Miss MacNair, Robert J. Blount Wed In Albuquerque Christian Church

Miss Carrie Mae MacNair, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter A. MacNair, 3397 51st Loop, Sandia Base, Albuquerque, and Robert J. Blount, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Blount, 1209 W. Dallas, Artesia, were united in marriage at Sombra del Monte Christian church in Albuquerque at 4 p. m. Saturday, June 13. Rev. Robert C. Lohman officiated.

The double ring ceremony was performed before an altar decorated with bridal baskets of daisies, carnations and gladiolus. The bride's father gave her hand in marriage.

The bride's gown was full-length, tiered white embroidered organdy with lace. She wore a Juliet cap with elbow length illusion veil. Her bouquet was of white daisies and pink carnations.

Miss Jean Coll, niece of the groom, was maid of honor. She wore a ballerina length gown of mist green embroidered organdy. She carried a bouquet of white daisies and yellow carnations.

The groom's best man was Richard Wallis of Albuquerque. Ushers were Fred W. MacNair, brother of the bride, William L. High, Jr. and Duane J. Hillard.

The mother of the bride wore a pink silk organza gown with blue accessories and a blue wrist corsage.

After the ceremony, a reception was held at the Sandia Base Officers Club, which was decorated in the bride's chosen flowers. The large tiered wedding cake was decorated with tiny white doves resting in a nest of green leaves.

The bride's going away dress was printed organdy with beige accessories.

Out-of-town guests included Miss Janis Coll, niece of the groom; Britton Coll, brother-in-law of the groom, Artesia; Mrs. Merle L. Quisenberry, sister of the groom, El Paso; Byrl Blount, brother of the groom, Carlsbad; Robert L. Blount and Byrl Blount, Jr., nephews of the groom, Carlsbad; and Miss Vera MacNair, aunt of the bride, University of Arkansas.

Some Chevrolet advantages worth considering when you're ready to choose a car...

Next to a new house, a car is probably your most important purchase. Here are some facts to help you make up your mind about which make to buy.

Don't you agree that it's well worthwhile to weigh all the factors carefully before you buy any new car? Let's consider the major reasons why people choose one make over another and see how the 1953 Chevrolet stands in those respects.

Styling You Can Stay Proud Of
Styling, of course, is a matter of personal taste. Because we think Chevrolet is the best-looking car in its field, doesn't necessarily mean you'll think so, too. But we can tell you that the majority of our showroom visitors prefer Chevrolet styling and compare its appearance most favorably with cars costing a great deal more.

And you might consider this: Chevrolet styling is the newest in its field. It's the kind of styling that stays new, too. For it is based, not on fads or extremes, but on the fundamentals of good, modern design.

The One Automobile Body Almost Everybody Knows
It's not really surprising that so many people prefer Chevrolet's appearance. For Chevrolet is the only low-priced car with Body by Fisher. And Fisher, as you know, is the only automobile body manufacturer with a world-wide reputation for styling, craftsmanship and quality.

The Many Benefits of High-Compression Power
When you drive a new Chevrolet (and we hope you'll do that soon), you'll notice these things: faster acceleration from a standing start; greater passing ability in traffic and on the highway; the new ease with which you climb steep hills.

These are just some of the benefits of Chevrolet's new high-compression power. In gearshift models, there is an advanced 108-h.p. "Thrift-King" engine with a 7.1 to 1 compression ratio. Teamed with the new Powerglide automatic transmission* is an entirely new 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame" engine with 7.5 to 1 compression ratio. It is the most powerful engine in Chevrolet's field.

A Great Gain in Gasoline Economy
Along with remarkable new performance, Chevrolet's advanced engines give you far greater gasoline mileage. In fact, this year marks the most important gain in economy in Chevrolet history. And that includes substantial savings on over-all upkeep, as well as on gasoline.

New Getaway in the New Powerglide***
The new Powerglide automatically drops into "Low" range for starting and for passing in city traffic. Then, as you glide along, it slips smoothly and almost imperceptibly into cruising range. The results are much faster and more positive acceleration, and much lower fuel consumption.

The First Power Steering in a Low-Priced Car
This year's Chevrolet is the only car in its field to offer you the extra ease and convenience of Power Steering, optional at extra cost. With it, you can spin the wheel with the strength of one finger. You can seewaw in and out of tight parking places without the slightest strain. You get an additional cushion against road shocks and jars. Driving is easier, safer.

A Smoother and a Safer Ride
Chevrolet is the heaviest low-priced car. Model for model, a Chevrolet will weigh as much as 200 pounds more than the other makes. You often hear people say they buy high-priced cars because they're heavier, hold the road better and ride better. Well, isn't it logical, then, that Chevrolet's extra weight (which comes from extra strength of body and frame) would result in a better ride?

Chevrolet is the Lowest-Priced Line
Certainly, price is one of the most important factors of all. We're glad to be able to tell you that Chevrolet is the lowest-priced line in its field.

Now, you might well ask, "How can Chevrolet offer me more and still cost less?" There is a simple, logical answer to that.

Remember that Chevrolet builds more cars than any other manufacturer. Chevrolet, along with General Motors, has greater facilities for research, for engineering and production. So, isn't it reasonable that these greater facilities bring manufacturing advantages and economies which Chevrolet can pass on to you in terms of higher quality at lower price?

An Endorsement Given No Other Car
Again this year, more people are buying Chevrolets than any other car. Obviously that wouldn't be true unless people liked Chevrolet better. Unless Chevrolet offered more things people want—more value.

So, when you're ready to choose your new car, wouldn't you agree that Chevrolet merits your careful consideration? We welcome your visit at any time, so that you can look the car over yourself and try it out on the road.

*Combination of 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame" engine and Powerglide automatic transmission optional on "Two-Ten" and Bel Air models at extra cost.

In Southwestland more people drink PRICE'S MILK than any other brand!

You can be sure of what you're getting when you buy Price's milk! The quality, better taste and creaminess are always of a uniform high standard. Scientific year-around feeding of the special dairy herds that produce this preferred milk assures that there's never a seasonal off-flavor or decrease in richness. Regular or homogenized... in carton or bottle... you choose the consistently better milk when it's Price's.

