By SAM SUMMERLIN
TUGUICALPA, Honduras (AP)—Rebel leaders announced today that they had bombed a garrison in central Guatemala, and planned to bomb Guatemala City, the seat of President Pacoiba Guzman's Communist-suppressed government.

Artesia Value Up Quarter of Million in Year

A growth of a quarter of a million dollars in gross valuation of Artesia property has been estimated by deputy county assessor R. H. "Dick" Westaway.

Artesia's valuation is placed at $8 1/2 million this year, compared to $8,253,000 for 1953.

Eddy county as a whole will have an estimated $85 million on the county tax rolls, Westaway estimated.

It will be a record high, and increase of more than $2 million over last year's gross assessments of $82,606,316.

At Carlsbad valuation was up nearly a half million, from $14,615,785 in 1953 to an estimated $15,215,000 for 1954.

Loving's valuation has gone up to $650,000 for 1954, against $629,410 in 1953.

Man Killed Under Train Identified As Illegal Entrant

Acquaintances have identified the badly torn body of a man killed by a freight train early Saturday morning as Jose Manuel Mendoso of Ojinaga, Mexico, an illegal entrant into the U. S.

Mendoso was hit as he lay across the Santa Fe tracks two miles south of Artesia by a southbound Santa Fe freight at 3:10 a. m. Saturday.

A coroner's jury Saturday morning ruled he had been killed by the train.

A clue to his identification was found in a letter addressed to him by a party in Mexico.

State Patrolman Arnold J. Smith said the train carried the body 170 feet after hitting him.

R. W. Bradley, engineer, said he and the firemen in the big diesel locomotive first noticed an object on the tracks when the train was about 200 yards away.

The body was seen when the train was about 75 yards away. Emergency brakes were turned on to stop the four-unit diesel and freight cars behind it.

Limbs and head of the body were severed and so damaged identification was made difficult.

Lake Arthur School Fuss Said 'Straightened Out'

ALBUQUERQUE (AP)—New Mexico's director of secondary education says "things seemed to be straightened out" in an anticipated change of school superintendents in Lake Arthur.

Pat Sweeney said he believes Herbert Whatley "will not be retained" as superintendent of the Lake Arthur schools.

A petition from Lake Arthur residents had been presented to the state board of education requesting that Whatley be retained.

Sweeney made an investigation about 10 days ago.

"Things have all straightened out," he said. "A full report will be made to the state board of education probably this week," he added.

"As I understand it, the Lake Arthur board has decided not to renew Mr. Whatley's contract. This is his first year as superintendent. He does not have tenure."

Sweeney said he understood John Havener, basketball coach at Lake Arthur high school and a teacher in the system, will be chosen to succeed Whatley.

Sweeney said "I've heard nothing" regarding some reports Whatley was unwilling to leave office.

"In fact," he added, "I think Mr. Whatley should be commended for the splendid way in which he is completing his work this year."

Benson Orders 13 Per Cent Cut In Wheat Planting

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Benson today ordered a further cutback of 13 per cent in wheat planting for the 1955 crop and called a grower referendum for July 23 to approve rigid marketing quotas to enforce planting goals.

The wheat reduction comes on top of a 17 per cent decrease in this year's wheat acreage. With the harvest of this year's crop, the nation will have a two-year supply of this bread grain.

The secretary is expected to announce later similar control programs for next year's cotton, major types of tobacco, peanuts, corn, and sugar crops—all of which face surplus production problems.

Artesia's Retail Sales Display Healthy Increase

Retail sales have not decreased in Artesia, Paul W. Scott, manager of the Artesia Chamber of Commerce, said today.

In spite of some ideas to the contrary, Scott said, sales show a healthy increase in four areas, a decrease in two, and remain stationary in one.

According to figures obtained from the bureau of revenue, school tax division, gross income reports, sales in Artesia have increased nearly $550,000 the first three months of 1954 over a similar period last year.

Included in that increase are retail apparel, automotive accessories, subsistence, and other retail stores.

Furniture stores and retail building materials have suffered a decrease while automotive car parts have stayed the same.

Salvation Army Collects Half Of Drive Goal

The local division of the Salvation Army announced today it has only half of the total amount collected in its drive for funds last year.

With $1500 donated and 30 pledges to pay, the local committee said it hoped to get more this year than last year, about $3000.

The group said it has reason to believe that demands of the Salvation Army will be larger than ever before, due mainly to an increase in population.

Committee Seeks More Signs to Promote Artesia

The Chamber of Commerce sign sub-committee, at its last meeting, discussed the need and possibility of getting more small signs up on surrounding highways to advertise the city.

Signs are to be erected on U. S. 285 and 70 north, on U. S. 62 and 180 south and on State Highway 83 east and west.

Advances have been made to several companies to find out possible cost of 25-30 such signs.

A chamber spokesman also said work on the big new tourist sign, to go up north of Roswell, has almost been completed.

Iowa Flood Peril Is Broadened With New Heavy Rains

DES MOINES (AP)—Heavy rains, including torrential downpours at Fort Dodge, Sioux City, Mason City and Des Moines, broadened the Iowa flood peril today after a weekend marked by one flood drowning and hundreds of new evacuations.

Fort Dodge, Mason City and Sioux City were the prime danger spots among the state's major cities. Conditions eased in Des Moines following a flash flood on Fourth Mile Creek which drove over 50 families from homes and trailers.

In Mason City, a fresh cloud-burst drove 300 families from their homes in a 50-block area.

