

RIGHT-OF-WAY MAY KILL FOREST ROAD FOR 1954

Committee Urges More Fire Protection for Artesia

Campaign Pumper, Station

Need for additional fire protection in Artesia was discussed yesterday afternoon in a Chamber of Commerce fire prevention committee meeting.

Committee members mapped plans for a new fire substation to be located in the south end of the city, for a new pumper truck and a full time employee at the proposed substation.

Robertson, committee chairman, stated that fire insurance in Artesia cannot go any further.

Committee members in the past were Albert Richards, fire chief for 39 years, and the second oldest still-active fireman in New Mexico, J. L. Roberts, city council fire and police committee chairman, and Paul Roberts, chamber manager.

The estimated cost of the new building and truck has been tentatively set at $20,000, Roberts said.

Mayor and Councilman Robertson stated such a money cannot be met from current budget funds.

Committee also discussed the possibility of an Artesia observance week, Oct. 3-9, to invite insurance inspectors to the city during the week to make an inspection of Artesia buildings and give recommendations.

Other items discussed were the possibility of a parade with floats showing fire prevention methods.

It was discussed whether it was possible to have an incendiary bomb fire in Artesia department during the week to tie in with civil defense programs in the city.

The committee also recommended the employment of a fire warden for the city, which now has no authority in such a position.

Robertson told the Advocate Friday that he will take a great deal of planning to get this done. The people of Artesia should realize the need for additional fire fighting facilities.

"We don't really have difficulty with our fire fighting," he said. "We have one of the best fire departments in the United States."

However, we are looking to the future, expecting our city will have its steady growth. We should begin now planning for the future.

Artesia Family Raises Rare Bottle-Fed White Cocker

White-haired dogs aren't rare in the United States—they range from mongrels through the White Spitz and beyond—but a snow-white Cocker Spaniel is something else. And such a snow-white pup is the possession of the Lyle Donovans of 1008 Sears.

Cockers usually are tan or black—and when the seventh pup arrived when Lucky Penny Donovan became a mother for the first time, all present were a little awed—not the least the mother.

It may be that Donovan's Lucky—what's his name?—is one of only two such cockers in the United States. In any case, if Snow White isn't a white, but turns to a silver Cocker, he'll be one of three or four in the U. S.

Donovan, an engineer here, explained that a Lubbock, Texas, dog show judge said that American Kennel records show only one white Cocker in the U. S., and either three or four "silvers."

Snow White may turn out to be silver. In any case, the pup has already determined that he's the favorite of the litter of eight, and swings his weight around in just such fashion.

He's a little runtish, perhaps—his brothers and sisters have outgrown him, but the Donovans have taken to feeding him with a conventional bottle of milk, fed through a nipple. He laps it up,

New Armory For Artesia Is Studied

SANTA FE —Artesia is one of 10 New Mexico cities being considered for construction of new National Guard armories, Maj. Gen. Charles G. Sage, adjutant general of New Mexico, announced last night.

The construction is scheduled when money is available, Gen. Sage said.

Construction may start this fall on armories at Lordsburg, Alamosa and Springer, Gen. Sage said. He added that he had told National Guard officials in Lordsburg and Alamosa that construction of armories in those towns would hinge on at least 80 men from each city attending the state encampment at Fort Bliss, Texas, this summer.

"We have enough money to build these three armories now," Sage said. "If they should cost less than $50,000 each, we may have enough for a fourth."

Future armory construction, when money is available, is planned at Hobbs, Farmington, Artesia, Portales, Clayton, Truth or Consequences, plus a new armory at Las Cruces.

Sage predicted that the army section of the state National Guard would send 3000 men to Fort Bliss during the August 15-29 encampment.

The 188th Air National Guard Fighter Squadron is represented 100 per cent at the air meeting now in progress in Wyoming, Sage said. Some 350 men are now training there, and Sage said he will leave today to join them.

ENMU PRESIDENT Floyd Golden of Portales yesterday presented to Neil Watson, right, Artesia, member of the board of regents of Eastern New Mexico university, an ENMU yearbook. Golden, while here, urged every means at the disposal of friends of education be utilized in order to assure passage in November of a $4 1/2 billion bond issue for various New Mexico higher educational institutions. (Advocate Photo)

Golden Urges Passage of Bond Funds for ENMU Construction

Dr. Floyd Golden, president of Eastern New Mexico university, Portales, said here today that by all means, citizens should vote for the $4 1/2-billion education bond issue in November, and cited ENMU's "desperate need" for three buildings.

The president is visiting here with various school and other officials in Eddy county, among them, Neil Watson, local attorney, who is a member of the board of regents of ENMU.

Dr. Golden said that while the $4 1/2-billion bond issue may be small in comparison with what surveys show to be needed, it will help all colleges and universities in the state. Surveys have shown that at least $25 million is needed to head off crowded conditions in the schools of higher learning, the portent of which is today's crowded secondary schools.

Dr. Golden said that a fine arts building, an extension on the gymnasium and a swimming pool, and a home economics building were the three "desperately needed" buildings, and that an industrial arts building, and a classroom building occupied No. 4 and No. 5 spots in ENMU needs. The five would cost about a million dollars, the classroom building about half of the total.

The structures are needed, said the president, to replace war surplus buildings which have served their purpose.

Last year, ENMU enrollment was 896, in not more than five years, Dr. Golden predicted, enrollment will be in the neighborhood of 1,500, and still growing.

ENMU colleges include liberal arts, business and economics, music, teacher education and technology.

Official Says Cash May Go Elsewhere Unless Land Signed

SANTA FE — (AP) — A government highway official warned today that right-of-way troubles may sidetrack plans for a mid-July bid opening on the James Canyon project on highway 83 west of Mayhill.

"If those people down there want this project, they better get together on the right-of-way or we will have to put the money somewhere else," W. J. Keller, district engineer of the bureau of public roads, told the Associated Press.

The proposed project runs from the east side of Mayhill westerly for about 6 1/2 miles in Lincoln national forest land. Full construction with a temporary black top surface is contemplated.

Paul Scott, Chamber of Commerce manager at Artesia, recently called at Keller's office to find out when the James Canyon job would be undertaken.

