Everett Blomberg spoke on the background of the theater, highlighting stage directions, and acting at a meeting of the Girl Scout Leaders' Club at the Central School music room Monday night.

Mr. Blomberg pointed out that his talk was only a capsule edition, as any part of his subject was a full course of study. He advised the leaders to teach their Scouts to talk from the stomach, not the throat and to watch their pronunciation. He urged exaggeration of motion, speech, and action in order to get their points over.

The speaker suggested pantomime, shadowgraphs, and acting out simple ballads as media for these young people. Mr. Blomberg is the drama teacher at high school.

During the business meeting after the program the celebration in honor of the birthday of Girl Scouting which is known as "Julliette Low Day" March 12, was discussed. Leaders are to appoint Girl Scout representatives who are to meet at the home of Mrs. Fred Jacobs to make plans for the presentation of funds, at 9:30 o'clock Saturday morning, Feb. 17.

"We should know our American heritage which was a spiritual and intellectual awakening," he said.

CHIROPRACTIC FOR SCIATICA

Sciatica is an abnormal condition of the great sciatic nerve which provides the nerve supply to the tissues of the thigh and lower leg. Pain is the chief characteristic of sciatica. Sciatica is caused by pressure on nerves due to subluxated (misaligned) vertebrae pinch the nerves and thereby blocking the nerve supply. The Chiropractor locates the pressure, adjusts the spine to remove the pressure, thereby allowing 100 per cent transmission of nerve impulses and bringing about a correction of the condition by removing THE CAUSE.

'Twas Red Letter Day When Artesia Turned on White Way

BY BROWNWOOD EMERSON
Artesia has three school plants valued at $225,000.

Artesia has four miles of paving, the lowest water rate in the state, first city in New Mexico to have natural gas, largest oil refinery in the state.

So reads information gleaned from one of four documents discovered by Mrs. Emily Montgomery, 303 South Tenth, on a moving task, and turned in to Bob Koonce, manager of the chamber of commerce.

The four bits of data are a letter about the annual meeting of the chamber to be held at 7:30 p. m. Jan. 14 on the roof garden of the "new" Artesia Hotel; a four-page program captioned "Artesia Celebrates Securing Natural Gas," dated June 13, 1928; and a 12-page folder issued in 1924 by the Artesia Chamber of Commerce.

In the leaflet the claim is made that "adjacent to Artesia is some of the earth's finest agricultural land." No piker was the man who made that claim. He merely took in all the earth, not any one continent!

Farm Utopia
Reading the folder you learn that the "town schools alone employ 26 teachers," and on farming: "Fruit trees grow to perfection. Cotton during recent years has proved exceptionally profitable."

"Artesia ships annually 1000 to 2000 carloads of the very finest pea-green alfalfa grown in the world."

"The locality around Artesia is well adapted to dairying."

"The Pecos Valley has no peer east of California as an ideal home for the industrious hen. "Bees are very profitable around Artesia."

Turning to oil and gas, the folder says: "Petroleum has recently been found in commercial quantities and of a very superior grade near Artesia. As this is printed several wells have been completed. Illinois 1, 3, and 4; Ficher 1; Illinois 2 is a very fine gas well estimated at from four million to eight million cubic feet."

It was quite a celebration the town enjoyed on June 13, 1928 for not only did the fiesta mark obtaining natural gas but also the installation of a "modern white way."

The affair was held in conjunction with the annual meeting of the New Mexico Oil Men's Association, started at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, included a dinner, band concert, 10 part "speech program, and "dancing."

Hon. C. E. Mann made the welcome address for the city of Artesia. Then followed:

Turning on the modern white way: Claude Simpson, Roswell, response to welcome address; H. L. Birney, El Paso, "Economic Value of Highways"; D. A. Bandeen, El Paso, "El Paso's Greetings to Artesia."

Don Weatherford, Clovis, "Co-operation"; A. T. Wood, San Antonio, "Natural Gas as an Industrial Builder"; J. D. Hamlin, Farwell, Texas, "The West Texas Chamber of Commerce"; and Col. E. P. Bujac, Carlsbad, "Empire of the Southwest."

Another item in the historical souvenir collection is a business card: "Hotel Ad, European Plan, J. M. Addington, proprietor, Artesia, New Mexico."

Student-Secretary Shown How Organization Functions

(Editor's Note—This is the first in a series of articles on how Artesia High School pupils are learning how to work and earn money at regular jobs while continuing their studies. Information for these stories, that are to appear weekly, is supplied by courtesy of William S. Bennett, coordinator-teacher of distributive education in Artesia High School, and by the students of his special "modern day apprentice" class.)

