

DRILLERS CAP OILERS

A home run over the centerfield fence in the bottom half of the ninth by Julio de la Torre gave the Artesia Drillers the one-run margin they needed to break the tie and win the Drillers first home season game last night in Artesia Municipal Park.

The score was Artesia 10, Odessa Oilers 9. De la Torre's round trip was off Dugger, fifth in a series of games that went in for the Oilers. The Drillers likewise used five pitchers.

Odessa held the Drillers scoreless until the fifth inning while the visitors accumulated five runs. In the sixth of the fifth, the Drillers got a pair.

There was a near-riot in the eighth inning, the time of the Driller rally with the bases loaded in succession. The diamond and dugouts were deserted and there was some display of bats as the two squads gathered in front of the Driller dugout.

Cause of the fracas was not explained to the crowd but police were on hand, order was soon restored and the game proceeded.

For Driller fans, seeing their team in action in a season game for the first time on the home diamond, the game was full of thrills as they watched the plucky Artesia nine overcome and finally edge out the favored Odessa outcome ably abetted by the booming bats of Luis Serrano, leftfielder and Ab Fleitas, first base.

POT POURRI

Let us show that people do appreciate Artesia hospitality, here is a letter from Charles M. Tolclovis High School band director.

"I would like for the people of Artesia to know how very much we appreciate the wonderful hospitality of your community and school during the recent music festival. You are a grand lot of people and Mr. Lewis Lewis, Artesia band master and chairman of the festival, his helpers did a fine job."

It depends what foot the shoe is on as witness this squib from Little Argus of The Carlsbad Current-Argus:

Fred Johnson writes: "Last Saturday night a group of friends and I went to Artesia to see a ball game between the Artesia Drillers and the Kansas City Monarchs. We spent considerable money in going there and back.

"I can't we have a professional ball club in Carlsbad? Many people in Carlsbad would like to see the games. I am sure, it would be profitable to the city and to the city. I am sure that if a town of Artesia can afford a team a large town like Carlsbad should surely afford a team.

It is understood that Carlsbad had a team last year but due to a few fuddy-duddies thought the river scenery would be ruined we were denied the privilege. The only scenery I saw along the Pecos is local scenery lovers."

The big point is that sentence, "I would like for the people of Artesia to know how very much we appreciate the wonderful hospitality of your community and school during the recent music festival." It recalls that not so long ago Artesia was squaking that thousands of dollars a year for the people of North Eddy County to drive back and forth to Carlsbad to attend to business at their courthouse, which was one of the reasons we wanted a county seat of our own.

As we said, it makes a difference what foot the shoe is on.

The license-plate game, often the last few days have nearly as well spotting those outside the United States who are not previously listed in the United States.

Such as have been observed, far from in the North—Alaska, Newfoundland.

Saturday Mrs. Albert Lee car bearing Alaskan plates, the next day Pete L. Loving car for Newfoundland.

Although everyone knows Alaska a territory of the United States there are few who do not know Newfoundland is not a state of Canada.

Newfoundland is an island colony of North America, off the east coast of Canada. It is British, but is not a part of the Dominion.

The Tuesday issue, we said George Nickolds was the first to report from Massachusetts. It happened he was not first, but that in the process of studying the Guide to the Dumb to seek the spelling of that state.

It is reported that Mrs. J. L. had seen a Massachusetts when George called and made a report. Then Bill Terrence saw the same car or another from Massachusetts, so he gets the honors too.

Only new state on the list is Kansas, which Nora Carder reported. She also reported three of them had been reported previously. The three were San Miguel, 12, 22, and Lincoln, 26.

Torrance County's No. 10 reported the same day by George Nickolds and Ott Strook. There are nine states which have been reported. They are Delaware, Georgia, and Kansas.

Contract for 12 Miles U.S. 285 to Be Let in May

Letting of a contract for the reconstruction of 12 miles of U.S. Highway 285 between Artesia and Carlsbad is expected in May, according to word received by the Eddy County Board of Commissioners from the State Highway Department this week.

The letting date had not been established, but it was tentatively set for sometime in May.

The proposed project will extend the new highway segment which was completed early in 1949 at the Carlsbad end.

The previous work started at Carlsbad and extended towards Artesia a distance of approximately eight and a half miles.

The estimated 12 miles of additional construction will bring the improvement to about where the Lakewood road cuts off of Highway 285, approximately 15 miles south of Artesia.

Widening will be included in the reconstruction job.

S. A. Bennett, right-of-way engineer for the State Highway Department, informed the county commissioners by letter that the complete file on easements on the new project was being forwarded to them.

This is in accordance with a previous Eddy County practice of making the preliminary right-of-way negotiations and mailing copies of grant of right-of-way easements to out-of-state owners.

It was not learned what the 12-mile construction job is estimated to cost, but the cost on the previous eight and a half miles of new highway was $457,622.30.

The over-all picture for reconstruction of Highway 285, as planned many months ago, is for the work to extend from Carlsbad through Artesia to the Chaves County line.