Keller was absent then. He said today, however, that the job tentatively has been scheduled for a bid opening around the middle of next month, if right-of-way is obtained first.

"If it isn't obtained, we can't very well defer advertising the project. We will just have to put the money on some job where the right-of-way is available."

Keller did not mention it, but one such road might be highway 260 north of Silver City.

Backers of that highway have been very active in recent months in asking for some construction.

THE MONEY for the Mayhill-west project would come from New Mexico's share of forest road money expected to become available after July 1. New Mexico's share will run to about $900,000.

Scott also asked when something might be expected for the project east from Mayhill toward Elk. No money has yet been programmed for that work, Keller said. It would have to come from the following year's appropriation, if one is made.

Before money for that year is earmarked, there will have to be an agreement by the bureau, the state highway engineer, and the regional U. S. forester on where the money is to be spent.

Scott also conferred while here (Continued on Page 8)

Gas Pipeline To Northwest Is Approved

WASHINGTON —The federal power commission today authorized Pacific Northwest Pipeline Corp., Houston, Texas, to deliver natural gas to Pacific Northwest markets.

The project involves a 1446-mile pipeline from gas fields in the San Juan Basin of New Mexico and Colorado to Bellingham, Wash.

It would cost initially an estimated 160 million dollars.

Service would be provided communities in Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Utah, Colorado and Wyoming.

The commission also authorized Colorado Interstate Gas Co., Colorado Springs, Colo., to build a pipeline to carry gas received from Pacific Northwest to market areas in Colorado and Wyoming.

Permission to pipe gas into the northwest states, last major area of the nation without natural gas, also had been sought by West-coast Transmission Co., Inc., Wilmington, Del., Trans-Northwest Gas Co., Spokane, Wash., and Northwest Natural Gas Co., New York City.

Each of these three proposed to import natural gas from Canada.

Hot Rodders Set Long-Cherished First Drag Race

Members of Artesia Road King Hot Rod club will hold their first long-cherished drag race Sunday at Hagerman airport.

Indications are that 15 to 20 Artesians will enter the races, which begin in the cool of the morning at 8 p. m., Pres. Gayle Richardson said.

Electrical timing devices will measure car speed within one mile per hour over 3/4 mile, 1/4 mile, and 1/2 mile courses.

Fastest car measured over the course last year was a 1953 Cadillac, owned by a Walker Air Force Base airman, clocked at 105 miles an hour. Seventy-nine was fastest over the 1/4 mile course.

Richardson said it is expected motorcycleists will also compete Sunday.

Funeral Services For Brother of J. D. Smith Set

Mr. Smith formerly operated a well pump business in the Pecos Valley and was for many years (Continued on Page 8)

Chamber to Hold July Open House In New Quarters

Artesia Chamber of Commerce expects to hold Open House in its new quarters July 14, C. C. McGrath said this morning.

The new location is at Main and Second in the building formerly occupied by The Toggery Shop.

Police Subdue Battling Arrest Subject Here

Lewis Hendricks, 19-year-old Artesia resident, is due to go on trial in police magistrate's court this afternoon on a charge of being drunk, one of two charges filed against him last night by Artesia police.

Hendricks today had plead guilty to a charge of reckless driving and was fined $50 by Justice of the Peace John Elliott. He plead not guilty, however, to the second charge.

Hendricks was arrested shortly after midnight by police officers and taken to the station. There he created a disturbance and during the melee, Lt. Bob Williams' eye glasses were broken. Placed in the jail cell, according to police, Hendricks broke off the lavatory and water flooded his cell.

Judge Elliott said that police reported Hendricks threatened to kill Williams, and during his trial this morning on the reckless driving charge, attempted to repeat the threat, Elliott said.

Hendricks is married. He is a service station attendant.

Buyers Inspect 300,000 Pounds Of Artesia Wool

An estimated 300,000 pounds of wool were offered buyers today at the Artesia Wool Growers' Co-op., with about half the amount having been bid in by noon, according to Ralph Vandewart, manager.

He said that the price ranged from 35 cents to 58 1/2 cents.

The wool was offered for sale through sealed bids, Vandewart said.

Subscribers to the calendar who have not received copies by the end of the week may call 1800, the school office or Justin D. Bradbury, band director, Strook said.

Despite Rough Economy, Raton Has Fun Holding First Annual Kearny Entrada Commemorating General

By STEVE LOWELL
RATON — Gen. Stephen Kearny came back to life today—at the head of a 35-block parade. History turned back 108 years as Ratonians, bolstered by throngs from neighboring Oklahoma, Colorado and West Texas, as well as many curious tourists from other states, staged a highlight of their first "Kearny Entrada."

It was in June, 1846, at Kearney was ordered from Ft. Leavenworth, Kan., to New Mexico to take it over from the Mexican government. He moved over rugged Raton Pass, just north of where this northeastern New Mexico City now is located, at the head of 1,660 troops.

The United States had just declared war on Mexico, and Kearny was, as history records, "to establish temporary civil government therein."

On Aug. 15, 1846, Kearny moved about 100 miles down the Santa Fe trail to Las Vegas where he assured the people of protection as long as they remained peaceful.

His troops trekked on 65 miles west over Gloria Pass, scene of a comparatively little known Civil War battle a few years later, and arrived in Santa Fe on Aug. 18. He set up a civil government and drew up a code of laws. History says that by doing so, he was "exceeding his instructions and ignoring the territorial claims of Texas, out of which had grown the Rio Grande. To make good its claim, it sent 300 men into New Mexico. They reached their goal starved and exhausted, were captured and after a short confinement in Mexico they were released.

The United States declared war on Mexico five years later. Kearny was ordered into New Mexico, and in 1848, by the Treaty of Guadalupe-Hidalgo, the area was ceded by Mexico to its rapidly growing neighbor to the north.

Here with the throng of costumed Ratonians were four women whose hearts were close to the festivities. One was 89-year-old Mrs. Annie Kearny Bragg of Pueblo, Colo. Gen. Kearny was her grandfather. Another was Mrs. Pearl Kellogg, a descendant of Col. Alexander Doniphan, who was with Kearny on his entrada—or entry—into New Mexico.