Typing and regular office work is the job of LaVerne Grimlan who is secretary to Leigh Johnson, Southeast New Mexico Girl Scout Area executive director.

That "general office" sounds as though the task would be routine, but there's more to it than that and LaVerne is gaining valuable experience because she does book-keeping, filing, and mimeographing.

She is learning the basic points of office work so often slurred, such as how to properly make out an order and how to answer the telephone.

Registration cards for all the troops are filled out by LaVerne. The student-worker also issues membership cards and helps prepare the semi-monthly report on registrations sent to the national headquarters.

Then, too, a chart is kept on each community within the area. The chart shows the members of each troop, number of girls, leaders, and community members.

A mimeographed bulletin is issued bi-monthly by the executive director to troop leaders and members of all committees. This is another of LaVerne's duties along with receiving mail from national headquarters and checking and counting membership cards sent from the national office.

At the area office she keeps a supply of literature and pins purchased by leaders and girls. Literature for starting new troops is issued on request. This material includes consent and record blanks, troop committee members, and leaders information.

A current task is in line with the national office's survey on the number of girls entering and leaving Girl Scouting.

'Copper Canyon' Action Packed Outdoor Epic

Boasting a brilliant cast headed by Hedy Lamarr and Ray Milland, an action crammed story and stunning color by Technicolor, Paramount's lusty outdoor epic, "Copper Canyon," will open Sunday at the Landsun Theater.

One of the most exciting Western dramas ever presented by Hollywood, according to advance reports, "Copper Canyon" is set against a background of violence and intrigue in the mining region of Nevada just after the Civil War. The plot centers around an embattled group of Southern veterans being driven from their land by a crooked sheriff and his deputies in the pay of a Yankee industrialist who owns the only copper smelter in the area.

As the leader of the veterans, in the guise of a trick-shot vaudeville performer, Ray Milland has the most action role of his career. And, according to previews, he turns in a blistering performance that leaves nothing to be desired in the way of thrills.

Having made her debut in Technicolor in "Samson and Delilah," beautiful Hedy Lamarr again has the benefit of the color camera in "Copper Canyon," her first Western. She plays the sultry owner of a dance hall saloon who falls in love with and joins Milland in his fight against the syndicate that controls the smelter.

Shot almost entirely on location in Arizona, where all the action sequences were photographed, the picture was directed by John Farrow.

Ten of Hollywood's top stunt riders were used throughout the picture, but Milland, Macdonald Carey and Harry Carey, Jr., all expert horsemen, performed their own hazardous stunts.

Macdonald Carey portrays a ruthless gunman, while his namesake, Harry, Jr., is seen as a soldier in the Union Army. Mona Freeman also is included in the starring cast. This, incidentally, is one of the few romantic roles the lovely Miss Freeman has played. Usually she's seen as a light-headed "teen-ager" despite the fact that she's over 21.

Produced by Mel Epstein, "Copper Canyon" was written for the screen by Jonathan Latimer from an original story by Richard Eng-

Cast Puts Gloss On Junior Play

A fine polish is being put on the Artesia High School junior class play, "Tattletale," to be staged at 8 o'clock the nights of Feb. 14 and 15 in the high school auditorium.

Cast has improved its expression, knows its lines and cues without promoting. Stage crew, led by Ivan Clay, has put up flats and cut out the archway. Painting crew is set to complete interior decoration this week.

Some pieces of furniture brought by members of the cast will supplement that donated for use by Boyd Barnett Furniture Company.

Advertising is being directed by William S. Bennett. Two groups of salesmen have been on the job for a week, circulars printed, and special posters ordered.

To further publicize the production a radio program has been presented at 6:30 o'clock the last two Thursday nights over Radio Station KSPV. On the 15-minute program, authored by Vee Ann Mitchell, who has the role of Patty, the diarist in the play, are Albert Bach, Wanda Burch, Bobby Boyd, Raymond Owens.

Tickets for the play sell at 50 and 75 cents.

Director is E. C. Blomberg.

lish, Frank Faylen, Hope Emerson, Taylor Holmes and Peggy Knudsen have important supporting roles.

(Editor's Note—This is the first in a series of articles on how Artesia High School pupils are learning how to work and earn money at regular jobs while continuing their studies. Information for these stories, that are to appear weekly, is supplied by courtesy of William S. Bennett, coordinator-teacher of distributive education in Artesia High School, and by the students of his special "modern day apprentice" class.)

