WJHS Athletes Honored Friday Night With Annual Banquet

It was both a solemn and joyous occasion for Watson Junior High School athletes last Friday night, when the annual WJHS Fellowship of Christian Athletes (FCA) banquet was held.

Complete with the solemnity of the annual candlelight service, and scripture, Monica Clemmons and Jesse Singleterry acted as candle bearers and Jeffery Bradley offered the prayer. The special scripture verses for this year were Matthew 5:14-16.

Following a meal catered by Dani Heathington's Blue Goose, WJHS Head Coach Roy Donaldson introduced Coach Jimmy Joe Robinson of Post, who gave appropriate remarks for young athletes. After the introduction of the 1988-89 and 1989-90 cheerleaders were recognized, it was time for awards.

For seventh grade football, Juan Jaime was the Outstanding player for the 'B' team and Chad McCormick won the 'A' team offensive, Outstanding, while Ruben Jaramillo was named Outstanding 'A' team defensive player.

Evan Kelley and Shawn Wheeler won the seventh grade 'B' Outstanding honors and Chad Freeman and Brian Osuna were named the 'A' team outstanding players in basketball.

For the eighth grade, Matt Bohler was named Outstanding player and top defensive player was Rudolph Nunez, while Robbie Guana was named Top Offensive player.

For eighth grade boys basketball, it was Arturo Estrada winning the 'B' team award while Marcus Bryan won the 'A' team award. Eric McElroy received the Leadership Award.

In seventh grade girls' basketball, Brenna Wheeler won the 'B' team award and for the 'A' team, Kristin Holmans was Best Hustler and Misty Davenport was Outstanding player.

In eighth grade girls' basketball, Shauna Hardwick won the 'B' team award and Kristie Collins was Most Improved and Becky Donaldson, Outstanding, Cont. Page 6, Col. 4

City Council Okays SPS

Rate Decrease

Although it may not have been "the shortest city council meeting on record," it probably was very close Tuesday morning.

During a 14-minute meeting, members of the Muleshoe City Council unanimously approved a new ordinance -- authorizing Southwestern Public Service Co. to reduce their rates. The reduction will be effective on June 1, 1989.

In other action, City Manager Dave Marr told council members a public hearing will be at 5 p.m. on May 31, concerning the current Paving Program, combined with a hearing for an application of a new paving program.

He also said that on Monday, May 22, Senator Phil Gramm is scheduled to fly into the new airport east of Muleshoe and conduct ribbon-cutting ceremonies. The tentative time is 5 p.m.

He also said concrete will be poured for the foundation of new hangars sometime later this week. The new hangars will not be completed before Sen. Gramm arrives, but a grand opening of the airport will be scheduled at a later date.

Most Areas Still Needing From Six-Eight Inches

"Based on rainfall reports received around the county late last week," said Bailey County Extension Agent Spencer Tanksley, "one or two areas received very beneficial amounts of moisture."

"For the dryland farmer, however, as a whole, not enough moisture was received."

"At this point, it's just real nice to know it can rain again," he added. "But in terms of establishing a dryland crop, we're still very short on soil moisture."

Tanksley said he is being asked frequently "How much rainfall do we need?" He said we need at least two inches or more of the right type of slow, soaking rain to be able to plant and hopefully, to establish a crop.

"At this time," he added, "we only have about 15 more days left to plant cotton. That doesn't mean that we won't see some cotton planted up to June 10. I feel we have to be established by that time in order to expect any type of normal yield."

He reminded that under the government's farm bill now, farmers must attempt to plant and establish a cotton crop before they can receive deficiency payments. He said a little dryland cotton has been planted already.

According to Tanksley, during the first two weeks of May, approximately 90 percent of the irrigated cotton has been planted and some cotton is up at this time.

"Soil temperature is above average and the warmth is causing cotton to germinate in a week, which is good," he added.

The county agent said he has received 140 heat units in April for cotton and over 400 for corn. Last year, we didn't get that much heat units through May, he said.

