Two Pakistanis to Leave Artesia Area Thursday, Report Surprise in Discovering 'Real America'

"We're supposed to leave Thursday and we want to give our impressions of your country, said Kazi Romanuddin Ahmed and K. Asif Ali, international farm youth exchange students.

"They discussed their program and what they had learned while observing general agriculture developments in Eddy county. They are here to study mechanical farming methods and to observe the social life of the United States.

Said Kazi, "All your farmers are using mechanical means and they are certainly rich in that respect." He added, "the farmers with their hospitality and generosity, especially to foreigners, are part and parcel of the economic structure in this country."

Both Pakistani students declared one thing is unusual. "They don't try to hide anything. They show you both the good and bad things of the work."

According to Kazi, he originally thought the people of this country had no family life, lived in hotels and motels and so on. He has discovered that homes in this country are the center of life.

HE DECLARED, "the customs and culture of Christian peoples are very similar to ours, just differing in basic ideas of religion."

Ali agreed with him in that respect and said the "fundamental aspects of the 'good life' are the same in both religions. Kazi expressed his dissatisfaction with elementary education in this country. He said that with all the many modern forms of entertainment, the ordinary U. S. child is missing out when it comes to books that should be read. He said this is probably an advantage his country has in that books provide much of the usual entertainment, and not radio, television, and the movies.

He said, "if you have something to eat in your house, then you won't want it. But if you don't have anything, you will want it," in pointing out the advantages the U. S. child has. Parents should put a little more effort in guiding the kids, he declared.

The pair agreed that U. S. citizens should be more observant of international conditions because of their relatively high positions in the world today.

The two said their former impressions of the U. S. have been changed because of their ideas that the U. S. didn't have too much to show the world. However, since arriving here, they declared the American nation has everything to show the world in terms of private opportunity, industrial development, and plain heartwarming hos-

ALI HAD ONE SUGGESTION.

"Have the government ban neon lights. I've never seen so many people wearing glasses. The lights aren't good for your eyes."

The two, who were surprised to find green fields and irrigated pastures after what easterners told them of New Mexico, said people in this country were much more inquisitive and curious about other countries than their own people are.

They both wished Eddy county inhabitants a happy and good future and said they have been fortunate and thankful for the opportunity to come here. They expressed special thanks to the families they have lived with.

They were: Mr. and Mrs. Joe Carleton, Carlsbad; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Calvani, Carlsbad; Mr. and Mrs. Orval Gray, Cottonwood; Mr. and Mrs. Russell Rogers, Atoka; and Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Bowman, Cottonwood.

The two are leaving the 29th for Las Cruces where they will spend two days before going to a conference in Waco, Minn., to help orient five American boys going to Pakistan. They will then go to Ohio where they will stay until sometime in November. Then, they will be on their way home.

KAZI AND ALI are two of a group of nine Pakistanis visiting this country now. Both are 23. Kazi has two brothers and one sister at home. He is assistant secretary of agriculture in his native East Pakistan.

Alli has six brothers and one sister at home in West Pakistan. The United States' share of the cost of the IFYE program is financed by private individuals, foundations, and organizations. Boys and girls in 4-H clubs and other youth groups, as well as farm organizations, business firms, and community service clubs, contribute generously to the cost of the exchange.

The program is designed to enable rural young people and families to understand and appreciate the way of life of rural people in other countries, because it is believed that understanding is the basis on which we can build world peace and security.

Wool Sewing Contest Details For New Mexico Announced

CARLSBAD, NEW MEXICO—Enough time still remains for New Mexico girls who have a knack with a needle to stitch entries for a home sewing competition which will send its winners on a memorable air-tour to the city of fashion magic—Paris.

This fact was emphasized today as the State Contest Director, Mrs. Frank McWilliams of Carlsbad, announced the chairman and the members of the committee which will supervise the "Make It Yourself With Wool" competition in New Mexico.

