City, County Board Members Outline Need

Pressing need for equalization of tax money behind Eddy county's school children was again stressed this week as two officers in the county's administration spoke before a civic group. The speakers were Howard Stroup of Atoka, a member of the county rural school board, and vanced typing, shorthand I, Mrs. C. P. Bunch, member of the basic bookkeeping, elemen- Artesia board. The two school oftary photography, amateur ficers addressed Artesia Kiwanis club Thursday noon. Stroup pointed out rural schools in Eddy county are educating children who would not otherwise receive an education.

Turning to the Atoka schools Stroup said "we at Atoka are proud of our school ,which we ourselves have built up, and we are sure Atoka will maintain a good school system.

'Atoka people have studied various ideas of keeping their own school district, but none of them are workable. Atoka has offered to increase its tuition for high school students, but this cannot be done gram, students purchase their own under existing laws."

Losing Campaign

Rural schools are losing the battle, Stroup said, adding he personally has not taken a stand for or against reorganization.

zHe stressed that "what we are working on now is not for the wealth to follow the child, but for straight equalization of money behind every school child.

"If Carlsbad would agree to give Artesia Southwest Potash Co. holdings, Artesia would have fairly equal status with the other districts," Stroup added.

Carlsbad politicians, he said, have not agreed to giving the Southwest potash holding to the Artesia district.

Mrs. C. P. Bunch told Kiwaniahs proposed school reorganization is not inteded to do away with anything, but rather to organize a larger area under efficient supervision, and to equalize opportuni ties so every child in school has

is the most expensive part of an educational system, and more and more pupils are staying in school to finish their education, Mrs.

Bunch pointed out. Advanced Programs

More advanced and more expensive programs have been introduc ed in high schools in the last five years, she said, including distributive education, vocational agriculture, arts and crafts, and others. But Artesia cannot keep its program at a hig hlevel under the present circumstances, she stressed. Artesia's average daily attendance is up 670 per cent in 1953 since the 1948-49 school year. The school system is now bonded to its limit and cannot accommodate all children expected to enroll next fall.

THE ARTESIA ADVOCATE, ARTESIA, NEW MEXICO

North Eddy Gives New County Case-

throughout the Artesia area that should keep oil production level at its present or even higher level.

The following table compares all of Eddy County under the 1949-1950 budget with Eddy County minus Artesia County after the division:

Population 1950 Sq. Miles Valuation  $1 \cdot 1 \cdot 49$ 4180 Eddy County 53,710,008 40,421 Estimated 1.1.'53 1.1.'52 after Division 53,325,992 2630 33.000

Surely Eddy County when divided could operate with the same or less tax rate than it now has. In 1953 Eddy County minus Artesia County would have more valuation than used in the 1949-1950 budget for all of Eddy County and substantially less population and land area.

SCHOOL VALUATIONS UNDER PRESENT SYSTEM INEQUITABLE

The table below shows the distribution of valuation for school districts in South Eddy County and North Eddy County according to present boundaries based upon 1952 valuations and 1951-1952 A.D.A .:

Per Pupil 8,509.20 A.D.A. Valuation South Eddy Total 54,663,992 6424 North Eddy Total 19,142,596 2981 6,421.53 Difference in North and South valuation per pupil average $2,087.67.

RECENT ELECTION SHOWS HOW NORTH EDDY DENIED VOICE

The following table shows the division of votes in North and South Eddy County for candidates for members of the State House of Representatives in the Democratic primary election of May 6, 1952:

Candidates Keys	South Eddy Co. 699	North Eddy Co. 1474	Total 2173
Alford		307	2580
McCollum		285	3241

The above figures clearly demonstrate that it will be almost impossible for North Eddy County to have any representation in the Legislature. Keys, a North Eddy County candidate, carried his own section by a margin of 5 to 1, but the much larger South Eddy County vote defeated him.

The above figures also demonstrate the attitude the voters of North Eddy County have toward the division of the county. This was a case where the voter was supposed to vote for two candidates. Most of the voters of North Eddy County refused to vote for either McCollum or Alford because they had both strongly opposed the creation of a new county.

