Farm House Shot-Up to Scare Family

Roy Lee Boggs, Roswell, was on his way back to that city from the Artesia jail this morning, accompanied by deputy sheriff Charlie Troublefield, after being charged with shooting up a house on the Idos Taylor farm yesterday.

Eddy county deputies John Buck and Oscar Lusk arrested Boggs after a chase in which the Roswell man wrecked his car. He was accused of shooting through the house with a .22 automatic in an attempt to scare the occupants.

The deputies said he admitted he thought the people had stolen a 22 Smith and Wesson pistol from his car the day before and he wanted to "scare hell out of them."

The people, workers on Taylor's farm, were not hurt and reported the shooting to Taylor who called the sheriff's office in Chaves county.

Deputies Buck and Lusk caught Boggs just across the county line in Eddy county and held him in the Artesia jail overnight.

Ball Attendance May Pass 25,000 At Game Tonight

If Artesia "has any attendance at all" for tonight's Roswell-NuMexer game here, the club's attendance will pass 25,000 just as Artesia hits the season's half way mark, Pres. S. A. Lanning said this morning.

To date in 34 home games Artesia has had a total attendance of 24,197, Lanning said—an average of 780 per game. That beats Roswell's, which has averaged 650 per game.

An attendance of 804 will put Artesia over the 25,000 mark tonight, Lanning said, in urging fans to attend tonight's game.

The game begins a critical eight-game home series with Roswell and Carlsbad for the NuMexers.

"Fans will more than get their money's worth in enjoyment in this series," Lanning declared.

French Desert Red River Delta

SINGAPORE (AP)—Much of the Red River Delta, key prize in the bitter Indochina war, was falling into the hands of the Communist-led Vietminh tonight without a fight.

French Union forces were evacuating swiftly from their hard-to-hold centers in the Delta area. The end to the savage year-old struggle appeared to be not far off.

The French Union forces were generally withdrawing to their last lifeline—the railway and highway linking the war capital of Hanoi with the seaport of Haiphong, 64 miles to the east.

An Indochina Dunkerque may come soon at the end of this road—"The most dangerous road in the world," Haiphong is France's last beachhead in northern Viet Nam. It is from there that they will have to make the attempt to evacuate tens of thousands of troops, whether as a result of a cease fire or after fighting their way through from Hanoi.

Disaster Declared In Rio Flood Area

By ROBERT H. JOHNSON, JR.
EAGLE PASS (AP)—The South Texas areas—whipped by the big and mighty Rio Grande flood and left with 55 known dead—today were declared a major disaster zone.

President Eisenhower made the declaration saying "the heart of the nation goes out to the suffering people in this area."

The amount of aid to be allotted will be fixed after a survey by the federal civil defense administration.

The crest of the flood rolled on today toward Falcon Dam, leaving a muddy, filthy path of destruction.

Across the river—Piedras Negras today was a crumbled town of mud, filth, muddy water, little children drinking from street puddles and campers mobbing food trucks.

The count of dead in the flood of the Rio Grande still stood officially at 38.

But my personal opinion is that it's much more.

Water still is three and four feet deep downtown, and that's the only place you can go because there are the only paved streets. Out from town—nobody knows how many are dead. You just can't get there because of the mud.

And what's buried under the mounds of dirt and stones that once were homes—you just don't know.

Barefooted Mexicans waded through the mud and water to start digging through their crumbled homes. They are mounds ten and twelve feet high. There's no organized effort. Families simply are working on their own houses.

The city has no water supply at all. The government is trucking in water from Nava and Viente, two little inland towns.

Acting Postmaster Pledges Efficient Office Operation

Mrs. W. A. Dunnam, sworn in late yesterday as acting postmaster of the Artesia post office, said today one of the main things she wanted to do was to thank all of her friends for the wonderful support they have given her in helping her obtain the appointment.

Mrs. Dunnam, who is acting postmaster until the time the civil service commission conducts an examination for the position, said her main aim is to keep the people of the area happy with the work of the office and to make them proud of her.

She said her responsibility was to the community first, to the 25 employees she supervises second, and to the government third.

Mrs. Dunnam, who has been employed by the soil conservation service for over 15 years in the state, had all the books and various accounts turned over to her this morning by A. P. Bryant, post office inspector of Roswell.

Bryant was aided in making the check and switch by A. D. Courtin, inspector from Albuquerque.

