, and the mother then had thrown a glass of water in her face. The defense placed three women neighbors on the stand, all of whom told their observations from the time they were first aware last Thursday morning of anything unusual at the Varner Junior house. They were Mrs. Roy Burris, Mrs. Margaret Kamplam, and Mrs. Floretta Williams.

In general their testimony was that each was at her own home in the camp and that Mrs. Williams had called for help. Mrs. Williams phoned for two physicians, neither of whom could come at once and then Mrs. Burris took Mrs. Varner and the baby to the physician's office. All observed the baby on her stomach on the trailer floor, with her mother giving artificial respiration.

All three testified they previously had never seen Mrs. Varner abuse the children and that she took good care of them. Both testified they had seen Ramona scratch herself.

The coroner's jury was composed of Tom Mayfield, Artie McAnally, Doyle Hankins, Boone Barnett, C. D. Hopkins and Clyde Guy. Funeral services for the baby were from the First Baptist Church at 2:30 o'clock Monday afternoon by Rev. S. M. Morgan, pastor. Burial was in Woodbine cemetery.

En route home, Mrs. French stopped at Albuquerque to visit her daughter, Mrs. Herman Dick Jones and family.

F. L. Green of Artesia was principal speaker at the regular meeting of the Loco Hills Parent-Teacher Association at the school Friday. "War is man's way of reform," but the school house door is "God's means of reform," said Green in his address, in which he stressed the growing need of classroom teachers.

The teachers were given $5 each for classroom emergency use and $5 each a month for caring for the milk project, which, because of their efforts, is proving a success.

Mrs. Garel Westall was appointed to see about securing an ice box. A motion to buy a duplicator for the school was tabled.

Benefit Banquet At Loco Hills Last Week Well Attended

The George Washington benefit banquet given at the Sherman Methodist Church at Loco Hills Monday of last week, was well attended. Several persons came from surrounding towns. The funds were used to swell the church budget.

George Washington decorations were used and the tables were colorful in red and white. A delicious chicken dinner with cherry pie was on the menu.

Rev. C. A. Hensley, pastor of the Methodist Church, who is in Artesia temporarily, was the main speaker of the evening.

Women responsible for the success of the affair were Mmes. Wilburn Davis, E. R. McKinstry, Carl Jones, Lee Foster, Sam Snow, Bill Case, George Wier, Charles Phelps, C. H. Mills, E. L. Pendleton, C. E. Nivens, Jack Plemons, Garel Westall and Nora Coppinger and a Mrs. Brooks.

Then, he said, turn the frame over on top of the paper to be used and mark off the shape of the kite about an inch or slightly more outside the border string. Semicircular cutouts should be made at the four corners, about an inch inside the points, he added. Then paste or mucilage should be applied all around and the paper folded across the string and held in place until it sticks.

All boys know how to string an archer's bow, Patterson said. And the same general method should be used for the two-stick kite. First make a loop in one end of a stout piece of twine and then, after bowing the bow stick into where the other loop should be. After making that loop the kite is nearly ready to be bowed. But Patterson advised that there be plenty of bows in the stick, for the more bow, up to a certain point, the more stable the kite will be in the air.

Then, Patterson said, comes the harness, another piece of stout cord, plenty long. At the places where the upright stick was notched, he said, cut small holes in the paper and attach a loop of the twine to the stick, with the loop on the paper side of the sticks, that is, through the paper to the stick.

Patterson advised that the boys be very careful about the next step, that of balancing the harness for best results. He said to pull gently on the twine from both attachments, working them together until a place just inside of the side points of the kite, where an overhand knot is tied, leaving a loop, to which the kite string is to be attached. This gives the proper proportions.

A difference of as much as an inch towards top or bottom of the kite in the position of the overhand knot and the loop will make lots of difference in the performance, Patterson said. If the loop is slightly low, the kite will pull nearly straight out and the wind will put lots of pressure on it. And if too high, the kite will tend to dart overhead, sometimes climbing beyond the control of the string, and it will then fall until it drifts into the wind, when the performance will be repeated.

So, Patterson said, the position of the loop knot is important. He recalled that when he was a boy he sometimes did not make the knot at the side point as he had just advised, but that he made a series of loop knots there, until the slack had been taken up in the harness and he had a series of loops. Then he could shift the kite string up or down until the kite performed as he desired.

