Rushee Tea Given By Alpha Lambda

A preferential tea for the rushees of Alpha Lambda Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi was given at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Grady Booker.

The guests were mothers of the members and presidents of the women's organizations and a number of other guests.

The pledges Mrs. William Hart, Mrs. Gloria Anderson, Mrs. Glenn Collard and Mrs. Gene Bowman, were in the receiving line with Miss Ruth Bigler, president.

The living and dining rooms were decorated with large bouquets of fall flowers.

The tea table was covered with a lace cloth, the centerpiece was a bouquet of yellow roses, flanked on each side with tall black tapers in silver holders, the sorority colors. The silver tea service was presided over by Miss Bigler.

Mrs. Glenn Caskey presented a musical program and the theme was taken from American folk music. Mrs. Caskey accompanied all the numbers on the piano.

The first number was the Southern Plantation Song and the high school boys quartet, composed of Keith Gore, Hunt Zumwalt, Bruce Caskey and Gary Blair, sang "Old Black Joe" and "Kentucky Babe."

The second number was the Negro spiritual division and Elmer McGuffin sang "Deep River."

The third number was the Indian music part and Marilyn Cox sang "From the Land of Sky Blue Water" and "By the Waters of Minnetonka."

The fourth number was the cowboy song and Elmer McGuffin sang "Home on the Range."

The high school boys quartet ended the program with "Stout Hearted Men" which is an American patriotic song.

At 8 o'clock Tuesday evening, at the home of Miss Bigler, a formal candlelight ritual for the pledges will be held.

Episcopal Supper Attended By 300

Everyone got their fill of spaghetti with meat sauce, salad with French dressing, French bread, coffee and cake at the annual spaghetti supper sponsored by the Auxiliary of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Tuesday night.

A total of 300 persons attended the affair, but no list of persons attending was kept, according to Mrs. A. T. Woods, who was in charge of the dinner.

In addition to being served a choice of white, spice or chocolate cake at the meal, persons could buy chocolate, angel food, and white cakes after they had finished their meal.

The "confectionery," which made $50.00 for the Auxiliary last year, also featured pralines, fudge, brownies and candies.

Money raised from the sale of cakes and from the dinner is used to finance charitable projects by the Auxiliary during the year.

The dinner and cake sale was held from 5:30 to 7:30 in the Masonic Temple.

Parlez Vous

By MARGARET HUGHES

The Vets Club has really been jumping this past week. Our newly decorated Sombroso Room will be ready Friday evening to start the combo with a bang.

The "combo" is made up of your home town boys—Tony King, Tommy Kuykendall, Chester Howard and Wesley Jones. Bob Stewart, featured at the piano is from the Walker Air Force Base, Roswell.

They will be here every Friday night from 9:30 p. m. to 12:30 a. m. A prize will be given Friday, Nov. 9 for a name submitted by veterans and their guests and chosen by the judges Don Bush, Beatrice Wheeler and Mrs. Harry Gilmore, as the best for the combo.

The minimum charge is $1 per couple, so come up and put your name in the hat.

Bob Stewart, featured in the combo, will also be on hand Saturday during cocktail hours of 4 to 8:30 p. m., playing his enchanted piano in the lounge.

All in all, this past week has been a busy-dizzy one, selecting paint colors, laying tile, rehearsals, ordering furniture catalogs.

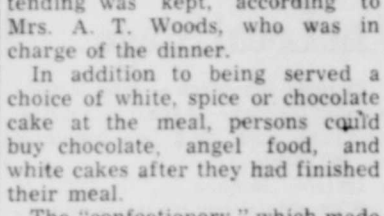

But the rush has pointed the bright spots found during the course of daily business.

Fred Jacob's hearty laugh, Harry Gilmore's happy hello, any time of day, a glance at lovely Patty Runyan in the First National Bank, Phoebe Welch's vivacity, Ruth Bigler's ready smile—countless things that add enjoyment to the daily round about town.

"Dues are due!"

Maggie.

THE UN'S PROPOSED TRUCE BELT

BROKEN LINE traces the two-and-one-half-mile-wide "truce belt" which UN negotiators propose at Pan Mun Jom. Solid line is the approximate battle front. Such a line would involve yielding of about 200 square miles by each side. While talks were underway, allied forces raced through Kumsong (1) and other units (2) advanced in the "Heart-break Ridge" area. To the west, heavy patrol clashes occurred north-west of Yonchon (3), and in the Pan Mun Jom-Munsan road area UN planes destroyed 9 locomotives, 99 cars north of Pyongyang (4).

Annally Reports Proposed Changes in Farm Workers

15 recommendations developed to streamline the Mexican farm labor program has been released by Artie McAnally, manager of the Artesia Growers Association.

The recommendations were approved by subcommittees appointed by David H. Stowe, administrative assistant to the president, and presented to Congress on Jan. 8.

McAnally was mentioned at a meeting held in Artesia on Oct. 18, which was presided over by Artie McAnally, and featured sessions of cotton problems by Young and Ray, members of the Cotton Council from the nation.

Proceedings of the meeting were reported in The Advocate of Oct. 23.

The recommendations, as reported by McAnally, are designed to streamline the Mexican National programs under the areas in which Mexican labor is used.

That a Presidential administrative assistant be designated to coordinate the operations of the departments of Labor, State, and Agriculture upon matters pertaining to the supplemental farm labor program.

All International Agreements, contracts, and matters of administrative policy shall be subject to prior deliberation with the Mexican Farm Labor Commission.

FOUND HER AT A MARIJUANA PARTY

UNDER ARREST on charge of possessing narcotics, Gloria Torrentino, 23, struggles to free herself from New York police, who carry her from a marijuana party in the Bronx, where she was found nude. The officers dressed her in trousers and a jacket.

Continued high employment is recorded in the Artesia area, with only 100 persons seeking jobs, most of them unskilled, according to the latest release from the Employment Security Commission of New Mexico.

Construction is at a slow pace, and only replacements are needed in the oil fields.

There is a continuing demand for bookkeepers, stenographers, partsmen, auto mechanics, and seismograph crewmen.

Rental units are available for $30 to $50 per month, according to the bulletin.

Domestic Law—In Carlsbad, building activity is having been started and only slow, with no new buildings placements being hired.

The number of unemployed stands at 150. Many out-of-town workers have stopped into the Carlsbad office inquiring about potash mine employment, but usually move on when informed that no hiring will take place for several months.

Domestic and service workers are in short supply as many of them are engaged in harvesting cotton, which pays higher wages.

Housing is expensive with rental units going for $60 to $100 per month. Some new units have been built, but the required down payments are too high for the average worker.

Steel Delays Building—Roswell has the highest number of unemployed in the tri-city area, the total there being 200.

Construction on the Kress building has been delayed because of the difficulty of obtaining steel.

The Wherry Housing project is 95 per cent completed, and only a few carpenters and clean-up men are employed on that job.

A contract for a new school at Walker Air Force was slated to be let at the time the bulletin was received. It is the only construction activity at the Base scheduled at the present time.

There is a waiting period for rental units. Those becoming available are vacated by military personnel moving into the Wherry units. Most of these are unfurnished.

Over the state as a whole unemployment has reached a low point for the year due to harvest activities, and increases in mine and trade employment.

Number of unemployed stands at 4,754, with 1,755 of them being women.

Construction employment is down from a year ago, but increases are registered in the Clovis area.

All but five of the 100 miners laid off at Gallup in June have found other jobs, and one mine in Raton has openings.

Small mines operate at capacity but large ones average only three days a week.

Herd of Angus Given Boys Ranch As Buck Memorial

BELEN, Oct. 25—New Mexico Boys Ranch is named the beneficiary in a memorial foundation to the late Al Buck of Albuquerque, president of the board of directors. The Buck Angus Memorial Foundation has been established by the Duke City's Kiwanis Club of which Mr. Buck was a prominent member.

A herd of Angus cattle will be placed on the ranch, with all proceeds going to the ranch. At first the herd will remain the property of the Kiwanis club, Kiwanians will buy the cattle and Boys Ranch will do the work.

Cecil Pragnell, ranch manager, said no limit had been set on the size of the foundation herd. A total of 360 acres of the ranch's 3,000-acre tract will be set aside for this type of a program. Half of this allotment, 180 acres, will be devoted exclusively to the Angus herd.

This tract will be levelled and fenced, with adequate sheds erected. An irrigation well will be sunk on this land, and pastures developed. Pragnell expressed hope of obtaining a sponsor for a similar herd of Herefords to be placed on the other 180 acres.

"The idea behind all this is to develop a steady income for Boys Ranch," Pragnell explained. Only the highest grade of cattle will be maintained.

This is also true of other livestock. Kiwanians named a seven-man board of directors to administer the Buck Angus foundation. Chairman is Owen Marron. Other members are Jack Ewing, Fred Caley, Lloyd Walvoord, W. C. Davis, Bus Jones and Cecil Pragnell.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph L. Vest, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Hardy, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Ponder and Mr. and Mrs. Claude Vinson were recent members of the Maljamar Recreation Club.

