Atomic First Aid Is A Must, Red Cross Man Tells Artesia

The first-aid program, which was at a high peak during World War II, is growing again, with emphasis on atomic first aid and it is a must, Locke L. Mouton of the first aid, water safety and accident prevention service of the American Red Cross told Artesia audiences this week.

He was making his final appearance in New Mexico, where he has served the Red Cross the last year, before being transferred to Oklahoma.

And his information was such as has been heard by few audiences as yet, for it was released in Washington only a few days ago, Mouton said. And he added that atomic first aid information and methods are included in a new Red Cross book, which has not been distributed yet.

He made his disclosures Monday night at a joint meeting of Artesia firemen and industrial groups, Tuesday noon at the Rotary Club meeting, Tuesday night at a Boy Scout meeting, Wednesday noon at the weekly Lions Club luncheon and on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday at the schools.

In his several talks, Mouton said civilian defense planning, which was far from what it should have been during the war, has been under way since last year, after several delays and that after a report to President Truman the Red Cross staff was called in to go over and study it.

The Red Cross representative said that during the war "first aid was the social thing to do." Now, however, there is a new phase, first aid in case of atomic attack.

He said military authorities were worried about civilian defense during the war, because the program was not ready for any major disaster.

Mouton said as long as only the United States had the atomic bomb, it was a strong psychological weapon. Two years ago the government felt it would not be long until some other nation would have it. And now there are strong reasons to believe Russia has solved the bomb.

He told his audiences that if there ever should be atomic bombing of the United States, the people should know what to do.

Mouton said that whereas in an area having a population of one person to 1000 square feet a 500-pound bomb would kill 30 and the V-2's over London killed 15, an atomic bomb would kill 75,000.

He said it is extremely dangerous and causes damage from four sources, the pressure wave, which differs from the ordinary blast's pressure wave; instantaneous fires, secondary fires and injuries.

And of the injuries, he said, flash burns predominate, followed by those caused from debris, with radiation third, contrary to general belief.

A flash burn has the appearance of instantaneous sunburn, Mouton said and appears only on the side of a person facing the blast. One

Creed Thorp, 80, Former Farmer Here, Dies At Carlsbad

Creed Thorp, 80, who farmed southeast of Artesia many years ago, died Sept. 29 at the home of his daughter, Mrs. H. L. Wise of north of Carlsbad.

He was a former Lea County resident and moved to the Knowles community in 1906. He later lived in Hobbs.

Survivors are: Mrs. Max Dillahunty of Hobbs, a daughter; Mrs. H. L. Wise of Carlsbad, another daughter and five sons, George Thorp of Hammond, Okla.; Creed Thorp, Jr., and Dick Thorp, both of Los Angeles; Don Thorp and Vee Thorp, both of Artesia. He is also survived by one brother, D. S. Thorp of Tribune, Kan.

Slight Change In Dates For Elks Minstrel Made

A slight change in the dates for the Elks minstrel, "Talk of the Town," has been announced by W. T. (Doc) Haldeman, exalted ruler of the Artesia Elks Lodge.

The entertainment will be presented in the auditorium of Artesia High School Wednesday, Thursday and Saturday nights, Oct. 12, 13 and 15, instead of on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of next week.

The change eliminating Friday was made so sports fans can go to Alamogordo to support the Bulldogs in their weekly football game or to Ruidoso to see the "B" squad game.

Rehearsals under the direction of Paul Larson, professional director from Hollywood, are being held each evening in the Central School Gymnasium. He said he still has places for more talent, anyone who can sing or dance or do specialties and invited them to be at the rehearsal at 7 o'clock tonight.

Both Banks To Have Saturday Check Exchanges

The First National Bank and the Peoples State Bank will conduct check exchanges from 2 to 4 o'clock Saturday afternoons during the cotton picking season, starting Saturday of this week, officials of the two institutions have announced.

Regular banking services at both banks will close at noon on Saturdays as usual and patrons were asked to use the regular banking hours for all other business than the cashing of checks. And insofar as that is possible, persons having checks to be cashed were asked not to wait until the special hours.

The special service of the First National Bank will be set up in the entranceway at the east door on Third Street.

At the Peoples State Bank those wishing to avail themselves of the check exchange are asked to enter by the main door on Quay Avenue.

Boxholders Must Fill Applications For New Location

Within the next 30 days, a notice headed "Preparatory to Moving to New Quarters," with an application for post office box attached, will be placed in every post office box for attention and completion of and by every boxholder, for the new post office quarters, Postmaster Jess Truett announced.

Boxholders are already seeking information as to the possibilities of being able to retain the same number in the new quarters as that in use at the present quarters, he said.

Every effort is being made on the part of postal employees to assign the same numbers to as many boxholders as possible and which can only be done by their co-operation in complying with the instructions to be placed in their boxes at a later date, according to the postmaster.

He said application for a box must be filed by every individual boxholder, giving full information requested thereon. The use of each box will be restricted to the person filing the application and including the members of his family, living in the same household.

If you neglect filing an application and fail to be assigned your present number for a box in the new quarters, your mail will be confusing for considerable time, at the best we can do and for these reasons we urge your prompt action be given the matter regardless of prominence or length of time you have used your present box number," Postmaster Truett said.

Parade, Open House Monday To Kick Off 'Fire Prevention Week'

The Artesia community will observe "Fire Prevention Week" Oct. 9-15, along with the remainder of the nation and will have a number of special activities on Monday.

Mayor Oren C. Roberts has issued a proclamation for observance of the week here and has asked the citizens of Artesia to dedicate themselves to fire prevention and precautions.

The local activities will be kicked off at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon, when firemen stage a fire prevention parade down Main Street, led by the two fire trucks. Dallas Golden, full-time fireman and Bill Bullock, volunteer fireman, are co-chairmen for the parade.

They announced that behind the fire trucks will be a float with a demonstration of fire fighting on a house, which will appear to be on fire. They also will be the Fire Department's first aid crew, with Hugh Kiddy in charge, demonstrating the department's iron lung and resuscitator.

Next will be an ambulance and behind that will be the "Careless Fire Death Riders."

During the day, firemen will visit all of the schools in the city and at each there will be a fire drill. Fire Chief Albert Richards will be in charge of this phase of the activities.

All firemen, both paid and volunteer, will be on hand at the new fire station at Fifth and Texas Avenue, when a public open house is held from 7 to 10 o'clock Monday night.

That will be the first time the fire station will have been shown to the public. However, the firemen had as special guests members of the present and past city administration and persons who contributed to the furnishing of the recreation room, at a recent party.

The firemen are busy this week polishing brass and completing decorations of the station, so it will be in readiness for the open house, at which refreshments will be served. The general public is invited.

Assistant Chief Elma Naylor and Fireman Golden are in charge of arrangements for the open house.

Another aspect of "Fire Prevention Week" is a contest sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, it was announced by Luther E. Sharpe, secretary-manager.

The contest is open to all students from the third grade through high school, with separate prizes (Continued last page, this section)

Officers said a .38-calibre revolver, which Canno said he had bought about three weeks ago, was found. Canno told the officers he was outside the house talking to a neighbor, Mrs. Rosa Telles, when he heard a revolver shot and ran in the house, where he found his wife lying on the floor.

In a report to officers, Mrs. Telles said she was standing in her kitchen, looking out a window to where her little son and Canno's little son were playing, while Canno was watching them. He was sitting at a corner of the house, she said.

When she heard a shot, Mrs. Telles ran out and got her little boy and took him in the house, she told officers. Later she went to the Canno home, where she saw Mrs. Canno lying on the floor.

Mrs. Canno was unconscious when taken to the hospital, but regained consciousness before she died.

Police said Mrs. Canno had not been feeling well and that a physician had been to see her some hours before.

Canno told police officers he had purchased the revolver about three weeks ago because of prowlers.

Spanish Woman, Mother Of Two, Commits Suicide

Mrs. Ricardo Canno, 20, of La Loma, young Spanish-American mother of two children, the younger only 10 days old at the time, fatally shot herself about 4:40 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, according to police officers, who said the shot was fired with suicidal intent.

She died in Artesia Municipal Hospital at 7:35 o'clock that evening from a gunshot wound in her breast below the heart. The bullet came out her back and was found in her clothing.