According to Tanksley, a good one-inch rain could germinate the cotton and get it out of the ground, and with another inch of rain a week later, the farmer would be ahead, he said.

"Many producers are very worried about wind and hail," said Tanksley. "It has been so hot and so dry for so long, the producers said a lot depends on how the rain falls now. If it is accompanied by wind and hail, the producers are afraid of what it will do to irrigated crops already established.

"For instance, corn is reaching the 6-8 leaf stage, and is really starting to look good. Producers are in the process of fertilizing, and some are starting irrigation at this time."

Although the soil temperature is very good for planting, a main problem is concern for high wind Cont. Page 6, Col. 1

VALEDICTORIAN
Lisa Noble is Muleshoe High School's valedictorian for 1988-89. She is the daughter of Sandy and Deborah Noble. Her hobbies are running, writing poetry and short stories and spending time with her friends and boyfriend. The favorite activities of her senior year were the senior pep rally, cheerleading, and the ENMU trip. Lisa's most memorable times are research papers, her boyfriend, and the football season. She plans to attend Texas Tech and major in math and/or chemistry. When asked about her long-term plans (within the next five years), Lisa's reply was to get a master's degree or PhD in her field and get a good job.

SALUTATORIAN
Andrew Espinoza is MHS's 1988-89 salutatorian. He is the son of Camilo and Maria G. Espinoza. His hobbies are reading books and newspaper comics, writing, playing games and puzzles, singing and daydreaming. Andrew's favorite activity this year was being in the one-act play. He states that he will remember how close he got to all his classmates and being in many organizations. Andrew's plans after high school include going to college, probably Texas Tech. He plans to get a major in some line of teaching.

Bridal Shower Honors Mrs. Chris Bass

A bridal shower honoring Mrs. Chris "Teresa" Bass was held Saturday, May 13 in the Muleshoe Heritage Center Depot. Greeting the guest were the honoree; Sandy Bass, mother of the groom; and Glenda Ott, mother of the bride.

Sausage balls, zucchini bread, muffins, coffee and orange juice were served from brass appointments.

A peach silk floral centerpiece, brass candiestick, with an ivory candle and peach candle ring accented the serving table.

The hostesses gift was cookware by Club Supera. Hostesses for the occasion included: Patti Robinson, Jacque Boutell, Gina Smith, Sheryl Kimbrough, Zel Roberson, Mary Hunt, June Hunt, Joanie Henson, Sheila Moraw, Greta McCormick, Shelly Turnbow, Vicki May, Lavern Winn and Jeanine Gunstream.

Final Plans Being Made For Tour Bus

"Muleshoe is a tourist city every day" said Evelyn Peat, at the Jennyslipper meeting at noon Tuesday. "In April the Heritage House Inn had an occupancy of 619, representing 80 cities, and 27 states as well as Washington, D.C., Canada and Mexico." Mrs. Peat also reported on the bus tour scheduled for Friday, June 2. Tentative plans are for the tourist to tour TOLK Station before arriving in Muleshoe, where they will spend the night at the Heritage House Inn. They will have their pictures taken with the "Mule Memorial". At 6 p.m. members of the Muleshoe Muleskinners will transport the visitors from the motel to the Old Depot, where entertainment will be provided until 7 p.m. when the Jennyslippers will serve them a meal. More entertainment is scheduled following the meal.

Pat Langfitt called the Jennyslipper meeting to order and Thursie Reid gave the opening prayer. Norma Bruce gave the treasurer's report.

Mary Ann Rameriz gave a report on the Walk-a-thon and Donna Kirk reported on the Garden Spot of the Week. Everyone is urged to make their nominations for the Garden Spot by calling the Chamber of Commerce before 5 p.m. on Wednesday. This can be either a garden spot, flower bed, or a pretty tree. The Jennyslippers judges this spot and erects a sign in the yard so everyone passing by can see it.

It was reported that the

Lonny McKinzie Begins Internship

Lonny R. McKinzie, a former Sudan resident, and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Terrell began his internship on May 1 at Parker College of Chiropractic in Irving. Dr. McKinzie has been active in various activities of the college and is a member of the International Chiropractors Association and the American Chiropractic Association.