The third was Mrs. Olga Muddock of Springer, a granddaughter of Capt. Woldemar Fischer, who was with Kearny and Doniphan and for whom a peak near Trinidad, Colo., was named. The fourth was Mrs. Winifred Oldham Hamilton, who operates pine tree lodge at Red River. She is the granddaughter of a soldier named Oldham, who was with Kearny.

Gov. Edwin Mechem and Olivia Stockton of Raton, the Republican who hopes to succeed Mechem, also were watching the parade.

More Little League Ball Players Sought for Majors

More boys are still needed to fill out ranks of the eight Little League teams in Artesia, H. D. Burch, president of the league, said here today—and likewise, more adult help is needed.

There are periodic resignations from the ranks of the youngsters for various reasons, creating need for boys in most any position. Burch said that any youngster who feels he can hold down any position is invited to come out for a try-out.

Burch repeated his plea for additional adult help—saying that coaches often have to double as umpires.

Meanwhile, the NuMexers were overrun yesterday afternoon 27 to 4 by a strong Clem and Clem hitting attack—and Guy Chevrolet dumped Williams Furniture 17 to 4.

Today, at City Park diamond, CVE and the FN Bankers tie up, and Rusell meets Elks.

S. Manchester, Hagerman, beginning Sunday night. Pastor-Evangelist F. D. Rusche, of Roswell, will conduct the meetings. Subjects for the first week will be as follows: Tuesday, June 22, "Will Russia Rule the World"; Thursday, June 24, "Is Doom's Day Near?"; Sunday, June 27, "The Climax of World History."

"Singspiration" will begin at 7:30 p. m. and special music will be rendered each night. No offering will be taken.

Textbooks are supplied free to public school pupils in New Mexico, at public expense.

$200,000 Award

77-YEAR-OLD Mrs. Elizabeth Bowman is shown in Chicago after winning a $200,000 judgment, biggest ever voted by a Cook county jury in a state court, against the Illinois Central railroad. She collects on behalf of her son, Charles Dale Bowman, 41, injured in a train mishap in 1948. ## Geese Hoehands Have Rival in Turkey in Cotton

It is not an uncommon sight to see a flock of geese "grazing" on grass and weeds in a New Mexico cotton field. The "honkers" are acknowledged to be pretty fair cotton choppers. Now it appears that cotton farmers may be able to add another member of the feathered fowl family to his labor list—the turkey.

A North Carolina turkey farmer reports that his birds have helped him to solve his weed problem. E. B. Stevens, one of the Tarheel state's largest turkey producers had a serious problem with honeysuckle and other weeds last season. Stevens turned his large flock of growing turkeys into the field and presto, the honeysuckle, weeds, and even an undesirable brush disappeared almost overnight.

It is quite logical that the turkey likes and dislikes for feed would not vary too much from the geese's. But if he is one of the broad-breasted baby beef varieties it would take a lot more grass and weeds to satisfy his appetite. Thus, variety taken into consideration, a flock of turkeys may prove to be better cotton choppers than a flock of geese. The only catch—no one seems to know whether the turkey, if placed in a cotton field after the plants have passed the succulent stage, would eat the grass and weeds and leave the cotton plants.

Inside WASHINGTON MARCH OF EVENTS

Republican Congress O.K.'s | He's Senator Harry F. Byrd, Democrat's Probe of Agencies | Long Advocate of Economy

WASHINGTON—In a city where the unusual is quite often the normal thing, a Democratic senator is conducting a major investigation of Republican agencies. He is doing it with the sanction of a Republican Congress!

Never before in history has such a thing occurred, yet no undue alarm is being shown by Republican leaders over the Democratic-led probe. They expect a non-political investigation.

Who is this Democrat in whom the Republicans impose such trust? He is Senator Harry Flood Byrd of Virginia, only Democrat ever to head a committee in a Republican Congress.

Byrd is now engaged in a painstaking investigation of the administration's scandal-ridden Federal Housing administration. This agency is entrusted with the task of underwriting billions of dollars worth of private housing construction and repair work.

There are estimates that as much as $500 million in exorbitant profits have gone to unscrupulous builders who obtained excessive loans through the FHA and pocketed the difference between the actual cost of a housing project and the larger loan.

Another Senate committee, that on banking and currency, is garnering the headlines. This committee, headed by Senator Homer Capehart (R), Indiana, has legislative jurisdiction over housing. However, Byrd's joint committee on reduction of non-essential federal expenditures has been doing undercover work on the housing scandals for more than a year.

An aide has said the group, unique in that it is the only regular committee of Congress to contain House, Senate and executive branch representatives, will complete its investigation and then submit a detailed report on its findings.

The committee works with a limited staff, has no investigators, and has requested no additional money for the probe. Whenever it finds indications of tax violations, it turns the matter over to the Internal Revenue service for investigation.

The committee does the same when it turns up criminal violations, turning the evidence over to the Justice department. Essentially, the committee is a one-man operation, the one man, of course, being Byrd. This unusual committee was created by Congress in October 1941 to see what could be done to bring about economy in government. Byrd sponsored the resolution establishing the committee and has been its chairman ever since.

IN 1947, WHEN THE REPUBLICANS TOOK OVER Congress for a two-year term, Byrd offered to resign, but Republican leaders did not take up his offer. However, they neglected to furnish the committee with any funds.

This did not faze the Virginia senator, long known as Congress' leading advocate of economy in government. He proceeded to conduct the committee without funds, using his own office staff to operate it.

When the Republicans took over again in 1953, no move was made to supplant Byrd as chairman. This time the Republicans voted funds for his committee.

Byrd's supporters say the Senator has saved the country billions of dollars by keeping tab on federal expenditures. Byrd estimated on one occasion that his committee saved the government $1.3 billion in a single year during the war.

OIL-PLATING***

conquers friction wear . . . because this exclusive discovery actually fastens a thin film of lubricant to moving engine parts for full-time protection.

Protection 2

conquers corrosive wear . . . because this exclusive new discovery gives Conoco Super up to twice the cleansing power of other premium oils!