Business News—Scarborough Auto Sales Moves Into New Building

Scarborough Auto Sales are moving into their new building, which is nearing completion at the corner of N. First and Richey, where the truck by-pass turns west.

Old location of the firm was a block south of the present address. Prior to that Scarborough operated the company at what is now the Phillips Service Station and garage on the North Highway.

Owners of Scarborough Auto Sales are Sam Scarborough and F. F. "Doc" Elvin. Scarborough is manager, Elvin is at the business evenings, Saturday afternoons, and Sundays.

Scarborough has been in the automobile business in Artesia about seven years. He has lived here since 1943. Elvin has been here since 1944.

The firm is a member of the National Used Car Dealers association.

The firm also is a member of the Motor Vehicle Dealers association of New Mexico. Scarborough Auto Sales is a licensed and bonded firm.

They will handle all papers concerned with insuring and financing cars. The firm guarantees all cars it sells, according to the manager.

The new building will have an office and parts room in the front and a garage in the back. The garage will be used for the repair of company cars as well as to do work for the general public.

Their phone number is the same as before the move, 0180-J5.

They are open seven days a week.

Scarborough says they buy, sell, or trade any make or model of car. Their motto is "If we don't have it, we will get it." They sell new and used cars.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Floyd, Tenth street, have recently purchased the Famous Shop from Miss Margaret Harston.

They have changed the firm name to Artesia Sewing Center and plan to stock and carry a complete line of sewing needs and supplies for dressmaking.

They do custom work on belts, buttons, and buckles to customer's order.

This shop does dressmaking and alterations and specializes in making Western shirts for all ages.

The Artesia Sewing Center will carry nationally-known brands of yard goods, patterns and all accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd have operated a grocery store. She was postmistress at Lakewood for several years. Prior to that time, Mrs. Floyd and Mrs. Herkimer ran a dressmaking and alteration shop on south Fourth, near the hospital about seven years ago.

Jimmy Baxter is now associated with his father, J. V. Baxter, in the B & H Blacksmith and Welding Shop on the south highway. Jimmy is an experienced oilfield welder and a general repair man. He and family moved here recently from Houma, La. They live one mile from town on the south highway.

Block to County Harmony—

persuade the county commission to grade and drain the The county commission refused, saying it could not do so proposed road, with the state to put on the base and mat, unless the Carlsbad C of C agreed.

It should be noted that recent harmonious progress in Eddy county has been made by short-circuiting the Carlsbad C of C out of affairs. For instance the Hope dam appropriation for $75,000 was achieved by Carlsbad and Artesia people without Carlsbad C of C help, as was the road-straightening project near Hope. The same goes for the recent school reorganization, which had been in a turmoil until certain Carlsbad citizens outside the chamber of commerce circle brought pressure to bear.

While the proposed road would have been built in South Eddy county and would have benefited all Eddy county equally, seemingly the Carlsbad chamber does not take the long view of progress in the county, or in Southeastern New Mexico. It is apparently too responsive to short-sighted interests which heavily support the Carlsbad chamber in a financial way.

Seemingly, the road to progress in Eddy county calls for short-circuiting the Carlsbad Chamber of Commerce wherever long-range programs for the benefit of the entire county and of Southeastern New Mexico are at stake.

ceiving equipment is used by the residents of those cities. Operating plans for KSWs-TV include the telecasting of the best programs available. In addition to ABC and Du Mont programs, others are also used from the National Broadcasting Company and the Columbia Broadcasting System. By this use of all four networks, a wide variety of programs is shown.

In addition to using network programs, the very best of syndicated programs are being used. Time is being made available for programs of educational, religious and charitable nature.

Executives of KSWs-TV and KSWs are J. C. Porter, General Manager; Paul B. McEvoy, Director of Sales; Leon Lord, Program Director of KSWs-TV; Dwight Wheeler, Assistant Program Director of KSWs-TV; W. L. Shackelford, Administrative—KSWs-TV and KSWs; Jack E. Shafer, Manager of KSWs; Ray R. Summersgill, Chief Engineer; Oliver Parsons, Assistant Chief Engineer, and John D. Anderson, Program Director of KSWs.

The executive offices of KSWs-TV and KSWs are located at 1723 West Second street, Roswell. The offices are spacious and in a beautifully appointed building and include an auditorium room for the use of advertisers.

On November 7, 1952, Mr. Barnett purchased radio station KSWs from the McEvoy Broadcasting Company which was owned by Paul B. McEvoy, W. W. Merritt and John A. McBoyle. In announcing the acquisition of the radio station, Barnett stated that this was only one step in his plans to bring top level radio and television service to the people of Southeastern New Mexico. Ultimately, the radio station will be consolidated with the television station on West Second street in one of the most modern communications buildings in the Southwest. Barnett stated today that his plans for television and radio are predicated on confidence in the future of Roswell and Southeastern New Mexico, and that since the original inception of the television plans, nothing has served to decrease his enthusiasm concerning the area.

The radio station, KSWs, has been an affiliate of the American Broadcasting Company for several years and uses full Associated Press news service and the RCA musical library and many other of the best of radio services to bring to the public of Roswell and vicinity the best in radio facilities. The radio station is located in Radio Center at the corner of Fourth and Richardson streets. The radio transmitter is located at East 19th and Railroad. The radio

ONE HUNDRED THIRTY-TWO pupils and 25 teachers were enrolled in the two-week vacation Bible school of the Emmanuel Baptist church conducted June 1-12. The average daily attendance was 105. Rev. E. Elmer McGuffin was principal of the school. The commencement program was held Thursday night, June 11. Each department participated in the program. After the pupils had completed their program a film was shown to the parents and visitors. Films were also shown several times during the school. The school was closed with a picnic Friday morning at Morris Field. (Photo by Heald) and television transmitters as well as the studios and all other departments, except sales, are entirely separate. Television cannot use radio broadcasting equipment, or vice versa.

In bringing television to Southeastern New Mexico, many problems were encountered. A complete highway had to be constructed from Highway 380 to the transmitter building on Comanche Hill. This connecting highway is over one-half mile in length and had to be completely built and graded, including approach, cattle guard and parking area.