When asked why he made a career change to go back to school to become a chiropractor doctor, McKinzie said "I have been a chiropractic patient for years and have seen others as well who were helped by chiropractics when nothing else helped. I wanted to be part of a profession that believed in natural, conservative health care first before using drugs or surgery. There is a need for all health care providers but people should try chiropractic first then if more aggressive treatment is necessary, then by all means, seek it".

Following graduation in August in 1990, McKinzie plans to establish his own practice or possibly seek an association with an established doctor.

lab or blood." A hospital, with a doctor ready, can do a lot to stabilize a patient while waiting for the helicopter to arrive to take the critical patient to trauma hospitals."

She talked about the many times the local ambulance met the medical helicopters on the highway somewhere to transfer a critical patient, because there was no hospital in Muleshoe to receive the patient and try to stabilize him or her.

Economy-wise, Mrs. Watkins added, "How can we encourage young, progressive people to bring their families to the community with no hospital. Most of them feel it is too scary to have small children and not have a hospital.

"When the hospital was closed, we saw businesses starting to close," she continued.

"One grocery store operator said he 'knew to the penny' how much money he lost each month while the hospital was closed.

"Schools, churches and a hospital are vital for the growth and stability of a community, and without our hospital, we fear our community will die out. We have good doctors, and with a stable hospital, can get more doctors, and provide more medical services that can keep our medical patients in our own community.

"Nurses are a little afraid to go to work in a hospital that may be closed down at any time, and we have good nurses who currently live right here in Muleshoe, but have to work out of town. Most of them have families to support," she added, "and have to feel secure in their jobs. At this time, the nurses who have stayed with the hospital, are working without any insurance or other benefits. They are 'just sticking it out' and should be commended for continuing to work under those conditions.

The EMS director said four full time employees are on duty each day at the EMS, and all the EMS workers, paid and volunteer are well trained, and efficient.

There are five paramedics at the EMS, and one EMT-SS, who is approximately half through completing paramedic school. There are three EMT-SS (Special Skills); five EMTs; and four ECAs. With an EMT school currently underway, at least four of the students should be

Tanksley said 1989 will go down as not a good year for wheat produced on the South Plains or in the Panhandle. Wheat yields will be below normal harvest for both dryland and irrigated wheat. Tanksley predicted that approximately 15 percent of the wheat planted will be harvested.

He said several things happened to wheat this year, and a combination of things caused the loss of most of the wheat crop.

Factors involved included late freezes, insects, disease and drought. Each contributed to the loss of most of the wheat crop, he said.

Tanksley said that we not only have the loss of the grain from this year's wheat, but a loss of pasture for forage for cattle, and very few cattle are left in the county.

This includes a loss of native rangeland, which the county agent said was the main reason for a 'disaster' designation for the county already this year.

After last week's rain, the county agent said some farmers were back in their fields less than 24 hours, and planting continued.

"The potato fields look good, and little vegetables are just getting established," added the county agent. "There are some fields of onions, cabbage and carrots right now."

He added that a number of irrigation farmers benefitted very well from last week's rain, and up to two inches of rain in isolated areas has caused some delay in the farmers getting back into their fields. "But, unfortunately, not enough rain fell to help the dryland farmer very much, nor did it help rangelands very much at all."

certified and will be possibly joining the current EMS crew.

The EMS has two ambulances. One has advanced life support equipment and the other has intermediate equipment.

The local EMS and their two ambulances are responsible for covering nearly 950 square miles. When there are major disasters, and the EMS considers the accident last September involving five local teenagers as a major disaster, the Sudan ambulance is called, as it has been numerous times, to come over on 'stand by' while the local ambulances are busy.

"People like the small town atmosphere," added Mrs. Watkins, "but there is a price you have to pay for it. If you want the small town, friendly, easier type living, you have to fight for it, and pay the price for it."