They are Mrs. T. D. Burns, III, of Chama, chairman; Mrs. Joe Skeen, Picacho; Mrs. Buddy Walker, Corona; Mrs. Sandy Scott, Aztec; Mrs. John Parker, Silver City; Mrs. Cecil Holeman, Maljamar; Mrs. Jane Powell, Santa Rosa; Mrs. Lowry Hagerman, Santa Fe.

These women will conduct the state's district contests which, in addition to prizes of their own, offer the chance to win: 1) the state competition with its free trip to Salt Lake City, Utah, to model in the National Fashion Review, and 2) the national competition with its grand prizes of all-expense-paid, two-week flying tours to Paris and London. The 1954 contest offers more than $35,000 in awards.

Girls with an ability to create their own fashion-right clothes can enter their district contests by making a dress, a suit, or a coat of virgin wool fabric. They may use either a standard commercial pattern or an original one as they prefer. The contestants must be New Mexico residents between the ages of 14 and 22.

Two winners from each district will be sent to the state finals to be held at the State Fair in Santa Fe in the last week of September. From these young sewers, judges will pick two grand prize winners to represent New Mexico at the national competition next December in Salt Lake City. Other state prizes will include two feather-weight sewing machines from the Singer Sewing Machine Co.; a $50 U. S. Savings Bond and subscriptions for the Handweaver and Craftsman magazine, awarded by that magazine; fabric and skirt lengths from I. A. Wyner & Co. and Chamberlain's Handwovens.

The two top New Mexico winners will get all-expense-paid trips to Salt Lake City, where one of the highlights of their three-day visit will be the modeling of their own creations in the widely-known National Fashion Review. At that time they will compete with young women from 13 other wool-growing states for the national grand prizes. Expenses of the state finalists' trip to Salt Lake City will be paid by the F. W. Woolworth Co.

The contest is sponsored jointly by the New Mexico Wool Growers Association, The State Fair Commission, the Women's Auxiliary of the National Wool Growers Association, and The Wool Bureau. Girls wishing to enter the competition must fill out and mail the official registration form and district state entry blanks. These may be obtained from the chairman and the members of the state contest committee; the State Contest Director, Mrs. Frank McWilliams, Box 871, Carlsbad; or The Wool Bureau, Inc., 16 West 46th Street, New York, N. Y.

Bart DiMaggio Hurls NuMexer Shut-Out, Downs Ashers 9-0

Artesia's NuMexers earned their shut-out win in a row here today, blanking Carlsbad's Ashers 9-0.

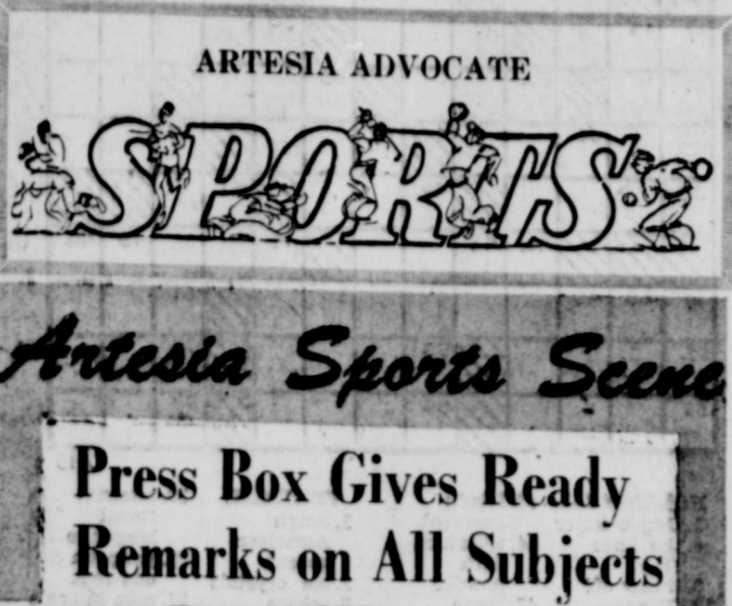

Bart DiMaggio rationed out six over the route to gain his shut-out win of the season. Hank Williams was touched for 15 hits in his eighth loss of the season against 10 wins.