Typing and regular office work is the job of LaVerne Grimlan who is secretary to Leigh Johnson, Southeast New Mexico Girl Scout Area executive director. That "general office" sounds as though the task would be routine but there's more to it than that and LaVerne is gaining valuable experience because she does book-keeping, filing, and mimeographing. She is learning the basic points of office work so often stirred, such as how to properly make out an order and how to answer the telephone. Registration cards for all the

'Copper Canyon' Action Packed Outdoor Epic

Boasting a brilliant cast headed by Hedy Lamarr and Ray Milland, an action crammed story and stunning color by Technicolor, Paramount's lusty outdoor epic, "Copper Canyon," will open Sunday at the Lansdown Theater.

One of the most exciting Western dramas ever presented by Hollywood, according to advance reports, "Copper Canyon" is set against a background of violence and intrigue in the mining region of Nevada just after the Civil War. The plot centers around an embattled group of Southern veterans being driven from their land by a crooked sheriff and his deputies in the pay of a Yankee industrialist who owns the only copper smelter in the area.

As the leader of the veterans, in the guise of a trick-shot vaudeville performer, Ray Milland has the most action-packed role of his career. And, according to previewers, he turns in a blistering performance that leaves nothing to be desired in the way of thrills.

Having made her debut in Technicolor in "Samson and Delilah," beautiful Hedy Lamarr again has the benefit of the color cameras in "Copper Canyon," her first Western. She plays the sultry owner of a dance hall saloon who falls in love with and joins Milland in his fight against the syndicate that controls the smelter.

Filmed almost entirely on location in Arizona, where all the action sequences were photographed, the picture was directed by John Farrow. Ten of Hollywood's top stunt riders were used throughout the picture, but Milland, Macdonald Carey and Harry Carey, Jr., all expert horsemen, performed their own hazardous stunts.

Macdonald Carey portrays a ruthless gunman, while his namesake, Harry Jr., is seen as a soldier in the Union Army. Mona Freeman also is included in the starring cast. This, incidentally, is one of the few romantic roles the lovely Miss Freeman has played. Usually she's seen as a light-headed teen-ager despite the fact that she's over 21. Produced by Mel Epstein, "Copper Canyon" was written for the screen by Jonathan Latimer from an original story by Richard Eng-

Cast Puts Gloss On Junior Play

A fine polish is being put on the Artesia High School junior class play, "Tattletale," to be staged at 8 o'clock the nights of Feb. 14 and 15 in the high school auditorium. Cast has improved its expression, knows its lines and cues without prompting. Stage crew, led by Ivan Clay, has put up flats and cut out the archway. Painting crew is set to complete interior decoration this week.

Some pieces of furniture, brought by members of the cast, will supplement that donated for use by Boyd Barnett Furniture Company.

Advertising is being directed by William S. Bennett. Two groups of salesmen have been on the job for a week, circulars printed, and special posters ordered.

To further publicize the production a radio program has been presented at 6:30 o'clock the last two Thursday nights over Radio Station KSPV. On the 15-minute program, authored by Vee Ann Mitchell, who has the role of Patty, the diarist in the play, are Albert Bach, Wanda Burch, Bobby Boyd, Rayden Owens.

Tickets for the play sell at 50 and 75 cents. Director is E. C. Blomberg.

lish, Frank Faylen, Hope Emerson, Taylor Holmes and Peggy Knudsen have important supporting roles.

Girl Scout Notes

Troop 2 worked on textile painting on pillow cases and handkerchiefs. The girls discussed their part in the Juliette Low program in March and discussed summer camping.

Troop 3 divided into three groups and did original skits. The girls elected Martha Ann Cabot president, Barbara Kelly vice president, and Billie Ruth Ellinger secretary.

They spent most of the afternoon doing social painting. Their leader, Mrs. Wayne Adams, is planning a Valentine party from 3 to 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

Troop 4 sang several old songs and learned "Kakabura." The girls began work on beads made of colored crepe paper and flour and rolled into bead size to dry.

Troop 7 finished making wishing well ivy holders. They sang the "Frog Song," "White Coral Bells," and "Mutton Chops." Mrs. Harlow brought refreshments of candy bars and pop.

Troop 10 worked on plate favors for the party for their mothers to be held next Monday.

Troop 11: Pioneer Patrol did dramatic skits showing first-aid rules. Cloverleaf Patrol conducted a quiz show on first aid. The troop practiced songs for the Juliette Low program March 12.

Troop 12 was assisted by Mrs. Pat Fairry and Mrs. Geiser in textile painting. Ann Storm served refreshments.

Troop 13 learned several new games and plans for work on the Homemaking Badge. As the first project on this badge the troop will entertain Troop 5 at the next meeting. Refreshments were served by Betty Jo Bryan and Sue Ellen Shotts.