Energizing of Loco Hills Substation Marks Milestone in North Eddy

Marking a milestone in the industrial development of North Eddy County, the Loco Hills substation, 10 miles east of Artesia, was energized at 4:15 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

This means the 105-mile line, which extends into Lea County and which supplies electric power for 275 oil wells and houses, went into operation.

Contract for the line was let in July, 1950.

Cost of the substation was $75,000. The area, measuring 175 feet long by 80 feet wide, is enclosed with a steel wire fence.

In the ceremony marking the energizing of the station, Emery Carper of Artesia, president of the New Mexico Oil and Gas Association, pulled a switch closing the oil circuit breaker which energized the complete substation.

Photographs of the group present for the start of service were taken by O. R. Gable, Jr., and by Bob Koonce, manager of Artesia Chamber of Commerce.

The substation, a key point in the system, has six transformers, two breakers with 30-foot-high bays and a rating of 2000 kilowatt amperes.

Putting the line into service was a problem in timing akin to military logistics, since contact had to be maintained with Carlsbad, Roswell and other points, to prevent any disruption of their power by the turning on of the new unit.

In addition to the Loco Hills unit, there is another 117-mile line that will serve 197 other oil wells and houses, "ready to go," Paul L. Frost, manager of Central Valley Electric Co-operative, said yesterday.

Those present at the energizing of the substation Wednesday included:

Southwestern Public Service—J. D. Smith, Artesia, manager; E. L. Hansen, division engineer and H. E. Samson, division manager, both of Roswell.

Central Valley Electric—Paul L. Frost, manager; H. C. Schimmel, line supervisor; Don Heathington, editor and Mrs. Van Varen, associate editor, Southwest REA News.

Bill Siegenthaler, attorney for Central Valley, president of the Chamber of Commerce; Bob Koonce, chamber manager.

Emery Carper, president of Carper Drilling, president of New Mexico Oil & Gas Association, chairman of the industrial development committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

Jim Lovelace and John Rayburn, both of Amarillo, representing Allis-Chalmers.

John Ragland, Lubbock, of H. N. Roberts & Associates, engineers.

O. S. Bixby, Fort Sumner, contractor.

E. B. Emerson, of The Artesia Advocate.

Overhaul Job Causes Delay On Tuesday

The Advocate was late on Tuesday for the first time in many months and although a number of subscribers called up to find out what had happened, as a whole they were quite patient.

General cleaning was given both linotype machines over the week end, causing a delay in the setting of type for the Tuesday issue of The Advocate and the operators, worn out because of the job, had to give up Monday night to get some rest. Hence, they finished the job on Tuesday morning.

In addition, the number of pages was held down somewhat from what the advertising warranted, so as to avoid the setting of still more type.

And then because of the reduction in the number of pages several columns of live news matter were held out until this issue, all of which were of such nature that the time element made little difference.

When such steps are necessary and the public is so understanding and co-operative, the entire Advocate force appreciates the consideration shown.

Members of the Artesia Tuberculosis Association have been urging everyone in the community to take advantage of the campaign for free chest x-ray examinations. However, they pointed out that children less than 15 years old must be accompanied by parents or guardians.

Persons whose x-ray pictures show positive or suspicious indications of tuberculosis or other chest disorders will in the near future be notified to report for a further examination. This will be several weeks, however.

Those whose examinations are negative will receive no report from the State Health Department.

Boxes Are Only for First-Class Matter, Postmaster Says

Postmaster Jess Truett called attention to Artesia citizens that street letter boxes are to be used exclusively for the mailing of first class mail matter, including air mail.

He said it is impossible for letter carriers to carry mail from the boxes, if matter other than first class is dropped into them.

In addition, the postmaster said, it sometimes is necessary to return other mail matter for postage, whereas the first class mail may be sent on for collection of postage due at point of address, provided it carries the minimum for a single ounce.

A similar campaign will open in South Eddy County next week.

Indications Thursday were that about 1100 or more persons will have been examined at the city hall location by closing time Saturday, for 682 x-ray pictures were taken Wednesday through Saturday of last week and on Wednesday of this week.

If the average maintains yesterday, today, and tomorrow, the total will be about 1120 for the eight days.

Council Discusses D.O.'s Practicing At Hospital

A highly controversial question—that of the possible admittance of osteopaths to practice at Artesia General Hospital—was discussed Wednesday evening at length at a meeting of the Artesia City Council.

The subject, which has been considered a "hot potato" over the years, was raised by Councilman Fred Brainard, who brought out the point the city might be subject to a suit for damages, should a patient demand the services of an osteopathic physician and be denied, inasmuch as the hospital was built by the government.

City Attorney Neil B. Watson said that as the hospital was a WPA project, it was provided by the government at the time of its construction that the city may not divest itself of its control.

However, Dr. L. F. Hamilton, who on Wednesday night was sworn in as a councilman to fill the vacancy left by the resignation of Frank Smith, said that certain standards have been set up by the Sisters Adorers of the Most Precious Blood, operators of the hospital.