With last night's win and Roswell's 17-7 victory over Big Spring, Artesia retained a 6½ game first lead in the Longhorn league.

Tonight the Carlsbad Potashers came against Artesia at Artesia Municipal park.

Artesia scored in every inning at except one last night.

DiMaggio struck out 10 Potashers in the fourth, and got him- self two hits and credit for two outs.

Press Box Gives Ready Remarks on All Subjects

By ED BOYKIN

Probably one of the greatest institutions ever shoved upon the pastime known as sports is that special installation—the press box.

It is usually located somewhere above and made big enough to hold anyone and everyone who feels he's entitled to observe from there, whichever sport it is he's entitled to observe.

In it, the inspector of such establishments can find newspapermen, radio men, scorers, scouts (sometimes the boy variety), and general observers.

We have been tempted, some times, to sneak a portable recorder into such a press box and "take" all the conversation that goes on.

A running commentary on the game, the latest books, the latest movie, that umpire's peculiar affinity for low inside balls called as strikes, what has happened to so-and-so's hitting, what line of reasoning was behind the league president's latest decision, who'll buy the cokes, wagers that a certain camera man is going to get thrown out of the park if he doesn't quit shooting the thing right in the batter's face when he's trying to hit one out, and other such applicable subjects.

Sometimes the most vociferous cheering—and jeering—comes out of the cubicle, especially if no foreign correspondent is present.

Also interesting are the debates with the official scorer over whether that was an error or a THH—to hot to handle. The scorer usually wins, but only after everyone in the box gets in his two-bits worth.

At this particular time of the year, the press-box boarders love to second guess managers. Whether to have waved him on in and made it, or let him die on third and lose stirrs some remarkable debates of congressional proportions. But they are usually ended (until the next one) when the inevitable sage comes out with "that's baseball."

Artesia scored single runs in the first, second, fourth, fifth, eighth, and two runs in the sixth and seventh. The NuMexers did to score only in the sixth.

Three double plays by the Arsenians downed resurging Potashers. Carlsbad staged its biggest threat in the seventh, menaced DiMaggio's shut out.

After Golden Shout and Duke Anderson got back-to-back singles off DiMaggio advanced to second and third.

At the Artesia hurler settled to strike out the next three.

Williams was the first of two lead pitchers sent against leading Artesia. Ralph Williams started the sixth for the Arsenians in an attempt to hold the NuMexers.

CARLSBAD GOT runners on in every inning save two, but had the power to bring them around. Both teams left nine ended on base.

When Smart scored Artesia's run in the first inning when he was walked, advanced on John Hall's single, and homed on an error in centerfield. Frank Gallardo added another in the second when he was walked, stole second, and homed on DiMaggio's single.

The NuMexers made it 4-0 in the third with a single by Mickey Diaz, Hall's double, a sacrifice by Ed Economides to home Diaz, Mickey Sullivan's single to center scored solitary counters the Goodell.

In the fourth and fifth. In the fourth Smart doubled and homed Goodell's double. In the fifth Goodell singled and ran home on her single by DiMaggio.

In the seventh Artesia's two were scored when Sullivan Watts hit consecutive singles were plated by Dean Smith's single. The NuMexers wound it in the ninth with a single by Mickey Diaz, who scored on Sullivan's safety.

In the tourney opener Roswell spotted Artesia a 9-0 first inning lead and came back for an 18-12 win. A whole bag of Artesia pitchers limited the Roswell team to eight hits while teammates were gathering 11 off Pruitt, Roswell hurler who got credit for the win.

Roswell Overpowers Brones 17-2 With 22-Hit Attack

BIG SPRING — (P) — Roswell showed an overpowering batting punch in topping Big Spring, 17-2, here Tuesday night in the first of a two-game series.

