Ranchhands' Rodeo Planning Draws Top Non-Professional Riders; Specialty Signed

Artesia's Ranchhands' Rodeo, slated for four nights beginning Thursday, Aug. 14, will draw top non-professional entries from three states, according to Bob Chipman, producer of the rodeo. Meanwhile, other rodeo event chairmen reported community-wide interest in the project, and plans have been coordinated for an event-packed opening day beginning with a parade at 10 a. m. Aug. 14.

Chipman revealed this week the rodeo has been publicized as far north as Alamosa and Aspen in Colorado, through Santa Fe and Lordsburg in New Mexico, Dell City, near El Paso, and east into the Texas panhandle.

Chipman related these developments Thursday: A contract with the Fulkerson troupe of Muskogee, Okla., has been signed to provide added rodeo entertainment all four nights, Thursday through Sunday. Features of the act include a 12-year-old girl riding a palomino horse through a fire-circled hoop, and a startling bullwhip act by a set of 16-year-old twins. Chipman reported that Richard Fulkerson showed a demonstration of his ability with a bullwhip by popping off the neck of a softdrink bottle.

Artesia Chamber of Commerce will award $150 in prizes for top entries in the parade. First prize of $75 will be given the most outstanding. Second prize is $50, and third $25.

Only restriction on entries is that commercial houses may not have more than one float or other type of entry in the parade, Westfall declared.

Unemployment Pay Rulings Are Clarified

By WALTER E. TAYLOR
New Mexico State
Employment Service

Unemployment Compensation—Some Facts: Although the New Mexico unemployment insurance program has been in operation for more than 14 years there is still much public misinformation about the program and many people have only the vaguest ideas about how the program operates.

M. F. Miera, employment security commission chairman, has recently released information about the unemployment insurance operations in an effort to acquaint the public with this program which is such an important part of the economic life of the state. The program is handled through the 19 local offices of the New Mexico state employment service.

Unemployment compensation does not cover all unemployment under all conditions. When it was started the system was planned to provide the majority of regularly employed workers a limited income during temporary lay-offs.

Under the program the regularly employed worker is protected while temporarily out of work and receives weekly payments to meet essential expenses. Experience has shown that unemployment insurance can be the chief means of dealing with the problem of unemployment, and, except in case of a severe depression, unemployment insurance can eliminate direct relief for workers covered by the program. It provides the worker regularly in the labor market with temporary income during periods when he is unemployed through no fault of his own. It sustains purchasing power.

Although New Mexico's unemployment insurance program is part of a national setup, it is state-controlled. National records show about 20 per cent of those who apply for unemployment insurance go back to work and drop their claims before they receive even one check. Twenty per cent more go back to work before they have received their sixth payment and the average claimant collects insurance for only about 12 weeks. New Mexico's figures in this respect are better than the national average.

Some people think that anybody can apply for unemployment compensation and collect but this is not true. In order to draw unemployment insurance a worker must have shown a fairly close attachment to employment. He must have earned a certain amount of wages in order to draw benefits and he must have worked fairly steadily to be eligible.

For example, a worker who earned $740 in one month and had no other wages during his qualifying period would not be eligible for job insurance. A worker in the $18 or $20 per week class would have to work steadily for at least five or six months to be eligible for even a small benefit. Workers who receive benefits must be able to work, available for work and actively seeking work.

On the average, only about one fourth of the people registered for employment at New Mexico state employment service offices are receiving unemployment insurance benefits.

Seed Cotton With Moisture Under 14 Per Cent Is Safely Stored

Seed cotton with a moisture content of not more than 14 per cent may be safely stored for several months without damage to grade, spinning qualities, milling properties, or viability of the seed, according to a recently completed study by the U. S. department of agriculture. The study indicated, however, that such extended storage may sometimes decrease staple length slightly.

Where seed cotton is to be stored with a higher moisture content than 14 per cent, provision should be made for circulating cool air through the cotton, according to the report on the study. It also was found that drying high-moisture seed cotton in storage by circulating hot air through the bins is considered too costly to be practicable.

Previously, no extensive tests had been made to determine closely the percentage of moisture that makes it unsafe to store seed cotton without drying it. Some in the industry had thought storage to be unsafe when moisture was as high as 12 per cent.

The report also presents data on the effects of different moisture levels in stored seed cotton on the germination of seed and the development of free fatty acids, and on grade and staple, and information on efficient arrangements and equipment of storage houses.

The report, "Conditioning and Storage of Seed Cotton with Special Reference to Mechanically Harvested Cotton," is based on a study made cooperatively by the cotton branch of the production and marketing administration and the bureau of plant industry, soils, and agricultural engineering of the agricultural research administration.

