Currier Appointed To New Mexico Blue Cross Board

George E. Currier, well-known civic leader and chairman of the board of the Artesia General Hospital, has been elected to the board of directors of New Mexico Blue Cross and Surgical Service plans, it was announced here today.

The board of directors of the Blue Cross plan is composed of prominent men and women from over the state who donate their time without compensation to the hospital-sponsored Blue Cross plan.

"Blue Cross is an excellent community service plan whose only concern is the welfare of the people and the hospitals of the community," declared Mr. Currier.

Well-known as president of the Currier Abstract Co. of Artesia, Mr. Currier is also president of the Chaves County Abstract Co. in Roswell.

Shortage of Vaccine Slows Dog Campaign

Heavy demand for rabies vaccine Thursday in Artesia caused the supply brought by Dr. N. M. Borthwick, Roswell veterinarian, to be exhausted, Chief of Police Earl Westfall announced last night.

Although police and pound-keeper Hill Hernandez will begin a crackdown on unlicensed dogs Saturday, Nov. 1, the inability of many Artesians to have their dogs vaccinated Thursday will "be taken into account," Chief Westfall declared.

City employees reported a rush throughout the day Thursday to have dogs licensed following their vaccination. An estimated 60 had been tagged by office closing at 4:30 yesterday, and a continued heavy rush is expected today.

Ordinances require that a dog be given a rabies vaccination before it can be licensed by the city. Laws also require that unlicensed dogs be captured by a designated officer, held for 48 hours, then destroyed, if unclaimed.

Description of dogs picked up will be posted on the post office door under ordinance requirements, Chief Westfall announced. The city pound has been built on the east side of the large city park near Driller park.

Hernandez has been commissioned to act as poundkeeper through the police department. More than 100 dogs were vaccinated Thursday by Dr. Borthwick, who announced he will return with an ample supply of vaccine next Thursday. Hours for vaccination will be from 9 a. m. to 2 p. m. at Wilson Feed and Supply store on S. Second street.

Chief Westfall cautioned dog owners to attach licenses and vaccination tags to their dogs' collars. He also added that officers will not intrude on private property, since they seek to curb roaming, unlicensed strays.

Get-Out-Vote Drive Plans Rides, Telephone Canvass

Final arrangements for an intensive effort to get-out-the-vote in Artesia are in process of completion by Artesia civic organizations, political parties, and individuals who'll see they vote next Tuesday, Nov. 4, without high-pressure campaigning.

Polls are scheduled to open at 8 a. m., close at 7 p. m. Voting machines will be used in all Artesia divisions except 6-F, the Roselawn school, where hand-marked ballots will be provided.

Chamber of Commerce officials have announced that two military vehicles—a jeep and a weapons carrier—will be made available to any and all voters not having transportation to the polls on election day.

Capt. Marshall Belshe, commander of the local National Guard unit, made the offer to chamber officials on a non-partisan basis and in the public interest, in which spirit the chamber get-out-the-vote campaign is also being conducted. In addition, it is expected that precinct officials of both major parties will be providing transportation services, as well as an intensive telephone canvass to get people to the polls.

Voters desiring to go to the polls anytime between 9 a. m. and 5 p. m. Tuesday and who lack transportation or who would like the novelty of riding in an Army vehicle may call the chamber, phone 192. Citizens who do call wishing transportation should call in at least a half-hour in advance of the time they expect to be picked up so that a reasonable schedule may be maintained.

Carlsbad, Roswell, Hobbs, and Lovington are competing with Artesia in a get-out-the-vote campaign endeavoring to see which city can get the highest percentage of registered voters to the polls.

Chamber officials have called upon Artesians to rise to the challenge and once again assert Artesia's leadership by going to the polls and voting, the earlier the better in order to avoid a last-minute jam at the polls.

Indications on both national and local scenes that a record voting turnout will be recorded in this election.

Block-By-Block—Howard Whitson, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce state and national affairs committee has a corps of housewives and others canvassing block by block throughout the city to get people to vote. In stressing the importance of this election Whitson said:

"True government by the people does not actually exist unless, all or nearly all of the people vote. One person's vote is just as important as anyone else's. If you do not use your right to vote you have thereby forfeited your share in our government by the people and should not complain about the officials elected by those who take the time and effort to vote."

Dr. C. P. Bunch, well-known citizen of Artesia and also a member of the Chamber of Commerce state and national affairs committee has this to say:

"I believe voting in this election Nov. 4, is so important that I intend to have someone take me to the polls Tuesday, even though I am not allowed to get out of bed for any other purpose. When New Mexico provides an absentee ballot for those who are ill, out of the

Election Roundup

Artesians will flock to the polls next Tuesday if get-out-the-vote campaigns are effective and registration figures are an accurate guide to voter interest.

The Artesia Advocate presents today, well in advance of the polls' opening, a round-up of information to guide the voter so his voting may be done as quickly but correctly as possible.

Names of presidential candidates will not be on the ballot or voting machines when you enter the booth next Tuesday. Nowhere will you find the names of Eisenhower and Stevenson.

If you want to vote for Stevenson you vote for the four Democratic electors. If you wish to vote for Eisenhower, you vote for the four Republican electors.

Artesian Runs

Only one Artesian man is on the voting machine line-up and the ballots. He is V. P. "Bill" Sheldon, an independent consulting geologist with offices in the Carper building, and a candidate for state senator from Eddy county. He will be opposing T. E. "Gene" Lusk, of Carlsbad. Sheldon first came to North Eddy county in 1934 as engineer and manager of the Loco Hills repressuring plant. Seven years ago he set up his independent office in Artesia. He is 40 years old, married, and lives in Artesia. This is his first venture in politics.

Against Field

Candidates for representatives to Congress are not opposing each other—you vote for two among the four names on the machine or ballot. You can vote for the two Republicans, two Democrats, or any two of the four you please.

The two candidates for representative run at large and the two getting the most votes are the winners—each runs against the field, and there are no matches of individuals.

Hallow'en Dance, Carnival Planned

Pint-sized goblins will get you tonight if you don't watch out.

Only two Hallow'en parties have been organized for the small-fry and teen-age public tonight, although a number of private and church parties have been planned.

But a good many of the junior-grade goblins will be on the loose, merrily treat-or-tricking across the city.

Organized activity tonight includes an all-school Hallow'en dance at Senior high school tonight and a Hallow'en Carnival at Roselawn school.