Officers said a .38-calibre revolver, which Canno said he had bought about three weeks ago, was found. Canno told the officers he was outside the house talking to a neighbor, Mrs. Rosa Telles, when he heard a revolver shot and ran in the house, where he found his wife lying on the floor.

First Cotton Is Delivered Thursday To New Compress

The first 300-bale shipment to arrive at the new cotton compress north of Artesia on Highway 285 was trucked in Thursday from the Cottonwood Gin Company gin for compressing.

The cotton was bought and shipped by C. C. Smith for the account of Rountree Cotton Company. Prices paid to farmers ranged from $30.31 to $35.30, depending on the grade and staple. The cotton was all sold above the government loan price.

Smith said that in spite of the enormous crop coming on the market, for some mysterious reason the demand for spot cotton is the best it has been since 1946-47.

Sports Dope Has Artesia Favored To Beat Clovis

Sports dope has the Artesia Bulldogs favored by far to defeat the Wildcats at Clovis in a grid game tonight, which will start at 7:30 o'clock, a half hour sooner than the games here have started so far this season.

The Wildcats, who rated eighth in the New Mexico Sports Writers' Association poll a week ago, to ninth for the Bulldogs, dropped out of the first 10 in this week's vote, whereas Artesia maintained its ninth-place position.

The decisive score in favor of Artesia over Lovington and trouncing of Clovis by Hobbs last Friday were strong points in the changes of position.

Clovis dropped down to fourth place in the second 10, or 14th in the state in the weekly poll.

The Bulldogs blanked Lovington 48-0 on Morris Field and Hobbs defeated Clovis 45-7. However, Hobbs is rated the third strongest team in the state up to this time, whereas Lovington is not listed in the first 20.

It is expected hundreds of Artesia sports fans will be in Clovis tonight to support the Bulldogs. Tentative plans were started two weeks ago for Artesians go to the game by special Santa Fe train, but (Continued last page, this section)

Mayor Proclaims 'Fire Prevention Week' In Artesia

Whereas, fire continues to be one of the greatest killers and destroyers of property, costing 11,000 lives and an estimated $715,074,000 in property loss in the United States in 1948 and,

Whereas, the National Board of Fire Underwriters is taking the lead in the annual observation of "Fire Prevention Week," Oct. 9-15, throughout the nation and

Whereas, the Artesia Fire Department, Chamber of Commerce and city administration are co-operating in observation of the week in Artesia and in urging the citizens of the community to concentrate at that time in removing fire hazards and to resolve anew to do their utmost in an attempt to eliminate fires in Artesia,

Now, therefore, I, Oren C. Roberts, mayor of Artesia, proclaim the week of Oct. 9-15 as "Fire Prevention Week" and ask that everyone participate in its activities, striving to fight fires before they happen and to help make this a safer community in which to live.

OREN C. ROBERTS, Mayor of Artesia.

G.P.A. To Prevail On Deer Hunters Sticking To Law

Plans were made Tuesday night at a meeting of the North Eddy County chapter of the Game Protective Association to distribute circulars to deer hunters checking through the Guadalupe and Sacramento checking stations during the big-game season, giving warnings, do's and don'ts and advice and asking hunters to obey the laws, as the first project of the year.

Clyde Roberts, who was recently named president by the new board of directors, stressed the need for a strong membership in the organization and called attention to the membership contest, which will close at the time of the next regular meeting, which will be Tuesday night, Nov. 1.

In connection with the contest two prizes are being given, fishing equipment and a .30-30 Winchester rifle. The fishing equipment will go to the member signing up the greatest number of other members, new or renewal.

Membership dues, he said, are $2 for men and women and $1 for boy and girl students. Either type of membership counts in the contest, the president said.

The chapter members voted to affiliate again this year with the (Continued last page, this section)

All But One Of 29 Babies At Clinic Are Boys

Some sort of record has been set at the Artesia Clinic, where of 29 babies born in less than a month, 28 were boy babies.

The record was set between Sept. 8 and Oct. 5, with the girl baby born about the middle of the unusual run.

It would take a top mathematician to figure out the odds for such a performance, which would probably run into the millions, as the occurrence of boy and girls babies is nearly equal.

Shrine Carnival Dates Definitely Set Oct. 27-29

The Artesia Shrine Club has definitely set the dates of Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Oct. 27-29, for the presentation of their annual carnival.

It originally was announced for Thursday Friday and Saturday, Oct. 13-15, but the dates were changed because of a conflict with dates for the Elks minstrel next week.

Members of the Shrine Club said many of the features of past years will be repeated at this year's carnival and that a number of new ones will be added, making this the liveliest of them all.

Besides three nights of concessions, games and other features, the club will sponsor a public dance at the Veterans Memorial Building the final night of the carnival, Saturday, Oct. 29, in connection with which a Ford automobile is to be given away.

Plans For Barbecue By B.P.O. Does Are Being Completed

Plans are being completed by the Artesia drove of B.P.O. Does for a barbecue for Does and Elks and their families and guests at the Paul Terry ranch southeast of Artesia Saturday night.

Flares are to be placed along the route in order to direct those not familiar with it. Members of the organization said one should take Highway 285 about six miles south and turn east there, following the flares to the Terry ranch.

Barbecue tickets, which will be limited to 300, may be purchased from Mrs. Jimmie Welch, Does president or Mrs. Jack Armstrong.

In connection with the barbecue, a vacuum cleaner donated by Billy Alberts is to be given away.

Smith Is Acting Police Captain As Miller Is Ill

Mayor Oren C. Roberts has announced that because of serious illness Police Captain John Miller has been relieved of active duty, pending convalescence.

Police Chief Earl D. Westfall has appointed Milton E. Smith acting captain, in which capacity he is now serving.

Captain Miller, who has been quite ill, is now doing nicely. He is the oldest police officer in Artesia in point of years of service.

Old Wooden Landmark Is Moved Off Main Street As City Progresses

One of the last remaining of the old wooden landmarks in the downtown district of Artesia, the building at 105 West Main Street, was moved off Tuesday and taken across the railroad tracks to East Grand.

It was sold by the late Martin Yates, Jr., to Clyde Guy of Guy Chevrolet Company last winter. Guy has moved it off to make room for a modern used car lot.

The age of the building could not be learned, but it is known a Mrs. Cleveland, then postmaster, operated the post office in the front part about 45 years ago.

Dooley and the late Harve Muncy operated a real estate office in the building in 1907-08, during which period they brought in buyers and prospective buyers from Nebraska and other states in the North. Prior to that, however, in about 1906, Richey & Son were located in the building.

The late Martin Yates, Jr., who died early this year and Dooley went into business after the Dooley-Muncy partnership and operated as Yates & Dooley. That period in the history of the old building was recalled Tuesday when it was moved off the lot, disclosing a sign on its east wall, shut off from view a number of years by a Guy Chevrolet Company wall.

It read: "Yates & Dooley, Pioneer Real Estate and Oil Men - Leases."

Until about two years ago Dooley and Yates both maintained offices in the building, closely associated in many oil operations and doing business separately in others. At that time Yates moved his office to the Booker Building. Then when Yates sold the building to Guy last winter, Dooley moved his office to his residence.

The old landmark was the location of the office of the New Mexico Oil Men's Protective Association, predecessor to the New Mexico Oil & Gas Association, in 1929-34, while Dooley was its secretary. And back about the same time, when Dooley was county chairman, the office of the National Re-employment Service of the Department of Labor was maintained there.

In the early days of their association as partners, Yates & Dooley sold real estate. They dreamed of opening an oil field in Eddy County and formed a partnership with Bill Flynn, now of Carlsbad and Van S. Welch of Artesia as Flynn, Welch, Yates & Dooley, which firm brought in the first (Continued last page this section)

Side Road To Ruidoso

Writer Revisits 20 Years After

(John J. Francis of Glendale, Calif., brother of Lee Francis of Artesia, who has been here visiting, recently related in these columns a grizzly bear yarn which had been spun by Preston Dunn, old-timer here. Now he tells of a "Side Road to Ruidoso," as a writer revisits a place 20 years after, which will be published in two installments.)