Mrs. Ira Pleasant and Luther Kelley, sponsors of the girls and boys aged 10, 11 and 12, group of the Maljamar Recreation Club gave a Halloween party for them Tuesday night at the Recreation Hall. Prizes were given to Tommy Joe Woten, for being the ugliest, dressed as an old man, and Jimmie Vinson, who was dressed like a girl, for being the prettiest. Mrs. Dru Taylor was dressed like a ghost. Mrs. Albert W. Golden and Mrs. Son Taylor attended. Refreshments of donuts and hot chocolate were served to A. C. Taylor, Kenneth Elliott, Jimmie Vinson, Jimmie Pleasant, of Loco Hills; Tommy Cooper, Don Manson, David O'Neal, Ray Northam, Donald Snow, Billy Golden, Cary Miller, W. H. Ducksworth, Hollis Fuel, Mac James, Jim Patterson, Wanda Pleasant, Joy Mason, Billy Sue Cox, Joyce Potts, Sandra Martin, Patsy Day, Druella Holeman, Doris Potts, Patsy Vowell and Annette Pruitt, of Lovington.

Employment in New Mexico stood at 161,700 for the month of September, according to the latest release from M. F. Miera, chairman of the Employment Security Commission, which has just been received.

Highest hourly and weekly earnings over the state were registered in mining, during the past month, according to the latest bulletin from the Employment Security Commission. Average hourly earning that occupation were $1.95, while weekly earnings were $82.68. Longest hours were put in by persons in trade occupations with 44.4.

Trade occupations employed the largest number of persons in the State of New Mexico, with government running a close second, according to the latest figures from the Employment Security Commission. Retail and wholesale trade employed 37,650, while government departments employed 37,300.

School enrollment in Lovington stands at 1,500, an all-time high, it was announced recently. The story appeared in the Lovington Press of Oct. 25, which also reported the purchase of a 40-acre tract by the board of education to provide for further expansion.

Federal taxes collected in New Mexico for the year ended June 30 totalled $80,607,390, more than totalled in the year ended June 30, 1945, when the total stood at $37,685,763, as listed in the New Mexico Tax Bulletin.

A total of $110,000,000 per year is spent by 208 government organizations including 150 state departments, institutions, boards and commissions; 32 counties, 73 municipalities, and 102 school jurisdictions. These organizations employ 20,000 persons and over $90,000,000 in bonded indebtedness, according to a bulletin from the Taxpayers Association of New Mexico, Santa Fe.

Eddy county produced 343,958 barrels of oil valued at $819,615 during the month of September, according to the latest issue of the New Mexico Tax Bulletin. Total for Eddy, Lea, Chaves and San Juan counties was 3,770,449 barrels valued at $9,226,649. Lea county had 90 per cent of the production; Eddy county nine per cent.

In population figures for the eight state area comprising New Mexico, Arizona, Colorado, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, Utah, Wyoming, New Mexico ranked fourth exceeding the population in Idaho, Montana, Nevada, and Wyoming. Total for the area is 5,074,998. Figures for New Mexico and neighboring states are—New Mexico 681,187; Arizona 749,587; Colorado 1,325,989, as tabulated in the New Mexico Tax Bulletin.

No one from Southeastern New Mexico is represented on the slate of recently elected officers of the New Mexico Police and Sheriff's Association. Paul Shaver, Albuquerque, was named president and E. A. Tafuya, Alamogordo, was named first vice-president. Al Hathaway, also from the Duke City, was named a member of the executive board. Next year's meeting will be in Clayton, Albuquerque, was host to this year's convention which closed Oct. 23, according to the Alamogordo News, of Oct. 25.

Figures on numbers of students who took and passed the selective service qualification tests were released this week by State Headquarters of Selective Service, Santa Fe. Largest number of students taking the tests was in the sophomore class with 104,000. Highest passing percentage was among graduate students with 87 per cent. Lowest was among freshmen,

Labor Bureau Report Contains Significant Omen

An omen perhaps of what Artesians and other Americans can expect soon is contained in the regular weekly newsletter, "On the Job," issued by Walter E. Taylor of the New Mexico Employment Service.

After saying the third quarterly report of Charles E. Wilson, director of defense mobilization, states that "to date lack of manpower has not caused any lag in defense mobilization," there is this significant statement:

"The breathing spell of the past few months has been used to good advantage in measuring more carefully THE IMPACT THAT CAN BE EXPECTED and in furthering the programs necessary to meet it."

This would indicate that the Korean War may be eventually recognized as something more than a "police action."

Total civilian employment at 62.6 million in August was at an all time high, 300,000 above August, 1950.

Unemployment in August of this year stood at 1.6 millions, nearly one million under a year ago.

The decline in unemployment was due both to the increase in civilian employment and to the entrance of young men into the armed forces.

where only 53 per cent passed the tests, given last spring and summer.

Job openings are currently available in the state for engineers, mathematicians, draftsmen, X-ray technicians, tabulating machine operators, stenographers, and garage workers, according to a release from Walter E. Taylor, Albuquerque. Further information about these openings may be obtained at offices of the New Mexico Employment Service.

Construction Lags in Artesia Sector

Continued high employment is recorded in the Artesia area, with only 100 persons seeking jobs, most of them unskilled, according to the latest release from the Employment Security Commission of New Mexico.

Construction is at a slow pace, and only replacements are needed in the oil fields.

There is a continuing demand for bookkeepers, stenographers, partsmen, auto mechanics, and seismograph crewmen.

Rental units are available for $30 to $50 per month, according to the bulletin.

Domestic Law—In Carlsbad, building activity is having been started and only slow, with no new buildings placements being hired.

The number of unemployed stands at 150. Many out-of-town workers have stopped into the Carlsbad office inquiring about potash mine employment, but usually move on when informed that no hiring will take place for several months.

Domestic and service workers are in short supply as many of them are engaged in harvesting cotton, which pays higher wages.

Housing is expensive with rental units going for $60 to $100 per month. Some new units have been built, but the required down payments are too high for the average worker.

Steel Delays Building—Roswell has the highest number of unemployed in the tri-city area, the total there being 200.

Construction on the Kress building has been delayed because of the difficulty of obtaining steel.

The Wherry Housing project is 95 per cent completed, and only a few carpenters and clean-up men are employed on that job.

A contract for a new school at Walker Air Force was slated to be let at the time the bulletin was received. It is the only construction activity at the Base scheduled at the present time.

There is a waiting period for rental units. Those becoming available are vacated by military personnel moving into the Wherry units. Most of these are unfurnished.

Over the state as a whole unemployment has reached a low point for the year due to harvest activities, and increases in mine and trade employment.

Number of unemployed stands at 4,754, with 1,755 of them being women.

Construction employment is down from a year ago, but increases are registered in the Clovis area.

All but five of the 100 miners laid off at Gallup in June have found other jobs, and one mine in Raton has openings.

Small mines operate at capacity but large ones average only three days a week.

Puerto Rico is the second most densely populated area under the American flag.

Carlsbad Sets Up Security Guard On Most Valuable Tickets of Year

They're really doing it the hard way south of the border down the Cavern trail.

Seems it takes a Sherlock Holmes to wade thru the maze of getting a ticket for the Artesia-Carlsbad high school football classic to be played on Morris Field on Nov. 9.

Tickets went on sale the morning of Oct. 29. They take orders by telephone. Number was kept secret for a time, then announced. It's 1497-WX. Seems you identify yourself, place your order, then go somewhere else to pick up the tickets after another visa inspection.

If that's any indication, maybe the tickets are on gold plate instead of the piebald cardboard.

Monday Quarterback

Because I was so privately doleful about the Bulldogs' chances against the Hobbs Eagles, I can't put the punch into telling of the Carlsbad and Roswell scribes' predictions of the outcome of the bulldog-Eagle clash.

Personally I think that Hobbs would win, about 18-6. I had unhappy memories of the melee last year in Hobbs. So I was mighty nappy to be wrong when that grand bunch of scrappy, determined, underweight kids pushed over the highly-touted Eagles (who seemed to think they had a push-over against the little country town of Artesia) and came close to winning that one.

The way those kids of ours put up a back to the wall fight coming from behind to tie the score in the final period was one for the books.

Over at Roswell, the scribe rated Artesia even lower than my gloomy (but private) forecast. "Hobbs, with a better line, a heavier team and good reserves will march over the Bulldogs. Hobbs without too much trouble."

Maybe it wasn't TOO MUCH TROUBLE, but that plucky Bulldog line gave the vaunted Hobbs line ENOUGH trouble to tie the score.

Jerry Brown, down in the county's big town, said:

"Hobbs over Artesia. The Bulldogs still remember last Thanksgiving 'blood bath' over at Hobbs when several Artesia players were injured and had to leave the game. Artesia will be out for revenge this year but we don't think they have the horses."