Automotive engineers have long known that friction and corrosion are the two major causes of engine wear. Now, from the laboratories of Continental Oil, comes America's first Double-Duty motor oil. It combines two exclusive discoveries (Oil-Plating and Acid-Proofing)* to conquer both major causes of engine wear.

The unique Oil-Plating additive conquers friction wear by actually fastening a thin film of protective oil to engine parts. Unlike ordinary motor oil, this film won't drain down even when your engine has been stopped overnight. Thus you get full-time protection against damaging wear due to friction.

Exclusive Acid-Proofing additive conquers corrosive wear three ways—it neutralizes acids, prevents rust, and gobbles up tiny particles of dust, dirt, and water and seals them safely in spheres of oil until the oil is drained. ACID-PROOFING actually gives new Conoco Super twice the cleansing power of other premium oils!

New Conoco Super Motor Oil is on sale at Conoco dealers everywhere. Drive in and ask for it today!

Your Conoco dealer will recommend the right grade of new Conoco Super Motor Oil for your car, your climate, your driving conditions!

More Little League Ball Players Sought for Majors

More boys are still needed to fill out ranks of the eight Little League teams in Artesia. H. D. Burch, president of the league, said here today—and likewise, more adult help is needed.

There are periodic resignations from the ranks of the youngsters for various reasons, creating need for boys in almost any position. Burch said that any youngster who feels he can hold down any position is invited to come out for a try-out.

Burch repeated his plea for additional adult help—saying that coaches often have to double as umpires.

Meanwhile, the NuMexers were overrun yesterday afternoon 27 to 4 by a strong Clem and Clem hitting attack—and Guy Chevrolet dumped Williams Furniture 17 to 4.

Today, at City Park diamond, CVE and the FN Bankers tie up, and Russell meets Elks.

S. Manchester, Hagerman, beginning Sunday night.

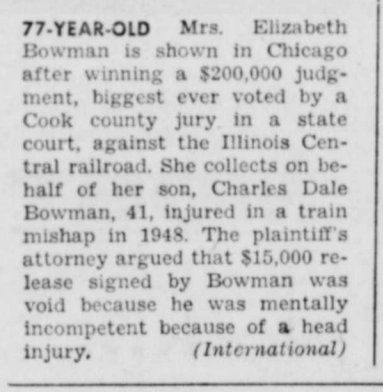

Pastor-Evangelist F. D. Rusche, of Roswell, will conduct the meetings. Subjects for the first week will be as follows: Tuesday, June 22, "Will Russia Rule the World?"; Thursday, June 24, "Is Doom's Day Near?"; Sunday, June 27, "The Climax of World History."

"Singspiration" will begin at 7:30 p. m. and special music will be rendered each night.

No offering will be taken.

Textbooks are supplied free to public school pupils in New Mexico, at public expense.

Geese Hoehands Have Rival in Turkey in Cotton

It is not an uncommon sight to see a flock of geese "grazing" on grass and weeds in a New Mexico cotton field. The "honkers" are acknowledged to be pretty fair cotton choppers. Now it appears that cotton farmers may be able to add another member of the feathered fowl family to his labor list—the turkey.

A North Carolina turkey farmer reports that his birds have helped him to solve his weed problem. E. B. Stevens, one of the Tarheel state's largest turkey producers had a serious problem with honeysuckle and other weeds last season. Stevens turned his large flock of growing turkeys into the field and presto, the honeysuckle, weeds, and even an undesirable brush disappeared almost overnight.

It is quite logical that the turkey's likes and dislikes for feed would not vary too much from the geese's. But if he is one of the broad-breasted baby beef varieties it would take a lot more grass and weeds to satisfy his appetite. Thus, variety taken into consideration, a flock of turkeys may prove to be better cotton choppers than a flock of geese. The only catch—no one seems to know whether the turkey, if placed in a cotton field after the plants have passed the succulent stage, would eat the grass and weeds and leave the cotton plants

Inside WASHINGTON MARCH OF EVENTS

Republican Congress O.K.'s | He's Senator Harry F. Byrd, Democrat's Probe of Agencies | Long Advocate of Economy

Special to Central Press
WASHINGTON—In a city where the unusual is quite often the normal thing, a Democratic senator is conducting a major investigation of Republican agencies. He is doing it with the sanction of a Republican Congress.

Never before in history has such a thing occurred, yet no undue alarm is being shown by Republican leaders over the Democratic-led probe. They expect a non-political investigation.

Who is this Democrat in whom the Republicans impose such trust? He is Senator Harry Flood Byrd of Virginia, only Democrat ever to head a committee in a Republican Congress.

Byrd is now engaged in a painstaking investigation of the administration's scandal-ridden Federal Housing administration. This agency is entrusted with the task of underwriting billions of dollars worth of private housing construction and repair work.

There are estimates that as much as $500 million in exorbitant profits have gone to unscrupulous builders who obtained excessive loans through the FHA and pocketed the difference between the actual cost of a housing project and the larger loan.

WHILE BYRD IS ENGAGED IN HIS PROBE, another Senate committee, that on banking and currency, is garnering the headlines. This committee, headed by Senator Homer Capehart (R), Indiana, has legislative jurisdiction over housing. However, Byrd's joint committee on reduction of non-essential federal expenditures has been doing undercover work on the housing scandals for more than a year.

An aide has said the group, unique in that it is the only regular committee of Congress to contain House, Senate and executive branch representatives, will complete its investigation and then submit a detailed report on its findings.

The committee works with a limited staff, has no investigators, and has requested no additional money for the probe. Whenever it finds indications of tax violations, it turns the matter over to the Internal Revenue service for investigation.

The committee does the same when it turns up criminal violations, turning the evidence over to the Justice department. Essentially, the committee is a one-man operation, the one man, of course, being Byrd. This unusual committee was created by Congress in October 1941 to see what could be done to bring about economy in government. Byrd sponsored the resolution establishing the committee and has been its chairman ever since.

IN 1947, WHEN THE REPUBLICANS TOOK OVER Congress for a two-year term, Byrd offered to resign, but Republican leaders did not take up his offer. However, they neglected to furnish the committee with any funds.

