Stockton Predicts Bright Future, Indians Hear Simms

By The Associated Press
GOP candidate for governor Alvin Stockton today predicted a bright economic future for New Mexico, but cautioned against pushing development too fast. His talk capped a weekend of bustling political activity in which Democrats expressed views on campaigning methods and urged the Indians to vote, while Republicans attacked the practices and policies of the Democratic gubernatorial candidate John Simms. Stockton, in Mesilla for the Pan-

American Fair, said "the state can expect to gain from the dispersion of industry, but until we have conquered three basic problems which will require great work, we cannot offer large industries much incentive." He listed the three problems as adequate water, cheap and abundant power, and cheap and available transportation. In Albuquerque yesterday, Mrs. Bertha S. Adkins, assistant to National GOP Chairman Leonard Hall, urged Republicans to do their best to elect a Republican Congress in the November election. And Gov. Edwin L. Mechem made a plea for support of Stockton. He said Stockton's experience as a rancher and state legislator well fitted him for the tasks of governor. Warren Cobean and Tom Childers, the Republican nominees for Congress also made short talks. Democratic Sen. Clinton Anderson announced he has signed a fair-campaign practices pledge. He said he wrote Anna Lord Strauss, chairman of the Fair Campaign Practices Committee and said, "My campaigns have always been ethical and on the highest possible level. This campaign will be no exception." On the question of how campaigns should be conducted, State Democratic Chairman Tom Bhowen said, "The public seems to like the down to earth type of campaign our candidates are making. We have found that people are not interested in the past or the future. They want to know what the candidates stand for. We believe people are far more interested in a forthright discussion of our party's program and plans than they are in name-calling." Another Democrat, gubernatorial

Lost Boy Sticks With White Horse, Sleeps Soundly

LA VETA, Colo. — A white horse standing placidly nearby led rescuers today to a 12-year-old boy, Tim Penne, who became lost on a grouse hunting trip yesterday. Tim, wrapped in the saddle blanket and with the heavy Western saddle pulled on top of him for additional warmth, was sleeping soundly when the men reached him. He slept close to the white horse and had ridden on the hunting trip. Rescuers saw the horse silhouette in the pale moonlight against the darkness of a box canyon. Tim said that when he realized he was lost, he decided the best way was to stay where he was and rescuers find him. He was taken home at La Veta, near Walden in southern Colorado, and returned in his sleep. An aunt, Mrs. Alfred Murray, said the boy left here early in the morning with her husband and another boy, Arthur Prator, also of La Veta. The trucked horses to the top of a 3,000-foot Cucharas Pass and began hunting about 9 a. m. She said her husband phoned at 6 p. m. and reported the boy was lost. Mrs. Prater said Tim had been on the pass several times before he knew his way around. Forest rangers, game wardens, (Continued on Page 4)

Kennecott Copper Hiring 300 Men

SILVER CITY, (AP) — Kennecott Copper Corp., Chino mines division, officials announced today that they are hiring between 250 and 300 new men as the division's properties in Hurler and Santa Rita return to a seven-day-a-week operation. Officials said that the men were being hired today and that the seven day work week would probably get underway by the end of next week.

On the question of how campaigns should be conducted, State Democratic Chairman Tom Bhowen said, "The public seems to like the down to earth type of campaign our candidates are making. We have found that people are not interested in the past or the future. They want to know what the candidates stand for. We believe people are far more interested in a forthright discussion of our party's program and plans than they are in name-calling." Another Democrat, gubernatorial

People Across New Mexico Study Fireball Reports

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
People all over the state were still talking today about the fireballs or whatever they were that thousands reported seeing in western skies Saturday night. If the big question is "what were they?" it appears that'll have to be answered over cracker barrels or tea cups, at least for the time being. One of the country's top authorities in the field says he doesn't know exactly and he's never found a trace of one to inspect. Dr. Lincoln LaPaz, University of New Mexico meteoritics expert, said the object that lit up skies over three states around 9 Saturday night was probably another one of the fireballs that have been reported around here off and on since 1948. And if that's the case, he said, there's not much chance any piece of it will be found. None ever have been before. "These things just seem to disappear," he said. Dr. LaPaz said he had come to four conclusions about the object: 1—It was not a meteorite because they are accompanied by sound. 2—It was not an ordinary fireball in the usual sense of the word. 3—It was "something queer." 4—It was unusual in that the light showed over most of the Southwest and was even seen in San Francisco. It left a luminous cloud visible for 30 minutes. Reports came in Saturday night from all over the state. Residents of Clovis, Portales, Clines Corners, Santa Fe, Glorieta and Las Vegas all reported seeing a fire ball that brightened the sky to full moonlight intensity. A man in Las Cruces said the object was cigar-shaped and spouted green flames. Most reports agreed on the object's brightness, color and direction. It was described as yellow-white and appeared in the north-west, heading south. Colorado reports said it made night like day. Texas also reported the object.

