

THE ARTESIA ADVOCATE

HELPING TO BUILD A GREATER ARTESIA

VOLUME FORTY-EIGHT

ARTESIA, NEW MEXICO, FRIDAY, JANUARY 26, 1951

NUMBER 8

SIGN THAT PETITION!

Sign that petition! That is what civic leaders of North Eddy County are asking farmers, ranchers, business and professional men and women—in fact everybody.

The petition is addressed to the members of the State Senate and House of Representatives in Santa Fe, asking their earnest consideration of the bills to be presented to the Legislature asking that a new county be formed of the northern part of Eddy County, with Artesia designated as the county seat.

Although the petition has no direct bearing on the procedure in the formation of a new county, it will show the strength of North Eddy County residents to the legislators and the desire of the citizens to have their own county.

Civic leaders pointed out that when the legislators realize that people in all occupations and walks of life are together in support of the proposition, the senators and representatives will be more inclined to go along with the residents of North Eddy County.

Up to Monday afternoon, about 2500 citizens of the area had signed the petition and more were signing at their earliest possible convenience.

In order to sign, a person need only have the desire to do so. He need not own property or be registered to vote. He merely declares, by signing, that he is a resident of the northern part of the county and is joining with the others in asking the support of legislators from over the state.

Copies of the petition were quietly passed starting a month or more ago. Since then they have been placed in a number of places of business throughout North Eddy County for the convenience of farmers and ranchers, housewives, business and professional men and women, the day laborers, the oil operators and workers, residents of the rural and urban communities, school teachers, cowhands, government workers and the few county officials in this end of the county.

Just how much longer copies of the petition will be available is not known, for sooner or later they will be taken to Santa Fe for the purpose of demonstrating to the legislators the general desire of the people in this section for a new county.

Texan to Speak Sunday Morning at Christian Church

George J. Brown, director of personal evangelism for Christian Churches of Texas, is to be the speaker at the morning worship at 11 o'clock Sunday morning at the First Christian Church, Sixth and Quay Avenue.

Brown, although giving fulltime service to the church, retains his status of layman proudly.

He was formerly state executive for one of the major insurance companies of America for Oklahoma with offices in Oklahoma City. But he was such an effective church worker that neighboring churches kept asking him so often to help them, that finally he turned his back upon the business of getting rich in terms of dollars and cents and gave the rest of his productive life to the building of the Kingdom of God, Rev. Arthur G. Bell, pastor of the local church, said. He has been an unusually effective instrument to that end.

He will be with the Christian Church all next week leading in personal visitation evangelism. Brown does not claim to be a preacher, but a Christian businessman.

"Having heard him speak numerous times, we can guarantee those present when he speaks Sunday morning a very challenging message," said Rev. Bell.

'Grapevine SOS' for Catching Crooks Being Initiated Here

A "grapevine SOS" system for the apprehension of hot-check artists, con men and shop lifters or suspected shop lifters will go into effect in Artesia the first of next week, with many of the retail merchants co-operating with the Artesia Police Department.

The plan, which has been under consideration for some time, was perfected this week and final plans for putting it into operation were worked out at a meeting by members of the retail merchants' committee of the Chamber of Commerce and Police Chief Earl D. Westfall.

Briefly, the plan calls for a system of telephone calls, by means of which the city's retail outlets will be blanketed with information within a matter of five or six minutes.

Chief Westfall said that by means of the plan, it will be much easier for police to apprehend persons suspected of criminal action in any of the several classifications and probably in a number of cases will result in results within a few minutes.

George Fowler, chairman of the merchants' committee, said that under the plan, a merchant having an actual case or suspecting someone of a crime or an attempt to commit a crime will call police headquarters, phone 198, immediately.

The police then will call three designated stores, from which management in each will call three others, and so on, thus blanketing the city quickly with the information.

Fowler said that by the time police are calling the second number, the manager of the first store called should be in contact with one of the three numbers assigned to him. And by the time police are calling the third number, the multiplying call system will be reaching a number of merchants.

Thus the "grapevine SOS" in a matter of minutes will have retail merchants all over the city on the alert for whoever is suspected.

Chief Westfall said 40 or more merchants will be part of the "grapevine" by the first of next week and that the system will expand as more join in the movement.

As the plan will not apply to all types of business—such as the Advocate office, where practically all business is done with local people and established firms—so it was not immediately ascertained just how far the system should reach.

Therefore, Chief Westfall said, owners or managers of businesses who have not been contacted, but who feel they might at some time be victims or potential victims, or who might assist the others in the apprehension of law breakers, are asked to call police headquarters if they wish to be included in the system.

On the other hand, should a business not be listed in the telephone plan and information about a suspect is called in to police headquarters, the "grapevine SOS" will immediately be put into use.

One thing which will help in the apprehension of suspects, the chief said, is promptness in calling headquarters. But in addition, the manager calling should give as accurately as possible a suspect's description and the type of crime he has committed or is suspected of committing.

Check cases include insufficient funds and forgery. The latter is the more important for immediate action, but in some cases the former should be reported at once. The forger is more likely to strike and run. But he may be "making the town," so a report of his activities may lead to his apprehension quickly.

In the case of shoplifting, it is possible the shoplifter likewise will go from store to store.

Chief Westfall said there are a number of kinds of con men, including the short-change artists and the fast talkers. But there are also those who have obtained money under false pretenses and then are suspected.

The plan was first brought up at a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce board of directors last summer and then was endorsed by the merchants' committee, but a number of details had to be worked out.

Committee Chairman Fowler said Chief Westfall did most of the detail work on the system and deserves most of the credit. On the other hand the chief said the original rough plan was presented by Fowler and gave him credit for suggesting that it be worked out here.

At the meeting this week, Chief Westfall said he has presented the same plan to other police departments in this area and has received enthusiastic reaction because of the possibilities. This may lead to a valleywide coverage, by means of passing information to other Pecos Valley cities, when a suspect is not apprehended here and the other departments immediately send out local warnings over their own "grapevine SOS."

Chief Westfall said it is not intended to burden the merchants with the "grapevine," but generally will confine calls to the three types of crime for which set up and intended.

Fowler suggested that along with the "grapevine" plan, merchants require the use of the new type of safety checks for strangers which he perfected some months ago and introduced and which require not only information from those presenting them, but a fingerprint as well. Chief Westfall stressed prompt calls on suspects and added "Above all, don't break the chain of calls."

