Caudle Is Considering Asking Vote Recount

J. R. Caudle, Jr., of Artesia was giving serious consideration on Monday to asking for a recount of votes in the race in the Democratic primary Tuesday of last week, in which the official canvass on Saturday gave Frank A. Alford of Carlsbad a one-vote lead for the second nomination.

The lead was the same as that indicated in the unofficial count last week.

Caudle said if he decides to ask a recount, this must be done by 5 o'clock Thursday afternoon, or by the close of business five days after the day of the canvass.

Virgil O. McCollum of Carlsbad, who was running for re-election to the State Legislature from Eddy County, quite definitely received one nomination for the two seats with 3895 votes, according to the official canvass.

Alford was shown as receiving 2455 votes to 2454 for Caudle.

D. D. Archer, also of Artesia, received 2428 votes, according to the official canvass, or 14 fewer than Caudle.

The canvass was made Saturday by the Eddy County Board of Commissioners, sitting as the county canvassing board.

The commissioners issued certificates of nomination for McCollum and Alford, after Mrs. R. A. Wilcox, county clerk, had prepared the official county tally.

The possibility of a change in the picture, especially as to Alford and Caudle, was seen in the counting of several sealed ballots, which undoubtedly would be included in a recount. These ballots were voted by persons who produced duplicates of their registration, but whose original registration slips were not in the pollbooks, possibly having been placed in pollbooks of some other box or boxes.

They were permitted to vote and then their ballots were sealed up in special envelopes and delivered to the county clerk's office. They were not opened and voted in the canvass Saturday.

This was not entirely clear to Artesia residents, who had thought the county clerk's office would determine if the citizens who had so voted had been properly registered but through no fault of their own, their registration slips were not in the pollbooks. And then it was presumed that if they were found to have been properly registered their ballots would be counted in the official canvass.

However, T. E. Lusk, assistant district attorney, advised the commissioners that their sole authority as members of a canvassing board amounted to tallies for each candidate, ascertaining if the totals were correct and certifying the winning candidates on the basis of these tallies.

It has been pointed out that one or more of the sealed ballots, if they tallied in a recount, could change the picture as to the leading candidate for the second nomination. It is known there were several such sealed ballots in Artesia. (Continued on page six)

Golf Champ Bullock Defeats Bergman To Retain His Crown

Bill Bullock, defending city golf champion, repeated Sunday afternoon when he defeated Bob Bergman 2-1 in the championship game at the Artesia Country Club. He was also champion in 1946.

Bob Bourland, champion in 1947 and 1948, whom Bullock defeated in the second brackets, won 1-up on the 19th hole over Jim Miller to take the championship flight consolation.

A. W. Harrall, medalist, went down to defeat in the consolation semi-finals to Miller 1-up on the 19th.

The first flight honors went to Floyd Springer, who defeated Doyle Hankins, while J. T. Short took the consolation in that flight over Harry Plowman. They, with six others, had started in the original championship flight of 16, in which the losers of first matches went to make up the first flight. Of the remaining eight in the championship flight, the losers of second matches went into consolation play. In the second flight, Jerry Marshall defeated Stanley Sutton for flight honors. The consolation was won by Jack Spratt over Rufus Stinnett.

Stanley Carper won the third flight over Ed Gore, while Leland Price took the consolation over Bill McGinty.

The winner of the fourth flight was Boyd Barnett over Philip Kranz. W. W. Byers defeated Ralph Pitt for the consolation.

Jack Tinson defeated Jim Parham for fifth-flight honors. Walter Short was awarded the consolation by forfeit of Clarence Key.

Trophies in all flights will be awarded Thursday night after a covered-dish social, the admission to which will be 50 cents a couple and a covered dish.

In repeating to win the championship, Bullock in turn defeated Neil B. Watson 8-6, Bob Bourland 3-up, Sam Laughlin 6-5 and Bob Bergman 2-1.

Bourland, who was the favorite to win in the annual Calculta pool over Champ Bullock, defeated B. E. Spencer 8-6 in his first game, fell to Bullock 3-up to go into consolation play, won by forfeit over Curtis Bolton in the consolation semi-finals and defeated Jim Miller 1-up on the 19th for the consolation honors.

Jack Faulteroy, tournament chairman, said plans are being considered for an invitational pro-amateur tournament at the Country Club later in the season, after the new club house, which is now building, is completed.

The city divot diggers have had a tournament in Artesia every year starting in 1928, when the custom was started by the old Artesia Golf Club, predecessor of the Artesia Club. (Continued on page six)

Additional .30 Inch Of Rain Falls Sunday

Rainfall of .30 inch, starting at about 6:45 o'clock Sunday evening, added to the needed rainfall of a week prior, which broke an eight-month drought.

The precipitation was recorded by the gauge of the Southern Union Gas Company at the city gate north of the New Mexico Asphalt & Refining Company plant, but it varied greatly in various areas. And it was far from general.

Heavy rainfall was reported in the mountains Sunday, which was expected to bring a number of streams up. The Rio Penasco was running a little late Sunday and more freely Monday, but only a few miles north of Artesia there was no rain.

Towering cumulous clouds were building up again Monday afternoon in all directions from Artesia, indicating there might be more rain in the offing.

The rainfall Sunday evening came just a week, almost to the hour, after a recorded precipitation of 1.08 inches started falling early Sunday evening of last week. However, the total came in three distinct storms during the night.

Prior to that, on Thursday evening, June 1, .99 inch of rain fell here. That rain and the rain on Sunday of last week and Sunday of this week totaled 1.47 inches for the month.

Previously there had been only .07 inch of precipitation this year, which fell in January. The total for the year through Sunday night was 1.54 inches.

