Adding the New Mexico Range

Albuquerque will be the site of the year's meeting of the Southern Medical Association, it was decided at this year's convention which ended Saturday. Southern New Mexico was not represented on the slate of officers elected Friday, the only New Mexican being Dr. Wesley Connor, president-elect, and Dr. C. M. ...

Texas Western Enrollment Hits Record of 2289

EL PASO, Oct. 16.—Enrollment at Texas Western College for the fall semester has hit an all-time high of 2,289 students it was announced by Dr. W. H. Elkins, president. The former record was established in the fall of 1949 when 2,283 students registered. "With enrollment in most colleges showing decreases this fall, it is very gratifying that Texas Western College has shown an increase at this time because it shows that the post-war period has brought a healthy growth to the institution and not just a boom," President Elkins said.

All Around Artesia

Mary Lois West, of Artesia, is the newly elected secretary-treasurer of the Book and Pen Club, literary organization of Eastern New Mexico University, Portales. Publication of El Portal, literary annual, is the chief project of the club. Bob Elder, Clayton, is president; Dr. Vincent H. Ogburn, professor of English at the University, sponsor.

Carlsbad Elks Open Restaurant

Following the lead provided by Artesia, the Carlsbad Elks Lodge yesterday opened a restaurant for use by its members. Artesia Elks some time ago set up a dining room which is open to the public as well as to members. The Carlsbad eating establishment is operated by J. H. Pierce and will be open from 11 a. m. to 2 p. m. and 5 p. m. to 9 p. m. daily, except Sundays, according to the Current-Argus of Oct. 21.

New Doubles Pension Pay for Blind Vets

A new law, recently enacted by Congress, will help thousands of income veterans who were disabled so severely in civilian life that they require constant aid and assistance. At the present time, only about 100 veterans are likely to be affected by the new legislation, but the number is expected to grow in the future.

New Mexico Aggie Judging Team Wins Fourth Place

STATE COLLEGE, Oct. 19.—The New Mexico A & M College dairy cattle judging team has returned from Portland, Ore., where they won numerous honors in the annual Pacific International Live-stock Exposition. The teams placed fourth in the contest which was open to colleges in 11 western states and British Columbia. The team gained possession of a permanent plaque and a permanent medal for the college for being high team in Brown Swiss judging. Each member received a model Brown Swiss cow. Rupert Hensell of Rocky, Okla., won the bronze medal awarded to Artesia is the friendliest town we have had the privilege of being in. That is a statement contained in a letter received by Mrs. Leroy Stanford, hostess of Welcome Wagon, from Mrs. Rayburn Wright, Hollister, Calif. The latter, dated Oct. 11: "If you will forgive my stationery and a hurried note, I will try to tell you how much I enjoyed your visit from Welcome Wagon. Our stop in Artesia was very pleasant because of my health mainly, and other reasons beyond our control, but I would like to express my admiration of your city and of the people you are doing. We have lived in many states and all of the cities and states Artesia is the friendliest town we have had the privilege of being in. eligible for the auction date will be sold to the packer unless written notice is given to the county agent within one hour after the judging is completed.

9.—Owners of all beef animals to be sold must supply a bill of sale.

10.—Any animal shown must have been owned by the exhibitor not less than six months, on calves; three months, sheep; and three months, hogs.

11.—Sifting committee appointed by the farm and ranch improvement association will pass on all fat animals entered before the show date. Animals not in condition will not be permitted to show.

12.—All entries in fat classes will be weighed at the veterans building. Official sale weights for calves will be the actual weight less three per cent. Actual weights for fat hogs and sheep will be used.

13.—Each F.F.A. and 4-H member must show his or her animals and adults will not be permitted to assist in showing. No extra help or equipment shall be supplied by individuals other than by the immediate family.

14.—Calves fed for this show must be steers and will be divided into two classes. Classes will be divided evenly according to weight. In case of odd number of calves the largest number will be in the heavier class. Classes in the other divisions will be made according to the number of entries.

15.—Fat wethers will be divided into two classes, mutton and fine wool. All wethers that have any Soutdown, Suffolk, Hampshire or Saxopshire breeding will show in mutton class, all others in fine wool. Lambs going thru sale will be on percentage basis of number showing in each class with total of 10 from the two classes.

16.—There will be awards and ribbons for all classes.

17.—Awards will be given for showmanship in each livestock division.

Turning to the clothing division, the rules state that each article of clothing must be clean and well pressed; and on food preparation and baking—"hand them in on paper plates and napkins."

who will get their appointments at the next annual conference.

The two admitted on trial are Ferrol Odom, Odessa, and Hardin Adkins, Southern Methodist University, Dallas.

Reports on new members and money raised since June 1 showed 573 new members and $111,000 in new funds.

Six organizations affiliated with the church gave reports of their needs for the future—Lydia Patterson Institute, El Paso; School for Mexican Boys and Girls; McMurry College, Abilene.

Methodist Home, Waco; New Mexico Conference Board of Education; Sacramento Methodist Assembly; New Mexico Temperance League.

