Wild Bill in Person at Vets Rodeo

"Wild Bill" Elliott, star of more than 60 Western movies, is Tommy Steiner's partner in producing the Veterans rodeo, Sept. 13-15. "Wild Bill" shown above on one of his movie horses, "Sonny," will make personal appearances at every performance of this year's rodeo and will present a special act in which the kiddies of the audience will participate, sharing honors with the genial cowboy star and the famous movie trick horse, "Sonny."

Participants at every major cutting horse contest in the West. "Wild Bill" Elliott's schedule is a full one. Between his rodeo and motion picture commitments, he's kept on the go constantly, at times commuting between Hollywood and Texas by plane. A recent contract with Monogram Pictures provides for his making 12 Western movies during the next 24 months. His many personal appearances at Elliott-Steiner rodeos in the great Southwest and at dozens of cutting horse contests, help make him one of the most popular motion picture stars of the age. Come out to the show... bring your kiddies to perform with him in the arena and after the show, shake hands with him yourself. You'll be meeting a regular fellow!

Tour Advance Unit Observes Damage of Fire

Effects of the recent Lincoln National forest fire were seen by a quartet of Artesia Chamber of Commerce members as they made an advance trip Monday over the route of the 1951 world tour, scheduled for June 14-15.

The Artesians drove to Cloudcroft up Cox Canyon through a seriously burned area. They saw charred and blackened skeletons of trees, gray hillsides covered with a thick coating of ashes and flaming logs and smoldering leaves.

Denny Hill, between Bear Canyon and Weed, was barren. To the southwest, the formerly heavily timbered wall of lower James Canyon is a "blackened mess," Bob Koonce, chamber manager, said. Others in the advance party were J. D. Smith, chairman of the goodwill and public relations committee, Friend Burnham and Clarence Key.

First stop was at Hope, where the group called on Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Altman. From there they went to Dunken, traveling through heavy fog most of the way. Dunken is another regular stop on the annual tour.

Chuck Gage, Pinon business man, greeted the Artesians and humorously said the Pinon ladies "might be able to rustle up a little something to eat, probably jack rabbit and baloney."

Smith said this has been Pinon's stock joke each year, but their meals compare with the finest served anywhere. At Weed, the Artesians were promised by Mr. and Mrs. John Buckner that a good turnout would be on hand.

Mrs. Howard Gross at Bear Canyon Store said a reception would be arranged there for the goodwillers.

A list of accommodations in Cloudcroft was provided by K. E. Newell, Chamber of Commerce president. Early reservation is asked by the Artesia Chamber.

Banquet in Cloudcroft
Church women of Cloudcroft are to prepare the meal for a banquet at 8 p. m., June 14, in the high school gymnasium. Cost will be $2. Contemplated is a floor show by the Artesia Troupers.

Artesians and Cloudcroft hosts are to attend a dance the same night in the Lodge. Breakfast is to be served the following morning by the church ladies. Time will be from 7 to 10, cost $1.

The caravan will leave Cloudcroft at 10:30 and make stops at Wimsatt Store, Mayhill and Elk on their way back to Artesia.

Mrs. Jim Mahill at Mayhill was not certain whether the Mayhill church ladies will be able to prepare a dinner because the community was disorganized on account of the fire. Definite word will be received on this at an early date.

All Artesia business men are asked to be prepared with souvenirs, or to at least accompany the goodwillers on the tour, aimed at creating goodwill among Artesia businesses and a large segment of the Artesia trade territory.

Bumper strips and Artesia labeled handbills are available at the Chamber office, 316 Carper building. Posters are being printed. Koonce said it is hoped good-will dinners will be held later in the year at Atoka-Lakewood, Cottonwood and Loco Hills.

Cloudcroft Listing
Accommodations at Cloudcroft include Wayside Cottages, Penasco Cabins, Silver Spur Lodge, The Lodge, Pine Cone Inn, Pinewood Guest House, Cloudcroft Hotel and Apartments and Spruce Cabins.

Reservations are to be made through the Cloudcroft Chamber of Commerce.

Army Suspends Transferring Reserve Officers
The Department of the Army has suspended transfer of Army Reserve officers from the active to the inactive list under the current organized Reserve Corps evaluation program, Col. L. S. Graham, Albuquerque, chief of the New Mexico Military District announced today.

The suspension prevents the transfer of those Reserve officers belonging to the active Reserve who failed to respond to physical examinations or questionnaires from being transferred to the inactive Reserve as previous regulations have permitted.

These officers instead will be retained in the volunteer Reserve and placed in a special category. Col. Graham pointed out that Reservists transferred to the inactive list because of physical disability are not affected by the new ruling.

Seven cabins were destroyed by fire, according to the Roswell newspaper. First reports had one structure at Camp Mary White destroyed, but one complete unit of seven cabins was lost.

McEvoy said that each cabin was valued at $300 and that it will take $2100 to replace the damage. "Only the tin roofs were left," he said.

Forest service fire fighters took over Camp Mary White as headquarters for fighting the blaze. One of the worst fire sections was right around the head of Bear Canyon.

Cabins at Mary White are built in units and the units are scattered out among the steep hills which surround the camp. Fire got to one of the units that was closest to the flames, which licked at the whole camp.

Cotton and Alfalfa Fields Take Beating From Storm

Thousands of dollars damage was done by the hail storm that struck cotton and alfalfa fields near Artesia on Tuesday afternoon.

A list compiled by a local concern shows the names of 15 farmers hard hit by the storm. At least half of these had their crops destroyed.

One farmer lost 300 acres of cotton, another 450. There was no central, complete, official total of the number of acres affected and total amount and value of crops destroyed.