Now my joy at quoting that statement is somewhat dimmed by private talk in advance of the game with Jerry. I confided I was dubious about mighty Hobbs. Jerry perhaps took it on from there.

Anyhow—we may not have had the horses, but we had the horsemen—not four, but 11! And they were good enough to roud up the Eagles.

Subway Sonata

I'm still battling for a press box that is that and not a commuter train at Morris Field. I'm not asking any deluxe edition such as West Lizard describes in his column in the Oct. 30 issue of The Amarillo Daily News—just a place with sufficient room, reasonably warm and windproof and away from the traffic snarl, time checks and commercials of the FCC affiliates.

Lizard's yarn is a good close-up of press box development.

"The sports writers on this news paper came in from the Sandie-Borger game last Friday night complaining because there were no windshield wipers on the windows of their steam-heated press box."

"We have had a feeling for a long time that sports writers of the current generation are spoiled when it comes to digging in and covering an event at close range. And while we don't want to be in the position of an oldtimer bragging about how much better things were in the good old days, we would like to make a few observations, on old-fashioned sideline coverage."

"The first football game we ever covered was a double-header. We don't mean one game played after the other. The two games were played at the same time!"

"It was at the old Muehlebach baseball park in Kansas City, back in 1919. Four high schools were playing two games on gridirons marked off side by side. We covered both at the same time, running back and forth between them."

"Then we can recall the time we followed the Sandies to Quanaah about 1927. The Quanaah gridiron had just been sold out from the under the team in a real estate deal and the coaches and players, with an assist from the sports writers, marked off another one on the prairie at the edge of town, just in time for the game."

The players stepped in a few gopher holes and the spectators had no place to sit; but nobody seemed to mind."

"The first press boxes, we recall, had no windows. Then came radio and the announcers complained of the wind whistling in the microphones and icicles forming on the amplifiers. So they put in the radio booths and the newspaper boys set up a howl for windows, too.

"Then came heaters and built-in typewriter desks and padded chairs and direct telephone circuits to the office."

"Now that the boys are crying for windshield wipers, we expect to hear any day that they are demanding the services of an interior decorator to fix up their spacious stadium quarters in pastel shades."

Nov. 9 For Carlsbad

Folks down Carlsbad way seem to be mixed up somewhat on the date of the Artesia-Carlsbad football game. Before the schedule was made out, it was contemplated that Nov. 8 might be the right date, in line with deer hunting season.

Then when it was found the hunt would be later, the date was set as Nov. 9. It went down on the printed schedule that way and has never been changed.

In Artesia, on Wednesday, Dallas Rierson, county farm agent, said some folks in the capital were thinking the game date had been shuffled. It hasn't. Only change in the Bulldog schedule this year has been advance of the Thomas Jefferson tilt at El Paso.

Originally this was carded for Friday, Nov. 2. Then it was changed to Thursday, Nov. 1, to avoid conflict with other El Paso school schedules.

Carlsbad, the date is the same, Nov. 9 and the place is still Artesia and the Bulldogs are still the Bulldogs—and have a good chance this year of avenging the Mehaffey Massacre of 1950!

Bulldogs Visit Juarez on Trip Back From Game

Artesia High School football squad is due to return here at 5 p. m. today after the squad's third away-from-home game of the season and its second game in two seasons against Thomas Jefferson of El Paso.

This forenoon, the boys were slated for a tour of Juarez, Mexico, across the river from the Gateway City.

Last year, the teams played in Artesia. The trip to El Paso and return is by special Greyhound bus, the squad leaving Artesia at 8 a. m. yesterday. Number in the contingent was 30, including three managers, Billy Matthews, Clarence Lamb and Joe Arnold and two coaches, Reese Smith and Cal Hall.

In El Paso the squad stayed at Del Camino Courts, 4910 Alameda. Coach Smith, on Wednesday afternoon, prior to the game, said the officials would be Texans and he did not have their names. The game was under Texas high school rules which vary somewhat from those of New Mexico, mainly on the substitution angle.

Dope Favors Red Raiders Over Miners

El Paso, Oct. 31—According to simple arithmetic, Texas Western College's Miners face a lop-sided drubbing Saturday night when they battle Texas Tech's Red Raiders before a homecoming crowd.

Coach DeWitt Weavers Red Raiders seem headed for the Border conference throne room as they took a big step in that direction by crushing title-favored Arizona University 41-0 last week. The Miners lost to the Arizonans 10-15 and last week traveled East and took a 53-18 licking from the undefeated Cincinnati Bearcats.

Texas Western's youthful Miners will put all their eggs in one basket in an attempt to make things hot for the visiting Techs. The Miners passing combination of Billy Bob Plumley to Jim Walker and John Birkhead worked wonders against Cincinnati and Coach Mike Brumbelow is certain to make it a big weapon for the Tech battle.

To bring the Miners ground game up to the efficiency of the aerial tactics, Coach Brumbelow had the squad working overtime this week.

Defensively, the Miners face the jumbo task of stopping the explosive split-T as operated by Tech's Junior Arterburn. Texas Western's Line Coach Roland (Tuffy) Nabors a former Texas Tech great, has scouted the Raiders twice and he said Arterburn is highly dangerous because of his fine passing and outstanding running. In the line, two All-American candidates are Tackle Jerrill Price and Center Red Phillips, set a rough pace for Tech opponents.

The Miners will have only one player on the injury list Saturday night. Alvin Whaley, first-string defensive tackle re-injured a knee in the Cincinnati game.

A feature of homecoming festivities will be the parade of floats through El Paso led by the Texas Western band and marching organizations and 10 high school bands.

District Sports Council Called For November 15

A second sports forum, first since the opening of the 1951-52 school session, is scheduled for 6:30 p. m. Thursday, Nov. 15, in Cliff's Cafeteria, 317 West Main.

Travis Stovall, vice-president of District 5 of the New Mexico High School Athletic Association, has issued a circular letter announcing the gathering.

The letter is to "all coaches, principals, superintendents and other individuals of senior and junior high schools." After listing athletic cafeteria locations, the communication states:

"You may select what you desire from the regular menu and the meeting will be held in the banquet room upstairs."

There are four items of business: 1.—District tournaments. 2.—Junior high tournaments with the recommendation and approval of the junior high administrators and coaches. 3.—Report of the state control board meeting. 4.—Spring baseball and track.

Elk Eluding Pecos Nimrods

An early report on the Upper Pecos elk season showed that hunters were battling just average so far.

The Pecos checking station reported that 30 hunters had checked out by Monday with a total of 11 elk. Several of those who went home empty-handed cited the bad weather which hit the area over the week end as their reason for giving up.

The area was hit by rain, hail and in some parts, several inches of snow. Seasoned hunters welcomed the snow as an aid in tracking their quarry, but many less hardy nimrods complained bitterly about the cold.

Of the 11 elk checked-in, seven were bulls with one near-record head included in the bag. The hunters reported all the elk in the area were in excellent shape.

One hundred four permit holders ushered in the first season on the Pecos last Friday at noon. The current season will run through the first of November and will be followed by a second season beginning noon, Nov. 26.

Antelope. Department fieldmen reported that high winds and cold, blustery weather hampered antelope hunters in most areas this year.

A tally of checking books showed that nimrods turned in a low 50 per cent kill in several hunts. Many of those hunters who were unsuccessful said that the wind blew so hard during the hunt that they were unable to draw a bead on a pronghorn when they jumped one.

In addition, hunters said that the limited feed this past year made the animals "spooky" and difficult to close in on. Final returns have not been checked as yet, but department men anticipate a lower percentage of success than the 77 per cent kill chalked up last year.

Artesia's Hornet Hurricane Ready For Grudge Sweep Against Roswell

Out to even the score and to defeat the only team that has been able to vanquish them this season, the Artesia Junior High School football team tangles with Roswell Junior High School at 7:30 p. m. tomorrow on Morris Field here.

A month ago the Hornets had their first licking, losing to the Roswell Coyote Pups, 20 to 14, in a game played in the Chaves capital.

Three days of hard scrimmage have put the Hornets into fine shape and they still have the fight and spirit that has characterized the junior high gridirers all this season.

Like their "big brothers," the high school Bulldogs, the Hornets have been outwitted in all contests this year.

Sanders, Riddle, Bratcher and Gressett are all set to show their wares to Roswell tacklers, along with Flores, Seals, McCabe and Nelson.

Success of the Hornets this season is largely due to its line. Coach Bud Wilborn says Jay Mitchell, left tackle, is the best junior high line man he has ever seen.

Don Price and Leo Barker can always be depended upon to open the holes for Hornet backs. Making things tough for the opposition on defense are Baca, Davidson and Martin.

Colorado Miners Play Silver Pack In Reunion Tilt

Portales, Oct. 30 (Special)—No rest is in sight this week for the Greyhounds of Eastern New Mexico University.

The Hounds, after clinching the New Mexico Conference championship Saturday, meet Colorado Mines this week in a game to be played before Homecoming visitors.

