SCHOOL BOARD ENDS SEGREGATION

Teachers, Students Moved to Roselawn

Segregation in Artesia public schools was ended last night by a board of education vote to abolish the city's Negro elementary school and mix its teachers and students into big, nearby Roselawn school.

There was no dissension and relatively little discussion as the board voted unanimously to make the colored Carver school an annex to Roselawn school and consider its two rooms as a part of Roselawn school.

Two colored teachers who have taught at Carver will be moved to Roselawn school to teach mixed classes. Two rooms from Roselawn school will be housed in what was the Carver school.

Representatives of the Negro Civic League who attended the board's meeting last night expressed themselves as in favor of the board's action.

The action came in the wake of a drive by the state chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, which pointed to Artesia as one of five cities in the state still practicing racial segregation.

Segregation existed in Artesia in grades one through six. Junior and Senior high school colored students attended regular classes in those schools.

Under the board's action, Carver's two teachers, Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Collie, will teach mixed classes at Roselawn school. Two classes will later be assigned to the former Carver school building.

THERE WERE 59 STUDENTS enrolled at Carver school, which is in the Roselawn school zone, when school dismissed, the school board was told. Of the 59, there were 35 pupils in the first three grades, including 22 in the first grade.

Board Pres. Howard Stroup said the school system cannot afford to close Carver school, "being as hard-up as we are for classrooms."

Rev. J. H. Horton, who accompanied Mrs. Albert Young, president of the Negro Civic League, and her husband to the meeting, told the board during the discussion "we know the board will do what is best for the most people. He pointed out three classes meeting in one room has not been satisfactory.

Supt. of Schools Vernon Mills suggested to the board to dissolve Carver school and make it a part of the Roselawn school zone, moving its teachers to Roselawn school.

FOUR OF FIVE BOARD MEMBERS—George O. Teel, Earl Cox, C. C. Nelson, and Stroup—were present for the meeting. The fifth, Mrs. C. P. Bunch is absent from the city on an extended vacation in the East.

Rev. Horton commended the board for its unanimous action. Some board members expressed the opinion that "whatever we do is going to offend someone, but we have to do something."

The board at first discussed making attendance for colored students optional at either Carver or Roselawn schools. The idea was dismissed in later discussion in favor of fully dissolving the Carver school.

Actual assignment of teachers and students to classes was left to Supt. Mills to be carried out under normal school administrative methods.

Jencks, Five Other Mine-Mill Leaders in Jail

SILVER CITY (AP)—Six members of the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers, local 890, reported to the Grant county jail last night to begin serving the remainder of a 90-day contempt of court jail sentence.

The contempt of court sentence was handed down by Dist. Judge A. W. Marshall after the six were convicted of breaking an order restraining them from blocking a public road into the Empire Zinc Co. holding in Hanover during a bitter year long strike.

All six had served an average of 30 days of their sentence when (Continued on Page Six) ment released through H. W. Kiddy, Artesia member, that: "The council is of the opinion that fines will not solve the speed problem which is the cause of so many fatal highway accidents in this state.

"The council is of further opinion that, in addition to fines, giving two, four and five-hour jail sentences by justices of the peace and police magistrates will have a salutary effect."

The council was headed by Bill Carpenter of Carlsbad, co-chairman, in its Artesia meeting last night.

State Official Dies in Car Wreck at Lamy

SANTA FE (AP)—State Purchasing Agent H. F. Scott, 55, was killed just before midnight last night when his car failed to negotiate a curve near Lamy and rolled over three times.

A passenger in the car, Dorothy H. Summers, 40, of Santa Fe, suffered fractured ribs and lacerations.

Scott was appointed by Gov. Mechem to take the place of G. T. McWhirter, fired Nov. 20, 1951 as the climax of dissension within the Republican state leadership over McWhirter's purchasing policies.

Scott came to the statehouse from Clovis, where he had operated a music business. He had been a teacher before that and was known as an accomplished organist. He was the father-in-law of State Comptroller Edward M. Hartman.

Mrs. Edward Hartman, wife of the comptroller, is a daughter of Scott. Four other children survive.

Another wreck early today took place six miles west of Clovis on U. S. Highway 60, killing A. B. Currie, 37, of Clovis.

State Patrolman Charles Hawkins said Currie passed another vehicle and lost control, overturning three times. He was thrown out and killed instantly.

TIPS ON PITCHING—Youngsters Can't Learn Pitching Out of Book

By BUCKY WALTERS (Pitching Coach, Milwaukee Braves) (Written for AP Newsfeatures)

You cannot learn how to pitch out of a book.