The Hallow'en dance at Senior high school is sponsored by the junior class and is scheduled for 7:30 p. m. Masks and costumes will be the order of the evening. Admission is 75 cents for couples, 50 cents for single.

Roselawn Carnival—At Roselawn school the Hallow'en Carnival is scheduled to begin at 7 p. m. A number of gaily-decorated booths have been set up in miniature carnival fashion, and for a dime-a-visit, party-goers can find everything from fortune telling to darts and a side show at the Roselawn Carnival.

The complete array of booths includes fortune teller, bingo, spook house, darts, fishing pond, movies, wheel of fortune, side show and refreshment.

Also scheduled are a cake and pie walk and a magic show.

Admission to each event is 10 cents. Funds from the carnival will go toward landscaping Roselawn school grounds and providing an air conditioner for the visual aids room.

Royalty Voting

A king and queen of the carnival are to be chosen on a penny-a-ballot basis. One boy and one girl from each room is running for the crowns, and results will be determined tonight near the close of the carnival.

Outright vandalism is expected to be at a low tonight because of the number of public and private events, but householders will be besieged with the usual visits.

One Artesia business house—Price's Creameries—has declared it will dispense treats from 7 to 8 p. m. only tonight, which is inventory night for the firm.

Chamber Seeks Artesia Sponsor For Princess

The Chamber of Commerce is making available to any and all civic organizations interested, complete information on the 18th annual Southwestern Sun Carnival in El Paso. Primarily, some organization is needed to sponsor an Artesia Sun Princess to the event.

Activities described in a booklet in the chamber office for the proposed New Year's event, include the Sun Bowl football game, a street carnival and parade and various events such as Henry Busse's orchestra, an international ball fight, etc.

Kellahin Seeks Incorporation in Speech

Kellahin, Roswell attorney appointed to the state corporation commission last December as a Republican candidate to the unexpired term of the late J. W. Allison, pointed to need for a campaign speech Wednesday.

Kellahin appeared with Gov. Edwin L. Mechem before about 150 people at Veterans Memorial building.

He offered he would continue a campaign to equally represent the telephone company and people in future rate cases, and seek to place the burden of rate requests on the consumer rather than the state.

Bowen attorney stated he had $10,000 overpending when he left office, but that by the end of the fiscal year the agency was in the black.

Phone workers, "most of them working, and three of whom came to the office," were present, Kellahin said, after he took the present 51 employees "is normal," he stated.

The first time the corporation commission is represented by the interstate commerce commission, the candidate said, and to the case has been lost, one increase in Pecos Valley has been announced by the Santa Fe Railway. Kellahin declared, as a result of commission intervention. "My chief ambition is to build a telephone division," he declared. "It is important to everybody. It is the telephone situation." Kellahin stated Artesia will receive telephone improvements already announced "after the end of the year."

Social Security Agent to Visit City November 3; Outlines Korea GI Aids

Ralph H. Yowell, field representative of the Roswell social security administration office, will be in Artesia, Nov. 3, to assist Eddy county residents in making application for old-age or survivors insurance benefits and to give information concerning the 1952 amendments to the security act. He will be at the office of the New Mexico state employment service, 511 W. Main street, between 10 and 11:30 a. m.
Veterans of the Korean campaign now receive the same protection for themselves and their families that previously applied only to World War II veterans, Yowell stated today.
Survivors of men and women who served in the active military or naval services of the United States after July 1947 should inquire at the social security field office nearest them for information about their possible rights to social security benefits based in whole or in part on the wage credits for military service now provided for by the latest change in the Social Security Act.
Yowell explained that wage credits of $160 per each month of military service could be credited in most cases to the deceased veteran's social security account in determining both insured status and amount of benefits the survivor

Modern Farmer Cuts Down on Home Butchering

The modern farmer or rancher is not doing as much home butchering as he used to do. He sells his cattle and hogs and goes to the butcher shop to buy his meat. And many farmers and ranchers who consume home-produced meat have it processed at locker plants.
In 1919, 16,800,000 hogs were butchered on U. S. farms. In 1949—the last year reported in the 1950 census—only 7,389,000 hogs were butchered for home consumption, and many of these were slaughtered and processed in

Wheat in Loaf Of Bread Yields Farmer 3 Cents

Wheat in a loaf of bread that sells for 17 cents is worth about three cents to the farmer. If farmers gave the wheat away, bread would cost more than 14 cents.
Since 1948, when wheat was at its record price of $2.91 a bushel and bread was 14.5 cents a loaf, bread prices have held steady or gone up. In 1949, wheat dropped to $1.49-a-bushel average. In 1950, it averaged $1.97.
Average bread price in 1950 went up to 14.8 cents for a pound loaf.
In 1951, wheat averaged $2.25 a bushel but dropped to a $1.99 average this year. Average bread price this year is 17 cents a loaf.
Farmers do not set prices of their products but take the market offers. The prices which farmers pay have increased 120 per cent since 1940.

Means buying grain and spending a lot of time with one or two animals.

As it is, the average beef producer sells his calves and buys fattened beef. Ranchers and farmers are eating more beef than ever before, but they are not slaughtering as many as their own home-raised animals.
The trend in hog slaughter is a little harder to understand, since most farms can raise a couple of meat hogs with little effort. Part of the answer lies in the fact that more refrigeration is available, and it is not necessary to rely on cured pork as the chief meat dish.

Much time can be saved by making up a larger quantity of pastry than you will need at one time. Keep by wrapping well in waxed paper or placing in a covered dish in the refrigerator for a few days.

WHAT KIND OF A CHANGE DO YOU WANT?

The Democrats have asked that question repeatedly in this Campaign and it deserves an honest answer.

- ... WE want a change to a Republican peace. We do not want a Democratic peace which kills, blinds, cripples and maims hundreds of our boys every week, as fast as they graduate from high school.
- ... We want a change which will throw out of our government the swarms of gangsters, crooks, gamblers, corruptionists, influence peddlers, homosexuals and Communists.
- ... We want a change which will place in these jobs decent, honest, respectable, God-fearing men and women.
- ... We want a change which will stop New Deal and Fair Deal politicians from robbing our children, grandchildren and our grandchildren's grandchildren.
- ... We want a change which will place patriotic Americans in the United Nations to represent the greatest nation in the world—the United States.
- ... We want a change which will toss out the Communist traitors who represent us in that and other organizations and when they are out, send them to prison or execute them for betraying the United States of America.

