School Faculty Is Reported Complete

With approval of seven new members, Artesia public schools now have a full faculty for the 1954 school year, Asst. Supt. Mills announced today. Mills also announced the resignations of Robert Kline, audio supervisor, and Owen Bennett, music instructor. The new members have been employed by the schools, Mills said. They are Mrs. Holly Oberlas, who formerly served as school nurse, and Mrs. Marguerite Breen, teacher.

There have been no full-time vacancies in the schools this year. Mills said there is a possibility a very few faculty vacancies may yet occur, but anticipated little trouble in filling the positions. Teachers approved by the board of education are: O. H. Hosmer, Silver City, as audio-visual supervisor. Hosmer will assist in the schools' curriculum and testing program. Mrs. W. W. Maxwell, formerly bookkeeper for the Artesia Advocate as Park school third grade teacher. Mrs. Kenneth Rhodes, Tennessee, as primary grade teacher. Miss Norma Jean Witte, Estancia, Highlands university graduate, as primary teacher. Mrs. Dorothy Box, who formerly taught at Portales and El Paso, as Senior high school history teacher. Miss Bobbie Shelton, Midland, Texas, North Texas State Teachers college graduate, for music.

Search for Site of Air Academy Narrowed to Three

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Air Force announced today its search for an academy site has been narrowed to three locations—Alton, Ill., Colorado Springs, Colo., and Lake Geneva, N.Y.

Force Secretary Talbott made the announcement, saying three sites had been recommended by a five-man board and that he would make the final choice among them. Talbott said he would make his selection after further personal inspections by himself and his staff, and that he will study thoroughly the problems of land acquisition, engineering and all factors at the three locations before making his pick. The academy selection board started its search at the beginning of April, traveling more than 40,000 miles and reading reports and recommendations involving more than 400 locations proposed by civic groups and local committees. The task of choosing a permanent site for the academy was assigned to Virgil M. Hancher, president of the University of Iowa; Gen. Charles A. Lindbergh; Gen. Meigs, vice president of Hearst Corp.; Gen. Carl A. Spaatz, first chief of staff of the Air Force; and Lt. Gen. Hubert Harmond, special assistant to the chief of staff for Air Force planning matters. Legislation authorizing the academy was signed by President Eisenhower on April 1, but the idea was not taken up until after the Air Force became a separate service in September.

Train Schedule Change Has No Effect on Mails

Half-hour changes in train schedules to take effect Sunday will have no effect on Artesia mail delivery, Postmaster J. L. Truett said today. Santa Fe's northbound train 26, which now leaves Artesia at 7:10 p. m., will leave the city at 7:40 p. m. under the new schedule. Southbound train No. 25, which now leaves at 6:30 a. m., will leave Artesia at 6:50 a. m. Truett said postoffice mail closing time and collections at street boxes are not affected by the train changes, but pressure on postal employees in dispatching mail will be eased.

S. forest service, announced today that sections of Coconino national forest and the Kaibab watershed in Arizona have been closed to visitors because of the fire hazard. Officials are poring over a detailed breakdown of all the 3341 known wrecks in New Mexico last year—bloodiest in state history. # New Truck Farming Industry Is Sought For Artesia, Valley by Texas Grower

Seek to Name Park for Roberts

Proposals that name of Artesia Municipal Park and NuMexer Park be changed to Roberts Memorial Park in honor of Artesia late mayor Oren Roberts are being presented Artesia civic clubs this week. Kiwanis club voted in favor of the proposal this noon. Toastmasters club acted favorably on the proposed change, introduced by Owen Hensley, Artesia businessman, Tuesday evening. Civic clubs are considering alternate proposals that the present municipal park only be named in honor of Mayor Roberts and the NuMexer Park name unchanged, or to change the entire city-owned area to Roberts Memorial Park. Mayor Mr. Roberts died in August 1953 following a lengthy illness. He had come to Artesia in 1941 from East Texas. He was elected mayor of the city in 1948, and re-elected in 1950. He was commander of the American Legion, and a member of Elks and Kiwanis clubs. Civic clubs are acting on the proposal in preparation for its presentation to city council in the near future. The council has authority to name city parks.