Mike Rainey started on the mound for Big Spring and remained on the firing line until the ninth frame, despite the fact that he was tagged for 20 hits.

In all, thevengeful Rockets collected 22 hits, not a one of which was a home run.

The Rockets touched Rainey for six hits and five runs in the initial frame, then duplicated that effort in the fourth inning.

Three Rocket hurlers saw action, with Hernandez getting credit for the win.

The Rocket trio limited Big Spring to nine hits, four of which were off the bat of big Jim Zapp. Zapp hit the game's only home run, a towering blast over the left field wall in the fifth inning.

Sweetwater Picks Up Second Straight, Downs Colts 10-7

SWEETWATER — (P) — Short-stop Chico Recio lambasted a 3-run homer in the home half of the 11th inning here last night to hand the Sweetwater Spudders their second straight victory, 10-7, over the San Angelo Colts.

Recio also banged out three other hits to make it four safeties in five trips to the plate for the night. His four hits also drove home five runs.

Russ Agne, who went the distance for San Angelo and issued up the home run ball, was the loser. It was Agne's eighth loss against four wins this season.

Ollie Ortiz went the full 11 innings, but Angelo came back with two runs in the second and two more in the third for a 4-1 lead.

The Spudders fought back with two runs in the fourth, but Angelo tallied one in the fifth. However, Sweetwater pushed across three more runs in the bottom of the fifth to make the score 6-5 for the Spudders.

Angelo tallied single runs in the seventh and eighth, and the Spudders tallied one in the eighth—all the scoring before Recio's game winning blow.

Ramos Paces Midland Win Over Odessa

MIDLAND — (P) — Lefthander Julio Ramos pitched stingy six hit ball to pick up his 12th win of the season and first since the infamous spitball suspension, beating the Odessa Oilers 6-1 for Midland's second straight—here Tuesday night.

Bud Hull hit his 34th home run of the season, tying the Indians' club homer mark set by Jim Prince in 1947. Hull's drive to left came in the sixth with none on base. Joe Riney also hit for the circuit in the eighth with none on.

Midland sewed up the decision for Ramos in the second when they drove Jamie Fals from the hill with one hit. Prior to the double by Harold Hacker, a couple of walks and an error by Fale gave Midland two runs. Hacker then made it 3-0 with his first of three hits, and Ramos helped his own cause by greeting reliever Newlin with a single.

Ramos lost his shut-out in the seventh on a walk, error, and single by Earl Caldwell.

Wertz Homer, Double Paces Indians Win Over Boston 6-3, Yanks Shut Out by Trucks 4-0

In the National league, the St. Louis Cardinals thrashed the New York Giants 7-4 after Brooklyn's onrushing Dodgers had won a 7-6 slugfest over the Chicago Cubs. The Gaints' onetime seven-game bulge over Brooklyn has dwindled to a mere two in six days.

In other games, the Philadelphia Phillies whipped the Cincinnati Reds 8-2, Baltimore defeated Washington 7-5 and Philadelphia's Athletics beat Detroit 8-3 after the Tigers had won the opener of the two-night twin bill 3-2. Milwaukee and Pittsburgh were not scheduled.

It was a lucky break for the Indians when they acquired Wertz from Baltimore for pitcher Bob Chakales at the start of last month. The bald-headed outfielder, hitting an anemic .202 for the Orioles, didn't figure to be of much help. But since joining the Tribe, the 29-year-old Detroit has been hitting at a .306 clip.

With Al Rosen adding a homer for Cleveland, Bob Leman had an easy time registering his 12th triumph although he yielded 10 hits. Ted Williams failed to hit safe, ending his 14-game hitting streak.

Trucks, the strong-armed Chicago right-hander, handcuffed the Yankees with five hits. It was his fourth shut-out and 14th victory of the season. Harry Byrd was tagged for eight hits, two each by Phil Cavarretta and Jim Rivera.