The Silver Pack grabbed top honors in conference play with a surprising 59-19 triumph over New Mexico Western College. It was the sixth straight of the year for the Greyhounds who are still listed among the 30 undefeated, untied teams of the nation.

Winner of four straight in conference play, ENMU will remain in the top spot regardless of the outcome against New Mexico Military Institute—last conference foe—Nov. 17. New Mexico Western, closest rival, has lost one game and tied one. All other circuit teams have lost at least two games.

Colorado Mines, first of three remaining opponents, will be a good test of Greyhound chances for an undefeated season. The Orediggers currently lead the powerful Rocky Mountain conference.

In six games, Colorado Mines has won five and has lost only to Colorado A&M in the Skyline conference. In their only competition against a New Mexico team, the Miners defeated New Mexico A & M 7-0.

Other victories came over Nebraska State Teachers College, Idaho State College, Western State College and Colorado State College. Miners Are Seasoned

The Orediggers are loaded with experienced gridmen. Twenty-eight returning lettermen are back from the 1950 campaign. Eighteen of them are seniors.

In the Greyhound clincher last Saturday, Fullback Charlie Painter scored five touchdowns and Halfbacks Ed Knotts and T. B. Lees scored two each. ENMU took possession 13 times, scoring on nine of the occasions.

The Greyhounds rolled up 508 yards rushing and passing against the Mustangs. Knotts carried 17 times, gained 213 yards and averaged better than 12 yards per carry. Painter also carried 17 times. He gained 137 yards for an eight-yard average.

Joe Harbert, of Artesia, second string quarterback, added a passing attack to Greyhound accomplishments late in the fourth quarter. He completed four of seven passes for 106 yards. One was a touchdown toss of 41 yards to Lees.

Press Association Calls for Entries In Story Contest

The New Mexico Press Association today issued a call for entries now in the annual E. H. Shaffer newspaper contests.

Entries should be sent to New Mexico Press Association, Journalism Building, University of New Mexico.

Prizes of $100 for the best straight news story, $100 for the best editorial, and $100 for the best feature story.

A certificate of merit will be awarded to the newspaper deemed to have performed the best community service during 1951.

Entries in the writing contest should be clippings pasted on copy paper, bearing name of entrant, name of paper, and date of publication.

Entries in the community contest should be clippings or copies of the paper accompanied by a written statement of the community service performed.

The contest period is Dec. 1, 1950, through Nov. 30, 1951, and the mail deadline is midnight Dec. 6.

President M. E. Morgan of the Press Association, publisher of the Alamogordo News, emphasized, however, that entries may be mailed at once.

Judges are W. A. Keleher, Albuquerque attorney; Paul A. F. Walter, Santa Fe banker; Erna Ferguson, Albuquerque writer; Editor Dan Burrows of the Albuquerque Tribune, and Co-publisher Carter Waid of the Belen News-Bulletin.

The awards were established in 1944 in memory of E. H. Shaffer, editor of the Albuquerque Tribune, through funds contributed by his friends.

Entries are restricted to newspapers of New Mexico and their employes and correspondents, and to New Mexico employes of wire services serving New Mexico newspapers.

"American agriculture and American industry are integral parts of a powerful team. Neither can function effectively without continued help from the other," says Secretary of Agriculture Charles F. Brannan.

MILITARY EQUIPMENT PILES UP AS DOCKERS STAY OUT

Military equipment fills Staten Island port of embarkation, tied up by strike of dock workers.

At strike mediation meeting are (seated) John J. Sampson, Local 791 leader and leader of the strike; federal mediators Harry Winning, New York; John A. Burke, New York; Clyde Mills, Washington; Thomas G. Dougherty, New York. Grouped behind them are members of Sampson's strike committee.

REJECTING A GOVERNMENT proposal to end their wildcat walkout, striking AFL-International Longshoremen's association members said the stoppage would spread to Baltimore, Philadelphia, and Chester, Pa. Boston already has been hit. The strikers demand renegotiation of their contract. Meanwhile, vessels are idle in New York harbor and elsewhere, waiting to be loaded or unloaded. Letter Explains Details of Law On Highway Signs Artesians receiving letters from the state highway department requesting them to remove advertising signs from public highways within 60 days were probably as puzzled about the meaning of them as Warren G. Carter, 208 North First, recipient of one of these letters.

Carter, who operates Carter's Tune-Up Service at 208 North First, decided to investigate the situation, after he heard that several other firms in Artesia had received similar letters. Carter's two signs are located seven miles east of Artesia on State Road 83, and five miles south of town on U. S. Highway 285.

They were put up to help him advertise his new business, which he opened up last July. Shortly after Carter received his letter from the state highway department asking him to remove one of his signs he saw an editorial in The Advocate of Oct. 16 endorsing removal of unsightly highway signs.

Carter thereupon went to City Attorney Neil Watson to get a legal opinion on the matter.

Gist of the law as cited by Watson in his letter to Carter is that no advertising may be put up within 300 feet of any highway curve, or within 500 feet of a highway intersection with a railroad.

Signs are also barred from within 100 feet of a state highway without obtaining written permission from the state highway commission and the owner of land on which the sign is to be erected.

All applications for signs to be put up must be accompanied by a $5.00 fee.

Law Explained—Chapter 123 of the Laws of 1929 now appears in the New Mexico Statutes annotated as Section 58-708 to 58-713.

This law provides that no advertising sign or device of any character shall be placed or maintained upon the right-of-way or right-of-way fences.

No advertising sign or signboard shall be erected adjacent to a public highway which obstructs or impairs the view of a person using such highway, at corners, curves, turns, or at intersections.

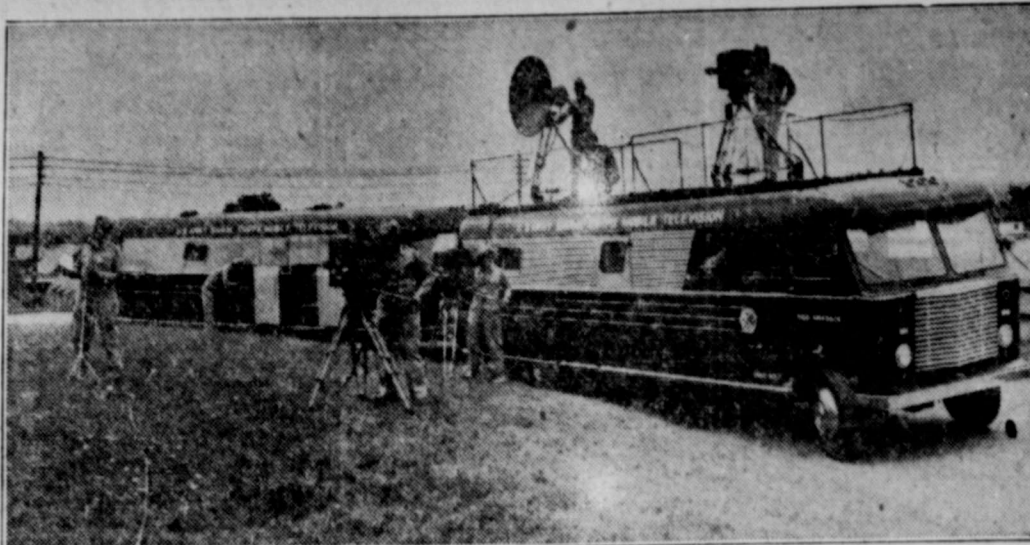

It is unlawful under this act for an advertising sign or signboard to be within 300 feet of any corner or turn of a public highway, outside of a municipality, or to be within 500 feet of any intersection of a highway with a railroad.

No advertising sign is to be erected within 100 feet of any state highway, outside of an incorporated city or town, without obtaining a permit from the state highway commission.

Permits are to be issued upon written application, to be accompanied by the written consent of the owner or possessor of the land, and by an application fee of $5.00.

The state highway commission is to investigate the application and determine whether or not the sign or signboard will endanger the public health or safety.

All advertising signs or signboards erected or maintained 60 days after the act became effective are declared to be public nuisances, and may be removed by any member or employee of the state highway commission.

MOBILE TELEVISION EQUIPMENT TRANSMITS SCENES FROM THE FIELD—With the outfit pictured above the U. S. Army Signal Corps soon will start experiments with a mobile television system capable of transmitting photo scenes from relatively remote field activities to military classrooms. (Although the scheme may be practical, it is too early to expect battle views to be thrown on home TV sets.) Shown here are two of the four buses comprising the mobile unit. These two vehicles constitute the transmitting set-up. Two others accommodate the receiving unit. As pictured here the left truck carries the power plant and maintenance shop; the right truck contains the cameras and transmitters.

The only exception in the statutes to these various requirements is that a signboard may be erected to advertise a business being carried on on the premises where the sign is located, "but I believe this could be prohibited if it was an actual violation of the act," the attorney said.