Troop 15 elected the following officers: President, Sue Ann Kinney; vice president, Patricia Kiddy; and secretary, Norlene Webb. Sue Ann Kinney will be the troop's Juliette Low representative. The group decided to bring a penny for each year of age for the Juliette Low fund. The group will meet in Barracks 31 from now on and parents are urged to pick up the little girls there at 5 o'clock.

Troop 16 worked on a Valentine surprise for their mothers.

Troop 17 made pot holders of scraps of material and did textile painting on them. They played games and sang songs.

Troop 18 had 12 present with Carolyn Kennedy leader for the day. Invitations to mothers for a Valentine program were written. The girls also plan to invite their sponsors, members of the Story League. The girls practiced on their program for the party, which will be in the educational building of the First Methodist Church from 4 to 5 o'clock Monday afternoon.

Troop 20 elected Elen Denton president, Karen Schnaubert secretary, and Rita Caudle treasurer at their meeting Tuesday. Ellen Denton, Marlene Connor, and Betty Bullock were chosen for the campfire scene in the Juliette Low program. The girls practiced the songs which they will sing in the program.

Mrs. Waldrep's troop went on a short hike and played games. They were served refreshments of doughnuts by Ann Lowery.

New Mexico Jaycees will put some extra flourishes into their Americanism program. A regular part of the Jaycees list of project the campaign this year will be intensified according to plans made at the state board meeting held Saturday and Sunday in Albuquerque.

Emphasis will be put on a radio program series for Americanism Week, Feb. 12-18, but the project will not be limited to that short period, according to Clayton Menefee, president of the Artesia club, who attended the state session.

Kiwanis Told Basic Points On Basketball

Artesia Kiwanians got a closeup on two sports, baseball and basketball, at the club's regular weekly luncheon at noon yesterday in Cliff's Cafeteria.

Speakers were Stubby Greer, manager of the Artesia Drillers, professional baseball team, who spoke in conjunction with the season and box ticket sale, following a meeting of representatives of various clubs held the preceding night in Veterans Memorial Building, and H. Floyd Davis, Artesia High School basketball coach.

Paul Frost, Perry Stigler, and Tom Hymer represent Kiwanis in the baseball project.

Basketball is America's No. 1 sport, Davis told the club. He said there were one million games a season, 100,000,000 spectators annually, and called attention to the recent anniversary of the sport started in 1892.

He explained new rules, including: Substitutions only when clock is stopped, stopping clock on jump ball, technical foul assessed when player making personal foul does not raise hand.

He detailed the New Mexico high school district and regional setup, and how he believes the state winner will come from this section of the state, pointing out the strength of Roswell, Hobbs, Portals, and Carlsbad.

Four active teams, the high school A and B, Fresh C, and junior high Hornets were methods used to stimulate interest in basketball here, he said.

Reese Smith is coach of the B team, Cal Hall of C, and Ray of the junior high Hornets.

Program chairman for the meeting was Stigler who announced that Don Riddle, junior high principal, had obtained the program. Riddle introduced Coach Davis.

Guest, besides the speakers, was Marshall Rowley.

Planets, Star And Moon Put On Evening Show

The planets Venus and Mars, evening stars, and the new moon and a bright star put on a celestial show shortly after sunset Wednesday and until they set.

From the top down the four heavenly bodies formed somewhat of an "S," with the star at the top, one of the planets a little below and to the left, then the crescent moon, twice as far below and to the right, and then the other planet below and to the left, about as far apart as the star and the other planet.

The bright star until recently had been appearing between the two planets, but as they sink a little lower every night, the star remains in its fixed position and now appears above the upper planet.

At the time the four bodies first became visible Wednesday after sunset no other stars could be seen near them. The moon crescent appeared in the lower right segment of a glowing and outlined disc.

Many people believe that young people require milk more than older people, Patterson said. But the old require it even more than the young, because their bodies have depleted the minerals which milk supplies. There is a better source of calcium per dollar spent in milk than in any other food which can be bought, the speaker declared, stressing that milk will add to one's life span. Likewise, he said, persons who drink lots of milk seldom need glasses.

Milk, said Patterson, is one of the most effective means of diet, if used properly. He said that if it is drunk before a meal and one cuts out sweets and potatoes, he will lose weight, but that if drunk with or after a meal, he will have a tendency to gain.

The Lions raised an additional $34.50 for the March of Dimes, which they contributed to hear a quartet composed of Dr. Pete J. Starr, Clarence Key, Fred Cole, and Wesley Sperry sing "Mule Train." The same stunt was pulled a year ago, when "Mule Train" was at the height of its popularity.

Guests were Floyd Starr of Tulsa, Okla., John Sangler of El Paso, and L. C. (Les) Plummer, a former Carlsbad Lion, who recently moved to Artesia.