Eighth Polio Case Reported In Artesia

Artesia's eighth case of polio since July 24 has been reported. The victim is Mrs. Nancy Losee Mitchell, mother of a three-year-old girl, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milt Losee, with whom she lives at 802 Carper drive. Mrs. Mitchell was taken ill Thursday. Following a spinal fluid examination Saturday she was hospitalized at Artesia General hospital, where she is now in isolation. She is an employe of People's State Bank. The Milt Losee's grandson, Milton Farron, who spent the summer here, was reported to have died in Kansas City of polio incurred while in Artesia. Plans were reportedly being made for immunization shots with gamma globulin of people with whom Mrs. Mitchell had been in contact. Mrs. Mitchell is the second adult reported with polio since the city's first case was reported July 24.

Prospects of New Oilfield Reported In Lovington Area

A new oilfield causing excitement in Lovington has been reported with discovery of distillate and gas in the Hall & Auld No. 1 State four miles north of Lovington on State Road 18. In a drillstem test between 13,504 feet and 13,545 feet, 22 barrels of 37.7 gravity distillate were recovered the first 30 minutes. The C. O. Aldredge Drilling Co. already has reported an offset a half mile southwest, now drilling below 140 feet in quicksand with cable tools pending arrival of the jackknife rig from the discovery well. The Lovington Press said the wildcat promises to open a new field. Workmen are putting drill pipe back into the hole to drill 40 feet deeper into the Devonian after the drill stem test was made this week in 129 feet of the pay zone. The tool was open three hours 45 minutes. An attempt at reverse circulation failed. The blow through chokes of 1 1/2 inches at the top of the tool and 5.8 inch at the bottom was described as weak increasing to strong. Gas surfaced in one hour four (Continued on Page 4)

Overnight Skid In Mercury Hits Across New Mexico

By The Associated Press
Overnight temperatures skidded in parts of New Mexico early today, sending many scurrying to light the furnace and others to digging for blankets. It dropped to a chilly 36 degrees at Gallup for the lowest mark of the fall so far at a regular reporting station of the weather bureau. The drop hinted that fall may be around the traditional corner. You couldn't tell it, however, Sunday afternoon in some sections. The mercury went to an uncomfortable 98 degrees at Roswell Sunday afternoon for the high of the day. Zuni had the lowest maximum of the day with an 82. The overnight high was 68 at Columbus. There was a patched blanket of clouds over the extreme southwest corner of the state Sunday and the same is forecast for late today with some isolated thunderstorms in the area. Elsewhere skies are expected to be clear and bright and temperatures—in the daytime at least—above seasonal normals.

First Hagerman Polio Case Is Reported

Hagerman's first case of polio was reported Thursday. The preschool age youngster is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Librado Perez. Three brothers and sisters are in grade school in Hagerman and the health department has advised all children in the three grades be given gamma globulin with parental approval. The vaccine was to be given today after the lunch hour.

Artesia Ball Club Signs Two Players For Next Season

Though the 1954 baseball season isn't closed yet, deals are already on the fire in preparation for the 1955 Artesia NuMex baseball team. Word was received today that two new players, who are as yet unidentified as to positions played, have been signed to the Artesia roster. Purchased from the Paul's Valley Class D team in Oklahoma, the Sooner state league, are Jimmy Bawcom, Galt, Calif., and Douglas Alford, Dallas. In addition to those two NuMexers, "Rabbit" McDowell, scout for Dallas, also completed negotiations with Rookie Lawrence Honza of Fort Worth. No other deals have been disclosed, but, according to reports, the chances of having NuMexer Pilot Jimmy Adair here for the next season are "good," though no definite commitments have been made.