This did not faze the Virginia senator, long known as Congress' leading advocate of economy in government. He proceeded to conduct the committee without funds, using his own office staff to operate it.

When the Republicans took over again in 1953, no move was made to supplant Byrd as chairman. This time the Republicans voted funds for his committee.

Byrd's supporters say the Senator has saved the country billions of dollars by keeping tab on federal expenditures. Byrd estimated on one occasion that his committee saved the government $1.3 billion in a single year during the war.

Protection 2

conquers corrosive wear . . . because this exclusive new discovery gives Conoco Super up to twice the cleansing power of other premium oils!

Automotive engineers have long known that friction and corrosion are the two major causes of engine wear. Now, from the laboratories of Continental Oil, comes America's first Double-Duty motor oil. It combines two exclusive discoveries (Oil-Plating and Acid-Proofing)* to conquer both major causes of engine wear.

The unique Oil-Plating additive conquers friction wear by actually fastening a thin film of protective oil to engine parts. Unlike ordinary motor oil, this film won't drain down even when your engine has been stopped overnight. Thus you get full-time protection against damaging wear due to friction.

Exclusive Acid-Proofing additive conquers corrosive wear three ways—it neutralizes acids, prevents rust, and gobbles up tiny particles of dust, dirt, and water and seals them safely in spheres of oil until the oil is drained. ACID-PROOFING actually gives new Conoco Super twice the cleansing power of other premium oils!

After Punishing Fight, Victor Rocky Marciano Thinks Charles Should Have September Chance

By MURRAY ROSE
NEW YORK (AP)—"He gave me a helluva fight. He deserves a return fight if he wants it."

Thus spoke heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano after his thrilling, come-from-behind 15-round decision over game, undaunted Ezzard Charles in a savage scrap in Yankee Stadium last night.

"I want him again," snarled the battered, unfazed 32-year-old Charles. "I thought I won. I think I came closer to knocking him out than he did me. The next time it will be different."

The lean Cincinnati Cobra, who failed for the second time in an attempt to become the first ex-champion to regain the heavyweight crown, may get his chance in September.

"Charles is entitled to the return," said Al Weill, manager of the all-conquering Brockton Bruiser. "It was a great show and a great fight. If Rocky's cut comes out okay, I'd say a September fight with Charles in New York is a great possibility."

"If not Charles," continued Weill, "maybe that Englishman—Don Cockell—or maybe the winner of the Hurricane Jackson-Nino Valdes fight they meet in Madison Square Garden July 14 if they put on an exciting fight. Say, was not that a great scrap?"

It was that, and more. Practically every one of the 47,585 paying customers, who contributed to a gross gate of $543,092, left the ball park raving about lambing brawl, of the outstanding heavyweight tussles in years.

"It was as tough as my first fight with Jersey Joe Walcott, maybe tougher," said the 29-year-old unbeaten Marciano, who went 15 rounds for the first time in his career. It was only the sixth time Rocky had to win by votes of the officials and one of the very few in which he failed to floor his opponent. He swept his other 40 by knockouts.

For four rounds it was all Charles. The 185 1/2-pound, 185-undergod boxed beautifully. Then the 187 1/2-pound Rocky, bleeding profusely from a wide, punch-and-a-quarter gash over his left eye, came on.

The muscular, bulldozing champion almost put Ezzard away in the sixth, kept driving until he was ahead slightly by the 10th, and then almost stowed Charles away several times in the later rounds. In the last, he battered the swollen-faced, hands-down challenger all over the ring.

The officials' votes brought no protests except from the Charles camp. Referee Ruby Goldstein had it 8-5-2. Judge Harold Barnes, 8-6-1 and Judge Arthur Aidaia, 9-5-1. The Associated Press score card had Rocky far in front 10-4-1, giving the champion every round from the fifth on with the exception of the seventh. That round was called even.

Rocky's purse, not counting the movies which may prove to be a bonanza, came to about $275,961. Charles collected approximately $137,980. That included their share of the gate, the approximately $188,000 from the telecast to 61 theaters in 45 cities, and the $35,000 from the network radio broadcast.

The gash over Rocky's left eye opened in the fourth round—required 10 stitches by Dr. Vincent Nardiello. The physician cut away some old scar tissue in his post-fight operation at St. Clare's hospital. Charles required some treatment too for his swollen features.

"He's strong and throws a lot of punches but he didn't give me as tough a fight as Walcott did," Ez said. "In fact, all four of my fights with Walcott were tougher. He didn't hurt me near as much as Walcott did."

Rocky said he was "surprised by Charles' ability to take a punch and by his power. I just couldn't get going early. I guess I was dull. But at the finish I was plenty fresh not the least bit tired."

Through the first four rounds Charles bewildered the slugging champ with left jabs, hooks and rights and successfully tied up the flat-footed, stalking Marciano.

Rocky unlimbered his left hooks to take the fifth. In the sixth the often wild-swinging Marciano rocked Charles with a terrific right to the jaw and solid hook to the stomach.

Amateur Billy Joe Patton Breathes Life Into Open

SPRINGFIELD, N. J. — Whoever said tournament golf needed some new faces didn't reckon with the squarish, smiling face of William J. Patton, who prefers to be called Billy Joe; the serious, blue-eyed look of Gene Litterer, or the broad-browed head of Al Mengert.

These four, hardly more than numbers on the program to most of the huge opening day crowd at Baltusrol, were right up at the top of the list as the 54th National Open Golf Championship went into its second day. The faces that drew the crowds—Ben Hogan and Sam Snead—had to be content with more or less secondary roles.

Patton, the 82-year-old Morgan-town, N. C., lumberman who probably gets more fun out of golf than any other tournament player, breathed new life into an already opening round of 32-37-69 yesterday.

That was the only time tough old Baltusrol's tournament par of 34-36-70 was beaten yesterday and Billy Joe had the time of his life doing it as he slugged and scrambled his way around the 7,027-yard lower course.

One stroke behind Patton came Litterer, the 1953 amateur champion, who won't be 24—nor eligible to win money in PGA tournaments—until July; Toski, 27, the leading money winner of the pro circuit; and the 34-year-old Ted Krol, No. 4 on the money list.