Roy Cohn Claims 'Stacked Deck' Against McCarthy

WASHINGTON (AP)—Roy M. Cohn said today that Atty. Gen. Brownell or his assistant "instigated" the Army-McCarthy hearings and that this constituted a "stacked deck" against the McCarthy side if perjury charges develop from the hearings. Cohn threw out this charge in the 28th day of the Army-McCarthy hearings as Sen. Jackson (D-Wash.) pressed a series of "true or false" questions to Cohn. Cohn testified under oath it was "true" that the Army filed its charges against McCarthy and him after failing in "blackmail attempts" to try to limit the McCarthy subcommittee investigation of the Army. Earlier, when Secretary of the Army Stevens and Army counselor John G. Adams were witnesses, Jackson had pursued a similar "true or false" line of questioning. Jackson read the perjury laws to Cohn and reminded him that Stevens and Adams had testified the "blackmail" charge was false. Cohn insisted this charge had been "proved" by testimony from senators on the subcommittee itself. Cohn referred to testimony by the senators that Adams had visited them "to try to kill" a move by the McCarthy subcommittee to subpoena members of the Army loyalty board. Cohn said one of the senators, Dirksen, (R-Ill.) had said Adams "hinted" that if the subpoenas were not dropped, "something else would be done." Cohn said Brownell's office had "instigated" the proceedings, adding that Brownell would be the one to review the testimony and decide who, if anyone, should be prosecuted for perjury (lying under oath). In the midst of Cohn's testimony the first of the much-disputed monitored telephone calls were put into the record. This came when Sen. Dirksen (R-Ill.) read a transcript of three talks he had with Secretary Stevens. Since the early days of the televised hearings, begun April 22, (Continued on Page Two)

Eight Injured As Tornadoes Strike Texas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Eight members of a farm family were injured in northeast Texas Wednesday as tornadoes raided rural communities for the second straight night. The Wednesday night funnel tore into the F. R. Cooper home, 11 miles south of Paris, Texas. The five-room frame structure was torn to bits. Burney Oats, who lives a half mile west of the Cooper home, said "it looked like a huge funnel of black smoke." The Oats home had its porch ripped off and the barn was unroofed. Tornadoes in West Texas and North Texas Tuesday night killed one person and injured 14. The Coopers live in the Lake Creek community between Commerce, Texas and Paris. The injured were Mrs. Cooper, 46; Mevlina, 18; Loretta, 16; Virginia, 12; Stella, 10; Drosi, 8; Fern Lee, 6 and Wayne, 2. Five ambulances took the family to the Lamar hospital in Paris where doctors said three or four appeared seriously injured. Meanwhile, a cool front that kicked up the damaging winds for two nights was along the upper Texas coast at dawn Thursday. Temperatures Thursday at the sun came up ranged from 43 at Dalhart to 78 at Cotulla, ahead of the front. Until Wednesday at midnight, 24-hour rainfall totals reported in— (Continued on Page Two)

Bullets Whiz as Firemen Drench Pickup Blaze

Bullets flew as firemen extinguished a pickup truck fire at 9:50 last night. Fire in the 1941 pickup, owned by Buck Hannon, 1614 N. First started on floor boards over the battery. As flames mounted, fed by gasoline, they set off boxes of 22 shells in the glove compartment, located in the dashboard above the floorboards. Hannon had only yesterday taken the truck from a garage after having a new motor installed in it. Firemen used powdered chemicals to extinguish the gasoline-fed blaze. Damage will be several hundred dollars.

Flood Control Is Urged for Roswell, Albuquerque

WASHINGTON (AP)—Members of the New Mexico congressional delegation have urged the House public works committee to approve flood control projects at Albuquerque and Roswell. The committee was considering plans recommended by Army engineers for construction of projects at the two cities. They included construction of two diversion channels through Albuquerque at a cost of $10,285,000 to spill flood waters into the Rio Grande, and a $5,772,700 reservoir above Roswell to hold back waters of the Rio Hondo and Rocky Arroyo. Sen. Anderson and Reps. Fernandez and Dempsey, New Mexico Democrats, said the projects are needed to protect lives and property in and around the cities. Sen. Chavez (D-N.M.) was unable to attend the hearing but sent a statement endorsing the proposals.