Four Are Killed In Weekend Road Accidents

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The death of four persons in three separate accidents over the week-end hiked the state's traffic toll to 250. Two died when run over while watching repairs of an accident in which they were involved. One died in a motorcycle head-on crash and another a one-car smash-up on a sharp curve. Dead are Frances Donelson, 37, Los Alamos; Jose Paz Herrera, 18, La Lama; M-Sgt. Rex Counts, 39, Walker Air Force Base; and Joe B. Chavez, 20, Morrison, Colo. Miss Donelson and Herrera were killed near Taos when a convertible struck them as they stood beside a car being pulled from a ditch. The car, driven by Charles A. Princell of Los Alamos with the two victims as passengers, hit a cow and spun into a ditch, according to State Patrolman I. E. Salazar. He said a passing truck began to pull it out and while the victims were standing watching, a convertible struck and killed them instantly. Salazar said manslaughter charges will be filed against the convertible driver, 20-year-old Lupe Young of Questa. Young is now in a hospital in critical condition. Sgt. Counts died almost instantly when his motorcycle struck a car near Roswell Saturday. Chavez was killed when the car in which he was a passenger ran off the highway on a curve near Warm Springs.

The contract will be let Oct. 13.

GOP's Candidate Questions Hannah Campaign Junket

SANTA FE (AP)—W. T. Baughman, Republican candidate for state auditor today asked how his Democratic opponent, J. D. Hannah, could reconcile his holding an appointive state job while campaigning for office on state time. Baughman said he has no dispute with an elective official who campaigns on state time because it would be unfair to ban such an official from campaigning for office. But in his own race, he said he had given up an appointive state job June 30 to seek office, "and I don't know why Hannah should not do the same. If Hannah claims he is taking annual leave, the state nevertheless is paying the bill." At the land office where Hannah is employed as an accountant, Chief Clerk Ray Andrew said Hannah is taking seven days annual leave to cover the period he is spending with an Democratic campaign party on the East Side. "He's entitled to his annual leave and can do anything he wants with it," Andrew said.

Ex-Assistant Commissioner Is Involved

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Atty. Gen. Brownell today ordered a special grand jury convened here to investigate "possible bribery and other criminal conduct" in the federal housing program. Brownell directed specifically that U. S. Atty. Leo A. Rover "present evidence of the activities of Clyde L. Powell," who resigned as assistant commissioner of the federal housing administration last April 13 during congressional investigations of alleged irregularities in the agency. Brownell announced also U. S. attorneys in all other districts across the country are being directed "to present to grand juries as soon as material is available a full testimony concerning criminal conduct uncovered by the administration's FHA investigations in their districts." He said Warren Olney III, assistant attorney general for criminal prosecutions, was sending out these instructions. CONGRESSIONAL investigators have asserted that numerous builders in various parts of the country made millions of dollars in "windfall profits" by getting FHA-insured loans on apartment projects which exceeded the actual cost of the projects. Brownell's announcement made reference to this in relation to Powell it said: "While assistant commissioner, Powell had charge of the rental housing program which operated from 1946 to 1950. This program resulted in windfalls to speculators exceeding 51 million dollars alone in the 285 cases reviewed by the (Continued on Page 4)

CIO Steelworkers Hit 'Anti-Labor' Administration

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—The 200,000-member CIO United Steelworkers Union launched a four-day convention today with a sharp attack on what it called the "anti-labor" Eisenhower administration. A report by the union's three top officers claimed Eisenhower had not delivered on promises to revise the Taft-Hartley Act, long hated by organized labor. The five-man National Labor Relations Board and its three Eisenhower-appointed members were also assailed for "pro-employer bias." An estimated 3,000 delegates met in convention hall amid a noticeable coolness between the union and the parent congress of industrial organizations. CIO President Walter Reuther was not scheduled to address the convention, nor were any other CIO officials listed on the program. Yet, in size, the steelworkers are second only to the United Auto Workers among CIO unions. The 101-page officers' report ignored USW-CIO relations and rarely mentioned the CIO. Earlier this year, there was some indication the USW might want to quit the CIO. USW President David J. McDonald held talks with John L. Lewis, United Mineworkers head, and Dave Beck, president of the AFL Teamsters Union. They were believed to have looked into the possibility of uniting in a third large labor group to rival the AFL and CIO.

