SPS Gives Rural Users Rate Decrease

City Users To Benefit From Smaller Decrease

Beginning this week, Texas retail customers of Southwestern Public Service Company (SPS) who live outside city limits will receive on their bills a credit related to a 4.3 percent reduction in electric rates.

A number of people in Bailey County will see the reduction on their bills.

"These customers have been billed at the new, lower rate since December," said Jerry Diller, SPS Group Manager of Rates and

TV Presentation

Put Together

By Honors Class

At Muleshoe High School, the Honors American History Class, under direction of teacher, Jean Allison, has been busy with a special project.

Following their presentation of a 'Muckraker' TV Talk Show last week, it was said the participating students did an outstanding job in their presentation.

Andy Moore built a TV and played the role of a psychologist.

He analyzed the discussion and gave his opinion on what would help to solve a particular social ailment.

Jody Field played the part of the TV Talk Show hostess and introduced the other players.

Brandi Estep wrote the script for a former call-girl, who was played by D'Anne Box, as Brandi was ill on the day of the presentation.

Dustin Elliott was perched in the TV and played the role of a procurer. Inside the TV, which was sitting on a table, it was pretended that he was being brought to the TV studio by satellite.

Following the discussion by the former call-girl and the procurer, it was the opinion of the psychologist that answers for an alternative to prostitution were for people to use protection and know your sex partner.

Mrs. Allison said the talk show was presented professionally and in good taste by her students.

Regulation. "On April 19, the Public Utility Commission of Texas (PUCT) finalized the lower rate. This decrease was made possible primarily by lower federal income tax rates on corporations and SPS's ability to hold down other costs."

The electric-rate decrease was first agreed to by SPS, the PUCT staff and others on July 8, 1988. The finalization of the rate allows SPS to credit customers' bills as though the new rate had been in effect beginning July 8.

"The credit will be based on the actual amount of electricity each customer used between July 8 and the date interim lower rates began," Diller said.

"These one-time credits total $3.4 million and average about $13 for a residential customer outside city limits."

SPS's Texas retail customers inside city limits received a 3.1 percent rate reduction on March 28, 1988. They soon should receive an additional 1.2 percent reduction to match the amount of decrease for customers outside city limits. They also will receive a credit as if the additional reduction had been in effect since July 8.

"When the cities approved the rate reduction last year, we planned that if the PUCT approved a larger decrease, SPS would match the decrease for customers inside city limits," Diller said. "We expect to implement the additional decrease in each of the 74 affected cities within the next 60 days, with a one-time credit to follow shortly thereafter."

The staggered effective dates are the result of the regulatory process in Texas, in which cities regulate rates within city limits and the PUCT regulates rural rates.

Aggie Muster Commemorates Memory Of Deceased Members

Friday night was a night of celebration, along with solemnity for around 30 people who attended the annual Aggie Muster at the Bailey County Civic Center.

Each year, on April 21, which is also San Jacinto Day, ex-Aggies meet together all over the world to remember those Aggies who have died during the preceding year.

This year, the latest Aggie death was John Gunter Jr., who died a couple of weeks ago following a long illness.

Nick Bamert was in charge of the Muster this year, and history of the Aggie Muster was recounted by Dr. Jerry Gleason.

Dr. Gleason said that anytime as many as two Aggies can be together, a Muster will be held.

He said that annually, the Aggies get together to renew their loyalty and unity, and show their love and devotion for their school, Texas A&M University.

Guest speaker for the evening, following a meal catered by Dani Heathington's Blue Goose, was Dr. Carey Litzenberg, who is with the Ag Economics Department at A&M.

A native of Indiana, Dr. Litzenberg has been associated with A&M since 1979.

The speaker said he goes around the country, "selling Aggies. Finding them jobs; and reminding prospective employers that Aggies are a top product."

He said he would be talking from the perspective of a teacher with the three 'R's,' which in his case were Remembrance - Rededication - Responsibility.

Eighth Grader Breaks 22-Year Track Record

Muleshoe's eighth grade boys track team placed fourth in the District meet at Dimmitt last Saturday, with 65 points. But, that's not the big story! The 'big' story is that a 22-year old track record fell at the meet when Robbie Gauna lofted himself to 10'6" in the pole vault.

By doing so, he broke a record established by Ronnie Barrett in 1967. This 10'6" vault placed Robbie first in district.

Matt Bohler was in fourth place with 8'6" in the same event.

Robbie also placed third in the 300 meter hurdles at 46.33.

Marcus Bryan was second in discus; third in the 400 meter dash at 56.69 and fifth in the 100 meter dash with 12.51.

Arturo Estrada was third in the 1600 meter at 5:38.00 and Joe Alonzo placed fourth in the 800 meter run with 2:23.00.

Marvin Lewis was sixth in the 200 meter dash with a time of 26.83 and Jesse Singleterry placed sixth in shot put.

For the relay team, it was a third place in the 400 meter relay for a team of Robbie Gauna, Marvin Lewis, Marcus Bryan and Jesse Singleterry. Their time was 49.56.

Cory Welch, Rudolfo Nunez, Jesse Singleterry and Robbie Gauna placed fifth in the 1600 meter relay at 4:19.00.

DISTRICT MEET SEVENTH GRADE BOYS

Also at the district meet, the seventh grade boys placed third with 51 points.

Abel Contreras, Ruben Jaramillo, Chad McCormick and Randy Singleterry were third in the 1600 meter relay; and Sean Wheeler placed third in the 1600 meter run.