City police officers, who filed the charge, said Lopez backed from the curb in the 100 block of W. Main and hit a car driven by Oris W. Reynolds, 20. Neither car was heavily damaged. In another accident at 9:08 a. m. yesterday, cars driven by Joseph H. Raterler, 76, and David O. Connel, 26, collided on North Eighth. City Police said the accident occurred when Connel's car pulled out from the curb. Both cars were driveable and damage only minor.

Airline Service For Alamogordo Urged By Army

WASHINGTON (AP)—The defense department today urged the civil aeronautics board to authorize air service for Alamogordo by Continental Air Lines. Alamogordo is adjacent to Holloman Air Force Base and the big White Sands Proving Grounds for guided missiles used jointly by the Air Force, the Army and the Navy. Maj. Gust Yandala of the Air Force judge advocate general's office, told the CAB that flights between Albuquerque and El Paso could be so directed that no security risks would be involved. He said that the air service is badly needed by civilians living at Alamogordo or working on the military establishments. The CAB heard final arguments on renewal of Continental's certificate to continue its Albuquerque-El Paso route. An examiner has recommended that the service be renewed for three years, with Las Cruces designated as the only intermediate stop between the terminal points. The proposed flights which would stop at Alamogordo would swing east of White Sands Proving Grounds. The board reserved its decision in the case.

State Accident Survey Rates Stretch North of Los Lunas Bloodiest Road

By ROBERT A. BARNES
SANTA FE (AP)—A four-mile stretch from Los Lunas northward has the highest accident rate of all New Mexico's highways, the state traffic safety bureau says. So far, the reason has not been determined. Officials are poring over a detailed breakdown of all the 3341 known wrecks in New Mexico last year—bloodiest in state history. They are trying to learn why some sections of road have higher accident rates, taking into consideration the traffic volume, than others. Now they are planning an attack on the problem from a new direction. Ranking close behind the Los Lunas stretch on U.S. Highway 83, are a 15-mile stretch on State Road 132 near Hobbs; 27 miles on U.S. 84 near Anchoo and 15 miles on U.S. 85 from Albuquerque south toward Los Lunas. Charles Dunwiddie, director of the bureau, noted there are some localities in which the study shows an unusual number of one-car accidents concentrated in a short distance. "We think there must be something there that distracts the drivers," he said. "What it is we do not know, but we're going to try to find out." Dunwiddie said it is planned to send two or three trained persons, preferably unfamiliar with the route to be covered, along highways such as U.S. 66 from Arizona eastward. They will study the terrain, signboards, scenery and other things along the road, specifically trying to see if there is anything in particular which distracts drivers in the areas where more wrecks occur. "We're going to see if by observation we can't arrive at some answer," Dunwiddie said. Road conditions also will be studied. Officials said the study on accident-prone mileage shows that there are three times as many wrecks on the four-lane divided pavement in Tijeras canyon east of Albuquerque as before it was widened. The average speed before the construction was 40 miles an hour, while it rose to 68 miles an hour not long ago, they said. Before the crackdown on speeding, this increased severity of the accidents. On the other hand, there have been only two wrecks on La Bajada hill between Santa Fe and Albuquerque since it was improved to four lanes. One of the drivers involved claimed he was crowded off his side of the pavement by an approaching car. Officials have not yet formed any conclusions on the data, Dunwiddie said. They figured an accident rate per 100 million vehicle miles for various stretches of mileage. The report also breaks down the wrecks by months, days of week, (Continued on Page Two)

Wildcat Strike At Oak Ridge Ended By Workers

OAK RIDGE, Tenn. — (AP) — AFL laborers capitulated today to demands of their union leaders and ended a wildcat strike on two atomic plant construction projects here.

Contractor officials said the walkout, begun May 21 by 800 members, cost about a week's work on the two jobs.

Production of fissionable uranium-235 for atomic weapons was not affected by the strike.

The laborers, acting without the sanction of their union, posted pickets May 24 which were honored by 7,000 other AFL craftsmen, halting work on the jobs.

Accident Study—

(Continued from Page One) time of day, type of accident and rate per mile. The rate per 10 million miles combines the number with the traffic volume.

On that basis, the four-mile strip near Los Lunas had a rate of 46.8 per 10 million vehicle miles. That figure does not represent a unit but simply a rate so as to give relative ranking.