Defending champion Hogan and Ed Furgol, an experienced tournament player, were tied at 71 with 25-year-old Mengert, a pro less than two years.

Snead, still suffering from a painful stiff neck and hitting some of his long shots badly, wound up in the 72 bracket with a flock of others, including three former champions, Lew Worsham, Lloyd Mangrum and Cary Middlecoff.

It still was anybody's tournament.

Three-Run Homer in Fifth Puts Ashers Over Roswell 12-6

CARLSBAD — Pedro Osorio brought the Carlsbad Pot ashers from behind with a three-run homer in the fifth inning as they rallied to defeat the Roswell Rockets 12-6 here tonight.

Osorio's offensive punch and stout defensive work in the out field enabled Hank Williams to pick up his fifth mound victory of the campaign against four losses. The loser was Toribio Pestana first of four Roswell hurlers.

The Rockets picked up three earned runs in the first two innings to go out in front, but Osorio's three-run blast, after Goldie Gholson scored earlier in the fifth, put the Miners ahead to stay. All four runs were unearned as a result of Roswell centerfielder Duane White dropping a fly ball which would have gone for the third out. The fly ball gave Raul Dieppa life and brought in Gholson. Then Osorio delivered the go-ahead circuit smash.

Carlsbad picked up a single tally in the sixth and three more in the seventh while Roswell got three in the top of the eighth.

Ike Jackson's grand slam homer in the bottom of the eighth cinched it for Carlsbad.

When the two clubs wind up their current series here tomorrow night Bob Weaver will pitch for Carlsbad with either Tom Sawyer or Ramon Laza the Roswell selection.

Atkinson Hurls Four-Hit Shutout Over Midland 4-0

MIDLAND — Ralph Atkinson didn't allow a batter passed first base as he roped and tied Sweetwater 4-0 on a four-hit shutout in an hour and 30 minutes before a turnout of 900 family night fans here Thursday.

Midland gave Atkinson his winning margin in the fourth when Tom Barton beat out an infield single, Charles Terrasi bounced a double over the wall in left center and later came home on Ben Jones' single.

In the eighth Pat Waters followed the game's lone display with his fifth homer of the year to make it 4-0.

BIG SPRING — Bob Doe's two-out single scored Julio de la Torre with the run that enabled the Big Spring Broncs to fell the Longhorn league pace-setters, Artesia NuMexers, in the 16th inning here Thursday night.

Despite the loss, Artesia retained first place in a tight Longhorn league race. Second-place Roswell lost also last night, failing before Carlsbad 12-6.

Tonight the NuMexers again go against Big Spring at Big Spring. Bob Upton, the NuMexers' third hurler, was in trouble in every inning save one after going to the hill in the ninth but proved superb in the clutch until he weakened in the 16th.

De la Torre greeted him with a single through the box in that round and was advanced to second base by Pepper Martin's sacrifice. Tito Arcencibia struck out swinging but Doe hit a one-baser off the glove of shortstop Charley Watts to send the partisan fans home happy.

De la Torre had hit his 15th home run of the season with a mate on in the first.

Artesia appeared beat two outs deep in the ninth but ganged up on Mike Rainey, who went all the way on the mound for Big Spring, for three hits and two runs in that frame to send the game into extra rounds.

Rainey received credit for his 11th victory of the year. After John Godell drove in the tying runs in the ninth, Rainey never gave the opposition a look-in.

Bob Herron hit a second inning solo home run for Artesia while Mickey Sullivan lifted one out of the park as the leadoff man for the NuMexers in the sixth.

MAJOR LEAGUE ROUNDUPS—All Three American League Leaders Capture Wins, Giants Two Games Ahead of Dodgers

By BEN PHILEGAR
All three American league leaders won yesterday. Cleveland ran its winning streak to eight games with a 6-4 triumph over Washington. The White Sox outlasted Philadelphia 6-4 and New York breezed over Baltimore 9-2. Boston lost its ninth game in its last 10 starts, 2-1 to Detroit.

In the National league, the New York Giants pulled two games in front of the Brooklyn Dodgers by shading Cincinnati 2-1. Brooklyn lost to Milwaukee 6-4. Philadelphia and St. Louis played the longest game of the season—15 innings—before the Phils won 3-2 with Robin Roberts going all the way. Chicago was rained out at Pittsburgh.

Cleveland jumped away to a three-run lead in the first inning against the Senators as Frank Shea walked two men and hit one. Vic Wertz doubled and Wally Westlake singled. The Washington runs came in the seventh when Early Wynn walked the bases loaded and in the ninth on Mickey Vernon's two-run homer.

Gus Zernial, who had been feuding with Manager Eddie Joost of the Athletics, came off the bench to deliver a three-run, pinch-hit home at Chicago. His blast followed a bases-empty homer by Bill Wilson. But the A's were trailing by six runs by the time they found the range and they could not catch up.

Baltimore's defense fell apart as the Orioles lost their third straight to the Yankees. New York wrapped it up with five runs in the sixth-inning with the help of Baltimore's errors in fielding and judgment.

George Zverink had his sinker ball working to perfection against the last-place Red Sox. He walked nobody, struck out nobody and didn't allow a hit in the last 4 2/3 innings.

The Giants beat the Redlegs without a hit. They got two singles an hour apart, but their two runs came on a pair of walks, two errors and a force play.

Jim Wilson of the Braves, a no-hit winner his last time out, ran his string of hitless innings to 10 and scoreless innings to 24 before the Dodgers broke into the scoring column. They pounded him hard, once they started, getting seven extra-base hits. But Milwaukee was hitting for distance too, and Wilson stayed on top.

Roberts scored the winning run in the marathon at Philadelphia. He opened the 15th by walking, moved to second on a sacrifice, to third on an infield grounder and scored on a single by Del Ennis.