San Juan Basin Prorating Is Argued to State

SANTA FE (AP)—Proposals to prorating natural gas production in the San Juan basin were heard today by the state oil conservation commission.

Suggested prorating in the basin has been kicking around for two years. It first was suggested by Stanolind Oil and Gas Co. in 1952. During the various postponements since then the commission itself entered the case on its own motion.

State Geologist Richard R. Spurrier, executive director of the OCC, has indicated the state is determined that prorating of some kind is in store for the basin.

Members of an operators' committee met here prior to last month's meeting but were unable to agree on recommendations they should adopt. The upshot was they decided to present their views as individuals and were given another month in which to prepare.

"We think there is a very definite need for prorating," OCC Chief Engineer William B. Macey said today.

Although the hearing involved all the gas pools in the basin, it appeared the testimony would be given only in one or two cases, including the Blanco-Mesa Verde pool.

Commission officials could not say how long the hearing would last. The hall was reserved for three days.

The institute is run in Dallas for eight states—Louisiana, Arkansas, Kansas, Oklahoma, Colorado, Texas, Missouri, and New Mexico.

SANTA FE (AP)—Two prisoners, soon due for release, have been recaptured in Clovis after walking away from the Los Lunas prison farm Saturday night, state police said.

The two, Roy Benton and Thaddeus Walsh, were captured by Clovis police and Santa Fe railroad agents in a Clovis railroad yard. Deputy A. C. Warning said they probably caught a freight train near Belen last Saturday night.

Walsh was due for release in August. He was serving a two-year term from Bernalillo county on an armed robbery conviction. Benton, serving a one to two year term on grand larceny from Lea county already was eligible for parole. Unable to find a job, however, he had waived parole to serve his full term.

Miss Kay Booker Becomes Bride of John Worcester

The First Methodist church of Artesia was the setting at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon for the wedding of Miss Kay Booker, who became the bride of John Lang Worcester of Burbank, Calif.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Grady Booker and the late Grady Booker. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Marie Worcester of Burbank, Calif.

Rev. R. L. Willingham, former pastor of the First Methodist church, now of Albuquerque, performed the double-ring ceremony.

The church decorations included arrangements of shell pink asters on the communion table, backed with arched candelabras with palm foliage and garland of asters coming from the center candelabra and ending on the communion rail.

Two matching seven-point candelabra with palm foliage adorned each side of the altar. The couple knelt on white satin pillows. Satin ribbons with asters marked the pews for the families.

Mrs. Glenn Caskey played the bridal music and also accompanied Mrs. Loyd Traylor, sister of the bride, who sang "Calm as the Night," "All for You," and "The Lord's Prayer." Mrs. Caskey played softly preceding the ceremony.

Loretta Rowley and Claire Carper were the candlelighters. They wore dresses of pink dotted Swiss and wrist nosegays in pink.

The bride entered on the arm of her grandfather, Emery Carper, who gave her in marriage. She was lovely in a gown of white nylon tulle and imported Swiss organdy over blush pink satin. The bodice was fashioned with a wide decollete neckline, filled in with a nude illusion yoke and short cap sleeves, complemented by short white kid gloves.

Applicques of organdy in a flower and petal motif outlined the decollete neckline and veiled the tightly moulded bodice. The extremely bouffant layered tulle skirt was enhanced by a deep apron overskirt of organdy, accented by large organdy floral appliques. The wide tan shape nylon tulle train was complemented by an organdy butterfly bustle and spot floral appliques.

Her veil of imported silk illusion extended in misty tiers beyond her fingertips from a half calot fashioned of imported Swiss organdy edged by embroidered or gandy flowers.

The bride carried a white organdy mull decorated with phalaenopsis orchids.

For the old tradition, some new was her dress, old and borrowed, the engagement ring of her maternal grandmother, and blue, garters.

Miss Patricia Howell of Los Angeles was maid-of-honor, and Miss Marjio Storm, Miss Nancy Booker and Mrs. Van Everett were bridesmaids.

The attendants wore identical gowns of crisp white waffle-pique. They had starched Irish lace bodice mounted on petal pink satin. These were fashioned with a low scoop neckline and brief cap sleeves. The waist length skirts had controlled fullness from the hipline. Their shoes and gloves were white.

The attendants all carried pink satin daisy with pink carnation clustered center.

Linda and Debra Traylor, nieces of the bride, were flower girls. They wore white organdy pinafores with white bouffant skirts. They carried pink maline and sat in baskets filled with rose petals.

Walter Worcester of Burbank, Calif., brother of the bridegroom, was best man, and Brent Booker, brother of the bride, Bruce Caskey, and Matthew Miehle of Burbank, Calif., were groomsmen.

Mrs. Booker, mother of the bride, selected a light blue imported sheer cotton dress, fashioned with a wide deep V-neckline edged by a scroll of matching embroidery and brief cap sleeves, complemented by white kid gloves. The waistline was marked by a narrow self belt. The full flare skirt was accented by scroll embroidery. Her linen pumps were dyed to match. She carried a white beaded purse. Her corsage was of roses.

Mrs. Worcester, mother of the bridegroom, chose a white organdy dress trimmed in blue with a full flare skirt. Her accessories were white. Her corsage was red roses.

Following the wedding, a reception was held at the home of the bride's mother.

Summer arrangements of flowers were used in the reception rooms, where the gits were displayed. The railing was entwined with pink asters and greenery.

In the reception line were the bride and bridegroom, her attendants, Mrs. Grady Booker, and Mrs. Worcester.