He also placed fourth in the 2400 meter run.

Randy Singleterry was third in the 200 meter dash, and fifth in high jump.

Filemon Olivarez was third in the 110 meter hurdles and sixth in the 300 meter hurdles.

Americo Olivarez was fifth in

City Police Warn

About New 'Scam'

Telephone Calls

According to the Muleshoe City Police Department, a new 'scam' has hit town.

A man is contacting people by telephone asking for $65 donations which he says will be used to help fight a Satanic Cult in Mexico.

According to one person he called, he is saying the money will be used to help fight a satanic cult in Mexico that is killing and eating children.

He is asking for a personal check with the check number imprinted on it.

If he should call your home or business, you are asked to tell the caller to call Chief Wayne Holmes at 272-4569.

This same group was reported to be making similar telephone calls in Clovis last week.

Energas, SPS Object To New Legislation

Jess Winn, local Energas manager; Roger Garms, Energas District Manager from Littlefield and Ron Montgomery, Southwestern Public Service Company's local manager, all attended the Tuesday morning meeting of the Muleshoe City Council.

They posted 'official' objections to approval of a resolution by the city council on current Legislation being considered in Austin.

City Manager Dave Marr told the council that the legislation would allow cities to raise the current two percent street and alley use fee to as much as five percent, which would be the maximum cities could charge utility companies.

Marr explained that the use fee is generally referred to as a 'franchise tax', which is a misnomer. It is actually a street and alley use fee.

"I don't see any reason we shouldn't have the ability to charge five percent if we so choose," he added. "Currently, the gas and electric companies pay three percent in Muleshoe on gross receipts."

Garms commented, "Energas is opposed to an increase, as it is an increase in taxes as far as we're concerned."

Quoting someone else, he also said, "When it looks like a duck, walks like a duck, talks like a duck, it must be a tax."

His suggestion was that since Energas considered the possibility of a higher 'use fee' as another tax, that the tax be passed on to the citizens of the city and let them (the citizens) fight it.

Montgomery also said SPS opposes the legislation because they consider it a tax which will ultimately affect every customer of SPS that they have in the city limits.

NEW CITY COUNCIL MEMBER--Tuesday morning, the first order of business at the Muleshoe City Council was for Muleshoe Mayor Darrell Turner, right, to administer the oath of office to new city councilman James Roy Jones. Jones was selected to finish the term of Ronnie Shafer, who has moved from Muleshoe. (Journal Photo)

AGGIE MUSTER SPEAKER AND CHAIRMAN--Humorously mixing life in 'Aggie-Land' with a discussion of the student's and their activities, Dr. Carey Litzenberg, left, of Texas A&M, was welcomed by Nick Bamert, who was chairman of the Aggie Muster in Muleshoe this year. (Journal Photo)

Janes Ranch House Report

By: The Heritage Board

Nine people came to work on the Ranch House last week on Tuesday and much of the touch up sanding was done.

Fire Chief Jack Dunham tackled the cabinet in the butler's pantry and that was quite a chore.

Firemen Charles Lorange and Norman Head worked on the beams and trim work in the parlor and Fireman J. O. Parker came from the ballgame, which Muleshoe won, 8-7, over Plainview and sanded on the mantle above the fireplace.

Al Henderson sanded on base boards in the parlor and dining room as well as watered the trees. Frank and Janie Saldana sanded on woodwork and walk in the kitchen and butler's pantry.

Marie Bass worked on cleaning the first floor bathroom and then served refreshments to all.

R. A. Bradley sanded on the mantle some and one book case and put up all of the first floor screens outside.

Much was done and a big 'Thank You' to all.

This past Tuesday night, the Jennyslippers were invited to be at Janes Ranch House at 7 p.m.

Non-Prescription Drugs Usually Save Money

When it comes to health, taking care of yourself does more than make you feel better; it usually saves you money. In fact, a Food and Drug Administration (FDA) and Proprietary Association (PA) symposium reported that Americans saved $10.5 billion in health care costs by treating their everyday illnesses with over-the-counter (OTC) drugs in 1987 alone.

To help you use nonprescription drugs wisely, Dr. Frank Young, M.D., Commissioner of the U.S. Food and Drug Administration, gives tips on reading nonprescription drug labels in a pamphlet called A Doctor's Advice on Self-Care (Item 588V, free). Published jointly by the FDA and The Proprietary Association, a trade association representing nonprescription drug manufacturers, the pamphlet explains what you see on OTC drug labels—from ingredients to proper use to warnings.

And, for specific information about cold remedies, order The Common Cold: Relief But No Cure (Item 549V, free)—a fact sheet from the FDA that explains the findings of a non-government panel of experts who looked into the safety and efficacy of OTC cold and allergy products. To get copies of these publications, send your name, address, and the item numbers to S. James, Consumer information center, Pueblo, Colorado 81009.

You can buy many health care products without a prescription. Since you're the doctor when you're buying nonprescription drugs, the FDA requires that the labels on these products contain more information than the labels of prescription medications. Do yourself a favor, and read the label before you buy and use OTC drugs. Then you'll know the name of the product and its classification (whether it is an antihistamine or a decongestant, for example), the conditions under which you should and should not use it, and the proper dosage. Labels will also list the active ingredients, any precautions you should take before, during, or after use, and any side effects, such as drowsiness, that the medication may cause.

A Doctor's Advice on Self-Care also explains some of the cautions that may appear. Some labels warn against using a product while driving or operating heavy machinery, for example, or warn against taking alcohol, other drugs, or certain foods in conjunction with the medication. Labels on OTC drugs caution pregnant women and nursing mothers not to use any medication without a doctor's advice.