By JOHN L. FRANCIS

I didn't come up here to hunt bear. And knowing in a general way the growing scarcity of game in our mountains, I would have been a little skeptical if someone had told me there are bear in New Mexico.

However, after leaving the bus at the junction, I proceeded on foot towards the Ruidoso resort area. One sign said three miles, another, two. I bought several apples at the first road junction and asked if there were cabins to be had.

"Yep, about 500," the proprietor said, "and they're all empty!"

Walking another mile, I passed a young fellow doing up a rustic arcade in green paint, so I stopped to inquire tentatively about the location of the town. He proved to be a former B-29 pilot and Lockheed engineer.

My first question was, naturally, "Are there any bear up here?" He said there are, that bear season was on and that nine had been brought in. He said there were also mountain lions that came as near as the slope towards town. He said he also hunted wild turkey in a nearby canyon—and he pointed about a mile away—with bow and arrow.

In every resort area, there is always a small group who go in for archery and do light hunting with it. Perhaps few people know that at a short distance an arrow will penetrate a game animal as effectively as a bullet.

Each time the young engineer would point over a mountain, he had a new detail to tell about. "On that peak," he said, "is the skyway. They have a lift up to 9000 feet, a T-bar and lift. And over that other ridge is the landing field. I asked if 7000 feet of altitude wasn't a little high to bring in passenger ships. And he said it wasn't. The field has 6500-foot runways, about a mile and a quarter, he said.

The state is certainly becoming air minded. I learned it was an hour by air to El Paso, an hour and three-quarters to Fort Worth and three and a half hours to Los Angeles.

The small Hollywood racetrack that I had observed from the bus window had a thriving summer season, grossing more than a half million. This sport fills a need (Continued last page this section)

Area Commander Of Legion Visits Post At Artesia

Wayne Evrage of Carlsbad, Area "C" commander of the American Legion, spoke briefly on membership and "National Employ the Handicapped Week" at the monthly meeting of the local post Monday night at the Veterans Memorial Building.

Commander Evrage pointed out that handicapped persons frequently make better employees than those having no handicaps and urged that more be given an opportunity of employment.

As to membership, the area commander said there are about 3000 veterans in Eddy County eligible to membership in the Artesia and Carlsbad posts of the American Legion, whereas only a small percentage of them are taking advantage of the opportunity.

Commander Evrage announced there will be an area meeting at Mesalero Sunday, Oct. 16. A session later in the day will be at Ruidoso. He and Post Commander J. T. Easley urged a good attendance from Artesia.

The post passed a motion to ask the central committee of the United Veterans Club to start negotiations immediately for veterans and the Chamber of Commerce to plan for a bigger and better V-J Day celebration next year, with the view that the community will benefit through the expansion.

The membership of the post observed a minute of silent reverence (Continued last page, this section)

Carnival Employee Is Being Charged With Grand Larceny

Bill Reed, about 22, a ticket taker for Norton Rides, a carnival showing at the south edge of Artesia this week, is in custody on a grand larceny charge, in which it is alleged he stole a money box containing $20.50 from one of the ride and broke a window in a truck and stole two suitcases Wednesday night.

He was arrested in Carlsbad on information from Artesia police. The grand larceny charge was filed against him Thursday. He is yet to be arraigned.

Courts Of Justice?

FOR MANY YEARS we have referred to our courts as courts of justice; seemingly more often they are courts of injustice.

It is just a little difficult these days and times to get honest evidence and honest testimony into court. It is just as difficult to get the facts and to base the case on the facts.

Just what we are going to do about it—we do not know. But we do know that we have far too many injustices occurring in our court rooms and we do know there must come a day and time when this injustice must be eliminated.

There is no questioning but what there is more and more ignoring of the citizen's rights. Time after time he is imposed upon and taken advantage of when this should not occur.

And it occurs all the more frequently oftentimes because the individual isn't able to employ or hire an attorney to represent him and to demand that he receive his just rights and privileges.

For far too long it seemingly has been a matter of being able to hire the best attorney in trials, not a matter of right or wrong. We have even heard of instances where it was the "hiring of witnesses." And we expect this does happen.

Every now and then we see outstanding examples of trials and cases where individuals and in some cases state officials, have taken one stand, done one thing and then when they get in a witness chair to testify they reverse themselves and the evidence they have given out before.

We even hear of instances where jurors are "bought and paid for" and that, of course, doesn't provide justice in the court room.

Just how or when we are going to correct these conditions and these situations we do not know but we do know that the time has come when we need to eliminate the injustices which occur in our so-called courts of justice.

There is far too much injustice today for us to continue to refer to our courts of justice—somehow or other they are rather far removed from courts of justice today.—O.E.P.

Legalized Gambling

STATE REP. F. M. LAVADIE of Taos has announced that he plans to introduce a bill in the State Legislature in the 1951 session to legalize gambling in New Mexico.

That step, of course, has been anticipated here and there has already been considerable comment on it.

An effort was made to pass such a measure during the last session of the Legislature, but our information is to the effect that the boys over at Reno, Nev., brought over too much money.

Nevada gamblers of course, aren't interested in New Mexico legalizing gambling. And we don't believe that New Mexico is interested in legalizing gambling, either.

But it does make an interesting picture when the battle gets underway on these measures to oppose the passage of a state gambling law. It is interesting because we find the church people and the good citizens of the state opposing such a law. And we also find that they are lined up squarely with the gambling element from Nevada because the Nevada gamblers don't want the law passed either.

We rather question that the proposed legislation will get much further during the session of 1951 if it is introduced than it got during the session of 1949.

We do not believe the people of the state of New Mexico want legalized gambling and we do not believe that they will permit the passage of any such law.

But many here predicted long ago when the efforts were made to halt gambling that efforts would be made to legalize gambling.

There are those who argue that gambling is going to prevail anyway and that it can't be stopped. They also argue that the city, county and state can collect tremendous taxes from the gambling operations.

And there is no question but what that could prove to be the case.

But most citizens, we believe, of this city and this county do not desire legalized gambling; they do not want the element it brings in; and they do not want the atmosphere which it creates.

And we believe they will show this attitude if and when such a measure is introduced in the Legislature to legalize gambling in New Mexico.—O.E.P.

'Fire Prevention Week'

IN THE UNITED STATES fire costs to every man, woman and child have more than doubled in the last eight years, according to the National Board of Fire Underwriters.

In an effort to encourage thought about fire prevention, "Fire Prevention Week" will be observed in Artesia and throughout the nation Oct. 9-15. Fire prevention should be a year-round job for all of us, but we become careless. And therefore from time to time it is well that our attention is called to the tremendous cost of fire and to the fact most of them could be prevented, if we only took the trouble to prevent them.

The fire bill for every American in 1948 was $5.08, compared with $2.32 in 1940. We do not have the statistics on loss of life by fire for the two years, but we naturally presume there was a comparable increase.

But the most striking thing about it is that every year there is an educational program at this time about fire prevention. More and more measures are taken by authorities by means of educational programs and laws to cut down on the mounting loss and our safer and more modern appliances, heating units and the like, all of which have to do with fire in some manner, are in more common use.

Still the monetary losses by fire more than doubled from 1940 to 1948.

In the face of these things, don't you think every individual in the community should take stock of his premises, the catch-all closets, unapproved amateur electric wiring and carelessness during the coming week?

We do. And we believe the American people should firmly resolve to continue to fight fires in every way possible—before they happen.—A.L.B.

Those Prolific Weeds

SPEAKING OF FIRE PREVENTION, seems one of the purposes of the citywide weed-cutting program some weeks ago was to help overcome the hazard of fire from the lush vegetation after the first frost and it dries up.

The program in itself was splendid and took care of the situation, but only for a limited time.

Weeds and Johnson grass have taken on a new lease of life and are getting high again. But we doubt if another citywide campaign to get rid of them a second time is feasible.

But a little personal attention on the part of all property owners and householders before the first frost will solve the problem, not just as a "Fire Prevention Week" activity, but as a sensible precaution in the protection of our own and our neighbors' property—as well as in helping to keep the city looking well groomed.—A.L.B.

Laws Don't Do It

LAW, ORDINANCES AND REGULATIONS controlling traffic do not prevent accidents. If they did, then we could prevent the accidents that continue to occur daily.