Besides Chief Westfall and Fowler at the meeting were C. C. Nelson, W. W. Huber and Bob Bourland, members of the retail merchants' committee.

Chain Letters Are Here Again, Says Truett

Some patrons of the Artesia postoffice have reported recently that so-called chain letters have put in their appearance again, according to Postmaster Jess Truett.

In the letters received, the writers describe certain misfortunes which they purport have happened to others who have received similar letters, but did not pass them on.

"Besides this being a bunch of hokey," said the postmaster, "the Post Office Department does not tolerate letters of this type to be sent through the mails, and such practice is strictly against departmental regulations."

"The originator of such letters may be conscious of the fact that numerous people throughout the country are more or less superstitious and easily worried, and it seems to give them pleasure to send out such letters in addition to starting untrue rumors in their respective communities to disrupt the moral thinking of human beings who will lend ear and thought to such bunk."

"We appeal to the patrons of this office to ignore the so-called chain letters, report the matter to us if known, and most of all, do not mail any of them to this or any other office to lay yourself liable to be penalized for violation of the postal regulations."

Chief Westfall said that by means of the plan, it will be much easier for police to apprehend persons suspected of criminal action in any of the several classifications and probably in a number of cases will result in results within a few minutes.

More Citizens Express Their Reasons for New County

"What do you think of the proposition to form a new county?" That question, a number of answers to which appeared in the Tuesday issue of The Advocate, has been asked of more individuals in the proposed county since that time.

As in the previous answers, those interviewed since Tuesday give as principal reasons why the new county should be formed the lack of representation in Santa Fe from North Eddy County and what appears to be inequitable distribution of tax moneys in the two sections of the present county.

Here are the answers of those interviewed:

W. R. Petty, druggist, city councilman: "I think it's the biggest asset that Artesia and vicinity could ever hope to have. Even though we have to pay a higher tax rate, it will still be worth plenty of money to anyone in the Artesia rural vicinity as well as in the city. If we should vote a bond issue, North Eddy County would get the benefits. But if we should vote one today, all we would get is what Carlsbad would want us to have."

F. L. Green, school teacher: "Insofar as the schools are concerned, it looks as though it would be a good set-up."

Howard Whitson, laundry and cleaners: "I think it's very sound economically. There are about 12,000 people in the immediate Artesia area who are put to inconvenience and expense to carry on business at the courthouse in Carlsbad."

"Attorneys and abstractors lead the list. And there are those who must contact the county agent. About 70 to 80 per cent of the cultivated land in the county is in North Eddy County. Still the county agent comes here only one day a week."

"I understand the Welfare Department has five employees. One comes to Artesia three days a week."

"The telephone bills for the sheriff's department and those who have to phone the courthouse every day will total at least $10. That will pay the interest on $100,000 of the cost of a courthouse."

"I have spent enough time on jury duty and as a witness in court in Carlsbad the last 10 years that if the time could have been saved me it would have paid my share of the cost of a new courthouse here."

Wesley Sperry, tires and tire repair: "When I first saw the need of a county with Artesia as the county seat was during rationing in World War II. We had a sub-committee here, but much of the business required business at Carlsbad. If we get into the same thing again—which I sincerely hope we don't—we will certainly need our own set-up here."

R. N. Russell, automobile supplies: "In 22 years I have spent my money in Artesia for everything else and I'd like to spend my tax money here too. Everybody should have a right to say where he spends his money."

D. A. (Doc) Loueks, electric shop: "I'll publish from the house-top that I'm 100 per cent in favor of it. To elaborate, we've got everything to gain and nothing to lose in taxes and government. Taxes should be no more with a new county and we stand a good chance to get better government."

Bill Dunnam, veterans' service officer: "We've been sucking the hind teat until we're tired of it. Carlsbad has been getting the cream, while we get the skimmed milk."

Bill Keys, men's clothing: "I think it's the only possible way the people in this end of the county will ever be able to receive their full dollar back in services that they invest in taxes."

While all phases of the March of Dimes are progressing nicely, the campaign will turn tonight to the annual March of Dimes dance, which will be held at the Veterans Memorial Building from 8 o'clock to midnight.

Because of the dance and the Artesia-Melrose basketball game tonight, the fourth in the series of "disc jockey" programs, originally scheduled for tonight, has been postponed to 8:15 to 9 o'clock Saturday night over radio station KSPV.

That program will be presented by members of the Artesia Kiwanis Club, while other members cruise the city in radio equipped cars, to drive to homes from which donations to the March of Dimes have been offered by telephone in return for the playing of certain transcriptions or recordings.

Previously this week the three other service clubs have been in charge of the "disc jockey" programs, which have helped greatly to bring in funds, according to Ralph Pitt, campaign manager for the North Eddy County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Pitt said this morning the Lions Club did quite well with their "disc jockey" program last night, but that the amount realized had not been completed.

The series started on Tuesday night, with the 20-30 Club in charge. The program brought in $51.

The Rotary Club on Wednesday evening received donations of $118.50.

Pitt has announced another phase of the local campaign, the collecting of scroll pledges in the business district. Members of the Order of the Eastern Star will collect in the business district south of Main Street and members of the B.P.O. Does will collect north of Main Street.

Pitt said the fire siren will be blown at 7 o'clock next Wednesday night to herald the start of the "Mothers' March on Polio," in which women in various neighborhoods will collect for the March of Dimes.

They will stop only at those homes at which porch or other outside lights have been turned on or at which lighted candles have been placed in windows.

The city has been divided into six sections for the "Mothers' March on Polio." Organizations, chairmen and districts are: Central School Parent-Teacher Association, Mrs. William M. Siegenthaler, from Park Avenue south; Junior Woman's Club, Mrs. Maynard Hall, between Missouri and Park Avenues; Park School P.T.A., Mrs. G. P. Ruppert, Main Street to Missouri Avenue; Artesia Woman's Club, Mrs. Grady Wright, Anglo neighborhoods north of Main; Carver School P.T.A., Rev. J. H. Horton, Negro section; Spanish-American section, Mrs. Selipa Acosta.

The slogan for the March of Dimes dance tonight is: "Let those who are able—dance—so others may walk." Music will be furnished by Tony King and His Orchestra.

