Bulldog Band Session Slated For August 6

Heralding the approach of a new sports season is the announcement that an August rehearsal program for building a football band is slated to begin on Monday, Aug. 6.

On the morning of that day all band members are to meet at the high school band room. High school students will assemble at 9, junior high at 10, grade at 11. Also, any students wishing to learn to play an instrument are asked to come at 11 o'clock.

Building up a football band is not the sole purpose of the session. It will be the band's first meeting with Ben H. Stevens, new director, who succeeds Russell Lewis, Jr., band director called into the armed forces.

"To start the year off right," is another of the purposes of the three meetings and Director Stevens has added that he will be "glad to meet with any of the band parents."

He explained that the customary summer meetings had been eliminated this year since Lewis' recall and three was considerable organizational work to be done.

The new band director is a native Oklahoman, born at Morris, near Muskogee, in the eastern part of the state. He went to high school at Maud; received his bachelor of arts degree from East Central State, at Ada, Pontotoc county, Okla.; did graduate work at the University of Oklahoma, in Norman, and has been working on a master's degree at Eastern New Mexico University, Portales.

Stevens has taught at Allen, Okla., east of Ada; at Loving three years, and at Atoka, in 1949-50 and 1950-51.

He is a member of the New Mexico Music Educators Association and a singer in the Methodist church choir.

Mrs. Stevens, wife of the director, is a native Texan but has lived most of her life in Oklahoma. Since when only six months old her family moved to the Sooner State. Her home town is Seminole. The Stevens' have three children, all daughters. They are Susan, 11 years old; Kay, 10; and Nancy, 7.

Crop Dusting Plane Pilot Killed When Craft Crashes Wires and Burns

A 48-year-old former Army pilot, Glen Howard of Carlsbad, was killed at 5:55 a. m. yesterday when his cotton crop dusting plane nosed into the ground, flopped over on its side, and burned, after hitting powerlines running north and south on Thirteenth Street, south of the substation at the intersection of Thirteenth and the truck by pass.

Location of the accident was north across the road from Artesia Municipal Park.

The power lines hit by the plane, which burned the craft and pilot, carry a load of 69,000 volts.

Artesia firemen were summoned to put out the blaze. A Paulin Funeral Home ambulance removed the body. Funeral arrangements are pending in Carlsbad.

Howard had lived in Pecos, Texas.

He was flying a light plane, had circled the cotton field of W. N. Simmons and had started his dive preparatory to dusting against bollworms.

As local fliers reconstructed the story it is believed Howard miscalculated his distance from the field and then his plane hit the wires at a terrific speed.

Howard resided at 313 1/2 North Lake, Carlsbad. Survivors include the widow, Mrs. Blanche Howard; two sisters, Mrs. Lois Request and Mrs. Mildred Heckard, both of Des Moines, Iowa; and a brother, Jack H., who resides in California. Arrangements are by West Funeral Home, Carlsbad.

That question is prompted by the weekly newsletter of the New Mexico Employment Service. Walter E. Taylor, Albuquerque, writer of the letter, says that 3,000 cotton picking machines will be used in the harvest of California's cotton crop this year and will pick a third of the one million five hundred thousand bale crop.

Each machine picks an average of 210 bales a season and it is predicted that by 1961 all but a small fraction of California's cotton will be machine picked.

Farm Agent Gives Report on Insects

Key to successful control of bollworms is getting the insecticide on as soon as the worms are hatching, says Dallas Rierson, Carlsbad, county extension agent, in a report on insect infestation over Eddy. "Fields should still be watched closely for hatching bollworms as many eggs are still being found," he advises. "Several farmers that sprayed or dusted their fields at the proper time seem to be having good control on cotton insects. Other farmers that were a little late in applying the insecticides to the fields are finding few to several large worms working. "Rains in the county varied from none to six inches. Most of the irrigated farm lands, except in the Hope area, received rain. "Red spiders are being found in small numbers, not enough to warrant special treatment for their control. "Aphids are also still being found, lygus in fields near alfalfa." The agents report is dated July 26.

Colt Player Week's Leader In Loop Batting

San Angelo Colts and Odessa Oilers top the list of Longhorn League batters and pitchers for the week ending July 29, according to the latest Longhorn League averages reported issued by Buck Francis, Abilene, league statistician.

In batting, John Tayoan is at the top with a .378; Roy Sims, Odessa, leads the hurlers with .917.

Ray Riley of the Artesia Drillers is in twentieth place among pitchers with .371; Melvin Miller has a .417 mark. For the season three pitchers are 1.000. They are Laurence, Big Spring; Potter, Roswell; and Arenibia, Big Spring.

In batting, Julio de la Torre, now of Midland, formerly of Artesia, is in twelfth place with .350.

Top Brown, Artesia, is batting .303; Ken Cluley, .293; Bill McDaniel, .290; Eddie Skrabacz, .268.

The Drillers are in seventh place in club batting, .297. At the top is Big Spring, .313. In fielding, Artesia is in the cellar with .929, tied with Midland. Leader is San Angelo, .967.

The week's leaders include: Batting — runs, Leo Eastham, Odessa, 11; hits, Tayoan, San Angelo, and George Delles, Roswell, 136; home runs, Wayne Wallace, San Angelo, 24.

Pitching — games won, Dean Franks, Roswell, 20; innings pitched, Eddie Jacome, Midland, 220; strikeouts, Marshall Epperson, Vernon, 131.

Cave City Fans Eager to Obtain Pro Baseball Team

Baseball fans in Carlsbad are envious of Artesia having a team in the Longhorn Baseball League. Fans in the county seat town "want professional baseball so bad it hurts," says Jerry Brown, Carlsbad's current Argus sports editor, in his column "Much Ado."

Says the Carlsbad writer: "Old Familiar Tune Every time we go to Artesia, it's the same old story. 'When are you guys down there going to get yourself a baseball team?' ask our northern neighbors. We can't answer in terms of years and months, but we are optimistic enough to foresee that the day is coming when Carlsbad will be represented in organized baseball."

The coming of baseball to Carlsbad, however, will cause concern to our softball enthusiasts. Will softball be killed off by the advent of pro baseball? The questions of softball and baseball are tied together, and we have what we think is a plausible answer to both.

Eventually, Why Not Now? First, let's take baseball. Professional baseball wants to get into Carlsbad so bad that it hurts. And there are plenty of folks here now who feel the same way. When Dr. Marshall Dykes decided to move his Longhorn League franchise last fall from Ballinger, Texas, he was specifically instructed by Hal Sayles, the president of the league, to consider Carlsbad before all other locations.

Dr. Dykes followed the suggestion, and if only a little more time had been available to Carlsbad's baseball fans, they would today be seeing Longhorn League games in their own town.

Highest lake in the world on which steamboats operate regularly is Lake Titicaca on the Peruvian-Bolivian border. Its elevation is 12,500 feet.

Drillers Hit Production, Beat Sweetwater 1 To 0

Contests at Vernon tonight and Thursday are on tap for the Drillers, before they return home to play with Vernon Friday, Aug. 3 and Saturday, Aug. 4.

The Drillers broke their 15 losing streak at 15 games Sunday by beating Sweetwater 1-0. Saturday they lost to Sweetwater 8-3.

The Drillers suffered losses number 13 and 14 at the hands of the Rockets Thursday and Friday 11-4 and 5-1.

Lefty Fresour, new acquired Driller pitcher started Thursday's game but was replaced by Marshall in the sixth inning.

Friday's game had one redeeming feature when the Drillers engineered a triple play in the third inning.

With runners on first and second, Pitcher Bill Kimball caught a pop bunt, whirled and threw to second, where the ball hit the runner. Shortstop Stubby Greer picked it up and fired to first, catching a runner there. First Sacker Leon Vineyard whipped the ball to second where Greer tagged the runner, who had strayed from the bag.

Artesia's solitary run in Friday's game came on a single by Chuck Klein which scored Vineyard, who had opened with a blooper down the third base line.

The Driller ranks were bolstered this week by the acquisition of two new players from Borger, Texas club. They are James W. Cain pitcher, and Charley Cline, infielder.