The Philadelphia right-hander didn't walk a man in the 15 innings. He struck out seven and gave up 10 hits. Bobby Morgan forced the game into overtime with a home run off Gerry Staley with two out in the ninth. Joe

Democrats Urge Prosecutions Following McCarthy Hearings

WASHINGTON — Democrats on the McCarthy-Army investigating subcommittee today called for the Eisenhower administration to consider quickly whether there should be criminal prosecutions as a result of the hearings—for perjury or misuse of a secret document.

Sen. McClellan (D-Ark.), speaking for the Democrats, said there should also be a fast decision as to whether there is need for an "immediate house cleaning" on the staff of the McCarthy investigations subcommittee.

Sens. Symington (Mo.) and Jackson (Wash.), the other two Democratic members, met reporters with McClellan and said they concurred in his views.

McClellan said he feels the wind-up of the hearings leaves two "immediate" problems for the executive branch of the government to consider.

1.—A Justice department inquiry to determine "if perjury has been committed" in the sharply contradictory testimony.

2.—The probability of a crime having been committed in connection with the 2 1/4 page document which came into controversy in the hearings.

Sen. McCarthy produced this paper, first identifying it as a letter from FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover to Army intelligence. The subcommittee checked with Hoover and was advised it was not a letter by him but did contain excerpts from a lengthy FBI report to the Army on security problems at Fort Monmouth, N. J.

The document was never made public because Atty. Gen. Brownell ruled it made "unauthorized use" of secret material, and that to release it would be contrary to the national interest.

Big Cash Prizes, Trips Offered State 4-H Members

New Mexico boys and girls, by their skills in growing, marketing, or use of horticultural crops, can win substantial cash and trip awards in contests sponsored by the National Junior Vegetable Growers Assn.

Announcement of the 20th annual program of activities of this youth organization by Geronimo Chavez, associate state 4-H club leader and state NJVGA chairman, included:

The 15th annual production and marketing contest which stresses good growing and marketing practices of the garden project.

The 12th annual demonstration contest which is divided into four subject sections — production, soil fertility, marketing, and use of horticultural crops.

The 20th annual judging, grading, and identification contest involving a knowledge of variety types, the identification of garden insects, diseases, weeds, nutrient deficiencies, grade defects, and grade standards.

The soil fertility essay contest, the latest addition to the NJVGA program. This is a report on methods, materials, and practices to improve the soil fertility of the participant's garden soil.

The culmination of all of these activities in the exciting 20th annual convention which will be held in Cincinnati, Ohio, December 5-9. Interesting educational tours, contests, and entertainment will take up the four-day meeting.

Mr. Chavez stated that awards of upwards of $10,000 in cash will be provided for the winners in these contests and requested that any boy or girl between the ages of 13 and 22 years, who is interested, should contact the county agent's office for further information.

Approximately one-fifth of New Mexico's population resides in Bernalillo county, smallest in area except Los Alamos county.

"You can expect the most raiding in the best melon patch"

You can bet your bottom dollar on it.

Come next year, or the year after that, you'll be seeing on other cars some of the styling features you see in Buick today.

We expect it. It has happened before. And there is good reason for it — popular appeal.

Take, for example, the car model shown here.

We call it a Riviera. Most people call it a "hardtop."

When Buick introduced this body type in 1949, it was a completely new thing. And it was an instant hit.

Today, Buick "hardtops" outsell all other models in the line. It's the styling America has taken to its heart.

So today you find that every major car maker has his own version of this Buick original. (And we can't blame them a bit. They know a good thing when they see it.)

Maybe you've noticed other such borrowings from Buick.

The diagrammatic sketch shown here lists some of the Buick advances that are now reflected in the styling of other cars — or will be soon.

For you can be sure that the great panoramic windshield first shown by Buick this year will be copied. It's too good to pass up.

And you can be sure that the full rear-wheel cutout now on every 1954 Buick Riviera and Convertible will show up elsewhere in the future. It's a sports-car touch that hits a really popular note.

We're sure of such things.

We're sure because the tomorrow-styled Buick of today seems to be just what people want. Because Buick sales are soaring. Because Buick now outsells every other car in America except two of the so-called "low-price three."

So to you we say — why wait another day to see and drive a new Buick? It's the beauty of the year. It's the buy of the times. And it's a wonderful way to head up the parade.

Drop in this week for a demonstration, won't you?

Oil Keys National Defense

OILMEN, ESPECIALLY independents such as those who developed Artesia area oilfields, are battling today to reduce foreign oil imports.

Like the argument against using foreign, rather than domestic metals for stockpiling, the oilmen point out a workable supply of domestic oil is vital to U. S. defense.

A resolution adopted by the Independent Petroleum Association of America directors declares "The welfare and safety of the United States depends upon adequate oil supplies. President Eisenhower recognized this in speaking to the American people. He pointed out that Russia produced less than half a billion barrels of oil yearly as compared with 2.4 billion in this country. United States production of oil and steel he, said 'are deterrents upon men in the Kremlin. "They are factors that make war, let us say, less likely."

Then IPAA points out that the fundamental issue involved in the question of oil imports is preserving the strength of a vital American industry—oil and gas production.

Excessive oil imports, declares IPAA, undermine that strength.

IPAA declares that imports are supplanting domestic oil to an increasing extent. Latest figures show the U. S. now has a shut-in domestic capacity of 1.3-4 million barrels daily. The organization also points out that a voluntary program adopted by some importers has failed, because other importers boost imports as others cut.

This is the background of the independents' efforts to seek restrictive legislation in Congress.

It is running smack into the opposition of those who declare free trade is the only means of free world economic salvation.

Yet in February 1953 Gen. Carl Spaatz wrote "Oil is the essential ingredient of modern warfare. Even supermodern atomic weapons amount to nothing unless the means of their delivery are fueled with oil."

The point is, that if we become reliant on others for our oil supply, however noble the motive, we must also become dependent upon others for our security.

Staggering Cost of Accidents

TOTAL ECONOMIC loss to New Mexico due to highway accidents in 1953 has been set at $37½ million by the governor's traffic safety coordinating committee.

The committee points out the fatality rate in New Mexico on the basis of miles travelled led the nation in 1953. On the basis of population by 1950 census figures, the state's fatality rate was topped by only one other. In 1953 there were 416 lives taken on the state's highways.