Production Of Petroleum Is On Increase

PETROLEUM PRODUCTION GOING UP — Employment in the petroleum industry in New Mexico and other oil producing states will gradually increase during the next 10 years, the labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics reported in its April "Monthly Labor Reviews." Credited for the favorable job outlook are the signs of increased demand for petroleum products and continued supply of oil during the next decade.

The long-range trend in demand for petroleum products has been sharply upward, particularly during the last decade, the article points out. Domestic consumption in 1949 was nearly six times the 1919 total, and 74 per cent above the 1939 level. A continued rise in demand during the next 5 to 10 years is indicated by the increasing number of motor vehicles in use, the growth of military and civilian aviation, increased use of oil in heating, wide application of the Diesel engine, greater use of petroleum byproducts, and growth of United States population and industry.

About one and a half million persons are now employed in all branches of the petroleum industry. More than 200,000 workers are employed in petroleum production — in exploration, drilling and rig building, and operating and maintaining the nation's 445,000 producing wells. Another 200,000 workers are employed by the 375 refineries in the United States.

Spurred by the increasing demand, production of crude petroleum during the next decade is expected to exceed the record 2 billion barrels produced in 1948. Most of the new workers in oil production will start as laborers, roustabouts, or helpers. But the article foresees many openings also for petroleum engineers, geologists, geophysicists, surveyors, draftsmen, and other technical workers.

An increase in refinery output and employment is also indicated in the review. In 1948-49, refinery employment was the highest ever attained in the industry, and the long-range trend is upward. Most new plant workers will start as laborers, as the usual practice in refineries is to fill skilled jobs by promoting from within. There will also be many openings for technicians such as chemists, chemical engineers, mechanical engineers, and laboratory technicians.

Rev. McGuffin Resigns From Baptist Church

Rev. V. E. McGuffin, educational director and assistant pastor of the First Baptist Church, has handed his resignation to the church.

The resignation was first given to the board of deacons on Sunday, June 4. The deacons recommended it to the church on Wednesday night, June 7, at the mid-week prayer service. As yet the resignation had not been formally accepted.

J. T. Haile made a motion that definite action be postponed until more of the church members could consider it. The motion carried.

The McGuffins have worked in Artesia for about nine years. Rev. McGuffin was licensed and ordained to preach by the First Baptist Church of Artesia. He received his bachelor of arts degree at Eastern New Mexico College, now Eastern New Mexico University, at Portales and his bachelor of divinity at Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary in Fort Worth, Texas. He and his wife returned to Artesia in February, 1948 and since then have worked here in the First Baptist Church.

Rev. and Mrs. McGuffin do not plan to leave Artesia soon. They are going to California on their vacation and after their return Rev. McGuffin will be available for supply work in Baptist churches of this community.

In spite of his ability to sing, Rev. McGuffin feels that he should preach and hopes to find a church of his own.

Bud Farrar Is Given Post At Texas University

J. Bud Farrar, former Artesia High School band director, has been named successor to Ralph Frede as director of the University of Texas Student Employment Bureau at Austin. Arno Nowotny, dean of student life, announced.

Farrar will also assume Frede's duties as assistant to Dean Nowotny on June 16.

Frede resigned effective June 15—to become head of the newly-created Central Texas office of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

A native Texan, Farrar has been employed by the University's Testing and Guidance Bureau as a psychologist since September, 1949.

Before going to the University of Texas, he was dean of men and director of counseling and in charge of the student employment bureau at Arkansas State College.

He also served in the vocational education department at Stephens College from October, 1947, to August, 1948, while working on his (Continued on page six)

Noon Thursday Marks Deadline Of Sweepstake

Noon Thursday, June 15, marks the end of the Artesia Advocate 1950 Census Sweepstake, or the instant of official announcement, should that be earlier.

Regardless of whether the official census figure is received by that time, June 15 is still the deadline.

The Advocate has expected that the figure would be released in time for inclusion in today's issue. In fact, this newspaper has been led to believe by the district census office at Roswell that the figure would be cleared by that time.

A long distance telephone call to Roswell this forenoon produced this information:

- A telegram has been sent some time ago to Washington asking clearance of the Artesia population figure.
- Washington to date has not given the Roswell office the green light which had been expected by Roswell office a week ago.
- The Roswell office repeated its promise to announce the figure as soon as it is available.
- It is possible this may occur this week.

The sweepstake remains open to guessers until noon Thursday, June 15, by filling out entry blanks at the stores of participating merchants; or, if contestants mail their entries to the newspaper envelopes must bear the date mark not later than 8 o'clock on the morning of June 15.

Thousands of guesses have been received. The evaluation of the estimates, in conjunction with awards offered, will proceed but the list won't be published until the population figure is released.

Mid-West Fire Last Night Is $75,000 Blaze

A loss of 70 to 75 thousands dollars was estimated at 8:30 o'clock last night in a fire which swept the Mid-West Auto Supply Company store, 303 West Main Street, which originated about 7 o'clock.

Owen Hensley, owner and Sam Henderson, manager, were both out of town and could not be reached at the time of the fire. But Fire Chief Albert Richards made the tentative estimate, which he said might be conservative.

The fire, from an unestablished source, was confined between the ceiling and the roof of Mid-West and threatened the R. N. Russell Auto Supply on the west and Carter's Cafe on the east.

During the course of fighting the fire, the Mid-West roof fell in, hampering the work of the firemen and threatening the Main Street wall.

No one was hurt during the fire fighting, but Artesia city police established fire lines, beyond which the public was held.

The Mid-West Auto Supply was a shambles late last night, with thousands of dollars of damage having been done to merchandise and building.