The EMS director talked about a surgeon who lived and worked here, Dr. Muyschondt, considered 'outstanding' in the field of surgery, who tried to 'wait it out,' but was forced to move in order to support his family. She added we had a full pharmacy, a full lab and ICU, adding, we could have these again.

She spoke of Medicare, and the inconvenience, and often trauma involved, when older patients have to be transferred to out of town hospitals where they could be hospitalized in Muleshoe if and when necessary.

"EMTs can do a lot in the back of an ambulance," she added, "but we cannot do what a doctor can do. We cannot stabilize the patient, or necessary x-ray work or lab work.

"If someone you love stops breathing -- do you want them 30 minutes from a hospital, or 35-40 minutes?" she asked. "And, as so often happens, because of all the transfers to out of town hospitals, suppose both ambulances are already busy on emergency runs -- what's your alternative?"

She concluded, "People never realize how much they need medical attention until it's too late."

Absentee voting starts May 31, and ends at 5 p.m. on June 16. Persons may vote absentee in the Bailey County Clerk's office at the courthouse. The vote on the Muleshoe Area Hospital District will be June 20.

Mr. Goodwrench

Dear Patients and Friends,

I would like to take this opportunity to ask for your support of the new "Hospital District". I have never taken such a position as to request your support for political or other interests. However, I feel this is such an important issue, that the survival of our community could possibly be at the foundation of this.

At the passage of the district, I am optimistic that our "community", served by West Plains Medical Center will grow, prosper, and lead the area in rural revitalization. More important, for the health of our children, grandchildren, parents, and even ourselves, we need a strong viable hospital that can treat any major emergency effectively.

With current state legislation, the question is really not whether we want a hospital district. It is whether we prefer a local hospital district and local board or we prefer a LUBBOCK Hospital District and board!

This is a serious matter. I ask you to consider it, then vote positive for the Hospital district.

For your Future and mine,

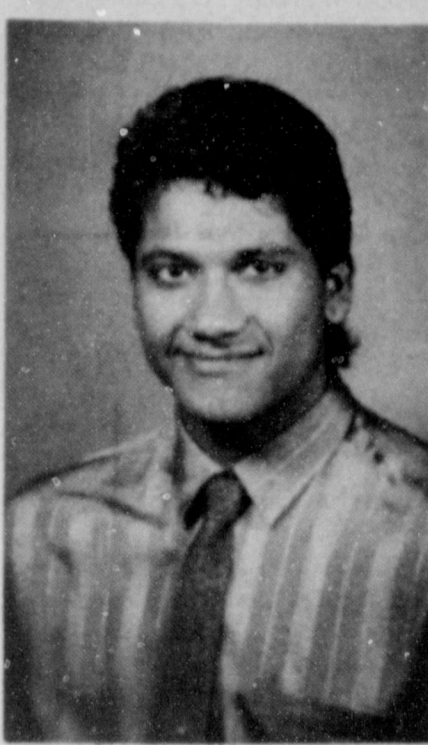

Tom K. Bonds D.D.S.

There will be many good things happening here in Muleshoe in the next few weeks. There are so many good things going on that everyone should be thankful that we like in such an active community.

Some of the events will be: May 19th is the last day to register to vote in the upcoming hospital district election. If you are already registered to vote at your present address then you are in good shape. However, if you have moved from one precinct or address to another, then it is necessary to correct this in Kathleen Hayes Assessor-collector office located in the Bailey County courthouse. Also, we encourage anyone who has never registered to do so before May 19.

Also, May 22nd has been chosen to have a ribbon cutting for our new Muleshoe Municipal Airport. The buildings are not completed at this time, but the landing strip is already being used.

We want to ask everyone to form a delegation at the ribbon cutting on May 22nd, not only to see the new airport, but the Honorable Senator Phil Gramm will be arriving at the new Muleshoe Municipal Airport on this day.

He will be the first official to land at our new airport. He will address the group present and do the honors of cutting the ribbon. We are real proud to have the U.S. Senator fly here from Washington D. C. to share this occasion with us.

Let's all mark our calendars and make definite plans to attend. The hour of arrival has not been decided, but we will publish this just as soon as we receive the news.