Councilman Hamilton said that osteopaths have been admitted to practice in public-owned hospitals at Las Cruces and Ruidoso to his knowledge, into which matter he proposed to inquire further within the next two weeks.

He said that the state of New Mexico admits to general practice both doctors of medicine and doctors of osteopathy.

Councilman Brainard said the Sisters feel the co-operation of doctors on the staff is necessary to the operation of the hospital and that they do not want a change unless there is concurrence of the medical doctors, City Council and hospital board.

However, he stressed the possibility of a suit being brought at some time if osteopaths are not admitted or if a patient is not at liberty to demand whatever physician he chooses.

He cited a specific case of a year or so ago, in which a patient had gangrene and who could not be taken care of at home. None of the medical doctors wished to handle the case because of past financial difficulties with the patient and although an emergency operation was indicated, she could not obtain admittance to the hospital to have the work done by a doctor of osteopathy.

Councilman Hamilton brought out the point there is a county hospital at Carlsbad, a matter of perhaps 45 minutes from Artesia, which handles indigent cases.

Should Artesia General Hospital be opened to such cases, he said, the council might as well start a drive for a 500-bed hospital and a staff to handle it. However, he added, the city of Artesia could not support such an institution.

Inasmuch as many cases at the local hospital are not residents of the city, Councilman Hamilton said he has always contended that the county should put up as much money for its operation as does the city, because of cases from outside the city.

As to the county hospital at Carlsbad, however, Councilman Hamilton said the county should take care of indigent cases, "but won't north of the 38th parallel."

City Attorney Watson said the contract the city has with the Sisters says in part: "... open to all reputable physicians and surgeons."

In the agreement with the Sisters, it has been left to them to set up their rules of qualifications, he said.

Councilman Hamilton said that the hospital will admit an emergency case at any time and will call any doctor of medicine available, who can be used temporarily. But, he said, it might lead to a suit if a doctor of osteopathy were demanded and the request were refused.

Councilman Brainard said there has been quite a feeling in the matter, that many people contend the hospital was built by the taxpayers and those who built it want to know why they cannot demand whatever physicians they choose.

These included the chairmanship of the public relations and city property committee and membership on the police and parking committee.

On recommendation of Councilman Kersey, the council voted to maintain public liability insurance at Artesia Municipal Park, public liability insurance on firemen and other city employees who non official business and insurance on the box-seat chairs at the park.

The public liability insurance for the park is to carry 50 and 100 thousand dollar limits.

Speed Limit Is 25 Miles in Congested Area

State Police Patrolman A. B. Munsey has called attention to the fact there is automatically a speed limit of 25 miles an hour on any highway, whether it is marked or not, if there is a frontage of 300 feet or more of residences or businesses or both.

Likewise, he said, the speed limit past any post office is 25 miles an hour, unless otherwise marked.

Patrolman Munsey and city and sheriff's officers are concentrating on traffic violations, of which there have been many recently, some of them of a serious nature.

But as to the restricted speed limit in residential and business areas of 300 or more feet of frontage, he emphasized that it is illegal to drive more than 25 miles an hour at any time.

Artesia Pilots To Co-Host Tea At State Meet

Seven members of the Artesia Pilot Club, their guests and copilots plan to attend the Pilot International District 9 convention to be held at Carlsbad Saturday and Sunday.

Present indications are that at least 125 Pilots, representing the 15 clubs in the district, will be on hand for the conclave.

The Artesia Club is co-host for the tea Saturday afternoon.

Primary reason for the unusually large attendance will be the presence of the organization's president, Mrs. Mammie K. Taylor, of Atlanta, Ga. Mrs. Taylor, vice president of the Georgia Power Company and acclaimed Atlanta's woman of the year, will have just returned from Pilot's good-will tour to several European countries.

As guest speaker at the Saturday night banquet, she will be able to speak with keener insight on Pilot's theme for the year, "Building Against Bewilderment," following her trip.

Pilots from all over the United States made the tour as unofficial good-will ambassadors from this country. As a matter of fact, the tour had the complete sanction of the State Department. One of their most interesting experiences was a visit to Vimoutiers, a tiny village in France, which was mistakenly bombed during World War II by American Air Forces. Pilot International adopted the village as a five-year project, and has contributed greatly to its rehabilitation.

Convention headquarters will be the Crawford Hotel, Carlsbad. It is anticipated that many Pilots will plan a visit to the world-famous Carlsbad Caverns Sunday at the close of the last session.

Representatives, headed by Miss E. Ruth Platt of Santa Fe, district governor, will be present from each of the 15 clubs, Denver, Colorado Springs, Pueblo, La Junta, and Durango, Colo., and Santa Fe, Albuquerque, Grants, Belen, Truth or Consequences, Las Cruces, Artesia, Carlsbad, El Paso, and Juarez, Mexico.

Artesia Pilots planning to attend are Meses. C. R. Blocker, William Hudson, Tom Williams, John Heaton, Irvin Goldstein, and C. M. Hooker, and Miss Viola Robertson.