The new postmaster has two immediate supervisors; J. A. Sturt, assistant postmaster in the Artesia office, and G. E. Perry, superintendent of mails.

Mr. and Mrs. Dunnam reside at 315 W. Missouri. Mrs. Dunnam was appointed to the acting postmaster position to succeed J. L. Truett, whose resignation became effective today. He had held the position since July 1, 1934.

Drought Brings Good Cotton, Dries Ranges

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Grass brown . . . ranges drying up . . . beginning to suffer . . . cattle being sold or moved . . . The reports keep coming in.

But New Mexico's hot weather is bringing a good growth of cotton, the U. S. Department of Commerce and Weather Bureau reports. The accompanying dryness continues to deplete the already-suffering ranges.

The second crop of alfalfa is up in the early sections and haying continues in the latter districts, the bureau reports. Garden, truck and fruit are developing satisfactorily.

The dryness, however, is hurting row crops and cornhusks. Beans, corn and some cornhusks are up to good stands over most of the state, but in the dry northeast they are beginning to suffer and dry up.

storm activity over the state last week, but in most cases it failed to bring rain of greatly beneficial proportions.

Only the northeast portion of the state missed rain completely. But precipitation was generally light except at a few widely scattered stations. Clovis had 1.04 inches, Grants 97 and Des Moines 32 to top the list.

Most of the state, however, remained relatively dry. Supplemental feeding was continued or resumed in the drier areas in the face of lack of moisture.

Some movements of stock from the southern portion of the state because of the feeding requirement was reported.

Cotton farmers, on the other hand, had a brighter picture. Cultivation, chopping and irrigation is active. Little insect trouble is reported. Cotton is beginning to bloom in the Pecos Valley.

This year's spectacle will have ground displays similar to last year's, but an expanded show of aerial fireworks, Mrs. Muncy said. The fireworks will start about 7:45 in Artesia Municipal Park, and will be completely visible to fans attending the game, which is slated to begin about 8:30 or 8:45.

Claims Fifth Amendment Protection

By ROWLAND EVANS JR.
WASHINGTON (AP)—A suspended New Mexico FHA official refused today to answer questions about girlie parties and fishing trips to Mexico asked by senators probing scandals in the government's housing programs.

The suggestion in the questions was that he had pressured contractors into putting on the parties.

Andrew Frost, suspended last Friday as assistant FHA director for New Mexico, stood on his constitutional right not to be a witness against himself.

Frost was sine second former FHA official to invoke the Fifth amendment in the Senate Banking committee's inquiry into alleged housing irregularities. The first was Clyde L. Powell, former assistant FHA commissioner, who, it was disclosed this week, had a long police record when he got his government job.

Here are some questions Frost refused to answer:

1. Did he, on March 31, 1953, ask a contractor engaged on a project built with government-backed loans "that a party be given to you the night of the groundbreaking with girls furnished by the contractor?" The project was the Holloman housing project.

2. Did he, at about that same time, attend a party at an Alamo gordo, N. M., motel, at which three girls were supplied by a contractor at a cost of between $300 and $400? Was this cost charged to the construction job?

3. Did Frost, between Oct. 16 and Oct. 18, 1953, take a fishing trip to Chihuahua, Mexico, with a contractors doing business with the FHA? Were all expenses from Albuquerque, where Frost was based, to El Paso paid by the government on a voucher submitted by Frost and did the contractors pay the balance of the cost?

4. Did Frost take a similar fishing trip in January, 1953, with the government paying travel expenses from New Mexico to Texas and a contractor picking up the tab from there on?

Committee Counsel William Simon said the trip was to Matatlan, Mexico, with Harry Frank, described as an official in the Atlas Lime Corp., and other contractors.

5. Did Frost in 1950 get two truckloads of concrete blocks for his own house from the Superlite Corp., for which no payment was made, except a dollar or two to the driver of the truck?

6. Did Frost in December, 1952, play in a poker game with several contractors and employees of the FHA?

7. Did Frost suggest to a Jerry Greisham, superintendent of a Wherry Housing Act project in New Mexico, that the two men gamble by matching coins and did Frost win $800?

After Frost refused to answer that question, Sen. Maybank (D-SC), a member of the committee, asked whether the coin-matching was "on the up and up." He got no answer.

Frost was dismissed from the stand. He had been with the FHA since 1934, except for several years in the Army during World War II and a period after that during which he recovered from leg wounds he said he got in the war.

