The reader of political platforms in New Mexico will probably fall of his chair this year when he sees a peculiar coincidence which is something more than amazing but not quite flabbergasting.

Boys Ranch Board Reorganized

ALBUQUERQUE, (AP)—The board of directors of the New Mexico Boys Ranch near La Joya has been reorganized and the ranch will continue to operate under its present charter, a board member, said last night.

about all their rivals had to advocate. In answer to this observation, T. E. Brown, Artesia, Democratic state chairman, issued a statement this morning which he said covered the main difference between the two platforms. And that main difference, according to Brown, is that the Democrats are strongly in favor of fatherhood, too.

He pointed out that the differences originated from the opposing likenesses in gubernatorial candidates. John Simms, the Demos' hope, is a family man with five kids. Alvin Stockton, the GOP choice, is a 43-year-old bachelor.

Another point noted by Brown this morning is that the Demos platform advocates legislation for a minimum wage with temperance in the direction of farmers and ranchers who most of the time employ their help to live on the establishment with provisions for board, room, and utilities.

Leaders Ask Foundation Herd Aids

By SANKY TRIMBLE
ALBUQUERQUE (AP)—New Mexico agricultural leaders today asked the state drought committee to take emergency action to prevent involuntary liquidation of foundation herds and certain wreckage of the state's cattle industry.

Gov. Edwin L. Mechem, who attended the session, said he would take up directly with the secretary of agriculture what he described as a critical situation. Representatives of farm and livestock organizations asked the committee to:

1. Recommend continuance of the federal emergency drought feed program until Oct. 15 when there will "be no chance of making winter grass."
2. A combination program to provide hay and concentrate to large and small ranchers who need help the next two or three months.

3. Exploration of methods to hold the price of feed level during the emergency.
4. Removal of the $1.25 per acre emergency tillage ceiling on farm land so farmers can buy seed and get cover on blowing lands in the event rains come.

5. A program to help on freight (Continued on Page Six)

Right-of-Way Funds For Artesia Deferred

Reversing its previous stand, the Eddy county land use committee had recommended that $20,000 it previously reserved for Artesia right-of-way purchases be spent on the controversial Carlsbad-Jal highway.

In a letter received by county commissioners at Carlsbad yesterday afternoon, the land-use committee said the $20,000 would not be needed for right-of-way purchases to widen U. S. 285 through Artesia (First street) this year.

The land-use committee said if the money were not spent, it might revert to the state and would not be available at all to the county.

The commission deferred action on the land use committee recommendation until its Aug. 2 meeting.

The $20,000 would be spent to buy oil and gravel for use in paving the proposed Carlsbad-Jal highway if the land use committee's recommendation is approved by the county commission.

Grading and drainage for the road have already been done by county road crews. Lea county has planned to build a road to meet the Eddy county construction.

Commission Backs Action By Land-Use

Recommendations that $20,000 previously earmarked for right-of-way purchase in Artesia be spent instead on the Jal-Carlsbad highway were forwarded to the state highway department by the county commission yesterday, Commissioner F. Ray Zumwalt of Artesia told the Artesia Advocate this morning.

In accepting and forwarding a report by the county land use committee which reversed the committee's previous stand, the county commission in effect approved the committee's action.

Zumwalt told the Advocate "we received information from the state highway department that there would be no need for right-of-way money to be spent in Artesia this year."

"Rather than let the money stand idle, we accepted the report of the land use committee in which it changed its recommendation."

He added: "We think that when the Artesia project, it will be available."

He referred to an earlier recommendation by the county land use committee that $20,000 of $91,600 available to the county be spent to purchase right-of-way in Artesia.

The right-of-way purchase would precede widening of north and south First streets along a three to five-mile stretch through and outside Artesia. The project would resemble that now under construction in Roswell.

The committee in a meeting in Artesia Saturday reversed its position, after it had been informed the federal urban project for Artesia would not be launched in the current 1954-55 fiscal year.

The commissioner said the inventory of state land, now 85 per cent complete, indicates the state's holdings are closer to 13 million acres than the 12 million formerly considered accurate.

"The survey has also resulted in the discovery of large areas of grazing land which was not under lease, as well as considerable areas of land suitable for oil and gas leasing, which has now been leased," Walker said.

Production was unchanged in Texas at 2,618,500.