Even in excavating for the base of the huge tower, one problem was met and solved. When the surface dirt was excavated, a rock formation extended too high for the proper base. Much of the rock had to be dynamited and removed and concrete poured into the excavation. The result is that the solid rock formation underlying Comanche Hill itself forms the base of the tower and antenna system. Over 70 yards of concrete, or approximately 30 huge truck loads, were necessary in pouring the base for the tower alone.

The equipment in the transmitter building includes cameras, projectors, batteries of control panels, transmitters and many other pieces of expensive equipment. To give an idea of the cost involved, one of the studio cameras, equipped with the very latest lens, cost a total of $25,000.

Barnett stated that he is pleased with the KSWs-TV team and feels that the entire staff has been doing a remarkable job in getting the station on the air.

Mr. Barnett said, "As we go along, we expect to add new shows and constantly improve our programs. We intend to use our studio for many live shows. We will vary our programming as much as possible between our two network affiliations (ABC and Du Mont), NBC programs, CBS shows, local television film shows, local live shows and the very best of syndicated shows.

"Our live shows will include various events such as musical shows, style shows, round table discussions, ceremonies, etc."

"We have arranged for news-reels and film of current sporting events to be used with daily live news broadcasts. We have programmed many syndicated shows and movies made especially for television. In short, we expect to give Southeastern New Mexico the best in television now and to improve as we go along."

KSWs-TV is on Channel 8, which officials say is one of the most desirable channels. Mr. Barnett has been planning television for some time. His application, caught in a FCC "freeze," was not approved until January 29, 1953.

Interior Secretary's Wife Takes the Cake in Baking...

No matter how the fortunes of the Secretary of Interior Douglas McKay fare, he will always eat well. In fact his wife, the former Mabel Hill, a legal secretary in Portland, is a prize winner when it comes to baking angel food cakes. She likes to cook and doesn't keep a maid in her apartment in Washington. Mrs. McKay, who won prizes for her cakes at many an Oregon fair, has already baked a cake for the girls in her husband's office at the Interior Department. McKay, who has been in public life for many years, was Governor of Oregon until President Eisenhower tapped him for his present position.

antenna have a direct bearing on the radiated power of the station. At the start of operations, KSWs-TV is operating full strength as far as the transmitter mechanism is concerned. Observers will note that the antenna has eight bays. This eight-bay antenna will be replaced in a few weeks with a 16-bay antenna which is now under construction; this will then give a radiated power of 107,000 watts. Even before the 16-bay antenna is installed, KSWs-TV will have a power of 55,000 watts.

It is estimated that over $500,000 is being expended in bringing television to this area. The operation of the station and KSWs requires some forty employees—most of them in the highly skilled class.

Artesia led 8-6 going into the final inning, but was snowed under with Big Spring's rally.
On the mound for Artesia were Melvin Miller, once again signed as an Artesia pitcher, and regular Len Ruyle.

The win last night gave Big Spring a slice of a three-game series played against Artesia this week. Artesia took the opening game Tuesday night 22-8, then settled down to two wins, 8-3 and 9-3, Wednesday night.
Artesia departs for a six-game road series today, with games scheduled today and tomorrow at Midland, Sunday and Monday at Odessa and Tuesday and Wednesday at Carlsbad.

Grounding for Lighting Protection

Now when the season of electric storms is setting in it's time for rural or suburban householders—especially in "lightning areas"—to make sure wires and electric appliances are properly grounded, according to rural electrification specialists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Because few home owners have enough technical training to check the grounding themselves, it pays to call on an inspector. This is insurance against possible fires, accidents and burned out electric equipment when lightning strikes.

Grounding the specialists explain, is arranging a safe and easy path for lightning to reach the ground. It's not safe to let lightning find its own path for then it may jump through the house, strike the occupants or ruin electric appliances or wiring. Grounding wires lead the electricity safely to metal rods driven well down in moist ground or to metal plumbing pipes which carry it off into moist earth. The recommended size for grounding wire is not smaller than No. 6 AWG which, in stranded form, is about the size of a lead pencil. The electrical code requires that the metal rod or pipe for grounding be driven into permanently moist earth, but not less than 8 feet into the ground.

In some very dry areas the soil is not permanently moist even as far down as 8 feet, so utility companies make special arrangements for grounding. Last summer in drought regions many rural homes suffered from fire and damage to electric appliances, especially electric water heaters, because the grounding rods or pipes were in dry ground. In communities having a continuous network of metal waterpipe, the grounding wires usually connect to these pipes. For homes having their own well-water systems, the driven grounding rod—located where the electric wires enter the house—should be connected to the metal water pipes for extra safety.

Few people realize the tremendous voltage of lightning, the specialists say. A surge of lightning goes up to millions of volts compared to the 115 or 230 volts which household wires carry. This voltage can do tremendous damage in a split second unless grounding carries it off safely.

Television antennas on house-tops or chimneys may create lightning hazards—unless carefully grounded. The antenna mast should be grounded by running a wire from it to a rod driven into the ground. To protect the TV set, a lightning arrester should be put on the antenna lead where the antenna wires enter the building. The arrester also should be grounded to the grounding system.

Finally, the specialists remind home owners that a good lightning rod system protects homes from damage—but that lightning rods also need proper grounding.

At Home With Hazel

Although most housewives in this country are familiar with the old standby, macaroni and cheese, and even macaroni salad, few use macaroni as a dessert. From Australian kitchens for generations past, however, have come baked macaroni custards that have become favorites in the "Land Down Under" and withstood the passage of time and cookbooks. You might want to add this recipe to your list of things to try.

Baked Macaroni Custard
1 cup elbow macaroni
2 eggs
1/2 cup sugar
milk

Soak the macaroni in lightly salted cold water for three hours, then boil in the same water for 15 minutes. Drain the macaroni and turn into a one-quart baking dish. Beat the eggs with the sugar and add to the macaroni with sufficient milk to fill the dish. Bake in a slow oven until the custard is set and lightly browned on top. (About 30 minutes.)

Farm Safety Week, July 19 thru 25
Your grater never need be washed after you've used it for grating lemon rind, cheese, etc. You'll save time and sore fingers if you put it in a warm oven for a few minutes, then flick it with a clean cloth. The heat will dry the crumbs which can simply be dusted away.