On tap for questioning was Burton C. Bovard, suspended general counsel of the FHA.

Miss Burke Becomes Bride of Wray Shildneck

Miss Adelia Burke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry D. Burke, 320 S. Ave. C, Portales, became the bride of Wray Shildneck, son of Mrs. Amy Patterson of Artesia, at the First Baptist church in Portales Sunday, June 27, at three o'clock.

Rev. L. A. Doyle officiated at the double ring ceremony. The altar was decorated by three bouquets of white daisies, gladioli, and baby's breath, tied with white satin ribbon. Seven branched candelabra stood on either side of an archway, covered by lemon leaves and tied with large white satin bows.

The candelabrum, holding white tapers, were entwined with lemon leaves and tied with white satin bows interspersed with white daisies. The family pews were marked by lace fans with daisies and white satin streamers. Mrs. Grady Beard, close friend of the family, supervised the floral arrangement.

Miss Eulalie Burke, organist, accompanied Mrs. Billy Schumpert, who sang "Because," "O Perfect Love," and "The Lord's Prayer." She also played the wedding professional and recessional and other appropriate wedding selections.

Candles were lighted by the bride's sisters, the Misses Drusilla and Harriet Burke. They wore identical ballerina-length dresses of yellow nylon dotted swiss, over yellow taffeta. The dresses were fashioned after the bride's dress. They wore daisy corsages.

Miss Kathryn Akers, close friend of the bride, was dressed in ice blue nylon dotted swiss over blue taffeta. She carried a crescent bouquet of daisies.

Preceding the bride to the altar was the flower girl, Melissa Rhea Burke, petite sister of the bride. She wore a yellow nylon dotted swiss dress over taffeta, and a corsage of daisies. She carried a blue basket of daisy petals.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a ballerina-length white imported organdie dress over taffeta. The fitted bodice was underlined with lace, had tiny self-covered buttons to the waist, and featured a Peter Pan collar outlined by embroidered daisies, centered by rhinestones.

The full skirt had scattered embroidered daisies with rhinestone centers, on it. Her daisy trimmed bridal veil of nylon tulle, was attached to a fitted lace hat, which also had the daisy and rhinestone trim. Embroidered nylon gloves completed her ensemble. She carried a crescent bouquet of daisies. To complete the wedding tradition, the bride wore a blue garter.

borrowed an old lace handkerchief from Mrs. H. C. Akers, and had her attire as something new.

Donald Sperry, close friend of the groom from Artesia, was best man. Terry Brown and Larry Trainer were ushers.

Mrs. Burke chose a cream colored silk shantung dress with cream and brown accessories for her daughter's wedding. She wore a corsage of gardenias. Mrs. Patterson, the groom's mother, wore an aqua blue lace dress with pearl and rhinestone trimming. She wore white accessories and a white gardenia corsage.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the educational building of the church. Receiving the guests were the bride and groom and their parents.

Mrs. Jimmy Spears presided at the guest register.

The bride's table was covered by an imported cutwork linen table cloth. A silver punch bowl, presided over by Gwin Johnson, was placed at one end of the table, with the bridal cake at the other. The cake was four-tiered and decorated with daisies, the bride's chosen flower. Miss Janet Moore cut the cake.

The table was centered by a crystal and silver epergne, which held the bride's bouquet in the top. The bouquet of the bridesmaid was placed around the base. Silver candle holders with white tapers, flanked the centerpiece.

Assisting with the reception were Mrs. Mark Burns, Mrs. Jack Johnson, Mrs. Grady Beard, Mrs. T. M. McCasland, and Mrs. N. B. Franks.

After the reception, the couple left for a wedding trip to Red River and other northern New Mexico points. Upon their return, they will be in Artesia for three weeks after which they will go to Las Cruces where Wray will enter the summer session of New Mexico A&M.

Mrs. Shildneck graduated from Portales high school this spring, after having received all her public school education in Portales. She was very active in student council both her junior and senior years, having served as vice-president one term. She was editor of the state Student Council newsletter and was a member of the FTA, band, and Honor club.

In her junior year, she attended Girls' State, where she met Wray. This year she was listed in "Who's Who" in the school annual and was elected to the National Honor Society both her junior and senior years. On graduating she received a scholarship to New Mexico A&M at Las Cruces, where she plans to enroll this fall. She was also very active in church work at the First Baptist church where she is a member.