The sun room was the setting for the reception. The table was laid with an organdy applique cloth of white linen Italian work laid over a faint pink cloth. The table was decorated with a basket epergne decorated with pink carnations and roses and satin ribbon.

The wedding cake was on an individual table. Made and decorated by Mrs. Loyd Traylor, sister of the bride, it was of heart shape in three tiers, decorated with dainty pink roses.

Refreshments of punch, petit fours, mints, nuts, dainty sandwiches, and coffee were served.

Mrs. Emery Carper, Mrs. Marshall Rowley and Mrs. Tony Hebrer of North Hollywood, served the first hour, and Mrs. Frances Booker, Mrs. Stanley Carper, and Mrs. Clark Storm, the second hour.

For traveling, the bride selected a princess line gray and white print Italian cotton suit dress. This was fashioned with an open neckline, complemented by a white linen collar and bracelet sleeves with white linen turn-back cuffs. The dress was buttoned down the front with white buttons, accenting the tiny moulded waistline and flared fullness of the skirt. She wore a narrow white organdy pillbox, gunmetal patent sandals and matching purse and wrist length white kid gloves.

The bride graduated from Artesia high school in 1951 and attended Occidental college, Los Angeles, for two years. The past year, she attended Mills college, where she plans to continue her studies.

The bridegroom received his

B.S. degree at Occidental, Los Angeles, and is now doing graduate work at the University of California at Berkeley. He is a Phi Beta Kappa.

Mr. and Mrs. Worcester will be in Los Alamos this summer and in the fall, will go to Oakland, Calif.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. Marie Worcester, Burbank, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Pearce and daughter, Mrs. Patricia Howell of Santa Paula, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. Tony Hebrer and daughters, Lou Ann and Judy of North Hollywood, Calif., aunt of the bridegroom.

Also, the Champion family of Tularosa; Miss Beulah Booker and Mrs. Annie Rooney Seay of Ponca City, Okla.; Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Seay, Kansas City, Mo.; Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Booker, Arlington, Texas; Mrs. Mark Erb and daughter, Shirley, Oklahoma City; and Mrs. Ernest Carper of Roswell.

Miss Beth Ballard Is Honor Guest At Recipe Shower

Miss Beth Ballard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Ballard of Whites City, N. M., and bride-elect of Wesley Menefee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Menefee of Hagerman, was honored recently with a tea at the spacious country home of Mrs. Bill Langenegger with members of the WMU being the hosts.

Each guest brought two of her favorite recipes for a "recipe shower" which was presented to the honoree in a small metal file box. She was also presented a beautiful Alaskan blanket, a gift of the WMU of the First Baptist church of Hagerman.

Guests were received at the door by Mrs. Bill Langenegger with Miss Ballard, Mrs. Howard Menefee, and Mrs. R. H. Ballard also in the receiving line. Miss Ballard chose for this occasion a summer frock with very full skirt with which she wore a corsage of yellow gladioluses, a gift of the hostesses. Mrs. Ballard, in a trim silk crepe, and Mrs. Menefee in a grey, rhinestone trimmed sheath dress, also wore corsages of yellow gladioluses, which had been presented to them by the WMU.

Sharla Rae Menefee, sister of the prospective groom, presided at the guest book, wearing a red organdy party frock with white daisy trim. Her corsage was of yellow rosebuds.

The long serving table in the dining room, covered with a lace cloth, was centered with an unusual arrangement of Regal lilies interspersed with baby breath and greenery. At one end, lime sherbet punch was poured from a crystal punch bowl, and served with assorted cookies, mints and nuts. Assisting with the pouring and serving were Mrs. Lindell Andrews and Miss Lois Evans, both wearing yellow rosebud corsages with their ensembles.

Miss Gloria Menoud and Miss Phyllis Jumper played a medley of piano selections as background music during the afternoon, also wearing corsages as gifts of the hostesses.

A large number called during the afternoon.

Mrs. Ollie L. Smith, 917 S. Third, has returned home from a 2,000-mile trip to Arkansas where she visited her son, T. J. "Jim" Smith and family, former residents of Artesia.

While there she attended the Poultry and Livestock Fair at Springdale and had the pleasure of seeing and hearing members of the Grand Old Opera musicians and Minnie Pearl in person.

While visiting her son, they all visited Eureka Springs, Inspiration Point, The Natural Bridge, and Tilling Rock.

Later she visited a sister in Gentry, Ark., and learned that her 86-year-old brother and family of Des Moines, Iowa, would be in Gentry the next day, a complete surprise to Mrs. Smith. She had not seen him for 16 years.

On Sunday following the arrival of the brother and family they were all entertained at the Jim Smith home with a dinner with all relatives present.

Although this was Mrs. Smith's fourth visit to Arkansas in the past five years and she is near 81, she made the trip alone and claims it was the easiest trip of them all.

Artesia Batting Power Bottled In Fourth Loss, Indians Win 5-3

Artesia's fourth straight loss to Odessa on Sunday night was the latest in a series where the home team's offense is unable to keep pace with the opposition. The contest was tied in the eighth inning, when Artesia's bats failed to do any damage, and the Indians bounced back to win the game.