COMMUNISM
Senator Anderson will describe his sponsorship of a bill to outlaw the Communist Party as well as why the law was needed. He will tell how in the mad scramble in the closing days of Congress, a mistake by the Republican Policy Committee made it possible for the Democrats in the Senate to push the bill through.

Artesia Takes 3-2 Lead By 11-4 Victory

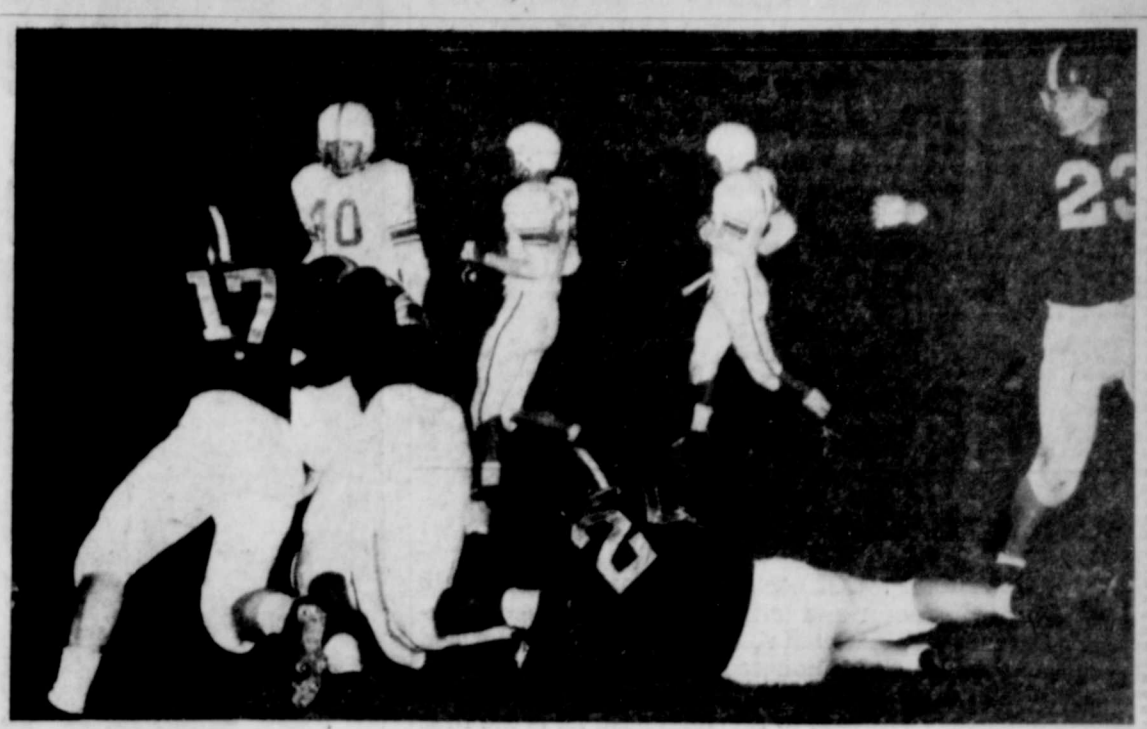

CARLSBAD (Special)—Artesia's NuMexers will attempt to wind up their Longhorn league playoff series with Carlsbad tonight as the scene shifts back to Artesia following the NuMexers 11-4 runaway over the Potashers last night.

Artesia Mgr. Jimmy Adair will start Vic Stryska, while Don Hatridge has got the nod from Carlsbad pilot Pat McLaughlin. Last night's victory gave Artesia a 3-2 series lead in the best-of-seven, Shaughnessy-style playoffs.