Farm Safety Week, July 19 thru 25
Leave cooked rice in the strainer in which you drain it, and stand it over a saucepan of boiling water. Place a clean cloth over the top to trap the steam, and you'll find each grain of rice in separate rather than a soggy mass which so often happens.

Corn Acreage Is Fourth Smaller Than in 1933

Corn acreage is now about one-fourth smaller than the record high level of 109,830,000 acres planted in 1933. But U. S. department of agriculture figures show that overall production has continued upward as yield per acre has increased from 22.6 bushels in 1933 to 40.6 bushels in 1953.

Department specialists attribute this to mechanization, expanding use of hybrid seed, and other advances in production methods.

The rural electrification administration has recently made a loan of $250,000 to the Roosevelt County Electric Cooperative, Portales, to finance the construction of eight miles of distribution line to serve 37 irrigation consumers, and system improvements including 15 miles of new tie line, 10 miles of 69 kv transmission line and related substation.

SOIL-CEMENT today's biggest value for light-traffic streets

SOIL-CEMENT makes taxpayers' dollars go farther because about 85 per cent of the required material is usually native soil on the site. It's easy to transform high-maintenance cost streets into strong pavement good for years of all-weather service with soil-cement.

Soil-cement's superior value and durability for light-traffic streets are thoroughly established. Thousands of miles of such paving are now in service in the United States.

Pay more? What for?

Fifty Years Forward on the American Road

You don't have to pay costly-car prices for costly-car comforts. Ford brings you everything [and we mean everything] you've ever wanted in a car, at a price that's well within your reach! And according to recent surveys, a Ford returns more of its original cost when sold than any other car at any price!

Here are a few of the "Worth More" advantages you'll find in the '53 Ford:

- 1. A V-8 engine—powerful and smooth!
Ford's famous high-compression V-8 is a leader in quiet, flexible, economical performance. Ford, remember, has built more V-8's than all other makers combined—over 13 million!
- 2. America's most economical Six engine!
If it's a Six you want, Ford offers you the high-compression, low-friction Mileage Maker... the engine which, with optional Overdrive, won over all other cars in this year's Mobilgas Economy Run!
- 3. America's finest and most versatile automatic drive!
Fopdomatic Drive is the "auto-

- 4. Automatic gas savings!
Ford's Automatic Power Pilot (on Six and V-8) meters just the right amount of gas, times ignition precisely, burns fuel evenly and completely.
- 5. America's newest and finest power steering!
Ford's Master-Guide power steering gives you new ease, stability and safety in guiding your car on smooth roads or rough. Steering is up to 75% easier.
- 6. Largest choice of models in the low-price field!
Ford alone gives you a choice of

- 7. A body that's the style-setter!
Only Ford in its field gives you the advantages of a full-tight Crestmark Body... the trend-maker in design and beauty. Ford's body is the longest and Ford's trunk, the largest.
- 8. New driving conveniences!
Ford's first in its field with "Worth More" features like... easier-acting, suspended pedals that eliminate floor holes... foam rubber cushions on front and rear seats in all models... and convenient Center-Fill Fueling.
- 9. An automatically controlled ride!
The wide front tread (widest in
- 10. It's worth more when you sell it!
An impartial survey of used car prices proved that Fords return a greater proportion of their original cost than any other cars in America.

But don't take our word for it. Stop in and Test Drive this Ford for yourself. We predict you'll be sold before you're in second! It was true last year and it's even truer this year: you can pay more, but you can't buy better than Ford.

George E. Maples Completes Army Basic Training

PVT. GEORGE E. MAPLES
 Pvt. George E. Maples, son of Mrs. H. W. Elvin, Artesia, is nearing completion of a 16-week training cycle at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., with a unit of the 6th Armored Division.

As a trainee, he received eight weeks basic training in the fundamentals of Army life and use of infantry weapons. He is now completing an additional eight weeks engineer training.

Pvt. Maples is being taught the use of pioneer and power tools, construction of fixed and floating bridges and related subjects besides additional combat skills.

At the end of the 16-week training cycle with the famed "Super Sixth" the men completing training here will be sent either to specialist schools or as replacements to other units.

Personal Mention

Misses Ruby and Zora Brown of Mason, Texas, have been guests of the Laman families for the past two weeks. Last Tuesday, Mrs. A. F. Brown, also of Mason, and Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Rawls and son, Dick of Arlington, Va., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Laman. The last four were on their way to Durango, Colo., and Larrimore, Wyo.

Mrs. W. J. Laman, Betty, Loma, and W. J. Jr., and Misses Ruby and Zora Brown and Bobby Mayberry went to Cloudford last Sunday and enjoyed picnicking.

Mrs. Glenn O'Bannon and daughter, Mary Frances, returned home Friday of last week from a week's vacation at the Mountain View guest ranch at Cowles, G. W. remained for the summer to work in the office and store at Mountain View. This fall he will enter the University of Missouri at Columbia.

Glenn O'Bannon and son, Douglas, and family have been living at Mountain View since they purchased it in April. When Mrs. O'Bannon and daughter left it was raining with sleet, and on arrival home they found a good hot heat wave with lots of wind with it.

Lakewood News

Among those who visited in the Buster Norwood home last Sunday were Mrs. Sudie Gurle of the Jim Berry farm, Mr. and Mrs. Don King and children of Artesia, and Mrs. Johnnie Norwood and son.

Mr. and Mrs. Newman of Portales were guests last Saturday of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Stockton. The Stocktons and Newmans were neighbors near Portales.

Mrs. Bill Lindsay is employed at a hospital in Artesia.

Albert Lee had a bumper crop of alfalfa for his second cutting.

Mrs. Forrest Lee entertained with a chicken fry Thursday evening of last week for her old schoolmates and other friends. The schoolmates were Mrs. George Akin, Mrs. Herbert Howell of Artesia and Miss Mary Corbin of Dallas. Others present were Mrs. Mary Neatherlin, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Netherlin, Mr. and Mrs. Whieher Angell and grandson, Donald Fulton, Herbert Howell and daughters, and Mrs. Mary Corbin.