Instruction Given in Five Adult Classes

Five subjects are being taught in the adult education classes at Artesia High School, Principal Travis

Stovall said today. They are shorthand, bookkeeping, typing, arts and crafts, and oil painting.

Present plans are for courses to continue for 10-week periods. Other suggested subjects are Spanish, educational psychology, general psychology, analytical geometry, remedial reading and health education.

These are for college credit but establishment depends on number enrolled.

The original five subjects are not planned for college credit.

Fees are $1 an hour for instruction. If the class meets once a week for two-hour sessions, the fee would be $2 and $3 a month.

There is a laboratory fee of $2.50 for oil painting, arts and crafts, and typing. Nov. 5 marked the beginning of the program.

Current Schedule—Typing — Monday, 7-9 p. m., Margaret Harston, teacher.

Shorthand — Monday, 7-9 p. m., Room 16.

Bookkeeping — Thursday, 7-9 p. m., Room 15.

Arts and Crafts — Monday, 7-9 p. m., Leonard Witcher.

Oil Painting — Tuesday, 7-9 p. m., junior high.

Tri-lingual church services are conducted by Protestant congregations in Novi Sad (Neusatz), Yugoslavia, as the Commission on World Peace of the American Methodist Church found when visiting the town to distribute CARE food and clothing packages to Methodist church members there. The hymns were sung simultaneously in Serbo-Croat, German and Hungarian; the sermon was delivered partially in each of the three languages, and short addresses by the visitors were translated in turn for the fuller understanding of the multi-tongued congregation.

Artesia Sergeant Wounded in Action

Recovering in an Osaka, Japan hospital from wounds and first degree burns suffered in action in Korea is Master Sergeant Bill Mason, 23, son of Mrs. Edna Mason, 319 West Washington, and brother of Bennie Mason, 1106 Centre.

No specific details on the sergeant's injuries were received either in his letter from Japan or in the regular routine messages from the office of the Adjutant General.

Sergeant Mason has been in the army for four years, overseas for a year and three months. He is in the field artillery.

All Souls Day Observed Today

All Souls Day was observed in Masses today at local Catholic churches. The occasion is a day of solemnity on which commemoration of and supplication for all souls in Purgatory, according to the Catholic belief, are made.

Yesterday was All Saints Day, a holy day of obligation. Masses at St. Anthony Church was said 6:30 and 8 a. m.

Sprinkle Heralds November Advent

November put in its appearance yesterday with a slight drizzle and the temperature dropping to a low of 44 degrees by 8 yesterday morning.

However, yesterday morning's low did not equal the low reached last month, which was 33 degrees on Oct. 24.

The high for October was 98, recorded on Oct. 2.

October was a month with a liberal supply of rain, a total of 95 inches having been recorded. Of this total, 40 fell Tuesday night while the remaining .58 inches fell on Oct. 25.

October's total rainfall was the second highest for any month to date. July hit the jackpot with 4.35 inches. The October total was accumulated in two days; the July precipitation fell in four days.

Only other month in which precipitation totalled more than .50 inches was May, which registered .85 inches in one day.

Potash Expert Lions Speaker

From southeast New Mexico comes 85 per cent of the potash used in the world, Aubrey Smith of Southwest Potash, Carlsbad, told Artesia Lions at the club's regular weekly luncheon at noon Wednesday in Masonic Temple.

Potash's main use is for fertilizer. Smith told the club that discovery of potash in this sector dates from the late 20's when Snowden Drilling Company chanced to run upon a deposit.

First shaft was sunk in the early 30's by U. S. Potash. Southwest sunk a pair of shafts in 1948, and 80 test holes, is now putting up a $15,000,000 plant 18 miles southeast of Artesia, and by 1952, four years after the initial step was taken, will be in production.

Attendance at the luncheon was 50. Smith and Ward Tuttle, also of Southwest Potash, were guests, as were Dick Cory, Albuquerque, guest of Bill Hunter, and Steve Lindsey, Southern Union aGs, Arterria, of D. D. Archer, District 40-X governor.

unmasked put their request more bluntly. Some candy and nuts satisfied both groups.

The saponic artists produced at least two somewhat original inscriptions. One smeared over the door of an appliance store read, "Fight fire with a bucket," while another had a sign saying "The owner," which appeared over some non-descript doodling.

The occasion was also marked by a masquerade ball put on by the Spanish Holy Name Society, and a special mid-night movie with the "ghost theme."

There Is No Substitute For Performance

In the business of community building, the Chamber of Commerce is the only organization devoted full time and exclusively to the OVERALL, long-range betterment of the Artesia trade territory.

Chamber projects in industrial development, highways, public relations, housing, conservation and flood control, agriculture, state and national affairs, civic affairs, tourists, aviation, safety and community recreation pay dividends to every business, profession and property owner in the area.

Two important phases—publicity and retail trade promotion—were omitted from the foregoing list because nearly all Chamber activities bring tangible results in both fields, although extensive work is undertaken under both classifications.

Membership in the Chamber is voluntary, and its processes are completely democratic. For example, there are Chamber directors who contribute as little as $36.00 annually, while others on the Board invest up to $1,000 a year. Percentagewise, Artesia is somewhat under the regional average of local businesses supporting the Chamber, with only about 60 per cent membership. However, this situation is steadily improving, and the day is in sight when Artesia will be equal to New Mexico and Texas neighbors in this important respect.

Here, in recognition of their contribution to this most important of all community endeavors, are those who are the true builders of the Artesia area—the members of your Chamber of Commerce:

CC Orders Extra Tourist Material

Artesia Chamber of Commerce office, 316 Carper building, took inventory of its "printer's ink" on Saturday.

The check-up was in compliance with a request of the New Mexico Tourist Bureau.

To replenish its supply, the chamber ordered 400 copies of the 1951 New Mexico road maps, 200 copies of the folder, "Historic Trails," and 75 copies of the excellent booklet, in color, "New Mexico—Land of Enchantment."

There was an ample stock of the scarlet yellow and brown historical marker stickers, but a new angle has been put on the distribution. Besides being used on windshields, the stickers with some revision, will also be put out to be stuck on luggage. The innovation was proposed by Bob Koonce, chamber manager, at the State CC managers session in Albuquerque Oct. 45.

Prison Chief Outlines Plan to Improve Penitentiary

Exact description of the over-crowded New Mexico penitentiary at Santa Fe, along with recommendations of what can be done to correct that fault and suggestions for improvements, is contained in the following story from F. Tondre, superintendent.

The following is a copy of his report delivered at the Sheriff and Officer's convention held in Hilton, Albuquerque, on Oct. 23. A copy was received by newspaper on Oct. 25.

The penitentiary at Santa Fe, as it stands today, is greatly overcrowded. We are housing in excess of 700 inmates. The rated capacity of that number. Additional space is being used in the auditorium, hospital and other available where beds can be accommodated.

Available space does not permit segregation—this is the outstanding fault as I see it. Young are brought in and mixed with the older, callous inmates, of whom have done time in penitentiaries; this situation, is abominable.

We do not have proper programs training and teaching men for the free world. I have recently employed a man to teach and care for inmates in their vocational, athletic activities, or endeavours in which they would be interested. We have two rooms, 30 x 40 each.

Brick—make brick and tile—not much, as the capacity of the is very limited. We also make State license plates.

Leather work which is made by inmates is beautiful and valuable, nowhere excelled in value, as the price for it is sold implies. The sales of leather work are limited to the State of New Mexico, so by Federal law as well as own law, confining such sales to the boundaries of our own state. Doctor and hospital facilities on a 24-hour basis. We have a hospital and a 20-bed T.B. ward.

We have no facilities of any kind for vocational work and I believe is a big field which can be developed along this line.

Immediate problem is how to house these 700 inmates. Next, must anticipate for the normal increase in population of a growth rate like our own for the next years or more. I believe this can be done very easily if we try it. When I was appointed to the penitentiary by Governor McElroy, he gave me one and one only—"Do a good job and get on with it." Today I can report that I have been making progress, but there is still room for a great deal more to be done.

Pay Raised—The last Legislature enacted a law granting the payment of $25 per month to the inmates who served their term and are being released to the free world. Formerly the amount was $5. You can imagine what a person could do with that amount of money at the moment, to the Legislature for having what I feel was the right thing to do.

Water System—Our Administration Building has been plastered and repainted inside. The cellblocks have been painted and cleaned up from the floors. The water system has been improved and is adequate to the demand by the inmates in a new 5 inch water main. Fire plugs have been installed, which we did not have, together with the necessary equipment for fire use may become necessary, besides having connected our water main into the 4-inch main that we had before.

We now have ample quantity of pressure in our water supply for all purposes, domestic and commercial. Our electrical facilities, as well as our steam heating system, now being revamped, renewed, made modern for economical efficient service, consistent with the demands we have. I think the place deserves it, after having been in use for over 65 years.

We have escaped once in awhile, but the distinction of having more in another truck—all in the night. Now you guys can't say not good—I did better! In fact, other warden before me can say much, but, thank God, you peace officers bring them back, for which we are grateful to you.