Over-the-counter cold medications were the subject of a study by an FDA appointed panel of non-government, cold medication experts. Although no product currently available can prevent, cure, or even shorten the course of the common cold, many products for the relief of cold symptoms are advertised as "cold medicine." And many products succeed in temporarily relieving some of the symptoms of the common cold—symptoms such as sneezing, sore throat, runny nose, and watery eyes.

Even though these symptoms rarely occur all at once, about 90 percent of cold products now available contain combinations of ingredients intended to relieve a number of different symptoms. The Common Cold: Relief, But No Cure has informative list to help select products containing only the ingredients, grouped according to the symptoms they relieve. Each ingredient is rated according to effectiveness and label accuracy. Medications not generally recognized as safe and effective are also listed.

For more information and tips on cold medication and nonprescription drugs, send for your free copies of A Doctor's Advice on Self-Care (Item 588V) and The Common Cold: Relief, But No

Cure (Item 549V). You'll also get a free copy of the Consumer Information Catalog. Published quarterly by the Consumer Information Center of the General Services Administration, the Catalog lists about 200 free and moderately priced Federal publications on a wide variety of subjects.

CAFB To Benefit By Scholarship Program At ENMU

The Friends of Eastern Foundation of Eastern New Mexico University has announced a new scholarship program for dependent children of Cannon Air Force Base military pilots or weapon systems officers who are killed in the line of duty.

A new law effecting the procuring of marriage licenses in the State of Texas was enacted at the last session of the State Legislature. The new law is an amendment to Article 4604, which was adopted in 1925.

Application for marriage license, according to the amendment, shall be made not less than three nor more than thirty days before the license shall be issued.

Applicants for a marriage license shall appear before the County Clerk at the time application is made and be examined by the clerk, under oath, as to their age and residence, which shall be reduced to writing and subscribed to by the applicants. In case of absence of either party, an affidavit shall be made by some other individual as the age and residence of the absent party, and filed in the clerk's office.

Before the County Clerk shall issue any marriage license, the man is required to produce a certified physician to show that he is free from all venereal disease.

FARM TO MARKET ROADS

TO BE COMPLETED IN BAILEY COUNTY SOON

Completion by May 15 of the last stretch of paved road being constructed under a bond issue voted by the people of three precincts of Bailey County is predicted by Tom Smith, county commissioner of Precincts 2, in which the new road is being made.

It is a stretch of nine and half miles across the sandhills, running from the pavement to West Camp school to an intersection with an east-west road running from the Morton Highway.

Approximately 76 miles will then have been constructed out of bonds voted. It is estimated at the time that the bonds would pay for about 75 miles. Cost of construction was higher but the county was able to complete 76 miles because the state helped with construction of 17 and half miles of the program.

BAILEYBORO POST OFFICE CLOSES AFTER 48 YEARS

Another era in history of Bailey County has ended. On Tuesday, April 15, at the 5 p.m. closing time, the Baileyboro Post Office closed the window for the last time. Closed at the same time was the Circleback post office six miles east of Needmore.

Although the Baileyboro Post Office was opened in 1921 or 1922, W.H. 'Bill' Huckabee, who closed the post office, did not move to the county until 1924.

Huckabee said that when he moved to Bailey County that he "farmed for three years and got rich, then ran a filling station and garage and got rich again."

Reminiscing, he stated that when he moved to the area, "there wasn't much here in 1924, just a farm now and then between Baileyboro and Sudan." "Sudan didn't count," recalled Huckabee.

Senior Citizens

The Bailey County Senior Citizens met Monday, April 24 for their regular covered dish luncheon. The invocation was given by Duward Head.

Eighteen members were present, including two visitors, Rev. Richard Edwards and Mrs. George Mitchell. Bro. Edwards, pastor of the First United Methodist Church, spoke to the group. He stated that the key word was Imagination, how many people can discover things that are usefull. He told of the Ostor and the Eagle: the ostor opens his mouth and his needs is met, then he sits in his shell. But the Eagle is different, the sky is the limit, he soars through the sky. He goes where no one else has gone. Two more key words, Discovery, how many people can discover things that are usefull, and Genuine, like the Mr. Sterling who is the silver smith. He made many things of good quality. He stated that everyone is called to be genuine, look for something special, make this a good day.

He then sang, "Precious Memories" and "When They Ring The Golden Bells". He also read several songs and the group joined in the singing of some of their favorite songs.

J.C. Shanks, president, called for the reading of the minutes. They were read and approved.

The birthday song was sung for J.C. Shanks. Get well cards were sent to Clarence and Elida Wilhite and Elmer Cornelison.

The closing prayer was given by Lester Howard.

Pioneer Round-up Set May 20 At Plainview

The sixty-first Pioneer Round-Up, scheduled for Saturday, May 20, will for the thirtieth year, honor a pioneer woman of this area.

Deadline for nominations for the "Pioneer Woman of the Plains" has been set for May 10th, according to Dorothy Morton, chairman of the Program Committee. The Plainview Business and Professional Women's Club is the sponsoring organization of the Pioneer Round-Up.