If you want to become a pitcher here are four things to remember.

1.—Play the game. You need practical experience. Learn by doing.

2.—Learn how to get the ball over. Make the batter hit the ball.

3.—Divide the strike zone in half. You can do this by putting stakes up in your backyard. Place them one foot apart. Then put one string from one stake to the other about knee high. Tie another string to each stake about shoulder high.

Learn how to hit the strike zone with straight balls. Master one pitch. When you find yourself adept to throwing a straight ball between these strings divide the strike one in half by putting a third string from left to right in the middle of the top and lower strings.

4.—After you master the strike zone with a straight or fast ball you should work on the change of pace pitch. Don't fool around with any trick pitches. Just throw the ball with a little something on it. When you find a groove, the ball can be thrown there almost at will. Don't fool with a curve until you are developed physically. It takes practice to get a good curve ball.

After these basic steps the number one thing should be condition. Running is one thing that can't hurt you. It will help your legs, wind and endurance.

Don't Blame the FHA

ALL OF THE RUMORS and the reports on scandals in the FHA have caused considerable concern among the American people but there is no reason to blame the FHA. We can blame politics.

Unfortunately we seemingly always have those who want to take advantage of their government—those who want to get a cut out of a program regardless of who it hurts or what it costs. It is that old human greed.

There is every reason to believe that now the probes have been launched that a good investigation will be conducted and the outcome will result in a house cleaning that has been needed.

The FHA program has been a lifesaver in New Mexico and it has made it possible for many home building projects to be carried out to provide homes. Without this program the homes we have could not have been erected. Without the program the building of homes here and elsewhere could not be continued.

It is also true that the present investigations, even including the one in New Mexico, have not concerned title No. 2—the single house unit program.

The investigations are into Title 608, which is the multiple unit program consisting of large apartment house projects involving many thousands of dollars in each project.

Indications are that the only project involved in our own state is the Wherry housing project, a government project.

There is no reason to believe that any of the FHA home building programs carried out over the state are involved and no contractors involved in the building of single unit homes.

The fact is being stressed that it would be extremely unfortunate if the idea got around that any local builders were involved or that the scandal may include them. Assurances have been given that this is not the case.

Many not too well acquainted with the FHA do not know that under the program that the government merely makes it possible for guaranteed loans to be provided and for the houses to be built. The government does not finance the building or even pay the cost of the operation of the program.

It is private money—the money of banks and of insurance firms and various concerns—that is loaned. This loan is guaranteed through a mortgage insurance program. The buyer pays into the fund that provides money in the event the borrower defaults and in such cases the government does not lose anything and it does not take back the home.

It is also true that under the FHA program the expenses of the program are paid by a service charge which the buyer of the home and the borrower pays when he makes the payment on his loan.

It is one of the few government agencies which pays its own way and for which the government does not have to provide money or funds.

It has made possible for many individuals to buy homes and to own their own homes. Without the program this would not be possible.

Should the present scandals cause us in the state to lose confidence in the program then our present building program would be halted.

This would be unfortunate since we still need homes in many other cities and towns besides locally.

FHA has done a good job, on the whole, for the average individuals and we are sure everyone is glad that those operating and those buying under Title No. 2 have not been involved and are not accused.

We hope that FHA continues to serve the American people as it has in the past.

Skelly Stakes New 12,000 Foot Deep Oil, Gas Test

Another North Eddy county deep test, an offset to a discovery well which initially produced 4 million cubic feet of gas daily, has been located 34 miles east of Artesia.

It is Skelly Oil Co. No. 21 Dow "B," scheduled as a 12,000-foot test in an undesignated pool.

It is one mile east of Skelly's discovery, the Lynch 14, finished earlier this year.

The location was one of six reported in the county, but the only deep test.

Lone completion reported was a big shallow producer flowing 200 barrels a day after Sandfrac. It is Malco, Resler and Yates No. 119 State in NE SW 14-18-28, 15 miles east and six miles south of Artesia. Total depth is 2,556 feet.

Other new locations include Malco, Resler and Yates No. 120 State, a 2,500-foot test in the Artesia pool; Miller and Smith No. 1 Nix-State, also a 2,500-foot test in the Artesia pool; Owen Haynes No. 12 Harbold, a 1,600-foot test in the Red Lake pool; Roland Rich Woolley "C," a workover from 3,270 feet in the Premier pool, and Sinclair Oil & Gas No. 6 Keel "B," another workover from 3,023 feet in the Graysburg-Jackson pool.