We New Mexicans have a tremendous responsibility—I'm talking about our Penitentiary in Santa Fe. We must do something to improve our facilities to house our delinquents and law violators. As we have done before, we must now house 700 inmates in the quarters we can furnish.

They are not adequate. The rated accommodations are around 350. They are, I feel a disgrace, and they furnish a finishing school on the road to lower degradation and crime. I might ask—whose fault is it?" In answering, it is our responsibility, and we must do something.

Now I have what I think is a solution. At Los Lunas the State owns some 2,500 acres of good agricultural land with plenty of water. There we can build a minimum security prison, on the hillside, away from close-by villages and roads, which can finally house some 1,000 or more inmates of the better type. At Santa Fe we can keep the hardened criminals and furnish facilities to keep them at work. In that way we can have facilities for both types of criminals and an opportunity to salvage that great percentage which can be saved on their first offence.

Costs Analyzed—

You are probably thinking of the cost. I ask—what about the value to our citizens? On the other hand, let's see what we have. First the 2,500 acres at Los Lunas, from which I would like to see the State Agricultural College get from 200 to 500 acres for an experimental farm, for which we could furnish the necessary labor.

This would leave us about 2,000 acres for the Penitentiary buildings and farm operation. The Penitentiary owns some 133,000 acres of land, scattered over the State of New Mexico.

It also owns 35 producing oil wells in Lea County, besides actually owning in Government bonds at the present moment the sum of approximately $1,357,000.

And that is not all. In the City of Santa Fe, around the Penitentiary walls and in what is known as the Jap Camp we have 200 or 300 acres of enormously valuable land, which can be sold now for as much or more than what it would ever be worth.

All of this is worth so much money—Human Lives—what is their value when they have lost their own self-respect.

You gentlemen as peace officers myself as one of you, have an opportunity (and I feel it is our duty) to start a movement to better and correct a bad condition that exists. We are partly to blame for the condition that we now have. I myself have taken prisoners to many states, but I have never lived with them until now. I know different now, and based upon that knowledge I feel it is our duty to progress in the betterment of a condition that now exists and which we have tolerated, but can remedy by working toward this end.

Signs at Hope Warn Speeders

Artesians and others going west on State Road 83, who traverse the city of Hope are now confronted by two signs each four feet by six in size, admonishing them to observe speed limits.

The signs, which are white with lettering on them, were recently erected by Deputy Sheriff E. L. McElroy, according to the Penasco Valley News and Hope Press of Oct. 26.

The signs read—

SPEED LIMIT
TOWN 20 MPH
SCHOOL 15 MPH
PATROLLED

One sign is erected west of town and the other east near the Ben Miller farm. The lettering is large enough so that the motorist can read without stopping.

Penalties for failure to read and act upon instructions contained in the signs is given.

If you are caught speeding within the limits of the town of Hope you are violating ordinance No. 36 which provides a fine or not less than $5.00 and costs for the first offense and the sentence for the second offense is up to the judge.

Advertising Schemes

MORE AND MORE Chambers of Commerce over the state are making it mandatory that those soliciting advertising or sell items in the cities, secure a card of approval from the Chamber of Commerce before the rounds are started.

Such a plan, of course, will work if the cooperation is provided. But when we as business and professional people fail to call for the card or letter of approval—then the plan has no value.

But many a racket and many a scheme is worked in the cities of our state that could be halted if we would merely require all contacting us or soliciting us to show a letter or card of approval before we would buy. It would be surprising how many would never bother to get such a card. It would also be surprising how many would be refused a card when they did not deserve it.

And we can all halt those wanting to sell us something if they are outsiders and unknown to us by asking them if they have a card or letter of approval from the Chamber of Commerce and refusing to even discuss the matter with them if they cannot produce the letter.

This, of course, does not apply to local groups, individuals, clubs, organizations but rather to the outside solicitors. However, we are kind of convinced at times, there should be some sort of a clearing house on some of the local projects.

There are a good many advertising schemes worked here which should be halted. The soliciting of certain kinds and types of advertising are not only unfair to the merchants because they have no value but they are unfair to the legitimate firms and concerns which operate on the sale of advertising.

Far too often someone gets an idea that an advertising program of some sort or other would be fine. No one objected to these when they were originally started and the only intent was to secure sufficient funds to pay the printing cost.

Today, however, too many organizations are taking on some of these schemes with the sole intent of making money out of them. And in some instances these same organizations are looking to the paper and the radio station to provide them with free publicity.

Don't go into competition with them if you want their cooperation. You wouldn't secure much cooperation from other business people with whom you go into competition—you wouldn't even expect it.

Can't Take the Criticism

IT HAS BEEN pretty self evident for a good many months that President Harry S. Truman could not stand criticism.

He has "blown his top" several times, so to speak, in recent months over some of the comment about his special cronies and everyone recalls the tirade he went into over the music critic's comment on his daughter's singing.

So his efforts to halt the handing out and giving out of news under the so-called guise of security was only to be expected. But we do not believe he can or will get away with it.

It is true they probably keep the public from knowing many things by not announcing it or refusing to disclose it. They can get away with that until someone uncovers it but when they deliberately refuse to give out information which is supposed to be available—that is censorship.

We, of course, don't blame him for wanting censorship from his own standpoint and realizing the trouble some of his cronies have gotten into. In some of these cases they have gotten him into trouble. But the fact remains that this is America, the Constitution provides for freedom of speech and freedom of the press and we also are definitely not in a war. It was the President who branded the campaign in Korea as a policing affair.

We do not believe that American citizens are going to stand for the gagging of the American press. We believe they are a little fed up on this so-called security when they know we have leaks in various governmental departments and apparently the Russians know some things long before American citizens know them.

It is certainly a dangerous condition and situation to have the press gagged. We may not approve of all they do or say, we may not like some of the things they do but we know when we are honest about it that it is the free press which prevents more graft and corruption than we have today and we have too much now.

It was this same free press which conducted its own censorship during the last war. It maintained faith when that was necessary and essential and it did an outstanding job.

Perhaps President Truman has forgotten that. And he also perhaps has forgotten that his administration is too deep in the mire today to employ 'security' as the reason for not giving out certain information. The public is skeptical and suspicious. They figure that it isn't for security reasons he desires to withhold certain formation, but rather to try and cover up some of the things that have and are happening in Washington—things which do not speak well for loyal, patriotic American citizens and do not speak well for either political party for that matter.

President Truman probably also has forgotten that it is the same press that he wants to gag that he must go to provide information for the public. It is the American press which carries the information about enlistments, about the Selective Service, about the needs for nurses, the need for blood plasma, the need for observing the control program and price ceilings. It is this same press he will expect to arouse the American people to back the defense program and to help this nation prepare for any emergency.

And if there was ever a time when the administration needs the public to be aroused and needs the press to do that job—now is that time.

President Truman's efforts to cover and withhold certain information under the guise of security isn't very convincing to America of today.

OLD CONTRIBUTOR TO THE DOWNFALL OF NATIONS

What Other Editors Are Saying

IKK FACES A FIGHT

Senator Taft's announcement that he is out to win the Republican Presidential nomination is notice to General Eisenhower that he's going to have a fight on his hands if he wants the job.

"Mr. Republican" came out with his announcement earlier than is customary. Whatever you think about Taft, you must admit he's not coy. He doesn't mind letting the world know when he's ready to start the battle.

But the reason the Ohio Senator made his decision so soon probably has to do with the talk about drafting Eisenhower. Taft was determined that the general was not to get the nomination handed to him on a silver platter.

This is Taft's third try for the White House. He's in dead earnest. His friends have told him that the rank and file of the party demand that he run—a somewhat doubtful conclusion, it seems to us.

The Ohioian is a dogged campaigner and a rugged fighter. He probably won't feel hurt if Eisenhower makes a bid for the job, just so the general gets out and works for it in the field of practical politics. Taft, himself, is a politician and takes it for granted that the only way to be elected to political office is by fighting it out on conventional political lines. This business of declaring a moratorium of party politics and everybody going overboard for a glamorous candidate whose politics are doubtful, doesn't appeal to him at all.

However, a great many Americans—including a great many Republicans—are just a little fed up with conventional party politics. These people, many of whom represent the decisive "independent" voting bloc, are definitely looking for a candidate not too directly associated with the conventional, old-line political methods. That's why the Eisenhower boom might well succeed.

The riddle, of course, is the general himself. He has been variously pictured as unwilling to leave his job in Europe undone to go into politics; as being genuinely concerned over what he fears are isolationist tendencies in the Republican Party and willing to get in and fight for the nomination as a matter of public duty.

However he feels, it is his turn now to say something.

There are other considerations in Senator Taft's announcement, of course; notably the fear of many sincere Republicans that, able as he is, he is not the

MONEY IN THE STREET

No, the streets of American cities are not paved with gold, as many a wide-eyed immigrant long since has learned. But these thoroughfares or their adjacent sidewalks may yet yield a considerable number of dollars to help out municipal treasuries if experiments tried by two United States cities continue to prove successful.