Entry blanks for the "Pioneer Woman of the Plains" have been mailed to civic clubs, women's clubs and organizations in Plainview and surrounding areas. Individuals may also submit names to be considered for this honor. All entries must be signed by the organization or individual who is organizing the letter of nomination and must state whether or not she would be able to attend the Round-Up, if selected. The nominee must have been a pioneer resident of the High Plains and be at least 80 years of age. Of most importance, this woman should be one of the early settlers to make her home on the Plains and have a true "pioneer" spirit. A short biography of the nominee must be submitted, including her outstanding contributions to the home, church, community and general welfare of her fellowman.

A panel of judges will select the winner based on information submitted. The number of times a person is nominated will have no effect on the selection of the honoree. All entries must be postmarked no later than May 10, 1989. Entry blanks and additional information may be obtained by contacting Mrs. Morton, 293-8841 or 293-2258.

Announcement of the "Pioneer Woman of the Plains" will be made at the evening activities of the 61st Pioneer Round-Up during the program beginning at 8 p.m. at the Ollie Limer Center.

Pat Ray, president of the Plainview BPW Club, said other events of this year's Round-Up include the reception beginning at 10 a.m. honoring all pioneers; parade at 2:30 p.m.; the supper beginning at 6 p.m.; the program at 8 p.m. and the square dance following at 9 p.m., all in the Ollie Limer Center on the south edge of Plainview on Highway 87.

MICROWAVE TIPS

Did you know that microwaves can do a good job with rich, moist cake mixes with pudding added?

Such cakes cooked in a microwave rise much higher than when cooked in a conventional oven. Most of the time one has mix left over--after figuring from conventional recipe amounts--and can make a few cup cakes with the left-over mix.

Pans therefore should be filled on half full when microwaving these cakes.

These cakes are started on medium power and finish cooking at high.

If they're still moist when the cooking is done, let them stand and the moisture will soon disappear.

The truth hurts people who do not like to face facts.

One might call this the era of the investigation.

The bigger the author, the smaller the words he tries to use.

People Who Eat Well Balanced Breakfast, Less Tired

A breakfast-skipper is somewhat like a car running on empty, according to a nutrition expert at Texas A&M University.

Dr. Dymple Cooksey, nutrition specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, said a well nourished person, like a well lubricated engine, works more efficiently.

Cooksey said that proper choices from the basic food groups of meat, milk, fruits and vegetables and cereals and grains should provide an individual with about one-fourth of the recommended daily amounts of protein, calories, vitamins and minerals.

"These nutrients are essential for energy, maintenance and body repair," Cooksey said.

The nutritionist said that persons who regularly eat a well-balanced breakfast can perform more efficiently, concentrate on the day's schedule and are less tired after a busy day.

Cooksey said other benefits include:

- Breakfast participants have more nutritionally balanced diets than breakfast skippers.

- Kids who eat breakfast are better nourished than students who skip breakfast.

- Breakfast participants have higher intakes of calcium that is derived from milk, as well as phosphorus and riboflavin, all nutrients essential for strong bones and teeth.

- Breakfast participants tend to maintain normal weight levels and are less likely to be overweight or underweight.

- Breakfast participants are energetic and can concentrate on school-related tasks, while breakfast skippers often tend to be irritable, restless and listless.

- Breakfast eaters have a better late-morning problem-solving ability.

- People who eat breakfast regularly have more energy at the mid-part of the day than breakfast skippers.

- The habit of eating breakfast on a regular basis often is associated with a vigorous older age.

Women Producers Will Be Attending Special Seminar

Women in agriculture across Texas will have a unique opportunity on May 3-4, according to Spencer Tanksley, county agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

A specially prepared 2-day marketing seminar for Texas women in agriculture is scheduled for the Holiday Inn, DFW Airport North, in Irving. The workshop is designed for women who want to learn the basics of commodity marketing. According to Roland Smith, Economist topics covered will be how to develop a marketing plan, understanding marketing alternatives, and how to utilize the government programs along with marketing tools. Marketing has been identified as a critical issue by Texas agricultural producers, emphasizes Tanksley.

Some questions that will be answered include: "What are futures? What is hedging? and What is basis?" notes Tanksley. Seminar speakers will include women in agriculture that are helping make marketing decisions. Specialists from the Chicago Board of Trade and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service also will conduct parts of seminar, according to Tanksley.

Pre-registration for the seminar is required. A fee of $35 covers three meals and cost of materials says Tanksley. For registration details and a brochure, please contact your county Extension office at 806-272-4583.

Robert Hooten of Muleshoe Motor Co., Inc., has been re-elected to the Texas Automobile Dealers Association (TADA) Board of Directors.

Hooten began serving a three-year term representing northwestern Texas dealers as new officers were installed Tuesday, April 18, at the annual meeting held this year in Austin. TADA members are franchised new car and truck dealers in Texas. The board is responsible for policy decisions of the association.

Approximately 350 students at Southwestern Oklahoma State University at Weatherford will complete requirements for either a bachelor's or master's degree this spring. Graduation exercises will be held Friday, May 12, at 8 p.m. in Milam Stadium.

Commencement speaker will be Dr. Hans Brisch, chancellor of the Oklahoma State Regents for Higher Education.

Candidates for graduation from Muleshoe are James Ernest Green, B.S. Accounting; and Sidney Michael O'Grady, B.S. Pharmacy.

"When it's all said and done," Diller said, "rates inside and outside city limits will be identical and all SPS's Texas retail customers will have received an average 4.3 percent rate reduction. In all, the actions amount to a $20.6 million reduction in SPS's Texas retail rates."

The 4.3 percent rate reduction which has been in effect equals a decrease in the monthly electric bill of $3.84, from $73.51 to $69.67 for a residential customer who uses 1,000 kilowatt hours of electricity.