The study was made under authority of the agricultural marketing act of 1946. A copy of the report may be obtained from the Office of Information Services, Production and Marketing Administration, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C.

Drillers Come From Behind To Take Colt Doubleheader

Mike Rodriguez won both ends of a double-header for Artesia against the San Angelo Colts Tuesday evening.

Mighty Mike proved his power at the plate also, collecting two hits in two official times at the plate in the first game.

Artesia gathered the first match by 8-1, the second by 3-2 in a narrow pull-out in the seventh inning.

The Drillers capitalized on the wild pitching of Colt moundsman Don Gabor to score eight runs on five hits in the first game.

Mike Rodriguez walked in the sixth frame. Artesia began by tallying three in the first on walks by Vince Sarubbi, Joe Bauman, and Rudy Briner, a wild pitch, a single by Bill Haley, and an error.

The Drillers collected a single tally in the fourth from walks by Pete Pichan and Rodriguez, plus a single by Sarubbi to score Pichan.

In the fifth for Artesia, Bauman walked, Briner singled, and Jim Ackers walked to load the bases. Pichan was hit by a pitch to force home Bauman, and Moundsman Mike doubled to bring home Briner, Ackers, and Pichan.

In the second game, Artesia bats exploded after six scoreless innings to give Rodriguez his second game of the evening.

San Angelo ace, J. B. May, held Artesia batsmen to two hits through six innings, but was unable to halt determined Drillers in the seventh.

Colts scored once in the fourth when third sacker Marty Dooley doubled and John Tayoan brought him home on a single. San Angelo repeated with another single in the fifth frame on a double by Ken Kowalik and a single by Greg Solis scoring Kowalik.

In the bottom of the seventh, the Drillers opened fire when first-up Jim Ackers doubled and Pete Pichan socked another two-bagger to score Ackers. With haste Mario Saldana—Monday night's winning San Angelo hurler—came on as a reliever, striking out Rodriguez immediately.

But Vince Sarubbi singled to score Pichan, and later came in himself from second on Paul Halter's single.

Drillers Combine Six Hits, Errors for 6-3 Indian Win

Artesia Drillers combined six hits with three walks and three Midland errors to take a 6-3 win from the Indians in the first of a two-game series Wednesday.

The visiting Indians got off to a good start in the top of the first with two runs pushed over on two walks, two hits, and two Artesia errors.

The same frame saw Artesia gather one run when Paul Halter singled and Joe Bauman doubled him home.

Midland scored a single and final tally of the game on starter Francisco Fernandez before Fernandez was relieved by battling Bob Pressley who had an exceptional night.

Midland's run was scored on singles by Manuel Temes and Pat O'Keefe and a passed ball that brought Temes home.

Artesia tallied four runs in the sixth when Halter doubled, Bauman walked, Rudy Briner was hit by a pitch, and Bill Haley advanced on a fielder's choice which put Briner out. Halter was brought home and Jim Ackers walked to load the bases again. Pete Pichan singled and went to second on an error, forcing Bauman and Haley.

Grid Meeting Slated for Monday Eve

Artesia's Bulldogs will go into fall football practice in the Sacramento mountains this year for the first time. Candidates for squad berths will leave Artesia Sunday, Aug. 17, spend a week at Camp Mary White, and return to Artesia Aug. 24.

In announcing the mountain football training camp, Coach Reese Smith issued a call for all high school boys interested in football to attend a meeting next Monday, Aug. 4, at 7 p. m. in the high school gym.

Training plans, general procedure, and policy will be outlined in the Aug. 4 meeting. At 9 a. m. Saturday, Aug. 16, boys trying-out for football will report to the gymnasium for physical examinations, prior to their departure for camp Sunday.

Coach Smith said 45 boys will be taken to Camp Mary White for the week-long practice and get-together. Boys will pay $5 apiece which will cover meals and accommodations. The high school athletic department is to pay the balance.

Training schedules call for the boys to get into the Girl Scout camp Sunday in time to prepare it for their week-long stay. Actual practice is to begin Monday morning, and will continue through Saturday. Smith said two-hour practice sessions will be held twice a day, once in the morning and again in the afternoon. Boys will be given ample free time for personal recreation. Time will also be devoted by the entire football group to cleaning up and repairing the camp. Smith said all plans for the camp are now completed, except signing of a cook to prepare training table food. Artesia's first game this year is slated for 7:30 p. m., Sept. 5, on Morris Field. The opponent will be St. Michael's. Advance sale of season football tickets is expected to begin later in August.