Thursday game: Line Score: Roswell — 321 005 000-11 15 3 Artesia — 000 020 002-4 11 4 Potter and Sanders; Freshour, Marshall (6) and Brown.

Friday's game: Line score: Roswell — 000 500 000-5 10 0 Artesia — 000 010 000-1 8 3 Cox and Sanders; Kimball, Miller (4); Marshall (9) and Brown.

Artesia Nine Mowing Down Carlsbad Teams

Artesia REA softball team, tearing through the Carlsbad Recreation Association loop like a hurricane over the prairie, has cinched a spot as one of the four top teams that will participate in the Carlsbad municipal playoff to be played sometime in September.

Furr Foods, runner-up to the northern Elly nine, is another sure contender.

REA plays a double header at Carlsbad next Saturday, battling PCA, the nine that has Ray Ralson, former Driller as its hurler, in the first tilt, College Center in the nightcap.

The Artesia team has won 24 games and lost only two for a percentage of .923 and top spot in the league. Runner-up Furr Foods has a 21 and five count for .808.

Standings of the other teams:

Team	W	L	Pct
CVO	14	11	.560
20-30	14	12	.538
PCA	14	12	.538
USPC Ref.	13	14	.481

Elliott-Steiner Horses to Make Champ Cowboys Ride for Their Cash!

When you see a big grey horse explode from the chutes with a vengeful bellow at the United Veterans Rodeo on Sept. 13-15, you will be listening to Tom Hadley's voice telling you, "It's 'Tar Baby,' la-dees and gentlemen. . . It's 'Tar Baby,' about to lose another good cowboy!" Tom Hadley's the genial young cowboy who handles the microphone at the "Wild Bill" Elliott-Tommy Steiner produced rodeo that will thrill the citizens of Artesia and surrounding areas. And "Tar Baby" is just one of the outstanding saddle broncs that are making the Elliott-Steiner rodeos the Southwest's wildest and roughest shows!

"Tar Baby" is a fine example of a good horse gone wrong. He's one of the most incorrigible buckers this community has ever seen, for he has a heart like a lion and the strength of 10, every bit of which is directed toward getting rid of whatever cowboy settles on his back. A bad actor in the chutes, "Tar Baby" battles the riggers and handlers in a fierce effort to take out his terrible hatred of man on them. The cowboy who bucks off this grey horse has to make a special effort to fall well clear of those flailing grey hoofs, for "Tar Baby" lashes out savagely when his rider leaves the saddle. Be sure to watch for this powerful grey horse when the saddle broncs start coming out of the chutes—you're likely to witness another one of his savage explosions that will result in some good cowboy being hauled from the arena in an ambulance.

Hobbs Junior Legion Winner Of Area Title

The area playoff in Artesia between Hobbs and Alamogordo, which had been scheduled for Sunday, July 29, was called off at Alamogordo's request.

In a telephone communication between Carl C. Foster, area baseball chairman, and W. F. Selis, Alamogordo coach, Selis decided to forfeit the game to Hobbs, as too many of his players could not make it for the Sunday tilt. Hobbs therefore automatically

The commencement exercises will be held on the college campus in the Aggie Memorial Stadium, if the weather permits. Otherwise, the program will be in the ballroom of Hilton Hall. Friends of the college are cordially invited to attend.

Following the academic procession, Rev. Frank F. Jones, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Las Cruces, will give the invocation, and General Lewis will address the graduates.

Eula Jean Johnson ('51) will present an organ solo, "Pastorale." President Branson will confer the degrees and the diplomas, and the program will close with a benediction.

Convalescent Home Opened On Roselawn

A home away from home for old people unable to take care of themselves was recently established at 1002 South Roselawn by Mr. and Mrs. Norman Whitney. It is known as the Elmor Convalescent Home.

The home is housed in a two-story building, having accommodations for seven persons in addition to the owners.

The building was leased from Mark Wuelan, of Albuquerque and was the old Tex Polk estate.

The home is designed for persons who are in need of home nursing rather than hospital care. Personal contact with patients is emphasized in the program.

The capacity of the home is limited to seven persons so that all can get individual attention. There is no doctor attached to the staff and patients are treated by doctors of their own choice.

There is only one other institution of its type in the area; one recently established in Roswell. The Artesia home opened its doors, with one patient on July 16.

Both Norman and Ellen May Whitney have had training related to running a convalescent home.

Norman Whitney who hails from New York City, has been in hotel management most of his life. He also holds the distinction of having run the first licensed convalescent home in Burlington, Iowa.

He has lived in Artesia for a year.

Mrs. Whitney, who was formerly Mrs. E. B. Hensley, has lived in Artesia for 20 years, and has had wide experience in home nursing. She took a course in home nursing from one Artesia doctor, and also worked for two other local physicians.

Mr. Whitney also trained under an Artesia doctor.

Mrs. Whitney also has had training in church leadership and women's missionary work at Mount Sequoia College, at Fayetteville, Ark.

She is a member of the Nazarene Church.

Mrs. Whitney has three children by a previous marriage. They are Tommy 11, Mae 15, of the home and Mrs. Bill Lindsey, Blevens Ranch, six miles east of Artesia.

All of the children have had training in piano and voice. Mrs. Lindsey oldest daughter, was Sunday school pianist until her marriage.

Eva Mae, the second eldest daughter is a member of the

School Bus Drivers Attend Western Course

The 12th annual summer institute for school bus drivers at New Mexico Western college, Silver City, got underway yesterday with registration held from 8 a. m. to 12 noon. The institute, which drew 155 drivers from 26 New Mexico counties last year, is directed by Mrs. Marjorie F. Martin, instructor in safety education at New Mexico Western. It will continue through Aug. 3.

Included in the five-day program will be concentrated courses designed to serve as patterns for safety education and additional training of bus drivers. Visiting specialists will take part in supervising the various phases of the 1951 institute which is sponsored by New Mexico Western in cooperation with the state department of vocational education, the state division of transportation of the Department of Education and the New Mexico School Bus Drivers Association.

New York is the only state which has a port on the Great Lakes (Buffalo) and also on the Atlantic (New York City).

Colt Player Week's Leader In Loop Batting

San Angelo Colts and Odessa Oilers top the list of Longhorn League batters and pitchers for the week ending July 29, according to the latest Longhorn League averages reported issued by Buck Francis, Abilene, league statistician.

In batting, John Tavano is at the top with a .378; Roy Sims, Odessa, leads the hurlers with .917.

Ray Riley of the Artesia Drillers is in twentieth place among pitchers with .571; Melvin Miller has a .417 mark. For the season three pitchers are 1.00. They are Laurence, Big Spring; Potter, Roswell; and Arenchiba, Big Spring.

In batting Julio de la Torre, now of Midland, formerly of Artesia, is in twelfth place with .350.

Mop Brown, Artesia, is batting .303; Ken Cluey, .293; Bill McDaniel, .290; Eddie Skrabacz, .288.

The Drillers are in seventh place in club batting, .287. At the top is Big Spring, .313. In fielding, Artesia is in the cellar with .929, tied with Midland. Leader is San Angelo, .967.

The week's leaders include:

Batting — runs, Leo Eastham, Odessa, 111; hits, Tavano, San Angelo, and George Delles, Roswell, 136; home runs, Wayne Wallace, San Angelo, 24.

Pitching — games won, Dean Franks, Roswell, 20; innings pitched, Eddie Jacome, Midland, 220; strikeouts, Marshall Epperson, Vernon, 131.

Cave City Fans Eager to Obtain Pro Baseball Team

Baseball fans in Carlsbad are envious of Artesia having a team in the Longhorn Baseball League. Fans in the county seat town "want professional baseball so bad it hurts," says Jerry Brown, Carlsbad Current-Argus sports editor, in his column "Much Ado."

Says the Carlsbad writer:

Old Familiar Tune

Every time we go to Artesia, it's the same old story.

"When are you guys down there going to get yourself a baseball team?" ask our northern neighbors. We can't answer in terms of years and months, but we are optimistic enough to foresee that the day is coming when Carlsbad will be represented in organized baseball.