Solon Spence, of Lake Arthur, said the storm struck that vicinity at 3 p. m. "It had a nine-mile swath, came in from the northwest, then turned east. That cloud roared in like a freight train," he said.

In the worst of the storm, hailstones were piled six inches deep and size ranged downward from hailstones half the size of a baseball.

The storm's effect were also apparent in the area of the Eddy-Chaves County line road, where one Artesian reported not a sign of cotton left in the fields along a three-fourth mile strip, mesquite broken off, trees denuded of leaves.

$84,000 Spent On Improving Caverns Park
New construction, repair and rehabilitation projects completed at Carlsbad Caverns National Park have been completed at a cost of $84,000 in the current fiscal year, it was made known today by R. Taylor Hoskins, superintendent.

He said the work was done under the administration of Donald Libbey, former superintendent and Thomas E. Whitcraft, assistant superintendent.

The improvements include a 460-car-parking area by Pecos Valley Construction of Carlsbad, near the elevator building. Former parking area could provide space for 375 automobiles, and when visitation was heavy, it was necessary to park vehicles on the roadway near park headquarters.

Other jobs finished were 1900 feet of black-topped cavern trails, new sewage disposal plant, putting up of stone walls and guard rails, repainting and re-roofing of buildings.

New Mexico May Get New Official Song
Artesia Kiwanians, who initiated the custom in Artesia of singing the state song at each weekly meeting, may have to learn a new one.

Phoenix Bernie Williams, writer of such hits as "Pennies from Heaven" and "Somebody Stole My Gal," has turned to state song composing.

Most recent successful effort of Williams was the adoption of "The Arizona Song" by the Arizona Legislature in its last session.

Wisconsin, too, accepted a Williams composition as its official state centennial song.

Williams, in Gallup recently, said he hoped to get to see the governor in Santa Fe and lay the groundwork for a good reception from the Legislature in 1953.

Williams puts strong argument in radio broadcasting of state songs giving good publicity to the state. Due to the fact that the current New Mexico state song was composed in 1915 by Elizabeth Garrett and is not registered with either of the two major composers' organizations—American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers (ASCAP) and Broadcast Music, Incorporated (BMI)—it cannot be aired without special permission from the composer's heirs, and such permission cannot be granted under a blanket deal.

Thus, says Williams, a fresh new song, under the auspices of either ASCAP or BMI, will give the state a new chance at further publicity through national broadcasts and other public performances.

Artesia Cadet Rates Wentworth Special Honor List
Cadet Dwight D. Hancox, son of Mr. and Mrs. Percy A. Hancox, 1304 Yucca, has qualified for the dean's special distinction list for the second semester at Wentworth Military Academy, Lexington, Mo.

Only superior students qualify on this roll. Cadets must have above averages in all subjects and top grades in at least two fields, says Major Dallas C. Buck, Wentworth dean.

Church Council Stresses Need Of Unification

That no church is strong enough alone to face the forces of evil, "organized and unified as never before," was the dominant note of the annual General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church of the United States of America.

The convocation was held May 24-27 in Cincinnati. Commissioners of the Pecos Valley Presbytery were Rev. Ralph L. O'Dell, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Artesia and Prof. Fred Binder of Alamogordo.

In a pre-assembly conference on evangelism, held May 21-23, which Rev. O'Dell attended, the theme was that "without a sense of evangelism we are lost."

The Artesia minister said that the Communists are supporting eight million propagandists in China and that "we in the church must be equally as enthusiastic in spreading the gospel of brotherly love."

Main speaker at the assembly was Charles Templeton, Canadian-born sports writer, educated in Scotland and at Princeton, where he completed theological training.

Attendance at the assembly was 2200, including 960 commissioners and representing the entire globe. Family Reunion

On Memorial Day, Rev. and Mrs. O'Dell were guests of Mrs. William Hartzell in Greenville, Ohio, where all the brothers and sisters of the O'Dell family gathered for a family reunion.

The Artesia pastor said it was the first since 1944, when the mother died, that the family had been together.

Rev. and Mrs. O'Dell and Mrs. Mack Reasner returned to Artesia at 4 p. m. Saturday. They left Artesia May 17. Mrs. O'Dell stopped on the way to visit relatives in Columbus, Ind., while Mrs. Reasner visited in Indianapolis, her former home.

Kiwanis Fiesta Attended By 150

Artesia Kiwanians Kid's Day benefit flapjack supper and square dance was attended by 150 persons, it was announced at the club's regular weekly luncheon held at noon yesterday in Cliff's Cafeteria.

To Kathy O'Dell and Paul Bray went the awards for the best Western attire at the party, held on Tuesday night in the parish hall of the First Presbyterian Church.

Square dance callers were Jobey McPherson, Chick and Betty Coole. The motion picture projector that showed cartoon films for the children was operated by Larry Coole, son of Chick and Betty. Pictures were supplied by Dr. Harold W. Crouch.

Next two weekly meetings of Kiwanis will be held in the Club Cafe at noon on Thursday, June 14, Flag Day and at noon Thursday, June 21.

Ralph L. O'Dell, club president, said the change was due to the cafeteria being closed for a two-week vacation period.

Proposed Phone Rate Increase Not Under OPS

In recent announcement by the Mountain States Telephone & Telegraph Company in Albuquerque, that they proposed to inaugurate increased telephone service rates this month, caused many inquiries to be directed to OPS regarding the status of this utility under price control regulation. Roy S. Walker, Albuquerque, district director for New Mexico said today.

"The telephone company is not covered by the general ceiling price regulation and the Office of Price Stabilization has no jurisdiction over changes in their rate structure," Walker declared.