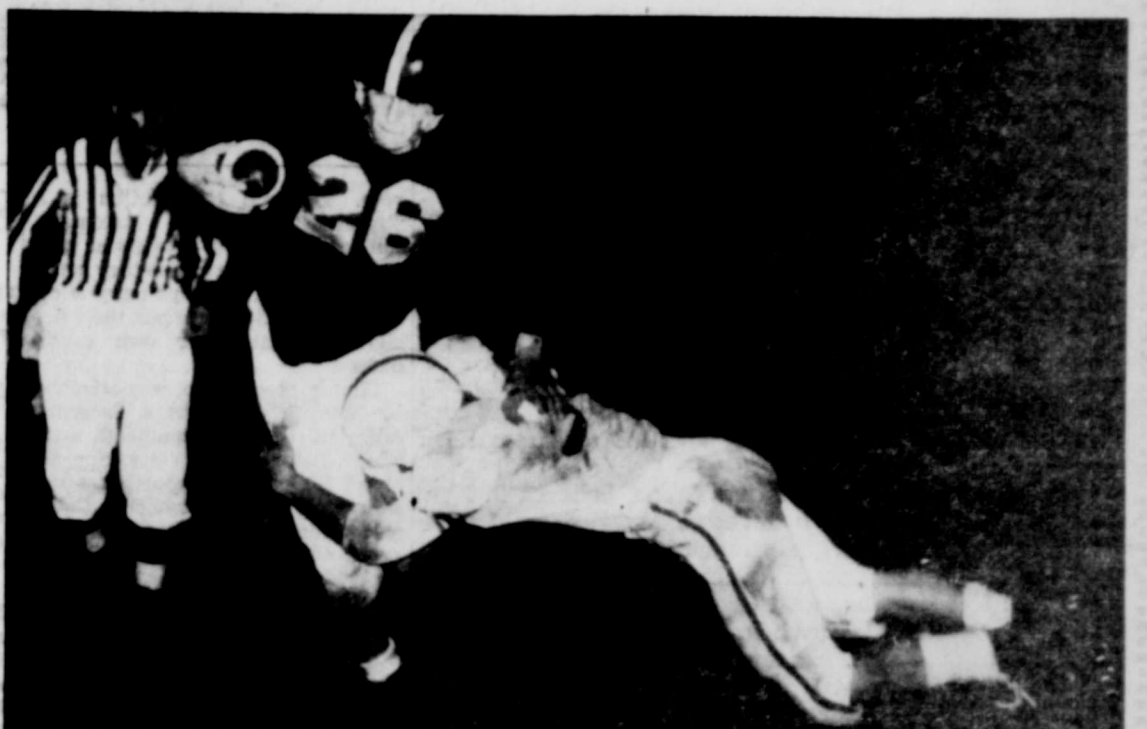

It was a case of Carlsbad missing its scoring opportunities in the early inning. Later proved to be too late for the last five innings, Bart DiMaggio faced only 16 batters—one over the minimum possible—striking out 13.

Artesia meanwhile was slamming base hits all over the place, getting 17 of them from three Carlsbad pitchers.

Bulldogs Show Promise Of New Passing Threat

Artesia football fans are now no longer as eager as ever for the gridiron to get into the meat of the 1954 schedule following a 25-10 victory over Alamogordo Friday.

RONALD PRICE jarred ball (arrow) loose from Roland Black in second quarter run around end, and fumble was recovered by Freddie Sanders. But Artesia fumbled on next play to lose ball back to Alamogordo. (Photo by Gable)

Artesia on five completions netted 143 yards Friday night on the wing arms of quarterback Johnny Riddle and Zoro Barker. Ratliff showed a fast, flat pass which was received found to be it, could prove maddening.

How They Scored
Artesia drew first blood, scoring the first period but four minutes later. Jay Mitchell recovered Alamogordo's fumble on the Tiger-town 36 to set up the TD. Freddie Sanders scooted to the 31, Don Price drove to the 28, Barker to the 24, and on a quarterback sneak, Riddle to the 24.

Artesia made it 21-0 on a TD 1:10 into the second period, setting a drive from the 28. Lewis drove to the 37, then made it to the 41 on the next slam. Riddle around left end to the 48, and repeated the maneuver to the 54, then to the 30. He went to the 24, and Barker to the 20. Leo Barker took Riddle's place and completed to Ron Nelson.

ALAMOGORDO SCORED ITS first point 3 minutes later following an exchange of fumbles. Alamogordo taking the last one on the field 46. On the fourth down, Dale Caton kicked to the 44. Alamogordo recovered the fumble on the first Bull-play on the 5. From there Caton swept around left end. His conversion attempt was blocked by Bratcher, but a penalty nullified the play and Caton made it the next try.

Artesia's reserve line came in at the point. Like lightning, the Bulldogs scored 45 seconds after the half started. Riddle received the Tigers' kick to the 15 up to the Alamogordo 44. There, from an impossible position, he completed a pass to Barker, who went all the way to the 1-yard line. Lewis crashed over, and Ron Price converted.

