'Sweetheart Banquet' at Baptist Church Is Attended By 150 Persons

Approximately 150 boys and girls and adult workers of the intermediate department of the First Baptist Church were present for the annual "Sweetheart Banquet" held at the church at 7 o'clock Monday evening.

A Valentine theme was featured throughout the room. Centerpieces for the banquet tables were miniature white picket fences covered with red rubber roses and a center archway under which were posed two miniature lovers. Red candles were also used. A special interest center featured a cupid with bow and arrow and a large red heart. Red hearts and candles decorated the piano.

King and queen to reign over the banquet were chosen from eight knights and ladies, who were Peggy Hodges, Roy Whittington, Dewanna Berry, Phil Kranz, Margaret Belle Henderson, Glen Dale Bratcher, Jo Ann Walker and Sammy Golden.

James Herbert as "Little Sir Valentine" selected a slipper belonging to one of the ladies, declaring that whoever the slipper should fit would be queen. Peggy Hodges and her escort, Roy Whittington, were chosen to rule as queen and her king. They were crowned and the queen was presented an arm bouquet of red roses. The group sang, "Let Me Call You Sweetheart" to the couple.

A large silver frame adorned with red hearts was used to present the program, "Cupid's Capers." Glenn Bray, Charlene Johnson, Sammy Laughlin and Darla Jones were featured in the skits along with others.

For the first caper, Donald Sperry sang "The Wedding of Jack and Jill." Music for the second caper was "School Days," sung by Pat Clark and Jay Mitchell. A girls' quartet sang, "Alice Blue Gown," during the third caper. This quartet was composed of Carole Burch, Gaye Patterson, Pat Clark and Margaret Belle Henderson.

For the fourth and final caper the girls' quartet and Jay Mitchell and Donald Sperry sang, "When You Were a Tulip."

Guest speaker for the evening was Taylor McClure, Training Unit director of the First Baptist Church of Carlsbad. He spoke on "Valentine Romances."

Rev. S. M. Morgan, pastor, pronounced the benediction.

Messrs. Henry Young, W. E. Patterson, R. L. Arnold, Garland Stuart, L. H. Tennant, William Holly and Orville Chambers.

Toastmistress was Miss Nancy Mae Haynes.

Faithful Workers Have Pick-Up Coffee Thursday Morning

Members of the Faithful Workers' Class of the First Baptist Church enjoyed a pickup coffee Thursday morning at the home of Mrs. W. C. Dawson, 1105 West Mann Avenue.

CHIROPRACTIC FOR SCIATICA

Sciatica is an abnormal condition of the great sciatic nerve which pinches the nerve supply to the tissues of the thigh and lower leg. Pain is the characteristic of sciatica. Sciatica is caused by pressure on nerves due to luxated (misaligned) vertebrae pinching the nerve and thereby blocking nerve supply. The chiropractor locates the pressure, adjusts the spine to remove the pressure, thereby allowing the normal transmission of impulses and brain about a correction of condition by removing THE CAUSE.

D. E. Student Learns How To Sell Office Equipment

Clydene Grayham, distributive education pupil in Artesia high school, is employed at Sanders Office Supply. This is the third in a series of articles on distributive education pupils, published in The Artesia Advocate.

A student-worker whose job is sale of office supplies is Clydene Grayham, distributive education pupil in Artesia High School.

She is a junior and is employed at Sanders Office Supply of which Marvin Sanders is proprietor. Her work in D. E. class is based along the lines of her occupation and she has various textbooks for phases of her work.

She has the duties of clerk, types, marks merchandise, and arranges displays. Clydene waits on customers and is a friendly and courteous clerk. She is efficient in all duties. When she has no customers to wait on or any typing to do she usually dusts or straightens up the merchandise.

Clydene has to know where all the different stock is kept so that she can give her customers prompt service. This is difficult, as there are so many different papers and forms that are needed by so many of the different offices. Many times it is quite confusing when a customer doesn't know exactly what size or number of forms or kind of paper.

Knows Merchandise This is difficult, as there are so many different papers and forms that are needed by so many of the different offices. Many times it is quite confusing when a customer doesn't know exactly what size or number of forms or kind of paper.

background in the sciences, particularly physical. In the science field, the college offers majors in general science, chemistry and biology with work also in such courses as astronomy, geology, meteorology, general physics and physical science survey. These offerings present a student with the opportunity to learn either on a long range basis or on a short attendance basis in case he is called to the service.

Teacher Training In the teacher training field, New Mexico Western offers work toward the bachelors of science degree in elementary and secondary education including concentration of study for majors and minors in the above liberal arts courses, with special emphasis upon commerce, education and psychology, health and physical education and home economics.

Its teacher training is highlighted by the operation of two training schools for complete laboratory experience, Western high school and an elementary training school, both completely modern.

For Graduates What about the college's graduate program? How does it relate itself to present day needs and problems? It seems only logical to Dr. Arthur L. Bach, dean of the college and director of the graduate program, that other things being equal, the services would prefer a man with advanced educational training when there is a possible choice between two men for a specific position. In short, the ultimate placement of a man in the service may depend considerably upon the extent of his training.

Not only is placement important, however, for it stands to reason that a more extensively trained man is likely to do a better job for his country, whether as a soldier or civilian.

It must be made clear, however, that the graduate offering at New Mexico Western college is in the field of education only. Aside from any direct military value, it is for the good of the individual who plans on education as a career, to earn his advanced degrees, for professional standards are continually increasing.

With the likelihood, too, of teaching personnel leaving the ranks for military duty or war industry, increased emphasis must be placed on quality teachers to lead the nation's school children.

ON THE HOME FRONT

By BROWNIE EMERSON

Sports Activity Best Way to Fight All Paralyzing Defeatist Attitudes

Even tho it's called a "police action," good American men are being killed every day in Korea. We have not made it "officially" a war but it's war just the same.

The psychological impact is weird. The war-that-is-not-a-war (officially) has thrown mental hurdles into fans thinking and action.

It hampers action, induces caution, puts everything at a standstill.

Yet sports are a good counter-attack on that feeling that you can't pin down yet of which you are aware.

And as long as we can we should keep up interest in sports. It's a sign of a healthy mental attitude and will do more to help win the war than any "what's the use?" viewpoint.

Just Begun to Fight

Bill Bailey, sports editor of the Santa Fe New Mexican, has a whole lot of fun kidding Artesia and the Bulldogs on the old country licking the Bulldogs took from the Cavenem last November.

He writes a clever, humorous story in which he connects efforts to create a new county out of North Eddy with the licking the Bulldogs received from the Cavenem.

Bill says Artesia wants back some of that folding cabbage taken from us that bitter day.

He refers to the day "Ralph Bowyer's pugskin packers whupped Artesia's amateurs."

The word "amateurs" is simply a part of the razzing but if Bill has any idea the Bulldogs were a pushover for the Cavenem he did not see the game.

The Cavenem was the better team and they won. But any time a team can win 10 out of 12 games, Bill, that team isn't "amateur" in the sense that it's a pushover.

Artesia has no intention of backing down to Carlsbad in marbles, football or county division. It has no apologies to make for standing up for itself and has no intention of meekly tossing in the towel and saying, "Okay, Carlsbad, you're so big and strong, there's no use for us to fight."

Bill, you ain't seen nuthin' yet. Correction Department

Baseball Squad Draws 56 Players At Arizona State

Prospects are bright for the 1951 edition of the Arizona State College baseball team, which is working out under the direction of Assistant Coach Bud Younger.

Head Baseball Coach Bill Kajikawa is also the head man in basketball and will not take over the team until the end of basketball season March 5.

Forty-six men reported for diamond duty Feb. 7 and another 10 aspirants joined the squad in the first five days of practice.

Outstanding veterans returning include Jack Maddy, catcher-turned-pitcher; Harold Porter, catcher; Frank Pina, shortstop; George Trobich, first base; Ray Marino, second base; Mike Pingatore, outfield; Skeets Scanlon, outfield; Bobby Lorona, outfield and Joe Tameron, pitcher.

The Sun Devils' ace hurler, Wade Oliver, suffered a knee injury in basketball but is expected to see plenty of action on the mound this season.