Stars-Stripes' Own Day Wednesday To Be Flag Day

Wednesday is the Stars and Stripes' own day, Flag Day.

This will be the 173rd anniversary of the day since the Continental Congress made official the design of the American flag.

It was not until a century later, however, that the flag came into its own in national recognition. In 1877, the centennial of the adoption of the flag, due homage was accorded in celebrations held in Washington, D. C., New York, Boston and Philadelphia.

Interlocked in the movement of Flag Day have been the Sons of the American Revolution, Grand Army of the Republic and the American Flag Association.

This organization was originated in New York City on Feb. 12, Lincoln Day, 1898. Its motto is "One Flag, One Country, God Over All."

In Artesia the three places where the Stars and Stripes are consistently flown are at the post office, the Veterans Memorial Building and the Continental Oil Company refinery. The flags are new and clean and are not allowed to be hoisted after they have become weatherbeaten as is sometimes the case in other parts of the nation.

There is a definite meaning for each of the three colors in the American flag. The meaning is no mere schoolboy definition but one established by the Continental Congress:

Red signifies hardiness and valor, white, purity and innocence blue denotes vigilance, perseverance and justice.

Appropos of Flag Day, 1950, are the words of a speech by President Woodrow Wilson on Flag Day, 1914, 36 years ago:

"This flag for the future is meant to stand for the just use of undisputed national power.

"No nation is ever going to doubt our power to assert its rights and we should lay it to heart that no nation shall ever henceforth doubt our purpose to put it to the highest uses to which a great emblem of justice and government can be put.

"An emblem... too great to be debased by selfishness, that has vindicated its right to be honored by all nations of the world and feared by none who do righteousness."

Felon Enters Plea Guilty To 1949 Bar Burglary

Elmer Johnson entered a plea of guilty Saturday morning before Justice of the Peace J. D. Josey to a charge of breaking and entering the Cantina Bar the night of April 19, 1949 and was bound over to the action of the Eddy County District Court.

Johnson, who made a statement to Sheriff Dwight Lee Sept. 17, 1949, regarding the burglary, was recently released from the state penitentiary, after serving a term on another charge from Lea County.

It is alleged Johnson stole about $550 in money and two cases of whiskey.

Judge Josey set bond at $2000, in lieu of which Johnson is now lodged in the Eddy County jail at Carlsbad awaiting trial in District Court.

It was recalled the burglary of the Cantina caused considerable conjecture after it was discovered the morning of April 20, 1949.

Officers at that time said entrance had been gained by a burglar or burglars gaining the roof of the main building from a lower lean-to structure in the rear and then entered the bar building through a skylight.

She spent several months in Norway, England, France and Germany, visiting European farms.

Pepsi-Cola Fails To Show for Tilt Against Chevrolet

A 72-mile trip to the county capital and return was the score for the Guy Chevrolet Company girls softball team. The locals had been scheduled to play the Carlsbad Pepsi-Cola team at 7:30 o'clock Saturday night in Carlsbad park, waited a half-hour, were informed that the Carlsbad team would not appear.

There was no explanation for the Carlsbad team's action except a vague bit of talk indicating that someone had failed to notify Artesia in advance of the game being cancelled. The Artesia team was keen for the game since it was to have been their second game of the season and they were eager to score a win.

Pelican to Putter In Perch Pursuit On By Ways of Bogs

It's a long way from Artesia to a place where a cabin cruiser has ample room—and water—in which to navigate but there's one Artesia ship ready for the waves. Actually it's only a bog buggy, a water cycle, with a bicycle pedal arrangement as the main part of the machinery, and is designed for fishing and slow travel in the bogs. But the good ship Pelican, brilliant with its gray and scarlet paint, proudly has a flag staff at the rear holding the Stars and Stripes. Supporting the craft are pontoons 8 feet long, 16 inches wide affixed to a 4x8-foot plywood base on which is mounted the motive power, the bicycle pedal mechanism, to which are attached 10 stout steel paddle blades. The pedal mechanism is sheathed. Overall height is 38 inches. Rudder is under the bow. For steering there is a wheel from an old Mack truck. There are gray rubber mats under each pedal, a seat for the navigator atop the mechanism housing. The craft was built in three days by Howard and Hoyt Blackwelder, owners of the H. & H. Garage, 1206 South First, and owned by them and Hoot Gibson, owner of the Mint Bar, 809 South First.

When browning the meat for a winter stew add about one quarter cup diced salt pork. Then cook the pork right in the stew. Salt pork adds fullness to flavor.

Cook apple slices in a combination of one-half glass grape jelly and three-quarters cup boiling water. It's a delicious topping with pork steak.

Another game on the Artesia team's schedule will be tonight against Hagerman at Hagerman. In the game at Clovis, the Artesia team was leading until the fourth inning, when a Clovis run edged that nine ahead 6-5.

YOU... an Interior Decorator By BOYD BARNETT

SOMETHING OLD... SOMETHING NEW...

And if you are one who is looking for something borrowed too, we have a suggestion for you. Search in your grandmother's (or your mother's) attic for some old, nostalgic treasure. You may find something from an old French period; or something Directoire, Empire, or an Early Colonial, or Federal American piece. If you find something, don't worry about the Period... borrow it. It will lend tone to your entire room. Lift it out of the ordinary. The hanging shelves in the room shown above are old Chipendale pieces, but they blend beautifully with today's fluid Modern. They give the room an air of elegance without ostentation. The long black table in front of the low davenport gives a feeling of spaciousness to the small square room. The double chest pushed together fill in the long, unbroken wall and provide additional drawer space, (the eternal problem of the one- or two-bed room.) Don't ever get the idea that the old and the new don't blend. They do. And most effectively. That's why, today, just one new piece of furniture and a little imaginative arranging can give your room a completely new atmosphere. Whatever your choice may be... Traditional... Provincial... Modern, come in and discuss it with us. We're here, waiting to help you.