Don Jensen, automobile license distributor for North Eddy County, announced that truck and trailer plates for 1951 arrived Wednesday and now are on sale.

Passenger car license plates arrived here a number of weeks ago and were placed on sale by his predecessor, Quentin Rodgers.

Jensen said he has not received plates for motorcycles and scooters as yet.

The deadline for motor vehicle plates has been set for March 2, Jensen said. However, he asked that people do not wait until the last minute, so as to avoid a big rush.

Jensen said the bicycle plates under the new city ordinance will not be handled from his office, Southwestern Realty, 315 West Quay Avenue, but will be sold through the Police Department. That ordinance is to go into effect on March 1.

Region Grade School Leaders Hold Conference

Principals and supervisors of elementary schools of southeast New Mexico held a conference yesterday in Artesia. The meeting was in two parts, an executive session from noon to 4 o'clock followed by a supper at 6:30.

Business of the gathering focused on five topics. Executive meeting was in the office of Vernon R. Mills, Artesia elementary schools supervisor; supper, home ec room at junior high.

A state meeting to be held probably in Albuquerque is contemplated. It will likely be held in April.

The program of discussion at the Artesia gathering:

Certification requirements for elementary principals and supervisors; special factors to be considered in the routine duties of a principal.

What factors are to be considered in promoting pupils; what should principals and supervisors do to promote a program of inservice training.

What constitutes a good program in physical education for the elementary school.

The plan was for each person to select one of these topics. The general group divided into five sections, discussed and recorded the important points for 30 minutes, then reported back to the entire group for reports and further discussion.

Heading the executive group is R. M. James of Portales. Other members are George Yarbrough, also of Portales; Mildred Kimbrough, Clovis; J. M. Baker, Vaughn; Elizabeth Burke, Hobbs.

Harold Jeffers, Hatch; Raymond Westfall, Alamogordo; and W. S. Clary, Tatum.

A covered-dish luncheon was served at noon by the Blanche Simpson Circle.

The business meeting followed the luncheon with Mrs. R. L. Smith, president, presiding. Plans were made for a day of mission study on Tuesday, Feb. 6, when Mrs. J. D. Franks of Carlsbad will teach the book "Oh, Jerusalem," with the Avis McCulla Circle in charge of the luncheon.

Love-Shattered Bulldogs Battle Buffaloes Tonight

Mauled by the axes of Carlsbad's conquering Cavemen the Artesia Bulldogs will attempt to get back in the win groove when they play the Melrose Buffaloes here tonight.

The Bisons are potent. They have defeated Albuquerque and the Eunice Cardinals, winners of the blind tourney here last month. Also the Buffs snapped Clovis' victory skein after the latter had taken 11 straight.

Out of the 12 boys on the Buffalo squad, only three are natives of Melrose. Five have Clovis as their birthplace, one was born in Munday, Texas, another in Marlow, Okla. St. Vrain and Portales are the native towns of the other players.

Coach of the Buffs is Allen Thompson, a former Artesia coach.

Officials for tonight's game will be Luke Toyeb, Southwest Oklahoma and A. D. Hundley, Oklahoma Central.

Tomorrow night, the Bulldogs take on another punishing foe when the high-scoring Hobbs Eagles contest the Artesia quintet here.

Down in Carlsbad, the town that doesn't want Artesia to secede from Eddy County, the Bulldogs bowed before the prowess of a player called Love. While Love may not conquer all, it was Love that spelled the main reason the Bulldogs were vanquished 30 to 42.

Love handled the basketball like a hand grenade and clicked enough to amass seven field goals to pace the game.

John Felton got a quarter of field goals to lead Bulldog scoring.

In a game Saturday night against Weed, in which the Bulldogs of Artesia rolled to a two-for-one win, 60 to 33, Cowboy Callaway was high for Artesia with 13.

Sports Fiesta Attended By 168

Setting the pattern for what is expected to be a periodic event, 168 girls from schools of Artesia, Lake Arthur, and Carlsbad took part in a six-hour volleyball and basketball contest held recently at Artesia High School. Carlsbad was represented by 100, Artesia by 59, and Lake Arthur, nine.

Boys and girls gymnasiums and the cafeteria was the location for the event which had a goodwill social angle as well as athletic.

The girls brought their own lunches to the affair. Hot cocoa was served at the noon meal.

There was no regular competition in volleyball and basketball insofar as declaring champions was concerned.

Artesia high point scorers were Margie Dominguez, Ginger Sanders, Darleen Campbell, and Marilyn Smith, in volleyball, and Vaunita Ross and Petrita Baca in basketball.

Score and timekeepers were Ella Sue Nunnelle, Jo Ann Taylor, Jo Ann Davis, and Angie Ward.

Dancing and skits were on the program at noon. The entire sports fete began at 9:30 o'clock Saturday morning, Jan. 20, ended at 3:30 that afternoon.

Physical education teachers present were Lillian McCormick, Artesia High School; Patricia Sauer, Artesia Junior High; Vina Cunningham, Mrs. Henrietta Kerry, May Morris, and Dorothy Schultz, all of Carlsbad; and Bill Hamm, Lake Arthur.

ON THE HOME FRONT

By BROWNIE EMERSON

Roswell Writer Rates Baseball Praise and Tennis Correction

Rusty Ayers, sports editor of The Roswell Daily Record, rates both praise and a complaint today. Taking up the bad news first, Rusty, the Bulldog tennis player, is a wee bit chagrined that you rate the Coyotes ahead of them.

Bobby Flynn called my attention this week to a story in the Record of Dec. 31. That's going a long way back but Bobby's criticism of an inaccuracy in a story headlined "Roswell Produces Winners in Year 'Round 1950 Sports," is justified.

In that yarn it was stated: "All was not black on the home-front sports as winner in District 5 competition went to the Roswell Coyotes in baseball, golf, and tennis. Roswell was in there for its share of wins in other sports but the only district pennants were those three."

The Record Here

Right now in Artesia High School's trophy case, according to Flynn, is the evidence that the Bulldogs took first in doubles, second and third in singles in the district meet held here April 29.

Jody and Cody Williams took the district doubles by beating Harkey Boling and Reed Lewis of the Caverna City.

In singles Charles Gibson of Artesia got to the finals but was beaten by Don Johnson of Carlsbad.