Smith will not yet speculate on possibilities for the Bulldog aggregation this fall. He pointed out that four men—Doyle Cole, Jimmy Juarez, Reese Booker, and Jack Huddleston—are lost from the starting string.

However, Smith anticipated a turn-out of "excellent material." Other football coaches in New Mexico have already speculated that the state crown will be thrown to one of three teams at the end are Hobbs, Carlsbad, and Artesia, of the season. Top contenders now with Artesia getting top recognition for strength on the basis of return of lettermen.

Cal Hall will be line coach for the 1952 Bulldogs, and John Daugherty, Junior high school instructor, will be backfield coach. Bud Willburn is to be the Junior high coach.

Rotary Views Little League Movie Tuesday

A film on Little League baseball thoroughly captured the attention of Artesia Rotary club, meeting Tuesday in Masonic temple.

Visitors at Tuesday's Rotary meeting were Bill Wolf, Roswell; George Brodie, Meadville, Pa.; Frank Wertman, Roswell; Howard Brown, Roswell; and from Artesia, Ralph Hayes, Herbert Bragg, Paul Frost, and Vernon Mills.

Trucking Wheat, Grain Sorghums Is Expanded

Trucking of wheat and grain sorghums from producing areas of Texas, Oklahoma, and New Mexico to terminal elevators and flour and feed mills has expanded rapidly in recent years, according to a survey by the U. S. department of agriculture.

As an example of this expansion, 20 to 25 per cent of all grain handled by 77 of these firms is handled by truck, it is estimated. Altogether, 117 elevators and mills, handling 30 to 35 per cent of the grain in these states, were studied. The study revealed a wide difference of opinion in the grain trade regarding the future of grain trucking. Some believed the recent rapid expansion in trucking to be a temporary trend that will disappear when railroad car shortages are overcome. Others felt that trucks are going to supplant railroads as the principal movers of grains and mill products.

One of the reasons given for increased shipment of grain by truck was that truck rates generally are much lower than railroad rates, sometimes as low as 50 per cent lower. Shippers also gave the following reasons for shifting from railroad to truck transportation of grains:

better service, boxcar shortage, lower handling costs, and the convenience of trucks in supplying rail transportation. The principal objections of shippers trucking of grain were unavailability of some truckers, lack of established channels, and lack of the milling-in-transit privilege.

Studies of the operation, of services in the region indicate that a truck carrying a 30,000 load could operate up to 100 miles at a profit at the rate usually being charged. On a trip basis, with the truck loaded one way and empty on return trip, operation would be profitable with a 36,000 pay road up to 325 miles.

A copy of the report on study, "The Transportation Handling of Grain by Motor in the Southwest," may be obtained from the Office of Informative Services, Production and Marketing Administration, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C. The study was made by the Marketing and Facilities Search Branch, under the Agricultural Marketing Act of 1946.

Artesian to Drive Racer

THIS THREE-QUARTER, Indianapolis-type racing car, driven by Paul Pearson of Artesia, will be among 18 to 20 racers taking part in an afternoon of racing events on opening day of the Ranchhands' Rodeo Thursday, Aug. 14. Pearson is driving a car owned by Wilbur Wallace of Portales. It has a GMC motor, is one of the top cars on the circuit. The race Aug. 14 will be held at Artesia Veterans' Speedway, and will be the first full auto racing event of the year in this city.

Top Racing Cars to Vie in Rodeo Opening Day Event

Racing cars and drivers from across Southwestern USA will continue their running battle against time and one another Aug. 14 on the Artesia Veterans' Speedway racing track. The race, slated for Thursday afternoon, will be one of the opening day events scheduled to herald the Ranchhands' Rodeo.

Time trials for the race begin at 1 p. m. on the speedway, and racing is to get underway at 2:30. A field of approximately 18 cars is expected to enter the auto races here.

Granger Stars In 'Wild North' At Landsun

Stewart Granger, who fought the heat and dangers of the African veldt in the memorable "King Solomon's Mines," fights another thrilling battle against man, beast and nature in the color-temperature and frozen wastes of "The Wild North," M-G-M's spellbinding adventure-drama on view at the Landsun Theater Sunday, Monday, and Tuesday.

The picture, first to be photographed in the Anasco Color, was filmed on location in three separate sessions, with the remarkable blizzard scenes taken in the Idaho wastelands during winter, another session devoted to capturing spectacular canoe sequences on the Clearwater River rapids, and the final scenes shot against breathtaking panoramas of the Grand Tetons in Wyoming.