Utility rates and services are nationally regulated by state agencies who have accumulated vast experiences and data in these fields. In New Mexico the corporation commission is the regulatory agency for utility corporations in intra-state rates.

Country Club Chatter

By Jack Faunteroy

The plans for the swimming pool are progressing nicely. The necessary equipment is being arranged for at this time and proposed plans concerning size, shape, etc., are being pondered.

Another meeting of the committee will be held the latter part of this week and definite plans on the size and shape will be determined. It is also possible that the beginning construction date will be known at that time, providing other arrangements pending have been worked out.

If the beginning date is known, I think it would be in order to bust a bottle of bubble water over the nose of the bulldozer and have speeches and stuff on that day. My nominations for the committee to get the bubble water are Sarah Hart Bourland and Mary Evans Sadler—and you know why.

I wish you'd look where Brownie Emerson has moved this column—right smack dab in the middle of the Sascity Page! Probably so my wife (and only known reader) can find it easier. That is mighty considerate and I suppose it's better than being placed in the Want Ads, although from the way I write, Brownie probably figures that something is wanting.

Being located here, however, makes me feel like I ain't doing my duty each week, if I don't describe what everybody is wearing. No offense, Brownie, but I'm afraid you're going to give me a complex.

Reckon I couldn't get back over in that part of the paper where it tells how to exterminate rodents and things like that. (Now isn't that just like us temperamental artists!)

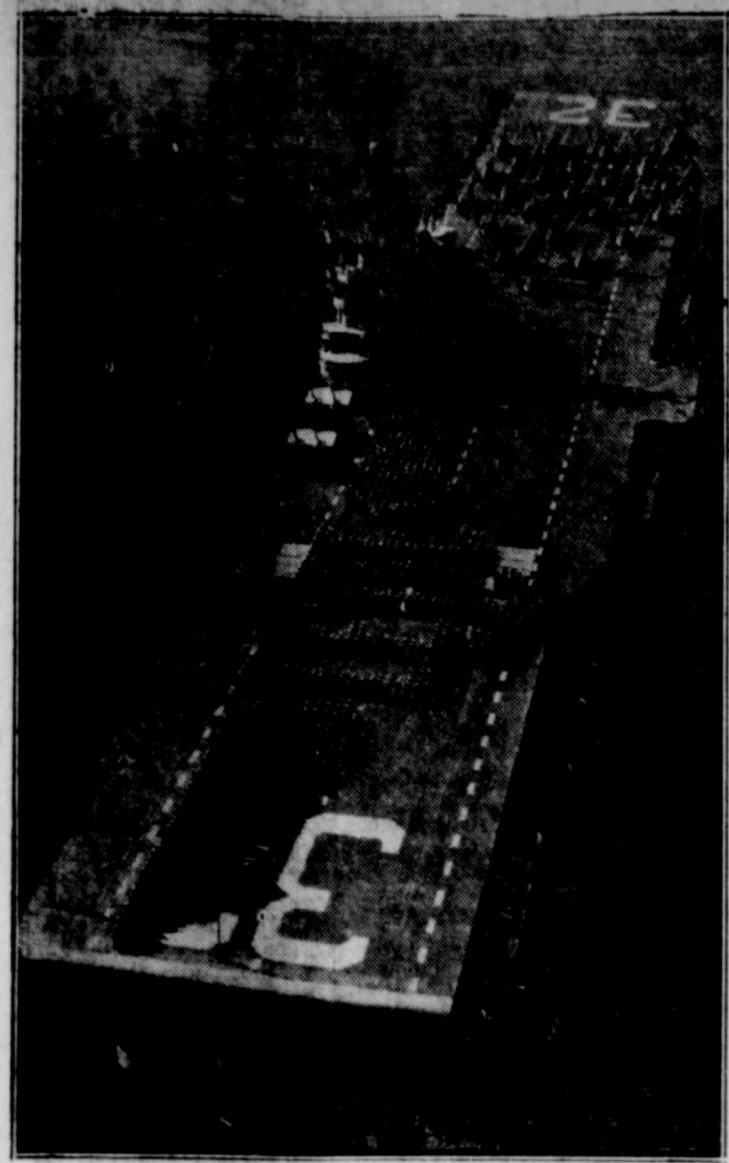

LOST AND FOUND—at the club house, two shoulder bags, child size. Paul Nissen says he doesn't know if they are Koret's or not, but owners can have same by calling for them. Also one Gentleman's Hat.

Owner may have it served to him with dessert the next time he dines at the club. (These items are published as a public service and no reward is expected or anticipated—however, if the owners are overcome by a desire to repay the writer, I think it would be rude to refuse, say, a deposit for a steak dinner.)

Bob Bourland and Bill Bullock should have their respective golfing teams picked by next week and we will have our first team match on Sunday afternoon, June 17. I will try to have all the names and the teams they are on in the June 15 issue.

I apologize to you, gentle reader, on a certain lack of Country Club coverage this week. It is due to two main reasons. One is the fact my sources of information have either dried up or gone on vacation, and second, I have spent the past week, either on the milk run or trying to memorize a formula that goes like this:

Eight ounces Lactum to 13 ounces water.
If you want to have an eight-pound daughter.
(At eight pounds, it is hoped that

June 15 Deadline On Field Surveys

June 15 is the deadline for applications for inspection of late winter and spring seeded crops of oats, barley, alfalfa and clover. J. T. Stovall, administrative officer of the New Mexico Crop Improvement Association, State College, said today.

"Applications must be in by June 15 so that inspection routes can be set up," Stovall explains. "Making up routes for these inspections cuts down on time and mileage costs. Anyone planning to certify any of the above crops should send in his inspection application early and thus avoid the penalty."