Traffic Safety Program Being Launched Here An intensive traffic safety program designed to help reduce Fourth of July traffic accidents is being launched at once, Police Chief Earl D. Westfall announced today.

"With traffic fatalities for the first quarter of the year 9 per cent higher than last year, cities and states throughout the nation will make a united effort to hold down the high holiday death toll which usually occurs over the Independence Day celebration," Chief Westfall said. The nationwide program is being co-ordinated by the National Safety Council.

Chief Westfall pointed out that motor vehicle accidents annually lead the list of holiday hazards. This year the Fourth will be a four-day week end holiday for many persons, and that will greatly increase traffic on the nation's highways, he added.

"Extra care, caution and effort on the part of everyone will be needed if we are to enjoy a safe, happy and tragedy-free Fourth," Chief Westfall said.

"Let's all work together to make certain that death and disaster do not mar the celebration of anyone in Artesia."

Farmers Receive Less Net Income Than in 1949 New Mexico farmers will probably receive less net income this year than they did in 1949, says J. Z. Rowe, state extension economist.

"Nationally, the trend is for lower prices for practically all products," the economist explains. "With lower commodity prices, result. Some of the items which are likely to be higher for farmers are charges for maintenance and depreciation, fuels and mortgage payments. Hired labor may be some lower."

Yanks Return To Win Ranks; Beat Jal 16-13

Artesia Yankees were once more looking at the world through rose colored glasses following their 16-13 win over Jal Pure Oil in a game played Sunday afternoon in Jal.

The victory was savored all the more because of recent past crushing defeats from the Jal Gassers and the twin games at Alpine, Texas.

The Yanks are slated to go to Roswell next Sunday for a game there against the Roswell Veterans. Three new players are to be in the Artesia nine's lineup, including a University of Colorado pitcher whom the major league scouts are eyeing, according to Red Goodwin, Yankee manager.

In last Sunday's contest, Bob Koonce was the Yanks starting pitcher. He was relieved in the fourth inning by Ken Foster, high school star, who went on to chalk up the win.

Koonce put his club on even terms before leaving the game with a three-run homer. Two home runs were hit by Foster.

Another circuit-clout hitter was Big Don Heathington, first base man.

Nor was Pure Oil minus its home runs. They hit a trio, and out-hit the Yanks but the locals bunched of hits and three walks produced the win.

The Yanks were trailing 10-4 when Manager Goodwin come off the bench to hit for Batie, rf, sparking a rally that put the Yanks back in the game. In three trips Goodwin collected two hits and drove in the tying run.

Scorebook does not give runs, hits, and errors of the players of either team.

For the Yanks the players were: Shields, 3b; Johnson, cf; J. Case, ss; B. Case, 3b; Heathington, 1b; Hatch, c; Malone, lf; Russell, lf; Batie, rf; Goodwin, rf; Koonce, p; Foster, p.

Jal Pure Oil: Coggan, 3b; Gilder, lf; Arthaholt, lf; Hambree, 2b; Harrel, c; Evans, ss; Clynet, cf; Hanes, rf; Brown, 1b; Harrel, p; Cotton, p.

By way of a lost and found department, Tommy Thompson, properties custodian for the Artesia Rotary Club, reports that someone quite recently borrowed the club's public address system from the basement of the Masonic Temple.

He has found no club member with whom clearance was made, but feels it was taken in good faith by some organization, which could not make proper contact.

So Tommy and the other Rotarians would appreciate it if the public address system were returned.

We saw somewhere that the nation would be secure if the American way were advertised as lavishly as cigarettes.

Safety Trophy Won By Area Shown At Party

SAFETY TROPHY

The annual safety trophy of the Mountain States Telephone & Telegraph Company, which has been awarded to the New Mexico-El Paso plant department for 1949, was on display Friday evening, when male employees of the company from Artesia and Roswell enjoyed a joint steak supper and informal program at the Colonial Supper Club in Roswell.

Attending from Artesia were five local employees who contributed to the record of the New Mexico-El Paso plant department for having the lowest accident in the intermountain region. With more than a million hours worked, only one disabling accident was experienced in this area during the entire year.

The men from Artesia who contributed in the record and attended the party were W. F. Hinde, local manager; George G. Gore, John O. McGurkette, George T. Nickolds, and Charles G. (Cotton) Pittman.

Competing for this safety award are 5000 plant employees throughout the states of Arizona, Colorado, Idaho, Montana, New Mexico, Utah, Wyoming and El Paso County, Texas. Included in the program is the safe operation of 1600 motor vehicles, 200 of which are in the New Mexico-El Paso area.

Three times during the last seven years New Mexico-El Paso has won this award which reflects the intense interest and co-operative effort on the part of every employe.

and Mrs. Wilcox said a sealed ballot in a Carlsbad district had been reported.

Lusk said a single sealed ballot, should it have a vote for Caudle, would tie the two candidates and that there was no further recount or contest in any of the boxes, the law provides the nominee be determined by lot.

Sealed ballots are not to be counted except in the event of a recount or contest, according to the assistant district attorney.

Alford, following reports that a contest might be undertaken on behalf of Caudle in the Loving precinct, said that if this is done, he would take action toward bringing about recounts in Artesia precincts.

Artesia Student Wins $50 Science Award from A.&M.