Flynn also summed up other results of the netsters' joust: Gibson lost to Johnson 2-6, 3-6. Johnson beat Flynn 6-4, 6-1.

Flynn defeated Jim Dodson of Carlsbad 6-2, 6-2 to take third place.

Richard Greaves of Roswell lost of Flynn 5-7, 4-6.

Johnson defeated Jerry Ware of Roswell.

Gibson defeated Jim Dodson to get to the finals.

Possibly your source gave you the wrong info, Rusty, but the facts seem to be that Artesia is the champ, not Roswell, on the basis of the first in doubles, and second and third in singles.

Pat On Back

Now, with that out of the way, here's my hand for a fine bit of sportsmanship in your column of Jan. 23 in which you mention the Artesia Drillers and Manager Stubby Greer.

The way you are backing the Drillers is wonderful, Rusty, and I know every baseball fan in Artesia feels the same way. The fact that you, in rival Roswell, will do a bit of boosting for an Artesia outfit, rates my sincere appreciation.

In view of the traditional rivalry of Artesia and Roswell it's good to note your comment, given below, which aptly could be captioned, "It Can Happen Here."

Your Score Keeper only hopes local fans don't accuse us of being partial to the Drillers this season, as they are going to get a lot of attention from this corner.

We are very definitely in favor of the Drillers at all times.

That is until they play the Rockets, then blood gets much thicker than water. When it comes to the Rockets vs Drillers, then our partiality is all the way with the locals.

Owner Marshall Dyke, and Manager Stubby Greer are going to need a lot of help to install baseball in Artesia. If they can make a go of it, it will help the Roswell cause too. This in turn helps baseball. Anything that will be of any help to sports, and baseball is a sport, then we are all for it. All for it to the point we will treat the Drillers almost as good (or at least try) as the Rockets in The Daily Record sports section. Almost as good we said.

Matches would be staged each Friday night and the season could last until June if gate warrants.

Directing the wrestlers will be Sandy Martin of Alamogordo, whose athletes have performed in El Paso, Albuquerque, Phoenix, and Tucson. The deal is a percentage one with part of the proceeds going to the promoter, part to the veterans organization.

Schreiber called up by Air Force

Frank Schreiber will leave Monday morning for San Antonio, Texas, where he will be accepted as a captain in the Air Force at Brookfield Base. There he will be active in the Military Air Transport Service.

Schreiber has been a resident of Artesia since 1946, when he separated from the Air Force, after serving during World War II. He has been a member of the Air Force Reserve since that time.

Mrs. Schreiber and their 4-year-old son, Brad, will join him in San Antonio at a later date.

perhaps the most consistent man on the Western quintet was second with 13. Loyd Jernegan was high for Panhandle with 10.

High point honors went to Mike Haynes, Mustang forward who scored 15 points. Gerry Gunnels,

Miners Invade North Plains

After a two-weeks layoff for semester examinations, the Texas Western Miners of El Paso return to the basketball campaign with a four-game road trip.

Tonight the Miners take on Dowell's AAU quintet in Amarillo and Saturday night they move to Plainview for a game with Wayland College. Closing out the road trip, the Texas Western team plays a two game series against Sul Ross in Alpine Monday and Tuesday (Jan. 29 and 30).

Although the Miners are one of the highest scoring teams in the nation—ranking 23rd with a 70.2 game average—their season record shows only four wins against seven defeats. A look at the record shows that the orangemen are truly "Hardluck Miners." They have lost three games by three points or less and have lost their only two overtime contests.

In both field goal percentages and free throw percentages the Miners rank 14th nationally. The Texas Western team has tallied 286 field goals in 758 attempts for 37.7 percentage and 201 free throws out of 298 attempts for a 67.4 percentage.

Coach Dale Waters is highly hopeful that the Texas Western defense has improved considerably and that the Miners sharp-shooting will result in more victories.

Gerald Rogers of Vega is setting the scoring pace for the Miners. The talented 6-4 center, who transferred from Amarillo College, has marked up 199 points in 11 games for an average of 18.1. His high mark of the season was a 33 point total against Arizona State of Tempe.

Ranked in the number two scoring spot is Wayne Ford, 6-5 forward with 168 points. Buddy Travis of Estelline and another transfer from Amarillo College has counted 138 points. Other members of the starting line-up are Forward D. W. Harkins of Levelland, who is a former Wayland College star, and "Jerrill Autry, speedy guard.

Following their return from the road trip, the Miners open a five-game home stand. It includes a Feb. 2 game with Wayland, followed by four Border Conference games.

Wrestling Bout Series Planned By Veterans Group

A new sport is to be offered Artesia under plans underway by the central committee of the United Veterans organizations.

At their session Wednesday night the group voted to sponsor a series of weekly wrestling matches beginning on Feb. 9 to be staged in the veterans building.

Matches would be staged each Friday night and the season could last until June if gate warrants.

Directing the wrestlers will be Sandy Martin of Alamogordo, whose athletes have performed in El Paso, Albuquerque, Phoenix, and Tucson. The deal is a percentage one with part of the proceeds going to the promoter, part to the veterans organization.

Schreiber called up by Air Force

Frank Schreiber will leave Monday morning for San Antonio, Texas, where he will be accepted as a captain in the Air Force at Brookfield Base. There he will be active in the Military Air Transport Service.

Schreiber has been a resident of Artesia since 1946, when he separated from the Air Force, after serving during World War II. He has been a member of the Air Force Reserve since that time.

Mrs. Schreiber and their 4-year-old son, Brad, will join him in San Antonio at a later date.

perhaps the most consistent man on the Western quintet was second with 13. Loyd Jernegan was high for Panhandle with 10.

Kiwanians Given Analysis of Club

Service to Artesia is the most effective way Artesia Kiwanis can make Kiwanis mean something to Artesia.

That was the theme of a "state of the union" type of speech, adapted to the club, given at the Kiwanis regular weekly luncheon at noon yesterday in Masonic Temple by Rev. Ralph L. O'Dell, newly installed president.

In another part of the program the club endorsed the Blanton report and authorizing sending a resolution to the chamber of commerce informing them of their favoring setting up of a new North Eddy county with Artesia as the county seat.