At this point, Patterson said, it is time to bow the stick and attach the bow string—and to fly the kite.

He added that a boy should consider size in making a kite. Although the kite is not square, it might be so considered for figuring the air pull, he said. If the sticks are three feet long, then there will be approximately nine square feet of pull surface, where as a four-foot kite will have 16, and a five-footer will have 25. And if there is lots of pull there is more chance for string burns!

Patterson said always to avoid flying kites where there are wires, and never use a wire or wet string for the kite string.

the Davis In the Bride's Is al Laugh Hit

"The Bride" is a real comedy the Davis laughs and laughs and long with Robert Mont-ry in this new Warner Bros. which will open Sunday at the Landsun Theater. It's a new Bette, trim and stylish, in "June Bride," and with Bob opposite her in one of his most charming flip-pant roles, the result is a treat of exceptional proportions.

Bette plays a successful magazine editor, one who hires and fires with ease. Bob comes back into her life after a European assignment, and is put on her staff.
This creates a problem, as the two still go for each other in a way.

When the staff moves into Crest-ville, Ind., to build up their special June feature, their affair takes on added zest.

The film abounds with situations
all on the strictly humorous side.
Bob has an apple-cider spree with Tom Tully, which is a riot. Betty Lynn, as the youngest Brinker belle, vamps smalltown fashion and gets her man. Barbara Bates, as the more beautiful Brinker, has a somewhat smaller part, but clicks. Mary Wickes' dry remarks add pepper and Fay Bainter, in smart garb, gives additional interest to the proceedings.

Broadway director Bretainne Windust's method of building laughs is particularly interesting.
There is a super love-chase around Bette's apartment, with Bob following her, turning the lamps on and off with great alacrity. Another standout bit is when Raymond Roe as the young Romeo answers Bob Montgomery with a mere "Boo," meaning of course Betty Lynn, who goes under that nickname. All very funny. The entire production is steeped in Hoosier hospitality, garnering endless chuckles with its particular community spirit and social life.

Your Artesia National Guard

By M/Sgt. James Heald
All the men of the local National Guard unit met last Sunday and had a wonderful time. Each man was very busy cleaning an Army rifle that had been preserved in cosmoline. It was a messy job but one that had to be done and the fellows did a grand job on their weapons.

A number of young men are inquiring about the possibilities of the guard. We appreciate their interest in the National Guard and if anyone wants to ask questions about the guard, he is free to do so.
The National Guard is now allowed four week ends for extra drills for rifle firing. So in the near future, this battery will journey to Roswell or Carlsbad some Saturday morning and use their rifle range for firing the rifles.

Probably stay all night and return Sunday afternoon. We have been told to complete the rifle firing before we go to camp this year as we will not have time for it there.
Naturally the National Guard will get paid for this week end firing, wherever it may be.

We of the National Guard are interested in opening the old State Guard range east of Artesia. Arrangements are being made to obtain the range site for the guard and when and if the range is signed for, we want to co-operate with local rifle clubs in the use of the range. We are sure satisfactory arrangements can be made with the clubs so that they will have use of the ranges on the days the National Guard is not firing. The rifle range will be for the people of Artesia, as well as for the National Guard.

There are still plenty of high vacancies open in the local unit.
For those men who can qualify for the higher ratings, now is the chance. The unit is gradually filling up and as more men join, more men are promoted. The time for action is now!
See the first sergeant at the armory Monday through Friday.

Many Ranchers Are to Attend Association Meet

Three thousand ranchers from New Mexico and bordering states are expected to attend the 35th annual convention of the New Mexico Cattle Growers Association in Albuquerque March 28-29, according to G. W. Evans, Magdalena, president. Advance hotel and tourist court reservations already confirmed indicate this convention will be the largest in history of the organization, Evans said. State and national legislation, freight rate problems, cattle theft, and a depressed livestock market are attributed as some of the reasons for increased interest in the coming convention. "The cattle market has sustained a greater drop in price in the last five months than in any other like period since records have been kept, Evans added, and while all indications point to a leveling off in the market, producers are anxious to learn all factors which may influence the market in the ensuing year.