Bulldog Net Star to Attend A. & M. College

New Mexico A&M College will be supplied a tennis star by Artesia High School.

Charles Donald Gibson, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Gibson, 1111 Washington, plans to attend the institution at Las Cruces next fall. He is a 1951 graduate of the local high school.

Gibson, teamed with Doug Whitefield, won the state doubles crown last May in the state high school tournament in Albuquerque, when the Artesians vanquished Las Vegas.

Next year he took second in the district singles, bowing to Don Johnson of Carlsbad, but placing third in the state.

In the school year ended last month, Gibson, as one of the all-victorious Artesia net squad, climbed right up to the championship.

As evidence of his prowess Gibson received Monday a three-inch long gold-plated medal suspended on a Cherry and Silver ribbon. The medal has the University of New Mexico seal imprinted on the front.

Gibson said Monday was "medal day" with other winners getting their awards at the same time. Among these was Jody Williams, second in singles at the state meet.

Gibson is a native Oklahoman, born in Ada. He attended school in Cottonwood two years, has lived in Artesia 11 years. A younger brother, Johnny, 10, is a pupil in Park School.

Home on the Range

Concerning New Mexico By Will Robinson Of course anything is possible in nature. Many people, still living remember when the first fragrant peonies were developed in Rhode Island. Now there isn't any other kind on the market. It may be the same way with the dahlias. It has been more than a hundred years since old Captain Peter Dahl discovered the plant in central America and its steady evolution began.

The Edna Farber paid its evolver more than $100,000 before they got so plentiful you could buy one for a dollar or less. It is a perfectly safe bet that the first perfumed dahlias will bring $1000 each.

The Wallingfords have a far-flung chance, for they have over 5000 dahlias coming into bloom at this time, at their wonder farm, a couple of miles northeast of Portales, where there are over 3000 gladiolas and nearly as many chrysanthemums.

So far size seems to count most in the dahlia sector, and they grow blooms as much as 14 inches across. Of course size isn't the winning feature of prize dahlias, but it helps a lot and has since the Santa Fe Lions Club held its first dahlia show, some 20 years ago. If the Wallingfords have a smaller, visitors will come from all over the world.

Veterans Trim Eagles 21 to 5

Out of a dozen games played to date this season the Artesia Veterans have won four, lost two. Latest win was a 21 to 5 walloping of the Artesia Eagles. Juan Chavez and Frank Saiz composed the Vet battery.

The Vets have twice played the Carlsbad Indios, the only team to date to beat the Veterans. Indios won the first 6-3 the second 11-9. Against Hagerman the Vets took a photofinish 6-5, and against an aggregation loosely designated as Stars, won twice, 16-12, and 14-3.

Sportsmanship Yardstick For Evaluating Students

Good sportsmanship is good citizenship.

Going thru my files of the New Mexico High School Athletic Association bulletins I chanced upon this statement.

I think it is apropos to quote from the bulletin its comment on sportsmanship, an essay, and a poem, all from the state association bulletins.

Artesia public school pupils have been exhorted frequently, especially during the basketball season, that "by your conduct you and your school shall be judged."

Aids to sportsmanship are: Know the rules of play; applaud all good play; accept the decisions of officials; insist upon courteous treatment of visiting teams.

From the Leinster Leader - Irish Digest.

Take Time

Take time to work—it is the price of success.

Take time to think—it is the source of power.

Take time to play—it is the secret of perpetual youth.

Take time to read—it is the fountain of wisdom.

Take time to be friendly—it is the road to happiness.

Take time to dream—it is hitching your wagon to a star.

Driller Dugout Chatter

Well sport fans, our Drillers are home for eight games and believe me, I think they are going to give us some real baseball. I think the boys have found themselves and are all set to go.

We had a nice "Hit and Run" Club luncheon yesterday and everyone had an enjoyable time. There were over 130 present to greet the boys back home.

Do not forget tonight's game, it is Carlsbad night, and Melvin "Moose" Miller night. We are expecting several hundred fans here from Carlsbad and there is going to be a gift presentation ceremony before the game.

Melvin Miller is slated to pitch tonight and here's hoping his good ole fast ball is right.

Parking Hint

The management of the Drillers would appreciate fans not parking their cars near or around the ticket office. There will be an officer to direct you not to park in this area and full cooperation will be appreciated. You know very few fans park down the third base line side and it is usually very easy or convenient to get in or out.

Ladies nite will in all probability be held Monday when the Drillers meet Midland.

We would like to see more ladies out to the ball games. They really are rabid baseball fans when they once get to going to the games, and believe me, they have a real sense of value concerning this great American game. I've talked to quite a number and believe me their knowledge of the game equals the men's.

Anyway, girls call all your best girlfriends and suggest a baseball party, come out to the games in a group and scream and yell all your heart's desire.

The players love it and being and knowing a group of broken-down has-beens I can truthfully say that an athlete will play and try harder for the feminine side of the crowd appeal than one actually realizes.

Meal Convenience
Here is good news for any of you fans that may belong to the country club. While the Drillers are home each series, the country club will serve buffet luncheon from 5:30 to 7 which will be served for 75 cents. This will permit you to skip rushing that evening meal to get out to the ball game. Sunday dinner will be served 12 to 2 and 6 to 9. There will not be any more buffet dinners on Sunday.

You knot-hole gang members be sure to get out there each home game and really cheer your boys on to victory.

Remember you may be given a ball, a bat, a glove, or a box of candy.

Just remember boys and girls to be little ladies and gentlemen and do not be wandering all over the grandstand, stay with the gang or sit with your mother and dad.

Well, see you at the ball game let's all make ourselves heard and back the Drillers all the way.