The stretch near Hobbs had a rate of 43.1; the U. S. 54 section a rate of 42.5; U. S. 85 south of Albuquerque 41.1.

The highest accident rate per mile, not considering traffic volume, was on a 12.5 mile stretch of U. S. 66 from Grants to the McKinley county line.

Ninety per cent of all 1953 accidents took place on 45 per cent of the primary and secondary road system.

Boost in Jobless Compensation Asked in Congress

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Democrats introduced legislation today in both the House and Senate designed to compel states to boost unemployment compensation benefits by from one to two billion dollars a year.

Nine senators introduced the bill in the Senate while 80 House members were listed as co-sponsors of identical legislation introduced in the House by Rep. Forand (D-RI).

The American Federation of Labor, in a statement endorsing the bill, said a similar bill is expected to be introduced tomorrow by a group of House Republicans.

First Witness Is Called in Trial Of Puerto Ricans

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The government's first witness, a coffee shop waitress, today picked out four Puerto Ricans as the "rather untidy" persons she helped serve on March 1 shortly before they shot up the House of Representatives.

Mrs. Catherine Schull, a blue-eyed redhead, testified she saw the four Puerto Ricans in a coffee shop of Washington's Union Station near the Capitol.

Mrs. Schull was called as the first witness after a jury of seven men and five women was selected in just under an hour.

Belgian Plane Is Shot Down on Yugoslav Frontier

VIENNA, Austria — (AP) — A Belgian freight plane was shot up by another plane today near the Yugoslav-Austrian frontier, and its radio officer killed. Two of the surviving crewmen described the attacking plane as a Russian-made MIG, possibly from Hungary.

The Belgian transport was a DC3 carrying pedigreed pigs from Britain to Belgrade, Yugoslavia. It had a crew of four-three Belgians and a Briton.

The dead radio operator was a Belgian, as were the pilot and a mechanic, both injured. The British co-pilot, uninjured, said the attacking plane was a MIG jet fighter, and an injured Belgian told a similar story.

The DC3, hit on the left side by cannon fire at perhaps 6,000 feet, made an emergency landing at Graz, Austria.

A sister plane on the pig-carrying mission was reported to have landed safely at Belgrade.

Wool Grading Schools Slated At A&M College

Wool growers and county agents who wish to train their grading "eye" to improve their ranch grading techniques will have this opportunity in June and July at a series of wool grading schools to be held at New Mexico A&M college, William K. Snyder, extension wool specialist at the college, announced today.

Each complete school in the series will last three full days with intensive training in grading for eight hours each day. Trainees attending one of the schools who wish to further improve their grading techniques may enroll in a subsequent school, Snyder said.

The final test in each course will call for complete accuracy in calling proper grade and length class on a variety of fleeces running from high Fine to coarse quarter blood and from short stubby lengths to staple and warp lengths within each grade. In the practice grading test, mixed fleeces will be given to the grader at the same pace that they are normally sent to the grading table from the shearing floor with a 12-man shearing crew.

The three-day training period should qualify the average rancher and county agent for competent work at the ranch grading table, the wool specialist stated.

In order to provide each grower and agent with the maximum of training, facilities, and equipment, not more than 10 applicants will be accepted for each school in the series, according to present plans.

Co-sponsors of the schools are New Mexico A&M college and the New Mexico Wool Growers, Inc. The latter organization recently resolved to buy at net ranch price 400 fleeces of varying lengths and class which will be graded in the school practice sessions. P. E. Neale, professor of animal husbandry, New Mexico A&M college, will be in charge of the training. Assistant Neale will be William D. McFadden of the A&M experiment station, and Ivan Watson and William Snyder of the A&M extension service.

Anyone interested in attending one of the grading schools should contact his county extension agent or write William K. Snyder, extension wool specialist at New Mexico A&M college, or Prof. P. E. Neale, department of animal husbandry, New Mexico A&M college, State College.

Honey Bee Pollination Aids Cotton

America's most important plant-pollinating insect, the honey bee, increased irrigated cotton yields by 22 per cent in recent cage tests at the U. S. department of agriculture's Southwestern bee culture laboratory, University of Arizona, Tucson.