Gutierrez—

At the hearing Tuesday, Gene Rice, owner of the store, said he was getting ready to close about 7:45 o'clock Thursday evening of last week, when the door was opened abruptly and two Spanish-American youths, both wearing handkerchiefs over the lower part of their faces, came in, one flourishing a .22 rifle.

Rice said they told him it was a stickup, but he thought it a prank at first. When they demanded his money, he too handed one of the youths some $1 bills from the till and three $1 bills from his billfold, he testified. Rice said the youths did not bother the cash register.

When they ran out of the store he grabbed his pistol from under the counter and started after them, Rice told the court. However, they were running down an adjacent alley when he located them and they were too far away to try to stop them.

Chief Westfall said that after the youth had been picked up by the officers at Carlsbad, he and State Patrolman A. B. Munsey took Rice to Carlsbad, where he pointed out Gutierrez and Jaquez as the two whom he believed had held him up.

The two were returned to Artesia and Jaquez directed the officers to a place in the country, where a .22 rifle was recovered, the chief testified. He said Jaquez identified it as the rifle used in the hold-up, in which he admitted having had a part.

Patrolman Lewis, on the stand, review the gist of verbal and written statements made by Gutierrez to him, in which Lewis said he admitted the robbery. He also told the patrolman he was a parole violator, he said on the stand.

Assistant District Attorney Robinson placed the signed statement in evidence as a state exhibit.

Gutierrez declined to testify in his own behalf.

He received his law degree from Washington College of Law

Park School to Co-operate in Health Study

Park school has been invited by Donald P. Cottrell, dean of the College of Education, Ohio State University, to work with a co-operative committee on school health education to participate in an experiment concerning the most urgent problems encountered by elementary school teachers and their supervisory and administrative colleagues when they undertake to provide good health education in their schools, it was announced by Walter G. Short, principal.

He said that through the schools of different types, sizes and locations, the committee hopes to be able to provide materials of practical usefulness to the schools for the solution of some of their problems.

Principal Short said the Park faculty members voted unanimously to participate.

He expects to receive from Dean Cottrell more complete details on the project in the near future.

MEDICAL SCHOOL

ACCEPTS MISS JACOBS

Miss Mary Jo Jacobs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Jacobs, has been accepted as a medical student at Women's Medical College in Philadelphia.

At present she is a pre-med student at Park College, Park Mo., from where she will graduate in June. She will enter the medical college next September.

“Rocky Mountain blizzards couldn't stop me!”

“The two winters I tested new Conoco Super Motor Oil—as one of a group picked to prove its winter wear-fighting ability—we had the worst weather in years. Blizzards came in on top of blizzards. The temperature went to the bottom and stayed there.”

“BUT MY CAR ACTED LIKE IT THOUGHT IT WAS JULY! With new Conoco Super that car performed better than it ever had. At the end of the test, with proper drains and regular care, gasoline mileage was practically as good as at the beginning.”

After a total of 386,422 miles, logged by Mr. Seefeld and other winter test drivers, Conoco engineers found no wear of any consequence! Analysis of drains showed this great oil actually stopped the dangerous accumulation of free water and acids, chief causes of winter wear. This test proved that new Conoco Super Motor Oil, with OIL-PLATING, fights off rust, corrosion and sludge. So, change to Conoco Super, now.

Have a Heart

MORE THAN HALF A MILLION people are killed annually by diseases of the heart and circulation, statistics show.

It probably has been similar in proportion, but only of recent years has much been done about it.

Signs indicate that today we may be on the threshold of important new discoveries in the treatment and control of the greatest threat to the public health today.

The opportunity to make a profitable investment in hearts is opened to us by the 1951 heart fund, which is being conducted during February by the American Heart Association and its affiliates. Locally the drive is being sponsored by the American Legion.

The association reminds us that by contributing to the heart fund we are giving nothing away. In reality, we are making a wise investment that will pay dividends in better health and longer life for many persons.

Heart disease can affect any of us at any age or standing in the community. Annually, diseases of the heart and blood vessels kill more than 600,000 Americans. In 1943, the latest year for which figures are available, the figure was 637,679 persons, representing 44 per cent of all deaths in the United States.

An estimated nine to 10 million Americans have some form of heart or circulatory disease, among them 500,000 elementary and high school children.

Untold thousands more are disabled by these diseases, which constitute a serious economic burden to society.

Medical men are probing for the causes underlying 90 per cent of the heart diseases—represented by rheumatic fever, high blood pressure and hardening of the arteries.

There is a way we all can help hasten the day when these facts become known, making possible the development of new methods of prevention and control.