SPORTS

ON THE HOME FRONT

By BROWNIE EMERSON

Why Don't Artesia Citizens Make Use of Parks, Playgrounds?

I think Artesia citizens are missing a lot of pleasure from not utilizing the recreational facilities on hand. While playgrounds, tennis courts, baseball diamonds, softball diamonds and the like are not numerous here, it seems to me too little use is made of what we have.

What prompted this was a view of Central Park last Sunday. I was glad to see the children enjoying the rides and swings there but there were not enough of them to get the full benefit.

Let's Use Parks

There are other parks in the city, too, and I intend to make a study soon to find out exactly what they are, where they are, what they have to offer, and how they are used.

Central Park is a beautiful spot and is well maintained by the city. I saw eight sprinklers going full blast one day at the north end of the park, which is located in the square between Seventh and Eighth, Quay and Richardson.

I have walked across it a few times but have not spent the time observing it as I should and as I'm advocating now. I should be practicing what I'm preaching and I mean to do it and will do it.

I would like to see what fields, courts, and other playing areas are available in full use all the time. It seems a big waste to me to spend a lot of money on a facility then see it unused most of the year.

Naturally such apathy on the part of citizens in not using the areas set up for their benefit does not create in those who made the facilities, possible the desire to get much excited about recreation.

Sports For Everybody
I keep blasting away at the idea of everybody taking part in sports and recreation. It's time we got away from the old idea that sports are only for youngsters.

The REA softball team had to join a Carlsbad association in order to play this year. They evidently have the energy in Carlsbad that Artesia does not possess. And is Artesia so lacking in spirit that it can put out but one softball team?

This possibly brings the rejoinder that softball diamonds are lacking in Artesia. Granted but even if there were plenty of diamonds would there be any more teams?

And again—why the pitifully small use we make of what recreational areas we possess? Are we slaves to work. Sunday afternoon siesta takers, whose idea of hard athletic endeavor is to walk to the garage and get in the car?

Where's the Pep?
I'd like to see the civic clubs have their own softball, track and field squads, baseball nines, tennis, badminton, even horse-shoe pitching, teams competing with each other throughout the year.

Talking about tennis reminds me that I have been on the courts at the high school the last two Sundays. One forenoon found nobody against whom to play so spent a hour practicing my serve.

Next Sunday was lucky to find the courts well filled and played two sets, losing the first to Mrs. Ray Hall, wife of the junior high school coach, 6-1, winning the second from Wayne Westerman, 14, the junior high track squad manager, 6-3.

State Track Records
Morris W. Ward, executive secretary of New Mexico High School Athletic Association, courteously and promptly replied to my request for a table on the New Mexico interscholastic track and field all-time records. I sent my letter to Roswell one day, had the answer the next.

There are 15 events shown on the table along with 16 title holders names since in one event, the 220-yard dash, the record is tied.

Years the records were made range from two in 1927 to three in 1950. Albuquerque contestants hold two of the records, Carlsbad three. The Eddy County capital is the only southeast New Mexico town on the list.

Tucumcari, like Duke City, also has a pair of titles. Other towns on the table are Hatch, Estancia, Hot Springs, Farmington, Silver City, Gallup, Roy, Santa Fe, and Deming.

Official Chart
By event, name, school, year, and distance or time:
100-yard dash—Stevenson, Carlsbad, 1947, 10 seconds.
220-yard dash—Plomteaux, Albuquerque, 1937, and Parnell, Hatch, 1942, each 22.4 seconds.
440-yard—McMinn, Carlsbad, 1949, 50.8 seconds.

Spelling Query
Members of the Deming relay team did not establish the state record are not listed. Also, the broad jump champion from Tucumcari has his name spelled "Nomcus", while the javelin king is "Moncus", also from Tucumcari. Both records were made in 1927.

While technically these should be listed as on the chart, I believe the same athlete has both titles and the correct spelling is "Moncus" and it on my list in that way.

It's Official Now
I'm proud of the latest addition to my collection of press cards it is one to Artesia Municipal Park, is signed by Stubby Greer, manager of the Drillers, numbered 32, and says to admit "Brownie Emerson and one."

It has always been my policy never to "ride" on a press card. When I go to a game to work I use my card, if I went to see it as a fan, I'd pay like anyone else. And even tho the card does read "and one" I usually pay for anyone accompanying me, just as I did in the Sunday afternoon exhibition game of the Drillers and the Rockets. Dr. Thomas J. Quinlan was my guest for that contest. I used my press card for my admittance, paid the regular admission price for my guest.

I had to talk a long time to get that card. Not that I had any opposition but the Driller officials just didn't find time to respond promptly to my repeated request.

Reason I wanted a card is I wanted it in black and white, no ifs, ands, or maybe so when I went out to cover a game. While most of the gatekeepers know me that's no assurance all would.

With the card signed by Stubby there's no maybe so about it now. I'm a stickler for official press cards. That means "working" press. I don't like any slip shod "oh, you don't need one, everyone knows you," for this it hazy, careless, may-so. It's no good.