For Deer Hunters Only— Using Simple Check List Makes Hunting More Fun

The hunter who takes a few minutes to check off his equipment against the basic needs established by years of experience will make deer camp life a lot more pleasant this year, according to George and Beth Bruce of 205 N. Eleventh street, Artesia.

The Bruces have prepared a complete check list, especially for the hunter who will spend more than a week-end in the mountains, based on their many years of hunting together.

This is the list prepared by the Bruces:

- CAMPING EQUIPMENT
- Flashlight, batteries
 - Gasoline lanterns, mantles, generators
 - Grill
 - Stoves
 - Tables and chairs
 - Lantern fuel
 - Extra gas and oil
 - Fan belt, tire patching
 - Tent, stakes, poles
 - Ground tarp
 - Chuck box
 - Camp axe
 - Sleeping bag, air mattress
 - Dishes, cooking utensils, silverware
 - Canteens, water cans
 - Rifles, ammunition
 - Hunting knives
 - Flagging material
 - Cover for deer
 - First aid kit
 - Razor blades
 - Binoculars
 - Soap, towels, etc.
 - Camera, film
 - Magazines, cards
 - Paper, pencils
 - Kleenex
 - Big game license
 - Shovel, rake, broom
 - Gun oil

- CLOTHES
- Light, heavy jackets (red)
 - Hunting caps (red)
 - Gloves
 - Sweatshirts
 - Heavy socks (change daily)
 - Extra slacks, jeans for camp wear
 - Boots, loafers
 - Long handles

- FOOD
- Flour, sugar, shortening, salt, pepper, onions, garlic, baking powder, soda, milk, hot cake mix, butter, syrup, bread, eggs, bacon, coffee, cocoa, ready-cooked ham, stew meat, steak, canned hash, beef roast, sausage, potatoes, tomatoes, vegetables, beans, corn, green peas, sweet potatoes, hominy, popcorn.

MISCELLANEOUS

Cigarettes, cake, cookies, canned fruit, cokes, lemons, hand soap, matches, tooth paste, gauze and tape, lotion, face cream, make-up, comb, nail file, tweezers, scissors, needle and thread, tooth brush and toothpaste.

"A lot of the items mentioned are not necessities for hunting deer," the Bruces say, "but nevertheless most hunters would take them along for comfort and convenience alone, if they were thought of."

Let that list look too imposing, the Bruces report they stow the whole works in the section behind the front seats of an old Army jeep.

Another reminder pointed out by the Bruces, who will take a 10-day vacation out in deer hunting this year, is addition of dirt flaps to the bottom of tents. Rocks can be laid on this flap, preventing high winds from wrecking a pegged-down tent located in a poorly sheltered place.

More Off-Farm Work Is Done By U. S. Farmers

A larger proportion of America's farmers are doing off-farm work than at any previous time on record. U. S. Department of Agriculture economists say that over 24 per cent of the nation's farmers work more than 100 days per year off the farm.

This compares with half as many—only 12 per cent—in 1929. This figure has been increasing steadily since that time, except for a slight drop in 1934. Farmers in many sections of the country have taken jobs in local industries during their "off months" to supplement their incomes during these times.

Surprisingly enough, the percentage of farmers doing off-farm work between 100 and 249 days per year has decreased since 1939, while the percentage working more than 250 days per year has greatly increased.

These factors are considered when grading honey according to U. S. government standards—flavor, absence of defects, and clarity.

First of Three Plays Is Slated For School Today

The first of three Clare Tree Major Children's Theater productions will be presented at the high school auditorium today.

Each year these plays are brought to Artesia by Parent-Teachers association, Girl Scouts, and Artesia Story League.

"Heidi," this season's first play, will feature all the famous characters from the book, with the exception of Schwanli and Barlie, Peter's guests. However, they will be heard off-stage as the afterglow of sunset sends the children and their herd scampering down the mountain.

Children's Theater companies have toured mice, cats, dogs, monkeys, and a large French poodle. But the company drew the line at goats. "Besides the fact that they smell, and butt at the slightest provocation," the actors protested, "hotel managers might reasonably take a dim view of putting on two such beasts for a night."

Although these animals are quite popular in Europe, we do not feel that Heidi will be deprived of his place by the American fireside, even after his master has seen "Heidi." As goat milk has a bitter, sulphuric flavor compared to the creamy, milk product of our own dairy herds, "Bossy" may also be assured of a lifetime job in these United States.

While youngsters may not share Heidi's enthusiasm for her pets, they're sure to be thrilled with her adventures when the curtain rises on "Heidi" a week from today.

The rat population of the United States is as great as the human population. One female rat may bear six to 22 young in a litter and may have as many as six litters in a year. About three-fourths of the rat population is found on farms.

Girl Scouts To Join in Red Feather

Girl Scouts in uniform are to help with posters, publicity, and window displays in the coming Red Feather drive, the Girl Scout board agreed at the regular monthly meeting Monday night at the First National bank building. It was also decided that on opening day, Nov. 17, the girls will be in uniform at the schools to sell Red Feathers there.

Miss Marvel Milam, area director, explained to the group a new coordination of area and local boards in which each area chairman will have a responsibility to the local corresponding chairman and thus will work toward planning as a group. She announced that these area chairmen will meet with all local chairmen from the entire area in Artesia at an all-day meeting Nov. 18.

Mrs. John Smith, organization chairman, announced 18 established troops are functioning as well as four new Brownie troops. There are six new leaders and assistants. However, she pointed out that there is still a great need for leaders and meeting places.

With the aid of a map of the city she showed where there were several inactive troops which are not functioning because there is no volunteer worker to lead the girls. It was suggested that neighborhood chairmen be appointed to assist the organization chairman in securing leaders.

Mrs. Donald Knorr, program chairman, urged leaders to begin use of the program consultants who are specialists in various fields with which the leader may be unfamiliar.

Mrs. Wayne Adkins, Leaders' club president, announced Leaders' club will meet Monday evening at Park school music room at 7:30. Mrs. C. P. Bunch will lead a round-table discussion on the recent regional conference held in Albuquerque. There will also be a program consultant report and an arts and crafts workshop for beginning Brownie leaders.

Mrs. Duane Sams, president, conducted the meeting, attended by the following board members: C. A. Stalcup, Mrs. Knorr, Mrs. George Nickolds, Miss Milam, Mrs. John Frost, Mrs. Adkins, Mrs. Charles Brown, Mr. Cecil Waldrep, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Raymond Cavin, and Mrs. Raymond Lamb.