Odessa Holds Rocket Power, Wins 7 to 4

ODESSA — Righthander Wes Ortiz limited the power-packed Odessa Rockets to eight scattered hits here Sunday afternoon in hurling Odessa to a 7-4 win before 504 fans.
 It was Ortiz's 10th win of the year against a single setback. Roswell starter Gene Nalley was charged with the loss, his fourth against five wins.
 Odessa skipper Barney Batson led the Oiler attack with two for five, including a three-run homer in the fourth. Weldon Day hit a solo homer for the Rockets in the eighth.
 Batson's blow in the fourth brought on Pedro Moreno to replace Nalley. He, in turn, was lifted for a pinch-batter in the eighth and Pete Pestana finished on the hill for Roswell.
 The Oilers move into Carlsbad Monday to open a two-day stand. The game is slated to start at 2:30 p. m. and is expected to draw a large crowd.
 Batson's blow in the fourth brought on Pedro Moreno to replace Nalley. He, in turn, was lifted for a pinch-batter in the eighth and Pete Pestana finished on the hill for Roswell.

WEEKEND ROUNDUP— Pair of Weekend Losses Knock NuMexers From Lead

Artesia's league-leading NuMexers were knocked out of first place this week-end with a pair of losses, but with Roswell losses hovered in second place.
 At Big Spring Friday night the NuMexers were handed a 13-11 defeat and at Artesia Saturday night a 2-1 loss by Midland.
 Saturday night at Artesia, Julio Ramos showed top pitching form in subduing Artesia batting power and leading Midland to a 2-1 victory.
 The defeat, coupled with Roswell's 20-4 win over Odessa, knocked Artesia from first place.
 In picking up his ninth win of the season against six losses, Ramos held Artesia batters to five hits, scattered over the route. On only one of them did Artesia score.
 Paul Dobkowski's home run in the bottom of the eighth.

Pat Waters, Indian first base man, hit a non-run homer in the second inning to chalk up one of Midland's counters.
 The other game in the fifth inning when Joe Rainey, Indian left fielder, led off with a triple. Rudy Briner's sacrifice fly homered him. It was Artesia third straight loss. Vic Stryka took the loss, his first since joining the NuMexers.
 Julio de la Torre and Mr. Pepper Martin went on a hitting rampage at Big Spring Friday to pace the Broncos to a 13-11 victory over the Artesia NuMexers.
 The two clubbed two home runs each and drove in a total of 10 runs between them.
 The Broncos led most of the way but the NuMexers came to life with a home run outburst themselves in the eighth to wrest the lead. After John Goodell had clubbed a three-run four-master, Mickey Sullivan followed with his second boundary swat of the game and his third in two nights to give the visitors a one-run lead.
 The punishment was absorbed by Bob Upton, recently down from Dallas, who had to accept his second loss in two nights from the Steeds. His season's won-lost record is now 0-3.
 Bert Baez, who spelled Frank Maron on the hill in the eighth for Big Spring, received credit for his ninth win of the season, against one loss.

NuMexers Stay at Loop Top In Team Batting Prowess

Artesia's NuMexers are still leading the Longhorn league in team batting today with a .314 mark, a healthy .012 margin over runner-up Roswell. However, the picture is reversed in most other categories with the locals running a close second to the Rockies.
 Jimmy Adair's crew follows Roswell in runs scored with 406, in hits with 615, in total bases with 915, in two-baggers with 107, in home runs with 49, and with runs batted-in, 352.
 In team fielding, Artesia is nipping at the heels of the Roswell delegation, .927 to .932.
 Among the local diamond aggregation in the hitting department, Bob Herron is leading with .351, followed closely by John Goodell with .348, Charley Waits with .346, Mickey Sullivan with .344, and Paul Dobkowski with .339. Reuben Smart with .319, Dean Smith with .299, Mickey Diaz with .281 and Bob Boyd with .217 complete the picture of hitting.
 Bob Herron continues to set a torrid pace in total hits with 80 compared to 81 by the league leader Duane White of Roswell, who was 81. John Goodell is in a three-place tie for second in triples knocked out with six. The leader has seven. Charley Waits is third in runs scored with 60. Reuben Smart is a close third in the hitting department with 79 behind teammate Herron and Roswell's White.
 In the pitching field, Ken Foster and Viv Stryka both have a 1.000 average, allowing only six and three earned runs respectively. Foster has pitched 21 innings and Stryka 10. Bart DiMaggio carries a .750 percentage in 35 innings pitched. He has won three and lost one.
 Scott Robnett and Gil Johnson have .571 percentages, pitching 82 and 62 innings. Both have won four and dropped three. Wayne Goodell stays even with a .500 mark with 64 innings of work. He has a four-four record. Bob Upton rounds out the picture with eight innings worked in two games. He has a .000 mark and has lost three.

Two Little League Games Scheduled This Afternoon

In Little League competition this afternoon, the First National Bankers will square away against the Williams Furniture squad in the American league and the Elks club team meets Clem and Clem at 5 p. m. behind the NuMexer stadium.
 L. Coor against the Carlsbad crew. Heathington reported his team dropped a close one to the Roswell AFB delegation yesterday 4-3. Errors occurring in the bottom of the seventh caused the loss.
 CVE is currently tied with IMCC for the lead in the softball league. Both teams have dropped only one contest—to each other. They will meet only one more time to decide the victor.

Embargo on Home Run Bonuses Comes in Time To Save Durocher Cash as Yanks Homer Four

By JACK HAND AP Sports Writer

Warren Giles' embargo on the $100 home run bonus came just in time to save Leo Durocher a lot of money.
 Yesterday two Giant pinch hitters, Bobby Hofman and Dusty Rhodes, tied a record by hitting pinch homers in the same inning of New York's 7-6 victory over St. Louis. Wes Westrum also homered in the sixth inning and Al Dark hit one earlier.
 If Giles hadn't sounded a warning, Leo probably still would be handing out $100 bills as he did last week to Bill Taylor and Hank Thompson.
 The Giant homers yesterday routed Vic Raschi and hung a defeat on Coe Deal. But the New Yorkers' lead was sliced to one-half game by Brooklyn's double victory.