The department's scientists have long been aware of the important role of the honey bee as a yield booster for many fruits, melons, and legume seeds. Unlike these crops that rely on pollinating agents, cotton is self-fertile. The stigma of cotton flowers is surrounded and in contact with the pollen-bearing anthers, a natural situation that would appear to make the bee's visitation unimportant from a pollination standpoint.

But cotton plot tests carried out by entomologists and plant breeders of USDA's agricultural research service and the Arizona agricultural experiment station in cages that either included or excluded honey bees, showed that bees carrying pollen from flower to flower caused more bolls to set on a plant—and to set earlier—and boosted the number of seeds in each cotton boll. The result was more cotton lint per acre.

In mid-July when Pima S-1 variety cotton began to flower, the investigators covered the plants with eight plastic screen cages, each measuring 24 feet long, 12 feet wide, and 6 feet high. Cotton plants in the four cages containing honey bee colonies yielded a total of 12,127 grams of cotton lint; those in four similar cages without bees, only 9,736 grams.

Boll samples from the test area, selected on Oct. 8, Oct. 30, and Dec. 4 to represent development from early, medium, and late flowering plants showed that the honey bees had increased the average boll weight by a third of a gram—from 3.89 grams without bees to 4.22 grams with bees. Bees increased the number of seeds per pod from 20.9 to 22.7, and the lint weight from 1.24 to 1.37 grams.

In all instances, the bees were most influential on the yield of early-flowering cotton plants. Without bees, only 29 per cent of the early flowers developed into bolls, with bees, 48 per cent became bolls. In the same way, bees increased the number of seeds per boll from early-flowering cotton from 18.9 to 23 and increased lint weight per boll from 1.19 to 1.44—a fourth of a gram. The next step in the research work is to determine if or how bees can be managed to confer this same benefit under field conditions.

Fresh Alfalfa Feeding Pays In Dairying

Feeding of freshly harvested green alfalfa is paying off for many dairymen, says E. E. Anderson, extension dairy specialist at New Mexico A&M college.

Methods of feeding vary depending on the size of the herd but "bringing the pasture to the cows" or "green feeding," as it is commonly called, is rapidly gaining in popularity. And dairymen who harvest the green alfalfa in the early bloom stage and fed it, either whole or chopped, are having very little difficulty with bloat.

Anderson explains it like this: Bloat is usually the result of an animal filling up on the tender portions of the plant. The intake of stemmy fibrous material is not sufficient to induce belching and expulsion of the gas, thus it accumulates in the paunch.

After alfalfa begins to bloom, the proportion of stem to leaves is much greater than in plants in the immature stage. When such forage is fed either whole or chopped the animal can't be selective as she is on pasture.

Practically all advocates of the green feeding system say it pays to feed at least 8 to 10 pounds of dry forage daily, the dairy specialist states. A common practice most dairymen is to feed dry age immediately after the milking and follow with the alfalfa. Other dairymen are feeding the green alfalfa both morning and evening.

There are several advantages feeding green alfalfa, Anderson says. Freshly cut alfalfa has at least 10 to 15 per cent more nutrients. Green alfalfa also contains more protein than cut alfalfa. When freshly harvested alfalfa forms an appreciable part of the roughage ration, no priced protein supplement need be added to the concentrate ration, which means quite a bit in the feed bill.

TODAY'S WOMEN— Top Movie Stars Among Church Goers

By DOROTHY ROE AP Women's Editor

Some of Hollywood's top stars are devoted churchgoers, eager to help the cause of religion, says the Rev. S. Franklin Mack, executive director of the Broadcasting and Film Commission of the National Council of Churches. Back from the film capital after supervising production of the National Council's latest film, "City Story," Dr. Mack is impressed by the wave of religion which he says is sweeping Hollywood, and by the gratitude of famous stars at being asked to participate in church films. He says: "Hollywood churches are jammed with actors and actresses leading normal, Christian lives. Only these are the things you never hear about. The stories that make headlines are the scandals of the film colony, which involve only a small minority of the people who make our movies, but which have given the world a wrong impression. "We have found that most of the stars we have approached to work in religious films are tickled to death to help. They are delighted that their special talents can be of use to the cause of the churches." Jane Russell, for instance, is a Sunday school teacher. Jimmy Stewart has offered to do church films. Glenn Ford, James Dunn, Ruth Warwick, Warner Anderson, and Arthur Shields, brother of Barry Fitzgerald, are among those who have appeared in movies sponsored by the National Council of Churches. "When we went out to Hollywood to do this latest film," Dr. Mack says, "we called the churches in Los Angeles and Hollywood and got names of actors who were members of their congregations, in order to give them a chance to take part, if they wished. The response was overwhelming. Most of the actors we talked to seemed almost pathetically grateful to be asked."