Timely, Fresh Theme Found in Landsun Film

The avid and unending search by film companies for timely and fresh themes meets its latest challenge in "Japanese War Bride," a drama concerning marriage between an Oriental and an Occidental, opening Wednesday at the Landsun theater.

Co-starring in the Joseph Bernhard production, distributed by Twentieth Century-Fox, are the first lady of the Oriental theater and screen, beautiful and diminutive Shirley Yamaguchi, and the handsome caucasian actor, Don Taylor, who has lately won fame as Spencer Tracy's son-in-law in "Father of the Bride" and "Father's Little Dividend."

This offbeat feature is seriously and searchingly concerned with the interest-exciting problem of an American GI who returns from war service in Korea and recuperation in a Japanese hospital with his Japanese bride, who nursed him at a Red Cross station in the new democracy not long ago our enemy. Understandably, the boy's parents and friends find it difficult to adjust to the bride he brings back with him to California. It is in the drama of that adjustment of different worlds to one another, and in the learning of the lesson that humanity wears many faces, that "Japanese War Bride" finds its purpose.

Representing Shirley Yamaguchi's initial trek to the United States for picture work, the petite beauty has actually been here many times before and knows English as thoroughly as she does Japanese. She may soon star on Broadway in a new musical called "Messer Marco Polo." She has made a career of playing American films and plays in Japanese versions in her homeland and has done much to popularize American art among her own people.

Don Taylor, formerly signed with MGM, has taken to free lancing just so that he could take exceptionally dramatic roles as they become available at all the studios. That's the sort of part he wants, and in "Battleground" he showed that he had earned his right to the toughest assignment. "Japanese War Bride" is reportedly up his alley.

State's Restaurant Grading Serves As Excellent Advertising System

In times past service station attendants and tourist court operators were sometimes hard put to supply adequate directions. Naturally it was imperative that that person making inquiry should leave the community with a favorable impression of the facilities available if he were to be expected to furnish the most valuable and least expensive advertising for the area.

More and more people are learning new things about their ABC's in New Mexico. The service station attendants and others now need only say: "Look for the Grade A or Grade B placard and you may dine with pleasure."

What better advertising could be desired? U. S. Recommends—New Mexico has been operating its restaurant sanitation program as recommended by the U. S. public health service since 1942 as an educational and promotional campaign looking to the time when the grading of food service establishments might be used to inform the public of sanitary conditions within each "restaurant."

On June 9, 1951, the grading of "restaurants" in New Mexico became a reality with the adoption of the grading provisions of the Public Health Service model code. Approximately 20 years of study and research by the restaurant industry, manufacturing industry, public health officials and specialized consultants have been expended in drawing up the code which provides the minimum essentials for safe food service without undue expenditures on the part of owners and operators. Grade "A" and grade "B" establishments are safe places to patronize since they must meet the minimum requirements adopted. Grade "C" restaurants do not meet minimum requirements. However the Grade "C" designation provides the operator with 30 days in which to raise his standards without the necessity of ceasing operations.

The grade "C" designation certainly warns the patron that either the equipment or methods of operation are below standard. Additional Time—Although the educational and promotional program in "restaurant" sanitation has been in operation for nine years at the time of the adoption of the grading provisions, 12 additional months were allowed the owners and operators in order that no one should be unduly penalized.

Coeperation on the part of the "restaurant" industry has been exceptionally good, and, although there have been some truly hard-ship cases, advances have exceeded expectations. Prior to the adoption of the grading provisions it was estimated that approximately 6.2 per cent of the establishments had attained a grade "A" level of sanitation, 7.5 per cent grade "B" level and 86 per cent were deemed to be unsatisfactory. The 1951 legislature took a forward step in providing the machinery for making the Land of Enchantment a safer place in which to visit or live.

Minnesota, Michigan and Wisconsin are the only three in the United States in which capital punishment is not imposed.

Aztec Holstein
Sets Lifetime
Production Mark
 Sunlope Ormsby Piebe Alice, a registered Holstein cow in the herd owned by Lillywhite Ranch of Aztec has just completed a lifetime production record of more than 100,000 pounds of milk on official test with the Holstein-Friesian Association of America. (100-000 pounds of milk is the equivalent of approximately 47,500 quarts, four times the production of the average U. S. cow.)
 In eight milking periods, covering a total of 2,726 days, this cow has produced a total of 102,880 pounds of milk and 4,061 pounds of butterfat on two milkings daily.
 Her highest single record was made at the age of two years and three months, when she produced 14,398 pounds of milk and 574 pounds of butterfat. She has been classified for type and scored "very good."

U. S. was estimated at $94,586,000, 000 on Jan. 1 of this year. This is an all-time high and compares favorably with the 1940 value of $33,642,000,000 and the 1496 value of $61,842,000,000.
 Farm real estate indebtedness in the U. S. rose from $4,682,000-000 in 1940 to $6,300,000,000 in 1952.
 The non-real estate investments of farmers has nearly doubled since 1946 and more than tripled since 194, the figures show. Livestock investments have increased 282 per cent since 1940, and machinery investments, 391 per cent.

 Non-real estate debts increased from $3,004,000,000 in 1940 to $7-271,000,000 in 1952. Though this increase in non-real estate debtedness totaled some 153 per cent, it is only 14 per cent of the investment in non-real items, the economists point out.
 These figures seem to indicate that farmers, in general, are using safe financing practices and are at present in a sound financial condition, the economists say.

An important change in American food habits in recent years has been an increase in per person consumption of poultry and eggs.

Our country is YOUNG

Remember that—less than five times as old as you, if you are 40! No other nation has grown so fast, so fabulously. Sure we have made mistakes—done some things badly—and left many undone. But we know the total of all of what is small and unimportant—compared to what we have done—and have now—and will do.

CHILDREN VACCINATED SUCCESSFULLY AGAINST POLIO

Research aide W. D. McCluskey holds one of the chimpanzees. Dr. Howard A. Howe (left) and assistant John S. Lazvick examine virus. Lazvick devised cooling method used when formalin "kills" virus.

PHOTOS SHOW processes during experiments of Dr. Howard A. Howe, epidemiologist at Johns Hopkins university, Baltimore, Md., which resulted in successful vaccination of six children against the three recognized types of polio. The experiment was outlined in Cleveland to the American Public Health association with warning that a great amount of research may yet be required before the multiple vaccine can be prepared for widespread use. The vaccine climaxes 13 years of work by Dr. Howe. It is made from spinal cords of monkeys infected with virus. Chimpanzees were used for early tests. (International)

The tuberculosis sanitarium now holds 203 where it held 166 "when I took office," Mechem stated. School lunches have been increased from 61,000 a year to 87,000 a year.