Mrs. Sam Houston has been ill for several days but is improved at this writing.

be passed around and that others are capable and able to do a good job of directing, too.

Most of us know and realize that the more people we have participating in a program, the greater interest these individuals take. We certainly aren't letting the public participate if we let one group control situations year after year by perpetuating themselves in office.

If we limit the time individuals can serve in public offices, on boards, and as officials, we will have more people serving and more people interested.

We also avoid the excuse so often given for others in not helping or working or contributing who always say as "long as that little group runs it I am not going to have anything to do with it."

Penitentiary Riot

POSTMORTEMS ON THE MOST recent riot in New Mexico's state penitentiary are still being held. They are following much the same tone as previous postmortems, and, we expect, future postmortems on the next riot, and the riot after that.

We cannot expect a cessation of riots in the state penitentiary as a result of inquiries into superficial causes of riots. There can be no end until the basic inadequacies of New Mexico's penal system are corrected.

In an analysis of prison riots which have swept the country over the past two years, 14 authorities on a special committee of the American Prison Association have turned up these basic reasons:

- 1.—Inadequate financial support; official and public indifference concerning prisons.
- 2.—Substandard personnel.
- 3.—Enforced idleness of prisoners.
- 4.—Lack of professional leadership and programs.
- 5.—Excessive size, overcrowding.
- 6.—Political domination and motivation of management.
- 7.—Unwise sentencing, parole practices.

While only experts can apply this set of standards to the New Mexico prison riots, some of these factors are certainly present.

For instance, the prison has long been a stepchild as far as finances are concerned; one has only to look at the inadequacy of the plant and pay scale for personnel to ascertain that. Until the riots, there has been no great concern, generally, over the prison.

There are not enough work programs for prisoners, who are given enough idle time to brew double the number of riots actually carried out in the penitentiary. However, when a program is proposed, various pressure groups throughout the state oppose the program when it touches their craft. It is to be noted that the state's printing industry has not been entirely receptive to the idea of a small printing plant at the state prison. This opposition comes in the face of shortages of skilled help among many crafts—including the printing industry.

There is undoubtedly overcrowding in the state penitentiary, which 67 years ago was never designed to house the big enrollment it now has. Overcrowding has led to such poor practices as mixing seasoned criminals with youthful first offenders, the violent with the non-violent, and so forth. There cannot be proper segregation in an overcrowded prison.

That there has been political domination and motivation of prison management cannot be denied. A layman pulled up from some other pursuit is not a qualified warden. However, recently there has been a trend to attract trained prison personnel to the state penitentiary.

Unwise sentencing and parole practices are now being investigated by a private, professional association for the state, which should enlighten this cause behind prison riots.

The state's penal system has too long been a stepchild; legislators have seen it only as an unproductive demand for money, a rathole from which there is no return.

Its status may also be a part of New Mexico's growing pains; vast population increases have caused great demands from many institutions for capital investment in bigger plants, and increased payrolls.

There is no one final answer to prison riots in New Mexico. We have mentioned at least seven answers suggested by the American Prison Association as a general riot background. There are probably more, localized causes for New Mexico's prison riots.

It is to be hoped that the legislative investigation committee forgets headline-making and digs to the deepest levels for answers to these costly, killing, shameful riots.

Solid Promotion for Next Dollar Day

NOW'S THE TIME for Artesia merchants to begin really nailing down ideas for the city's next Dollar Day promotion, scheduled for July 2 and every month thereafter.

Merchants who have not already planned to do so had better get on the bandwagon, which promises this time to be carrying an even bigger number than before.

We learned two big object lessons in our first Dollar Day:

1.—Dollar Day shopping is selective—the customer doesn't patronize the merchant who neglects to invite him through advertising of one type or another. The merchant who doesn't promote doesn't get the business.

2.—What's good for one group of merchants is good for all merchants. The retailer who says his type of merchandise won't move on Dollar Day misses the point—by helping to get people into town Dollar Day gets people into the Artesia buying habit, whether for diapers, tires, or furniture.

Every merchant, no matter what his line—has a price line he can offer as Dollar Day specials. Even new car dealers have accessories priced within Dollar Day range—and promoting them all helps to generate traffic into the city, the goal of Dollar Day.

There is no shirttail riding on Dollar Day. Cooperation is the key to success in this realm of retail business development. The merchant who does not join in is not putting his shoulder to the harness.

Perpetuation in Office Bad

IT IS ALWAYS bad for individuals to perpetuate themselves in office.

We have had considerable complaining about public officials perpetuating themselves in office. We have had complaints about individuals perpetuating themselves in offices on boards of directors, civic club boards, church boards and on the boards of other organizations.

We recently saw the people of the United States condemn a political party perpetuating itself in office. They turned the government over to the party which had been out of office.

But when one little group keeps control of an organization over a period of years, members of the organization are not very happy about it.

A good many organizations have adopted a rule which permits an individual to serve only one term on a board. Others limit the time to two terms. At the end of these periods the individual cannot be re-elected until others have served terms in his place on the board.

Most boards, we believe, as well as public offices, should be filled for one term or two terms and then we should have some changes.

It is true we have good individuals and good public officials who deserve additional time, but the fact remains it is a bad practice and often times results in one group being able to control and dictate the policies of an organization or a movement year after year.

As a rule the public or the members of an organization, even a church, do not approve of this. They feel that the honors should

Sensational Articles in Eastern Newspapers On New Mexico Tourist Deaths Hurt Trade

ARTICLES ABOUT TOUR-

ists being murdered in New Mexico recently in "at least two Eastern tabloids" will hurt the state's tourist trade, Beri Huffman, manager of the Albuquerque Chamber of Commerce, declares.

The articles, carried in the Columbus, Ohio, Dispatch and the New York Sunday News, imply travel on New Mexico highways is unsafe because of past murders in the state.

Reported in the article are the murder or disappearance of nine travelers in the state since 1946, including the famous Lorus case. First paragraph in the article starts out:

"History is proving that the splendid highways through New Mexico are among the most dangerous in the nation. It's not because of the autoists' speed. The reason is far more sinister. Then the murder cases, all nine of 'em, are recounted.