The Sun Devils will play four games with the University of Arizona and series with the U.S. Naval Training Center, San Diego Marines, Camp Pendleton Marines and San Diego State.

Arizona State's baseball opener is with San Diego's U.S. Naval Training Center March 13 at Tempe.

With one exception, reserve guard Bruce Perkins of North Hollywood, Calif., the 1950-51 Arizona State College at Tempe basketball squad is an all-Artesia team. Nine different state communities are represented.

Bulldogs Barge Against Bobcats In Exit Contest

A game with the Hagerman Bobcats here tonight will end the schedule of the Artesia High School Bulldog basketball team with the exception of the subsequent tournaments.

The Bulldogs have played one game before this season with the Bobcats eking out a 21-20 win in a game there on Jan. 16.

To date the Bulldogs have played 21 games, winning eight, losing 13. The Bulldogs have lost their last seven games.

In tonight's contest referees will be Jim Marberry, University of Iowa and Harry E. Mills.

Last Friday night the Bulldogs bowed to New Mexico Military Institute of Roswell 37 to 48. The Artesia cagers in their fourth game this season edged out the Colts 40 to 38.

District tournament will be played Feb. 22-24 in Cahoon Armory, New Mexico Military Institute in Roswell. Artesia plays Roswell at 3:30 p. m. on the opening date.

The Bulldogs won a photo-finish over Roswell Coyotes in the Artesia quintet's fifth game this season, 38 to 35.

Frosh Center Still Leading Mustang Scoring

After 21 games of the 1950-51 season has been played up to Feb. 8, Freshman Center Dick Freeman, from Mishawaka, Ind., still leads the scoring on the New Mexico Western college cage team, in 19 games Dick has scored 265 points.

In the second place is forward Jim Wood from Newcastle, Ind., with 206 points. Gerry Gumbels, from Bernadillo, N. M., still holds third place, with 169 points. Tom Gable, guard from Indianapolis, moved up from fifth place to fourth replacing Ed Harter, center from Newcastle, who dropped to sixth. Mike Haynes, from Newcastle, took over the fifth place spot.

The Sun Devils of Arizona State held eight of 15 Border conference track and field records.

Phillips 66 Basketeers Snap Travelers Win Wampum 75-70

Artesia's high scoring REA Traveler basketball team had its skin of victories broken in the twenty-second contest when the locals were defeated in a photo-finish by Phillips 66 Oilers of Bartlesville, Okla., 75 to 70, in a game played at 8 o'clock Wednesday night in the Odessa, Texas, high school gymnasium.

Superior height paid off for the Oilers, National Industrial League champions and last year champions of National A. A. U. season.

In the Odessa game, seen by 1500 fans, Phillips led by from one to two points at various times, once had a 11-point lead. The break came when, with only one minute remaining in the contest, Bill Johnson of the Travelers fouled out, when the score was 72 to 70 in favor of the Oilers.

A technical foul gave the Oilers a chance for a free throw to which they quickly added a bucket, clinching their win.

Capacity of the Odessa gym is 4000. Manager Red Goodwin attributed the small crowd to weather conditions in Odessa, similar to those prevailing in Artesia this week.

The Travelers next battle will be in the District 5 Amateur Athletic Union tournament at 8 o'clock tomorrow night in the Artesia High School gymnasium when they play a composite team from Roswell.

Winner will go to the state tilt at Las Cruces, March 8-10. Next step will be the national in Denver, March 18-24.

Seventeen colleges are represented in the roster of the Phillips 66ers and the REA Travelers. Players, by squad, number, school, height, and weight:

Half-Million Dollars Spent On NM Western Building Jobs

New name has apparently meant a new college in many respects at New Mexico Western. With the immediate building and renovation program it seems as though a different institution has made its appearance on the locale of the former state teachers college.

Since the change of name to New Mexico Western, hundreds of thousands of dollars have gone into campus improvements.

Included as major improvements are the Ritch Hall remodeling and annex, Industrial Arts building expansion and physical change on Village dormitory. Initial start for all this might well have been the erection of the $175,000 field house with rollaway bleachers and a seating capacity of approximately 2500.

This expenditure is considerably lower than many similar contracts. Adjacent is a swimming pool and bath house distinctly new to Silver City.

Ritch Hall annex is probably the most noticeable change. Costing $175,000, the building has become a completely modern dormitory for girls.

It consists of spacious rooms with definitely better lighting and very modern bathing facilities including both shower and tub accommodations.

Highlighting the entrance to the building is an eye-catching color scheme of yellow and green which is carried out through all the rooms. Other bright and imaginative colors are used sparingly, but effectively throughout the building.

When all parts of the dormitory are open it will house 118 girls with an additional four rooms available for guests. Also located in the building will be a recreation room and snack bar to be found on the ground floor.

On first floor of the adjacent, original Ritch Hall building, which is now attached on identical floor levels, will be a large lounge, while upstairs' space will be used for 16 more girls. Main entrance remains located as before, but it is remodeled.

The entire dorm is fireproof and cannot be locked to outsiders, thus affording quick exit at all times in case of emergency. It can, however, be locked to outsiders.

Home Ec Taught In 'Home' House At Silver City

Home management in its practical form is being learned by home economics majors at New Mexico Western College, Silver City.

Five coeds are now living in a furnished apartment, under supervision of a home economics faculty member, and learning by doing. Name of the course is Home Management House.

It's required by national standards for a major toward the B.S. degree in the vocational curriculum offered by the home economics department.

In Home Management House coeds who are working toward vocational certification, which allows graduates to teach in any secondary school in the nation, receive federal subsidization, do their own housekeeping, cooking, purchasing and balancing of a limited budget on which they operate.

In short, they experience firsthand the complete joys and frustrations of operating a household. definite background is established whether the girls marry right away or begin teaching home economics.

Women enrolled in the six weeks' course which is being offered for the first time at New Mexico Western under official approval of the State Board of Education are:

Irma McDonald, sophomore from Silver City; Juanita Morris, senior from Silver City; Virginia Jones, senior from Silver City; newlywed, Mrs. James (Rita) Alan, senior from Hobbs, and Mrs. Loye (Janice) Bray, senior from Moorehead, Minn. Faculty supervisor is Mrs. (Wilma) Harber, associate professor of home economics.

Music has its beckoning also. A college chorus is open to all students who enjoy singing. All students who play musical instruments have a chance to enroll for orchestra and band work.

Private instruction may be received for piano and most instruments. These are more the applied results of music training. Many courses are offered for the development and encouragement of musicians.

These are only highlights of a very complete schedule of offerings. Other departments strong in offerings for women include the arts and dramatic divisions. The B.A. degree in liberal arts is conferred, plus bachelor of science degrees in education. Women also live in one of the most modern college dormitories in the nation while pursuing their choices following the recent completion of Ritch Hall.

Wilford "Whizzer" White, Arizona State's All-America football ace, traded his molokins for a basketball uniform early in January and will play forward for the Sun Devils until March, when he joins the track team. White is the current Border conference broad jump champion.

Fine Courses Offered Co-Eds At NW Western

Four years at college can be a long time. Then again, it may seem a "short, pleasant experience" if facilities available are utilized. Women interested in college courses and various offerings may find that the offering at New Mexico Western College, Silver City, is tailored to their needs.

From the academic approach, outstanding attractions might well be the home economics and commerce departments. The home economics branch strives to make the trip to the altar and the commencement living happily ever after theme an automatic part of family life.

The commerce department prepares the woman for work both before and after marriage.

Preparation for professional and home living is the general purpose of a well-rounded home economics department that ranks equally with any in the state. Practical idea is to broaden the knowledge of a girl so that she doesn't go forward on a narrow pathway. She will have a varied background, all well-developed for practical self use.

Such courses as home planning, clothing and textiles, foods and interior decorating, among others, help to take care of the physical part of home life. Human care is emphasized under classes that dwell upon family life, child care and development and methods.

A recently planned program at NMW consists of students actually living as a group or family in a school financed apartment. Five senior majors and an instructor spend a period of six weeks in a completely furnished apartment.

This provides pleasant homework 24 hours a day that actually becomes pleasant living. Food preparations and house care come as naturally as the giving of a tea, buffet supper or formal dinner that is also a part of the training period.