Lining up work for the year committee assignments are to be given at a committee chairman's meeting at 7 o'clock Tuesday night, Jan. 30 in Artesia Alfalfa Growers, 206 East Main.

Class Distinction In Colombia Is Rotary Subject

The class consciousness still prevalent in Colombia was discussed Tuesday noon at the weekly Rotary Club meeting by I. M. (Goldy) Goldstein, who lived in that country two decades as an employee of an oil company.

He said that even the peons, at the bottom of the scale, have two levels, the lower of which constitutes the farm workers and house servants in the cities, the higher, the workmen since industrialism has come. This group has worked into a mechanical class.

Next come the poorer merchants, then the richer merchants and professional people.

Potpourri—

At the top of the class are members of the old Spanish aristocracy, who have kept their Spanish blood intact. Goldstein said that no matter how much money a person may have, he is not welcomed into the inner circles of that class unless he is a member of the aristocracy. At one time, he said, they ran the country, but few today are in the government.

Now, the speaker said, there is a new class, the government bureaucracy, made up from all classes.

In regard to the government, Goldstein said the president and members of the two houses of congress are elected, but there are few other elective officers. The president appoints the governors of the various departments, or states, and they in turn appoint the mayors.

Because of this system, the party in power sweeps the country with officeholders.

Bogota, where Mr. and Mrs. Goldstein lived, architecturally is a mixture of the old and the new, the buildings of which stand side by side. However, he added, the architecture of the newer buildings is more modern than that found in the United States.

Whereas homes of the wealthy are pretentious places, the peons live in shacks, the speaker said. And in the villages along the rivers, the people construct their houses of poles covered with palm leaves and mud.

But no matter how poor a family may be, it has at least one servant. The poorer families may have waifs or orphans as servants.

Goldstein said he saw a change in the people in the years he was in Colombia, that when he went there members of the poorer class stepped off the sidewalks and tipped their hats to foreigners or Colombians of the better classes, but today, with the coming of communistic influence, they are likely to push one off the walks.

and one pre-school age child. The Bunch residence is 904 South Sixth Street.

The candidate received her bachelor of arts degree from Duke in 1935, majoring in social sciences.

In Artesia, she has been a leader and chairman of the Artesia Girl Scout board, is a member of the Southeastern New Mexico Board of Girl Scouts, active in Story League, Central School P.T.A., Ruslers Sunday School Class and Mary Brainerd Circle of the First Methodist Church.

Mrs. Bunch is a member of the New Mexico Committee for the Improvement of Education.

Jacobs, the other candidate, has lived in Artesia 10 years. He is a World War I veteran, is vice commander of the local American Legion post and chairman of the central committee of United Veterans.

His affiliations are Masons and the Shrine, Boy Scouts of America Gateway Council and member of the official board of the First Methodist Church.

He is the father of two daughters, Mary Jo, Artesia High School graduate, now a pre-med student at Park College in Missouri and of Mrs. Phil Brock of Midland, Texas.

The Jacobs home is 207 West Richardson.

Score Accept Bids To Banquet of CC

Two dozen persons from out of town have accepted invitations to attend the annual banquet of Artesia Chamber of Commerce to be held at 7 o'clock Thursday night, Feb. 1, in Veterans Memorial Building.

A checkup at the local office today showed that Clouderoff asks 10 reservations and there were four each from Hobbs, Portales, and Carlsbad, in addition to those from Roswell, first to acknowledge the Artesia chamber invitation.

The list includes: Carlsbad, Frank A. Kindel, manager, Victor Minter, secretary, Jack Sitton, president, and Herman Wertheim, vice president of Carlsbad Chamber of Commerce.

Mayor and Mrs. G. M. Sterrett of Dexter; Manager Pat Terrell, Portales; Harry J. Nunan, Hobbs; and K. E. Newell, chamber of commerce president, Clouderoff.

On the banquet program will be the piano music played by Mrs. R. T. Wilson, as the guests come into the room; invocation, Rev. Ralph L. O'Dell, pastor of the Presbyterian Church; songs by a girls vocal sextette.

Bill Siegenthaler, re-elected president, will be master of ceremonies. Main speaker will be D. Hodson Lewis, Dallas, southwestern region manager, United States Chamber of Commerce.

Who Went Where

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Crume drove to Portales Tuesday and returned home with their daughter, Betty, who is attending Eastern New Mexico University there. Betty will return to school Sunday after spending the mid-term vacation at home.

Cliff Plattor and a Mr. Bridges, left on a fishing trip to Guaymas, Mexico. They plan to return home today. Mrs. Carmichael and Mrs. Cole spent from Tuesday to Wednesday evening in El Paso.

Daisy Wilburn and Mrs. A. B. Swearingen spent the week end in Albuquerque and Santa Fe.

Camp Mac Joins List of Grocery, Meat Advertisers

An example of a "little fellow" being won to the ranks of advertisers is that of George Akins of Camp Mac, who in this week is offering some outstanding values in quality meats and groceries.

At the same time he calls attention to the fact that "that loaf of bread and bottle of milk stop" stays open from 6 o'clock in the morning to 6 o'clock at night every day of the year.

Akins also gives Payne Packing Company, one of the newer Artesia industries, a plug, pointing out not only that Camp Mac features Payne products, but that "everybody in this vicinity should make it a point to go through this modern packing plant."

Class Distinction In Colombia Is Rotary Subject

The class consciousness still prevalent in Colombia was discussed Tuesday noon at the weekly Rotary Club meeting by I. M. (Goldy) Goldstein, who lived in that country two decades as an employee of an oil company.

He said that even the peons, at the bottom of the scale, have two levels, the lower of which constitutes the farm workers and house servants in the cities, the higher, the workmen since industrialism has come. This group has worked into a mechanical class.

Next come the poorer merchants, then the richer merchants and professional people.

Potpourri—

At the top of the class are members of the old Spanish aristocracy, who have kept their Spanish blood intact. Goldstein said that no matter how much money a person may have, he is not welcomed into the inner circles of that class unless he is a member of the aristocracy. At one time, he said, they ran the country, but few today are in the government.

Now, the speaker said, there is a new class, the government bureaucracy, made up from all classes.

In regard to the government, Goldstein said the president and members of the two houses of congress are elected, but there are few other elective officers. The president appoints the governors of the various departments, or states, and they in turn appoint the mayors.