Collections of the bureau of revenue are up $20 million, the governor added, at a collection cost of only $363,000. "If you could collect $20,000 in your business by spending $363, you'd think you were doing pretty good," Mechem declared.

Mechem also stated:
—There has been a $6 million increase in the school tax fund under his administration, without new taxes or increased rates.

—Highway department has improved 2,400 miles of highway and 1,000 more are under construction.

Competitive—
—Buying in the state purchasing agent's office is strictly competitive for the first time, and all lines of insurance except fire are competitively let.

—By competitive bidding, $18,000 was saved on 35 highway dump trucks; $12,000 on a blanket bond for bureau of revenue employees.

—A car pool saves $400 a year in car in maintenance and depreciation.

—Bureau of revenue transferred $1,289,250 from its administration fund to the general fund—"you don't have to spend all your allotted."

—His is the first administration ever to decrease a state tax in reducing the gasoline tariff from 7 to 6 cents.

—Under the Mabry administration there was no closing balance in the general fund at the end of the fiscal year; on June 30, 1951, before Mechem took office there was $1,779 closing balance; on June 30, 1952, there was a closing balance of $1,367,000 to be appropriated by the legislature next year.

Proceeds from the game will benefit Kiwanis' widespread youth work in Artesia, although heavy expenses in olding the two 40-man teams must be met.

4,880 Potential—
Artesia has a potential voting strength of 4,880, according to latest figures released by County Clerk R. A. Wilcox after registration deadline, Oct. 6.

Whitson, pointing out that Artesia businesses have not arranged for city-wide closing, stated Thursday, "I believe the individual employer will make every effort to see his employes and their wives are given every opportunity to cast their ballots next Tuesday. The individual can choose the times when allowing workers to go to the polls will be most convenient. I strongly urge that this be done, wherever possible, early in the day."

When the election of Rutherford B. Hayes as president was contested, the case went to an electoral commission. Hayes won by only one vote. The Indiana congressman who cast the deciding vote in his favor had been elected by just one vote.

B.F. Goodrich Tubeless Tire NOW DEFIES SKIDS, TOO!

Tread of New B. F. Goodrich Tubeless Tire Has Over 10,000 "Grip-Blocks" That Wipe Water Out Of Tread Path For Better Traction

SEALS PUNCTURES—New "Life-Saver" Tubeless Tire can be run over spikes without losing an ounce of air. Beneath the tread there is a layer of special gummi rubber which seals against puncturing objects. When the object is removed, the sealant is drawn into the hole, sealing the hole as you drive.

PROTECTS AGAINST BLOWOUTS—Sudden blowouts in regular tires with inner tubes are usually caused by the tube being pinched by a burr-break in the tire carcass. But a burr-break in the Tubeless Tire merely causes a slow leak. Plenty of time for a safe stop. It changes blowouts to safe s-s-s-slowouts.

As Low As $4.00 DOWN and your old tires puts a set of "Life-Saver" Tubeless Tires on your car.

... Senator Chavez has lived in New Mexico all his life and has "lived" New Mexico all his life. Let's send him back to the U. S. Senate with more confidence to continue to do the job for New Mexico and our nation as he has done in the past.

It is impossible to over-estimate the value of Senator Chavez' assignments on two powerful Congressional committees. As New Mexico's Senior U. S. Senator, Dennis Chavez ranks seventh in seniority among all the 96 Senators, and if elected, will carry even more seniority authority, that of fifth, as two other senior Senators above him in seniority will not be in Congress next year.

... This seniority belong to New Mexico as a state but it is held by Senator Chavez as an individual. He is chairman of the Senate Public Works Committee and a member of the Powerful Appropriations Committee. The Federal Government has become a big influence in New Mexico and it behooves the state to keep this seniority so that New Mexico continues to thrive and have a voice in our nation's important affairs.

Once Senator Chavez does not hold his seat in the Senate, New Mexico drops back to the end of the line again and starts all over on the slow, hard grind back up the Seniority stairs.

Importance of Bath Discussed Before Rotary

"Importance of Taking a Bath," was thoroughly discussed before Artesia Rotarians Tuesday noon by T. E. Brown, Sr., who pointed out sanitation parallels learning and higher literacy.

"The more literate a country is, the more baths and bathtubs there seem to be," Brown declared. "The U. S. has 93 per cent of the world's bathtubs."

Brown pointed out there are 2-400 pores to the square inch of human skin, acting as a ventilating and air conditioning system summer and winter. Daily baths keep these pores open for effective "breathing" by the body.

In Tuesday's meeting a short biography of Max Schulze was given by Emery Carper.

I PLEDGE TO Build New Mexico

I pledge to work unceasingly for the improvement of the health, prosperity, and welfare of all the citizens of New Mexico; to develop and protect our valuable resources, especially to conserve our precious water, both surface and underground.

I pledge to bring more industry and commerce to our State and to help obtain for New Mexico better roads, better schools, and additional defense installations.

Nationally, I pledge to give unstintingly of my time to rid our government of Communist infiltration and corruption; to evolve a positive foreign policy worthy of the men who have died in our wars; to return our nation to a support of the principles which have made it the greatest unit on the face of the earth — the principles of individual liberty, regulated free enterprise, self-government, and justice.

I pledge to work tirelessly for that goal which should be our paramount objective internationally — a permanent world peace.

Teamwork among federal, state and local agencies is helping to speed up the soil and water conservation program in New Mexico, according to John F. Young of Cuba, chairman of the state soil conservation committee.

Young pointed out that the soil conservation service is giving technical assistance to the 80 soil conservation districts in the state and also is cooperating with the agricultural conservation program of the production and marketing administration.

The farmers home administration, he said, is loaning money to soil conservation districts at a low rate of interest for the purchase of equipment to do soil conservation work. Substantial loans already have been made to the Cuba soil conservation district and the Abiquiu-Vallecitos district near Espanola. Negotiations now are underway for loans to several other districts, he reported.

"Perhaps the most outstanding example of agency cooperation in conservation work is to be found in the Pojoaque soil conservation district near Santa Fe," the committee chairman said. "In this district around 12 state and federal agencies already have completed a coordinated conservation plan. Each agency has agreed to help carry out the conservation program to the limit of its resources available for this purpose."