Turkey Habitat In Sacramento Ruined By Fire

The serious fire in the Lincoln National Forest of the Sacramento Mountains which burned over 15,000 acres has destroyed a large amount of prime turkey habitat.

Take time to love and be loved—it is the privilege of the gods.

Take time to look around—it is too short a day to be selfish.

Take time to laugh—it is the music of the soul.

Friends

This poem on "Friends" is important, too, and one from which Artesia can benefit by application. It's a reprint from the Hillyard Chemical Company Bulletin:

If nobody smiled and nobody cheered, and nobody helped us along;

If every man looked after himself and good things all went to the strong;

If nobody cared just a little for you, and nobody thought about me;

And we all stood alone in the battle of life, what a dreary old world it would be.

Life is sweet just because of the friends we have made, and the things in common we share;

We want to live on, not because of ourselves, but because of the people who care;

It's giving and doing for somebody else—that all life's splendor depends;

And the joy of the world, when you have summed it all up, is found in the making of friends.

Four-Year Famine

Four lean years at the Hill have added up to more sleepless nights for the "ole man" than even he would care to admit. The exhaustion shows once in a while, but all it does is just make him a little more determined. He's so darned determined now his pretty secretary, Nita Tixier, is afraid to run over to the dorm for a quick cup of coffee for fear the "ole man" may suddenly decide to turn out a flock of letters.

Yeah, the "ole man" is all work these days. You can hear his bellow from early morning to late afternoon all over the slightly dilapidated building that houses the University athletic bosses.

"We've never had a winner since I been here," you hear him grumbling to himself. "Maybe it's my fault. Dad burn it, there's no sense in it" — then he starts shoveling on the coal again.

"I know what people are thinkin', he growls. "They're thinkin' we're gonna be the doormat of the University athletic bosses.

Ray Bell, chief of law enforcement, was called into fire-fighting service with the Department plane early Saturday morning, June 2, and has worked constantly to help keep various units informed of the overall situation and necessary actions to be taken. Game men Orville Luttrell, Bill Humphries, and Marion Embry have also worked constantly to stem this tide of fire.

Once again State Game Warden Elliott S. Barker wants to warn all fishermen and picnickers of the extreme dryness of the forests and stream banks and to caution them to take extreme precautions to prevent more occurrences similar to the disastrous Sacramento fire.

Texas Fireball Bound to See Lobos Victors

The guy who hates to lose worse than anybody else in the world! That's heavy-browed, drawing Berl (Country) Huffman, athletic boss at the University of New Mexico.

The 44-year-old transplanted Texan firmly believes the world's greatest mistake from a coach's standpoint was putting the word "lose" into the American language. The "ole man", as the Lobo chief is sometimes affectionately called, always out of ear shot, is mad "clean through", as he would say.

He's bound and determined New Mexico can win if it works hard enough. And in 25 years of coaching, being lazy is one thing "Country" Huffman has never been accused of being.

"In fact that's about the only thing," Huffman admits, easing up long enough for one of his rare smiles.

And it doesn't take more than one flicker to get the impression that "Country" isn't kidding anybody, including himself.

"I wanta get in a little sleepin' for a change this fall," he mumbles. "No man's got no right to be doing much sleepin' if he isn't winnin'."

Anglers Advised On Way to Avoid Lightning Danger

Artesia fishermen are given advice by the New Mexico Game and Fish Department on an approved method for fishermen caught in the middle of large bodies of water to avoid being struck by bolts of lightning.

The data comes from the Texas Game Department.

Prof. B. N. Gafford, Texas University mentor, states that the best way to avoid contact with the feared bolts of electricity is to get ashore prior to the time the storm strikes, but if this is not possible, then take the following precautions:

1. Place a metal fishing pole vertically fixing it so that the handle end is in the water and the tip projects into the air above the heads of the boat's occupants.

2. Lie down in the boat, whether the make-shift lightning rod is attached or not, so that the body is below the edges of the craft.

Lightning, states Gafford, is the result of electricity in the clouds being discharged into the earth or the closest object between the cloud and the earth. Therefore, fishermen on a river where the banks extend above the water might have comparative safety, but anglers on a large area of water, where shore lines are distant, would be endangered.

Summer storms arise in New Mexico with startling suddenness, and it is often not possible to predict foul weather until it has broken. Trollers on the Sunshine State waters can, therefore, indulge in the sport with added safety if apprised of the value of their prize rods as lightning rods.

The university authority said persons on the land, caught outside in storms, might be safest by lying down in a low spot. If in wooded area, they might well seek the largest open space between trees. Professor Gafford ridiculed the old fashioned theories about protection from lightning, such as keeping rooms dark. He laughingly added:

"When there's a storm, my good wife usually runs around the house snapping off the lights; and I follow closely in her footsteps turning them back on."

In a routine session at 7:30 p. m. Monday, directors of Artesia Chamber of Commerce talked over the Hope, fiesta, the annual good will trip set for June 14-15, and publicity.

Indication of the size of the swept-wing Boeing B-47 Stratojet is shown graphically in this new photograph revealing for the first time inner details of a fuselage section under construction at Boeing Airplane Company's Wichita Division. The six-jet U.S. Air Force medium bomber weighs 185,000 pounds, carries a three-man crew. Under a massive program announced last week, Stratojets will be built by Lockheed Aircraft Corporation's Georgia Division and by Douglas Aircraft Company's Tulsa Division, complementing the substantial production already underway at Boeing's Wichita Division.