The coming of baseball to Carlsbad, however, will cause concern to our softball enthusiasts. Will softball be killed off by the advent of pro baseball? The questions of softball and baseball are tied together, and we have what we think is a plausible answer to both.

Eventually, Why Not Now?

First, let's take baseball. Professional baseball wants to get into Carlsbad so bad that it hurts. And there are plenty of folks here now who feel the same way. When Dr. Marshall Dykes decided to move his Longhorn League franchise last fall from Ballinger, Texas, he was specifically instructed by Hal Sayles, the president of the league, to consider Carlsbad before all other locations.

Dr. Dykes followed the suggestion, and if only a little more time had been available to Carlsbad's baseball fans, they would today be seeing Longhorn League games in their own town.

Highest lake in the world on which steamboats operate regularly is Lake Titicaca on the Peruvian-Bolivian border. Its elevation is 12,500 feet.

Drillers Hit Production, Beat Sweetwater 1 To 0

Contests at Vernon tonight and at Big Spring Wednesday and Thursday are on tap for the Drillers, before they return home to play with Vernon Friday, Aug. 3 and Saturday, Aug. 4.

The Drillers broke their 15 losing streak at 15 games Sunday by beating Sweetwater 1-0. Saturday they lost to Sweetwater 3-3.

The Drillers suffered losses number 13 and 14 at the hands of the Rockets Thursday and Friday 11-4 and 5-1.

Lefty Fresour, new acquired Driller pitcher started Thursday's game but was replaced by Marshall in the sixth inning.

Friday's game had one redeeming feature when the Drillers engineered a triple play in the third inning.

With runners on first and second, Pitcher B. I. Kimball caught a pop bunt, whirled and threw to second, where the ball hit the runner Shortstop Stubby Greer picked it up and fired to first, catching a runner there. First Sacker Leon Vineyard whipped the ball to second where Greer tagged the runner, who had strayed from the bag.

Artesia's solitary run in Friday's game came on a single by Chuck Klein which scored Vineyard, who had opened with a blooper down the third base line.

The Driller ranks were bolstered this week by the acquisition of two new players from Berger, Texas club. They are James W. Cain pitcher, and Charley Clime, infielder.

Artesia Nine Mowing Down Carlsbad Teams

Artesia REA softball team, tearing through the Carlsbad Recreation Association loop like a hurricane over the prairie, has cinched a spot as one of the four top teams that will participate in the Carlsbad municipal playoff to be played sometime in September.

Furr Foods, runner-up to the northern Ely nine, is another sure contender.

REA plays a double header at Carlsbad next Saturday, battling PCA, the nine that has Ray Ralston, former Driller as its hurler, in the first tilt, College Center in the nightcap.

The Artesia team has won 24 games and lost only two for a percentage of .923 and top spot in the league. Runner-up Furr Foods has a 21 and five count for .808.

Standings of the other teams:

Elliott-Steiner Horses to Make Champ Cowboys Ride for Their Cash!

When you see a big grey horse explode from the chutes with a vengeful bellow at the United Veterans Rodeo on Sept. 13-15, you will be listening to Tom Hadley's voice telling you, "It's Tar Baby," la-dees and gentlemen... It's "Tar Baby," about to lose another good cowboy! Tom Hadley's the genial young cowboy who handles the microphone at the "Wild Bill" Elliott-Tommy Steiner produced rodeo that will thrill the citizens of Artesia and surrounding areas. And "Tar Baby" is just one of the outstanding saddle broncs that are making the Elliott-Steiner rodeos the Southwest's wildest and roughest shows!

"Tar Baby" is a fine example of a good horse gone wrong. He's one of the most incorrigible buckers this community has ever seen, for he has a heart like a lion and the strength of 10, every bit of which is directed toward getting rid of whatever cowboy settles on his back. A bad actor in the chutes, "Tar Baby" battles the riggers and handlers in a fierce effort to take out his terrible hatred on man on them. The cowboy who bucks off this grey horse has to make a special effort to fall well clear of those flailing grey hoofs, for "Tar Baby" lashes out savagely when his rider leaves the saddle. Be sure to watch for this powerful grey horse when the saddle broncs start coming out of the chutes—you're likely to witness another one of his savage explosions that will result in some good cowboy being hauled from the arena in an ambulance.

Cowboy Football Team Number 10 During Decade

The Hardin-Simmons University Cowboys of Abilene rank tenth in the nation among major college teams for the ten year period, 1941-50, the 1951 Football Guide shows.

The Cowboys, coached by Warren B. Woodson, scholar of the Winger T formation, compiled the seventh best record in the land for the 1941-45 period, compiling an 80 per cent average.

Hardin-Simmons and Texas University are the only two Texas teams listed in the top 20 over the ten year period.

Notre Dame, Army, Michigan, Texas, Tennessee, Georgia, Alabama, Oklahoma, and Penn State head Hardin-Simmons.

The Cowboys compiled a 71.7 per cent over the ten year period, winning 47, losing 17, and tying 5.

Hardin-Simmons, a member of the Border Conference, has three times furnished the nation with its top ball carrier since Woodson became head foreman. Doc Mobley galloped 1,281 yards in 1942 to lead the nation.

In 1946 Mobley again led the nation's ball carriers, but failed by 54 yards to equal his 1942 mark. Wilton "Hook" Davis, Hardin-Simmons' 1948 All-Southwestern halfback was the national leader in the rushing department in 1947, carrying for 1,173 yards.

Other men who figured largely becomes the entrant of Area G in the state tournament scheduled for Las Vegas, Aug. 10-12.

Major General John T. Lewis, commanding general at Fort Bliss, will address the graduating class during commencement exercises at New Mexico A. & M. College, 8 p. m., Aug. 6, President John W. Branson announced. Fifty-five degrees will be conferred at this time.

General Lewis, a veteran of both world wars, holds the Distinguished Service Medal as well as two Oak Leaf Clusters for service during World War II, when he was first in command of the Military District of Washington, D. C., then of the Allied Expeditionary Forces Mission to France, and finally of the Western Base Section with station in Paris.

He is a graduate of the University of Illinois, Yale University, and various Army schools, including command and general staff school and army war college.

The commencement exercises will be held on the college campus in the Aggie Memorial Stadium, if the weather permits. Otherwise, the program will be in the ballroom of Hilton Hall. Friends of the college are cordially invited to attend.

Following the academic procession, Rev. Frank F. Jones, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Las Cruces, will give the invocation, and General Lewis will address the graduates.

Eula Jean Johnson ('51) will present an organ solo, "Pastorale." President Branson will confer the degrees and the diplomas, and the program will close with a benediction.

Convalescent Home Opened On Roselawn

A home away from home for old people unable to take care of themselves was recently established at 1002 South Roselawn by Mr. and Mrs. Norman Whitney. It is known as the Enor Convalescent Home.

The home is housed in a two-story building, having accommodations for seven persons in addition to the owners.

The building was leased from Mark Wuelan, of Albuquerque and was the old Tex Polk estate.

The home is designed for persons who are in need of home nursing rather than hospital care. Personal contact with patients is emphasized in the program.

The capacity of the home is limited to seven persons so that all can get individual attention. There is no doctor attached to the staff and patients are treated by doctors of their own choice.

There is only one other institution of its type in the area; a recently established in Roswell. The Artesia home opened its doors, with one patient on July 16.

Both Norman and Ellen May Whitney have had training related to running a convalescent home.

Norman Whitney, who has been in hotel management most of his life. He also holds the distinction of having run the first licensed convalescent home in Burlington, Iowa.

He has lived in Artesia for a year.

Mrs. Whitney, who was formerly Mrs. E. B. Hensley, has lived in Artesia for 20 years, and has had wide experience in home nursing. She took a course in home nursing from one Artesia doctor, and also worked for two other local physicians.

Mr. Whitney also had training in church leadership and women's missionary work at Mount Sequoia College, at Fayetteville, Ark.

She is a member of the Nazarene Church.

