Invitation In Advocate Is Appreciated

Dear Colonel Michel:

Albuquerque, N.M. October 26, 1949 Colonel Raul Michel Consul General of Mexico El Paso, Texas

It has occurred to me that you would be interested in the attached press release appearing in The Artesia Advocate.

The invitation to this group of workers, the Mexican "braceros," to attend church services in this area is a new departure which opens a new norizon in the field of human relations. It is a genuine demonstration of true Christian spirit that merits the commendation of the clergyman who has approached the matter in a forthright fashion.

It is our sincere hope that this incident will mark the beginning of an era destined to further good relationship between Mexico and this country.

With best wishes and personal regards, I am

False Values

V/E ARE FEARFUL we are far too frequently ngaged in this nation of ours of teaching false values that hurt instead of aid and help the training of our boys and girls.

We have often said that certain situations and conditions are artificial and far removed from realities. We have always felt this was true about certain movements and organizations at colleges. We have often said that youngsters in college fraternity and sorority houses at our universities live under artificial surroundings and conditions which are not normal.

homes into these beautiful homes where conditions are not normal. Frequently it has the wrong effect instead of the right effect.

In other instances, it has no effect and doesn't worry or bother the youngsters one iota.

But we set up other false values and we set up conditions which are not real and true. And youngsters come to expect these things when they go into real life. They expect things which are not real.

We recently hard this matter discussed by a speaker at a civic club when the plan was submitted and the organization was urged to bid on some prize livestock. He declared he was for encouraging the youngsters; willing for them to have a small premium but he declared he did not favor them receiving an excessive price above the market price. He declared it left a false impression among the young sters and led them to believe they could go into the production business and receive this kind of prices. This, he declared, is not true.

What he said was true. Most everyone wants to encourage youngsters and to reward them for their work and efforts, but they also want these youngsters to know the realities of life and to fully appreciate what they will have to face in life.

And perhaps we often shield our youngsters from realities because we don't want them to have to face certain conditions and situations. But the fact remains they will have to face them in life and | done. the sooner they learn to meet them squarely and be prepared for them the better job they can do when of a city in the state that he expected that 90 per cent they meet them.

No Surprise?

IT IS NO SURPRISE now to learn that a state law has been passed to prevent the "share-the-ride" with your neighbor or your friend. These legislative groups of ours, federal and state, have been busy for years taking away our rights, our freedoms and our liberties, so we shouldn't be surprised when they proceed to assess a tax of $10 for a permit in order to "share-the-ride."

branches of the government now wanting to halt the defendant appeared in city court and opposed the "share-the-ride" idea were preaching it loud and long. They were urging we share the ride to save tires, to save gasoline and to save cars.

Maybe all of us slipped on it.

But we don't believe it will ever be observed and we don't believe it can be enforced. We don't believe anyone can stop us from taking a friend with us to attend a football game. We don't believe that the constitution can prevent us from taking a friend with us from Las Cruces to Artesia or from Artesia to Las Cruces when we happen to make this trip in

Certainly the various government workers now sharing rides from Las Cruces to the White Sands Proving Grounds or from any of the other cities and towns near government fields or projects are not going to take this law sitting down. They are ready to fight-ready to go to court to get an injunction to halt the putting into effect of the law.

And we certainly think they should.

But it just goes to show just how far our legislative bodies will go to take away our rights when we sit idly by and let them get away with this business of halting free Americans from being free.

Once again we say it is time that we start de- barrassed by being photographed holding only one fending some of our rights and liberties even if it | racket. requires the hiring of an attorney to get the job

It's All The Same

ONCE UPON A TIME a man decided to build a house, so he called in a contractor and told him just how he wanted it. And the contractor started in to build it according to specifications.

But after a while it was found there was a shortage of certain materials, so substitutions were made, for the house had to be built, even though they were secondary. And the man who was footing the bills insisted that it be built by a specified time.

Finally the house was nearing completion and the owner was planning to have his friends see it at a specified date, which was within the time he had given the contractor in which to complete it. For the contractor had done his job well and had stuck to schedule, in spite of the fact some of the important things had not come in and he had been forced to meet his schedule without them and with substi-

About that time some of the material dealers found they had the material after all and started to deliver it. But the contracor could not use all of it. However, as the owner was going to build another house, the contractor said he could use some of it. But other items had become shopworn, outdated, obsolete or was otherwise worthless.

Seems as though we somehow started talking about houses instead of newspapers, which we had in mind all the time. We have deadlines too and cannot use material which does not get in on time. And if it is too shopworn, outdated, or obsolete we can't-and we won't-use it when we build the next newspaper issue.—A.L.B.

No Authority

DESPITE THE FACT that a lot of federal government ernmental agencies and bureaus have convinced themselves if they have not convinced the court, that they can be enforcement agencies as well as legislative agencies, there are a lot of good legal minds that do not believe this is the case.

We are willing to admit that the wage and hour division, charged with the enforcement of the wage and hour law, has gotten away with some regulations which they have set up. They even seek to convince the public they can pass and adopt laws.

We are still convinced that the passage of laws Many of these youngsters go from only average rests with the legislative branches of our government and not with the enforcement agencies.

We have seen instances where efforfts are made by other enforcement agencies to set up a few laws. For years game wardens throught they could go anywhere and search anything and anybody in their so-called enforcement of the game laws. They used to search automobiles without search warrants. The United States Supreme Court, however, did a little spiking of this idea when the court ruled that an automobile is just as much a man's castle as his home and it took a search warrant to go through

We have also seen instances where guns and fishing tackle were seized by game wardens and held. They may have a little rule in their handbook that tells them they can do this, but there is also a little sentence in the United States Constitution which advises that private property cannot be seized without due process of law.