If we could halt all of these accidents by merely passing a law or adopting an ordinance—then it could be done overnight.

Laws are adopted to help prevent accidents but they only help if and provided we observe them or provided they are enforced.

We, the drivers and operators of motor vehicles, are the only ones who can prevent accidents. We are the ones who have to so drive that accidents will not occur. And if and when we are willing to do this the chances are we will either greatly reduce the number of traffic accidents or we can and will eliminate them.

But it takes all of us—the fellow driving the other car besides the one operating the car in which we are riding.

Most of the accidents could be avoided or prevented if we would merely employ and use the knowledge we have. Far too often we know that individuals say when they have had an accident they were going too fast. In other cases they knew they had a bad tire; they knew their brakes were not good; they knew this or they knew that.

Maybe they knew the turn was short; they knew the road was bad; they knew traffic was too heavy; they knew the car was coming too fast.

Yes, we know all of these things and still we go right ahead taking a chance.

We speed through a blind corner; we ignore a traffic sign; we ignore the speed limit.

If the law could prevent us from doing these things then the accident wouldn't occur. But the law is there to help us and will help us only if we are willing to observe the law.

But just as long as we continue to ignore the law; just as long as we refuse to employ the safety knowledge—just as long as we continue to go along and take unnecessary chances, just that long we are going to have accidents—accidents which in most instances were avoidable if we had only been careful.—O.E.P.

Radio Interference

WE HAVE HEARD a number of complaints lately from people in various sections of the city that local radio interference is getting bad again.

The average person, if he realizes he has a leak of some kind in his electrical installations and equipment or that his appliances send out waves which make ugly noises on his neighbors' radio sets, is willing to take steps to rectify the cause.

But there are those who don't care about other people, just as there are those who don't care if they create any kind of nuisance.

For such self-centered individuals a number of cities have passed ordinances requiring that electric equipment does not interfere with radio reception. We understand, but are not certain, that Roswell and Carlsbad have such ordinances.

Good Heavens, we aren't going to let them get ahead of us, are we?—A.L.B.

There's a report that women's hats are to be taller. Is there any hope of the higher the fever?

Adding Sunshine to the Sunshine State

By Dr. G. Ward Fenley
 With seasons passing all too quickly into seasons and years into years, I often wonder if human nature is getting any smarter.

Any U. S. citizen, says George Bowra of The Aztec Independent, can for 15 cents get a government pamphlet on any subject—educational stuff, also.

George avers that he learned from a recent booklet that wet spots on the ceiling were caused by a leaky roof. He says that he already knew that wet spots in the bed came from the presence of a grandson.

Signs of the Times
 The Eddy County News chimed in with an elderly gentleman's complaints about his new-fangled hearing aid: "The blasted new device permits me to hear the rumbles in the tummies of otherwise charming young ladies."

That's the price of civilization, fellows—disillusionment.

Just to make sure the younger generation is getting educated, Sarah D. Ulmer, writing under the title of "Vaporings of an Old Maid" (Tucumcari Sunday Leader), says the sixth-graders nowadays are having one heck of a time learning to spell Polythalamous, Tetrabranchiate, and Cephalopod.

Simply nice little 20th century words found in Oliver Wendell Holmes' "Chamber Nautilus." For what purpose? We don't know.

A. L. (Pot) Bert's eagle editorial eye found an Artesia sign last week heralding to an unsuspecting world: "Coca Cola Sandwiches." Mr. Bert has promised to try one for us. We live and learn, n'est-ce pas?

Signs on the Road
 We see by The Santa Fe New Mexican that there is to be a concerted move to remove "the educational facilities offered by unsightly roadside billboards."

Not that we are so old but we recall yams about the famous Mrs. Lydia Pinkham who was among the first big-time operators in advertising.

She grew so famous through $1,500,000 spent annually in telling about her wares that college boys sang about her a sort of risque song:

Mrs. Brown had female weakness
 And could have no children dear,
 Till she took some vegetable compound
 Now she has about seven a year.
 Sing, O sing, O sing, O sing,
 Of Lydia Pinkham, Pinkham,
 Ping,
 And her love for the human race;
 How she sells her vegetable compound
 And the papers publish her face.

MARCH OF EVENTS

Forrestal Hinted Russians Had Bomb in Early 1948
 Labor Chiefs Cool Toward Clark, Minton Appointment

Special to Central Press
 WASHINGTON—The capital hears half a hundred "stories" behind the story" of President Truman's disclosure that Russia has the atomic bomb—and listening to them all forgets that the second most powerful figure in United States officialdom hinted at the same thing many months ago.

In early 1948 the late Secretary of Defense James V. Forrestal told a congressional committee that he believed the Soviets had the atomic bomb secret.

Forrestal's statement was a two-day sensation but then was quickly shoved into comparative oblivion by onrushing events.

Many informed Washington sources express the opinion that Mr. Truman was trying to "make up" Congress for a request that the Atomic Energy Act be changed to permit this country to give atomic partners, England and Canada, more of our scientific know-how.

The electrifying presidential announcement came while the English and Canadian atomic representatives were in the American capital outlining their case for more information.

Another school of thought holds that our most officials expected Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky to reveal in his speech before the United Nations that Russia had exploded an atomic bomb.

Vishinsky made his UN speech only a few hours after the President's jolting announcement. Some officials are convinced Truman simply "stole the thunder" from Vishinsky.

LABOR FRETS OVER COURT—Labor leaders are upset over the changes that have taken place in the Supreme Court last spring.

As they see it, two reliable defenders of the liberal cause, whom they claim is labor's cause—the late Justices Frank Murphy and Wiley Rutledge—have been replaced by two untried men—Justices Tom Clark and Sherman Minton, who is yet to be confirmed to the Senate.

Murphy and Rutledge were members of the so-called four-man liberal bloc, along with Justices William Douglas and Hugo Black. This bloc could be depended on to go the limit on civil rights, labor's rights and similar issues.

It was when this bloc managed to win over one of the conservative middle-of-the-roads that labor won some of its most significant court victories.

Although both Clark and Minton are Democrats, labor leaders fear they will not prove to be the militant and unwavering liberals that their predecessors were and, as a result, that the liberal bloc will have suffered a permanent setback.

BRANNAN PLAN LIVES ON—Do not write off as dead Agriculture Secretary Charles F. Brannan's plan to preserve farm prosperity through government subsidy payments to farmers.

Although the White House has been forced to bow to the will of Congress and accept the more orthodox Anderson farm bill, which is based on price supports, there are indications that grass roots backing will be sought for the Brannan plan during the 1950 election campaign.

U. S. AND THE POUND—One unpublicized consequence of the sterling area currency devaluation is the benefit that it will give the United States defense program. The Munitions Board will be able as a result to buy strategic materials from the sterling area at some reduction in price, although the cut will not be the 30 per cent of the pound devaluation.

Washington experts say that the price cut on such essential materials as natural rubber and tin will range between 10 and 20 per cent. There will be price cuts in some other commodities, like manganese and chrome.

And in Conclusion
 That's all except the conversation of Mama and son:
 Mother: "And what did mama's little baby learn at school today?"
 Son: "I learned two fellers not to call me mama's little baby."

Many Veterans Receive Dental Aid In State

More than 1200 New Mexico Veterans have received free dental treatments for service-connected conditions in the last year, the Veterans Administration announced. In addition, 1700 examinations of veterans have been made to determine the need of treatment.

Gene A. Robens, manager of the VA regional office in Albuquerque, issued this report in conjunction with one made on a national basis by the VA in Washington for the fiscal year ending July 1.

The VA dental clinic at the regional office in Albuquerque is treating almost 56 per cent of all veterans with service-connected disabilities, while the remaining 44 per cent is being treated by private dentists under the VA hometown" dental program. VA staff dentists examined 1262 veterans at an estimated cost of $8934 during the year. Private dentists were paid $4999 to examine 517 veterans.

VA staff dentists, during the same period, treated 691 veterans at an estimated cost of $28,720. Average of $41.56 per veteran. Basis private dentists were $41,608 for treating 533 veterans at an average of $78.