Mrs. Whitney has three children by a previous marriage. They are Tommy 11, Mae 15, of the home and Mrs. Bill Lindsey, Blevens Ranch, six miles east of Artesia.

All of the children have had training in piano and voice. Mrs. Lindsey oldest daughter, was Sunday school pianist until her marriage.

Eva Mae, the second eldest daughter is a member of the

Colt Player Week's Leader In Loop Batting

San Angelo Colts and Odessa Oilers top the list of Longhorn League batters and pitchers for the week ending July 29, according to the latest Longhorn League averages reported issued by Buck Francis, Abilene, league statistician.

In batting, John Tavoan is at the top with a .378; Roy Sims, Odessa, leads the hurlers with .917.

Ray Riley of the Artesia Drillers is in twentieth place among pitchers with .571; Melvin Miller has a .417 mark. For the season three pitchers are 1.000. They are Laurence, Big Spring; Potter, Roswell; and Arenzibia, Big Spring.

In batting, Julio de la Torre, now of Midland, formerly of Artesia, is in twelfth place with .350. Mop Brown, Artesia, is batting .303; Ken Cluley, .293; Bill McDaniel, .290; Eddie Skrabacz, .268.

The Drillers are in seventh place in club batting, .287. At the top is Big Spring, .313. In fielding, Artesia is in the cellar with .929, tied with Midland. Leader is San Angelo, .967.

The week's leaders include:

Batting — runs, Leo Eastham, Odessa, 111; hits, Tavoan, San Angelo, and George Delle, Roswell, 136; home runs, Wayne Wallace, San Angelo, 24.

Pitching — games won, Dean Franks, Roswell, 20; innings pitched, Eddie Jacome, Midland, 220; strikeouts, Marshall Epperson, Vernon, 131.

Cave City Fans Eager to Obtain Pro Baseball Team

Baseball fans in Carlsbad are envious of Artesia having a team in the Longhorn Baseball League. Fans in the county seat town want professional baseball so bad it hurts," says Jerry Brown, Carlsbad Current-Argus sports editor, in his column "Much Ado."

Says the Carlsbad writer: "Old Familiar Tune. Every time we go to Artesia, it's the same old story.

"When are you guys down there going to get yourself a baseball team?" ask our northern neighbors. We can't answer in terms of years and months, but we are optimistic enough to foresee that the day is coming when Carlsbad will be represented in organized baseball.

The coming of baseball to Carlsbad, however, will cause concern to our softball enthusiasts. Will softball be killed off by the advent of pro baseball? The questions of softball and baseball are tied together, and we have what we think is a plausible answer to both.

Eventually, Why Not Now?

First, let's take baseball. Professional baseball wants to get into Carlsbad so bad that it hurts. And there are plenty of folks here now who feel the same way. When Dr. Marshall Dykes decided to move his Longhorn League franchise last fall from Ballinger, Texas, he was specifically instructed by Hal Sayles, the president of the league, to consider Carlsbad before all other locations.

Dr. Dykes followed the suggestion, and if only a little more time had been available to Carlsbad's baseball fans, they would today be seeing Longhorn League games in their own town.

Drillers Hit Production, Beat Sweetwater 1 To 0

Contests at Vernon tonight and at Big Spring Wednesday and Thursday are on tap for the Drillers, before they return home to play with Vernon Friday, Aug. 3 and Saturday, Aug. 4.

The Drillers broke their 15 losing streak at 15 games Sunday by beating Sweetwater 1-0. Saturday they lost to Sweetwater 8-3.

The Drillers suffered losses number 13 and 14 at the hands of the Rockets Thursday and Friday 11-4 and 5-1.

Lefty Fresour, new acquired Driller pitcher started Thursday's game but was replaced by Marshall in the sixth inning.

Friday's game had one redeeming feature when the Drillers engineered a triple play in the third inning.

With runners on first and second, Pitcher Bill Kimball caught a pop bunt, whirled and threw to second, where the ball hit the runner. Shortstop Stubby Greer picked it up and fired to first, catching a runner there.

First Sacker Leon Vineyard whipped the ball to second where Greer tagged the runner, who had strayed from the bag.

Artesia's solitary run in Fridays game came on a single by Chuck Klein which scored Vineyard, who had opened with a blooper down the third base line.

The Driller ranks were bolstered this week by the acquisition of two new players from Berger, Texas club. They are James W. Cain pitcher, and Charley Cline, infielder.

Thursday game:

Line Score: Rosewell — 321 005 000-11 15 3
Artesia — 000 020 002-4 11 4
Potter and Sanders; Freshour, Marshall (6) and Brown.

Friday's game:

Line score: Roswell — 000 500 000-5 10 0
Artesia — 000 010 000-1 8 3
Cox and Sanders; Kimball, Miller (4) Marshall (9) and Brown.

Artesia Nine Mowing Down Carlsbad Teams

Artesia REA softball team, tearing through the Carlsbad Recreation Association loop like a hurricane over the prairie, has clinched that will participate in the Carlsbad municipal playoff to be played sometime in September.

Furr Foods, runner-up to the northern Ely nine, is another sure contender.

REA plays a double header at Carlsbad next Saturday, battling PCA, the nine that has Ray Ralson, former Driller as its hurler, in the first tilt, College Center in the nightcap.

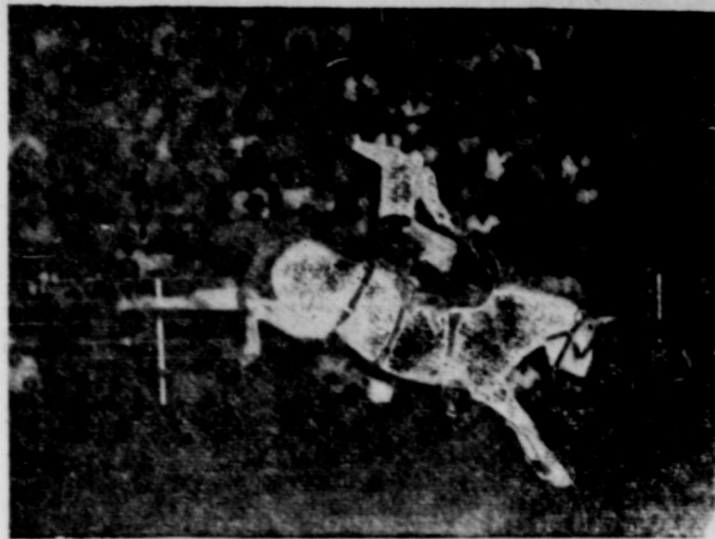

The Artesia team has won 24 games and lost only two for a percentage of .923 and top spot in the league. Runner-up Furr Foods has a 21 and five count for .808.

Standings of the other teams:

Table with 3 columns: Team, Wins, Losses. Rows include CYO, PCA, USPC Ref., College Cen., IMCC, Elks, USPC Mines.

Elliott-Steiner Horses to Make Champ Cowboys Ride for Their Cash!

When you see a big grey horse explode from the chutes with a vengeful bellow at the United Veterans Rodeo on Sept. 13-15, you will be listening to Tom Hadley's voice telling you, "It's Tar Baby," la-dees and gentlemen. . . It's "Tar Baby," about to lose another good cowboy!" Tom Hadley's the genial young cowboy who handles the microphone at the "Wild Bill" Elliott-Tommy Steiner produced rodeo that will thrill the citizens of Artesia and surrounding areas.

And "Tar Baby" is just one of the outstanding saddle broncs that are making the Elliott-Steiner rodeos the Southwest's wildest and roughest shows!

"Tar Baby" is a fine example of a good horse gone wrong. He's one of the most incorrigible buckers this community has ever seen, for he has a heart like a lion and the strength of 10, every bit of which is directed toward getting rid of whatever cowboy settles on his back. A bad actor in the chutes, "Tar Baby" battles the riggers and handlers in a fierce effort to take out his terrible hatred of man on them.

The cowboy who bucks off this grey horse has to make a special effort to fall well clear of those flailing grey hoofts, for "Tar Baby" lashes out savagely when his rider leaves the saddle. Be sure to watch this powerful grey horse when the saddle broncs start coming out of the chutes—you're likely to witness another one of his savage explosions that will result in some good cowboy being hauled from the arena in an ambulance.