The whole curriculum of home economics is to make available all those phases relating to family life. It not only intends to prepare the individual for a profession, but also wants to give basic training for practical home needs. Students are not required to be either majors or minors to participate in these courses.

Commerce
Another major attraction for women at New Mexico Western is a balanced commerce department. Whether your objective is commercial teacher-training or technical training for the business field, either may be acquired.

A thorough secretarial training course for stenographers and other administrative courses are offered. Actual use of office machines and office techniques are made ready for use. A survey of labor problems from all viewpoints will help one to better understand business aspects. With this type of complete training, any girl can look forward to being something other than just another girl in the office.

To the outdoor type of girl, most appealing courses might be the ones under the health and physical education departments. This department offers both majors and minors for the preparation of athletic instructors.

Courses other than general physical education and various individual and group sports extend all the way to dancing.

Study progressing from fundamental movement techniques of elementary modern dance to the study of advanced techniques and form can be learned in relation to education.

Various other dance instruction opportunities are offered. History of physical education, plus first aid and emergency treatment are included. All of these are offered for both teaching possibilities and for normal life circumstances.

Music
Music has its beckoning also. A college chorus is open to all students who enjoy singing. All students who play musical instruments have a chance to enroll for orchestra and band work.

Private instruction may be received for piano and most instruments. These are more the applied results of music training. Many courses are offered for the development and encouragement of musicians.

Kiwanians Hear Church Educator

All political thinking brought into line with a God, Dr. Walter Barlow, director of the department of life and ethics of the board of Christian education of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America, told Kiwanians at their regular luncheon at noon yesterday at the Kiwanis Club.

Dr. Barlow went from Artesia to Carlsbad for an appearance there last night, then to Las Cruces tonight. He is making a tour through synods of New Mexico in conjunction with a promotional work of the general council of his church. His home is in Philadelphia.

"A new basis of confidence facing life," Dr. Barlow said, deeper thinking and faith in God. Other excerpts from his talk:

"It doesn't matter what we believe so long as we live right. We want the man who leads us to know the truth about business, not generalities and empty thinking.

National Guard, at 8 o'clock Sunday morning at the armory, 401-11 West Centre, will also mark assembly of the battalion staff officers in Artesia.

There are 10 in the group, two from Artesia. They are Major William C. Thompson, acting battalion Commander, and Garland Stuart, warrant officer junior grade, assistant S-4.

Others are Major Ivan H. McGee, S-3, Capt. William Reeves, liaison, both of Roswell; Capt. Morris C. Barnett, S-4, Hobbs; Capt. Robert D. Jenkins, communications; Capt. Thomas B. Thornton, S-2; First Lt. Robert L. Bunnell, assistant S-3.

Major Raymond B. Rounds, regular army, who is also stationed in Carlsbad, will also be present.

Attending the battery's regular weekly drill here Wednesday night were Captain Othick and Master Sgt. Delton Holmes, army instructor. Sergeant Holmes is also from Carlsbad.

'Again Pioneers' Is to Be Shown At Parish Hall

"Again Pioneers," a motion picture released by the Protestant Film Corporation, will be shown in the parish hall of the First Presbyterian Church at 7 o'clock Sunday evening under the sponsorship of the Westminster Fellowship, the youth group of the church.

It was announced that because of the importance of the film, the showing will be open to the public with no admission charge. However, a free-will offering will be taken.

The picture stars Colleen Townsend, who a few weeks prior to the film was made last October surrendered her movie contract with Paramount and went into Christian work in education as a member of the First Presbyterian Church in Hollywood.

Co-starring with Miss Townsend is Sarah Padden, as Ma Ashby. The story is about Ken Keeler, a prominent real estate man in Fairview, who has planned to destroy the ramshackle homes in "the Patch," a migrant settlement in the outskirts.

Through the influence of his daughter, Sally, played by Miss Townsend and his contact with the Ashby family, Christian migrants, Keeler is made to think of the members of his church as hypocrites, which sets the plot for the dramatic story.

The picture was filmed in Hollywood with the assistance of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer. In it are a number of authentic scenes of camp for migratory farmers. "Again Pioneers" will be the first full-length picture to be shown on the new 16-millimeter visual education movie equipment installed some time ago by the Presbyterian Church.

It is expected about 50 members of the Hobbs Westminster Fellowship will be here Sunday evening as guests.

After the showing of the movie, the young people and their guests will have a snack supper and social hour.

The movie film was procured by the visual education committee of the church, Harold Strand, chairman and Mrs. Ed Kinney and William Bennett, members.

It was not until 1818 in the United States that white became the "official" nuptial color.

U.S.-Mexican Ag Labor Agreement Expires July 1

Carl C. Foster, manager of the New Mexico State Employment Service office in Artesia, on Wednesday received a telegram from M. R. Salazar, state director, that the present international agreement between the United States and Mexico regarding the contracting of Mexican nationals for agricultural labor will remain in force until next July 1.

The telegram said no border recruiting will be permitted, but that contract centers will be located at Chihuahua, Hermosillo and Monterrey in the Mexican interior.

The tentative date for setting up the center at Hermosillo is Feb. 25. However, no date was given for the opening of the center at Chihuahua, which is the one nearest and most convenient for this section and which probably will be used by Pecos Valley farmers, Foster said.

Salazar, quoting information from the regional office, said it has been agreed to submit figures to the Mexican government concerning the numbers to be contracted at each of the three centers between the present and next July 1.

Requests for recontracting after one year may be approved by individual consults, the telegram said.

Information, to be submitted to the regional office, was sought in the telegram. This is the numbers to be contracted between now and July 1 by state, month and contracting center to be utilized and numbers to be requested on contracts of those in force for one year between now and July 1 by state and months.

Foster said that to this end he recently sent letters to farmers in this area, requesting information on their farm-labor needs, but that to date he has received few replies, indicating the farmers do not anticipate needs for contracting "braceros."

The employment office manager requested that farmers figure out what they expect their farm labor needs will be and reply to his letters as quickly as possible, so he can report to the state director and he in turn to the regional office.

Foster said farmers in this locality probably will not need additional Mexican agricultural labor before about May 15, when they will be used for chopping cotton.

The local New Mexico State Employment Service office is located at Room 224, Ward Building, 329 West Main Street.

law officers with whom we have been of mutual assistance, while they at the same time realize they are subject to our criticism and public spanking should such ever become necessary.

We are happy to report, however, that we have seldom had to take such action, for we have found that most all officers—especially those who are well trained—are co-operative not only with us but with the public in general.

In many cases this is because the officers have attended FBI-conducted schools and have received the benefit of the methods employed by that great law-enforcement body.

We are happy that there are such schools from time to time and know that the school here next week will be of benefit to officers in the various groups.

And we hope to be able to attend at least some of the sessions so as to further our own knowledge for such things as are taught are of great value to a newsman.

We may have missed one or two in our observations, but we believe there were only four flags flying on Main Street Monday, which was Lincoln's birthday.

Perhaps there would not have been one, had not M. A. Sams stopped it early that morning and reminded us of the day. After we put our flag out, the others appeared within an hour or two.

The flag also flew over Artesia General Hospital that day. And, as is the daily custom, it flew over the post office and the Veterans Memorial Day. But displaying the flag was generally overlooked.

However, we will all have another occasion to display the Stars and Stripes Thursday of next week, Washington's Birthday.

We sincerely hope we will be able to count more than four on Main Street.

tesia and one from Hobbs in Lea County which is districted with Eddy in the upper house.

In the House, Sittou reported, there have been six House members from Carlsbad, seven from Artesia and 16 from Lea County.

On a year basis, the Senate district has been represented by Carlsbad men for 18 years, Artesia men for 16 years and Hobbs men for four years. In the House, Carlsbad men have served 22 years, Artesia men 16 years and Hobbs men 34 years.

Pat Murphy, school superintendent at Carlsbad, said the splitting of the county would divide "our presently good rural school system into two small, expensive and inefficient systems, making it absolutely impossible for either county to have good rural schools."

Murphy also hit at Artesia proposal to include parts of two townships now attached to the Carlsbad school district and which have rich potash potentialities.

If the bill receives a favorable vote when it goes to the floor of the Senate, it will then go to the House county lines and boundaries committee and from there to the House for action. If successful there, it will go to Gov. Edwin L. Mechem for his consideration.