Correction Dept.
This properly doesn't have connection with sports but when an error is made the maker should be quick to acknowledge that a boner has been pulled.

Lee Shaughnessy chided me about a short yarn on the new CC sign, saying there was no mention of "what" building to which the sign would be affixed.

I checked and was my face red! I sure forgot to put in the address 318 Carper Building. My mistake. No alibi.

Due to lack of space there were two galleys of sports that had to be omitted from last Tuesday's issue. Baseball took the top spot and the historic opening league season game rated the majority of news space available.

This made sports news on Page 1 as well as on the regular sports page.

Acknowledgment
It's good to hear someone say to you:
"Good job. Well done. Thanks."
That's why I'm proud of a note penned on the all-time track record list for New Mexico high schools sent to me by Morris Ward:

"Thanks for the wonderful support you have continuously given our program."
To William S. Bennett, distributive education coordinator at Artesia High School and a man who is also rated as a 4.0 basketball referee by the state association, my belated thanks for a letter I should have acknowledged long ago.

That 4.0 rating of Bennett isn't any mythical standard Basketball officials all over the state were graded by the schools. Bennett's rank is only one less than the top rating, superior. A rating of 4.0 means "above average."

Bennett's letter had to do with distributive education, however, instead of sports.

"I want you to know," he says, "that I appreciate all your efforts

State Baseball Series Outlined

Regulations for the New Mexico high school baseball tournament, to be played May 11-12, in Las Vegas, were made known today by Morris W. Ward, Roswell, executive secretary of the New Mexico High School Athletic Association.

Regular Size Mat Card Booked For Monday Night

While the women's wrestling mat will be a feature it will not be the only event on the card at the special match scheduled for Monday night, April 30, in Veterans Memorial Building.

W. J. Stribling, Roswell, wrestling promoter, said yesterday that the card would include a preliminary and final as well. The girls mat will match June Byers of Houston against Ann La Verne, said to be the only girl wrestler in the country who has a cauliflower ear.

Gloria Barattini of Baltimore had originally been slated for June's opponent.

Ace Freeman meets Jack Terry, the preliminary; it's La Verne against Byers in the girls and semi-final match; and Mike London and Tony Faletti in the final. Bookings for $7.50 admitting the pupils to junior and senior play, band and choral concert, canteen, entitles them to subscriptions to the Beacon, school newspaper, and the Bulldog school annual.

Purchased singly all these deals would total $20.75; by "block booking" under the activity ticket plan, a saving of $12.25 is effected.

The poll was taken Thursday by the student council of which Kay Booker is president.

Valdez Chopped By Hatchet Man

In the main event Friday night of the second wrestling card sponsored by the United Veterans Club, Jack Terry of Canada, "The Hatchet Man," won over Jim Valdez of Santa Fe in two out of three falls.

Although the crowd was only about 130 persons, members of the sponsoring organization are looking forward to a large attendance Monday night, April 30, when June Byers of Houston will contest Vera Barattini of Baltimore in the first woman's match of the card series.

In the first fall Friday night, Terry pinned Valdez in five minutes 24 seconds. But Valdez came back fast in the second round to win it in two minutes flat.

The third round went 14 minutes of grunt and groan before Terry again pinned the Santa Fean on the mat to take the match.

Tony Faletti won two straight falls in the semi-final over Johnny Sando.

Weighing 194 pounds, a single pound more than Sando, Faletti was clocked at 24 minutes for the first fall and seven minutes for the second.

The preliminary was taken by Ace Freeman of New York in an 18-minute fall over Juan Merjil of El Paso.

Referee of the matches was Yaqui Joe, former lightweight champion of the world.

Students Okay Activity Ticket Plan for 1951-52

By a vote of 91.5 per cent for to only 8.5 per cent opposed, Artesia High School pupils endorsed continuing the activity ticket plan.

Under this plan activity tickets sell for $7.50 admitting the pupils to junior and senior play, band and choral concert, canteen, entitles them to subscriptions to the Beacon, school newspaper, and the Bulldog school annual.

Purchased singly all these deals would total $20.75; by "block booking" under the activity ticket plan, a saving of $12.25 is effected.

The poll was taken Thursday by the student council of which Kay Booker is president.

Standards of Eggs Explained At Rotary Meet

Various standards and qualities of eggs and the new law in New Mexico requiring that eggs sold in the state must be sold as advertised were discussed Tuesday noon at the Rotary Club luncheon by Bob McCaw, local hatcheryman.

By means of charts, he showed how a person can tell both by candling and by breaking an egg its standard from "AA" to "C", the latter of which is all right for cooking or baking, but not the best.

A chart showed that a broken "AA" egg's yolk stands up well and the white is firm, whereas the class "A" egg's yolk is not quite as high and the white is becoming less firm. The process continued through "B" and to "C", in which the yolk is quite flat and the white is quite watery. The same maintains if the eggs are cooked.

In explaining the requirements for eggs in different weight classes, McCaw said one gets more for his money if he buys the larger ones. However, he added, pullet eggs, which are larger than are laid by more mature birds, are very good from a nutrition standpoint.