Artesia Rifle Club Teacher Selected

Raymond Payne, 1101 West Washington, has been appointed instructor for the newly-chartered Artesia Rifle and Pistol Club, it was announced by the National Rifle Association of American today.

With the granting of the charter the club joins thousands of other National Rifle Association clubs over the nation interested in the promotion of competitive shooting.

The new club will conduct registered tournaments on its range and will dedicate itself of teaching safe handling of firearms to all the community.

Officers of the Artesia club are: Owen D. Hensley, 502 West Main, president; Dick Corbett, vice-president; Leo C. Bishop, 623 1/2 West Main, executive officer; and Rev. S. M. Morgan, 322 West Grand, secretary-treasurer.

National Rifle Association of America has its headquarters at 1600 Rhode Island N. W., Washington 6, D. C. The association publishes the magazines The American Rifleman, was founded in 1871, has 310,000 members.

Hobbs Junior Legion Winner Of Area Title

The area playoff in Artesia between Hobbs and Alamogordo, which had been scheduled for Sunday, July 29, was called off at Alamogordo's request.

In a telephone communication between Carl C. Foster, area baseball chairman, and W. F. Sells, Alamogordo coach, Sells decided to forfeit the game to Hobbs, as too many of his players could not make it for the Sunday tilt.

Hobbs therefore automatically

Major General Will Address Aggie Graduates

Major General John T. Lewis, commanding general at Fort Bliss, will address the graduating class during commencement exercises at New Mexico A. & M. College, 8 p. m., Aug. 6, President John W. Branson announced. Fifty-five degrees will be conferred at this time.

General Lewis, a veteran of both world wars, holds the Distinguished Service Medal as well as two Oak Leaf Clusters for service during World War II, when he was first in command of the Military District of Washington, D. C., then of the Allied Expeditionary Forces Mission to France, and finally of the Western Base Section with station in Paris.

He is a graduate of the University of Illinois, Yale University, and various Army schools, including command and general staff school and army war college.

The commencement exercises will be held on the college campus in the Aggie Memorial Stadium, if the weather permits. Otherwise, the program will be in the ballroom of Hilton Hall. Friends of the college are cordially invited to attend.

Following the academic procession, Rev. Frank F. Jones, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Las Cruces, will give the invocation, and General Lewis will address the graduates.

Eula Jean Johnson ('51) will present an organ solo. "Pastorale." President Branson will confer the degrees and the diplomas, and the program will close with a benediction.

Local Concern Gets Alamogordo Contract. Clem & Clem Plumbing Company, 112 1/2 West Grand, has been awarded a contract for plumbing fixtures at the Alamogordo Air Base by Bell Aire Aircraft Corporation of Alamogordo, according to Jack Clem, co-owner.

Work was started two weeks ago. Fred Jacobs is the general contractor.

The belief that there is a scarcity of rabbits every nine years is more or less true, says the Biological Survey.

Some of today's gambling games date as far back as the Egyptian pharaohs.

in helping the Cowboys compile their outstanding record was John (Model T) Ford, who surpassed Sammy Baugh's pass completion mark, and Bob McChesney, pass catching end.

The Cowboys compiled a 71.7 per cent over the ten year period, winning 47, losing 17, and tying 5.

Hardin-Simmons, a member of the Border Conference, has three times furnished the nation with its top ball carrier since Woodson became head foreman. Doc Mobley galloped 1,281 yards in 1942 to lead the nation.

IN 1946 Mobley again led the nation's ball carriers, but failed by 54 yards to equal his 1942 mark. Wilton "Hook" Davis, Hardin-Simmons' 1948 All-Southwestern halfback was the national leader in the rushing department in 1947, carrying for 1,173 yards.

Convalescent Home Opened On Roselawn

A home away from home for old people unable to take care of themselves was recently established at 1002 South Roselawn by Mr. and Mrs. Norman Whitney. It is known as the Elnor Convalescent Home.

The home is housed in a two-story building, having accommodations for seven persons in addition to the owners.

The building was leased from Mark Wuelan, of Albuquerque and was the old Tex Polk estate.

The home is designed for persons who are in need of home nursing rather than hospital care. Personal contact with patients is emphasized in the program.

The capacity of the home is limited to seven persons so that all can get individual attention. There is no doctor attached to the staff and patients are treated by doctors of their own choice.

There is only one other institution of its type in the area; one recently established in Roswell. The Artesia home opened its doors, with one patient on July 16.

Both Norman and Ellen May Whitney have had training related to running a convalescent home.

Norman Whitney, who hails from New York City, has been in hotel management most of his life. He also holds the distinction of having run the first licensed convalescent home in Burlington, Iowa.

He has lived in Artesia for a year.

Mrs. Whitney, who was formerly Mrs. E. B. Hensley, has lived in Artesia for 20 years, and has had wide experience in home nursing. She took a course in home nursing from one Artesia doctor, and also worked for two other local physicians.

Mr. Whitney also has had training in church leadership and women's missionary work at Mount Sequoia College, at Fayetteville, Ark.

She is a member of the Nazarene Church.

Mrs. Whitney has three children by a previous marriage. They are Tommy 11, Mae 15, of the home and Mrs. Bill Lindsey, Eblevans Ranch, six miles east of Artesia.

All of the children have had training in piano and voice. Mrs. Lindsey oldest daughter, was Sunday school pianist until her marriage.

Eva Mae, the second eldest daughter is a member of the Acappella choir and the church choir.

School Bus Drivers Attend Western Course

The 12th annual summer institute for school bus drivers at New Mexico Western college, Silver City, got underway yesterday with registration held from 8 a. m.-12 noon. The institute, which drew 155 drivers from 26 New Mexico counties last year, is directed by Mrs. Marjorie F. Martin, instructor in safety education at New Mexico Western. It will continue through Aug. 3.

Included in the five-day program will be concentrated courses designed to serve as patterns for safety education and additional training of bus drivers. Visiting specialists will take part in supervising the various phases of the 1951 institute which is sponsored by New Mexico Western in cooperation with the state department of vocational education, the state division of transportation of the Department of Education and the New Mexico School bus Drivers Association.

New York is the only state which has a port on the Great Lakes (Buffalo) and also on the Atlantic (New York City).

Latin-American Extension Trainees Visit New Mexico

"This is the way we do it" will be the theme of the eight-week training program that the New Mexico Extension Service is offering 43 trainees from 13 Latin American countries under the joint sponsorship of the New Mexico A. & M. College and the U. S. State Department.

Arrangements for the visit were made by R. A. Nichols, dean and director of agriculture at the college.

The trainees will arrive at State College Aug. 1 for briefing in extension background, organization, and methods, says A. E. Triviz, county agent leader, who is in charge of the training program.

They will remain through Aug. 11 to attend the State 4-H Club Encampment, Aug. 6-11, and then

"Although the program is intended primarily for the benefit of the Latin Americans, we believe it will also give us a better insight into the agriculture and life of the home countries of the trainees. We hope this will be another step toward good relationships between us and our neighbors to the south," Triviz said.

In the counties, the trainees will have an opportunity to learn about the demonstrations, tours, meetings, farm and home visits, exhibits, and other methods used by extension personnel in presenting developments that lead toward better farm living. They will reconvene at State College, September 24, to sum up their observations, and the training program will close September 26.

Although most of the trainees will be interested in methods used to present agricultural information, five or them are women, who will want to learn more about ways of presenting home economics material. The countries from which the trainees are coming and the number from each are as follows: Brazil, 5; Bolivia, 4; Co-

NEW ANNUAL PAYMENT PLAN FOR FIRE INSURANCE

The Fire Insurance Exchange, a member of the Farmers Insurance Group, has announced the most important change in writing fire insurance in over 100 years by issuing a standard form policy on a "continuous" or "perpetual" annual basis instead of the usual three-year term, reports the local Farmers Insurance Group agent.