REPRESENTATIVES OF Otis and Malaga school districts will be invited to sit with the Carlsbad board of education as an advisory committee to offer recommendations on school matters concerning the two districts.

The idea was offered by George T. Harles, president of the Carlsbad board, and received unanimous approval from the other four members in a recent meeting.

One representative each from Otis and Malaga will be asked to meet with the Carlsbad board, until the next two school board elections.

STATE REP. ANTONIO Montoya of Santa Fe said the latest New Mexico penitentiary riot would never have happened "had not Gov. Mecham recommended to Rep. Hugh Horne of Albuquerque that a whitewash be made for Warden Morris Abram and L. C. White." (White is chairman of the prison board, Horne chairman of the joint legislative prison investigating committee.)

Rumors circulated in Santa Fe, a wire service reported, that a shakeup of top prison officials was imminent. White denied the reports.

Meanwhile, a federal prison official, Douglas Rigg, associate warden at San Quentin, said he warned the New Mexico legislative committee last February that trouble was forthcoming at the pen unless discipline was tightened.

"I would think," Horne is quoted as saying, "that there is something wrong with the administration of the state penitentiary."

PAST BEDTIME STORY

NEW MEXICO EDITORS ARE SAYING—

Development of New Mexico as Oil State Held Down By Lack of Adequate Pipeline Facilities

BETTER MARKET

Ever since New Mexico became an oil producing state, development of the fields has been hampered to some extent by the lack of adequate pipelines to market the oil. Transportation facilities still are not ample. The announcement by the state Land Office that it has signed an agreement with an oil purchasing corporation for the sale of the state's oil royalties will result in the construction of a pipe line across the state to the West coast should mean much in providing a new and possibly better market for New Mexico oil.

Stae Land Commissioner Walker believes that the contract for the sale of the royalty produced on state land to the purchasing corporation will bring the state about $182,000 a year more than in selling it to the producing companies. That alone is a nice wind-fall, but of equal or more importance will be the construction of the pipe line and a better market for New Mexico oil. This should encourage the development of more production in the state. — Albuquerque Journal.

RAPS DEMOCRATS

Many serious students of politics in New Mexico are wondering when and how the Democratic party will find the leadership confidence and hence complete loss of elections.

The last Legislature was a case in point. The Republicans didn't exactly cover themselves with glory, but the Democrats left a record that can only be described as miserable.

Talk, for instance, the issue of a senator from Los Alamos county, House Republicans, in keeping with their party platform, sent to the Democrat-controlled Senate a simple bill which would have accomplished nothing more or less than giving Los Alamos the senator it deserves. But the Democrats in the Senate, despite their platform pledge, had to make a political football out of it. They killed the House bill and substituted one of their own, which would have also provided an outrageously inequitable re-districting of the entire state. Naturally, the House refused to go along, and the matter died.

This is irresponsibility, pure and simple. This is the type of politics that spells the doom of a political party. It may or may not be too late to repair some of the damage, but if it is to be done fresh new leadership is needed.

GAINS STATURE

The State Finance Board has approved a $400,000 bond issue for building a men's dormitory at Eastern New Mexico University in Portales. The school is growing. Not too many years ago its physical properties were some second-hand Army barracks.

Dr. Floyd Golden, president of ENMU, said here the other day that the school some day may be the largest in the state, surpassing the University of New Mexico in Albuquerque. His reasoning is that 40 per cent of all young people finishing high school are graduated on the East Side. ENMU is their school by geography. Thus the Portales school has 40 per cent of eligible enrollees. All the other state schools have only 60 per cent to divide among themselves.

New Mexico's East Side gains stature day by day.—Hobbs News-Sun.

PUBLIC POWER PROJECTS

Secretary of the Interior McKay has announced that his general policy will be to oppose public power projects. He takes the position that privately-owned companies should be given preference in the production of electric energy. If the policy announced by Secretary McKay should result in preventing further extension of rural electrification to unserved communities it would be a step backward to the days when only five per cent of the farmers were served with electricity instead of the 90 per cent now served. If it were not for this vastly improved situation, the nation's defense effort would be handicapped because rural electrification now releases many thousands of young men and women to the armed forces or other defense activities by making available to the farmer a large number of labor saving devices, which have increased production at the same time.

In the final analysis the privately-owned power industry is not injured because many of those plants now profit through purchase of power by the rural electrification systems. The policy announced by Secretary McKay, however, will require most careful administration and close observation to see that it does not result adversely for consumers in service or rates. — El Crepusculo, Taos.

WELL SERVED

Albuquerque is going to be well-served in air transportation if the applications of the two major airlines to add routes through here should be granted. The city already has one trans-world line which offers services to most any part of the nation or world either, directly or through connections. It has three other lines which provide state and regional service.

The city was foresighted in the early days of commercial airline expansion in acquiring a large tract of ground on which was developed one of the largest and best airports in the country. This wisely or not was deeded to the Army more recently, but with a proviso for a certain number of commercial flights which may or may not be large enough if more lines establish flights through here.

Albuquerque is a recognized air hub in the southwest which compensates in some degree for the fact that we have remained a one railroad town, but it's a major line that provides good service.—Albuquerque Tribune.

COFFEE TALK—

City Council Meets Two Hours Ahead Of Usual Time, Miffs News Reporter

THE CITY COUNCIL MET Wednesday afternoon two hours before its scheduled time, and to the buzz of their usual comprehensive press attention given the affairs of the city's most exclusive club.

A quick check Wednesday night among reporters accustomed to covering the twice monthly sessions showed none of the three had been notified.

In fact, it was found one city councilman didn't know about the meeting until he happened to converse casually with the water superintendent who was reading a meter near the councilman's house.

The working press was frankly miffed about the whole thing. Coverage of the city council has been on the whole comprehensive, fair, and accurate. Where controversial matters have arisen, the press—including two newspapers and the radio station—have leaned over backward to report full details, which is the best defense of anything the council attempts.

Then, too, there are usually a number of guests who expect to visit the council at its twice monthly meetings, concerned over one matter or another. They would have been stymied Wednesday night.

To boot, it just isn't good policy to conduct the public's meeting in private.