Frank Fenton's exciting screen play is motivated by the files of the Royal North West Mounted Police and the personal memoirs of Constable Albert Pedley, whose exploits during one of Canada's foulest winters made mountie history. In "The Wild North" his hero is Jules Vincent (Stewart Granger), a fearless trapper who has been captured in his cabin in the Far North by Constable Pedley (Wendell Corey) and is being brought back to civilization to face a charge of murder.

Intrepid adventure after adventure befall the two men as they make their way across the frozen wastes, fighting off wolves, narrow escaping death in an avalanche, enduring through cold and hunger. The heroic exploits of this ill-assorted couple, one captor, the other manacled prisoner; and the manner in which Jules Vincent is vindicated of the charge of murder in a surging climax in which his canoe is dashed against the rocks of a perilous rapids, makes for a drama which is replete with action, suspense and tense excitement throughout every moment.

Stewart Granger is a perfect choice for the role of the virile and forceful trapper-hero of this story and he gives the part the same strength and authority as that of his white hunter of "King Solomon's Mines." The role of Constable Pedley, who first distrusts his captive but ultimately becomes his friend, is effectively played by Wendell Corey, and there is a third principal in the person of Cyd Charisse, cast as a half-breed Indian girl who has attached herself to Jules Vincent and who is eager to share his life in the frozen North. Standing out in supporting roles are Housley Stevenson as an old veteran of the trapping grounds, Ian MacDonald and Ray Teal as a pair of desperadoes, Morgan Farley as Father Simon, and Howard Petrie as Brody.

Junior, Senior High Bands to Open Rehearsals

Junior high band will meet every day at 10 a. m. Rehearsals will be held in the high school auditorium until the band room is finished.

New students who have moved into Artesia and are interested in band are urged to attend practices.

Ranchhands'

Rodeo Day in Artesia is scheduled to open at 10 a. m. Thursday, Aug. 14, with a parade. In the afternoon, an auto race featuring Indianapolis-type cars driven by top drivers will be held, with time trials at 1 p. m. and racing beginning at 2:30 p. m.

The rodeo queen will be crowned with a Stetson hat at the Thursday night opening performance.

Edwards Bound Over to District Court for Trial

Dale Edwards of Artesia, charged with grand larceny, was ordered bound over to district court Tuesday following a preliminary hearing in Artesia justice of peace court.

Edwards was charged specifically with stealing 15 truck tires on or about Dec. 9, 1951, from Valley Lumber Co., Artesia. Bond was set at $2,000 and Edwards was placed in Eddy county jail in lieu of bond.

Plumbing—

Anyone in the plumbing business must have one of these certificates of competency before he gets a license to be a plumber. Price tag on the license is $100 for the first year, $25 thereafter, plus 50 cents per $1,000 gross business the plumber of plumbing firm does.

A permit is not needed to clear stoppages in plumbing systems—for emergency work in other words. However, if clearance results in new plumbing, a certificate must be secured as soon as possible.

There is a schedule of fees in the proposed code for permits—so much would be charged for each fitting, each shower, each swimming pool, drain, etc.

Terms Defined—

Terms are extensively defined across several pages, and throughout the proposal are paragraphs setting up minimum standards. Certain types of fixtures and connections are prohibited by the code, as are actions which would harm the public water and sewer systems—things like dumping acids and other paraphernalia into the sewer system.

It also provides that businesses and factories, wholesale or retail, shall have one water closet and one basin or sink for every 15 employees. All cafes shall have two-compartment sinks.

A complete copy of the proposal is on file in the city clerk's office at Artesia City Hall.

Ireland Top Consumer of Dairy Products

Ireland, a country rarely heard of in dairy circles, is the heaviest consumer of milk and dairy products among the nations of the world. According to the latest figures—those for 1950—each Irishman consumed on the average 1388 pounds of milk and dairy products in that year. Next in line was New Zealand with 1338 pounds and Sweden with 1356. The only other nations to go above 1000 pounds annually were Finland with 1124 and Canada with 1100.

The United States figure was 776 pounds, 99 pounds per capita less than was consumed in the United Kingdom.

The heaviest consumer of butter was New Zealand, which used 44.2 pounds per capita. Ireland ranked second with 40.3; Canada 23.5; United Kingdom, 16.5; and United States, 10.7. The per capita consumption of butter in Denmark was 10.5 and in Holland 6.2. In both of those countries, butter is a major exporting commodity and features heavy in export trade; therefore, cheaper fats are consumed at home.

The heaviest consumer of cheese was, naturally, Switzerland, with a per capita consumption of 20.4 pounds. Sweden and Norway were next in line with 17.4 and 17.2 respectively. Greece apparently most of its limited milk supply the production of cheese because its 1950 consumption was 10 pounds per person. The United States used 7.7 pounds of cheese per capita.