But it has become more or less of a common practice in this nation of ours for law enforcement officers to convince themselves they are the law or they can adopt or pass some law.

That, of course, is not true,

And individuals need to do a little more objecting to some of the practices and the conduct of officers who take this attitude. They need to demand heir rights he protected and if it means taking the matter into court and a trial-then that should be

We were recently advised by a city manager of the arrests made or tickets given out by city police Life is real and earnest and we need to know in that community would not stand up in court. He is probably absolutely correct.

A police officer cannot just hand out a ticket here and there because he thinks someone has violated a law. There has to be a law that has been violated. And only an ordinance on the statute books of the city in the case of traffic violations within the corporate limits constitutes a law.

Police officers have no authority to set up noparking districts, mark it with signs and then prohibit parking there unless they have a law designating that area as a "no-parking area." Yet that very thing is done over this state. There have been times when it was done in Artesia-that is the ticket Yet less than five years ago the various was given out but no penalty was assessed when the action of the police.

But we have gone along now for some years accepting tickets or actual violations of the law by But now it is illegal in this Land of Enchant enforcement officers, posted a bond and forfeited it or appeared in court and entered a plea of guilty We fail to understand why someone didn't and accepted a small fine. That was the simplest

And the result has been we have lost and are continuing to lose certain rights and privileges

It is about time that some of us make a fight for some of the rights that are ours and when we are given a ticket, arrested or had our rights violated without cause or when it is not illegal to hire an attorney and halt some of these practices that have become far too common.

Only in that way can we keep some of the rights we still have and win back some of those that have been taken away from us.—O.E.P.

Russians Unable to Locate | Soviet Must Largely Depend New Large Uranium Deposits | On Mines in Czechoslovakia

Special to Central Press

WASHINGTON-Reports on Soviet Russia's atomic warfare po-tential reaching the United States indicate that the Reds, like the United States, have been unable to find any sizable new deposits of uranium

This was taken by intelligence officers to mean that the Soviets will be largely restricted in their use of atomic energy to the uranium they can take from the mines at Joachimsthal, Czechoslovakia.

Historically, the Joachimsthal mines rank a poor third behind the Belgian Congo, where the United States gets most of its uranium, and Canada, a secondary United States source of the mineral. Pitchblende, the ore for uranium, is also the major source of radium. It was originally mined in Czechoslovakia, but the Congo mine, discovered

Hog Support Levels Announced By USDA

Monthly hog price-support levels for the next six months, announced recently by the Department of Agriculture, are the amount at which average hog prices must be maintained if farmers are to receive 90 per cent of the parity price for hogs, Santiago Marquez, member of the State Production and Marketing Administration Committee, said. The monthly support levels are:

$14.20; January, $14.90; February, $15.50; March, $16.20. Marquez explained that weekly guides are also determined as an

STEEL STRIKE TIES UP SHIPS OF ORE CARRIER FLEET

WAITING OUT THE STEEL STRIKE, three ships of the Pittsburgh Steamship Company's ore carrying fleet are tied up in the mooring basin in Milwaukee, Wisc. Latest surveys indicate that 513,000 members of the United Steelworkers of America are now out. High Federal officials, fearing the economic consequences of a long strike, are reported planning a heavy "peace offensive" to restore production. (International Soundphoto)

FIRST VIEW OF NAVY'S ELECTRONIC 'SKYRAIDER'

CALLED MOST VERSATILE plane ever to fly, the AD-3W, Navy's new electronic version of standard Skyraider attack series, is capable of multiple combat uses. Bulging shell underneath is plastic radoine housing plane's radar antenna. Navy has more than 500 Skyraiders. This one is shown in flight at El Segundo, Cal. The Skyraider is built by Douglas Aircraft. (International Soundphoto)

CCC Plans To Buy Cottonseed And Store It

Corn Price Support For 1949 Announced

Prices for the 1949 corn crop will be supported at $1.52 per bushel, basis No. 3 yellow corn in all counties in New Mexico, says Thomas R. Roberts, member of the State PMA Committee. Farmers may apply for either loans or purchase agreements at county PMA offices.

The 1949 loan and purchase rates are based on 90 per cent of the parity price of corn as of Oct. 1, as required by controlling legislation.

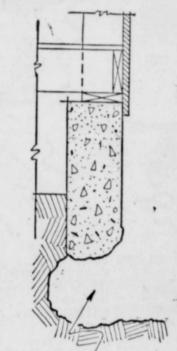

Loans for constructing or acquiring storage facilities are available to farmers who do not have adequate storage. These loans are part of the program of Commodity Credit Corporation and may cover 85 per cent of the cost of the storage structure with repayments in five annual installments. Interest is charged at the rate of 4 per cent per annum.

Help build up YOUR COWS with PURINA RANGE CHECKERS ...a quality range supplement

Yes, many cattlemen get 90 % calf crops—some almost 100 % — by feeding Purina Range Checkers for 3 to 5 months during the winter. And their calves are usually enough bigger in size to more than pay the cost of the feed. All this is made possible because the cows are usually brought through the winter in better condition on Purina Range Checkers.

Why? Because Range Checkers contain 3 kinds of proteins-cottonseed, linseed and soybean oil meal...plus minerals, and molasses - a fine conditioner.

So, before you buy or book feed, ask us about Range Checkers. IT'S PRICED RIGHT!

Cows Need Minerals During Gestation