Wednesday afternoon's session had all the appearances of an executive meeting, and in it the city council took legal and binding action on several matters. Under state law, no public body can take action in executive session. The council nevertheless accepted a couple of bids on motor vehicles, paid bills, and did other business.

The city council continually asks cooperation of the newspapers and the radio station, and receives it in full, with seldom even a thanks extended for the effort. Cooperation should be a two-way affair.

The meeting was hurriedly called, incidentally, so the councilmen could attend Wednesday night's doubleheader baseball game.

AN INTERESTING INSIGHT on attitude of deputy sheriffs stationed in North Eddy county was given this week-end in handling of a temporarily abandoned automobile.

A couple recently moved to Artesia drove into the mountains to Mayhill this past Sunday to see the countryside. On the way back to Artesia, they had a blowout, and were caught without a spare. They pulled the car into a church yard at Hope, well off the highway, and caught a ride back to Artesia.

Tuesday they rode out with a friend to put a new tire on, but found their car missing. On inquiry, it was learned the car had been towed to Artesia. Back in Artesia, the couple found it—and a towing bill for over $25 with it.

It is not quite clear as to whether the authority of the deputies for the action, since the car was not blocking the right-of-way. No check was made as to whether it was stolen or not. Nor was it pulled to a garage in Hope, where it could have been held just as well as in Artesia, and for a lot smaller towing charge.

C. C. NELSON'S NEW SUPER-market, so far as anyone can tell, is the first retail store in the Artesia area to put electric eyes to work opening doors for customers.

The gadgets, among a storeful of new wrinkles, are one of the most welcome innovations. Probably most grateful are the ladies who carry out those big armfuls of groceries.

Another new wrinkle at the supermarket are the checkout counters, which have moving conveyor belts on them to speed groceries through and prevent pile-ups.

ARTESIA'S TELEVISION

dealers are pretty much pleased with the way KSWV-TV is coming in. In answer to a request from J. C. Porter at KSWV-TV the other day, the Advocate surveyed a half dozen dealers, found them all pretty well pleased, although as some of them would get a TV set about adjusted, the test pattern would be pulled off the air.

Antenna are definitely needed for reception in Artesia. Outside the business district, reception is better, due to less interference from heavy electrical equipment.

It is expected that when KSWV-TV hikes its power in a few weeks, there'll be even less trouble with "snow," since the stronger signal will more easily override local interference.

NEXT TUESDAY WE CAN report the coffee talk of New Mexico's newsmen, who meet for their summer convention this week-end in Las Vegas. One can almost tell beforehand what it will be about—how cool the mountains are, the state penitentiary riot (something should be done about it), pro and con on new machinery, rates for legal ads, and the switch from AP to UP among the state's newspapers.

Ten, Twenty Years Ago In Artesia

(From The Advocate files)

for June 22, 1933)

Dr. O. E. Puckett will continue full time work in the Eddy county health department until the end of the month, despite the loss of income from the U. S. public health bureau, it was announced.

Miss Helen Sage who taught school at San Diego, Calif., the past year, arrived Sunday to spend the summer at the home of her uncle, T. F. Wilson.

Howell Gage of Carlsbad, deputy sheriff and former resident of Artesia, has a ramboiled ewe that sheared 25 pounds of wool, a near-record for the valley, according to reports.

Mrs. Charles Morgan entertained a large group of children on the eighth birthday anniversary of her twin sons, Don and Val, Tuesday afternoon.

The marriage of W. A. "Frenchie" Gray to Miss Glenyce Stroud at Carlsbad will interest many local people.

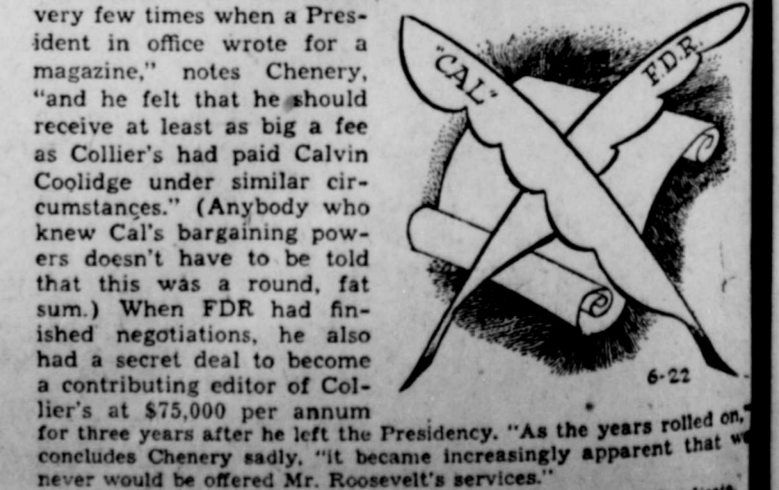

Mrs. Jess Truett and Mrs. H. W. Kiddy were joint hostesses to members of the Presbyterian Missionary Society at the home of Mrs. Truett on Thursday afternoon.

The Christian Woman's Council of the First Christian church entertained at a breakfast Friday morning at the home of Mrs. A. W. Boyce, complimenting Mrs. Carroll Graham.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

IN HIS ENGRASSING MEMOIRS. So it seemed, Bill Cheney, of Collier's fame, tells of highly controversial pieces that Franklin D. Roosevelt contributed in 1941. "This was one of the very few times when a President in office wrote for a magazine," notes Cheney, "and he felt that he should receive at least as big a fee as Collier's had paid Calvin Coolidge under similar circumstances." (Anybody who knew Cal's bargaining powers doesn't have to be told that this was a round, fat sum.) When FDR had finished negotiations, he also had a secret deal to become a contributing editor of Collier's at $75,000 per annum for three years after he left the Presidency. "As the years rolled on," concludes Cheney sadly, "it became increasingly apparent that never would be offered Mr. Roosevelt's services."

Pioneer Video Opportunities

Television, the most dynamic medium of mass communications devised by man, offers the greatest and greatest opportunities of method of communications for betterment of mankind and nations under which we live," declares TV scientist Dr. Allen B. Du Mont.

The video pioneer, president of Allen B. Du Mont Laboratories, Inc., recently gave a comprehensive outline of the use to which the new mass medium could be put influencing national life for the better.