In the Senate hearing, each side was allowed 45 minutes for direct presentation of the case and 10 minutes for rebuttal.

Vaccine Use to Prevent Epidemic Flu Recommended

In view of the present influenza epidemic in some sections at this time, including the Hobbs and Roswell communities, members of the staff of Artesia General Hospital and local druggists on Tuesday night discussed the availability of the last three or four years of influenza virus vaccine and recommended its use at times when an epidemic is threatened or in progress.

The joint meeting of physicians and druggists was held after the regular staff meeting.

At the same time preventive methods for other diseases were discussed.

It was brought out that the influenza virus vaccine has been shown to protect about 80 per cent

Youngsters Put On Tumbling Act For Rotary Club

A group of 15 boys and three girls from the sixth, seventh, and eighth grades gave a demonstration of tumbling and mat work under the direction of Junior High School Coach Ray Hall at the weekly luncheon meeting of the Artesia Rotary Club Tuesday noon.

They did a number of different rolls, kip-up with and without hands, assisted handsprings, consecutive handsprings and handstands, and various other tumbling numbers, finishing with the forward flip, the most difficult they have learned to date.

Prior to the entertainment put on by the boys and girls, Earl Cox was inducted into the club by T. Stovall, who explained the four aims and objects of Rotary.

Assisting Stovall were President Charlie Bullock and Past Presidents R. L. Paris, Bert Muncy, Jr., A. P. (Doc) Mahone, M. G. Schulze, Dr. D. M. Schneberg, Boone Barnett, and Thad Cox.

President Bullock presented four-year and two-year perfect attendance pins, respectively, to John Mathis, Sr. and Fred Jacobs.

Tot Contest To Be Part of 'Going Places'

A "Tiny Tot Contest" will be held in conjunction with the presentation of "Going Places" on Wednesday and Thursday evenings of next week, Feb. 21-22, in the high school auditorium under the auspices of the United Veterans Club.

The question of who the winners will be determined by votes at a penny each with polling places located in the stores of leading merchants. The winners will be named "King" and "Queen" of Toyland and be presented on the stage in a scene called "The Kiddie's Birthday Party."

Contestants are between the ages of 1 day and 6 years and the only requirements for eligibility are two photographs, one for a window display at the Style Shop and the other for display elsewhere. The deadline for entering is noon Wednesday, Feb. 21, with Mrs. Jack Rogers, phone 089-J1.

The contestant list to date includes Patti Beth Rogers, Wesley Jones, Jr., Jimmy McPherson, Janie Lou Sanders, Mike Goss, Robert Southard, Lynette Harwell and Sandra Jane Heckle.

New contestants and their stand-ins will be placed in the window at the Style Shop daily.

Newsletters to Be Sent GI's By Student Council

Under the sponsorship of the Student Council and being underwritten by the Artesia Rotary Club, a newsletter will be sent to all those young men and women, formerly of Artesia High School, now in the armed services.

The letter will be published once a month and will be sent anywhere mail can be taken.

Persons having sons, daughters or husbands in the service who they think might enjoy a newsletter of this type, activities of the school or news of their former chums in school were invited to turn in their names and addresses.

Such information may be mailed to Box 1113, Artesia, or turned in to T. Stovall, principal of Artesia Senior High School and names will be entered on the mailing list.

Artesians Will Attend Lincoln Day Dinner

SENATOR BRICKER

A number of Artesia people are planning to attend a Lincoln Day dinner at the Alvarado Hotel in Albuquerque Saturday night, at which Senator John W. Bricker, Ohio Republican, will be guest speaker.

Other speakers will include Gov. Edwin L. Mechem and Gen. Patrick H. Harty.

John Knorr of Roswell, state Republican chairman, will open the meeting and introduce as master of ceremonies Albert K. Mitchell of Albert, national committeeman. Also in attendance will be Mrs. E. L. Moulton of Albuquerque, national committeewoman.

The Lincoln Day dinner tickets will be $10 each.

Maljamar Items

(Mrs. Kenneth Shields)

Mr. and Mrs. Vester Sanders of Denver City, Texas, were visitors of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Hatfield on Sunday. Mrs. Sanders visited until Wednesday. The group went to El Paso and Juarez on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Davis are now located in Albuquerque and have residence with Rev. and Mrs. James Barton, formerly of Maljamar.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Kelley had as houseguests Friday night of last week Mr. and Mrs. Ed Taylor and family. On Saturday Mrs. Kelley attended a dance recital in Carlsbad, in which her granddaughter, Sharon, participated.

Those ill from flu last week were Mrs. R. O. Blanton, Mrs. Oscar Goodman, Peggy Vowell, Dick Hunter, Lon McKinstry, and Ronnie King.

Rev. Otis Edwards and son, Raymond, of Hobbs, were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Artice O. Vowell on Sunday. That night Rev. Edwards showed movies at the church of the Navajo Indians of New Mexico missionaries.

Henry Payne received his call to the army Saturday. He and "Ma" Payne were to visit his sisters, Mrs. H. M. Sims and Bernice Payne of Amarillo, this week.

The Maljamar Roping Club met at the Maljamar Cafe Friday night of last week. Plans were made for a dance in the near future and a play was discussed that is to be put on early in the spring. Plans were made to rearrange the roping pens.

Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Isaacs and Larry spent last week end visiting Mr. and Mrs. Zilmer Glover of Snyder, Texas.

Mrs. L. J. Kelly spent Wednesday of last week visiting Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Cranford in Artesia.

Gene, John, and Annett Pruitt of Lovington were guests of their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Kelly, on Saturday of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Artice O. Vowell had as dinner guests Friday evening of last week Miss Virginia Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. Wick Price of Lovington.

A birthday dinner was given Sunday for Mrs. Dewey Hall of Loco Hills at the home of Rev. McClendon. Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Darrel Johnson, and Mr. and Mrs. Harmon Thermond Flynn and daughters of Maljamar.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Holeman had as dinner guests Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Zaek Taylor of T. tum and Mr. and Mrs. Dru Taylor.

Mr. and Mrs. Zilmer Glover have left Maljamar and their friends did not have time to give them a farewell party. A number of their close associates gave a donation for one nice gift for them. They have purchased a new home in Snyder, Texas, and it was decided that two beautiful red lamps would be bought for their home. Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Blakely and Patricia took the gifts to the Glover family last Sunday.

Mrs. M. P. Blakely was hostess for the Kewanee Sewing Club at the home of Mrs. Ralph McGill Thursday of last week. Individual cherry pies with small hearts in the centers, red punch and a Valentine were placed on each plate and served the members, Mmes. M. I. McIntire, Artice O. Vowell, Kenneth Shields, Dru Taylor, Gilbert Iverson, Ralph McGill, and H. C. Hunter.

Dru Taylor celebrated his birthday Wednesday evening of last week by having all the Wednesday prayer meeting group at his home after the meeting. Birthday cake and coffee and cocoa were served.

CONCERNING NEW MEXICO
By Will Robbison

Probably by the time this appears in print, Senator John Morrow will have introduced in the Legislature a bill officially creating the "Kit Carson Memorial Park." The site of the park surrounds the little cemetery at Taos where General Carson, mountain man and famous Indian fighter, is buried.

A committee headed by Mrs. Maran Estergreen talked to Governor Mechem last week concerning their plans to facilitate passage of the bill for $40,000 to purchase the 19 acres of Taos Foundation, Inc., property. Governor Mechem, Congressman John J. Dempsey, and Charles Roehl, state park director, have approved the park project, and all have agreed with Rupert F. Asplund, director of the park commission, that the land is worth the price asked. Mrs. Estergreen points out that the land is well worth the price asked, that the land is already a beautiful park and that no landscaping is necessary. She thinks that the memorial park will be a fitting memorial to the famous Indian fighter, who loved Taos so much that he asked to be buried there.

Last year Miss Williams, Taos Foundation president, gave the state of New Mexico first option to purchase the land. However, she says, if the land is not purchased in this legislative session it will be put on the market at a much higher price.