McCollum, during this campaign, claimed that less than half of the people of North Eddy County wanted the county divided. The vote proved his claim to be untrue.

FARMERS' VIEWPOINT ON NEED FOR FORMING NEW COUNTY

There are 384 farm units in what is now North Eddy County. The area average of all farms is approximately 115 acres per farm.

The total tillable land in all Eddy County is 79,930 acres, of which 44,526.8 acres are located in North Eddy County. Artesia is located nearly in the center of the farm-

The principal crops grown in the Artesia area are cotton, alfalfa hay, and sorghum grains. Over two-thirds of all crops produced in the county are grown in the Artesia area.

It would reduce expense, save time and eliminate delays for the farmer if Artesia were a county seat. Savings of over $31,000 annually could be made in travel expense and time.

FINANCING NEW COUNTY: COST OF DUPLICATING RECORDS

The bill creating Artesia County provides a $350,000 bond issue to build and equip a courthouse and jail. A careful study by qualified persons has determined that this sum is fully adequate to build a durable, practical courthouse and jail, and furnish and equip it with the best, modern equip-

It is planned that the film method of recording would be used to record all records in the county clerk's office of the proposed new county. This is the modern method used by some of the largest counties of the United States and is legal in New Mexico. Estimates by reliable firms show that the cost of duplicating all of the records of Eddy County plus the cost of all equipment necessary for operating a film recording system adequate for the proposed new county will not exceed $35,000.

Citizen's Interest

THE MOVEMENT ON the part of Associated Press members in naming a committee to endeavor to keep news sources open is something in which all citizens should be interested.

The governmental agencies and institutions are operating on tax money provided by the public and those handling these agencies or these institutions are paid with the taxpayers' money

But there has been a tendency over the nation for years now to close off news sources and to give out less and less information. The federal government has shown and lead the way with their so-called over-used "security" purposes. And the farther they go the less they seek to give out.

The example set by the federal government has been followed by state, county, and city governments.

Newspapers seek out the activities of these groups to provide this information for the public. It is their job, their duty and their responsibility to get the facts and to publish them

The public has a perfect right to know how their affairs are being run and operated and they look to the press, both the daily and the weeklies, to provide this information.

The newspapers, however, can't publish the information when they can not obtain it. Newspapers do not violate confidences and they do not violate trusts. They proved this during World War II. They proved it recently when Pres. Dwight D. Eisenhower made his trip to Korea.

They will do the same thing when the occasion justifies it for the state, county, or city government. But they want to be the judge of the need or reasons. They want to know what is being done and how it is being done.

There was a day and a time when certain information here from governing groups was not too easy to obtain. That situation hold facts from the public instead of giving out this information. It is going to take the help of the citizens as well as strong demands on the part of the public to keep this information flowing to the press so it can be given to the public.

New School Board

WE DON'T ENVY new members to the Artesia school board who must immedia Artesia school board, who must immediately plunge into weighty problems of school finance, construction, teacher shortage, curriculum, and other aspects of their job.

In fact those folks on the school board have one of the most thankless jobs in the community, which they accept without pay and without any idea of public recognition, thanks, or even a faint well-done.

There is one thing, however, that might ease the way of the school board.

Why not invite the press, in behalf of the people, to atend all meetings of that body, to work with newspapers and radio to lay the full story of school matters out before the people?

We think the schools come in for a great deal of unjust criticism which would diminish were regular and fair stories of school board meetings brought out before the public.

It was recently reported to the school board, for instance, that Artesia senior high school has shown a 19 per cent improvement in the academic aptitudes of its students over the last three years.

That's quite an achievement.

It should be fully reported to the people, especially to parents and even more especially to critics of our school system.

We believe that with a consistent and thorough program of news reporting, the schools can achieve the stature they deserve in the public mind. More than ever, people are taking a deep interest in education, in the problems of our schools. It has been demonstrated time and again across the country that an alerted citizenry can constructively work with the schools to better education, to make the schools an even more dynamic vital part of the community.