June 2nd is the date of the arrival of the bus tour group. This tour group originates in Oklahoma City with a destination of Muleshoe, Texas. We couldn't be more proud than to have a tour organize in Oklahoma City and travel to Muleshoe to tour our fair city. They will spend a night at the outstanding Heritage House Inn.

Before relaxing for a night of luxury, this group will be entertained at the Depot on the grounds of our Heritage Center. Our famous Jennyslippers organization will serve an excellent evening meal and entertain them with some interesting events.

Also, July 4th will be here before we realize it. We just want to let you know that this will be one 'big blow-out.' There will be fun, food and entertainment at the Civic Center from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m. This will include many new games and activities which we have not had before, as well as the Miniature Golf Tournament, Mule Shoe Pitching Contest and more and more and lots more.

On the afternoon of the 4th, there will be a parade in downtown Muleshoe. The parade will proceed down Main Street and on to the new city park for many more things to follow.

Some of these events will include skydivers, flying model aircraft and a water polo exhibition by the fire department.

At 8 p.m. that evening, we will again enjoy the entertainment by the Ozark Country Express Band. This will be followed by the giant fireworks display at dark.

Don't even think about going out on July the 4th.

Texas A&M scientists test synthetic hormone to combat pesky fleas

COLLEGE STATION — It's a close race between the flea and the cockroach for the dubious distinction of America's most unpopular household pest, but scientists at Texas A&M University think the flea wins by a bite.

Dr. Roger Meola and Kathleen Palma, both Texas A&M entomologists, think a synthetic hormone they're testing for a Japanese chemical company promises to hit fleas where they live — before they have a chance to reproduce — or bite.

Meola and Palma are testing an artificial version of a naturally occurring hormone that promises to control the hopping, biting insects at least as effectively as insecticides — without the chemicals' undesirable side effects.

The synthetic hormone, known as an insect growth regulator or IGR, turns the hopping, biting insects into perpetual children, interrupting the normal maturing process before they're old enough to bite or reproduce, explained Palma.

Most people can stand tragedy but few can master the small irritations of life.

ROTARY GUEST SPEAKER--Paul Wilbanks was in charge of the Rotary Program Tuesday, and introduced Brandon Wilson, who won two state championships last weekend in Austin. He won Persuasive Speaking and Lincoln-Douglas Debate. Also shown is his speech instructor, Kerry Moore.

State Winner Guest Speaker For Rotary

Paul Wilbanks was in charge of the Rotary Program Tuesday and introduced Brandon Wilson, a senior at Muleshoe High School and recent winner of the state competition for both Persuasive Speaking and Lincoln-Douglas Debate.

Brandon passed his state medals around for everyone to see, and took about the competition, and told the group humorously through the preliminaries on Friday, on through the awards on Saturday and the awards ceremonies.

He said he really did not expect to win state, and registered surprise upon learning he was first in both events.

When asked if being one of the youths chosen to attend the Rotary RYLA Camp last year, he said that not only he, but other young people he had known benefitted from RYLA Camp.

"Everybody who attends RYLA is instilled with competition," he said, "all are competing and doing very well, whether it be athletics or academically."

President George Nieman welcomed the guests, who included several South Plains and Panhandle Methodist ministers, and said Jay C. Feagley had signed a card to become a new member. President Nieman asked for a short board meeting following the Rotary meeting to consider the new candidate for membership.

Nieman said he had been approached by the Bailey County 4-H Exchange group for a contribution from Rotary for the 4-H Cultural Exchange trip to Wells Co., N.D. during this summer. The Club voted to donate $100.

He also reminded Rotarians of the Rotary-sponsored wrestling, scheduled for Friday, May 26, and a work sheet was passed around the membership for the night of the wrestling.

Rotary Sweetheart Staci McElroy finally did it!! She drew her own name as winner of the Polio Plus drawing.

Expert says 1987 law interferes with reform of teacher education

COLLEGE STATION — New teacher certification degree plans required by law, particularly a five-year extended elementary program developed at Texas A&M University are expected to accelerate the development of Texas teachers — but not as well as they could, says Texas A&M's associate dean for education.