In the nation as a whole, private dentists handled 84 per cent of treatment cases completed during the fiscal year, treating 432,000 veterans against 83,372 treated in VA clinics. During the same period, hometown dentists examined 263,150 veterans, VA clinics examined 315,680. Paid private dentists 35,340,000 treatments and $3,473,464 for examinations during the year.

The backlog of veterans awaiting examination and treatment was reduced from 324,048 on July 1, 1948, to 163,418 on July 1, 1949. Robens said only 224 veterans in New Mexico have applications for dental treatment pending, more than that number of examinations and treatments a year are being completed by VA private doctors.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

IN the days when playing the Palace Theatre was the wild dream of every vaudeville actor, and when all Broadway turned out to see the new bill there on Monday afternoon, old-time comedy headliner turned up with an act that had grown stale and corny through the years. The audience behaved as though it were attending a funeral.

The manager fumed and informed the comic, "You'll never be booked at the Palace again! You haven't added a new joke to that tired routine of yours since Harry Lauder wore his first pair of kilts!"

The comedian had no rebuttal at the moment, but after the evening show, he button-holed the manager and crowed, "Well, didja see how I went over tonight? They were crazy for me! I hope you caught it when I boffed them for five laughs in a row." "I did," sneered the manager, "and I noticed it was the row occupied by your mother, father, wife, and two children!"

Scale Will Weigh Stock More Accurately

Less livestock weighers have accused of manipulating the weighbeam type of scale at markets. Rats have often blamed for causing errors in the weight of livestock, accumulation of dirt and manure on the scale platforms, to say nothing of wear and rust of scale parts, have caused false weighing.

But now marketing officials of the U. S. Department of Agriculture announce they have a speedier, more accurate scale that simply can't make the mistakes complained of in weighing livestock on the old kind of scales.

The new scale measures the weight electrically. When the operator presses certain buttons, this new device automatically prints the weight, number and type of animals, the names of the weigher and the selling agency, and the date and time of weighing. What's more, the marketing specialists claim, the new electronic scale is so built it won't weigh anything other than the weight of the load actually on the scale platform. They say it is accurate to within five pounds up to 32,000 pounds.

This improved livestock weighing machine was developed by an aircraft instrument company under the supervision of the marketing officials. The work was done under contract with the department, as a Research and Marketing Act project. The new livestock scale is based on a device used in scales for weighing aircraft.

Council Church Women Plans Year's Program

The executive board of the Artesia Council of Church Women met Monday afternoon at the home of the president, Mrs. E. J. Foster, to plan the four meetings of the council for the year.

The first will be on migrant and leper aid. A party will be held at the First Methodist Church recreation hall at 2 o'clock Wednesday, Oct. 12. This program is in charge of Mrs. Arthur G. Bell, wife of the pastor of the First Christian Church and Mrs. William M. Siegenthaler, president of the Christian Women's Circle. Admission charge is to be an old felt hat, to be used for making toys for migrant relief. The afternoon is to be spent rolling bandages from old sheets and preparing other items for migrant and leper relief.

The second meeting, "World Community Day," is scheduled for Nov. 4, to be held at the First Methodist Church, with the program in charge of Mrs. Ralph O'Dell, wife of the pastor of the First Presbyterian Church. The request for the day is "Pieces for Peace," any length of yard goods.

The third meeting is "World Day of Prayer," Feb. 24. The meeting will take place at the Church of the Nazarene. The program will be in charge of the Episcopal women.

"May Fellowship Day" will be May 5, to be held at the First Presbyterian Church, with the program in charge of Mrs. R. L. Wilkington, wife of the pastor of the First Methodist Church.

The quota of pledges for each church was the same as for last year.

Saga Of Sea Is Told At Meeting Of Story League
"Mr. Hampden's Shipwreck," an exciting saga of the sea, by John Masefield, was recounted by Mrs. Donald Bush at a meeting of the Story League Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. William Siegenthaler.

enthaier. Mrs. John A. Mathis, Jr., gave a valuable study on voice control on the same program.

During the business meeting, the group made plans for ticket sales for the Clare Tree Major plays and for telling the story of the first play, "Cinderella," at the schools preceding the sale of season tickets.

Mrs. Curtis Bolton requested names of members' children who would be willing to participate in a story book play, to be presented to the public Dec. 6. Each year the Story League opens one meeting to the public and this year Mrs. Bolton has written an original play for the occasion.

Mrs. Thad Cox and Mrs. J. T. Haile assisted Mrs. Siegenthaler in serving refreshments carrying out a fall theme. Members and associates present were Mmes. Bolton, C. P. Bunch, Donald Bush, Jack Chain, John Clarke, Jr., M. Anderson Corbin, Haile, Owen Haynes, F. A. Houston, Jack Knorr, Carl Lewis, Ted Maschek, H. O. Miller, Mathis, Cecil Mitchell, Hugh W. PARENTS AND BOY RESCUED FROM BUOY

Mr. and Mrs. Reg Pelouquin and detective rescuer, John O. Loeffler.

HEARTFELT GRATITUDE lights the face of Mrs. Bernice Pelouquin, comforted by her husband, as New York City Detective John O. Loeffler mans the wheel of his cabin cruiser after the detective and his wife rescue the Pelouquin couple and their son Mike from a buoy in Great South bay, New York, near Jones Inlet to the sea. The Pelouquins, who live in Jackson Heights, were fishing from an outboard motorboat when tide swells capsized the craft. They managed to cling to the tossing buoy, fighting heavy swells, for 20 minutes before their dramatic rescue. (International Soundphoto)

Rev. And Mrs. Clerk Are Building Home For Retirement Here

Ground was broken Monday for a residence for Rev. and Mrs. C. A. Clark of Dexter, formerly of Artesia, at 708 South Eighth Street in Artesia.

Rev. Clark, former pastor of the First Methodist Church of Artesia, after which he went on the retired list, after 50 years of service, is serving as pastor of the Methodist Church at Dexter. He and Mrs. Clark plan when he actually retires from the pastorate to come back here to their new home.

It will be four rooms and bath, with a dining area in the form of an "L" off the living room. Construction will be pumice brick with stucco.

ARMED FORCES DAY SET: THIRD SATURDAY IN MAY

Philadelphia (AFPS)—Defense Secretary Louis Johnson has designated the third Saturday in May to be "Armed Forces Day" to replace Army, Navy and Air Force days.

Mr. Johnson made the announcement in a speech before the recent American Legion convention here. He said that President Truman had approved that particular day each year for a joint celebration by the Armed Services.

Heretofore, Army Day has been April 6, Air Force Day September 18 and Navy Day October 27. The date of Armed Forces Day was recommended to the President by the Joint Chiefs of Staff and the Defense Secretary.

Brunk's Comedians To Play Artesia All Next Week

Starting Monday, Brunk's Comedians will play an engagement of a week in Artesia on vacant lots between Fifth and Sixth Streets on Texas Avenue, west of the new fire station, in a big, new tent theater. Novelle Lambert will play the leading role in "The Woman Tamer," a comedy-drama, the opening bill of the week, which is strictly for family entertainment. In addition to "The Woman Tamer," five acts of vaudeville, featuring Bob Ranous, who walks on his fingers and thumbs, will be presented. Ranous won the title, "Mr. America," in 1944. Included in the entertainment will be hill-billy singing and dancing acts, magic acts and many other novelties. Brunk's Comedians are well known in this section and have played here a number of times, including last fall, when a week of good entertainment was provided under the management of Henry Brunk, who will play "Toby" in several of the plays next week.

Going to get your $2,064 bait back?

Your shiny new automobile—with prices averaging about $2,064—has to get you a whale of a lot of use to justify its cost.

Winter wear is the worst bait-snatcher. It can strip your car of plenty of service... Unless you OIL-PLATE it!

2. Always on Guard! Even when the fine lubricating oil itself isn't covering a part, OIL-PLATING is! It protects your engine against grinding “dry-friction” starts... from corrosive combustion acids... from sludge and carbon caused by wear.

1. Oil-Plating—a feature of patented Conoco Nth Motor Oil—performs a wear-preventing miracle by fastening a shield of special lubricant to working parts. OIL-PLATING can't all drain down—even overnight!