THE DODGERS again fell back on relief pitching as they knocked off Chicago twice, 6-4 and 6-3. Clem Labine bailed out the first game and Bob Milliken and Ben Wade held the fort in the second after Billy Loes left.
 For the first time since Sept. 6, 1953, Pittsburgh actually won a double-header, downing Milwaukee 2-1 in 10 innings when Lew Burdette hit Curt Roberts with a pitched ball with the bases loaded. Gair Allie's three-run homer gave the Pirates the second game, 6-3, over Bob Buhl.
 Cincinnati bumped off Philadelphia twice, 4-3 and 15-6, chasing their old teammate, Herm Wehmer. The Redlegs scored nine runs in the first inning of the second game.
 Cleveland hiked its American league lead to four games by beating their old Boston sparmates around the head 3-1 and 9-2 while New York and Chicago were dividing two. Bobby Feller's five-hitter and Art Houtteman's 10-hitter both had home run help from Al Smith.

THE YANKEES managed 20 hits including home runs by Bill Skowron, Gil McDougald, Mickey Mantel, and Joe Collins in thumping Chicago 16-6 in the first game. Then Bob Keegan squared matters for the White Sox 7-3, becoming the first American league pitcher to win 10 games this year. The second game was held to eight innings by darkness. Sherm Lollar's two-run homer in the seventh was the big blow.

Baltimore's losing streak stretched to eight straight when Washington's Connie Marrero and Dean Stone pitched the Senators to a double victory, 7-1 and 7-2.
 A Philadelphia at Detroit double-header was rained out.
 It was 6-3 in favor of St. Louis when the Giants cut loose in the sixth. After Willie Mays singled with one out, Hofman batted for Billy Garner and homered. Westrum slammed the ball out of the left field roof, ending Raschi's day. Rhodes, batting for Marv Grissom, the eventual winner, blasted reliever Deal's first pitch into the lower right field stands for the winning run.

ROY CAMPANELLA collected a bunt, single, double and triple, and Carl Furillo hit a three-run homer in Brooklyn's first-game triumph, in which Labine's stylish relief work saved the day for Carl Erskine. Pittsburgh's Max Surkont, former Milwaukee Brave, defeated his old mates for the third time when Burdette plunked Roberts with a pitch. Allie, a .221 hitter before the double-header, was the big blow of a six-run rally in the seventh inning that chased Buhl with his fifth defeat of a non-winning season.
 Gus Bell and Ted Kluszewski hit successive doubles in the seventh inning for Cincinnati's first-game success at Philadelphia. Wehmer walked four men and contributed a wild pitch to the nine-run inning before he gave way to a stream of successors. The big inning took 55 minutes as Cincy scored nine runs on only four hits, an error and six walks. Art Fowler won his fifth on relief.

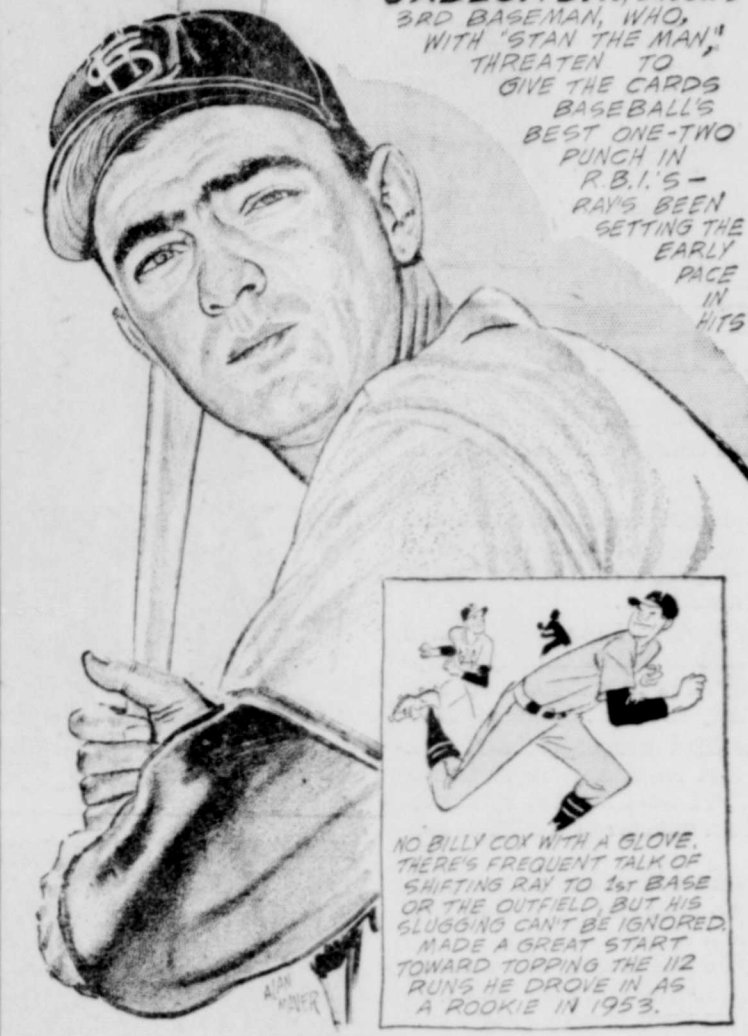

H. D. Burch, president of the league, said members of the teams would be circulating throughout the city selling chances on a 21-inch television set. He said proceeds from the raffle will be used to buy equipment for 8-9 year olds, who are not sponsored.