McCaw showed a cutaway picture of the egg process and explained that blood in an egg does not detract from its goodness, although it might not be as appetizing.

The speaker said there has been a great upswing in the consumption of eggs this year, which results in the smallest number in cold storage in many years. This indicates the egg market will rise, he said.

As to the new egg law in New Mexico, McCaw said it will be of help to the producer, retailer, and consumer, if it is administered properly.

Prior to the talk by McCaw, Chuck Aston, a past president of the club, gave a report on the annual district conference of Rotary Clubs in Santa Fe on April 15-17, which he attended as a representative of the Artesia club.

The club will have a ladies' night banquet at 7:30 o'clock next Tuesday evening at the parish hall of the First Presbyterian Church. It was announced by Andy Corbin, chairman.

Razzle-Dazzle And Farm Talk On Club Program

Agriculture and razzle-dazzle were brought from the high school to Kiwanis club luncheon at noon yesterday in Cliff's Cafeteria.

Truman Short, agriculture teacher, presented seven of his students who gave speeches on their work, topped off with a clever demonstration of parliamentary law in which amendment to an amendment, tie votes, motions to put table a motion, appeal from the authority of the chairman, were mixed in a dizzy array.

High school politics entered the picture as Geraldine Blount made a campaign talk for Kay Booker, candidate for razzle-dazzle queen.

Opening her talk she read a pseudo telegram from Gen. Douglas MacArthur endorsing Miss Booker's candidacy.

A hat was passed into which Kiwanians dropped coins. Votes are a penny each. Proceeds from the contest go to purchase audio-visual equipment at the high school.

Misses Blount and Booker were introduced by Don Riddle, junior high principal.

Two Parties
President Ralph L. O'Dell announced that the club's jamboree on the occasion of its anniversary would be held at 6 p. m. tomorrow at the John Mathis Jr. residence, 807 Bullock.

Affair will be a beef barbecue. Rufus M. Stinnett, vice president will be master of ceremonies.

Kiwanians, their wives, and friends are to attend the affair, which will be informal with sports clothes suggested as the proper attire.

It is planned to start the party on the dot so that it will be over at 7:15 for those desiring to attend the Driller baseball game.

A pancake supper will be held at 6 p. m. June 5 in the Presbyterian parish hall. Wives, friends and neighbors, as well as club members, are to attend. Square dancing will follow the supper. Proceeds will go to the Kiwanians International Kids Day.

Student Talk
Speakers from the agriculture class were Bobby Thorpe, history of farming; Albert Bach, supervised farm program; Hunt Zumwalt, contest work; Tommy Price, program of work.

Dickie Shoemaker was chairman of the parliamentary law demonstration. Others taking part included Franklin McAnally and Raymond Pearson.

Thorpe told how the Future Farmers of America began with Virginia as the first state to have such a setup.

He also told how the Artesia chapter, formed in 1928 with 27 members, now has doubled.

Farm students of the high school have $65,000 invested in their projects, Bach informed the club.

Price explained how the Future Farmers had a chapter owned brooder, pig ring, as a part of cooperative enterprises; how they pruned trees at Cottonwood School, fixed walks and painted bleachers at Artesia High as a part of community service.

The seven contest of Future Farmer work were explained by Zumwalt. Included in the list, besides the regular livestock, dairy

Spring Clean-Up Prevents Farm, Ranch Accidents

Spring clean-up makes farms or ranches safer. Spring is clean up time—time to clean out the hazards around the farm or ranch which might cause injury, loss of time or even disaster. A few hours spent now to put things ship-shape may result in the saving of many days during the busy season later on. Such a clean up campaign will make a farm or ranch a better and safer place to live. Places that are kept orderly have fewer accidents than the neglected areas.

The primary safety rule emphasized by the National Safety Council is: "A place for everything and everything in its place." A recent council study of hospitalized home accident cases showed that the largest single cause of injuries, other than poor judgment, was disorder. In fact, disorder was responsible for putting one out of every five accident victims in the hospital.

Remove accumulated papers, rags and rubbish in the home from basement to attic. Whitewash or paint the basement and haul out all those old clothes and magazines that have been stacked up. Dust and cobwebs around light bulbs not only cut down the amount of light but also prevent a radiation of heat which might cause fire. Medicines, poisons, and insecticides should be clearly labeled and kept out of reach of children. Provide suitable receptacles for knives and other sharp kitchen tools.

Barns are the principal work center for daily farm chores. At this season, many barns have become cluttered with an accumulation of items used during the winter. Alley ways or work areas should be cleared of such obstacles and suitable places should be found for locating or storing them.

Stairways and ladders should be checked and kept in good repair. Avoid storing loose material overhead on rafters or between floor joists and make sure that forks, scrapers, brooms, rakes, and other barn equipment are kept in racks or other suitable places where they will not injure people.

Around the farm or ranch, much trash accumulates during the year—wire, old cans, pieces of boards, and other debris. Much of that equipment offers favorable places for rats. Gather up all such material and haul it to the dump or dispose of it in some other suitable manner.