3. Watch Out for Winter! The frigid months are the most dangerous months for these car-killers. New and older cars both urgently need Conoco Nth. Don't wait... drive yours in today and armor it against winter with Conoco Nth.

BETTER COTTON with AERO CYANAMID

Special Grade

Satisfied Growers who use Special Grade Cyanamid name the following advantages:

It hastens crop maturity by opening up plants to sun and air. It checks boll rot of lower shaded bolls — It reduced number of bollies — It avoids losses from weather exposure after bolls open — It reduces trash and leaf stain to a minimum, improve grade — It speeds up both mechanical and hand picking — It generally allows complete harvest at one picking — It permits more liberal use of fertilizers and irrigation to increase yield — It makes possible earlier planting of fall cover crops.

The economy and many advantages of AERO Cyanamid, Special Grade now establish this defoliant as an essential to a better cotton crop.

the two bombs were dropped on Japan, they were far from predominant. But in severe cases of radiation, the red blood cells are killed and the body's capacity to manufacture more is destroyed, so the cells cannot be replaced. Early symptoms are nausea and vomiting, followed by diarrhea. If severe enough to last a week, one's throat becomes inflamed and his hair drops out. In milder cases, a person is free of some of the symptoms, but he will not feel well. However, his blood will build back. The Red Cross representative said the answer to radiation is whole blood.

That is why, he said, the Red Cross was given an order three years ago for a blood program. After two years of trial a satisfactory program was worked out and plans now are to open about 30 more blood centers.

For the second of injuries in order of incidence, those from debris, there is not too much additional concern. Mouton said, as those injuries are no different from those suffered from other flying debris, for which first aid procedures are well known.

Mouton said the civilian defense planning group has called for a national blood program and universal Red Cross training for the American people.

Already the new first-aid program is being extensively taught to personnel in the postal service and requests have been made to the Red Cross to carry it to the Rural Electrification Administration and Federal Housing Administration, Mouton said. Likewise the armed services are seeking the program.

The first aid program is going again, Mouton declared.

'Earl Emmons Day' To Be Sunday

Earl Emmons of Artesia, one of the best known and nerviest hot-rod drivers in the Southwest, will be honored and benefit by a race program to be staged at 1:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon on 'Earl Emmons Day' at the veterans' race track at the Artesia municipal airport.

Emmons was injured Sunday, Aug. 28, at Durango, Colo., during a race, when his car ran through a two-strand fence made of electric wire.

The top strand struck his neck, which he partially protected by throwing up his arms, possibly keeping him from being decapitated. Nevertheless the wire wound around his neck. Both bones in his wrist were broken and his elbow was dislocated.

The racing program of seven events here Sunday will feature a number of leading drivers and cars in the Southwest. Art Moore, racing announcer from Carlsbad, will be in charge.

Emmons, who was hospitalized in the Veterans Hospital in Albuquerque, is home and will return to the hospital Monday.

Monte Montrose Is Featured With Brunk's Comedians

MONTE MONTROSE

One of the feature actors, Monte Montrose, to appear with Brunk's Comedians in Artesia next week, is a man who has gained considerable dramatic experience in melodrama in Philadelphia and is well known in repertoire. Monte will appear Monday night in one of the characters of "The Woman Tamer" the opening play at the new tent theater, which will be erected west of the new fire station, on Texas Avenue between Fifth and Sixth Streets.

For entertainment, three sound films from the University of New Mexico were shown, with John A. Mathis, Jr. and Russell Hill in charge of the program.

The pictures were "Brazil's Fishing School," in which boys were shown learning to become professional fishermen for the Brazilian fishing fleet; "Alaska Reservoirs and Resources," and "Deer and Its Relatives."

The president appointed James Allen and O. M. Doss to arrange for a program for the November meeting, at which it is anticipated there will be a good attendance.

In the news story Friday of last week, about the election of officers by the directors, Russell Hill was named as the new vice president, whereas R. N. Russell had been elected to the post. Both are directors.

Side Road—

when the summer population of a resort grows to 30,000 or more.

Let me interpose a moment and give you a short flashback:

In September of 1929, just 20 years ago it was my privilege to spend a vacation of a week in Ruidoso. My elder brother rented a cabin for the nominal sum of $5. There were 10, or 15 cabins in view along the stream. There was practically no entertainment except what one provided himself and this we did in fishing, hiking and following the stream as far up the canyon as it is physically possible to go.

I don't recall that any business section existed. About a minute's walk from our cabin was a small footbridge and a short distance beyond was a skating rink.

And again to the present time: Today I talked briefly to the proprietor of the cabin court. He works in a sawmill below the junction. He said he was from Carlsbad, but that he likes Ruidoso better. I asked him if the weather didn't get cold in the winter. "Yeah," he said, "but it doesn't hurt you as bad."

On my first morning there, I had risen earlier than most of the resort. But by 9:30 o'clock, one of the cafes had gotten enough going to serve up a breakfast. My eating of a stack of hot cakes was punctuated by the proprietor stomping up and down before his cookstove in cowboy boots. Presently he stopped before the griddle and filled it up with hot cakes. "I guess I'll eat four this morning," he said to nobody in particular and went on with his stomping.

I don't mind repeating the advice that was given me before I left Artesia, that it gets chilly up here at night. I found that out and my only alternative was to sleep in my suit coat. This pulled me through the night very comfortably. Possibly not a few mountain-top tourists have found themselves getting up before dawn and pulling on an extra pair of pants.

Late in midmorning, I found the lane that leads to the golf course. It's a 15-minute walk from town. They have a very nice course and clubhouse. I rented clubs and bought two balls. I hadn't played in 10 years, but I made the nine holes in 59.

The course is rather unique, built completely on the side of the mountain. I am certain a basketball would roll the complete length of No. 2 hole. You get a complete panoramic view of the course and I imagine it is picturesque when the summer tourists load it down with all the colorful clothes they wear.

I was sure the No. 4 and No. 6 holes could be approached with one drive. However, the proprietor told me later the course is of standard yardage. The clear air possibly gives a slight optical illusion. Two tournaments are held during the summer season, at which $100 amateur prizes, fishing tackle and other prizes are given away.

OLD TOWN PLANS BIRTHDAY PARTY

A PROGRAM rich in history and early culture is being planned by the southern New Mexico city of Las Cruces, which will be 100 years old in October. Raquel Maynez, 19, descendent of one of the oldest families in the region, holds flowers to place on graves of three Spanish missionaries killed by Apaches in 1787. She is aided by Father Gabriel Lopez and Brother Serafin Torres, Las Cruces St. Anthony Seminary. Bi-weekly visits to the graves will continue until the close of the Oct 9 to 15 celebration. commercial well in 1924. They previously had drilled two other wells, the first of which had a showing of oil and the second of which flowed 2,000,000 cubic feet of gas a day.

Later Dooley sold his interests and the company has continued up to the present as Flynn, Welch & Yates.

When Dooley came to the valley in 1904 the old building was one of the few here. At that time the brick building now occupied by Blocker Electric was being built. Years ago it was the home of the First National Bank. Dooley said that when he came to the valley, Artesia had been incorporated about a year. And a year later he moved into the town and has been a resident since.

Another interesting sidelight on the building is that when what is now Malco Refineries, Inc., was formed, office space was maintained in it, until such time as it was certain permanent quarters could be maintained. That company grew and today operates a large refinery at Roswell. A few years ago the old Malco refinery in Artesia was sold to Continental Oil Company.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Why Firemen's Houses Don't Catch Fire

At the last meeting of the Town Council, Biff Simpson brought up the subject of our Volunteer Fire Department. Claimed that our town was getting big enough to have a regular paid Department. Judge Cunningham objected! "As long as we serve on the Volunteers, we'll keep thinking about fires and be careful about fire hazards at home. We might get careless if we just left the job up to someone else."

We figured that made good sense and decided to keep the volunteer system... banded together for our own protection... "putting fires out" before they start!

From where I sit, running a town is like running a business—and a successful businessman does his own checking up. That's why the Brewers and tavern owners cooperate in their Self-Regulation program. They know it's up to them to see that their places are clean and law-abiding. They don't leave the job to someone else because no one else can do it as well.