It remains to be seen if the Legislature thinks that Kit Carson is worthy of commemoration. Colorado would like to have Carson moved to Fort Garland, "where this most famous of scouts can be properly honored," as The Rocky Mountain News states. To back up its contention of interest, Colorado has already restored General Carson's famous old Fort Garland.

There are other angles to the matter than appear on the surface. One is that the Masons are deeply interested in the matter, as General Carson was one of the noted craftsmen of his time. It takes time to set the contributive machinery of the ancient craft working however.

Yeggs are busy over on the east side. One night last week they entered five business houses at Elida and got away with around $1000 in the cash registers. While this was going on, Clovis was being raided the same way and the cops think that a bunch of professional burglars are milking that side of the state.

Editor Gordon Greaves of The Portales News, ancient enemy of the Chinese elms, remarking on the fact that the county commissioners are talking about removing the trees so as to get a good stand of grass around the county building. Like a good Rotarian, Greaves suggests a remedy. It is simple enough. Forget the lawn and start selling fertilizer from under the present Starling roosts!

It took The Portales News to recall that on Feb. 2, 1911, one Thomas J. Mabry was in the newspaper business at Clovis, and on that day issued a humdinger of a special edition. Incidentally The Clovis Journal, an obscure paper now, said to be published at the capital of Curry, got out a 20-page "Statehood Edition," which had a lot of ads.

One of the interesting revelations in the movement to straighten out the street snarls in Albuquerque seems about to spoil the fame of one thoroughfare that now runs north and south and east and west! The committee is making real progress in the movement, considering the fact that necessary changes are not as many as might be expected considering the passage of time and the unawareness of the early-day settlers that the town was to have more than 100,000 population in a short lifetime.

It all depends on the weather as to the pilgrimage of this writer to Roswell to attend the annual "Past Exalted Ruler's Night" of the Elks. That would carry the honor of sitting next to Gov. Jim Hinkle, the first exalted ruler of the herd. Still great as such an honor would be, it were somewhat costly. It would mean an auto trip of 450 miles!

The Red Cross drive at Albuquerque in March, will have an objective of $60,000, and it is going to take all of the steam of the directors, Gwynn Hoyt and Mrs. Harry Cornelius, to get it. That is a lot of money, and the drive follows close after the polo drive, which is running behind in every county in the state, just how much will be apparent in a few days, when the returns are in.

There is a right smart lot of stored grain in New Mexico at this time, 4,222,000 bushels of sorghum, 736,000 bushels of wheat, 401,000 bushels of barley, 696,000 bushels of corn, and 202,000 bushels of oats.

Belatedly trying to make 'em overlook the fact that The Portales Daily News forgot all about the annual "Peanut Week." Editor Greaves is whooping 't up for every citizen to carry a sack of goobers, and munch them at all public places, and then just broadcasting the hulls! That would be a reminder, all right.

The AP announcement that the recent snickersnee spoiled practically all of the broccoli in the Rio Grande Valley from the coast to and including the Mesilla Valley, might be worse news. A good bit of it was spoiled, anyhow.

Apparently the citizens of Cimarron haven't heard of the debate whether write-ins are legal or not. They elected Harold Lambert to the school board, by way of the lead pencil. Here, as at other towns in Colfax County, the vote was unusually heavy for a school election. Senator John Morrow of Colfax County would set aside a fund of a thousand snickers to make sure of a good exhibit from each county at the Albuquerque fair. The county commissioners now have no authority to boost the game.

The people of Raton cast 1503 ballots at the recent school election, one of the heaviest turnouts in history. Then it went on and elected Ray Durratt and Cornell Romero, two darned good men, as directors.

Floyd Childress of Roswell showed the fleece from a Corriedale ram at the state show that copped all of the prizes. The wonderful job of hair weighed 20 1/2 pounds, quite a ways ahead of the sure-winning 15-pound fleeces a few years ago. Jake Gross and Mrs. A. D. Jones, also of God's country, pulled down prizes for fine wools.

The baby born at the Sands, nearest to midnight on Feb. 21, will be officially named "Bond Baby of America." Some 14 expectant mothers have red-white-and-blue diapers ready, just in case.

To The Underground Water Users of the Roswell Artesia Basin in Chaves and Eddy Counties:
We all realize the seriousness of our water problems, the growing scarcity of water and the general lowering of the water in our wells. It is the duty of the Pecos Valley Artesian Conservancy District and the State Engineer to assist all water users in their problems and to help them conserve and obtain full benefit of all waters that can be used for irrigation. It is also our duty to prevent every type of waste and illegal use of water.
To accomplish this two-fold purpose, we would like to make it public that it is our intention to have men in the field who will be glad to assist you in any capacity. Constant vigil will be kept and study made of measures to curtail waste of water, and the prosecution of all violators and illegal use will be vigorous.
We believe that we will receive the wholehearted support of all legitimate water users and we would like to impress upon you that these endeavors are taken for your benefit.
Please do not hesitate to call upon us when you believe we can be of assistance.

That Time's Here Again

PERHAPS BY THE TIME this appears in print, we will be having some real winter again, but at this moment, it is balmy and spring-like. And it brings to mind that it's time for our perennial editorial about trimming trees before the sap starts to flow.

There's no doubt but what if the weather continues as it is as this is written it will not be many weeks until the buds begin to swell more rapidly as the sap starts up the trunks and into the branches.

And then one day the fruit trees will be in bloom—probably to be caught by late frost or a freeze and cut us out of prospects of fruit, as happens so often.

But we were going to talk about trimming the trees, which should be done before that time.

It will not take much looking to realize that hundreds of Artesia trees are shaggy and unsightly. And if the looking does not convince one, he need only walk a few blocks to find out, for the low-hanging branches are quite evident, as they brush one's hat or smack him in the face.

If we are to have as pretty a city next spring and summer as we should, then the trees should be trimmed. And now is the time to do the job.—A.L.B.

One Wing Is Empty

ONE WING OF THE CARRIE TINGLEY Crippled Children's Hospital at Truth or Consequences is empty and shut off from the rest of the hospital.

It has been empty and unused for a good many years now, not used because ample funds are not available for the operation of this part of the hospital.

Some 35 to 40 more crippled children could be given attention and care if funds were made available. The number of children receiving medical care, and attention could be increased from around 70 to about 100 or more if the funds were made available.

Various efforts have been made at different times to obtain these additional funds. The matter has been discussed pro and con and even members of the Legislature have voiced considerable concern about this matter.

Recently the members of the New Mexico Press Association visited the hospital. They saw the children in their wards, at play and being entertained. They were impressed with the cleanliness of the hospital and its neatness. They were impressed with the kitchen of the hospital and some estimated it was adequate to provide food for many more children than are in the hospital today.

There are many children over the state who need the surgical care as well as hospital care in order to avoid and escape being crippled the rest of their lives.

Crippled children's hospitals over the nation have done and are doing an outstanding job in preventing children from being crippled and handicapped the remainder of their lives.

But for this work to be carried out and for the children to be given this care and attention they must be admitted to the hospital. And there must be room for them in the hospital and funds to provide the care for them.

Many who have visited the hospital are firmly convinced that one of the most important things we can do in this state is provide the funds needed for the children's hospital and they are also convinced that we could find ways and means to do just this. They feel that funds are being spent for several things in the state now which are not as badly needed as the funds for the Carrie Tingley Crippled Children's Hospital.—O.E.P.

Will Enforce Laws

THE HIGHWAY PATROL OFFICERS' COMMISSION has issued orders for the highway patrol not only to enforce the laws regarding gambling but to enforce all of the laws not being enforced.

And this position of the commission was reiterated by Gov. Edwin Mechem at the annual mid-winter meeting of the New Mexico Press Association.

Governor Mechem pointed out in his brief talk there that the laws which created the New Mexico Highway Patrol provided for these patrolmen to enforce the law wherever and whenever they encountered violations.

He declared that as long as he was a member of the commission he would continue to recommend that the laws of the state be enforced and the law be fulfilled.

There certainly is no question but what the other members of the commission will go along on this recommendation of the governor since he names the members of this commission.

But over the state it has been a well-known fact that gambling has prevailed and that slot machines have been operated. There were many places in the state where this condition and this situation prevailed prior to the grand jury investigations in Dona Ana County.

Following that investigation most of these operations were halted. However, there have been renewed efforts to resume the operation of slot machines as well as other gambling devices.