Enters Agreement—
The Forest Service has entered into an agreement with several districts and is cooperating with coordinated land-use program.

The fish and wildlife service has requested that lands under its control, and which have been set aside for wildlife purposes, be included in the soil conservation program.

"In addition to these, several state agencies are cooperating wholeheartedly with the soil conservation districts," Young said. "Included among these are the state extension service, the state highway department, state land office, and the state game department. The state committee is highly pleased with the cooperative spirit being shown by all these agencies in supporting the soil and water conservation program in New Mexico," Young declared.

Presidents Andrew Jackson and John Tyler each had four secretaries of State during their terms of office.

also is playing an important role in cooperating with districts in getting conservation work on public lands, Young pointed out. Twelve districts now have working agreements with this agency.

The bureau of reclamation has been cooperating with the DeBaca district at Fort Sumner for several years in doing conservation work on the watershed immediately above Alamogordo dam, Young pointed out.

Wonderful Claims

IT IS AMAZING just what some political parties have done for us if we listen to their stories.

They have given to us and done about everything we want done—all, if we would believe them, because of the generosity and big heartedness of the members of the party.

The fact of the matter is that the taxpayers have paid dearly for everything they have. No one has given them anything. We have not only paid well but in many instances we have paid double what the service should have cost us.

The present Democratic party has created the greatest deficit in the history of the nation. The present administration has spent more money in the past seven years than all of the administrations of this nation have spent in the history of the nation.

There has been more graft, corruption, and rottenness show up during this administration than ever before in history. American citizens today are paying the greatest amount of taxes in the history of mankind.

Yet those who seek to stay in office would tell us that the party has done all of this for us and they would like to leave the impression it hasn't cost the citizens and the taxpayers one thing.

The fact is they have tried to convince the small taxpayers or the average citizen it does not cost them one thing.

But you shouldn't be kidded and fooled. When we have a strike in this nation and higher wages and greater benefits are provided the large corporations and companies don't pay this—you Mr. and Mrs. Average Citizen pay the bill.

The same is true regarding the taxes in this nation. The government's only source of revenue is from taxes. And even if the large corporations, companies, and firms pay the most taxes—they pass it onto you, Mr. and Mrs. Average Citizen. You pay the tax bill and you pay for everything you get.

You have paid a high price for any benefits you have received under the present administration. The Democratic party has not given you one single thing. They aren't going to give you anything—you will pay for what you get and a good many things you don't ever get.

Their interest is to continue in power to continue to spend your money and get their share of what they spend.

Those Funds Are Needed

THERE IS ALWAYS considerable conversation during any election year as to what should be done about our state's business.

Usually for two years after the election little is said.

We know there is always a demand in our state for more funds. Every institution of higher learning in New Mexico needs more money. They need money for buildings, for better service, for more professors and more departments.

It is also true that our various state institutions need more money.

THIS LAND OF ENCHANTMENT—

Tucumcari Loses First Three Water Tank Damage Suits, Opening Way for Six More

THE CITY OF TUCUMCARI has lost the first damage suits brought against it as a result of a disastrous city water tank collapse last December, thereby opening the way to still more.

A district court jury at Tucumcari awarded $20,832 damages this week to the estates of three persons killed when the tank collapsed. The jury in so ruling held the city legally responsible for the tank collapse, thus leaving the city wide open for judgments in six other suits, three of which have already been filed.

Judge Luis Armigo instructed the jury the city must be considered negligent in construction or maintenance of the tank when they considered their verdict. Key testimony in the case came from Albuquerque engineers, who argued the tank collapsed because of a faulty welding job. Four persons were killed in the collapse and thousands of dollars property damage caused.

BERNALILLO COUNTY'S average man is 26 years old, married, and makes $2,794 annually, study of bureau of census statistics released this week disclose. Living with the average man are 2.44 persons. This man is 3 of a year short of being a high school graduate. Eight per cent of employed workers are engaged in manufacturing. Among 14 to 17 year olds, 84 per cent are in school.

ALONG WITH THE decline in livestock prices for everyone else, the Gallup Independent reports a gloomy outlook for Indian sheep growers, traders, and allied business.

That newspaper's review of the situation says sheep prices are off 40 per cent over last year; an estimated 23,000 sheep have been sold, but sheep men are inclined to hold back ewe lambs in hope for better range conditions and better prices. Editorially the newspaper relates "There is now, however, a strengthening factor in the indian economy that tends to give it stability. That is the tribal adaptation to economics—getting part-time jobs on the railroads, working as seasonal laborers in agriculture, developing tribal enterprises, and selling beautiful arts and crafts. As these pursuits become more and more important, the fluctuating price of sheep will not be so great a factor in the Indian country." ALAMOGORDO'S NEW block-long, $673,000 high school building "is not surpassed in quality and utility anywhere in the United States," according to Pere Seward, commissioner of the housing and home finance agency, Washington, D. C., who spoke at dedication of the new building, the Alamogordo News reports. Seward also plugged for federal aid to schools, hailing the "handful of school superintendents" who have battled for legislation which would provide federal aid to defense-impacted schools such as Alamogordo.

Certainly we need more funds for our hospital for the mentally ill—we probably need a new plant. Most citizens who have seen and viewed the state penitentiary know we need a new institution.

And so we always need more money in the state. Our state highway department can't and doesn't do a good many things that need to be done because it doesn't have the funds.

But during the past 18 months the State of New Mexico has collected some $19,574,572 more in all taxes than was collected during the same period by the previous administration. From January of 1949 through June of 1950 the State of New Mexico collected $69,085,528.35 at a cost for collection of some $2,277,149.16 or a collection cost of 3.29 per cent.

During the period from January 1951 through June of 1952 the State of New Mexico collected some $88,660,090.44 at a cost to the taxpayers of $2,636,436.06 or 2.97 per cent.

In other words the additional $19,000,000 was collected at a cost of only $357,000 while the per cent for collecting this made the total collection .32 per cent less than the state had paid before.

This additional revenue was probably collected because a better job was done, more were required to pay, and because there were certain increases in the various taxes.

For instance the increase in the collection of the gasoline tax jumped about $5,000,000. In the period from January 1949 through June of 1950 the gasoline tax collections totaled some $19,475,259.81 while for this period from January of 1951 through June of 1952 the collections were $24,505,612.89 or actually $5,030,353.08. This is an increase of about 25 per cent.