Ringold Lady Dora Is Champion Again
 Raises Litter of 10 To 447 Pounds Weaned

Ninety-six pigs raised to weaning age is the remarkable new record of America's champion production sow. She is Ringold Lady Dora, a purebred Hampshire owned by Meadowlark Farms, Inc. of Sullivan, Indiana, and the only sow of any breed to qualify for an 8th star in production registry books.

The champion chalked up her new record this spring when she raised a litter of 10 pigs, nine of them eligible for registration, to weigh 447 pounds at weaning time, 56 days.

To qualify for production registry, conducted by the purebred associations, a sow must raise a litter of at least eight pigs to a minimum weight of 320 pounds within 56 days. They must be approved breed type, free from fault or defect and at least half of them eligible for registry. The sow gains a star in the production registry books each time she repeats the performance.

Here is Ringold Lady Dora with her litter of 10 pigs which qualified her as an 8-star sow, the only sow having such designation in registry sows of any breed. This litter weighed 447 pounds at 56 days of age. Ringold Lady was fed a ration of corn, oats, pelleted milk products and alfalfa pasture prior to farrowing and during the suckling period.

The champion has repeated it eight times, raising a total of 81 pigs to weigh a total of 3,183 pounds at the weaning age. Besides her eight litters which qualified for production registry, this sow has and white and had wire storks with blue and pink tails. Prizes were a rubber doll and a blue plastic bank, which were given to the honoree. Coffee cake and mints were served to Meses. Bill Briscoe, Asa Ward, C. M. Mills, Norman Krouskop, Charles Rogers, Elery Wier, J. W. Brasfield and Garel Westall, all

Buckeye. Mrs. W. A. Hammond entertained Monday afternoon with a party honoring her daughter, Paula, on her third birthday. Birthday cake and gelatin were served. Paula received many lovely gifts. Vari-colored balloons and candy-filled baskets were favors. Guests were Mrs. Don Thorpe and son Tanky, of Artesia; Mrs. Norman Krouskop and son Wally; Mrs. Claude Nivens and children, Irene and Dennis; Mrs. Frank Collins and sons Roy and Bobby and Mrs. Garel Westall and son Ray.

Mrs. Frank Collins underwent major surgery at the Artesia Clinic last week. She is able to be up and about.

raised another 15 pigs in two litters which failed to qualify, or a total of 96 pigs since her first litter was farrowed in September, 1944.

According to U. S. department of agriculture reports, the national average is less than 6.3 pigs per litter raised to weaning age. It would take more than average litters to equal in numbers of pigs raised to weaning age what Ringold Lady Dora raised in her eight qualifying litters.

Worth of her litters was proven recently when her sixth qualifying litter (farrowed February 13, 1948) consisting of seven boars and three gilts, was sold for a total of $4,365.

"TO BE HAPPY" their only plan, pretty, polio-stricken Inez Gautreau is carried down steps of church by smiling groom, Rene Gautreau, following their wedding in New York. The bride, the former Inez Basilio, who lost the use of her legs in 1931, met Rene while working as a stenographer at Bellevue hospital. (International)

Breath-taking new 1950 Studebaker!

IT'S THE NEXT LOOK IN CARS!

Over America, all eyes on this dramatic different 1950 Studebaker. The biggest improvement in car styling since the Studebaker introduced the "new look" in cars two years ago. This 1950 Studebaker is low and low—but it's sleek and flight-like—no bulging excess bulk to squander space and see it. It's the "next look" in cars.

POLISH HERO ARRIVES IN U. S.

AMONG THE ARRIVALS in New York aboard the S. S. General McRae is Maj. Gregory Gudlofsky, hero of the Polish underground. He is credited with killing General Kucera, son-in-law of the notorious Heinrich Himmler, during a raid on which he also accounted for two other Nazi generals. Gudlofsky, whose real name is Gutman, will make his new home with a cousin in the Bronx. He is telling a story to Deiders Janis, 2-year-old immigrant from Poland. (International)

Lake Arthur

(Joyce Foster)

Plans are being made for a community gathering Friday, Oct. 14, at Lake Arthur School. Everyone is invited to attend.

Mrs. Ned Hedges left Monday for Portales to stay with Mr. and Mrs. Claude Taylor, who are attending the Eastern New Mexico University.

Mrs. E. L. Cummings was called to Oklahoma because of the illness of her father.

Rev. Chester Rogers, former pastor of the Lake Arthur and Cottonwood Methodist Churches, now pastor of a Methodist Church at Moriarty, has been ill several weeks, but is improving rapidly.

Mrs. Walter Knowles of Artesia spent last week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Basil Kimbrough.

Miss Mirla Reynolds and Miss Nan Robinson, students at Eastern New Mexico University, Portales, were home last week end. Mr. and Mrs. Mac Reynolds took them back to Portales.

Mr. and Mrs. August Nelson and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Nelson motored to Roswell Sunday to attend a funeral.

Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Ryerson of Anthony, former residents here, spent last week end here visiting friends.

Guests Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Waldrip were Mrs. Wayne Norris and sons and Mrs. Luke Ray and daughter, Betty Jane.

Jack Robinson, who left July 16 for the Worldwide Youth Alliance at Stockholm, Sweden, arrived home Friday of last week. He visited several countries in Europe and brought home a souvenir from every country he visited. Jack left Sunday night for Portales, where he entered Eastern New Mexico University.

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Nelson Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Bud Whitlock.

Superintendent Cross of Lake Arthur School dismissed school Wednesday because of the opening of the Eastern New Mexico State Fair at Roswell.

The Women's Missionary Society has postponed its meeting this week, but will meet next Wednesday at the home of Mrs. A. V. Flowers.

BALL POINT PENS by Fineline, the student's choice at $1.50. Artesia Advocate, office supplies.

STORING AWAY SURPLUS GRAIN

COPING WITH THE SHORTAGE of grain storage facilities, the United States has decided to use a fleet of twelve ships anchored in the Hudson River for storing grain from the bumper crop now being harvested. Here, workers at the Claremont Terminal in Jersey City, N. J., pour surplus wheat into the Benjamin Hawkins. The Government has also offered long-term low-income loans to farmers as an inducement in helping them build their own storage bins. (International Sound/photo)

YOU'RE TELLING ME!

By WILLIAM RITT
Central Press Writer

ZADOK DUMKOPF says he's discovered something mighty fine—that you can't be broke as long as you have a few buttons or a sea shell or two in your possession. Of course, you've got to be in those parts of the world where those things are regarded as money.

In some areas the petty cash drawer is flush when it's full of shark's teeth, bright pebbles and some fish.

Fish money! Imagine going away on a vacation fishing trip and coming back richer than when you started!

The island of Yap, we read, is truly the land heavy with dough. Some of the stone coins there weigh up to 175 pounds. The stone dollars are in the shape of wheels, from which must come that old phrase: "rolling in wealth."

In some remote parts they regard mirrors as money. This enables everybody to have his face on his country's currency.

The American Indians used to use wampum as money—until they got wise and went off the head standard.

Nobody knows who invented money. All this column knows is that who ever did think up the idea certainly didn't invent enough of it.

Mrs. C. C. Brashears of the Franklin Camp was hostess to the Women's Class of the First Baptist Church Thursday of last week. Mmes. H. C. Fowler, N. G. Barton and Vick Roberts and Mrs. Avery Holt's daughter were awarded prizes. Fall flowers decorated the home. Refreshments of pineapple cake and coffee were served to Mmes. T. C. Smith, M. E. Stewart, O. E. McCann and daughter, Oracle; H. C. Fowler, N. G. Barton, Vick Roberts and Avery Holt and daughter. Mrs. Vick Roberts of the Franklin Camp will be hostess to this class at 7 o'clock Thursday, Oct. 27. Every woman of the community is invited to these parties.

Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Underwood were visitors in Roswell Friday of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wyatt and son Billy, went to Clovis Thursday of last week to take Mr. Wyatt's mother. They were met there by Mr. Wyatt's brother of Canadian, Texas, who took their mother to his home for a visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Krouskop and son Wylie, spent Wednesday and Thursday of last week in Midland, Texas.