Medical Treatment of Souls Is New School of Psychiatry

By RICHARD O'REGAN AP Newfeatures

VIENNA — The medical treatment of men's souls—this is a new school of psychiatry which is growing up in Vienna, the birthplace of psycho-analysis.

"Logotherapy," as the new school is called, says doctors do not pay enough attention to man's spiritual strivings. It believes a combination of medicine and God can help men with atom-age neuroses—with high blood pressure, ulcers, nervous headaches, phobias and other symptoms.

Dr. Viktor Frankl, Vienna neurologist and president of the Austrian Society of Medical Psychotherapy, explains.

"Man is not driven only by animal instincts—those of sex, hunger and power—but primarily he is motivated in his deepest nature by strivings for a life full of meaning. "Modern man, however, is often ashamed of God. He represses his spiritual longings like men of 50 years ago hid their sexual urges. He becomes confused and sick."

Frankl, 49, a Vienna University associate professor and founder of the new "logotherapy," seeks to harmonize religious faith with some of the basic concepts of Sigmund Freud and Alfred Adler.

Freud and Adler often are regarded as the fathers of modern psychiatry, but although both were Viennese, Vienna generally has rejected their ideas.

Frankl himself was a pupil of both Freud and Adler. His modification of their ideas has been accepted by many doctors and teachers in Vienna and his methods have been introduced in France, Germany, Italy, Spain, Holland and Argentina. He is, however, virtually unknown in the United States and England.

Frankl estimates that three quarters of Europe's population is suffering from a collective sickness of the mind. They do not want to plan in the H-bomb era, they believe more and more in a fatalism that they can do nothing about the world, they are willing to surrender to the mass and become intolerant fanatics.

"Sometimes," says Frankl, "men talk more easily about their sexual histories than about their need for God."

The patient is finally brought to recognize that he is born with a mission to fulfill. He no longer has to believe that he is a mere victim of hereditary, environment or instinctual drives and that he cannot control them. He is freed from his inhibitions about religion and can face the emotional problems of life.

Frankl says that none of the doctors who adhere to his school of thought offer their patients any particular religious doctrine. "When we have made a patient aware of his spiritual needs," he explains, "it may happen that he spontaneously seeks the way to the clergy."

Hobbs played the outfield like a free leaguer, robbing three long lives of apparent extra base hits getting Ewen out of trouble two occasions.

In the second inning, Artesia took the lead on a walk to Bob Herron and a double by Dean Smith. But the Colts rebounded in the bottom of the frame to tie it on a single by Layne, a stoller, and two groundouts.

Artesia came back in the third for a lead on a double by Jim Morgan and a single by Jim Morgan. Bob Gonsalves singled, and Ewen was safe on an error.

Artesia's NuMexers tonight begin a critical eight-game series with Roswell and Carlsbad that will bear heavily on Longhorn league standings.

Big Dallas Trade Pays; Tug Wins

The big trade in which Dallas traded three players and $20,000 to Beaumont for some batting punch appears to be the best investment since Dick Burnett of the Eagles made in the Texas league in a long time.

Dallas was licking Tulsa 4-3 as Jim Tugerson won his own game with a sacrifice fly in the ninth that drove in Wiley Moore. Tugerson worked eight innings, scattering eight hits, and took his bats in the ninth. Hoot Gibson finished on the mound for the Eagles.

Takes Plenty of Push

IT ALWAYS TAKES plenty of push to sell our hometown; to convince the folks to buy and trade at home; and to make it possible for us to increase the variety of merchandise and the service we offer.

Although we oftentimes forget it, the fact remains that it is the business we give to our local merchants and our local firms that makes it possible for them to grow and expand and it makes it possible for us to have and to enjoy more business.

One merchant recently declared that Artesia suffers because there is an effort made to attract the business to nearby cities. This always happens. Most cities or towns are near enough to a larger city that they have a battle trying to keep their business at home.

One of the ways to combat this is for local merchants to offer just as great a variety of merchandise at the same attractive prices as the merchant in the nearby city. The other thing that we need to do is to keep our shoppers advised of the merchandise, the prices, and the service we offer.

Every community has those convinced they can always do better elsewhere than they can at home. That is the same old idea about the grass always being greener on the other side of the fence.