Louisiana was down 1,000 to 663,300. New Mexico down 100 to 204,475.

British Dentists Concerned Over New Television Teeth

By CYNTHIA LOWRY AP Newsfeatures Writer Now the British dentists are concerned about the new unpleasantness they call "television teeth." It afflicts children of television homes and is caused, as I understand it, by the little ones getting so wrapped up in whatever it is that British children look at instead of Hoppy, Roy, Gene and Howdie Doodie that they slench their teeth and make them crooked. I hear American dentists have already accused the channels as despoilers of teeth. Maybe not so much lately because they are campaigning busily against lollipops—at least, some of them around these parts protested when it was planned to give away free lollipops to divert children from the needle when they got their anti-polio shots. I know my dentist, when my mouth is stufed with equipment, is much more interested in asking me questions about my sugar consumption than my viewing habits. British television, like British radio and British films, is probably different from ours. But if television is injuring anybody's teeth in this country, I'd say it was the adult's. And I'd also say the injury wouldn't come from clenching teeth in rapt concentration but from grinding them in sheer, frustrated anguish. I sometimes think I'll be down to the gum line after another year of stoically paying the price for entertainment by suffering some types of commercials. I also suffer serious dental trauma from the smooth and smiling young people who go into ecstasies when they ytake a sip of instant coffee, lick a spoonful of ice cream, quaff a glass of beer or get behind the wheel of any new or used car. My emotions, translated into frenzied workings of the jaw, are indescribable when, because of circumstances beyond my control, I must watch what the trade calls "agony shows" in which brave, suffering and needy human beings knot their brows and perspire trying to answer such questions as "Who was the first President?" for $1500. After weeks' of concentrated viewing of proceedings referred to generally as "the hearings," it's a wonder a tooth is left in the mouth of any housewife in the nation. The suspense, the haggling, the flashing wit, the repetition, the hammering—very tough on the teeth. Actually, the preventive for television teeth is already in our hands: a turn of the dial to the left and the picture disappears. It's funny more of us don't think of trying it.

SHERWOOD CULBERSON of Lordsburg, president of New Mexico Cattle Growers Assn., told the drought committee, headed by Mark Richman, that he considers the situation more critical than ever before. He was joined in this survey of the situation by representatives of the New Mexico Farm Bureau and other organizations.

"Most ranchers I know simply cannot make it through the winter," Culberson said, "unless there is rain relief."
He said most ranchers have cut their herds to the very minimum and are holding only foundation stock. Many, he said, intend to hand on "just as long as possible." But he and others warned that unless there is rain between now and Oct. 15 and no winter grass in sight.

"WE MIGHT AS WELL face it; most of them are out of business." Also attending the session was Albert Mitchell, veteran New Mexico rancher and member of the agricultural advisory committee to the secretary of agriculture.
Albert and Mechem listened intently to the drought survey by individual operators and large organization operators.
"There is just no long range solution except rain," Mitchell said. The governor, declaring the situation is getting "more aggravated all the time," said he plans "soon" to deal directly with the secretary of agriculture on the situation.
The government's drought emergency feed program ended July 15.

Cohn Resigns — (Continued from page one.) comes the first official casualty of the McCarthy-Army hearings. The hearings revolved about the charges by Army officials that McCarthy, Cohn and Francis P. Carr, staff director for the McCarthy subcommittee, exerted improper pressures for preferential treatment for Pvt. G. David Schine.

Brown — (Continued from page one.) strongly opposed McCarthyism, thought it had mentioned no names. The party members had also stated they would not invite Senator McCarthy to New Mexico, in any event.
However, since Mrs. Hurley's speech, the "oppose-McCarthyism plank" had been taken out and a substitute "promote Americanism" plank has been put in, Brown said.
Brown said the shift tended to give the idea that the Republicans talked on thing and put another in their platform.

Winner of the bull riding event will be given a trophy featuring a large, gold Brahma bull. Winners in the open and professional cutting horse contest will be awarded quarter horse trophies.
Belt buckle trophies will be awarded all second place winners. Trophies will be given the best all round cowboy and the rodeo's hardluck cowboy, as well as the fastest calf ropers.