Because of this system, the party in power sweeps the country with officeholders.

Bogota, where Mr. and Mrs. Goldstein lived, architecturally is a mixture of the old and the new, the buildings of which stand side by side. However, he added, the architecture of the newer buildings is more modern than that found in the United States.

Whereas homes of the wealthy are pretentious places, the peons live in shacks, the speaker said. And in the villages along the rivers, the people construct their houses of poles covered with palm leaves and mud.

But no matter how poor a family may be, it has at least one servant. The poorer families may have waifs or orphans as servants.

CHECK these advantages of SOIL-CEMENT for light-traffic streets

ECONOMY
Soil-cement pavement is low cost because: (1) about 90 per cent of the required material is usually local soil already on the street, (2) it is easy and fast to build. Economy is important to taxpayers.
ADAPTABILITY
Whether your local street is now dirt, gravel or stone, it can be transformed into strong, long-lasting pavement with soil-cement. Soil-cement streets can be built and used under a wide range of weather conditions.
DURABILITY
The durability of soil-cement for local streets has been proved by years of all-weather service at low-maintenance expense. Thousands of miles of dependable soil-cement pavement are now in use throughout the United States.

They Could Remain Neutral

(The following editorial was written a week ago today, by way of getting a little ahead with our knitting. Since that time State Representatives Virgil O. McCollum and Frank Alford have indicated they represent all the people of Eddy County and will remain out of the controversy, just as we suggested.—A.L.B.)

A RECENT EDITORIAL in The Carlsbad Daily Current-Argus said in part:

"In building up their case for a new county, the Artesia group claims it now has no representation in the Legislature. As a matter of fact, Artesia has three representatives, one senator and two representatives have been elected to represent Eddy County in the Legislature and they represent the whole county, not just the southern half."

It is true that the three gentlemen were elected to represent the county as a whole and we will presume they will until they prove otherwise.

We maintain that the fact all three are from Carlsbad, in agreement with The Current-Argus, does not preclude they are representing the entire county, which they should.

And so we suggest, that inasmuch as the new county issue is an entire county affair, with the northern part wishing only to set up its own government and boundaries around the interests here, while in no way affecting the economies of the southern part, the senator and two representatives should not enter into the picture in any way.

By agreement, Senator Milton Smith could refrain from taking part, while one each of the representatives could be for and against it, or both could join with the senator and refrain from voting or taking a part in the proposition.—A.L.B.

Join the March of Dimes

THE NORTH EDDY COUNTY chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis—which was created several years ago because of the natural geographical barriers between the northern and southern parts of the county—had an opportunity the last two years to learn first hand what the March of Dimes and the national organization mean and can do.

We had nine cases of polio in North Eddy County in 1949 and three in 1950. And the majority of them required assistance from the chapter, which ran out of funds. So the national foundation came to our rescue last year.

With such assistance so close to home, we should all realize the worth of the organization and its March of Dimes.

In some way, give generously. Support the "disc jockey" programs, attend the March of Dimes ball tonight, drop coins in counter cans, join the "Mothers' March on Polio" Wednesday of next week or send in a check.

But at any rate, join the March of Dimes.—A.L.B.

Please Don't Ask Us

ALTHOUGH WE HAVE POINTED OUT and emphasized many times that this newspaper cannot print advertisements or news which includes lottery, we still have those who request us to do this.

That request, of course, is made because the average individual does not know and realize that postal regulations prohibit the sending through the mail not only newspapers, but circulars, handbills, letters or any type of mail which contains comment on lottery.

Lottery, of course, covers many things, but the most common form of lottery is that of drawings—the selling, giving or handing out of numbers or tickets. When drawings are held and a winner is determined either from the number or a name on a ticket—that is lottery and comment on this in any form cannot be sent through the United States mail.

That regulation prohibits the newspapers from publishing information on drawings or lottery in advertisements or in news stories. There is a heavy penalty for the violation of this regulation including a fine and prison sentence. And conviction for violation of this regulation could result in this newspaper losing its mailing privilege.

Those who request us to print drawing or lottery information, of course, do not know that it is prohibited. They are not asking us to violate the law. They know they can print it on circulars and hand around these circulars. They presume that it can be printed in the paper.

There is no law against it being printed in the paper. The law applies to sending that paper through the mail containing that information on lottery or the drawing.

So when this newspaper refuses to accept lottery advertisement or eliminates it from both advertising and news stories, you will know the paper is not only seeking to protect itself but it is also seeking to protect those who may not be familiar with the regulation and are asking that the information on drawing and lottery be published.—O.E.P.

Economy Must Prevail

THERE HAS ALREADY BEEN THROWN into the Legislature hopper a number of bills and measures calling and providing for more funds.

These legislators as well as the citizens and the taxpayers of this state know those funds are not available. They also know the only way they will be available is for more taxes to be voted. And they know that the American people are going to have about all the taxes they can pay under the federal program.

New Mexico today is without certain institutions which it needs as a state. It is without these because the state cannot afford to provide them. The institutions in this state do not have and cannot get all of the funds they need, require and could use. They do not get them because there are not sufficient funds for this purpose.

Just where some of those introducing measures and bills calling for more appropriations expect to get these funds, we don't know. It is possible they do not expect to obtain them. Maybe they know the money is not available and they are merely fulfilling a political obligation when they introduce the bills.

But each year the need of the various institutions of the state increase. They need more funds and appropriations to increase their service and to maintain it.

However, New Mexico is limited in its total revenues and that nat-

JANUARY THAW

It takes more than just a warmish spell about the middle of the year's first month to make a January thaw. First of all you must have had a freeze, preferably on top of a foot of snow. Then there's nothing like a thaw to put a gloss on the crust.

Iceicles ought to be hanging in a mammoth fringe along the woodshed eaves and a smell of wet sawdust thereabouts is in order. An inch of water atop the ice in the rain barrel is part of it all, offering a preview of conditions down on the creek.

The slush on sidewalks and roads is at least a fair alternative to the hard slipperiness of yesterday. And the feel of the air in a thaw worth the name is the touch of April.

The January thaw is a sort of reprieve from the winter's rigors and a scrap of springtime tossed like bait to keep us plowing through what's ahead. It tells the grownup winter won't last forever—but it winks at the child while saying so.