Chick Harbert at Last Wins PGA for First National Title

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR. ST. PAUL, Minn. — (P) — At the age of 39, with the years beginning to show in graying hair and a slight paunch, Chick Harbert yesterday won his first national golf title, beating out Walt Burkemo.

The one-time boy wonder, now a part-time tournament player and vice-president of a golf club manufacturing concern, said before the PGA Tournament began.

"If I reach the final I'll probably make the same danged mistakes I did when I went to the finals before."

It looked as if that prediction might come true yesterday when Chick knocked his second shot out of bounds into a cornfield.

For three holes he was the same old Chick, the fellow who could hit them a mile but often hit a half mile into the rough. He was under a tree on the second hole, but recovered. He fought the rough and buried his ball in a sandtrap for a double-bogey 7 on the third. And when Burkemo birdied the fourth, Wally was 3 up and well on the way to a successful defense of the title he won last year.

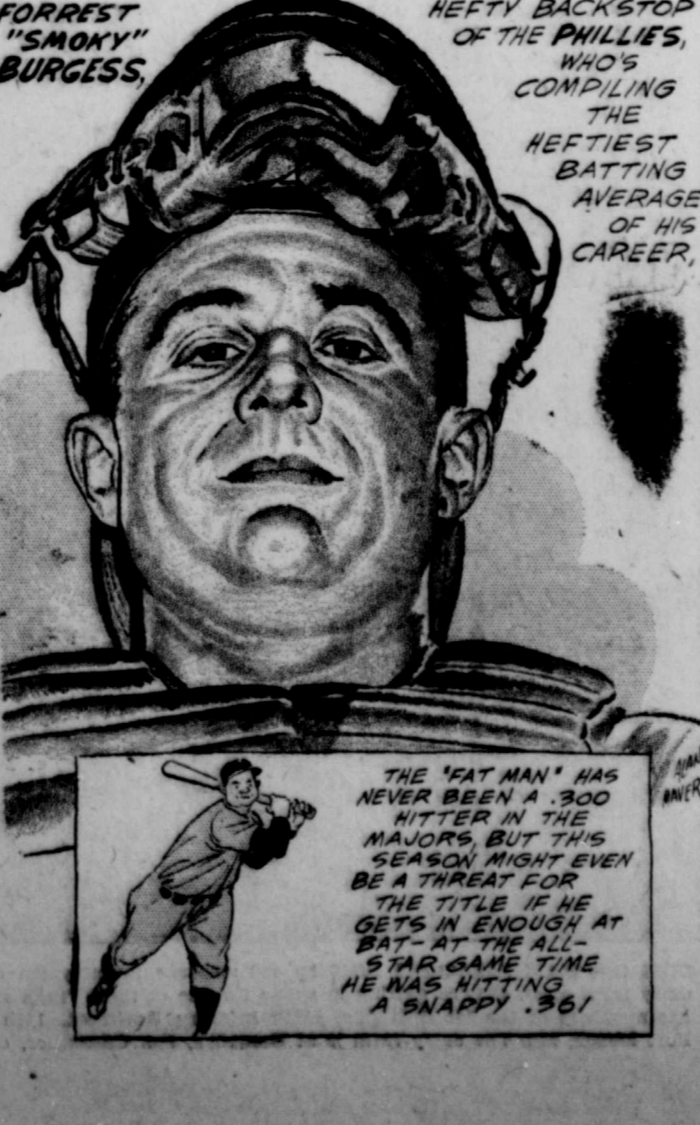

That's when he stopped making mistakes and started playing the kind of golf which he is capable at his brilliant best. For the next 30 holes, he never was over par and he lost only two of them. At the finish he was on top by 4 and 3 margins.

It was the ninth time Harbert had tried for the PGA title. It was his third trip to the finals.