In some instances, law enforcement officers in the cities and counties where this situation prevailed are the same today as they were prior to the grand jury probe and while gambling was almost wide open.

So it is encouraging to those who have been familiar with these efforts to resume gambling operations and who desire that the laws be enforced to know that the highway patrolmen will enforce the law when it is not being enforced.

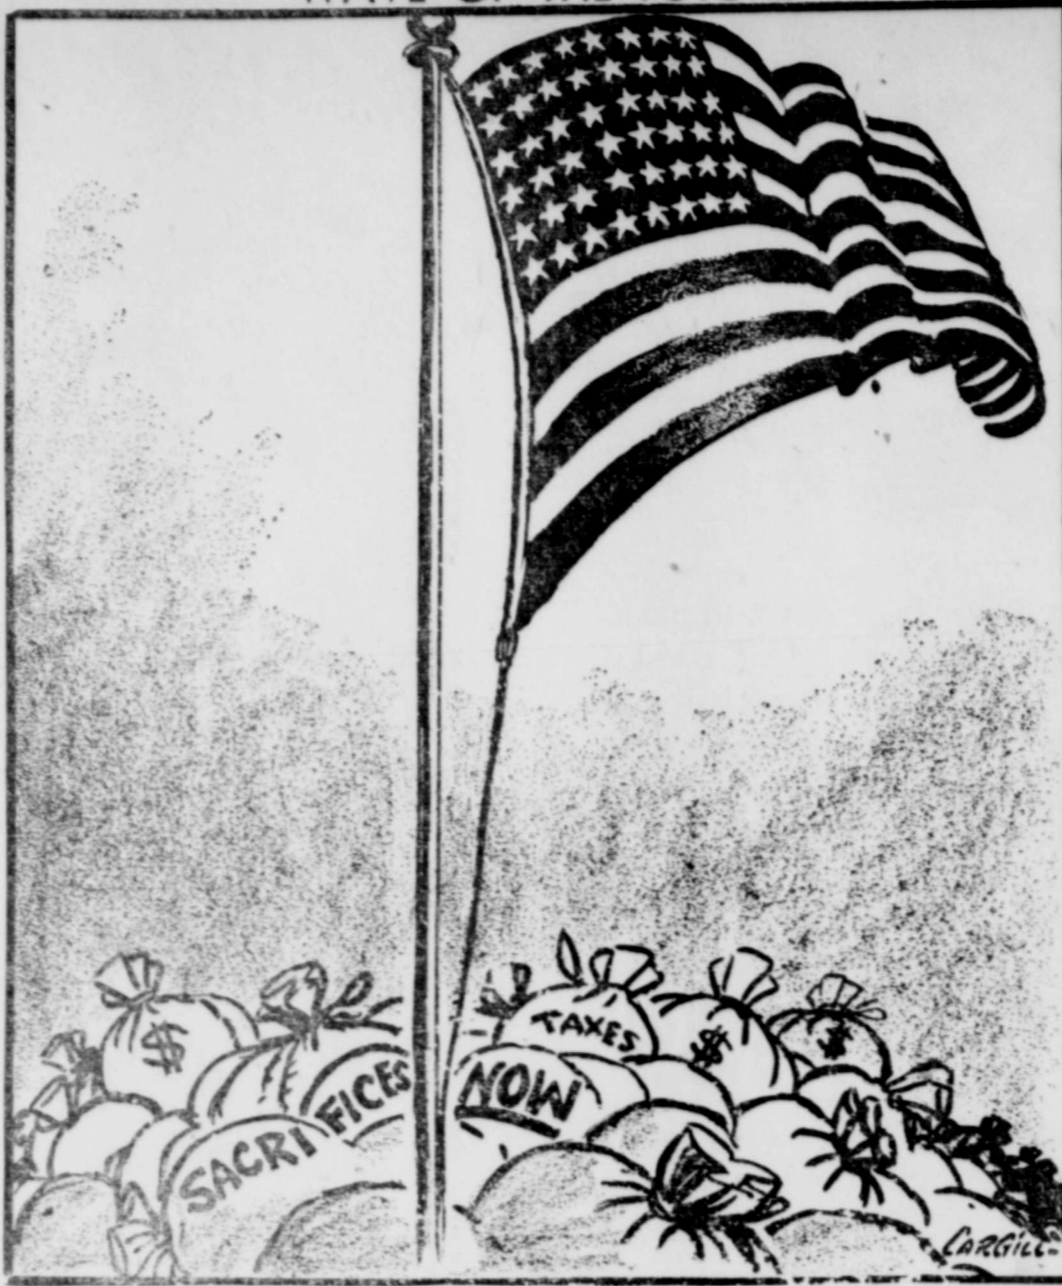

In Dona Ana County, where certain gambling operations were carried on in the southern part of the county, it is a well-known fact that periodic checks are made by the highway patrolmen.

Highway patrolmen today seemingly have a free reign for the first time to carry out their sworn duties and to keep the oath they take when they don the uniform of a highway patrolman.—O.E.P.

An English ape returned to its owner after being taken more than 100 miles from home. A boomerang-outang!

The Army has abolished the Cavalry. If they'd done that a few years ago the Sioux would now own North Dakota.

WAVE OF THE FUTURE

What Other Editors Are Saying

VS. SOCIALIZED MEDICINE

The most outspoken objection to socialized medicine to come from the American labor movement was recently voiced by William L. Hutcheson, general president of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners. Other leading men in the American Federation of Labor also have opposed the plan, but quietly as a rule. Some witnessed the difficulties of administering sick benefits in their own unions years ago and felt the weaknesses of such a program too great for adoption by the federal government.

When Mr. Hutcheson believes strongly in a policy and deems the time advisable, he steps out and fights for it. He sent his message to a meeting of the American Medical Association, whence it was broadcast nationally. He also pointed out that the carpenters' union (735,000 members) at its annual convention this fall had voted down a resolution to support the National Health program. This is President Truman's project of a national, governmental system of compulsory medical care insurance.

The carpenters' president protested against socialized medicine for the United States partly because of its record in Great Britain where, he said, despite tremendous costs it still did not give equal service to all. He noted that its estimated expense for 1950-51 showed an increase of 345 per cent over what was expected in 1946, when the bill was passed. Socialized medicine, he also argued, would be only the first bite out of the free enterprise system in the United States. Once accepted in the States, it would lead to further nationalization.

The AFL's endorsement of compulsory health insurance some years ago was directed by top leadership. It was not the result of a widespread rank-and-file enthusiasm among the members. It is now evident from the hostility of President Hutcheson and the carpenters' union that the entire rank and file of the AFL membership does not go along today.—Christian Science Monitor.

THE UBIQUITOUS BEER CANS

Both as taxpayers and as employees of the State Highway Department, we were interested in an editorial appearing in The Silver City Enterprise Nov. 23, 1950.

The writer called attention to the rubbish picked up along the Silver City-Central highway for the sixth time in 1950. But the thing about the editorial of greatest interest was the cost in dollars to the taxpayers. It took two days for four men to remove rubbish that was 90 per cent composed of beer cans and bottles. The cost in wages and the truck they used amounts to $396 a year just for keeping the highway clean.

The distance between Silver City and Central is eight miles, which indicates that it costs $49.50 a mile per year for rubbish removal, or $44.55 to pick up beer bottles and cans. There are 8400 miles of highways in New Mexico under maintenance. Taxpayers expect the Highway Department to keep the roadside clean, as well as to keep the road in repair. If we did so on the 8400 miles under maintenance and applying the cost per mile of keeping the Silver City-Central highway clean, we find that nearly $375,000 a year would be used from the maintenance funds for housekeeping purposes; $375,000 is the cost of keeping all the highways of the state clear of snow for six years. Or for $375,000, the maintenance department can seal 175 miles of paved surface.

Such expense would be nearly one-tenth of the total budget of the maintenance department for the fiscal year 1949-50.

It seems that the thoughtless people, or to quote the editorial writer, those with "no brains whatsoever," are doing more damage than they realize.—New Mexico Magazine.

WELL AIMED MEASURE

A bill, based upon a sentimental subject, is offered to the State Legislature, which will meet approval of every person in New Mexico who is familiar with the pieces written a generation ago by Eugene Manlove Rhodes.