Only the youngest would think that the time had really come to put sleds and skates sadly away. Keep the snow shovel handy and out of the way of the drip from the porch roof or it will be frozen fast where it is by the time the next 18 inches lie between you and civilization.—Christian Science Monitor.

GOOD MEN WITH POOR PROSPECTS

The old-line Democratic organization showed surprising strength in electing leaders in both houses of the Legislature.

Calvin Horn, whose strength confounded observers, swept into the House speakership over Ike Smalley of Deming, who had been dubbed a "Mechem Democrat." Horn was Albuquerque campaign manager for John Miles, the Democratic candidate for governor.

In the Senate, Burton Roach, an old-line regular, swamped Henry Eager for Democratic floor leader. Eager fought the Democratic organization in the primaries of 1950 and had been described as friendly to the program of Republican Gov. Ed Mechem.

The state has nothing to fear from the new officers themselves. Senator Roach has been known for 10 years as a steady, respectable member of the Legislature. Speaker Horn is one of the most devoted and serious-intentioned representatives ever to come up to the capital.

The selection of the legislature leadership, however, appears to signal a battle between Legislature and executive departments that may result in little progress from this session. The outside forces that rallied the votes to elect the leaders are not those that have been advocating harmony of the two departments.—Santa Fe New Mexican.

UNIFORMS

There may be some delay in appreciating the peril of the United States of America, as we face the year 1951, but the nation and its people should not overlook the possibility that the future of the country depends, once more, upon the courage and ability of our fighting men.

During the late war, there was a measure of respect and admiration for the men and women in uniform. When peace came, civilians, as a rule, turned to the making of money and forgot the contribution made by those who fought and those who died for their country.—Eddy County News.

urally limits it in what it can provide for its institutions and the programs which it seeks to maintain and carry out.

Certainly our educational institutions which depend partly on tuition to maintain expenses are going to face some serious problems. This is going to be reduced because the number of students attending these schools is being reduced.

Everyone, of course, is eager and anxious to see the schools maintained and their enrollment as large as possible. But they know with young men being called into service that the enrollments will be reduced.

And in the meanwhile, of course, the State Legislature and the state institutions are going to have to do the best they can to continue to operate and to provide as much service as possible.

But it sure appears to us that the Legislature doesn't have and won't have funds for the establishing and creating of more institutions.—O.E.P.

A picture of Terry and Rodney, children of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Wood, appears in the January issue of The Southwesterner, monthly journal of the Southwestern Public Service. Mr. Wood is a line foreman for the Artesia branch of the company.

J. D. Smith, Southwestern manager here, is pictured in the same issue under "Roundup on Service Awards—Pecos Valley." Smith was toastmaster at the award dinner Nov. 22 in Masonic Temple.

Assignment New Mexico

By G. Ward Fenley
 For those who can't sleep, have no appetite, and worry incessantly about the present-day conditions, let me remind you that historians tell us this is the world's 119th gravest crisis.

All the preceding 118 crises have been the worst to that date.

America is in its greatest boom period, yet everything is wrong. We can't balance the budget; we can't trust our neighbors; inflation is fast ruining the nation; we won't be able to buy any new cars and television sets and refrigerators. All is wrong, nothing right.

Wonder who's to blame for the mess we're in? Couldn't be you and me?

Balance the budget? The United Mine Workers Journal says the only way to keep within the budget these days is to let the rest of the world go buy. And some wag noted the other day that many a man keeps his nose to the grindstone so his wife can turn hers up at the neighbors.

Trust our neighbors? The Raton Range last week told how an Indian guide around Gallup was showing tourists over Indian ruins. The mama tourist suddenly looked back at the car they had left and remarked: "Oh we forgot to lock the car."

"Don't worry, lady," soothed the Indian guide. "It'll be safe. There's not a white man within 50 miles of here."

No more television sets? I see where Representative Robert L. Doughton of North Carolina says that's not so bad. In times like these, he says, what we need is less tele and more vision.

We're all kinda like the old maid who couldn't make the first team but would still like to intercept a few passes.

Always hunting and wanting something frantically we haven't got and probably can't get.

Maybe we ought to give this nation back to the Indians or—better still—turn it over to the women.

The Portales Rally News recorded last week the story of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Howell and son, Scotty, and their encounter with a coyote.

After chasing a coyote in a car for several miles, the animal got entangled in a fence. Scotty jumped out, grabbed the brute's tail; the animal sank his teeth in Scotty's trouser leg and finally into Mr. Howell's leg.

Mrs. Howell, possessed of the usual amount of feminine sagacity, grabbed a car jack handle and ended the lively episode.

Mrs. Howell then placed the jack handle back in place for future use—against the time when the men would get into another jam.

Guess after all there's not too much wrong with the world that common sense, faith in God, and a lot of hard work won't cure.

Problems, said The Christian Herald, are not solved by people who walk out on them. Workers, not walkers, keep the wheels turning—and a few jack handles thrown in for good measure won't hurt at times.

"Life is hard
 By the yard;
 By the inch
 It's a cinch."

And, at The Wall Street Journal says, people are never to old to learn but most of us keep putting it off.

That's all this week except to remind you that the successful Negro businessman had a good philosophy: "Ah never attempts the impossible and always co-operates with the inevitable."

Girl Scout Notes

Troop 1 discussed selling cookies and announced that money was still coming in from the sale of Girl Scout pencils. The girls were given applications to fill out for international camp which will be held at Portland, Ore., this summer.

Troop 3 put 500 March of Dime folders in envelopes and stamped them for mailing.

Troop 5 worked on a play and played "Cat and Mouse" and "Follow the Leader."

Troop 6 discussed the Arts and Crafts Badge and as a community service project folded 500 March of Dime folders and placed them in envelopes for mailing. Candy bars were served the troop by Gretchen Petty. The girls discussed the second-class badges and gave the "Girl Scout Promise" and sang, "Angels Watching Over Me."

Troop 7 made "wishing wells" in which they plan to plant ivy. They sang, "Mutton Chops" and "Goodnight Brownies."

Troop 4 elected Janice O'Brien president and Sally Jo Robinson vice president at the last meeting. The girls sang songs and finished their blueprint enclosures.

Troop 11 sealed March of Dime letters as a community project. They worked on the First-Aid Badge and closed with the "Goodnight Song."