It Depends On Us

OUR VERY FORM of government depends on the participation of the citizens, voters, and the taxpayers for success. It hasn't been so successful in a good many ways in recent years because less and less of us are taking out time to play the role of citizen. We have delegated this business of running our various branches of our government to those we select or name to represent us.

We say we select them. Oftentimes we have very little to do with it. We let the politicians and the leaders or active workers in our political parties name those scheduled to represent us instead of accepting this part of our responsibility.

Only recently one of the candidates for state office emphasized the fact that what his party needed to do was to select candidates acceptable to the independent voters in the state. He listed about 12,000 registered as independent voters, but he emphasized the fact there are a good many registered as Democrats and as Republicans who are also independent.

He stressed the fact it is the independent vote, which elects our public officials.

Hardly a day goes by but what a good many of us condemn what is being done by those we supposedly have elected to represent us. In most instances what we say is correct, but we sacrificed the right to have this say when we neglected to participate in the election by assuming our role as citizens.

It is true, of course, that governing bodies have financial problems. These always exist. There are never enough funds for our city to do all it wants to do or all the citizens want done. This is true about our county, our state, and our national government.

Sometimes, however, we are paying too much to get these things done. Sometimes we are not getting full value for the dollars we spend. Sometimes more efficiency and more economy would result in a less costly government and greater values for the dollars we invest.

This will only come about when we as citizens take an interest in our government, find time from our business to do our jobs as citizens, and help to make our form of government as successful as it can and should be because all of the people have and take a part in our governmental affairs.

A good time to start is November 2.

Dallas Eagles Nip League-Leading Shreveport 8-1

By The Associated Press
The Texas league has fewer than 50 games to play and everybody still is in the race although Dallas and Beaumont, down in the last places, have some big humps to level.

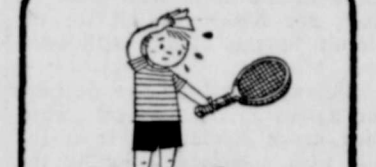

3 1/2 games, has 43 games to play; San Antonio and Oklahoma City, second and third, have 46; Houston, in fourth place, must play 32; Tulsa plays 47; Fort Worth has 43. Beaumont the same and Dallas 46. The latter is 16 1/2 games away from first place.

Dallas pounded 10 hits in finally beating Shreveport with Pat Scantlebury allowing the Sports only seven. The Eagles routed Otis Jacobs before he could finish an innings, showing across four runs in the first and getting two more in the second to ice the game early.

33 years ago they told me:

"YOU HAVE LESS THAN A YEAR TO LIVE!"

"MUST HAVE BEEN back in 1919 or '20. Hopeless case of diabetes. No known cure...
"BUT HERE I AM. They found a treatment—insulin—in time. Today, nobody has to die of diabetes.
"CANCER, I know, is a tougher problem. But the laboratories can lick that one, too—with our support. Already, they're curing people who would have been done for a few years ago. Last year—thanks to $5,000,000 allocated by the American Cancer Society from our contributions—they found out a lot more... though there's still a long way to go.
"THEY NEED MONEY. $5,000,000 is still less than 4 cents per American per year. Not enough. Not enough to find the answer fast enough—230,000 Americans are going to die of cancer this year, they say.
"I'M NOT RICH, but I gave 'em $50 last year—hope to do better this time. After all, where would I be if the laboratories working on diabetes, that time, hadn't been given enough support—?"

CHICKEN STEW

Cut up and roll in flour two chickens or one hen; fry quickly in brown. Lift from frying pan into large steaming kettle and cover with cold water. Then add the following ingredients:
1 large onion
1 cup celery
1 gr. pepper
1 clove garlic
1 can tomato sauce
Salt and pepper
1 bay leaf
1/2 lemon, sliced

Simmer until meat will fall from the bones (1 to 1 1/4 hours). Lift chicken from the liquid into a separate bowl. Take out the bay leaf, lemon slices and discard them. When chicken is cool enough to handle, remove from bones and into bite-size pieces, and return to separate bowl. When liquid is on place in refrigerator. Skim off grease. When ready to serve, thicken and thicken to desired consistency (2 tbsp. flour to 1 cup liquid). Add the chicken and a cup of sliced mushrooms. Serve over boiled white rice. Serves 6.