The same law hampers institutions that train teachers, said Dr. Bryan Cole.

With several Texas universities wishing to duplicate the Texas A&M teacher education innovations made in response to Texas Senate Bill 994, those institutions — including Texas A&M — find themselves hampered by the same bill, said Cole.

"Senate Bill 994 does move in the right direction by requiring teacher candidates to major in an academic discipline, but it goes in the wrong direction by restricting the number of hours of professional education training a student can take," Cole said.

Educators are particularly concerned at the elementary level with the varied classroom settings, differing age groups and divergent student abilities elementary teachers face, Cole said. Teacher candidates may not receive enough training to effectively manage their classrooms, he warned.

The result could be fewer teachers in upcoming years. Studies show teachers leave the profession in the first three years due to an inability to effectively handle the complexities of their classrooms, Cole said.

Senator Teel Bivins Reports

AUSTIN - In my four months as a Texas Senator and my 18 months as a candidate, I've learned that making the most of a good situation is important in politics. Although I work and work to make the best things happen to Senate District 31, only heaven really knows when another good thing is going to come our way. So, I'm of the opinion that we should make the best of the ones that do.

Fortunately, two positive events have taken place recently in Senate District 31 and we'll be getting a lot of mileage out of at least one of them. Two cities, Plainview and Amarillo, recently received designations for enterprise zones and simultaneously received state designations for enterprise projects. Both were used to lure new industry into this region as Azteca Milling Co. announced plans to open a masa processing plant in Plainview and ConAgra Fresh Meats, Inc. has begun transforming a vacant beef packing plant into a state of the art meat processing plant that will open in June.

The zones, which are established by the local taxing entities and designated by the Commerce Department are aimed at revitalizing economically distressed areas of the state. Though I wouldn't call either Amarillo or Plainview a "distressed area," the zones can be drawn in such a way to meet the criteria of the Commerce Department; mainly that the unemployment rate of the area be at least one and one-half times the state average, that at least 20 percent of its population be impoverished and at least 70 percent fall into low and middle-income groups.

The designation is important because it allows cities to offer local and state tax incentives and rebates to induce businesses to move into the zone, thus creating jobs and revitalizing the "distressed area."

While Amarillo and Plainview were working to add the enterprise zone to their economic development toolbox, both cities had nominated prospects as Department of Commerce enterprise projects. The designated projects, in our case Azteca and ConAgra, may receive refunds of state sales or use taxes paid for building materials and equipment used to expand the business in the enterprise zone. Refunds are made to the project at the rate of $2,000 for each new job created, up to 625 new jobs over a five year period. This can be an attractive business inducement and was a key factor in both companies' decisions to locate in Senate District 31.

But I'm sure an additional factor in the companies' decisions was working with both communities in pushing the projects through the Department of Commerce. Amarillo's zone and project designations were completed in record time, I'm told by my friends at the Department of Commerce. In fact, Camille Berry, who oversees the enterprise zone program for the Commerce Department, had nothing but praise for both projects. "You've got good folks out there in your territory," she said. "I do think Amarillo had one of the best applications I've seen since I've been here."

She said the Amarillo zone application will be used as a model for other communities, and the ConAgra project, which should be completed start to finish in less than three months, will also be a centerpiece as the Commerce Department projects its enterprise project efforts around the state. "These are some quick success stories," she said. "Amarillo should get some good play off that."

And only good things can come from the Department of Commerce singing the praises of Senate District 31 around the state, especially since Memphis, Muleshoe, Hale Center and Tulia are all working on applications for enterprise zones. I think before too long, all of Texas will know that this region is interested in doing good things to make our state grow.

Safe Drinking Water Act Seminar Set

Water utility officials, city managers and other public officials whose operations are affected by the 1986 Amendments to the Safe Drinking Water Act are invited to attend a free educational seminar to be held at Texas Tech University, Friday, May 19, 1989, from 1 to 5:30 p.m. The Texas Tech Water Resources Center, the High Plains Underground Conservation District No. 1 and HDR Engineering, Inc. are sponsoring the half-day event.