Garden Hose Attachment Aid In Battling Yard Invaders

By DAVID BAREUTHER (AP Real Estate Editor)

HOW TO PUT OFF home care and repair jobs isn't much of a problem at this time of the year. The handyman who isn't taking off on a vacation trip suddenly discovers that the backyard is an important part of the home. That is how we happened to discover a new spray gadget you'll be interested in if you're battling bugs in your garden.

It's a nonbreakable plastic attachment for the garden hose with a refillable chamber for insecticide and fungicide pellets. It's engineered in such a way that the water mixes the spray in just the right proportion so you have no pumping to do. An extension tube on the end of the device reaches the undersides of leaves and slow growing plants without compelling you to stand on your head.

We found the invention in a hardware store and gave it a trial. It certainly takes the guesswork out of spray mixing. We sprayed roses and fruit trees all at the same time because the nozzle is adjustable from a fine fog spray to a stream reaching 20 to 30 feet up.

The hardware man pointed out basic chemicals recommended by that the ingredients include the new agricultural schools — malathion, methoxychlor, captan, zineb, etc. He suggested that we try it for killing gnats and mosquitoes in the lawn before guests arrive for a barbecue, but we'll have to build the barbecue pit first.

ANOTHER ITEM that caught our eye on that trip to the hardware store was a new adjustable door bumper that calls for no holes to drill. You merely remove the spindle from a hinge, then reinsert the spindle through the bumper arm. A sort of inverted "Y" arrangement holds one rubber lip against the door while the other rubber-bumps on the door jamb. It's a nifty way to prevent a door knob from mashing wallpaper or marring furniture. One arm of the "Y" is adjustable so the door can be allowed to open just so far and no more.

THE POPULARITY of so-called ranch houses and a growing preference for keeping natural wood grained appearances on exteriors has brought about a new paint for rough wood surfaces outdoors. This is not a stain and does not contain creosote. Yet it preserves wood grained appearances while coating them with a fully pigmented color.

The manufacturers call this a shake and shingle finish. Its pigmentation provides an effective Malco, Resler and Yates No. 120 State, NE SE 15-18-28.

New Beauty Treatment Is Invisible

By SANDRA NEMSER AP Newsfeatures Writer

If you want to read and set your hair at the same time, harpist-inventor Julie Keller has the situation well in hand.

Her solution is two mirrors on flexible arms attached to a floor reading lamp. The mirrors, the latest in a series of inventions, are rotated at any angle so the hair-setter can see all parts of her head at the same time.

Miss Keller, 51, once was called "The Golden Harpist of Radio." She switched from music to inventing six years ago to make other women and herself feel happier and look younger.

The short, blonde, energetic woman says she "started looking old at a young age." So she built a laboratory in her Hollywood home, mixed some formulae, and came up with a solution Ponce de Leon might envy.

When applied, the beauty treatment is a light mask and can even be worn in public. It is removed, says she, as a "diaphanous beautiful veil" which somewhat resembles rubber cement.

Recommended to "retain and regain youth," it is guaranteed by Miss Keller: to remove face scales and grime, diminish double chins, smooth wrinkles and correct sagging face muscles.

It also has been used on swollen ankles, razor cuts and open wounds. Her New York enterprises include a device to churn ice cream while it is still in the refrigerator.

At the height of her musical career, she played her harp in movies and on the radio, conducted her own 75-member harp symphony and held a full professorship at a California university.

She plans to combine her musical and inventing talents soon in a television program. Her music has divine inspiration, she believes and adds: "After all the years I've played the harp, I hope I go to Heaven."

It's a letter to a tobacco manufacturer giving him permission to name a cigar "The Lillian Russell."

OLD BONDS PAY BELEN, (AP) - Valencia county has $457 of unexpected money from an unexpected source. The Guaranty Trust Co. of New York mailed the county a check for $457.38 which represented interest on bonds bought by the county in 1895. The maturity date was 1922. The bonds had never been collected.

reaction at the two points. One was when Roberts was asked: "What happened between you and your wife while you were in the pickup?"

Roberts answered: "Nothing happened; she was drunk, she opened the door and jumped."

The other point on which the machine reacted was when Roberts was questioned on the route he and his wife followed on the fatal ride.

Pierce and his son hammered on the questions. Roberts started breaking near Lamesa, Texas, the deputy said, when the elder Price asked him to account once more for the improbable story that Mrs. Roberts fell.

According to Pierce, Roberts said: "She had been cursing me and arguing. It got me all torn up."