Tickets are 50 cents each. The set will be given to the winner the night of July 4 at NuMexer park. Burch specified that purchasers of the chances do not have to be present to win.
 The set can be seen at Clem and Clem Appliance, 439 W. Main.

BIG SPRING — Reed-thin Tito Arenciba pitched and batted the Big Spring Broncos to a 14-4 victory over the Sweetwater Spudders here Sunday afternoon, enabling the home club to sweep a two-game series.
 In addition to setting the visitors down with six hits, Arenciba collected four hits, including two doubles, and drove in three runs. The win was his sixth of the campaign, compared with five reversals.
 The Steeds put the decision on ice in the first two rounds, during which they scored 10 runs.
 Big Jim Zapp stroked his fifth home run of the season with the bases choked in the first inning to get Arenciba and the Caysuses to a fine start.
 Jay Mattson, former Big Spring hurler, started on the mound for Sweetwater but did not last out the inning. Gil Hernandez and Ken Cluley later saw mound action for the losers.
 Bill Looney stroked two doubles for Sweetwater.
 Arenciba pitched hitless ball until the sixth, when Looney hit his first double.

Compensation for CCC Price Props Being Reduced

The U. S. department of agriculture announced today that the rate of compensation payable to lending agencies which are financing commodity credit corporation price support loans on grain and commodities similarly handled is being reduced, effective with the 1954 programs. This reduction is in line with the current trend in interest rates on short term government and commercial borrowings.

Lending agencies, mainly country banks, which finance and also service CCC price support loans on grain and commodities similarly handled, will receive an interest rate of 1¾ per cent per annum for the use of their funds while invested and a fee of ½ per cent per annum for services.

This will make an overall rate of compensation to such lending agencies of 2 1/4 per cent per year, as compared to 3 per cent per year now in effect on 1953 crop loans. Lending agencies which service CCC price support loans on grain and commodities similarly handled without investing their funds in such loans will receive the same sliding scale rate for service in effect last year for 1953 crop loans.

Smokers as Forest Fire Hazards

THERE'S NO NEED for smokers to be forest fire hazards, C. K. Collins, Albuquerque, fire control chief of the U. S. forest service, has declared.

Collins has declared "it is the nervous smoker and the person who drives or does other things while smoking who start forest fires."

High winds and the long dry spell in New Mexico have created real fire weather. This, added to the fact many campers leave their still warm cooking fires in canyon bottoms, give the fires a head start before they are seen by lookouts.

On the average, man-caused fires are bigger and cost more to fight than fires which start from any other cause. Of the 288 fires reported to June 1, 61 were started by smokers and campers. They cost close to a quarter of a million dollars to extinguish.

Recent large fires in the Southwest have caused the closing of parts of Coconino and Kaibab National Forests in Arizona and the Carson National Forest of New Mexico.

Everyone who uses national forests during the coming weeks is asked to observe the rules for building safe fires, and when the cooking is over, work on it until it is dead out and cool to the bare hand.

Smokers in the forests are urged to sit or park in a safe place to enjoy their smoke and snuff it out in an ash tray or other safe place.

Forest officials also urge visitors in the national forests to follow this code:

When in the national forests during periods of fire danger I will refrain from smoking when traveling or working except in vehicles equipped with ash trays, places of habitation, forest camps or picnic areas.

I will only smoke in a safe place and will extinguish smoke material in ash trays or in a safe spot in mineral soil. I will also observe special smoking restrictions which are posted.

New Typesetting Machine Arrives

MECHANICS ARE working this week to place in operation a new Intertype typesetting machine at the daily Artesia Advocate, the third in the plant.

Its installation is part of a continuing expansion program at the daily Advocate as this newspaper seeks to bring Artesia the best possible daily newspaper.

The new typesetting machine will be equipped with Corona type, a "body type" which makes for the easier reading of the Artesia Advocate. Corona is one in a series of "legibility faces" designed by the Linotype company for easier newspaper reading.

The machine will also be equipped with display faces for use in the newspaper and its commercial printing department.

The Advocate is constantly expanding its personnel, machinery, and plant to provide better service to the community. More important announcements on this program will continue to be forthcoming in the future.

His background at Artesia Senior high school has played an important role in equipping him to accept this new honor.

Jimmy, his family, and those adults who have aided him are to be commended.

At the close of the afternoon, Mrs. West, hostess, served refreshments of sandwiches, cookies and candies and an iced drink to the following: Mrs. Earl Stine, Mrs. Carl Ridgely, Mrs. A. A. Bailey, Mrs. W. J. Chrisman, Mrs. J. N. Hopkins, Mrs. J. K. McLure, Mrs. Lester E. Hinrichsen, Mrs. Flora Mann, Mrs. A. A. McClesky, and the Rev. A. A. McClesky.

Jeweled Wrist Watches to Honor 4-H Club Winners

State winners in any of the four national 4-H programs recently accepted by the New Mexico extension service for 1954 will be awarded a 19-jewel wrist watch.