This increase in the gasoline tax collections also indicates there was an increase in the tourist business in our state because the gasoline purchased by New Mexicans would remain more or less constant.

There probably would be some increase but doubtless not this much.

It is also true that during the past 18 months period there was a one cent reduction in the gasoline tax being collected. Had the two cent tax, designated for refunding outstanding highway bonds continued, the tax would have been considerably more.

One of the largest increases in any tax collected from January 1951 through June of 1949 through June of 1950 was in severance. This increased some 81.2 per cent. Total collections for the past 18 months totals $6,694,163.70 or some $3,000,272.16 more than the $3,693,891.54 collected from January 1949 through June of 1950.

Other tax collection increases ranged from 16 per cent up through the 81 per cent for the severance tax. The increase in collections of compensating tax totaled 54 per cent or some $1,053,263.42 more.

This increased tax collection has provided additional funds for some departments and made it possible for the state to meet the budget which the legislature adopted for the state departments.

We Can Be Polite

MOST OF US could and should be a little more considerate and a little more polite when we are called upon by the various salesmen, who come to see us.

Sometimes these salesmen are the very ones who represent the manufacturer or the wholesale house which provides us merchandise to sell.

Sometimes these representatives are selling service or they are endeavoring to render us service.

They are doing a job they have to do. Oftentimes they have many calls to make and are just as busy or perhaps far busier than the one they are calling to see.

Salesmen are usually pretty considerate with us and oftentimes they are calling to render us a service. We could show our appreciation for this and for the work they do by extending every consideration to them when they call on us.

It seems to us that this is the least that we can do and certainly it not only creates a situation where they are always glad to call and see us but it also helps us to show appreciation for the fine group of people who are doing a good job in this world of ours.

NEW MEXICO EDITORS ARE SAYING—

Four-Paper Chain Commends Grantham But Suggests Another Try Some Other Year

CHANGE GOVERNORS?

When Everett Grantham was nominated to oppose Gov. Ed Mechem the state was assured that there would be a good man in the governor's office regardless of the election result.

It became the rather formidable task of the former U. S. district attorney to make a case that would justify the replacement of Governor Mechem. With the campaign closing the case has not been presented.

It was a tough assignment and we doubt if any candidate could have produced a very convincing argument against the vast improvements in the cleaned up statehouse in Santa Fe.

It's hard to make a case against a state purchasing office that buys only in the best and lowest priced markets. The clean-up in that department alone was worth the change in the management of the statehouse.

A candidate wouldn't get very far by saying he was going to return New Mexico's $25,000,000 a year road program to control of the political parties.

You can't argue against a state police force that has been emancipated from county chairman bosses.

It's hard to disagree with placing the state comptroller's office under a certified public accountant for the first time who has gone seriously and effectively to work on protecting the public money.

There isn't much margin for disagreement on a program that has clipped more than a thousand chislers from the public relief rolls.

After decades of watching the joy riding abuse of state cars by state employees New Mexicans find it hard to disagree with a policy that has seen a dozen state workers fired because they forgot that state cars are "for official use only."

A candidate could not very well go about the state saying that he disagreed with a liquor office operation which no longer shakes down bar operators or slips out new licenses under the table, but one which has suspended or revoked the permits of 30 operators who breached the law.

And how would he argue against the elimination of the old shakedown of state employees for two per cent of their salaries, an intimidation that had become a statehouse institution before the present governor took over.

In fact, Grantham's task was almost hopelessly difficult from the first. He was campaigning against a governor whose administration has been refreshingly free of scandal and rumors of scandal, and who's 22 months on the job has been a steady advance of fairer and more efficient conduct of the state's business.

Ed Mechem's administration has been the most wholesome political experience New Mexico has enjoyed in many years. The continuance of this clean young man in office would be good, we know, for all New Mexico.

Perhaps some other year, Mr. Grantham.—Las Vegas Optic;

RIDING ON A PONY

Last week we saw Chavez, Dempsey, et al come riding into town upon a pony called "Federal Funds." Or should we say Santos sleigh arrived bulging with bundles all labelled "Look see what you already got from us." Beginning with WPA buildings and walks, the bundles covered such all inclusive items as the Navy project at NMIMT, annual payroll $500,000, lab building $340,000, other investments another $500,000; agricultural loans $720,000; Forest Service income from lands $11,000; REA loan $2,444,000; National Park Service $7,000 (Gran Quivira Monument); 5 highway projects $844,000 (53 miles) and one to come $98,000 (6.2 miles); FHA loans $315,000; Rio Grande development $39,000,000 for flood control and $30,000,000 reclamation projects; and (according to list) these Santos wrapped up and delivered the Federal Bureau of mines surveying projects for copper, lead, zinc, tungsten, manganese and tin (also coal developments underground). Such munificence overwhelms us. Uh, Oh... what's that we see unobtrusively hiding among the

Better Business Bureau Shows 16 Easy Ways to Be Sucker in Buying

BETTER BUSINESS BUREAU in the United States processed more than a million complaints and inquiries last year. Well over 50 per cent of this number would never have been made if the public had received better education in simple economic facts while in school, or had received, or been subjected to, a large volume of consumer educational material. The Toledo, Ohio, BBB states.

Chief causes of unsatisfactory transactions according to a study by the bureau are listed here in order of occurrence.

THE PUBLIC:

- 1.—Believes it has a legal right to "change its mind" after purchasing and to obtain a refund of the purchase price or deposit, or to make an exchange.
2.—Signs contracts without reading or understanding them. This also includes signing contracts in blank, relying on verbal representations or guarantees and warranties; not understanding that the seller can sell the contract to a third party without informing the buyer.
3.—Believes it can buy merchandise "at wholesale," and fails to realize that no concern can do a retail business at "wholesale prices."
4.—Falls for "vanity," "sympathy," or "greed" appeals.
5.—Fails to consider whether representations are reasonable, and fails to get important representations in writing.
6.—Fails to obtain "bid" or even estimates in writing before authorizing work.
7.—Fails to check the reputation of promoters, or to investigate "fly-by-nights," before buying or placing orders.
8.—Fails to detect "bait advertising" and "bait selling practices" which are devices of unscrupulous retailers who advertise an article, but with the hope of switching the buyer to higher priced merchandise.
9.—Fails to determine whether representations made agree with the facts.
10.—Fails to obtain legal advice before making a purchase of a home or other major expenditures.
11.—Believing that it is "investing" when buying stock securities, when usually it is "speculating."
12.—Fails to read all of the statements in medical and cosmetic advertising of tricksters who qualify broad claims in small type or create misleading impressions by inference rather than by flat advertising claims.
13.—Accepts promises or predictions of the future as representations of material fact.
14.—Fails to distinguish between interest and finance charges; signs contracts in which insurance and other charges are lumped with finance charges to show one total amount instead of being itemized separately.
15.—Falls for so-called "free" offers.
16.—Ignores instructions in the "Wear and Care" of garments and other merchandise.