What can be done in the state? The governor's committee recommends:

- 1.—Establishing a state safety commission by legislative action.
- 2.—Encourage and abet the establishment of local safety councils.
- 3.—Fulfill the requirements set up by the president's highway safety conference, including: extension of enforcement facilities by both police and courts at all levels, enactment of uniform vehicle code sections, and encouragement for adoption of the model traffic ordinance by more New Mexico communities.
- 4.—Establish a school for traffic violators in New Mexico communities.

FARMINGTON — Mrs. Charles M. Tansey, Jr., yesterday was elected president of the Farmington Women's Republican club.

Soil Conservationist Makes Erosion Fight Local Effort

AMARILLO — The National Assn. of Soil Conservationists yesterday put responsibility for future prevention of wind erosion squarely on conservation districts and their supervisors.

Paul W. Swisher, Colorado commissioner of agriculture, outlined nine specific remedial steps previously proposed by Colorado Gov. Dan Thornton.

They included: more practical education in use of acreage, benefit payments adjusted to conform to proper land use, adjusted payments on price supports, FHA loans and crop insurance, revision of conservation district laws and increased appropriations to carry on accelerated programs.

The plan appeared to be well on its way to adoption as the basic policy of the national association until the adjusted payment clause was reached.

Then the tranquil meeting broke into violent discussion. The arguments were finally resolved when opponents of the measure admitted that some payments and regulations now in effect, were actually penalizing conservation cooperators and proving beneficial or lucrative to non-cooperators.

Accepting this premise, the conference finally voted by a narrow margin to adopt the program on an experimental basis in areas where landowners voted to impose the regulations on themselves.

The steering committee, charged with adopting the formal resolution was deadlocked on this issue late last night. It had agreed, however,

Roberts said fire protection is also important in the light of civil defense requirements for the city.
"Our firemen are known all over this state, and outside New Mexico as well, for their methods of fire fighting—as well as their success in extinguishing fires and cutting property damages," Roberts said.

Official Says—

with State Highway Engineer C. O. Erwin Erwin, unavailable since then because of illness, said today he had promised Scott the highway department would make a survey of U. S. highway 285 through Artesia with the idea eventually of getting an urban project there.

"WE RECOGNIZE the need for some work there," Erwin said. The proposed work would include some widening and rehabilitation of highway 285 through the city.
"I made no commitments except to promise the survey," Erwin said. "We don't know when the money would be available, but with the survey made, the local authorities could go ahead and obtain the right-of-way and thus be ready to go whenever we have the money and are ready."

hind it all was a deeper tone. This city has had it rough. Its main industry is almost dead. A year ago there were 1,000 men still working in its dying coal mines. Today there are 35 employed mostly as a maintenance crew at the Koehler mine of the St. Louis, Rocky Mountain and Pacific Coal Co. In the Raton Range was a notice that unemployed miners could receive more surplus food yesterday.

This celebration is more than just a surface thing, says the Rev. Edward Ostertag of Holy Trinity Episcopal church.
This is a shot in the arm for Raton and all the area around it," he observed. "This celebration has done much to boost the morale of the public in general."
There is a hopeful note now although coal is dead. Local belief is that a new industry may be coming to life. Continental Oil has three drilling operations underway in the Raton basin south of the city and reports are that there will be 50 rigs drilling in the area by October.

ALBUQUERQUE (AP)—A former assistant state revenue commissioner has been recommended for the $8300 yearly position of New Mexico's savings bond director.

The district weather bureau in Albuquerque said the high in the state was 105 degrees at Carlsbad. Other 100 or above readings included 103 at both Tucumcari and Roswell, 101 at Columbus and 100 at Socorro and Artesia.

A COCKER SPANIEL from the country was trotting down a busy street with a companion from the city, and paused at what he thought was a mere hitching post. Too late he discovered it was a parking meter. He barked disgustedly, and asked, "Do you mean to say you've got to pay now?"

In Paris, Frank L. Rand was fortunate enough to be there or thereabouts when a lady tourist saw her sightseeing group riding away in a bus without her. ### Proper Storage Of Farm Fuels Makes Saving Proper farm storage will save gasoline just as a good roof will save corn and hay.

County extension agent Richard Marek says that shading your outside storage tank with a sunshade or tree will cut down exploration loss.

Loss from evaporation through the vent can run as high as 10 per cent in a month, if you let the temperature in the tank rise in the hot summer sun. And you'll find that your tractor is harder to start when you use the gasoline that's left. Part of the gasoline evaporates, and what's left has a higher gum content that may cause sticky valves.

You'll be unwise to shade your gasoline tank by putting it in a building, Marek says. That will void your fire insurance policy and increase the possibility of fire. Keep a storage tank at least 15 feet away from any building.
Use a pressure valve on the vent to reduce evaporation loss, Marek suggests. Such valves allow the pressure to build up to 2 or 3 pounds per square inch before they release the pressure. Your gasoline serviceman can tell you about them.
Tilt your tank a little so that water and sediment can collect in the end opposite the gasoline outlet. Drain out the accumulation at least once a year. Underground storage tanks are good for keeping gasoline in the best condition, according to Marek. Use a good-quality tank, and coat it with a waterproofing material to help prevent leaks.

Locate an underground tank away from wells and sewer line. Wells have been ruined by gasoline that leaked from an underground tank, and gasoline has been known to run into basements and milk houses through sewer lines and cause explosions.

You can store diesel fuel with less danger of spoilage or explosion than you can store gasoline. It is safe to store diesel fuel inside a building. The main precaution is to keep dirt out of it, because a small amount of dirt clogs filters and wears injection nozzles.
LP gas must be stored under pressure. Tanks that carry the approved label of the Underwriters Laboratories will keep hazards with LP gas to a minimum. To keep your insurance effective, you'll need to locate a 1,000-gallon gas tank at least 25 feet from any building, and a 2,000-gallon tank at least 50 feet. Keep the valves tightly closed on your tractor if you use LP gas for fuel. The gas vaporizes readily and settles to the floor in a building where it can be easily ignited by a spark.

These are only some of the most important things you should consider when you store fuel on your farm, reminds, Marek.