Most marked decreases in butter consumption occurred in the United States, Canada, Denmark, Germany, the Netherlands, the United Kingdom, but Belgium, Holland, Sweden and New Zealand showed increases. The greatest increase was in Ireland, where per capita consumption increased by more than 7 pounds over pre-war average.

Some 43 per cent of the world's forest products come from the United States.

Closing Third Street

NORTH THIRD STREET has been temporarily closed from Main to Texas street as an experiment in traffic control, according to Artesia city council and city officials who gave advice to the council.

The city council asked that action be taken in the 200 block of W. Main street because of congestion which slowed traffic and increased accident hazards there. The matter was turned over to the council's street committee and Chief of Police Earl D. Westfall for study and recommendation.

The committee and Chief Westfall recommended a no-left-turn policy at the intersection of Main and Third streets. This would eliminate autos going counter to the heavy flow of traffic, the officials felt. Directional street markings would also prevent crossing of Main street from one part of Third street to the other.

This would relieve congestion in the block and make for a smoother flow of traffic, the city officers felt. As an added measure to give the traffic control proposal a complete test, Third street was blocked.

We believe traffic has been speeded up as a result of the action in this particular area. We further believe that, despite some charges, there is no skulduggery afoot in closing Third; the city council has not fully explored legal angles involved should they wish to permanently close N. Third at the end of the six-months test period.

Because it has never been done before is no sign that the city has not grown to such a point that it now needs some steps to control traffic. Artesia, as it grows, must meet the problems of a growing city. Traffic problems are among the most severe facing any growing community.

We believe the council acted wisely in not permanently closing North Third. The temporary closing will enable police and others to check effect of closing on flow of traffic.

But critics of the council also have a point in wondering why other streets were not also regulated for smoother traffic. South Roselawn street is one of the most congested, especially at the entrance to Main, and is also congested many times at Masonic temple and near the Baptist church, where parking is permitted on both sides of the street. Stop signs, which are now heavy triangular chunks of steel sunk in the pavement, are not as adequate as larger standards set four or five feet above the ground and used in some parts of the city.

The council has made a cautious move toward traffic control; we think more moves are needed. It might also have been better, from a public relations standpoint, to announce what will be done with North Third in the event it should be permanently closed.

The Turned Turtle

AS SHOWN BY a letter to the editor in Tuesday's Artesia Advocate, the turtles have at least found a voluble spokesman who is not afraid to come out from under his shell in protest against servitude of his people.

Turned Turtle protested the lack of adequate stables and other accommodations for those of his people used in the Artesia Lions annual Turtle Derby, held last week-end. TT also points out his people are especially susceptible to neuroses, created by the excitement and pressure of Derby Day in Artesia.

TT then proposes that a Lions Derby be held each year, with selected Lions being thrown into the Pecos river and the winner being the first to reach shore.

Frankly, TT, we think turtles have found an eminent spokesman in yourself, rivaled only by the great turtles of literature, including "Alice in Wonderland" and the more common literature found on the side of a can bearing turtle soup.

After all, it's only fair—why not an annual Lions Derby?

Before It Occurs Here

OVER IN DONA ANA county recently a deputy sheriff was killed while performing his duty.

That deputy sheriff was drawing $225 per month. The only insurance the county was carrying on him was workmen's compensation. This will provide only a small amount per week for his family.

The survivors include his wife and three children. What has been provided by the county is not sufficient and the public will provide the trust fund for these children.

Over this state we have city and county officers working for a small salary considering the hazards and the dangers of their jobs. We have never paid our enforcement officers the salaries they should receive because of the long hours involved, and the things we expect them to do.

When the matter comes up for discussion with the city councils or the county commissioners it is always the same story—we can't afford it.

We have noticed that governing bodies can always find money to do the things they want to do but seldom find money to do what certain taxpayers want done.

But the fact remains that we, the taxpayers, are employing these peace officers. We are providing the funds to pay their salaries and we should not only be providing sufficient funds but we should be providing ample funds to be sure they are insured to the extent of at least $10,000 each.

That is small enough.

What Other Editors Are Saying

COWBOY SEASON

There's something about a rodeo. The things have captured New Mexico. There's no less than 20 of them conducted on a regular annual basis. And that doesn't seem to be enough. The fans encounter days where there are no shows in the state and are obliged to travel to Texas or Colorado for their fun.

The rodeo is an old form but it's only recently that it has won its wide appeal. Santa Fe which a few days ago had only sneers for r-day-os has gone gaga over the things. There are more boots and flamboyant shirts in the ancient city than there are mantillas and charro suits.