We once knew a merchant who declared he had to get busy and make it possible for the folks to trade at home. He meant he was going to meet the competition which he had in the stores in a nearby large city. In other words his attitude was that it was up to him to make his offering so attractive the folks preferred to buy at home than to go elsewhere.

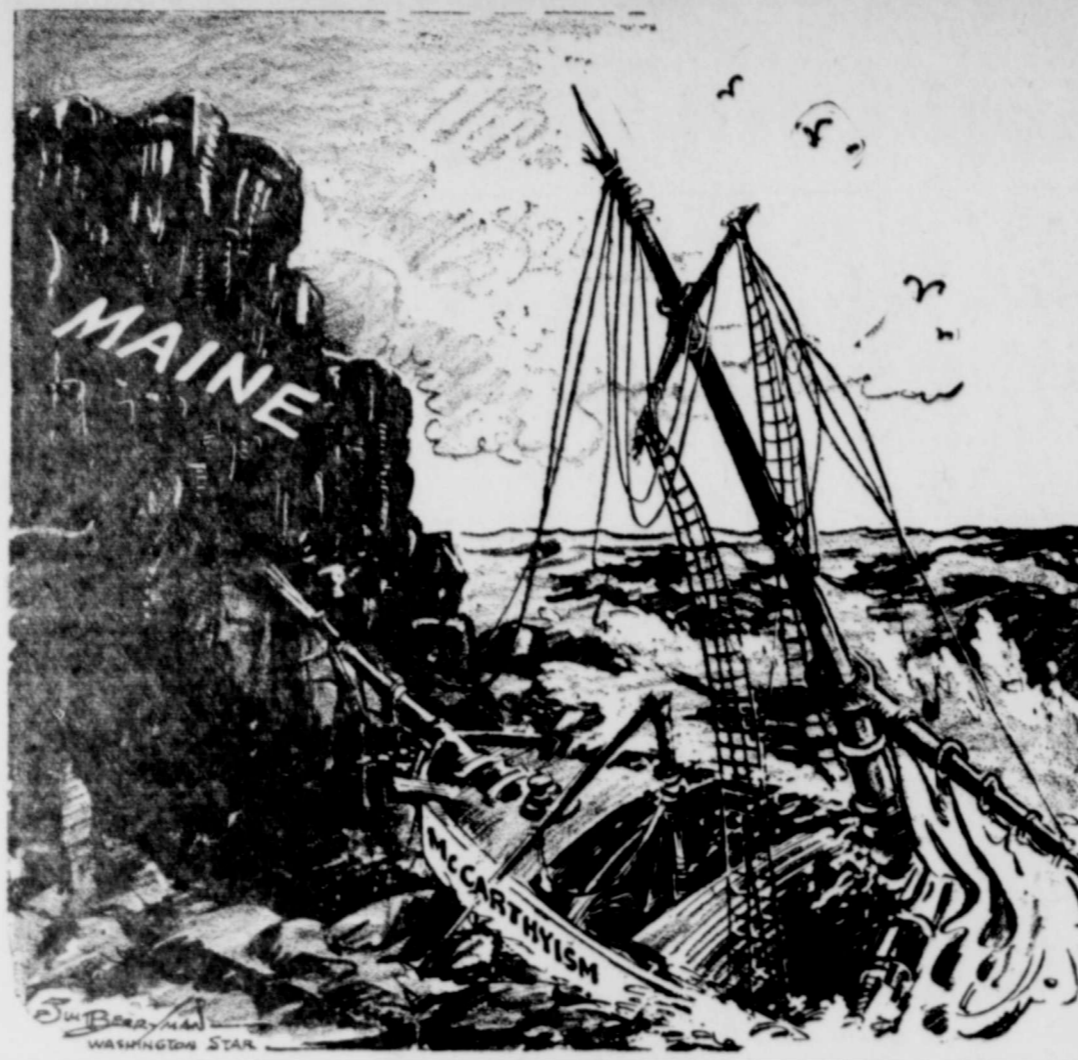

It definitely is always cheaper to trade at home because of the expense involved in the trip to the other city.

We in Artesia are helping to build our own city; helping to make it possible for employees to have jobs; making it possible for the merchant to do more and contribute more to our community and make our city more prosperous when we trade and buy at home.

It means a cooperative effort on the part of the merchant and the shopper but both benefit when it is done.

We of The Advocate are happy to help and serve in anyway we can.