Despite the gaps in our knowledge, there is still a tremendous job ahead in setting the known facts before the public in order to eliminate groundless fear and avoid needless disability.

We can support the American Heart Association in its annual campaign this month for funds.

By becoming "stockholders" in this going concern we can truly provide "New Hope for Hearts."

We urge you to invest generously in the 1951 heart fund.—A.L.B.

Senator Asks Economy

SENATOR DENNIS CHAVEZ is urging that West Point and Annapolis establish a chair on taxes and cost to teach those in these services something about this all important matter.

We agree with Senator Chavez and hope that his suggestion is accepted and carried out. We certainly agree with him we need to do a little practice of economy and efficiency in the various branches of our armed forces.

But the fact remains that we can't have this when those directing these activities are not familiar with costs, economy and taxes.

Senator Chavez pointed out, "Too many of our top officers are virtually raised in an atmosphere where money doesn't count at all. The result is they don't care what anything costs—but they want it."

Continuing, the senator said, "There is absolutely no doubt but that the armed services are extravagant in most respects, but until they get mentally conditioned on economy, there will be no regard for taxation."

Senator Chavez pointed out "that most appointees to the academies are selected at about 17 years of age and before they have learned that money has to be earned in a hard way and frugally expended."

"These youngsters are educated at the expense of the American taxpayer at a cost of about $10,000 a year. The kids don't have to worry about the money and their parents have no worries. He gets one of the finest educations and all expensive equipment is there for him to learn."

"After graduation," Senator Chavez said, "the officer is put into a good-salaried position with promotion and retirement assured. While in one of the military services he gets allowances from the government for housing and subsistence and medical care is his at any time and then there is always the post exchange where all items are available at greatly reduced prices."

"Where all of this comes from seldom occurs to him," Senator Chavez declared.

However, he stated, if the military nursed the same respect for money that the taxpayers do, then we would get a lot more out of military expenditures and probably have to appropriate a lot less money for the military.

Sounds to us like common sense.—O.E.P.

Let's Use Agencies

WE RECENTLY RECEIVED A REQUEST for the donation of space to carry advertising seeking employes for an airbase.

The request made, so the writer of the letter stated, at the request of a commanding officer of an airbase, wanted to know if we would donate the space. We were advised we would be rendering a service to the people, the state and that this information would be passed on to the higher-ups in the air headquarters.

In the first place we could see no reason for the request to be made. There are government agencies set up for the purpose of securing employes jobs. And if this air base has jobs for civilians we don't understand why they don't employ the regular agencies for this purpose.

If the agency services civilians, then why can't it serve the branches of the armed forces? And if it has no value—then let's do away with spending the taxpayers' money for this purpose.

We so advised the second lieutenant, who wrote to us. We, of course, are frank to say it is no more our responsibility to provide advertising space for the Air Force than it is the responsibility of the airplane manufacturer to provide them planes or for those furnishing the food supplies to provide them.

And if they do spend good United States money for advertising to secure civilian employes, we think they should be halted. There is no need or reason for this to be done.

They can secure the employes just as others secure them and em-

TRUTH, PLEASE COPY

The Bureau of Labor Statistics is overhauling its cost of living index. It seems the average American family has outstripped the bureau in the things that have become necessities. So a revised index will be out next month in which the cost of such things as television sets, frozen foods, baby foods, home permanent wave lotions and electric toasters will be reflected.

That's one item of news. Another is the discovery by the Federal Reserve Board that four in 10 American families have a net worth of $5000 or more and nearly one in 10 is worth $25,000 or more.

Still a third item is a report by the National Bureau of Economic Research that the 1 per cent of the population with the highest income received 13 per cent of the total income before taxes in 1939 and only 9.5 per cent in 1945. Moreover the 5 per cent of the population with top incomes fell from 23 to 19.5 per cent of the total national income.

So here we have a picture of America in which electric toasters and television sets are necessities, where families with a $5000 backlog are numerous and where the rich are getting poorer and the poor getting richer.

It is a picture that the Voice of America could profitably beam to the Russian people. Karl Marx, you will recall, said that under capitalism the capitalists would get richer and richer and the wage earners poorer and poorer, until the lot of the latter became so intolerable they would revolt.

"You have nothing to lose but your chains," the chains being television sets and toasters. $5000 assets and an increasing share in the total income.—Boston Herald.

THREE MILLION DOLLARS IN BANK

Ed Mechem started business in the highway department with almost three million dollars on hand. The cash balance was $2,309,928 and there was due from the federal government a payment of $642,174. That adds up to $2,952,102. It is almost three times the $1,071,079 that was on hand when Tom Mabry took over as governor Jan. 1, 1947. New Mexico governors tried to spend everything in sight so their successors would look bad.—Santa Fe New Mexican.