Television Changes Many Home Styles

With home television sets becoming more and more popular throughout the country, an entirely new school of furniture design has made its appearance. Purpose of the new television designs is to make a video showing as convenient and comfortable as possible for either a one-man audience or an overflow crowd.

There are also cabinets that hold folding chairs which are handy to have when all the neighbors descend upon your living room to see an especially popular program—lightweight armless chairs without cutout back rails so that they may be easily moved around—and many curved sectional sofas which are designed to seat six or seven television fans.

Many of the stores are showing model television rooms featuring this exciting new merchandise and illustrating proper room arrangement for greater television enjoyment.

LATEST TYPE PROJECTORS—This picture shows the intricate projection necessary for the transmission of the KSWs-TV signal. The picture is projected into the small opening which is seen in the box between the two mechanisms. Picture hits a mirror in the box, the image of which is then reflected onto a ground glass which is located in the middle of the box. This box extends through the wall into the next room and the image is there picked up by the camera, then transmitted through the transmission system and out. Of course, it goes much faster than it takes us to write about it here.

A good fence is high enough so livestock will not reach over it and is compact enough to keep them from reaching through the wires. Good fences are, in the long run, cheap fences.

Last year's attendance at the event was 16,107. This year it is expected that 20,000 to 25,000 spectators will attend. There is no charge for attending the display; however, each car must pay the regular admittance permit to the White Sands Monument. The permit fee is 50 cents per car, with the permit being good for the entire year.

THIS year's program will be larger than any previous display. The program will include several huge ground set displays in addition to the traditional colorful shells shot into the air.

R. L. Willingham
Official Delegate
At Convocation

Rev. R. L. Willingham of Artesia, has been named an official delegate to the World Methodist Convocation on Evangelism June 26-28 in Philadelphia, Pa.

The announcement was made by Dr. Joseph H. Edge, associate secretary of the Methodist Church's General Board of Evangelism. He is registrar of the convocation convocation.

The Philadelphia meeting will mark the opening of the American phase of Methodism's world-wide emphasis on evangelism this year, Dr. Edge said.

"We are selecting delegates from throughout the country to represent every phase of the church—the ministry, laymen, church school teachers, the Woman's Society of Christian Service, youth fellowships, and the Methodist Student Movement," he stated.

More than 5,000 delegates from outside the Philadelphia area will be in attendance, and arrangements are being made to seat 67,000 persons at a mass rally on Sunday, June 28, at Philadelphia's Franklin Field.

At least 1,000 persons will be received into the church at the rally, Dr. Edge said, signaling the first step toward a church-wide goal of 250,000 new members in Methodist evangelistic campaigns next fall.

Bishop W. Angie Smith, Oklahoma City, is general chairman of the convocation, and Bishop Fred P. Corson, Philadelphia, is vice-chairman.

Program principals will include four eminent British Methodists: Dr. E. Benson Perkins, Dr. Maldwyn L. Edwards, Dr. Dorothy Farrar, and Dr. Harold Roberts.

$1,000 Bill in Korean Currency Has No Value in U.S., Bank Officers Decide

A $1,000 bill of Korean currency was received Thursday by Mrs. Evelyn Edwards, 310 West Grand, from her son, Eugene. He is in the Navy with his base at Yokohama, Japan.

He also sent a military payment certificate marked five cents.

Vernon Watson of the First National bank did a little research to determine the value of the $1,000 bill in U. S. money. Since such a bill is not listed, it is probable that it is no longer in use and is of no value, here or in Korea.

The big bill has two interesting pictures of Korean architecture on one side. The other side has a picture of a man's face and the English words, "The Bank of Korea." No other English words are on the bill.

The military payment certificate is for use in U. S. military establishments by U. S. authorized personnel in accordance with applicable rules and regulations, says the wording on the bill.

The bill is blue and an odd shade of purple on one side. The other side is gray.

Eugene Edwards has been in service for a year. He is aboard the USS Pickaway, a troop ship transporting men from Yokohama to Korea.

TV Sets Not Made For Tinkers

Television set owners who have the urge to tinker with their receivers—shouldn't.

While this suggestion may come a little late to benefit the amateur repair men who already have parts of their complicated electronics equipment scattered over the living room floor, it may be in time to deter other TV set owners from getting involved in "Operation Screw-Driver."

According to Joe Marty, Jr., general manager, electronics division for Admiral Corp., television manufacturer, "fix-it-yourself" books make the job of repairing a television set look as easy as opening a can of soup.

"Many persons, whose knowledge of television was limited to tuning in their set, may be led to believe they are expert enough to dismantle a receiver and put it back together without having 138 parts left over," Marty said.

He explained that a 20-inch receiver has over 1,600 individual parts, including tiny strips of wire, nuts, bolts, washers, screws, tubes, condensers and resistors. During assembly, Marty said, more than 2,000 soldered connections are made.

While the average owner of a television set usually can make the simple adjustments necessary to assure a good picture, he strongly recommends that any difficulty involving more than a nut, washer and a bolt be referred to a competent serviceman.

Four New Mexico Electric Co-ops Granted Loans

During the past month four New Mexico Electric Co-operatives have received notification from the Rural Electric Administration in Washington, D. C., that approval was given on their loans.

The Farmers Electric Co-op, Inc. at Clovis was informed that their loan for $105,000 for headquarters facilities, including the site had been approved.

A $250,000 loan to the Roosevelt County Electric Cooperative, Inc. at Portales, was granted on May 25. This loan will be used to finance the construction of eight miles of distribution line to serve 37 irrigation consumers, system improvements including 15 miles of the line and 10 miles of 69kv transmission line and related substation.

The Central New Mexico Electric Co-operative, Inc., Mountainair, received approval on their loan for $172,000. The purpose of this loan is to finance the construction of 61 miles of distribution line to serve 107 additional rural consumers including 20 irrigation wells, system improvements, radio communication facilities, and the completion of previously approved construction.

The Columbus Electric Cooperative at Columbus, received confirmation on June 11 for a $100,000 loan. Approval of this Section Five Loan will enable the Cooperative to finance members' installation of wiring, plumbing, electrical equipment and irrigation facilities.