Speakers who have already agreed to appear on the convention program include Art A. Smith, president, American National Livestock Association, Sterling, Colo.;

CENTRAL NERVOUS SYSTEM

explains itself. It controls all functions of the organism. When all functions are performing smoothly and normally, we are scarcely conscious of the action.

When interference occurs requiring energy to be blocked to one function and sent to another, we are conscious of disturbance.

This is particularly true of the visual act.

COLD RUBBER IS one of the greatest discoveries in rubber history. It is called COLD RUBBER because it is manufactured at refrigerated temperatures which produce the toughest rubber ever known. When compounded with newly discovered carbon black, the results are sensational—COLD RUBBER treads far outwear the finest natural rubber treads.

The Mileage obtained is far superior to anything tire engineers ever thought possible. Non-Skid Traction—the combination of COLD RUBBER and Dayton's famous tread designs gives you "ease-of-mind" driving because you have control of your car.

Are most important! Their whole future depends on the ability to see and think clearly. Reading letters on a chart at 20 feet is a very poor test. The visual task in the schoolroom is performed at 16 to 18 inches. This task should be performed without interference or effort. Interference in the central nervous system makes it impossible for the student to achieve or get meaning from the subject. They find the task too difficult or impossible, makes it repulsive and they seek any avenue of escape. Remove the interference and note results.

But Mrs. Homemaker—
What about prices that are not in the ads?

Checking food ads is a good way of learning about low prices. But the ads can't tell the whole story. At best they include only a small percentage of the items on your entire shopping list. So savings made on "specials" can easily be wiped out unless your other purchases are made at the right prices.

That's why the basic part of Safeway's pricing policy says that every item—we repeat—every item must be priced low. Consider what this means to you. It means savings right down the line... not just on our advertised specials, but on everything.

You'll find too, that Safeway is quick to pass on to customers the benefits of any reductions made possible by changes in market conditions. Watch for special markers on our shelves, calling attention to reductions.

Remember, it's easy to cancel savings from "specials" unless other prices are low, too. So start today to save at Safeway, where all prices are always low.

Some Things You May Not Know About
KAISER - FRAZER

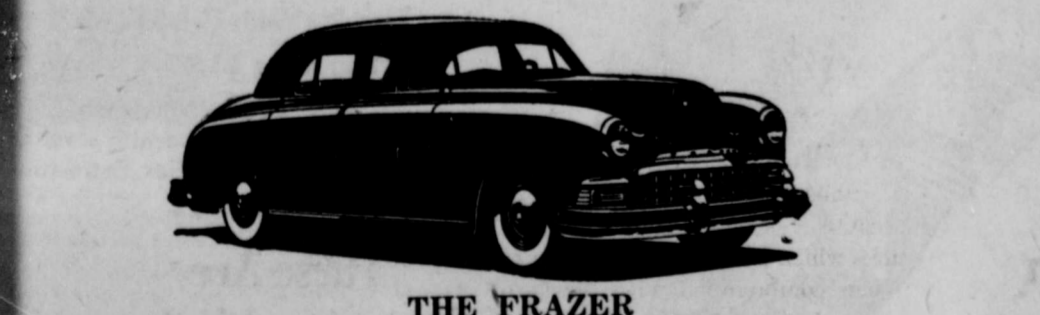

WE HAVE BOUGHT WILLOW RUN... when we started we selected this huge plant because there we could do more manufacturing under one roof than in any other automobile plant. We offered great potential economies of operation. Willow Run is now our home. We're proud of it and find it a more efficient production unit every day.

STEEL... it takes tons of steel to build automobiles in volume. Steel has been hard to get. To secure the high quality sheet we insist on using, we had to get part way into the steel business. That is why we bought a blast furnace in Cleveland and other steel facilities. Now we're assured of thousands of tons of automotive steel each month for the next five years. This eliminates much of the premium costs we have previously paid for steel.

OUR OWN ENGINE PLANT is operating at constantly increasing efficiency. We are producing new higher compression engines which give faster acceleration, greater power and sustained economy at all speeds—you get more from every drop of gasoline you buy.

WE'VE BUILT 350,000 CARS in a little over two years... owners have driven them over three billion miles... Over 4500 completely equipped dealers sell and service them.