Note on holding the line in food prices: The federal bureau of Land Management at Albuquerque announced that grazing fees in 10 Western states, New Mexico included, would be advanced from 8 cents to 12 cents "per animal unit month."

Thus, while one branch of the government appeals for an increase in food prices another orders a 50 per cent increase in the fee for grazing beef and mutton.—Santa Fe New Mexican.

The best substitute for experience is being 16.—Ellaville (Ga.) Sun.

ploying the rather threadbare argument it is for the national defense isn't going to get any more reception on the part of the public.

The public is a little sick and tired of the waste and the extravagance of its armed forces—waste and extravagance in this country and our failure to provide the needs of those in service.

And we have quite a good reputation for our wastes and our needless and unnecessary expenditures. The mere fact we are preparing for a war doesn't mean we do not need to continue to practice economy.

After all, civilian employes on an air base clear through the civilian personnel on the base. The Army officers have to state their demands to this civilian director, not to the general public.—O.E.P.

Assignment

New Mexico

By G. Ward Fenley

I guess something good, besides sweating down New Mexico's arid desert, can come from storms, ice, snow, and sleet.

It's the best friend-maker and conversational-starter that has ever hit the state.

No trick at all to walk down the street and break out talking to a fellow pedestrian whom you never laid eyes on before and won't ever see again.

Thank the good Lord for bad weather.

I was out sweeping snow off the sidewalk. My neighbor, who rarely says yea or nay, yelled to me, "Ain't this sumptin?" and we were off in a good visit.

As an eye-catcher, The Gallup Independent printed the weather report upside down with the lead sentence saying: "The whole world's topsy-turvy and so is everybody in it—at least we are."

Last week, I went down to the New Mexico press convention at Hot Springs—I mean Truth or Consequences. Met a lot of guys whom I had not known personally before. Invariably the comment was: "Oh, you're that guy who catches us up on our type reports."

That was the remark of Lincoln O'Brien of Tucumcari, Las Vegas, and Farmington. That was what Bob Ingraham of Silver City said. That was Lorene Threepersons' observation. And that was Schifani's (one of the Santa Fe Schifanis—I never know which—there are so many of those brothers) greeting.

They kinda squelched me. I thought for sure they would say: "So you're the old bald-headed professor who is doing public relations work for the University of New Mexico."

So you're about my job. That's what hurt.

Of course, the Holy Writ says something about being sure your sins will find you out.

I suppose this world is so built that everybody falls into a sort of groove. You get typed and can't for h— or high water get out of character.

Well, if I'm to be known as the fiend on type howlers, I may as well play my own little part in the third-state drama of New Mexico.

So here goes.

The Socorro Chieftain says an office will be opened in that city by the Internal Revenue Department. Infernal is right and as I have told you before, I had to be born on innum-tacks day, March 15.

While operating a Texas weekly several years back, a good friend of mine had a big sign in front of his house to advertise the output of his chickens: "Infernal Eggs. You get it. I'm sure."

I think it was The Silver City Press that ran a (true) yarn last week: "John Flue has been ill of the flu the past several days."

I met Floy Wynn of The Jal Record down at Truth or Consequences also. She ran a little item about Kate Wallace saying, "This story, so far as we know, is factitious." Maybe so, Floy. Probably is.

And good old Jack Sitton (as well as Floyd Rigdon, the old cowhand) was taking in the N.M.P.A. also. Jack had a nice cutline head on a picture (Current-Events) of doctors and fathers (the plural is Doc Fenley's—A.L.B.) looking at quadruplets. It read: "Father and Doctors View New Guads." That's what I'd call 'em too if they came my way.

The Magdalena Roundup made a clever boner about the Farm and Livestock Bureau. Others last week included "guests around the super table" (Clovis News Journal); "A happy married couple" (San Juan Valley News), and in a recipe from the Albuquerque Journal: "When the beans have oiled for 20 minutes."

I also got a kick out of reading along in The Clovis News-Journal and find an operator's slug that should have been pulled: "Should be more it says here."

Many a little drama behind the scenes in a newspaper plant.

See where W. M. Pooley took a whack at me last week in The El Paso Herald-Post. Said Pooley: "Fenley says this is the world's 119th crisis and that we'll live over it just like we did the other 118. We disagree. The other crises caused by the Medes, Persians, Babylonians, Egyptians, Vandals, Huns, Tartars, Manchus, and whatnot can't compare with the one being brought on by the Roosians." O.K., Mr. Pooley. We reneague.