Rev. Wilson Akins of Hagerman will conduct a revival at the First Baptist Church beginning Friday, Oct. 14. There will be both morning and evening services. Local talent will furnish the music.

Mrs. O. C. Rogers and Mrs. J. Roy Haynes attended an all-day meeting of the First Baptist Church of Roswell Tuesday of last week.

Mrs. Max Ensinger has returned to her home after spending three weeks in Hot Springs, where she received medical treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Blum went to Andrews, Texas, last week end on business and on to Odessa, Texas, where they visited a son, Jack Shipley and family. Their granddaughter, Josephine Shipley, returned with them for a visit.

Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Dyer, Sr., of Jal spent last week end here visiting their son, S. A. Dyer, Jr. and family.

Girl Scout Notes

Two new Brownie troops were organized this week, one at Park School and one at Central. The formation of the Park School Brownie troop under the leadership of Mrs. Wayne Adkins and Mrs. Ross Sears, was discussed at a tea Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Sears, with nine mothers and 14 girls present.

Mrs. B. A. DeMars and Mrs. Clyde Parrish assisted the leaders. Three mothers were named as troop committee members. They were Mrs. A. C. Sadler, Mrs. R. L. Gray and Mrs. Bruce Cabot. This troop is composed of second graders from Park School. Their first meeting will be held next Monday afternoon at Park School in the basement.

Twenty second graders from Central School met with Mrs. John O'Brien Tuesday afternoon and received their registration blanks. The little girls learned the Brownie song and played games. They will meet regularly Tuesday afternoons at Central School after classes.

Troop 8 members brought their embroidery and worked on it during their business meeting. The troop is working toward their needlecraft badge. The troop met in the back yard of the C. C. Conner home. They had two birthday cakes served with cold drinks, to observe the birthdays of Annette Conner and Peggy Ruth Hanna.

Troop 10 decided to each bring some item to fill their troop first-aid kit at their meeting Tuesday afternoon. They voted to make Halloween favors for the hospital trays. The troop is sorry to lose one of its members, Helen Hill, who is moving to Mountair. Clare Collins, president, presided over the business meeting.

Fish From Dexter Fly To Flying H

The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service at the Dexter Hatchery covers a wide territory and uses various means of transportation in planting game fish in lakes, streams and ponds. This picture shows Irvin Nelson, hatchery employe, center, covering fish pails at the Roswell Flying Service field, in readiness for loading on a plane, after which the fish were flown to the Flying H Ranch ponds. Included were 150 fingerling bass and 1500 bluegill sunfish in the shipment. A Mr. Maples of the Roswell Flying Service is standing at the left and flew the fish to the lake, accompanied by State Police Patrolman Gene Smith, in the background. The man at the right piloted the other plane as it took two planes to carry the load.

Troop 11 discussed the proper way to wear Girl Scout uniforms at their meeting Tuesday. The troop divided into two groups and each group gave an impromptu skit to show how to wear the uniform properly. This activity is one of the requirements of the "My Troop" badge.

Troop 13 met at the First Christian Church Tuesday and made plans for a party for their mothers to be given from 2 to 3 o'clock Friday at the church. The girls played games, gave the Brownie salute and discussed new troop members. They were served apples by their new leaders, Mrs. H. W. Back and Mrs. W. E. Alhvers.

Troop 14 met Monday afternoon at the home of the leader, Mrs. Jack Chain. Cold drinks were served for refreshments. The meeting time was voted on for 4-10 o'clock Monday afternoons. The girls of Troop 14 decided to do baby sitting for Girl Scout leaders during their meeting time free of charge. A committee for the troop birthday party was chosen. They are Aliene Ellinger, Earle Gean Quain, Janet Howard and Carole Burch. The troop voted to become Senior Service Scouts. They planned their party for next week and will invite their mothers.

Tells of Torture

RELATING a tale of 10 months of beatings and severe mistreatment in a Russian jail in Berlin, recruit John G. Sienkiewicz of Baltimore, Md., sits in the U. S. zone after his escape. He said the Soviets accused him of being a Polish DP sent to spy. His story of being beaten and underfed corroborates previous story by Christopher Rangaves, another GI held by the Russians. 100TH ANNIVERSARY OF BIRTH OF CHILDREN'S POET

OLD SWIMMIN' HOLE

OF JAMES WHITCOMB RILEY'S YOUTH MADE FAMOUS BY HIS POEM BECAME ONLY WHEN STREAM CHANGED COURSE PARTIALLY RESTORED TO ORIGINAL STATE BY F. E. R. A. PROJECT

OCT. 7 MARKS the 100th anniversary of birth of James Whitcomb Riley, the "Children's Poet" whose verses, which first appeared in an Indianapolis, Ind., newspaper, made him a figure of national renown at the turn of the century. Riley's birthplace (above) is a museum in Greenfield, Ind., where also is located the original "Old Swimmin' Hole" which he immortalized in verse. Some of his best known work includes "The Raggedy Man," "When the Frost is on the Punkin," "Out to Old Aunt Mary's." Riley died in 1916. His birthday was made an official holiday in Indiana. CHIEF OF NAVAL OPERATIONS—
Admiral Louis E. Denfeld was born in 1891 in Westboro, Massachusetts, and was graduated from the U. S. Naval Academy and commissioned ensign in 1912. He served on various ships and in 1916 was ordered to the USS Ammen which operated during World War I with the destroyer force based on Queenstown, Ireland. He returned to the U. S. in 1918 and assisted in fitting out the USS Lambertson, and was assigned as her executive officer until June, 1919, when he assumed command of the USS Call. After serving in several posts during the post-war period he reported for instruction in submarines at New London Submarine base and after fitting out the USS S-24, commanded that submarine from August, 1923, to June, 1924. He had a wide range of duties until 1937 when he was assigned as aide to Fleet Admiral William D. Leahy, Chief of Naval Operations. In 1941 he was chief-of-staff, Support Force, Atlantic Fleet, and in 1945, under his command Battleship Division 9 supported the Okinawa landings and participated in the bombardment of Hokkaido and Honshu.

Loco Hills Items

Mr. and Mrs. E. Z. Floyd of the Continental Camp were honored with a surprise going-away party at their home Tuesday of last week. Mr. and Mrs. Floyd are moving to near Monument. They were presented a beautiful table lamp and a bath towel set. Cake and coffee were served and everyone enjoyed an evening of visiting. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Claude Matthews and children; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Miller and children, who lived in the Old Loco field; Mr. and Mrs. Andy Melton and two children; Mr. and Mrs. Skelly Tucker and son, Duane; Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. Davis, Mrs. Dorothy Foster, Mrs. R. C. Smith and Miss Duluth Richards, all of Loco Hills and Old Loco and Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Shepard, Mr. and Mrs. Bryan and Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Loyd of Artesia and Mr. and Mrs. Lee Lucas, who contributed to the purchase of the gifts, but were unable to be present. Guests Friday night in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Brashears for dinner were Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Fowler of Loco Hills and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Case of Artesia. After the dinner, Mr. and Mrs. Brashears and Mr. and Mrs. Case attended the football game in Artesia.

'Spanish Gandhi'

Don Antonio Samperayo

KNOWN in Madrid as the "Spanish Gandhi," Don Antonio Samperayo, 72, is at his picturesque best as he sits on a park bench poring over his latest pamphlet. On a stick is a tract urging the elimination of the letters "H" and "X" from the Spanish language—a purpose which is said to have cost a fortune. (International)

BEAUTY AND BEAST BEAT THE HEAT

MODESTY HAS NO PLACE in a heat wave—at least that is the belief of little Nancy Anheuser (left), nine-months-old tot, who shucks her clothes on the lawn of her home in Cudahy, Wis., and peeks around the corner to make sure no one is looking. In Chicago, this polar bear (right), shows indignation at the torrid temperatures and throws himself into his private zoo pool to soothe his ragged nerves. (International)

Free-Lance News Woman Co-Author Seafood Cook Book

Theora W. Crosby, a free-lance newspaper woman, who has been working for The Advocate recently, is co-author with Irby Stinnett of "Seafood and Wild Game Cook Book," published by the Naylor Company. The book contains more than 300 recipes for all kinds of seafood and wild game. The authors are both natives of the Gulf Coast of Texas, where much seafood is caught.