Fuller Chosen As Chief Clerk At Caverns Park

Charles E. Fuller, former fiscal accounting clerk at Yellowstone National Park, has been appointed chief clerk at Carlsbad Caverns by Supt. R. Taylor Hoskins. Prior to service at Yellowstone Fuller was at Grand Canyon and in the director's office in Washington, D. C. He is married and the father of two children. Because of poor health, Claude B. Conley, former chief clerk, asked to step down and take over the fiscal accounting position vacated by Ray G. Martinez, transferred and promoted to fiscal accounting clerk at Grand Canyon. Donald N. Black, guide, was transferred and promoted to park ranger on the North Rim of Grand Canyon.

A total of 2,567,008 veterans obtained GI loans between June 22, 1944, beginning of the program, and April 1, 1951. The loans totaled $14.7 billion, of which Veterans Administration guaranteed about half, or $7.4 billion.

The first commercial steel wire nails were made in this country by Father Goebel at Covington, Ky., according to the American Iron and Steel association.

Uncle Sam Says

May 14-19 is Newspaperboy Defense Bond Week. During that week some 300,000 newspaper carriers will take on the patriotic task of distributing and collecting 25 million Defense Bond Pledge Cards. Always in the forefront when it comes to patriotism these boys have volunteered to carry this important message to their customers. The boys know the value of thrift and are today investing thousands of dollars in U. S. Defense Bonds. Sign that Defense Bond Pledge.

Veterans Administration by April 1 had issued 119,000,000 subsistence checks to veterans who trained under Public Law 16 and the GI Bill since the inception of the two programs in 1943 and 1944, respectively. Nearly 8,000,000 veterans have had training during that time.

Legion Post Will Honor First Leader

To Dr. H. A. Stroup, a charter member and first commander of Clarence Kepple Post 41 of the American Legion, will be presented a card attesting to his 30-year membership in the American Legion.

With a touch of ceremony, the card will be presented by a committee composed of Fred Jacobs, P. V. Morris and Wade Cunningham.

Announcement of the presentation was made at the post's regular meeting at 8 p. m., Monday, June 4. At the same time, Lowe Wickersham was presented a five-year membership card and stars were awarded members who obtained seven or more new members in a recent campaign.

They are J. Grady Wright, Bill Dunnam, John Simons Jr. and J. L. Long.

Simons was also presented a post commander's pin.

Youth Work
Local post will send four Artesia and one Hope boy to the annual Boys State at El Rito, June 10-17. They are Glenn Harrison of Hope and Raydean Owens, Albert

Bach, Bruce A. Caskey and Dwaine Robinson, all of Artesia. Homer Heathman is Boys State committee chairman.

To the American Legion junior baseball team, the post donated $25.39 to purchase baseballs.

The post has already named its 23 delegates and 23 alternates for the department convention to be held June 20-23 in Santa Fe.

Wright, vice commander, presided at the post's meeting in the absence of Commander Jacobs, who is out of town. Attendance totaled 36.

Artesian Meets Former Teacher

Chance that took John R. Freeman of Lubbock to Artesia to conduct an evangelistic campaign at the Church of Christ, 13th and Chisum, brought the Lubbock man to a visit with a former pupil. Mr. and Mrs. Jim Heald, had Freeman as their guest yesterday. Evangelist Freeman was the minister who officiated at their wedding in 1940.

Freeman was also a mathematics teacher of Heald, when the latter was a student in Lubbock High School.

The first recorded automobile race was from Paris to Rouen, France, in 1804. The 75 miles was covered at about 15 miles an hour.

Mrs. Margaret Scholz makes another cut on price of mixers in Macy's department before a throng of shoppers enthused over the big department store price war in New York. Artesia Scout Would Give Aid In Fire Battle Commendable civic zeal is manifested by Charles Hogsett, Boy Scout Troop 27.

Hogsett, a second class scout, in a letter to The Artesia Advocate, dated Monday, June 4, asks why Boy Scouts weren't called into action in the $250,000, 15,000-acre Lincoln National Forest fire then raging.

Scout Hogsett apparently was writing of an all-out alert since some Boy Scouts did take part in fighting the fire.

Daily Record of June 4 contains a picture of some of the fire fighters.

An extract from the cut lines:

"In the lower picture are We-Hin-Ah-Pay Scouts and leaders who were on the fire line all night Saturday. In the picture they were on their way back to camp for food and sleep."

Identification includes Jon Easley, Troop 295, and Charles Waltrip, Explorer Post 28, both of Artesia.

Young Hogsett writes:

"On the subject of the forest fire now burning west of Artesia in the Sacramento Mountains, why not let the Boy Scouts help in some way to combat the blaze?"

"Such as carrying drinking water to the men fighting the blaze, carrying messages and blankets, coffee, and food.

"Some who knew how could drive trucks carrying men and equipment. They could also carry tools on foot.

"This would keep up the spirit of the promise of the Scout, doing their duty to God and to their country.

"It would also prepare them for the farther adventure in Scouting and would prepare them for any emergency.

"I sincerely think if all Scouts, second class and above, did their part they would be of great help."

In May 1942, Maj. Gen. Carl A. Spaatz became commanding general of the Eighth Air Force.

Forest Fire Draws Many Plane Flights

A dozen flights are listed on the latest "hangar flying" report, including flights over the area of the Lincoln National Forest fire.

Longest of the flights was to Indianapolis. Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Moutray and Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Moutray have returned from attending the Memorial Day automobile racing classic.

The list includes: Mrs. Jess Shildneck and son, to Albuquerque, to bedside of Shildneck, a patient in the veterans hospital.

T. B. Knox, Donnell Drilling, to Artesia from Odessa and return. Bill Bazzell and Bob Ehle, to Hobbs.

Tom Marshall from Pecos, Texas. Jimmy Dinsmore from Hobbs. To scene of forest fire:

Marshall Rowley, Bob Bourland, Sug Hazel, Van Swearingen, Gene Sherwood, Bob Ehle, H. C. Schimmel, Dr. Ralph Earhart, Dave But-ton.