Under this new plan policyholders will receive the same rate advantages formerly offered only under a three-year contract, without having to pay premiums more than one year at a time. In other words, it cuts the policyholder's cash outlay by two-thirds. This is especially appreciated by owners of business property and merchants, who can use the money in their own business instead of tying it up in a three-year policy in order to get a rate discount.

"The three-year term policy was designed to match the old three-year term maturity on real estate loans," said the Farmers Insurance agent. "With the advent of the Federal Housing Administration into the real estate lending field, real estate loans have been extended for various lengths of time up to 20 years. The new continuous Fire Insurance Exchange policy is the first real effort made by the fire insurance industry to meet the present day needs of property owners and mortgagees."

ing without his knowledge, since he receives a premium notice and a lapse notice, with a reasonable time allowed to pay premium before final notice of cancellation for non-payment of renewal premium. Failure of the agent or broker to renew the policy is a thing of the past.

The continuous policy plan reduces expense of operation for the insurance carrier. The saving is passed on to the policyholder in the form of lower rates, and besides, it cuts the policyholder's cash outlay by two-thirds.

YOU save THE easy way

You don't pay for any other type of insurance 3 YEARS IN ADVANCE — why pay your fire insurance premiums that way!

SO EASY TO PAY!

The new, modern, convenient payment plan is so sensible and so fair — it eliminates the hard-to-meet big 3 year premium payments, because it cuts your cash outlay by two-thirds!

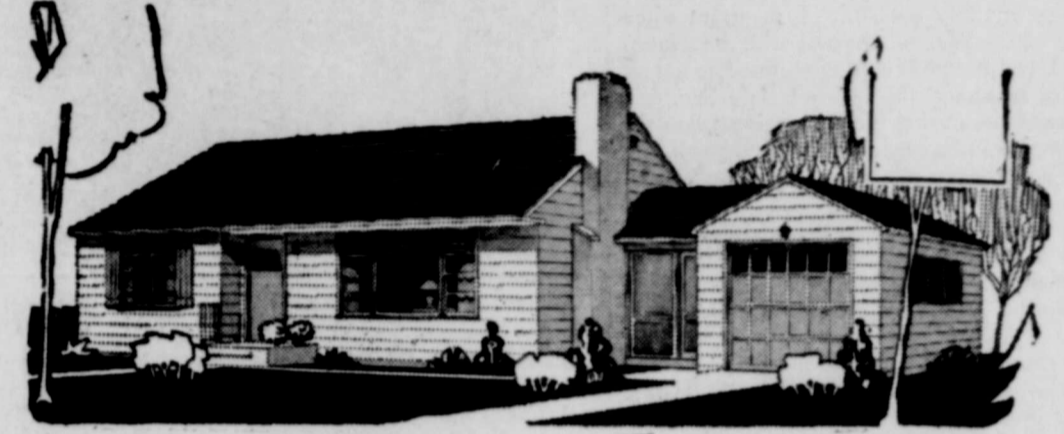

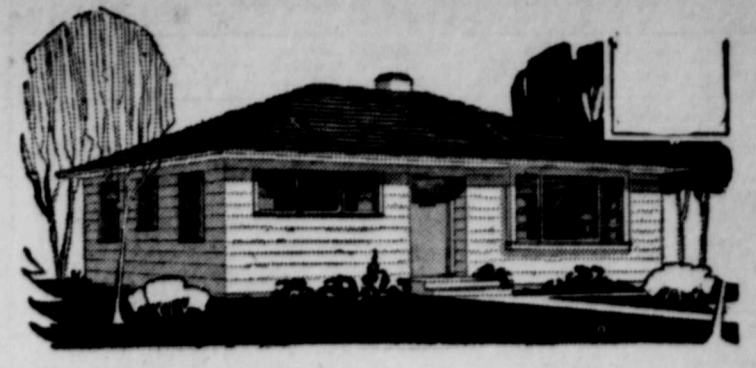

You owe it to yourself to get our rates. There is no obligation. Call, or see—

Always Difficult

IT IS ALWAYS extremely difficult under ideal conditions and situations to administer any program which is designed to aid and help the less fortunate.

It is always more difficult to carry out such a program when there is a tendency on the part of any of those charged with the administration to play politics and when the public is so inclined to forget its pride and take advantage of anything which they feel is free.

This proved to be the case back during the depression when the federal government set up the various agencies to provide work and jobs. We had those receiving government aid when they were not entitled to receive such aid.

We have found the same problem existing in the efforts to carry out the old age pension programs. Those entitled to and needing this program, of course, should receive it. Those who may be entitled to the program but who do not need it should not request it, even though they are entitled to have it.

When those able to take care of themselves do not claim it, that leaves more funds for others or permits the taking care of others. After all the funds for this purpose come from the taxpayers and they are always limited.

Over the nation, there has been a tightening up of the paying out of unemployment compensation. It is becoming more and more difficult for those apply for this help and aid to receive it.

Perhaps we should say it is becoming more difficult for those who do not deserve, have no right to apply and no right to receive this unemployment compensation are finding it more difficult to secure it.

There is no question but what there have been those able to secure unemployment compensation when they were not entitled to receive it. This has happened in our state and it has happened in other states.

For some reason or other we have failed to make it clear just what unemployment compensation is. In the first place, employees do not contribute to this fund. It is not taken out of their salary. The employers pay the full amount and not the employee.

This fund is not set up to take care of those ill and unable to work; it is not created for individuals to receive while they take a rest or a vacation. Unemployment compensation is only available to those able to work and who have made an honest effort to find work and have been unable to find employment. Only in such an event are they eligible and entitled to receive the compensation. It is up to them to prove they are not employed and to show they have made an honest and sincere effort to find employment.

It certainly is not something to be decided on the basis of politics and if those who seek the benefit can't qualify they shouldn't be able to bring about political influence in order to receive the unemployment compensation checks.

We have stressed before that all employers should do more than merely talk when they are notified that a former employee is seeking unemployment benefits. They should check into the matter thoroughly and determine they are entitled to it. After all the funds paid come out of the money whether they have paid into the state.

And when this fund is held up and kept sufficiently large to protect the employees it can mean a saving to the employer in the rate he is paying into the fund.

The unemployment compensation program was intended to aid those out of work and honestly seeking work but it is not charity, it is not set up to provide for the sick and the ill and it certainly was never intended as something to permit people to enjoy vacations.

Change Worth Price?

IT USUALLY REQUIRES considerable effort to bring about some change in the way we do things as a people. It takes just about as much effort to change some of our thinking.

Those who have advocated such movements have usually been considered radicals when they start their movements. It usually takes a lot of fighting alone. Eventually the program or idea is sold and then slowly but surely the change which is needed comes about.

Just stop and think a minute and you perhaps can recall a score of things which have been changed. As you think back or check back or look back you find that some man or some woman first had the idea and that they fought a lone fight over a good many months or even years before the change occurred.

And the same thing is true regarding communities—that is the bringing about changes. It oftentimes takes a lot of work and a lot of effort and a long time to change a community or to change a community's thinking or to change the way things are done in the community.

But all things change and need to be changed if we are to keep pace with progress and the modern day.

But there are a great many individuals who are fully and firmly convinced that perhaps the change is not worth the price it costs. That is why we do not have more changes and why we do not do things differently than in more instances than we do today—folks just don't think the change is worth the price and the effort necessary to bring it about.

But improvements and progress only come when there are those with vision and with faith and with courage. If the number is sufficient or if the individual or individuals sponsoring the changes are strong enough then the change occurs. If they are not willing to pay the price, then the change does not occur.

Some of the changes which need to be made are so outstanding, accomplish so much good and bring about such an improvement that most of us after they have been made wonder why we haven't made them before.

But it is never easy to bring about changes. There are always those who feel the old way of doing things is the best and that no improvements are needed or wanted.

The change is usually worth the price if we are only willing to pay that price and then make the change.

Crimes are not to be measured by the issue of events but by the bad intentions of men.

We cannot live pleasantly without living wisely and nobly and righteously.

A court is an assemblage of noble and distinguished beggars.

What Other Editors Are Saying

SCRAP METAL DRIVE

The steel mills and foundries need more scrap metal than ever—and the farmers of the nation are being asked to sell their scrap to dealers without delay.