Ramon D. Woodside, 1949 graduate of Artesia High School, and son of Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Woodside, 820 South Second, has been notified he is second place winner of a freshman physical science laboratory award at New Mexico A. & M. College, Las Cruces.

The Artesia student is home on vacation after completing his freshman year at the college and was notified he would receive a $50 check in a letter dated June 9 from M. A. Thomas, dean of engineering.

Each year the laboratory makes a $100 award to the highest ranking freshman and $100 to the highest ranking sophomore in each of the three schools of the college.

There is likewise a $50 award to the second ranking freshman and $50 for the second ranking sophomore.

To be eligible for the freshman honor a student must have completed 32 hours in arts and sciences or 34 in agriculture and engineering and substantially all the required freshman courses.

Woodside, freshman civil engineering student, made three A's and four B's in an examination the week before the session ended.

The dean's letter reads: "This is to inform you that you have been awarded the second place physical science laboratory award for freshmen and to notify you that you will receive from the physical science laboratory a check in the amount of $50.

"I wish to congratulate you upon making such a fine record during the past year. I hope that you will be able to continue this type of work and we look forward to the opportunity of aiding you in your career next year."

Artesia Men To Drill Test Near Cline's Corners

Jess Truett and H. L. Sanderson of Artesia have entered into an agreement with J. H. Blackstone and Bob Salee to drill a test well to a depth of not less than 3600 feet, unless production or granite is encountered at a lesser depth.

Revolution Planned

A SWEEPING revolution in the Philippines allegedly planned for 1952 is reported to involve Pvt. Ronald Dorsey, 20, missing since last August from the U. S. Army's 29th Topographical Battalion. It is reported Dorsey, from Palmer, Mass., deserted to become a Huik guerrilla colonel in hope he would be a "Communist ambassador" after revolution. (International) about a quarter mile south of the White Lake Service Station on Highway 285, which is about 15 miles south of Cline's Corners.

The location is described as being in SW NW 9-11-11e, in Santa Fe County. The block of acreage was assembled by Truett and Sanderson after the former had gone over the area with Ralph Dudley, geologist, who has since died, and had conferred with Mark Whelan, geologist, and others, together with consultation of U. S. Geological Survey maps, to the satisfaction the area offers interesting possibilities.

Truett said this opinion is based largely on magnetic work covering the immediate area. He said the results of the magnetic work was adequate to cause him to feel the area is a well-established subsurface leveling, rising from the Rowe Mora Basin to the Rincon range of mountains in a peninsula of horse-shoe shape, covering an area of approximately four miles square, the center of which should be near the northeast corner of Section 17. In the transactions for the test well, it was suggested by Truett that the well location be made in northeast of Section 17, which suggestion he said was prompted as a result of the magnetic work. However, it was mutually agreed that the location be changed to northwest of Section 9, which shows very little if any variation of subsurface leveling, according to the magnetic information. Salee is now drilling 15 inch, while preparatory to setting 12-inch surface casing to a depth determined advisable according to formation conditions. Various opinions have been formed, said Truett, with regard to possible formations being present, and with both surface and subsurface appearing to be somewhat different to other localities in the surrounding country, observation of development could become interesting.

NSLI Dividends

Paid to About 4 Million Vets

Payment of the special dividend of the National Service Life Insurance has been made to approximately 4 million veterans of World War II. Veterans Administration has announced.

More than 2.6 million of the 2.8 million dollar special dividend fund has already been mailed to living World War II veterans who held NSLI policies three months or longer, or to survivors and beneficiaries of deceased veterans who would have been eligible for the dividend.

There were 15,358,000 living World War II veterans at the end of April. A large number of this million did not take out any and many did not keep their policies in force the necessary three months to become eligible for this special dividend, VA said.

Many veterans hold or held more than one NSLI policy. More than 20 million policies have been approved, for a total face value of $157 billion dollars.

The bulk of the job of paying the dividend to living World War II veterans will be completed soon. A number of veterans have not yet filed an application for their dividend. Payment of the dividend to living veterans is not automatic; an application must be filed.

Then, there are the "problem" cases, accounts that will require more study, matching and more information before checks can be authorized. Among these cases are those in which the veteran had more than one serial number, where the veteran gave insufficient information in his application for dividend, or where the veteran failed to give an accurate address which has moved since filing and failed to give his post office a change address.

Most of the remaining unpaid accounts in the Washington office will have to be handled individually, and the checks hand processed.

Mailing of dividend checks to survivors of deceased veterans began last month. These checks are being mailed from the VA district offices in which the veteran's NSLI account is recorded.

If the veteran's policy was in force at the time of his death, the dividend check is mailed, automatically, to his eligible survivors or beneficiaries. It will not be necessary to give his survivors or beneficiaries make application. This applies whether the beneficiary received a lump sum payment of the insurance policy or if monthly payments are being made. In these cases, the legal beneficiary has been determined and is a matter of record with VA.

In cases where the policy was not in force at the time of the veteran's death, payment of the dividend to his beneficiary will be delayed, VA said, and application will be necessary. Payment will be made only after VA has determined who is legally entitled to the dividend.

Questionnaires are being sent to known probable beneficiaries of these deceased veterans by the VA district offices. When these questionnaires are returned and a determination of the legal beneficiary is made, application blanks

Wool Clips

According to J. G. Forstmann, president of woolen company, the American textile worker is one-third more efficient than his British counterpart. But three times the Britisher's salary. So Forstmann concludes, the cards are stacked against American textile interest on a free-trade basis. And no amount of management ingenuity on the part of American interests can overcome this wage disparity.