Rookie's Pitching, Three Home Runs Put NuMexers in Longhorn Loop Lead

With three homers and the six-hit pitching of Rookie Gil Johnson and old master Jodie Phipps, Artesia captured the Longhorn league lead last night for the first time since the opening week of the season.

The NuMexers wrestled the league lead from Roswell Wednesday night with a 7-2 victory over the Rockets, who had been in command since April 28.

Artesia led the game with a four-run rally in the eighth, three of them earned by third baseman Charlie Watts' homer.

Johnson was credited with the win. In 6 1/3 innings, he spaced out five Rockets hits. Phipps took over after one away in the seventh, allowed one more.

Both Roswell runs, lumped in the sixth, were unearned.

The last night Artesia was in first place was April 21—two days after the season opened. The NuMexers dropped to third the next day and until Wednesday, had spent most of the time since then squabbling with Midland over second place.

Wednesday night's victory gave Artesia sweep of the two-game series with Roswell.

The NuMexers led off with a pair in the first, one unearned. Centerfielder Mickey Diaz singled, then came home on a three-base error which put Reuben Sharrt at third when the ball went through Joe Bauman's legs at first base. Smartt came in on a fielder's choice.

Another unearned run came for the NuMexers in the fourth with costly Roswell errors. Watts was walked to first, stole second, and came home on an error.

Roswell's twin counters in the sixth started with a walk to White, who advanced on a wild pitch and an error. Stubby Greer went to first on an error Joe Bauman's sacrifice plated White. Pat Stasey's double GREER.

The big eighth inning drive started with a walk issued to Smartt. John Goodell and Bob Herron singled, Herron's plating Smartt. Then Watts slammed his round-tripper with Goodell and Herron aboard.

Johnson walked three, struck out five. Phipps walked one, struck out three.

Roswell's Nalley allowed seven hits, walked three, struck out one.

Johnson was in minor trouble only in the seventh, when the first batter was hit. Johnson settled down to Ian Dillidine, but Nalley singled. Phipps came in with two on and one out, struck out White, when Greer flied out to leftfield, the fire was out.

The win gave Johnson a 4-3 season record.

Travelers' Keith Smith Is Signed By Ada Oil Company

Keith Smith, stand-out defensive player for the CVE Travelers, Artesia's entry in the National Industrial Basketball league, will leave Artesia Central Valley Electric Co. on June 8 to join Ada Oil Co. of Houston.

While Smith will not be able to play with the Ada Oilers next year, it is expected he will join the team's staff. An NIBL rule bars a player from playing for a year after transferring from one team to another.

Smith, who played college basketball four years at Oklahoma A&M under Hank Iba, has been assistant bookkeeper at Central Valley Electric. He will join Ada Oil Co.'s accounting department.

Smith played for the Travelers last season, he was a top defensive player and play-maker. Traveler season records show Smith in second place on assists during the regular season.

He was fifth high man in scoring, first in rebounding, although at 5 feet 10 inches he was the shortest of the towering 1953-54 Traveler squad.

Smith played freshman basketball at Oklahoma A&M, then three years of varsity basketball under Iba. He and his teammates for two of the three years were Missouri Valley conference champions.

After graduation in 1951 Smith entered the Air Force, and was chosen from Amarillo Air Force base's cage squad as a member of the Air Force All-Stars.

Potashers Down Big Spring 9-6

BIG SPRING — (AP) — The Carlisbad Potashers caught up with Frank Maren's pitches after being held at bay for five innings and went on to win a 9-6 verdict over the Big Spring Brones here last night.

The triumph enabled the Potashers to sweep the two game series and move five games in front of the fifth place Brones.

Maren weakened in the sixth and was tagged for six runs. Art Herring and Ike Jackson had the key hits in the frame, each good for two RBIs.