Last scoring of the evening came 4 1/2 minutes later after Alamogordo punted out on their own 48. Lewis bulled to the 45, then Riddle uncorked another of his sensational end runs clear down to the 19. Lewis almost made another first down on the next play, going down to the 10. Sanders smashed through to the 4, then went over left tackle to the 1. Ron Price made it over for the TD, then kick-converted.

From then on Artesia's reserves battled it out with the Tigers, holding the Tigers from scoring, but unable to score themselves, despite some commendable, accurate passing by relief quarterback Max Ratliff.

Defensive Game
Jay Mitchell repeated his fumble recovery performance of last week with one in early seconds of the game, setting up Artesia's first TD. Don Price nailed the Tigers' Ortega in Alamogordo's first attack for no gain, and Bill Mayes moved fast in stopping the Tigers' fleet Garcia in four yards, the two efforts enforcing Alamo to punt.

New Mexico Is Honored

WHEN SEABORN P. COLLINS, Las Cruces real estate dealer and contractor and former state department commander, was elected as national commander of the American Legion, the entire state was honored.

Not only is Commander-elect Collins the first man from New Mexico to ever be elected to this high post, he is the first man from the Southwest to be so honored.

Not only is the state proud of him but the Southwest is proud of him and before his year is over as commander the entire nation will appreciate him, his ability, and the job he does.

Commander Collins earned the right to the high honor which has come to him. He was an outstanding commander of the Las Cruces post of the American Legion. He was an outstanding department commander for the State of New Mexico. He has been active in Legion affairs and American affairs for years. He has a fine record in service and out of service as a fine American.

In his home town Seaborn Collins was the first to have the faith and the courage to start a housing project involving more than 50 homes. He started the project with little encouragement from many business people and yet he not only built and sold those 50 homes, he built and sold a good many more.

His courage and his faith inspired others to go into Las Cruces to help build new homes and the building projects continued with the demand continuing and more construction underway.

Seaborn Collins, who is a native Texan, believes in New Mexico and in its future. He believes in America and in her future as a nation, and he is glad to make any contribution he can possibly make to further our nation's greatness.

The mere fact that he is a citizen of Las Cruces doesn't mean he merely belongs to them but rather he belongs to the state and to the Southwest. All can take pride in the position of honor he holds.

Our state has been honored by his election and he will honor our state, the American Legion and the nation by being an outstanding leader and by helping to promote those things which make our America a greater nation because he is an outstanding American and an outstanding leader.

We join Las Cruces citizens, the state, and the nation as well as the American Legion in honoring Seaborn Collins on his election as national commander.

BREEZIN' AROUND—

Concerning Gold's Weight, Unrepealed City Ordinances

By JESS TRUETT

It is reliably reported in a daily newspaper that a young lady wrote a 25-word sentence for a soap and detergent manufacturer and received payment equivalent to her weight in gold.

She stepped on a scale in a United States mint and gold was piled onto the opposing balance until it equaled her balanced weight. She was then presented a check equivalent to the worth of the gold—$75,156.40. Just how much did the lady weigh?

If you will be kind enough to give us the correct answer, you will be given the space in this column to explain the figures in your example and how you derived the answer. We, the general public, are not too well versed on the value of gold to our United States monetary system and your answer is expected to be educational in the nature of shedding light on the subject. Tell us how much did the lady weigh together with full explanation as to how you derive it from your answer. Simple, isn't it? How much did you say she weighed?

Now, now don't get inquisitive, she was respectfully dressed and her full attire was taken into consideration with her total weight.

WHILE the city dads of Artesia are discussing the city ordinance passed July 24, 1912, in which it is unlawful for citizens to witness or participate in any contest wherein the use of physical force upon the body of one or more of the contestants is the gist of substance of the contest, subjects the contestants and spectators to a fine of $100 and 30 days in the city's common jail, it might be well if they look further into the obsolete ordinance records.

There is an ordinance making it compulsory for drivers of automobiles to stop and sound their horn when approaching intersections of streets prior to crossing or turning either direction off and on said street. The purpose is to give warning to horses and riders or horses and drivers that may be in course of travel on the street they are about to enter.

Another ordinance may be found in which it is unlawful for any person to drive automobiles through alleys within the city limits after 9 p. m.