Troop 12 folded March of Dime folders for mailing and wrote an

Inside WASHINGTON MARCH OF EVENTS

Defense Chiefs' Worry: Prolonged Cold-Hot War
 Drawn Out 'Armed Truce' Fatal to U. S. Economy
 Special to Central Press

WASHINGTON—Defense mobilization officials have one apprehension about the nation's rearmament drive. They don't know how long the cold-hot war will last.

The planners fear that if the "armed truce" situation should hold for as much as 10 or 20 years, the maintenance of an all-out defense effort during that time would wreck the United States economy.

Charles E. Wilson, Defense mobilization official, emphasized this point in virtually everything he does as all his public statements.

Wilson's philosophy is that the United States must expand production in all fields, particularly in raw materials, so that it can maintain a military program indefinitely and also support a sound civilian economy—not an economy of scarcity.

The program is well underway with large expenditures in steel and aluminum production in which works and plants being made to boost output of other vital materials.

Charles E. Wilson
 AUSTERITY—Washington itself, meanwhile, is beginning to take on at least the outward signs of a nation involved in what it knows to be an all-out struggle for survival.

Symptomatic of the prevailing attitude is a rash of announcements calling off a series of annual events traditional to the capital's social old form.

First the celebrated Gridiron club junched plans for its semi-annual banquet. Then the White House itself cancelled a series of functions—receptions for the diplomatic corps and members of the Supreme Court among others.

The latest move is an announcement by the White House that the sponsors association that its annual dinner for the President is scheduled for March 3, has been called off.

All in all, it looks like a lame duck session in Washington this winter, socially speaking.

MORE AUSTERITY—Speaking of austerity, Maj. Gen. Lewis Hershey, hard-hitting head of the Selective Service system, is a smoker with a ready explanation of why he shuns cigars.

He told a reporter the other day that when he was a young man he decided he wouldn't smoke until he was 50.

So—when he got to the half-century mark, Hershey continued, he found that "so many women were smoking that I decided it was effeminate for me!"

RIDDLE OF RUSSIA—Soviet leaders have done nothing in the last few days to make it easier for the Western Powers to determine whether Russia will fight a third world war, and if so, when.

On the side of peace the USSR has:
 1—Agreed to new talks on the possibility of settling of the Soviet's $11 billion lend-lease account with the United States.

2—Proposed—but on her own terms—to proceed with plans for another "Big Four" conference of foreign ministers to discuss mutual problems.

However, more significantly in the minds of the West, the Soviet Union has backed Communist China all the way in Korea and is geared her own economy to an all-out military production drive.

Suspicious western diplomats say there is no choice but to interpret Russia's warlike noises as indicative of her future behavior and build up their own strength accordingly.

essay on the last Clare Tree Major play, "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm."

Troop 13 folded March of Dimes folders and put them in envelopes for mailing. Gaynelle Brown and Alicia Waldrep served the troop refreshments. Five girls gave readings.

FARMER MORTIMER came down from the Vermont hills to watch the first train run through town via the new cut on the main line. It also was the first train he had ever seen in his life. He stood at the station, grimly holding the hand of his equally excited ten-year-old son.

There was a whistle in the distance, and finally the engine howled into view down the track. Larger and larger it grew as it approached the station, and finally loomed as an iron monster rushing to envelop everybody on the platform. The farmer stood it until the last second, then bolted for the woods, crying to his son, "We gotta get out of here, boy! This thing's gonna spread all over town!"

George Heister asks if you remember these three gags from your childhood repertoire: 1. Teacher: where is the elephant found? Boy: pupil: The elephant is such a large animal he rarely gets lost. 2. St. Peter: How did you get here? New arrival: Flu. 3. Husband (drying dishes): "Did you say the dinner set your Ma gave us was 52 pieces?" "Yes, pet." "Well, love, it now has 62."

MAYBE IT'S just as well that the ghost of the late Catherine Howard, decapitated wife of the almost-as-late King Henry VIII, didn't keep her television date with the BBC. Would have been a shock to British TV fans to see a glamor gal without a head.

Odd how a common cold can cause one so much uncommon discomfort!
 A Michigan fisherman, we read, was bitten by a pickerel. What a man-story that fish will have to tell!
 British bookies, we read, are betting 1,000-to-one there'll be no war. Probably figure that if there is, they'd lose their shirts, any way.

 Bow-ties is a spring fashion conceit for the girls. It's six-twee and-even the sweet things will spell 'em beau-ties.
 In Paris, a prisoner swallowed a soup spoon. Probably thought it was a jail-house needle.
 The Canadian army is offering 126 sets of used bagpipes for sale. What a golden opportunity for the fellow anxious to get rid of too-long-visiting-in-laws!

Quick Verdict of the New-Car Season: "Smart Buy's Buick"

To modernize the triumphant phrase of an old campaigner—"They came. They saw. It conked 'em!" In other words, folks are calling this smart-stepping '51 Buick terrific. Wherever you look, you find reasons for this fervor. The SPECIAL blossoms forth with a full line all its own—Sedans, Rivas, Convertibles—new in styling, new in power-to-weight ratio—new in performance—new in thrift—smartest car for its price that Buick ever offered. The SUPER has everything it takes to make it the standout performer and buy of the middle-price brackets.

NO OTHER CAR PROVIDES ALL THIS: DYNAFLOW DRIVE—staves strain on driver, reduces wear on many parts of car. FIREBALL POWER—high-compression, valve-in-head engine gets more good from every drop of fuel by "cyclone" combustion found in no other automobile. PUSH-BAR FOREFRONT—combines smart style and unsurpassed protection. WHITE-GLOW INSTRUMENTS—greater clarity at night. TORQUE-TUBE DRIVE—steadies ride, improves driving control. 4-WHEEL COIL SPRING—cushions ride, saves servicing cost. DUAL VENTILATION—outside air fed separately to right or left of front compartment. SELF-ENERGIZING BRAKES—hydraulic—multiply pedal pressure five times at brake drum. DREAMLINE STYLING—tapered, car-length fenders, gleaming sweepers on most models. Plus! Self-locking luggage lid, Stop-On parking brake, two-way ignition lock, Safety-Ride rims, Hi-Powered engine mounting, Body by Fisher. NOW ON DISPLAY GUY CHEVROLET COMPANY 101-103 WEST MAIN PHONE 291