Tall Tales Told of Burk And Hogtown

There's a lot of tall stories about oil booms and Boyce House, former editor at Ranger, Cisco, and Olney, and staffer on the Fort Worth Star-Telegram likely knows more than any other man.

In the May issue of West Texas Today, official publication of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, House includes in an article on this topic a story from Burk Burnett and another from Hogtown.

Here's a story, that has been told of the discovery well of several fields, but S. L. Fowler told this chronicler that it really occurred in connection with the wildcat he drilled just outside the town of Burk Burnett on his farm:

The wagon hauling the first materials did not break down (the usual version) but became bogged in sand, so Fowler said, "Just unload 'er here." And the well was drilled there. A gusher was the result and the Burk Burnett boom, one of the biggest.

Tom Dees was the owner of a lumber yard in Midlothian when he was persuaded to drill for oil on the bank of Hog Creek in Eastland County near the village of Desdemona, "previously known as Hogtown."

He was instrumental in getting another operator to drill a test, while the Dees well was under way.

When his own well failed to hit oil (he told me), he went through the motions of drilling, day after day, with the drill six feet from the bottom of the hole.

In this way, he held his extensive leases until the other man's wildcat was completed—the Duke gusher.

Dees sold his holdings for millions of dollars and the stockholders received $10,350 for each $100 invested with him, one of the biggest payoffs in the history of oil.

Fowler had been backed by his neighbors, and they were rewarded even more richly, ($13,000 for each $100, if memory serves a-right.)

Cleveland (APPS)—The creation of American Society Experimental Biology selected expert to deliver an address. His name—Dr. Bacon Chow.

Alhambra, Calif. (APPS)—W. Kratzer hopped onto his torscooter and headed for the go. He intends to support his along the way by sharp knives. Sam is 80 years old.

Young Vegetable Growers Can Aid Defense Efforts

New Mexico farm youths were told today they can make a direct contribution to the nation's defense program by taking part in this year's production-marketing contest of the National Junior Vegetable Growers Association.

Secretary of Agriculture Branch has called for greatly increased vegetable gardening," said Apodaca, assistant state 4-H Club leader, New Mexico College of Agriculture, "and I feel this contest, teaching more efficient methods of growing and selling vegetables, will be very helpful in building up adequate reserves for food supplies for emergency."

In announcing opening of the NJVGA's eleventh annual competition, Apodaca pointed out that it is an expansion of vegetable gardening in all states will contribute material strength to national defense efforts.

"With per capita vegetable consumption now more than 10 per cent above prewar levels, and our population steadily increasing, it's easy to see the value of such a program," he said.

Scholarship Offered
Apodaca, who serves as the association's chairman in New Mexico, said all Sunshine State farm youths from 12 through 21 are eligible to compete in this contest, for which A & P Food Stores annually provides $6,000 in cash agricultural scholarships.

"Actually," he explained, "besides getting fine training in vegetable growing and selling and an opportunity to win one of more than 200 awards this contest offers contestants will aid defense efforts in two ways."

"First of all, the crops from the plot each contestant must plant, cultivate, harvest and market in order to compete in this event will add to our supply of healthy, nutritious foods. In addition, adults who learn of the fine results these boys and girls achieve through the use of modern, scientific methods, will be encouraged to adopt similar practices. The result can only be a bigger and better vegetable crop throughout the nation."

Any young gardener may enroll in the NJVGA's production-marketing contest by contacting 4-H Club leaders, county agents, instructors in vocational agriculture or numerous other farm youth leaders who are cooperating with the association in enrolling members. Youths may join also by writing directly to Apodaca at New Mexico College of Agriculture, State College.

Demonstration Contest
In addition to the production-marketing contest, the 1951 program will include the annual demonstration contest, in which individuals or teams compete in demonstrating new methods of planting, cultivating, marketing or preparing vegetables. Journeys to the annual NJVGA convention for winners of state contests, and cash awards to top performers in the national finals, are offered by the A. T. Lee Burpee Company for this contest.

New Mexico farm boys and girls won seven awards in the 1950 production-marketing contest. They were Severio to Chavez, Albuquerque, who captured a $100 section-4 scholarship, and Lupe Chavez and Romulo Turrietta, Albuquerque; Coralie Nell Mullins and Tommy Mullins of Rogers, Ted H. Kitell, Bloomfield, and Encarnacion Saiz, Alameda, who won state awards.

NMU to Sponsor High School Band Clinic June 11-16

A high school band clinic will be sponsored by the University of New Mexico summer session and the UNM band, next month in Albuquerque.

From June 11 to 16, high school students from grade nine through 12, including 1951 graduates, will attend the clinic on the UNM campus. State high school band directors will also participate.

The clinic will include four hours of concert band rehearsals daily, two hours of sectional rehearsals daily, daily classes in baton twirling, and evening films and recordings.

Films and recordings of marching and concert bands include some from the Universities of Minnesota, Ohio, Illinois, Michigan State, Northwestern University, East Lansing high schools; and Encyclopedia Britannica sectional films. There will also be an instrumental demonstration, featuring many unusual instruments.

Robert E. Dahert, new head of the UNM marching band, said that the band clinic should have 80 pieces, and preferably 100. The clinic will be under the direction of Gerald R. Prescott, University of Minnesota, author of the Prescott Technic System and other publications in the field of music education.