The city manager countered with "Passage of the legislation would not mean the city council would increase the 'user' fee, but the law would be in existence if such an increase became necessary in years to come."

He also said he understood the other gentlemen's views (the utility company representatives) but said he could foresee no problems with the city council's approval of the resolution supporting the pending legislation.

The council was unanimous in approving the resolution supporting the new law.

Immediately preceding the discussion on the utility company 'user fee' legislation, Muleshoe Mayor Darrell Turner issued an oath of office to James Roy Jones, who was selected as council member to complete the term of former city council member, Ronnie Shafer, who has moved from Muleshoe.

The city manager also told the councilmen that an appraisal was needed for Warren Field. A total of 352 acres is involved, which includes the old airport and golf course. He explained that the airfield must be sold within five years after abandonment to conform with FAA regulations. The five years has not started at this time.

Approval was given to employ a firm from Clovis to do the re-appraisal.

Marr also said new hangars were delivered to the new airport on Monday afternoon.

He also said the Muleshoe Hospital District Bill is 'on the governor's desk waiting for his signature.'

GTE Continuing Scholarships For Athletics

GTE Corp. has announced that, in recognition of the increasing emphasis on academic standards for America's athletes, it is extending its sponsorship of the GTE All-America Teams through the 1989-1990 academic year.

Established in 1952, the Academic All-America Teams program has been exclusively sponsored by GTE since 1985. More than 400 college athletes are selected each year by College Sports Information Directors of America (CoSIDA), based on academic and athletic excellence.

"We are very proud of our affiliation with this program," said Edward C. MacEwen, GTE

In Remembrance, Dr. Litzenberg said "history has given us a great advantage to make a commitment. He said some people volunteer to work on 'big events' and some volunteer to work for the Cancer Society.

He stressed each and every volunteer for anything becomes a part of history and a part of "Remembrance."

Dr. Litzenberg talked about the importance of Rededication and finally, the importance of Responsibility.

Dr. Litzenberg showed slides depicting "Aggie-Land," and told of some of the current events at A&M.

He said 39,176 students are attending A&M this year, and 1,200 of that number is attending on scholarships.

Of the total enrollment, some 16,000 are female; there are 7,325 graduate students and 2,100 in the cadet corps.

He talked a little football and talked a little basketball as he filled in the Aggies on their former school.

Dr. Litzenberg also presented Nick and Rayneil Bamert with a very special Aggie-umbrella. It was built-for-two.

It was voted by the group present to dedicate the 1989 scholarship to the memory of John Gunter, Jr.

Bill Liles conducted the annual roll call, where a friend of a deceased Aggie answered with "here" when the deceased's name was called.

vice president-corporate communications. "We believe we've selected an exemplary project to support, one whose aim is to recognize the achievements of true scholar-athletes -- young people who are positive role models for their peers and for future athletes."

To be eligible for selection to the GTE Academic All-America Teams, an athlete must be a starter or key reserve on his or her varsity team and maintain at least a 3.20 cumulative grade point average on a scale of 4.0. Four men's teams (football, basketball, baseball and at-large) and four women's teams (volleyball, basketball, softball and at-large) are selected annually in both university and college divisions. Included in the at-large categories are tennis, golf, swimming, track and field, soccer, field hockey, gymnastics, ice hockey, wrestling, lacrosse, skiing and other sports.

During its involvement, GTE has expanded the sponsorship by establishing the GTE Academic All-America Hall of Fame and "Straight Talk About School," a program that encourages high school students to continue their education.

The Hall of Fame was established in 1988 to recognize Academic All-Americans selected over the program's 37 years who have continued high achievement in their adult lives. The inaugural class of honorees included U. S. Senator Bill Bradley (New Jersey), U. S. Representative Tom McMillen (Maryland), Heisman Trophy winner Pete Dawkins, Reverend Donn Moomaw, and sportscasters Merlin Olsen and Pat Haden. In May, GTE will announce the second class of inductees to the Hall of Fame.

"Straight Talk About School" is an advertising campaign featuring NBC Sports' Dick Enberg, Sen. Bradley, and Rep. McMillen, that targets high school students.

It focuses on the importance of graduating from high school and taking a balanced approach to academics and athletics, GTE works with the American Federation of Teachers (AFT) to distribute the printed materials free of charge to teachers and students.

ROTARY SPEAKERS AND ROTARIANS--Harvey Bass, far left, was in charge of the Rotary Program for Tuesday and introduced W. L. Goble and Burnett Roberts, both of Levelland, who spoke on a Rotary Endowment Plan. At the right, are Kenneth Henry, who is local Rotary Endowment Chairman and J. D. Cage, Rotary District Governor. (Journal Photo)

Foundation Benefactors Meet Topic

Harvey Bass introduced two speakers for the Muleshoe Rotary Club Tuesday at noon. They were Burnett Roberts, who served as Rotary District Governor in 1958-59. He has been a Rotary member for 54 years. The other speaker was W. L. Goble, who is in charge of the insurance program for Rotary. Both men are residents of Levelland. They spoke on Foundation Benefactors, and encouraged the Muleshoe Rotary Club to become a benefactor club. They explained that every three years, all the money in the Foundation is spent, helping with projects on a world wide basis, and explained several different ways a Rotary Club could become Foundation Benefactors, and help with the programs. "The Foundation is not for everyone," said Roberts, "but, we do encourage those who can help to do so." They showed a film on some of the ways Foundation funds are spent, and told the local Rotary that Kenneth Henry has been named chairman of the Endowment Fund for the Muleshoe Rotary Club. In other Rotary action, President George Nieman said after expenses, the Rotary Club had made $762 from the recent Magic Show. He said that as all of the magic show tickets, and/or money, have not been turned back in, he figures at least another $700 is due from members, and reminded the members to get their magic show account settled with the treasurer, Abel Arguello. Funds from the show will help send four students to Camp RYLA and either a child to the Diabetic Camp, or in lieu of sending someone, a cash donation. Scott Campbell was approved as a new member during a board meeting last week.