It was voted to have next year's conference in Monahans, Texas.

This year's conference was held Oct. 17-18 in Hagerman, with L. B. Trone, district superintendent, in charge.

Attending from the Artesia area: Artesia—Rev. and Mrs. R. L. Willingham, J. H. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Jacobs, Mrs. C. R. Sharp, Mrs. Harry Jordan, Vernon Mills, Travis Stovall, A. W. Harrai, Dr. C. P. Bunch, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Chambers, John Mathis, Sr.

estimated as 16,000,000 bales, if it is, some solution to the labor problem will have to be worked out.

Of the 16 million bale total, 10,500,000 will be earmarked for domestic consumption, and 5,500,000 for export.

The only long-range answer to the labor problem is mechanization. To study this problem a conference will be held sometime next month at Chickasha, Okla.

It is the sixth annual conference of its kind, according to Blake.

While mechanization is the ultimate answer to the cotton labor problem, the Pecos Valley, which this year produced one of the best premium cotton crops, is not ready for it, according to McAnally.

Hence an interim solution must be found to solve the local problem.

Council's Work—

Helping find a solution to the labor problem in Artesia and elsewhere, as well as to marketing problems, and developing better strains of cotton are some of the functions of the National Cotton Council.

The Council was organized in 1938 to help solve the problem of what to do about surplus cotton and to facilitate orderly marketing of large cotton crops, according to Harold Young, president.

Various approaches to the problem of surpluses were tried such as limiting cotton acreages, but only big crops are money makers; hence consumer demand for cotton products must be stimulated.

To this end the council has spent a lot of time and money on advertising, sales promotion, and research to improve the quality of cotton products so they can compete with synthetic fibers, and also

Work of Police

Editor's Note: The following article, written by Margaret Hughes, is the first in a series describing the Artesia Department of Police.

By MARGARET HUGHES

There has been a lot of talk these past months centered on the corruption in our administrative system—especially the collusion between our off-brand politicians and law enforcement agencies. Since this is the season of harvest, a time of maturity, it is well also that it be a time for re-evaluation. J. Edgar Hoover has struck the crux of the problem facing any democratic government today in his statement in the June issue of New Mexico Law: "In facing the task of law enforcement one thing is certain—in those communities where public opinion is enlightened and aroused, crime is at a minimum. . . . Law enforcement is only as effective as the citizens demand."

A police department, understaffed, under-paid, and ill-equipped, cannot properly fulfill its duties. Lack of public interest may allow a small minority to bring shame upon the profession.

"Action is needed, not to revamp the fundamental structure of American law enforcement, but to strengthen, in technical skill, character and esprit de corps, the existing institutions."

I am concerned primarily with our own Police Department. In order to obtain a better understanding of its workings and problems I paid them a visit the other day, as every one is welcome to do.

The personnel on duty were courteous and most cooperative in explaining anything I cared to ask. The physical plant is a model of efficiency and cleanliness.

Of paramount interest was the experimental lab where the force makes its own bullets for target practice. Also, it is gratifying to learn how closely our force works in conjunction with county, state and federal officials.

I am wondering now if we, the citizens of Artesia, have observed our police department in its day by day operations; have we taken the time of interest that is so vital for the effective functioning of the profession; or have we, as so many well meaning citizens do, merely taken for granted the privileges of protection we have accrued from our founding-fathers?

These questions are well worth our most considered thought, for in the last analysis, democracy depends upon the retention of local responsibility—participation by each and every one of us in our governmental structure.

AN OASIS IN THE DESERT

ARTESIA, as the name would imply, is veritably an oasis. A "water hole" in the desert.... A strip of fertile land in a terrain notoriously arid and unproductive.

The fact that Artesia and its surrounding territory today produces cotton as well as other crops in almost fabulous quantities, is a tribute to the foresight and vision of our pioneering forefathers.

At the present time a large portion of the Southwest is facing a depleted underground water supply, a lack of which would spell ruin to any community in this arid country.

Artesia, at present is blessed with an adequate supply of underground water. Let's try to keep it that way.

They visited Los Angeles, Forest Lawn, and spent one day at Catalina Island. They went to San Francisco to visit Mr. Hoskinson's aunt, Mrs. Lena Hamilton at Santa Ana, Calif. They came home via the Grand Canyon, spent one night in Reno. After returning home they went to Breckenridge, Texas, where they visited Mrs. Hoskinson's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Choate.
Mrs. David Hoskinson honored her daughter with a birthday party on the occasion of her fifth birthday, on the land of their residence in the Maljamar Repressing Plant Camp. Games were played and small cup cakes, with tiny candles on them and hot chocolate were served to Barbara Patterson, Mike Elliott, Cary Ashlock, Jimmie Earl King, Jackie McMurray, Linda Kay Melton, Shirley Northam, Joe and Ann White, Patty Young. Sending gifts were Doris, Tommy and Joyce Potts, Larry Sanders and Short Young.