It provides that New Mexico A. & M. College shall have the responsibility of taking care of the grave of Rhodes, taking whatever monies are necessary for the purpose from the general fund of the college, "to the end that the last resting place of one of New Mexico's most valiant souls shall not suffer from decay, wind, rain and the passage of time after the family and friends of Gene Rhodes have gone to be with him in the Great Beyond."

The body of Rhodes is buried on top of the San Andreas Mountains in Sierra County and a monument was erected to his memory there by the artists and writers of New Mexico.

Gene Rhodes' name is one that is loved by thousands and it is probable that he did more to make New Mexico a part of the section's permanent literature than any other person.

Not long ago some of his stories were reprinted in order that a younger generation might become familiar with the man whose name is closely connected with an earlier time in a pioneer state.

No doubt the Legislature will enact the measure that calls for constant care of the writing man's last resting place.—Roswell Record.

Assignment New Mexico

By G. Ward Fenley

I must be out of touch with modern thought: I do not believe the youth of our nation is going to the dogs. It's funny how so many get the mistaken idea that modern-day kids are all bad.

Last week, I got hold of a theme written by a New Mexico high schooler. Here's part of what he said:

"America, to me, is a bowl of Wheaties for breakfast, a football game on Saturday, and church on Sunday. America is that old crooked fishing pole and Mom's black-berry pie. America means that chicken in the pot, Irish potatoes on the stove, electric lights, and freedom from want, dictatorial politicians, and enforced beliefs from powers above."

I got to wondering if we as adults have a better understanding of what America stands for than the 'teen-ager.

Let's not be "Pollyannish" about the affair and say that everything in America is perfect. 'Tain't so. But as my mother used to say, "it's the best life I have seen yet."

I think one of the best things about our nation is our ability to laugh at and with one another. Blessed is the person with a good sense of humor.

Charlie Faught of Raton must have a keen sense of the ridiculous. After picking out "no non-sensical items from The Raton Range, Charlie wrote me that "may I have that again, and slower, please," attitude.

The items: "Wet snow promises 18 carriers in eight cities" and "Rail switchmen's second wildcat strike in six weeks hits Red China mainland."

And Ed Guthmann, Springer, who likes to gouge Jimmy Barber just on general principles—if nothing else—wondered what The Raton Range meant in a recent obituary notice. The Range said the person who died last week retired nearly 100 years ago.

Wrote Ed: "That's what you would call a life of ease, even into the hereafter—if you're a believer of reincarnation."

Bob Ingraham of The Silver City Enterprise gets a lot of fun out of life laughing at himself.

Last week he ran a yarn saying Grant County was offering to pay a bounty of $500 each for coyotes and $25 each for mountain lions. Funny what a little pride will do.

Since the story appeared, Grant county coyotes are so stuck up they are not speaking to ordinary animals; mountain lions are so depressed they're leaving for Arizona; and Bob Ingraham has departed for parts unknown until he can explain the typo error to his public.

I saw where Karl Broadley of The Portales Tribune apologized for calling the Portales dog catcher J. H. Robinson instead of Roberson.

An aside to A. L. (Pot) Bert of Artesia (this is not to enter the Eddy County partition argument): "Installation" is synonymous with "installation." Pot took me to task for what he called my typo boner last week. Mr. Webster is on my side, Pot.

And in The Silver City Enterprise last week, the editor said: "Some of the big dogs, Great Danes and Mastifs, have a bad habit of placing their paws on your shoulders and licking your face." I guess he meant that when you've turned and are running from them.

That's all this week except the definition of a husband: It's a man who sticks with his wife through troubles she would never have had if she had not married him.

Loco Hills Items

(Mrs. Earl Smith)

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Jackson and son, Eddie Glen, have purchased and moved into the trailer house just east of the postoffice. Mr. Jackson is employed by Skelly Oil Company.

Mrs. Geneva Sturgen and daughter, Judy, and Mrs. Mary Hill of Artesia spent Sunday here visiting Mrs. Sturgen's mother, Mrs. Ed Jackson. The group went to Roswell in the afternoon.

Miss Duluth Richardson and Mrs. L. D. Richardson spent Tuesday in Artesia as guests of Mrs. Ernest Thompson.

Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Whitefield, Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Richardson, and Jewel Heard were in Pecos, Texas, Sunday on business.

Mr. and Mrs. J. U. Meador of Carlsbad were guests Wednesday of last week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wier.

George Wier returned Sunday from an Artesia hospital, where he was confined several days.

Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Steel visited the first part of the week with her brother, Rev. J. Roys Haynes, Mrs. Haynes and children. Mrs. Haynes is teaching the fourth grade in Ackerly this year.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Courville and sons attended the Valentine box supper at Maljamar Saturday night of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Davis visited several days last week in Coleman, Texas.

Rev. and Mrs. E. J. Hollis spent Saturday of last week in Otis, N. M. Mrs. G. A. Westall and children, Sandy and Ray; Mrs. W. A. Hammond and children, Wally, Charmain, Paula, and Janice, and Jackie

Inside WASHINGTON MARCH OF EVENTS

Truman Food Price Curb May Be 'Farm Bloc'-ked Curb on All Foodstuffs Not Possible Under Law

Special to Central Press

WASHINGTON—The powerful "farm bloc" in Congress may prevent Truman from giving him greater authority to curb food prices.

The present law bans fixing price ceilings on farm products below the parity or so-called "fair price" level. And, there are at least a dozen food items now below parity, including wheat and butter.

Congressional leaders who drew up the original price control legislation say flatly that it will not be changed and the present law will be retained.

The administration feels that it cannot effectively control prices unless curbs are put on all foods. This, of course, is impossible under the present law. However, it is extremely doubtful that the President can overcome the farm bloc opposition.

● DOUBLE TROUBLE PLANE—The Army wants a new plane—not just any plane, but a jet that will rise straight up like a helicopter and then fly straight ahead like a fighter.

Strangely enough, this "convertiplane" is not impossible, because the Army already has 17 designs for such a ship. It is now opening competition for better designs that will meet its exacting standards.

The Army says it is ready to award a contract for large-scale production if a satisfactory design is obtained. A jet engine which could be rotated probably would meet the bill.

● NO PAY CUT FOR KIDS—The administration's recommendation for $30 a month training pay for 18-year-olds will be rejected by the House armed services committee. The committee will strike the proposal from the administration bill when it begins voting on the measure.

The initial pay received by inductees is $75 a month and it is going to be changed if the committee has its way. Chairman Vinson (D), Georgia, pointed out that if the proposal was left in the bill, amendments to boost the $75 pay and other military compensation would then be in order.

● THEY ALMOST GOT AWAY—Senators learned the other day that sheer luck and the persistence of one man saved the Azon and Razon steerable bombs for national defense. Dr. George R. Harrison, dean of science at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, told the story to the Senate preparedness subcommittee. He said:

"As an example of the importance of using scientific rather than military methods for the development of new weapons, let me cite the development of the Azon and Razon steerable bombs.

"The plan for these was salvaged from the wastebasket three separate times by a civilian scientist despite the opposition of experts who believed the project impossible."

Harrison explained to a reporter that the Azon and Razon bombs are guided missiles which can be steered by radio to their target after being dropped from a plane.

● TIMETABLE—The Washington talks between President Truman and French Premier Rene Pleven have got world Communist leaders worried—worried that they will have to make sharp revisions in their plans of world conquest.

When the Kremlin gave the green light for the Korean war, it was anticipated that the shooting would soon be over and that Red forces could then concentrate on other Asiatic soft spots like Indo-China. But this proved only to be the first bit of miscalculation.

The Kremlin then thought the entrance of Red troops into the Korean conflict would force the UN forces off the peninsula, again leaving Communist forces free to move in elsewhere.

Again the die was cast against them. Now with fresh determination between France and the United States on aid to Indo-China, the Reds are once again cheated of an easy victory in Asia, for French troops, revitalized with American equipment, are now bent on holding their own against the Communists in that area.

Davis attended the Valentine party in Maljamar on Saturday night. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hammond of Artesia were dinner guests Friday evening of last week in the home of Mr. Hammond's brother, W. A. Hammond, and family in Carper Camp.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Naylor and children spent Saturday of last week in Carlsbad visiting and on business.