Along with clean-up, a paint-up campaign also makes for a better looking and a more valuable set of buildings. More important still—a neat place is a safe place—for work or play.

crop, shop, and poultry competition, is parliamentary law and public speaking.

Zumwalt listed ratings won by the local chapter in sundry contests, briefly mentioned public speaking, in which he has placed second and third in successive years over the state.

Visiting Kiwanians were Jack Hensler of Alva, Okla., and Donald T. May of Wichita Falls. Guests, in addition to the agriculture teacher and high school students, were John Mathis Sr., and Henry L. Watson, Enid, Okla., father-in-law of Richard Swartz.

Learning All About Trade

Practical and useful experience is being gained by Howard Smith, Artesia High School distributive education student, employed by Guy Cleaners.

He is learning the right way to deliver cleaning and pressing jobs, the importance of names and addresses, of getting clothes sent to the shop back to the customer on time.

Smith is also learning fabrics and the cleaning processes.

Martin and Brown Continue in Lead Of Razzle Contest

A junior and a sophomore continued to pace the field of candidates in the Artesia High School razzle-dazzle May queen and king contest as the annual stunt ended its third week. The contest, which will end May 2, started April 1.

Alice Martin, junior, leads all the eight candidates with 12,046 points with Bill Brown, sophomore, still in the runner-up spot with 10,616.

Standings of other candidates, as of April 20, made known by Earl Grabhorn, visual education, American history, and general science teacher:

A special razzle dazzle assembly was staged Friday morning. Candidates and their managers appeared on the auditorium platform. A typical political campaign was held.

Points are on the basis of a penny a vote with sundry bonus stunts accelerating the total.

Purpose of the contest is to obtain money for school activities. This year's contest is to benefit visual education.

Mike Seltzer Is Named Assistant To U.S. Attorney

Federick M. (Mike) Seltzer, 38, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Seltzer of 312 South Third Street, and brother of Mrs. W. R. Petty, has been appointed special assistant to the United States attorney at Kansas City to aid in prosecution of cases involving violation of income tax laws. Appointment was made by Attorney General J. Howard McGrath.

Seltzer will retain his position as district counsel for the penal division of the Bureau of Internal Revenue.

He has visited his parents and sister and family here and knows a number of Artesia residents.

Binder and Baler Twine Under NPA

Now it's binder and baler twine. The National Authority, U.S. Department of Commerce, in a move to "prevent excessive accumulations of inventory and insure more equitable distribution of the available supply," has issued M-58.

This limits distributors and farmers inventories of binder and baler twine to 60 days supply or a minimum practical working inventory, whichever is less.

Regular flow of regulations of the NPA is received at Artesia Chamber of Commerce, 316 Carpenter Building.

Artesia Lions Mapping Plans For Yearly Show

Preliminary work is being done by Artesia Lions Club on staging a show the club hopes to make an annual event. The production is tentatively set for May 18-19 in the high school auditorium.

Plans for the show have been in the making for a month and were discussed at the club's regular weekly luncheon at noon Tuesday in Masonic Temple.

Members in turn gave their ideas of what they thought the show should include.

Ideas suggested included as many acts as possible from club members, audience participation, imitation of popular radio programs, a television imitation, jokes on states, injecting local topics into the script.

Name for the show has not been chosen. The club is also contemplating a radio production. Purpose of the shows is to raise money for the club projects which include buying glasses and providing other medical care for children, and the purchasing of trophies awarded at the district track meet. The club has bought the trophies for the last five years.

Two Committees
For the production to be staged May 18-19 in the high school auditorium, project and finance committees will be in charge.

Jack Fauntleroy and Fred Cole were selected as masters of ceremony. Les Plummer was assigned the job of organizing the musical talent of the club, and Ralph Lennon is to direct publicity.

One of the publicity stunts suggested was the answering of telephone calls by Lions with the name of the show.

Finance committee will handle ticket sales.

The project committee is composed of Ralph Earhart and Rev. Floyd Embree, chairman, C. C. Nelson, Bill Jackson, Glenn Clem, Bert Jones, W. F. Hunt, Ell Hinde.

Members of the project committee are Jerry Losee, chairman, Marvin Sanders, Shirley Hager.

Guests at the luncheon were Pat Ketelsen, announcer-engineer of Radio Station KXVP and Brownie Emerson, sports editor of The Artesia Advocate.

Lawn tennis first evolved in England under the name of sphaeristike.

Golden Receives Southern Union 10-Year Award

ULAS A. GOLDEN

An employe of Southern Union Gas Company's Artesia town plant, Ulas A. Golden, recently completed 10 years of continuous employment with the company and received Southern Union's 10-year service award.

Announcement of the presentation of the award to Golden came from F. M. (Bill) McGinty, Southern Union's Artesia manager, who said Golden is the 131st company employe to receive such recognition.

Golden began his career with Southern Union on April 21, 1941, when he was employed as assistant serviceman. He was promoted to serviceman, the position he has held since, the following October. He is in charge of all service work for the Artesia town plant.