The programs and the donors are: leadership, Edward Foss Wilson; dairy foods demonstrations, Carnation Co.; beautification of home grounds, Mrs. Charles R. Walgreen; and entomology, Hercules Powder Co. In each of the last two programs there is one state winner. In leadership there are two—the outstanding boy and girl, and dairy foods three—the highest ranking individual and team demonstrators.

County awards are gold-filled medals of honor, the same number in each program as last year, excepting beautification of home grounds and entomology, in which they have been increased from one to four.

Eight state winners each in 4-H leadership and dairy foods demonstrations, and 12 in entomology will be selected for a sectional award of an all-expense trip to the National 4-H club congress in Chicago. The trip award also is given to eight national winners in the beautification of home grounds program.

National wards of $300.00 college scholarships will be presented to four winners in leadership and six in entomology.

Tourists Have Old Home Week With Scott, Button in Artesia

It was like old home week when the Jack Hays family of Newton, Kans., was "arrested" Friday at Artesia as the city's tourists of the week. Hays' sister lives near Beatrice, Neb., Scott's home, and Omaha, Butt's home. Both Mr. and Mrs. Hays were familiar with the Nebraska region. The Hays quickly found from Chamber of Commerce Mgr. Paul W. Scott and radio station KSVP manager Dave Button they were motors under a weekly program of the chamber's tourist committee. An out-of-state car is stopped each week and its occupants invited to spend the night as the city's guests. The Hays family, including David, 4, were treated to dinner, evening entertainment, night's lodging, breakfast, and a full tank of gas. Hays is a Phillips gasoline dealer in Newton, which is a city of about 11,000, 25 miles south of Wichita. They were on their way from Carlsbad caverns when stopped in Artesia.

GARDENING TODAY— If You're Not Gardening Thinly, Trouble Ahead

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS If you're not gardening on the thin side, you're in for heavy trouble. And thin means THIN. Your doctor strongly advises against too many pounds on you. Your friendly garden guide advises against letting too many seedlings remain in a garden row. Probably the hardest thing to ask the novice gardener to do is to pull out some of those noxious seedlings, which are compacted in rows like chorines in the arm-locked finale of a show. You love each and every seedling, but some must go so the best can grow. You've got to brace yourself and give the garden the thin-out treatment about this time of the growing year. It's just possible that you over-seeded your rows. If so, you and thousands like you are in the same garden path. Even the big deal green thumb boys are guilty of the same failing at times. But they get after things when the growing season gets under way, and judiciously pull extra seedlings. If, for instance, your seed packet says that beets should be thinned to two to three inches apart, your seed man means just that. He hasn't written the instructions that way to sell more seeds, for he won't. He wants his seeds to grow and flourish into perfect types. He wants you to be satisfied and buy his wares the next year. Your seed packet normally carries instructions on how to space grown seedlings—whether flower or vegetable. If you follow them, or the directions in your garden book, you'll most likely come up successfully in the thinning out process. For instance, in the vegetable department, cabbage, lettuce celery or swiss chard, to mention a few, are in this category. Flowers you can transplant include the zinnia, marigold, petunia, aster or snapdragon. In fact, the exceptions in both flowers and vegetables are noted on the seed packets. As you thin out seedlings, you give the remaining plants a chance to grow. A thick, solid row of seedlings in the spring, if left unattended, results in plants fighting for nourishment and root room in the summer. If you thin, you'll have a garden of sturdy stock instead of one of skimpy, spindly producers.

Wool Market at Roswell Shows Quality Price

In recent auctions at Roswell, going floor bids on sold clips ranged from about 37 cents to 69 cents, according to William K. Snyder, extension wool marketing specialist at New Mexico A&M college. A certain high-quality, large reputation clip from southeastern New Mexico was contracted on the coretest, $1.70 clean basis. This particular clip, strictly Fine in grade, averages three inches on over-age yearling fleeces. Nominaly, the top clean basis employed by buyers for original bag good French combing and staple Fine wools probably approximately $1.65. Many clips were noticeably heavier in shrink this year, Snyder says. Heavy dirt content and muddled appearance undoubtedly lowered their clean price reckoning, as well as the added conversion costs for some buyers.

Two Big Uranium Strikes Reported In Rio Arriba

SANTA FE (AP)—Two major uranium strikes in southwestern Rio Arriba county were reported today by Bill Jackson, agent for the U. S. Mining Co.

Jackson said a find in the Burns Canyon area near Gallina showed uranium content of 28-30 per cent purity, with a second find in the Gallina rating from 28-40 per cent purity.

He said the company is seeking leases for from 10,000 to 12,000 acres in the Burns Canyon site, which he added also contained traces of iron and copper and small deposits of gold assaying at from $18 to $30 an ounce.

Jackson said the Gallina strike was on a 385-acre tract owned by Larry, Harold and Clyde Richards. He said the strikes "are worth millions."

NEW YORK—On those occasional times when you have taken wheel in hand and driven out to the Bronxville and the Tenaflys that lie on the fringe of the big town, you have had to put up with the polite scorn. "This," the suburbanites have said, looking around at their roomy houses with the four bedrooms upstairs, "is a home. Can you say that about that miserable little apartment of yours?"

All you have done then is laughed and made some wisecrack—and wondered, inside, if maybe they were right. You wouldn't change with them. As bad as apartment life was, it still was in New York and not in the environs—in which you had grown up and from which you now withdrew, shuddering. But you felt uneasy about it. Don't I really have a home? you asked yourself.

Now you were leaving the miserable little apartment, to go to still another miserable little apartment. The furniture already was gone, and you stood in the naked living room, every slight heel-tap or clearing of the throat echoing hollowly.