Gene Wulf, on a five-day look from Yakima of the Western International league, received credit for the victory, although he had to have help from Dario Jimenez in the eighth.

Nedwell Lagraone was the big gun for the Brones, driving out a double and two singles.

Top Pros Gather as Western Open Begins in Cincinnati

CINCINNATI — (AP) — The Western Open Golf tournament, an affair that dates back to 1899, opened here today and predictions were that a 10-under-par 274 would be good enough for the title.

A field of 131 players was listed to start the four-day grind over a Kenwood Country club course in the battle for $15,000 worth of prize money.

Ben Hogan and Sam Snead failed to enter but except for them the field included virtually all the nation's other top stars.

The chase for the championship looked like a wide-open affair but such stars as Lloyd Mangrum, Niles, Ill., a former National Open and Western champion; Julius Boros, Mid-Pines, N. C.; Johnny Palmer, Charlotte, N. C., winner of last week's Colonial Invitational; Ted Kroll, New Hartford, N. Y.; Tommy Bolt, Houston, Tex.; Doug Ford, Yonkers, N. Y.; Jack Burke, Jr., Kiamesha Lake, N. Y.; and Art Wall, Jr., Pocono Manor, Pa., were mentioned as the major threats to defending champion E. J. "Dutch" Harrison, Ardmore, Okla.

Dr. Cary Middlecoff, Memphis, Tenn., usually a threat, sent word he would be unable to play because of ill health.

Although 274 was heard often as a possible winning score, a poll of 16 Cincinnati pros, who know the course well, had winning predictions ranging from 272 to 280. A majority picked either 275 or 276.

The Advocate, in covering the news of Artesia for the Associated Press, joins the AP's co-operative family of member newspapers in producing the fullest and most thorough state, national, and world news report delivered on teletypes anywhere.

The AP's teletypes will serve the Advocate 13 hours daily Monday through Saturday. In addition, a special AP Longhorn league baseball wire is slated for installation at the Advocate in the near future for nightly league baseball round-ups.

A keyboard on one of the teletype machines at the Advocate permits this newspaper to send Artesia news to all other New Mexico AP members and the two bureaus. It is the only such direct teletype connection in the city.

The Artesia Advocate is happy to join the AP family.

Paving of Highway 83

ANNOUNCEMENT highway 83 in Lincoln national forest will be paved from Mayhill west for six miles to join with present paving is good news for everyone in southern New Mexico.

The road's unfinished condition has meant waste of a great part of the road now existing, a road which has cost millions of dollars.

Highway 83 offers tourists, trucks, and other motorists a direct route from the busy New Mexico East Side to points west. It offers a cooler, safer route than any other now existing.

Plans announced by the bureau of public roads call for paving six miles of the road this year into Mayhill, and paving the remaining nine miles east from Mayhill to Lincoln forest's east boundary.

Three years from now the entire 15-mile stretch would be sealed.

Not only have the industries of the mountains suffered from the road's incompleteness, but also cities along highway 83 and other roads feeding highway 83. Those unfamiliar with highway 83 west of Artesia are warned by consulting agencies not to travel the road because of the rough stretches.

DEMOCRATS: SCHINE ON AND ON

New Endrin Top Cotton Insecticide

Entomologists of the U. S. department of agriculture report the new insecticide endrin comes closer to being an all-purpose cotton insecticide than any they have yet tested.

Endrin is a close chemical relative to dieldrin, now widely used to control the boll weevil. But endrin works not only against boll weevils and bollworms, but also against thrips, cotton leafworms, cotton fleahoppers, and lygus bugs. It remains effective longer than toxaphene, the only other insecticide recommended for control of both boll weevils and bollworms. The department researchers have tried endrin under widely different cotton-growing conditions in South Carolina, Texas, Louisiana, and Mexico.

At Florence, S. C., endrin-treated plots yielded gains in seed cotton up to nearly 750 pounds to the acre. In Mexico, during a heavy boll weevil infestation, use of endrin increased the seed cotton yields more than a thousand pounds an acre.

The research specialists have found this insecticide effective against boll weevils and bollworms when applied in quantities varying from one-fifth to one-half pound an acre.