What does all this mean to you? Look at all the other cars—then get a Kaiser or a Frazer out on the road. There is only one way to buy and new car—RIDE—THEN DECIDE.

RIDE--THEN DECIDE!

Audiometer Given to School System

By Jim Kelly
—Artesia Hi Beacon.

The Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs donated an audiometer to the school system for the purpose of testing hearing. The machine cost $290 and has been a help in checking the hearing of school children.

The school nurse has had considerable audiometer experience and is able to put the instrument to valuable use in checking children who return to school after having run high temperature.

The machine was purchased from Burton H. Mustin, the distributor, from Tucson, Ariz.

The school deeply appreciates the gift and would not seem lost without it. This is really one of the most important and valuable instruments of any school and it has proved its value time after time.

Sperry Says Cold Rubber Will Save Money To Motorists

The American motorist is going to pocket plenty of savings in tire costs through the use of the sensational "cold rubber" according to Wesley Sperry of Pior Rubber Company.

If test fleets, running millions of tire destroying miles over all kinds of roads, can show an average of better than 30 per cent increased mileage with cold rubber, then a reasonably careful driver is bound to save considerably more than that, Sperry said.

Cold rubber is considered one of the greatest triumphs of science over nature, he pointed out. It is a man-made rubber, vastly superior to the natural product in all respects, particularly in its tough, slow-wearing qualities, which give greatly increased tire mileage.

Cold rubber gets its name from the fact that it is processed at a low temperature of 41 degrees and lower, whereas, the general purpose type synthetic rubber is made at 122 degrees. This low temperature method develops a toughness that resists tread wear to a phenomenal degree, far better than the best natural rubber used heretofore in tire treads, Sperry said.

'Barber Of Seville' To Be Presented At Carlsbad High

Paul Breisach, one of the most distinguished of the present day operatic conductors, is scheduled to direct Charles L. Wagner's production of Rossini's opera comique, "The Barber of Seville," which will be given in Carlsbad High School auditorium Friday, March 18.

Breisach will direct a complete orchestra and male chorus. New scenery and costumes will grace the stage.

One of the leading roles has been entrusted to Marilyn Cotlow, who will be starred in the feminine role of Rosina. She is the young American coloratura soprano who won the 1948 Metropolitan auditions of the air. The character, Figaro, will be portrayed by Andrew Gainey.

Desire Defrere, stage director, is from the Metropolitan Opera Association.

The concert is open to members of the Community Concert Association.

Our Readers Say

(In a recent issue the first part of a letter from Austin D. Crile of Roswell, pertaining to Artesia water was published. As it was rather long, it was broken up into two parts, the second of which follows. No charge is made for publishing such letters, which may embrace a wide scope of subjects. However, the thoughts set forth are not necessarily those of The Advocate.)

Another thing from which we are suffering from neglect, the state engineer has never pointed out the wells that are leaking and the board which was elected by the five districts of our basin were neglectful and did not plug many wells until we got rid of them. We now have an efficient, good board, fully equipped, and have secured mud and are ready to move ahead and are plugging wells. They should have before them the quantity of water the different wells are leaking, so they could plug the worst wells first. This again goes back to the neglect of the state engineer.

Meters could be installed on the wells to show the water that each man uses, because his appropriation is for three acre feet. It would take additional costs of two or three million dollars to replace and drill new wells in the district, assuming that there are 1400 wells I cannot find out; no one seems to know, but I know that in 1925, in Fielder's Report, we had 1462

Farmers Are Undefeated Champs

—Gable Photo
Pictured here is the Farmers basketball team, city champions for the 1948-49 season, which recently closed with the Farmers turning in a perfect record of wins. The team played 21 games during the winter, 14 in league play, and seven outside the league, of which two were lost. And the team was one of the runners-up in the A.A.U. tournament. Front row, left to right: Everett Lapsley, Jimmie Funk, Harold Bill Waldrip and Clarence Melvin Pearson. Rear row: Charlie Foster, Bob Feather, Charles Taylor, manager; Lyle Terpening and Junior Parker.

wells. I invented a plugging machine, built it, and plugged 460 wells up to 1939. Since that time they say they have, up to and including the present, bored about 700 wells.