Most all American people are desirous of being good law abiding citizens, but regardless of what we think or how we interpret this and that, most every citizen in most every city is a daily law violator without his personal knowledge.

A general house cleaning in a repealing campaign to remove all such obsolete laws now on record in city, state, and national files, would privilege us to be better law abiding citizens and less subject to prosecution by those who are slap happy in persecution for revenge or spite.

Obsolete laws and laws with loopholes are detrimental and of no necessity.

The department announcement also asserted:

"Powell, who entered FHA in 1938 rose to assistant commissioner despite knowledge of (SIC), the former administration of an arrest record, including conviction for jewel theft."

Sims, meanwhile, was attacked by both Stockton, in a Saturday talk, and the GOP campaign manager, Peter Cable. Stockton accused Sims of supporting a unsatisfactory election system. Cable said Sims and the record don't agree on two issues: How Sims feel about direct primaries and whether Sims would resign the governorship to accept a senatorial appointment.

Stockton charged Sims has come out for precinct elections to select delegates who will in turn select party candidates. Stockton said he favors the direct, open primary, and said Sims was recommending "a completely inadequate primary election system that would retain the convention."

Stockton charged Sims has come out for precinct elections to select delegates who will in turn select party candidates. Stockton said he favors the direct, open primary, and said Sims was recommending "a completely inadequate primary election system that would retain the convention."

Cable meanwhile said Sims hadn't made it clear whether he was or was not for the convention system. He said Sims had recently denied supporting the convention system, but Cable said he had earlier come out for it.

Cable also said Sims was incorrect in saying it was a mere rumor that he would quit the governorship if offered a senatorial appointment after being elected. Cable said Sims couldn't make up his mind on the matter and is blaming "his own indecision on the Republican party" when he talks of "Republican rumor boys."

How's This for School Excuse—

Crow Steals Keys

HOBBS, (P) — When 7-year-old Vinita Coppedge was tardy for school this morning, she told her teacher, Mrs. Edna Williams:

"I'm late because a crow grabbed the car keys out of mama's hands and dropped them on the roof of a house."

Her mother, Mrs. O. W. Coppedge said that's exactly what happened.

She started from her home to her car with her three children, Vinita, Robert, 12, and Darlene, 9, when the four saw a friendly crow in the yard.

The bird zoomed into the air, snatched the car keys, and flew to the roof of a house in the next block where the crow dropped the keys.

Robert climbed to the roof to recover them, Mrs. Coppedge said, but the crow beat him to the keys and flew away to another rooftop across the street.

The occupant of that house, Cecil Shelton, clambered to the roof and found the keys where the crow had dropped them again. Then the Coppedge children went to school.

The crow later was identified as Buzz, the pet of Lloyd Ray and Bobby Watts, the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Watts.

Prowlers Break-In Cunningham's For Fourth Time

For the fourth time recently, prowlers broke into the home of A. D. Cunningham, 808 S. Sixth, Saturday afternoon.

Cunningham reported the break-in to police Saturday evening and said entrance was gained by cutting the screen with a nail file. He said the person or persons made their exit through the rear door.

Reported missing were one piggy bank and approximately $2. Police are conducting an investigation into the repeated break-ins.

Fender Skirts Reported Stolen

Robert W. Howard, 210 Hermosa reported to city police Saturday morning that two fender skirts were taken from his car as it was parked by his house during the night.

Howard said the skirts are yellow with a lighter trim around the edges.

Mother Not Bitter Over Football Death of Son

BEVERLY, Mass., (P) — The mother whose son died from football injuries yesterday accepted the tragic loss today as "God's will," and said that although she dislikes the game she hopes his St. John's Prep teammates will continue to enjoy the sport.

Grief-stricken Mrs. Arthur J. Cronin said the accident that took the life of her son, Arthur Jr., 17, probably was something that would happen "only once in a thousand times."

Senior class of Hagerman left Friday after school for an outing at the Carlsbad beach and playground. Chaperoning were Mrs. W. E. Knoy, Mrs. A. L. Ackerman, Mrs. Ruth Strixner and others.

Mrs. Bill Langenegger was ill on Friday. She reported that she thought she had the flu.