U.S. imports from five principal wool-producing countries in 1949 increased nearly 50 per cent above the previous year. But these imports were still far below the flow of wool into this country from those areas immediately following the War. On the other hand, during 1949, U.S. mill consumption from apparel-class wools dropped about 30 per cent below the previous year. These two facts tie together when it is realized that our own domestic production has been falling off considerably from year to year since 1942.

World sheep numbers at the beginning of 1950 were estimated at 730 million head, a very slight upward trend the world over.

But the overall gain in 1949 was relatively small, with numbers about two per cent below the 1936-40 average. Recent favorable grazing conditions, plus continued high prices for wool and lamb, are encouraging sheep producers to stay in business, despite declining sheep numbers in this country. Among the important wool growing countries, Australia in particular has tallied expanding numbers of sheep. Numbers have also increased notably in the war-devastated areas, the United Kingdom, and the Soviet Union. It is said that sheep numbers throughout the world are likely to increase during 1950—depending primarily on favorable grazing conditions.

will be mailed to these established beneficiaries.

VA has estimated that approximately one-half million beneficiaries are in this latter group.

REVIEW

Shown here is but one of the different departments of Mid-West Auto Supply Company, 330 West Main Street, phone 525. But it is one of the really popular departments—sporting goods. At this season it is fishing rods, reels, lines, plugs and the other items so dear to the heart of an angler. Later in the year the attention will turn to hunting and camping equipment, a full line of which will also be found at Mid-West. Pictured are, left to right: Ruth Wood Smith, office manager; A. Ornstein, salesman for the Berns Sports Goods Company, out of Denver and Sam Henderson, store manager.

Big Jo Lumber Recommends Sealed Insulation

These hot days make many house owners wish they had better insulation, just as they did last winter when it was cold.

The answer to the problem summer and winter is Balsam-Wool Sealed Attic Insulation, which will substantially lower the fuel bill in the winter months and will keep your house cooler in the summer, as much as 15 per cent.

Big Jo Lumber Company, 209 West Quay avenue, phone 19, is the local outlet for Balsam-Wool Sealed Attic Insulation, and Boone Barnett, manager, or any of his employees, will be happy to figure with you the cost of insulating your attic, which is surprisingly low.

Barnett, in citing a typical example, pointed out that a five-room house insulated with double thick Balsam-Wool Sealed Attic Insulation, costs $8.89 per month when financed over an 18-month period and saves $33.18 in fuel every year. And that does not include the added comfort in the summer because of the insulation from the sun's rays.

Furthermore, says Barnett, install Balsam-Wool Sealed Attic Insulation and use it for 12 months, and if you are not entirely satisfied, Big Jo Lumber Company will refund your money.

"Taken together, our land-grant colleges and our Extension Service today form one of the world's greatest institutions of learning," Charles F. Brannan, secretary of agriculture.

In American cities, from 14 to 58 per cent more milk is being consumed now than in 1940.

Northmont Hose Are Featured at The Style Shop

Of the many exclusive and nationally advertised lines carried at The Style Shop by Miss Ruth Bigler, she likes to stress one of the less thought of items—hose. But she has ample reason to stress them, for The Style Shop handles Northmont hose, in 51, 54, and 60 gauge, priced from $1.50 to $1.95.

Miss Bigler suggests that the ladies try the 60-gauge Northmont hose, for their extra service, as well as their attractiveness.

She says 60-gauge means that these hose have 60 threads to the inch, which naturally gives them a closer woven fabric with a smoother surface. It is this smoothness which gives them a more sheer appearance and makes them less easy to snag.

Right now many Artesia women are going to The Style Shop for summer cotton dresses.

Furthermore many women like The Style Shop for another reason, the fact there is also a beauty shop. It is so easy to shop and have one's beauty work done at the same time.

New Fixtures at Simons Food Store

Simons Food Store at 507 South Sixth Street is putting in some new fixtures, so as to be able to give better service on fresh and cured meat, frozen foods, and soda pop.

When meat gets as high in price as it is now, it is a temptation to buy cheaper grades of meat, but as Simons has been in business since 1925, he knows that his customers would rather pay a few pennies more and get meat that they can chew and enjoy.

If anyone who has trouble in finding the exact cut of meat he wants, phone 62-J and call for Tommy, he will be glad to save it for them.

Every adult reading this is invited to visit Simons Food Store and drink a free soda pop by telling a clerk you read this, and notice the large variety and high quality of foods.

Wop Salads at Carter's Are Really Something

Wop salads are something to contemplate and are long to be remembered after having been eaten at Carter's Cafe, 328 West Main Street, phone 221.

This has become a very favorite salad with Carter's customers. It is filled with a large variety of vegetables and the dressing is really something to talk about.

The salad dressing is Miss Repla Thomas' own recipe.

Miss Thomas makes both the Wop salads and Italian spaghetti, for which Carter's Cafe is like-

TRYING TO FORGET THE PAST

LOOKING HAPPY, Beulah Louise Overell Cannon, 21, who with her former sweetheart, George Gollum, was acquitted in 1947 in the yacht blast deaths of her wealthy parents, is shown with her husband, Bob Cannon, former Los Angeles policeman, in the bar-restaurant they purchased and are now operating. Louise says she is trying to forget the past, to live in the present and future. (International Soundphoto) wise famous. Her customers all say her spaghetti would be tops anywhere, and regardless of how much she makes, there's never enough to fill the orders on spaghetti day.

Miss Carter is a sister of Bill and Tommy Thomas, who came here from Alliquippa, Pa., about two years ago and bought out Carter's Cafe. Prior to that they were in the cafe business in Alliquippa. Their sister joined them about a year later and assists them in the making of Wop salad and Italian spaghetti.