Mrs. Nora Coppinger and Mrs. Virgie Copeland of Artesia came out Tuesday, Feb. 6, to vote in the school election. Mrs. George Kaldor of Artesia was also out here.

Mrs. Fanny Bedford, Mrs. J. D. Peek, Mrs. Charles Wier, and Mrs. Duluth Richardson visited Sunday on the Wesley Meador ranch.

Jay Ferguson's car burned the other day when he was welding it. He got the torch too close to the gasoline tank and it exploded. Mr. Ferguson was not injured.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Miller and daughter, Alice, spent Sunday in Sundown, Texas, visiting Mr. Miller's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Miller.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Douglas and daughter were to leave for Oklahoma Saturday of last week. The parents' home burned and they were unable to save anything.

ing correctly can, with a little dictionary research, learn how to say "on" instead of "own" and "in" instead of "en." One who is interested will find that it is a great deal of fun to listen for mispronounced words and for colloquial pronunciations, such as "surp" or "serup" for syrup.

Many unconscious habits add to the personality, instead of distracting. The unconscious "at ease" attitude Bing Crosby has attained is as much a part of his charm as his voice is. The habits of teachers are remembered as long as the person is, such as the English teacher who brushed his hair back with his pencil every time he laughed or the energetic professor who banged into the room each morning shedding his coat and hat while opening the morning lecture.

Awareness of a habit is a good start toward correcting it. Concentration does 50 per cent of the job, but the willingness to do a job well, whether it is speaking or chewing gum, takes the project over the hump.

Truck Dealer Lists Features Of 1951 Models

Factors that make the 1951 Dodge truck the best the manufacturer has ever produced were emphasized again today by F. C. Hart, owner of Hart Motor, 207 West Texas.

Premiere of the new models, the B-3 series of job rated trucks, was staged here Saturday, Feb. 10.

"First of all," says Hart, "the new trucks have more power. Horsepower increases in some of the eight engines run as high as 20 per cent.

"Then there are the new Oriflow shock absorbers on the half, three-fourth, and one ton models. This means a better ride control on not just one but all road surfaces.

"Spark plugs are hotter, there are higher governor settings, better moisture-proofing, larger capacity generators, a new high torque starting motor and an improved cooling system.

"All this adds up to confirm the statement that the 1951 Dodge truck is the best Dodge truck ever made."

Battery C Starts Additional Drills

Personnel of Battery C, 697 Anti-Aircraft Artillery Automatic Weapons Battalion, New Mexico National Guard, are going to be throwing a lot of gun weight around come Sunday.

At 8 o'clock that morning they will begin the first in a series of 12 additional drills recently authorized by the national guard bureau. The extra drills will last a minimum of four hours each. Next slated extra drill will be on Sunday, March 4.

Period of the extra drills will end June 30.

Jim Heald, warrant officer junior grade, in charge of administration, made known the announcement. Armory of the local battery is 401-11 West Centre.

...gram, sang "Mutton Chops," and dismissed with the "Goodnight Song."

Troop 10 held a Valentine tea for their mothers in honor of the troop birthday. Each girl gave a report on badge work and a resume of the year's work. There were 32 mothers, Artesia Nurses' Club representatives and girls present. The girls served punch and cookies with plate favors made of molded hearts with white candles in the center.

Troop 12 was given a Valentine party by their sponsor, the Business and Professional Women's Club, members of which served the girls strawberry sundaes. Mrs. Geiser gave each girl bubble gum and a heart sucker. The girls completed their textile painting.

Troop 13 entertained Troop 5 with a Valentine party. Barbara Butts was in charge of the program made up of readings and songs and one game, "Musical Chairs." Refreshments were served by Barbara Butts and Linda Bradshaw. The girls elected Wanda Kay Downey as the Juliette Low representative.

Troop 16 had a Valentine party. Troop leaders, Mrs. Carter Izzard and Mrs. Sam Beal furnished refreshments. They were assisted in serving by Mrs. Floyd Jones and Miss Katherine Coppinger. Favors were baskets of suckers. The troop had a Valentine box and the girls exchanged Valentines and played games.

Troop 18 presented a Valentine program for mothers and guests. Guests were given programs at the door. Sue Livingston called the meeting to order and the troop gave the Brownie promise and salute and sang the "Brownie Hello Song" and "Smile Song." After roll call, the girls sang several more Brownie songs and played a singing game, "Brownie Joy." The troop formed a Valentine and sang, "Will You Be My Valentine" and each girl stepped out of the Valentine to present her mother a heart with her picture on it. The troop presented Mrs. Carl Lewis,

Small Faults

This week the column will be devoted to the small, but annoying, habits to which little attention is paid. These habits are usually unconscious actions of the persons who practice them, but to the watcher, it leaves a bad impression.

Gum chewing, although very pleasant to the chewer, can be extremely displeasing to the watcher. The gyrations of the mouth, while in the classroom, on the dance floor, or while walking down the street distracts from an otherwise pleasant picture.

Women spend millions of dollars a year to make themselves more attractive; then they chew gum with an energy that is surprising. It leaves the same impression as a young lady does when she dresses in a brand-new date-dress, complete with a bit of a hat, gloves and purse, and then puts on a pair of scuffed saddle oxfords.

Boys, too, leave bad impressions when they try to talk with a mouth full of gum. It would probably sound like this: "I smack smack want chomp a slurp date pop pop with you smack pop chomp."

Picking or biting finger nails is an unfortunate habit for anyone to have and every effort should be made to get rid of it. Boys usually pay little attention to their own nail biting, but a girl will notice a boy's hands, and uneven nails leave an unclean impression. Aside from the after effects of the habit, it is unpleasant to converse with a person who keeps a finger in his mouth. There are many remedies for this habit and after trying a few, one would probably be found to work if the person has the will to concentrate on the project.

Smoking habits can be as unpleasant as any of the others. A boy who is careless about where he blows his smoke, drops his ashes, or puts cigarette butts in an unwelcome guest in homes. Female smokers have to be even more careful than their opposites because so much of their appearance depends upon the way they handle themselves in public places. A woman who, just as soon as she seats herself at a restaurant table, buries her head in her purse in search of a cigarette, does not leave as good an impression as one who sits quietly and smokes at her leisure.

Speech habits are faulty in almost everyone who speaks. There are the mumblers, stumblers, squeakers, growlers, Southerners, Northerners; in fact, practically everybody speaks differently. However, a child learns to talk by mimicking its elders, therefore, a person who is interested in speaking correctly can, with a little dictionary research, learn how to say "on" instead of "own" and "in" instead of "en."

'Breakthrough' Is Rousing Epic Of GI Combat

A monumental war film through which is woven the tender strands of romance born amid the terrors and dangers of battle, "Breakthrough," the new Warner Brothers picture, will be shown at the Land-Sun Theater Sunday through Tuesday.

Co-starred are David Brian, John Agar and Frank Lovejoy, with lovely Suzanne Dalbert playing the leading feminine role. A salute to the foot-slogging Infantry that fights sometimes with tank and bazooka, but mostly with the Garand rifle, "Breakthrough" takes a gallant platoon, typical of the thousands in the American Army which smashed its way to victory in the recent strife through the vicissitudes of one of the most bitter campaigns of the war. Shot on location at Fort Ord, Calif., with much actual warfare worked in to lend the picture authenticity, the picture has already been heralded to take place alongside the great war epics, like "What Price Glory" and "All Quiet on the Western Front" of yesteryear.

David Brian plays Capt. Hale, big, rugged infantry leader whose fresh from OCS, with white locks horns on issues, rubs salt under the constant bombardment and pressure of day-and-night fare. Frank Lovejoy, the reporter of "Three Seconds," quiet, tough and efficient lieutenant, the backbone of the platoon.

It is Suzanne Dalbert who plays the romance as the citizen pleading for her small coming to be destroyed by the coming Americans. Others on the distaff side are Army nurses Red Cross girls who are in their wartime duties.

No production in recent years has received greater care by Warner Brothers than this one was nearly a year in the making. Technical advisers from the Army were on hand during the minute of the shooting to insure authenticity.