Seating is limited and persons are encouraged to pre-register before May 12th by calling Linda Reagor with HDR Engineering in Dallas at (214) 960-4400.

The seminar begins at 1 p.m. with registration in Room 216 of the Texas Tech University Civic and Agricultural Engineering Building. Welcoming addresses by Dr. Lloyd V. Urban, TTU Water Resources Center Director and William B. Hagood, Vice-President of HDR Engineering, will follow.

The Safe Drinking Water Act's importance will be discussed by A. Wayne Wyatt, Manager of the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 1. An overview of future Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) regulations as they pertain to the Safe Drinking Water Act will be presented by Gordon L. Culp, Executive Vice-President of HDR Engineering, Inc.

Thomas R. Caldwell, Vice-President of HDR Engineering, will discuss the occurrence and significance of Fluorides, Selenium and Total Dissolved Solids in Water.

At 3 p.m. seminar participants will be given a guided tour of the Texas Tech University Water Quality laboratories by Dr. Tony Mollhagen, Environmental Sciences Laboratory Director.

After the tour, Blair Leftwich, Director of Lubbock Christian University's Institute of Water Research, will discuss water sampling for compliance with the Safe Drinking Water Act.

Linda B. Wyatt, Regional Engineer with the Texas Department of Health in Lubbock, will explain the role of regulatory agencies in implementing the Safe Drinking Water Act.

Since compliance with the Safe

Drinking Water Act amendments is expected to be costly, financing strategies for water utilities will be discussed by W. Boyd London, Jr. and James R. Campbell. London is a senior vice-president and Campbell is a vice-president of First Southwest Company Municipal Financial Advisors.

Additional information on the Safe Drinking Water Act seminar may be obtained by contacting Dr. Lloyd Urban at the Texas Tech Water Resources Center at (806) 742-3597, or Wayne Wyatt at the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 1 at (806) 762-0181.

Your Picture

One of the curiosities of the huge credit card business in this country is the failure of major credit card companies to have owners' pictures on their cards. This is done in many European countries.

One's picture on one's credit card is protection against unauthorized use or against the theft of cards. Since unauthorized use annually creates losses for owners and credit card companies in the millions of dollars, why are pictures not required?

It's common knowledge that many banks and card pushers seek to get cards into the hands of all members of the family. The credit card business is so lucrative almost every adult receives unrequested cards in the mail, plus all kinds of invitations to apply for cards.

Much of this reckless card pushing results in unpaid bills and losses—which are taken care of by the high interest rates credit card companies charge. The interest charge is so high (and thus profits) that losses resulting from card owners who don't pay can be absorbed. The theory seems to be the more card owners the better...accepting the fact that careless issuance of cards will inevitably produce bad debts.

It would be a better system if cards were more carefully issued, if pictures of each card owner were on every card issued, and if card companies losses from bad debts were reduced.

This would enable the major card companies to reduce currently exorbitant interest rates, usually 18 percent or more. Who else gets away with charging the public such high interest rates? Almost no one; these rates should come down. One way to accomplish that is by tightening up issuance, and putting owners' pictures on every card.

Final Plans Being Made For Pioneer Round-Up

The Pioneer Round-Up, scheduled for Saturday, May 20, will be the sixty-first consecutive year the Plainview Business and Professional Women's Club has sponsored this event. The theme chosen is "A Time Remembered". The first celebration took place March 14, 1929, in the City Auditorium in Plainview when Mrs. Adella Drew served as president. Pat Ray, the current president of the Plainview BPW Club, stated all activities this year will be held in the Ollie Liner Center.

The reception beginning at 10 a.m. at the Ollie Liner Center in Plainview, is a big feature and is a time when the real "old timers" get together to reminiscence and exchange stories of the past. Chairman Doris Henderson and her assistants are expecting many pioneers from near and afar to arrive soon after 10 and the Millennium Singers of Plainview Senior Citizens Center will entertain.