We'd like to sign off, after listening to so many after-dinner speakers, with Richard Arm-knecht's poem in the Wall Street Journal: My nature's unemotional, Quite stable and un-notional. But one sort of ruction upsets it. I bristle with odium. When the guy on the podium Needs no introduction—but gets it.

MARCH OF EVENTS

Connelly's Move Avoids Defeat of Troop Plan

Marine Corps May Increased to 400,000

Special to Central Press

WASHINGTON—There was a practical reason behind the promise in which Senate Foreign Relations Chairman Connally (D), Texas, agreed to let the armed services committee join his group in deciding the "troops to Europe" issue. Connally gained some extra votes by the maneuver.

The Texan had not overlooked the fact that Senator Walter George (D), Georgia, the next-ranking Democrat on the 7-6 foreign relations committee, is putting a specific limit on the number of States troops sent to Europe. This could mean a defeat for Connally's proposal to record for a troop commitment without a limit.

However, shrewd old "Tawn" knew that armed services committee, fully informed of military situation, would be less likely to take hands of the Joint Chiefs of Staff or the President with such a limitation.

So, heading off a showdown vote on the floor, Connally proposed that both committees consider the troops resolution.

Senator Tom Connally

● MARINES—Congressional sources say there is a good chance for enactment of the bill to enlarge the Marine Corps from 165,000 to 400,000 men and give the top Leatherneck a place on the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

However, the measure, offered by Senator Paul H. Douglas, Illinois, and backed by other senators, probably will be set aside. Congress completes work on "priority" legislation. Backers of the bill point out that the administration is hardly in a position to do it. President Truman, who found it necessary to apologize for reference to the Marines as a mere "police force" with a "propaganda machine equal to Stalin's," would arouse even more furious dog wrath were he to veto the Douglas bill.

Many members of Congress feel that the Marines have been passed in the general arms buildup and they are certain to support the Douglas bill as an "equalizer."

● ALASKAN DEFENSE—Alaskan air defenses are being beefed up against a possible Russian attack in event of World War III. Military authorities recently revealed that Alaska soon will have two Air Force divisions on duty.

The newly-activated Tenth Air Division has set up its headquarters at Elmendorf Air Force base. This unit is to have charge of operation and control of air defense in the Anchorage and Delta Alaska area.

Another air division, the Eleventh, will be activated early this probably within a few weeks. The Eleventh Division will be based at Ladd Field and guard the northern approaches to Alaska.

The purpose of these two new command set-ups, according to Air Force leaders, is to knit the aerial defense of the northern tier into a stronger and more centrally controlled program.

● DRAFT—The man who almost brought the draft to a halt just a few months before Pearl Harbor, will lead the fight at House against inducting 18-year-olds. He is Rep. Dewey Short, Missouri, top-ranking minority member of the House armed services committee.

In 1941, Short sponsored a motion to kill extension of the draft law, which was enacted in 1940 for a one-year period. His motion failed by one vote.

The Missouriian has said he is "unalterably opposed" to drafting 18-year-olds. He insists they are too young and not needed.

Best guess is that the House will compromise, possibly voting inductions at the age of 18 years and six months, with a promise of a half-year's training must follow induction.

CC Directors Vote To Give Council $2500 Park Check

A check of $2500, representing half of the chamber of commerce's pledged amount for improvement of Artesia Municipal Park, is to be given the city council at its next meeting.

This action was a part of the regular meeting of the chamber of commerce directors meeting held Monday night, Feb. 5.

Directors also authorized a $25 gift to Clarence Kepple Unit 41 of the American Legion Auxiliary in conjunction with the visit here March 14 of the national president of that organization.

In connection with high the directors turned down a proposal to donate money to Stockton Chamber of Commerce for a proposed sign on Highway 90, and heard Manager Bob give his opinion that Highways association was due to be dissolved by default of individual committees.

Costs of the chamber banquet held Feb. 1 were estimated at $100. A letter of thanks was ordered to be sent to Carl Schick, member of Commerce for the centerpiece to Artesia, at banquet.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

THREE old friends, all unemployed, set out together this morning to seek jobs. That evening the wife of the eldest said, "Well, Joe, what luck today?" "Sam struck it rich," said Joe. "On his first call, a fellow took him up to a desk marked 'Treasurer,' and told him he was now treasurer of the corporation." "What about Bill?" asked the wife. "Bill got a break, too," answered Joe. "A man showed him a room labeled 'Vice-president' and that's the job he gave him." "Wonderful," said the wife, "but what happened to you?" "Congratulations, mama," said Joe quizzically. "At last, I'm a gentleman."

In a corner of Zion National Park, the guide told a party of seers, "These rock formations were caused by the glaciers." One in the party asked, "What happened to the glaciers?" The guide assured her, "They've gone back to get more rocks."