METHODIST CHURCH NEWS

Elected by the quarterly conference on membership and evangelism commission were Mrs. Reno Hale, Mrs. H. R. Menefee, Jack Menoud, Dacus Parker, Geneva Ackerman and Don Bledsoe of the Hagerman Methodist church. The mission commission elected by the conference consists of A. E. Watford, Howard Templeton, Mrs. Flora West, Mrs. A. D. Menoud and Mrs. Dacus Parker. A missionary institute will be held at Artesia Tuesday evening, Sept. 21, with a dinner at 6, followed by a program, and all are eligible to attend.

The official board met Tuesday evening and plans for finishing the painting at the parsonage were made. A committee was appointed to consider the building of a garage and storage room at the parsonage.

The matter of new pews for the church was discussed and it was decided to see what a previous committee on this had done. The education commission met Wednesday evening to plan for promotion day. Choir practice every Thursday night at 7 p. m.

Members of the Belle Bennett circle met Wednesday, Sept. 15, at the home of Mrs. A. L. Ackerman at 2 p. m.

Mrs. Bob Coons, president, presided over the business session, and Mrs. Lee Roy Rhodes took the minutes of the meeting in the absence of the secretary, Mrs. Bobby Williamson.

It was reported that dishes for the church had arrived, and a discussion was held on serving a luncheon at the Presbyterian church on Tuesday, Sept. 21.

Mrs. John McLure was elected to serve in the vacancy of secretary of supplies, the other vacancy to be chosen by the members of the Belle Bennett circle.

Mrs. Ridgeley was the lesson leader and presented the report on the fourth assembly of the WSCS and a report on the general assembly in Milwaukee, by the group.

BUYING TIPS—

Hamburg Is One of Top Buy in Food

By Miss Marjorie Lee Howell

Hamburg, hamburger, or ground meat—no matter what you call it, it's a good buy. It's economical, it's liked by just about everyone, and it can be used for dishes that range all the way from informal hamburgers to party casserole dishes.

Hamburg takes very little time and effort to get it ready in a wide variety of ways.

Buying ground meat at a reliable meat store is a good policy. The quality depends on what is ground up.

For instance, some ground meat has 25 per cent or more fat added to it. Some has 12 per cent or less fat. Ground meat provides generous amounts of top quality protein, as well as iron and the B vitamins. But just how much protein you get depends on how much fat has been mixed in with the meat.

Many people prefer to have their hamburger ground to order. If you buy your meat that way, remember that chuck will make tastier and juicier ground beef than will cuts such as round. And the chuck is a more economical cut.

The more grindings hamburger gets, the more compact it becomes. The number of grindings depends a lot on what you plan to make with the ground beef. For meat loaf, Swedish meatballs, and similar uses, the more compact ground beef is better. But if the meat is to be used as patties, a single grind is better.

The less handling ground beef gets, the more tender and juicier it will be. Pat patties loosely into shape. And while they cook, don't pack them down with a knife or spatula.

How soon you plan to use the hamburger makes a difference in the way you keep it after you get it home from the store. If it's going to be used the same day or the next, wrap it loosely in waxed paper, with the ends open, and put it in the refrigerator right away.

If you want to keep it a week, shape it into patties and stack the patties between squares of waxed paper. Then wrap tightly in two thicknesses of waxed paper or aluminum foil and put the package in the freezing unit or in the ice trays of the refrigerator.

A pound of ground beef makes enough patties for four good servings, when broiled or fried. If you combine it with other foods such as spaghetti, rice, or vegetables, you can get extra servings to the pound. Two pounds of ground meat is a good base for a meat loaf that you'd like to serve a couple of times to four people.

There are countless ways of using ground beef to provide attractive, appetizing and economical meat features. A mixed hamburger grill is colorful and different, easy to make. Too. Try them: halves of tomatoes, onion rings, mushroom caps or bacon, small carrot halves and halves of baked ham.

Another good combination hamburger broiled with slices white or sweet potatoes, canned pineapple slices. Brush foods with melted butter or olive oil. And in placing the food on the grill or broiler, start with the food that takes the longest, so all are done at the same time.

KITCHEN POLICE

CONCORD, N.H. (AP)—Somewhat on Mt. Kearsarge, about 40 miles from her home here, Mrs. Joseph Kovner suddenly remembered had forgotten to shut off the gas.

A Kearsarge cotidian started relay in motion. Sunapee State Park was given the word and a Concord cruiser sped to the scene.

A Concord cruiser sped to Kovner home and officers shut the oven.

The roast was saved.