There's a reason for the sudden rise of popularity. It's not only the inherent urge present in most everybody to dress up and play cowboy that makes rodeos attract crowds. But also the greatly improved method of staging the shows.

No longer are they tedious, repetitious contests managed by men who spend the other 51 weeks of the year working on ranches. The rodeo entrepreneur has come on the scene to change the rodeo from a contest to a show staged with precision of the theater. The brutal aspects of the old rodeo have been eliminated, the events are peppered with clowns and speciality acts, not unlike old vaudeville programs. And the people love it.

The only complaint we hear from the fans is the shortness of the rodeo season. If the craze continues we may see the cowboys putting on their woolie chaps and contesting in the snow.—Tucumcari Daily News.

TELEPHONE RATES

A point which has long disturbed this writer in his efforts to arrive at a fair conclusion regarding the rates demanded of New Mexico telephone users is the great discrepancy between long distance tolls on calls wholly within the state and the tolls applying on calls over similar distances which are in interstate traffic.

Insofar as I have been able to determine the why for this, it is a case of the State Corporation Commission and the other under the ICC.—Springer Tribune.

ABOLISHING INDIAN BUREAU?

There has been serious talk of abolishing the Indian Bureau. More and more of its ineptitude is coming to light.

Governor Durand of Picuris, speaking for the All-Pueblo Council, pleads for a sanitary water supply for all pueblos. In a number of Indian villages contaminated ditch water is all that is available for drinking. A government program for drilled wells is long overdue; so long overdue, in fact, that most people think it has already been accomplished!

Meanwhile a bill has been introduced into Congress providing for the transfer of Indian Health services from the Indian Bureau to the U. S. Public Health Service. The bill is backed by the Association for Indian Affairs, which states that surveys made by the American Medical Association, as well as various Indian groups, show that Indian health services are at present in incompetent hands.

There is a high incidence of TB enteritis, trachoma and other preventable diseases. Infant care is lamentably deficient; Taos had graphic proof of this just a few weeks ago.

The days of the Indian Bureau may well be numbered.—Taos El Crepusculo.

ERROR CORRECTED

To give Assistant Attorney General Hilario Rubio due credit, he is a man who recognizes a mistake when he sees one, and does something about it.

For some reason Mr. Rubio was not fully informed of the safeguards of a $150,000 bequest to Northern New Mexico Normal School at El Rito, and issued an opinion that the "permanent" fund could be pledged in support of a proposed building bond issue. Finding out later, after newspaper publicity, that all parties had entered into a solemn stipulation to prevent impairment of the fund, Mr. Rubio promptly reversed himself.

As we said yesterday, there must be some way to give the El Rito school the buildings it needs without violating the trust of its permanent funds.—Santa Fe New Mexican.

Educational Fund Gives University $50,000 Program

The Fund for the advancement of education has set up a $50,000 scholarship program to be administered by the University of New Mexico for competent students who otherwise could not go to college.

UNM President Tom L. Popejoy made the announcement today after receiving a letter from Dr. Alvin C. Eurich, vice-president of the fund, which was established by the Ford Foundation, confirming the pilot scholarship program for the 1952-53 year.

Under the terms of the agreement, personnel officials at the University of New Mexico will certify for the scholarship fund state residents of high ability who come from families of low economic level. Students may attend any college but their work will, according to terms of the agreement, necessarily be in the liberal arts field, Popejoy said.

The university president said that the scholarships would not all be of equal amounts but would be set up according to individual needs and could run up to $1,000 per student for the year.

Popejoy said that the scholarship program is in a sense a research project. Both the university and the fund for the advancement of education are interested in finding out how many students will be interested in and eligible for the awards and in checking on their performance as college students. Interested students should make application to the personnel office of the University of New Mexico immediately, Popejoy concluded.

School Lunch Production Aided By Honey Bees

Ten million five hundred thousand workers have recently been involved in producing food for the New Mexico school lunch program, Alexander J. Jack, supervisor of the welfare department commodity distribution division, announced today.

Jack said these workers live in neighboring states—principally Arizona and California. Their production rate, though small, has contributed 81 tons of food that will be enjoyed in cookies, rolls and as a spread on bread.

These 10,500,000 workers have been busy as bees laboring from dawn until dusk with very little compensation. You see, these workers are bees—honey bees.

Jack said he attempted to estimate how many flowers they visited, but was unable to compute the figure after running out of zeros on a dozen comptometers placed side by side.

The commodity division distributes surplus foods to all non-penal institutions, schools participating in the lunch program, and to various Indian tribes—particularly the Navajos, Jack explained.