Against such other cotton pests as thrips, cotton leafworms, cotton fleahoppers, and lygus bugs, they used from one-tenth to one-fifth of a pound to the acre. But while endrin is effective against most cotton insects, the specialists point out it does not control either pink bollworm or spider mites.

The specialists also caution users to be sure to follow exactly the recommendations of the manufacturers printed on the label of the insecticide container. Endrin is toxic not only to insects but to man and other warm-blooded animals.

Grazing Swine Profitable Way To Use Pasture

Grazing swine is one of the most profitable ways for New Mexico hog producers to utilize good pasture, according to Richard Marek, county extension agent, because pasturing results in the production of leaner cuts of pork, which the consumer is demanding.

The main troubles farmers encounter in pasturing pigs are lack of fencing and failure to include the practice in plans for the farm operation. Marek suggests that the advantages of hog pastures will repay the farmer for the effort necessary to overcome the troubles.

To back up his argument for hog pastures, the county agent points to summaries of more than 50 experiments in hog feeding. These experiments show that hogs on good pasture require 5 to 10 per cent less grain and 30 to 40 per cent less protein supplement to make the same gains made by feeding of concentrates along with pasture. Alfalfa can't be beat for pig pasture, Marek says. Other good permanent pastures are mixtures of legumes with orchard grass, tall fescue, or broom. He also recommends that small grain crops be used for late fall and early spring hog pasture as extensively as possible without damaging the crop.

BLUE CROSS

FACTS YOU SHOULD KNOW:

- Question: What is meant by the term "Blue Cross"?
- Answer: "Blue Cross" is the name applied to the non-profit hospital service plans sponsored by the American Hospital Association.
- Q: What is the meaning of the Blue Cross emblem?
- A: This emblem, a blue cross with the seal of the American Hospital Association superimposed, is the "stamp" of approval by the AHA. It may be used only by such plans as have been granted such approval by the American Hospital Association.
- Q: What is the purpose of Blue Cross?
- A: Blue Cross Plans were organized as a means of protecting both patient and hospital: the patient from unexpected hospital bills, and the hospital from loss when the patient was unable to pay his bill.
- Q: What part of the Blue Cross subscriber's dollar goes into benefits?
- A: A national average of 89c of each dollar is paid out in benefits. So far in 1954, the New Mexico Plan has remitted 87.5c in benefits.
- Q: What is meant by the term "Blue Cross hospital"?
- A: When hospitals sign a contract with a Blue Cross Plan, they are often referred to as "Blue Cross hospitals." This simply means THEY HAVE AGREED TO FURNISH THEIR SERVICES TO THE BLUE CROSS MEMBER, and in return the Plan agrees to make its remittance directly to the hospital.
- Q: How many hospitals have entered such agreements?
- A: Forty-five hospitals in New Mexico are now "Blue Cross" hospitals. Nationally, over 5800 hospitals, including over 85% of all hospital beds, have joined the Blue Cross movement.
- Q: What is the advantage to the hospital of entering such an agreement?
- A: First, the hospital knows, when the patient is admitted, what type of coverage he has; Second, remittance for the hospital's services are always made directly to the "Blue Cross" hospital itself.
- Q: What is the advantage to the Blue Cross member of entering such a hospital?
- A: First, he is provided the hospital's most important services, such as medicines, oxygen, laboratory procedures, etc., WITHOUT LIMIT for the period of time provided in his membership contract; Second, he is regularly admitted without a required deposit.
- Q: Is Blue Cross "good" in any hospital?
- A: The Blue Cross member is provided coverage in non-contracting hospitals. These coverages are clearly stated in the member's contract. (Available at enrollment centers).
- Q: Can a Blue Cross member be "dropped"?
- A: No membership may be terminated by the Plan for any reason of age, condition of health, or utilization.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

BACK FROM a three-day business trip, a husband admitted to his wife that he was utterly bushed. "Not only was I rushing around fourteen hours a day," he complained, "but I had to sleep in a saloon."

Old coger in a sleepy New England village had lived in the same ramshackle cottage since the day of his birth many years ago. Suddenly he started his cronies by gathering his few belongings and moving into the house next door. "What's the big idea?" everybody asked him. He scratched his head and admitted, "Durned if I know myself. Must be the gypsy in me!"