President Nieman also said May 26 has been confirmed as the date the Rotary will be hosting wrestling matches in Muleshoe. He reminded Rotarians of the Conference to be held May 5-7 in Amarillo, and asked for a Rotarian from the local club to be there to give the invocation. This was at the request of District Governor J. D. Cage. A thank you letter was received from the Bailey County Junior Livestock Board. Ray Day was winner of the Polio Plus drawing. Guests were Brandon Wilson, Student of the Month; Walter Hughes, Regena Clarkson, Thurman Coleman and Charles Aycock. Inherited Some people seem to have opinions that have been in their families for generations. —W.O.W. New Booklet Available To Help Plan Careers

Career planning--whether you're changing careers or choosing one for the first time--is hard. You may not know what training is required for certain jobs, what the working conditions will be like, or even what people with certain job titles do. And as much as you want a career you'll enjoy, you also need a career in a field that will have job openings when you're ready for them. Two booklets from the Department of Labor give the job outlook until the year 2000 for dozens of fields, so you can tell where opportunity will knock. Computer and Mathematics-Related Occupations (Item 101V, $1.50) and Education, Social Service, and Related Occupations (Item 102V, $2.00) give reports on the working conditions, required skills, education, and average salaries for each field. If you're trying to decide between being an accountant or a statistician, an archivist or a teacher's aid, these booklets can help. Get your copies by sending your name, address, the item numbers, and a check or money order to R. Woods, Consumer Information Center, Pueblo, Colorado 81009. Job availability is most affected by changes in the population and economy. As technology increases and the economy becomes more service oriented, we'll need more people to keep track of financial accounts, and more people to program, operate, and repair computers. So, according to Computer and Mathematics-Related Occupations, accountants, actuaries, and computer scientists should find lots of opportunity. What do people in these occupations do? Let's say the manager at Thingamobobs, Inc. wants to know if the company has enough money to buy a new computer system. She'd probably ask the company's accountant. Accountants maintain up-to-date financial records so managers can make important decisions. Or let's say an insurance company wants to know if they should charge drivers under age 25 with higher premiums than drivers older than 25. The company would check with an actuary. Actuaries analyze statistics to calculate risks and determine premiums for insurance companies. A computer scientist might write programs to help actuaries and accountants maintain their records. If the computer breaks down, the actuary or accountant (or whoever is running the computer) would call a computer technician to fix it. Most of these jobs offer steady, 40-hour work weeks in comfortable offices. Salaries for these jobs are comfortable, too. Naturally, pay increases with additional training and experience. As the baby boom generation matures, the economy will gear itself to the needs of an older population. We'll need more human services and social workers to meet the needs of these people. This means jobs for medical workers, psychiatric and mental health counselors, gerontologists, and social welfare administrators should also be plentiful. Human services workers often work with the elderly and the disabled. They work with other people in need of counseling, too, such as drug abusers and alcoholics. Because of this, candidates for these jobs must like working with and helping people. They must also be very patient. Workers in social service agencies usually spend some time in an office and the rest out in the field. In residential settings, such as nursing homes, they work in shifts. Evening and weekend hours are often necesary, since residents of group homes require supervision round the clock. This work can be emotionally draining, but it is satisfying. The baby boom echo--the children of the baby boom generation--will also affect the job outlook. As they go through school, they will increase the need for teachers at various grade levels. Education, Social Service, and Related Occupations Can tell you more about where and when these jobs will be available. For more information on the job outlook, send for your copies of Computer and Mathematics-Related Occupations (Item 101V, $1.50) and Education, Social Service, and Related Occupations (Item 102 V $2.00). You'll also get a free copy of the Consumer Information Catalog. Published quarterly by the Consumer Information Center of the U.S. General Services Administration, the Catalog lists about 200 free and moderately priced federal consumer publications on a wide variety of subjects.

EXENCIONES DE RESIDENCIA

PUEDEN REDUCIR LOS IMPUESTOS QUE PAGA POR SU CASA

Una exencion de residencia le ayuda a reducir los impuestos sobre la propiedad que tiene que pagar por su residencia reduciendo el valor que se utiliza como base para calcular sus impuestos. Por ejemplo, si su casa esta valorada en $50,000 y usted recibe una exencion de residencia de $5,000, usted va a pagar impuestos de residencia como si su valor fuese de $45,000. Usted puede recibir una exencion de residencia si usted era el dueño de su casa el primero de enero y la usaba como su residencia principal en la misma fecha. No importa si su residencia es una casa, un condominio o una casa remolque. Hay exenciones que cualquier persona que es dueño(a) de su residencia puede usar para rebajar sus impuestos escolares. Exenciones adicionales se ofrecen a duenos de residencia que estan incapacitados o tienen 65 años o mas. Otras exenciones pueden ofrecerse a propietarios por distritos escolares, condados, ciudades y distritos escolares.