"Did you hit her?"

"No, she hit me first," Roberts replied, according to Pierce.

Then followed the full story by Roberts, the deputy said, in which he admitted he struck her—"I

Potasher Manager Pat McLaughlin Injured in Texas

CARLSBAD — (AP) — Mgr. Pat McLaughlin of the Carlsbad Potashers is in a Lamesa hospital with three broken ribs and bruises about the head following an accident last night while the team was returning from Sweetwater.

The Potasher bus came upon an overturned truck 10 miles west of Snyder and stopped to render assistance. The chain from the tow truck slipped off and struck McLaughlin in the chest, hurling him about 10 feet in the air.

McLaughlin was taken to the hospital in the bus and Dr. F. Seale reported this morning that it would be several days before he would be released.

Hank Williams will take charge of the club during McLaughlin's absence.

None of the players were injured and will take the field against Roswell here tonight.

He told the Associated Press last Thursday he believed his policies had saved the state at least one million dollars a year. One of his most important actions—and at the same time one of the most controversial—was doing business on various items with manufacturers themselves.

Scott negotiated on prices with the manufacturers but handled distribution through dealers in New Mexico in most such cases. He figured this practice saved considerable money for the state in its purchases of tires, tubes, batteries, anti-freeze and similar items in large demand by state agencies.

Pickett Urges Demo Women to Get Independents

TRUTH OR CONSEQUENCES—

State Corporation Commission Chairman Ingram Pickett last night told a Jane Jefferson club meeting it is "up to the Democratic party to put up the type of man to get the independent vote."

Pickett, talking of the importance of the "independent" voter will play in the November elections, pointed out there are only about 12,000 registered independent voters in the state.

He said, however, an independent voter wasn't one who necessarily was registered as such, but one who "scratches both sides of the ballot."

The seven-foot candidate for reelection also said he planned to ask for a larger commission.

"Three men have too much power," he said. Pickett added, "the commission has more effect on the people of the state than any other group and 10 times more than the governor."

He proposes a five-man, elective commission. Bills to come before the legislature will call for a five-man board, both partly elective and partly appointive, and another for a five-man appointive board, he said.

Baptists to Take Over Boys Ranch Management

ALBUQUERQUE — (AP) — The Baptist convention of New Mexico has completed negotiations to take over the New Mexico Boys' Ranch near LoJoya, it was announced today.

The Rev. O. L. Dennis, pastor of the First Baptist church at Truth or Consequences, announced the state mission board decided to take over the ranch at a recent meeting. Negotiations had been under way for some time.

The ranch is a home for underprivileged boys. It has been owned and operated by a non-profit organization of businessmen and ranchers. In the 10 years it has operated, it underwent several financial crises.

Rev. Dennis said the ranch would be operated by W. C. Hubbard, superintendent of the Baptist children's home at Portales. He will also continue his duties at Portales.

The ranch has a physical value estimated at $250,000.

TO HOMER IS DIVINE

ANDERSON, S. C. — (AP) — Virgil Stallcup, playing manager of the Anderson Rebels in the Tri-State league, believes it's human to err but divine to homer.

In a game against Greenville, Stallcup's error permitted three unearned runs to score in the top of the ninth inning. In the last half of the inning, however, he blasted a home run with two aboard to win the game, 8-7.

Cause of Sciatica Discussed By Local Doctor

Sciatica is an abnormal condition of the great sciatic nerve which provides the nerve supply to the tissues of the thigh and lower leg. Pain is the chief characteristic of sciatica.

Chiropractic research shows that sciatica is caused by pressure on nerves due to subluxated (misaligned) vertebrae pinching the nerves and thereby blocking the passage of the normal nerve supply. Falls, jolts and strains are common reasons for vertebrae becoming misaligned. The chiropractor is trained to locate the exact point of the nerve pressure and to remove the pressure. The nerves then carry their full quota of nerve energy.

It is not right to say "everything possible has been done" unless chiropractic is included.

For further information about Chiropractic you are invited to consult Dr. Kathryn Behnke Rains, Palmer Graduate Chiropractor, 408 W. Richardson, phone 861. Office hours daily except Saturday afternoon.

It was the third fatality in Curry state police reported.

Currie was killed when his car overturned attempting to pass another car pulling a small boat on a trailer. The car hit the left shoulder, skidded and turned over, State Policeman Charles Hawkins reported.

The driver was found outside of the car. A single blow to the head caused his death, Hawkins said.

The accident happened about 8 a. m. Funeral is pending.