Two Artesia Youths Sent To Fort Bliss for Basic

Both will spend the first eight weeks of basic training on fundamental infantry subjects like army drill, rifle, machine guns, and bazooka marksmanship, and familiarization with army technical subjects. This first phase of training is climaxed with a one-week maneuver in the field.

Upon completion of their first eight week cycle, they will either be assigned for further training at Fort Bliss in the techniques of anti-aircraft artillery, or they will be transferred to another training center for schooling in some other army skill.

Should they remain at Fort Bliss, their second eight weeks will see them firing light and medium anti-aircraft artillery weapons at low-flying and high altitude aerial targets on the one-and-one-half-million acre Ft. Bliss ranges. They will also be expertly trained in the uses of various electronic equipment employed by the AAA-RTC.

Mims, Dykes Get 10-Round Draw

WASHINGTON — Middleweights Holly Mims and Bobby Dykes, both seeking a shot at the crown, saw-sawed their way last night to an unusual 10-round draw that did neither of their careers much good.

Mims, Washington, D. C.'s second-ranked contender for the world title held by Bobo Olsen, looked strong in the middle rounds when he jarred Dykes with overhand right-hand punches. Dykes, Miami, Fla., veteran, piled up a big lead in the early rounds by clicking lefts and rights to Mims, then making the Washington puncher come after him instead of mixing it with him anywhere near the ropes.

Former Assistant Anthony Manager Here Wins Post

Tom Cox of the Roswell C. R. Anthony Co. store, formerly assistant manager of the New Mexico Oil conservation commission here at Artesia, will be transferred to the firm's Henrietta, Texas, store as manager, it was learned here today.

His appointment was announced by the company and George Fowler, manager of the Artesia store.

Fowler also said the company is announcing eight new Anthony stores will open today. The stores, purchased from L. C. Burr Co., are located in Missouri, Arkansas, Oklahoma, and Texas. They bring the Anthony total to 137.

New stores are being planned for Magnolia, Ark.; Tulsa, Okla.; Lamesa, Calif.; and Garden Grove, Calif., Fowler said he had been informed.

Cox will succeed John Willburn at Henrietta. Willburn has been named manager of the firm's new Tulsa store.

Women Golfers Announce Winners In Tournament

PEABODY, Mass. — The Women's National Open Golf Championship got under way with a prediction by Louise Suggs that the amateurs had as good a chance to win the event as the professionals.

Miss Suggs, leading money winner among the play-for-pay girls so far this year, based her statement on the length of the 6,393-yard, tree-lined course on which the 72-hole three-day medal tourney is being held. Par is 36-36-72.

"There are a lot of long distance hitters among the amateurs this year like Joyce Ziske, Mickey Wright, and Pat Lesser and that's what this course requires," says Louise.

And it's generally agreed that Theodora "Pippy" Rooney, a local girl, drives the ball as hard and far as any of the 21 professionals and 32 amateurs in the field.

No Telephone Strike Seen For Artesia

Steel Increased $3 per Ton

PITTSBURGH — U. S. Steel Corp., which produces more than one-third of the nation's steel, today announced an increase in prices averaging $3 a ton. The present price of basic carbon steel is $120 a ton.

The price increase comes just two days after the nation's No. 1 producer signed a contract with the CIO United Steelworkers giving 190,000 employes a five-cent hourly wage hike and improved pension and insurance programs.

Other basic steel producers are expected to follow U. S. Steel's example in upping prices since they also reached agreement with the union on similar contracts.

33 years ago they told me:

"YOU HAVE LESS THAN A YEAR TO LIVE!"

"MUST HAVE BEEN back in 1919 or '20. Hopeless case of diabetes. No known cure..."

"BUT HERE I AM. They found a treatment—insulin—in time. Today, nobody has to die of diabetes."

"CANCER, I know, is a tougher problem. But the laboratorians can lick that one, too—with our support. Already, they're curing people who would have been done for a few years ago. Last year—thanks to $5,000,000 allocated by the American Cancer Society from our contributions—they found out a lot more... though there's still a long way to go."

"MY WIFE WAS SICK. $5,000,000 is still less than 4 cents per American per year. Not enough. Not enough to find the answer fast enough—250,000 Americans are going to die of cancer this year, they say."

"I'M NOT RICH, but I gave 'em $50 last year—hope to do better this time. After all, where would I be if the laboratorians working on diabetes, that time, hadn't been given enough support—?"