Commodity Credit Corporation Work Is Extended

The commodity credit corporation program providing loans to farmers to finance the construction or purchase of new farm storage facilities for grains and other storable crops has been extended by the U. S. department of agriculture.

The original loan program initiated in June, 1949, and scheduled to expire June 30, 1951, was extended through June 30, 1952, and is now further extended through June 30, 1953. As of May 3, 1952, a total of 29,898 loans of approximately $34,357,000 had been approved for farm storage structures having an aggregate capacity of over 122 million bushels.

The department also announced that beginning July 1, 1952, the loans will be available up to 80 per cent (previously 85 per cent) of the cost of the structure, to any owner-operator, tenant, landlord or partnership of producers wishing to erect a facility which will meet requirements for eligible storage under the price support program.

Loans will be payable in four annual installments (previously five installments), or earlier at the option of the borrower. The first installment will be payable twelve months after the loan is disbursed by CCC. (Previously, the first installment for all loans was scheduled to become payable at the end of January in each calendar year.)

Interest on loans will be at the rate of 4 per cent a year, as heretofore. Loans will be available through local lending agencies or from production and marketing administration county committees. The farm storage facility loan program is available to producers of wheat, corn, oats, rye, barley, grain sorghums, soybeans, dry edible beans and peas, rice, peanuts, cottonseed, flax seed, soy seeds, pasture seeds, and winter cover crop seeds.

Gifted 4-Hers to Display Talents At State College

Gifted 4-Hers will be given an opportunity to display their talents at the annual state 4-H club encampment at New Mexico A&M college Aug. 48, L. S. Kurtz, state 4-H club leader, said today.

Club members who can sing, dance, twirl a rope, present a skit, play musical instruments, or perform in any type of entertainment may apply for a spot in the talent revue at the encampment, Kurtz explained. Members may perform as individuals or in groups. County extension agents will select the most talented performers from each county. Winners in the state talent revue will be eligible to compete with winners from other states in national 4-H talent hunt. National winners will perform at the national 4-H Club Congress in Chicago in November, including "Share the Fun" breakfast sponsored by the U. S. Rubber Co. television and radio appearances. Any 4-H boy or girl in New Mexico who is interested in taking part in this talent hunt should get in touch with the local county extension agent, Kurtz said.

My New York by MEL HEIMER

NEW YORK—The Copacabana is a downtown saloon in East 60th street, just off Fifth avenue, that has made a great deal of money for its assorted owners—I know that Monte Prusoff was one, once, but I have no idea whose money is in the joint now—by practicing the gambler's adage about it being necessary to spend money to make money. Years ago these owners dug up a fine dance band, led by Mike Durso—what they call a society orchestra, which means that at least once a night it plays Just One of Those Things and Stars and Stripes—and they paid out good, green paper for a row of handsome chorines and for big male attractions like Sinatra, Eckstine, Joe E. Lewis, Durante and so on. They spent it, and they raised it.

There was a time when it was my personal favorite among saloons because it is dark, the food is pretty good, the liquor is not out noticeably and it is full of Broadway characters mixing it with the butter-and-egg men and their wives from out of town just as if that sort of thing is done daily.

I guess there was a time when it was the only place in New York that really had a clientele composed of everybody, socialite and sharp alike. "What a raffish place, really," the socialite would say, whenever Durante or Lewis was there. I would notice the socialite too.

I bring up the name of this eating and drinking dungeon because these days it has been presenting a 19-year-old comedian named Joe Gray, who some of my more intellectual colleagues tell me is—a sensation, I believe the word is.

I have not seen Mr. Gray perform, because while I still try to catch up with the Copas shows, I do so usually about two days from the end of the new show, when it no longer is new and the performers are plodding grimly through their three routines a night before grabbing the 20th Century for Chicago and Chez Paree, the next stop on the list.

However, I have been pondering Mr. Gray, who they tell me is about 5 feet tall and looks like an adolescent Fannie Brice. Nineteen, and making somewhere between $600 and $1,000 a week, should guess. Durante makes $5,000 but Mr. Gray is a newcomer and this is summer and there is nothing wrong whatsoever with an unheard-of young comic making a grand a week.

WHEN YOU STOP TO FIGURE the way it must feel to be admitted in Manhattan at 19, with a $1,000 a week in salary and the stature of top comic in the city's most solvent nightclub, it's a head-banging thing to remember at 19 I was working as a political reporter on the Manhattan newspaper in Westchester county, making around $22 a week and feeling pretty lavish because I could buy beer for my pals of high school days who were caught up tight in the depression and had to sell apples at political rallies in Madison Square Garden to make a buck.