Drivers Are Urged To Use Four-Lane Highway Properly
Driving on a four-lane highway requires a little extra effort and knowledge, Artesia law officers said today. Ordinary rules of two-lane driving do apply but they are a little more developed.
Most of the time situations that develop on a four-lane road do come up from passing difficulties. Passing on the right is particularly concerned. In the first place, according to city and state police, the inside lane is meant for through-traffic and drivers meaning to turn to the left.
They said that sightseers and dawdlers should be on the outside lane and therefore should not be causing any passing on the right. It is permissible to pass on the right except at intersection.
The pamphlet, "Motor Vehicle Laws of New Mexico," stipulates in section 66:
"When overtaking on the right is permitted—(a) The driver of a vehicle may overtake and pass upon the right of another vehicle only under the following conditions:
1.—When the vehicle overtaken is making or about to make a left turn;
2.—Upon a street or highway with unobstructed pavement not occupied by parked vehicles of sufficient width for two or more lanes of moving vehicles in each direction;
3.—Upon a one-way street, or upon any roadway on which traffic is restricted to one direction of movement, where the roadway is free from obstructions and of sufficient width for two or more lanes of moving vehicles. (b) The driver of a vehicle may overtake and pass another vehicle upon the right only under conditions per-

Western Amateur Golf Championship Tourny to Open
SEATTLE — (AP) — The Broadmoor course spread its inviting carpet again today for those who aspire to the Western Amateur golf championship, but all hundred-and-a-half of them stepped on it softly after stubbing so many toes in yesterday's opening round.
Only dapper Dale Morey, Indianapolis, could shove as much as a single stroke off Broadmoor's par 70—and he was playing for fun. Being the defending champion, Morey doesn't have to qualify in the two days of medal play.
Morey outshone his playing partner, Bing Crosby, sartorially and mathematically. The quietly dressed crooner had a 78, nine strokes more than Morey but a lot less than a lot of others.
Among these others were hand-leader Phil Harris, who had an 87, and comedian Jack Benny, with a 96.
An Army major and a youngster just out of high school tied for the low score—disregarding Morey—with 70's. Robert Prall, Salem, Ore., 18, had the best score of the day on the outgoing half with a 32, two under par. Maj. Harley Williams put together two 35's for his even par total.
The field will make the 18-hole jaunt again today, then the total will be chipped to 64 and the survivors will continue in match play.

Consul Defends U.S. Treatment Of Wetbacks
MCALLEN, Tex. — (AP) — Mexican Consul Bernardo Blanco said today he found no mistreatment of aliens in the biggest roundup of wetbacks in valley history.
After visiting the U. S. Border Patrol detention camp here yesterday, Blanco said he would pass on his assurances to his government concerning treatment and

Drought Injures Plans for College, Chavez Declares
WASHINGTON — (AP) — Because he believes drought conditions in New Mexico may prevent some capable students from attending college. Sen. Dennis Chavez (D-NM) says he is working on a program to permit financially unable students to attend colleges and universities.
Sen. Chavez said he is working with U. S. education commissioner Samuel M. Brownell to explore possibilities of a federal-state cooperative program of student aid.
Chavez quoted Brownell as saying he would be glad to start a study of the program if the state of New Mexico thought it needed it. Chavez said talks with educational leaders indicated they thought the state would be able to call upon its own resources to some extent in cooperation with the federal program.
"Mr. Brownell's philosophy seems to be that his office of education will lend support to those states which try to help themselves, or to those who are unable to do so at all," Chavez said.

Wetbacks are being sent to El Paso, where they are turned over to the Mexican government for transportation into Mexico.
Blanco and reporters yesterday found officials acting under statutory authority that outlines terms under which the illegal aliens are transported.
Public law requires each alien to pay his bus fare of $10, provided he is left within a minimum of $3. If he has less than $3, the U. S. pays his entire fare. The government also makes up the difference in cases where the alien cannot pay the entire fare without dropping below the $3 minimum he is allowed to keep.
The wetbacks are being taken to El Paso in bus loads of 50. Border Patrol officials said an average of $80 to $100 a bus load is being collected from the aliens themselves, with the government making up the difference in the $580-per-bus-load contract price.
Border Patrol officials said 75 busloads of aliens have been moved from the detention camp here to El Paso in the past 24 hours, and that approximately 7,000 aliens have been deported at El Paso since the roundup started last week. The deportations through El Paso are being carried out under an agreement between the U. S. and Mexico.