Haste Factor, In $100 Lost By Each Driver

Impatience, negligence and incompetence, the three cardinal sins of the gasoline wastrel, are costing New Mexico motorists 20 million dollars annually or $100 for each vehicle owner, according to a recent published study by one of America's topflight automotive engineers.

Delmar G. Roos, former president of the Society of Automotive Engineers, has concluded that the average motorist gets less than half the motoring miles he should out of a gallon of gasoline.

Heading a list of mechanical sins lumped in Roos' study under "negligence" are faulty spark settings, cylinder compression and tire pressures. Each of these factors cuts gasoline efficiency between three and six per cent—and costs the motorist between one and two cents extra for each mile he drives.

"Tire pressure is a good example of the high price of carelessness," Mr. Roos says. "When tire pressures were four pounds lower than they should be, the station wagon averaged one mile less per gallon of gas. At average gasoline prices this bit of carelessness alone would cost the motorist more than a penny a mile."

Other common mechanical faults affecting fuel mileage are dirty air filters, dragging brakes and improper wheel alignment.

"As for driving habits," said Roos, "the two worst gas wasters—outside of habitual speeding—are jack rabbit starts and quick stops. Violent pressures on the accelerator squirt gasoline into the cylinders faster than it can be used efficiently, while sudden stops waste momentum already built up by expended fuel, in addition to wearing out brake linings."

Roos' figures on gasoline wastage in New Mexico were based on current gasoline prices in the state, number of miles "got" per gallon of gas by the average motorist and the latest available state-wide mileage figures released by the national Safety Council.

A prominent British journalist once wrote that "although the B-17 and B-24 had done much useful work for the British, they were not suited to European air combat."

rection of Gerald R. Prescott, University of Minnesota, author of the Prescott Technic System and other publications in the field of music education.

He will confer with the band directors attending on the specific problems which will be chosen from questionnaires returned by them.

A band concert will close the clinic the afternoon of June 16. Participating students and band members will be housed on the UNM campus.

Supporting Your Church

ARE YOU supporting and backing the church of your choice in Artesia? Many individuals are. Many here attend their church, participate in its programs and its services and give of their means to the support of that church and its program here.

But many never attend church, are not church members, never give a thought to the church. They just figure that is not for them and they never bother any about it.

Confusion Grows

THE CONFUSION in this life we live—personal and business—seems to increase as the days roll by instead of becoming less complicated.

For more than 10 years Americans have been sitting back hoping and looking forward to the day and time when we would return as a nation to something that resembled normal.

Immediately following the war, we were sure that we would be back to a normal life in the near future. That, of course, has not proven to be the case.

They Would Deny It

THE SECOND GRAND JURY which was convened at Las Cruces in Dona Ana County recently apparently found little wrong in the county for they only returned one indictment.

STILL A BARGAIN

Electricity is one of the biggest available bargains these days. It actually costs less than it did in the depths of the depression—and you'd search a long, hard way before you'd find anything else in common use of which that is true.

Assignment New Mexico

By G. Ward Fenley. After our commencement exercises, I feel much like the Fort Stanton news item in the Ruidoso News last week: "The cleaning shop is closed for repairs to the manager, Mr. Eisenbell."

I guess it's because I'm not taking my usual doses of Hadacol. Out at a Duke-Clovis baseball game the other night, Wallace Barnes was telling me that the Hadacol people had finally admitted that they lost a patient.

But carefully couched in the news item was a line: "We did manage to save the 95-year old woman's baby!"

I ran onto a popular young Albuquerque preacher the other day who has been treated for some time now with the new drug ACTH for a rather severe case of arthritis.

Kenneth said that his doctor jokingly suggested last week that if ACTH failed he had one last remedy: "ASTH really stands for: after cortison, try Hadacol."

From the Farmington Times: "The judge so appointed can take a question of wheh5 or no he shall be reined in office. Hrding counies becomes effective in June, while ne judino become lw unil nd unld approved by voters in special election."

Inside WASHINGTON MARCH OF EVENTS

No Apron Strings Hamper Margaret Truman On Trip. First Lady Won't Follow Daughter, Now in Europe.

WASHINGTON—The nation's First Lady wants to help daughter Margaret have a good time in Europe—so she's staying home in the White House.

There was a lot of speculation around the capital that Mrs. Truman planned to join her daughter abroad later in summer after she had rested up back home Independence, Mo.

The First Lady was asked about the rumors a Women's National Press club party for Margaret Truman furnished the quote of the party when she laughed and replied, "Oh, no! I wish her to have a good time."

SLOW MOTION—Last July Rep. Stephen P. (R.) Georgia, as head of an agricultural subcommittee, asked an Agriculture department official a complete report on his agency's work in the field of farm research.

ATOMIC JITTERS?—Informed sources in Washington believe that a severe case of atomic jitters may have hit the Communist North Koreans or Chinese Communists but it hasn't made a mention about other A-weapons.

Economist Sees Grain Sorghums As 'Cash' Crop

Grain sorghum will be a good bet as a crop for Eddy County farmers this year, says J. Z. Rowe, extension economist at New Mexico A. & M. College.

Newly established government price supports for 1951 crop grain sorghums will be about 29 cents higher than the previously announced price support, Rowe explains.

At the national price support level of $2.17 a hundredweight, New Mexico farmers would receive about $2.05 a hundredweight for their 1951 grain sorghums.

"Farmers' planting intentions in March indicated that grain supplies, based on average yields, will be about six per cent smaller this year than in 1950," the economist says.

"If less feed grains are produced to meet the present high rate of feeding, there would be about 10 per cent less feed concentrates per animal unit in 1951-52 than in the past year.

"Demand for feed is expected to remain strong in the 1951-52 feeding year because of the higher prices being paid for livestock and because of increased livestock numbers on farms.