COFFEE TALK—

Chamber Manager Stays on His Job Only for City Good, Vanity Reasons

BECAUSE OF LACK OF funds in the Chamber of Commerce kitty, Mgr. Bob Koonce wrote the C of C directors before last Monday's meeting that "as your manager I have been in a quandry most of the summer... I have for the good of Artesia considered shutting the thing down and applying at Southwest or something.

"The reason I say 'for the good of Artesia' is this: With all the deals now cooking, the daily calls, inquiries and help we give attention to, no chamber for 10 days would create a furor, cost the town immeasurably, and wake people up, but good."

But Koonce has kept on at the chamber for "matters of vanity" in being able to be on speaking or kidding terms with Tony Fernandez (the U. S. rep), Ed Mechem, and the like; no time clock to punch; pride of creating constructively, and because he likes Artesia.

Over the java, some Artesians are suggesting the chamber has failed to win support financially because of some differences among businessmen with Koonce and the directors. Others reflect that the generally tight money situation has some merchants worried.

Chamber of Commerce work is much like advertising: when a community needs it most is the time when things are slowing down, and when a community is seeking to build itself. Like advertising also, the results of C of C work and the work of its manager are often intangible and indirect.

ALTHOUGH THERE ISN'T much said, Artesia business firms are genuinely concerned about slowing business, probably stemming from falling cattle and cotton prices which have reduced usually brisk money movement in the fall. Some type of trade promotion and boosting for the community may be in the offing.

Politics has affected many markets, where those involved are waiting to see what affect the election's outcome will have on the economy. Businessmen can take some consolation in that the current trend is more far-reaching than in Artesia alone; Artesia is really feeling the kick-back from general uncertainty across the nation.

AT THE LIBRARY—

Future of American Politics Studied In One of Many New Books at Library

A HOST OF INTERESTING and informative new books is steadily arriving at the library, offering children and adults alike fiction and non-fiction choices among leading books being issued.

THE FUTURE OF AMERICAN POLITICS by Samuel Lubell: 216 pages, index. This volume has received many favorable comments from leading newspaper and trade reviewers, as well as from professional political analysts. It traces the change from traditional Republicanism to a new Democratic tradition. It accounts for the political effect of a "new middle class" composed largely of immigrants, and of the migration of the Negro plus economic revolution on the once "Solid South." Herein is the story of the Congressional-White House feud, of 14 years of internal strife in the Democratic party.

KAREN by Marie Killilea. The author is the mother of a child afflicted with cerebral palsy. In this brief book is a story of hope and courage for those whose loved ones are afflicted with this or similar handicaps. It points out the marvelous rehabilitation being done with hitherto "hopeless" cases.

GROUCHO MARX, explains his brother Harpo, is infatuated with words. "Groucho," he says, "doesn't regard words the way the rest of us do. He looks at them upside down, backwards, from the middle out to the end, and from the end back to the middle. Next he drops them in a mental Mixer-master, and studies them some more. Groucho doesn't look for double meanings. He looks for quadruple meanings. And usually finds them."

One day an officious lady at the Brown Derby in Hollywood pushed a waiter aside, leveled a finger at Groucho and demanded, "Are you Harpo Marx?" Groucho raised an eyebrow and replied, "No. Are you?"

Benjamin Franklin recorded the fact that his mother-in-law reluctant to entrust her daughter to his care because he was a peevish man. There were already two printing offices in the Colonies, she pointed out, and she was darned if there was room for a third.

CARLSBAD, ALSO concerned about its water, is talking of a comprehensive survey of water resources available to city. The talk arose after a water board meeting in which a shortage of water was discussed, the Current-Argus reports. The water board is concerned about need for more domestic as well as industrial water potential for Carlsbad.

Lack of water seemingly cost both Artesia and Carlsbad the opportunity to locate a Western Public Service company in one of the two cities employing about 50 people, though it was kept under wraps here, both Artesia and Carlsbad were being considered and actively working on the problems involved. Now seemingly have lost a chance the plant.

Thus far little has been in Artesia toward such a situation. This year's continuing drought poses a serious situation for next year's crop unless there are heavy rainfalls during the charge months, from now through March of 1953. The general situation in the community should bring home to civic leaders the fact that the welfare of farmers and ranchers in the area is also our welfare, that a mutual problem, and that a better get together on it.

WHILE THE LID IS cessantly being kept on the cent football stew in Artesia, being said that after the so it's coming off. It's on now the sake of the boys" is the While some see the fuss as an isolated event, it is seen others as part of a conflict the entire activities program the school.

Whatever that amounts Artesians found out last how well they could get together supporting those fighting dogs all the way at Hobbs, mates of Artesia attending that game range from 800 to 200, and Artesia representing at the Carlsbad and Las O game is expected to set records. If there was an Artesian whose blood didn't tingle the way the Bulldogs pick up ground on all every play, we'd like to see a critter.

POCKET PRIMER OF LIAMENTARY PROCEDURE Fred G. Stevenson; 47 pages, thumb index, for use in library. The author is consulting leadership for the University of Michigan. He has compiled simplified in this handy pocket Robert's Rules of Order, Erma Fox' Parliamentary Ager for Women's Clubs, and Garfield Jones' Manual Group Leaders.

GODS, GRAVES & SCHOOLS by C. W. Ceram; 415 pages, 49 photos, 72 drawings, 67 tables, bibliography, index. This is the story of archeology, told in narrative for the stirring adventure of archeologists to reconstruct the past. It tells of unearthing of civilizations such as Troy, London, and Pompeii.

Among new fiction at the library is Edna Ferber's "The story of a Texas family of Texas, reportedly banned some Texas libraries; John Beck's "East of Eden"; "The London Journal," in Thorne Smith satirizes a town by Boswell on the same subject and Ernest Hemingway's "Old Man and the Sea," supported by some to be Hemingway's biography although in fiction form.