One of the few remaining parades in Plainview will be staged at 2:30 p.m. originating at the Santa Fe Depot on north Broadway. Those participating are asked to be on hand by 1:30 p.m. parade will move south on Broadway to the American Legion/Sears area where it will disband. Durward Lynch will serve as Parade Marshall for the 16th year.

Some floats have already been entered and Alice Doyle, chairman of the parade committee, stated additional floats are welcome on that date. Antique cars, riding clubs, decorated bikes and miscellaneous riders are some of the other attractions. Winners will be announced at the night program and prizes will be provided in part by Plainview Downtown Association.

The Kountry Kitchen and concessions will be open all day at the Ollie Liner Center and Celia Drager and Radine Henderson are the chairmen respectively. Everyone is invited to shop for baked products made by members of the Plainview BPW.

The evening activities will also be held in the Ollie Liner Center and a chuck wagon supper will be served from 6 to 8 p.m. Chairman of the Foods/Serving Committee, Nancy Fowler, states "take out" plates will also be available.

To highlight the evening's activities, the Pioneer Woman of the Plains will be announced. Program Chairman Dorothy Morton stated there would also be musical entertainment by The Singing Farmers of Hart.

In addition, Mrs. Morton stated prizes will be awarded to the couple who have been married the longest, the oldest pioneer present and to the pioneer (over 60) traveling the farthest distance to attend the Round-Up.

The square dance will conclude the Pioneer Round-Up again this year. Helen Burleson, chairman of the committee, has announced that Sid Perkins of Plainview will be the caller. She stated that all who like to square dance, waltz and participate in other couple dances are invited to do so. The Ollie Liner Center is newly remodeled, is air conditioned and will be comfortable for dancing 9 to 11:30 p.m.

Tickets are $5.00 which includes the supper, program and square dance or $2.00 after 8 p.m. without the meal. They may be purchased from any member of the Plainview BPW Club or secured at the door. Betty Jolley is ticket chairman.

Other committees appointed to help carry out activities during the Pioneer Round-Up are as follows: Registration, Doris Washington; Float, Nancy Cox; and Publicity, Jo Ann Clements.

The Plainview Chamber of Commerce Convention and Tourism Committee joins the Plainview Business and Professional Women's Club in welcoming people to the 61st Pioneer Round-Up on May 20. Also all persons are invited to participate in the Pioneer Hot Air Balloon Festival with the first lift-off scheduled for 6:30 a.m. Saturday, Running Water Draw Park and another lift-off on Sunday, May 21st at approximately 6:30 a.m., also in Runningwater Draw Park.

Texas A&M project to help small schools teach elementary science

COLLEGE STATION — Imagine a child trying to understand a microscopic world without a microscope. Imagine a teacher trying to teach a science class without basic equipment or proper direction.

Recognizing this possibility in smaller Texas elementary schools, the Texas A&M Center for Mathematics and Science Education is continuing its Rural Elementary Science Improvement Project (RESIP), thanks to nearly $90,000 in funds from the Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board, according to center director Dr. Robert James.

The program has expanded from seven school districts to include nearly 20 independent and private districts in the Brazos County area, James said.

"We want to encourage more hands-on activities in elementary science in rural settings, in order to help children develop science process skills — observation, experimentation, classification, measuring, making inferences and so on," James said.

The program focuses on the elementary principals, the teachers and the community, James said. He noted that elementary principals are an important key to success in the classroom. Two days of training are aimed at helping administrators manage and monitor an effective elementary science program.

RESIP also helps schools identify local resources in their communities that will help support a sound elementary science program, James said. Those resources can range from garden clubs to veterinarians to businessmen, he added. Generating the support in the community is the goal of that facet of the program, James said.

Much of RESIP concentrates on the elementary teachers. Day-long workshops will be held in each of the areas during the school year and two, two-week summer workshops for more than 60 teachers will be held on the Texas A&M campus.

In addition to the theoretical side, the program also furnishes each teacher up to $150 in equipment ranging from beakers to microscopes, James added.