Active in civic affairs, Golden is a member of the Lions Club, the Volunteer Fire Department and the Woodmen of the World Lodge. McGinty said encouraging its employes to participate in civic affairs is an establishing policy of Southern Union.

"In helping to build the communities in which it operates, Southern Union goes further than providing the best possible natural gas service," he said. "As a company, it demonstrates its good citizenship by taking part in as many community-building projects as possible. Individual employes are urged to participate in civic affairs to help the company begin at the local level to fulfill the promise of its slogan, 'Helping Build the Great Southwest.'"

Twelve of the 32 New Mexico counties have not been reported. They are Nos. 8, 9, 10, 13, 17, 18, 20, 25, 28, 29, 30, and 32.

Keep your eyes peeled for the missing plates and be sure to call up if you spot any new ones.

Incidentally, on the next wrestling card, Monday evening of next week, a couple of gals will mix it up.

And here's an interesting shaggy dog story from Old Tack's column in The Amarillo News:

"Having been married about a quarter of a century, a couple decided to celebrate by taking a trip. The husband said he had a special request to make.

"I'd like to be by ourselves for once," he said. "Let's take this one trip without your mother."

"My mother?" she exclaimed. "I thought she was your mother."

Hardly an issue goes by but what someone calls up to report failure to receive The Advocate. It is possible to have been missed in the mailing, or it could have been put in the wrong box at the post office or delivered at the wrong house.

But by coincidence the other day, both H. R. Paton and E. A. Paton were missed.

When it happens we appreciate it if the subscriber calls up, in which case we will send another copy. Or just stop in at the office and report and we'll give you another copy.

Occasionally someone beefs and gives the impression that he believes some vindictive soul at The Advocate office has deliberately reached in the pile of addressed newspapers and pulled his out.

However, that's childish, for The Advocate is a place of business run by adults.—A.L.B.

Drillers Win

Play Again Tonight
In the eighth, the Drillers pyramided a steady succession of hits into a seven-run rally to get into the lead for the first time in the contest, 9 to 5.

The Oilers surged back to get a quartet and tie the score. Then, De la Torre, Driller third baseman, got a Sunday punch on the ball and it sailed off to spell victory for the Drillers.

A second Driller-Oiler game will be played at 7:30 o'clock tonight in the city park. Then the Drillers contest the San Angelo Colts here Saturday and Sunday.

Notables Presented
Preceding the game, there was the official premiere program with Bill Keys as master of ceremonies. Presented were players and managers of both teams, Artesia Baseball Club directors and officers, Hay Saibles, Abilene, Texas, league president.

Top lining the list of notables was Lt. Gov. Tibo Chavez, who took the pitcher's mound and hurled a golden baseball in the direction of the glove of Mayor Oren C. Roberts in the catcher's position behind the plate.

The ball, incidentally, went wild, high, outside and to the left. Playing of the Artesia High School band, directed by Russell Lewis, Jr., raising of Old Glory and playing of the national anthem and a fireworks exhibit were other parts of the premiere program.

Attendance at the game was estimated at 2500. Batting order of the Drillers was Jesus Serrano, lf; Stubby Greer, ss; Abe Fleitas, lb; Julio de la Torre, 3b; Otto Reyes, 2b; Jim Crouse, rf; Gil Rodriguez, cf; Gene Perez, c; Melvin Miller, p.

Intrepid Sailor Is to Address Knife-Fork Club

Miles of steaming jungle, endless stretches of seaweed-filled

water and days on the open sea were the portion of Jack Schultz on his 14-month trip from the headwaters of the Amazon to Miami, Fla., about which he will tell in brilliant fashion in Artesia, at the next meeting of the Knife and Fork Club, scheduled to be held at the Fellowship Hall of the First Methodist Church at 7 o'clock Thursday evening, May 3, according to Chuck Aston, president.

When one realizes that Schultz was but 18 when he started his trip, made it all alone and was on his way to college (the University of Chicago) his journey puts to shame the walkings of all the barefoot boys in history, for before he even set foot in his canoe, he crossed the Andes Mountains under his own power.

More than 6000 miles in all were covered by this intrepid hoofsailor between Quito, Ecuador and Miami, Fla. This isn't much mileage as things go today, but when it's remembered that most of it was made in an open canoe over the waters of the Caribbean and the Atlantic, it is astounding, Aston said.

But nothing is astounding to Schultz or to the brave and gallant lady who is his mother. When he calmly announced that he was going to return to the United States the hard way—by mountain climbing and river and deepwater sailing instead of by air—his mother just as calmly told him to go ahead and try it. She more than half expected him to run up the white flag and quit by the time reached Manaus, Brazil, but she was wrong and he made the whole journey with but $21 in American money as his starting capital.

Through an error in navigation and after six days without sighting and he made the whole journey going ashore discovered that he was on the infamous Devil's Island, the French penal colony, but, as he says in his lecture, "They let me go."

The word "rodeo" was borrowed from the Mexicans, and means a round-up of cattle.