One of these is the program by which Milwaukee, instead of spending money to prevent overnight parking, now rents curb space for $4 a month to motorists who cannot obtain garage facilities within a two-block area.

The other, a bit more doubtful, is the scheme of New York City's Board of Transportation to derive revenue from gratings over the city's subways by allowing them to be used for advertising purposes. The devices for this purpose are ingenious but the pedestrian billboard idea could be easily overdone. If merchandising pleas become so ubiquitous that they are even underfoot, there will be new reason for Edward Everett Hale's advice to "look up and not down."—Christian Science Monitor.

Once fully enslaved, no nation, state or city of this earth ever afterward resumes its liberty.—Walt Whitman.

There is no security on this earth, only opportunity.—Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

man to throw into a cross-country fight against Harry Truman. There is the question whether Taft's semi-isolationist foreign policy might not frighten a great many voters who might be inclined to vote Republican if a more liberal internationalist were the candidate. And there is a question whether Taft's unglamorous, matter-of-fact attitude might not suffer if Truman should start tossing out his promises of something for everybody as he did in '48.

In short, can Taft beat Truman? The consensus, as we have heard it, is that he probably can't.

Can Eisenhower beat Truman? Almost certainly.

But is Eisenhower willing to fight it out in the arena of party politics for the Republican nomination?

That, right now, is the important question.—Amarillo Daily News.

New Mexico

By G. WARD FENLEY

I am amazed each week at the items that make newspaper headlines in the different parts of the country.

If there happens to be a national emergency on tap—such as the baseball world series—you can be sure that all papers will run the same thing.

But nine times out of 10, each of the USA's 1,800 dailies and probably four times as many weeklies will each have some banner story that is predominantly important to that specific part of the country.

Tops, for example, now to Gordon Greaves of Portales is that the yam harvest season is in full sway. That's a natural for Gordon because that's his bread and butter.

To all agricultural sections of the nation, the first nip of Jack Frost is uppermost in the minds of readers of newspapers.

Then we like to see some editor get excited over some wrong that is happening in his neighborhood.

Too bad he can't print his reactions verbatim. But the editor of the Union County Leader did his best last week about a "gyp" circus that hit town: "Of all the sorry 7*15 1/2-7*15 1/4) outfits to call itself a circus."

You can read between the lines and know what blankety-blank expletives the editor was whirling through his mind.

The talk in state and national capitals is always politics.

I heard about a guy in Santa Fe this last week telling another that he was driving an "Eisenhower" car.

"You know—an Eisenhower car—you never know whether it's going to run or not."

With all the talk about irregularities in the camps of both Democrats and Republicans, you get to wondering if we are electing the right type of officials.

Rhino vs. Bull—

In Africa a man can't hold office until he has shot a rhinoceros.

In America his only qualification is to be able to shoot the bull.

I got a nice letter from Ralph H. Faxon, secretary for the Navajo Trail Association (Walsenburg, Colo.) telling me what was news in his locality. Seems Ralph, as a lot of others, reads the Roy Record.

Now for state-wide news. Jack Sitton (Carlsbad Little Argus) says a sign: "Built in Gallup by Navajos." He wants a sign to read: "Built in Carlsbad by Cave Men."

Also from Carlsbad: "Hugh Hall moved into town and found two other Hugh Halls already in the town. The newcomer has henceforth changed his cognomen to 'Baldy' Hall."

From the Santa Fe New Mexican: "Elizabeth Ann Bigbee, 11, suffered an arm bone fracture when she fell in the carnival's 'Fun House.' No fun for her, says the New Mexican."

They marry young at Tucumcari (News): "Viola Stormes, 2, and Elmer T. Stewart, both of Oklahoma City, married by Judge Fred White."

Bill Fowler cleaned out his waste-paper baskets and burned up $1,190 in Carlsbad. Moral: "Don't clean house."

Farmington Times: "Sometimes ethel, sometimes regular but always good gasoline." Blondes always carry a punch.

Also the Farmington Times was saying that there are no old maids on the Indian Reservation: "The rest don't remain unmarried very long."

Don Pinkston in the Roswell Record on the subject of why women don't want to serve on juries: "It is a law of female human nature to be contrary and they never lose an opportunity to be coy." Boy, I wouldn't dare say things like that. I'm married.

In conclusion for this week, Don might have added: "The thing that most women dread about their past is its length."

Home on the Range

By Will Robinson

Comparatively few people realize the extent of the raise in federal taxes that the people of New Mexico are now paying under the increases passed by the recent session of Congress.

They are most considerable, as will be gathered from a digest of the rates as of Nov. 15, the study being of the federal imposts only.

The federal tax on gasoline goes up from 1 1/2 cents a gallon to 2 cents a gallon.

Cigarettes from 1 cent per pack to 8 cents.

Hard liquor, up from $9 to $10.50 per gallon.

Beer up from $7 to $8 per barrel.

Wine, up from 15 cents a gallon to a maximum of $2.22 a gallon.

Automobiles (new) from 7 per cent maker's price to 10 per cent, up 10 per cent.

Household appliances (electric) Corporations, up 5 per cent, to a new high of 52 per cent.

Farm co-operatives and mutual savings banks begin paying taxes for the first time at the regular corporation rates.

Of course, these are only a small part of the totals boosted, but they are enough to emphasize the fact that we haven't begun to pay taxes yet. These instances are quoted because many people consider them to be necessities.

Economic Stabilizer Job Seen Just 'Fading Away'

No Real Peace in Korea Until Reds Are Out

Special to Central Press

WASHINGTON—Eric Johnston has virtually closed up shop at the Economic Stabilizer. There has been no evidence of activity for weeks around his office and he has held no news conferences and made no statements with the exception of an occasional speech and testimony on Capitol Hill.

For many months after the Jan. 26 price-wage freeze, Johnston's office was a hot news spot. However, this changed completely when Congress passed a new defense production act which Johnston insisted gave him unwelcome controls powers.

Johnston, of course, has announced his intention to quit in the next few weeks. Recently he made a brief European tour to study and report on problems of President Truman on Continental economic problems.

The continuing cessation of activity around his office, however, raises the question as to whether Johnston's job will not be quietly forgotten.

Finally an attendant explained the growing commotion to one of the attractive gray-haired women. Word had gotten around that Bess Truman was in the "Y" and the folk had come in for a good look.

However, few of them realized the "Mrs. Truman" they had been gaping at was Mrs. Lee D. Rush, wife of a government general accountant. Conservative dress, a gracious manner, and a profile almost identical to that of the First Lady, make Mrs. Rush a dead ringer for the woman in the White House.

● Guayule—Rubber Plants—It is not strange that overtures from the government looking toward the resumption of the culture of guayule plants, from which it was planned to produce rubber during World War II, is meeting with rather a cold reception from farmers and ranchers who might be considered as logical producers.

The experiences in the four states in which plantings were made, which included New Mexico, with plantings at Las Cruces, South Springs, Farmington, and other points simply confirmed the statement that it would take at least four years for the plants to reach usable size.

When the plants were usable, improved processes would be necessary, especially that countering the sulphur content of the growth, and a general education of the planters and makers. The rapid development of artificial rubber making from black gotten from crude petroleum just naturally swapped the guayule industry. Most of the areas that were started under the use of several million dollars in subsidies by the government, returned to the desert, the natural home, and everybody got all about it until the process was made imperative some form rubber supply other than the tree in Brazil and Burma and other countries.

Rep. Benzen of Texas is a power plant in congress to get government grants of money to resume the experiments with guayule, which, sorry as it is, seems to be the best bet so far discovered for vegetable rubber production. Several million dollars have already gone out from Washington under the promotion of Rep. Benzen and more will be asked from the congress session, it being sought to justify the use of the money because of the destruction of orchards in Burma and the abandonment of forest trees in Brazil.

Of course it is well enough to continue the experiments with

It was a good will gesture that fits in nicely with the cordial relations between the scribes and the antlered group for years and years. Every fraternal and civic body should be equally courteous. None of them would get anywhere without the free and fine publicity they get ever word without end or price.

Biggest Buck—
It won't be long now before you will be reading about the shooting of the biggest buck which will take the center of the hunters news stage. It really requires more skill and better marksmanship to knock over a small deer than a big one, but that is seldom conceded.

Whoever brings in the big boy this year will have to go some. A citizen of Bernalillo last year got one that weighed 242 pounds which was the heaviest recorded for some years and only 9 pounds less than the record brought in by a Carlsbad shootist, several years ago.

Interestingly, the smallest whitetail of which history tells was also killed by a man registered from the ancient pueblo. It tipped the scales at 68 pounds, fully mature, with 4 pronged horns. It was as fat as butter.