Bailey County Appraisal District
104 E. Ave. C 272-5501

Solicite todas las exenciones que usted puede recibir en la oficina local del distrito de valoracion en la direccion que se cita abajo. Si usted recibio una exencion para su residencia actual en 1988, usted no necesita solicitar para 1989 a menos que el jefe de valoracion pida que haga una nueva solicitud. Sin embargo, si usted cumplio 65 años o quedo incapacitado antes del primero de enero haga una nueva solicitud para recibir exenciones adicionales. Si usted no ha recibido una exencion para su residencia actual o si se cambio de casa haga una nueva solicitud para 1988. Usted tiene que hacer su solicitud antes del 1 de mayo de 1989. Comuniquese con su distrito de valoracion antes de esa fecha si necesita mas tiempo para hacerla. Para tener mas informacion usted puede recibir una copia gratis del folleto Los Derechos, Remedios y Responsabilidades del Contribuyente de Impuestos en la oficina del distrito de valoracion o puede pedirla del Consejo Estatal de Impuestos sobre la Propiedad (State Property Tax Board) en Austin.

Cleta Williams, Editor

Muleshoe, Texas 79347

Dear Cleta:

Thank you for the front page coverage of the "Muleshoe Tour."

However, I cannot take credit for initiating the "Tour." Jean Ray, a former Muleshoe resident, along with her sister, Margaret Collins, and Jean's niece, Bobbie Harrison, were the moving force in this project. I, as co-manager of the Heritage House Inn, was contacted regarding available accommodations in August, 1988. The plans went forward from there. Since that time we have worked out the details and involved several local people and organizations.

If we do a good job feeding, housing, and entertaining; the tour may book with us again.

Sincerely,
Evelyn Peat

Bush Changes Rural Health Can Become Very Critical

Without publicly emphasizing the difference between Reagan Administration policy and his own, President Bush has quietly effected two major foreign policy changes likely to have wide implications in the future.

Mr. Bush's new policy in Central America has just been endorsed by Costa Rican President Oscar Arias. That means U.S. policy in this region and that of the non-Marxist regimes there is now unified.

Mr. Arias won the Nobel Peace prize for his authorship of the Arias Plan, calling on Nicaragua to end Marxist repression and effect democratic reforms. He said after a recent meeting with President Bush that new U.S. policy, withholding further military aid from the Nicaraguan Contras, should now be matched by Cuba and the Soviet Union.

This unified alignment of non-communist nations in Central America with the United States is highly important, if and when new policy decisions are to be made because of progress in Nicaragua and El Salvador, or a lack of it.

If and when Mr. Bush wishes to resume military aid to the Contras, he has a much better chance to win congressional support having agreed to try the non-military option. He also is more likely to have the cooperation of other Central American countries.

Meanwhile, the unified front of non-Marxist nations is more likely to produce results in Nicaragua and El Salvador than a divided front.

In another important turn of events, the managing director of the International Monetary Fund and the president of the World Bank have this month endorsed the new Bush approach to alleviating excessive debt problems of several Latin American nations.

This, coupled with Japan's acceptance of a role in helping to relieve the situation, is a good omen for progress, and avoidance of a financial crisis. The Bush program for helping Latin nations heavily in debt is different from the Reagan Administration program, shaped by then Treasury Secretary James Baker.

The Bush program includes forgiveness of some debt, which many saw as an inevitable move if chaos was to be avoided in international financial circles. Baker's Reagan Administration plan concentrated almost entirely on lower interest rates and new loans, which critics saw as more of the same old medicine.

Rural health care could be a life or death matter to any citizen of Texas who had an accident or medical emergency while traveling through the state, members of the Texas Chamber of Commerce and legislators were told at a breakfast meeting this week.

Problems with rural health care delivery in Texas were reviewed at the regular biweekly legislative breakfast of the Texas Chamber of Commerce by Larry Milner, President and Chief Executive Officer of the chamber, Rep. Mike McKinney and Sheryl Boyd, Ed. D of the Department of Internal Medicine of the Texas Tech Health Science Center. Both panelists were members of The Special Task Force on Rural Health Care Delivery that made its report to the Governor and the legislature this year.

The panelists zeroed in on the declining number of health care facilities in rural areas of the state. Rep. McKinney said that 72 Texas hospitals failed in the past five years, most of them in rural areas. One of the latest was the hospital in Leon County where Rep. McKinney, a physician, practices. Last year alone, 17 hospitals in the state closed their doors.

Rep. McKinney pointed out that "if you're driving from Houston to Dallas and have a wreck in Leon County, you'll be involved in rural health care quickly."

Dr. Boyd, a member of the Texas Chamber Board of Directors, was vice-chairman of the task force. Sam Gorena, a member of the chamber staff, was the executive director. The group held eleven hearings throughout the state and heard from more than 250 witnesses.

Dr. Boyd pointed out that the economy of small towns and rural areas are severely impacted when there is inadequate health care. "Not only does a lack of doctors and hospitals make the attraction of new industry almost impossible, but health care itself is an industry that goes to the next larger city when facilities in a small town close," she said.

DIANNE NIEMAN, BROKER

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN-The embattled Public Utility Commission, with two commissioners facing a tough Senate confirmation vote the next day, took action last week to see whether telephone rates in Texas reflect lower federal corporate income taxes.

The result could be lowered phone rates for some consumers.

The following day, senators voted 24-7 to confirm Marta Greytok and Bill Cassin, two appointees of Gov. Bill Clements.

The PUC voted 2-1, with Greytok opposing, to order 10 telephone companies to justify rates, an action that many consumer activists felt was long overdue.