Line the top of your double boiler with waxed paper and melting chocolate. That way you save chocolate—and dish washing.

Portales Enters Brag On Perfect Tooth Water

NEW MEXICO is fast beginning to rival Texas in the loudness and frequency of its brags. Of late, what with Carlsbads all over the nation snarling at one another, the inclination of a city to brag on itself and its state has risen to the fire.

Comes now Portales, which its water is near perfect for children's teeth.

The Daily News said Portales water contains, naturally, an element that many cities are adding at great expense to help prevent decay of children's teeth.

"This element, fluoride, is the subject of a study underway in Portales since February and to continue through 18 months to determine of an if an access might be harmful.

The News says a Portales dentist is cooperating with the state department of public health in the survey.

JIM BARBER, Current Argus editor, slammed back at Santa Fe's allegations about the suburban tendencies of Carlsbad in his newspaper yesterday.

Barber declared Santa Fe's town of "perverts, poets, and politicians."

That is the ultimate in inter-city name calling to date.

BARBER HURLED his answer even as the pony express wended down to Carlsbad with Fred Cole's invitation from Mayor Bill Yeager inviting Carlsbad citizens so minded to prepare petitions so they might become a suburb of Artesia.

Barber said yesterday he still hadn't received Cole's message, but is anticipating it.

AFTER STUDING a comment by Mayor Bill Yeager that the hospital could be closed down if, for instance, the city's street sweeper broke down so completely it had to be replaced, some Artesians are thinking it's high time to do something.

If the city's affairs are so closely interconnected the breakdown of a street sweeper, for instance, could cause the hospital to close, residents better get on the ball, say at least one trio of coffee sippers.

State Urges GM To Submit Auto Bids by Dealers

SANTA FE — (AP) — The state moved today to put on a more indirect basis the mounting price war in New Mexico between General Motors Corp. and the Ford Motor Co.

The state purchasing office suggested that General Motors stop its recent practice of bidding directly for state car business, sometimes in competition with its own New Mexico dealers.

The competition between the two huge concerns in recent months has lowered prices paid by state agencies for cars, Acting Purchasing Agent Bill Campbell said. However, it also has started crowding out many New Mexico dealers who Campbell said need to get in on the state's business.

Campbell feels the lower prices are only temporary. "When the competition is thinned down, they will raise their prices later and equalize the situation," he said.

In the past couple of years there have been at least 15 or 20 dealers bidding for many of the state's car purchases, while in the most recent big award only three or four bids were entered, Campbell said. This was attributed to the stiff competition offered by the two manufacturers. Campbell said he has suggested to General Motors that it submit its bids for state business through local dealers, a procedure he said is already followed by Ford.

"We don't think we should jeopardize the New Mexico dealers just because Ford and General Motors want to fight. Many of them are in financial difficulties."

Carlsbad Resists Efforts to 'Save' Expecting Wimpy

CARLSBAD — (AP) — Note to San Francisco: Don't worry about Wimpy. She has had a happy home with the W. W. Burr family—he was one of those who helped rescue her from a 10-day ordeal in the bottom of a 38-foot well last December—ever since her rescue.

In fact, to tell you one of Carlsbad's worst-kept secrets, Wimpy is now expecting.

The Cavern City Humane Society has been digging out of a sudden influx of mail and telegrams from San Francisco since a newspaper there—the Examiner—printed an old picture of Wimpy with the caption "Dog Gone Luck" saying the Wimpy might have to be destroyed.

"Don't let this little walf be put to sleep," wrote one San Francisco woman.

"Carlsbad takes care of its animals," Mrs. Norville Thacker, president of the Carlsbad Humane Society, replied indignantly.