Artesia Water Plan

RTESIA'S CIVIC LEADERS through the Chamber of Commerce have proposed a long-range, thorough program for improving the Southwest's always desperate water situation

We in the Pecos Valley have proved that with adequate water we can indeed make the desert blossom forth in a rich abundance of fine crops, desperately needed to feed an ever-growing nation in which more families than ever are leaving the farms.

Heart of these civic leaders' recommendations is in these four proposals:

1.-A planning commission to investigate all factors involved in proposals to impound water in areas of heavy rainfall in the Midwest and to build canals, pipelines, and booster stations for transport of that water to the Southwest.

2.-Further experimentation with the infant sciences of rainmaking and with converting salt water into water suitable for irrigation.

.--Restoration of grass cover on South-nancing of methods to effect this program.

We believe Artesia will find in other communities of the Southwest willing allies in a program to present the need for this plan to the nation. An intensive program of education to the potentialities of the South-

ly arid desert we intend to convert into pro-prospects of such a program. Without them, faster recharge of underground basins.

Station authorities at Roswell take a somewhat less optimistic view, pointing out delay in materials is apt to delay building, as well as lengthy testing required. Nevertheless, the boom in TV sales would start anytime now in

Those cuts turned out dandy Tuesday because the engraver did an extra special job, and because new rollers purchased for the newspaper press at the Advocate do a much better job of

has been improved today.

There are times when certain other information has been a little difficult to secure. But the fact remains that the business of all governmental agencies, all governmental institutions, that of governing boards and bodies handling the affairs of the public or controlling those institutions owned by the people should give out the facts and information concerning their activities.

Recently we have had two instances at the state penitentiary when only skimpy, sketchy items were given out concerning what was happening at the state prison.

The citizens, the taxpayers, and the public had a perfect right to know what was occuring inside the walls of that prison because it is their state institution. They own it; pay the salaries of those operating it; and pay for its operation.

Recently there were some stabbings within the prison walls and yet those in charge of the institution sought to not give out information on these matters as well as the investigations under way.

The success of our form of government depends on the public being informed; it is the newspaper's job to try and get this information so the taxpayers and citizens can know what is going on.

But today too many are seeking to with- it certainly must fail.

ROSWELL IS THE SECOND smallest city in the U.S. to be granted a television construction permit. John A. Barnett revealed this week he has been granted the permit by the FCC.

According to Barnett's general manager, no date has been set for annual construction of the station, but plans "have been well formulated" to begin the work.

Hopes for initial testing are set on April or May, but actual starting date depends on equipment delivery.

Barnett owns KSWS, according to the Roswell Record, and is now in Los Angeles buying material for TV construction in Roswell.

Power for the new station has been set for 112,000 watts, assuring Artesia of excellent reception from the new station.

The proposal to increase the state gasoline tax another cent-to help pay for right of way is a shortsighted move which would complicate, rather than solve road building problems.

In Roosevelt County, there has been but very little trouble in securing all of the right of way needed for road building at no cost whatever to the county or state. In most cases property owners are willing to give all the space needed to get the roads. Once the principle is established for payment of big right of way fees, the costs will increase, and then the state would need another increase in the gasoline tax

Right of way is properly a concern of the local county commissioners. If they want the roads badly enough, the right of way can be obtained .- Portales Daily News.

One of the freedoms, which America once offered the immigrant from European countries, was freedom from constant government domination of his private business. Postal clerks, and occasional police and firemen were about all the government employes he ever encountered. The country he came from probably had a constitution that sounded just as democratic as Silver City Press

ANSWERS CRITICISM

Gov. Mechem has presented Republican members of the House and Senate a 15-point legislature program which answers criticism that his second-term inaugural address failed to outline definite proposals for the legislators.

The majority of the governor's proposals are sound recommendations, which should be acted upon, a few are controversial, and some embrace recommendations of the state government reorganization committee, which have as yet received all too little atten-