In 1987 the federal corporate income tax for utilities was lowered 12 percent. Other states acted to pass those savings to consumers, which was the federal intent. But until last week, the Texas PUC did not act.

Consumer advocates still want the PUC to order similar probes of the state's largest electric company and two others.

Change in Strategy
Meanwhile, top leaders and the State Preservation Board approved a $149 million plan to renovate the Capitol and build a four-story underground office extension.

The project apparently will be funded from general revenues, which two weeks ago lawmakers described too short to fund minimum state services. Earlier, renovation backers urged a bond issue to pay for it.

But bonds would require voter approval, and since they fear voters would see the renovation as a lawmaker's luxury in these days of a strapped economy, the strategy to pay for it has been changed, at least for now.

Not all legislators support the renovation, which would move most, but not all, legislators from their Capitol offices.

The plan would allow the lieutenant governor and speaker to reward pet lawmakers with offices remaining in the state Capitol, thus enhancing the class system which makes some legislative seats more equal than others.

Alimony Bill Passed

Senators passed a bill by Sen. Kent Caperton, D-Bryan, to establish alimony in Texas, limiting it to a three-year period with payments of no more than $1,500 per month, and only in cases where persons were married more than 10 years.

Caperton said the bill is narrowly drawn to avoid "Johnny Carson horror stories," but opponents emphasized that Texas is a community property state where divorce spouses split property 50-50.

The Senate also approved updated insurance regulations which prevent state insurance commissioners from keeping information on insolvent companies a secret for longer than 60 days.

They urged Clements to name three new commissioners, but Houston Sen. Craig Washington said a slate of three white males would be unacceptable.

Schlueter Has Votes

Killeen state Rep. Stan Schlueter said he has the 100 votes necessary to pass a proposed amendment curbing the political ambitions of future attorneys general, and still says the incumbent, Attorney General Jim Mattox, is not the target.

Mattox, meanwhile, is reportedly lobbying for the bill's defeat, and even asked Republican Railroad Commissioner Kent Hance to help kill it. Hance said, wrong, he wasn't running for attorney general in 1990 as many are speculating.

Mattox Rips Back

Responding to critics claiming he went to the Matamoros cult-drug murder scene for publicity, Mattox said the cult is linked to drug smuggling into Texas.

Mattox also reiterated he was asked to enter the case by the Cameron County sheriff and the parents of victim Mark Kilroy.

Critics had jabbed Mattox as having no criminal jurisdiction and seeking publicity for his '90 gubernatorial campaign.

Mattox said he is part of a U.S.-Mexico cooperative effort to break open a major international narcotics smuggling operation.

His office has the authority to investigate any criminal activity and present such evidence to a grand jury, he said.

Other Highlights

• Texas Land Commissioner Garry Mauro, joining with Texas Water Commissioner Buck Wayne and other officials to urge a state oil spill policy, said, "Texas is not in any better shape to handle a major oil spill than was Exxon in the Port of Valdez."

• Blaming business commitments, Thomas B. McDade, a retired Houston banker, asked Gov. Clements to withdraw his nomination to the State Board of Insurance.

• Motorcycle riders must wear safety helmets starting Sept. 1, according to a new law signed last week by Clements despite a veto petition with more than 6,000 signatures.

• A bill that would allow AIDS testing by doctors without a patient's specific consent was tentatively approved by the House on a voice vote last week.

• Accusing personal injury lawyers of dragging out negotiations, Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby ordered opposing groups to reach a consensus on workers' compensation legislation this week.

B.J. Crowley's HOROSCOPE

Week of April 24, 1989
TAURUS—April 21 to May 20—
Pride can stand in the way of progress for you now. Arrogance is obvious, so tone down your attitude toward others.

GEMINI—May 21 to June 20—You find your place in being the Entertain, rather than in being entertained. Develop a talent. You can come into your own in music, speaking, dance or other art forms if you exert a little effort.

CANCER—June 21 to July 22—Do something about your appearance. New clothes, a new hairstyle and new grooming supplies are definitely needed. Your outlook will improve.

LEO—July 23 to Aug. 22—Curb mood swings. Get on an even keel and stay there. When you do your popularity soars with peers. Your relationships with family also will improve.

VIRGO—Aug. 23 to Sept. 22—Be more selective in your television viewing. You are wasting precious time when you watch just to be watching. Check your schedule to choose programs in advance.

LIBRA—Sept. 23 to Oct. 22—A letter brings a firm commitment from someone whose help you are seeking. Give them an immediate answer. Take care of other correspondence.

SCORPIO—Oct. 23 to Nov. 22—Try to be reasonable with older people. The advice they offer is for your own good. You would do well to take it. Their experience counts.

SAGITTARIUS—Nov. 23 to Dec. 21—Satisfaction comes from winning a victory. Give more than you get and you will find your cup runneth over. Some change may be in order for you to keep up with the times.

CAPRICORN—Dec. 22 to Jan. 19—Keep promises. Mean what you say and say what you mean. Work comes easier as your energy level reaches a higher level. Make specific plans for your vacation.

AQUARIUS—Jan. 20 to Feb. 18—Good things are happening to you this month. Prepare a spot where you can conduct your business in an organized way either in our home or office.

PISCES—Feb. 19 to March 20—A weekend trip pays off. Your good fortune comes from luck rather than skill. Family affairs move along smoothly now.

ARIES—March 21 to April 20—Make careful plans for your summer vacation. Begin early to make reservations. Travel light.