It was morning, and out of the fog that was lifting slowly, you could see the edge of the Washington bridge. You stood in the center of the floor, shiny bright where it had been covered by the big rug, and you looked around and said was it a home?

WELL, THERE WERE the one or two little spots, maybe four feet from the floor, along the wall. "Keep your head off the wallpaper!" was the way they had brought you up short when you leaned back when they weren't looking. They were right. Your head had left little kind of stains there, even though you didn't use brilliantine or bear-grease. What did you know about that?

There was the big, long living-room window, the first thing that you had spied when you had come in from the foyer. The bridge had been out that window, as it still was, and the long, cool river in the late summer day, and the Palisades green and beautiful over on the Jersey shore—and you had looked at each other and said boy, we've just got to take this place. You hadn't even looked at the closets. You didn't even know if the showers worked. Gee, look at that view, was all you said.

You poked your head in the bathroom for the last time. Cowboys and Indians on the wallpaper. "Cowboys and Indians?" the paper-hanger had said in disbelief. "I like cowboys and Indians," you had said, firmly. "Green cowboys and Indians, with that peach tile?" he had said. "Green cowboys and Indians," you had said, quietly, determinedly. That was the only way to deal with paperhangers. Never give an inch.

THE KITCHEN. The refrigerator that never did give much cooperation in defrosting and the indoor clothes hanger that you never could quite jam back into its little white box. The two little holes on the shelf where, just a few weeks ago, after five years, you finally had put up the pencil-sharpener.

"Listen, let's put up the pencil-sharpener, hey?" they had said, month after month, and at last you had nailed it in, because you couldn't find screws to fit—and as soon as it was in, whoosh, it was out. Well, one thing about the new place; you'd get that pencil-sharpener up fast, no two ways about it.

Then there was the overhead light in the bedroom, where the flying bugs held their convention last summer after four years of staying over in Jersey where they belonged. And the baseboard lighting outlet—so that's where it was! You never had found that one. On the walls were the holes where the pictures had hung. You never knew that little picture holes could look so desolate.

And all the other things, as you looked around—the things that weren't there, that you remembered. The too much champagne on New Year's, the wonderful feeling—many times—when you were through with Rome or Los Angeles and had come in and plunked down the suitcase . . . everything.

And, finally, you went out with head high, not looking back. Anybody who said that hadn't been a home was crazy.

BEAUTY TIPS— Sun Tan Is Lengthy Process

By VIVIAN BROWN

AP Newsfeatures Beauty Editor

It can take only a few minutes in the summer sun to make you look — and feel — like a boiled lobster.

When you're suffering through the blisters, it will be little consolation to know that you have lots of company. Every summer a high percentage of bathers ignores all the advice of the American Safety Council, the U. S. Public Health Service and other sources.

As a result, more than eight million days will be lost through sunburn absenteeism and the same number of days will be spent in misery by broiled humans.

Here are some suggestions by sun authorities for a safe and pretty tan:

1. There is no exact time limit for safe sunning because skin types differ in their sensitivity to ultraviolet. As a rule, however, fair skins are quicker to burn than olive skins, but the individual is the final judge of his own skin tolerance. Some will find their maximum exposure is 15 minutes. Others may tolerate as much as 50 minutes.
2. A good effective sun lotion can help double the time you may safely stay in the sun. Screening ingredients used in these lotions ration ultraviolet rays without impeding those that stimulate the tanning process.
3. Even with a suntan lotion you can't hope to acquire a tan the first day. Prolonged exposure to sunlight may result in a painful and serious burn or a tan that will peel away quickly.
4. You can take less sun at the beach where reflection by sand and water doubles the intensity of ultraviolet than you can take near grass or trees. You'll need to wear lotion on cloudy or hazy days, too.
5. Oiliness has nothing to do with the effectiveness of a sun preparation, so be wary of picking up just any oil from pantry or medicine chest to use as a sun screen.
6. Be sure to coat yourself with sun lotion after each swim and whenever your skin begins to feel dry. Sun allergy creams are available, which are said to block out all sun rays and if applied to sensitive areas such as nose, lips, shoulders, back of the knees, will help insure safe sunning.

State Leads U.S. In Percentage Spent on Schools

New Mexicans expend a larger percentage of their income for public education than do residents of any other state in the nation.

More than 2,000 physically disabled persons receive public welfare aid checks monthly in New Mexico.

Laws on the placing of billboards along highways in New Mexico are administered by the state highway commission.

the Taxpayers' Association of New Mexico said today.

Public school expenditures require 3.7 per cent of the average income in this state, according to latest figures of the National Education Assn., as cited by the taxpayer group.

The comparable 48-state figure is 2.27 per cent of individual incomes used for public education purposes. Thus, New Mexico's effort in this direction is more than 50 per cent greater than the nationwide average.

In the matter of average income per resident, New Mexico ranks 33rd down the list of the 48 states.

However, the public schools of New Mexico receive 94 per cent of the state sales tax revenue, 70 per cent of the state income tax, 45 per cent of all property tax collections within the state, plus income from some 10 million acres of state and the revenue from $59,850 in school permanent funds.

The schools also receive half all county occupation tax ments, fines collected in all except municipal, eight per cent state motor vehicle license 37 1/2 per cent of federal and royalty payments in this and half of forest reserve earnings.

In total, the public schools about 40 per cent of all tax revenue collected at state and county level in New Mexico.