Sadie Hawkins—
Jack Sitton, the mastermind of the Carlsbad Currene-Argus, has started his annual whoop-up for "Sadie Hawkins Day," which occurs on Saturday, Nov. 17, this year. Like most other scribes he is a Daisy Mae rooter, and would be very happy about it if the nitwit were captured this year by the beauty of Dogpatch, Ky.

She is a chump for wanting him at all, but so is the average woman for wanting the usual type of man.

Many Braceros—
New Mexico cotton planters need 23,000 cotton pickers, which they will never get in more than half the number, this forcing the continuation of the picking way along into the winter.

More than 1,000 of these pickers are needed in Dona Ana county, which has 7,768 of the alien Mexicans now at work. The rest are wanted in the areas around Las Cruces, Deming, Hobbs, Alamogordo, Carlsbad, Roswell, Artesia, Tucumcari and Socorro.

Texas, starting earlier, is about through, and may release a few thousand of the Braceros for use in New Mexico. More than 43,000 of these necessary workers have cleared in through the port of El Paso.

That many more would be roaring across the river, were the Anglos a little more rational in their treatment, and a couple of thousand could be inveigled down from the Navajo reservation if we were just fairly rational in their treatment.

Maybe Employees Should Be Able To Read Minds

Confusion as to what a questioner means when he asks for "a license" can produce some interesting results as shown in an incident which happened recently in Carlsbad.

Seems a couple in the Carlsbad City wanted to add their name to the list of motor vehicle owners in Eddy county who number 18,325.

However, they seemed to have made a slight error in choosing the place for applying for their car license as told in the Current-Argus of Oct. 24.

The county clerk's office wondered what to do the other day about a couple at the counter. A couple at the counter of the county clerk's office means they want a marriage license, nine times out of ten.

The man said he wanted a license, but when the woman was asked if she wanted one too she said, "Why should I want one?"

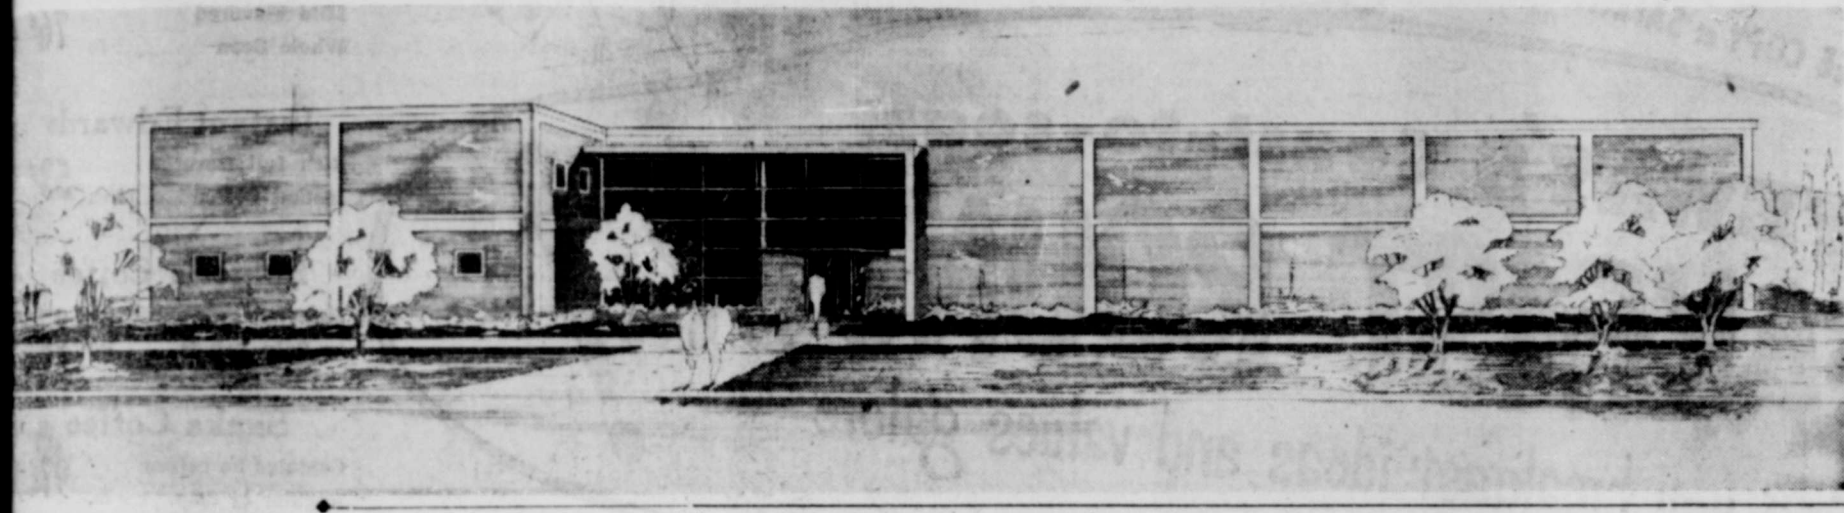

A marriage license wasn't sought, it turned out, after the man explained what kind of a license he wanted, and Mrs. John Sears, deputy clerk, directed him and, apparently, his wife, to the auto license plate distributor's office. When he said "a license," it developed, he was talking about license plates for the car.

The county clerk's office also reports another incident, which might be called "right office—wrong wording."

Another couple didn't make any mistake about the clerk's office. Except that the young and anxious groom got a little ahead of himself, blurted out, "We want a marriage license, we're on our honeymoon."

Goodwill among youths of a dozen nations was strengthened at the International Boy Scout Jamboree at Bad Ischl, Austria, when four American Boy Scouts distributed CARE food and textile packages among especially needy Austrian Scouts.

Eastern New Mexico University to Break Ground Saturday for New $575,000 Library

ORTALES, Oct. 26 (Special)—A new library planned for Eastern New Mexico University is the "latest" in architecture in library planning, according to James Dyke, librarian. Ground for the new $575,000 structure will be broken at ENMU Homecoming Saturday, Nov. 3. The building will be an open stack, three access levels.

It means that, once the user enters the building, he is free to use and use any and all materials without the necessity of charging each item at some desk. This is possible through the basic structure of the structure.

The library is built on the "open stack" plan. In other words, internal dimensions have been arranged that either reading, work space, or space for stacks can be inter-changed any time when a revised floor plan is necessary.

The exterior of the building is of brick to conform with other campus structures on the campus. The building is in white stone. The building is two stories and is 105 feet long. At the east end, the structure is 105 feet and 79 feet at the west end. More than 30,000 square feet of floor space are available.

The main entrance faces the west and is set in a solid plate section some 40 feet wide of two stories high. The entrance pierces the glass section and extends into the interior.

There are also plate glass and are set on either side with plantings which extend inside the building.

The new structure will house classrooms and the University library section. Space will be available for 100,000 volumes and students can use the facilities of the library at one time. The building as it will be constructed will be adequate for 1,500 students and will be so built that additions can be made easily.

ing five years to see whether it were worthwhile.

Anyhow, Texas, New Mexico, Arizona and California may be safely counted as willing to have the movement amount to something.

A. & M. Enrollment—
One of the finest universities in the land, the A. & M. at Las Cruces, is coming out of the kinks produced by the gnaw of war, and its enrollment figures, released yesterday, are both surprising and gratifying. It is shown that 1,653 students are enrolled as compared with 1,567 last year.

The Micawberish feats of the past are more than duplicated by the present day phases of evolution, which include a sort of branch college at Carlsbad and Alamogordo (White Sands).

Around 300 students are enrolled in these supplemental schools, and the general situation seems to be most satisfactory.

There are 103 students doing on-campus work at plant and 82 at Carlsbad, with 72 at Alamogordo. There need be no worry about the present or the future of the A. & M. College.

Influences—
The police down at Las Cruces have made a distinction that has some weight to it. The new ordinance provides a charge "driving under the influence of intoxicating liquor," instead of "driving while intoxicated, which was the former phrase under which the drunks got theirs.

Of course it might very well be that a driver while driving under the "influence" could be less dangerous than one who was burning the breeze just plain drunk. Inasmuch as some people are "under the influence" when they have taken as little as one drink, it only need a few precedents to go right along from here.

Elks—Scribes—
Down at Las Cruces the other night the workers on the two newspapers were served a scrumptious turkey dinner, the same being an appreciation by the officers and members of Lodge 1558, and in conformity with similar good willfeeds all over the nation.

guayule or anything else that might relieve the shortage, but southwestern farmers are not apt to enthuse over planting and waiting five years to see whether it were worthwhile.

Next time you back your Buick out of the garage, cock a critical ear at the sound of your exhaust.

Does it still have that tuneful, factory-new note? If not, that may mean your muffler has taken a beating and ought to be replaced—before it cuts down power, raises gas consumption, or leaks exhaust fumes.

Why not drop into our shop and let us bend our Buick-trained ears over it, and give it a close look for leaks? We're glad to do this with no charge—and if we can give your muffler a clean bill of health, you'll find it mighty reassuring!