The situation is urgent. The steel industry is in the midst of a big expansion program. Mills and foundries are running at a record high rate. The rearmament program, which is not yet in full swing, is piling a steadily-increasing demand for steel on top of the heavy civilian demand. In the face of this, the mills' scrap inventories have been declining, and in some cases have become dangerously low. Steel cannot be made without scrap. Each day, during the current year, some 98,000 tons of purchased scrap are required.

Farms are one of the principal sources of scrap. Practically every farmer has on hand obsolete or worn out machinery and other equipment made of iron or steel. These materials are no longer of value to him—but they are a must to the steel industry. And, incidentally, when the farmer sells his useless scrap he is doing himself a financial favor. Scrap prices are good.

The procedure for moving the scrap is simple. Farmers are asked to collect it, take it to town and sell it to a local dealer. If the scrap is so bulky and heavy as to prevent easy transportation by the farmer himself, he should call the dealer and make arrangements for hauling it away. In cases where the farmer is not certain as to the proper procedure, local farm agents will be glad to help.

More scrap from our farms means more steel for America—at a time when every last possible ton of this all-important metal is needed.—Industrial News Review.

OBVIOUS LESSON

Nature has furnished the Midwest another strong argument for flood control. As has been shown in the devastation of large areas of Kansas, Missouri and perhaps in the Lower Mississippi basin, continued general rains in one region can exact heavy toll in others.

Indeed, some areas which may be hard hit by the flooded Mississippi have been hard hit by drouth, a quirk of nature which might have been corrected through control of the over-supply of water.

While some officials who have visited the devastated region around the two Kansas Citys say the rains were so widespread and so continuous, that adequate control is beyond any feasible conception. Other, and equally expert opinion, disagrees.

General Pick, head of the Army's engineers, is among those who think control of the Missouri and its tributaries not only feasible, but necessary to prevent any recurrence of the present disaster.

He does not say that all floods can be prevented. It is his main contention that flood waters can be confined and controlled sufficiently to prevent the wholesale destruction which has crippled the Kansas City, Topeka, Manhattan, and other areas. The water which swept over all man-made barriers in the stricken cities came from many streams, large and small, in the vast watershed above the trouble zone.

Flood control does not necessarily mean one gigantic dam, with its hydro-electric plant, irrigation system and fishing resorts. It means thousands of small dams and diversion channels throughout the watershed of the stream in question, all parts of a system which holds and uses water where it falls.

In this larger conception of flood control and water usage, we think that such disasters can be eliminated or at least minimized and at far less cost than repairing the damage caused by this one flood.—Amarillo Daily News.

He has achieved success who has lived well, laughed often and loved much; who has enjoyed the trust of pure women, the respect of intelligent men and the love of little children; who has filled his niche and accomplished his task; who has left the world better than he found it, whether by an improved poppy, a perfect poem or a rescued soul; who has never lacked appreciation of earth's beauty or failed to express it; who has always looked for the best in others and given them the best he had; whose life was an inspiration; whose memory a benediction.—Bessie Anderson Stanley.

SANTA PAULA, CALIF., NEWS: "The public may relish price wars, as the people in New York have shown, but unless we miss our guess the reciprocal throat lashing among dealers isn't likely to go on very long. The free enterprise system is based on profit and you can't make a profit on large scale however, has proved that the dollar isn't dead, but selling at, or below, the cost price. The price war, it isn't likely to live so high again for a long time to come."

Home on the Range

(By WILL ROBINSON)

The appeal of President Truman to Americans to donate at least $5,000,000 through their local Red Cross chapters for flood relief in Kansas, Missouri, Oklahoma and Illinois, is given especial emphasis by the fact that the people of this nation are several million dollars short of the quotas set by the national authorities.

Several states, New Mexico among them, are way short of the amount that in fairness they should give. This is the face of the certainty of disease and discomfort over a vast area maled by the floods, makes absolutely certain necessity of this emergency call.

As a matter of fact, $5,000,000 is a small sum to be asked of the people of a country like this, and beset by drouth as we are, our own New Mexico should put up the few hundred thousands asked us a part of the national generosity, and the need which may exceed the amount now asked for.

We are having our bumps as a nation but since we are helping the whole world, we should certainly be able to take care of our own at a time very great need.

And before nature gets through with us, we may have to have a lot of help from the Great Mother who has never failed her children. In case there is no local organization, your postmaster will be glad to receive, receipt for and forward your contribution.

The Kiwanis Club at Las Vegas is stirring things about what it calls a "hot rod derby," to be held on Aug. 12. So far fifty boys have entered the contest. There is a little puzzlement about the name. Actually "hot rods" are cut down power cars, which are quite a ways from the soap-box derbies held in other parts of the state, and the whole country for that matter. There will be plenty of thrills, no matter what form the cars take.

There is expected to be a heavy loss of fish life in the area draining into Caballo lake, because the ashes from the forest fires may form lye that will kill about a billion fish. Between the drouth and the fire, perhaps you had better hold your fishing plans for another year in abeyance.

By MEL HEIMER

NEW YORK—It takes all kinds to make like this, he said philosophically, and the kinds only stay long enough for you to get your hat to them. Consider, if you will, Ken of Falls Church, Va.

For the last 26 years, Ken has been in New York three times a week, which, unless you are an arithmetical mind has let him make nearly 4,000 trips to the big town—and yet Ken's New York is a hazy, a few crowded blocks of West Side traffic, a shabby, a shabby hotel, a diner and a Times movie house.

If the pony express can be said to have come, Ken Jury is, then, a pony expressman. A truck driver, a 42-year-old Virginia truck driver, who drives what the trade calls a tractor pulling a 32-foot trailer carrying 10 tons or so of freight, mostly textiles. Only he hauls them all the way on their appointed journeys; they are trucked up from Alabama to Washington by some other driver and then Ken picks them up in Washington and makes the mile trip to New York, through the dangerous territory of the New Jersey autoist.

You figure a truck driver to look like—well, like a truck driver. Ken might upset your figures; he's medium-sized, with a lean, sharp eyes, a little gray over the ears and the look of a New England farmer about him. He used to be a tech sergeant in one of the four years in Hawaii and Luzon to his credit, and he's and courteous. Nobody is going to put anything over on Ken, and on the other hand you can hunt all night for the brass knuckles and find them.

WHEN HE COMES INTO NEW YORK, it's usually around the morning. He rumbles through the Holland Tunnel and into the Associated Transport warehouse at Washington and Broadway streets, where he either parks his rig or turns it over to a yard. Then he turns in his waybill, manifests, etc., to a dispatcher's head for a nearby diner, where he renews the most casual of the ships with other drivers from all over the country.

He gets six or eight hours' sleep in what he calls a "feabag" and then arises about 1 or 2 o'clock. Until 8, his time is his own. When you're a dead-tired truck driver, you don't want to see a museum of art. You want to be amused—and Ken's museum is that of the 25 or so other Associated Transport drivers who are in New York daily on schedules similar to his, is he? They take in a movie up in Times Square—the big first-run like the Paramount or Roxy, if they're flush, the "grind" if they're low. They're nursing their dough. Then with time left over, they shoot pool, the truck driver's occupational disease—always staying within phone call of the dispatcher since they may be moved up on their schedule and have to start earlier.

If you ask him what he thinks of New Yorkers, he'll grin and say they're in too much of a hurry. Speed, he understands; he is something entirely else again. He sees the hurriers along the roadsides, on his way up here from Washington, their skulls crushed, their cars broken to bits. Just last year he was a soldier from a wreck near Cranberry, N. J., saving the driver's life from a severed artery by applying a towel to the neck.