Wool Prices May Decline

By Bill Snyder (Extension Wool Marketing Specialist)

There are certain straws in the wind that may point toward a gradual decrease in wool prices. American and British trade higher priced wool fabrics, now evident.

artificial fabrics and blends made serious inroads into the tropical wool suiting business last summer and may do so again.

Because of this consumer resistance, plus scarcity of the choicer fine wools, buyers are leaning more to the cheaper medium types of wool. This may tend to price-up one-half and three-eighths blood wools, more in line with the very high level of fine wool today.

From January to November of 1949, consumption of the finer wools declined over 40 per cent over the consumer resistance to leaders are worried considerably in this country.

According to the president of the Boston Wool Trade Association, the present high price of wool fabrics must be cut down in the interest of the entire sheep and wool industry of this country.

According to Bishop, it's mainly a case of big labor and overhead costs. Also, Boston trade people feel that the present tax system is keeping wool inventories and trading at a minimum.

Only about 11 per cent, or $5.25 of an all-wool $50 suit comes from the price of the raw wool—the rest is due to labor, markups, interest and taxes plus general overhead expense.

Businessmen Support Return Gold Standard

The Conference of American Small Business Organizations has endorsed an immediate return to the gold standard. Meeting in the nation's capital, small businessmen from all parts of the country adopted a resolution saying that continued use of paper money, irredeemable in gold, would eventually lead this country into communism.

The conference resolution asserted that there was more than enough gold in this country to assure a successful return to the gold standard with all paper money redeemable at $35 an ounce. This is the price the treasury now pays for newly-mined gold. The resolution asserted that foreign countries could get gold for dollars while Americans could not.

The resolution was adopted unanimously by the Committee on Monetary Policy and later adopted by the conference in plenary session. Members of the committee expressed fears that with an unbalanced budget the government might resort to printing press money if it did not return to the gold standard. This they said would lead to socialism or communism and ultimately to financial chaos, making worthless all savings accounts, insurance policies and government bonds.

Nutria Is New Fur Animal in Pecos Valley

Anyone in the Pecos Valley who sees something he thinks is too big for a muskrat and too small for a beaver need not worry about his sanity, for he is seeing a nutria, which the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service has just announced may someday rival the muskrat as a source of fur revenue in the southern states.

Members are asked to notify Tom Brownlee, 668-W, or Ralph

Lennon, at the hotel, of their attendance at the meeting so that number of persons to be served can be ascertained in advance.

Louisiana conservation officials have estimated that in 10 years nutria may be worth $15 million dollars a year to state fur trappers.

The nutria weighs about 10 times as much as a muskrat or about 25 pounds. It looks quite a bit like a muskrat, as it has a round tail and its habits are also similar to those of the muskrat.

Extension Of CCC Storage Facilities Loans

The Production and Marketing Administration of the U.S. Department of Agriculture has announced that loans to farmers to finance the construction or purchase of suitable farm storage facilities for grain and certain other storage crops will be available through June 30, 1951.

Under the original program, announced by Secretary of Agriculture Charles F. Brannan in June, 1949, loans were to be available only through June 30, 1950. Extension of the program for another year, however, is now deemed necessary, because of the heavy output of crops in 1949 and large carry-over into the 1950-51 storage period.

The farm storage facility loan program is open to producers of wheat, corn, oats, barley, rye, grain sorghums, soybeans, dry edible beans and peas, rice, peanuts, cottonseed, and flax. Through this program the Commodity Credit Corporation makes loans to farmers for the purchase or construction of farm storage facilities in an amount not to exceed 75 per cent of the cost of the structure. These loans, bearing interest at the rate of 4 per cent per year, are payable in five annual installments, or earlier at the farmer's option.

Circus Style Poster Boosts Beard Derby

When it comes to putting out the adjectives for the whisker marathon, Chuck Baldwin, beard boss of the V-J Celebration beard tournament, could vie with the old time circus men.

Yesterday was the last day for the registration of the old timers in the contest. The dudes, those who can stay away from a razor for only a month, are to sign up July 5-10.

Registration place is Mid-Valley Investment, 310 West Main. A poster in the window reads:

Hey Podner! If you can raise a fuzz on your upper lip register here for the V-J Day beard contest. Prizes for the heaviest brush, most unique, and most futile attempt.

Rules, registration fee fore-bits. No hair on chest or top of head necessary to enter. Must be clean shaven on Wednesday, June 7 to qualify for prizes.

Judges will not consider entrants with cooties in beards. Prizes will be awarded at final performance of V-J rodeo. Contest open to everyone. Sponsored by 20-30 Club.

Wintersgill, chairman of a residential construction committee.

Approximately one of every three homes in this region will be redecorated, either inside or out, during the year, the report showed.

One in 10 will have plumbing repaired, bathrooms tiled or showers installed.

Roofs will be replaced or repaired on one of every eight dwellings, according to the report. Carpentry work will be done on six of every 100 and one of every 20 is due for miscellaneous interior repairs.

Home repairs will be easier on the 1950 family budget because of a decline of more than 5 per cent in wholesale costs of building materials, in comparison with prices at the beginning of 1949, the report said. Home owners also will be able to insist on such quality materials as clay tile for repair work, as a result of the present buyers' market, it pointed out.

Expenditures throughout the United States for home repair and modernization this year will total $2,350,000,000 to $2,900,000,000, the report estimated.

Artesia Junior Chamber of Commerce today voiced its gratitude for all individuals and concerns whom gave the Jaycees assistance in their get out the vote campaign which reached its climax in the June 6 primary election.

The project resulted in votes being cast by 60 per cent of the eligible voters.

The Jaycees were appreciative of the donation of space for display of their "voting is a privilege" cards in local stores.