However, even if the government racks up a lot of that grand a week, you still have a lot left over. Suppose that when Mr. Gray—Master Gray, I guess—gets through paying his agent and his tailor bills and his writers, if he has any, he still gets to keep $300 or so free and clear.

Fifteen weeks of that kind of loot and he can afford a Jaguar XK-120. Another 30 and he can buy a small yacht. He can set the boys in Lindy's up for drinks for the house and there are at least 1,000 women of pleasing appearance—one for each dollar of the grand a week—who would love to dine with him at night.

Well—I don't want to wax too philosophical, but what I have been wondering is, do you think Mr. Gray gets the same boot out of being 19 and admitted in New York that a 19-year-old who does make $22 a week (or its present-day equivalent, about $80) gets?

The 19-year-old nobody works from 9 to 5 as an office boy or clerk in a wholesale dress shop, and at 5 he ducks out of the place and has a beer with the boys at the place next door.

MR. GRAY, ON THE OTHER HAND, turns up at the Copas around 8:30 every night, including Sunday, and works to about 3 a. m. He has to be funny always—in the face of rattling dishes, clinking glasses and the bitter, slack meanness of ringside drunkards who are bad enough to old campaigners like Joe E. Lewis but who must be frightening and deadly to a 19-year-old.

For Mr. Gray, there always will be chorus girls around, eyeing him speculatively or faded blond hangers-on who pinch his cheeks and say "Honey you're so cute!" He makes 1,000 bucks a week and there is a line as long as your arm of cheap and broken-down souls to get their hands on it.

Hagerman News

Mrs. Mary Rhodes has returned from a very enjoyable visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Littlejohn of Portales. Mrs. Littlejohn is the former Ruby Rhodes.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ridgley and children, Mrs. Beulah Woodridge and children attended the Ranchers' camp meeting in the mountains. They report an enjoyable trip and wonderful services.

Mrs. Neil King, who has been quite ill at St. Mary's hospital, was taken to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Bratcher of Roswell the latter part of the week.
Mrs. King is improving but will have to remain in bed for some time yet.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Criddle returned from Albuquerque and Santa Fe.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Foster and children, Carolyn and Clifton of Carlsbad, were week-end guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. P.
Foster.

Mrs. Harriett Vissering of Canton, Mo., is visiting her daughter, Mrs. D. N. Aiken.

Mrs. Vissering is house director of the Chi Omega sorority of Culver-Stockton college.

Doctors John and Louisa Aiken and daughter of Socorro were house guests of their son and family during the week-end. They came by private plane from Socorro.

Dave Ridgley of Beloit, Kansas, is visiting Hagerman relatives. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Ridgley.

Mrs. Lee Brigman, formerly of Hagerman, now of California, is visiting Hagerman friends. This is her first visit here in 10 years.

Mrs. J. F. Campbell was a Roswell visitor Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Sanford Knoll and children of McDonald visited Mr.
and Mrs. Clay Lemon Wednesday.

The many friends of the family will be glad to learn that Sanford Clay Knoll is making a splendid recovery from his accident. His leg and ankle were badly injured in a freak accident caused by a tractor breaking a clothesline which whipped around and cut his ankle, so badly that the healing process was very slow.

Little Miss Trudy Knoll remained for a visit with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Lemon.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Utterback and grandson, Tommy Utterback who had been visiting here motored to Capitan Sunday. After a visit at the Tom Utterback home Mr. and Mrs. Utterback returned to Hagerman.

Daniel B. Jett of the New Mexico A&M faculty was an overnight guest Monday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Bowen. He spent the next night at the home of Mr.
and Mrs. Stanley Utterback, former pupils of his.

Mrs. L. E. Harshey, Sr., has returned from a visit at the Curly Derrick ranch near Mayhill.

Many Hagerman residents hope that the lady bugs will prove successful (if not this year, eventually) in ridding the cotton of the bollworms as the dusting is causing much distress to all of those allergic to the poisonous dust used in dusting the crops. This dust appears to be causing hayfever among those who are susceptible to that disease.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Dorman announce the birth of a daughter, Sunday, July 29, at St. Mary's hospital, Roswell. She has been named Karen Sue and is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Porter of Hagerman.

Dr. and Mrs. D. N. Aiken were hosts on Sunday evening at a Hindustani dinner honoring their house guests.

The evening was spent in enjoying musical selections by various members of the group. Reverend Bob of Socorro, a talented pianist, Dr. D. N. Aiken, violinist, and Sgt. Bob Phillips, a voice pupil of Mrs. D. N. Aiken, and others of the group participated in the informal musicale.