Now, in addition to replacing them, take the meters, which would cost $4 each, or there would be an expense of five and a half or six hundred thousand dollars. All we need to do is for our local board, with the authority it has for stopping the waste of water, along with the state engineer, to make a ruling that no appropriation of water can exceed 50 percent on his land in alfalfa, at one time. This will regulate sufficiently all this notion of meters.

How often would they get out of repair? With the condition of our water, how long will they last? That is just another case of lack of intelligent study of our situation.

If our leaking wells are all plugged, our basin made secure, we will have the same amount of water in the next 500 years that we have had the last 500, for our basin will re-fill during the winter and our water level will rise up and we will be pumping our water and irrigating our lands for 35 percent of the present cost. And the shallow water, which has been caused primarily by leaking wells, will regulate itself and we will have a splendid basin again.

The only constructive work done was not by the state engineer or the Chamber of Commerce, but by the city of Roswell. Our mayor diverted the flood waters to the Hondo Reservoir, which prevented the flooding by water of our city and also refilled the basin.

"When we made this conservancy district, we were advised by the ablest men we had, who knew their geology, that we should not drill north of Six Mile Hill. But all of a sudden they began drilling wells out on Salt Creek, the Macho, down to the salt beds which underlie the earth from 600 to 900 feet, and we have 67 wells, with pumps on them, taking the water which should go into our artesian basin and help refill and protect us from any danger of the intrusion of salt water from the north. Another case of gross neglect on the part of our state engineer.

We should form an area to the north and west of the boundaries of our conservancy district to approximately 40 miles, and declare that entire area to be the refill of our basin and no one could make an appropriation of water for commercial use to the west or north, except of course for domestic purposes, cattle, stock, and around their homes. With the artesian basin have been appropriated and over-appropriated since 1935 or 1940, we could then serve in a light, solid basin, artesian waters and raise the water level.

The entire valley is comprehended in our work: Artesia, Ter, Hagerman and Lake Arthur. May God ever bless our "Sweet Home."—Austin D. Crile

Heat Hurts Cows

American dairy farmers have learned that some discontented cows, like some discontented women, can be expensive as well as unpleasant.

Most of the cow's troubles can be traced to heat and humidity. A cow, unlike a human being, can perspire only through the mouth. So when the temperature and humidity inside a barn get high, the animal becomes uncomfortable and stubborn—particularly at milking time. The U. S. department of agriculture says an average cow gives off almost a pint of water every hour through breathing. In addition to the high humidity caused by this breathing, a cow has an extremely high body temperature.

During the winter months when the cows are in the barn most of the time, this combination results in the generation of an enormous amount of water vapor and heat. When the warm, moisture-laden heat comes into contact with the cold walls, condensation and frost is formed.

Make that water walk downhill

IT doesn't take a "gully-washer" or a "goose drownder" to rob you of your precious topsoil. Bare land, up-and-down-hill row crops, and over-grazed range all invite rain to escape without working for you—and to erode your topsoil away. But sod or cover crops act like a blotter to absorb and hold the growth-giving water. Slopes and hillsides tilled on the contour, with alternating strips of crop-land and grass, save maximum amounts of water, hold erosion to a minimum. Flatter fields may be subsurface-tilled to keep the protective rain-absorbing trash on top. Correct rotations of crops, which include plow-under crops, will help absorb and hold moisture.

You need lots of water. It takes about 200 barrels of water to grow one bushel of corn. That's around 625,000 gallons for every 100 bushels. And most other growing plants also require large amounts of moisture. . . . You can't control the amount of rainfall you get. But you can conserve it, so that every drop does the best possible job of making grass or crops for you.

As farmers and ranchers in every state well know, water has a "split personality." It can be your ally, or a devastating foe. Lashing rains can erode away inches of fertile topsoil in a short time. But it takes nature 300 to 1,000 years to rebuild each lost inch. That's why the control of water is so important in a good land management program. Considerable progress in erosion control has been made in the past ten years. But we've still got a long way to go! Hundreds of millions of productive acres are endangered by erosion and gullying. They're washing away! Only good land management can save our soil and keep America strong. It will pay you—and all of us—to make that water walk downhill.