Others thanked were the 13 girls who worked all election day issuing the scarlet "I have voted" tags at six polling places here.

The list includes: Lions Club, for donating use of sound equipment; Guy Chevrolet for furnishing truck for this service; Artesia Pharmacy and Irby Drug, for providing space for the mock coffins.

Artesia Office Gets King Size Newspaper

It's a long way from Kansas City to Artesia but the Kansas City Star isn't overlooking any bets in advertising the Missouri city and itself.

A copy of the centennial edition of The Star of June 4 has been received at the Artesia Chamber of Commerce, probably one of hundreds of copies mailed to other chambers all over the nation.

The copy weighs 3 and 3/4 pounds, contains 252 pages. Number of pages and the press run, 430,000 copies, sets a new record for The Star.

To put out the paper required 26 carloads of newsprint, 10 tons of ink.

State, County Lag in Buying Savings Bonds

With 22 per cent of the time gone on May 27, New Mexicans had reached only 18 per cent of their quota in the "Independence Bond Drive," May 15 - July 17.

Next to Lincoln and Torrance, which exceeded their quotas in the first week of the drive, Dona Ana and Bernalillo Counties follow with 27.37 per cent and 27.29 per cent respectively. Santa Fe County ranks fifth with 25.39 per cent of its $164,000 quota.

Eddy County had attained 7.95 per cent of its quota on May 27, according to official reports from Federal Reserve Banks by L. B. Feather, county chairman of the Savings Bonds Committee.

"It is hoped that reports of sales will show a much better standing for this county," said Feather.

Uncle Bill Says

by Will Robinson

A lot of shushing is going on just now in regard to the drought and dust situation in New Mexico, as it becomes more and more likely that there won't be any dry land wheat crop this year.

The same situation has developed many times before and is certain to happen many times again. It is exactly the same situation as appears sometimes in the Argentine and many other parts of the world where the grower has to contend with the whims of the desert.

There is no use trying to cover it up by shushing. When there is sufficient rainfall, the "semi-arid country" is the natural home for wheat, most useful of all the grasses. When there isn't any rain to speak of, neither will there be any wheat, which is all there is to it.

The producer who wins out in the long run is the one who admits the facts of the desert and expects to get skunked a couple out of every five years. When the conditions are right, the wheat grower will make enough to balance.

against several years of blackout. Lots of growers in New Mexico balanced or nearly so during the years of the Dust Bowl, by heavy plantings of row crops, the grain sorghums that can stand a lot of drought.

This may be another row crop year. Nix on the shushing.

Reference Book On Domestic Oil Made Available

A comprehensive statistical and reference book on the domestic oil and gas industry has been published and made available here by the Independent Petroleum Association of America.

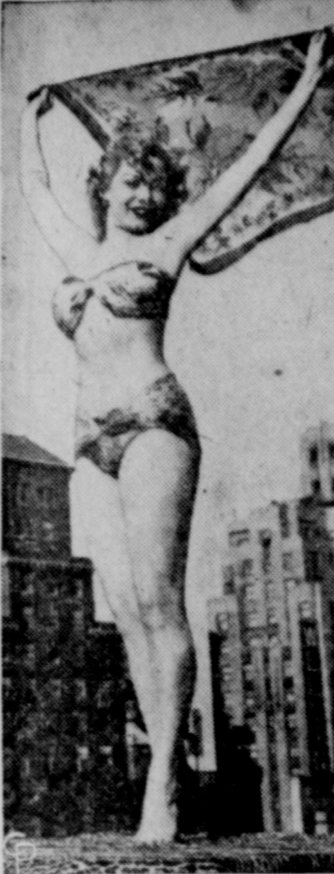

Entitled "The Oil Producing Industry in Your State," the book contains complete statistical information on all phases of the oil industry in 26 producing states, as well as charts and graphs which deal with national economic trends in the industry.

Significant comparisons shown in charts include production and reserve increases over a 35-year period, oil production as compared with other minerals, value of production in relation to other oil industry trends, price index over a 25-year period and a comparison of hourly earnings in petroleum and other industries.

In statistical summaries on each state the book contains information on the geographical extent and economic contributions of the industry from the year of first recorded production up to last Jan. 1.

It also shows leasing and exploration figures in six non-producing states in which much interest has been shown by the industry. In North Dakota, for example, 18 per cent of the total land area of the State's 4-H's Prepare for Foods Contest

The 1950 champions in the national 4-H food preparation program are now in the making; and New Mexico 4-H'ers are hard at work perfecting their culinary arts. National, state and county awards will be presented to the youthful cooks at the end of the year for outstanding achievement.

Awards on a national basis have been offered in the food preparation program for 16 years and activity in the project is still going strong. Ranging in age from 10 to 21, girls and boys "learn by doing," which is the 4-H way. Number of meals and different dishes prepared annually runs more than 20 million.

An example of what's being done in New Mexico is the record of Coralie Mullins of Portales, the 1949 state and national champion. Learning to plan meals has given her more hours of leisure, besides making the work easier. Her 4-H training has also made worthwhile savings in the family food bills. The income from her projects totaled $3288.

Ten girls were awarded county medals last year for outstanding accomplishments in preparing and serving meals.

"Definite objectives outlined in the program aim to give the youth a well-rounded basic knowledge of selecting, preparing and serving food," says L. S. Kurtz, state 4-H Club leader. "Their personal eating habits are improving and often the whole family benefits by what they have learned. At club meetings, local leaders and county extension agents demonstrate modern approved practices and use of proper equipment."

The same awards will be provided as in the past. Six national champions will each receive $300 college scholarships, while state winners will be awarded trips to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago. Gold medals will be given county winners.