KEN'S MARRIED FOR THE SECOND TIME, lives in a five-room single frame house with a garden and punts for croakers in Crooked Bay and deer in the Pennsylvania mountains, when he is visiting. He's a baseball fan, rooting for the Yanks, but in 26 years of visiting here, he's never seen them play. There are a lot of things in New York that Ken Jury never has seen, and never is to have time for. It's too bad. He might like the town if he had more of it.

grade of some other utilities. The company seeks to bounce home gas rates in 22 cities and towns, the rates being the same in each community served. That, at least, makes sure that there will be a unanimous howl about the boost! The city of Portales, the first to pass the new cigarette tax, is having the necessary stamps printed at home, just around the corner from the city hall. It has ordered 250,000 of the stickers, and will pay $1.30 a thousand for them.

Dr. Stuart Adler of Albuquerque has been named as one of the directors of the State Mental Hospital. It is violating no confidence to say that he is a darned good doctor.

Most of us haven't the slightest idea of what the job is that Jernigan is bounced off, to be placed by Col. Ed Safford, than it is called on-the-job training for veterans. And most of us don't care a whoop what it is or how it is good.

As might have been expected, something of a tempest is raised by the rain-makers, and a meeting at Socorro lacked anything of the Alphonse and the Gaius. Still, if the considerable amount of money paid is followed by results, it will be cheap indeed. If the recent sprinklers are the best that can be expected, it will be too costly.

Civilian Pilots Lauded for Spirit In Air Exercise

Aircraft-spotting in the Albuquerque Defense Identification Zone was back on a routine footing as Air Defense Command officers began an analysis of their four-day study of air traffic control in the area.

Officers labeled the exercise a "definite" success and said it disclosed the statistical information on air traffic and radar defense capabilities "we were attempting to find."

A conclusion already reached, they said, is that civilian pilots have shown an "admirable spirit in their close cooperation" with both the CAA and the Air Force. To insure complete success of the exercise, all civilian flyers were requested to file flight plans with the CAA for any proposed trip into the identification zone.

Some of the statistics sought and uncovered during the four-day period are as follows:

high and low fluctuation points of aircraft penetrating the zone. Also checked were the radar network's capabilities in detection and identification.

A permanent record of the number of radar-detected aircraft was made possible with the aid of special radar scope cameras set up during the test to photograph special radar screens.

In praising the cooperative spirit of civilian pilots, Air Force spokesmen said flight plans were filed and received for generally all civilian aircraft.

The exercise was held July 21-24.

World War II Veterans—or 7,600,000 out of 15,200,000—have at some time or other taken training under the bill, which now reaches its deadline for all but a few veterans.

The program so far has cost $12.6 billion, two-thirds of which, or $8.6 billion, has gone to the veterans in the form of subsistence allowances. Of the remainder, $3.2 billion has been paid to schools for tuition, and another half billion was spent for books, supplies and equipment for veteran trainees.

The average veteran had 40 months of GI eligibility coming to him, but he used only 15 months in training, VA said.

The GI Bill cut-off date for training does not apply to Public Law 16 training for disabled veterans, nor does it affect the GI loan program.

Keeping on Child Labor

The school bell rings this year and the federal officials here are going to make extra efforts to see that employment does not interfere with education. The employment of children under 16 years of age in agriculture during school hours is unlawful under federal fair labor standards. William J. Rogers, regional director of the wage-hour and contracts divisions of the Department of Labor in Dallas, says his staff plans to enforce the law this fall as it did last year. His region includes Texas, Louisiana, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Missouri, and Mississippi. He pointed out today that the law applies directly to farmers who produce crops or products, either directly or indirectly, for sale in interstate or foreign commerce. He said the matter with the farmer who sends his child to work outside the state or delivers a product to a gin, processor, or dealer who will ship it out of the state—either in original form or as part of another product. The law does not apply to a child working on his own children working on his own farm, he said. But if he hires other under-age children during school hours, the parents themselves are responsible. "School hours" is meant when school is in session for the district where the employed child is currently attending, he explained. That includes the time when the child is hired either as individual

Cost of Soldier Education Deal Up to 12 Billions

The seven-year-old GI Bill education and training program this week closed its doors to most World War II veterans who have not actually started training. As the end came, the Veterans Administration announced that approximately 37,000 New Mexico veterans have received some education, on-job training or institutional on farm training under the GI Bill.

At one time more than 10,000 veterans in the state were in actual training and last month when the spring school term ended some 7,800 were still on VA subsistence rolls, according to Gene A. Robens, manager of the Albuquerque VA office. Nationally, about half of all

COOL COOKING

Of course—it's Electric!

It's electric because electricity is coolest of all heat producing methods. Only when you cook electrically does all the heat go into the cooking job. For only on an electric range do you have pan-bugging heat, with the utensil setting right on the heating element. And only in an electric range oven do you have complete six-sided insulation, for only matchless, flameless electric cooking can be completely insulated—without oxygen because it's without flame. Cook the cool way—the way that lets you prepare an entire meal without raising the temperature of your kitchen more than one degree. Of course, it's electric.

New Mexico Tech Geologists Finish Field Camp, Map 75 Mountain Miles

"Operation Trailer 49" finished six weeks of spadework, and is busy working up data on reconnaissance maps.

"49" is the singularly appropriate license number on a specially-constructed "mapping and napping" trailer used during the summer geology field camp of New Mexico Institute of Mining and Technology. Seventy-five square miles of the Sierra Blanca mountain region near Capitan have been mapped by eight students in this summer's session under the guidance of Dr. Stewart Jones, assistant professor of geology.

On July 21 the group returned to the Socorro campus to summarize their geological data in reports which will be presented on Aug. 1.

Operating from a camp site five miles north of Capitan in the Lincoln National Forest, the Institute "Miners" explored and mapped in detail the geology of a mineralized area of potential economic importance.

The Capitan Geodetic Quadrangle includes deposits of zinc, coal, tungsten, and gold. The young geologists noted evidence of iron deposits in this area larger than previously was believed.

Among the formations mapped were types known for oil production in other areas. Altitudes of the quadrangle explored range from 8,508-foot Potos Mountain down to the 6,100-foot level.

Two special trailers, one for study and sleeping, the other a portable kitchen, were constructed for the expedition. Trailer 49 has an ingenious arrangement of bunk beds which fold up to reveal study tables.

The students themselves completed the final paint job on the trailers.

The men pursued a rough schedule of 12 hours in the field and four or six hours under gasoline lanterns at night recording and discussing notes gathered during the day. The eight students worked in teams of two, each team taking every fourth day off to serve as cooks and bottlewashers.

Hunger Emporium
Participating in the geology field camp this summer are: Richard C. Anderson of Socorro; William C. Colbert of Farmington; Robert D. Gold of Riverside, California; Philip Kalish of New York City; Jack A. Kruppenbach of Jonanna, Pa.; Wayne Myers of Akron, Ohio; Earl E. Outcalt of La Jolla, Calif.; and Philip R. Woodside of Summit, N. Y. Kalish, Anderson, and Woodside are graduate students.

Known as "Ptomaine Gulch," the kitchen trailer is equipped with a buante-operated stove and refrigerator. A basic outline for balanced meals was followed, but each team took responsibility for the menu of the day.

While home economics is not offered at NMIMT, the men displayed great culinary talent. The kitchen, of course, was the subject of constant kidding.

The cook, known as the "ignition engineer" of the butane stove, rose at 5:30 a. m. to start breakfast.

By 6 o'clock the geology teams were leaving for the field, carrying with them a tin of soup, a sandwich, and a canteen of water for lunch. Supper was served about 6 p. m., followed by several hours bout over the field notebooks.

Discussions sometimes approached violence. After a heated argument, Woodside concludes: "Okay, we'll write down your words verbatim." "Don't take 'em verbatim," shouts Kalish, "put 'em down word for word."

Students consider the field session "rugged," and Jones, their professor, a tough taskmaster. In six weeks they cover widely varied problems in economic geology, stratigraphy, structure, and sedimentary, igneous, and metamorphic petrology.

Working from aerial photographs, they examine, measure and record the great variety of geological formations exhibited in the Capitan area. Parallel with the field work is detailed study in pertinent geological literature, and the exacting preparation of maps.

Dr. Jones and Dr. John Allen of the NMIMT geology department expect to continue mapping studies of the Capitan Quadrangle during August. A report of the mapping surveys is to be published eventually by the bureau of mines division of the institute.