New Grass Varieties

by Wilkie Collins, Jr.
Soil Conservation Service
Lincoln, Nebraska

Good pasture is the key to production of more meat, milk and wool, at lower cost. In addition, a good cover of grass protects your soil against wind and water erosion. When you have improved pasture, or range, good livestock and a sound conservation program, you have a profitable combination. Many new grasses have been developed in recent years. Several of these promise to become real money-makers for livestock men. They out-yield old grasses, give a longer grazing season, and provide better soil protection.

1. Smooth Brome—The Lincoln, Auchenchach and Fisher strains give higher yields, are easier established and withstand summer heat and drought better in the central, eastern and southern brome areas.
 2. Intermediate Wheatgrass—A high-yielding, sod-forming cool-season grass that is easier to establish than most varieties. It is highly palatable and does exceptionally well in the central and northern plains and western mountain area.
 3. Sand Lovegrass—Highly palatable, especially well adapted to sandy soils.
 4. Tall Wheatgrass—A high-yielding cool-season bunchgrass that does better than other grasses under alkaline conditions.
 5. Ky-31 Fescue—High-yielding, supplies longer grazing, especially good for southern and southeastern states.
 6. Russian Wild Rye, Blackwell Strain of Switchgrass, Hays Buffalo Grass, Yellow Bluestem and Sweet Sudan are other new or improved grasses for adapted areas.
- Grasses usually give higher yields and better quality forage when grown in association with an adapted legume.

Best For "Digging Up The Dirt" Chosen From Junior Class

—Artesia Hi Beacon this year, Miss Lois Nethery, director of the junior play, "Digging Up the Dirt," is trying a double-cast for two different performances. The play will be given at the high school auditorium at 8 o'clock March 31 and April 1.

Thirty-six students from the Junior class showed an excellent interest and great possibilities, when they tried out for the play.

Some of the characters will be doubled for the next evenings performance and others will not. The cast is: Kenneth Andrews, played by Thomas Boyd, a tall good-looking fellow of college age, who attends Anvar College. He is inclined to be serious, but has a distinct sense of humor.

Bill Loomis, who is played by Joe Beaty and Dwayne Tucker, is much shorter and livelier than Ken. He is a born comedian and "wise-cracker" with a tendency to talk too much.

Professor Roger Halleck, played by Barry Wood, is an archeologist from the college and is a small man, who is any age past 45. He has a quiet smile on occasion, but is too concentrated on the work on hand most of the time to use it.

Sheriff Carson is tall and lean, somewhere in the middle thirties, and is played by Ronald Dublin and David Dillard. His speech is drawing and slow and he moves with easy grace, though he has a tendency to slouch in repose.

Jose Andrada, played by Manuel Cortez, is a small, dark, swarthy man with a black mustache, about 30 years old.

Aunt Miriam Egges, who is played by Priz Kohl and Maxine Ashton, is pretty bad news to the fits, to smart ordinary suits. The Juniors are really down to work at the present, trying to get their annual class play "Digging Up the Dirt" all ready for the public's enjoyment.

Elks Sponsor Essay Contest

By Billy Southard
—Artesia Hi Beacon
The Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks announces a nationwide essay contest on the subject,

"Why Democracy Works." All high school students from the ninth to 12th grades are eligible to enter. The purpose of this essay competition is to encourage students to study and appreciate democracy in operation and its opportunities for the future.

The grand exalted ruler of the order of Elks, George I. Hall, declares his faith in America's youth by saying, "We have no fear that our youth will fall victims in any appreciable numbers to totalitarian philosophies. Certainly they never will when they know the facts of mankind's progress and achievements under the stimulus of democratic freedom and the facts of mankind's spiritual, political and physical enslavement under totalitarianism."

Essays submitted to the competition must be not less than 300 and not more than 750 words in length and must be the original work of the contestant. Any manuscript prepared in whole or in part by any other person than the contestant will be ineligible for an award.

Awards in the national contest for prize-winning essays will be made as follows:

First award, $1000; second award $500; third award $250, five awards each $50.

Enrollment In On-Farm Training To Be Increased

Instructions have been received from the state supervisor of the institutional on-farm training program to enroll up to five new trainees in each class in excess of the normal limit of 20 men.

Applicants may enter training on either Public Law 346 (GI Bill) or, if they have service-connected disability, may enroll under Public Law 16, with additional benefits. Maximum subsistence ranges from $65 to $97.50 a month, depending on whether the trainee is married and is farming land under his own control.

Qualifications for entering training are: Honorably discharge from the armed forces, in proof of which a photostat or certified copy must be submitted; actual interest in training and willingness to attend regularly and participate in two evening two-hour classes a week and one half-day field-trip or demonstration a month; trainee must keep accurate records of farm expenses and income in record books furnished by the instructor; ownership, partnership, or lease giving trainee of at least 40 acres of farm land, or sufficient to provide year-around farming, or full-time, year-around employment by a farmer-trainer who will agree in writing to give general training and experience in all phases of his farming operations, and sign a wage agreement giving the same wages as to any non-veteran employee, with one increase in wages each year.

Qualified veterans interested in entering the Artesia class are urged to contact immediately the instructor, James L. Abbott, at the office located in the Park Grade School classroom on West Grand, across the street from Howard's Cafe. Office hours are 9 to 11:45 o'clock Monday through Friday mornings.

Recipes Using Delicious Yams

By ALICE DENHOFF

FROM the heart of the deep South, Louisiana to be exact, come golden yam sweet potatoes, golden indeed, since they offer a good conservation food, are delicious and filled with healthful elements, as well as being plentiful. Now just how much more could one demand of any food item? And not content with all these excellent attributes, yam sweet potatoes are versatile as well, doubling not only as a vegetable, but as a good ingredient in side-dishes, baked dishes and desserts.

Perk up baked luncheon meat with baked golden "yams", and serve a casserole of sweet potatoes layered with orange sections to furnish excitement in an otherwise plain meal.

Quick-Prepared Dish

Tutti-Fruitti Mashed Yams are star material, as you'll discover when you prepare 'em, and quickly prepared, too. Mix 2 1/2 c. yam sweet potatoes (1 1/2 lbs., 4 to 6 potatoes), 2 tbs. table fat, 1/4 tsp. salt, 1/2 c. crushed canned pineapple, 2 tbs. sugar, 1/4 c. milk, 1/4 c. raisins and 1/4 c. chopped nuts. Turn into 1 1/2 quart casserole. Bake in moderate oven (375 F.) for 20 min. Will yield 6 servings.

For another elegant eating idea peel 5 cooked yam sweet potatoes (1 1/2 lbs.); cut in half lengthwise. Arrange in shallow baking dish. Combine 2 tbs. grated orange rind, 1/4 c. orange juice, 1/4 c. sugar and 1/4 tsp. salt; bring to a boil. Pour over potatoes and bake at 375 F. for 30 min., basting after the first 15 min. Remove from oven, and add 1/2 c. whole cranberry sauce (about 1/2 of 14-oz. jar) and 1/2 c. 15 min. longer. Yield: 6 servings.

Yam Custard

For a nourishing one-egg yam custard mix 1 1/2 c. mashed yam sweet potatoes, 1/4 firmly packed c. brown sugar, 1/4 c. sugar, 1/4 tsp. salt, 1/2 c. molasses, 1/2 tsp. flour, 1 1/2 tsp. each cinnamon and ginger and 1/4 tsp. cloves. Blend in one slightly-beaten egg, 1/4 c. undiluted evaporated milk and 1/2 c. milk. Turn into 6 custard cups. Place in pan of hot water and bake at 350 F. for an hour or until tip of a pointed knife inserted in the center comes out clean.

For an easily fixed dish, boil medium yam sweet potatoes until almost tender, then peel. Put in skillet with bacon fat or meat drippings, and cook until brown on all sides. Serve with Vienna sausage.

To give a meal a lift boil yam sweet potatoes until tender; peel and cut in halves, lengthwise. Brush with butter, sprinkle lightly with 2 tbs. sugar mixed with 1/4 tsp. cinnamon and 1/4 tsp. nutmeg. Place under broiler, heat until sugar is bubbly.

For something different to serve with lamb make plump little yam croquettes from mashed potatoes. Make 'em about 2 inches in diameter, and one inch thick, then make a depression in the center with the thumb. Brown in fat; fill depression with spoonful of mint jelly.
